Prettyman was chairman of the convention and Frank Creech its secretary. The usual committees were appointed and the convention adjourned until after dinner. In the afternoon the secretary and tellers announced the total vote of the county primaries as follows:

No nominations were made for prosecuting attorney or circuit court commissioners, and they were left for the county committee to fill.

Committees were sent out for Judge Kinne and Frank P. Glazier, who were given the privilege of naming the delegates to the state and tenth district senatorial conventions respectively.

Judge Kinne thanked the convention for the honor extended him and said that if the nomination came to him next week or any other time it must come to him in an honorable manner.

The delegates named by Judge Kinne and endorsed by the convention are: E. P. Allen, Fred W. Green, A. F. Freeman, A. J. Waters, William Judson, W. W. Wedemeyer, John F. Lawrence, Jerome Knawilton, Junius E. Beal, H. G. Prettyman, Frank E. Jones, Seth Randall, Frank Creech, James Gilbert, M. F. Case, Martin Wackenhut, A. W. Wilkinson, George Burkhardt, George S. Wheeler, M. L. Raymond, Charles H. Greenman.

Frank P. Glazier promised, if elected, to go to Lansing without any strings tied to him and to use his best endeavors to well represent the Tenth senatorial district. The list of delegates he named were as follows: H. G. Prettyman, William Judson, W. W. Wedemeyer, John W. Haarer, James E. Harkins, E. P. Allen, Fred W. Green, George Cook, Abraham Woods, John Kalmbach, A. W. Wilkinson, Philip Schweinfurth, William Burtless, A. J. Waters, William Dresselhouse, Otto Luick, John F. Huehl, Chas. Gauntlett, Henry Steinbach, John Munn, James Wilbur. This delegation was also endorsed by the convention.

Charles E. Townsend, candidate for congress, made a fine speech, which was frequently applauded.

James E. Harkins, candidate for county clerk, made a neat speech and in response to a demand for him to sing, complied with "I Got Mine!" which he said did not allude to the nomination he had just received.

Other candidates also made brief remarks after which the convention adjourned.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

Some Significant Facts About Their Cost and Attendance.

The annual report of Delos M. Fall, state superintendent of public instruction shows that there are 88 districts in the state that have an enrollment of 5 pupils or less, and 1,004 that have from that number up to 15 pupils. The annual cost per pupil of the first named class is $99.50, and of the latter class $41. In no city school in the state, including the high school, does the cost per pupil exceed $19.40 per year. About one-sixth of the district schools in Michigan have an enrollment of 15 pupils or less.

Mr. Fall is an ardent advocate of what is known as the "Ohio plan" for the amelioration of this condition. It contemplates the abandonment of the small school buildings in townships and the concentration in large central buildings, more on a par with the city schools. An essential feature of the plan is the establishment of "routes" for the transfer of pupils the greater distances from home to school. The total expense, including the high school, under the "Ohio plan," does not seem to exceed the present plan. Ohio has tried both plans. Among the advantages of centralization are recounted more regular attendance; more interest taken and greater progress made; better teachers; more competition in the work.

ATHENS THEATER, ANN ARBOR.

Porter J. White in "David Caruth."

Unquestionably one of the most interesting local theatrical events of the year will be the appearance of Mr. Porter J. White in his new play, "David Caruth," which is dated for production at the Athens Theater, Ann Arbor, tonight, Sept. 25.

Arrested for Riding Through Grain Fields.

Yesterday, two men, on horseback, were seen riding at break-neck speed through the fields of John Wheeler near Jackson. They were evidently both foreigners by their peculiar European high top boots and cockney attire. Constable Bentley after a hard chase arrested both trespassers and they were both brought before Justice Doran when it was learned that the Celtic offenders were Murphy chasing Kelly in Hogan's Alley. At the Athens Theater, Ann Arbor, Monday, Sept. 29.

WAS MASSACHUSETTS KIND.

A New England Maid Who Had an Aversion for Split Infinitives and Freshness.

He overtook her on the roadside while wandering for his health in the Berkshires. "At last," he said, "I have found a typical milkmaid of old New England. See her big sunbonnet, her dress up to her shoe tops, her plain but neat calico, and the very pail itself. It is a morning for adventure and I will speak to her."

He quickened his walk and was soon near her, relates the New York Times.

"Fine morning this morning," he said. "I would like to help you carry the pail."

There was no reply, but he felt the roguish smile that he knew was hid under the sunbonnet. So he kept on doing all the talking until they reached the lane into which she was about to turn.

"Can I go with you?" he asked. She turned and faced him.

"No, sir, you may not, nor do I desire your attentions. It is bad enough to have a grown man splitting his infinitives, but when he shows his ignorance of the proper use of should and would and then caps the climax by using can for may, I think it is only my duty to tell him that the summer school is in session about ten miles from here."

HOW THE AUTUMN GIRL WILL DRESS

THE autumn girl, bless her, is not going to sweep up the streets in the way women have been doing for several years past. No, her skirts for the street quite clear the ground, and she reserves for theater and house wear the hampering costume that trails.

Rough goods are much liked by the autumn girl, friezes, chevrons and tweeds. They are shown this season in especially charming shades, and the blending of brown and red, deep greens and leaf-yellows seem very appropriate for fall wear. Some green, it may be but a line, is noticed in almost all the fabrics.

These gowns are quite tailored, and on many of them pipings of leather are used. Yesterday we saw a very effective Norfolk suit of rough brown and white trimmed with pipings of red leather. Not only is leather employed for the narrow pipings, but also for belts, collars and cuffs. For ourselves, we prefer a limited use of this material.

The skirts are made up without linings. Gored ones with the flare below the knee are liked, but the plaited skirts are gaining in favor. Those who do not find the hip yoke unbecoming—and it is very unbecoming to a thin figure—may use the smoothly fitted yoke and lower plaits. Basque jackets are being preferred now to the shorter Etons; the belted Norfolk and the blouse.

