CHELSEA BOYS AT PLYMOUTH.

Track Team Took Second Place in Meet.
Junior Stars Defeated at Baseball.

The events of last week in Chelsea athletic circles was the baseball game at Plymouth Friday afternoon between the Junior Stars and the Plymouth High School team, and the tri-county track meet at the same place Saturday afternoon.

The ball game was not at all a satisfactory one for the Chelsea boys on account of the accidents that happened to their two catchers. Up to the sixth innings the score stood 4 to 0 in favor of the Stars, but in the seventh innings LaMont BeGole had his knee badly hurt and had to retire from the game, much to his disgust. Ray Cook went from first base and donned the catcher's mitt and mask, his place at first being taken by Riggs, a Plymouth boy. A foul tip struck Cook and he again went to first bag and Riggs took his place behind the bat. These accidents, coupled with errors and some poor batting on the part of Chelsea gave the game to Plymouth. The final score was 12 to 10.

The Chelseaites were more successful in the track meet, carrying off second honors, which is very good considering that they never had a team before this year. The final score in points was Wayne 86½, Chelsea 40½, Plymouth 37. The winners of points for Chelsea in the track meet were:

100 yard dash—H. Schenk 2d, W. McLaren 4th.
Shot put—C. Schenk 2d.
440 yard dash—H. Schenk 1st, A. Raftery 3rd.
Pole vault—H. Holmes 2d.
220 yard dash—H. Schenk 1st.
Half mile run—H. Schenk 2d.
Discus—C. Schenk 2d.
220 yard low hurdles—C. Schenk 1st.
Hammer throw—C. Schenk 3rd.
High jump—C. Schenk 3rd.
40 yard dash—W. McLaren 4th.
Standing broad jump—C. Schenk 2d.
Relay race—W. McLaren 1st, R. Schenk 2d, C. Schenk 3rd, H. Schenk 4th.

Our boys, both of the track team and the baseball team, are very enthusiastic over the fine treatment accorded them by the Plymouth teams. They were entertained by the Plymouth boys during their stay and all unite in saying if they had been kings they could not have been treated better. The team was accompanied to Plymouth by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McLaren, the Misses Katherine Haarer, Zoe BeGole and Josie Bacon, H. S. Holmes, B. B. Turnbull, J. J. Raftery, Geo. A. BeGole, James McLaren, Tommy McNamara and others.

ECONOMICS OF DAIRY FARMING.

Some Reasons Why Farmers Should Hesitate Before Sending Milk to a Condensery.

There has been considerable discussion lately among the farmers near Chelsea in regard to the best manner of disposing of the milk from their dairies. The new milk condensery at Jackson is canvassing the farming community almost constantly and with specious arguments attempting to draw them away from the creameries where the milk has hitherto gone.

It (the condensery) has not had much success thus far in obtaining milk hereabout where there are creameries to receive it, and if the farmers would stop and think a moment the blandishments of condensery canvassers would have no effect in drawing them away from their best and legitimate market, the butter factory.

Wheat is an exhausting crop to the soil, all admit that, and nowadays is not raised with the profit it was in the early days of a virgin fertile soil, and consequently is neglected in a great measure. Beef farming is also a costly crop and makes large demands from the soil for costly nitrogenous foods, which are carried off from the soil never to return. Milk is also a costly crop to raise and makes equal demand with wheat and beef for the expensive protein foods; but in cases where the milk goes to the creamery, the matter is wholly different from what it is with the two first articles; because from the creamery the farmer gets returned to him the whole of the skimmed milk which contains all of the nitrogen or protein of the milk which can be again fed to growing stock and hogs, and by means of their manure be again returned to the land from whence it came.

In the fat which the creamery retains we have only the product of the sunshine and the atmosphere, elaborated from the grains and food by the wonderful physiology of the cow; the skimmed milk containing all of the protein element drawn from the soil is again returned to the farm and can be further utilized as animal food and then returned to the soil for further stimulating growth to plants, and so on through a ceaseless round, the soil ever becoming richer from this skilful husbandry.

But how is it with the milk which goes to the condensery or to the cheese factory; the protein element is gone from the soil forever. It must be supplied from some other source, or milk farming, like wheat or beef farming, will have to be given up and other light and unprofitable crops raised to rest the exhausted soil.

These are cold facts which the farmer should thoroughly consider before he changes his milk market from a butter factory to a condensery.

AUTOMATIC NURSE FOR BABY.

Swiss Inventor Has One He Thinks Will Do the Work.

[Special Cable Despatch to the N. Y. Sun.] Geneva, Jan. 30, 1903.—A Swiss mechanic claims to have invented an automatic baby's nurse. The apparatus is attached to a cradle. If the baby cries air waves cause specially arranged wires to operate a graphophone, which sings a lullaby, while, simultaneously, clockwork is released and rocks the cradle. When the crying stops the wires cease to vibrate and the cradle stops rocking.

The Columbia Phonograph Company, 37 Grand River avenue, Detroit, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application. 39

High Masons Had a High Time.

Monday afternoon a party of Masons including Rev. E. E. Caster, John A. Palmer, H. S. Holmes, T. E. Wood, W. W. Gifford, C. W. Maroney, Wm. Bacon, and Adam Eppler, went to Manchester to attend the meeting of Adoniram Council, R. & S. M. In company with a number of other candidates the last six named gentlemen had the super-excellent degree conferred upon them in a most excellent manner by the officers and members of the Jackson council. It is said they all received the charge in due form and at least one of the candidates says "they got their money's worth." A fine supper was served by the Manchester Masons to their visitors at 6:30 o'clock.

THE MICHIGAN NEWS

What Is Doing in All Sections of the State

Detroit's Sunday Horror.

Grand Trunk passenger train No. 8, due in Detroit from Chicago at 8 o'clock, standard time, plowed its way through a crowd of several hundred Polish excursionists from Toledo, who were boarding a special Lake Shore & Michigan Southern train, at the corner of Canfield and Degulndre streets, shortly after 8 o'clock Sunday night. Seven persons were killed outright or died of their injuries; and 23 others were injured, several of whom are in a precarious condition. It was one of the most appalling horrors that has occurred in Detroit for years, the unfortunate victims being literally ground and thrown to death without warning and before the eyes of a thousand panic stricken spectators, who were powerless to render any assistance until the frightful work was done. Some received their death blows on the spot, others were terribly maimed and bruised, while those fortunate enough to escape were bemoaning the fate of relatives or friends.

Port Huron's Finances.

The controller of Port Huron reports an increase in the bonded indebtedness of the city during the fiscal year just closed of $183,775, making a present total bonded indebtedness, including that payable from special assessments, of $821,785. The rate of interest averages 4.26 per cent. Balances on hand in treasury at date, $112,728.37, inclusive of the unexpended balance in the canal fund. The total disbursements during the year aggregate $424,714.24 for all departments of the city government, including public improvement expenditures. The total receipts, not including returns from the sale of bonds, aggregated $292,770.59.

Forged Indorsements.

With a view to unloading on the unwary several mining concerns have issued reports ostensibly indorsed by graduates of the Michigan College of Mines. President McNair, of the college, has been forced to call attention to this unscrupulous use of the reputation of the college. A report issued recently gave extracts from the report of J. W. Carroll, an alleged "expert" and graduate of the college. President McNair brands its writer as an imposter, for no one of that name ever was a student or ever was employed in any position in the college.

