DIVIDED THE HONORS.

Each Party in Sylvan Got a Slice in Monday's Election.

The score in the Sylvan political baseball game Monday stood 6-5 in favor of the Democrats. In other words five Republican candidates were elected and six Democrats. Both sides had their knives out and a large amount of slashing was done, particularly on the principal offices. Straight tickets were conspicuous by their small number on either side. Less than half the voters paid any attention to the question of purchasing voting machines, but those who did vote on it downed it over 4 to 1. The total vote this year was 692. Of these 363 were Republican, 303 Democratic and 26 had no distinguishing mark at the head. For supervisor Bacon was cut 88 times on the R. publican ticket, and Beckwith was cut 76 by the Democrats. Avery for clerk was cut by 85 Republicans and Turnbull 16 times by Democrats. Crowell for treasurer got 72 Republican knives into him and his opponent Hiram Lighthall was touched up 21 times. In the vote for highway commissioner Schweinfurth, Republican, was scratched 84 times and Long, Democrat, 72 times. For justice of the peace Parker, Republican, was hit 142 times to Hoppe's 40, and for member of the board of review Chapman was cut 59 times to Sweetland's 9. The vote of the township was as follows:

Lima Election.

The total vote cast at the election in Lima township Monday was 308, of which three ballots were spoiled and had to be thrown out. This was not a full vote, however. The results were as follows, the names of the Republican candidates appearing first:

Lyndon Election.

In this township Geo. R. Runciman, Democrat, was re-elected supervisor without opposition. The vote cast was a light one and the offices were distributed among both parties according to the following figures, the Republican candidates being the first named:

BAPTISTS' ANNUAL MEETING.

Presented With a Fine Pulpit.—The Church Is Now Out of Debt.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist church and society held Saturday last, April 5, was an occasion of much rejoicing both for the congregation and the pastor. The reason for this is found in the fact that the church is now entirely out of debt and also that it now has a beautiful pulpit for which it is indebted to the generosity of Messrs. John G. Hoover, F. P. Glazier and Hemming.

The service began at 10:30 a. m. with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. F. A. Siles, and special music by the choir. At 12 o'clock dinner was served in the basement of the church for which a freewill offering amounting to $38.75 was taken up.

After a social hour the church assembled and the roll of members was called, a large number responding to their names. Nearly all of the older members were present. Friendly greetings were received from three former pastors, Revs. Whitcomb, Arnold and Wilkinson.

At the business meeting which followed William Laird and Edward Vogel were re-elected trustees, and Miss Libbie Depew church clerk.

Saturday, April 5, will be counted as one of the brightest days in the church history as at this session nearly $300 was raised, which as stated above leaves the church free of debt and a little margin to make up a deficiency.

TREBLE CLEF CLUB CONCERT.

It Will Be One of the Best Things of the Season for Chelsea.

What will be without doubt one of the finest concerts ever heard in Chelsea will be given next Tuesday evening by the Treble Clef Club, of Ann Arbor. The club is composed of 23 of the leading ladies and prominent soloists of Ann Arbor. They are organized not for the purpose of making money but for the personal pleasure and culture to be derived from musical training and the delight they may afford others by the results of their labor. The program will be unusually pleasing and entertaining. The choruses will be interspersed with piano, and contralto solos, also with a selection by a ladies' quartette. The club will be assisted by Charles E. Keeler, baritone, and Miss Mae E. Clarken, a harpist of unusual ability.

Of a recent concert given by the club the Ann Arbor Argus says: "The program was uniformly good. There was not a poor number from first to last. The work of the Treble Clef Club probably surpassed the expectation of everyone present. They well illustrated the fine effect to be secured in chorus music, especially with ladies' voices. They sang in perfect unison and were alike successful in a pretty lullaby or the heavier music."

The concert will be given in the Congregational church under the auspices of the Woman's Guild. The price of admission will be adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Reserved seats will be placed on sale at Fenn & Vogel's Friday morning at an extra charge of 5 cents. Anyone missing this concert will miss the best entertainment of the year.

Not an Exciting Game.

The baseball game last Saturday at this place was void of special interest. The Chelsea boys won by a score of 26 to 18. Rogers was the star player for Chelsea, and Chase for Dexter. The battery for Chelsea was Moore, Rogers, Belssel and Steinbach; for Dexter Sackett, Ryau and Chase.

