A Hold-Up That Wasn't a Hold-Up.

An amusing hold-up scare happened in Chelsea at a very early hour Friday morning which all arose out of a case of mistaken identity. Dan Shell, Jacob Alber and Tom Wheeler all keep their horses in Wm. Hammond's barn. Shell and Alber had come home about 2 a. m. and put out their horse. As they were going home they saw Wheeler coming along to put out his horse and called out some instructions to him about the barn. Wheeler thought they were two bad men and drove off for Main street at a clipping pace and told Marshal Jay Wood about the two bold highwaymen. Several different parties were roused up to look after their different places of business, while the two innocent causes of all the disturbance, went peacefully homewards all unconscious of the excitement that was going on. The story of the hold-up passed from mouth to mouth all Friday morning and it was not until late in the afternoon that the true facts came to light, then everybody laughed and some swore.

Death of James S. Richards.

Jas. S. Richards died at his home on Railroad street Sunday morning after a long period of suffering from cancer of the lower jaw, in the 75th year of his age. The funeral services were held at the house yesterday morning and were conducted by Mr. Herrick, of Grand Rapids, a Spiritualist, which was Mr. Richards' belief. The remains were interred in the family burial lot in Waterloo cemetery. Besides his wife, one son in California and two brothers, George and Fred Richards, of Chelsea, survive him.

Asleep Amid Flames.

Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption gives perfect protection against all throat, chest and lung troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death, and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by Glazier & Stimson. Price 30c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

They Delight the Ear.

The original problem confronting the inventors was to make a machine that would talk, sing and reproduce band and vocal music even in an indistinct and faulty manner. To accomplish this was enough of a wonder for the time being; but the latest achievement has been to make records from which vocal and instrumental music are reproduced in a natural tone and with a full measure of sweetness and harmony. In the new High Speed Moulded Records of the Columbia Phonograph Company, pioneers and leaders in the talking machine art, this end is brilliantly attained. The criticism on the old time records that they were metallic, harsh and rasping does not apply in the remotest way to the High Speed Moulded Records. They are a delight to the ear even of the most fastidious. If you have not heard them you should improve the earliest opportunity to add to your musical education by listening to the beautiful reproductions from these perfected records, Fifty cents each, $5 per dozen. Write for catalogue. Ask about the new reproducer. The Graphophone and Columbia Records were awarded the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

The Columbia Phonograph Co., 238 240 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application.

The Companion's Christmas Packet

Can you think of a gift more certain to be acceptable than a year's subscription to the Youth's Companion? Is there any one, young or old, who, having once had the paper in his hands and looked through it, did not wish to possess it for his very own? If you wish to make a Christmas present of the Youth's Companion, send the publishers the name and address of the person to whom you wish to give the Companion, with $1.75, the annual subscription price. They will send to the address named the Companion's Christmas Packet, all ready for Christmas morning, containing the Christmas number, the Companion Calendar for 1903, lithographed in twelve colors and gold; and subscription certificate for the fifty two issues of 1903.

Chelsea Research Club in Ypsilanti.

The Chelsea Ladies' Research Club were invited to meet with Miss Mary L. Shaw at her home in Ypsilanti Monday evening and take their husbands with them. Fourteen persons availed themselves of the invitation and went to Ypsilanti on the 6:30 car. The other members of the club were prevented from going through various causes, principal among which was the practicing for the production of "A Prince of Egypt." Those who went were Messrs. and Mesdames L. T. Freeman, J. Bacon, J. Geo. Webster, O. T. Hoover, the Misses Kate Hooker, Florence Martin, Clara Hemens, Sadie Speer, Ella Barber, and Mrs. H. Hoag. A delightful evening was spent in games interspersed with refreshments. The party arrived home on the 11:50 car well pleased with their visit.

Lamp Explosion Causes a Fire.

John Embury's house on North street was again damaged by fire Thursday evening between 5 and 6 o'clock. Mrs. Embury had lighted a lamp and gone out of the house to get a pail of water. During her absence the lamp exploded and set fire to the interior of the house. The flames were communicated to a mattress which burned furiously. The fire department extinguished the blaze, but not before the house and contents had been badly damaged by fire, smoke and water. The house has some insurance on it. This is the third time the house has taken fire during a year.

