DEATH OF THOMAS S. SEARS.

For 65 Years He Had Lived on the Farm Where He Passed Away.

The death of Thomas S. Sears which occurred at his lifelong home in Lima, just east of this village, on Sunday morning, May 18, 1902, was not unexpected by his relatives and friends, who had noticed the growing feebleness of his health for the past year. He had been practically confined to the house all winter and had been a great sufferer. For a long time he had been unable to take any sleep in a reclining position, and death finally came to his relief as above stated. The funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon and were very largely attended by his relatives and by those who had been his friends and business associates all through his long and active life. Rev. C. S. Jones, pastor of the Congregational church, which when in health he regularly attended, conducted the services. The remains were interred in Oak Grove cemetery. The pall bearers were H. S. Holmes, F. P. Glazier, W. J. Knapp, T. E. Wood, W. P. Schenk and D. C. McLaren.

Thomas S. Sears was born Oct. 14, 1836, in Canaan, Columbia county, N. Y. He was the son of Dr. Thomas S. and Sophia James Sears, and was one of a family of seven children. His father studied medicine in the home of Dr. Peter Cullen Bryant, and he was a friend of the famous poet William Cullen Bryant, deceased. The family came to Michigan in 1837 and settled on the farm in Lima which had been the deceased gentleman's home ever since.

Aug. 25, 1859, Dr. Sears died leaving his wife and family to struggle with hardships and fortunes on an unimproved farm of 160 acres. Mr. Sears was not 18 years old when his father died, but although called so young in life to bear the burden and responsibility of farm life and management, he performed the task manfully and cheerfully and the farm grew in size until it was a fine estate of 400 acres.

Dec. 23, 1858, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Congdon, of Chelsea, who survives him.

Mr. Sears' life has been closely associated with the life of the village. From the earliest days when the country adjacent was heavily timbered and covered with underbrush to these days of improved farms and comfortable homes, Mr. Sears has gone in and out among our citizens. His quiet, unassuming way, his strict business integrity, his upright life, have made him a host of friends. Always genial and kindly to those who knew him best, with a droll humor, he had the respect and esteem of all who knew him. Mr. Sears was a member of the Congregational church society, assisting in a financial way to bear the burdens of the church, and contributing largely to the erection of the present church edifice. For many years he has been a member of the board of trustees, and until failing health compelled the relinquishment of many duties was faithful in watching the business interests of the church, of which he was one of the most faithful and regular attendants. He has been a careful farmer, always giving close attention to everything about the farm and home. He was one of the organizers of the Chelsea Savings Bank and for 20 years its vice president.

He was a hard-working man. His success in life was due in a great measure to this diligence in business. His life was everywhere always the same, in the street, in society or in business. Only his nearest friends and relatives knew him at his best, for his modest, retiring disposition led him away from the throng to the close companionship of a few.

Besides his devoted wife he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Alexander Ewing, of New York City, Mrs. Sarah J. Rowley, of Beloit, Wis., Mrs. Elizabeth Rowley, of Portia, Minn., and many friends, who will sadly miss his presence among them.

Suicide in Dexter Township.

Thomas Rabbitt, of Dexter, one of the wealthiest farmers of that vicinity, committed suicide Thursday morning last by hanging himself to a beam in his barn. When the hired man went into the barn at noon he found Mr. Rabbitt hanging and promptly severed the rope, but life was extinct.

Mr. Rabbitt was a bachelor, and resided about two and a half miles northwest of Dexter village. He had been in bad health for about six months.

Densmore Cramer, of Ann Arbor, well known throughout Washtenaw county, died Thursday evening, aged 74 years.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

W. W. Wedemeyer Its Unanimous Choice. Allowed to Select His Own Delegates.

The Republican county convention held at Ann Arbor Monday was a most harmonious one. It was strictly a Wedemeyer and Bliss convention, the former being allowed to name his own delegates to the congressional convention at Adrian.

Fred W. Green, of Ypsilanti, county chairman, called the convention to order at 11:00 a. m. and called A. J. Waters, of Manchester, to the chair. Frank Creech, of Ypsilanti, was chosen secretary, and the chairman appointed Fred W. Green, of Ypsilanti, George S. Wheeler, of Salem, and Fred Steinkohl, of Manchester, tellers. Committees on permanent organization and order of business, credentials, and resolutions were then appointed and the convention adjourned until 1 o'clock.

On reassembling the committee on permanent organization and order of business made its report which made the temporary officers permanent, provided that W. W. Wedemeyer should be allowed to name the 22 congressional delegates, that the convention divide into districts to elect delegates to the state convention, and that a new county committee should be selected. The report was adopted unanimously.

F. W. Green, J. H. Kingsley and Chas. Blackmer were appointed a committee to apprise Mr. Wedemeyer of the action of the convention.

The convention then divided into districts to elect 11 delegates each to the state convention. Printed ballots were handed around for the delegates to use and on motion the blanket system of balloting was used. In the second district D. C. Griffen, of Ypsilanti, objected to this method but A. W. Wilkinson's motion to vote that way was carried 64 to 21. The vote of the district conventions was merely a ratification of the choice that had already been made for them. The delegates to the state convention are:

First District—William Judson, John F. Lawrence, E. D. Kline, Otis Cushing, Jacob Braun, Thomas J. Keech, W. K. Childs, James Burke, George S. Wheeler, Heman M. Woods, Ed. Hiseock.

Second District—Fred W. Green, E. P. Allen, John Thompson, S. S. Gibbins, A. F. Freeman, Frank P. Glazier, A. W. Wilkinson, Charles Blackmer, George Schairer, Michael O'Hara, Wm. Dresselhouse.

The committee on resolutions endorsed President Roosevelt's administration, also that of Governor Bliss, and instructed the delegates to vote for Wedemeyer for congress and Bliss for governor.

