DECORATION DAY.

Once More the Old Veterans Honor the Graves of Departed Comrades.

Year by year the ranks of the comrades of R. P. Carpenter Post, No. 41, G. A. R., show a decrease in the number who march in them on Decoration day. And each year shows the ravages that time makes on those who do march. Their step is not so swinging and elastic, and with some it has come to be a positive effort to walk the distance from the town hall to the cemetery and back, and it is only a question of a few years when there will be none of the old boys left to perform the duty they so gladly and cheerfully perform even in the midst of their infirmities.

Promptly at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the bugle call "assembly" was sounded and preceded by the Chelsea band, the members of R. P. Carpenter Post, No. 41, G. A. R., and the W. R. C. marched to the opera house to attend the exercises of the day. The hall and the stage were appropriately decorated with flags, red, white and blue bunting, and flowers. On the stage were seated the speaker of the day Rev. W. P. Considine, the local clergy, and the members of the G. A. R. The hall was well filled with an attentive audience.

The program opened with music by the band, after which the male quartette, Messrs. Geo. and Floyd Ward, Louis Burg and Fred S. Welch, sang "The Dear Old Flag." Prayer was offered by Rev. C. S. Jones, and Comrade T. E. Wood in accordance with the general orders read Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg. The male quartette sang "My Sult of Army Blue," and then Rev. W. P. Considine was introduced to the audience.

Father Considine said it was a gracious task to speak to the veterans, and appropriate, as he was the son of a volunteer officer, who raised a company and was in the war to the finish. He appreciated the honor and thanked the Post for their mark of confidence. He eulogized the veterans, spoke of the destiny of the Republic as the friend of liberty.

For now more than 35 years these memorial celebrations have occurred, and the thought that they have suggested have been expressed by eloquent orators, but no matter who the speaker may be, you veterans with your medals, flowers and empty sleeves are the real orators of the day. He paid a glowing tribute to the soldier, both native and foreign born, spoke of the steadfastness of the Germans in Missouri who prevented that state from joining the Confederacy, and the loyalty of the impulsive and liberty-loving Irish. One word more, Veterans of the Republic, your battle is not yet over. You should be leaders to fight for the retention of what you and your fathers won. I tell you that there are greater dangers to this Republic from within than from without. Our soldiers and our sailors will protect us from those without, but who shall guard us from ourselves? In vain shall we indulge in patriotic platitudes. "Justice exalteth a nation, but sin maketh nations miserable."

What with 20,000 divorces annually, more than in all the nations of Europe together, and 50,000,000 of people belonging to no form of religious belief, as shown by the census of 1900, what with increasing wealth and luxury, the increasing hostility between labor and capital, what will be the end?

Shall we pass from the victorious, honest, austere Republic of our fathers to a voluptuous empire? Shall the Republic pass like that of Rome into a corrupt empire, and from a corrupt empire into disintegration.

Before God I declare that there is but one power that can arrest this. That power is the Christian religion, and he is no patriot who ignores its practice. Anarchy, socialism, atheism and A. P. A.ism have no place on American soil. He advocated liberality in the giving of pensions. For the self-respect of the generation that witnessed the war; for the perpetuation of high principles of patriotism among the people; for the education of the young; for the honor of America, and the glory of humanity, we are bound to honor and cherish the declining years of the brave men, who offered their lives to keep the Republic united.

The quartette sang "Beat the Drums Soft and Low," Rev. A. Schoen pronounced the benediction, and the large audience passed out into the street, many of them to go to the cemetery to witness the concluding ceremony of decorating the graves.

The procession was formed and marched to the cemetery where at the soldiers' monument the ritual services of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. were carried out, the salute of honor was fired, "Taps" were sounded and the graves of the deceased veterans were decorated, after which the procession reformed and marched back to their quarters.

Chelsea Bay View Club Banquet.

The ninth annual banquet of the Bay View Reading Circle was held at the Chelsea house, Monday evening, June 1. Each member was allowed to invite a friend and about 60 ladies and gentlemen were present to partake of the good things provided. The dining room was very tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. C. E. Stimson acted as toast-mistress, or "Magistra Epularum" as the program had it. Some of those present who were not versed in Latin asked what the words meant, and were told "top of the pile." The program of toasts and music was fine and each one acquitted herself nobly and well. The numbers were as follow:

Piano Duet—Misses Caster and Congdon.

Our Guests—Mrs. Emily Glazier.

Our Men—Mrs. G. W. Palmer.

Quartette—Mesdames Depew and Stiles, Misses Caster and Everett.

Our Unmarried Members—Miss Elizabeth Depew.

Reading, "A Similar Case"—Mrs. Lewis Winans.

Piano Duet—Misses Caster and Congdon.

The New Woman—Mrs. D. C. McLaren.

Vocal Duet—Mrs. F. A. Stiles and Miss Jessie Everett.

Boland Line to Detroit.

The merger agreement between the Jackson & Suburban Traction, Wolf Lake Railway resort, Jackson & Ann Arbor, Detroit, Plymouth & Northville, and Jackson & Battle Creek Electric companies has been executed, and titles to the properties are being examined by the attorneys of the syndicate in New York that will operate them. The bonds of the enterprise have all been underwritten, and it is hoped to have a continuous line of trolleys from Battle Creek to Detroit in operation by Jan. 1, 1904.

The equipment will be raised to the very highest standard. The roadbed will equal any steam road, and rapid transit is assured. There may be changes in the line if the distances can be materially shortened.

The present lines go through Jackson, Battle Creek, Marshall, Grass Lake, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Plymouth to Detroit. None of these places will be dropped by shortening the lines, but the lines may be changed. New cars, waiting rooms at convenient places and all modern methods will be the rule of the new management.

China and Linen Shower.

The china and linen shower given in honor of Miss Clara V. Snyder at the home of Mrs. J. D. Watson last evening by Mesdames Watson, G. W. Palmer and A. R. Welch, was a very pretty and enjoyable function. About 30 ladies who are invited to the wedding next Tuesday were present and they made things quite interesting for the bride-elect. Beautiful hand painted china and handsome pieces of linen in great profusion were presented to Miss Snyder during the evening. The hostesses received from 8 to 10 o'clock. They were assisted by the Misses Frances C. Noyes and Florence Martin, who presided at the refreshment tables and Miss Mabel Bacon at the piano. Dainty light refreshments were served. The rooms were tastefully decorated in a color scheme of pink and white, in which carnations and ribbons were used.

A Fine Showing.