Congressman-elect Charles E. Towns, sent petitioned the Washtenaw board of canvassers for a recount of the votes in all the precincts of the county. The board took the matter up Thursday and after listening to the arguments of the attorneys for Mr. Townsend and Mr. Wood, decided they had no power to order a recount. To have recounted the votes would have cost the county between $800 and $900.

CATARRH THIRTY YEARS.

The Remarkable Experience of a Prominent Statesman—Congressman Meekison Gives Peruna a High Endorsement.

Congressman Meekison of Ohio.

Hon. David Meekison is well known not only in his own State, but throughout America. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State. Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue. He writes:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, Member of Congress.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

The latest word on electricity is to the effect that it is a material substance. Its unit, the electron, forms an infinitesimal part of the atom of any element, and when split off it produces a stress in the ether similar to that due to a negatively electrified body. The severing of the electron from its atom is the generation of electricity. The remainder of the atom acts as a positively charged body, but it is not certainly known whether the positive electron really exists.

A Berlin court settled the question whether a starving man was capable of consuming a large loaf of bread at one meal. If a man proved to be starving steals bread it is not considered a theft, according to German law, but is punished lightly. In this instance the loaf was considered too large for one person to consume, but on the workman, who stole it from a baker's shop, proving that he shared it with a starving friend, he was acquitted of theft.

A number of labor organizations at Toronto, Can., are promoting a measure, which they will have introduced at the next session of the provincial legislature, which prohibits any foreign detective agency transacting business in Ontario until a bond has been filed with the proper authorities on which aggrieved Canadians may sue. The proposition grows out of the recent activity of the Pinkerton agency in Toronto, at London and at Hamilton.

Boot and shoe manufacturers at Montreal, Can., have adopted a scheme to adjust all future differences between themselves and their employees. The workmen are to establish a board of complaint, and their employers will appoint a board of conciliation, and in case these fail to agree, the matter in dispute is to be decided by a court of arbitration, to consist of three members, one representing the employees, one the employers and the third to be chosen by the other two.

To show how far Stockholm is ahead of other European capitals in the matter of telephone facilities it may be mentioned, writes a correspondent in the Swedish capital, that while London has 47 telephones per 10,000 inhabitants, Paris 71, New York 150 and San Francisco 706, Stockholm reaches the figure of 980. In every bedroom in every hotel there is a telephone; every tradesman, warehouse, shop and private dwelling is connected. Even the ordinary washerwoman is on the exchange.

Soldier, farmer, capitalist, philanthropist—such is William Lyon McKenzie, one of the most notable men in Kansas, now in his 78th year. Mr. McKenzie is a very wealthy man, being president of an Oregon live stock and lumber company which controls 30,000 acres. Among his most cherished possessions is a hickory grove ten miles from Kansas City, Kas., from which for many years he has supplied canes to presidents of the United States. His first vote was cast for Franklin Pierce.

The historians who recently unearthed the fact that William descended from a simple Huguenot lady on his mother's side, now announce that his oldest discoverable ancestor on the father's side was a simple robber knight, named Christopher von Zeutsch, who was drawn and quartered in Burgk for holding up merchants, and other deeds of violence about 1300. Zeutsch was also the sire of the imperial Russian family, the dukes of Mecklenburg, Weimar, Oldenburg and Leuchtenberg.

Attractive Evening Gowns for Winter Wear

NOVEMBER brings with it the opening of the dancing season, when charming evening toilettes are in vogue. For her evening gown each woman must, to a certain extent, rely upon her own ingenuity in order to procure that ever-desirable feature—individuality. Dame Fashion not only permits but encourages this, and while certain modes are outlined in a general way there are no hard and fast rules to encumber the woman of genius. The illustration shows two attractive gowns from which I trust it may be possible for fair readers to secure suggestions that will be of value in designing their own evening toilettes:

A ball dress of tulle has a fascination which is quite peculiar to itself, and it is pleasant to note that frocks of this light and airy fabric are coming into fashion again, and will be much worn during the season. An effective model fashioned of this particular and pretty fabric is numbered among the two shown here, the coloring being a becoming shade of blue mounted on silk of the same color and the trimming consisting chiefly of numerous frills edged with fine black lace in a dainty garland design, above which there are several rows of similar lace of varying widths which are carried right up to the waist. The tops of the sleeves are transparent, and a belt of black ribbon velvet and a bow in front of the bodice give the finishing touches to this smart little gown.

