ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TURKEYS

It Took That Number to Furnish Stove Works Employees.

Frank P. Glazier made the hearts of the employees at the Stove Works glad Tuesday by presenting each of them with a turkey and a beautiful calendar. His generosity also reached to the members of the Chelsea Band, and the editor of The Standard was also lucky enough to be among those remembered. It took 150 turkeys to go around.

Will Never Be Popular.

An exchange says that a certain clergyman recently made a very bad break at a funeral and caused dire consternation among the friends of the deceased. The reverend gentleman had grown very tired of the regulation expressions and the same old form of announcements over and over again and determined to introduce some new ones. At the funeral in question he decided to try his new departure in announcements and accordingly when he had finished preaching the funeral sermon instead of saying "an opportunity will now be given to pass around the bier." It is needless to say that this minister's new form of announcement will never become popular at funerals. It might be permissible at some other functions.

YPSILANTI WILL SETTLE UP

Back Fines Are to be Turned Over to The Library Fund.

A committee, consisting of Homer Cady of Ann Arbor, and Sumner Dunn of Ypsilanti, and deriving its authority from the prosecuting attorney, began the examination Saturday of the books of the two justices of the peace, at Ypsilanti and see how much statutory fine money the city has failed to turn over to the country library fund. No fine money has gone to the county since '98, but thus far in the investigation, the indications are that not more than $700 or $800 will be brought back, although the estimate of the county officials was that Ypsilanti was a debtor to the library fund to the extent of $2,000 or $3,000. No blame attaches itself to the justices, who have given both statutory and city fine money to the city treasurer, as per the city charter, but the trouble lies in the city charter which makes no provision for the statutory fines going to the county, in the fact that the county treasurers have neglected to call the city's attention to the remission. When the prosecuting attorney's committee makes its report, it is expected that the council will direct the city attorney and a committee of aldermen to confer with a view to a settlement in full.

Some Good Advice.

Prof. L. R. Taft, professor of horticulture at the Agricultural College, has prepared some information of interest to fruit growers and farmers.

Prof. Taft says that when the trunks and branches of peach trees are white-washed the danger of the starting of buds during warm spells in the winter are lessened, but to be entirely effectual the work must be thoroughly done and the wash must be renewed if necessary. From the fact that the starting of the buds generally occurs during the warm periods in January or February and that the spraying at this time will prevent the attack of curleaf, Prof. Taft advises that if a January thaw should continue more than three days and the conditions are such that there is danger of buds swelling, the trees should be sprayed with bordeaux mixture, using eight pounds of lime and four pounds of copper sulphate to 50 gallons of water. During February and March it will be well to take advantage of any warm days for spraying if the treatment has not already been made.

An Appeal to Loyal Wolverines.

The next annual meeting of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society will occur at Lansing in June, 1902. At each yearly meeting reports from the different counties are given, historic papers are read, and these together, make a yearly volume. These books, which number 29, are considered very valuable and are free to school libraries and granges. There is now at the rooms of the society at the capitol the nucleus of a state pioneer and historical museum, for attention to which Ellen B. Judson, state secretary, makes a strong appeal. She regrets that there is no display of minerals, no collection of woods, from each of which so much of our wealth has been derived; no Indian relics or implements pertaining to these people, whose legends and story play such an important part in the history of our early settlements. There could be no better object lesson in the evolution and progress of our state than such an exhibition. It is not too late, however, to begin the work of collecting curios and it is hoped the people of the state will join in and help on the commendable enterprise.

Next year the membership of the society will be open to all worthy citizens of the state.

If you have anything that you think will be of value as a memento of Michigan's bygone days, write to Ellen B. Judson, secretary, 502 Washington Ave. N., Lansing.

GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY

U. of M. Professors Discover Absolute Antiseptic For Intestinal Diseases.

In the bacteriological and chemical laboratories of the University of Michigan, there has been made a discovery which will probably prove to be one of the most wonderful of the age. It is no less than an absolute antiseptic for all intestinal diseases such as all forms of cholera, typhoid fever and dysentery, and they may no longer remain as terrors.

Some few months ago Dr. Frederick G. Novy and Prof. Paul C. Freer announced that by their united efforts they had succeeded in combining an antiseptic preparation which they called "benzozone." It is comparatively easy for the eminent bacteriologists to discover new germs, but how to combat them is the great problem. It is like the struggle between the gun manufacturers and the armor plate men.

When one takes into consideration the ravages of dysentery and typhoid fever in war times, which diseases are more deadly than the bullets of the enemy, and when one stops to think of the horrible slaughter caused by Asiatic cholera, it goes almost without saying that if the experiments which have been made at the university laboratories prove successful under all conditions, the discovery of "benzozone" will revolutionize the treatment of the deadly intestinal diseases.

A person in his animal organisms naturally produces virulent poisons. Germs of disease can be found in the most healthy intestines, but the continuation of health lies in the fact that the intestines are in such good condition that the poisons can be rapidly and regularly eliminated by nature. If something interrupts the destructive action on these intestinal poisons of the kidneys or the liver fail to perform its proper functions, disease will result.

During the past week five sophomore medical students, who had been selected and who volunteered their services, were experimented upon. They were allowed nothing to eat and were given only sterilized milk to drink. In consequence no food containing germs or microbes passed into the intestines. They were treated with benzozone, and an analysis of the excretions showed absolutely not a trace of a germ.

This is the first step, and its success has been such that every student who is making a study of the new preparation is enthusiastic. The next step will be to try it on an actual case of disease in the human body. Its success on inoculated guinea pigs having already been demonstrated. Possibly some student may offer himself as a subject to have some millions of typhoid or cholera germs shot into him and then destroyed by benzozone after the disease has found a foothold in his intestines.

Professional ethics prevent Dr. Novy from saying anything about his experiments to the press; at least until he is absolutely sure that his benzozone is all that he hoped for.