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank, held Tuesday, the usual semi-annual 4 per cent dividend was declared. Added to which the surplus fund was increased $2,500 and the fixture account was reduced $300. The surplus fund of the bank is now up to the full amount required by law, 20 per cent of the capital of the bank. That this amount has been made up in 5 1/2 years business is a remarkable showing, and shows that the affairs of the bank have been handled in a judicious and careful manner. At no time during that period has the bank failed to pay its stockholders a 4 per cent semi-annual dividend.

THE MICHIGAN NEWS

What is Doing in All Sections of the State

Were They Murdered?

Mrs. Mary McKnight, of Walton, Grand Traverse county, has been arrested on suspicion of having murdered Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy and their 2-year-old child in Springfield township, Kalkaska county, near Fife Lake. She is in jail at Kalkaska, and other arrests will follow, it is said.

Mrs. McKnight was Murphy's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and baby died in the early part of May, within two weeks. The circumstances were looked upon as suspicious, and many vague rumors were current in the village, but no investigation was made at the time. The affair had ceased to be the subject of common talk when Sheriff Creighton, last week, quietly enlisted the services of the prosecutor, ex-hummed Murphy's body and sent the stomach to Ann Arbor for analysis. A report received yesterday showed that the stomach contained enough strychnine to kill several men, and the arrest of Mrs. McKnight followed. The other bodies will be disinterred, and the stomachs analyzed at once.

Murphy was insured for $1,000, and a theory that there might have been an attempt by someone to kill both him and the beneficiary, in order that the insurance might revert, has been formed.

A mortgage for $600, given by Murphy to Mrs. McKnight, and filed after his death, aroused suspicion. It was said to have been raised to $600 from $200.

Eleven Passengers Injured.

One of the worst accidents that the Rapid Railway has ever experienced occurred Tuesday morning on the outskirts of New Baltimore, a dozen people being more or less seriously injured. A locomotive is used on the Rapid Railway between Chesterfield and Marine City to haul freight running night only. As there is no turn table or "Y" at Chesterfield, the locomotive runs backwards when on its trip to Marine City. It is claimed that owing to a pressure of freight business these trains have of late been encroaching upon the time of the passenger service. This morning the engine was pulling 14 loaded cars when it crashed into the electric car. The tender of the engine was driven half way through the passenger car, smashing it in splinters. About 11 passengers were on the electric car at the time of the accident and nearly all were injured.

Decoration Day.

The observance of Decoration day throughout the state was more general than usual, besides the exercises, business being suspended as a rule. There seems to have been in many places a feeling that amusements are inappropriate to the occasion, and the day seemed more one of respect for the dead. In many cases civic societies joined with the G. A. R. in the processions, and at the cemeteries added to their tributes to the sleeping veterans, similar tokens of remembrance for their own departed brothers. The veterans of the Spanish war acted as escorts for their older soldier brothers, and made up the firing squads which gave the last honors.

Last Water Scandal Trial.

The trial of Gerrit H. Albers, of Grand Rapids, ex-circuit court commissioner, charged with offering a bribe to Ald. Renihan during the summer of 1900, is on. It is the last of the water scandal cases, and the information alleges that the defendant corruptly offered the alderman $3,000 to influence him to favor a contract to bring water to Grand Rapids from Lake Michigan. Former Prosecuting Attorney Rogers, Judge Allen C. Adsit, Myron H. Walker and Francis Stace appeared for the defense.

Widespread Storm Damage.

Reports from numerous towns in the state show that great damage was done by a wind storm Tuesday, especially at North Branch, the business portion of which suffered thousands of dollars, and several persons were more or less seriously injured. Barns in the vicinity of the village were wrecked, houses unroofed and windows shattered. Decatur, Reading, Coral, Emmett, Deckerville, Yale and Reese were scenes of damage by lightning, which burned barns and killed horses and cattle.

The Concord Bank Robbery.

The Jackson police have in custody two men, giving the names of Armstrong and O'Donnell, on suspicion of being the men who robbed the Concord bank about five weeks ago. The men were arrested at Ann Arbor where they were following the Forepaugh circus. They both deny any knowledge of the burglary, but the description given a man calling himself Allison, a printer, who disappeared from Concord at the time of the burglary, fits O'Donnell.

Now the Truth Comes Out.

John J. Ryan, whose confessions caused the arrest of D. V. Miller, assistant attorney-general of the post-office department at Washington, and of Jos. M. Johns, prosecuting attorney of Parke county at Rockville, Ind., operated his "get-rich-quick" turf investment concern from Cincinnati and from St. Louis and ran winter races at Newport, Ky. Other warrants have been issued as a result of the investigation of the postoffice inspectors. Ryan says Johns asked $5,000 but he got his work for $2,500.

Tommy Good, sent to Jackson in 1890, threatened to take the life of Deputy Sheriff Behrendt, but now appeals to him for aid in securing a release. His sentence expires in 1904, but as he has been anything but a model prisoner it is doubtful if he gets free.

A man employed by the Lansing Gaslight company on Wednesday fairly forced an entrance to a residence on Grand street in order to read the gas meter. Afterward he discovered that the cause of the opposition he encountered was due to the presence of a case of smallpox in the house.

In Washtenaw county thirty-seven divorces were granted last year. At the beginning of the year there were sixty-eight cases pending and at the end eighty cases pending. Forty-nine new divorce bills were filed. Not a single divorce was refused, nor was there a single divorce suit withdrawn.

C. F. Schuler, of Allegan, believes from a description given him that the man who committed suicide in Michigan City, Ind., by throwing himself under a train, was his brother-in-law, who recently escaped from the Michigan state asylum. Matson, the suicide, was buried in the potter's field.

The prosecuting attorney says

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

One of the features of the bill to exempt from taxation all credits, including mortgages, which passed the house, and which is now on the table of the senate, is that it will release from taxation money in banks. In speaking of this phase of the matter, one of the officers of the tax commission said: "Taxing officers have never made an effort to enforce the law as to the small savings of working people in the banks, but there is now on the tax rolls of the state over $10,000,000 of money held by the banking companies of the upper peninsula in Boston banks, which the passage of this bill would release entirely. Besides this, many wealthy people, especially in Detroit, give amounts of money held by them in banks, and this, too, would escape."

The house passed the Van Zoeren bill providing that convicts in state prisons shall be employed in making supplies for state institutions, as far as possible. Jackson prison authorities say the bill is all right in principle, but that the prisons are not fitted with the machinery to carry it into effect, and that it is therefore impractical. On the other hand, there is much opposition in the legislature to the blinder twine bill for Jackson, on account of the large amount of money needed, and the question as to what shall be done with the convicts is likely to prove hard to solve.

