County Taxes Increased.

The taxpayers of Washtenaw county will have $16,500 more to pay in county taxes this year than last. The total of the estimates made by the supervisors is $59,500 as against $43,000 last year. The liquor tax is estimated at the same amount for both years, $17,000. The great increase comes mainly from about $6,000 expense incurred for care of contagious diseases, overdraft $4,900, new steel book cases for the register of deeds' office $2,200, contingent fund $2,300 extra, increase in stenographer's salary $600.

Finely Equipped Electric Cars.

The new cars for the Detroit & Chicago Traction Co.'s interurban service are magnificent in their construction and equipment as will be seen from the description of them that follows.

The bodies of the cars weigh about 15 tons and when the trucks and motor are put under, the car complete will weigh 35 tons. They are 56 feet in length and have a seating capacity of 60. The interior is finished in mahogany. Besides a smoking compartment with glass partitions, a lavatory is provided with hot and cold water. The cars are heated by hot water heaters, burning car oil. The motorman has a compartment in the right corner of the car's front, looking from a passenger's point of view. In the opposite corner are five observation seats. Four motors of 100 horse power each will be placed under each car. The cars are equipped with a trolley and also third rail shoes, as the third-rail system will be used through the country and the trolley system through the villages and cities. They can only be run one way.

The cars are named after the principal points on the line—Battle Creek, Marshall, Albion, Jackson, Grass Lake, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Plymouth and Detroit.

Farmer's New Map of Michigan and "Michigan Book."

Silas Farmer & Co., of Detroit, have just issued a map of Michigan which worthily represents this rich and prosperous commonwealth, showing as it does the entire state including Isle Royale with all its belongings in their proper geographical position. It is not a mere township map, but shows the sections as surveyed and the small lakes and streams, and as a matter of course the railroads are accurate, the township boundaries carefully defined, and cities, villages, post-office and railroad stations located and named in remarkably clean and clear-cut letters. Special features are the showing of the area of cities and routes of all electric railways in red. This is a day of culture and improvement in all branches of business, and this map illustrates the latest and best of improvements in the production of maps. There is artistic work even in the title, which is attractive with its representations of apple blossoms (the state flower), state seal and state capitol. Durability is one of its strongest points, for it is cloth backed.

Some of these words of praise may seem extravagant, but "seeing is believing," and the closer one examines the map the more one is impressed with the care and pains bestowed in its preparation. Its size is 35x40 inches, it is printed in colors, has a complete index with population of all places according to census of 1900.

"The 'Michigan Book,' a state cyclopedia of 350 pages, is published in connection with the map. It contains, besides thousands of items of information, maps in colors of each of the 83 counties in the state. It will answer almost any question regarding Michigan history, institutions, productions, government, laws, elections, offices, etc. Every citizen will find it invaluable. The map and book are sold together for $1. Agents are wanted.

Asleep Amid Flames.

Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption gives perfect protection against all throat, chest and lung troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death, and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by Glazier & Stimson. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

School Report.

Following is the report of school in district No. 4, Sylvan, for the month of October:

Attending every day, Albert Fahrner; standing 95, Fred Knoll, Irving Wolf, Albert Fahrner, Linda Kalmbach, Nora Fahrner; 90, Inez Ward, Joseph Knoll, Fern Kalmbach; 85, Allie and Lida Guthrie, Lynn Kern, Bertha Young, Oscar Kalmbach, Glessner Whitaker, Ruth Phelps, Harrison West; 80, Henry Fahrner, Linda and Oscar Kalmbach, Nora and Henry Fahrner and Harrison West have not missed a word in spelling during the month, and Fred Knoll missed but one, Linda Kalmbach and Joseph Knoll each spelled the eighth grade down.

The Truancy Law.

The last legislature made some important changes in the school laws, making it the duty of the parents, guardian, or other persons having the charge of any child from seven to 15 years of age, to cause such child to attend school consecutively during the entire school year previous to the 30th of June; provided that children taught the same branches in a private school or having acquired the ordinary branches are exempt; and parent or guardian shall present a written statement that the child is unable to attend school, the officer or board may employ a reputable physician to examine such child and if he certifies to such physical disability, the child shall be exempt. The school board, on the recommendation of the superintendent and the truant officer, may exempt children over 14 from attendance at school for a part of the time until they shall reach the age of 15 years.

If the person in charge of the children fail to comply with the law they shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject on conviction to a fine of not less than $5 or more than $50, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two or more than 90 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Electric Railway Notes.

Fifteen teams and about 25 men are at work grading on the Boland road this side of Ann Arbor.

The Dexter Leader says the D., Y., A. & J. Co. will have a spur line in operation into Dexter by June 1 next.

The Michigan Central refused to haul the Boland gravel train at Albion and so connections had to be made with the Michigan Southern.

The first car over the Hawks-Angus line west to Francisco Tuesday morning. Cars will not run regularly, however, until the new power house is completed.

The D., Y., A. A. & J. has leased Westfall's livery barn, opposite the present waiting room in Ypsilanti, for a freight house and waiting room. The common council has granted permission for a spur track to be run into it.

The stocks and bonds of the D., Y., A. A. & J. Co. have been admitted to the listed department of the Detroit Stock Exchange, which thus sets the seal of its approval on the securities, on the showing made by the company.

The Boland electric lide has changed its west exit at Jackson from West Washington to West Main street, the council agreeing to it. A steep hill with a sharp curve is thus avoided. By order of the council, at the request of the company, the work of grading will commence at once.

Do You Want a Picture?

J. Fred Rentschler, photographer, of Ann Arbor, has purchased all the negatives made in the studio operated at different times by Lewis & Gibson, Gibson, Gibson & Clark, Gibson & Morgan, and F. Berryman. Any persons who at any time had their photos taken there and still desire to have pictures made from these negatives can have any number printed and finished, for a short time only, by calling on or writing to J. Fred Rentschler, corner Main and Huron streets, Ann Arbor.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER

Grand-Niece of Ex-President James K. Polk, Writes to Mrs. Pinkham Saying:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been married for nearly two years, and so far have not been blessed with a child. I have, however, suffered with a complication of female troubles and painful menstruation, until very recently.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER.

