CONTESTING DELEGATIONS re Attending the Democratic Convention

at Ann Arbor Today.

When the Sylvan Democratic caucus was called to order Tuesday evening by James S. Gorman there were about 150 present. It was evident from the start that there were two factions, neither one of which proposed to give way to the other any more than they had to. Mr. Gorman explained what the caucus was called for and asked who the caucus would have for its chairman. Geo. W. Beckwith and Hiram Lighthall were nominated and Mr. Gorman named one teller from each faction to count the voters as they passed between them. The tellers were James Taylor and Frank H. Sweetland. Those who favored G. W Beckwith passed through first and there were 61 of them. Those who favored Hiram Lighthall next passed through to the number of 81, and Mr. Lighthall was declared the chairman of the caucus.

Gao. W. Beckwith rose to make some remarks at this time and was recognized by the chair, but J. S. Gorman raised a point of order that the organization of the caucus was not completed and he had to sit down.

Orin Thacher was then elected secretary, B. B. TurnBull and F. H Sweetland were appointed tellers, and the organization was completed.

G. W. Beckwith again got to his feet and entered a protest against persons who had voted at the last Republican caucus, which selected delegates for the state county convention, or who did not intend to support the Democratic ticket this fall being allowed to vote at this caucus, and asked all present who were not Democrats to refrain from voting. He further stated that he was reliably informed that the stove works men had been given orders through the foremen of the different departments to attend this caucus. He did not know that they had been told how they should vote, but probably they had.

how they could bar anyone from voting in the caucus as some present who were going to vote the Democratic ticket this fall might wish to

At this point the caucus split, and those who were opposed to the caucus as organized retired to the basement and held a caucus.

Chairman Lighihall called for delegates to the county convention to be held at Ann Arbor Thursday, July 28, to nominate delegates to the state convention. The 14 delegates were voted for collectively and were as follows, 89 votes being cast:

Frank H. Sweetland, O. A. Burgess Chas. Kuercher, Hiram Lighthall, H. D. Witherell, Chas. Fish, Joseph Sibley, John Runciman, Adam G. Faist, Frank Leach, B. B. TurnBull, J. J. Raftrey, J. S.

Delegates to the county convention to nominate county officers were elected by the same vote as follows: James S. Gorman, Hiram Lighthall, Charles Fish, Frank A. Leach, Herman Gieske, James Runciman, Henry Gorton, Henry Heselschwerdt, Frank H. Sweet and, Lewis Emmer, Chauncey Hummel, H. D. Witherell, Joseph Sibley. Peter Merkel.

By a like vote delegates to the district representative convention were elected as follows:

H. Lighthall, H. D. Witherell. Frank A. Leach. J. J. Raftrey, Lewis Emmer, Chas. Fish, Walter Leach, Chauncey Hummel, James Wade, Ed. H. Chandler, H. Gieske, F. H. Sweetland, Matt Hauser, K. Otto Steinbach.

The Democrats who had withdrawn to the basement organized with Geo. W. Beckwith as chairman, C. W. Maroney as secretary, James Taylor and John P. Foster tellers. Full delegations to all three conven-

FUNERAL OF MRS. SAVAGE.

Large Number of Priests Were Preser to Do Honor to This Venerable Lady.

Mrs. Mary Savage, the venerable mother of Very Rev. Dean Savage died at the residence of her son Ed ward in Sylvan Monday, July 18, a 11 p. m., sged 95 years.

The funeral was held on Friday, July 22, at 10:30 a.m., from the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, Chelsea. Very Rev. James Savage was the celebrant, Rev. Daniel Mullane, C. SS. R., was the deacon, and Rev. Ernest Van-Dyke was sub-deacon of the mass. Rev. James Cahalan, of Hillsdale, was the master of ceremonies. Thirty priests assisted at the solemn services. The remains were interred in St. Mary's cemetery, Sylvan, beside her husband. Mrs. Savage was a pioneer of this parish, greatly respected by all who knew her. She was the type of a splendid Catholic woman, and Rev. Father Command in eloquent words pronounced her eulogy, using most appropriately the words of Holy Scripture about the valiant woman. Gathered at her funeral were four children, 18 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The following priests were present: Revs. E. Van Dyke, F. Van Antwerp, M. Meyer, C. SS. R., Daniel Mullane, C. SS. R., James Savage, M. Meathe, W. J. So the younger generation point to pridefully as stamping with an outward and visible sign the village's evolution into Johnson's lyin' dead this minit, waitin' a city—I happened to mention—I've forgotten exactly how it came into my mind-having seen Gen. Grant's fun-

"Humph!" observed the landlord, ntemptuousty. "You oughter've seen Mose Johnson's funeral if you wanter my you've seen a funeral. Eh, fel-

An appreciative chuckle circulated among the rest of the loungers, and sparred me into asking, "Why?"

