president Mitchell Makes Two Important Addresses.

Urges Unanimous Approval of the Plan of Arbitration-Believes Operators Will Act Fairly in Reinstating Old Employes.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 21 .- In his address to the mine workers' convention Monday, after expressing admiration for the men for the heroic struggle they had made, gratitude to fellow workers in this and other lands for the hearty encouragement and material support given the strikers, declaring that no feeling of malice was entertained toward opponents, and asserting that there should be and need be no irreconcilable conflict between organized labor and organized capital, President Mitcheel spoke as follows:

Advises Acceptance. "The proposition submitted for your consideration may have objectionable features and in its detail may not meet with the unanimous approval of our people, but it is immeasurably better as now presented than when originally offered by the representatives of the coal corporations. I am firm in my onviction that the prompt acceptance of this proposal will secure to the anthracite mine workers and those dependent upon them a greater measure of justice than they could attain by continuing the conflict; I believe that the prompt acceptance of this proposition will secure to the mine workers a greater degree of justice than they have enjoyed in the past.

"The people of our country await with anxious expectancy the result of your action; the eyes of the nation are centered upon you, and friends and foes alike demand the submission of issues involved in this strike to the tribunal nominated by the president of the United States. That there are discordant elements in this convention, that there are dissatisfied ones at home, I am fully aware, but, gentlemen, with all the earnestness of which I am possessed I urge that you give your approval to the action of your executive officers who have recommended acceptance of the proposition that the strike be declared off and all men are then to return to work in the positions and working places occupied by them prior to the inauguration of the strike and that all questions at issue be submitted for adjustment to the tribunal selected by the president of the United

Mr. Mitchell's remarks during the discussion on the question of reinstatement of engineers and firemen at the afternoon session, were as fol-

"I desire to inform you that the president of your organization has done all he can to learn the attitude of the companies towards the men who are now on strike. As you know, the companies refuse direct negotiations with us. Through intermediaries we have received assurance that the companies are going to meet the issues fairly, that they are not disposed to blacklist the men; that they do not propose to be vindictive; that as far as possible men are to be returned to their old places. It may take some time before that can be brought about, and it may be that some few men will not be restored to their former positions at all. When you vote on this proposition, you must do it with as full knowledge of the situation as I can give you.

All to Be Treated Alike, "Now let me emphasize this point: That the poorest boy that worked in a breaker is as dear to us as the man who ran the best engine; that while we shall try with all the power we have to get every man that struck back to his old job, we will make special efforts for none and show special favors to none. As far as it is within the power of the union we shall afford protection to every man, union or nonunion, who went out on strike with us. But, gentlemen, it may be true that some will be sacrificed, and, much as we shall regret that, I desire to say that no battle was ever fought, no victory was ever won that did not carry with it some victims. Lives have been lost to gain the most brilliant victories that were ever won in the world. "If it appeals to your judgment to accept the recommendations of your officers, if you decide to defer to the judgment of the president of your country, if you wish to be guided by the advice of your friends all over the land and decide to return to work, the United Mine Workers of America will protect the man who happens to be left out of his job. In our pledge to the president of the United States, in which we notified him that we would recommend to you a resumption of work, we said to him that we should recommend a return of our people to their old jobs; and if the coal companies fail to give our men their old places, if they fail to treat them reasonably, we shall carry the question. to the tribunal named by the president 75 per cent. of the normal output will and ask that tribunal to decide that be made. Out of 20,000 employes in the ed on the Menominee river and its we are entitled to the work we left district all but 2,000 will be given em. when we went on strike."

A LIVELY SCENE.

Question Time in the House of Commons Made Very Interesting by Irish Members.

London, Oct. 21.-The Irish nationalists were much in evidence at question time in the house of commons Mondey. They bombarded the Irish secretary, Mr. Wyndham, with all kinds of queries, interruptions and contradictions of his statements, anent the imprisonment of Irish members. Mr. Wyndham's replies, though given in a conciliatory tone, evoked storms of derisive cries mingled with hisses, and the speaker was kept, busy suppressing demonstrations which threatened to develop into disorderliness.

The liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, cordially joined the Irish in supporting their demand that the government fix a day to discuss the status of Ireland, but he declined to make the liberal opposition responsible for the demand, which he said was made by the constitutional representatives of Ireland, and in regard to a purely Irish question. Premier Balfour retorted that Sir Henry's doctrine seemed wholly separatist. He would not admit that the government of Ireland was a purely Irish question, and until the ambiguous attitude of the liberal leader was eleared up he declined to say if the government would grant a day for the discussion of the state of Ireland.

Man Supposed to Have Been Mardered Suddenly Appears in the Courtroom.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 21.-Just as the case of Clarence Peake, charged with the murder of Silas Hulin at Clinton, Tenn., was about to be called in the supreme court here Monday, a man entered the court room unannounced and, addressing Chief Justice Beard, said: "I am Silas Hulin, who was not killed by Clarence Peake."

Peake, who is the son of a prominent family, had been sentenced in a lower court to ten years in the penitentiary, but is now in the insane asylum near here, a raving maniac caused by this case. Hulin claims that Peake shot another man whose name is now unknown, and that he (Hulin) escaped on the first train and went to Colorado, from which state he came back here Allen, William McVey. to prove that he was not dead.

Boer Generals Pleased at the Success Which Follows Them. in Germany.

Berlin, Oct. 21.-Gen. Dewet spoke in his night shirt at 2 o'clock Sunday morning at Hanover station to a thousand persons, who stormed the train. The general leaned out of a window as he addressed the assemblage, recounting the warmth of the Boers' reception in Berlin and the liberality of the Germans. The generals collected a total of $87,500 here. They undertook to give autographic receipts to every contributor of $1.25, and had to spend several hours daily signing receipts. Dewet said that if the thing kept up his right arm would be in a sling as the result of writer's paralysis. Envelopes containing money were thrown into the Boers' carriages when they were out driving.

INSURANCE FRAUDS.

Unearthed in New Orleans, and Life Companies Are Said to Have Lost Large Sums.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.-Life insurance frauds by which a number of big eastern companies are said to have been swindled out of between $75,000 and $100,000, are reported to have been unearthed in this city and vicinity. The plan has been for an agent to work in with the company's physician and insure some man on the verge of death. The agent and the doctor pay the premiums and the principal is made payable to interested friends. In a few months the policy holder dies, the proper death certificate is sent to the company, and the policy paid, and money divided. The fraud has been worked more successfully in the parishes and smaller towns than in the large cities.

United Irish League, Boston, Oct. 21.-A notable gathering of leaders of international reputation made remarkable the opening of the first convention of the United Irish league in this city. John E. MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Neighbors Evicted.

After wrecking the house in St. Joseph occupied by James Tio, a mob of men collected in the neighborhood and left the following warning tacked on the porch "Get out of the neighborhood or we will eall again. (Signed) The Holy Terrors." James Tio and family had just moved into the house, and during the night the mob, armed with clubs, bricks and guns, surrounded his new home. Screens were pulled off, windows smashed and doors wrecked. Several shots were fired through the bedroom windows and the family, fearing they would be murdered, hid themselves in an adjoining room. No reasons are known why the assault was made.

Stabbed Fifty Times.

Two men were killed and a third fatally wounded as the result of a drunken row, near Suttons Bay. Charles Amatid and two brothers named Ferdinand became involved in a row and Joe Ferdinand was shot four times and killed by Amatid. In the melee the other Ferdinand was also wounded. After killing Joe Ferdinand, Amatid turned on the surviving brother. The latter whipped out a knife and used it with awful effect. Amatid was stabbed 50 times, and fairly cut to pieces. The surviving Ferdinand was in a critical condition from the wounds he received.

Serious Charge.

Thomas H. Scott, aged 27 years, superintendent of the schools at Sylvester village, is in jail at Big Rapids to answer to a charge of administering drugs to young girls for criminal purposes. The finding of a letter written by one of his victims, a teacher in his school, to a Grand Rapids woman physician led to the discovery of the alleged intimacy of Scott with the teacher and at least one pupil. Both victims have confessed.

One Man Killed.