"The value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was called to my attention by an intimate friend, whose life had simply been a torture with inflammation and ulceration, and a few bottles of your Compound cured her; she can hardly believe it herself to-day, she enjoys such blessed health. I took four bottles of your Compound and consider myself cured. I am once more in fine health and spirits; my domestic and official duties all seem easy now, for I feel so strong I can do three times what I used to do. You have a host of friends in Denver, and among the best count, Yours very gratefully,—Mrs. IDA L. ROSER, 326 18th Ave., Denver, Col.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free.

THE CHAMPION WING SHOT.

Capt. Bogardus Has a Dangerous Experience But Comes Out Unhurt.

Ferris Wheel Park, Chicago, Nov. 4th.—Capt. A. H. Bogardus, the champion wing shot of the world, has spent the summer here. His shooting school has been one of the features of the Park during the season. He has given many exhibitions and his skill with the rifle is superb.

The Captain tells of a very close call he once had when living at Elkhart, Ill. He had been a sufferer from kidney disease for several years and it rapidly developed into Bright's Disease. All his friends told him that this was incurable and that he would never get better.

To say that he was alarmed is to put it very mildly. This plucky man had faced many dangers and it made him sick at heart to think that at last he was to be conquered by such a cruel foe.

At last he heard of a medicine that had cured many such cases,—Dodd's Kidney Pills. He used them and was completely restored to good health.

He says:—"I attribute my present good health to Dodd's Kidney Pills and to nothing else."

Buildings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition

FOREST PARK, the second largest public park in the United States, is the site selected for the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St. Louis in 1903. The site itself offers a variation from previous exposition grounds, as it is hilly, and advantage will be taken of the natural topography of the ground. Some 400 acres of the site is a level tract, and on this will be located the main exhibit buildings, the big towers, the lagoons, canals, basins and statuary groups. From this level the ground rises at a slope of about 60 degrees to a height of some 60 feet, and on the top of this elevation will be placed the magnificent art building, the government building and the state and foreign buildings. In the intervening space will be beautiful hanging gardens.

THE Art building is to be permanent fire-proof structure 300x300 feet square with two pavilions each 200x200 feet square. It will not be as ornate as the other buildings of the exposition which will be constructed of staff. To eliminate this discordant note which this difference in building material would cause was a problem given the architects to solve. They did it by arranging for a colonnade to crown the summit of the hill which will serve as a finishing touch to the main exposition picture and exclude from view the more subdued main art building. From either side of this colonnade the torrents which supply the lagoons and canals of the lower tract with water will gush. The colonnade will be terminated at either end by the pavilions of the Art building.

THE Education building forms part of the east wing of the fan-like general ground plan and is the last building on the south side of the esplanade leading to the group of Government buildings, which are to stand on a higher level. It will have a rich background of hillside foliage toward the south-east. Considered as part of the general scheme, it plays a very unimportant role in the spectacular display of the fair and for this reason no attempt has been made to force attention to it by such means as towers, domes, or similar architectural devices. The outside dimensions are 525x750 feet and the interior is divided into eight oblong parts, almost equal in area, because the general scope of the committee on educational exhibits shows a classification into eight departments. The ground floor will furnish an exhibition space of about 25,000 square feet and about 150,000 square feet may be gained by the introduction of galleries. A subdivision of each department into numerous alcoves is suggested. The walls of the building are set back from the facade 18 or 20 feet, forming a covered loggia which surrounds the entire building. The facade of the Education building may be likened to a screen bearing the same relation to this structure as do the colonnades of the adjoining buildings. The base of this screen consists of sculptured panels illustrating in bold relief the progressive stages of civilization in symbolical representations, the background being of a rough golden colored glass which will be illuminated at night and show the figures in silhouette. The figures are more than life size.

THE Mines and Metallurgy building is a magnificent structure on the outer perimeter of the picture representing the main view of the fair. It is one that will strike the beholder immediately after passing the main entrance gate. It will present a facade of 1,250 feet on the north and 525 feet on the east, giving 656,250 feet of exhibition space on the first or ground floor. It is a colonnaded design, free treatment, of the Ionic order, but in such style and taste as to not interfere with the general design. On the main 1,200 feet will be a center tower 400 feet high with flanking towers each about 200 feet high. In the large tower there will be a magnificent electric clock. These towers afford ample space for electrical display and illumination. Numerous entrances are to be on the facade, exclusive of the main entrance in the center. A specially featured entrance will be made at the center of the south front, this entrance being thrown back and a magnificent colonnade formed on either side. The colonnade construction on the main fronts will afford protection for pedestrians from both sun and rain. In the center of the structure will be two large courts, affording light and ventilation to the building.

IS ENCOURAGING.

Miss Stone and Her Companion Seen Recently - Both Alive and Well.

Samakov, Nov. 5.—Miss Helen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka have been seen within the last two days by emissaries of Consul General Dickinson, of the United States legation at Constantinople. Both are safe and well and their release is shortly anticipated.

New York, Nov. 5.—The positive conviction that Miss Ellen M. Stone is dead is contained in a letter which has just been received in Boston from Ivan Raduloff, a student who was with the American missionary when she was captured by brigands in Turkey, together with Mme. Tsilka, says the Boston correspondent of the Press. According to this letter, the snow in the mountains into which Miss Stone and her companion were taken by their captors was three feet deep three weeks ago at the time the letter was written. Even in the summer time the snow upon the highest summits of these mountains does not melt. The first snowfall usually comes at about the middle of September, and by the middle of October the mountain passes are absolutely closed to travel.