"Cause it was worth seein'," explained the landlord, scraping vigorously with his jack-knife at the turnip with which he was refreshing himself.

"Whenever any of you out-of-town fellers comes 'round here braggin' about your gorgeous mortuary pageants, like them Gen. Grant's obsequies you jest mentioned," he added, after thoughtfully selecting a new point of attack upon the turnip, "it don't fease as any. We jest nudge each other in an unassumin' way, an' say 'He sughter've seen Mose Johnson's funeral. It was plenty of panoramer to simply country folks like us."

"What was it? How was it remarkable!" I asked, curiously.

"Oh, I dunno as it was anyways remarkable, except out here in the country. Mebbe you fellers that live in big cities are used to them," replied the landlord, cautiously.

"Well, let me hear about it, and I can tell better," I urged.

"Then, to begin at the beginnin'," began the landlord, clearing, reluctantly apparently, for action by depositing the turnip, with his knife stuck upright in it, on the porch railing, "it was all on account of an ord'nance we've got here providin' that there sha'n't be any parades unless the mayor gives a permit for it. Last year when the circus struck town we had a cross-grained, crabbed old feller for mayor, an' when the circus man went to get a permit for his parade he got turned down.

"I want a permit to parade,' says

"So the two of them had it back an' forth, hot an' heavy. The circus man beggin', an' the mayor refusin'; the circus man threatenin', an' the mayor defyin' him; the circus man pleadin', an' the mayor sittin' obstinate; the circus man gettin' madder an' madder, an' the mayor not budgin' an inch; the circus man cussin', and the mayor finin' him seventy-five cents per cuss -until the upshot of it all was that the circus man had to leave without the permit, but swearin' he'd parade in spite of all the mayors an' permits in creation, while the mayor was vowin'

DOOM OF GREAT SALT LAKE.

Scientists Say It Will Dry Up Within Half a Century

Statistics indicate that Great Salt ake, the Dead sea of America, is doomed-that it is gradually drying up. The opinion now almost universally prevails among scientists that this mysterious body of water, located at an altitude of 4,210 feet above the sea level and 1,000 miles inland, and which has but a single rival, the Dead accident at the lake this season, sea of Palestine, is certain within the course of a half century to disappear from the map. Some scientists, who have made a careful study of the fluctuations of the lake for the past several years, even declare that it will be dried up within a quarter of a cen- house and wagon house, but formerly Sixteen years ago, in 1886, the area of the lake's surface was estimated at about 2,700 square miles. Taking twenty feet as the average depth at that time, one may estimate 1,505,-433,600,000 cubic feet as the contents of the lake. To-day, according to recent surveys, the lake has an area of about 2,125 square miles. Multiplying this number by 111/2, the number of feet in depth of the water that has disappeared and not been replaced, gives to the ice house to get some ice. "Wal," he said, looking for a wide crack, in the platform before he emptied an overload of tobacco juice from between his teeth. "I can't jes' rightly say. I ain't never tuk much inter-rest in them cyars."

"Does it stop at Swamptown?" was the next question. The agent was clearly uncertain on this point.

"Well, when is it due?" we asked, anxious to learn if he was certain of anything about the train.

Tells Profession by Profile. Little Tommy was paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, old friends of his parents. The young man required a good deal of amusing, and his host and hostess were somewhat at a loss till the latter bethought her of the portrait album, which they went through together with much industry and attention to detail as to the past, present and probable future lives of the persons represented. Toward the end of the book were two of those astounding profiles, cut out of black paper, in which our forefathers-strange people -delighted.

"Those," said Mrs. Franklin, "are my father and mother."

"Oh!" said Tommy. Then he hesitated, and scrutinized them more thoroughly. "I s'pose," he said, "they was chimney-sweeps, wasn't they?"

Attorney-General Charles A. Blair, of Jackson, is a candidate for the nomination of justice of the supreme court at the Republican judicial convention to be held in Saginaw, Sept.

W. C. McMillan has announced himself as a candidate to succeed Gen. Alger as U.S. senator when his term expires in 1907. There i nothing like making one's want known in time, particularly when there is no danger of the office seeking the man, instead of the man seeking the office.