"I have been experimenting," said he, "but the place to discuss the matter is in the scientific and professional journals. I have nothing for publication now."

But the smiling look on the medical students who have been interviewed on the subject, and their enthusiasm over the matter of the success of the experiments show undoubtedly a new weapon is about to be given into the hands of the medical profession to combat terrible intestinal diseases.

The whole medical world will await with impatience the formal and authoritative announcement of Dr. Novy as to the success of his present and future experiments. These future successes are not only considered possible, but absolutely probable.

New Dating Machine.

Michigan Central ticket offices are making use of a new machine for dating tickets. The device consists of a guide for the ticket, which carries it between two typed rollers, which not only date the ticket in embossed letters, but mill the edges. The method of changing the date line is simple, and the whole machine is a great improvement on the old style of using inkly ribbons. The device is the invention of A. J. Bart, auditor of the Michigan Central, and W. W. Parsons. They have sold 50 to the Michigan Central.

NO MORE STOP-OVER PRIVILEGES.

Nearly all of the Michigan Railroads are in the Agreement.

The practice of permitting stop-overs at intermediate stations on railroad tickets was a few years ago quite general; but within the last few years lines in the east and west have discontinued the practice. Michigan lines having stood alone in granting it, until about two years ago, in the sale of coupon tickets; it was done away with, and now, beginning with December 30, most of the Michigan lines will discontinue the stop-over practice on all tickets to designated resort points. The Michigan Central gives the first notice of adoption.

It will result in no hardship, as the passenger will simply purchase from station to station. Notice to passengers covering the new custom are being distributed to all agents on the line of the Michigan Central, restricting the sale of tickets to continuous passage, and unless restricted to shorter limit, will be honored only on day of sale and day following date of sale, and will not be accepted for passage after the limit has expired.

Another new feature will be the redemption at full fare, on date of sale only, of limited tickets sold by ticket agents, which the purchasers are unable to use within the limit and have not been used for the checking of baggage or for any other purpose. After date of sale however, the ticket agent will not be permitted to redeem tickets sold; but by sending them to the general passenger agent direct or through the local agent redemption will be made.

Were 49 Deaths in November.

There were 49 deaths in Washtenaw county in November. Of these 19 were in Ann Arbor, including 5 deaths in the hospitals. There were eleven deaths in Ypsilanti, three in Dexter, one in Manchester village. There were three deaths in Augusta, two each in Northfield, Salem and Sharon and one each in Lima, Manchester, Selo, Superior and York. Eleven townships reported no deaths. Of those who died 14 were over 65 years of age, two still-born, two under one year of age and three between one and four years of age.

Of the 49 deaths, five were from pneumonia, two from violent causes, two from cancer, two from croup, one from diptheria, one from scarlet fever, one from typhoid fever and one from tuberculosis. The deaths in Washtenaw bore almost the same ratio to 1,000 in population as did the deaths in Michigan. There were 2,454 deaths in Michigan in November. In spite of the general prevalence of small pox, only two of these deaths were from that cause.

It Don't Cost Much.

The University of Michigan is supported largely by a one-quarter mill tax on the assessed valuation in the state. A man whose property is assessed at five hundred dollars, pays for the support of the University twelve and one-half cents per year—a cent a month. If a citizen owns a farm assessed at two thousand dollars, he pays fifty cents per year to the University. This payment of fifty cents is all it costs him to have at his command for his and his neighbors' children, an education of the best. A man must own property valued by the assessor at four thousand dollars, before he can say he pays one dollar per year, or eight and one-half cents per month, for the support of the University.

Don't Take Another's Mail.

Do not take out of the postoffice any letter or paper that does not belong to you. A recent decision of the United States court awarded damage to the plaintiff in a case where a man named A. Cowie got a letter in his box which belonged to another A. Cowie. He took it from the office and kept it several days. Meanwhile the other A. Cowie lost an opportunity to make a deal mentioned in the letter and lost about $700 thereby. He sued in the circuit court, was awarded the amount asked for and costs assessed to the defendant. The defendant appealed to the U. S. district court, who affirmed the decision of the lower court.—Ex.

After Three Hundred Years.

BY HERBERT L. COGGINS.

Copyright, 1901, by Daily Story Pub. Co.

Late in the spring of 1873 the steamship Polaris, having fought its way through Fury strait, entered the open waters of Boothia bay. Of all the people who knew of the voyage, only through the exciting accounts which filled the newspapers of the time, few indeed can imagine its hardships, the long dark days when the ice had rendered the boat helpless, the dreary yet scarcely darker nights which sleep alone made bearable, and a cold which human sense could only register as pain.

At that time I was assistant to Dr. Thayer, the biologist of the expedition, and had been looking forward to the cruise as one long tour of pleasurable excitement.

Pleasure? I had used that word, but now, as I look back and shudder, it seems meaningless. Days of excitement there were by the score; times when the awful question of death rose up before us. Still, they but make a sombre background for the single hour which is stamped indelibly upon my memory.

The Polaris was anchored in latitude 69.40.17, longitude 64.60. To the east was Melville Peninsula, a typical portion of Northwestern British America, to my mind the most dreary and desolate bit of land on this whole round globe.

The snow of the previous year had worn away, leaving exposed an almost barren waste. Away from the shore low moss-covered "tundra," or frozen swamps, spread themselves on all sides, while here and there a margin of stunted tree growth cut a dull line across the bleak surface. Around and above all was the funeral gloom of an Arctic silence.

Out in the bay great ice floes were moving slowly southward. Against the darkened sky we could see them in the distance, huge frozen mountains, approaching steadily and silently like a fleet of ghostly vessels bound on some weird mission of destruction.

It was on the 7th of May, a particularly large berg drifted so close to the Polaris that the doctor and I took the yawl and rowed over to it in the hope of killing a stranded bear or musk ox. I shall not speak of our tedious struggles along that icy cliff, nor of our weary wanderings over its cold mountainous surface. Terrible as they were it is not because of them that the day is memorable to me.