It was the conviction among Miss Stone's friends in Samakov, Bulgaria, three weeks ago, that she could not possibly have survived the rigors of her captivity until that date. There was a hope that Miss Stone might have been concealed by her captors in the monastery of St. Ivan of Sila, which is near the Bulgarian-Turkish frontier, and on the Bulgarian side. So great was the anxiety of the Bulgarian government to do everything in its power to assist the United States representatives in their effort to find the missionary that they adopted the exceedingly unpopular measure of ordering a search of the monastery. This search disclosed the fact that Miss Stone had not been there. The discovery was disappointing to Miss Stone's friends in Samakov.

According to the letter of Ivan Raduloff, Consul General Dickinson has regarded the release of Miss Stone seriously. It is said that Mr. Dickinson, by his criticism of the Bulgarian government, has antagonized the government.

It is understood in Samakov that the brigands who were in immediate charge of the captive were under positive instructions to take her life at the first indication of the probability of a skirmish with the troops.

PAUNCEFOTE SEES HAY.

British Ambassador Calls Upon the Secretary of State and Formally Announces His Return.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador, called upon Secretary Hay at 12:30 o'clock Monday to announce formally to the secretary his return from a vacation in England lasting all summer and his readiness to undertake at once the conclusion of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The interview lasted about half an hour. Many topics were touched upon beside the treaty, which was not given particular consideration Monday, the conversation on that point being rather preliminary to the beginning of the treaty drafting.

Lord Pauncefote did not bring with him to the state department a copy of the proposed convention. In fact, this document does not exist as such, for, although the principal points of the treaty have been agreed upon between the two principals, they have yet to be transferred from protocols into a formal treaty.

This work of transference will begin in about a week, according to the present expectation, and if it proceeds steadily after that time the new treaty will be in shape for submission to the senate immediately after that body convenes next month.

Lord Pauncefote did not bring to Secretary Hay any late news respecting the views of the British government as to the treaty. The secretary had been advised so fully by Ambassador Choate at their conference at New Haven of the details of what had been done in London, and the cable reports had been so complete that there was nothing new to be communicated on the subject.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

A Mississippi Mob Takes Vengeance on Self-Confessed Colored Brute.

Gulf Port, Miss., Nov. 5.—A negro whose name has not yet been learned was burned at the stake in Perry county, Miss., on Saturday night. The crime for which the negro suffered was committed early in the morning and Mrs. Fortenberry was the victim. She is the wife of one of the most prominent men in that section. A negro answering the description given by Mrs. Fortenberry, was caught, taken, and identified by her. The negro then made a confession. An informal court was organized by the members of the posse. The trial resulted in a decision to burn the negro at the scene of his crime.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Held for Murder.

Gov. Bliss commuted the sentence of Henry Wiseman, who was serving a five-year term in Jackson prison for robbery, so that it has expired, and Wiseman was immediately arrested for the murder of Mrs. Catherine Huss, at Royal Oak, a year ago. Mrs. Huss' body was recently found where Wiseman had buried it, and the latter has confessed the murder. Prosecutor Rockwell, of Oakland county, says that aside from the confession he has ample evidence to convict Wiseman.

Bears on the Highway.

More bears have been seen in the vicinity of Crystal Falls the past few weeks than ever before. Four big black ones have been seen several times on the dump grounds across the river; a homesteader ran into three on the Amasa road bridge; a woman met one on the Hope mine road, and Rev. A. A. Maywood saw three on the road leading to the Haselstrom settlement.

The State Treasury.

The balance in the state treasury has fallen below the $3,000,000 mark on account of the payment of the state institution appropriations, which are now due. It will probably be a long time before the balance of $3,000,000 will be equaled, as the state has had some unusually large receipts during the year. A total of $170,000 has been received during the year in inheritance taxes.

Colored Masons.

The colored masonic grand lodge of Michigan, in session in Ypsilanti, elected the following as officers for the coming year:

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 90 observers in various portions of the state indicate that measles, pneumonia and consumption increased and cholera morbus and scarlet fever decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 182 places, measles at 13, typhoid fever at 115, whooping cough at 20, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 2 and smallpox at 30 places.

Shot by a Girl.

Duncan Jewett was accidentally shot at Port Huron and seriously wounded by Edith Horton, aged 18 years. The girl didn't know the weapon was loaded. She pointed it at Jewett playfully and snapped the trigger a couple of times and Jewett fell with a bullet in his skull, just above his left ear. The girl is nearly frantic over her carelessness.

Charged with Murder.

George Brandow, who lives six miles northeast of Cross village, is in jail at Harbor Springs, charged with the murder of John Furti, a neighbor. According to Brandow's story Furti and a companion came to his house with the avowed intention of doing him up. In the fight Furti was killed.

Murder and Suicide.

A. L. Spees, township clerk of Croton, went to Newaygo and, finding his wife, who had left him, shot and instantly killed her; then, turning the revolver, shot himself fatally. They had three children, which the wife had supported. Spees is a cripple, and was insanely jealous of his wife.

News Briefly Stated.

The Sanilac county poor farm will be moved to some other part of the county on account of the sanitary conditions of the present location.

Sheldon Bronson, a pioneer hotel man in Niles, died, aged 86 years.

It is said that a state bank will be established at Sutton's Bay soon. At present there is not such an institution in all Leelanau county.

Torville Martinson, aged 12 years, was drowned in the river at Menominee while playing on logs.

While hunting near Clare Stanley Chappel, aged 17 years, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was the main support of a large family of small children.

Charles W. Hagan was accidentally shot and instantly killed by Charles Palmer while hunting near Hillsdale.

Charles Fribley, aged 82 years, drowned himself in a cistern at Grand Rapids. Family troubles were probably the cause of his suicide. He leaves a widow and several children.

Adrian Klaasen, 71 years old, drowned himself in a cistern at Grand Rapids. Family troubles were probably the cause of his suicide. He leaves a widow and several children.

REMARKABLE FOG.

It Envelopes the City of London and Half of the United Kingdom, Causing Inconvenience.