Brutally Gashed.

Mrs. Julia Ellis, aged 63 years, wife of John Ellis, a dairyman farmer, living two miles west and half a mile south of Dearborn, was beaten to the floor with an ax and left for dead at 7 o'clock Friday morning by a 16-year-old Polish boy, giving his name as William Brown, who went to work on the farm a week ago. The object was robbery and the murderer secured a watch and chain worth $25 escaping with his booty. The crime was discovered by Farmer Ellis about 8 o'clock. The search parties out after the boy were in high temper which may result in something more than arrest.

Will Be Moved.

The votes on the proposition to remove the Review and Herald plant from Grand Rapids were counted Wednesday morning, and of 2,274 cast 1,967 were in favor of turning the plant over to the general conference and having it taken to some state in the east. Many of the votes for removal were cast on proxies, of which the general conference committee took good care to get possession. There are more than 1,400 stockholders, but most of their holdings are very small. It is likely that the sanitarium interest will start or back a new printing office to take the place of the Review and Herald.

Tax Levy Was Illegal.

That the state board of assessors pursued a wrong method in determining the rate for the taxation of railways and kindred corporations is the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court, which on Friday granted the mandamus prayed for by the Detroit board of education, requiring the assessors to reconvene and determine a new rate, which will be higher. When reconvened the average rate must be made from a computation of the assessment made by the local assessors. This will materially increase the rate over that previously fixed.

Memorial Day.

General orders have been issued by Commander Anthony, of the Michigan G. A. R., calling upon the posts throughout the state to properly observe Memorial Day. The general orders say: "Let the sacredness of the day be upheld by discouraging all efforts on the part of selfish interests to make it a day of sports and games. The day is sacred to the memory of our noble dead. Let us strive to keep it so."

"Millions In It."

The exchequer of the state of Michigan at the close of business Thursday contained $5,250,186.90. The receipts of the month have about equalled the expenditures. During the coming month the cash balance will be materially reduced by the payment of the semi-annual allowance of primary school money. The auditor-general has decided to apportion 60 cents per capita which will require $442,910.40.

Stockwell and others in fleeing Jacob Raquet, a wealthy Saginaw brewer, out of $3,000 on June 14, 1900. All the others were convicted.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senator Moriarty's bill giving the state librarian the sum of $5,000 to purchase the records and briefs of the United States Supreme Court passed the senate Tuesday. These publications are said to be very valuable, one set recently having sold for $8,000. There are only five sets in existence, and if the state purchases them it will be the only set west of the Allegheny mountains. The attorney-general advised the purchase and said that in his case with the Michigan Central it would be necessary to send an attorney to Washington to consult them if they were not purchased by the state.

The house on Wednesday gave the attempt to revive the matter of city ownership of street car lines a crushing defeat. So that matter now seems put to sleep. There was a lively scrap over the question of cutting out the job of deputy game warden and only a few votes were lacking to have put Deputy Warden Brewster out of business. It is said that Colby and Grousel have another scheme to exploit to put in force the city ownership of street car lines. It is a proposition permitting Detroit to bond for about $10,000,000, the proceeds to be used to purchase lines as the franchises expire.

The legislature went back to work Monday night in the usual style. The senate did business for only a short time, but the house, confronted with a general order of 75 bills, went into committee of the whole and did some business. The Ferry bill regulating tonnage investment concerns was agreed to. It permits the secretary of state to appoint a special inspector for such concerns, to be paid $7 a day and expenses. A bill, which stirred up some opposition, was one providing ten years' imprisonment for hunters who may carelessly kill or wound some other person. It was agreed to.

The house met at 9 o'clock Friday morning for a short session and passed 10 bills which were agreed to Thursday in committee of the whole. No session of the senate was held, only eight senators answering to roll call. Rep. Hunt had the rules suspended and his bill to establish a juvenile court in Detroit placed on immediate passage. On motion of Rep. Van Zoeren its reading was dispensed with. The bill was passed without debate or dissenting vote.

The senate has passed a resolution authorizing the governor to appoint an agent or attorney to prosecute all the old civil war claims against the federal government. The resolution allows the governor to fix the compensation out of any money collected and gives the attorney the power to pool whatever claims the state has with those of other states, the purpose being to have the several states unite in this legislation to be asked from the federal government.

Senator Fuller's bill increasing the salary of the superintendent of fisheries from $1,200 to $1,800, which passed the senate Tuesday, is for the purpose of legalizing the action of the state board of fish commissioners. The board for the past few years has had to make private compensation to the superintendent to keep him in their employ, and they did not desire to take the responsibility any longer.

One of the bills agreed to in house committee of the whole Tuesday was that giving the railroad commissioner the same control over interurban electric lines as he exercises over steam railways. Some Detroit electric people at first opposed the bill, but when they examined the measure thoroughly their objections were withdrawn. The measure does not apply to city street car lines.

The house ways and means committee has reported Gov. Bliss's bill for a school of instruction for the blind of Saginaw, but the amount of the appropriation, which was placed at $137,000 by the senate, was cut to $110,000. The committee also reported the bill for a normal school on the western side of the state, at $40,000.

A bill of Representative Combs, passed by the house provides that pupils of high schools, etc., who may be entitled to help from county scholarship funds, may elect any Michigan normal school or college in which to complete their education. The law now limits them to the University of Michigan.

Under a bill introduced by Representative Dunn, and which was passed by the house Wednesday, only hotelkeepers will be privileged to sell liquor in St. Clair county in townships or villages having less than 500 inhabitants.

Senator Scripps suggests that a legislative recess be taken until late this year to give a special committee opportunity to investigate the exemption of mortgages and other credits from taxation.

There is talk among some Detroit members of reviving the matter of city ownership of street railways. It being said that men who voted against the Grousel bill now say they did not fully understand the situation.

Governor Bliss has signed the bill increasing the size at which brook trout may be legally caught from six to seven inches, the state fish commission having asked for the change.

The house on Tuesday acted on twenty-seven bills in committee of the whole, besides passing, on third reading, those agreed to in committee Monday night. It was the biggest day's work of the session, in point of the number of bills acted upon.

Killed by Game Warden.
Chris McLain, a farmer living in vicinity of Round Lake, about 12 miles northeast of Frankfort, was killed an early hour Tuesday morning by E. Spafford, of Cadillac, a deputy game warden. Spafford came at once to Frankfort and gave himself up. The story of the tragedy is that Spafford and a fellow officer caught McLain, his two sons, David Jewel and Steven Winters, Round Lake fishing. The officers went out to them, an attack resulted, he went ashore closely followed by fishermen. A melee ensued in which state and spens came into play. The warden was finally thrown down a planned to the earth with a sp through his coat, in which position drew a revolver and shot, the bullet taking effect in McLain's spine, killing him instantly.

A Guilty Conscience.