A more elaborate model in a very graceful design has an underdress of ivory white satin, veiled with silk brilliant, while over this comes a robe of ivory net thickly showered with large silver sequins. The skirt is bordered with a deep flounce of accordion plaited ruche of the same material and rows of silver sequin passementerie appear on either side in front, and also form a trimming on the hips and straps over the shoulders. The sleeves are formed of accordion plaited frills of brilliant, and there is a short bolero of the spangled net.

The other pretty frock is made of ivory-white spotted chiffon embroidered all over in a scroll design, and has a deep frill of lace at the bottom of the skirt, which is ornamented with tiny gathered ruffles of narrow satin ribbon. The bodice has a fichu of embroidered chiffon, arranged in graceful folds round the shoulders, and below this is a frill of lace to match that on the skirt with bretelles of black ribbon velvet narrowly ruched with white satin ribbon.

Pretty Hats to Go with the Winter Tailor-Mades

TAILOR hats, so-called, are essential to the proper presentation of tailor gowns. The tailor hat is simply the simple hat whether it be toque or turban. They are of felt, as a rule, and trimmed with feathers, quills, rosettes, velvet and chiffons.

That of the "Toreador" shape is fashioned primarily of dark but bright blue zibeline felt, it introduces the color contrast of a band of green velvet to encircle the crown and border the upturned brim, another band of gray felt coming rather more into evidence where the hat is tilted up at the left side, and a long-looped bow of green velvet making background for the dark gray plumage of a bird, whose head, you will note, is thrust through the brim so that the bright eyes peer out at one from the inside beside the crown.

A becoming and popular shape is the hat where the brim, down dipped in front, curves up gradually at the sides, and reaches its full height at the back. It is a hat whose satiny nut-brown felt is bordered narrowly with white beaver felt, and where it is turned up sharply at the back is trimmed with a trellis-work of green velvet ribbon fastened at one side by a trio of green velvet buttons, and, at the other, by long-looped ends of the ribbon, which is eventually drawn over the brim and round the crown, where it fastens in front with a long curved buckle of cut steel.

Another, made of pure white zibeline felt, the crown encircled with a band of gray velvet, and the brim bordered first with a fold of leaf-green suede, then with a narrow rouleau of velvet, and finally with a band of gray zibeline these three effectively contrasted fabrics disappearing at the back beneath two great flat rosettes of the green suede, cut out to simulate countless flower petals, and each centered with a gleaming emerald. And then, behind these rosettes, curve two broad quills, quaintly fashioned of the gray zibeline, and centered with other and natural quills of green feathers—truly a novelty, and a vastly pretty one at that.

Yet another is of a most fashionable flatness, its beaver felt of the palest possible blue being bordered with folds of pink panne ribbon caught in towards the front by a circle of cut steel, and arranged at the back in a series of long-looped ends which are threaded through another shining circle of steel, while a couple of fawn and white wings guard the crown, crossing over the center so that the tips outspread to the edge of the brim at one side.

Very quaint is a hat of pale blue beaver felt, whose brim is edged with white kid and rolled up high at either side, its attempt to meet above the crown being assisted by the decorative presence of three crossing bands of black velvet ribbon and half a dozen velvet-covered buttons. For the rest the trimming consists of a band of black velvet drawn through a long steel buckle in front of the crown and finishing off at the back in a quaint little bow.

A piquant and becoming three-cornered shape is made of palest fawn beaver felt, bordered with felt of just a shade darker, while draped round the low crown are folds of sapphire-blue panne velvet shot with shimmering gleams of green, and deftly twisted in front, to hold in bondage a broad and beautifully marked brown quill.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Lover Meets Death.
Knowing Miss Helen Heughens, his promised bride, awaited him in her home on the hill at Houghton, William E. Fagg, clerk of the Tri-Mountain mine at Painesdale, jumped from a swiftly moving Copper Range passenger train, that he might save a ten-minute walk. He fell and rolled under the wheels and was mangled beyond recognition. Fagg was 24 years old. He went to Houghton from Madison, Wis., two years ago, formerly being employed as stenographer in the law office of Senator Spooner. He expected to leave for Boston soon to accept a position of trust with the Tri-Mountain company.

