STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

A Ball of Fire Passed Through a House and Barn and Burnt Outside.

Mrs. M. Schwikarath's house and barn on Congdon street were struck by lightning about 9:45 last evening. The bolt struck a chimney that is on the barn, knocking the top off and passing down the chimney shivered a refrigerator that stood nearby and shattered a cook stove that stood near the refrigerator. From the barn it went to the house where it shivered the roof and the plaster on the walls. Mrs. Schwikarath and some of the children were sitting at a table in the sitting room, when the house was struck, and her arm was numbed by the shock. The house was one blaze of light when the bolt went through it. Passing out of the house the bolt, which looked like a ball of fire, burst in W. R. Lehman's yard with a report like a cannon. Mr. Lehman was looking out of the bedroom window at the time and saw the large ball of fire leave Mrs. Schwikarath's house and cross the street in the direction of his house. He was badly frightened, but the bursting of the fireball dispelled his anxiety for the safety of his home.

BIG NEED OF WARMTH.

Michigan Crops Generally Are Retarded by the Bad Weather.

In the weekly crop bulletin of the Michigan weather bureau, issued Tuesday, Director Schneider says that the past week was unseasonably cool, light frosts occurring in nearly all the counties of the state.

The cool, wet weather is making a rather rank growth in grain and grass, has almost checked the growth of corn and beans, delayed haying and retarded cultivation. Wheat, rye, oats and barley are in good condition, but are now in urgent need of warmth and dryness. Wheat is very promising at present.

Corn is very backward in all parts of the state and in most localities looks small and yellow. Beans have germinated slowly and made very little growth. The completion of late potato planting has been delayed. Early potatoes, especially on light soils, are quite promising, being mostly in bloom. Sugar beets, except on heavy soil, continue promising, although farmers have been much delayed in thinning and cultivating them.

Although clover haying was entered upon two weeks ago, the cut is being poorly secured. The hay crop in general is quite promising if dry weather comes soon so that it can be cut, cured and housed.

Cherries are a light crop. Although apples have dropped considerably in some localities the general prospect continues very good.

Death of Mrs. Robert Foster.

Mrs. Robert Foster died at her home in Sylvan, just north of this village, yesterday morning at 10:30 a. m. after a lingering illness aged 70 years, 8 months and 15 days. She was able to be around until two weeks ago when she took to her bed and her condition became gradually more serious until she passed away. The funeral services will be held at the house Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and at the M. E. church at 10:30. Rev. E. E. Caster will conduct the services.

Mrs. Foster's maiden name was Ann Depew. She was born in Orange county, N. Y., Oct. 16, 1831, coming to this place with her parents at a very early age. She was married to Robert Foster in 1848 and they had lived hereabouts all their married life, for 24 years on the farm where she died. Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Foster, of whom eight and her aged husband survive her. The surviving children are George H., Charles E., and Schuyler P., of Chelsea, Clarence, of Lansing, Mrs. David Hammond, of Bannister, Mrs. C. B. Hooyer, of Mt Pleasant, Mrs. Ida Downer and Miss Lillie Foster, of Chelsea.

WASHINGTON FAIR, SEPT. 9-12.

COUNTY CLEANINGS.

Howell will have a street fair this year. Ypsilanti is to have two post office substations after Aug. 1.

The Ypsilanti Dairy Association has raised its capital stock from $7,000 to $12,000.

The Dexter band has been reorganized with Ben Becker as leader. There will be 20 men in the band.

Mrs. Myra Beach Jordan, of Ann Arbor, has been appointed woman's dean of the University of Michigan to succeed Dr. Mosher.

Up to Friday night 880 had registered in the University summer school, as follows: Literary, 259; law, 35; medical, 52; music, 17.

By the resignation of Dr. Leonard from the presidency of the Michigan normal system, the Normal College at Ypsilanti is without a head.

Fr. Frank Kennedy, of Ypsilanti, is housed in the parochial school while the rectory is having $1,600 in repairs and improvements made to it.

Major N. S. Boynton, great commander K. O. T. M. M., C. H. Townsend, our congressman-to-be, and Mrs. Burns, great commander L. O. T. M. M., have promised to be present at the Maccabees celebration in Saline July 31.

Rev. B. F. McWilliams, pastor of the Second Baptist church, Ann Arbor, has resigned. He has accepted a professorship in practical and experimental theology in Virginia University, at Richmond, Va. He will leave Ann Arbor Sept. 1.

In a dispute over a line fence in Ypsilanti township, George Waters was badly pummeled by John Straub the hired man of Isaac Bumpus. Next Waters proceeded to fill the air with bullets from two revolvers. The final act came when all three appeared in the Ypsilanti justice courts in response to warrants issued for them.

Wm. Woolsey, an Ypsilanti teamster, was dragged a mile by his runaway team Friday afternoon. When the team was stopped and he was picked up it was found that his clothing was torn into shreds, all the skin was scraped away from his chest, abdomen, elbows and knees and there was a great hole under his chin, exposing his jawbone. His escape from death was miraculous.

The second floor of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank block at Ann Arbor, in which so many professional men have their offices is about to be torn out and modernized. It is proposed to close up the main entrance on Main street and put it on West Huron street, where persons having business on the upper floors can go up and down by the elevator that will be put in. The building will also be heated by steam.

Ypsilanti has an ordinance on its statute books against the selling of merchandise without a license by people not regularly engaged in business or residents in the city. August Harnack, a Normal student, did a lively business selling second hand school books and was arrested at the instance of an infuriated dealer. Justice Joslyn, before whom the case was tried, decided that the ordinance was null and void and discharged the student.

Heavy Rain Did Much Damage.

Last night's rain was the cap sheet to all the rains that have preceded it during the past month. There is not an onion marsh anywhere round here that is not under water and the ground is so full of water that it stood in pools on the surface. Thousands of dollars' damage was done last night. Mill creek was so swollen by the heavy fall of water that it was the highest it has been in years. The bridge on the east and west road just this side of Robert Foster's place in washed away and the one just above that point is nearly gone. The clover hay crop is suffering badly and if much more rain comes will be spoiled.

