VOL. XIII. NO. 41

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1901.

WHOLE NUMBER 665

True Clothing Economy

Getting just what you want at the lowest possible price; it is in buying well fitting, long wearing, fashionable, ready to wear garments—the same as high-priced custom tailor would make you, but at one-third the price. We want to let us practice economy without sacrificing any of your desires in regard to apparel. For instance, we want you to see the superb suits and overcoats we have selected to fit.

They are made up from every stylish fall and winter fabric, cut and tailored in the most approved metropolitan fashion, and even here you would expect to pay at least $20.00 for this quality.

Other Special Value Suits and Overcoats that will mean a positive saving of money for you, at $10.00 and $12.00 and up to $25.00.

You can get no better satisfaction from any garments than from those manufactured by Michaela, Stern & Co., of Rochester, whose products we sell.

OUR BOYS' CLOTHING DEPARTMENT is a very prominent feature of our business. We sell everything a boy needs to wear except shoes, and our prices are so low that you can afford to let him play hard.

OUR HATTERS' DEPARTMENT contains the newest and most fashionable of the small articles of dress made in this country or abroad, yet our prices are much lower than others will charge for the same things.

IN OUR HAT DEPARTMENT you will see the Best Quality and Most Stylish including all the same hatters' shapes, which we sell at $3.00 each, a saving of you of $2.00 in their identical quality.

WILL SOON REACH CHELSEA

The Boland Line Will Soon be the Scene of Activity Again.

W. A. Boland has stated that the Boland-Flynn syndicate has made an agreement with the railway companies general, which requires the completion of a through line from Kalamazoo to Detroit by July 1 next. Within two weeks the third rail material will be on hand and within sixty days the line between Jackson and Ann Arbor will be equipped with third rail outside the villages. The power house will be owned by a separate power company, which proposes to furnish light and power, not only for the railway, but to the villages and cities between Battle Creek and Detroit as well. They have agreed to contribute $10,000 toward the cost of separating grades at Ann Arbor.

Rev. I. R. Hicks is not Dead.

Notwithstanding a widely current rumor, that the Rev. I. R. Hicks was dead, he never was in better health, and never did a harder and more successful year's work than that just closing. He has just completed his large and splendid Almanac for 1902 and, with his staff of able helpers, has brought his Journal, Word and Works, justly forward into international reputation. For a quarter of a century Mr. Hicks has grown in reputation and usefulness as the people's astronomer and fore-caster of storms and the character of coming seasons. Never were his weather forecasts so sought after as now, his timely warning of a serious drought this year having saved the people from loss and suffering. Millions of bushels of wheat were harvested through his advice to plant crops that would mature early. The American people will certainly stand by Prof. Hicks, when it costs him so little and the benefits are so great. His fine Almanac of 200 pages is only 25c, and his splendid family journal is only one dollar a year including the Almanac. Send to Word and Works Pub. Co., 2201 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

A Good Proposition.

I would buy mining stock if I knew it was a sure investment.

Will you define a sure thing? If you are a farmer, you raise stock. Are you sure you will get your money back? Did you ever think that when ready for market it might die?

Your crops may prove a failure and you lose your money.

Are you in business? Are you insured against loss by fire, bad accounts, and the many things coming up in the business world that makes your investment anything but sure?

Good mining property is considered as sure as any other business or investment one can make with the opportunity for larger returns than any other line of investments.

LeRoi, only a short distance from the Eagle group. A lady stenographer bought $500 worth of stock when it was very cheap. She sold out for $40,000.

An attorney put some cash and services into this same property, and has become independent. This stock is now selling for $48.

There are any number of cases of men who buy stock and hold it but a few months and clear up more than a person can earn in a year.

The people who buy poor stock are the ones who kick, you do not hear from the men who make their money in successful investment, they say nothing but make hay while the sun shines.

We ask you to get our prospectus, invest in 100 or 1,000 shares of Six Eagles stock, at 25 cents. You will not regret it

If you do. Price will be double this in a short time.

All stocks of the Six Eagles Mining Co., are fully paid and non-assessable, as the laws of the state of Washington will not allow any company to do business on any other basis in that state.

SIX EAGLES MINING CO.

Care of J. S. McIntosh, Chelsea, Mich.