Buttons and pockets are much in evidence, and add quite an air to the outing, or street, suit, whichever you please to call it.

The shirt waist suit in light weight wool also forms part of the costume of the autumn girl. These suits are very trim and serviceable, and occupy for the winter the place the cotton ones did in the summer. For these costumes, cravat, belt and collar must be of the latest mode, and then a very desirable effect is obtained at comparatively small cost. Small checks and inconspicuous plaids are liked for the wool shirt waist suit.

Flounces and Fringes Will Be Worn Indoors

WHAT is taken off of the street gown this year is put on to the house gown. It sweeps and swishes in a very frivolous manner indeed.

And the frivolity is carried out in flounces and fringes. Not since 1830 have we had such a lot of flounces; in fact, there is a decided tendency to a return to the fashions of that day.

The all-black gown is considered elegant and modish, but one should be very sure of its becomingness. The plump woman need have no doubts about it, nor the very fair; but to the neutral-toned it is a trying costume. A thin black gown is an excellent adjunct to one's wardrobe, and an economical one. With unlined yoke and sleeves, it is suitable for any sort of evening wear; put in lining, and, lo, there is a gown that will do for church or afternoon visiting.

Evening gowns of soft, thin wool are liked very much just at present, are preferred to the rustling silks that have had such a long day. Made simply with accordion plaited skirt and blouse they are not at all elaborate affairs, although with a deep collar of lace such a costume looks decidedly dressy. For the soft woolens, albatross, nun's veiling, etc., a scarf of dress material should form the girle of the gown. Fringe trims clinging stuffs very acceptably, and on a recent importation of pale gray wool this trimming was noticed bordering fichu, elbow sleeves and overskirt.

White Hats To Reign Supreme This Fall

WHITE hats are the autumn's favorite, and bid fair to be more than a passing fad. The black and white combination is still a mark of elegance, and some of the best hats are white trimmed very simple with black, a wing being de rigueur. Crowns are low, brims wide. Wide is no name for it. Regular cart wheels, the new headgear appears, only the wheels look as though they had seen better days; a dent here, a dip there, a marked feature of all. Velvet is the most fashionable, as well as the most expensive, material used for these hats. A handsome black ostrich plume draped artistically about the sweeping brim of a big white velvet hat certainly is a creation that would tempt every daughter of Eve that beheld it. An emerald plume on a snowy hat is very chic, as green is still with us, and it is prophesied its vogue will not diminish for some time to come.

By the way, if you are the owner of ostrich feathers, or of an ostrich feather, you may bless your stars. They are very much in it now, and with the growing demand for them prices are soaring at a great rate. Ostrich feathers of every imaginable hue are being used by the milliner, purple, golden-brown, dark brown, pink, blue, as well as the emerald.

The dyeing of ostrich feathers is a difficult business, and requires the work of a specialist; and nowadays he must try all sorts of tricks with the plumes. Some are seen the quill white and the feathers black; some with one side of the plume all white, the other all black; or shading may be employed, ranging from golden to dark brown, with here a dash of black, there a splash of white. All sorts of liberties are taken this year with the ostrich's plumage.

NEW BEAUTY CHAIR.

Sitting in It Is Said to Restore Youth, Strengthen Muscles and Replace Tissues.

The latest thing to renew health and prolong life is a vibrating chair. By means of this peculiar bit of mechanism it is claimed that youth can be restored, muscles strengthened and wasted tissues replaced. The principle upon which the vibrating chair is worked is an old one. The chair has a heavy rubber seat and back. Underneath this is a coat of thin rubber. The heavy rubber contains perforations which are covered by the thin rubber. The seat and back of the chair are filled with water when the patient sits in the contrivance, and then a hammer, which strikes a rubber disk, is set in motion. This hammer starts vibratory waves in the water, and these waves are communicated to the body by means of the perforations in the chair. Lilian Russell and Bernhardt are using vibratory chairs, and this means of acquiring strength without expending energy is becoming quite a fad in New York. The vibratory chairs cost from $200 up, and consequently, will never become popular among the majority of beauty seekers. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Caring for Yolks of Eggs.

Sometimes yolks of eggs are left over when making a dish which calls for only whites; drop them gently in a bowl of cold water if you do not need them immediately. They will not spoil if they stand for several days. Handle them carefully so they will not break.

WHEN WE FALL ASLEEP.

Some Senses Become Dormant Before Others, That of Seeing Being the First.

When a man drops off to sleep his body does not do so all at once. Some senses become dormant before others, and always in the same order. As he becomes drowsy the eyes close and the sense of seeing is at rest.

It is quickly followed by the sense of taste. He next loses the sense of smell, and then, after a short interval, the tympanum becomes insensible to sound—or, rather, the nerves which run to the brain from it fail to convey any sense of hearing.

The sense of smell, oddly enough, though it is by no means the first to go, is the very last to come back.

The last sense to leave is that of touch, and in some hypersensitive people it is hardly ever dormant. This sense is also the first to return upon awakening. Then hearing follows suit; after that taste, and then the eye becomes able to flash impressions back to the brain.

The same gradual loss of power is observed in the muscles and sinews. Slumber begins at the feet, and slowly spreads up the limbs and trunk until it reaches the brain, when unconsciousness is complete and the body is at rest. —Chicago American.

BAG FOR CLOTHESPIN.

It Does Away with Continual Stooping and Habit of Putting the Pins in the Mouth.