Death of Prof. Kedzie.
Dr. Robert C. Kedzie, for 40 years professor of chemistry at the Michigan Agricultural college, but who was retired from active duty last June and made professor emeritus, died at Lansing at the age of 79 years. Prof. Kedzie was a native of New York state. He graduated from Oberlin college in 1846 and was a member of the first graduating class of the medical department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1851. During the civil war he served as surgeon of the Twelfth Michigan infantry.

Goes to Prison.
Frank C. Andrews, who wrecked the City Savings bank in Detroit, of which he was vice president, has been taken to Jackson prison to begin serving his term of 15 years. Andrews had failed to secure bondsmen who could qualify in the stipulated sum of $200,000. If he does not get a new trial, the arguments for which will be heard by Recorder Murphy, who sentenced him, Andrews will serve about 11 years, provided he merits the usual time allowed for good behavior.

Three Persons Drowned.
Three persons were drowned in White Fish bay at Alpena by the capsizing of a sailboat. The dead are: George Millard, aged 40 years; Alexander Cyr, aged 16 years; Anthony Monsor, aged 17 years. Two other lads in the party were rescued and put out from the shore with another boat. The boat capsized over a sandbar, and Millard and the two boys were drowned while trying to swim to shore, a half mile distant.

Earthquake Shocks.
The residents of Hancock and Houghton were greatly alarmed by a severe shock which occurred at 8:40 o'clock at night, the houses rocking and windows rattling as though an earthquake had occurred. At first it was thought it might have been an air blast in Quincy mine, but investigation showed that there had been no air blast. This is the second occurrence of shocks within three months.

Health in Michigan.
Reports to the state board of health from 85 observers in various portions of the state indicate that during the past week scarlet fever and measles increased and typhoid fever and diphtheria decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 225 places, measles at 21, typhoid fever at 31, whooping cough at 20, scarlet fever at 77 and smallpox at 20 places.

Want a Gymnasium.
At a meeting of the student body of the Michigan College of Mines, held in Houghton, $5,000 was pledged by students and faculty towards a $50,000 gymnasium for the institution. President McNair believes the action of the students insures the construction of the new building.

News Briefly Stated.
The first deer license issued in Charlevoix county to a woman in years was issued by County Clerk Meech to Mrs. L. H. McIntosh, of Clarion.

Walter Griffin, a former resident of Saginaw and Bridgeport, is dead in the Philippines. Mr. Griffin was an assistant surgeon in the navy.

Manistique's new tannery has been completed and put in operation.

A new bank, with $200,000 capital, is one of the things Battle Creek will get in the near future.

Warner Palmater was arrested in Chicago and is said to be wanted at Petoskey on a charge of having embezzled $900 of the funds belonging to the Master Painters' union of that city.

Gov. Bliss has appointed Frank D. Scott, of Alpena, circuit court commissioner of the county to fill the office until January 1, when Scott will assume the duties of the office by virtue of his election.

The rural mail carriers of the state will meet in Lansing November 23 to effect an organization, the principal purpose of which is to cooperate with the post office department for the improvement of the service. Percy Bunn, 12 years old, accidentally shot and killed John Alcott, 14 years old, while out hunting three miles west of Three Rivers.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Plans are being considered to transmit electricity from the new Sault Ste. Marie water-power to Detroit, 300 miles.

Colorado onyx, alabastine and cement will be used in the construction of the Colorado building at the world's fair, St. Louis.

Since the electric light was introduced at Burton-on-Trent, nine years ago, the annual consumption of gas in the town has increased nearly 50 per cent.

Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran democratic leader of Brooklyn, insists that he is in earnest in suggesting that New York be divided into two states. "Why not?" says he. "There's money enough and land enough for four, but two will do. The farmers of New York demand the right to govern the state, while the people of New York city pay their taxes. If we split the state in two everyone would be satisfied. Let one of them be established above Albany and the other below it. Each commonwealth could then govern itself according to its own ideas."