There was no crowd present and the manager says that if the games are not attended better the team will play no more home games, as they have plenty of offers to play at other places. The score by innings follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Chelsea	2	3	5	1	7	0	2	—	24	45	16
Dexter	0	1	7	1	0	5	1	1	—	18	22	6

"TIRED ALL THE TIME,"

Women in the Springtime Need a Tonic.
Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.
Peruna Cures Catarrh.

Lena Hilton

A Beautiful Club Woman's Recovery.

Los Angeles, Cal.,

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—"I suffered with pain in my right side for over eight years. Doctors said my liver was affected. My complexion was dark and yellow, I had a bad taste in my mouth, and was tired all the time. I took a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I read in the paper of Peruna, and decided to give it a trial. I felt better before the first bottle was gone, and after taking three bottles I was cured, and I have enjoyed perfect health since."

Miss Lena Hilton is President of the Wednesday Whist Club, of Los Angeles.

A spring medicine Peruna is a never failing remedy. It cleanses the blood through digestion, and gives tone to the whole system by increasing the nutritive value of the food. "Spring fever," as it is sometimes called, which produces a tired out, sleepy feeling, and inability to do much mental or physical work, is the result of a sluggish digestion.

The great popularity that Peruna has is due to the fact that in all such cases it at once corrects digestive derangements and enriches the blood by purifying this very important source of that vital fluid.

Mrs. J. E. Finn, 82 East High street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"A few years ago I had to give up social life entirely, as my health was completely broken down. The doctor advised a complete change and rest for a year. As this was out of the question for a time, I began to look around for other means of restoring my health.

"I had often heard of Peruna as an excellent tonic, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me, and it certainly took hold of my system and rejuvenated it, and in less than two months I was in perfect health, and now when I feel worn out or tired a dose or two of Peruna is all that I need."

MRS. J. E. FINN.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

FIELD MOUSE PLAGUE.

M. A. C. Professor Tells How It Can Be Fought.

Under the supervision of Prof. C. D. Smith of the experiment station of the Agricultural college, efforts have been made to collect data which will enable the Michigan farmer to in some degree at least lessen the ravages which the diminutive field mouse has been making among small fruit trees and field crops, notably clover. The experiments which have been conducted by Prof. Pettit, have been productive of considerable profit and a remedy has been discovered which will go far towards the eradication of the damage done by the pests.

On the fields laid out for the experiment, so states Prof. Pettit's preliminary report just issued, the damage, especially in the lower portions, was very much larger than expected. The depressions favored the wintering of the mice, through the larger amounts of snow collected there and the resulting reappearance of the mice on each successive season. The damage consisted in the eating off of the crowns of the plants.

The remedy which the professor advises is the use of arsenic mixed with meal, which is placed in trenches, preferably near some barn. Straw is spread over the poison and a light layer of soil over the straw. The mice will make their nests in the straw and eat the poison. Care should be taken that domestic animals do not get hold of the poison. One pound of arsenic to 50 of meal is the required ratio.

ATHENAEUM, JACKSON.

"Miss Bob White" Next Thursday Evening.

Marguerita Sylva's triumphs and operatic conquests are of too recent occurrence and are too fresh in the public mind to call for any particular comment here. All that should be necessary to whet the appetite of local theatergoers is the announcement of her early appearance in Jackson. Certainly, there is no more "taking" figure on the American stage today than Miss Sylva. She typifies all that is beautiful and accomplished in womanhood, and it is small wonder that her popularity and attractiveness have reached their present state. Her voice is the purest high soprano imaginable, and best of all, she has it under perfect control. It has the warmth and mellowness of a cello and the crystal purity of the tones of a flute. Miss Sylva's advent at the Athenaeum, Jackson, next Tuesday, April 15, as the star of Nixon & Zimmerman's magnificent organization presenting Willard Spenser's "Miss Bob White" constitutes a happening worthy of note. People who have heard "Miss Bob White" say that it greatly surpasses its composer's "The Little Tyeon" which had such a prosperous life.

The Washtenaw Daily Times, of Ann Arbor, has ceased publication as a morning paper and will hereafter again be an evening paper as it was originally. The Times came out Sunday in a new and improved form in a new dress of type and with a new heading. Its whole make-up and appearance is changed, and all for the better. We hope that this paper, with which we were connected for the first 5 1/2 years of its existence, has still many more years of usefulness before it.