The house passed the bill under which it is expected that a manual training school for the blind will be established at Saginaw. It appropriates $110,000, which is to do the building. The cost of maintenance will come after the edifices are prepared. When this bill was passed the governor signed the bill for a normal school in the western part of the state. The appropriations involved amounts to $150,000, with an annual expense hereafter for the maintenance of the new institution. All that is now needed to make the blind school bill law is Gov. Bliss's signature.

The lawyers of the house worked hard to get the 51 votes necessary to pass the bill increasing the number of supreme court judges from 5 to 8, and the bill was passed. Some of the members look at the bill as simply intended to provide three more attorneys with good jobs. The bill, which now goes to the senate, is really one of the most important measures acted upon in this session.

The bill to permit the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad to charge passengers 3 cents a mile instead of the 2 1/2 authorized by the present law was to have slipped through easily. Able lobbyists had smoothed the way for it, and they had received plenty of assistance from sympathetic legislators, but the committee of the whole voted to kill the bill, and the house afterwards concurred.

The senate has backed down on the fight over the appropriation of the Michigan exhibit at the world's fair. Their conference committee today reported that the house committee would not agree on anything more than $50,000, and the senators decided to recede. The report was adopted, and the bill thus goes to the governor at the figure set by the house.

The Michigan Central has arranged a new schedule for the Bay City and Mackinac division which will go into effect June 14. The cutting off of four hours between Detroit and the copper country will give Detroit merchants and manufacturers a chance to compete more successfully with Chicago wholesale houses.

Gov. Bliss has signed the bill to provide indeterminate sentences for criminals. The original bill was introduced by Vaughan, but the house substituted the measure that finally passed both houses. The governor also signed the bill providing for the junket to Georgia to dedicate the monument at Andersonville.

The bill providing for the sale of state property in Lansing failed to get enough votes to pass it. Those who voted against the bill took the position that the site of the old capitol which was proposed to be sold, would really be the best place for an adjunct to the capitol, which it is proposed to erect.

The senate state affairs committee recommended the passage of a resolution giving each member of the legislature a set of the compiled laws. The senate adopted the report of the committee. The house has already adopted the resolution.

The Kelly-Ward-Randall-Campbell bill, exempting credits from taxation, came to the senate for concurrence and on motion of Senator Kelly it was laid on the table by a vote of 16 to 13. It now looks as if there would be a warm fight on the bill.

For the first time in two months, the senate had a quorum on a Friday morning. Eighteen answered the roll call. They went through the order of business, however, out of deference to the absentees.

Lightning struck and killed James Devine and seriously hurt Peter Quinn and Charles Burns, near Baroda, Wednesday. The men were berry-pickers, whose homes were in Nashville, Tenn. On account of a great deal of paying and other public improvements, taxes in Monroe will be very large, and assessments on property all over the city have been raised.

Paul Lackner was killed in the north branch of Tamarack mine by the falling in of a vein of rock. He was 30 years old and leaves a widow and several children.

Machen Arrested and Fined.

A dispatch from Washington says A. W. Machen, superintendent of the free delivery service, who was relieved from duty some time ago, was arrested at the instigation of the postoffice department, charged with receiving bribes from contractors. These bribes are supposed to aggregate $20,000.

Postmaster-General Payne disclaimed Machen in the following order: "A. W. Machen is this day removed from the position of general superintendent of the free delivery service. His removal is made by reason of malfeasance on his part in the discharge of the duties of his office."

Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow this afternoon issued the following statement:

A. W. Machen, general superintendent of free delivery system, was arrested at 1 o'clock today. He was charged with receiving bribes amounting in all to about $22,000 in connection with a contract held by Groff Bros., Washington, D. C., for a patent fastener used on street letter boxes, known as the Groff fastener. The postoffice department in the past 10 years has used about $160,000 worth of such fasteners and it is shown by ample evidence that for the past three years, at least, Mr. Machen has been receiving per cent of the amount paid to the Groffs. The transaction of the business was conducted by Diller R. Groff, who controls the patent of his brother Samuel M., a policeman.

The arrest of Machen was the concluding act of an examination of the free delivery system conducted for three hours by Postmaster-General Payne, Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow, Inspector Fosnes, who relieved Machen as chief of the free delivery system, and Postoffice Inspector Myers. At the conclusion of the examination Deputy United States Marshal Springfield was called into Gen. Bristow's office and made the arrest.

The warrant on which Machen was arrested charges him with receiving a bribe. It is understood that other arrests are to follow. Machen was immediately dismissed by the postmaster-general. The amount of money paid during the past 10 years to Groff Bros., in Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow's statement, was subsequently changed to $140,000.

The arrest of A. W. Machen, under whom the annual appropriation for the rural free delivery grew in five years from $500,000 to $12,000,000, and who had away over 40,000 men of the carrier service, and who, a few weeks ago defied the postal inspectors to find any trace of crookedness in his record, has created the greatest sensation of the year. That he accepted bribes is freely asserted by the inspectors who say the evidence they have is of the most comprehensive nature. It includes many drafts of an alleged bribe, a compromising character bearing the signature of Mr. Machen. The warrant charges that Machen asked and was paid Aug. 8, 1902, the sum of $3,020.75 as his 40 per cent of the amount paid by the government for the mail box fasteners, and other payments as follows: Sept. 20, 1900, $2,501; Dec. 1, 1900, $3,000; Aug. 31, 1901, $1,271; Sept. 9, 1901, $753.50; Jan. 11, 1902, $794.08; Jan. 20, 1902, $2,500; April 1, 1902, $2,360.56; Aug. 22, 1902, $2,360.56. The postoffice sleuths are now on the track of George W. Beavers, former superintendent of the bureau of supplies, who retired early in the post office investigation, and Harrison J. Barrett, the nephew of Judge Tynes, who was formerly an employee of the assistant attorney-general's office, and who was suspected of giving aid to the turf investment companies in evading the laws. There is only a thin concealment of the fact that the same results are expected in the case of Beavers as have been secured against Machen.

Prescience.

Still the sky was gray and grim,
By the winter's breath congealed;
Rare and gaunt were bush and limb,
White and bleak were moor and field.
But beneath the frozen sod
Stirred a host of blossoms, shy,
Saying, with triumphant nod:
"Spring is nigh!"

Through the grove a rustic crept;
Neighbor unto neighbor spoke
Dryads who for long had slept
In their cells of bark awake,
Felt a subtle, eager thrill,
Stretched their arms, by rigor numb,
Passed the word o'er vale and hill:
"Spring is come!"