M. L. Raymond, of Grass Lake, the well known ex-supervisor of Sharon township, is a candidate for the Republican nomination as state senator from this district to succeed F. P. Glazier. Mr. Raymond was a good man as a supervisor, is a progressive farmer possessed of an even well balanced mind and keen common sense and would make a good representative in the state senate from this agricultural district.

parts of this country a remonstrance arises against the prevalent system day for Detroit where they joined a of education, which makes the schools top-heavy, teaching pretentious studies to the neglect of the elementary. In every city and many country towns there is futile grabbing after the higher branches by children who do not know how to spell, read or write correctly. All of which has a great deal of truth in it.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobrick, of Colnsa. Calif., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Glazier & Stimson, druggists.

MUST HAVE BEEN A SHOCK.

Remarkable Effect of Change of Newspaper Headlines.

Capt. Edgar S. Dow of New Haven, to whom was given the honor of piloting President Roosevelt's yacht into New Haven harbor on his visit to Connecticut's metropolis last fall, an entertaining old salt, who can always go a story-teller one better. Appropos of the humorous mistakes that printers make, the captain lately told the following of his own observation:

"Years ago," he declared, "I used to take a New York paper that printed its shipping news on the same page with the obituaries. You can imagine the shock it gave me one morning to find the captions exchanged, and s long list of respectable names printed under the marine heading, "Passed Through Hell Gate Yesterday."

Turned On the Light. The man Calve is reported to have selected for her first husband and second love is Jules Bois, an interesting writer on occult topics. His one-act play, "The Devil in Darkness," was given only one performance at Montmartre. It was played in total darkness, voices of different timbre speaking solemnly a dialogue that quite transcended in mystic realism anything Paris had ever heard before. Unluckily for Bois, some envious rival bribed the gas man to turn on the lights in the middle of the act, and a half-dozen commonplace Montmartre singers of both sexes were discovered sitting on wooden chairs, all of them grinning over the misadventure. After that Jules Bois gave up the stage in despair.

Dr. Franz H. Coe, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Everett, died in Seattle, Wash., Saturday, July 16, from Bright's disease coupled with overwork, aged 48 years. He was one of the most prominent physicians in Seattle, and his great success as a surgeon had given him a wide reputation. His death came a few hours after having performed a difficult but successful operation for appendicitis. After its completion he collapsed in the hallway of the hospital. He sank into a comatose condition while being conveyed to his home and never came out of it. Less than a week before he died he had predicted that he would not live long. He leaves a wife, who was formerly Miss Carrie Everett, two sons and one daughter, also his mo-

Many Persons Have Passed Away in This Neighborhood the Past Two Weeks. The hand of death has been busy in Chelsea during the past two weeks, curred in that time, and there are many sad and desolate homes in our midst in consequence.

MRS. EDWARD SHANAHAN.

Mrs. Rose Shanahan, wife of Edward Shanahan, of Lyndon, passed away Saturday morning, July 23, a Detroit, where she had gone two weeks ago Tuesday for a visit. Mrs. Shanahan had suffered from diabetes for a long time and that was the cause of her death. She would have been 37 years old had she lived until Aug. 28 next. The remains were brought here Saturday evening and were taken to her late home in Lyndon. The funeral services were held at the Church of Our Lady of the The state treasurer's report for the Sacred Heart Tuesday morning and were conducted by Rev. W. P. Consi-Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Shanahan's maiden name was fire, was adjusted by the Washtenaw sea, and was born and lived all her Farmers' Mutual directors Friday at life in Lyndon. In 1892 she was married to Edward Shanahan, who, with four children, the oldest 11 years old and the youngest 3 years old, survive and mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother.

MRS. WILLIAM KELLY.

The death of Mrs. Johanna Kelly, wife of William Kelly, Saturday evening, July 23, was a peculiarly sad one. Married a little over two years ago, they had just got nicely settled down in their home life, and the adforward to as an added joy. But the mother gave up her life with the birth of her infant, which also died, and mother and child were buried in the one casket. Mrs. Kelly's maiden name was Johanna Zulki and she was 28 years of age. The funeral services, held Monday morning at pound. the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart were largely attended and were conducted by Rev. W. P. Considine. The L. C. B. THE BEES.