Ann Arbor is to have standard time at last. The D. Y. A. A. & J. electric line which held the key to the situation has decided to run its cars on standard time, so the court-house clock is to be set on standard time, the University clock is to be set on standard time, and the city schools are to be run on standard time. Now then let us see Chelsea fall in line and adopt standard time, not because Ann Arbor has done so, but because it is the modern way of reckoning time and is also the legalized time of the state of Michigan.

WONDERS OF NATURE

Strange Plant and Animal Life at Home and Abroad.

Mysteries of the Great American Desert—No Twilight in Death Valley—Store Front Made of Shells.

[Special Los Angeles Letter.]
THOSE things to which we are most accustomed, however useful, excite hardly a passing thought; it is only those which the other man sees daily but which are near to us that arouse interest. In the great American desert the clear atmosphere causes distances to seem so much less than they appear to people who have always lived where the air is saturated with moisture that many newcomers are tempted to start upon journeys from which they never return, because overcome by thirst, while far away from any place where water may be obtained. It is said that in some localities in southern California no man can live over ten hours without drink, the dryness of the atmosphere causing the liquids of the body to evaporate quickly. The deceptive mirage effects often cause persons to be "positive" that the precious beverage which they so much desire is within easy walking distance, but going on and on they fail to reach it. Sometimes when water is found, it is so saturated with alkali or some other mineral substance that to drink it must result in a terrible death. Sometimes a mesquite limb is found sticking in the ground with a tin can on top. This is a sign that drinking water is near, and a person found removing it would be treated as a criminal of the worst type. The desert presents color and scenic effects nowhere else found, and which are often grand in the extreme; but the general impression given is one of an intense and almost awful loneliness. In Death Valley there is no twilight. The sun suddenly appears above the horizon and it is day. It sinks behind some peak and intense darkness follows. Precipitous mountains form the brilliantly colored sides of bowl-shaped Death Valley, and their vast canyons contain neither water nor mineral wealth. But in past ages water and mud have played a strange game there. One of its effects is seen in the Devil's chair. The sand in this valley is very light, and even where no real wind is blowing, it drifts around in light whirls with the air that is always seen stirring in the desert. With a real blow, the sand hills move from 20 to 50 feet in one night, and a person lying down to sleep at a windward of one of them would find a deep grave before morning. Death valley contains rich deposits of borax, niter and salt. Thousands of dollars' worth of deserted machinery is scattered over this region where a man may go to sleep overcome by heat and awaken freezing. It is a good place "to hear about and not see."

DEVIL'S CHAIR, DEATH VALLEY.

The pale blue Hidden river, in Kentucky, comes from no one knows whither and vanishes in a cave as yet unexplored. The Yellow river, in China, is supposed to have been always of its present hue, except on one day, about 3,000 years ago, when it became perfectly clear. On this occasion, a child, destined for fame, was born. Some Siberian rivers flow over a thick bed of solid ice. The rivers of Africa flow towards the ocean furthest from their source, their courses broken by falls. In Algeria, two streams, one of which draining a large swamp, is impregnated with gallic acid and the other with iron, unite and form a river of pure ink.

Certain scientific Englishmen are delighting over the discovery of a new animal, or, at least, one that was supposed to have disappeared several centuries ago. The creature inhabits the great forests which extend between the Congo and Uganda in Africa. Its present existence is proved by fossil remains, this animal lived in Greece and Asia Minor and it has been known as the extinct antediluvian hellodoterium. It has a body resembling that of an ox, the neck of a horse, the head of a tapir, the ears of an ass. From its fiery red forehead, a black band follows the nose around the nostrils. The ears, neck and shoulders are also red and orange. The legs and paws have zebra-like stripes and spots of orange. The upper jaw contains no front teeth, the tongue resembles that of a giraffe. These animals go in pairs, and the natives call them okapi.

The reason why hundreds of thousands of birds go to the arctic regions to breed is because of the lavish amount of food which nature supplies to them at this point. The arctic summer with its perpetual sunshine forces the vegetation, and the crowberry, cranberry and cloudberry bushes yield enormously by the middle and end of the season. Each year the snow falls upon a crop of ungathered berries, preserving them perfectly. When it melts, the birds are back again and the old crop lasts until the new is ready for consumption. The heat which thaws the snow brings into winged existence vast swarms of mosquitoes, which are greedily devoured by insect-eating birds. No white man can exist during the summer season without a veil of some kind.

