CHELSEA TELEPHONE NUMBER 8

A Unique Personality.

The following from the Detroit Journal refers to a former resident of Chelsea: Rives Junction, a small burg 10 miles north of Jackson, has a unique personality in Dr. John Campbell Buell. The doctor is a monopolist in that little town. He owns all the independent telephone lines that net that portion of Jackson county.

The Buell-Cook Telephone Co. controls about 40 miles of double wire among 70 farmers. They also have a wire running into Jackson and into the neighboring towns of Leslie, Onondaga and Mason. Each subscriber pays $7 a year for the service of the system and buys his instrument outright in the first place. This method saves the doctor the necessity of a heavy investment. The system has cleared Dr. Buell and C. W. Cook, his father-in-law, who is in partnership with him, $500 actual profit a year thus far, with possibilities of a $1,000 annual dividend in the future.

The entire miniature system was installed by Dr. Buell himself. He put in all the poles and then climbed them and strung the wires. In the years gone by, before he was a young student at Ann Arbor, he used to travel over the state as a tinker mending physicians' batteries. While knocking about at this vocation he learned all the rudiments of electricity.

"Way down in a corn field" he has erected a little powerhouse. Its location was selected for the purpose of deriving water power from a spring in that field. Here, under the countenance of a single incandescent light, the motor, propelled by a water wheel 12 feet below the ground, hums along through the long wait are now on the anxious bench and their directors are hustling for instructors. One girl shortly after being offered a position in one school was sought by three others. So it has been with most of them. Moderators state that they will probably be able to find teachers but that the good ones are already retained and the outlook is discouraging.

Naming the Farm.

The custom is growing for farmers to name their places, and the custom is worthy of encouragement says the Jackson Citizen. Traveling out on almost any of the rural highways leading from the city the names adopted by the farmers for their homes will be seen on the gate, cut on the horseblock or painted on the farm vehicles. Some of the names are fanciful, some are descriptive, some are family and some are combinations of syllables to make a euphonious whole and which will give recognition to several members of the family. The custom is worthy of encouragement, because it adds to the farmer's pride in his property and its products. The owner of Daisy Valley farm will not send fruit packages to market with all the big peaches on top. The farm named is more apt to be kept up as it should be and the fact that it has a name is a source of pride to the farmer boy and appeals to his loyalty and love. There is a utilitarian purpose in naming the farms, also, in that it is easier for the stranger to find them and is a convenience in addressing mail. The custom has not yet reached that point where duplication of names might cause confusion and as a safeguard against this

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL

School opened Tuesday morning with an enrollment of about 350. The building has been renovated during the summer and put in good condition.

The teachers who are in charge of the various departments are as follows: W. W. Gifford, superintendent; Edith E. Shaw, principal; Idalene Webb, science; days and nights for months at a time with never a human being approaching it.

Florence Bachman, English; Clara B. Hemens, eighth grade; Stella Miller, seventh grade; Isabelle McGuinness, sixth grade; Libbie Depew, fifth grade; Mary A. VanTine, fourth grade; Florence E. Martin, third grade; Florence Easter, second grade; Frances C. Noyes, first grade; Mrs. J. McKain, music.

This isolated powerhouse serves also as a veritable "curiosity shop" for the ingenious doctor. From the same power he has fixed up a rigging that propels automatically a huge pestle and mortar which pulverizes great quantities of a native herb that he sells for medicinal purposes. Then there is a bench with shafting and pulley above, where Dr. Buell spends many hours in making new devices.

A Good Sign.

The Glazier Stove Company has received a couple of new wire signs, which are something immense in that line, and which passengers on the Michigan Central will be able to read while going through Chelsea at the highest speed. The sign for the office building reads "B & B Stoves—Glazier Stove Company," and extends over the entire front and side of the building. It is 5 feet high, and the letters measure 3½ feet. The sign which will go on the foundry building reads "B & B Stoves—Glazier Stove Company." It contains two rows of words and is 8½ feet high, the letters of the top row are 2½ feet high and of the lower row 3½ feet.

Shortage of Teachers.

Jackson Press: The time for school is nearly at hand and some of the rural schools realize that they are without instructors. The reason is obvious. During the months of vacation several applications were made to the county school directors by graduates of the high schools and other institutions with but little success, each school wishing to get one of the older teachers. Soon the younger girls found other employment and those who did care to teach secured positions that have proved to be more lucrative than those they so strenuously sought. The girls have positions but a number of schools that were willing to to, and our estimate was entirely reversed. The apple crop in that direction is simply enormous. Many driers are already being taxed to take care of the windfalls.