Opening of the "Royal Frontenac" Hotel, Frankfort, Mich.

The Royal Frontenac hotel, the hand-somest summer hotel in the north, will open its first season July 1 under the management of J. R. Hayes, the man who made Mackinaw Island famous, and C. A. Brant, formerly superintendent of the Union League Club, Chicago. Music, dancing, boating, bathing, fishing, horse-back riding, golf, tennis, and many other forms of entertainment will be provided. You will find Frankfort and the new hotel a most delightful place to spend your vacation.

Mrs. D. Arnold, President German Woman's Club, Grand Pacific Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., Relieved of a Tumor by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered four years ago with a tumor in my womb, and the doctors declared I must go to the hospital and undergo an operation, which I dreaded very much and hesitated to submit. My husband consulted an old friend who had studied medicine, although he was not a practicing physician, and he said he believed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure me. That same day I took my first dose, and I kept it up faithfully until twelve bottles had been used, and not only did the tumor disappear, but my general health was very much improved and I had not felt so well since I was a young woman.

"As I have suffered no relapse since, and as I took no other medicine, I am sure that your Compound restored my health and I believe saved my life."—MRS. D. ARNOLD.

$5000 FORFEIT IF THE ABOVE LETTER IS NOT GENUINE.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone", and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Johnnie—I didn't laugh, mum; me face slipped.—Chicago Journal.

What About Your School House? You may not this season be able to build a new one, or make the radical changes in the old one that had in contemplation, but there is no school-district in the United States that cannot afford to tint with Alabastine the interior of their buildings, thus making them more attractive, getting colors made with special reference to their effects on the eye of the pupils, getting a sanitary and rock base cement coating that will not harbor disease germs.

The closely crowded school rooms need all the safeguards to the health of the pupil that intelligent officials can surround them with, and all sanitarians unite in saying that Alabastine is the only proper material to be used on such walls.

"Why didn't you tell Toughboy that he lied?" "My telephone is out of order."—Norristown Herald.

Boom!
Boom, boom, bang!
Before the gloom
Nocturnal
Has fled before the rosy-fingered morn
The old, infernal
Multisonous, reverberating din
Must begin.
A noisy gang
Of impud boys, without
The rudiments of nervous systems, shout
And whoop as they explode
Gunpowder in ear-splitting salutation.
The air is torn
And shattered with each crashing detonation.
Fff-f-f-z-z-z-z-Crack!
This is enough to goad
A person to a state of desperation
And rack
His quiv'ring nerves to something like prostration.
And now
The diabolical, confounded row
Is growing general. From all around
There comes the sound
Of squib, torpedo, cracker, nigger chaser.
And anvil in a barking, banging chorus
Conspire to bore us,
Until we really need some sort of bracer.
Bang!
Oh hang
That wretched brat!
Whiz-z, pop!
Won't somebody go out and make him stop?
Oh why
Should we perpetuate
A state
Of barbarism in this day and age.
Engage
In foolishness each fourth day of July--
In burning powder
To try
And make a noise that's louder
Than thunder when the storm bolts rend the sky?
Should we,
Because our doughty fathers licked the British,
Ruin insurance
Associations innocent of wrong,
Scare skittish
And valuable horses
Past endurance
And make them flee
Along
Into erratic, wagon wrecking courses?
Because the good old Continentals
At Valley Forge
With George
Did glorious stunts in ragged regimentals,
And fought at Bunker Hill,
Should we, their offspring, fill
The hospitals with ours?
Shall the toy pistol claim
Its victims mangled?
The bursted canon maim?
If this must be, it sours
Our patriotic zeal
For the star spangled Emblem of our loved country a good deal.
It seems that we--Great Scott!
That must have been Pure dynamite--I thought that I was shot.
Of course not a policeman to be seen.
If taxpayers submit--
That boy don't seem to know the fuse is lit.
Hey! That was a near thing
Bing!
Bing, boom!
The Dickens and repeat!
The crack of doom
Will have to hump itself to beat
That last; it was a peach.
My son,
If you put that tin pan on the next one--
Yes, that was the way I did
When I too was a kid.
I guess I might as well go down and teach
The boy the way
To fix those pin wheels so that they will stay.
I used to be
A crackerjack at fireworks--Where's a match?
Now see
My smoke--just keep your eye on me
And get another batch
Of crackers--it's my treat.
How's that for sport?
We sort
Of made the windows rattle some that time
I'm not dead yet when it comes to celebrating
This talk of grating
On people's nerves is simple terrorism.
They've got
No business to have nerves upon this day.
Hey?
Suppose I did, I guess it's no poor way
To let the boy
Enjoy
Himself--Here, gimme 'nother one--Hooray!
For the Fourth!

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Fatal Accident.
Prof. John B. Johnson, dean of the college of engineering at the University of Wisconsin, was instantly killed near Fennville. He was hauling goods from Pier Cove to his summer home at the Cove, six miles from the village, and was seated on a gasoline stove on top of the load, when the stove toppled over, throwing him to the ground under the feet of the horses. One of the wheels of the wagon passed over his head, crushing it. He was 58 years of age and held a chair at the university for some time. He leaves a widow and three children.

Secret Well Kept.
Miss Bertha Marker, teacher in the Wayne schools, has surprised her many friends by announcing that she is married and has been three years. The groom is Mr. Rice, a lawyer, of Dearborn. It is not exactly understood how the secret got out, but it seems that the grooms parents said something and then the couple had to confess. Mrs. Rice says it is not her fault that the secret is known. She says she was to have kept it five years.

Largest Class on Record.
President James B. Angell, of the University of Michigan, delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class in University hall. The hall was filled with the graduates and their friends, and the undergraduates of the university. A total of 777 diplomas were given out on graduation day. This is the largest class in the history of the University of Michigan.

Crop Outlook.
The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:
Wet, cool weather has delayed cultivation and the planting of beans and late potatoes and has greatly retarded growth of corn; wheat, rye, meadows and pastures made good progress, but other vegetation is backward; corn small and weedy; oats, barley and late potatoes in fair condition; clover having begun and all haying will be general as soon as dry weather permits.