Or a postal card to lock box G, and the Chelsea representative of the company will be pleased to call and give you all the information possible.

Tell Stories for Pay.

Stories to the normal child are as necessary as the air it breathes, but the true and inspired story teller is rare. That a number of young women gifted in this particular should turn their talent to financial account is quite a natural sequence. One young woman has adopted this work as a distinct profession, not only going from house to house telling stories to children to relieve tired mothers and distracted fathers, but applying her gift as well in a general way in the conduct of children's parties, where stories, monologues, games and songs furnish entertainment for the young company. It has been found that mentally deficient children can often be reached by means of a story, and this work is included usually in that part of the professional story teller.—Motherhood.

And He Went to the Chowder.

He occupies a very unimportant position in one of the city departments, but he was expected to work on Labor day. That is how it happened that as early as August 24 he wrote to the head of the department asking to be excused from work on that day, "to attend a funeral."

The private secretary happened to glance over the note before it reached the commissioner. Then he thought a moment, compared dates and returned the note to the sender, indorsing it as follows:

"We don't keep bodies unburied for eight days at this season. Try again. Why not tell the truth?"

Soon the application came back, and this time it read: "To attend Councilman Foley's chowder."

And the request was granted.—N. Y. Times.

Four Captain Lawtons.

It's an odd fact that there are now four Capt. Lawtons in the United States regular army—all young men, not one of whom is related to the late Gen. Henry W. Lawton, who made the name illustrious in Cuba and the Philippines. One of these, Capt. Louis B. Lawton, is to be retired for desperate wounds received in battle in China, where he distinguished himself not only for extraordinary heroism, but for sagacious action in a dangerous situation. After an exceptionally brilliant service he must now give up his chosen career, because of these honorable wounds. In any other country extraordinary honors would await such a man.—N. Y. Sun.

Handshaking a National Custom.

The Swedish people are always shaking hands with each other. At breakfast or dinner the children or the guests of a household shake hands with the mother or the hostess when they enter the room, wishing her good morning, and also before they leave it, thanking her for the food they have eaten. At formal dinner parties the same ceremony takes place. The guests shake hands with the host and hostess when they enter and again before they leave the dining-room, and of course the ceremony is repeated when they say good night before leaving the house.—W. E. Curtis, in Chicago Record-Herald.

What is a Runaway Horse?

They have nice horses and cattle out west, but they have little ways of their own. For instance, a broken horse out west has points of difference from a broken horse in the east. Some of the saddle horses caused me most unaffected misery when I had to ride—and it was the same thing with the driving horses. I used to spend my winters in the east, and when I went back to the ranch I would of course want to hear the latest news about my neighbors—who'd been hanged and the rest. My foreman had a grievance against a professor from Ann Arbor, who wanted to see the Bad Lands and had hired a team, which ran away, smashing things up and breaking the professor's arm. He said that the professor had made a remark which made him hot. He didn't mind his saying that he had fallen into a den of sharks—because he knew sharks didn't have dens, and, besides, he didn't charge the professor for the use of the team; what made him hot was the remark that he had foisted on the professor a team of runaway horses. "He had no right to call them that," said the foreman. "One horse had only been driven twice, and could hardly be called a confirmed runaway, and the other—well, there were lots of times when he hadn't run away."—Forest and Stream.

Distinctive "Readin'."

An aged colored man, who is well known to some of the attaches of the city hall, for whom he frequently does odd jobs at their homes, is familiarly called by the sobriquet of "Tute." One day "Tute" asked one of his many employers if he would kindly read a note for him. He requested was complied with, and it proved to be a call upon "Tute's" services as a whitewasher and cleaner of cellars. "Why, Tute," said the man, "this is very plainly written, and you surely ought to be able to read this yourself, for I have frequently seen you reading the papers." "Well, that's just it," replied "Tute." "Ye see, I can't read writin' readin', but I kin read readin' readin'." This peculiar explanation revealed that "Tute" could manage to read print, but was unable to read writing.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Luxuriant Seaweed.

Though seaweed is most often seen on rocky shores, it is found elsewhere in great quantities. There are, so to speak, vast meadows of it in the gulf stream, where it is called sargassos, covering a space of 3,000,000 square miles in green and yellow patches. A smaller mass occurs in the North Pacific. In Tierra del Fuego one weed reaches a length of 360 feet, being well named the giant kelp. Seaweeds having no roots, they cling to rocks by a kind of sucker. They get their food from the sea, and in turn supply food to countless multitudes of animals, one as big as the whale, the rest mostly so tiny the human eye cannot detect them.—Nature.