Mr. Wedemeyer was brought before the convention and was received with hearty applause. He named his choice of delegates as follows:

First District—Wm. Judson, Horace G. Prettyman, John Haner, Herbert J. Burke, Lester Canfield, Carl Storm, Bert Kenny, C. Pray, A. Guerin, John Munn, Richard Clark.

Second District—Frank P. Glazier, Martin Wackenhut, Fred W. Green, Frank Creech, Wm. N. Lister, A. F. Freeman, A. J. Waters, Ed. Howard, Wm. Eisenmann, Milo Rouse, B. D. Kelly.

The convention ratified his selection.

Mr. Wedemeyer then made a brief speech in which he thanked the convention for its unanimous action and the confidence it reposed in him and said he felt that with united Washtenaw back of him he was going to win.

Fred W. Green was elected chairman of the county committee and Frank Creech secretary. The other members of the committee are: Ann Arbor—1st ward, Wm. Elderth; 2d ward, John Haner; 3d ward, Leo. Gruener; 4th ward, Wm. Judson; 5th ward, Wm. Brennan; 6th ward, R. A. Jenney; 7th ward, A. J. Sawyer, jr.; Ann Arbor Town, John Keppler, Augusta, Chas. Greenman; Bridge-water, Fred Crosby; Dexter, John Schieferstein; Freedom, Wm. Eisenmann; Lima, Ari. Guerin; Lodi, G. L. Hoyt; Lyndon, Dick Clark; Manchester, Fred M. Freeman; Northfield, Geo. Price; Pittsfield, M. F. Case; Salem, John Munn; Saline, Lewis Fowler; Scio, Henry Steinbach; Sharon, Henry O'Neil; Superior, Perry Townsend; Sylvan, A. W. Wilkinson; Webster, Bert Kenny; York, Chas. Painty Garments and Charming Hats Designed for Summer Wear—Some Notable Examples.

Summer frocks, for instance, are seen in the shops and at the modistes in every conceivable variety, but one cannot well imagine a sweeter one than an embroidered lawn, nor one more elegantly economical; since it will clean or wash over and over again, and the soft, creamy, warm tone of its texture takes any and every pretty accessory. An ideal garden party frock would be such a lawn, with twisted round the waist and falling in long, soft sash ends, gleaming Louise ribbons of a pale blue or a soft pink, or a delicate pale green or a winsome mauve; whilst to some tastes, better still would be a mingling of two shades or two colors in the sash. For example, a sash of rose pink and pale green folded together, and with this I would beg to have a hat of burnt straw, with pink roses and much rose foliage.

It is one thing to have the right hat, another thing to know how to wear it; the barest sailor may be worn properly or improperly, which reminds me of a fascinating sailor I saw recently. This particular sailor hat was of moderate size with a prettily rounded-up brim, from the front of which started, one on each side, a pair of wings having cabochons decoratively placed at what we may call the root of each. Around the brim ran narrow plaitings of tulle, each one wedged into the top edge of each straw. The straw was wide, so that gave about three tulle plaitings encircling the brim. It was a sweet little hat, and the whole thing was carried out in a very pretty grassy shade of green, straw, tulle, wings, etc.

And speaking of hats reminds me that all New York seems to be mainly concerned with hats and sleeves. In hats it is impossible to say that any one shape has things all its own way. The blue and green color which is ubi-quitos, but it favors a dozen different types of hat, hats little and hats big. The police off the face is common, however, to all hat shapes, excepting the Louis Quinze toque and the Louis Seize picture hat, which both have brims sharply turning down over the features in front. The new police will puzzle many. It is one that has been introduced from Paris, and the French milliners who have come over to teach it to us are most amusing in their efforts to get us properly educated. They adjust the hat with the greatest delicacy from behind, watching closely evening gown that is unusually attractive also forms one of the illustrations for this letter, and needs but have a few words of explanation. It is of Alençon lace, twine toned, and has crepe de chine. The skirt is simple, three deep flounces of Alençon lace, mounted on white crepe de chine. The bodice has the lace prettily arranged, and dear little tassels of white and gold and silver running down the side fastening.

went to the Wilkinson house Friday night and proposed marriage to Abigail McCullough. He was rejected, and knowing he would marry her, hurried to this city and procured on Saturday a marriage license. He went to church on Saturday night, and told every one he met that he was to be married that night. About three o'clock in the morning several pistol shots were heard, but no one went to investigate until next morning, when Wilkinson failed to turn up at a neighbor's house, where he was engaged in harvesting a crop of potatoes. John Kellar, a farm hand, was sent to Wilkinson's house, and he discovered the whole family murdered and Austin with a bullet hole in his forehead and the revolver clutched in his hand. An infant, who had been unharmed, was found in bed beside its mother.

COUNTY CLEANINGS.

Two pupils took the eighth grade examination held at Waterloo, May 10.

W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, delivered the Decoration day address at Waterloo.

There is a mean thief in Ann Arbor who the other night stole the crops from a house where a dead child was buried.

Grange has been organized at Frankfort with a membership of 80. It meets at the hotel at Cavanaugh every two weeks.

Those of the Grass Lake creamery got a pound for last month's butter. They got 19 cents in April and 18 cents in May.

The Manchester creamery took in during April 190,721 pounds of milk which produced 7,918 pounds of butter for which patrons received $2,085.85.

It is planned to have two more rural delivery routes making five in all in the county of that city. The routes were established last week and will begin operation this week.

Mr. Ira Hestley, of Ann Arbor, was hit by a bullet from a 22 caliber rifle Saturday evening. The shot was fired by a student who was in a room on the river with a companion.

C. Watson, of Unadilla, got the end of his fingers hurt the first part of last week. Chas. Dooey, of the same place, was also accidentally struck in the hand with an axe in the hands of Hestley and received a ball cut.