The Pacific coast furnishes a vast number of varieties of seaweed, hundreds of different kinds of delicate algae and as many of gnarled, bulbous or serpent-like kelp, resembling vast sea monsters. The roots of the large varieties measure 200 feet in length, with foliage covering an area of 20 feet. From these an ingenious California woman has invented a process of constructing various highly ornamental curios. Iodine and petroleum salts are prepared from seaweed in the British Isles.

Lovers of the beautiful find endless delight at the beaches in southern California gathering and examining the great variety of shells found there. Of these none excite more admiration than the abalone shells scattered in such abundance at Long Beach and San Pedro. They take on a wonderfully fine polish and their marvelous opalescent tints are unrivaled. No two are alike, the delicate tints blending in a manner to individualize each one. A store front at Long Beach is formed of these polished shells, and is the best possible advertisement for the dealer in curios and shellfish. No one, even those accustomed to the sight daily, can fail to give a glance toward the dainty coloring exhibited as he passes. Some of the 700 shells, which are embedded in plaster, form this store front, weigh over two pounds. Scarlet, shell-pink, sea greens, crimson, peacock and pale blues shimmer in the sun. On the supporting posts of the interior of the store and the frieze around the ceiling, 2,000 more are employed in producing a creation suggestive of caves described in the Arabian Nights. Cases of pure specimens line the walls. The shells are secured by Japanese divers and polished by native workmen. EDWARD JULIAN.

HAY EXPLAINS MATTERS.

The Secretary of State Tells of His Connection with the Christmas Affair.

Washington, April 8.—Chairman Daffell Monday presented to the special house committee appointed to investigate the Christmas charges regarding the alleged bribery in connection with the sale of the Danish West Indies, the following letter from Secretary Hay on the subject:

"To Hon. John Daffell, Chairman Select Committee, etc.: I have received your letter of the 31st of March, and in reply beg leave to say:
 "In the early part of December, 1899, Capt. Christmas called upon me at this department and informed me that, through private and personal sources in Copenhagen, he had become aware that there was a disposition among some of the leading members of the Danish government to regard favorably an overture from the government of the United States looking to the acquisition of the Danish islands. He said that he had been a naval officer and spoke at some length in regard to the desirability of the island of St. John as a naval station for the United States. As my suggestion he conveyed what further technical information he had on this subject to Admiral Bradford, of the navy department. Although he presented no credentials whatever and expressly declared he had no official character, I thought his story was of sufficient interest to be worth investigation. I told him I would send a confidential and trusted agent of this government to Copenhagen to ascertain unofficially the true state of affairs and mentioned to him the name of Henry White, first secretary of embassy at London. Capt. Christmas said he would like to be in Copenhagen when Mr. White arrived and bring him into communication with the members of the government whom he had mentioned. I gave him a note of introduction to Mr. White and they met in Copenhagen, where Capt. Christmas had arranged for an interview between Mr. White and a member of the Danish government. Mr. Christmas was not present at this interview and his connection with the latter ceased entirely at that time. He afterward returned to Washington and I saw him once or twice, but told him that there was no need for services of any private person in any negotiation which might be taken up between the two governments in regard to the acquisition of the islands. I enclose a copy of a letter which I gave to the Danish minister in Washington at the time of the signing of the recent treaty and a copy of a letter which I have received from the Danish minister, Mr. Brun, dated the 31st day of March, 1902.
 "Very sincerely yours,

"JOHN HAY."
 In a letter to Minister Brun, of Denmark, inclosed, Mr. Hay refers to the signing of the convention of cessation and adds:

"The government of the United States is in no manner under obligation to the good offices of private parties in reaching the agreement now happily brought about between the United States and Denmark and cannot admit for its own part, or support in any way any such claim against Denmark for commission, compensation or remuneration of whatever nature which might be made by private parties for alleged services in connection with the acquisition of the islands in question to the United States."

A letter from Minister Brun states that "Capt. Christmas had no authorization whatever to enter into negotiations in the name of the Danish government, nor to make any promises in the name of the government in connection therewith."

Mr. Brun also says he gave Capt. Christmas no authority of introduction, but refused his requests in this connection.

Representative Richardson said he thought Mr. Hay should come before the committee and should produce any letters he had in connection with Christmas' going to Copenhagen.

Chairman Daffell stated that Secretary Hay was ready to appear at any time his presence was desired. The chairman rather emphatically dissented from Mr. Richardson's suggestion that as the secretary "had used this man," there should be a more detailed explanation of any communications sent to him. No arrangement was made as to Mr. Hay's appearing, but it was understood he would be heard later.