Unsuccessful in the search and with only the thought of getting back to the Polaris in my mind, I was wearily making my way along the small level stretch of ice to which our boat was anchored when my eye caught on something which caused me to pause. A few feet ahead of me and buried an inch or two below the surface was some dark opaque object.

"Fur!" I exclaimed; "some fossil." The St. Petersburg mammoth came to my mind. My shout brought the doctor hurrying towards me. He, too, was taken with the same idea and with our hatchets we began the work of excavation.

A minute later the doctor sprang back, and I heard his hatchet fall clanging upon the ice.

"Good God," he cried, "look!"

His last blow had left but a thin, transparent lens of ice above the object of his search. A shiver, as of some age, passed through my nerves. I recognized, not the limb of some long buried fossil, but, staring up at us with awful composure, a human face. Had I been alone I would never have taken a second look. To the doctor, however, such sights were less repulsive, and his instinct for investigation instantly reasserted itself.

An hour's hard work enabled us to lift the body from its icy tomb. I can see it now. The massive head and broad shoulders, the powerful limbs, and even the stern expression of that rigid face. In spite of my aversion, the physical aspect of the man filled me with awe. Never has that picture arisen to my vision—and the mist of years have come between—without impressing me with the belief that it was although our hopes were greatly raised by the discovery of a large gold locket and chain hidden by the overgrowth of beard. This the doctor removed, but an examination proved the locket to be empty. Then, having done all that lay in our power, we replaced the body in its ancient tomb.

By the time we had reached the Polaris the great bearded man had dipped below the horizon. As we stepped on deck, I looked back. A soft diffused light was poured over the ocean, and here and there brightening up as it fell upon the ice floes. The object of our visit was now several miles to the south, but to my imaginative eye it seemed larger than ever.

"Who could have perished alone and so far North?" I thought. As I wondered the idea grew upon me that the stranger was no ordinary person. Surely, no one ever had a grander monument than you stately pyramid. No not even those old Egyptian kings. I took my last look at the floating sepulchre as I went below. By the next morning it had passed forever from our sight.

All this was a generation ago. The dear old doctor has passed away, leaving only one thing to be regretted—the unfinished volume of his great work. That I, his friend and co-worker, should finish it was his last wish.

It was in the preparation of this task

A false lining.

while looking over his notes, that I ran across a ragged brown leaf, torn from some old forgotten volume. Curious to know the reason for preserving such a fragment, I glanced over it.

"At the festival given by the East India company, on board the ship Trader's Increase, December 30, 1609, His Majesty, King James I., presented Sir Thomas Smythe, Governor of the Company, with a very fair necklace of gold bearing a locket wherein was his own portrait."

A description followed, which, as I read, sent a hundred echoing visions through my brain. I had never seen the necklace, and yet how vividly the description pictured itself in my mind. Then suddenly, as the recognizing of a former friend, I thought of the locket which we had taken from that corpse in Boothia bay. For months, ever since the doctor's death, it had been stowed away in my desk at home.

Probably then the doctor also had been struck with the description, but his failing memory had doubtless prevented him from associating it with the locket in his possession. Still it was only a similarity. The trinket found in the Arctic America bore no connection with Sir Thomas Smythe of three centuries back.

Sir Thomas Smythe. Again I am confronted by that name. Is it not more than a coincidence? I read on. It was that rare old volume, "The Daring Navigators of the XVII. Century."

"When Henry Hudson set forth on that last fatal quest of the northwest route to the Indies Sir Thomas Smythe, then Governor of the Company, did present to him for a talisman for a safe voyage the golden necklace which had been given first to Sir Thomas by His Majesty King James."

I closed the book. Five minutes later I was once again gazing into the old locket for a clue which nowhere met my eyes. In final disgust I dropped the trinket from my fingers and it struck the stone tablet of my desk. I heard a sound as of the action of a stiffened spring, and beheld a false lining, which I had taken for the inner case, gaping open before me. Below this disk was a miniature in oil. The porcelain was cracked and the colors faded, but the face was the face of James I.

And so, while the genial ghost of old Henry Hudson bows ninepins with his merry trolls far in the depths of the Catskills, his mortal body, entombed in its mighty mausoleum, now and forever sails the great Northern ocean, seeking, perchance, that open highway to the East.

Then Paris' Witchery Would Vanish.

Some of our French friends over the sea complain that Paris is now the most expensive city in the world to live in; that the cost of many things has risen to exorbitant figures on the banks of the Seine. But these fault-finders should bear in mind that the wealthiest people in all countries delight to visit the gayest and most aristocratic of capitals in larger numbers every year, and spend their money in Paris with more freedom and prodigality every season. That wonderful City of Pleasure cannot be parsimonious or even frugal. She must continue to allure the peoples of the earth by surpassing her rivals in luxury and in splendor. If Paris should ever become a cheap community her witchery would soon vanish.—New York Tribune.

THE C. R. I. & P. R. R.