London, Nov. 5.—A fog, such as Great Britain had not experienced for years, enveloped London and half of the United Kingdom Monday, blockading shipping, deranging railways and throwing business in London, Birmingham and other provincial cities into confusion. So dense was it that a walk into the streets was an adventure. The fog descended upon the metropolis and the suburbs so thickly that between four and five o'clock in the afternoon the principal avenues of traffic resembled the steamroom of a Turkish bath. Hundreds of thousands of London's suburban population vainly endeavored to grope their way to the railway stations. The few who succeeded found the trains all stalled. Around Trafalgar square and the houses of parliament scenes unparalleled for years were witnessed. Hundreds of omnibuses, cabs, carts and wagons formed an inextricable and immovable mass. The mounted police, in trying to clear away the jam, got lost themselves. Many vehicles were in collision. The drivers, not knowing where they were, stood at the heads of their horses patiently awaiting the lifting of the premature darkness. Lanterns were at a premium, newsboys transformed their papers into temporary torches, highwaymen pursued their vocation and casualties were frequent.

If the fog had not lifted somewhat toward night London would have been so congested that its housing resources, commodious as they are, would have been taxed beyond their limits by the forced accommodation of the fog-bound suburbanites. Among children and old people the deleterious effects of such a continuous and exceptional fog can scarcely be estimated.

BIG ELEVATORS BURN.

Fire at Port Huron Destroys Buildings in Which 275,000 Bushels of Grain Are Stored.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 5.—Fire Monday night destroyed two large adjoining grain elevators, owned by the Botsford Elevator company here, entailing a loss of $300,000. There were 171,000 bushels of wheat, 90,000 bushels of corn and 14,000 bushels of oats in the buildings, and the grain was all destroyed. The loss on the buildings is estimated at $125,000, with $62,000 insurance, and $175,000 on the grain. The grain was fully insured. The elevators were to have been used as one of the storage points in the projected through grain route of the Grand Trunk railroad system from Duluth, Minn., to Leith, Scotland. J. E. Botsford stated that the loss of these elevators would not hinder the project, as a million-bushel elevator would be constructed at Point Edward, Ont. The burned elevators will probably not be rebuilt.

During the progress of the fire the roof of one of the buildings fell in and Chief Charles Thorne, of the fire department, was caught underneath. He received probable fatal injuries.

TOUCH OF WINTER.

Snow in Missouri and Cold Snap Proves General Over State—Cold Wave Elsewhere.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—An inch of snow is reported from the northwest corner of Missouri, and snow fell in Fayette county, in the center of the state, Sunday night, the first of the season. The cold snap appears general over the state, with a drop in the temperature ranging from 20 to 35 degrees experienced within 12 hours.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 5.—A fall of 60 degrees temperature in 12 hours marks the first cold wave of the season throughout the Indian Territory. The wave was preceded by a fierce wind and rainstorm, an inch of rain falling in 25 minutes.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Stinging cold weather followed the rain of Sunday at this point, and reports from surrounding states indicate that the freezing temperature was quite general over the middle states and lake region.

DECLARED WINNER.

The Prize of 100,000 Francs in the Balloon Contest Awarded to M. Santos-Dumont.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The committee of the Aero club, by a vote of 12 to 9, on Monday proclaimed M. Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut, the winner of the prize of 100,000 francs offered by M. Deutsch for a dirigible balloon. The vote was preceded by a warm discussion. Count Dion, who presided, while eulogizing the courage of M. Santos-Dumont, contended that he had not won the prize, owing to the time limit. Prince Roland Bonaparte, on behalf of the special committee who watched the contests, declared that M. Santos-Dumont had materially and morally won the prize, because a new regulation as to the time limit was never officially indorsed by the Aero club.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

County Clerk Blum has issued 21 deer hunting licenses this fall.

The Michigan Central is now running over its new tracks from Dexter to Ann Arbor.

There were 481 bills allowed by the board of supervisors. The smallest order was for 48 cents and the largest $1.143.

A football game will be played at Ypsilanti Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock between the Chelsea and Ypsilanti teams.

Mrs. Olive E. Bostwick, of Dexter, died Saturday evening of typhoid fever after five weeks' illness. Her husband and eight children survive her.

H. I. Stimson, of Chelsea, was elected one of the vice presidents of the County Sunday School Association at the convention held in Dexter last week.

A. J. Sawyer is assisting in the prosecution of Ryan and Denny for the murder of Thos. Fitzsimmons at Hamburg last spring. The trial is in the Livingston circuit court at Howell.

Ann Arbor Times: It is reported that some business men of the city are planning to build a new opera house seating from 1,400 to 1,500, to be devoted to vaudeville at popular prices.

Lafayette Grange will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Mason Whipple next Thursday, Nov. 14, at 10 a. m. Subject for discussion "What can we do to make our farm home more convenient, comfortable and attractive."

The taxed bill of costs in the case of J. Bacon vs. F. P. Glazier et al. has been filed and the plaintiff sets forth that he is entitled to $95.50 over and above the judgment of $150. Of this amount $47.40 was for witnesses.

No local paper can or does give all the local news of the community, but the Herald tries to come as near to it as possible. Yet once in a while some one informs us that his neighbor gets mention often, in a local way, while another is not mentioned. That is easy and liable to occur. The one tells the editor or correspondent the news, while the other remains silent. Editors nor reporters cannot see every family every week. The family or some member of it can see the editor or correspondent whenever they have news and tell them. If you know an item of interest, give it up. If a member of the force is not handy drop it in the Herald item box on the wall at the foot of the stairs leading up to the office.

Jacob Leaser, of Milan, confined in the county jail as a supposed insane person, was so well treated that he did not want to leave when told he must go. He has now been sent to the university hospital to be treated for chronic indigestion, from which he suffers, and Sheriff Gillen has so got rid of him.

Thursday last the board of supervisors redistricted the representative districts of the county. Sylvan and Freedom are taken out of the first district and put into the second, and the town of Superior is put into the first district. The population of the two districts is 28,970 in the first and 28,791 in the second. The vote was unanimous on the report.