Here is a drawing with directions for making my clothespin bag. Take a piece of blue denim two-thirds of a yard long and a half a yard wide, and cut like a; then take another piece the same length and 21 inches wide and cut like b; bind the pocket edge with white braid or tape, sew both pieces together and bind all around with the tape, sew around the top a waistband and finish with button and buttonhole. When hanging up clothes one can button the bag around herself, and it does away with continual stooping for clothespins and the unsanitary habit of putting them in the mouth. —Mrs. Nellie Norton, in Good Housekeeping.

The Art of Conversation.

Conversation should not be monologue. Do not start stories, which, like those in the "Arabian Nights," cannot be told in one evening. Suggestion in conversation is everything. The charm of conversation is the unexpected.

TWO SUGGESTIONS FOR AUTUMN

THE first gown is of almond green cloth. The skirt is trimmed with groups of narrow folds, or tucks, arranged in festoons and with festooned bands of velvet bordered with little gauze ruffles of the same shade.

The blouse is trimmed with the festooned folds and with little straps of the cloth and velvet fastened with gold buttons. These straps border the fronts which open over a lace jabot. The sleeves are trimmed to correspond and the puffs are of guipure striped with bands of the cloth. The girle is of velvet.

The second gown is of black taffeta. The skirt is trimmed at the bottom, simulating a flounce, with bands of the silk bordered with cream lace beading, in which black velvet ribbon is run. These bands are ornamented with motifs of cream lace.

The bolero and sleeves are also trimmed with these bands and motifs and the former has a shoulder collar of guipure, which extends way down over the sleeves, forming long, odd epaulets. The sleeves are finished with cuffs of original design, composed of shaped folds of black velvet. The bolero opens over a blouse of white silk, or lawn, with fancy cravat and girle of light blue silk, or satin.

DON'T GIVE UP.

Don't be discouraged by past efforts to find relief and cure from the myriads of ills that come from sick kidneys. You may pass nights of sleepless tossing annoyed by frequent urination. Your back may ache like a toothache or sudden twitches and twinges of backache pain make life a misery. Perhaps you have nervous spells, are weak, tired out, depressed. There is cure for all of this and for every trouble of the bladder and kidneys. Read this case and note it tells how well the cure was tested.

Charles Lindgren, a sealer of freight cars on the L. S. & M. S. R. R., La Porte, Ind., says: "I have greater faith in Doan's Kidney Pills to-day than I had in the fall of 1897, when I began taking them and made a public statement of the result. At that time I had suffered with lameness and soreness of the back, which was so excruciating that I could scarcely turn in bed, and Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured this trouble. I am always ready to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills personally to anyone requiring a kidney remedy. After a lapse of three years I make this statement, which shows my undoubted faith in the preparation."

A FREE TRIAL of this great Kidney medicine which cured Mr. Lindgren will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, 50-cents per box.

The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. The Republican state judicial convention is in session at Grand Rapids today.

Everything points to the selection of Judge W. L. Carpenter, of Detroit, for the vacant supreme court judgeship.

Jackson Republicans have nominated Robert Campbell, of the law firm of Parkinson & Campbell, Michigan Central attorneys, as their candidate for the legislature for the Jackson city district. He is a son of ex-Senator Andrew Campbell, of Pittsfield, in this county.

President Roosevelt has had to abandon his western trip. On Tuesday while at Indianapolis, Ind., an abscess which had formed on his knee as a result of the bruise he received when the trolley car ran into his carriage at Pittsfield, Mass., had to be lanced, as it was giving him much trouble, and he will have to remain quietly at home until it gets better.

Mayor Dawson, of Ypsilanti, has vetoed the ordinance granting a franchise to an independent telephone company. Sensible man. Ypsilanti does not need a second telephone company so long as the Michigan Telephone Co. does what is right, gives good service and does not charge any more than it does at present. Two telephone companies in a town are a burden on the people.

Owing to his continued illness Judge George H. Durand, of Flint, has been constrained to relinquish his nomination for the office of governor of Michigan on the Democratic ticket. This enforced action on Judge Durand's part will be a source of great regret to his many friends not only in the Democratic ranks but also in the Republican party. Had the Judge been able to make this campaign and have been elected he would have proved himself a governor that every man in Michigan would have felt just reason to be proud of.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The pastor having returned from conference regular services will be held at the M. E. church next Sunday.

Today is the Democratic county convention at Ann Arbor. A warm fight is expected over the nomination for sheriff.

The missions-fest at Emanuel's church, Manchester, last Sunday was very largely attended. The contribution amounted to $378.

Miss Mabel Hodge, of Jackson, was the guest of her cousins, the Misses Myra and Mary Hafner, of Sylvan, Saturday and Sunday.

The morning service at St. Paul's Evangelical church will be held next Sunday at the regular time, to be followed by Holy Communion. Sunday school will be held at 9:30 a. m.

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Speer, Mr. Wm. W. Norman and Miss Vernetta Mae Daubersmith were married in the presence of a few friends by Rev. E. E. Caster. Delightful refreshments were served after the ceremony.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Caster have returned home from Saginaw where he attended the Detroit M. E. conference. On his way there Tuesday of last week Mr. Caster stopped off at Holly and performed the marriage ceremony of Mr. Charles Smith to Miss Caddie Mott.

The exercises in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the first Normal school building will be held at Normal hall, Ypsilanti, Monday, Oct. 6, afternoon and evening. There will be addresses by Perry F. Powers, Prof. A. Lodeman and C. T. Grawn, Delos Fall, Pres. L. H. Jones and others, interspersed with music.

The department of state announces that the bean crop this year will, in most cases, be far below the average. On light soil, where the rain did not do so much damage, and where it was possible to cultivate, the yield will be fair; but on low, flat land many fields have been abandoned entirely, or become so foul with weeds that the yield will be light.