Manchester people do not seem to be much struck with the bargains made by the Enterprise in selling some of its stock. The Enterprise says some citizens would be well to sell the machine and junk rather than attempt to repair it.

A horse belonging to Dr. O. Kapp, of Manchester, got its hind foot over its head the other night in such a way that it was drawn tightly under the heel of the shoe. The rope had to be cut on both sides of the foot and extracted with a pair of pliers.

Stockbridge Sun: The first of this month Henry Stilton sold off seven swarms of bees, that are the descendants of a swarm sent to his father by his uncle when the latter came here to settle 65 years ago.

The bees never ran out, the swarms being in number from 3 to 80. This is a record that it will be hard to parallel in the history of Michigan bee culture.

"I thought I was in heaven and saw no Baptists there," remarked the Methodist. "I inquired where they all were, and was answered that they had arrived yet; they were coming by the river, and were waiting for the creek to rise." "I dreamed," retorted the Baptist, "that I was in heaven and saw no Methodists there. Upon inquiry I was told they were all outside the walls on six months' probation."

W. W. U. Farmers' Club.

Thursday last was the day for the monthly meeting of the Western Washtenaw Union Farmers' Club and it was a beautiful day, bright and clear. At an early hour the members commenced to wend their several ways to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Raymond, in Sharon, known as "Shadeland Farm," where they were given a hearty welcome by the host and hostess, who know just how to entertain their friends. The long ride had whetted the appetites of everyone so that when dinner was announced all were ready to do justice to the sumptuous feast placed before them. The intervening hour before the time for the meeting to open was spent by the gentlemen in looking over Mr. Raymond's thoroughbred stock and well kept grounds, while the ladies improved the time in visiting. At 2:15 p. m. President Lowry called the meeting to order, and a good program followed.

The question "Does the editor wield more power than the orator?" was to have been presented by T. W. Mingley. Had the editor been wise he would not have selected an orator to open the question for him, but as he was not able to be present Rev. O. S. Jones handled the subject and the orator came out ahead of course. [We want to say just here that Mr. Jones was the selection of the program committee, not of the editor; as the writer of this item states.—Ed.]

R. W. Boyden gave his experience in keeping bees. Mrs. Boyden gave a very interesting talk on the question "Is life in the country more favorable to the development of a good character than life in the city?" Too much cannot be said in praise of this most excellent paper.

The program was interspersed with music, select reading and recitations. All felt they had spent not only a pleasant but a profitable day, and bidding their host and hostess good night, returned to their homes wishing they might be invited to Mr. Raymond's again.

The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chase, June 19.

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

Men and Women of Pictures and Society in New York

It isn't everyone who can apply for a $3,000 consulate by a picture—and get the consulate.

This is how Thomas Nast did it: "I happened to read about the troubles Consul General Leon was having in Guayaquil," he explains to his friends, "and I sat down and made a sketch of myself to show how fierce I could be if necessary. I sent it to Secretary Hay, with the message: 'Say the word and I am off, and it did the business.' The president sent in my name." Probably Mr. Roosevelt thought the subject of such a sketch would be "strenuous" enough for any emergency.

Ask any man of 50 years who is America's greatest cartoonist, and he would be apt to say "Nast." The story of how the great little Prussian week after week attacked the giant Tweed ring with his vitriolic pencil until he more than any other agency drove it from power is the most splendid one in the history of the art press. Of late years Nast has done little sketching; he has preferred to live at his ease in Morris-town, N. J., whence he occasionally runs up to New York to see his old friends.

When Nast was drawing his Tweed cartoons, George William Curtis was the editor of Harper's Weekly. It is no disparagement of later men to say that the Weekly was then what it can never be again and what no other American paper was or is. Just such a combination of literary and political wisdom as Mr. Curtis may not often be found. Of course, too, the daily paper has usurped most of the political functions of the weekly. This is one thing that drove Mr. Nast into retirement. Even his fertile brain was appalled at the idea of evolving a daily cartoon. There are men who can do it, but the strain is something terrible, and perhaps the best of them do not average more than one "ten-strike" in the week.

The Great Cartoonists of New York. The dean of the profession is C. G. Bush, of the World, who learned his art with the Harpers, where, in the old days, he sat at his desk alongside Edwin A. Abbey and C. S. Reinhart and many another famous artist and illustrator. His pictures are never coarse and, though he can say a rogue as fiercely as any man, he prefers when he can to be good-natured.

Davenport, of the Journal, is many years younger, and has a Pacific coast manner. He offends more people than Bush, and perhaps he makes his victims writhe more cruelly. His is a wholly different conception of the cartoonist's purpose. The Herald has strong cartoons from Nolan and Richards, and other papers are usually served by buying occasional sketches from free lance artists.

The "funny men" are in a different category. They are not called cartoonists or expected to keep informed upon political topics, though the best of them could qualify for cartoonists if they wished. Probably most of them prefer the free lance life—for the comic artist is less likely than the cartoonist to have a steady job—and a steady grind. Of course, when an artist has developed a specialty, such as "Foxy Grandpa" or Miss Carew's "Angel Child" he is engaged to furnish it regularly for one paper. This is not a trivial matter. The paper that got "Foxy Grandpa" away from the Herald by liberal offers of increased pay at once enjoyed a discernible advance in circulation.

Is it true, that women have no sense of humor? There never seems to be more than one woman cartoonist at a time. There was poor Jessie Wood, a little English girl with snappy black eyes and a cockney accent, one of the bravest souls I ever knew, who made funny pictures when she knew she was dying. And now the exception to the no-humor-in-woman rule is the Mrs. Chambers who signs herself "Kate Carew," a tall, very slender and ethereal looking American girl of fine artistic talent. Like Miss Wood, Miss Carew combines the gift of writing with that of drawing. And so does Mrs. Jennie O'Neill Latham, who, because she always signs her strong pictures "O'Neill Latham," is usually taken for a man. Mrs. Latham is a beautiful woman; when she wants a picture of a princess or a dashing society girl, or whatever phase you like of attractive femininity, she has only to look in the mirror and draw what she sees. Hence her pictured ladies, like Mr. Gibson's portraits of Richard Harding Davis, show a strong family likeness.

