OLD COUNTY PIONEERS MET

And Talked Life's Battles O'er Again at Chelsea Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw Pioneer Society held at the Methodist church, Chelsea, yesterday, was one of the best attended in several years, fully 150 of the old pioneers of the county being present. As early as 9 o'clock in the morning some of them began to put in their appearance and every electric car until 1 o'clock brought new arrivals, besides those who came by the Michigan Central. Many of them strolled around the town, renewing old acquaintances and looking at the many improvements that have been made in Chelsea during the last few years.

At 11 o'clock the meeting was called to order in the Methodist church, which was nicely decorated with palms and potted plants placed around the platform. Prayer was offered by Rev. Thos. Holmes, after which President Burkhardt welcomed the pioneers to Chelsea and spoke of the pleasure it afforded him to officiate as their president for this occasion.

The report of the secretary, Robert Campbell, of Ann Arbor, was then read. Treasurer Reeves' report followed, and it showed the finances of the society to be in a very satisfactory condition.

Neurologist Wm. H. Lay read his annual report which showed a total of 147 deaths reported to him during the year, of which 85 were males and 62 females.

By months the number of deaths were: June 12, July 8, August 11, September 12, October 6, November 11, December 12, January 18, February 20, March 14, April 10, May 15.

By localities Ann Arbor city 30, Ypsilanti city 20, Salem 2, Northfield 2, Webster 3, Dexter 2, Lyndon 2, Sylvan 6, Lima 8, Scio 11, Superior 2, Ypsilanti town 18, Lodi 4, Freedom 8, Sharon 4, Manchester 23, Bridgewater 8, Saline 5, York 8, Augusta 6. The townships of Pittsfield and Ann Arbor had no deaths reported.

The ages by decades were as follows: 90 and upwards, 8; 80 to 90, 40; 70 to 80, 54; 60 to 70, 82; under 60, 10; ages wanted in three cases.

In years of residence 6 had lived in the county 70 or more years; 60 years and over, 34; 50 years and over, 89; under 50, 82; with a large number not reported exactly, but all being residents of at least 40 years.

Isaac Terry, of Webster, made a motion that in future the report of the neurologist shall only embrace the names of those who had been residents of the county since 1840. This was opposed by Mrs. J. W. Babbitt, of Ypsilanti, T. W. Mingay and others, and as the motion was not seconded the question was left as it is now.

The president appointed E. A. Nordman, of Lima, J. W. Wing, of Scio, Wm. Campbell, of Pittsfield, A. R. Graves, of Ypsilanti town, Jay Everett, and C. T. Conkilo, of Sylvan, a committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year and to select a place of meeting.

The assemblage then adjourned for dinner, which was served in the dining room and was a bountiful and appetizing feature of the day's proceedings.

The meeting was again called to order at 1:30 p. m., the interim between dinner and that hour having been well spent in visiting and a pleasant social time. After scripture reading and prayer by Rev. E. Caster, D. D., and remarks by President Burkhardt, who again took occasion to welcome the pioneers to Chelsea, R. A. Snyder sang "Sleep, Weary Ones" in a very pleasing manner.

At this point in the program President Burkhardt announced that agreeable to the custom adopted by the society of giving bouquets to the pioneer ladies present who were over 80 years of age and to the oldest man, Dr. Thos. Holmes would make the presentation speech and present the bouquets.

Dr. Holmes made a few general remarks and then in a tender and feeling manner addressed each of the old people in turn and presented beautiful bouquets of flowers to Mrs. Mercy Boyd, of Chelsea, who will be 92 years old Nov. 25, 1902; Mrs. Jane Jewett, of Lima, 91 years old Oct. 12, 1902; Mrs. Abbie W. Smith, of Scio, 91 years old Oct. 23, 1902, and John Chickens, of Ypsilanti, 88 years old July 4, 1902. The scene when the latter presentation was made was a most affecting one. The aged recipient replied to the earnest words of his almost equally aged christian brother and saying it was the most beautiful gift he had ever received in his life, expressed the hope that they would both of them meet in that home beyond skies, where, as Dr. Holmes said, there would be no pioneer days.

A letter from Dr. J. B. Angell was read expressing regret at his inability to be present.

The male quartet, George and Floyd Ward, Louis Burg and Fred S. Welch, sang "My Old Kentucky Home," and were encored, when they sang, "I Hall Thee, Pretty Rosebud."

Judge W. D. Harriman, of Ann Arbor, read a splendid paper on the late Christian Eberbach, which was full of pioneer and other historical reminiscences.

Next came an organ solo by Miss Floy Castle, of Ann Arbor.

"My First Visit to Ann Arbor," was the title of a paper read by Mrs. Eli W. Moore.

Prof. J. R. Sage, of Ann Arbor, delighted the old folks by singing "The Old Oaken Bucket," and being encored, followed it with "The Old Granite State."

The nominating committee reported, naming Ypsilanti as the meeting place next year. The officers named were: President, F. B. Graves, Ypsilanti; secretary, Robert Campbell, Ann Arbor; treasurer, O. C. Burkhardt, Chelsea. Vice presidents for each township and an executive committee were also named. The report was adopted.

Wm. Campbell, of Ypsilanti, read a paper on "Josiah Childs," of Augusta.

The male quartet sang another selection and Mrs. B. D. Kelly, of Ypsilanti, read a paper.

Mrs. Rose Hoag played a pretty piano solo, after which Robert Campbell read a paper reminiscent of the civil war. Prof. J. R. Sage sang "Hail, to the Flag."

Then followed five minute talks by A. N. Morton, Chelsea, Andrew Campbell, Pittsfield, Dr. Thos. Holmes, Chelsea, E. A. Nordman, Lima, and others.

W. H. Lay called attention to the pioneer log cabin on the fair grounds at Ann Arbor, and asked the loan of pioneer relics to exhibit in it at the fair in September.

E. A. Nordman suggested lending the relics in the pioneer room at the court house.

After a recitation by A. R. Graves, of Ypsilanti, a vote of thanks was moved and carried to the ladies of the Methodist church and the citizens of Chelsea generally for the hospitality and kindness shown to the members of the society.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Was Observed Last Sunday With Services by the Children, Decorations, Etc.

The annual Children's Day services were held at the Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches last Sunday. In the two first named the exercises were in the morning and in the latter in the evening. The decorations at all the churches were very pretty and the children were out in full force even to the very youngest. The congregations of older persons were also very large.

At the Baptist church the program consisted of singing and class exercises, a jubilee march by the children and the erection of a Jacob's ladder which was a very pretty and inspiring sight.

At the Methodist church there were songs, recitations, class services and choice music. The children seemed to enter fully into the spirit of the occasion.

The Congregational church was filled to overflowing in the evening and the exercises were much enjoyed. There were recitations and vocal solos by little boys and girls, dialogues by little girls, songs by Mrs. Drislane's class, and by a junior male quartet, solos by Miss Edith Boyd and Floyd Ward, an anthem by the choir, and brief remarks by the pastor.