One man was killed and four severely injured by the collapse of the northwest section of the New Otsego hotel building in Jackson, construction of which had reached the fourth story. The dead man was Henry Giltner, of Leoni. The injured: Patrick W. Coughlin, of Grand Rapids, probably fatally; W. Thomas, George L. Van

Boys Drowned,

Jack Corbett, Elliott Ashman and Milan Morgan, of Traverse City, each 15 years of age, are supposed to have been drowned in Traverse bay. The boys went for a sail on the bay. They did not return and their boat was found on the shore about half a mile from the city. Later a coat was found which has been identified as Corbett's.

Bed of Clam Shells.

David Chassee, a farmer near Menominee, found large beds of clam shells in the river adjoining his property, such as are used in the manufacture of buttons. He sent several shells to Chicago and had tests made and has found they are valuable for buttons. Many of the shells have been found to contain pearls of a good qual-

Deaths in September.

There were 2,548 deaths in Michigan during the month of September, according to returns made to the secretary of state, which corresponds to a death rate of 12.6 per 1,000 reporting population. The rate is slightly higher than for the month of August, and slightly lower than for the month of September, 1901.

EX-EMPRESS EUGENIE.

She Is Said to Belleve Firmly That She Will Live to Be a Hundred Years Old.

Empress Eugenie has been pretty nearly everywhere in the course of her exciting life-to Egypt and the opening of the Suez canal; to the far east, to the land of the midnight sun; to South Africa. More than all else, though, she has had a hand in shaping the destiny of France. Raised to dazzling heights of power by her marriage with Napoleon, the girl, Eugenie Montijo, of noble, but not royal, birth, became the most courted and the most influential woman in Europe. She had brains and rare beauty with which to fortify her position as empress, and she used both royally. To-day, the whimsical-looking old lady who does her simple shopping in the unfashionable parts of Oxford street, wanders about looking for bargains on her occasional visits to town-all traces of grandeur departed.

Eugenie has one odd expectation. She is said to believe firmly that she will live to be at least 100 years old.

"I have nothing to live for," the sadfaced woman of 74 says, "hence I know I shall just keep on living."

And so she will, probably, for she has no illnesses as yet, is active and fond of all outdoor exercises. Eugenie has been so much on the water that she has acquired the sailor's ruddy color, and much of her strength in old age is due to her love for bracing sea air. People who saw this lady in the days of her prime will remember her strangely beautiful eyes, "Eugenie eyes" they were called. An unusual type they ness and the monotony of lying in one were, and are, the eyelids drooping so low as to give an arched look to the dark eyes, which are bright, almost glowing still. Eugenie's eyes were always her marked claim to great beauty, although she is described at the time of her marraige as having been lovely beyond words in every line of face and form.

Empress Eugenie lived for many years at Chislehurst, but she has recently moved to Farnborough, farther inland. A pretty place is Farnborough, not more pretentious, however, than the homes of many less historic personages. Three rooms in the house are kept as shrines. Relics of the first Napoleon fill the one; belongings sacred to the memory of Eugenie's husband are kept in another; the playthings of the prince imperial and the trappings of the horse from which he fell to die, together with little childish things of eternal importance to mothers are the occupants of a third large apartments in the Farnborough home. Eugenie herself scarcely reglizes that her boy, had he lived, would be to-day a man of 45.

A life of contrasts, indeed, is that of Eugene, empress of the French. She has seen all that is brilliant in the court life of France and has known what it means to be a childless widow, remembered occasionally, but more frequently forgotten. The mother of the empress must herself have been amazed at her daughter's career. She, the mother, was the child of an Irish man who settled in Spain and dealt in wine. A Spanish duke came along and married Miss Maria Kirkpatrick, the wine merchant's daughter, and it was the child of this marriage, the beautiful Eugenie, who completely infatuated Napoleon III.

Art in Home Decoration,

Artistic decorators agree that the purpose for which a room is to be used is a large factor in deciding upon its wall covering. Decidedly plain wall coverings are more restful than figured ones and therefore are more appropriate for living or sitting rooms. Of course self-toned stripes give the effect of solid wall, so this does not apply to them. Again for variety and because the big-flowered papers are now so attractive in design and coloring, they may be used in a guest chamber with good effect, but always with a plair, pale-tinted ceiling.