Health in Michigan.
Reports to the state board of health from 88 observers in various portions of the state indicate that during the past week influenza and pneumonia increased and remittent fever decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 227 places, measles at 53, typhoid fever at 36, whooping cough at 18, scarlet fever at 55, and smallpox at 79.

Connects the Soos.
Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and Ontario will have a straight railway system this year. At a meeting of the directors of the Trans-St. Marys Traction company it was decided to rush construction work on the proposed street railway systems of the two Soos, with a view to the completion of a large section of both lines as early as possible this year.

Charged with Murder.
Annie Curtis, of Clare, a 12-year-old girl, was taken to the county jail by Sheriff Welch, charged with murdering the 13-month-old son of George Pardee by administering carbolic acid while the child was sleeping at her home. Her arrest was ordered by Prosecuting Attorney Cummings. The examination will be held before Justice Maynard July 2.

Will Get the Money.
Miss Flora M. Newton, of Syracuse, N. Y., will get the $5,000 which Edward L. McDonnell, a Grand Rapids lumberman, intended she should have when he was engaged to marry her, although he erased her name from his will when his affection was bestowed on another girl. The original will, without alterations, has been accepted by Judge Jewell as the real will.

Found Guilty.
William M. Jones was convicted in Detroit of the murder of George H. Heywood on April 9 last and sentenced to life imprisonment at the Marquette prison. The jury was out only ten minutes. The murder was well planned and it is generally believed that but for the evidence of a child of the victim Jones would have escaped conviction.

Free Rural Delivery.
Additional rural free delivery to commence August 1:
Brooklyn, Jackson county, routes 2 and 3, population served, 1,100; number of houses on routes, 268; carriers, George A. Blowers and Charles B. Watts; the post office at Cambridge, Lenawee county, to be discontinued; post office at Springville to be supplied by rural carrier.

News Briefly Stated.
A barrel of oil fished out of the bay at L'Anse is believed to be one of the many which went down with the steamer Northern, which sunk there ten years ago.
A new bank is to be established at Escanaba, to be known as the Merchants' bank.
Kent is the leading county of the state in the number of farms. It has 6,554. Allegan has 6,089, and Ottawa 4,522.
Elias Mattson shot and killed John Eden during a quarrel at Ironwood. Both are Finlanders. Mattson has been arrested.

TAKING A MAN UNAWARES.

Bland, Mo., June 30.—F. B. Grider describes very graphically how he was overtaken by an enemy and his narrow escape, he says:
"For years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease which came on me so gradually that I did not know what it was until the pains in my back warned me that it was Kidney Trouble.
"I began treatment at once and used one medicine after another but without help till at last I was just about to give up in despair.
"Just then I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and bought a few boxes and began to take them. They helped me from the first and now I am completely cured. 'Dodd's Kidney Pills' is the only medicine that ever did me any good. They are worth their weight in gold."

A Medicine for Old People.

Rev. Geo. Gay, Greenwich, Kas., is past 75 years of age, yet he says: "I am enjoying excellent health for a man of my age, due entirely to the rejuvenating influence of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It brings sleep and rest when nothing else will, and gives strength and vitality even to one of my old age."

"I am an old soldier," writes Mr. Geo. Wilson, of Newton, Ia., "and I have been a great sufferer from nervousness, vertigo and spinal trouble. Have spent considerable money for medicine and doctors, but with little benefit. I was so bad my mind showed signs of weakness. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I know it saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Saved me from the insane asylum," Mrs. A. M. Heifner, of Jerico Springs, Mo., writes. "I was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself, could not sleep, nor rest, would even forget the names of my own children at times. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine and it helped me from the first, and now I am perfectly well."

THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1902.

Thomas E. Barkworth, of Jackson, has decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for governor of Michigan.

Voters, irrespective of party, are pouring in letters to Judge George H. Durand, of Flint, urging him to accept the nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket and pledging him their support.

Governor Bliss says he has "decided to take no steps at present with regard to the appointment of a successor to the late Justice Long, preferring to leave the naming of his successor to the state convention." This means that another state convention will have to be called to nominate a candidate for the position.

RULED WITH A ROD.

But the Red Hot Iron, with a Red Hot Tip.

"When all other methods of controlling wild beasts fail the keeper has only to employ an iron rod, which has been made redhot at one end," said an old circus man to a Star reporter recently. "Lions and tigers," he continued, "will cringe before the heated poker, and no matter how restless and fractious they may have been the sight of the glowing iron immediately brings them to their best of animal senses. It has an almost hypnotic influence over the beasts. I have seldom heard of an animal being burned in this manner, however, so there is nothing cruel in the treatment. It would not do for the keeper to burn the charges under his care, for the scars would mar the animal for exhibition purposes. The hot iron is a terror, just the same, and under its persuasion the kings of the jungle are docile and ready to do what is wanted of them."

"In circus menageries the animals often become almost unmanageable. This is true of the younger specimens, who do not like the idea of being so closely housed, so much hauled about and so often cut off from the light of the outside world. When it becomes necessary to give their cages a thorough and sanitary cleaning, one attendant holds the beast in a corner by means of the redhot iron, while another thoroughly cleanses the remaining portion of the cage, the work being accomplished by brooms and mops from the outside. In changing the wilder animals from the cages employed on the road to the larger and more commodious quarters at the winter station, what we call a strong box is used. The wagon is hauled alongside the large cage and the steel strong box, open at both ends, is constituted a passageway. The animal hesitates to make the journey through such a suspicious looking object, however, and again the heated iron must be brought into play."—Washington Star.

He Was Up to the Limit.

A young society woman tells a story of a very little newsboy who so appreciated her kindness to him at a newsboys' dinner that he went to the extent of great suffering for her sake. At least she thinks it was appreciation, but others have doubts. At all events, the young woman who, with a number of others, was engaged in serving the boys, noticed this little boy way off at one end of the table. Many of his larger fellows were already hard at work on the various good things, but this little fellow had evidently been neglected. Clearly here was a case of urgent charity, so the amateur waitress flew to his side, and for an hour she saw to it that he did not lack for anything. Plate after plate of turkey was literally showered upon him. Finally, as she set another piece of plum pudding in front of him, he rolled his eyes meekly toward her and said in muffled tones: "Well, miss, I kin chew, but I can't swallow no more!"—New York Sun.