The Convention of Maccabees in De-The supreme tent of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World opened in Detroit on Tuesday, and was welcomed by Gov. Bliss and W. C. Maybury the mayor, with the glad hand. Supreme Commander D. P. Markey, in his annual report set up strong argun'ents and gave numerous figures, gleaned from the experience of the order, claiming the advisability of the readjustment of the rates of assessment as proposed by the supreme tent. The majortly of the delegates were evidently with him and foreshadowed a raise of assessments.

The L. O. T. M. in their triennial session heard reports of officers which show a remarkable and healthy growth. Miss West, the supreme record keeper, in a long and valuable report, says: "I report that the past triennial term has exceeded in growth and financial progress the record of all the preceding terms combined. Beginning the term with 84,657 members, we added during its three years over 88,000 new members, closing with a net membership of 136,921, and having of Health. Dr. Kennedy performed today a total membership of over 150,-000, nearly doubling in memebrship eral rents in the internal organs, during the term. Our emergency fund of $196,400 has grown to $838,788—a gratifying showing. Our total of certificates in force has increased from girl died. $62,103.633 to $99,881,443. The volume of business handled in our offices has doubled. We stand first among the women's orders of the world, and have, A Clean Up On Non-Taxpaying Property during the term, passed from tenth to seventh place in point of membership among the fraternal beneficiary societies of North America." The election of officers resulted in several changes—the list follows: Supreme commander-Mrs. Lillian

Dr. Hodge Convicted.

Dr. Scott F. Hodge, of Detroit, was convicted of manslaughter in the Recorder's Court on Friday. He was arrested on Jan. 17 last in connection with an investigation made by the police concerning the death of a 19 year-old girl, Anna Lehman, of Manchester, Mich., who passed away at Grace hospital two days previously. It was alleged that on Jan. 8 or 9 Mics Lehman, accompanied by Elmer Kuhl, her lover, who lived at Man-chester, came to Detroit to seek relief. Several physicians were consulted, and then the couple went to Dr. Hodge on Washington avenue. From testimony given by Kuhl at the trial it seems that Dr. Hodge operated upon the young woman and kept her at his Washington avenue restdence, which was fitted up after the manner of a sanitarium.

Several treatments were given, and then septicemia developed, and Dr. Hodge, being fearful of the outcome, hurried the girl to Grace hospital, where he called into consultation Dr. J. B. Kennedy, a prominent physician and president of the Detroit Board another operation and sewed up sevwhich had been made by previous treatment. Notwithstanding the efforts of the doctors to save her, the

BAY CITY TAXES.

Coming.

Six townships in Bay county have not a single description on which there are back taxes for five years or more. The appraisers of tax lands, appointed several months ago by State Land Commissioner Wildey, have completed their work, and it is expected that the "clearance sale" under the special act will be held within a short time. In the Bay Cities the conditions are not so favorable. About 10 per cent of the assessed valuation in Bay City does not pay taxes, while nearly one-third of the descriptions are non-productive of taxes. The reason for the large percentage is the abandonment of sawmil! and other property years ago, when lumber gave out. As a result much of this property has more back taxes against it than it is worth. It is expected that through the "clearance uation will be put back on the rolls divorce evil. at once. The appraisers' prices run from 25 to 50 per cent of the actual

A Ghastly Find.

Some employes of the Michigan Cenral found the decomposed body of a man hanging to a tree in the woods on the Michigan-Indiana state line. The clothing had rotted from the corpse and the flesh fallen off in places, disclosing the bones; the eyes had dropped out and the spectacle a most revolting one. The police and the coroner feared to touch the body and an undertaker was sent out to place i in a box and bury it.

The man had hanged himself with a handkerghief. Papers in the pockets of a coat lying near indicated that the suicide was John Arnold, who had been in London, Cau., and Detroit, the papers including eards of the Cigarmakers' unions in both cities. The body had been in the woods for months, the coroner declares. An investigation located the parents of the suicide at Three Rivers, Mich. They are very old and feeble, and have not been apprised of the death, of their son, owing to their frail condition and because of the serious results which night follow the shock.

Kuhl Goes Free.

Liberty, $210 in cold cash and board since January 18, is what Elmer Kuhl, who was responsible for Ann Lehmann's trouble and her subsequent fatal visit to Dr. Scott F. Hodge, of Detroit, has received, for acting the role of star witness for the prosecution in the case against Dr. Hodge, convicted of manslaughter. "Is there to be any action taken against Kuhl, in view of the fact that he engaged Dr. Hodge to perform the operation?" was asked of Lieut. Sadler, who is at present in charge of the detective, bureau,

"Why, no," the lieutenant replied. decisively. "The law provides for the protection of such witnesses. Look nice to arrest Kuhl after using him to convict Hodge, wouldn't it? The prosecutor is the proper person to say what is to be done, but I know that Kuhl will not be prosecuted."