Richard McGinn, deceased, of Dexter, by his will, dated Sept. 24, 1901, bequeaths to his sister, Mary Ann Fitzsimmons, $100 to be used for masses for himself, $150 to his administrators for a headstone. The balance of his estate after paying debts is to be equally divided between his sister, Mary Fitzsimmons, Sarah Hughes and his brother, Peter McGinn, share and share alike. His brother, Peter McGinn, is to receive his gold watch. The will was witnessed by John Costello and John W. Barley.

Manchester Enterprise: Ever since the Ypsi-Saline electric line was put in a good many people have driven to the latter place and then taken the electric cars for Ann Arbor or Detroit. Now that electric cars are running between Chelsea and Ann Arbor there is a tendency for people to drive to Chelsea instead of Saline, as it is not so far and as a rule the road is better. [We hope the time is not far distant when the people wont even have to drive to Chelsea to take the cars but can come all the way by the electric cars.—E. D. HERALD.]

Young man be proud of your overalls, young lady be proud of your work apron. Both are an evidence that you are ready to face the world in struggle for an honest living. Not all men who begin life in overalls rise to the height of clipping coupons, but nearly all who now clip coupons began life in overalls. Don't be afraid of the grime of the shop nor the black oil of the machinery. Roll up your sleeves, don your overalls and aprons. Keep your head up and your mind clear, and that living which the world owes everyone will be yours for the earning.

The Methodist Advocate hits right out from the shoulder in the following vigorous language, in which there is a great deal more truth than poetry: "Just at this time the country needs a new religion that will make a man pay his debts. Shouting and giving testimony doesn't settle accounts with God or man. We bounce right on a fellow and put him out of the church if he goes to a ball or theater, but never a word to the pious scamp who never pays his debts. The latter are doing the churches more harm than dancing or drunkards, for there are more of them in the church."

Superintendent of Public Instruction Delos Fall has compiled some instructive statistics relative to Michigan educational interests for the past year. More than 500,000 children are being educated, and the estimated value of all school property in the state is $19,338,173. The aggregate wages of all teachers in the graded schools was $3,120,473, and in the ungraded schools $1,383,076. The average monthly wages of male teachers was $70.68 in the graded schools and $29.04 in the ungraded; of the women teachers, $43.50 and $24.78 respectively. The total number of school houses in the state is 8,035.

A new time table went into effect on the Michigan Central Sunday last. The only changes in the trains stopping at Chelsea are that No. 8 going east, leaves here at 5:22 a. m. instead of 5:20, and No. 13, Grand Rapids Express going west, leaves here at 6:17 p. m. instead of 6:20 as heretofore.

Jacob Mast had the misfortune to put his foot in a hole in the sidewalk at the corner of East and Summit streets on Monday night as he was going home, and wrenched the tendons of his right leg and knee so badly that he has been unable to be at his shoe shop. It will be some time before the leg is strong again.

The Michigan Central has completed the water tank east of Dexter. After this it will not be necessary for trains to stop between Detroit and Jackson for water. A tank several hundred feet long has been laid between the rails. By an attachment under the tender of the engine water can be taken on while the train is running at full speed.

Hawks & Angus yesterday increased their offer towards separating the grade of the Ann Arbor railroad at Ann Arbor to $80,000. The Ann Arbor railroad company has agreed to pay $82,000 and it is now up to W. A. Boland or the common council to provide the $18,000 necessary to make up the $80,000 that it will take to make the improvement.

W. A. Boland's herd of Shorthorn cattle has carried off this fall 100 first premiums and nearly 50 of the second classes. The herd has carried off the sweepstakes premium at every fair at which it has competed, and the horses and hogs were nearly as successful. Mr. Douglass, the manager of Mr. Boland's farm, has sent home $2,500 in premiums and has a roll of several hundreds more in his pockets. He says he expects to pay all the expenses of the Boland farm and turn in a clear profit of at least $1,500 before the close of the season. The herd has yet to visit the Chicago stock fair and the exposition at Charleston, S. C.

FACES FATE BOLDLY.

Mrs. Mary Belle Witwer, Ohio's Alleged Wholesale Poisoner.

Held to the Grand Jury After an Examination in Police Court—Evidence Against Her Purely Circumstantial.

(Special Dayton (O.) Letter.)
HITHERTO the city of Dayton has been famous for its soldiers' home, but now it figures in the newspapers as the home of Mrs. Mary Belle Witwer, who, if half the allegations made against her by professional and amateur sleuths are true, is the life destroyer par excellence of the beginning of the twentieth century, although some of the crimes she is said to have committed must be charged up to the nineteenth.

Mrs. Witwer has just had a hearing, preliminary in character, before the police court on the charge of having poisoned her sister, Mrs. Anna C. Pugh. A number of expert chemists testified in the case, and were emphatic in their statements that arsenic had been found in the stomach of the dead woman. On the strength of this testimony Mrs. Witwer was bound over to the court of common pleas, without bond, to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree. The accused maintained her composure when informed of the police magistrate's decision and displayed a stoicism which amazed the authorities and confounded her attorneys. Many attempts have been made to entrap the prisoner, but they failed miserably, and it is quite apparent that she will make a good defense when her case is brought to trial before the court of record.

One fact must not be forgotten by those who are inclined to discuss this cause celebre. The evidence against Mrs. Witwer is purely circumstantial. She is now, of course, charged directly with the murder of Mrs. Pugh, who was a professional nurse and lived with Mrs. Witwer, at No. 35 Liberty street, Dayton. Mrs. Witwer lost four husbands, and all died rather suddenly and under peculiar circumstances. In the wholesale charges informally made by police officials she has been accused of having caused the death of all, in addition to those of several children, making a total of 14 deaths. There is, however, no expectation that more than one crime can be fastened upon the prisoner; and even that is extremely doubtful, unless the authorities can produce much stronger testimony at the coming trial in the criminal court than they furnished before the police tribunal. Should the prosecuting attorney succeed in proving the woman's guilt in the Pugh case, other charges may be taken up, but to the unbiased observer it seems as though the story of 14 mysterious murders will very likely evaporate in thin air. Moreover, even the most relentless pursuers of the defendant are unable to associate any evidence with the charges informally made.