Wife—Oh, such a bargain! I reached Bigg, Drive & Co.'s ahead of the crowd this morning, and got enough stuff for a perfectly elegant dress for $1.90.

Husband—Hoopla! You're an angel! What will it cost to get it made up?

Wife—Bout $30.—New York Weekly.

WASHINGTON FAIR, SEPT. 9-12.

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Theodor's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original Theodor's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

Morgan, Ark., May 25, 1901. I cannot recommend Theodor's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

Rev. W. P. Conditine left Sunday afternoon for Detroit, where he joined a party of Detroit priests and others and with them will make a two months' visit to Rome and other points in Europe.

Travel on the Michigan Central east of Chelsea was seriously affected this morning by the heavy washouts that occurred between Dexter and Ann Arbor where the new double track was laid last fall. No trains arrived here until about noon.

The boys are finally to have a field on which to play ball. The grounds facing on Wilkinson street are being graded up and the sod is being taken off for the diamond. Bleachers are also to be put up and the grounds fenced in.

Frank J. O'Brien, of Grand Marais, was accidentally shot Saturday by his companion John B. Chisholm, while they were out hunting. The deceased graduated from the law department of the U. of M. June 19. Both young men are friends of Ralph H. Holmes of this place.

The Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor & Jackson railway has made a cut in its through rate for single and round trip unlimited tickets to Jackson from Detroit. It will charge 90 cents for one through ticket and $1.50 for a round trip ticket, the distance being 76 miles between the two terminals. The tickets were placed on sale today for the first time. The former rate was $1.05 to Jackson.

Mrs. E. L. Negus very pleasantly entertained a company of old people at her home on East Middle street, Thursday afternoon of last week. The united ages of the five persons present was 418 years, an average of 83 1/2 years each. Those present and their ages were Mrs. Jane Jowett 91 years, Mrs. S. J. Chase 78, Mrs. Charles Whitaker 78, Mrs. C. W. Brown 77, Mr. Curran White 89.

Charles F. Sauer, of Jackson, a motor-man on the D., Y., A. & J. railway, was injured Friday evening while running car No. 19 east. After leaving Michigan Center Sauer took a position on the steps of the car, in order to look at the machinery under the car. While doing this his head came in contact with a tree, which is near the tracks. He was stunned and almost lost his balance, but after several attempts he managed to rise up. Near Chelsea a west bound car was met and he was taken home. His head is badly bruised but he is not seriously injured and he was able to walk to his home on his arrival in Jackson.

Detroit Evening News: It is said that the Railroad Companies General of Philadelphia, which owns the electric line from Battle Creek to Kalamazoo, and is constructing a continuation of the line eastward to Jackson, is progressing so rapidly with the work that it may be reasonably expected that Kalamazoo will be connected with Detroit by a through electric car service by Oct. 1. Overtures for a traffic arrangement with the Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor & Jackson line have already been made, it is asserted, and the Hawks-Angus syndicate is quite willing to make good terms. The Philadelphia people desire to secure some of the power for running their line of the D., Y., A. & J. railway.

Miss Lillian Gerard will teach in the Lehigh district school, Sylva, next year. J. S. Cummings has had a new cement walk laid along his property on East street.

Earl Foster attended the commencement exercises of the Placemey high school Thursday.

Merchant Brooks is building himself a cottage on his lot on the east shore of Cavanaugh Lake.

Jasper Graham has added 40 swarms of bees this season to his bee farm on Wilkinson street.

The 11th annual excursion of the Jackson Retail Grocers Association to Detroit will occur Aug. 18.

George H. Pond's reappointment as postmaster of Ann Arbor has been confirmed by the senate.

Miss Mabel McGuinness closed a very successful term of school at North Lake Wednesday of last week.

The Chelsea Juniors went over to Stockbridge to play ball Saturday and were defeated by the score of 24 to 5.

Rudolph Kandlehner, who for two years past has been in Fenn & Vogel's store, is now clerking in his father F. Kandlehner's jewelry store.

A lawn social will be given at the residence of Mrs. Thos. Young in Lyndon, Wednesday of next week, July 9, for the benefit of the library in school district No. 11, of which Miss Edna Read is teacher.

An exchange says: If you have a boy under 16 who has acquired the cigarette habit lick it out of him. It is no use sparing him, for he might just as well be killed at 16 as to die of palsy and idioy at 25.

The West German Portland Cement Co., of Chelsea, of which L. S. Lerch and other Detroit men are the incorporators, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, with a capitalization of $1,000,000.

O. P. Woodworth, of Grand Rapids, will visit Chelsea Camp, No. 7838, M. W. of A., Monday evening next, July 7, in the interest of the Majority Rule Committee. It will be to the interest of every Woodman to hear him.

The Democratic county convention has been called to meet at the court house, Ann Arbor, Thursday, July 24, to select delegates to the state convention to be held July 30. The number of delegates from the towns in this vicinity will be: Dexter 4, Freedom 6, Lima 5, Lyndon 4, Sharon 5, Sylva 18.

Congressman H. C. Smith's friends in Adrian on Saturday morning expressed to him at Washington a handsome sterling silver loving cup with stag horn handles. The inscription reads: "To Hon. Henry Cassette Smith, representative in congress, second district of Michigan, as a slight appreciation of his untiring efforts in behalf of the city of Adrian—from a few of his friends. June, 1903."

To save his $4 cherry crop Henry Brown, of Grant township, Kent county, killed a number of robins and other song birds which were eating some of the fruit as a change from their diet of worms and bugs. The game warden heard of it, and it cost Brown $10. He knows now that there is a law protecting song birds, even though they do sometimes eat of the farmer's crops. A few prosecutions of a like nature in this section among the youngsters who are so handy with their little guns might prove beneficial.