Has remorse for the murder of parents driven John Hartman, of Burlington, insane? He went suddenly insane and was placed in Owosso where he paces his cell, muttering constantly to himself: "I did it. I did the stuff. Yes, yes, I'm the man. About six years ago he lived with aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, on their fine large farm near Laingsburg. Mrs. William Roach, wife of an Owosso stock dealer, lived at the house. The old people died suddenly, the death of the old Hartman being followed by that of his wife in a few months, both pined. Arrests followed, but proof was not strong enough, and Hartman and the woman escaped being hanged over to the Circuit Court.

Twenty thousand acres of delinquent lands in Arenac county have been deeded to the state. Land Commissioner Willey will hold monthly sales of these lands during the summer.

Citizens of all classes are not at pleased with the story that is going the rounds that Three Rivers already has one government building and therefore not entitled to the new normal school.

The Commercial Savings bank of Grand Rapids, capital $200,000; American Savings bank of Pontiac, $50,000; and Farmers' State bank of Middleville, $37,000, were all authorized Monday by Commissioner Moore to commence business.

Mrs. Margaret McClellan, the oldest woman in northern Michigan, died the home of her daughter, Sunday. She was born April 1, 1800, in Scotland, and lived in Alpena 40 years. She was in full possession of all her faculties up to the time of her death.

The Michigan earnings of railroad companies continue to increase. Commissioner Atwood reports that the earnings for March were $1,154,300, an increase of $577,994 over March 1902. The Michigan earnings for the first quarter of this year were $1,761,766. This is an increase of $1,614,400, or 15.96 per cent over the same period of last year.

Russia and Japan are quarrelling over a timber concession claimed by Russian agent at the mouth of the Yalu river. Upon going there to create it it was found that Japanese were in possession and they would vacate.

THE LION'S WHELP

A Story of Cromwell's Time

CHAPTER X.—(Continued.)

"Now, indeed, you pierce my heart. It is an intolerable shame! It will make me cry out when I sleep! I shall die of it. You to be at his mercy—at the mercy of that Puritan braggart. Oh, I cannot endure it!"

"You see that I endure it very comfortably, Mata. The man behaved like a gentleman and a soldier. I have taken a liking to him. I have paid back his kindness; we are as soldiers, friends. And I assure you no one's honor suffers, mine least of all."

"Matilda was hard to comfort. Her interview with her lover was so sad and troubled by this disappointment. This, then, was the end of the visit which she had expected so much, and one sad gray morning in London they reached London."

"Matilda said to herself in the first days of her return that she would see Jane, but as the day wore on she changed her mind. So she wrote and asked her to come, and Jane answered the request in person, at last. Her admiration for her friend's beautiful gowns and laces and jewels, and her interest in Matilda's descriptions of the circumstances in which they were worn, was so genuine, that Matilda had forgotten her relation to Lord Neville, when the irritating name was mentioned."

"Did you see Lord Neville in London?" Jane asked.

"No," Matilda answered sharply. "I did not see him. He called one day, and had a long talk with Sir Thomas. He had a headache, and I had a delightful company. He pretended my seeing the Queen of Bohemia on my return, because he offered to attend to my uncle's business at to the Royalists; the nation, without regard to party, was bitterly incensed and alarmed. Cromwell was no exception; the most conservative of men, he also grew angry and restless when he saw the reign of the saints beginning in earnest."

Soon the anger outside the Parliament House rose to fury. Doubtless Cromwell had foreseen this crisis. Certainly a large number of the members were of his way of thinking, and on the twelfth of December, Col. Sydenham rose, and accusing the members of wishing to put a Mosiac code in place of the Common Law of England—of depreciating a regular ministry (for what need of one, if all men could prophesy?) and of opposing learning and education, he declared the salvation of the nation lay in resigning the trust committed to them into the hands of the Lord General Cromwell. The motion was seconded by Sir Charles Wolseley. The Speaker left the chair, and followed by a majority of the members, went to Whitehall, and there and then they wrote out their resignation."

No serious opposition was made. Some thirty of the members remained in the House "to protest," but Col. Goff entering with a file of musketeers, the argument was quickly closed. Three days after this event a new Council of State resolved that his Excellency be chosen Lord Protector of the three nations, and on the sixteenth of December he was installed in Westminster Hall.

"And you would think that he had been publicly scorned instead of publicly chosen," said Israel to his wife. "He looks miserable; he is silent and downcast, and talks much to himself. Yet he is in his right place, and the only man in England who can save us from anarchy. Martha, his Excellency possible! impossible! Oh, my God, where is he?"

The ride back to Whitehall, after the installation of the Lord Protector was an intoxicating one. Londoners had at last a ruler who was a supremely able man. They could go to their shops, and buy and sell in security. Oliver Protector would see to their rights and their welfare. His very appearance was satisfying; he was not a young man headstrong and reckless, but a Protector who had been tried on the battlefield and in the Council Chamber and never found wanting."

But be the day glad or sad, time runs through it, and the shadows of evening found the whole city worn out with their own emotions. Mrs. Swaffham and Jane were glad to return to the quiet of their home—"Not but what we have had a great day, Jane," said the elder woman; "but, dear me, child, what a waste of life it is! I feel ten years older. It would not do to spend one's self this way very often."

"I am tired to death, mother. May I stay in my room this evening?"

"You are fretting, Jane, and fretting is bad for you every way. Why will you do it?"

"How can I help it, mother?"

Then Mrs. Swaffham looked at her daughter's white face, and said, "You know, dear, where and how to find the comfort you need. God help you, child."

And oh, how good it was to the heart-sick girl, to be at last alone, to be able to weep unwatched and unchecked—to shut the door of her soul on the world and open it to God, to tell Him all her doubt and fear and lonely grief. This was her consolation, even though no sensible comfort came from it—though the heavens seemed far off, and there was no ray of light, no whisper from beyond to encourage her.

At nine o'clock her mother brought her a posset and toast, and she took them gratefully. "Is father home?" she asked.

"Yes, Jane. He came in an hour ago with Doctor Verity."

"Have they any word of —"

"I fear not. They would have told me at once. I haven't seen much of them. There were lots of things undone, and badly done, to look after."

"If Doctor Verity gives you any opportunity will you speak about Cluny, mother?"

"You know I will. He and others will, maybe, have time for a word of kindness now. Now Cromwell has got his way, there will be only Cromwell to please, and surely a whole city full can manage that."

"I don't suppose he has ever thought of Cluny being so long over time."

"Not he! He has had things far closer to him to look after."

"But how?"

"Now he will inquire after the lad. Doctor Verity must speak to him. Dear Jane, do you suppose I don't see how you are suffering? I do, my girl, and I suffer with you. But even your father thinks we are worrying ourselves for nothing. He says Cluny will walk in some day and tell his own story—nothing worse than a fit of ague or fever, or even a wound from some street pad; perhaps a heavy snowstorm, or the swampy Netherlands under water. Men can't fight the elements, or even outwit them, dear. Mother is with you, Jane, don't you doubt that," and she stepped forward and clasped the girl to her breast.

Jane's supposition that Doctor Verity would be with her father and that their talk would be only of Cromwell, was correct. Mrs. Swaffham found the two men smoking at the fireside, and their conversation was of the Man and the Hour.

"I am sorry for Oliver Cromwell. Such a load as he has shouldered! Can he bear it?" said Israel.

"Through God's help, yes; and ten times over, yes! He is a great man," answered the Doctor.