According to the Ann Arbor Argus a project is on foot with ample capital behind it to build two dams on the Huron river with 18 feet fall, each to furnish a 500-horse power capacity, which will be used to transmit power and light to Jackson, Grass Lake, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. The dams will be on the site of the old McMahon dam at Ann Arbor and on the site of the Birkett dam at Dexter. The Washtenaw Power Co. is said to be behind the project. The new dams will be built with a view of supplying water both in winter and summer. They will cost $40,000 to $50,000 each.

A Parson's Noble Act.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-round cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed by Glazier & Stimson.

Notable for Their Durability.

A most important feature of the flat, indestructible records used on the Columbia Disc Graphophone is their durability. The material used is a composition exclusively controlled by the Columbia Phonograph Company, pioneers and leaders in the talking machine art. While its peculiar character admits of its receiving the most minute sound vibrations, the composition is hard enough to resist wear. For this reason Columbia Disc Records outlast all others while they are vastly superior in quality. Instead of being scratchy and muffled, they are smooth, clear, resonant, and possessed of a volume that is truly marvelous. Only those who own Columbia disc machines and the perfected disc records of the Columbia Phonograph Company, have any just conception of the progress that has been made in bringing this type of machines and records to the highest possible point of desirability.

The Disc Graphophone is made in three types, selling at $15, $20 and $30. Seven inch records 50c each, $5 per dozen; 10 inch records $1 each, $10 per dozen. The Graphophone and Columbia Records were awarded the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

The Columbia Phonograph Co., 288-240 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application.

Michigan G. A. R. special train to 36th annual encampment at Washington, D. C., will leave Chelsea at 5:37 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 4. Fair for round trip $12.20. See ticket agent for further particulars.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints.

URGES RECIPROCITY.

President Roosevelt Makes Notable Address at Detroit.

Declares Establishment of Reciprocal Arrangements is a Duty We Owe to Cuba—Spends a Very Busy Day.

Detroit, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt's two days visit to Detroit came to an end Monday evening at the conclusion of a banquet tendered him in Light Guard armory by the Spanish war veterans, the opening of whose third annual reunion he attended during the morning. It was a brilliant event. Nearly 800 men sat at the tables on the floor of the big armory, and the galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity by brilliantly gowned women and their escorts. When the president rose to begin his address which was the first of the evening, he received an ovation. The men on the floor stood up and cheered again and again, while the clapping of hands from the gallery was like the crackle of musketry.

Talks on Cuba.

During his address the president said, after referring to the establishment of the republic of Cuba and the part taken therein by the United States:

"Neither our duty to nor our interest in the island have come to an end with the establishment of its independence. Cuba's immediate proximity to the United States rendered its well-being of such interest to us that we were forced to interfere in its interest by force of arms. For the same reason its future welfare cannot but be a matter of grave concern to us. We do not desire Cuba to stand toward any other nation in the same relations of intimate friendship and alliance that we desire to see it adopt toward us. It must therefore be in a certain sense a part of our international political system and it accepted this position when it accepted the Platt amendment.

Must Have Reciprocity.

"But it is out of the question for us to expect that it will assume such a position toward us with regard to international politics without, at the same time sharing somewhat in the benefits of our economic system. It was for this reason that President McKinley urged and that I have since urged and shall continue to urge the need of establishing closer relations with Cuba by reciprocity. We urge reciprocity because it is for our interests to control the Cuban market, because we are bound to place the Cubans on a peculiar standing economically when they consent, in our interests as well as their own, to assume a peculiar status internationally and because it is fitting for a great and generous republic to stretch out a helping hand toward her feeble sister just starting to tread the path of independence.

Case Stands Alone.

"The case stands by itself, and there can be no other like it. Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines have relations of varying intimacy to us; and they have either been admitted within our economic system or have been given some of the benefits thereof. Cuba, though independent, also stands in a peculiar position towards us, and should receive in similar fashion a measure of benefit from and partial inclusion within our system. I do not believe a moment's harm will come to any American interest from the adoption of a reasonable measure of reciprocity with Cuba. I am certain that the adoption of such a measure will be in the interest of our people as a whole."

Received with Cheers.

That portion of the address in regard to Cuban reciprocity was received with very marked enthusiasm and approval. When the president announced his determination to continue his efforts to secure reciprocity with Cuba, the armory rang with applause and shouts of approval, and the president stood, with upraised hand, several minutes before he could proceed.

The declaration that we intend to make our friendship toward Cuba of a continuing character and that we intend to stand by her was received with more cheers and fresh enthusiasm.

CUBA IS RICHER.

More Money Due the New Government Than Was Supposed When Control Was Assumed.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Cuba is nearly $1,000,000 richer than the new republic was supposed to be when Gen. Wood turned over the reins of government to President Palma. The Cuban government took control May 20 last, and on that day Gen. Wood announced that he had turned into the Cuban treasury $635,170.18.

Since that time the auditor of the island has been working on the books of the military government. Monday he closed up his work and it was discovered that instead of the sum stated by Gen. Wood there was actually due the new government $1,612,508.13.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT.

Sheriff at Scranton Is Unable to Quell Outbreak—Three Men Shot.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 23.—Sheriff Schadt, of Lackawanna county, Monday night at 7:30 o'clock telegraphed Gov. Stone to send troops to his assistance.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says the Thirteenth regiment, headquarters of which are in this city, has been ordered out in response to the sheriff's request.

The sheriff had just given to the newspaper men a proclamation announcing he would call troops if the lawlessness did not cease, when he received a series of telephone calls to quell disturbances up the valley. He found on investigation that the situation was such that he could not cope with it, and sent a call for troops. Adj. Gen. Stewart called the sheriff by phone at nine o'clock and had a long conference with him. The adjutant general suggested that a posse of the members of the Citizens' alliance be called upon for assistance. While the sheriff was preparing to act on this suggestion he received more reports of violence up and down the valley, and at once sent another urgent telegram to the governor calling for immediate assistance.