A Synopsis of the Provisions of the Anti-Anarchy Bill Passed by the House.

Washington, June 10.—The bill passed Monday by the house for the protection of the president is a substitute for the senate measure, which contained no anti-anarchy provisions, but which did contain a provision omitted from the substitute for a bodyguard for the president. The substitute consists of 13 sections.

It provides that any person who shall unlawfully, purposely and knowingly kill the president or vice-president, or any officer entitled by law to succeed to the presidency, any foreign ambassador or minister accredited to this country, while engaged in the performance of his official duties or because of his official character or because of any of his acts or omissions, shall suffer death. Any person who attempts to commit any of the above offenses shall be imprisoned not less than ten years.

Any person while engaged in an unlawful attempt to inflict grievous bodily harm upon the president or any person entitled to succeed him, if he inflicts injuries which cause death shall be imprisoned for life; if such injuries do not cause death such offenders shall be imprisoned not less than five years.

Any person who aids, abets or conspires with another to commit any of the above offenses shall be deemed a principal. Any person who knowingly harbors, conceals or aids with intent that he may avoid arrest or punishment any person who has committed one of the above offenses shall be imprisoned from one to twenty-five years. Any person who advocates the unlawful killing of an officer of the government or of the government of any civilized nation because of his official character or who openly justifies such killing with intent to secure the commission of any of the above offenses shall be fined from $500 to $5,000 and imprisoned from one to twenty years. Any person who conspires or advises any person to assault or kill, within or without the United States, the chief magistrate of a foreign country because of his official character shall be punished as follows: If the attempt is made and death results, such offender shall suffer death. If such attempt does not result in death the punishment shall be a fine of $500 to $5,000 and imprisonment from one to twenty-five years. If such attempt is not made the punishment shall be a similar fine and imprisonment from one to five years.

Section 11 provides that no person who is opposed to all organized government or to any form of organized government or to teaching such opposition shall be admitted into the United States, and that any person who aids such person to enter shall be fined from $500 to $5,000 and imprisoned from one to five years. Section 12 prohibits the naturalization of anarchists and empowers the courts to investigate and before issuing final papers to require the affidavit of the applicant affirming the truth of every material fact necessary for naturalization.

The last section of the bill provides that in all prosecutions under the first seven sections of the act it should be presumed until the contrary is proved that the president or other officer was engaged in his official duties at the time of the offense.

West Point, N. AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

Lusk Springs, Ind.—June 9th.—It would be hard to find a happier man than Mr. William Catterson, of this place, has been for the last few weeks. For twenty years his wife has been an invalid with a complication of diseases. Neuralgia, Rheumatism and generally broken down constitution.

Mr. Catterson had done everything that loving care could suggest but in vain—his wife only grew worse.

Recently, however, he heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and determined to give them a trial and was overjoyed at the splendid result.

From the very beginning of the treatment she commenced to improve till now she is nearly well and Mr. Catterson is rejoicing. He says: "Nothing ever did her so much good. We will always praise Dodd's Kidney Pills for the good work they have done for us."

Athletes and Other Things of Which New Yorkers Gossip

Is old Yale losing her athletic glory? Beaten in winter indoor games except basketball, beaten in the dual track contest with Harvard, beaten in the Freshman boat race by Columbia, and with last year's defeat at football not forgotten, Yale faces the race at New London bluer than her flag. It's too early to say that Harvard will win; but no one prophesies a Yale victory "on general principles" as in the old days.

Yale's spirit is as fine as ever, but she begins to suffer from lack of numbers. The second college in America in age, Yale is about the tenth in numbers, and of course it is harder to get specialists for all kinds of games from 2,500 students than it is for Harvard from 6,000 or Columbia from 5,000. Counting all who uphold college honors in baseball, football, rowing, basketball, tennis, golf, indoor and track athletics, with the necessary substitutes, Yale needs 300 athletes in the upper classes besides 100 in the freshman class, as a reserve for future contests; add another hundred who might become athletes but for the desire to become proficient in studies, or to represent the college as debaters, chess players or in other intellectual contests. This is possible where numbers are considerable. Princeton has fewer, but Princeton does not go in for rowing at all, and can combine forces upon football and gymnastic work.

Again, Yale, quite as much as Harvard, is now the college of very rich New Yorkers; and the young men who formed the briefly famous "Yale Criminal Club" will not do much either in athletics or in studies. One Yale student is more famous for having lost a hundred thousand dollars at Canfield's gambling house than for any other feat except that of having been born a Vanderbilt.

The Making of an Athletic Crew. Harvard still gets many of the fast rich set, but in the larger number they are less noticeable. And both Harvard and Columbia draw big men from the west as well as little and big from the cities.

In all the colleges society connections interfere somewhat with selecting the best men for athletic work. The student who is a social favorite has a better chance of a place on crew or eleven; the advantage is only a trifle, but it exists principally in the "weeding out." At least 75 men try for the football eleven. In rowing 50 freshmen work three or four months, and 20 work five months to make the eight crew places. Those placed early on the first crew get more attention from trainers and improve more rapidly than the others. Changes are made at the last moment, usually because some of the members have weakened under the strain of training.

For the varsity crew there are more applicants; up to the last days four complete crews are maintained, counting 32 men, of whom only eight have any chance to "make the race." The others are at best qualifying for next year. Training usually begins after the Christmas vacations, though Cornell begins early in the fall. As race day approaches the men devote more time to rowing; in Columbia the recitations are already all over, but the rowers are still working at their "electives in rowing" housed in the cells of what was the Bloomingdale asylum for the insane. It has cost each of these young men perhaps $100 to try for the crew, besides the expenses of the college as a whole. In Poughkeepsie races Hanlan as Columbia's coach is pitted against his old opponent Courtney, who teaches Cornell's young ideas how to row. Last year Hanlan overtrained his freshmen so that just before the race four of them were withdrawn and the four substitutes put in. It was said that if there had been eight substitutes they would all have been used.

Twenty years ago the best athletes were also the best students. President Eliot of Harvard was in an earlier day a member of the crew. To-day athletic prowess demands so much time that it is impossible for a proficient to do more than fairly in his studies. The athletes are still above the average in ability, but they do not have time to show it. College social life also discourages scholarship. To be known as a "dig" is a bar against membership in most social organizations. There the passport is athletic prowess, wealth or that good fellowship which means popularity anywhere. The famous Yale "senior societies" are recruited from among millionaires' sons and members of the crew and athletic teams.

College athletics a good thing, in spite of all the drawbacks? Watch a thin freshman fill out and develop within a year into a big, manly, deep-chested fellow, and who'll doubt it?

Bathing Gowns at Ashbury Park. The Ashbury Park bathing gown is again a public issue.