Something for "Kide"

The Washtenaw Fair management has decided to put on a big Punch and Judy Show, also some fine stunts by a leading ventriloquist. This is exclusively for the "kide." You're one of them, perhaps.

A Great Home Brightener.

Notwithstanding the numberless fads that divide the attention of the people, there are a few things concerning which all sane persons are in perfect accord and among them is the superiority of the High Speed Moulded Record recently put on the market by the Columbia Phonograph Co. For smoothness, naturalness and volume, this new process record is miles ahead of any small record that has ever been heard before. The graphophone, which is the greatest home brightener the people have ever had, when equipped with the latest records made by the moulding method, is indeed an instrument that "entertains everybody everywhere." The price of these records being only 50 cents each, or 5¢ per dozen, they are within the reach of all. They are almost equal to the Grand Records which sell for one dollar each.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., of Chicago, one of the largest dealers in graphophones and records in the world, say: "It is a pleasure to us to offer our unsolicited testimonial to the value and high quality of the New High Speed Moulded Records. Fidelity of tone and accuracy to the original composition, as well as distinctness without harshness, places them in the forefront of talking machine records."

$500 Reward.

The Washtenaw Fair Association will pay $500 to the person who will not have known of the Great Washtenaw Fair and Carnival. Payment made at this office.

FROM ALL OVER MICHIGAN

THEY WERE FINED.

The Henderson-Ames Men Must Pay $2,000 Each.

The directors of the Henderson-Ames Military Supplies Co., indicted originally for perjury in connection with the grand jury inquiry into the famous steal by which the state was robbed of over $50,000, and who Wednesday morning in Circuit Court pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy that charge having been substituted for the original one, were fined $2,000 each—all but "Sam" Bickelstaff, a director of the company, but who in the case at issue acted for the company in a legal capacity. Bickelstaff's fine was made $1,200. The other culprits were J. R. Hunter, J. W. Woodworth and H. P. Kauffer. These men helped to operate a deal by which the state military department sold to the Henderson-Ames Company a big supply of military goods and bought them back again at an advanced figure under the guise of new goods. It was for this deal that Quartermaster General Will White was sent to Jackson prison, being quickly pardoned by the late Gov. Pingree. Inspector General Arthur F. Marsh was also convicted for complicity in the deal, and appealed to the Supreme Court, where his case lapsed. Eli R. Sutton, indicted, was acquitted, afterwards being indicted for perjury in connection with his testimony before the grand jury, and is now a fugitive from justice.

The fine of the three directors is the largest amount that can be imposed under that charge. Previous to the sentencing by Judge West, the court was addressed by Messrs. Irish and Ostrander, attorneys for the respondents, and ex-Judge Person, who also urged that the men had suffered considerably, and that their sentence should be light. Judge West, in imposing the fine, said: "What right have you to judicial clemency? The verdict in this case shows that you have known he was engaged in a scheme to rob the state."

Five Nurses Drowned.

The accident, which resulted in the drowning of five young people on Georgian lake, was the worst ever recorded in the county. The happy party were not far from the shore when they were run down by the steamer Welcome. Of the six occupants of the rowboat five were drowned. The dead: Lizzie Brady, aged 26 years; residence unknown here.

Mabel Richard, aged 24 years; stenographer for the Sanitarium Food Co., whose home is in Traverse City.

Della Dorsey, aged 21 years; nurse, Allegheny, Pa.

Fannie Willis, nurse, Toronto, Ont.

C. P. Bennett, nurse, aged 20 years; Dallas, Tex.

The party of nurses had been for a row around the lake and were about to return to the sanitarium villa dock when the steamer Welcome was sighted directly ahead of them between Jiper's and Waukegan point. Bennett, who was rowing, seemed to get excited, as he made no attempt to get the boat out of the way of the steamer. The young women commenced to scream when they saw the danger, but their cries were hushed an instant later when the steamer crashed into their frail craft, cutting it in two.

The entire party made desperate efforts to catch on to the fragments of the wrecked craft, but the only one who succeeded in doing so was Carrie Eyock, who held on until she was rescued by Carl Cook.

Andrews Habeas Corpus Case.