The worst of Monday night's outbreaks occurred at Archbald. A crowd of 200 strikers, mostly foreigners, ransacked the quarters occupied by the 40 men employed at the Raymond washery of the Ontario & Western company, while the men were at work, and their meeting with the men as they were returning drove them back to the refuge of the washery. The mob then returned to the colliery proper, drove out the engineers, firemen, pumpmen and guards and took possession of the breaker. The plant of the Crescent Electric Light company, which is supplied with steam from the breaker, had to shut down and the whole region around was left in darkness. In the attack on the breaker two men were shot, one a striker and the other a workman. Their names or condition could not be learned.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 23.—This town was in a state of excitement for several hours Monday afternoon. Sheriff Beddall and half a dozen deputies arrived in town about one o'clock and attempted to arrest the strikers who have been taking coal from the mine breaches on the Girard estate. The men resisted arrest, and the sheriff appealed to Gen. Gobin for assistance. The general ordered the Second city troop to the scene to protect the sheriff in the discharge of his duties. Meantime a mob of about 5,000 people had gathered in the vicinity of the breaches. With the protection which the presence of the troops afforded the sheriff's men arrested three coal pickers, but the rest succeeded in escaping. The prisoners were taken to the Pennsylvania railroad station surrounded by troops and followed by the mob hissing and jeering. About the time they were passing Gen. Gobin's headquarters the First battalion of the Twelfth regiment came dashing up the street with Col. Clement at their head. As the battalion approached the mob it formed in company front and the crowd scattered in every direction. It was the intention to take the prisoners to the jail at Scottsville, but while they were at the station the strike leaders procured bail for them and they were released.

ARE NOT RELEASED.

Habeas Corpus Case Is Decided Against Some of St. Louis Alleged Boodlers.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—Word was received from Jefferson City Monday night that Judge Gantt, of the state supreme court, rendered his decision at five o'clock in the afternoon on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed last week at Jefferson City to secure the release of former delegates Schumacher, Helms, Tamblin and Schmeltzer, now in jail here on the charges of bribery and perjury. In his decision Judge Gantt remanded the prisoner to the custody of the sheriff and refused to fix the amount of bail. Recently a fund to defray the expenses of prosecuting the boodler cases by public subscription was started, and County Attorney Folk has issued a statement that $8,316 has so far been contributed.

THE LIE IS PASSED.

Sensational Incident of Indianapolis Encampment of Spanish War Veterans.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—The differences that have existed between high officers of the Spanish-American war veterans culminated at the second session of the encampment Monday afternoon in a sensational incident. During the course of a discussion on the validity of certain records of the last encampment, Adj. Gen. Liller, who was removed from office Sunday night, gave Col. Russell B. Harrison the lie direct. The latter made a dash for the deposited official, but was caught and held by Col. E. R. Hutchins, of Iowa, and Dan S. Sauer, of Louisville.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Big Conflagration.

Fire destroyed the 600-foot freight shed of the Grand Trunk and Ann Arbor railways at Durand, consuming thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise, burned about 30 cars standing in the yards, cut off telegraph service and has stalled all trains. It is believed that the total loss will be $100,000. But one man was hurt, Brake-man Woodhouse, whose arm was broken. It is alleged that the fire was caused by a freight handler who threw a lighted match on the oil-soaked floor of a car.

To Have a Medal.

Capt. James S. Donahue, who is to be presented with a gold medal by the United States government in reward for having saved the lives of 18 persons between the years 1875 and 1892, has served for the last 28 years as keeper of the United States lighthouse at South Haven. Born in Vermont, Capt. Donahue became a sailor at the age of 12 and for many years followed the sea. He also served in the civil war and lost a leg in battle.

Specimen of Lost Art.

P. Julian Latham, in charge of the construction of the new life-saving station at the Lake Superior ship canal, has a copper knife—a perfect specimen of the lost art of tempering copper—which was found while excavating for the foundation for the buildings the other day. The knife is 9 1/2 inches long, the blade at its widest part measuring 1 1/4 inches, while the metal is three-sixteenths of an inch thick.

Will Make the Race.

Despite the paralytic stroke which he suffered a week ago, and from which he is slowly recovering, Judge George H. Durand, of Flint, will remain the democratic candidate for governor and will head his party's ticket in the fall campaign. This decision was arrived at at a special meeting of the democratic state central committee in Grand Rapids.

Boat Capsizes.

Harry Ford, of Fruitport, and Miss Effie Reams, of Kalamazoo, were drowned in Spring lake, at Grand Haven. They were members of a yachting party of seven. Their boat capsized. The balance of the party was rescued. Ford was 22 years old, a son of J. C. Ford, of the Spring Lake Iron company, and lost his life in trying to save Miss Reams.

Three Men Drowned.

During a gale on Gull lake, at Kalamazoo, a steel rowboat containing A. C. Miller, of Battle Creek, and Herman Breuer and Henry Breuer, of Yorkville, was capsized and the three men were drowned. The circumstances of the accident were not learned until the oars and a seat of the boat were found floating in the lake.

Civil Service Examination.

The civil service commission announced an examination to be held at Grand Rapids on October 9 for the position of deputy surveyor and clerk in the customs service. From the eligibles thus obtained deputies will be appointed for Grand Rapids and other cities at a salary of $60 per month.

Drowned at Detroit.

The steam barge H. Houghten, owned in Detroit, sunk at her dock, and two of the crew were drowned in their berths. They were: William Daniel, aged 16, and Edward Close, aged 18, the later of Harbor Beach.

Drowned While Fishing.

Leroy and Walter Woodruff, aged 24 and 18 years, respectively, sons of a prominent farmer, and William Tennant, a brother-in-law, 21 years old, were drowned in Indian lake, near Manistique. They were fishing.