"Founder" Bradley is a shrewd man. Years ago he had a strip of Jersey beach; he began a town where there was to be "nothing objectionable." By degrees he sold the lots, keeping the beach, the sewers and the lake as his sole dictator. His private property. He was for years rules were drastic. No woman could put on her bathing gown in her own house and walk to the beach—no matter how near. That rule was good for the Bradley bathhouse. And no woman could wear a bathing gown not of the most modest description. Not for weeks did Ashbury Park forget the sensation when Mrs. "Curves" Allen, a very beautiful artists' model, appeared upon the beach in a close-fitting affair designed to reveal as much beauty as possible. Wasn't she hustled off in a hurry? And wasn't she satisfied with the sensation? She might have appeared in that gown for a month at Narragansett Pier, and instead of driving her off the hotel men would have let New York know about it as an added attraction.

There were rules against "spooning" in public places and all that with the result that Ashbury Park became a favorite resort with a great many worldly people who have no use for its semi-religious features, but who do appreciate quiet and the absence of saloons and freak shows. The liberal element has come in such numbers that it now insists on separation from Ocean Grove and upon the purchase of Mr. Bradley's beach. When these all belong to the village there will be an end of puritanism and Ashbury Park will become just like any other seaside place and rather a pity.

Immigrants—A Town Full at a Time.

You would call a village of 2,000 people a pretty respectable one, would you not? In the east it would have two weekly papers, in the west one or two dailies; it would be a center of trade for miles about, and would be well provided with schools and churches. A single steamer recently brought over just that number of immigrants, coming to pick up gold off our streets. Not for ten years has there been such a rush to Uncle Sam's land. Almost 10,000 came in one day. Seventy-three thousand came in April. Many are attracted by the news of the subway that New York is digging, and of the tremendous amount of work upon high buildings. These things are cleverly played upon by immigration agents.

The west would hardly know by experience of the influx. Between 1880 and 1890 45 per cent. of the immigrants went to the northern central states. During the past ten years only nine per cent. went thither. The result was seen in the census of 1900, which shows such an astounding growth in North Atlantic cities. Cellar digging and kindred industries in New York, the making of fall-to-pleases clothing in New York and Rochester, the mills of Massachusetts and the mines of Pennsylvania have absorbed most of them. New Jersey gets almost as many as Illinois.

Even the Italians, who for years led in number among immigrants, are now passed by. Russians and Slovaks. The Finnish immigration, which is of a good class, is beginning to slacken because a pretty good proportion of the Finns are already here.

The finished year will probably have seen as many immigrants landed as it would make a new city of Buffalo.

The New Boss of Tammany Hall. People are already beginning to speak of "Charley" Murphy as the boss of Tammany.

The New Boss of Tammany Hall.

Murphy is much such a man as Croker at his age—44 years—except that he has never been in prison under accusation of murder. He also is a "gashouse gang" product, is without education and established authority in the first instance with his fists. Croker is still the leader if he returns to New York. He may not care to do so. He is a rich man; cannot control Tammany long from England, and is tired out and anxious to rest. Tom Platt and the republican leaders profess to believe that Croker will come back; but the wish may be father to the thought.

Murphy is nominally a member of a committee of three. But who are the other two? Haffen is that rare phenomenon, an educated professional man in Tammany. But he is the leader in the Bronx district only, which has a higher average of intelligent voters than the rest of the city. He is a civil engineer. The other man, McMahon, is a fat-cheeked fellow with the huge overhanging mustache which figures in caricatures of Tammany leaders. Neither is likely to dispute Murphy's power; Haffen, at least, hardly wishes to do so. Only Croker or disastrous defeat at the polls can prevent Murphy from coming out on top.

He would be a leader after Tammany's heart. It is no dispraise of Nixon to say that he was not.

FATAL TEMPERATURES.

Degrees of Heat and Cold at Which Life Cannot Be Long Sustained.

At what point does life begin? So far as regards space or time, the question is unanswerable, states the London Telegraph. Only a few years ago it would have been said that in regard to that seemingly essential condition of life—temperature—we did know pretty nearly a superior and inferior limit. Little of life is there below the freezing point of water, and far above or below these critical points we should expect even germ-life to be destroyed. When our greatest physicist, in 1871, suggested that seeds of plants might have been borne to this world in a far-distant age, the hypothesis seemed incredible, because the temperature of space, being at least as low as minus 140 degrees Centigrade, would be fatal to life in any form. This is not so. Recently at the Jenner institute bacteria have been frozen in liquid air and even in liquid hydrogen, and on the application of heat and placed in proper media have germinated. The processes of life were arrested, but the nascent life-energy was not destroyed at 200 degrees Centigrade, say, 300 degrees Fahrenheit of frost. Experiments are now being made to find whether long continuance for months or years in such cold takes away the vitality of these lowest forms of life.

Eye to Business.

"Give me a quarter of a pound of parls green," said the despondent-looking man, calmly; "I am going to commit suicide."

"You'd better buy a pound," suggested the druggist.

"What?" replied the man who wanted to die. "Do you mean to tell me that a quarter of a pound will not prove fatal?"

"No," replied the druggist, "but you see, the profit on a quarter of a pound is very small."—Ohio State Journal.

She Loved Him.

Single Man (to himself)—I am sure that darling little angel loves me. She takes me into her confidence, and tells me all her troubles.

Same Man (some years later)—Consarn it all! From morning till night, and night till morning, when I'm at home, I hear nothing but tales about the servants, the butcher, the butler, the baker, the candlestick maker, and all the rest of 'em.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Touching Eulogy.

The following brief but touching eulogy was recently pronounced by a sergeant over the tomb of a soldier in the cemetery at La Haye: "Comrades, the deceased, a friend of us all, had a clean sheet. He looked after his boots, which rarely required mending, and he always had some money to draw from his pay. Imitate his example, comrades."

IN HONOR OF MCKINLEY.

First Monument in the World to the Martyred President Unveiled at Muskegon.

The first statue of President William McKinley erected in the world was unveiled in Muskegon, Memorial day with very impressive ceremonies. The bronze pedestal and quadrangle, which cost $30,000, are the gift to the public schools of Muskegon of Charles H. Hackley, whose benefactions now aggregate $1,000,000.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 visitors from all parts of the United States attended the dedicatory exercises. A military and civic parade in which 2,500 persons took part traversed the principal streets of the city in the afternoon, the marchers afterward gathering about a large stand erected near the statue. The exercises opened with a prayer by Rev. Archibald Hadden, of the First Congregational church, of this city. Following this Clarence W. Sessions, the orator of the day, delivered an address. The statue was then unveiled by four young women, two being daughters of veterans of the civil war and two children of Spanish-American war soldiers. There were present two companies of United States infantry from Fort Sheridan, commanded by Maj. Wood; the entire Second Regiment of Michigan national guard, under command of Col. William T. McGurran, of Grand Rapids; Gov. A. T. Bliss and his entire staff; the United States revenue cutters Morrill and Fessenden and several companies of Pythians, Templars, Odd Fellows and other secret societies in uniform.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Daughters of the American Revolution Hold Their Annual State Meeting in Flint.

The state meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held here at the Congregational church with an attendance of about 30 delegates, representing chapters at Grand Rapids, Ypsilanti, Mount Clemens, St. Clair, Pontiac, Lansing, Big Rapids, Ann Arbor, Detroit and other cities.