INVALID'S GREAT WORK.

By Her Own Exertions Suffering Illiois Girl Supports Ten Missionary Workers.

It has been said that suffering often iberates and reveals the forces of the soul. A phenomenal instance of this is found in the little city of Casey, Ill., in the person and life of Miss Lizzie L. Johnson. Her struggle for 18 years with mortal disease is something more than impressive.

At about 13 years of age severe filness came upon her which developed into a permanent affliction of spinal character extending to all the nerve centers. For 18 years she has been laid on her back wholly unable to leave her bed. She has the free use of her arms and head, also some use of the limbs,

but her body is confined to one posi-

Those who have known her from her childhood, especially from the beginning of her affliction, find it difficult to realize the magnitude of the work she is now doing and has been doing for a number of years. They feel that they have never seen suffering and weariposition continuously so entirely overcome and treated as if they were not.

The nature of her affliction renders her at times intensely sensitive to the slightest noise or the presence of persons in her room, or any touch of her bed. This painful acuteness is not constant; there are times of comparative rest from this, though at all times the sense of touch is abnormally de-

She has a magnetic personality, a fine, receptive mind, large originality and a beautiful Christian spirit. Not a word of complaint or touch of rebelliousness escapes her lips. The theme that lies nearest her heart is Christian missions, and in this field she is doing a great work. She began in 1894 on $60 borrowed capital. Up to date the gross receipts aggregate $5,-000. She supports in India five pastor teachers, besides two Bible women. She provides the money to support three scholarships for three young men in Chinzei seminary, Nagasaki, Japan. She provides for two Bible women in China and one native pastor in Africa.

She does not forget home institutions and causes, as the Cunningham deaconess' home and orphanage and other beneficiaries can testify. It is a constant wonder how much work Mss Johnson does. She attends to all her correspondence, not infrequently receiving a hundred letters a week, and whether they be letters of inquiry or remittances of money she allows no letter to go unacknowledged, and attends to this herself personally.

How does she secure the money to carry on her mission work? By the sale of silk bookmarks, which she makes, and on which she has printed choice selections of Scripture, gems from favorite poets, birthday notes, etc. These marks she mails to any Christian workers who will superintend the sale of them. She receives orders from individuals, Sunday schools, leagues, woman's foreign missionary societies and other organizations.

This consecrated soul and the work she is doing are worthy of publicity, both for the good accomplished in the mission fields and the inspiration it gives to other workers. None can enter her room and hear her cheery words, see her illumined face, but to go away with new inspiration and courage to help in the world's work.

Her father is a retired business man of Casey; he and his entire family of wife and five children reside in the city, and are held in high esteem by all those who know them best. To some of her pastor teachers she pays $100 per annum, to others $60, $50, etc.; to her native workers and Bible women from $20 to $50 per annum. There are no scales on this earth fine enough to weigh the work this shut-in child of the king is doing .- St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Rebuked for His Meanmess,

A Brooklyn man had a spat with his wife, and she deserted him. He offered a reward of ten cents for information regarding her whereabouts. The small reward made her indignant, and she returned two days later, to renew the spat, and "have it out with the mean fellow."

Stroke Shattered My Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Put Me On Active List.

Are you well? Do you sleep well? Do you get up rested, fresh and vigorous? Is your mind clear and active? If not read the following. See what another has suffered and how he recovered.

"Some years ago I was afflicted with sun stroke which left me with a shattered nervous system and exceedingly poor health. I suffered terribly with pain in my head, the top of my head would feel hot. I could not study, and after striving for two years to wear the trouble off, I was compelled to give up my pastoral labor and retire to my farm where I spent nearly two years trying to rewhere I spent nearly two years trying to re-cuperate. It was all of no avail. Physicians' treatment and patent medicines failed to relieve me. I was exceedingly nervous and irritable and sometimes would shake terribly. I could not bear any noise. At the least excitement the blood would rush to my face and head. Two years ago I was induced to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. After using one bottle I could see improvement in my condition so I continued taking it for nearly a year. I am happy to say I no longer have those pains in my head or nervous spells. My appetite is good and I am able to preach three times on Sunday without fatigue. I consider Dr. Miles' Nervine the most wonderful medicine ever discov-ered."—Rev. D. Alex. Holman, Pastor U. B. INDETERMINATE SENTENCE AMENDMENT.