"I think more of measures than of men," continued Israel.

"Very good. But something depends on the men, just as in a fire something depends on the grate," said the Doctor. "Oliver will do his work, and he will do it well, and then go to Him who sent him. Verily, I believe he will hear the 'Well done' of his Master."

"And then?"

"The Commonwealth will be over. The soul of it will have departed—can it live afterwards?"

"If I survive the Puritan government," said Israel, "I will join the pilgrims who have gone over the great seas."

"I will go with you, Israel, but we will not call ourselves 'pilgrims.' No, indeed! No men are less like pilgrims than they who go, not to wander about, but to build homes and cities and found republics in the land they have been led to. They are citizens, not pilgrims."

At these words Mrs. Swaffham, who had listened between sleeping and waking, roused herself thoroughly. "Israel," she said, "I will not go across seas. It is not likely. Swaffham is our very own, and we will stay in Swaffham."

FOREST FIRES IN MOUNTAINS

Flames in the Adirondacks Cause an Estimated Loss of $1,000,000.

BIG SAWMILL IS DESTROYED

Plant at Tupper Lake Gave Employment to 350 Men—Great Damage Is Done in the Pennsylvania Oil Field—Other Losses.

Utica, N. Y., dispatch: Wide-spread forest fires in the Adirondacks north of this city have devastated uncut timber, isolated camps, and cottages, and are threatening to destroy whole villages. The loss is estimated now at $1,000,000.

The flames in the blazing mountains shoot fifty feet in the air in some places, and the villagers have fled with few belongings. Everything is destroyed from the Meadowbrook farm property four miles from Saranac lake all along the road to Lake Placid. Many deer, hedgehogs, rabbits, cub bear, and scores of other wild animals lie along this road where they fall.

Big Sawmill Burns. The Hurd mill at Tupper lake, the largest sawmill in the United States, which gave employment to 350 men, has been wiped out. The woods in the vicinity of Bay point, the Rockefeller camp location, is on fire, and the extensive camps are in danger. The St. Armand house burned, and at Benson mines ten camps with their many buildings were burned. Five hundred acres of woodland in the vicinity of McKeever have burned. Newton Falls was saved partly by heroic work, although many of the buildings were destroyed.

Snow Checks Flames. Until a means of communication with remote sections is re-established it will be impossible to learn whether or not there has been any loss of life.

A heavy snowstorm set in, practically checking the fierce flames, and the temperature has dropped about fifty degrees.

Reports received here indicate that the Loon Lake house and the White Face inn at Lake Placid are safe, though possibly damaged by smoke, cinders and heat.

Virginia Town Suffers.

Richmond, Va., special: Four blocks of buildings in West Point, Va., the York river terminus of the Southern railway, are in ashes as the result of a fire of unknown origin. The people fought the fire with buckets until the arrival of the Richmond firemen, when it was put under control. Rough estimates put the loss at $125,000. The fire practically wiped out the business section. No lives were lost. Thirty families are homeless.

Rain Stops Fire.

Bradford, Pa., dispatch: Advice from Watsonville, the town supposed to have been wiped out by flames, indicate that it escaped. Mount Jewett also escaped with small loss. But in the vicinity of Simpson and Bingham the destruction of oil property was complete over a wide area. It is estimated that at least 1,000 oil well rigs in McKean county were destroyed. From points along the Bradford, Burdell and Kinross road 125 refugees were brought to the city. Rain began to fall and the fires are dying out.

Loss in Oil Fields.

Oil City, Pa., dispatch: The heavy rains checked the forest fires which have been raging in Venango, Forest and Warren counties, but not before vast tracts of valuable timber had been destroyed, crops ruined and a number of dwelling houses consumed. Near Tionesta, Forest county, eighteen rigs and several tanks of oil were burned. At Kinross two big sawmills were burned, and scores of derricks and small tanks filled with oil were licked up by the flames. The total loss in the district between Tionesta and Warren alone is estimated at $200,000.

Forests Burn in Canada.

Montreal, Que., dispatch: Extensive forest fires are raging about fifty miles north of here, between the towns of St. Jovite and La Belle. The flames have reached the Canadian Pacific railroad line and the more inhabited portion of the Laurentian district. The village of Morrison, containing a mill and about a dozen farmhouses, was entirely destroyed, and the flames were so severe on both sides of the railroad track that people could not stand on the platforms as the train rushed through. The inhabitants of the district are leaving their animals and possessions a prey to the flames.

Lumber Yards Burn.

Portland, Ore., dispatch: Fire broke out in the lumber district along the water front in North Portland and destroyed property valued at $210,000, with insurance of about $60,000.

Blaze at Emporia, Kas.

Emporia, Kas., dispatch: The C. E. Lewis Hardware company was burned out. The loss on the stock is $20,000 and on buildings $10,000.

ILLINOIS MINERS QUIT WORK

Trouble in Pana District Results in Decision to Quit Work.

Over 3,000 miners in Pana district are on strike. A fourth failure to come to an agreement resulted from a meeting April 30. Negotiations have been going on for the past month. The cities and number of men affected are as follows: Pana, 1,000; Taylorville, 600; Hillsboro, 300; Litchfield, 200; Witt, 300; Moweaqua, 350; Assumption, 250. There are no conditions of these cities that are not practically settled, with the exception of Pana. None of the operators were present at the meeting. The officers of the district miners' union say there are differences at Pana which cannot be adjusted by local operators and their employees. The state scale has been signed in every district in the state except this. The differences arise over the pay for room turning and timber setting.

THROW JEWS FROM WINDOWS

Many Women and Children Victims of Recent Russian Outbreak.

Vienna cable: Horrible brutalities are reported to have occurred during the recent riots at Kischeneff, Bessarabia. Many women and children were victims of the mob, which included even the better classes of the inhabitants. Some of the victims were thrown from windows to the pavements. The rioters also pillaged and defiled the synagogues and killed the caretakers. What the looters of the houses were unable to carry off they saturated with paraffin and burned. The damage done to property is estimated at several million rubles. The Jews who escaped from Kischeneff are seeking refuge at Odessa and elsewhere.

Princess Is Wedded.

Buckeburg cablegram: This town is the meeting place of half the princes of the German empire, who assembled for the wedding of the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar and Princess Caroline of Rouss at the home of her uncle, the Princes of Schaumburg-Lippe.

Mrs. Swaffham and Jane were glad to return home.

de Hague for him, and for this interview I do not thank Lord Neville."

"Nor I," answered Jane. "Had he gone to The Hague he might have been in London by this time. Jane had risen as she said these words, and was tying on her bonnet, and Matilda watched her with a curious interest. "I was wondering," she said slowly, "if you will be glad to see Cluny Neville and go away to London with him."

"Oh, yes," Jane answered, her eyes shining, her mouth wreathed in smiles, her whole being expressing delight in such an anticipation. Matilda made no further remark, but when Jane had closed the door behind her, she sat down thoughtfully by the fire, and stirring together the embers, sighed rather than said: "Why do people marry and bring sons and daughters? This girl has been loved to the uttermost by her father and mother and brothers, and she will gladly leave them all to go off with this young Scot. She will sacrifice for Love's sake; I will sacrifice for Love's sake; I will sacrifice for Love's sake. I am not a selfish person. I would have married in Paris with Rupert, though my good uncle was in danger. I think I will go to my evening service," and as she rose for her Common Prayer, she was saying under her breath, "We have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and we have done those things which we ought not to have done. And there is no health in us."