The address of welcome was made by Mrs. C. B. Burr, vice regent of Genesee chapter, of this city, and was responded to by Mrs. W. J. Chittenden, state regent, of Detroit. The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed the organization to be in excellent condition with a steadily growing membership.

The following officers were reelected: Mrs. W. J. Chittenden, Detroit, state regent; Mrs. J. P. Brayton, Grand Rapids, state vice regent; Mrs. E. Richards, Ann Arbor, secretary; Miss Ana Grant, Lansing, treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Lansing.

BORAX DOESN'T HARM.

Prof. Victor C. Vaughan, of the University of Michigan chair of hygiene, has been investigating the effects of the use of borax as a food preservative, and finds that the use of borax or boric acid as preservatives in butter and cream not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent. is justified both by practical results and by scientific experimentation.

Sugar Beets.

Extensive experiments in the culture of sugar beets are to be made in the upper peninsula this season. A large amount of seed has been distributed by officials of the state experimental farm at Chatham. The establishment of beet sugar factories next year is predicted.

Enormous Revenues.

The Michigan Chemical works in Bay City, which makes alcohol from refuse molasses of the sugar factories, has paid to the government $325,425.61 in revenue since February 1.

HOLD A CONFERENCE.

President Mitchell and Labor Commissioner Wright Talk of the Coal Strike.

New York, June 10.—President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers' union, arrived here late Monday afternoon, having been sent for by Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, who is here investigating the anthracite coal miners' strike. Mr. Mitchell first called on Secretary Ralph M. Easley, of the National Civic Federation, and the two went to the Manhattan hotel, where Mr. Wright is stopping. President Mitchell went to the commissioner's room, where he remained in conference with Mr. Wright for two hours. When he left Mr. Mitchell said:

"I have but little to say further than that I have talked with Commissioner Wright and have explained to him the situation from the miners' standpoint and have told him of the causes which led up to the strike."

"Was there any suggestion of a settlement made during the interview?" President Mitchell was asked.

"No. I understood that Commissioner Wright was simply seeking information for an official report under the law."

"Did Commissioner Wright explain to you President Roosevelt's views concerning the trouble?"

"He did not."

Commissioner Wright said of the visit of President Mitchell: "President Mitchell has given me all the information I wanted and it will be presented to President Roosevelt. I can say that I am now in possession of the facts on the miners' side of the issue and Tuesday I will see the operators."

HONOR TO LIBERTY BELL.

The Venerable Historic Bells Passed Through Nation's Capital on Way to Philadelphia.

Washington, June 10.—The Liberty Bell arrived here Monday en route to Philadelphia from the Charleston exposition where it has been on exhibition. The arrival of the bell was marked with brief patriotic exercises and thousands of people passed before the car throughout the day and viewed the bell. The special train conveying the bell and the committee of Philadelphia citizens appointed to bring it home reached the Pennsylvania depot here shortly after eight o'clock Monday morning. It was immediately switched on to the Sixth street side track alongside the station.

The ceremonies began by the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by the United States Marine band. President McFarland, of the board of commissioners, then delivered an address. Chairman Wilson H. Brown, of the joint committee of the councils of Philadelphia, responded. Following this the Marine band played Sousa's "Liberty Bell." The crowd was then permitted to pass by the car. A number of children were lifted on to the car while little bunches of flowers from other children placed on the car were carefully laid on top of the bell. During the exercises the minutemen of the District, uniformed in colonial uniforms, took position in front of the car where they remained through the day. The Marine and other bands remained through the day and played patriotic selections at intervals.

COL. SUTTON IS MISSING.

Falls to Surrender Himself with Others at Lansing to Answer Charges of Perjury.

Lansing, Mich., June 10.—John R. Hunter, H. P. Kauffer, J. W. Woodworth and S. R. Bickerstaff, of the Henderson-Ames company of Kalamazoo, for whose arrest on the charge of perjury, warrants issued last Saturday, appeared with their bondsmen and surrendered themselves in court Monday. Bail was given in the sum of $10,000 each and their examination was set for July 7.

Col. Eli R. Sutton, who is also charged with perjury, has not yet materialized although it is reported that he left Detroit for the purpose of surrendering himself here. Sheriff Hammond went to Detroit Sunday night to arrest him but he has been unable to locate Sutton there.

A search of his house brought nothing but a statement from Mrs. Sutton that her husband would surrender himself in this city. She refused to say when but insisted he would be here.

Ordered Favorably Reported.

Washington, June 10.—The senate committee on Pacific islands and Porto Rico Monday authorized a favorable report on the proposition allowing pay for the destruction of property in Hawaii on the order of President McKinley on account of the prevalence of the plague during the transition period of that territory in 1899 and 1900. The committee decided to recommend that an amendment should be made to the general deficiency appropriation bill providing for the payment by this government of $1,000,000 and authorizing the territory of Hawaii to issue bonds for the payment of the remainder of the claim, aggregating $500,000.

SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Class No. 11, Lyndon, graduated four pupils from the eighth grade.

The school in District No. 11, which is located at Lyndon Center and for the past year has been taught by Miss Florence M. Collins, had its commencement exercises at the Lyndon town hall Saturday evening. It was a very dark and rainy night, still quite a number of the parents and friends of the children braved the unpleasant weather and were present. The fact that four of the scholars, Louis W. McKune, James A. Clark, Homer Stofor and Alma Barton, had been successful in passing the eighth grade examination, was an added pleasure to the occasion. The town hall had been prettily decorated by the teacher and scholars with ferns and wild flowers in profusion and it was well lighted.

It was 9 o'clock when the program was commenced. There was first a song by the school, then came short recitations by Irene Clark, Raymond McKune, Geo. Stofor, Eileen Shanahan, Hiram Barton, Roland and Cecilia McKune. Louis W. McKune next read the history of the eighth grade class of 1902, in which he told of the different incidents that had marked its career. Recitations by Alta Gregg, Gladys Shanahan and Noble Barton followed. A well written essay on "The Life of William McKinley," was next read by its author, Jas. A. Clark. Following this came a song by the primary class and a recitation by Homer Stofor. George Barton, George Sullivan, Gertrude Clark and James Gorman each gave a recitation and Alma Barton read the "Class Prophecy," which was particularly bright, well written and well read. Director John Clark was then called on by the teacher. He made a few remarks in the course of which he spoke of the value of an education to everyone and said it was something no one could get too much of. He then presented the graduates with their diplomas.

Miss Florence M. Collins, who, much to the regret of the officers and patrons of the school, concludes her labors as teacher at this time, thanked the people of the district for many kindnesses shown her and distributed to the pupils the gifts of their parents and friends.

The program was interspersed by selections from Ed. Carey's phonograph which were much enjoyed.

A great deal of credit and praise is due Miss Collins for her good work in the school and for the success of these commencement exercises.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Report of the Business Transacted by the Regents at Their May Meeting in Ann Arbor.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN PROFESSORSHIPS

Thesis Work in the Law Department—Practical Study of Conveyancing in the Law School—List of Subjects Studied in the Course in Higher Commercial Education.