The Women Whips' First Drive. If women have no sense of humor they can at least drive horses without shutting their eyes and yelling every time a leader shies.

The first oaching parade in this city or any other city in America where women were the only drivers has just been held. It was a distinguished success. Nobody's horses ran away from her or were scared by an automobile or otherwise misbehaved. The horn sockets were empty, so that the coaches did not make themselves obnoxious to others by unnecessary racket. There were but four coaches, with a hack to "fill out with," but there will be more next year. A number of the finest women whips of the city were not seen on this occasion.

It is no small feat to guide four fractious horses through the maze of traffic of Fifth avenue, but the fair drivers did not seem nervous. One was that daughter of E. C. Benedict whose marriage to Thomas Hastings, the architect, was last year's most interesting romance in high life. Another was Miss Clara Brice, daughter of Lloyd Brice, was editor and proprietor of the North American Review after the death of Allan Thorndike Rice until Col. Harvey took the magazine. Another was Miss Barney, who as the niece of W. C. Whitney knows all about horses.

The automobile is not displacing horses in the affection of society, so far as one can see. Just now there is a distinct reaction against the buzzing demons that make frantic effort to break "records" between all the conceivable towns on the map.

A Notable Automobile Trip. Here is the unvarnished tale of an attempt to break the record between Philadelphia and New York.

Barclay H. Warburton, who has money and a big black buzzing demon of a machine, low and rakish, started at early morning. Going through Princeton he scared a team of horses, one of which tried to jump over a picket fence and was horribly impaled. At New Brunswick he found the police warned from Princeton awaiting him. "I'm Barclay H. Warburton," he said, trembling with the excitement of speed. "Don't stop me, please; I'm trying to break a record. That Princeton affair, I suppose. I'll settle all claims."

In three minutes he actually did get away—you can guess what arguments he used—and started north again. In Newark, whose streets are almost as busy as New York's, he ran against a wagon, threw it half across the street and badly bruised its two occupants. A doctor was called, the automobilist fuming with impatience, when it was found that neither sufferer was dangerously injured. Warburton patched up another truce with the law again you may guess by what arguments and started for New York. But the record wasn't broken. I suppose the daring adventurer cursed the screaming, writhing horse upon the fence pickets and the groaning men upon the Newark pavement for delaying him.

A few of the best known automobilists have cards which read "Mr. — will arrange for all claims," or words to that effect. When the dashing automobilist sees or suspects that he has caused a horse to run away or smashed a wagon or injured anyone, he throws out one of these cards and goes on. There is another kind of automobilist who goes on without any card. I have myself seen two such men. Their machine frightened a horse driven by a half-grown boy with whom was his mother holding her baby in her arms. The horse turned the light wagon literally and completely upside down in the ditch upon the woman, baby and boy; and the men went on with unsteady helm for looking back over their shoulders and laughing. The law obliges every auto owner to have his initials painted upon his machine, but how read them in a cloud of dust? No wonder the autos are not very well liked!

The Vanderbilt Pictures. It has been 20 years since a general public view was possible of the pictures of the late

William H. Vanderbilt, which have now been placed in the Metropolitan museum by his son George. When Mr. Vanderbilt built his house on Fifth avenue—called the "Brown Stone Packing Box"—the gallery behind it on the side street was opened to the public until it was found that the pictures were being ruined by boorish visitors, when the privilege was more closely guarded. Of late the pictures have been visible once a week to people properly introduced or who could identify themselves.

Mr. Vanderbilt had something to do with making the great commercial success of "Papa Meissonier" and Ross Bonheur. He was of the same age as the latter artist, who outlived him by more than a decade. Vanderbilt was the "original of the character in Crane's 'Henrietta,'" who says that he has bought a new Meissonier, so-and-so many square inches, at so much an inch.

Really Vanderbilt knew a good picture very well. Any man of common sense with opportunity can learn pictures—and a man like Vanderbilt does not lack opportunities. Curious that this momentary recalling of the name of the once richest man in the world should coincide with the sensational developments as to the Wall street fortune of his son-in-law, Dr. W. Seward Webb. The Vanderbilts have always been luckiest when they haven't tempted luck.

OWEN LANGDON.

HAVE NO PERMANENT HOME.

Americans Change Their Habitations Offener Than Any Other Civilized People.

Americans seem to be naturally a migratory people. At least such would be the conclusion after a study of recent census statistics, which reveal some remarkably interesting facts and among them the one that we are the greatest nation of rolling stones on the earth, but, notwithstanding that fact, we succeed in gathering the moss of material prosperity.

The official figures show that out of a native born population of 65,843,302 there are 13,803,651 living in states different from those in which they were born—that is, more than one person out of five has left the state of his birth to seek his fortune elsewhere.

If we count the 10,460,736 foreign-born residents we find that about one-third of the population has moved from the state or country of birth. These figures show our mobility to be in the ratio of ten to one, as compared with that of Europe.

The state of New York has sent out 1,300,000 of her children who are now resident in other states, and has received from other states in their stead 534,000 residents. Vermont has a most remarkable record, which shows that she has children living in other states equal in number to one-half of her present population.

HOTEL FUNERALS.

They Are Intrepid, Because Objected To by Landlords—Would Hurt His Business.