"Blind, insensate things!" I thought,
"All the world is ice and snow;
Yours a hope too dearly bought,
As a few short days will show.
Spring, you prate? When deep amid
Frost and drift lie leaf and spear!"
But, behold, e'en while I chide
Spring was here!

The Red Mask

Williams gave me the mask the night before he died. He had picked it up at some shop near the dock, the day our ship left Shanghai. In passing he had caught sight of it in the window, and, attracted by its awful hideousness, had entered and asked its price.

"Two dollars," the shopkeeper told him. "As you can see, the mask is not wholly new. I bought it from the servant of an Englishman a few weeks ago. The Englishman was found dead in his bed—strangled, doubtless the gentleman heard of it—made quite a stir. His friends said he had been murdered; but the English doctor said no, he had died in his sleep; there had been some trouble of the throat which had made it close up."

It was unwrapped in the smoking room that night, and the silence which fell upon the crowd when the mask was laid bare told more plainly than speech how hideous and revolting it was. The doctor was the first to speak:

"Heavens, Williams," he said, "if that thing were mine, I'd pitch it overboard! What the deuce are you going to do with it?"

"Oh," said Williams, well pleased by the evident aversion with which he regarded his purchase, "I intend to hang it over my bunk, and, when I get home, I'll ship it out West to my brother of mine; he's been writing me to bring him some Chinese truck—dragons, masks, and that sort of thing—and I fancy this ought to please him."

The mask was twice the size of a human face; it seemed carved out of wood, and was painted bright red. The eyeballs were large and pro-

How do me a favor and take him off my hands."

They were gilded, and holes, in the corners, made the eyes appear to be gazing fixedly in a side-wise direction. There were no other openings in the face.

The forehead was deeply wrinkled; the nose broad and flat, and the mouth, with thick, distended lips, was drawn into a sneering smile. Altogether the expression of the face was that which can best be described in the two words—mocking and fiendish.

That afternoon we weighed anchor and passed out of the harbor. Fair weather followed us all the way to the Gulf Stream, where we struck, and afterward ran into a head wind which took three knots from our speed. The storm went down on the second day; the engines were put at quickened speed, and we ran down the home coast toward Norfolk, where our orders called for us to stop.

One day more! The laughter and song grew louder, and the mess room that night rang with the noise of popping corks.

But among us all there was none in quite such high spirits as Williams. He would be detached as soon as the ship reached port and given his three months' leave, and he was to be married that very week.

That night, the last one of the run, I sat late with Williams in his room. As I was leaving he said:

"Look here, old man, I don't know what to do with that fellow there"—pointing to the mask. "I've more luggage than I can handle. Now, do me a favor. Will you take him and treat him kindly?"

"Yes," I said; "there's a girl here in Norfolk who'll be pleased to death with him. I'll give him to her."

"All right," said Williams; "he's yours."

Next morning my boy knocked on the door a full hour before rising time.

"Hello!" I cried. "What's up?"

"Oh, sah," he said, thrusting in his woolly head, "Mr. Williams is dead!"

I ran to Williams' room. The doctor was there.

"I can't make it out," he said slowly; "he died of strangulation—smothered to death. When I first saw him I thought he'd been murdered, and looked for prints of fingers on his throat. I really did. He wasn't the sort of man for apoplexy. His death came from natural causes all right enough—only they're so unnatural I can't understand them at all. Poor fellow!"—and there were tears in his eyes and mine—"poor fellow!"

"What is that dirt doing on his face?" I asked.

"I don't know," said the doctor. "It's dust, see?" And he wiped it off gently with his handkerchief.

Then moving back he caught sight of the mask just over the white face. "Here," he called to the boy who was waiting outside the door, "take that thing down and throw it overboard! It's like a fiend gloating over his prey!"

He shuddered as he spoke.

"No," I said quickly, "it's mine; Williams gave it to me last night."

And taking the mask I carried it to my room.

When my detachment came a few weeks later I went to my home in Washington, taking the mask with me. I hung it up, as Williams had done, over my bed. I no longer felt any repulsion towards it, but almost affection.

One night, the last one of my holidays, I awoke with a strange smothered feeling. There was a chill upon my face, and it seemed as though something cold and hard was pressed tightly over it. I tried to breathe, but could not.

Putting my hand to my face I found that it was covered by some large, smooth object. I tried, but could not remove it. My hands ran quickly over it.

It was the mask.

I could feel the distorted lips, the bulging eyeballs. I tried to call for help, but my mouth was closed by the pressing mask. I was strangling; a red vapor danced before my eyes; the pain at my temples was maddening, and their throbbing sounded like the beating of a mighty hammer.

I beat upon the face with my clenched fists; I fought to lift my head from the pillow, but it was held there as though a ton of iron were upon it. I thrust my fingers into the eyes and dragged upon the mask with a madman's strength—all in vain.

And now a drowsy feeling came upon me; I heard bells tolling in the far distance; and now and then the low booming of a gun.

Suddenly a yellow light flashed into my eyes through the holes in the mask. The second after I was sitting up in bed, gasping for breath, while my brother, in his night dress and holding a lamp, stood looking at me, half alarmed, half amused.

"Nightmare," I heard him say. "Do you often have them like this? I heard you kicking like a steer in a stall and came to see what was up."

I leaned from the bed. The mask was lying, face up, on the floor. Climbing out of bed, I staggered across the room, and, taking up a twenty-pound dumb-bell in both hands came back to the mask.

Lifting the iron ball high above my head I hurled it with all my strength upon the red, grinning face. It struck squarely, and the mask was shattered into a mass of dust and fragments.

My brother looked on in affright. "Are you mad?" he cried.

"No; let me tell you," I said.

But my brother laughed when I had ended, and said that it was night-mare, that was all.

My face was dirty, covered by the dust which had gathered on the inside of the mask, but when I showed him this proof he only said:

"The mask fell on you, that's all, and that's what started you off on the dream."

Among the fragments of the mask, I found, next morning, a thin piece of rice paper, closely covered with red characters. Taking it to a Chinaman who kept a shop near by, I asked him to translate it. He did so, and I wrote it down.

"I, Kung Wong, known of men as 'The Strangler,' made this mask from the powdered bones of my victims, mixing them with clay, and molded it into the shape and likeness of him that sits beside me in my sleep and whispers in my ear the names of those whom I must kill. It has been promised to me that when I die my soul shall enter into this mask and still do the deeds which I did while living. He who sits beside me in my sleep hath said it.