A short outline of the Pugh case is necessary to understand the present position of Mrs. Witwer. Mrs. Pugh was ill not more than 48 hours and suffered great anguish. Prior to her death she summoned a lawyer and dictated the terms of her will. Mrs. Witwer was called in the room several times to refresh the patient's memory for names and address of legatees. She herself was a beneficiary only upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Richmond, of Addison, Mich. Just as the lawyer handed Mrs. Pugh a pen with which to sign the document she sank back dead. Her estate, supposed to have been worth $4,000, has been reduced to $2,500, of which $500 is in personal property and $2,000 in real estate—a small farm near Franklin, O. Two applications for the administration of the estate have been made, one by an attorney, at the suggestion of the Witwer family, and the other by Mr. Nevis, on recommendation of the prisoner. The latter is an inconsequential beneficiary. Mrs. Richmond is more than 80 years old. At her death the estate is to be distributed among Mrs. Lizzie Brown and Mrs. Witwer, of Dayton, O.; Nannie Parshot, of New York; Frank Richmond, of Addison, Mich., and John Richmond, of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Witwer makes the assertion that her mother bought poison to kill rats which were eating potatoes, but Mrs. Richmond denies the charge.

While the police were unable to find potatoes in the cellar when they made their first investigation, they made another search and discovered some sweet potatoes near a rat hole. These potatoes appeared to have been bitten by human teeth rather than by rats, and by the police Mrs. Witwer was at once given credit for the act in the hope that she might thereby deceive the detectives.

If looks count for anything, the average observer would certainly not connect the accused with any crime whatsoever. She is what women call a "good dresser," and does not look her age—47. Her hair is slightly tinged with gray and she has the bearing of a woman of intelligence and refinement. In Dayton church circles she has long been well and favorably known, having since her residence in the city been a member of the Hartford street and Riverdale United Brethren congregations. She has been an active member, taking a lively interest in home and foreign missions and other church affairs. While all of her friends are loathe to believe the charges against her, yet none of them came to her aid after she had been formally accused, and it devolved upon her neighbors to take an interest in her case, or she would probably have been unrepresented at her preliminary trial.

Mrs. Witwer's marital history certainly is unique. Frank D. Witwer was the last of her husbands who died suddenly. She was married to him last March, and on July 4 he died. Like all her husbands, he had stomach trouble a short time before his death. He was taken violently ill some time after eating a luncheon which, according to the sleuths, his wife sent to him. Mrs. Witwer's first husband was Frederick Swinger, who died near Nashville, Tenn., in 1877, supposedly from smallpox. The second husband was Frank Brown, of Middletown, O., with whom she lived for several years. Soon after his death she married William Stowe, in Midletown, and his death was sudden and startling. Mrs. Witwer admits that he died from morphine poisoning, but says a clergyman administered the fatal dose.

John Williams, her next matrimonial venture, deserted her two days after the wedding. She then came to Dayton and served as housekeeper for John E. Wenz, who died from poisoning and a complication of diseases. While in the woods he was poisoned by ivy, but there is a suspicion that poison was given to him while in bed, as several physicians were unable to diagnose the case. Mrs. Witwer also acted as housekeeper for Mr. and Mrs. John Gabler, and both died apparently from heart trouble within the few months she was in their employ. George D. Keller, who resided in the east end of Dayton, died apparently from cerebral meningitis, though his case puzzled two doctors, and it is asserted that he was one of Mrs. Witwer's victims. In Midletown, the police allege to have found a woman who was intimate with the prisoner and who says that, while discussing their husbands one day, Mrs. Witwer remarked that to get rid of hers "she would poison him."

And while all this has been going on Mrs. Witwer has kept up an indifferent attitude and asserted her innocence in terms forcible and logical.

FLEET AT SMYRNA.

Unofficial Report Says the French Admiral Has Seized the Sultan's Custom House.

London, Nov. 5.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says he understands that dispatches have been received at the French capital announcing that Admiral Caillard's division of the French Mediterranean squadron has arrived at Smyrna and seized the customs.

Paris, Nov. 5.—It is rumored on the boulevards that Admiral Caillard's squadron has reached Smyrna, and that the French have occupied the custom house there. The rumor cannot be confirmed.

Paris, Nov. 5.—After a speech delivered by the foreign minister, M. Delcasse, Monday, the chamber of deputies sustained, by a vote of 305 to 77, the government's action towards Turkey.

Paris, Nov. 5.—"The porte has asked Great Britain," says the Constantinople correspondent of the Echo de Paris, "to fulfill the terms of the convention of 1878, whereby, in exchange for the Island of Cyprus, Great Britain guarantees the integrity of the sultan's Asiatic possessions. The porte claims under this convention that Great Britain should protect Asiatic Turkey against attack by France and suggests that Great Britain should send a squadron to the Levant for that purpose."

Washington, Nov. 5.—While manifesting deep interest in the French naval demonstration in Turkish waters, officials of the administration are of the opinion that European politics are responsible for the action of the Paris government. No official information concerning the purposes of France has been communicated to the state department. The fact that American interests are not affected by the incident is responsible for the failure of American agents to cable news of developments in the Franco-Turkish question. The same reason has prevented the dispatch of warships to Turkey, though the European squadron is in Italian waters, available for duty in the Levant should its presence be needed there. While American interests will be placed in no danger by the demonstration, curiosity is naturally felt as to the real object of the move.

France undoubtedly has the support of Russia. German interests in northern Syria are important, and if France attempts to establish a protectorate over that region, as reported, the Berlin government will undoubtedly resent it. It is also suggested that a protectorate would menace British interests in the Suez canal. The suggestion that the French demonstration is directed against Germany or Great Britain are received with incredulity in diplomatic circles. Confession is made by diplomats and officials that the French movement is confusing, and they are awaiting with some impatience developments which will show the real motive inspiring it.