CHAPTER XI.

Oliver Protector.

The popular discontent with the old and radical reforms of the Parliament was not confined and her Highness desire your company, and that of Jane, to the ceremony. You will go?"

"I had better stay at home, Israel. I cannot 'Your Highness' Elizabeth Cromwell. Jane will go."

"And you, too, Martha. I wish it."

"I never go against your wishes, Israel—at least not often."

So it happened that on the sixteenth of December, Mrs. Swaffham and Jane were dressing for Whitehall. Mrs. Swaffham was nervous and irritable; nervous, because she feared her gown was not as handsome as it ought to be; irritable, because she felt that circumstances were going to control her behaviour, whether she approved or not. Jane was unable to encourage or cheer her mother; she was herself the most unhappy maiden in London that day. For eighteen days she had been forced to accept the fact that Cluny was at least eighteen days behind all probable and improbable delays. She had not received a line from him since he left Paris; no one had. He had apparently vanished as completely as a stone dropped into mid-ocean. She had been often at Jevity House, and during two of her visits had managed to see Sir Thomas and ask "if he had any intelligence from Lord Neville?" On her first inquiry he answered her anxiously; on his second his reply showed some anger.

"He offered voluntarily to take charge of Lady Jevity's jewels and to collect my money at The Hague; and unless he was certain of his ability to do these things safely, he ought not to have sought the charge."

And with these words there entered into Jane's heart a suspicion that hurt her like a sword-thrust. She found herself saying continually, "It is im-

My Friends Know Heart

Mrs. C. O. Hurd, 118 W. Third St., Muscatine, Ia., is well known throughout her section of Iowa as an ardent worker in the M. E. Church. She says: "LaGrippe left me with a severe case of nervous depression and nervous dyspepsia, which soon affected my heart. I suffered from sleeplessness, headache, extreme nervousness and twitching of the muscles. The slightest exertion would cause shortness of breath, a numbness of my body and hot flashes with pain. I will tell you what I am constantly telling my friends—that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me so that all these disagreeable symptoms left me. I may add that for severe pain I have never found anything to equal Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and think the Nerve and Liver Pills are a wonderful stomach remedy."

"Our son was stricken down with heart trouble in his twentieth year. For two months we got no sleep with him at night, so we commenced to use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills. In fact he passed a physical examination since his sickness and is with the Army in the Philippines. I desire to add that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have certainly been a boon to me. I am frequently troubled with sick and nervous headaches and I have never found anything that would relieve me so quickly and leave me feeling so well thereafter."—Mrs. Alice Moad, Buffalo, Mo.

Your scribe will sell a two years old colt, large and gentle, or will give $100 for a mate for him.

One of the greatest sermons ever delivered in our church was listened to with the best attention on Sunday last. We think our minister, Rev. G. Gordon, the best they turn out in these parts.

A few peach buds are peeping out, a though belated on account of late and early freezing. The crop will be a very short one at best. Plums seem to have come through winter much better.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for croup, whooping cough, grip, pneumonia and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Glazier & Stimson, druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c, $1.00.

J. S. Hoefler and family left Saturday morning for Arizona, where they will make their future home. The best wishes of a number of friends and all who ever had any dealings with Mr.
Hoefler accompanied them for their future success in their new home.

At the monthly covenant meeting of the Baptist church Saturday afternoon the following were chosen to attend the meeting of the Washtenaw Baptist Association at Dexter yesterday and today: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Everett, Mrs. Frank Everett, Truman Baldwin, Mrs. Frank Harrison and Mrs. Moran. Rev. F. A. Stiles is also attending the meeting, he being clerk of the association.

Dr. J. W. Robinson has sold his practice to Dr. Adam McColgan, from Brooklyn, and will leave here within a few days to pursue special courses of study in Chicago and New York. Dr. McColgan, who is a brother of the late Dr. R. S. McColgan of this place, comes well recommended from Brooklyn, where he has been for the past three years. He and his wife and mother have rented the Twamley house on Jefferson street, and are already located in their new home. Speaking of Dr. McColgan's removal from Brooklyn the Exponent says: "The doctor's three years of experience in Brooklyn have been successful ones. Both socially and professionally he has many friends. His marriage within the past year has added a most estimable member to Brooklyn society, and the removal of Dr. and Mrs. McColgan is to be regretted."

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No.
Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes,
"a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at Glazier & Stiles'."

Antiques in Negro Cabins.
It is said by experts that the finest antique, colonial furniture in this country comes from the south. Much of it has been discovered in the cabins of aged negroes who were formerly slaves. When these rare, carved old pieces of mahogany were discovered by their masters they were often given to the negroes, not understanding the valuation of them that would come later. A richly carved mahogany sideboard was found recently in a chicken roost in one of the southern states. This was bought by a dealer for a small sum and after it was restored sold to a customer for $250.

What the World Owes Every Man.
The world owes to every man a living, says Chauncey M. Depew, provided he has the industry and determination to collect it. The world owes to every man more pleasure than pain; more good than bad; more gain than loss; more happiness than sorrow; more success than failure; more love than hate; more friends than enemies; but it rests with the man himself whether he collects that debt, for the world holds fast to the good things which it possesses and lets free the bad; and it is only by labor and energy, only by determination and character that the debt which the world owes to every one is collected.

Some Facts About the Bible

Number of Letters and Words in the Holy Book Counted By Unfortunate Confined in Spanish Prison—The Word "Reverend" Occurs But Once in the Pages.

It is well known that the number of letters, words, verses, etc., contained in the Bible have been counted, but by whom when or where, is not generally known. Treat's publication, entitled "Curiosities of the Bible," speaks of the occurrence, as being of Spanish origin, and that the Prince of Granada, fearing usurpation, caused the arrest of the supposed would-be usurper, and by order of the Spanish crown he was thrown into an old prison called the place of skulls, situated in Madrid, where he was confined for thirty-three years, with no other companion than the rats, mice and other vermin that frequented his dismal cell.

During his confinement he counted the letters, etc., contained in the Bible, and scratched the several numbers on the stone walls with a nail. When his work was discovered he was furnished with writing utensils and ordered to make a copy of the results of his long and tedious task, and, on its being completed, he finally received his liberty.

The following is a correct copy of his great work:

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,195 chapters and 66 books.

The word "and" occurs 10,684 times, the word "Lord" 1,853 times, the word "Jehovah" 6,855 times, and the word "reverend" but once, which is in the ninth verse of the One Hundred and Eleventh psalm.

The middle verse is the eighth verse of the One Hundred and Eighteenth psalm. The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet with the exception of the letter J.

The finest chapter to read is the twenty-sixth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. The most beautiful chapter is the Twenty-third psalm. The nineteenth chapter of II. Kings and the thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah are alike.

The four most inspiring promises are to be found in the sixth chapter of St. John, thirty-seventh verse, and fourteenth chapter, second verse; also eleventh chapter of St. Matthew, twenty-eighth verse, and the Thirty-Seventh psalm, fourth verse.