But my brother, notwithstanding this, still laughs.—Wilson Lyne in Boston Journal.

FEARED CITY WAS DESTROYED.

Natural Alarm of New Yorkers Residing in Mexico.

From Mexico City there comes in a private letter this story of how the rumor became current there in April of the destruction of New York:

"On the afternoon of the 3d inst. there was a rumor here of a terrible earthquake and cyclone in New York. Everybody talked about it, and each one had a worse tale to tell; half New York was destroyed, with 1,000,000 people. Think of my anxiety! I was afraid to telegraph. At last I made up my mind to do so, but when I reached the cable office they showed me a telegram just received in reply to an inquiry, which read: 'Not a word of truth in it.' I was greatly relieved. It seems that two Spaniards who live here and who had been on a visit to Europe returned to New York that day. They are known among their friends here as 'Earthquake' and 'Cyclone,' and are besides great eaters. One of their friends in New York telegraphed to a friend here:

"Earthquake and Cyclone arrived; have swallowed up half New York."

"This was the cause of the whole thing."

FIRE AND FLOOD.

Ruin of Property and Loss of Life at Topeka.

North Topeka, Kas., which is separated from the city proper by the Kansas river, on Saturday, day and night, experienced the horrors of fire added to the terrible situation occasioned by flood. It was reported that at least 200 persons were dead, with every prospect that the calamity would be swelled to much greater proportions. North Topeka was completely cut off by the rushing waters, the swift current of the swollen stream making rescue work well nigh impossible. After much arduous labor a swaying pontoon bridge was stretched between a permanent bridge and the doomed town, with the result that a great many persons were rescued who would otherwise have perished. Fifty distinct fires were counted at one time and the prospect was that the entire town would be wiped out. Some people sought safety in the branches of trees and agonized cries for assistance could be heard a mile away. In Topeka proper, thousands have been driven from their homes by the flood and the scenes of suffering and confusion stagger the imagination. The floods are general in Kansas and neighboring states and the ruin is widespread. The greatest loss and suffering is in central and eastern Kansas, northwestern Missouri, eastern Nebraska and southwestern Iowa, the result of 10 days' almost continuous rainfall. Many lives have been lost and it is estimated that no less than 25,000 persons have been driven from their homes, many of which were washed away and that the property loss will run well up into the millions of dollars. The situation summarized follows:

Homeless, Kansas—North Topeka, 7,000; near Emporia, 500; Salina and vicinity, 800; Lawrence, 500; Kansas City, Armourdale and Argentine, 10,000.

Missouri—Harlem and Sheffield, 700. Iowa—Des Moines, 6,000; Ottumwa, 200.

Nebraska—Lincoln, 300; Beatrice, 200.

Financial losses: Kansas—North Topeka, $1,000,000; Lawrence, $100,000; Concordia, $100,000; Abilene and vicinity, $300,000; Salina and vicinity, $150,000; Solomon, Chapman, Detroit and Woodbine and intervening country, $400,000.

It is now believed that the total number of lives lost in the Topeka flood will not exceed 20. No lives were lost in the fire, and only eight buildings were destroyed by the fire. Early reports were unavoidably exaggerated. The burning of lumber piles gave the impression that the whole of the north part of the city was going. The river is lowering. An improvised cable has been erected from the north end of the Kansas river bridge to the fire station along the wires and people are being rapidly rushed to the south side, where they are given food and clothing.

A city of tents will be erected on the high grounds. A thousand have been secured and the chances are that they will be inhabited for at least a month.

The situation at North Topeka is improving. There is but little more danger of death from drowning. Except in isolated cases, the refugees have been cared for, though many are wearing insufficient clothing, and hundreds are sleeping in improvised beds, but it is believed that all have been cared for.

About 200 people are still at North Topeka, 150 of them being in the upper story of the woolen mill. They are well fed, but extremely uncomfortable.

The property loss from the best estimates now possible will amount approximately to $1,000,000. The whole of North Topeka is still under water seven feet deep.

With the waters of the Kaw and Missouri rivers nearly four feet above the disastrous level of 1881 and their swollen tide spread over twelve square miles of the city and its suburbs, Kansas City Sunday night was in the worst flood of its history. Here are results:

Property loss, over $3,000,000.

At least 12 drowned.

Armourdale and Argentine deserted.

At East Des Moines, Ia., the flood seemed to be receding and the 6,000 people who had been driven from their homes had a ray of hope. The condition of the sufferers has been slightly alleviated by the better organization of the relief forces.

A New Paper.

Beginning with the middle of next month, Jackson prison will have its own printing establishment and its own official organ—a four-page weekly paper. Some 60 long-term prisoners, from their meager earnings, have contributed enough money to fit up a well appointed plant. Altogether, $700 has been spent for the purchase of a very good hand press and the necessary type, and further purchases are being made to render the equipment complete. The editorial management rests in the hands of a committee composed of prisoners who will devote the time they have to themselves, in the evenings and on Sundays, to the editing of the manuscript, while the warden will exercise censorship.

Wiped Out by Earthquake.

A terrible earthquake occurred April 29 at Melazgherd, in the village of Van, 80 miles southeast of Erzurum, on the Euphrates. The town was totally destroyed, with its entire population, numbering 2,000 souls, including 700 Armenians, as well as the troops forming the garrison of Melazgherd. In addition over 400 houses in neighboring villages collapsed.

Mob Violence.

The town of Jackson, Ky., experienced a night of terror Wednesday, when a mob attacked the jail in which Chas. Jett and Tom White are lodged under indictments for murder of Lawyer Marcum. The state troops repulsed the attack. It is thought that the presence of the militia to protect witnesses will enable the authorities to lay bare the plot which has resulted in so many murders in Breathitt county. It is not known whether the mob was hostile or friendly to the prisoners.

President Harper, of the University of Chicago, is strongly opposed to the idea of students acting as "strike breakers."

To Be No Contest.

Senator Hanna has withdrawn his opposition to the indorsement of Roosevelt by the Ohio Republican state convention. Senator Foraker says regarding the situation: "Senator Hanna's statement and the position he now takes are eminently appropriate. I congratulate the president and Senator Hanna and the Republicans of Ohio on the harmony within the party that this step reveals. We can now avoid a contest in Ohio, there is no further possibility of a clash, and the Republicans of our state can proceed to triumphantly re-elect Senator Hanna and to win a splendid victory for the state ticket."

Marcum's Murderers Indicted.