Prisoners Fare Better Than Guards.

Strange as the fact may seem, the daily ration of the Boer prisoners now at Berauda is a little more than the British government allows its own soldiers. The fresh meat furnished is butchered daily, and the cattle for this supply are as good as can be purchased in the New Jersey and Chicago stock yards, the animals being shipped once a fortnight from New York. The bread, too, is baked and furnished daily from the best brand of Knickerbocker flour, and, like all the other provisions, the groceries are inspected by the officer of the day before being accepted or delivered to prisoners.—Pearson's Magazine.

A Literary Curiosity.

English as she is written, even in this twentieth century, sometimes appears a strange tongue. Outside the shop window of an old curio dealer in the West end this notice appears: "In consequence of absence of the Lady Shop Attendant on her 2 weeks holidays and obliged to attend business outside the Shop will be opened as follows (then comes the time-table) and respectfully I beg the favor of my customers to kindly favourise my establishment as always before." This is a literary curio not ostensibly for sale.—London Telegraph.

A PHYSICIAN TESTIFIES

"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did," says County Physician Geo. W. Scroggs of Hall County, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains undigested in your stomach it decays there and poisons the system. You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. You need suffer from neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worst cases quickly cured. Never fails. Glazier & Stimson.

"Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist of Filley, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

WOMEN AND JEWELS

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Roscoe's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial trouble. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Glazier & Stimson's. Get Green's Special Almanac.

GREAT LUCK OF EDITOR.

"For two years all efforts to cure, even in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester of Syracuse, Kan. "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for eruptions, sores and all skin diseases. Only 25c at Glazier & Stimson's.

THE CHILDREN'S FRIEND

You'll have a cold this winter. Maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too. For coughs, croup, bronchitis, grip and other winter complaints, DeWitt's Little, Early Relief is the best. It is very pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. C. B. George, Winchester, Ky., writes "Our little girl was attacked with croup into one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her a few doses of DeWitt's Little, Early Relief. It relieved her immediately and she went to sleep. When she awoke next morning she had no sign of hoarseness or croup." Glazier & Stimson.

MODERN SURGERY SURPASSED.

"While suffering from a bad case of piles I consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," says G. F. Carter, Atlanta, Ga. "I procured a box and was entirely cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." Surgery is unnecessary to cure piles. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure any case. Cuts, burns, bruises and all other wounds are also quickly cured by it. Beware of counterfeits. Glazier & Stimson.

The supervisors of Shiawassee county have declared for the separation of state and county in taxation. The board adopted the following resolution: "We place ourselves on record in favor of the early separation of the state and counties in all taxation measures, and call upon our state legislature to enact, at as early a date as possible, such statutes or other legislation to bring this about, believing that such separation will simplify the work of assessment and collection of taxes, eliminate all confusion in the keeping of accounts between state and county officers, and greatly reduce the whole expense of government to the people, and call on all boards of supervisors throughout the state to place themselves on record in a similar manner."