By January 1st the Rock Island expects to be able to open for business its southwestern extension to El Paso, Tex. This line, in connection with the Southern Pacific and the Mexican Central railroads, will give the Rock Island the shortest line both to Southern California and the City of Mexico, and make it a dangerous competitor of the Santa Fe. It took just one year to construct the 546 miles of the new extension from Liberal, Kan., to El Paso, Tex. For the purpose of complying with the Texas law that every railroad within that state shall have state operating headquarters and also for general construction facilities and convenience, the new road was placed under the charters of five different railroad corporations, viz.: The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific proper, the Chicago, Rock Island & Mexico, the Chicago, Rock Island & El Paso, the Rock Island & El Paso, and the El Paso & North-eastern. The road from Liberal to Santa Rosa, N. M., a distance of 272 miles, was placed under direct Rock Island construction, with J. H. Conlen, vice president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Mexico, as Chief Engineer and General Manager, while from Santa Rosa to Carrizozo, a distance of 180 miles, the construction work was given to the El Paso & North-eastern, which already had a constructed line from El Paso to Carrizozo. The road from Liberal to Carrizozo will be equipped with eighty-pound steel rails, oak or pitch pine ties, and modern ballasting. Depot, side tracks, switches, station houses, yardings, water tanks, and Western Union telegraph lines have all kept pace with actual road building, and when the road is opened by the first of next year it will be in as perfect condition as any of the lines of the Rock Island system that have been in service for years. In connection with the Rock Island-El Paso line is the new thirty-mile railroad which is to develop the immense Dawson coal fields, owned by the Rock Island, on the Beaubien and Miranda grant, in the northern part of Colfax county, N. M. This road will leave the main Rock Island rails at or near Liberal station, twenty miles southwest of the Canadian river crossing, and run through the New Mexican counties of San Miguel, Mora and Colfax. This branch will be completed by May 15, 1902. The coal is to feed the southeastern portion of the Rock Island-El Paso line, and probably will largely supply the Southern Pacific railroad, in addition to a heavy domestic custom in that section of the country. The completion of the El Paso line will give the Rock Island a route of 222 miles shorter between Kansas City and El Paso than that of the Santa Fe between the same points, together with a saving of fifteen hours of time, the latter fact being largely due to the favorable alignment and maximum 1 per cent grade of the new Rock Island line. In connection with the Southern Pacific, the Rock Island will have a shorter line from Chicago to Los Angeles than will the Santa Fe. The construction cost of the Rock Island-El Paso line will approximate $7,000,000, an average of about $15,000 per mile.—Chicago Tribune.

Training Russian Policemen.

It is not generally known that in St. Petersburg there exists a special school where young men are trained for police service in the two capitals. In consequence of the numerous outbreaks and the growing necessity for a more efficient and well-trained police force, the minister of the interior has resolved to open a second policemen's training school for service in the provinces. The school will have several courses of lectures and practical drill for officers and men. During their training the young men will be used occasionally for actual service in the capital, so as to give them practical experience in the discharge of their duties. Who can help admiring the painstaking care and foresight of Russian autocracy in defending its own precious existence?

HOMICIDE IN AMERICA.

Startling Figures Show Increasing Disregard for Human Life.

A Louisville preacher has recently made the startling assertion that "home life is safer in the dominions of the ameer of Afghanistan than it is in Kentucky. There are more murders in Louisville with 300,000 people than there are in London with its 7,000,000. There are more murders in Kentucky with its 2,000,000 people than in Great Britain with a population of 40,000,000. Finally, there are more murders in the United States than in the whole of Europe, with Italy and Turkey left out and Russia included." The Nashville American says—and who can deny—that "this statement is true." The American asseverates that "no other civilized nation approaches this in the question of murder, and those which come nearest to it are such countries as Italy and Turkey, where the assassin's knife is freely used and where men allow their anger and hate and disgraceful passions to rule their conduct. This nation has a red record of which it should be heartily ashamed."

Did Not Want a Bear Then.

"The sickest man I ever took into the woods," said an Adirondack guide, near North Creek, "was a lawyer who came in from Buffalo last fall to kill a bear. He said he was going to kill one if it took all season. He wanted a rug of his own killing for his office. He stayed in the woods three weeks, and wouldn't look at deer or small game. Finally he had to go home. He sent his stuff out to the railroad by team, and walked out himself, saying that would be his last chance at a bear. "Sure enough, he went around a big rock and met a bear face to face in the trail. He forgot what he was after, forgot he had been hunting three weeks for this very animal, forgot that he wanted a rug for his office, and even forgot that he had a gun. He turned and sprinted in the direction of which he came till it all came over him that the bear was just what he wanted. Then he stopped, went back," said the guide, according to the New York Times, "and saw from the tracks that the bear had gone a good deal faster than he did, and in the opposite direction."

The entire body from shoulders to feet was enveloped in a great coat of faded brown fur. A hood which, doubtless, had once been attached to the coat, was pulled over the head, exposing only the heavily bearded face.

"One of Sir John Franklin's party?" I queried, as we paused, spent and breathless, after our exertion.

"Possibly; but the chances are it's some one later. We'll soon know, anyway."

"Puzzles?" asked the second seasick passenger. "I guess they were, but I gave them all up long ago."—Baltimore American.

County and Vicinity

The dog poisoner is at work in Ypsilanti.

The Manchester banks have $384,522.70 on deposit.

The Hawks & Angus line is building a waiting room at Grass Lake.

Jackson is trying to get a pickle factory to locate within its borders.

Grass Lake wants a grist mill, and plans have been drawn for the same.

Willis is such a distressingly healthy place that the doctors have deserted it.

Ann Arbor is to have an enamel factory which will employ about forty hands.

Besides the new $10,000 hotel, ten new houses have been erected at Milan this year.

The Ann Arbor Organ Co. has received an order for its product from Iquique, Chile.

Farmers around Manchester intend to go into the onion raising industry next year on a large scale.

Henry Paul of Northfield toyed with the festive corn husker and is now nursing a badly crushed hand.

During the month of November the Grass Lake creamery made nearly 14,000 pounds of butter, for which the sum of 23 cents per pound was received.

Andrew Curtis of Augusta wore a ragged mitten while feeding wood to a buzz saw one day last week, and lost two fingers.

The family of Frank Maginn of Manchester had a narrow escape one night last week from being suffocated by coal gas.

The Michigan central is shipping a large quantity of field stone from Dexter to be used in the embankments along their new grade.

Kiel, the Manchester taxidermist, has mounted a deer's head, one prong of whose antlers is that of a moose and the other that of a common deer.