John P. Foster has inaugurated a new industry in the shape of cement fence and hitching posts, which bid fair to be very practical on account of their durability and cheapness. The post has four steel bars which run through its entire length. Through the fence posts are drilled holes at the proper distance for the height of the fence and of the gauge that the farmers usually use for wire fences. Tommy McNamara was the first one to place an order with him for hitching posts, ordering six posts, two of which are to be placed in front of his residence and four in front of his place of business. R. A. Snyder was the first man to place an order for fence posts, ordering enough to put up three-quarters of a mile of fence. Mr. Foster has also several other orders.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Glazier & Stimson. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

What Is in Vogue for the Summer Fashions

Some Dainty Hot Weather Blouses and Other Seasonable Garments.

HOT July is once more upon us and with it comes a display of all the dainty, cool garments that have been so many months in the process of manufacture and designing. We see them everywhere, and though the days are not yet as warm as it might be wished, yet the season for the warm days is here and the clothes to go with it.

Here at Newport one may see all forms of the summer garments, from the decidedly grotesque to the infinitely beautiful, and I give illustrations of some of those that come under the latter title. I saw them at an afternoon informal reception given at the Belmonts a few days ago. Just one of those little affairs that are sure to bring out the most practical, rather than the most elaborate, in the summer toilettes.

One is a bolero of tucked white muslin, edged with transparent insertions of ficelle lace, and trimmed with rows of lace on the sleeves. The sailor collar is of plain muslin edged with lace. A decidedly new novelty is a little coat made of point d'esprit, ornamented with appliques of string-colored lace braid, from underneath which the net is cut away, and the collar, revers and little pointed basque are trimmed in the same style. The sleeve is in the new bell shape scalloped out at the edge, and this smart little garment can be worn over a blouse of any color.

The pretty unlined blouse of printed French muslin has a deep sailor collar edged with Arabian lace in that pretty shade of string color which looks so well with bright shades of mauve, pink and blue, especially when there is a touch of black in the design as there is in this. The sleeves are tucked.

But there are others, as, for instance, a slip of grass lawn, which is quite a novelty, as it is embroidered in the Swiss style, with an openwork design in pale blue silk or other shades, and trimmed with Maltese lace of the same tint as the lawn, with fine tucks in addition.

A more elaborate and dressy blouse is made of pale blue Roman satin elaborately tucked and trimmed with insertions of choice Paris-colored lace in the Mauresque style.

Sailor collars will be much worn on blouses this season, and a pretty slip in white Japanese silk is made in this style, and trimmed with transparent insertions of lace down the front and also on the edge of the collar. Another in spotted point d'esprit has a sailor collar—trimmed with Mauresque lace. As this is quite transparent, it can be worn over a slip of any color.

The most strikingly new things are the tub gowns, as they are called here—in ordinary phraseology, wash gowns. They were never so elaborate or so generally worn as this year. One may see any number of them made up as elaborately as silks and crepes, and the question suggests itself as to the fitness of the name, for tubbing would really mean utter ruination to them. The only excuse for the name is that they are made of originally washable materials, but when the laces and braidings and ribbons and things are arranged upon these materials, washing is not to be thought of.

Every woman needs at least one strictly tailor-made linen gown. For morning wear there is nothing so suitable and surely nothing any smarter. A very stylish gown of this sort was worn here during the week. It was made of heavy ecru linen. The corsage of the gown was made in blouse style, with the front and back laid in two box plaits. At the waistline these plaits narrowed a good deal and continuing on down the skirt, broadened to twice their width at the bottom.

The space between the two plaits was ornamented with an openwork stitch in colors, while across the hem, and at regular intervals are large arrow-shaped patterns embroidered in shaded old blues. A bit of this same embroidery appears on the blouse and sleeves, the deep cuffs fitting closely to the arm and solidly embroidered in the blue shades.

So far as the season has progressed it is safe to say that sleeves are bigger than ever before, taking the arm snugly from shoulder to elbow and thence expanding like the pouch of a pelican, and always on the outside of the arm. Another conclusion to be drawn has reference to the tulle neck bow. In the winter and early spring we wore it only in white; now we wear it in colors and in combinations. Navy blue and parrot green tulle, twisted together and spraying out in a big variegated bow under the chin or under the back hair, is considered a very smart device. Up to date I have not seen over many dark blue gowns trimmed with parrot moss, emerald or opaline green silk, but forewarned is forearmed, and this combination is sure to have a wholesale popularity when autumn shopping becomes necessary. This idea is signified as the grand chic in Paris, and some notion of how it is carried out is shown in the sketch of a copy from a Parisian model. This is a summer frock of navy blue nun's veiling, the skirt arranged in three shaped flounces and a front panel. Each flounce is bordered with a band of emerald green taffeta prettily needleworked in a simple design of contrasting tones of green and blue. The waist has a yoke vest and half sleeves of green taffeta, embroidered in alternating blue and lighter green dots. A hat of green straw garnished with big blue plumes is the proper crown for this agreeable color study.

STORM CAUSES RUIN.

Disastrous Effect of Wind, Rain and Lightning.

A Number of Lives Lost—Cities Flooded, Buildings Wrecked and Incalculable Damage Done to Crops.

Chicago, June 30.—Rain, wind and lightning have caused almost incalculable damage through Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee, Texas and other states in the south.

Evansville, Ind., suffered heavily, and near St. Wendel, in Posey county, the home of Frank Goedde was wrecked and Frank Goedde, Sr., aged 80; Frank Goedde, aged seven, and Chris Laugle, aged 25, were killed, and Frank Goedde, Jr., fatally injured. The home and barn of Peter Wolfe, two miles away, were wrecked. One person (unknown) was killed. The storm cut a path about 200 feet wide and left a track two miles in length.

During a thunderstorm at Harrison, Tenn., a 15-year-old daughter of Frank Dugger was killed by lightning. Mr. Dugger's residence was burned to the ground and a second daughter was seriously injured.

In Louisville, Ky., one man was killed by a falling car shed, and off Washington, N. C., five men were drowned by the blowing over of a tugboat.

Crops Damaged.

Madison county, Ill., is a heavy sufferer, entire fields of stacked grain being ruined.