Landlords of hotels object to funerals, for their houses are eminently places of good cheer, and on that sunshine of good cheer they want no shadow of sorrow cast. Hence, when a guest dies under the roof of one of the landlords he uses all means possible to have the funeral services held elsewhere.

And, as a rule, the landlord has no difficulty in achieving that, because the dead guest's family wishes his body to be buried from his home. For he is nearly always a transient guest, and it would seem both heartless and irreverent to bury him otherwise. But if he is a resident guest (a thing that happens once or twice in a thousand years), the landlord easily arranges with the undertaker to hold the services in the latter's parlors.

And thus it happens, concludes the Baltimore Herald, that not one man in a thousand ever sees a funeral from a hotel.

A Confirmed Suspicion. "I always said she'd marry a wooden cigar sign if she couldn't get anything better." "Well, what has she finally done?" "Married a slave of the chess habit."—Chicago Record-Herald.

EXPLOSION IN A MINE

Terrible Disaster Occurs Near Coal Creek, Tenn.

Gas Explodes in a Pit, Killing Every Man in the Mine—The Deaths Are Estimated at From 175 to 225.

Coal Creek, Tenn., May 20.—The worst disaster in the history of Tennessee mining occurred at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning, when between 175 and 225 men and boys met instant death at the Easterville coal mine, located two miles west of this town, as a result of a gas explosion. Out of the large number of men and boys who went to work in the morning, developments at midnight show that only one is alive, and he is so badly injured that he cannot live. This man was William Morgan, an aged Englishman, who was a road man in the mine, and was blown out of the entrance by the force of the explosion. One hundred and seventy-five miners were checked in for work Monday morning by the mine boss. In addition to these, there were boys who acted as helpers and drivers, and road men and others to the number of perhaps 50.

The Explosion.

Fraterville mine is the oldest mine in the Coal Creek district, having been opened in 1870. It is fully three miles from the mines opening to the point where the men were at work. They had not been at work long before the terrible explosion occurred. There was a fearful roar, and then flames shot from the entrance and the air shafts. News of the disaster spread like wildfire, but as soon as order could be brought out of chaos, two rescuing parties were started in, one at the main entrance, the other through Thistle mine, which adjoins, and in which no men were at work. The Thistle party was unable to make any headway, as the gas stifled the workers. The Fraterville party went fully two miles under the earth, until a heavy fall of slate was encountered. At this barrier men worked like demons, hoping against hope that those beyond might be safe.

Sad Scenes.

The scenes at the mouth of the mine while the workers were within are beyond description. Business had been suspended in Coal Creek and all its mines as soon as the news of the disaster became circulated, and men, women and children gathered around the Fraterville entrance. Women whose husbands and sons were within were wild with grief.

All Had Perished.

All day long the rescuers toiled at the slate obstruction, and not until five o'clock did they force an entrance through it. Up to that hour only five dead bodies had been recovered and hope was still high that many within were safe. The hopes of the living were doomed, however, for when once the rescuers could enter and proceeded they walked along one continuous tomb of death. There was not a sign of life. Every man had perished, they believed, although it will be several hours before all the rooms can be entered.

Bodies Recovered.

Eight dead bodies were first recovered, and these were sent to Coal Creek. Twenty-six more were soon found. They were not disfigured beyond identification, and each corpse as it was borne from the mouth of the gigantic tomb was surrounded by eager crowds of relatives of the men who were entombed. The mine was not on fire except in remote portions.

PEOPLE BADLY SCARED.

Earthquake Shock in San Francisco Causes Fright Among the Residents.

San Francisco, May 20.—An earthquake shock which was felt quite generally in the north of San Francisco occurred at 10:30 Monday morning. In this city and immediate vicinity it was light, but in some places the shock was quite sharp. Solano county reports the most violent shock in ten years. The tremble was from northwest to southeast, and lasted for about 20 seconds, starting mildly and growing stronger until people became thoroughly frightened. The breaking of glass windows caused a runaway on Main street and added to the pandemonium of the moment. The damage here was small.

Negotiations Said to Have Failed.

Berlin, May 20.—It is reported from Vienna that the Boer physician Albert Pretorius has been told by Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, to hold himself in readiness to start for South Africa. It has also been stated that the Berlin Boer relief committee has received a telephonic notice to organize a fresh ambulance corps, as the peace negotiations have failed completely.

WORK OF THE TORNADO

Death List at Goliad, Tex., 98—Deadly Waterspout in Minnesota.

Houston, Tex., May 20.—The reports from Goliad state that 98 persons were killed and 103 injured by the tornado which passed over the city Sunday afternoon. The property loss in the city and surrounding country will probably reach $500,000. The storm swept the city from end, and demolished 150 stores, residences, many of which cannot be repaired. There is only one telephone wire working into Goliad, and to the crush of official business impossible yet to obtain a list of dead and injured.

The tornado, which was preceded by a terrible downpour of hail, only a few minutes. The hail drove the people into their homes where they were caught like in a trap, and the death-dealing came upon them with terrible leveling everything in its path. The tornado swept an area 250 yards for a distance of a mile and a half.

The funeral of several of the times took place Monday afternoon. The supply of coffins has been rushed from other towns, and a force of laborers are still at work digging graves for many of the unfortunate victims. The citizens have perfected an organization, and nothing is conducted in an orderly manner, the work of caring for the dead and injured now being on a systematic basis.

The storm wrought severe havoc in the surrounding country, but no reports are reported lost. Gov. Sayers has issued an appeal to the mayors of cities of 3,000 population and over the state of Texas, asking them to send foot to Goliad and raise funds for the sufferers.

La Crosse, Wis., May 20.—A heavy rain storm reached here Monday morning from Preston, Minn., a few miles from here on the Dubuque division of the Milwaukee road that a water spout struck a few miles from there Sunday night deluging the country miles around and causing the death of four people and the death of another by being struck lighting, besides a great property loss. Alderman Conkey was the killed by the lightning.