According to the London Electrical Engineer, successful results are said to have been obtained by a Mr. Storey, of Lancaster, on Lake Windermere with a boat steered from the shore by an adaptation of wireless telegraphy. The experiments were conducted in private, and no particulars are to hand as to how Mr. Storey accomplished his reported achievement. It is stated, however, that he was able to steer the boat from the shore, directing it in safety in and out of a fleet of sloops and steam launches at their moorings.

THE TEST OF TIME.

Mrs. Clara J. Sherbourne, Professional Nurse of 257 Cumberland St., Portland, Maine, says:—

"I heartily wish those who suffer from some disturbed action of the kidneys would try Doan's Kidney Pills. They would, like me, be more than surprised. My back annoyed me for years. Physicians who diagnosed my case said it arose from my kidneys. When the grip was epidemic, I was worn out with constant nursing, and when I contracted it myself it left me in a very serious condition. I could not straighten nor do the most trivial act without being in torture. The kidneys were too active or the secretions were too copious, and I knew what was wrong, but how to right it was a mystery. It seems odd for a professional nurse, who has had a great deal of experience with medicines, to read advertisements about Doan's Kidney Pills in the newspapers, and it may appear more singular for me to go to H. H. Hay & Son's drug store for a box. But I did, however; and had anybody told me before that it was possible to get relief as quickly as I did I would have been loth to believe it. You can send anyone who wishes more minute particulars about my case to me, and I will be only too glad to tell them personally. As long as I live I will be a firm advocate of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Cure Confirmed 5 Years Later.

"Lapse of time has strengthened my good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, first expressed in the spring of 1896. I said then that had anybody told me that it was possible to get relief as quickly as I did I would have been loth to believe it. Years have passed and my continued freedom from kidney complaint has strengthened my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and given me a much higher appreciation of their merits."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Sherbourne will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Helpless Invalid For

Dr. Miles' Nervine Made
My Nerves Strong.

"For many years I suffered from terrible headaches and pains at the base of the brain, and finally got so bad that I was overcome with nervous prostration. I had frequent dizzy spells and was so weak and exhausted that I could take but little food. The best physicians told me I could not live, that I would die of paralysis, as my father and grandfather had. I remained a helpless invalid for three years, when I heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and began using it. That winter I felt better than I had before in many years, and I have not been troubled with those dreadful headaches since I first used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My appetite is good and my nerves are strong."—Mrs. N. M. Bucknell, 3209 Oakland Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

"For many years I suffered from nervous prostration, and could not direct my household affairs, nor have any cares. My stomach was very weak, headaches very severe, and I was so nervous that there was not a night in years that I slept over one hour at a time. We spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicine. I was taken to Chicago and treated by specialists, but received no benefit at all. Finally I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine and began its use. I was surprised that it helped me so quickly, and great was my joy to find, after using seven bottles, that I had fully recovered my health."—Mrs. W. A. Thompson, Duluth, Minn.

Henry A. Mandell, assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, has been appointed a circuit judge of that county by Governor Bliss, to take the place of Judge W. L. Carpenter elected justice of the supreme court.

Ann Arbor has followed the lead of other cities and the council has passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for anyone to spit on the sidewalks. This action is in the interest of good health and should be followed up in every city and village in this state, where consumption is such a prevalent and dangerous disease.

The impudent suggestions and ridiculous arguments being made use of by Lawyer Wayne McVeagh in his cross-examination of John Mitchell at the sessions of the coal commissions are disgusting in the extreme. Honor and decency seem to be lost sight of by these lawyers in their scramble to gain a verdict for their employers, the rich coal barons, against the poor people who daily struggle for a mere existence.

Startling, But True.

"If every one knew what a grand medicine Dr. King's New Life Pills is," writes D. H. Turner, Dempseytown, Pa., "you'd sell all you have in a day. Two weeks' use has made a new man of me." Infallible for constipation, stomach and liver troubles. 25c. at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

A Beautiful Magazine Number.