Two days ago oats promised the biggest yield in the history of Christian county, Ill., but it is predicted now that not more than one-half a crop can be gathered. The damage to oats and wheat in Knox county is estimated at $50,000. Corn is hardly far enough advanced to determine the damage, but it will be considerably affected. At Pana stock was killed by lightning and the streets of the city are flooded to the extent that traffic is suspended. Thousands of acres of corn and oats in the neighborhood of Fairbury are ruined, and people residing in the bottom lands, which have not overflowed for years, have been obliged to move.

Damage at St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 30.—This city and vicinity is the center of a rainstorm of unprecedented severity, that has prevailed almost incessantly since Saturday morning. According to the local weather bureau reports, 5.45 inches of rain fell here between 2:30 a. m. Saturday and eight p. m. Sunday, and the end is apparently not in sight. At times the storm equaled a cloudburst in severity. Considerable damage, the total estimated at about $250,000, resulted from the wind that accompanied the rain. Saturday night the wind attained a velocity of about 55 miles an hour, blowing down trees, telephone, telegraph and trolley poles and interfering with communication of all sorts. At least 1,000 shade trees in various parts of the city are reported on the ground. From the country surrounding comes reports of destruction to and the washing out of railroad tracks and bridges, causing considerable delay to trains.

Five hundred feet of the north wall of the Varied Industries palace at the world's fair site fell Saturday night as the result of the storm, the water undermining the foundations when the wind was at its height. In places the world's fair grounds are covered with water.

Flood at Alton, Ill.

St. Louis, June 30.—One of the most distressing floods in the history of Alton, Ill., and vicinity resulted Sunday from the heavy rains of Friday and Saturday. At four o'clock in the afternoon it was estimated that 10,000 acres had been covered by the overflow of Wood river, which is three to six miles wide. Most of this land is either occupied by manufacturing interests or planted in crops. The greatest single disaster caused by the flood was the destruction of the plant of the Stoneware Pipe company at East Alton. The loss is estimated at $40,000. The water rose rapidly, being 18 inches higher than ever before and filled an underground duct leading from the mammoth smokestack to kiln No. 4. The kiln was filled with stoneware and red hot. When the water reached the kiln it turned into steam and an explosion followed. The kilns are built close to the main plant and the explosion set fire to the buildings and other kilns, burning them to the ground within a short time.

In East Alton the residents were compelled to use skiffs to get about the principal streets Sunday. The water filled all the cellars in the village and some of the largest stores were also flooded. A number of outbuildings were washed away and the station of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad was carried away by the flood and lodged in a field a quarter of a mile distant. The flood produced the worst railroad tie-up in recent years in the vicinity of the Altons. The Big Four and the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroads were hit the hardest, while the Burlington sustained the smallest amount of damage.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Comprehensive Summary of Legislation Passed During the Session—Measures Which Failed.

Washington, June 30.—The work of congress is now practically closed, so that it is possible to sum up the record of what has been accomplished during the past seven months, which constitute the first session of the 57th congress. The session has been marked by exceptional business activity, with many questions of far-reaching general interest engaging attention. With the exception of the Cuban reciprocity bill, most of the larger subjects of general legislation have been enacted as laws or will become such before the session closes.

Notable among these larger measures is the isthmian canal bill, which consummates the efforts of a half century to link together the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific. Aside from its national and international importance, this bill probably involves a larger sum of money than that covering any other single undertaking of the government outside of war expenditures. The Philippine civil government bill is another measure of far-reaching importance, extending to our remote Pacific possessions a system of internal civil government, together with coinage, currency, banking, corporation, timber, and homestead laws. Among the other important general laws enacted are those repealing the war revenue taxes; extending and making more effective the Chinese exclusion laws; establishing a tariff for goods to and from the Philippines; extending the charter of national banks for 20 years; establishing a permanent census office; restricting the sale of oleomargarine by placing a high tax on imitation butter; providing a consular and diplomatic service for Cuba; establishing an extensive system by which the government will aid in the irrigation of the arid sections of the west.

The repeal of the war revenue taxes reduced taxation $73,250,000, and is said to be the largest single reduction of taxation ever made in this country. By this step the last of the taxes imposed at the beginning of our war with Spain was wiped out. The Philippine tariff act imposes 15 per cent. of the Dingley tariff rates on articles coming from the Philippines to the United States, and also imposes on articles entering the Philippines from the United States the rates of duties established by the Philippine commission. The oleomargarine act results from several years of agitation. It places a tax of ten cents a pound on substances colored to imitate butter. The irrigation act is of special importance to the development of the west. It creates an irrigation fund in the treasury department into which is to be paid the proceeds of the sales of public lands in the arid states. This fund in turn is to be used in storing water and establishing irrigation systems, the irrigated sections to be open to homesteaders, who are to be charged a proportionate share of the cost of the improvement.

The Chinese exclusion law continues exclusion "until otherwise provided by law," and also applies the exclusion "to the island territory under the jurisdiction of the United States."

Aside from these important laws there are a number of other measures of general importance which have passed one of both houses, but have not progressed to the final stage. These include the anti-anarchy legislation, which grew out of the assassination of President McKinley. Bills restricting anarchy and throwing safeguards about the president have passed both branches of congress, but it has been impossible to reach an agreement in conference, so that the subject goes over until next December. A bill giving statehood to Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, known as the omnibus statehood bill, passed the house and the senate has determined to take up the matter early in the next session.

The ship subsidy bill secured early attention in the senate, but the end of the session has come without the measure being reported to the house. As it passed the senate the bill grants graded subsidies to steam and sailing vessels of American build. In the house it has been deemed desirable to let the subject go over until the short session, when it is expected that a bill on the subject will be reported and urged to passage.

The house passed a bill relating to the immigration laws, codifying and amending these laws relating to important changes. It has been reported to the senate, but there is not much prospect of its passage at this session. The bill defining the meaning of conspiracy in injunction cases passed the house of representatives but has not made much progress in the senate. On the other hand the senate passed an important measure creating a department of commerce, to be presided over by a cabinet officer, but it has made no progress in the house, not having been reported from the committee on commerce.