News Briefly Stated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, mother of Frank Anderson, who was fatally burned in Carsonville, died a morning later. She was 80 years of age and was unable to sustain the terrible shock of her son's death.

Several large barns on the farm of Frank Trowbridge, north of Lansing, in Olive township, were burned, together with all this season's crop. The loss is $5,000, with $3,500 insurance.

Lansing is claiming a population of 20,000 on the strength of the number of names in the new city directory. By the United States census two years ago the population was 16,000.

W. Z. Hutchinson, of Flint, was elected at Denver president of the National Bee Keepers' association.

James Seed, a well-known dry goods dealer in Bay City for many years, died of locomotor ataxia after a long illness.

The corner stone of Menominee's new $35,000 opera house was laid under the direction of the grand lodge of masons of Michigan.

Frank Trotter, a steeple painter at Ypsilanti, had a narrow escape from death while painting a smokestack at Cement City. In changing his position his seat swung off to one side, leaving him hanging by his hands 175 feet in the air.

RELATIONS ARE STRAINED.

Great Britain and Venezuela Quarrel Over Possession of Patos Island.

London, Sept. 23.—Diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela are on the verge of being severed. Any day, almost any hour, may bring the announcement that the British minister at Caracas has been given his passport, with corresponding action toward the Venezuelan representative in London. The cause of the crisis does not seem to be confined to any particular incident, but consists in various differences which culminated in Venezuela assuming such an angry attitude as to leave Downing street fully impressed with the belief that the Venezuelan government intends to force matters to a crucial issue. That a diplomatic rupture would result in hostilities is a contingency thus far scarcely contemplated. The present diplomatic arrangements are so strained that, to quote a responsible British official, it would make really very little difference if the fact became public property by the absence of the diplomatic representatives from Caracas and London.

The view of the foreign office is that affairs have reached a stage where it is impossible to deal satisfactorily with Venezuela in any matter which may come up. In proof of this contention, the foreign office instances the report of the United States minister at Caracas, Herbert W. Bowen, announcing that the Venezuelan government had protested against the British flag being raised over Patos (or Goose) island, over which the Venezuelan government claimed sovereignty. According to the British government's understanding, Patos island belongs to Great Britain just as much as Trinidad, and so far as known no question as to its ownership has ever arisen. Inhabitants of the island have recently been shot or otherwise endangered through the action of Venezuelans, whether government or revolutionary partisans is not known. For purposes of protection, local West Indian authorities ordered the British flag to be prominently displayed on the island, hence the protest which the foreign office says is only one of many.

IN FULL RETREAT.

Colombian Revolutionists Abandon Camp at Chorrera—Danger of Battle at Panama Over.

Panama, Sept. 23.—Government soldiers who were captured by Gen. Herrera at Agua Dulce, and who were compelled to join his army, and who succeeded in escaping, have arrived here. They confirm the report that the whole revolutionary army has abandoned its camp near Chorrera and is retreating towards Agua Dulce. It is reported that Herrera has incorporated in his army all the guerrilla bands he can induce to join him. The abandonment of the Chorrera camp, it is claimed, dispels all fear of an interruption of traffic on the railroad line, and renders it impossible for a battle to occur at Panama or Colon. Reinforcements of Colombian troops continue to arrive on the isthmus, which it is alleged undoubtedly caused Gen. Herrera's retreat.

Washington, Sept. 23.—A dispatch received at the Colombian legation announces the retreat of the rebels to Agua Dulce, says railway traffic is perfectly free, and the interior of Colombia completely pacified. It also says the rebels admit the hopelessness of their cause. The legation officials assert that the retreat of the rebels to Agua Dulce marks practically the collapse of the rebellion.

SAYS HE IS THE MAN.

Suspect Under Arrest at Derby, Conn., Identified as Young, Wanted for Murder of Annie Pulitzer.

Derby, Conn., Sept. 23.—The prisoner who has been held here on suspicion that he is William Hooper Young, wanted in connection with the murder of Annie Pulitzer, of New York, has been positively identified by Mr. MacLevy, of Brooklyn, a physical culture instructor, who came here with Detective Sergeant Hughes, of New York. MacLevy said the prisoner is W. H. Young, without doubt, thus corroborating the opinion of Gustave A. Ernest, who had previously identified the man. The prisoner is said to have admitted to Mr. MacLevy that he is William Hooper Young.

During the interview with the officers, which followed Young's admission of his identity, he is said to have made a confession regarding the crime. The exact nature of this confession was not made public. It was said that Young had spoken of an accomplice, but one of the officers when questioned about this replied: "If you say simply that a confession has been made, you will tell the whole story." From another apparently reliable source, however, came the information that Young did say that he had an accomplice.

A peddler entered one of the skyscrapers and proceeded to the thirteenth story. There all luck overtook him and he was kicked down the stairway. The noise attracted the attention of tenants on the twelfth floor, who appeared on the scene in time to accelerate the motion of the unfortunate as he passed down to the eleventh floor. Successively and numerous additions to the propelling force as he passed each floor finally landed him in the street in a state of intense excitement. As soon as he could regain his feet and breath and behold the magnificent building and the height from which he had descended with such uniform and rapid progress, he remarked: "Mein Gott! HAD CRAZY SPELLS.

West Pembroke, Me., Sept. 22.—The thirteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. A. L. Smith suffered with a peculiar affliction which her mother describes as follows:

"It is two years now since she was first taken with crazy spells.

"They kept on coming at intervals and I could get nothing to do her any good.

"The doctors gave me no encouragement. They all said they could not help her.

"The crazy spell would last about nine days, then she would be well about nine days, but would eat very little and was very yellow. Even the whites of her eyes were yellow.

"I heard that Dodd's Kidney Pills were a great remedy for young girls and decided to try them.

"After taking one box she was completely restored and she has not had one bad spell since. Of course we continued to use the pills and she used altogether five boxes last fall.

