DESERTED BUSSANA

Visit to Italian Town Which Was Ruined by Earthquake.

People Believe the Place Cursed and Hold the Delightful Location over the Crest of a Beautiful Hill in Superstitious Aye.

There is something majestic, and grand, and picturesque, but awful and awe inspiring in piles of ruins which speak of former symmetry and order, and life and activity. It is long enough ago—1897—since the destruction of the Italian town of Bussana by earthquake to have the harrowing bloodiness of the human tragedy enacted there during the midst of the carnival festivities of the Riviera towns lose its keenness and permit a visit to the deserted town without that shock to human sensitivities which comes when a catastrophe is young. Nature is always bad colds are quite prevalent hereabout. In fact so many are afflicted with colds that the situation among the folk is becoming "Give me a can cure tablet" instead of asking for a cure. — Grass Lake News.

SAVE THE GOOD SIDE.

The three large elm trees on the west side of the Brief office were cut down Monday. In the fire of two years ago this mouth they were so badly burned as to kill them on one side, hence they were cut down.—Stockbridge Brief.

THREE MEALS IN TWO Hours.

A letter from C. R. Cobb states that they are at present in a valley so surrounded by mountains that they do not see the sun but about two hours each day, and that the winter there has been an ideal one with but a very little snow.

RAILROAD IN LAND OF PLENTY.

The freight business on this division of the Wabash railroad at the present time is the heaviest it has been for several years, and the new sidings recently built at the stations between Delray and Montpelier are crowded with over two thousand cars, waiting to be moved. — Milan Leader.

Mr. Hillier—Where do I come in?

"Oh, the girls and I are making you a beautiful hat mark."—Jeweler's Weekly.

ISN'T CUTS SOME TOE.

The old received for the privilege of cutting ice on the pond at the water works was so low that it was decided to reject it, and the city has begun to cut the ice itself, putting a man in charge and receiving from him half the proceeds. This will make the city better off than the other arrangement.—Yal-lantian.

AND SPILLED GOLDEN.

A. H. Boles, a Hudson meteorological, hydrological, barometric and thermometer expert with a government thermometer says that mercury descended the scale till it marked 25 below zero on Saturday night, January 2, 1904, the lowest ever recorded since he has kept tab on the weather variations in 20 years.—
Adrian Press.

BEING MUSTERED OUT.

The G. A. R. posts of the state report greater loss of membership during the past six months than ever before in a similar period of time, according to the annual report of Assistant Adjutant General Wychot. One secretary writes that another report would probably never be received from his post, owing to the infirmity of most of its members. One by one the brave boys are passing to their reward.—Manchester Enterprise.

"SWAP SOCIAL" IS NEW.

The ladies of the Eastern Star will give a Swap social in their hall Friday evening, January 22. All are invited.
The price of admission will be 15 cents and a package. The package is to contain something that you want to Swap.
In the package that contains something that some one else wants to Swap.
Everybody come and be a Swapper.—Saline Observer.

FARMERS SWAPPED UP.

F. E. Parker, representative of the Lansing sugar factory, is again in this section making contracts for sugar beet acreage, and is having no trouble in again contracting with parties who grew beets last year. These farmers express themselves as well satisfied with the returns which their crops brought them.
The profit exceeding that of any other farm product. With the experience in growing gained by the farmers, there is no doubt but that with another season the profits will be still larger.—Plymouth Mail.

MANCHESTER FURNING WREK.

The demand for residences in this village has never been so great as now, at least not since the railroad was built for ever afterwards they considered the town had been cursed, and held it in superstitious awe. The first shock of the earthquake which destroyed the town was felt at between 5:30 and six o'clock in the morning and was of sufficient force to awaken the inhabitants.
Clad only in their night garments, the people dashed out, panic stricken into the streets, and it was fortunate that they did so, for if they had not left their houses the loss of life would undoubtedly have been much greater than it was, as the first shock was followed by another of equal duration, but far more destructive. It was this shock that brought down the majority of the houses in the small resort town of Diano Marina, burying in their ruins hundreds of the unfortunate inhabitants.

AFTER WALNUT LOGS.

Nelson Rice is buying and shipping black walnut logs to Chicago and other points. The scarcity of this wood makes it very valuable. All the branches, large and small, are being utilized.

RURALLY TORTURED.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick of Colma, Calif., writes: "For 16 years endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble.
A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility.
Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Glazier & Shimmon druggist.

PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS.

Mrs. Hillier—I think Mabel ought to have a pearl necklace and George a watch and chain and Evelyn a diamond ring and I a garnet with a long chain and Brigadier a chafé d'ame and handkerchiefs.
Fans, gloves and other little things all round.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove skininess or greenness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "cure" treatment, as advocated by the beauty doctors. The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active.
The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists. Glazier & Shimmon.