Another bill of interest to the commercial world is the pure food measure which was drafted by the Pure Food congress, and after extended hearings was reported from the house committee on commerce but not passed.

The Fowler bill probably was the most important financial measure which has been brought before congress. After considerable public discussion and several conferences by the members of the house it has gone over for consideration next December. Another financial measure, known as the Hill bill, providing for the coinage of subsidiary silver and for the retirement of the present standard silver dollar, has passed the house but has not been acted on in the senate.

The amount of appropriations for the session will run unusually high, owing in part to the amount required to build the isthmian canal. When Mr. Cannon submitted a general estimate of appropriations a few weeks ago, he made the total up to that time $391,445,000. Since then the canal bill has passed, carrying a present appropriation of $40,000,000 for the franchise, and enough more for the rights of Colombia and for beginning the work to carry the undertaking is approximately $184,000,000. Mr. Cannon's estimate also omitted contracts for future expenditure included in the omnibus public building, the omnibus claims and various other bills, aggregating a large amount. This will carry the total for the session, figuring in these future amounts, almost, if not quite, up to the billion-dollar mark. The appropriation bills have contained little general legislation, being confined chiefly to the regular needs of the various branches of the government.

There have been several investigations much attended. An investigation of conditions in the Philippines, conducted by the Philippine committee of the senate, has led to the examination of many war-time affairs in the islands. Another senate inquiry has related to the condition of affairs in Cuba, especially as to sugar. In the house several charges made in connection with the purchase of the Danish West Indian islands led to an investigation which disclosed the groundless nature of the charges.

MAKES BAILEY MAD.

Texas Claims Senator Beveridge Insulted Him.

Upon Latter's Refusal to Withdraw Language Used in Debate He Is Assaulted by Senator Bailey—Men Are Separated.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bailey (Tex.) assaulted Senator Beveridge (Ind.) just after the senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator. The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator

SENATOR BAILEY.

Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield, of the state department. In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other senators who smoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the republican side. He was still sitting there when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow anyone to say that I libel a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time, leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter, in reply to

SENATOR BEVERIDGE.

Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you and that I have nothing to retract."

The Attack.

As the words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Senator Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and the desk was toppled over. Before the assault could go any further senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hanchbrough (N. D.) seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner (Wis.) seized the other. The Texas senator is a powerful man and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana senator's neckwear was ripped and torn away in the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey. Senator Bacon (Ga.) and Barney Layton, assistant doorkeeper, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas senator further away. Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was removed a little distance he was heard to utter something that sounded like a threat against killing.

Without further effort, however, he walked away when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet, and led him toward the democratic side.

ROBERT SALLETTE

A Ballad of the Revolution.

THE Liberty Boys are up and out;

They're here with a shout;

And they're here in a dash and there in a flame,

And they're here at King George's name.

The Tories may bluster and fluster and fret,

But the Liberty Boys will beat them yet;

And the chief of the Boys is Robert Sallette.

Robert Sallette's limbs are long,

And his good right arm is uncommonly strong.

He rides like a centaur, he swims like a fish;

And the Liberty Boys will rise at his wish;

And the Tories have never a chance to forget

the name and the fame of Robert Sallette.

There's a gentleman Tory, rich and old;

He has bought up acres and hoarded up gold.

He sits in his house never making a noise,

For he's afraid of a visit from the Liberty Boys.

And he says aloud: "A price I will set on the head of this traitor, Robert Sallette.

"Oh, Governor Wright is mild and kind,

And justice and mercy are much to his mind;

But a harsher voice than his should be heard

To uphold the cause of King George the Third.

And to silence this horrible noise that comes from Boston way of fives and drums.

One hundred guineas the man shall get

Who will bring me the head of Robert Sallette!"

The Tory sits in his old oak chair,

With arms and blazonry carved fair;

He sits and quakes, and his very heart aches.

And not even the ghost of a noise he makes;

For news came last night that the Boys would ride.

And he hears the tramp of a horse outside,

A jingling stirrup, a ringing tread;

And the soul within him sits cold with dread.

There falls on the door a thunderous knock,

And it jars his ear like a cannon's shock.

And into the room there strides, before

The trembling dandy can close the door,

A stalwart man with a ponderous sack,

A sword at his side and a gun at his back.

He drops the sack with a heavy thump,

And it strikes the floor like a leaden lump.

And he says, with a look so stern and bright

It seems to pierce like a sword of light:

"A hundred guineas I come to get,

For I bring you the head of Robert Sallette!"

The Tory starts, and his heart grows sick,

And his eyes grow dim, and his breath comes quick.

As he stares at the thing that bulges round

At the end of the sack that lies on the ground.

"Show me the head, ere you speak so bold!"

"Nay!" the other stranger: "First, the gold!"

Have ridden too fast and ridden too far,

And have seen too much of your Liberty

War.

To run a risk at the very end,

So out with your money, my loyal friend,

And then, I promise you, you shall get

A sight of the head of Robert Sallette!"

The gold rings out on the table there;

It lies a heap both broad and fair.

Outshining Egypt's, beyond compare,

The stranger laughs at the splendid sight.

But again his look is stern and bright.

"A bargain's a bargain, friend," he said,

"You pay right well for a homely head!

For" he swung his hat from his forehead clear—

"The head of Robert Sallette is—here!"

There's a man who rides, and sings as he rides.

And shakes in his saddle, and claps his sides.

Forgoes at hearing the guinea's tink!

In his pockets so merrily—tink! tink!

He laughs "Hal hal!" and he laughs "Hoi ho!"

And he's off to the forest like shaft from bow.

"My fine old friend, 't will be some time yet

Ere I part with the head of Robert Sallette!"

LOUISA MAY'S SOLO CELEBRATION.

By J. L. Harbour

LOUISA MAY is to sing a solo at the celebration," Mrs.

Hatfield was explaining to a visitor.

"And I don't know but she'll be too fine to speak to her own folks when she's rigged out in all her new things. Still,

I don't begrudge her the things. She's worked real faithful pickin' strawberries and doing all sorts of chores to pay for what she's to have. She's a good girl, Louisa is."