Judges Hooker and Moore, sitting in chambers Monday afternoon, granted a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Frank C. Andrews, convicted of embezzling City Savings Bank funds. The writ issued is not the ordinary writ of habeas corpus sworn out when a prisoner is alleged to be unlawfully detained in prison, but is what is known as common law writ. Under it Andrews will not secure any immediate privilege, but will be brought into court at the opening of the term in October, when Prosecuting Attorney Hunt will show cause why he should not be admitted to bail. The next term of court begins October 7.

Burned to Death.

Orin Fremont Skinner, the 11-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Skinner, toddled over to a bureau drawer Tuesday afternoon and got hold of a bottle of nitric acid. He pulled out the cork and poured the contents over himself. The acid ate through his clothing and burned deep into the flesh. The screams of the child attracted the mother and a doctor was sent for. The child lingered in agony till 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, when he died.

Taxes Heavily Boosted.

According to President A. F. Freeman, of the state tax commission, that body has thus far this year increased the assessed valuation of the state by no less than $58,000,000, while in addition there are enough reviews under way to guarantee a further increase before the end of the year of $40,000,000, making the total increase for 1902 practically $100,000,000.

During the year 1900, the first after the commission was created, according to President Freeman, the assessed valuation of the state was increased $250,000,000, while in 1901 $18,000,000 more was added, making a total for the three years of $468,000,000. In order to show the work accomplished by the commission, it is only necessary to state that during the thirteen years immediately preceding its organization only $3,000,000 worth of property had been added to the tax rolls.

The assessment of Wayne county, a review of which has just been finished by President Freeman, disposes of the charge that the Whitney estate would escape taxation because of being taken from the local tax rolls. The increase in Wayne county being $2,853,095, of which the Whitney estate bears the brunt. It has been placed on the Wayne county tax rolls for $2,610,250, while a like amount was added to the rolls of Oakland county. The assessments of the suburban railroads in Wayne county were also boosted $228,045 by the commission.

He Was All Right.

The passengers on the morning train on the Pere Marquette Tuesday would not have felt so comfortable while bowling along at the rate of 65 miles an hour had they known that a young man in Prince Albert coat and silk tie was at the throttle. The cause of his presence on the engine was an accident to Engineer John Murphy. The fireman was unable to run the train, and a telegram to Tawas City showed that every engineer was on duty. At this juncture a stylishly-dressed man stepped from the parlor car to investigate the delay. On being informed that they would have to lay there for an indefinite length of time, he said he guessed that he could solve the problem of getting the train to its destination. Digging in to his pockets he produced a card of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He then stated that he left the road 10 years ago to become the advance agent of a theatrical company. After a consultation it was decided to allow him to run the train through, and the way he did it showed that he had not forgot his cunning. The 20 minutes lost was made up, and the "engineer" never turned a hair.

The Monroe Tragedy.

While at first it was supposed an assassin had been killed by irate citizens of Monroe who were giving chase, late developments have led to the arrest of Lynot Bloodgood charged with the murder of Joseph LaBarge. This action was taken by the murdered man's brother, William LaBarge, at the conclusion of the coroner's inquest Saturday afternoon. Now that the facts are out and it has been shown that LaBarge was murdered in cold blood, the feeling of the entire population is bitter against Bloodgood, and he is being severely condemned on all sides. Hansberger, a retired farmer who lives in the neighborhood of the shooting, stated positively that Bloodgood shot at LaBarge when that much-lamented man was in a stooping posture on the other side of the street from his slayer. Other witnesses who followed Hansberger were equally positive that LaBarge made no attempt to get at Bloodgood with his razor and that the shooting was cold-blooded.

Met a Horrible Death.

Donald Donahue, a switchman, met an awful death in the Michigan Central yards, Jackson, while at work Saturday. He fell between two moving cars and, catching in the brake-beam, was dragged with his head bumping for a distance of 160 yards. The rail and the wheel of the car, acting as knives, dismembered him, and the scalp was torn from his head. Death came to his relief in a short time. Donahue was at one time a conductor, and was popular with the railroad men. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and several children. Two brothers of the deceased are railroad men.

Mrs. Henry Aurand, of Tekonsha, is 92 years old, and yet as spry as a maiden of 40. She recently patronized an excursion to Niagara Falls, visited all the sights around the cataract on foot and returned home as fresh as a bride. She keeps house alone and manages her own business affairs.