GOES HOME TO VOTE.

President Roosevelt Leaves Washington for Oyster Bay—Will Return at Once.

New York, Nov. 5.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt and party arrived in New York at 6:20 o'clock Monday night, an hour and 20 minutes behind schedule time. The party remained in New York over night, and to-day will be taken to Oyster Bay, Long Island, where the president will cast his vote. He will remain scarcely more than an hour in Oyster Bay, returning in time to take an afternoon train to-day out of the Jersey City depot of the Pennsylvania railroad for Washington. The president was in excellent spirits and enjoyed to a degree the little respite from official exactions. He spent most of the trip from Washington chatting jovially with the rest of his party or on the observation platform of his car. Owing to the care with which the exact itinerary of the trip was guarded from the public there were but a few people along the line waiting to see the president until Newark was reached. There a crowd pressed the depot gates.

Powder Explodes.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 5.—The powder magazine of the Santa Fe Pacific at Williams, containing 2,000 pounds of powder, exploded Monday, the shock breaking windows and glassware and tearing doors from houses. The magazine is supposed to have caught fire from sparks from an engine switching near by. The engine and switching crew escaped injury, but the cars and engine were wrecked. The damage will amount to many thousands of dollars.

All Were Rescued.

Denver, Col., Nov. 5.—Jarvis Hall military academy at Montclair, eight miles from Denver, a school for boys, maintained by the Episcopal church of the diocese of Colorado, was burned to the ground Monday night, causing a loss estimated at $75,000. Seventy-five students roomed in the building, but all escaped without injury.

LIVING WITH OTHERS.

It is Better, Even Where There is Jarring and Friction, Than One's Own Company.

"It is better to live with others even at the cost of considerable jarring and friction than to live in undisturbed quiet alone," said a wise little woman the other day.

"Yes, I know that sort of life brings hurts, smart and heartaches, to say nothing of an occasional tempest, but all the same it is an education that cannot be gained in solitude. Life brings many changes and throws strange people together, and it is easy to decide that some of one's kindred by birth or by law—especially the latter—are so un congenial as to make living with them unendurable.

"Sometimes that is true, but very rarely. Usually if two persons are well-meaning—and most people really do mean well at heart—they can gradually grow into each other's ways, and by doing so modify individual traits and habits to the great improvement of character. We need to have our sharp corners rubbed off, our little pet vanities punctured, and most of all to learn self-control, 'sweet reasonableness,' and toleration for other people's point of view. When persons say to me of members of their own families: 'I do not know how to live with them,' I feel an unsympathetic desire to reply: 'Keep on living with them till you learn how; it is exactly what you need.'"—Wellspring.

KILLED A RATTLER.

Mrs. Seton-Thompson, in her camping experiences entitled "A Woman Tenderfoot," confesses that in the beginning of her Rocky mountain life she regarded rattlesnakes as only one kind of disagreeable reptile. One day she was riding in advance of her husband. She says:

"Suddenly, there came a noise like dried peas in a pod, and gliding across the road was a huge rattlesnake. Whiskers, my pony, performed a flank movement, so nearly unseating me that I deemed it expedient to drop to the ground; and Whiskers, without waiting for orders, galloped down the road.

"The rattler stopped his pretty gliding motion away from me and seemed in doubt.

"He is going to coil and then to strike," said I, recalling a paragraph from my school reader.

"I cast a despairing glance around, and saw, almost at my feet, half hidden by sage brush, several inches of rusty iron. Best be the passing teamster who threw it there. I darted toward it and turned on the rattler, armed with the goodly remains of a frying pan.

"The creature was ready for me, with darting tongue and flattened head. Another instant and it would have sprung. Smash on its head went my valiant frying pan and struck a deadly blow. I recaptured my weapon and again it descended. The rattler was settled.

"But, oh, that tail! That awful, writhing, lashing tail. I can stand Indians, bears, wolves, anything but that tail; and a rattler is all tail except its head. The snake was really helpless, and I put one foot on him to take his scalp; that is to say, his rattles.

"Then the uncanny thing began to wriggle and rattle with old-time vigor. Horrid thrills coursed through me; but, fortified by the assurance that the existing rattle was a 'purely reflex neuroganglionic movement,' I hardened my heart and captured the 'pod of dried peas.'"

HELPED HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. La Follette, Wife of Wisconsin Governor, is a Helpmate in the Fullest Sense.

The tact and magnetism possessed by Mrs. La Follette, wife of the governor of Wisconsin, have made her the greatest assistance to her husband in his political campaigns. She is best known among the women of the state for her advocacy of dress reform and physical culture, and as head of the Emily Bishop league for physical culture she has gathered an enthusiastic class about her. She attends all the gatherings of the league, and is usually its principal speaker and moving spirit. But Mrs. La Follette is remarkable for other reasons. She is one of the few women of the state admitted ted to the bar. She was a Baraboo girl—Miss Belle Case—and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in the same class as her husband that of 1879. The same year she won the Lewis prize for oratory, her husband also winning the interstate championship in oratory, with an oration on Iago. Later she studied law and was admitted to the bar. The home life of the La Follettes is ideal. They have three children. One daughter, Miss Flora, a freshman in the university, who traveled in Europe last summer. Mrs. La Follette prepares her children for the high school at home.

Wisconsin people, for some reason not reported, have the reputation of being exceedingly cold to their prominent fellow-citizens, but whether true or not it does not refer to the governor's wife, who is received everywhere with enthusiasm begotten of respect. The people of the state understand that by her earnest endeavors in behalf of movements calculated to improve the industrial and legal status of women she has earned the gratitude of her sex in all parts of the country.

OFFENSIVE BREATH.

Persons Afflicted with It Should Use Some Simple Disinfectant with Regularity.

There are many causes for bad breath; in some cases it is occasioned by the teeth, in others by a disordered stomach or catarrhal troubles, again it is the result of diseased and decaying lungs.