(Special Correspondence.) University of Michigan.—At the May meeting of the board of regents of the university the following business was transacted:

Frederick J. Novy, junior professor of hygiene and physiological chemistry, Edward E. Campbell, junior professor of analytical chemistry, Allen S. Whitner, junior professor of the science and art of teaching, and Max Winkler, acting professor of German, were made full professors.

Director Keene Fitzpatrick, of the Waterman gymnasium, was given the salary of a full professor.

Moritz Levi, assistant professor of French, was made junior professor.

Clarence G. Wrentham, instructor in descriptive geometry and drawing, was made assistant professor.

Thomas Dickhoff, instructor in German, was appointed assistant professor.

Max E. Mueller, of Chicago, who graduates this year, was given the gas analysis fellowship, supported by the Michigan Gas association.

The bid of Shaw & Kendall, of Toledo, O., for furnishing a new boiler for the university hospital, at $1,040, was accepted.

Thesis Work.

In the law department of the university no student is eligible for graduation until he has written a thesis of not less than 4,000 words, which has been accepted by the thesis committee of the faculty.

Each thesis must be upon some narrow subject, upon which the law is unsettled, disputed, or in a formative condition, and must consist of a thorough and intelligent comparison and discussion of the English and American cases pertaining to the subject.

A list of appropriate subjects is published annually by the committee, and all thesis subjects must be selected from such list. The committee approves and places upon the list any appropriate subject suggested by students desiring to write upon it.

Each thesis must be prefaced by a statement of the position maintained or proposition contended for by it. It must also contain an analytical outline of its contents, with reference to the pages, and, in its arrangement, must follow such outline. It must also contain an alphabetical list of the cases cited in it, with a reference to the page of the thesis where they are cited. Cases must be cited by name and volume, with the date of the decision added. Where an opinion is quoted or discussed, the name of the judge writing it is required. The thesis must also state the period for which the cases have been examined, and it should exhaust the cases during that period, and down to and including the latest accessible cases upon the subject. Before the thesis is handed in, all the citations must be carefully verified.

Conveyancing.

An order further to extend the practical instruction given in the law department of the university a course in conveyancing is provided, to which one professor devotes his entire time. It is the purpose of this course to give by text-books and lectures a full and systematic instruction in the substantive law of conveyancing, and also a thorough drill in the actual preparation of all of the more important forms of conveyances, including thereunder not only deeds, mortgages, wills and assignments of various sorts, but also all such contracts, agreements, corporate and partnership articles, and other instruments, as the lawyer in actual practice is likely to be called upon to prepare.

To accomplish this purpose the class is furnished with statements of fact, with the requisition for the appropriate conveyance, and each student is required to prepare under the direction of the professor in charge of this course the various forms of instruments in question, and to submit them to such professor for examination and criticism. If not in proper form, they are required to be rewritten or corrected.

Commercial Education Studies.

The following list of subjects studied during the different years in the course in higher commercial education given at the university will give a comparatively definite idea of the nature of the work done:

In the first semester of the third year of university residence, which is the first year in the actual work of the course in higher commercial education, the student gives from his 16 hours of recitations, four hours a week to the problems of political economy, four hours to the study of social and industrial reforms, three hours to the commercial geography of the extractive industries, and two hours to the theory and history of money.

In the second semester of the same year, he gives three hours to the science of finance, three hours to the commercial geography of the manufacturing industry, two hours to the theory and history of

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

A Pottawatomie Indian Lies on the Railroad Track and Has Top of His Head Cut Off.

An odd character of the Pottawatomie Indians has yielded up his life near this place. The name of the red man was Bill Skinnaway. It is claimed that in the last seven years he had made more attempts to commit suicide than any other aboriginal in the history of the country. About seven years ago the truck wheel on a locomotive on the South Haven & Eastern road clipped off an inch of Bill's right ear. Since then he had made several other attempts to show his weariness of life, but all failed. At last he chose a piece of track near a bridge which is hidden from view by a curve and where there is a steep grade. He laid his head on the rail and the truck wheel of the engine cut off the top of his head.

MINERAL DISCOVERY.

A Man in Sault Ste. Marie Finds Gold Graphite and Cinnabar on a Range.

Much interest has been aroused in Sault Ste. Marie by a mineral discovery announced by Louis Causley, who has been prospecting on the Michipicoten range. He says he has discovered three valuable properties, one gold, another graphite and the third cinnabar, the latter the source of mercury, about 100 miles north of the Canadian Soo.

Causley recently made known his find to reputable people here, who made an investigation and returned. They say it is a good thing and will turn out right. They brought back with them splendid specimens of the three minerals. A company is being formed to work the property.

Raise Angora Goats.

A big stock farm of 1,200 acres is to be started at Caro, near the Peninsular sugar factory, where the refuse will be secured for food. Over 1,000 head of cattle have already arrived there and it is the intention of the company to purchase several thousand more head. When the animals become fat they will be marketed in the east. It is also proposed to purchase a large number of Angora goats, which will be placed on farms in that vicinity.

Oldest Graduate of Yale.

Rev. Joseph S. Lord, of Laingsburg, who is believed to be the oldest graduate of Yale, has received the following letter from President Hadley, of that institution: "My Dear Sir: In behalf of Yale university I am giving myself the pleasure of sending felicitations to its oldest living graduate on the completion of his ninety-fourth year. Faithfully yours, Arthur T. Hadley." Mr. Lord entered Yale in 1827 and graduated in 1831.

Valuable Discovery.

A mineral discovery which may develop into a big thing for the Soo, has come to light. A noted mineralogist has discovered within a few miles of the Soo a deposit of white siliceous stone, which is perfectly adapted for the manufacture of fine glass. The discoverer, it is understood, has called the attention of F. H. Clergue to the find and that capitalist is now investigating it.

Big Timber Land Deal.

A deal has been closed transferring 35,000 acres of valuable redwood timber land on Redwood creek, Humboldt county, California, commonly known as the Scotch syndicate lands, to Merrill, Ring & Co., Saginaw; the Hammond Lumber company, of New Jersey, and W. H. Gratzwick, of Buffalo. The stumpage is estimated at 2,500,000,000 feet. The deal involves a consideration of $2,500,000.

Fated to Die from Falls.

Carl Bent, aged 37 years, living west of Three Rivers, is dead from the effects of a fall from a load of wood several weeks ago. While he was ill a brother died from the effects of falling from a ladder, and about the same time a brother in Germany died from the effects of falling from an apple tree.

TEN PERSONS DIE IN HOSPITAL FIRE.

Patients at a Sanitarium in Chicago Cut Off from Escape—Alderman Kent Among the Victims—Thirty-Two Hurt—Fires at London, Eng., and Saratoga, N. Y., Cost Fourteen Lives.