After an all day's session of the special grand jury, sitting in Jackson, Ky., to and from which the principal witness was escorted under protection of a guard of soldiers Monday, Curtis Jett and Tom White were indicted for the assassination of James B. Marcum. The action taken by the grand jury was prompt and decisive and tonight there is a growing impression that justice will at last be administered in the Hargis-Cockrill feud, of which Attorney Marcum was the latest victim.

NO RACE SUICIDE IN THIS FAMILY.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weber and Children.

Oscar Weber of Atlantic City proves his belief in the "Rooseveltian theory" by striving to pound out a living as a cabinetmaker for a family of thirteen children, ten of whom are boys. The oldest child has reached the advanced age of 25, and the youngest is half past three.

Weber was born in Saxony and his wife is a Bohemian.

The accompanying photograph of the family is a chip shy, as one child was away from home when the camera was trained on the group.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Me New Life.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Miles' Remedies quite extensively, especially the Restorative Nervine, which has done wonders for me. Six years ago I had nervous prostration and again three years ago, at which time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I kept taking it for six months and have taken an occasional dose during the last two years. I am practically a new man and feel that I have been given a new lease of life. I used to have very bad attacks of stomach trouble but since using the Nervine I can eat most anything I want with impunity. I was examined in Omaha by a noted German doctor three years ago. He told me I was liable to a paralytic stroke any moment; that my whole left side was badly affected. That was just before I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My work for two years and a half has been very trying on my nerves. I am a presiding elder, traveling my districts at the rate of ten thousand miles a year, preaching on an average of five times a week, besides many business meetings, and the multitudinous cares of my work in general. Thanks to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I have been gaining in flesh despite this hard work until now I weigh a hundred and ninety-six pounds, nearly twenty pounds more than in all my life. I preach Nervine wherever I go to those afflicted with nerve, heart or stomach trouble."—Rev. M. D. Myers, Presiding Elder, Free Methodist Church, Correctionville, Ia.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1903.

How much longer will our dreary legislators continue to grind away and do nothing except spend the people's money? About all they seem good for is to view circus parades and fritter away time in other useless ways. As for the brazen effrontery of the senate members who persist in blocking any and all legislation looking to primary election reform, the people are by this time fully conversant with whom the blame lies. If they ever by their votes return these men to the legislature they deserve to be boss-ridden all the days of their lives.

The papers are telling of a very warm roast that Governor Bliss lately handed out to Tom Navin, of Detroit. In talking with him about Sunday baseball playing, the governor said: "I am surprised that you should come out here on this measure. When I appointed you, and people criticised me for doing it, I told them that I was trying to give you a chance to show that you could be a good, upright citizen, but this doesn't look like it."

Senator Glazier's bill to give the state oil inspector two more deputies failed of passage in the house Tuesday, the vote being 22 for to 37 against.

A Pertinent Inquiry.

Do you know that for a little more than it costs to take your family to the theater once, you can have a Graphophone, which is equal to a dozen theatrical performances rolled into one, for with it you can reproduce all the songs, speeches and musical selections that you wish to hear? You get a combination of an orchestra, theater, concert and no end of novel and delightful entertainments. Nothing is truer than the assertion that the Graphophon entertains everybody everywhere. Those who are not familiar with this wonderful instrument have much to learn that will add to their pleasure.

The Columbia Phonograph Company, 37 Grand River avenue, Detroit, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application.

BASEBALL THIS WEEK.

Detroit and Chelsea Split Even in Saturday's Games.

Two interesting games of baseball were played on Saturday at the K. of P. park between the Junior Stars and the Detroit Juniors. The attendance at each game was good, particularly in the afternoon, although the wind was decidedly chilly and very much the reverse of comfortable. Even the "star" gazers, who occupied prominent positions outside the park so that they could see the whole game without it costing them even the trifling 15 cents admission fee asked, braved the breezes and saw the games out to a finish.

The morning game was won by the Stars in a phenomenal way. Beaten clear up 13 the last innings, with only two scores, made in the first innings, to their credit, the Detroit boys having in the meantime piled up eight runs, the Stars went in on their mettle and by timely hits and a few errors on the part of the Detroiters made eight runs. The score stood 10 to 8 in favor of Chelsea at the end of the game. The following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Junior Stars,	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Detroit Juniors,	3	0	0	0	1	0	4	—	8

The afternoon game was even more evenly played. The Detroiters got the lead in the first innings and kept it all through the game, the final score was 11 to 8 in their favor. The score by innings follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Detroit Juniors,	3	0	1	2	1	1	1	0	2	11
Junior Stars,	2	0	1	2	0	1	0	1	—	8

NOTES.

H. Holmes' pitching and throwing to bases in the morning was snappy work and good.

The double play made by McGuinness at short, G. BeGole at first and Raitrey at third was a swift piece of ball playing and was neatly done.

Rigley's playing at first for Detroit and G. BeGole's at the same place for Chelsea was fine, Rigley making but one error and BeGole none in the two games.

The two running catches of Burns, of Detroit, at center, and the one of C. Rogers, of Chelsea, could have no more than been equaled by professionals.

The fine catch of Bacon in left field and his long throw to LaMont BeGole, retiring the runner at the plate, completed a very fine double play, and deserves special mention.

Driven to Desperation.

DON'T LIKE AUTOMOBILES.

Members of the Farmers' Club Sit Right Down on Them Hard.

The May meeting of the Western Washtenaw Union Farmers' Club was held at the Chapman home Thursday, May 28. The day was fine, but, owing to the pressing farm work the attendance was not as large as usual. Those who did participate seemed to enjoy themselves hugely—the cup of good cheer was full to overflowing, the dinner fine, what more could one ask?

The meeting was called to order by Past President Lowry, but owing to the absence of nearly all who were to take part the program could not be carried out in full. First, was an excellent paper on "The culture and care of house-plants," by Mrs. E. S. Spaulding. The question of the automobile was then well-discussed and all who had anything at all to say seemed thoroughly disgusted at the rate of speed they are run through the country, regardless of those who are compelled still to have to ride in a carriage, to say nothing of the limited teams that are occasionally obliged to travel the highway. They should at least slacken their speed and give one-half the road or not be allowed to traverse the public highway, endangering people's lives. There should be a law to that effect and that law should be enforced. The remainder of the program consisted of music, select reading, etc.

The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fier, Thursday, June 18.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE MAID MEANT WELL.

Her Action Embarrassed Absent-Minded Professor.