Senator Depew, of New York, appeared before the committee, but his statement was brief. He expressed astonishment at having seen his name in the Christmas report. He did not know Christmas and never had seen him, as far as he was aware, although he met thousands of people and could not say just who he had seen. But as to this Danish island question he had never had a discussion with anyone on the subject.

MUST DIE IN MAY.

Patrick Sentenced to Pay Extreme Penalty in Electric Chair Next Month.

New York, April 8.—Albert T. Patrick, who was convicted on March 25 of the murder of William Marsh Rice, was sentenced Monday by Recorder Goff to be put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. Rice died in this city on September 23, 1900. An appeal to be made to the court of appeals by Patrick's counsel will act as a stay of execution pending a decision by the higher court. The recorder, in pronouncing sentence, made no comment on the jury's verdict.

Ossining was reached at 2:30 p. m. Before entering the carriage which was to take him to the prison, Patrick kissed his wife and said good-by. At the prison his beard was shaved off and he was placed in the death house. He will not be required to wear the prison uniform while he remains at Sing Sing.

PLAYERS AND WORK.

James Whitfield, President of Western Baseball League, Seeks Relief in Death.

Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—James Whitfield, president of the Western baseball league, and for many years sporting editor of the Kansas City Star, committed suicide at his home here early Monday.

Last week at the great American handicap Mr. Whitfield, by sheer force of will, attended the six days' contest. Saturday last found him on the verge of nervous prostration, and on Sunday he was out of his head part of the time. Nothing serious was thought of his case, however.

Early Monday morning he arose and dressed himself, and then without making any remarks, stepped to the next room and fired a bullet into his right temple. He was dead when members of his family reached him. Mr. Whitfield's plight is laid to overwork and worry over financial affairs. He had lost heavily on several enterprises in which he was interested.

It is not known here what effect, if any, Mr. Whitfield's death will have upon the Western league. Mr. J. H. Manning and Mr. Nichols, owners of the Kansas City club, are out of the city, Mr. Manning being in the east and Mr. Nichols in St. Louis. Mr. Whitfield was born in England 47 years ago. He came to Kansas City in 1884, and with the exception of one year, when he was proprietor of the Referee, a small weekly, he has been with the Star since that time. He had lived in St. Louis, Peoria and Pekin, Ill., and married in the latter city.

PRESIDENT GOES SOUTH.

Party Leaves Washington for the Visit to the Charleston Exposition.

Washington, April 8.—President Roosevelt and party left for Charleston, S. C., Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The party traveled in a special train over the Southern railroad.

Charlottesville, Va., April 8.—A large crowd was in waiting to greet the president. As soon as he appeared a cheer went up and the students of the University of Virginia, who had surrounded the car, gave their college yell. The president bowed his acknowledgments and made the following brief address:

"I had two of your university graduates in my regiment. One, John Greenway, used to be on your football list. I want to say how glad I am to see you, and what an interesting thing it must be to every American to come through this historic land. As we passed by the vista in the woods we saw the home of the Madisons. Your great university here is associated with the early presidents of our country. I see before me men who were in the Spanish war. We are here on the land fought over by those who wore the gray and those who wore the blue, and those men and their descendants now stand shoulder to shoulder as good citizens, interested in all that concerns the welfare of our common nation. (Applause.) It is a great pleasure to catch this glimpse of you, and I thank you for your kindly reception."

VICTIM OF PARALYSIS.

Death of Adjt. Gen. Reece, of Illinois, After an Illness Lasting a Year.

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—Adjt. Gen. Jasper N. Reece died at 1:32 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning. He had been critically ill at his home for several days as the result of a series of paralytic strokes, extending over a period of a year.

Gen. Reece was a veteran of the civil war and a recognized authority on military tactics and citizen soldiery organizations. He was born at Abingdon, Knox county, April 30, 1841. He was one of the first students at Hedding college, from which he enlisted as a private in an Illinois regiment, in 1863. His service as cavalryman was the pursuit of guerrillas in the west, during which he rose to be captain of his company. After being mustered out in October, 1864, he engaged in farming and mercantile business near Monmouth, until 1871, when he was elected first assistant clerk of the house and in 1873 was appointed assistant secretary of state under Col. Harlow. In 1877 he was appointed assistant adjutant general of the Second brigade, 1. N. O., and in this capacity had charge of the militia during the labor riots at East St. Louis. In November following he was appointed brigadier general, commanding his old brigade. This position he held for four years until he was appointed adjutant general by Gov. Fifer in 1881. After an interval of four years he was again appointed by Gov. Tanner, and his services were retained by the present administration.