According to the reports of feet of water swept over the moving eight or ten houses, 15 to 20 feet from where they originally stood. The Milwaukee road was washed out for four miles of town, the depot twisted around the water. The lumber yards owned by the C. L. Colman Lumber company, are reported to be under two to three feet of mud and water and the damage cannot be estimated at the present time as much of the lumber has been carried off by the raging waters.

Unconfirmed reports have come from the western part of the state that this was one of the worst storms witnessed in the country. The level prairie in the township of York it was reported that farmers lost a great deal of stock and near Granger about 20 buildings were demolished.

A confirmed report has reached here that Michael Wilbur, living west of Forestville, lost his children, his barn, house and all contents, everything was swept down stream. Three of the children have been found and the fourth one is missing.

FOUND IN THE RUINS.

Bodies of United States Consul and Family Are Recovered at St. Pierre.

Fort de France, May 20.—American and English officers, who have been searching the ruins of St. Pierre for the bodies of the United States and British consuls and their families, have found the remains. Mr. Prentiss, the American representative, and the members of his family will be brought to Fort de France on a warship, where Mr. Prentiss will be buried with military honors.

Paris, May 20.—Gov. L'Huissier, Martinique, has cabled to the minister, M. Decrais, announcing that Mont Pelée continues to throw up immense quantities of cinders, which owing to a change in the direction of the wind, are now covering the southern districts of the island. Violent explosions have been heard at Le Carbet.

The governor further declared that there is no danger of an outbreak on the part of the population of the northern districts of the island, as alleged in consequence of the people being out of work.

Washington, May 20.—Secretary Hay has received the following telegram from United States Consul McAllister, at Barbadoes, W. I., dated Monday: "Sixteen hundred deaths at St. Vincent, 4,000 destitute. Immediate work needed for six months. This is a terrible situation."

New York, May 20.—Cornelius Bliss, national treasurer of the World India relief fund, had received to noon Monday a total of $40,000.

RUPTION SPREADS DESOLATION AND DESTRUCTION.

Seventeen Hundred Reported Dead and 5,000 Destitute on Island of St. Vincent—Mont Pelee Reported Active Again—Supplies Hurried to Sufferers.