"In March I thought I saw symptoms of the spells again and I got six boxes of which she has taken four and is in splendid health.

"Her case was certainly a remarkable one and we are very thankful to Dodd's Kidney Pills for the great good they have done my daughter."

Small Talk Concerning Some of the Men of Wealth in Greater New York

THE housing of men, their shelter from the often blessing rain, their bulwark against the out-of-door that means health is an interesting study.

"Joe Schwab, brother of 'Charlie' Schwab, of the steel trust—no one thinks of speaking of either by his baptismal name—illustrates one phase of it. He has just hired a suite of apartments in a great new apartment house for $10,000 a year. The price, as things go, is not excessive. There are 20 great rooms, high and grand, decorated and supplied in the finest style, commanding the choicest, that is to say, the most fashionable views. Indeed, the owner will not make more than five per cent. upon his investment; if he owned a tier of ramshackle tenements in the slums where people swarm in tiny, ill-lighted rooms; he might draw ten or even 15 per cent. clear upon his investment.

In another way the payment is not extreme. Suppose Mr. Schwab were renting a house. The highest rental ever reported here is that paid two years ago by young Cornelius Vanderbilt, the "disinherited," for the Golet mansion—a matter of $35,000 a year. And this figure again is a trifle by comparison with the cost of building. Carnegie's house may represent, at the lowest rate of figuring taxes, interest and repairs, $400,000 a year. Senator Clark and Charles Schwab, for their new houses, will pay not quite so much; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, for her gloomy "dower house" on Fifth avenue, even more.

And even that is not the limit. There is the "protection" of so valuable a property. Mr. Carnegie has bought the land for more than a block about him—though he has been able to resell much of it at an advance and under strict restrictions, to guarantee that no unseemly use shall be made of any shelter within sight of the former ragged messenger boy.

The most recent example of this sort—you will observe that I have led up to it by degrees—is that of George W. Vanderbilt. Opposite his house on Fifth avenue, land had been bought at a cost of $825,000 for an 18-story apartment hotel to be built at a further cost of about $3,000,000. The hotel would dwarf and shade Vanderbilt. So it is not to be built. Mr. Vanderbilt has bought the site, including the huge cellar already dug, and will erect two private houses. The present cost will be enormous, the future cost greater yet, for the region is already too far downtown for residences. In the end Mr. Vanderbilt must move north or out of town altogether, and let all his houses be torn down.

The Problem of "Protection." THE necessity of protecting real estate is a vexatious one, exposing one to all manner of blackmail. Three times within a month have disappointed strikers advertised "to let" houses in fashionable regions "to colored tenants only." It is a device not apt to succeed. Colored people have some pride, and do not relish being used as clubs to discipline white men.

Against another sort of invasion a "select region" has no defense. Thus John F. Carroll has a new house nearing completion on Fifty-seventh street, overlooking the great palace of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt and the almost equally famous ex-homes of Mrs. C. P. Huntington and W. C. Whitney, and that of Mrs. Oelrichs.

Carroll is one of the many possible "bosses" to succeed Croker in Tammany Hall. He is past middle age, and looks like Dickens' Fat Boy. He has made a great deal of money in politics, and can afford to pay nearly half a million for a house on a fashionable side street. In the Hall Carroll is known as "the iceman." He and Mayor Van Wyck were the heaviest stockholders in the ice trust scandal that helped to defeat Tammany with democratic votes. He was a poor and uneducated boy; how he got his money he knows and isn't telling.

Does a statesman of no discoverable means lose caste with the people by evidences of great wealth? Not necessarily. The voters of the East side like to see their favorite "leaders" live in fine houses and wear fine clothes. Carroll has not left his district to build a fine house. The trouble with Croker was not so much that he became enormously rich without discoverable resources, but that he went to England to spend his money. That Tammany does not like.

The Noble Army of Tax Dodgers.

NOT that Mr. Croker had examples among the sort of people sometimes known as "better element." Mr. Henry E. Huntington has joined the noble army of tax dodgers, already made illustrious by Mrs. Astor, Mr. Gerry, long the president of the "Children's society," and a host of others.

The case of the Huntingtons is peculiar. The gloomy, great mansion that the old man built and never lived in stands with drawn shades at the corner "just east of Johnny Carroll's," as we must learn to say. In the care of its construction, the expensive special carvings which adorn it, and other features, rather expensive than showy, it is the modern counterpart of A. T. Stewart's mansion further down, of whose demolition I have written. I know quite well the young wood carver, not an Italian in this case, but a Yankee from Mrs. Huntington's own state, Connecticut, whose task it was for years to make a chest of drawers worth a thousand dollars, simply by putting upon it his well-paid time and to do other like feats. Beautiful, of course; but at present, of how little use to anyone!

The Case of Archer Huntington.

HAD started to say that the late Mr. Huntington left the active direction of his great estate to Henry E. Huntington, who has just shaken the dust of the heavily-taxed city from his feet and gone to live in Oneonta. One way to find where that is to look on the map. No description would place it very closely.

The elder Huntington did a rather fine thing in refraining from the effort to bend the children—who are adoptive children, and naturally widely divergent in their tastes—to his own ways. Henry likes affairs, and he has his share of business. Archer Huntington likes books, and his adoptive father left him the means to enjoy them unbothered. And this cultured American man of great wealth has just brought out, not a historical novel, like Paul Leicester Ford's, but a scholarly translation of the Spanish ballad of "The Cid," an undertaking in which he challenges comparison not only with jolly old jinglers like Aytoun and Scott, but with men like John Hookham Frere and John Ormsby. Mr. Huntington made careful work of it, lived in Spain to examine original sources and is certified by native scholars to have accurately transferred every shade of meaning.