Chicago, June 10.—Ten lives were lost in a fire that swept through the sanitarium of the St. Luke society, an institution for the treatment of habitual users of drugs and liquors, Wabash avenue and Twenty-first street, Monday afternoon, among the victims being Alderman William E. Kent, of the Fourth ward, known as "Blind Billy" Kent. Some beat out their strength against the iron-barred windows and double-locked doors that cut them off from freedom and life on the top floor of the five-story building, and others hurled themselves to death or fatal injuries on the pavements of the street. Eleven persons are missing, some of whom are probably among bodies which were burned beyond recognition. Thirty-two persons were injured.

Ten Dead.

Following is the list of the known dead: S. J. Newell, 474 Fairfield avenue. Joseph Harrington, 11 South Carpenter; salesman. Samuel Daisell, St. Luke's society; paper hanger. Dr. J. T. Stanton, 182 North Curtis street. J. B. Bishop, St. Louis, Mo. George A. Ribbeck, Hillsdale, Mich. Alderman William Kent, 264 Princeton avenue. John E. Knapman, 1045 Fifty-fourth street. Mrs. M. Baumann, Florence, Crittenden Anchorage, 1349 Wabash avenue. Dr. J. H. Boyd, 6322 Calumet avenue; died at Mercy hospital.

The cry of fire was sounded through the building. Patients sprang from their beds, and before they could be restrained, jumped from the windows. Some were shackled to their beds and left to suffocate. Attendants helped their patients until forced to abandon them. Wild excitement followed. The fire department then appeared on the scene. Following a marshal's arrival a 4-11 alarm was turned in and all the officials at the head of the fire department hurried to the scene. Ladders were hoisted up and men and women were carried out.

Alderman Loses His Life.

On the third floor in the rear, behind a wall that was said to be fire proof, was the violent ward. Here were many patients in delirium. Others were unable to walk. Some were shackled because of their violence. Among these it is said was Alderman William Kent.

Helpless Patients.

The violent wards were arranged on the top story in the rear of the building. In these the worst cases handled by the institution were treated. Men who were victims of the most serious disorders from the drink and drug habit were here quartered. Many were little short of maniacs, others were lying in the throes of delirium tremens when the cry of fire echoed through the halls. These men were most affected by the peril threatening them. Some dropped to their knees praying that they might be saved. Shrieks, exclamations and curses rang through the wards. The rattling of chains and bars added terror to the scene.

The fire escape which offered the only means of escape was situated at a disadvantage, as the nearest window was five feet to the east.

Frantic Efforts to Escape.

Before this window was gathered a crowd of about 25 men shouting and striking one another and wildly tearing at the gratings. Strong arms failed to offer hopes of escape. Men fell to the floor from exhaustion cursing each other. Blood trickled from torn fingers. One man's arms were nearly severed in his frantic efforts to tear away the bars. And while the men struggled the flames were nearing them. From those chained to cots and helpless in their manacles and straight jackets, came cries of despair. Some threw themselves face downward on the floor. While the uproar was at its height one man stepped forward and in commanding tones brought order from the useless efforts of the throng. This was W. E. Davis, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., who had been a patient in the institution for the last two weeks. Under his orders the men sought to unite their efforts to the best advantage. Four pairs of arms seized the heavy wire screening and at given commands pulled it loose.

Heroes Rescuers.

Some of the first to make the attempt to reach the fire escape were Dr. C. A. Anderson, a practicing physician with offices at 25 Washington street, who had recently entered the institution to be treated; and G. A. Gott, a printer, of La Vergne, Ill. By holding to the fire escape Gott and Anderson were able to stretch out the hands of the men and guide them to the iron landing. When a man reached the window ledge he leaned as far toward the landing as was possible and grasped the hand of Dr. Anderson. The latter leaned far out and was kept from falling by the grip of Gott about his waist. A thin jutment of stone scarcely two inches wide ran from the ledge to the fire escape, and supported by the rescuer's hand, the fleeing man was enabled to bear part of his weight on this thin strip of stone, and was partly led, partly lifted, to safety. Michael Luby, whose hands and arms were torn by the manacles from which he had escaped, crossed next to the iron landing. As quickly as possible the men continued crossing to safety, until 12 had left their perilous positions by this means. Those who were last to leave suffered burns. Before their turn came several dropped in their positions before the window. Back from the window men were being suffocated and burned to death. At that time it was too late to lend a helping hand, as the men themselves who were waiting before the window which meant safety, could they stand the strain, were fighting for breath.

Jumpers Badly Mangled.

On the fifth floor in the rear was John Doerrer. He was a patient. The man climbed to the window ledge and waited for a moment while a crowd of an hundred persons stretched a net. The next moment he jumped. The net broke and the man struck the ground on his feet. He was taken away seriously injured. A new net was procured. Detectives Collins and Flynn, of the Cottage Grove avenue police station, with 20 men, stretched it out awaiting the jump of the next man. The next man to make the leap for life was Dr. Boyd, the aged physician. He was on the fourth floor. He struck the net on his feet. The men were not strong enough to hold it. Both of Boyd's legs were broken and pushed up in his body and his skull was fractured. B. H. Bowman also jumped into a net but escaped serious injury.

John B. Knapman was in a room on the northwest corner of the building on the fifth floor. He was seen to spring to the window sill of his room and after wavering for a moment jumped far out. He struck the pavement full on his face in full view of 1,000 persons. He was quickly picked up and hurried away. This scene was repeated in the rear of the building several times, but the falls of those unfortunate persons were broken by nets stretched out by willing citizens and police.

The Burned Building.

The burned building originally cost $100,000. It was erected nearly 30 years ago, being one of the oldest in the vicinity. Samuel K. Markham, 134 Monroe street, who is attorney for the society, said: "J. A. Brophy, of 70 Dearborn street, holds a mortgage on the building of $40,000 and $7,000 on the personal effects. The building was insured for $42,000, and contents for $3,000. I think $25,000 will cover the entire loss."

IN LONDON.

London, June 10.—The inadequacy of the fire department of London has again been demonstrated by the fatalities which attended a comparatively small blaze in the center of the city at a late hour Monday afternoon. The fire occurred in the upper portion of a five-story building adjoining the Mansion-house station in the busiest section of London. The first extension ladders to arrive at the scene could not be elevated to the height of the fourth story, and inmates of the upper floors were compelled to jump into a tarpaulin which had been hastily commandeered by the firemen from a passing fruit-van. Several of those who jumped were badly injured, and others who refused to take this risk disappeared within the smoking windows. Several hours elapsed before the casualties were ascertained; it was then found that nine persons were dead and 15 injured, one probably fatally.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS

Caused a Sensation. William L. White, ex-quartermaster general of the Michigan national guard, in his testimony before the supreme court in Lansing in the disbarment proceedings against Attorney S. R. Ross, of Kalamazoo, told for the first time the full story of the military clothing frauds, and declared that Col. Eli R. Sutton, of Detroit, who was acquitted of complicity in them by a jury, was a party to the fraud and received his share of the profits. His testimony created a sensation in view of Sutton's indictment and subsequent acquittal after a long and bitterly fought trial.

Plans a Chautauqua.