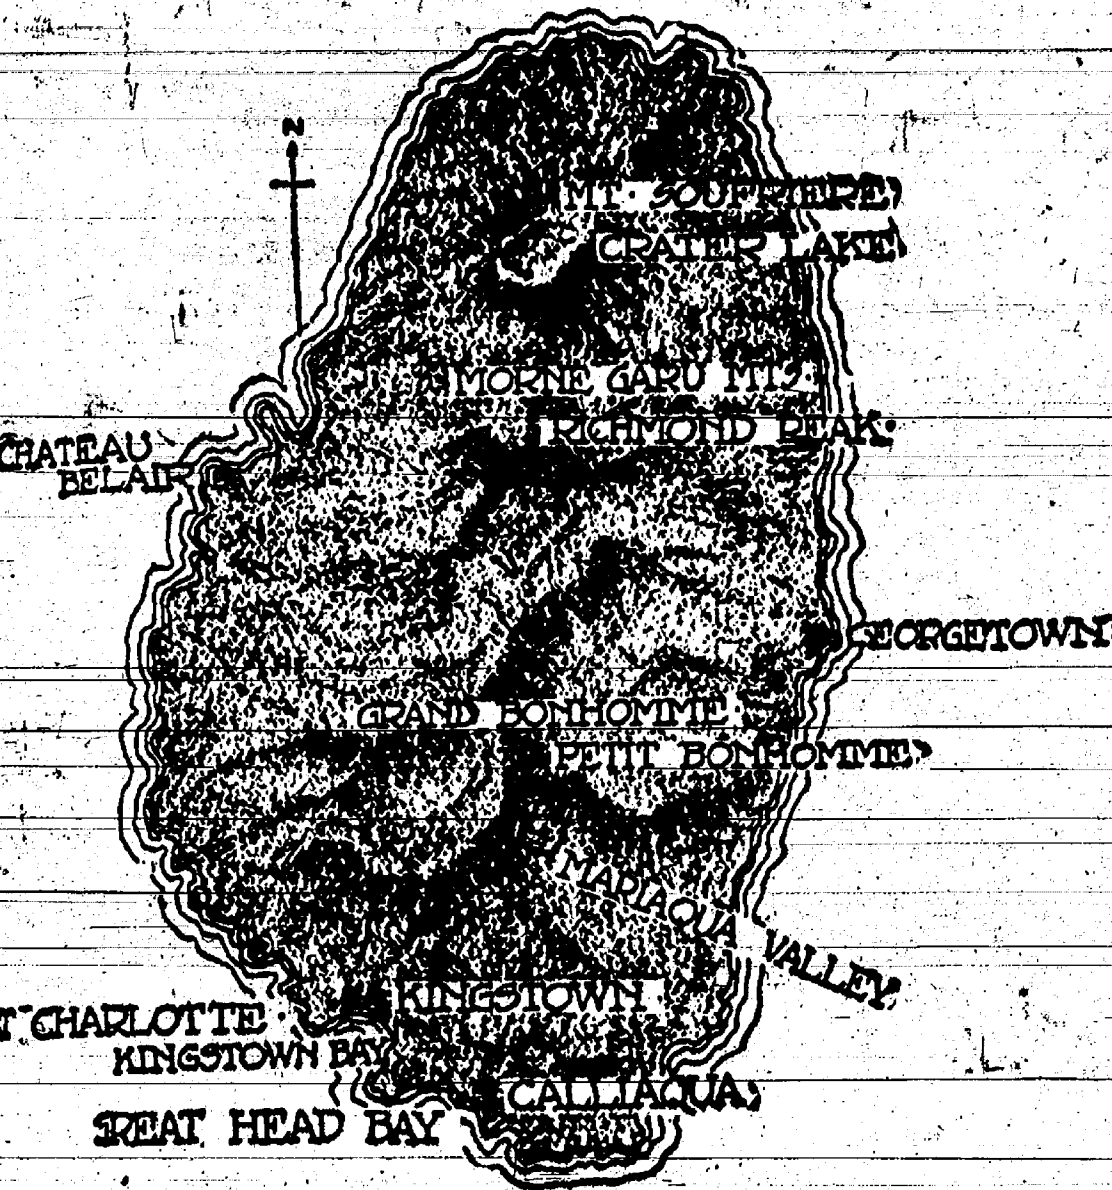

Washington, May 17.—Late Friday afternoon the navy department received an unsigned cable, dated at St. Vincent, Friday, and apparently from a reliable source, which read as follows: "Island of St. Vincent devastated north of line of latitude 13° 30' N. Chateau Belair, St. Vincent, country people, 1,700; destitute, 5,000. Immediate relief supplied by local government. Destruction will continue several months."

Desolation in St. Vincent.
Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, May 17.—A correspondent of the press has just returned here from a trip to St. Vincent on the cruise ship Dixie from New York and on the collier Sterling from San Juan undoubtedly will be sufficient to meet the urgent needs of the suffering people for fully a month to come.

The government already has expended a little over $100,000 of the available appropriation of $200,000, and as much of the balance as necessary will be utilized. The administration anticipated the action of congress in providing for the immediate relief of the situation with the result that the Sterling, sailed from San Juan with supplies within five hours from the time the appropriation became available.

ISLAND OF ST. VINCENT.

The heaviest loss of life has occurred north of a line between Chateau Belair and Georgetown.

On horseback, to the devastated district of this island, during which he traveled 50 miles, and penetrated within five miles of the Soufriere crater. The ash-covered area of St. Vincent exceeds that of Martinique, which the correspondent has also explored. The most conservative estimate of the death rate here now places the number at 1,700. About 500 bodies have already been buried. The entire northern part of the island is covered with ashes to an average depth of 18 inches, varying from a thin layer at Kingstown to two feet or more at Georgetown. The crops are ruined, nothing green can be seen.

While the outbreak of the volcano on the island of Martinique killed more people outright, more territory has been ruined in St. Vincent, hence there is greater destruction here.

The sulphuric vapors which still exude all over the island are increasing the sickness and mortality among the surviving inhabitants and are causing suffering among the new arrivals. The hospital staffs are giving way to overwork and are with difficulty bearing up.

The stench in the afflicted districts is terrible beyond description. Nearly all the huts left standing are filled with dead bodies. In some cases disinfectants and the usual means of disposing of the dead are useless, and cremation has been resorted to. When it is possible, the bodies are dragged with ropes to the trenches and are there hastily covered up, quicklime being used when available. Many of the dead bodies were so covered with dust that they were not discovered until walked upon by visitors or by the relieving officers or their assistants. The scenes witnessed were unprecedented in the history of this colony.

Owing to the great heat it is still impossible to approach the Soufriere volcano from the leeward side. Interesting discoveries have been made regarding physical changes on St. Vincent resulting from the eruptions.

Pelee Again Active.

Fort de France, Island of Martinique, May 17.—Great flashes of very bright light were emitted from Mont Pelee between 10 and 11 o'clock Thursday night. They were visible from here. Thick, glowing red clouds, interspersed with flashes of light, are now issuing from the volcano. Showers of cinders, lasting for 20 minutes, accompanied the activity. The people in the districts of Lorrain, Marigot, Sainte Marie and La Trinite are panic-stricken.

Ship supplies to sufferers.
Washington, May 16.—It is stated at the war department that the supplies and stores shipped to Martiable and the Dixie sailed from New York with additional supplies in exactly 20 hours after the president signed the act making the appropriation. These two vessels carry more than 38 days' rations for 50,000 people, together with a proportionate amount of clothing, tentage, etc.

Enormous Fall of Dust.
Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—According to a report received here from Barbados, B. W. I., it is calculated that 2,000,000 tons of volcanic dust from the eruption on St. Vincent have fallen over that island. Volcanic dust is now falling in the highest altitudes of Jamaica.

MONT GAROU, ST. VINCENT'S DEATH-DEALER.

The eruption of the volcano on St. Vincent at Georgetown covered a portion of the island with molten lava and killed hundreds of the inhabitants unable to escape.

GIFT TO UNITED STATES.

Emperor William to Place Statue of Frederick the Great at Washington.

Wiesbaden, Hesse-Nassau, May 17.—The German emperor Wednesday, May 14, telegraphed as follows to the president of the United States, at Washington:

"I am still under the deep impression created by the splendid and cordial reception of my brother, Prince Henry, by the citizens of the United States of America. In the speech with which he was greeted the fact was often mentioned that my ancestor, Frederick the Great, maintained a friendly attitude towards the young American republic during the course of her formation, thereby laying the corner stone of the friendly relations which have always existed between our two countries. The example set to me by the great king I intend to follow."

"I wish to commemorate the visit of Prince Henry by a gift to the people of America, which I request you to accept in their name. I intend to present a statue in bronze of Frederick the Great to the United States, to be erected in Washington on a place you will kindly choose. May this gift be looked upon as a lasting sign of the intimate relations which have been successfully fostered and developed between our two great nations."

(Signed) "WILLIAM, I. R."
President Roosevelt replied Thursday, May 15, thanking Emperor William heartily, in the name of the United States, and saying that he would lay the matter before congress immediately.

TRADE REVIEW.

Situation in the Business World as Outlined by Dun's Commercial Agency.