As persons afflicted with bad breath are themselves frequently unaware of the fact, it is the duty of those with whom they come in contact to call attention to the matter in as kindly a manner as possible. Where the disorder comes from the teeth, the services of a good dentist are necessary, also some simple preparation for the mouth. The following recipe is harmless and good: One ounce of powdered borax, one ounce of precipitated chalk, one-fourth ounce of powdered myrrh and one-fourth ounce of powdered orris root. Charcoal is an excellent remedy for a feverish breath, and the Canadian snake root is also very highly recommended; it imparts a spicy aroma to the breath and leaves a pleasant taste in the mouth. Needless to say the greatest cleanliness in regard to the teeth and mouth is indispensable. Many persons who are most particular about brushing their teeth after meals never think of doing so before breakfast, and no time is it more important as various impurities gather in the mouth at night. After cleaning the teeth in the morning, wash the mouth with weak borax water.

Where the offensive breath is caused by some incurable disease the person thus afflicted is deserving of sympathy and consideration. Even then some simple disinfectant should be used.—Eliza R. Parker, in National Stockman.

Regulating a Child's Diet.

A child who is given whatever he asks for at the table and who is also allowed to be continually eating sweetmeats, cakes, buns, etc., between meals must sooner or later pay the penalty. It is as foolish to expect a child's digestive organs to do the work of those of an adult as to imagine he can compete with a grown person in physical or mental labor.

ARGUMENT IS HEARD.

The Taking of Evidence by Schley Court Is Ended.

Hanna, Assistant to the Judge Advocate General, Begins the Argument—Insists Charges Are Proven.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Two new witnesses were before the Schley court inquiry Monday, and both of them were called in the interest of Admiral Schley. They were Frank B. Richards and George Lynch, both of whom went through the Cuban campaign as newspaper correspondents. Mr. Richards testified concerning the interview with Capt. Sigsbee, while the latter was in command of the St. Paul off Santiago in May, 1898. Mr. Lynch was on the Somers N. Smith, and was called to relate his recollection of Capt. Sigsbee's communication to the boat, concerning which Photographer Hare and Correspondent Scofield already have testified.

Capt. Lemly objected to the introduction of their evidence on the ground that Commodore Schley was present during the conversation; so that it was not material to the case. Capt. Lemly referred to the filing of the court regarding the Hare-Sears conversation which had been ruled out and claimed that this was exactly a parallel case.

Mr. Rayner contended that this alleged conversation with Capt. Sigsbee was one of the vital points of the case and the court retired to consider the point raised.

The court was absent but a short time. When it returned Admiral Dewey announced that "as the testimony of this witness is not considered by the court as material to the case, the objection is sustained in accordance with the court's previous ruling."

When the court came after recess Admiral Dewey handed to Capt. Lemly and the latter read the following announcement:

The court states that while it has added to its record a document presented by the applicant, which was read to the applicant by the president of the United States, on August 10, 1898, the court does not recognize such document as the commission under which the applicant holds his present office in the navy. Immediately after the reading of this document, the argument in the case was resumed. Mr. E. P. Hanna, assistant to Judge Advocate Lemly opening for the government. Mr. Hanna began his presentation of the case by saying that in what he should in his proposed summary he would like to accomplish two objects. The first of these would be to make his address brief, terse, and the second to present a careful and exhaustive citation of the evidence used. These two purposes he considered were somewhat conflicting. Nevertheless he would do the best he could to accomplish them. He would, he said, take the clauses of the precept and present testimony bearing on them in the order which they appear in the precept. He began by referring to the fact that in 1898, the coast of the United States was menaced by the Spanish fleet. This was a critical time. The seaboard was exposed to attack. Military operations were pending for the relief of Havana, but they could not be carried out because of the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet were unknown.

Mr. Hanna told of the arrival of the fly-squadron at Key West and read a number of preliminary orders to Commodore Schley. Speaking of the run of the flying squadron from Key West to Cienfuegos, Hanna claimed that the trip was not made as expeditiously as possible. Continuing Mr. Hanna related the particulars of the meeting between Commodore Schley and Capt. McCalla as the former was on his way to Cienfuegos, and that though the burden of calling for information was based upon the senior officer, it was in evidence that the commodore did not request anything from Capt. McCalla.

Mr. Hanna also referred to the arrival of Cienfuegos, speaking of the reports heard by Admiral Schley and of the meeting with the British steamer Adula. Mr. Hanna then read the order of Admiral Sampson to Commodore Schley dated May 19, 1898, directing the latter to take steps to prevent the enemy from continuing work on the new fortifications at Cienfuegos. "It does not appear," continued Hanna, "that any steps were taken to prevent work on these new fortifications." He discussed the question of McCalla's code for communication with the insurgent on the shore at Cienfuegos at some length. He said that while Cook had stated that the lights proposed for in that code first appeared on May 23, Admiral Schley had stated that they were not visible until the night of the 23d. This Mr. Hanna said he considered an important point, for if the lights were visible on the 22d, the circumstance, connected with the McCalla memoranda, would have rendered it incumbent upon the commodore to investigate them.

Mr. Hanna called attention to Admiral Schley's statement as made in his letter to the senate that he did not know of the presence of the insurgents in the vicinity of Cienfuegos until the arrival of Capt. McCalla on May 24, but he called attention to the fact that it was admitted that the McCalla memoranda giving this information had been received on the 23d. In this connection he referred to the admiral's letter to the senate in a general way. Recalling the fact that he had said that he did not have papers before him when he wrote the report, and Mr. Hanna said this circumstance must be accepted as accounting for a number of material statements which do not correspond with the facts. He stated that while the government version of the McCalla memoranda had been received on May 22, but this he said had not been sufficiently established to place it beyond dispute; hence no argument could be made on that basis. He contended that Admiral Schley should himself have taken initiative in ascertaining the presence of insurgents without waiting for signals from anyone. Hanna had not completed his argument when the court adjourned for the