An important amendment to the con. coroners, and a county surveyor. stitution of the state of Michigan is to be voted on at the coming election to be held Sentence Act.

The legislature of 1889 passed a resolution authorizing such indeterminate sentences and many of the circuit judges of the state promptly availed, themselves of its provisions. Twelve other states have since enacted similar laws. In No vember, 1891, after two years successful operation, the supreme court declared the law unconstitutional and since IV, of the constitution, by adding a new then no sentences have been made under section thereto, to stand as Section 47, its provisions. It is strongly favored by empowering the legislature to enact a law the most advanced students of penology, by wardens of penitentiaries, circuit judges punishment for crime, and to provide for of the state and by the state board of corrections and charities, and sentences made under its provisions in this and other states have proved eminently satisfactory in results. By advanced thinkers on the subject it is considered to be the only rational way of sentencing prisoners.

All the nation rejoices, and President Roose velt has an additional hold on the affections of the people through his masterful handling of the situation, while the coal barons and railroad presidents have by their unwillingness and arrogance caused themselves to be more thoroughly despised by the public than they ever were before.

The American Construction Co., of Detroit, is making enquiries of State Land Commissioner Wiley as to the location of peat lands in Michigan. The letter has been referred to the state geologist. Dr. Lane, who will furnish the Detroit people with the information. Dr. Lane says he has no doubt that the manufacture of peat for fuel in Michigan is sure to come in a comparatively short time. The valuable peat deposits in and around Chelsea are worthy of receiving the attention of developers who really mean business and have something more than wind and brass to back them up.

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stag-nation or death if not relieved. France and England in the New Hebrides Islands tempting to settle the question of which nation shall own the New Hebride islands in the South Pacific. England does not particularly want the islands, and the whole question could be amicably and easily settled if it were not for Australia. The people of that self-governing English colony have always objected most violently to anything like a French protectorate over these islands, although they are near to and on the further side of New Caledonia, which has been a French colony for a number of years. The alleged reason is, that the convict system of New Caledonia would be extended to the New Hebrides, and so, either by escape or discharge, many "undesirables" would be likely to find their way to Australian shores. But, as these islands are more remote than New Caledonia, the argument should be the other way.

Probably the real reason may be found in the Presbyterian and Weslevan communities having their principal headquarters in Melbourne, who wish to keep their missionaries in the very influential positions many of them have managed to take to themselves in the New Hebridean islands.

Never having been formally annexed in the first place by either France or England, Colonists from both countries settled there, and now, for many years, the archipelago has been a bone of contention. The Brtish colonists are under the control of the governor of Fiji in his capacity as high commissioner of the Pacific, and as he can delegate his powers to the captain of a British man of war visiting the islands, any offender can be arrested the most important in the extent of by him and brought to trial before the its area, perhaps, Tauna island is one Australian courts. NGLAND and France are at- | head of the harbor to the right hand on entering. They spent a very quiet and lonely eixstence there, rarely getting their mails from Noumea unless a British man of war happened to come up and bring them. They themselves must have blessed the day when they evacuated the islands.

The southernmost of the group is Anieteum, where there is a mission station at the head of a fine landlocked bay, closed to seaward by a small island and barrier reef. Erromanga is, perhaps, one of the most

A number of conventions have been signed between the French and English governments for the better regulation of the New Hebrides, but the difficulty is that, while the former maturally object to their becoming entirely British, as there is little doubt that, geographically, they are in close connection with New Caledonia, the latter are prevented from making any in the direction of bringing them unconcessions by the stand made by Australia against anything of the

The natives themselves are savages of the first water-fierce, bloodthirsty and addicted to cannibalism. If they murder a white man, the first French or English ship to come upon the scene deals out punishment according to a mutual agreement. It was on account of a massacre of French colonists that troops were landed at Havannah harbor and Malicolo in 1886. They remained there for some time, but eventually they returned to New Caledonia, as agreed in another convention between France and England.