A skeleton found in the woods near the Houghton poor farm is believed to be that of Eli Haller, of Atlantic mine, who mysteriously disappeared a year and a half ago. Mr. Haller left his home, wearing slippers, trousers and a blue shirt. Search for the missing man was fruitless. The clothing found on the skeleton tallies with that worn by Mr. Haller.

W. P. Cummings, who has lived in Kalamazoo since 1867, happened to read an advertisement in a New York newspaper requesting him to return to his old home, Heme Bay, England, and claim an $80,000 inheritance. He has left for that purpose.

In the course of the discussion in the convention of the National Forestry commission, Gov. Bliss, speaking of the duty of the state in forest matters, expressed the opinion that it would be unwise to reserve vast tracts of land for this purpose and thus tie them up indefinitely. His idea was that the desired results could be accomplished,

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

To Open the Mines.

Hurried preparations are said to be making throughout the anthracite region for the reopening of the mines. There is to be no interference now from J. Pierpont Morgan; the operators are assured, and it is tight to the finish between mine owners and strikers.

The purpose is to start the mines one by one, get the coal in the market and then to crumble the strike to pieces gradually. The railway presidents are said to realize the danger which may come from further prolonging the existing situation, and are reported to think that they can avert danger in the way above mentioned.

Their view is that the public is not so much interested in the fate of the Mine Workers' Union as in the advancing price of anthracite. They think that if they can start the colliers and get enough coal to supply the demand, keeping prices below abnormal figures, that the public quickly will lose interest in the fate of the miners, and that when the strike finally goes to pieces the operators will have won their point over the union.

Their next move, it is said, would be to grant a 5 per cent increase of wages to the men, not through the union, and thus save the feelings of the workmen.

District President Nichols of the United Mine Workers, says: "Everything looks very favorable to us. The men remain firm. Why, we will surely hold out until the snow flies. The biggest strike in the coal regions lasted six months, and we will certainly break that record. We have not been idle four months yet, and as reports from all districts show the miners to be firm and determined to win, you will see little coal mined this year unless a settlement is made."

Cuba's Finances.

Fifteen millions are estimated as the Cuban government's expenditure in the national budget, which will be presented to congress next month, and the national income is placed at $18,000,000, the same as during the military occupation. This provides a surplus of $3,000,000.

Confidence is steadily increasing in President Palma's ability to cope with the situation. The senate bill providing for a national loan of $35,000,000, which went to the house of representatives two weeks ago, is still in the hands of the house committee.

The sugar planters strongly favor the $4,000,000 loan in aid of agriculture, but are indifferent regarding the proposed loan of $31,000,000 to pay back salaries to the army. Members of the disbanded army, on the contrary, support the larger loan, but are lukewarm concerning the smaller. It is generally believed that the interest and principal of the smaller loan could be taken care of under present conditions, but that the payment of the larger loan would require an additional revenue, to be raised probably by a stamp tax.

Horrible Suicide.

Apparently driven frantic by the fear that she might some time become insane, Mrs. John McCurdy, of Chicago, a bride of less than three months, killed herself in a peculiarly shocking manner. Having first undressed she put on a night gown, climbed to the top of the dining room table and having placed her mouth over one of the jets on the chandelier tied her head firmly by means of heavy cords wound tightly around her neck. Then she turned on the gas. When her husband came home he found her dead.

Letters the woman left behind led to the belief that she was mentally distressed. She was 38 years old.

Will He Do It?

Arthur J. Rowley, of Akron, who has been prominent in Ohio Republican affairs for many years, and who is a neighbor and friend of Gen. Charles Dick, predicts that Senator Hanna will retire at the end of his present term, and will be succeeded by Gen. Dick.

Said he: "If Senator Hanna intends to retire, as I understand he does, it is easy to understand why he refuses at this time to announce the fact. Mr. Hanna desires that Gen. Dick shall succeed him when he is ready to step out of the senate and by allowing it to be understood that he will be a candidate for re-election, other aspirants are kept out of the race until Dick has a chance to get his fences well up."

A Baby Vagrant.

"Baby" Kellar, 11 months old, was found guilty of vagrancy by a Keokuk, Ia., justice of the peace. Sentence was suspended during good behavior and the baby defendant was discharged. The mother and some friends swore out a warrant against the infant several days ago as a means of obtaining possession of the child. It had been declared to be in the legal custody of Elmer Park, secretary of the Associated Charities on his appeal after the new law which was framed to deprive unworthy parents of their children. The mother still has the child guarded at her sister's house.