The longest verse is the ninth verse, eighth chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the thirty-fifth verse, eleventh chapter of St. John.

There are ten chapters in the book of Esther in which the words "Lord" and "God" do not occur. The eighth, fifteenth, twenty-first and thirty-first verses of the One Hundred and Seventh psalm are alike. Each verse of the One Hundred and Thirty-Sixth psalm end alike. The One Hundred and Seventeenth psalm contains but two verses, the One Hundred and Nineteenth psalm contains 176 verses. There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

It has also been discovered by some person unknown that in Joel, third chapter, third verse, the word "girl" occurs, and in the eighth chapter of Zachariah, fifth verse, the word "girl's" is mentioned for the only time in the whole book.

The eighth chapter of Esther, ninth verse, contains fifty-two ts. The word "snow" appears twenty-four times in the Old Testament and three times in the New.—Boston Herald.

Some Growsome Fads of Collectors

One Millionaire Vanderbilt Gathered Together the Boots of Executed Murderers—Necklace of Human Eyes the Fad of Another Man with More Money Than Sense.

Some people find a positive fascination in the growsome, and their chief ambition in life seems to be to establish a private chamber of horrors.

One of the Vanderbilts, who died some years ago, had a mania for collecting the boots of men and women who had died on the scaffold, and a new execution threw him into a fever of anticipation. When Guiteau met his fate this collector traveled by special train to Washington and waited three days before he managed to make a deal with the executioner to get the assassin's boots. Mr. Vanderbilt's collection numbered 200 pairs, each treasured as if it had been a costly gem, and labeled with the name of its original owner and a full history of his crime. He took as much pleasure in adding to his queer collection as in watching his millions grow, and on his death the boots were purchased by a Chicago museum for $7,800.

Another lover of the growsome devoted his time to the collection of a necklace of human eyes, each polished to the brilliancy of a jewel and richly mounted on gold. This collection was one of the exhibits of the World's Fair in Chicago. There is only one other necklace of the kind in the world. It was found in Kent in the reign of Queen Anne and has been preserved carefully.

A museum in Washington has in its possession a buckskin collar which was picked up in a field in Wyoming. It is artistically covered with shells of blue and white beads, and as pendants boasts five arrowheads of flint and eight human fingers, probably taken from the hands of enemies by an Indian who had acquired the collecting fad.

From the descendants of another Indian chief a collector bought a lasso, 50 feet long, made from the hair of the wives and daughters of pioneer settlers. He keeps it in a superb cabinet with a number of other horrors, including a watch chain fashioned by a Corsican bandit from the beard of one of his comrades whom he had stabbed in a quarrel over a division of spoil.

Collections of tattooed heads are fairly common. The finest belongs to an Englishman who is the proud possessor of 25. The tastes of some collectors run wholly to skulls, and when they hear of a new one with a history they spare no trouble or expense to annex it. Death masks are in strong demand by the faddists, and fabulous sums are cheerfully paid for good ones.

Broke Up Bridge Whist Club

Hot-Tempered Leader of Society Slapped Her Partner's Face in Rage Over What She Considered a Misplay—Too Many Women Involved for Affair to be Kept Secret

One bridge club has recently gone out of existence and its last meeting is scarcely mentioned by the members to the outside world, says the New York Sun. The list of the members reads like a page out of the social register. Even that fact, however, could not save it from disruption after the exciting incidents that marked the last meeting.

One of the players was a woman whose social position is as well established as the fact that she has a violent temper, which she has never found it necessary to control. Her partner was a much younger woman, who thought she was doing as well as she could with her cards.

Her high-tempered partner did not agree with her. She repeatedly showed her disapproval of the other's plays. After one that especially displeased her she lost all self-control, and leaning forward she slapped the offending partner on the cheek.

All the women jumped to their feet. The astonished hostess rushed across the room. The irate player had just raised her hand to apply another slap to her unfortunate partner when the hostess attempted to separate the two.

The hostess got the blow. Her surprise at the force of the blow was such that she fell under the table. She discreetly remained there until the fleeing guests escaped from the room.

One woman got wedged behind a sofa and had to stay there until the row had altogether abated. This happened only after the woman first attacked had burst into tears, her antagonist had sailed out of the room in unrepentant scorn and the hostess, not damaged but shocked, had clambered to her feet.

Naturally that bridge club met no more to play cards. All but the beligerent member had a series of informal discussions looking to the suppression of all talk about the affair. They all swore secrecy.

But there were sixteen women concerned and the affair leaked out. It has been a sensation of the winter. Naturally the accounts of it have grown. Some of the exaggerations are grotesque. But they are no more remarkable than the original incident.

WHY BALD MEN UNCOVER.
City Salesman Manifests Curiosity on the Point.

One question the city salesman would like answered pertains to bald-headed men.

"Why do so many of them take off their hats in public conveyances and other places where a head covering is the proper caper?" he inquires, with grave concern. "It is no uncommon thing to see men take off their hats in street cars, and nine-tenths of those who do it are bald-headed. One would think they would be afraid of catching their death of cold riding about in that exposed state in draughty weather, but evidently they are troubled by no such considerations. Neither does vanity deter them. A denuded scalp has no terrors for them. I asked one bald-headed man why so many of his kind thus cheerfully advertised their paucity of locks. He said he couldn't answer for other men, but that he did it to give his hair a chance to grow, and I would like to know if all would give that reason."

DIDN'T MIND BLACK FLIES.
But Brush Away That Durned Bee, Said the Guide.

A guide in the Maine woods was bragging the other day about his indifference to the attacks of the black flies, from which those in his party were suffering greatly. A $10 bet was made that he couldn't let the flies settle for five minutes on his bare back.

The guide stripped, and the insects came in good numbers and began to bite. He did not wince. Then one of the party got behind him, took a burning glass out of his pocket, and the sun being out, focussed it on the guide's shoulder. The guide squirmed and wriggled. He stood it for some seconds, then he blurted out:

"I can stand all the back flies in Maine, but brush away that durned bee!"

He won the bet.

Plans to Honor Emerson.
The committee which is raising the fund of $150,000 for the erection of a building for the department of philosophy at Harvard university as a memorial of Ralph Waldo Emerson has announced a gift of $50,000 toward that fund from one anonymous benefactor and of $10,000 from another—the former conditioned on the completion of the fund by the next commencement and the latter on its completion in time to admit of the corner stone being laid in connection with the celebration of the Emerson centennial on May 24. These two gifts bring the total amount now on hand to $125,000.

Feels Younger and Stronger.
Festus, Mo., May 4th.—Mr. January S. Lilly, a highly respected old gentleman, aged 76, and whose home is in Festus, says:

"For many years I was failing in health. My kidneys were weak and gave me no end of trouble. I had pains in my back and hips so bad that I could not sit up straight without bracing my back, and could not sit only a few minutes in any one position."

"I had to get up during every night very frequently to relieve myself. Our doctor said I had Kidney and Bladder Inflammation. I have suffered for over five years in this way, always worse at night."

"I could get no relief, and was getting worse till I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"After I had used a few boxes of this remedy I felt stronger and better than I have for years and years. My pains all left me and I can rest and sleep."