The scenery of the New Hebrides is very beautiful. Many of the islands are mountainous, and all rich with tropical vegetation. There are few finer harbors in appearance than Havannah harbor in Sandwich island. though it cannot be considered as a good harbor owing to its enormous depth which renders it-except in a few spots-useless as an anchorage. A curiously shaped island, known as "Hat Island," lies just off, the entrance, and the eye is at once attracted as the harbor opens by the remarkably regular curve between the twin mountains that tower up inland. leading mark for navigators.

What the future of the New Hebrides will be it is impossible to guess. It can only be said that it is a pity for the empire generally that Australia stood in the way when a proposal was mooted to settle the Newfoundland question with France by concessions in the New Hebrides.

At the present moment French colonial circles are much exercised over the question of the islands in consequence of energetic action on the part of the Australian commonwealth der British control. It is pointed out that France only provides one ship to maintain communication with the islands, while England has three vessels engaged in that service. British immigration is steadily increasing, being vigorously promoted by Australia, which expended a sum of $90. 000 for that purpose last year. The French company established on the island, which had greatly assisted settlers of that nationality, has been obliged to liquidaite its affairs. French colonial circles urge that the government of the republic should now adopt more effective measures for the promotion of French interests, particularly as the company already mentioned had begun to secure a firm footing on the islands. The proposed measures are the reestablishment of the company in question upon a new basis, the encouragement of French mercantile enterprise, the erection and support of French schools, the delimitation of the landed property in the possession of French citizens, the more frequent despatch of vessels from the Pacific station, the encouragement of trade with New Caledonia and the promotion of French immigra-DANIEL CLEVERTON.

Miners' Convention Organizes, But Vote on Vital Question Is Not Reached.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 21 .- The anxiously awaited convention of the 145,-000 striking miners met Monday but did not reach a vote on the proposed plan of settlement. It is expected to do so to-day. There were 662 delegates present in the Nesbitt theater, where the convention was held, and they were empowered by their local unions to cast 867 votes for or against President Roosevelt's proposed plan of arbitration.

The great majority of the delegates were uninstructed, the few who were being engineers, firemen and pumpmen, who fear that the 5,000 strikers of those classes may not get back their old places now held by nonunion men. This question of the engineers, firemen and pumpmen proved the only stumbling block in the way of almost immediate adoption of the president's plan, which carries with it declaring the strike off, and a general resumption of work through the 175-

At one time it seemed certain that the convention was about to adopt the recommendation of President Mitchell to end the strike, but the steam men's plea was too earnest and the final vote went over until to-day, when it is next to certain the vote to declare the strike off will show a big majority for it. The leaders of the strikers, except Mr. Mitchell, were hardly heard at all in the convention Monday, the anxious engineers being allowed to give full expression to their feelings. But to-day, it is predicted, the leaders will be heard, and one of them, a high district officer, said there would not be more than 15 votes recorded against the plan which the president of the United States has proposed to them and which all the highest officials of the mine workers in this region earnestly have recommended.

There were two sessions, forenoon and afternoon, and the net result as regards the progress of the convention towards its great object was a permanent organization, with Mr. Mitchell in the chair, and his speech laying the president's plan before the delegates, his eloquent impromptu speech advocating its adoption, and the appointment of a committee on resolutions.

The question before the convention when it adjourned for the day was on the adoption of the resolution embodied in President Mitchell's opening speech to call off the strike and leave all questions to the president's commission. The surprise of the convention was the decision to admit newspaper men to all the sessions, open or executive. The pleas which won were that the reporters represented the people, that public opinion had helped the strikers and that the best way to get an accurate report of this convention of immediate and vast national import, was to let the press representatives stay there on the spot.

MONEY GREW ON BUSHES.

Railway Section Gang in Nebraska Comes Upon a Singular Find by the Roadside.

The fairy tale of money growing on bushes was lately realized along the right of way of the Burlington railroad between Hyannis and Alliance, says a Lincoln (Neb.) report.