The biggest land deal ever consummated in Roscommon county has just been closed at Roscommon. John Carter, president of the Chicago Bond and Investment company, has purchased 63,000 acres of land in the county. Enclosed in this tract are some of the finest farming lands in the state and these will be colonized. The land surrounds the beautiful Lake St. Helen. It is planned to build up around the lake a high-grade summer resort devoted to Chautauqua assemblies, summer schools and ministerial assemblies.

Railway Earnings.

Railroad Commissioner Osborn, in a statement showing the earnings of Michigan railroads for the month of April, places the aggregate earnings in Michigan for the month at $3,640,187.31, as compared to $3,414,783.86 for the corresponding month last year, an increase of $225,403.05 for the month. The total earnings for the first four months of the present year were $13,620,940.28, an increase of $1,236,769.28, or nearly ten per cent, over the corresponding period last year.

Killed His Cousin.

Joe Lacanne, aged 12 years, accidentally shot and killed his cousin, August Lacanne, aged six, in Menominee. The latter's father had laid a shotgun on a chair in the kitchen. Joe picked up the gun, inserted a cartridge and in some manner exploded it. The charge entered August's breast and passed through the body. The mother, sister and father of the decedent were present, and barely escaped injury.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 84 observers in various portions of the state indicate that during the past week whooping cough and diphtheria increased and influenza and typhoid fever decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 223 places, measles at 53, typhoid fever at 33, whooping cough at 17, scarlet fever at 71 and smallpox at 93 places.

Contempt of Court.

H. S. Osborn, state manager for the League of Educators, a Chicago national organization, was sentenced in the Berrien county circuit court in St. Joseph, after having been found guilty of contempt of court for failing to obey an injunction to solicit business for the concern here. He was committed to jail for 30 days, as he failed to pay a fine of $275.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan: Early corn, garden truck and early potatoes slightly but not generally damaged by frost; winter wheat, rye, oats, barley, meadows and pastures in very promising condition; potatoes and corn germinating slowly; corn planting nearly finished; beans and late potatoes being planted; sugar beets being thinned.

At a meeting of furniture and manufacturers held in Grand Rapids it was decided by a vote of ten to six that the manufacturers would not go into the proposed furniture combine.

A dock at Leadley's park in Lansing gave way under the weight of about 80 people and many were drowned. All were rescued in safety.

Gerald, the 11-year-old son of Oscar Lamont, of Talbot, was drowned while fishing in Little Cedar river, just below the dam in Menominee.

Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, Ill., in a sermon at the charities conference in Detroit, blamed women for three-fourths of crime, and favored forcible restriction of marriage.

The grangers of Tuscola county are forming an insurance company to carry the risks of the property of patrons in that section.

PRINCESS OF MOROCCO.

Princess Society Is Pleased with Visit of Oriental Beauty, Whose Dances Are Exquisite.

For some weeks the most exclusive set in the Back Bay, Boston, Mass., have been entertaining and have been entertained by a youthful princess of Tangier, Mlle. Torquia of Morocco. For purposes of incognito the princess prefers to be addressed as Mlle. Torquia. She is not yet 24 years of age and is a perfect type of oriental beauty. Dark of eyes and hair, lithe of form and with skin the complexion of a sun-kissed peach. A marvelous woman in this beauty from the orient. She speaks English, Spanish, Italian, French, Russian, Swedish, Egyptian, Algerian, Danish and the dialects of the desert, such as Skellah. She sings a pure contralto that suggests the land of the cypress and myrtle, and she dances as only the oriental can dance. The dancing of Princess Torquia, however, is not the hopping motion of the limbs familiar to Europeans, nor the sinuous, muscle movement introduced by a low order of oriental entertainers.

It is a wonderfully graceful awaying of the limbs, arms, feet and legs, with which the body keeps rhythm. It is a dance that tells a story with the clearest of pantomime. It features love and hate and ambition and despair. It gives majestic history pictures.

It tells of civil war. Of the husbandman watering the ground with blood, plowing it with swords, rooting out weeds, plucking flowers, felling trees or sowing it with corpses. It tells of a monarch assembling his armies, making war, taking prisoners, inviting his subjects to a festival or citing them to judgment. All these dances are done to oriental music, of which the west has read but only its traveled ones heard.

In these dances her cousin, the Prince Abbas Ben Omar, accompanies her on the musical instruments peculiar to the east. Their effectiveness is enhanced by the glory of the costumes of Princess Torquia. One of these costumes is of a rose-tinted satin tunic, embroidered with golden sequins.

The overgarment is of slashed satin and an oriental swathing of rich stuff. Her head is covered turban fashion. She left her native country three years ago and is making a tour of the world with her cousin, Prince Abbas Ben Omar.

She has danced before all the crowned heads of Europe. Prince Oscar of Sweden was particularly gracious to her and presented her a complete set of miniatures of the royal family in gold frames studded with diamonds.

In Paris President Loubet presented her with a white silken scarf on which are inscribed in letters of gold "Elysee, 19-Aout, 1900." While in the French capital she met Eugene, the red prince of Sweden, who has since renounced his right to the throne to marry Miss Wild, of Baltimore.

How to Perfume Note Paper. Well sprinkle your blotting paper with whatever perfume you prefer. Put under a weight to dry. Then put your note paper between the leaves and again place the weight on the top. If the blotting paper is not exposed to the air the perfume will last some time.

How to Clean Decanters. Decanters and carafes may be cleaned easily on the inside by using a mixture of salt and vinegar. Rock salt is best for this purpose. Shake until remains disappear.

GLOVES AND HOSIERY.

Open-Work Lace Stockings and Delicate Lace Gloves Are in High Favor Just Now.

Long lace gloves, long lace mitts and long silk gloves will be the top of the mode during the summer and entirely supersede kid gloves except for full dress occasions. Some of these are of hand-made lace and exceedingly fine and costly, but there will be variety enough in quality as well as price. Open-work silk gloves will be equally fashionable and much less costly than the lace.

The open-work, or lace stockings, as they are called, show how the manufacturers of Europe have vied one with the other in the production of fantastic, wonderful specimens of textile art. They come with an open-work ankle, boot-top or all-over effects and up-and-down stripes as well. Some of them have embroidery between the lace stripes. Hose come in lisle and cotton, with extracted designs and in all colors of summer gowning fabrics, so that it is possible to match the color of every gown in hose to wear with it. House shoes are sometimes made of the material of the gown, if it be heavy enough. The latest shape in dressy shoes is ankle high, with an opening two inches wide over the top of the instep which is laced with narrow ribbon.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CHARMED BY EDNA MAY.

Fascinating New York Actress Has Made a Deep Impression on an Indian Rajah.

Edna May, the fascinating New York actress, who is appearing in "Kitty Grey" at the Apollo theater in London, lately made a great conquest, that of Rajah Kumar, the son and heir of the maharajah of Kuch Behar, one of the wealthiest of the Indian princes and a well-known figure in London society. Kumar has become absolutely Edna's shadow. He is to be seen about with her everywhere—shopping in the West End, motorizing in the park, lunching and dining at various restaurants, while every evening he sits admiring her from the stalls.