The dry kiln at the National Wheel Works, Jackson, was destroyed by fire Friday night. Loss about $15,000. One hundred men were thrown out of work.

The skunk crop at Stockbridge is a good one this year. W. H. Collins and son gathered seventeen last week from two acres of land. There's scents in raising a crop like that.

Fire broke out at the Boston poultry house at Ypsilanti Saturday morning, and although 1,000 pounds of poultry was saved, 3,000 pounds of feathers went up in smoke and the building was destroyed. The company ships about 150,000 pounds of poultry from Ypsilanti every winter, and their season this year would have ended in a week.

Barnum's Monkeys

"Ah well—all happy—lots of fun". That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

George Crow, landlord of the Freeman House at Manchester, has gone into bankruptcy. His indebtedness is $2,100, most of which is to outside creditors. This will make his creditors crawl.

Petitions are being circulated in Livingston county and will be presented to the supervisors at their January meeting if enough signatures are secured, asking that the local option proposition be submitted to the voters at the spring election.

While Oren Carley of Munith was butchering last week, he struck a knife which was lying on the ground and the knife flew up and struck him, nearly severing his nose from his face. The knife came within a fraction of an inch of entering his eye.

Milan's landlords have formed a combination, and now when a man wants to move he must show a receipt for his last month's rent before he can get another house. Editor Houseman of the Leader has just erected a fine new house. The reason for his doing so is now obvious.

When the electric light plant boiler exploded at Brooklyn village some weeks ago, the whistle was lost in the flying debris. Recently a saloonist discovered his roof leaked and ordered it repaired. Workmen found, firmly imbedded in the roof, the missing whistle. The building was some distance from the scene of the explosion.

We learn that the arbeiter society has settled the Wuerthner case with Attorney Lehman and have paid their lawyers, A. F. & F. M. Freeman. It is claimed that the suit cost the society about $1,000 but it still owns the block—and the grove.—Manchester Enterprise. How much cheaper it would have been for the society to have settled the claim in the first place.

The Manchester prospecting company has not yet disbanded. The treasurer has been trying to collect a small assessment for the purpose of paying a few small bills, but some of the members refuse to pay. We understand that 25 cents paid by each stockholder would square up the matter and it seems as though no one would repent so small an amount.—Manchester Enterprise.

The case of Chas. S. Smith against the Michigan Telephone Company was settled at Ypsilanti last week by the company paying Smith $100. The case was tried in Justice Joslin's court where Smith got a judgment for $75. The company appealed the case but the parties got together and the matter was settled out of court. The case arose over the killing of a horse belonging to Smith by a telephone wire falling down and the horse getting into it.

Last Saturday Col. P. E. Holf of Chicago was in town interviewing the merchants. He says that in many western towns the people build a large tank similar to the ones used by the Standard Oil Co., then buy their oil at jobbers prices and save three or four cents a gallon. He claimed that the scheme has worked successfully and that the great oil monopoly simply has to quit business in towns where the scheme is operated. It would be a good plan to investigate the matter and if we can save money on oil, why not do it?—Manchester Enterprise.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE

From the Gazette, Townsville, Australia
I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an excellent medicine. I have been suffering from a severe cough for the last two months, and it has effected a cure.
I have great pleasure in recommending it.—W. C. WOCKNER. This is the opinion of one of our oldest and most respected in good faith that others may try the remedy and be benefited, as was Mr.

Wockner. This remedy is sold by all

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

A poor complexion is usually the result of a torpid liver or irregular action of the bowels. Unless nature's refuse is carried off it will surely cause impure blood, pimples, boils and other eruptions follow. This is nature's method of throwing off the poisons which the bowels failed to remove. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are world famous for remedying this condition. They stimulate the liver and promote regular and healthy action of the bowels but never cause griping, cramps or distress. Safe pills. Glazier & Stimson.If you would have an appetite like a bear and a relish for your meals take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.
They correct disorders of the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. Price 25 cents. Samples free at all druggists.Susan.—The pimples, sores and blackheads are danger signals. Take Rocky Mountain Tea, you'll give a farewell reception to your troubles. 35c. Glazier city are the plans of Merriman's all night workers that leading citizens who are interested in thwarting their plans are requested to address M. X., care general trees and the arch of green together with the large star and the picture of Christ in the manger, gave one the true

The Latest from Washington.

J. S. McIntosh of the Six Eagles, Mining Company came in from Dexter this morning, having just returned from Toledo, where he met the manager who has been east in the interests of the mines.
Stock is selling rapidly and reports from the west show that there is a large amount of tunnel work done, already over two hundred feet driven—and are now ready to install the power drills and air compressor. Recent developments show three additional veins of ore, which will be crossed as the tunnel progresses.
The manager in speaking of dividends said that within one year the property would pay a dividend, also the railroad building up the Similkameen river would be through the district before they were ready to ship ore, as the Canadian government was paying a subsidy of $5,000 per mile and it was necessary to push the work to earn this amount and that when the road reached the mines they were less than half way to the coast.
This will make an outlet to three or four smelters for the ore. Remember that this stock will only sell for 25 cents until January 15th, then it will cost 50 cents per share. If purchasers wish time, they can pay 20 per cent down and the balance in four monthly payments.Address, J. S. McIntosh, Chelsea, Michigan, care of The Standard.

An Extraordinary Comet.

The great comet seen in the southern hemisphere last May presented some unusual features. At the cape of Good Hope it was observed to have a fan-shaped tail, consisting of two straight and narrow principal streaks and a large, broad, but fainter, appendage toward the south. One report says that on May 6 the bright, straight tail was 14 degrees in length, "while the enormous lateral emission of shimmering light flooded the southwest with a ghostly gleam 40 degrees long, six to ten degrees broad, and the whole space between this mighty extension and the more brilliant tail was filled with a gauzelike sheen."—Science.

Sweet Revenge.