FAILS TO APPEAR.

One of Men Charged with Bribery at St. Louis May Have Jumped His Bond.

St. Louis, April 8.—Charles Kratz, another one of the men indicted for bribery in connection with alleged corruption in the municipal assembly, and who was cited to appear in court Monday forenoon for trial, failed to respond. His bondsmen were notified to appear in court Tuesday, and the case was laid over till that time. Attorney Polk announced the formal offer of $500 for the capture of Kratz. Notice of the reward has been sent out all over the United States by Chief Desmond, of the St. Louis detective department.

MICHIGAN TRADE NEWS.

Wardens Kept Busy. State Game Warden Moore in monthly report to the secretary says:

The very fine weather during the month of March resulted in an unusually large number of violations, especially of the laws. The department investigated reports of violations, resulting in 65 prosecutions, with 55 convictions. One case dismissed and 11 pending. There have been assessed and paid $48,000. Sixty-two of the violations brought were for violations of the fish laws and six for violations of the game laws. State deputies made 82 of the state show that birds have been well, and that deer have also wintered well, although in some of the counties have suffered greatly from wolves.

Only Cost Fifty Dollars.
 The funeral of Elias W. Merrill, who was one of Muskegon's rich and oldest residents, did not cost more than $50. This was in accordance with the instructions of the testator. Mr. Merrill in a letter written shortly before his death said had seen with sorrow the way money was wasted on funerals, when might be used to educate poor children. He directed that if a casket could not be purchased within the named to get a carpenter to build plain box, and if the hearse was expensive to use an express wagon.

Arbor Day.
 Gov. Bliss has issued a proclamation designating Friday, April 28, Arbor day. The governor says: "While we of to-day can begin the solution of these problems of reforestation, the successful conclusion must be left to those who come after us, and to this the children should be educated in the Arbor day exercises. In reference to beneficial influences of forests upon agriculture and horticulture, as well as practical lessons with regard to tree planting. As a special feature of day it is requested that each school plant a tree as a memorial to the third president of the United States, William McKinley, the friend of the children."

Paid a Heavy Fine.
 H. A. Taylor, of Melford, Conn., recently convicted of conspiracy to pass a water contract through the courts, appeared in court in Grand Rapids where a request that sentence be pronounced. The court, in imposing sentence, Taylor had been the victim of designing men, who induced him to put up money for illegal purposes and the robbed him of it. A fine of $2,000 was imposed, which Taylor paid. Taylor experienced cost him upward of $10,000, of which $100,000 was paid to the Attorney General.

Coal Miners Strike.
 The strike of the Michigan coal miners ordered several days ago after the conference between the operators and miners failed to agree on a scale, has begun, and 100 miners are out in Saginaw county. Almost the same number of men have quit the mines at Bay City and in the St. Charles district. The Owsoscoo Coal company has signed the scale offered by the men, and theirs is the only mine operating.

Health in Michigan.
 Reports to the state board of health from 68 observers in various portions of the state indicate that during the past week smallpox, scarlet fever and diphtheria increased and whooping cough decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 216 places, measles at 84, typhoid fever at 28, scarlet fever at 20 and smallpox at 165 places.

Crop Outlook.
 The monthly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:

March was mostly dry and pleasant. Plowing began, but it is not yet general. Other early spring work well advanced. Winter wheat is small, but healthy, and generally fair condition; fruit buds generally wintered well.

News Briefly Stated.
 Eugene D. Mann, former editor and publisher of Town Topics, of New York, who died at Phoenix, Arizona, was a former Adrian man, where he founded the Record 20 years ago. The cash balance in the state treasury at the close of business March 1 was $3,027,840.51.

Andrew Hawn, aged 80, an old resident of Boston township, while working near a brush heap he was burning caught fire and was burned so badly that he died.

Michigan's interest claim in the Spanish war claim, it is learned, will not exceed $100,000, the federal government having quickly paid off the principal.

Little Dorothy Jensen, daughter of W. Jensen, died in Grayling from over-exertion brought on from jumping the rope.

Judge G. Rogers, aged 84 years, probate judge of Calhoun county from 1870 to 1890, died of old age at his home in Marshall. He was one of the leading Republicans of Calhoun county. Ground has been broken for the erection of Van Raaie memorial on the campus of Hope college, Holland.

CURED.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. A told guest, E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, who had cured him.
Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."