A gang of section men were at work, when one of them noticed something that looked like a bill waving from the tangled top of a sunflower growing by the roadside. He investigated. It was a treasury note for $10.

He walked a few steps farther and there, nodding from a branch of a bit of dog fennel, was another bill of similar denomination.

He called to his companions, and the entire gang threw down their tools and started on a money hunt. For three hours they searched up and down the right of way and far afield.

At almost every yard their trouble was rewarded by finding either a five cr a ten-dollar bill. Some bills were tangled in the tops of weeds, others half hidden in bushes along the fence, and still others in the stubble of the field.

The entire day's clean-up of the eight was $2,135. When the find was

STUCK TO HIS EYEGLASS.

The English Diplomat Wore It, Even When He Was Capsized in the Sea.

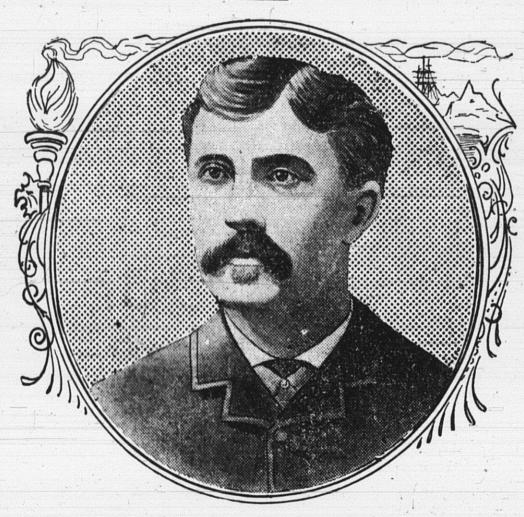

Recently a party from the embassies at Constantinople went to inspect the international lifeboat service on the Black sea coast. At one of the lifesaving stations they thought they would like to test the conditions of life-boat work, so, clothing themselves in bathing costumes and cork jackets, they each took an oar in a lifeboat, to the huge delight of the Turkish boat-

One of the secretaries of the British embassy is never seen without an eyeglass, and is said even to sleep with it. On this occasion he was faithful to his eyeglass and solemnly embarked in a cork jacket and eyeglass. All the proper exercises were gone through, and finally the boat was capsized and righted again by its own crew. As they crept out from under the capsized boat a howl of surprise came from the Turks, for the secretary's head appeared, with the eyeglass firmly fixed in its proper position, its owner taking it as a matter of course that it should be there.

Mr. Frederick insists that if a dash for the pole be made without regard to the establishment of winter quarters, the expedition will find itself, upon nearing the pole, in better position climatically than it would be were the long arctic nights spent either at Etah or Cape Sabine.

Indian Sailors.

Thomas France and John Johns, sailors in the United States navy, are full-blooded Iroquois Indians, who grew up together on an Indian reservation. They left home about ten years ago and never met until a week or so ago, both having sailed all over the world meantime. To their tribe they are known respectively as Leaping Deer and White Feather.

found in them much of the unconscious variety, says Pearson's Weekly. Here, for instance, is how the cause of death is stated in the case of a laborer: "Died from injuries received through a bull accidentally kneeling on his chest." The consideration shown for the feelings of the bull is a fine touch, and suggests grave questions on the moral responsibility of the lower animals. Again, a man is stated to have died "from the effects of injuries received after being run over by a railroad train in motion, owing to a misunderstanding between deceased and an engine driver." This description of a rather ordinary railway casualty is excellent; it, too, is so tender toward the feelings of the living.

Mr. States and daughter, Mrs. Elmer Raymond, of Dansville, who came here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hector Cooper, have been visiting at C. Kendall's.

The people of this vicinity were greatly shocked and saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Cynthia Kendall Cooper, which occurred Oct. 9, in Grass Lake township. She was born in Sharon, 1867, and has resided here nearly all her life. She was a kind woman, loved and respected for her sterling qualities. A further tone of sorrow is added since she left a husband and five young children, one a babe four days old. Kind relatives will do all they can to fill the place of mother to the little ones. Rev. Carl Zeidler, of Detroit, had charge of the funeral at the residence.