While the British matron means as each successive British youth is led captive to the altar by American girls, her Canadian niece is avenging the English cousin. She has swept across the boundary line and descended upon the professional young woman of the United States. While the Canadian girls are now prominent in all professions in the states, her greatest distinction has been in trained nursing.
In the most noted training schools and the finest hospitals the Canadian trained nurse is in places of responsibility.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

Crab Shell as a Thermometer.

A curious barometer is said to be used by the remnant of the Araucarian race which inhabits the southernmost province of Chili. It consists of the castoff shell of a crab. The dead shell is white in fair, dry weather, but the approach of a moist atmosphere is indicated by the appearance of small red spots. As the moisture in the air increases the shell becomes entirely red and remains so throughout the rainy season.—Chicago Chronicle.

MICHIGAN NEWS SERVED UP.

A Woman's Strange Journey Rudely Ended.

DAVIDSON'S FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Oxnard's Request of the President—Oids Title to the Flats up Again—Killed by a P. M. Train—More Land For Homesteaders.

Davidson's Fight for Life.

The body of Edward Davidson, who was brutally murdered at Valparaiso, Ind., Thursday night, was prepared for shipment to Springfield, Mich., Saturday, where it was received by a widow mother. Physicians made another examination of the body, disclosing that a number of blows were delivered in crushing Davidson's skull. His jaw was also broken and one of his legs was fractured. Davidson evidently fought for his life against overwhelming odds. Sauer may turn state's evidence. The coroner's verdict will bear out the murder theory. It is now thought that robbery may have been the motive for the crime. Valparaiso is still in a fever of excitement over the tragedy.

What's the Old Lady Doing?

A woman approaching 50 years of age and a son of 6 years, giving their names as Avila and Courland Butts, are in jail in Jackson, Chester A. Conant, of Sandstone, having secured a writ of attachment for the debt of caring for the stock recently. Mrs. Butts is traveling about the country in a covered wagon with several dogs and eight head of cattle. She stopped at Conant's, but didn't pay for her keep at the farm for the past five weeks. Says she came from Minneapolis and makes butter while she travels, stopping with farmers occasionally. Her destination is vague and her husband's whereabouts unknown. It is thought her mind may be affected.

Oids and the Flats.

A rehearing has been granted by the Supreme Court in the celebrated case of S. S. Oids against the state land commissioner, which involves the title to a large portion of the St. Clair Flats. Under a decision during the summer Oids was decreed to have the right to a patent to the lands at the Flats for which he had applied, by virtue of some swamp land scrip which he held. Lincoln Avery, who represents the state land commissioner, applied for a rehearing in the case several months ago. The court was somewhat divided upon the question when the case was first decided.

Salt Production.

The state salt inspection shows that for the year ending November 30, 1901, Michigan's 65 salt brines have an annual capacity of 9,300,000 barrels annually. Of these 62 were operated last year, and they produced the following amounts of salt by districts: Manistee, 2,670,000; St. Clair, 871,915; Mason, 650,689; Saginaw, 557,138; Wayne, 414,937; Bay, 371,482; Midland, 26,964; Iosco, 17,182; the whole being a total of 5,580,101 barrels, 348,016 more than were inspected last year. Michigan has now produced up to date a total of 96,993,584 barrels of salt.

Killed by a P. M. Train.

Willard Wixon, a prominent business man, was killed by the fast express on the Pere Marquette railroad, going south Saturday morning. The accident happened at the crossing a few rods south of the village of Wixom, a place named for Mr. Wixon. His horse was also killed. He was mangled almost beyond recognition. The body was taken to Novi, the next station, where it was identified. Mr. Wixon was a man respected by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

Oxnard is Right.

Appeal has been made to President Roosevelt by Henry T. Oxnard to investigate the beet sugar industry in the two greatest producing states, Michigan and California, and learn if the industry would not be injured by reducing the tariff on Cuban sugar. Oxnard emphasized the point to the president that if the duty on Cuban sugar was reduced the sugar trust and not the consumers will reap the benefit. The trust would reap millions out of our generosity to Cuba.

Took Laudanum.

Eber Tayer, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Tayer, of Adrian, returned home Tuesday evening complaining of a toothache. He was told by his mother to put laudanum on the tooth to still the pain. Doing this, he swallowed a quantity of the drug and became unconscious. A doctor worked over him all night to no avail, the boy's death occurring next morning. He was a member of the boys' choir of the Episcopal church.

Gen. Alger's Condition Favorable.

The operation made necessary by the serious condition of ex-Secretary of War Alger was effected with very satisfactory results. Gen. Alger stood the operation remarkably well and during the afternoon seemed to have entirely recovered from whatever temporary shock there had been to the nervous system.

The once thriving village of Copper Harbor, at the extreme point of the Keweenaw peninsula, now has a population of two persons.

The Noted Philsator Case.

The jury in the noted Philsator case trial in St. Joseph, after seven hours' deliberation, gave a verdict against the Baroda gold king, which means that Philsator will pay to Joseph Coveney, the plaintiff, $7,500. This suit was brought by Coveney to obtain $7,000 in gold dust which Philsator had once paid him for alienating his wife's affection, but which had been obtained again by Philsator under duress. Philsator had paid Coveney $2,500 to stop a damage suit threatened when at a country ball Philsator helped Coveney's wife out of a window. The $7,000 afterward paid was when Philsator and Coveney's wife registered at the Palmer house, Chicago, as "F. Johnson and wife." Following Philsator to the Yukon valley for more money the tables were turned on Coveney, and after many weeks in jail he gave up his $7,000 in gold dust to gain his freedom. Aside from the return of the $7,000 obtained under duress, the court allowed Coveney $500 interest. Joseph Coveney is a farmer living near Baroda. He owns forty acres of land, but with the exception of his wife, who did not appear in court, has no heirs. Frank Philsator, a three times millionaire, is at Hot Springs, Ark., and did not appear in court. It was shown by the agreement read in court that Jas. O'Hara, of this city, Coveney's attorney, would reserve as his fee for prosecuting this case half of the money for which the suit was brought, $3,500.