"But has she ever sung in public before?"

"She's never sung a solo all by herself except at one or two little Sunday school concerts. I don't know how it will be when she finds herself on the platform facing the big Fourth of July crowd."

"Oh, she'll get through it all right. I have heard that she sings beautifully."

"Well, I don't know but she does sing girl of only 15 to sing. It's kind of curious; I can't sing no more than a blue jay, and when her pa tries it the hens scatter in terror. She gets it from her Grandfather Hatfield over in Ware. He'll be 75 come the 10th of next month, and he'll sit down to a little organ he's got and sing away by the hour. He's coming clear over from Ware to hear Louisa May sing. He's goin' to leave her his organ in his will."

"A piano would be better for her."

"Yes, Louisa May's wild to have a piano, but we can never get her one with five younger children to rear and school. Her Grandpa Hatfield mebbe could get one; but I don't know that he's able to, although he always has been close-mouthed about his money affairs. You'll be at the celebration?"

"Oh, yes; we are all going. And I expect to hear Louisa May beat 'em

all."

There the conversation ended, because a red-haired girl came hurriedly into the sitting-room. She blushed furiously as she heard her name.

On the morning of the Fourth of July Louisa May was very happy as she stood before the small mirror in her bedroom and gave the last touches to her toilet. Her chills had made up very prettily, and her mother had delighted her by an unexpected gift of a pretty pink ribbon sash. She had never before had such a beautiful hat, and there was but one thing to detract from her satisfaction with her appearance.

"If only I didn't have such a mop of red hair!" she said to the mirror.

"If it was mouse-colored, like Amanda

Dane's, or a regular brindle, like Lucy

Trent's, I shouldn't care. But red! It isn't as red as it used to be, though,

and I shall wear my hat while I sing—

that will hide it a good deal."

There had been few holidays in Louisa May's life, and never one so full of promise of pleasure as this.

She had been to the village the day before to rehearse her song with Miss

Hope, who was to play the accompaniment on the organ, and Miss Hope had said that Louisa sang beautifully.

She had a very clear and strong voice, and she said to her mother as they drove toward the grove: "I don't feel a bit nervous or afraid now."

She did, however, feel a little nervous when her turn to sing came, and she found herself on the platform before the audience that filled every part of the grove. The chairman of the day stepped forward and said:

"We will now listen to a solo, 'The

Star-Spangled Banner,' by Miss Louisa

May Hatfield."

At this some of the grand army men set up a shout, and Louisa May walked to the front of the platform with the large silk flag she was to hold while she sang.

The applause died away, and the organist had just begun to play the prelude, when a boy shouted shrilly:

"Red head! Red head! Better look out or the fireworks will catch!"

Louisa May's pink cheeks grew pallid. She opened her lips, but no sound came from them. She was trembling from head to foot. The flag fell from her hand down over the edge of the platform. Then in an agony of embarassment she put both hands over her face and began to cry.

The boy who had called out "Red head" suddenly felt a hand grip the back of his collar, and he was jerked

The old man picked up the flag which she had let fall to the platform, and holding it stiff in one hand while his other arm was round Louisa May's waist, he began to sing in a thin, warbling, but not unmusical voice:

"Oh say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,

What so proudly we hallooed at the twilight's last gleaming—

Whose broad stripes and bright stars,

through the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!"

He stopped at the end of these lines and said gently to Louisa May:

"Come, now, honey, you sing, too."

She had taken her hands from her face, and as she looked into the sympathetic faces of the people before her, she felt her courage rise. When the old man began to sing the next lines Louisa May's voice, clear and steady and sweet, rose high above his own:

"And the rocket's red glare, the bombs

bursting in air,

Gave proof through the night that our flag

was still there,

Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet

wave

O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?"

Something of the lofty spirit of the grand old song suddenly filled

Louisa May's heart, and made her forget her wounded feelings. Her grandfather held the flag so that its folds were falling about her,

and her eyes were shining and her face was smiling as she began the second stanza in a voice without the least quaver. The old man did not sing

now. He stood beside her with one arm still around her, and nodded time with his snowy head and gently waved the flag above the singer.

When Louisa May's voice died away after the last lines, the applause was deafening. While it was still at its height, her grandfather stepped to the edge of the platform, holding the flag aloft. When he could be heard he called out shrilly:

"Everybody join me in singing the

DURING SUMMER MONTHS

Dr. Hartman Gives Free Advice to Suffering Women.

MISS LIZZIE SNEATHING

Dr. Hartman, the Famous Gynecologist and Inventor of Peruna Offers to Treat Women Free During the Summer Months.

America is the land of nervous women. The great majority of nervous women are so because they are suffering from some form of female disease. By far the greatest number of female troubles are caused by catarrh. Women afflicted with pelvic catarrh despair of recovery. Female trouble is so common, so prevalent, that they accept it as almost inevitable. The greatest obstacle in the way of recovery is that they do not understand that it is catarrh which is the source of their illness. In female complaint, ninety-nine cases out of one hundred are nothing but catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

The following letter was recently received:

189 W. 38th st., New York City.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Gentlemen:—"What bread and meat means to the hungry Peruna means to the sick. It is an especially valuable medicine for sick women. I have found that no medicine so quickly restores health and places the body in a normal condition. I but voice the sentiments of women who were once sick, but are now in perfect health."

MISS LIZZIE SNEATHING.

All women who are in doubt as to what their trouble is should write Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio. Give him a full description of your trouble, previous treatment, symptoms and age. He will promptly reply with full directions for treatment free of charge. This is an opportunity which no ailing woman should miss. Dr. Hartman has become renowned through his success in treating women's diseases. His experience in these matters is vast. Correspondence is strictly confidential. No testimonials published without written consent. Dr. Hartman relies principally upon Peruna in these cases.

BLOOD DISEASE CURED.
If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or We Pay. 13. No Names Used without Written consent.
Cured When All Else Failed
"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would be necessary, though I was no more than a thousandth of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not cure. Not Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method was first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially, I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."