To do justice to the December number of the Delineator, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark, it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in the best modern writers and artists are generously represented. The book contains over 230 pages, with 34 full-page illustrations, of which 20 are in two or more colors. The magnitude of this December number, for which 727 tons of paper and six tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that 91 presses running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing over 20,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands.

By December 1, according to Toledo and Detroit advices, coal will be shipped to this part of the country. Shortage of cars is responsible for the slow movement westward. The Michigan Central has suffered as well as the other roads, and when the available empties have been procured things will begin to move. Eastern dealers claim they have had coal ready for some time, but that they have been delayed by slow shipments. The best they could do was to send the coal to the northern markets, where it was needed the most. So it will be two weeks or more yet before we can hope for relief from the coal famine.

THE DRAUGHT BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Theodford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Theodford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Theodford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used Theodford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints.

He then looked up his ticket and found that it was E 189.

The chocolate given by the ladies of the Congregational church at the home of Mrs. J. D. Colton Thursday afternoon was a delightful affair and a pronounced success. The house was prettily decorated, the dining room especially so; the shades were drawn down and the lights turned on. About 150 ladies were present during the reception hours from 3 to 5 o'clock. Dainty refreshments and ice cream were served. A handsome sum was netted for the new organ fund. Several ladies from Ann Arbor were among those present.

Just how much the burning of the Michigan Central water tank last summer cost the railroad company can be gathered from some of the figures of what it is costing to build the new one. The steel construction on which the tank will rest cost over $1,500, the timber for the tank itself cost $995, then there is the cost of the iron work on the tank and the large item of labor. It is safe estimate that $3,000 will no more than construct the tank. When filled the tank and the water in it weigh 270 tons.

Tired Nervous Mothers

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing a child involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. She cannot help it, as her condition is due to suffering and shattered nerves caused by some derangement of the uterine system with backache, headache, and all kinds of pain, and she is on the verge of nervous prostration.

When a mother finds that she cannot be calm and quiet with her children, she may be sure that her condition needs attention, and she cannot do better than to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This medicine will build up her system, strengthen her nerves, and enable her to calmly handle a disobedient child without a scene. The children will soon realize the difference, and seeing their mother quiet, will themselves become quiet.

Mrs. May Brown, of Chicago, Ill., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—'Honor to whom honor is due,' and you deserve both the thanks and honor of the mothers of America whom you have so blessedly helped and benefited. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I would feel run-down, nervous and irritable, or have any of the aches and pains which but few women escape, and I have found that it relieved me at once and gave me new strength. Several ladies, members of our Literary Union, speak in the highest praise of your Vegetable Compound, as they have been cured from serious female troubles. One lady, who thought she must submit to an operation, was cured without using anything in the world but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. You have hosts of friends in Chicago, and if you came to visit our city we would delight to do you honor. Gratefully yours,—MRS. MAY BROWN, 57 Grant Place, Chicago, Ill.

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Mrs. McKinny.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and let you know the good you and your Vegetable Compound are doing. I had been sick ever since my first baby was born, and at the birth of my second, my doctor, as well as myself thought I should never live through it. After that menstruation never came regular, and when it came I suffered terribly. I also had womb and ovarian trouble. A friend of my husband's advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. At first I had no faith in it, but now nothing could induce me to be without it. Menstruation has become regular, and I feel like a new woman. Your medicine is a God-send to suffering women. I hope this letter will lead others to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours truly, MRS. MILDRED MCKINNY, 28 Pearl St., San Francisco, Cal." (March 16, 1901).

STILL ON THE STAND.

John Mitchell Undergoing a Severe Cross-Examination.