Mr. Huntington is not the only man of wealth to become a scholar. George Vanderbilt is a deep student, though he has never published; but he has dropped bookish ways since his marriage. Paul L. Ford is dead. Lodge, Roosevelt and others, far too few of that sort, are rather "scholars in politics" than scholars in scholarship. Gladstone was a wide rather than a deep student, and he, too, is dead. Dean Hoffman, the theologian, is dead. The marriage of books and wealth is not so common among the younger men that Huntington's example could pass unnoticed.

Morgan as a Savant.

THE case of J. P. Morgan is rather odd. He is one of the best educated men in our public life. After the usual "colleging" here he went to a German university and even in that home of scholars made a record as a wonderful mathematician. But he has applied his learning only to dollars and cents, which he well knows how to add. Trace of his early scholarship and his aristocratic upbringing are chiefly noted in his love of rare books and art objects. This taste is with him a matter of knowledge; he is not like the American millionaire in "Henrietta" who bought Meissonier by the square inch. Morgan's houses both in London and

New York are filled to overflowing with books and art stuff, and he has just completed arrangements to erect in New York a private library and gallery that will have few peers in the world: Morgan lives well down-town in an old-fashioned but very large house, not on Fifth avenue. He is to have in the rear a library 125 feet by 98 in ground dimensions. In cost, the place will not be remarkable, the land standing in at about $500,000 and the building plain. But you may be sure that it is fireproof. And if you except the Borgheze and a few other Roman and Florentine collections which the Italian government will not let the present owners sell, it will shelter the finest private collection in the world: There is nothing like it in England. The London Times has editorially bemoaned Morgan's purchases as stripping Britain.

When Morgan gets after an art exhibit his tactics are those of the late Mr. Tilden. The sage of Greystone once sent to an agent abroad instructions to buy a certain brand of wine at the auction of a nobleman's effects.

The agent, knowing the value of the wine, cabled back: "What limit?" "Buy it, I said," came the instant reply; and you might fancy that with it the wires snarled.

OWEN LANGDON.

BUNDLES IN WASHINGTON.

They May Be Taken Into the Treasury Building, But May Not Be Taken Out.

Among all the departments in Washington the most strict is the treasury. A citizen may carry anything that he likes into the treasury building, but when he undertakes to carry anything bulky out of the building he is apt to get into trouble if he does not explain with readiness, says the New York Mail and Express.

A visitor to Washington the other day carried a fairly large package into the building. Nobody said a word to him about it when he was going in, but when he started out with the package he was held up, made to open it, and to explain all about himself and his business.

The good sense of the rule is apparent. At the capital it is against the rules to carry any sort of a bundle into the building. The fear is that somebody will carry in a bomb. The rule was never enforced rigorously until the senate took up the Sherman repeal bill. At that time the public mind became so influenced against the delay in the senate that violence was feared, and the rule was put into active operation and continued for some years.

Then it dropped out of sight until the Spanish war excitement came on, when it was again enforced, and it is still enforced rather strongly, although during the last session of congress a few cameras were allowed in the building.

NEW SPORT WITH A BULL.

An Innovation of the Arena Which Is Not Well Received by the People of Spain.

Weary of ordinary bull-fights, some young men in Madrid recently invented a novel sport, reports a London paper. Procuring a wild bull, they managed to saddle and bridle it in the same manner as a horse and then drove it out into a large arena, where a popular jockey was waiting with the intention of trying to mount the infuriated animal.

The seats around the arena were filled with spectators, and great was the excitement as the jockey approached the bull and dexterously endeavored to vault on its back. For a few minutes the animal foiled him successfully, but finally the jockey got into the saddle and then there was a wild race around the arena.

Unfortunately, one of the girths broke just as the bull was beginning to grow tired and the jockey was thrown to the ground.

As the officials who have charge of the bull-fights have expressed their disapproval of this novel sport, it is scarcely likely that it will become popular in Madrid.

How the Trouble Begun.

An old woman living some distance from Manchester, Ky., was summoned as a witness to tell what she knew about a fight at her house several nights before, in which three or four people were killed. She mounted the stand with evident reluctance and many misgivings, and, when questioned by the court as to what she knew about the matter, said: "Well, jedge, the first thing I knowed about it was when Bill Sanders called Tom Smith a liar en' Tom knocked him down with a stick of wood. One of Bill's friends then hit Tom with a knife, slicin' a big piece out of him. Sam Jones, who was a friend of Tom's, then shot the other fellow, en' two more shot him, en' three or four others got cut right smart by somebody. That caused excitement, jedge, en' they commenced fittin'."

How It Looked.

"Do you think Clarence is really engaged to that Gotox girl?" "Well, I see his tailor has trusted him for another suit of clothes," Judge.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, Ga., and Its Pastor and Elder.

THE day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true today of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

A dignified representative of the Presbyterian church in the person of Rev. E. G. Smith does not hesitate to state publicly that he has used Peruna in his family and found it cured when other remedies failed. In this statement the Rev. Smith is supported by an elder in his church.

Rev. E. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"Having used Peruna in my family for some time it gives me pleasure to testify to its true worth.

"My little boy seven years of age had been suffering for some time with catarrh of the lower bowels. Other remedies had failed, but after taking two bottles of Peruna the trouble almost entirely disappeared. For this special malady I consider it well nigh a specific.

"As a tonic for weak and worn out people it has a few or no equals."—Rev. E. G. Smith.

Mr. M. J. Rossman, a prominent merchant of Greensboro, Ga., and an elder in the Presbyterian church of that place, has used Peruna, and in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, writes as follows:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys and tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. Peruna was recommended to me by several friends, and after using a few bottles I am pleased to say that the long looked for relief was found and I am now enjoying better health than I have for years, and can heartily recommend Peruna to all similarly afflicted. It is certainly a grand medicine."—M. J. Rossman.

Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