Hardwood Lumber Combine.

A big combine of hardwood lumbermen has been effected, making the most important step ever taken in Michigan in those interests. It means the incorporation of a company to absolutely control the hardwood lumber market in this state, and all the mills on the Michigan side of the great lakes. The prime movers in the organization of the combine are Henry W. Carey, of the Peters Salt and Lumber Co., of East Lake; W. T. Culvert, with Justus S. Stearns, of Ludington, and William H. White, of William H. White & Co., of Boyne City. They are members of the committee on plans for organization, which submitted the arrangement today. Such big concerns as Olenauer & Johnson, of Alpena; H. M. Lund & Son, of Au Sable; Buckley & Douglas and the Butters Salt & Lumber Co. are going into the combine. The men are to be stockholders in a state company, which will control the output of all their mills. An agreement will be made as to the amount of money each mill shall receive for its output, and then the state company will sell for what it is able on the open market. The profits to be divided among the stockholders who are the owners of the mills.

Over One Hundred Years.

Louis Rock, a French-Canadian, who lived in the Washington home in Ludington Wednesday at the advanced age of 107 years. Rock's first and last sickness was nothing more than a mild case of grippe, death resulting more from old age than anything else. Mrs. Rock died three years ago at the age of 85. To them 13 children, 29 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren were born. Louis Rock was born at sea while his parents were crossing the Atlantic ocean in the year 1794. During his younger days he spent many years with the Indians in the west and is said to have been the first white man who entered Yellowstone park. Endowed with a constitution which never knew fatigue, Rock endured untold hardships during his long frontier career and until ten years ago worked in a sawmill every day.

A Cave-In at Sebewaling.

A hole 15 feet in diameter and 10 feet deep, not far from the business center of Sebewaling, attests the fact that something is going on under the surface. The abandoned coal mines are caving in. The first coal mining shaft was sunk during the winter of 1888-9, striking coal at the depth of 85 feet, going through about 50 feet of sand, rock and slate, which is supposed to afford ample security as a roof. This shaft is about 1,500 feet from the business center of the village in a southeasterly direction. The present cave-in was caused probably through a slide occurring where there was an uplift in the roof rock. It is about 900 feet from the nearest brick building, the American house. The cave-in occurred on the 13th, and has since been filled up.

More Homestead Lands.

Auditor-General Powers is now dealing to the state land commissioner the delinquent tax lands in Crawford and Roscommon counties, of which it is estimated there are 75,000 acres. These lands will eventually be subject to homestead entry.

FROM ALL OVER THE GLOBE.

The Schley Case As Regards Navy Closed.

MACLAY WALKS THE PLANK.

Hogs Feast on the Living Flesh of a Farmer—Miles Gets a Reprimand—The Dias De Bar Gets Justice—Various Matters of Interest and Notes.

Long Ends the Schley Case.

Secretary Long disposed finally of the Schley case, so far as the navy department is concerned, by acting upon the findings and conclusions of the court of inquiry. He approved the findings of fact and the opinion of the full court; he approved the majority opinion where there is a difference in the court; he held that the court could not have entered into a consideration of the question of command at the battle of Santiago, and finally he accepted the recommendation that no further proceedings shall be had. The secretary also has declined the application of Admiral Sampson's counsel to enter upon an inquiry into the question of command and has notified Admiral Schley's counsel of that fact as a reason for declining to hear them on that point.

A Crook's Strong Pull.

Annie Evans, alias Tessie Hamilton, alias Tessie Ellis and several other names, who is well known to the police of America, has been sentenced to a year at Sherborn, Mass., prison for larceny from the person. The woman skipped her bail and was heard from in various cities until she was finally arrested in Detroit. At Toledo, a gang of crooks met Inspector Douglass at the station and got the girl away from him, but she was finally brought to Boston. Powerful interests, including a Tammany politician and a congressman, have been at work to secure her release, but they proved of no avail in a Boston court. They have not yet given up the fight, however.

Murdered by Robbers.

The body of James B. Hay, secretary of the Pacific Lumber Co., of Salt Lake, was found buried in a shallow trench alongside the Rio Grande tracks, Monday night. Hay, called at the home of Peter Mortensen, a contractor, and collected $3,800 which Mortensen owed the Pacific Lumber Co. Since that time nothing had been seen or heard of him until the body was found. The money was gone and in the back of Hay's head was a great jagged wound. The police believe some one who saw Hay receive the money from Mortensen, murdered him and buried the body in the hastily dug trench.

Miles Reprimanded.

A determination on the part of the administration absolutely to terminate further discussion of the Sampson-Schley controversy took shape in the publication of some remarkable correspondence that has passed between Secretary Root and Lieut.-Gen. Miles, relative to the latter's interview published in a Cincinnati paper commenting upon the Schley case. It is seldom that so severe a reprimand is administered to an officer of high rank in either service. What the result will be cannot be foretold, although it is assumed that Gen. Miles will submit without further comment.

Secretary Gage's Successor.

While no official confirmation can be obtained at the White House, it is believed that President Roosevelt has offered the treasury portfolio to Gov. Crane, of Massachusetts, and the latter now has the tender under advisement. One of the difficulties in the way of Gov. Crane's acceptance is understood to be his connection with the paper company at Dalton, Mass., which furnishes the paper for government notes. This paper is prepared by a secret process and the government's contract with the Dalton company is a large one.

Considine Comes Back.

James Considine, a Detroit-bred crook, returned to Cincinnati Thursday to give himself up to the federal authorities, and in all probability will be sent back to the Ohio penitentiary to complete his term of five years for being an accomplice in the robbery of the postoffice in Granville, O., two years ago. Considine came without urging or advice by his friends or relatives, and carrying his head high in the air. No one knew he was coming, not even the officials to whom he surrendered.