New York, May 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Weather and wages continue the only seriously disturbing factors in the business situation. Excessive moisture and low temperature made the crop outlook more uncertain, and much depends on a continuance of prosperity in the agricultural sections. On the other hand, record-breaking distribution of pay in the Pittsburgh region accelerated retail trade, while resumption of woolen and other mills added largely to the active force. Transporting lines continue to make splendid exhibits, railway earnings for the first week of May exceeding those of a year ago by 6.2 per cent, and surpassing the same week's earnings in 1900 by 19.9 per cent."

"Failures for the week numbered 228 in the United States, against 177 last year, and 17 in Canada, against 19 a year ago."

Monument Dedicated.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.—Impressive ceremonies and an assemblage of more than 50,000 people made notable the dedication of the Indiana state soldiers' and sailors' monument at ten o'clock Thursday morning, the cornerstone of which was laid in 1889 in the presence of Benjamin Harrison and his cabinet. The monument stands 284½ feet high in the center of Monument place, which is the heart of Indianapolis. The total cost of the monument was $398,318.76. John W. Foster, of Washington, D. C., former secretary of state, delivered the oration.

Will of Sol Smith Russell.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 15.—The will of Sol Smith Russell, the actor, was filed Wednesday. The estate, mostly real, is valued at $150,000. The only heirs are the widow, Mrs. Alice Adams Russell, and two children, Robert and Alice. The document is very brief and leaves everything to the widow.

HEADACHE, BACKACHE, DIZZINESS

(PE-RU-NA CURES PELVIC CATARRH.)

"I am perfectly well," says Mrs. Martin, of Brooklyn. "Pe-ru-na cured me."

MRS. ANNA MARTIN.

Mrs. Anna Martin, 47 Hoyt street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Pe-ru-na did so much for me that I feel it my duty to recommend it to others who may be similarly afflicted. About a year ago my health was completely broken down, had backache, dizziness and irregularities, and life seemed dark indeed. We had used Pe-ru-na in our home as a tonic and for colds and catarrh and I decided to try it for my trouble. In less than three months I became regular, my pains had entirely disappeared, and I am now perfectly well."—Mrs. Anna Martin.

Miss Marie Johnson, 11 Columbia, East, Detroit, Mich., is Worthy Vice Templar in Hope Lodge No. 6, Independent Order Good Templars. Miss Johnson, as so many other women also have done, found in Pe-ru-na a specific for a severe case of female weakness. She writes:

"I want to do what I can to let the whole world know what a grand medicine Pe-ru-na is. For eleven years I suffered with female troubles and complications arising therefrom. Doctors failed to cure me, and I despaired of being helped. Pe-ru-na cured me in three short months. I can hardly believe it myself, but it is a blessed fact. I am perfectly well now, and have not had an ache or pain for months. I want my suffering sisters to know what Pe-ru-na has done for me."—Miss Marie Johnson.

Miss Ruth Emerson, 72 Sycamore st., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Pe-ru-na cured me within six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and to-day the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public."—Miss Ruth Emerson.

It is no longer a question as to whether Pe-ru-na can be relied on to cure all such cases. During the many years in which Pe-ru-na has been put to test in all forms and stages of acute and chronic catarrh no one year has put this remedy to greater test than the past year.

Pe-ru-na is the acknowledged catarrh remedy of the age. Dr. Hartman, the compounder of Pe-ru-na, has written a book on the phases of catarrh peculiar to women, entitled, "Health and Beauty." It will be sent free to any address by The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

WHAT RUSSELL SAGE SAYS.

To put a premium on brains and honesty is the only way to level things up.

There may come a time when the state will put a limit upon a man's fortune.

Any restriction of the rights of capital would work incalculable injury to the workingman.

Persons who are unable to acquire money are necessarily not capable of its proper use or care.

The people know that up to the present time the great capitalists have been only capitalists of industry.

So long as some men have more sense and more self-control than others, just so long will such men be wealthy.

It is observable that the very rich men of to-day are far more democratic than ever before in the history of the world.

Intelligence, industry, honesty and thrift produce wealth, and those who possess such qualities are best fitted for its custody.

HELD ON TO A CHAIR.

Palmer, Mo., May 19th.—Mrs. Lucy Compton has for the past eight or ten years suffered a great deal of pain and sickness. She had Kidney Trouble, with an awful pain in her back, which was so bad at many times that she could scarcely get about at all.

"I have been down with my back for the past eight or ten years," she says, "and sometimes so bad that I could not get around only by holding on to a chair or some other object."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have given me more relief than anything I have ever used."

"After I had used the first box I was almost entirely cured of this dreadful trouble."

"I can truthfully recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to any woman suffering as I have suffered for so long."

Mrs. Compton's cure was certainly a remarkable one.

Queer Place for a Rat Trap.

Wm. F. Bartlett, of Manchester, tells the following story to the Enterprise, which is a most remarkable one: "When out to one of his farms south of town, a few days ago he found his tenant, Hebe Fellows, in one of the stalls looking for a steel trap he had set for rats. Mr. Bartlett stood behind one of the horses and noticed the horse's tail—which is a large bushy one—was knotted up in a singular manner, asked Mr. Fellows what caused it. While making an examination, they saw a rat's tail protruding from the tangled mass of hair and finally discovered the lost trap. Fellows caught the rat by the tail and with some difficulty extracted it from its hiding place and dashed its head against the wall. The rat and trap were almost entirely hidden from view but the horse did not seem to act as though it knew of its presence there."

I have had occasion to use your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all owners of stock.

J. B. BELSHER, St. Louis, Mo.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cured by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it be possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stirs up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.

DON'T BE FOOLED!

The market is being flooded with worthless imitations of ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA. To protect the public we call special attention to our trade mark, printed on every package. Demand the genuine. For sale by all Druggists. Subscribe for the Herald, $1 per year.