Conducts Himself Ably Before His Inquisitors, One of Whom Publicly Expresses His Admiration of Him as a Witness.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 18.—In the presence of as many persons as could be jammed into the superior court room Monday, Wayne MacVeagh, for the Erie company, and John Mitchell, for the miners, continued their brilliant battle of cross-examination before the anthracite coal commission. The two men, the one in his 30's and the other in his 70's, were followed with intense interest by both the commissioners and the crowd throughout the day, and the contest will be resumed this morning. The fourth demand of the union, which calls for a yearly trade agreement, and which means a straight-out recognition of the union, was the bone of contention, and although four hours were taken up in a discussion of the question, not much material progress was made. Wayne MacVeagh, skilled in the art of cross-examination, attempted to show the utter irresponsibility of the union and its unfitness to make contracts which it could not live up to. His principal argument was the alleged boycott, and he often hard pressed the miners' president for an answer. The latter, however, slowly and deliberately gave reply, but did not always satisfy his inquisitor. Mr. MacVeagh, in the presence of the assemblage, expressed his admiration of the ability of the witness.

The "Reign of Terror."

Mr. MacVeagh weighed heavily on what he said was a reign of terror in the anthracite region during the period of the strike. He read a list of 14 names of men who were killed during that time, and also submitted in evidence about 75 printed pages of acts of alleged violence, boycott and intimidation and, with the assistance of stacks of other documents, maintained that it would be utterly impracticable for the coal companies he represented to enter into agreements with an organization that could not control its own men. Mr. Mitchell stoutly maintained that the discipline in the organization is as good as it possibly could be where 147,000 men were involved. He claimed that the strikers were not entirely responsible for the acts of lawlessness that were committed. He regretted that members of the union had, in some instances, violated the law, even after they had been warned to refrain from doing so, but made the excuse that in times of great excitement there was always more or less disorder.

Defends the Union.

In answer to questions he said that where there was a reign of terror, and he had no information that such was the case during the late strike, conditions arise that are "intolerable" or "unfortunate." Replying to specific instances pointed out to him by Mr. MacVeagh, where men had been deterred from going to work through fear of personal harm or social ostracism for themselves and families, Mr. Mitchell said that in some cases men may have been deterred, but denied the assertion that such alleged acts prevented the mines from being operated. He said that when the strike was declared every mine worker in the region quit work and remained out even after the entire National Guard of the state had been thrown into the coal fields. In short, he said, that the men would not have gone to work under any condition.

Hours of Labor.

The eight-hour day question was taken up, and in reply to a query as to whether he had a right to limit a man's labor to eight hours a day, Mr. Mitchell replied: "We favor a maximum of eight hours," and a moment later, in answer to a similar question, said: "We will accept whatever award the commission makes and that award will have precedence over the laws of the union."

Not a Monopoly.

During the afternoon session Mr. Mitchell declared that a labor union is not a monopoly, and does not desire to be. Its membership, he said, is voluntary. It did not seek to exclude anyone.

"But doesn't it put a halter about their necks and drag them in?" remarked Mr. MacVeagh.

"No; it is a democracy in the purest and broadest sense."

Answering additional questions on the subject of the lawlessness, Mr. Mitchell said, with some degree of impatience: "I have time and again in emphatic language stated that I disapprove of any lawless act, making no exceptions to that rule."

The commission adjourned until Tuesday. Mr. MacVeagh was still engaged in cross-examining Mr. Mitchell on boycotts and acts of violence, to show the irresponsibility of the organization.

None of the people in the house knew of the accident until Mrs. M. Blake, who lives nearby, heard him calling for help and telephoning to Mrs. Cooper asked what was the matter with Mr. Wessels as he was in the barn calling for help. He was carried into the house and Dr. Palmer sent for. Mr. Wessels is well along in years and this accident will lay him up for a long time.

The grange social held at Mr. and Mrs. John Clark's last evening was largely attended, about 100 people being present. During the evening Miss Inez Leek played some pretty selections on the piano and the company was otherwise amused with music and other selections from two graphophones. A bountiful supper was served and it was 1:30 a. m. before the last guests departed for home. The numbers on the quilt donated by Mrs. W. J. Howlett sold quite readily and the total receipts of the social were over $13 which will go a long way towards paying for the organ. Everybody had a good time and hoped there would soon be another social at Mr. and Mrs. Clark's.

A Startling Surprise.

Very few could believe in looking at A. T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blacksmith, of Tilden, Ind., that for ten years he suffered such tortures from rheumatism as few could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and I have not felt a twinge in over a year." They regulate the kidneys, purify the blood and cure rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, improve digestion and give perfect health. Try them. Only 50 cts. at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.