Got Their Deserts.

Theodore and Laura Jackson, the latter best known in the United States by the name of Ann Odella Dias de Bar, were found guilty by a jury in the Old Bailey, London, Eng., on charges of immoral practices and fraud. The prisoners listened to the passing of sentence in evident astonishment, but maintained silence.

J. Sandbloom, a farmer 88 years old, living a mile south of Oakland, Neb., was found by his son early Friday, lying helpless and unconscious in a hog yard with swine feeding on the flesh of his still living body. The senate Monday confirmed the nomination of Hon. Philander C. Knox to be attorney-general of the United States.

The bill to provide revenue temporarily for the Philippine islands passed the house by a vote of 163 to 123. The bill imposes the Dingley rates on goods entering the United States from the Philippines and the rates established by the Philippine commission on goods entering the Philippines from the United States. It also provides for the collection of tonnage taxes on vessels plying between the United States and the Philippines, and that foreign vessels may ply between these ports until January 1, 1905. A Novelty in Carpet Cleaning.
The American ambassador remarked at a banquet the other night that many good ideas which had benefited mankind had their origin on the other side of the water, and if cleaning carpets without either taking them up or filling the surrounding atmosphere with dust comes under the same category, our American cousins have benefited the human race once more. A machine which deals with carpets in this manner was used at the Empire theater of varieties the other day. Compressed air is used to blow the dust out of the carpet, and the machine is so contrived as to imprison all the dust in a bag. When the carpets are thoroughly cleaned the compressed air current was charged with disinfectants, which thoroughly impregnated the whole floor. The machine was afterward used for the purpose of cleaning the chairs and lounges of the theater.—London Chronicle.

Curious Facts About Sound.
During the firing of minute-guns by the English fleet at Spithead, on the occasion of Queen Victoria's funeral, the sounds were heard at surprising distances inland, and the English scientific journals have since published many interesting facts about these phenomena. It seems to be established that not only the direction of the wind, but its relative velocity at different elevations from the ground, affected the direction of the sound-waves. In some cases, contrary winds refracted the sound over the heads of observers between 10 and 45 miles from the ships, so that they did not hear the guns, but the same waves were afterward brought to the ground by favorable upper currents, rendering the sounds audible at 50 miles, and even as far as 140 miles, while at 84 miles they were so loud that laborers in the fields put down their spades and listened to them.—Youth's Companion.

Tolstoi on Modern Americans.
"But the American army is much larger than it was. It seems to me it grew very quickly. Only a short time ago I read it was less than 50,000, now it is 100,000 or more." I told him 100,000 was the maximum; that the minimum was much less. "But you build great battleships—the best in any nation." I agreed to this. "It is a pity to think you need any battleships. After the Pleiad of writers America produced in the civil war you can now only show as your most brilliant brain, Carnegie, the millionaire. (He pronounced the word Carnegie.) You had Thoreau, Balzac, Emerson, Longfellow, Whittier and Walt Whitman. It was your Homer among statesmen, Abraham Lincoln. All these were a giant constellation. Your war fever is over, but gold has you now. Your great men are your millionaires."—Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

Origin of Our Secret Service.
The United States secret service had its origin in the early '60s, under the auspices of the war department. It actually grew out of the fact of Capt. Lafayette F. Baker, of the union army, offering his services to Secretary Seward as a police scout to gather information concerning the confederate army. During the war the United States began the issuance of greenbacks. Then came the first appearance of "greengoods" men. By an act of congress, in 1861 or 1862, $10,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of Baker's service to suppress counterfeiting. The supervision of the service was then under the solicitor of the treasury.—N. Y. Tribune.

The End of Her Dream.
"Algie," she said, putting her arms around his neck and looking confidently into his honest, manly face, "if I were to be kidnapped how much ransom would you be willing to pay?"

"My dear," he answered, "I would be willing to pay a million dollars ransom for you."
A sickly pallor overspread her face and she drew away from him as if he had been something evil. When she could speak, at last, she cried: "I heard you say yesterday that you had at least $1,000,000. And we have been married only two months!"
—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Japanese Peerage.
Japan will have to hold her hand soon in the matter of creating peers. No less than 275 have been added to the number since the system was inaugurated. In 1884, when peers were first created, patents were granted to 11 princes—excluding princes of the blood—24 marquises, 73 counts, 321 viscounts and 74 barons. Now the numbers stand: Eleven princes, 34 marquises, 89 counts, 363 viscounts and 281 barons. The total in 1884 was 503; to-day it is 778.—N. Y. Sun.

Not Near So Many.
At a christening, while the minister was making out the certificate, he forgot the date, and happened to say: "Let me see; this is the 30th."
"The thirtieth!" exclaimed the indignant mother. "Indeed not; it's only the eleventh!" — Weekly Telegraph.

BRAIN-FOOD NONSENSE.
Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. C. Green's reliable remedies at Glazier & Stimson's. Get Green's Special Almanac.

SAVED HIS LIFE.
"I wish to say that I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. C. Christenson of Hayfield, Minn. "For three years I was troubled with dyspepsia so that I could hold nothing on my stomach. Many times I would be unable to retain a morsel of food. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctors said I could not live. I read one of your advertisements on Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought it fit my case and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all." Digests your food. Cures all stomach troubles. Glazier & Stimson.

SAW DEATH NEAR.
"It often made my heart ache," writes L. C. Overstreet of Elgin, Tenn. "to hear my wife cough until it seemed her weak and sore lungs would collapse. Good doctors said she was so far gone with consumption that no medicine or earthly help could save her, but a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery and persistent use of this excellent medicine saved her life." It's absolutely guaranteed for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00 at Glazier & Stimson's. Trial bottles free.

AN EVANGELIST'S STORY.
"I suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist of Belle River, Ill. "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it. Glazier & Stimson.