The Chicago board of education will have the city water supply shut off from the public schools when they open Tuesday, as the water is in such condition that an epidemic of typhoid is feared.

Six negroes were fearfully cut about the arms, faces and bodies in a street fight in Indianapolis. Hatchets, knives and razors were used. Charles Sanford was fatally injured.

At a negro dance at Bering's Mill, near Macgregor, Tex., a drunken negro shot and wounded 15 persons, among them women and children, and was himself fatally wounded.

Tom Jones, the negro charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. William Smith near Secon Springs, N. C., inflicting injuries from which Mrs. Smith died, was carried into the woods and shot to death by ten men disguised as negroes.

Has No Authority.

Speaking of Gen. Miles' proposed trip to the Philippines, Secretary Cortelyou said: "Gen. Miles is going to the Philippine islands with the permission of the president to inspect army conditions there."

Gen. Miles, as the commanding general of the army, may go anywhere he pleases within the military jurisdiction of the United States.

But—and the but is important—if Gen. Miles goes to the Philippines it will be precisely as Gen. Corbin went a year ago, or as any other high officer might go. In other words, Gen. Miles may go on an inspection tour, may observe conditions and make a report to the president when he returns, which the president may do with as he likes, but Gen. Miles will have absolutely no authority to interfere in anything, to give any orders to Gen. Chaffee or anyone else or to modify in the slightest the present policy. Gen. Miles may be accompanied by the staff which under the law and the military regulations is assigned to the commanding general, but nothing more.

A Strong Navy.

In a brief address at Haverhill, Mass., Tuesday, President Roosevelt said: "Our navy is now efficient; but we must be content with no ordinary degree of efficiency. Every effort must be made to bring it ever nearer to perfection. In making such effort the prime factor is to have at the head of the navy such an official as your fellow-townsmen, Mr. Moody; and the next is to bring home to our people as a whole the needs of thorough and ample preparation in advance; this preparation to take the form not only of continually building ships, but of keeping those ships in commission under conditions which will develop the highest degree of efficiency in the officers and enlisted men aboard them."

Tornado Wrecks a Train.

Two persons were killed, three fatally injured and more than a score of others hurt Saturday evening in the wreck of a train which had been hurried down an embankment by a tornado. A train west bound on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, consisting of an engine, a baggage coach and two crowded passenger cars, while running at the rate of 35 miles an hour, was struck by the tornado, two miles from Meridian, Minn. The passenger and baggage cars were hurled 18 feet down the embankment. A brakeman was lighting the car lamps when the crash came and the wreckage was ignited by the oil.

Pele Active Again.

A dispatch from the island of Dominica dated August 25, at 6 p. m., says:

"Since 2 p. m. prolonged, grumbling noises, in quick succession, have been heard from the southward. There is every indication that Mount Pele is violently erupting." Efforts made to communicate by cable direct with the island of Martinique have proved unsuccessful. The French cable Co. has no cable working to that point and the company's officials are unable to say when communication with Martinique will be resumed.

Boers Seeking New Homes.

Col. Trichard, formerly of the Boer army, and other South African delegates, are so satisfied with the results of their investigations in Madagascar that they are negotiating with the governor, Gen. Gallien, for the concession of a large area of agricultural and pasture lands in the neighborhood of La Reuss. The French government may consent on condition that the immigrants become naturalized and learn the French language. The government is favorable to the concession.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Two boys found a hand protruding from a sand pile across the boundary from El Paso, Tex., in New Mexico, and investigation revealed a headless body. The police believe the body to be that of Jay Cullings, a civil engineer who recently disappeared.

Dr. James Corliss, a veterinary surgeon of Newark, N. J., was called to treat the swollen shoulder of a delivery horse. He lanced the spot and found a silver quarter of the date of 1898. There was no sign of a wound into which the coin might have been put.

The census report of illiterate males of voting age shows that in the cities of over 25,000 there are 339,223 illiterates in a male population of 5,885,644, or 6 per cent. In the rest of the country there are 1,949,247 illiterates in 15,248,653 male inhabitants, or 13 per cent.

"Hot air" said 17-year-old William Talbudge of Lambertville, N. J., when he had been operated upon for appendicitis, he was told by the physician the perfectly still. YOUNG MAN TELLS OF SUNDAY ON THE FARM.