"Every old man or woman who feels as I felt should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am sure they will not be disappointed. They brought me out wonderfully."

Oklahoma's Only Battlefield.
The only battle ever fought on what is now Oklahoma soil took place on the Washita river near the Antelope hills. Here in 1868 Gen. Custer, with 900 cavalry, engaged in a deadly combat with Black Kettle, a Cheyenne chief, with an unknown number of warriors. Custer lost nineteen soldiers and one officer, but won the fight, killing Chief Black Kettle, with 103 braves, and taking fifty-three prisoners.—Kansas City Journal.

Mrs. E. B. Bradshaw, Guthrie, Okla., cured of a severe case by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary medical treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine tonic effects as well.

Thousands of testimonial letters prove beyond question that nothing will relieve this distressing condition so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It always works in harmony with the female system.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

Mrs. Mary C. Kahn, No. 209 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "For two years I have been troubled with biliousness caused by inactivity of the liver. I had many spells of dizziness, pain across my back and a tired, heavy feeling, with loss of appetite and nervousness. Our family physician prescribed some liver tablets which certainly did not help me in the least. I took a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and my condition became more and more improved. FARM
SCIENCE
German Farmer Tourists.
A party of 46 Germans, mostly farmers, but including some land owners and students of agriculture, will make a tour of the United States during May and June. They are coming to learn what they can of American agricultural methods, for the benefit of German agriculture. They will arrive in New York on April 29,
and will proceed at once to Washington, where they will place themselves in touch with the national department of agriculture. Secretary Wilson has already designated as their guide during their tour, one of the most efficient officials of the department. Under his guidance the party will journey westward through the great agricultural states of the Union, including California. Experiment stations and great stock and grain farms are to be visited, as well as the great packing establishments of Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha.
After visiting Washington and Oregon, the party will return through the more northern part of the United States, and will travel as far east as Boston, where they will visit the great truck gardens. The party is scheduled to sail for home on June 10. They have evidently determined on accomplishing a great task in a short time.

Don't Plant Crown Gall.
Crown gall is becoming very prevalent in nurseries all over the country, and it will be well for our readers to be on the lookout for it. Recently the inspectors in the state of Washington found a consignment of 50,000 apple trees, most of which were infected with crown gall. The consig-ment was burned. The same lot of trees had been passed by the inspectors in New York, or else the boxes
and packages in which the consig-
ment went forward contained other lots of trees when inspected. If a man is going to set out a tree he should know that it is healthy when he sets it out. A little carelessness
in this matter may mean a great deal
to the future of the orchard. If an infected tree is planted the result may be doubly disastrous, for the tree may prove a failure in itself, and it may also introduce undesirable fungi into
the soil of the orchard, and in this way the rest of the trees may become infected and rendered worthless.

Food for Young Pigs.
Shorts and skim milk is the ideal
food for young pigs. Where milk is not to be had, shorts moistened with kitchen slops is good. In a month's time a mixture of oats and ground
barley may be added. As the pigs grow older whole peas steeped for twenty-four hours, may be fed. Roots
in winter and clover pasture in summer will in all cases reduce the cost of production. Well-cured clover hay
may be given in small quantities in winter, and will be relished and utilized to good advantage. Charcoal or hardwood ashes and salt should be within reach at all times. Prof. Henry gives the result of an experiment with bone meal fed with corn. He found that 28 per cent less grain was required to make 200 pounds of pork;
hardwood ashes and salt had nearly
the same effect. We learn from this
that by use of this condiment the cost
is reduced by nearly one cent a pound.
—W. J. Fraser.

Grain in the Hands of Farmers.
A recent report of the statisticians of the department of agriculture
shows the amount of wheat remaining in farmers' hands on March 1 to have been about 164,000,000 bushels,
or 24.5 per cent of last year's crop,
as compared with 23.2 per cent of the crop of 1901 on hand on March 1, 1902, and 24.5 per cent of the crop of 1900 on hand on March 1, 1901.
The corn in farmers' hands is estimated at about 1,050,000,000 bushels,
or 41.6 per cent of last year's crop,
against 23.2 per cent of the crop of 1901 on hand on March 1, 1902,
and 36.9 per cent of the crop of 1900
on hand March 1, 1901.
Or oats there are reported to be about 255,000,000 bushels, or 32.6 per cent of last year's crop, still in farmers' hands, as compared with 30.6
per cent of the crop of 1901 on hand
March 1, 1902, and 36.2 per cent of the crop of 1900 on hand on March 1, 1901.
Root-hairs absorb water with considerable force. It is the absorptive
power of the root-hairs that causes
water (sap) to flow so freely from injured stems of grape vines and some other plants in spring, and from wounds in the trunks of some trees
in summer.

A "strain" of fowls is a family that

and packages in which the consig-
ment went forward contained other
lots of trees when inspected. If a man is going to set out a tree he
should know that it is healthy when
he sets it out. A little carelessness
in this matter may mean a great deal
to the future of the orchard. If an infected tree is planted the result may
be doubly disastrous, for the tree may
prove a failure in itself, and it may
also introduce undesirable fungi into
the soil of the orchard, and in this
way the rest of the trees may become infected and rendered worth-
less.

Food for Young Pigs.
Shorts and skim milk is the ideal
food for young pigs. Where milk is not to be had, shorts moistened with kitchen slops is good. In a month's
time a mixture of oats and ground
barley may be added. As the pigs
grow older whole peas steeped for
twenty-four hours, may be fed. Roots
in winter and clover pasture in summer will in all cases reduce the cost
of production. Well-cured clover hay
may be given in small quantities in
winter, and will be relished and utilized to good advantage. Charcoal or hardwood ashes and salt should be within reach at all times. Prof. Henry
gives the result of an experiment with
bone meal fed with corn. He found that 28 per cent less grain was required to make 200 pounds of pork;
hardwood ashes and salt had nearly
the same effect. We learn from this
that by use of this condiment the cost
is reduced by nearly one cent a pound.
—W. J. Fraser.

Grain in the Hands of Farmers.
A recent report of the statisti-
cians of the department of agriculture
shows the amount of wheat remaining in farmers' hands on March 1 to
have been about 164,000,000 bushels,
or 24.5 per cent of last year's crop,
as compared with 23.2 per cent of the
crop of 1901 on hand on March 1,
1902, and 24.5 per cent of the crop of 1900 on hand on March 1, 1901.
The corn in farmers' hands is estimated at about 1,050,000,000 bushels,
or 41.6 per cent of last year's crop,
against 23.2 per cent of the crop of 1901 on hand on March 1, 1902,
and 36.9 per cent of the crop of 1900
on hand March 1, 1901.
Or oats there are reported to be
about 255,000,000 bushels, or 32.6 per cent of last year's crop, still in farmers' hands, as compared with 30.6
per cent of the crop of 1901 on hand
March 1, 1902, and 36.2 per cent of
the crop of 1900 on hand on March 1, 1901.

Root-hairs absorb water with considerable force. It is the absorptive
power of the root-hairs that causes
water (sap) to flow so freely from
injured stems of grape vines and
some other plants in spring, and from
wounds in the trunks of some trees
in summer.

A "strain" of fowls is a family that has been carefully bred by one breeder, or his successors, for a number of years, and has acquired an individual character of its own.