Dr. John Bascom, ex-president of the University of Wisconsin, drew attention to himself recently by a bitter attack on the business methods of John D. Rockefeller. Dr. Bascom was celebrated at the University of Wisconsin for his absent-mindedness. Many stories are told of him in this regard. One of the stories concerns a reception that he once gave to the students of the freshman class. Lemonade was served during the evening, and when the maid—an innocent creature fresh from Ireland—handed the tray to her master, he put out his hand to it, and then, forgetting what he was about to do, let his fingers play aimlessly for several minutes among the glasses while he talked warmly upon some subject that much interested him. But the maid misunderstood Dr. Bascom's hesitation. She thought that she would help him out of it.

"I think this is the largest, sir," she said, and she thrust into his hand the glass that contained the greatest quantity of lemonade.

THE QUESTION OF SHAPE.

New York Writer Says the World is Mad on the Subject.

The world is gone mad on strength and shape, says "Tip" in the New York Press. Magazines and newspapers are alive with advertisements of methods of acquiring the muscle of Hercules, the arms of Venus, the neck of Juno, the bust of Vesta, the waist of Josephine, the hips of Diana, the legs of Cleopatra. Minerva is for the moment in the background. No hope for wisdom now! Women are displayed in impossible positions and advised to repeat certain poses. Mrs. Butex asked Mrs. Butex, "How do you keep your front so flat, my dear?" Mrs. Butex replied: "Oh, I am under instructions. Thirty times in the morning and thirty times in the evening I pick up each foot in my hands and touch the toe to the tip of my ear. You can have no idea how much it has reduced my front, certainly several inches and some pounds." "Do you stand up and do that?" "Necessarily, stand on one foot while the other is in the air." "Merciful heavens!"

AGREED ON THEIR VERDICT.

Jurymen Had Made Up Their Minds, and So Affirmed.

At Fort Scott (Kan.) the other day a jury in the District court returned a verdict finding a certain accused person guilty of larceny. The verdict had not been prepared in the technical form desired and the judge sent the jury back to make the necessary corrections. The jury was gone for half an hour, and when it returned it brought in a verdict acquitting the prisoner. Put a verdict even more amusing was perpetrated by a jury at Pittsburg. The case was a criminal one, and after a few minutes' consultation the jury filed into the box from its room. "Have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked the judge. "We have," responded the foreman, passing it over. "The clerk will read," said the judge. And the clerk read, "We, your jury, agree to disagree."

Old-Time Stocks in England.

A recent wish expressed by a magistrate at Stratford, England, that certain prisoners could be punished by confinement in the stocks recalls the fact that some of those instruments of punishment still exist in that country. There is one at Haverling-atte-Bower, not many miles from Stratford, and another is to be found on the village green of Aldbury. Near the church at Brant Peilham is a rather notable example. The upright post was used as a whipping post and still retains the iron by which the culprit was secured while receiving his chastisement. Sturry, near Canterbury, has also preserved its stocks.

Youth and Manhood.

We are prone, in our enthusiasm for youth, to disparage something still better. Youth is action, glorious, unrestrained, yet also undirected, constant. Manhood is action to a higher degree. Youth is beautiful, but imperfect, not immoral, but immoral. Youth inheres only the possibility of fearlessness in the literal sense of the word; in manhood alone lie the infinite possibilities of courage.

The proprietor of the Herald does not often use its columns to ask its patrons to pay up, but the purchase of a new press takes considerable money and we would at this time esteem it a great favor if all who are indebted to us for subscriptions, advertising or job work would call and settle their respective bills. We need the money or we would not ask you for it.

The barn was not much damaged other than this.

With it we shall be enabled to print the paper better and in a few weeks shall make other improvements that have been contemplated for some time.

The original bill provided for the appointment of the auditors by the circuit judge, the probate judge and the chairman of the board of supervisors; and the first appointments were to be made next October. This was changed so that the auditors are to be appointed at once, the first appointments to be made by the circuit judge, the prosecuting attorney and the register of deeds, and succeeding appointments to be made by the board of supervisors.

Starting Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. HUMOR OF THE DAY

Jim Drew a Full Hand.
"It was this a-way, jedge: Ye see, I doled de cards, and Jim Brown he had a pah of aces and a pah of kings."
"What did you have?"
"Three aces, jedge, and—"
"What did Jim do?"
"Jim, he drew,"
"What did he draw?"
"He drew a razzor, jedge."

Plain Brutality.
"See here," said the city editor, "you speak of the bride as being 'led to the altar.'"
"Yes, sir; what of it?" replied the reporter.
"What of it? Why, it's nonsense. There was never a bride who couldn't find her way there, no matter what were the obstacles."

A Hold-Up for the Octopus.

Youthful Trust Buster—Hi, there!
Stop that! Don't you dare carry that corporation out this state or I'll sic that anti-trust law on yer.

Pleased Him.
"I think we might give Bridget a dollar more a week," said the family man.

"What?" exclaimed his wife. "I set her to work cleaning the parlor to-day, and you should see the way she left it!"
"I did. That's what influenced me. I noticed she fixed the piano with the keyboard close up against the wall."

His Sole Artistic Effort.
"He calls himself an artist, doesn't he?"
"I believe so."
"What kind of an artist?"
"He hasn't said anything about the kind."
"Come to think of it he draws."
"Indeed! What does he draw?"
"His breath."

Double Trouble.
"Perhaps," said the womanhater who was visiting the prison, "a woman is responsible for your present condition."
"Oh, twice as bad as that," replied the convict.
"Indeed?"
"Yes; two women. I'm up for bigamy."

The Widow's Mite.

Caught His Eye.
"What's this?" asked Mr. Gaswell, as he stopped before a group of statuary.
"The name of it," said Mrs. Gaswell, referring to the catalogue, "is the Lay-o-coon."
"Must be a mistake," he rejoined, frowning on. "They seem to be all white people."

And the Visitor Left.
District Lady—"I hope you and your husband agree now, Mrs. Notact."
Mrs. Notact—"Oh, yes, mum, we agree on everything now." (After a pause.) "He said you was a meddlin' old fool t'other day, mum!"

HOW HE MIGHT LOSE.

Millionaire Could Not See Why He Should Buy Burial Lot.
Not long ago a prominent financier, whose most prominent characteristic, according to the popular opinion, is close-fistedness, was the recipient of a visit from an agent whose line it is to solicit orders for burial lots.

On emerging from the private office of the moneyed man the agent was met by a colleague who had been waiting for him, and who inquired anxiously as to the success of his interview.

The agent shook his head regretfully. "No go," said he; "he was afraid he might not get the full value of his investment."