Thanksgiving Day
 Of the many feast days celebrated throughout the world, Thanksgiving Day, the day set apart by proclamation to give thanks to the Giver of all good for the mercies and blessings of the year is nearest and dearest to the hearts of the American people. Especially is this so in historic Old New England, where family ties, associations and memories, together with the day-by-day life of the hardy sons and daughters of this prosperous and picturesque region, are tempered and molded even to this day by the traditions of their Puritan ancestry, writes Rev. John Hall.
 Nearly three centuries ago a little band of brave, adventurous pioneers celebrated the first appointed day of Thanksgiving. Governor Bradford, at Plymouth, Mass., in the autumn following the landing of the Pilgrims, set apart a day to be devoted to thanksgiving, prayer, praise and incidentally to various and sundry demonstrations of good will, good fellowship and a general good time for young and old. It was a day of bounty, of openhandedness, a day when the latch-string was not only altogether out, but the door was wide open. It is said of certain venerable Puritans that after the feast was over, after the hangers-on and the few poor of the neighborhood had been fed, that they gathered into baskets the scraps and bits that remained and went out through the highways and byways looking for hungry dogs and rats, that they also might be filled on this blessed day. Falling in this, they placed the food on some rock or tree trunk, that the birds and wild beasts might eat thereof. There are many holidays around which pleasant memories cluster, but among them all Thanksgiving Day presents to our view the most kaleidoscopic pictures. This day for family reunion, this milestone on the pathway of human life, this day from which many households date their pleasures and their griefs, the red-letter days in the calendar of the aged and infirm, hoped for, waited for, prayed for, because it brought once more the smiling faces of loved ones, because it furnished one more delight before the venerable and snow-crowned heads were laid away in their last long home. There is one most delightful feature of this altogether happy occasion: Blessed be the roof under which an unbroken family circle gathers. Then it is that the day can have its full significance of thanksgiving and praise. It is hard indeed to accept the decrees of Providence when they remove from us those to whom our hearts are closely united. Try as we may, profess as we will, up from the depths of our souls comes the cry for the beloved who have been taken from us. But when we come, one and all, an unbroken band and take our places at the table filled with the good things of life, then in the fullness of our hearts we can give thanks not only for the plenty which has been showered upon us, but for the presence of those without whom our lives would be incomplete and full of sorrow.
 It is meet that before we enjoy the delights of a table laden with the delicacies and dainties with which the season has furnished us, that we should render our tribute of praise and thankfulness to the great Provider who giveth at the proper time the harvest of field, orchard, meadow, forest and stream. It is but common justice that we would do this even to a friend who has bestowed favors upon us. How much more, then, to the great Creator who gives not only the simplest, but also the greatest, gifts of our lives! For the gift of life! What is life? Life is the spirit of God Himself. When God made man He breathed into his nostrils His own breath and with it a fragment of his own spiritual and immortal being.

What a Girl May Do
 The girl who has cultivated the spirit of thankfulness does not gush over at the gift of a daisy, and snap an indignant "Thanks!" at the man who has lost a day from the office to gratify her little whim, writes Edward L. County and Vicinity

Hudson business men have adopted the custom of closing their stores when a funeral procession passes through the streets.

Fred W. Green is having the stone drawn for a new house on his S. Huron street lot. When a young, good-looking bachelor turns his attention to housebuilding matrimony is generally in the air.

Rumors of a new hotel are again afloat, and this time they are independent of the Hibbard house. I am informed by a well-known contractor that Fred Postal, the popular proprietor of the Griswold, Detroit, was here this week with a view of buying the Hurd house block and making a six-story hotel of it.

Thos. Birkett, the well-known Dexter capitalist, began suit last week against the Cornwells and the Ypsilanti Paper Company for $40,000 damages. He asks the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the Birkett Manufacturing Co., charging that he was frozen out of the company and received less than his share in the payments made for holdings and goods.

"You can say just what you've a mind to," an exchange heard a man say the other day, "no poor man can afford to have beefsteak every day, but your life we cut it out at our house." Then he took a big chew of tobacco "like a gentleman" and planked down sixty cents for the games of cards he had just lost.

Arthur Streeter, a former member of Company D, of Jackson was reported dead in the Philippines about a year ago, is alive, having been in hospitals at Manila and the Presidio, California. His parents here are in communication with the Presidio to learn details. He was mourned as dead and his parents now are rejoicing with the hope of his recovery.

About two o'clock Monday morning the neighbors at the foot of Henry street were aroused by a cry of fire which proved to be in the out-house of R. E. Brown. Investigation showed that kerosene oil had been poured over the building and along the walk from it to the house, on the back steps and side of the house, evidently with a view of leading the fire to the house and thus burn it too.

Help... Nature. Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA. will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement.

A number of the maddest men who have struck this town in a good while came in on the south road at different times last week. What may prove a very serious accident occurred at the home of A. B. Hamlin Thursday evening. Mr. Hamlin who had been reading was dozing in his chair and Mrs. H. sat by the table reading, when without warning the large lamp exploded and the oil took fire and spread rapidly to the carpet, furniture and to Mrs. Hamlin's clothing. The daughter Alma was in another room, but the cries soon brought her in and the three by persistent efforts succeeded in smothering the flames, but not until Mr. H. had sustained more or less injuries about his hands and face.