HERE did you accumulate that tan?" demanded one of the clerks of the young man who entered the law office fifty minutes late with a suit case in one hand and an over-Sunday tan on his face.

"That's a Bubbling Brook tan," the young man replied. "I've been up there to see my sister, Catherine, and incidentally to discover if it was the place for me to spend my vacation. It isn't."

"Bubbling Brook is no longer a real farm. There is nothing more demoralizing to honest womanly than the summer boarder from the city, and Bubbling Brook has suffered from this cause. Show me a farmer who has taken city people as summer boarders long and I'll show you a farmer who has condensed milk and whose dog has forgotten how to churn."

"That's the kind of man the owner of the Bubbling Brook farm is. He and Catherine came down to the station to meet me."

"The outfit—barring Catherine, who seemed embarrassed—was impressive. Mr. Bubbling Brook had painted the running gear of his democrat a livid vermilion, without varnish or stripes."

not be so cramped as she would be in a canoe.

After the boarder who sat next to Catherine and acted as custodian of the radishes had informed the other unfortunates that she had just received a letter from Aunt Carolyn dated Baden-Baden, and that she had nearly cried her eyes out thinking how she might now be doing Baden-Baden at that very moment instead of doing Bubbling Brook, Catherine kicked me under the table and told me it was up to me."

"I'll bet you answered the gong all right," one of the clerks remarked.

"Answered it," echoed Catherine's brother. "Why, I had those stricken women biting their tongues with envy. They didn't dare whisper their woes after I had finished."

"Catherine gave me the cue. 'Have you heard from Jim since he went abroad?' she asked, innocently."

"Now, I don't know whether you have ever noticed it, but when the occasion demands it I am the fastest shorthand romancer that ever lived."

"Had a letter from Jim last Wednesday," I said. "He's changed his name from Windsor to Aldershot. That pair of harlequin roans I put him on to he is using as his town leaders, and he says London has never seen anything like them."

"Catherine was beginning to look proud and the others mostly had left their three-lined forks speared in the steak when I sprung the climax."

"By the way," I went on in a sort of over-the-breakfast-coffee languor, "Jim says the missus is knocked out; must go to Mannheim, and if we want the coach in October for a tour through the lake country it's ours, with the roans and a big pair of wheelers and his own guard and men. I've spoken to the old man, and he says go ahead. So, you see, it's up to you."

"Catherine gave one gasp and then stood pat."

"But, Ned," she exclaimed, "I've promised October to Gertrude, who has taken the Carruthers' island in the St. Lawrence. You must remember my telling you about it. How provoking you are!"

"How was that," demanded Catherine's brother of his fellow clerks, "for a girl who doesn't pretend to be even an ordinary hack romancer?" And she never turned an eyelash.

"Catherine and I spent most of Sunday looking for mushrooms, which are about the only truck the farm supplies now. In the morning we sat under one of the orchard trees and watched the villagers down in a little valley below go to church."

"It's about the only picture that's left of the old days—the stiff black gowns of the old settlers, with their little parasols and the rustling white frocks of the younger women, all forming a prim parade under the green of the trees. Not one of them raised her head or gave hint of a knowledge of our presence."

"Catherine said she admired them for it. They knew we were city folks, she said, and they looked upon us as intruders upon their quiet country-side."

If a man is able to make a bluff at crying a woman will forgive him anything.

The miracle is the flash that comes when God touches man.

We Will Stay.

The inference to be drawn from the reference to Minister Wu Ting Fang in the dispatch that his term at Washington has been extended, cannot be explained by the officials of the Chinese legation. The latest official information which the minister has received was a communication from Peking indefinitely postponing his departure from Washington.

Wu's successor, Liang Cheng, who is with the special coronation mission headed by Prince Chun, is about due in China, and it is stated by the Chinese officials that he expects to return to take up his new duties in Washington next spring. In that case Wu will not leave Washington until April or May next.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

For some time Congressman Smith has been troubled with what he thought was a hard cold. One of his lady friends suggested to him that he had whooping cough, and when he called on a physician the suggestion was confirmed. In all human probability he caught it from kissing the babies. We are ready to wager the congressman will never quit it—kissing the babies. It seems hard on a man who has lived 40 years without catching whooping cough during infancy. Mr.
Smith thinks he is renewing his youth.—