"What could he mean by saying that? Confound it, a man must die some time, even though he is a millionaire."

"That's what I told him," replied the agent, "but he only answered, 'Suppose I should be lost at sea?'"

If you wish beautiful, clear, white clothes use Red Cross Ball Blue. Large 3 oz. package, 5 cents.

Faking Used Stamps.
Rogues in this country are generally about as artful as we desire them to be, but evidently they have something to learn yet from the heathen Chinese. In West Java Ah Sin manages to cheat the postoffice very ingeniously. On sticking a new stamp on an envelope he smears the stamp on the face with paste or a thin glue. This takes the impression of the defacing stamp at the postoffice, and can easily be washed off, so that the stamp is once more serviceable.

Coroner's Jury's Qualified Verdict.
During the landlord and tenant disturbance in Ireland some years ago a certain property owner was discovered lying dead near a village of which he was owner. The coroner's jury, knowing full well that the man had been shot down by "the boys," were nevertheless loath to further investigate; therefore they rendered the following verdict: "We find the deceased gentleman died by the visitation of God—under suspicious circumstances." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

GRIPPE HURT KIDNEYS.

The lingering results of La Grippe remain with the kidneys for a long time. They suffer from over exertion and the heavy drugs of Grippe medicines. Doan's Kidney Pills overcome this condition.

AURORA, NEW MEXICO.—I received the free sample of Doan's Kidney Pills which I ordered for a girl nine years old that was suffering with bed wetting, and she improved very fast. The pills acted directly on the bladder in her case and stopped the trouble. J. C. LUCERO.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH.—My husband received the sample of Doan's Kidney Pills and has taken two more boxes and feels like a new man. He is a fireman on the Grand Trunk R. R., and the work is hard on the kidneys. Mrs. GEO. GIFFORD.

PLINY, W. VA.—The free trial of Doan's Kidney Pills acted so well with me, I wrote Hooff, the druggist, at Point Pleasant, to send me three boxes, with the result I have gained in weight, as well as entirely rid of my kidney trouble. My water had become very offensive and contained a white sediment and cloudy. I would have to get up six and seven times during the night, and then the voiding would dribble and cause frequent attempts, but, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills, they have regulated all that, and I cannot praise them too much. JAS. A. LANHAM.

REGISTER OF THE U. S. TREASURY USES PE-RU-NA FOR SUMMER CATARRH

Summer Catarrh Afflicts Men and Women.

HON. JUDSON W. LYONS, Register of the United States treasury, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says: "I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Peruna."—Judson W. Lyons.

No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons, formerly of Augusta, Ga. His name on every piece of money of recent date makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States.

Two Interesting Letters From Thankful Women.

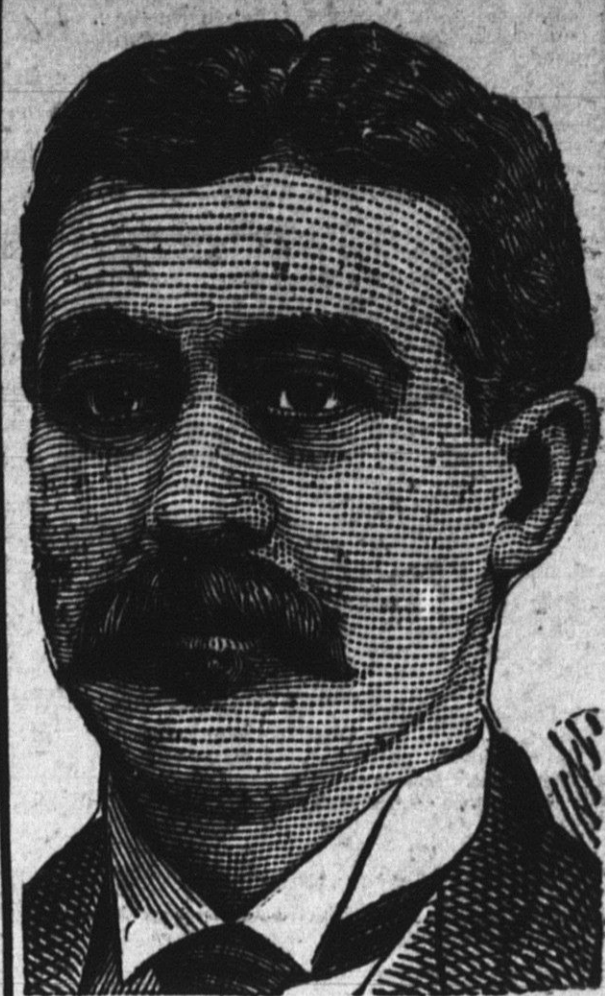

Miss Camilla Chartier, 5 West Lexington St., Baltimore, Md., writes: "Late summers gradually affected my digestion and made me a miserable dyspeptic, suffering intensely at times. I took several kinds of medicine which were prescribed by different physicians but still continued to suffer. But the trial of one bottle of Peruna convinced me that it would rid me of this trouble, so I continued taking it for several weeks and I was in excellent health, having gained ten pounds."—Miss Camilla Chartier.

Summer Catarrh.

Mrs. Kate Bohn, 1119 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"When I wrote you I was troubled with frequent headaches, dizzy, strange feeling in the head, sleeplessness, sinking feelings, faintness and numbness. Sometimes I had heartburn. My food would rise to my throat after every meal, and my bowels were very irregular."

"I wrote you for advice, and I now take pleasure in informing you that my improvement is very great indeed. I did not expect to improve so quickly after suffering for five long years. I am feeling very good and strong. I thank you so much for Peruna. I shall recommend it to all suffering with the effects of catarrh, and I consider it a household blessing. I shall never be without Peruna."

For those phases of catarrh peculiar to summer, Peruna will be found efficacious. Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Mothers, do you know that a perfectly healthy baby never cries. When the little one does cry there's something wrong, and generally it's the stomach. Paregoric, Soothing Syrups, Cordials, Teething Syrups and Pain Killers contain opium and morphine. Don't use them. They are harmful—costly too. Such drugs constipate and derange the digestive organs.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

is pleasant to take, augments and supplies the natural digestive ferment, acts as a gentle laxative, makes and keeps babies in health and good humor. A trial will convince you.

GENTLEMEN: For constipation I would cheerfully recommend Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. My little girl, aged eight months, had been troubled since birth with constipation, and reading of your valuable medicine I concluded to try it, and I can recommend it highly to mothers for immediate relief. MRS. CECILIA STOWE, Orator, Entre Nous Club.

170 Warren Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 22, 1902.
For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.