VANITY OF GUINEA FOWLS.

Stand for Hours Admiring Themselves in Mirror.
A pair of guinea fowls were introduced as pets into the garden of a young man up town the other week, says the Philadelphia Record. The wings of the birds were clipped, so that they might not fly away, and they were quartered in an outhouse that happened to contain a mirror.
The effect of the mirror on the guinea seems hardly credible. They post themselves before it, and there, studying their reflections intently,
they stand perfectly motionless and silent for hours at a time. It is impossible to drive them away with shouts or hand-clappings. They must be carried forth bodily, and then, as soon as they can, they return. No matter how fine the weather may be,
the guinea fowls remain in the outhouse,
gazing at themselves in the mirror.
To get them to take exercise it is necessary to carry them forth, and then to shut up the outhouse tight.
The owner of the fowls thinks that perhaps the mirror hypnotizes them.

COLORED SHOES ARE POPULAR.

Society Does Not Take to Them, but Army Men Like Varied Hues.
If colored shoes are not generally worn they are popular in the army, as evidenced by recent contracts given out for the manufacturing of shoes for the members of the United States army, says the Shoe and Leather Reporter. One contract was for 51,000 pairs of shoes, all colored, there being not a single pair of blacks in the order.
In another order was included 884 pairs of colored shoes. This gives the impression that for army wear colored shoes are preferred. They look better for a longer period of time with reasonable care than black goods, in the opinion of the army officials. For hot weather colored shoes are viewed by sensible people as a most common sense proposition.

The Fan in Europe.

The fan made an almost simultaneous appearance throughout Italy and France, in England and Spain. Its most artistic flights have been achieved in France; but not even to France will Spain yield in its use of the fan as "an important weapon in the mimic warfare of coquetry and flirtation." Whether the Spanish lady is in church or a place of amusement, whether visiting or walking, it is always in her hands, frequently portraying the horrors of the bull-fight. Corresponding with these, certain French revolution fans represent Charlotte Corday carrying a dagger in one hand and a fan in the other!

To Improve American Cattle.

Henry C. Moore of Sioux City, believes that it is possible to inter-breed the Arctic musk ox with cattle of the temperate zone, and that stock so produced would be able to withstand the severe winters of the United States. He has been in communication on the subject with Peary,
the Arctic explorer, who is favorably impressed with the idea. "The vast loss of the present season among herds of the Western ranges," said Mr. Moore, "emphasizes the necessity of trying to infuse harder blood into American cattle."

"PE-RU-NA SAVED MY LIFE,"

Writes Mrs. W. McRoberts.

Women Made Strong and Happy Mothers.

Catarrh of the Pelvic Organs is a Frequent Cause of Barrenness.

Pe-ru-na Eradicates Catarrh From the System.

To the woman of ancient Israel not to become a mother was regarded as the greatest of earthly calamities. To become a mother—more especially the mother of a strong, healthy boy—was the height of glory for the faithful woman of the good old Bible days. Even now, when maternity is not esteemed as of yore, the mother of healthy children is an object of admiration, and sometimes envy, by her neighbors. As compared with ancient peoples, the average American woman has a low appreciation of motherhood. There are, however, a great many exceptions to this statement.

The accompanying letters from grateful women who have been made strong, healthy and happy mothers need no added words of ours to make them convincing. Catarrh had weakened and impaired their entire systems. Peruna made them sound and well.

Mrs. L. M. Griffith, Arco, Idaho, writes: "Your medicine did me a wonderful amount of good. It cured me of barrenness. I am 30 years old and never had any children; but since beginning your medicine

"I Do All My House-
work and Take Care of My Baby
and I Feel So Good."

A YOUNG MOTHER'S LETTER.

Mrs. W. McRoberts, writes to Dr. Hartman from Delano, Miss., the following:
Delano, Miss.

Doctor S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

Dear Sir:—I feel perfectly well of catarrh. I did as you directed me to and took Peruna and Manalin. The third of March I gave birth to a 10-pound baby girl and we are both well and happy. I am very thankful to you, and Peruna saved my life. I recommend it to everyone and can't praise it enough.

"I send you my own and my baby's picture. She is so sweet and good,—she is a Peruna baby. I have such good health now. I do all my housework and take care of my baby, and feel so good.

"There are three or four of my neighbors using Peruna now, since it did me so much good. They were just run down, and they think it is fine. It is so good to give strength."—Mrs. W. McRoberts.

I gave birth to a 10-pound baby girl. She is now six months old and weighs 25 pounds. My friends were all surprised. Some would not believe it until they came to see me.

"My husband says he never saw such a change in any one as there was in me after I had taken three or four bottles of Peruna. I am stronger than I have been since I was quite young. God bless you and your medicine forever. I can not tell you all. My letter is too long already; but I will say Peruna cured me. I never saw or heard of anything half so good. I can never thank you enough for your kindness. In cases of la grippe it works like a charm. It cured my baby when other medicines failed. She was real bad with la grippe."—Mrs. L. M. Griffith.

Mrs. E. E. Thomas, Alpha, Mo., writes: "I have used your Peruna and Manalin. I had been doctoring for several years, but kept getting worse. One day a neighbor woman brought me your book, the "ills of Life," and wanted me to take your medicine. I told her that I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I had tried so much medicine. My neighbors thought I was nearly dead with consumption.

"Finally I concluded that I would make a last trial. So my husband got me a bottle of Peruna and Manalin. I commenced taking them according to directions. That was two years ago. A year ago last November I gave birth to a 10-pound baby boy, who is well and hearty; and I am doing my own housework. I can never give Peruna too great praise. I think it is the best medicine I ever heard of."—Mrs. E. E. Thomas.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Reason Why more wheat is because vegetation grows in pro-

THE DRAUGHT'S
BLACK-DRAUGHT
THE ORIGINAL
LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. The Draught's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by The Draught's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than The Draught's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used The Draught's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints.

Christians and Jews celebrated the 13th of April this year as Easter and Passover. Only twice in the 19th century did the two festivals fall upon the same day: April 14, 1805, and April 8, 1835; and only four times will they come upon the same day in the 20th century, namely, April 12, 1903, April 1, 1923, April 17, 1927 and April 19, 1931.

The way the village of Manchester came by its name is thus explained by Mrs. Sarah Wier, of Ypsilanti, according to the Manchester Enterprise: The old inhabitants claim that on account of the excellent water power there—three dams with a combined fall of nearly 35 feet—they hoped the place might become a great manufacturing city like Manchester, England, so they named it Manchester.

If you are going to be one of the many June brides or a bridal attendant, and are somewhat in doubt about any of the fine points of wedding etiquette, you will be able to enlighten yourself by referring to the article under the Observances of Society in the June Delineator. It is a concise, yet complete, exposition of the requirements of good form in this regard. The duties of all who are concerned are explained, and the information is reliable.

Every man who saves money is called mean and stingy by the loafers on the street corners and pointed out with reproach by the men who idle away their time. In order to get ahead, a man must save, must spend less than he makes, and above all things he must work. Don't be ashamed to have anyone say that you are "close." Attend to your business and you are all right. The men who criticize the thrifty really pay them a big compliment. It is the tribute sloth pays to industry.