He has loaded Edna with splendid presents. The other night she made a decided sensation at the Savoy hotel by appearing in a very smart frock blazing with all the Kuch Behar crown jewels.

EDNA MAY AND HER RAJAH.

valued at nearly $2,000,000, which were presented to her by the Rajah.

This came to the ears of the maharajah, who forthwith visited Edna and, according to the New York World, demanded that she restore the gems, which, besides being of immense value, are crown property, and it is not in the power of anyone, not excepting himself, to give them away.

Kuch Behar is a native state of Bengal, India, a trifle larger than Rhode Island, very fertile and, like most Indian states, very rich.

It has a population of about 600,000 persons. The maharajah, or sovereign, is entitled to a salute of 13 guns—not so many as some of the other native rulers, but enough to show that he is a potentate of dignity and power.

A Means of Support. "It is a shame," remonstrated the duchess of Broadares, "to see you thus squander your noble patrimony."

"A truce to complaints!" said the duke. "Will I not leave my title to my descendants? If they are in need, let them marry helmsmen!"

And, in a bold hand, he appended his signature to another mortgage.—Brooklyn Life.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Whaleback Thomas Wilson Sunk at Duluth—Nine of Her Crew Are Drowned.

Duluth, Minn., June 9.—The whaleback steamer Thomas Wilson, Capt. Cameron, master, was cut almost in two by the steamer George G. Hadley, Capt. Fitzgerald, master, a half mile south of the Duluth canal Saturday and nine men went down. They were mostly men of the night crew who had not time to get out of their bunks before the vessel went to the bottom.

The Wilson was coming toward the canal and the Hadley going out, both loaded. Just before reaching the canal and when about opposite the Wilson, the Hadley was given orders by a tug to go to Superior. Immediately she sheered off for the Superior entry and crashed directly into the Wilson.

The Wilson went down so quickly that it did not seem possible to save a life. One moment the two boats were plowing through the water 200 yards apart, the next the crew of the Wilson could be seen throwing off their clothing and jumping into the water. One man on the Wilson seemed to have more presence of mind than all the rest. He threw life preservers to them that jumped in the cold water without thinking and he certainly saved some lives. The crew of the Hadley also threw preservers to the men struggling in the water.

Immediately after the collision the Wilson pitched forward and went down. As she plunged, the crew that was still undressing rushed to the stern, jumping overboard as fast as they could free themselves from their clothing. The Wilson did not live a minute after the collision. During the short time she was on top of the water she seemed to be supported entirely by the Hadley's prow, which was sticking in through her plates.

The plunge of the Wilson released the Hadley and the latter boat swung back with a tremendous jerk. As the whaleback went beneath the water she spouted like a submarine explosion from the compression of air in her.

The Hadley would not have made the shore had it not been for the tugs, and that probably means that so many more lives were saved. The life-saving crew did quick and reliable service picking up the men in the water. The Hadley had a hard run for shore and did not win the race by any too great a margin, for a moment after her bow went on the bottom just south of the ship canal pier her stern began to settle and finally went down with a spouting of water similar to that which marked the sinking of the Wilson, though not to the extent that the water was thrown up on the whaleback. As the stern settled down to the bottom the bow lifted a little and the water engulfed the vessel from amidships to stern. Fully half of the way in from the scene of the accident to the point of beaching the decks of the Hadley were covered with water, and the members of the crew that were compelled to stay by her took to the upper works.

TRAIN IS WRECKED.

Disaster to a Party of Excursionists in Michigan—One Killed, Many Hurt.

Alpena, Mich., June 9.—An excursion train on the Detroit & Mackinaw railroad, which left here at 7:15 Sunday for Saginaw, consisting of an engine and twelve coaches and carrying over 500 people, was wrecked at Black River, while running 40 miles an hour. August Grosinski was instantly killed, three were fatally injured and nearly 50 others received injuries of various degrees of severity, ranging from bruises and cuts to broken limbs. The excursion was under the auspices of the German Aid society of Alpena. When the train reached Black River the tender jumped the track. Engineer Hopper instantly set the airbrakes and reversed his engine. The sudden stop threw the first three coaches of the train off the track and into the ditch. The first car was thrown half around and the next two coaches plowed through it and cut it in two. August Grosinski, the only person killed, was seated in this coach with 40 other excursionists. His body was terribly crushed and death was instantaneous.

TWO VICTIMS.

Lightning Accomplishes Deadly Work During a Storm at Columbus, Ga.

Columbus, Ga., June 9.—A heavy wind and thunder storm which passed over this city Sunday afternoon caused the death of two people, perhaps fatally injured a third and did considerable damage to property. The dead are J. J. Willis, a carpenter, and Louis McClain. M. C. Cochran was perhaps fatally injured. Willis was killed by lightning while standing near a large oak tree on Upper First avenue. He was there conversing with Cochran, who was also struck at the same time. Louis McClain was standing in his back yard in Phoenix City, just across the river from where Willis was killed. The lightning struck a clothes wire he was holding.

A JUDGE'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Pe-runa.

Mrs. Judge McAllister writes from 1217 West 33rd St., Minneapolis, Minn., as follows:

"I suffered for years with a pain in the small of my back and right side. It interfered often with my domestic and social duties and I never supposed that I would be cured, as the doctor's medicine did not seem to help me any. Fortunately a member of our Order advised me to try Peruna and gave it such high praise that I decided to try it. Although I started in with little faith, I felt so much better in a week that I felt encouraged. I took it faithfully for seven weeks and am happy indeed to be able to say that I am entirely cured. Words fail to express my gratitude. Perfect health once more is the best thing I could wish for, and thanks to Peruna I enjoy that now."—Minnie E. McAllister.

We would caution all people against accepting substitutes for Peruna. Insist upon having Peruna. There is no other internal remedy for catarrh that will take the place of Peruna. Allow no one to persuade you to the contrary. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

The great popularity of Peruna as a catarrh remedy has tempted many people to imitate Peruna. A great many so-called catarrh remedies and catarrh tonics are to be found in many drug-stores. These remedies can be procured by the druggist much cheaper than Peruna. Peruna can only be obtained at a uniform price, and no druggist can get it a cent cheaper. Thus it is that druggists are tempted to substitute the cheap imitations of Peruna for Peruna. It is done every day without a doubt.

cured him. When Electric Bitters are

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are annually swept to a premature grave through early abuse or later excesses. Chas.
Anderson was one of the victims, but was rescued in time. He says: "I learned an evil habit. A change soon came over me.
I could feel it; my friends noticed it. I became nervous, despondent, gloomy, had no ambition, easily tired, evil forebodings, poor circulation, pimples on face, back weak, dreams and drains at night, tired and weak mornings, burning sensation. To make matters worse, I became reckless and contracted a blood disease.
I tried many doctors and medical firms—all failed till Drs. Kenedy & Kergan took my case. In one week I felt better, and in a few weeks was entirely cured. They are the only reliable and honest specialists in the country."