It Is Expensive.

The state board of auditors has al lowed bills and claims against the state aggregating $488,038.13, for the year ending June 30, 1904, an increase of $72,030.32. When Mr. Leyland bought Whistler's "La Princesse du Pays de la Porcelaine," which occupied a position of honor in the memorial exhibition at Boston, he placed it in a recess above the mantelpiece of his dining room; and here, so Whistler thought, the surroundings were not quite suitable to the picture.

The leather was too dark and the flowers were too red. The interfered with the delicacy of his own tints. They were as vulgar fellows in a gracious presence.

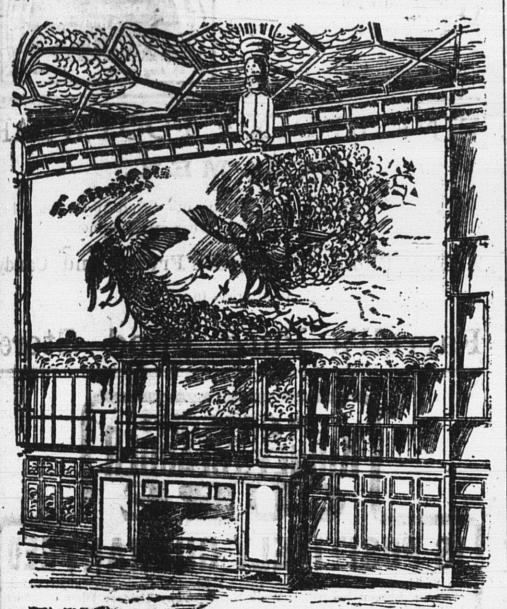

time to time many people have months—a remarkable achievement. The brown leather became a deep. rich, greenish blue—the peacock blue, The red flowers faded quite away. Woodwork was lacqueied. Flat spaces were gilded.

Gold got into the hair of the busy decorators. Gold covered their faces. Paint dropped into their eyes. But on they worked, Whistler now bent upon the floor, now on a scaffolding, now in a hammock slung from the roof, and using sometimes a brush fastened to the end of a fishing rod.

Confronting the "Princesse," above a sideboard which Whistier probably designed himself, and spreading nearly across the end of the room, came the superb panel of the two quarrelsome peacocks-gold and silver on blue. Three splendid peacock designs were placed upon the closed window shutters. Upon all the walls spread harmonies of gold and blue. Originally well proportioned, and room became one of the most beautiful rooms in the world. Possibly it is the most beautiful room in the world. At any rate, it is unique. And in this unique state the "Princesse" lived till Mr. Leyland died. She brought £441 at his sale in 1892. Then she discovered America.

The room, however, kept on staying just where it was, and only recently be possible to detach the decorations from the actual structure of the walls. Expert examination made this possibility a certainty, and the "Peacock Room" was intrusted to Messrs. It is certain that there were disagreements. It is certain that as a consequence of these Whistler introduced into his decoration a symbolic representation of the Almighty Dollar, for there it is to be seen to-day. He Wanted the Classics.

Apropos of Col. Edwin Emerson, Jr., war correspondent in Japan, whose erroneously reported death in hanchuria was one of the topics of conversation last week, he is a much younger man than his title of colonel would suggest. A Baltimore lady recalls being the guest of his father, Prof. Emerson, in Munich, Bavaria. when the still youthful scribe was an infant of six summers. Prof. Edwin were starting for an afternoon tea when Edwin, Jr., was discovered sitting disconsolately on the floor.

Every panel, every scrap of leather, every stick of wood was carefully detached, wrapped up and numbered in its due relation to the whole. And toof the general public who possesses sire to spend it on aesthetics may behold the "Peacock Room," skillfully reconstructed, in Messrs. Obach's galmain open for not less than a month and probably longer.

The place of the "Princesse du Pays de la-Porcelaine" is at present occupled by a mirror. If this room could be secured for America, and if the "Princesse" could be restored to her throne room, designed by a great artist in defiance of all social conventions, for the sole purpose of display-

Women as Witnesses.

The curious case heard before Judge Smyly last week, in which two middle-aged women of evident intelligence swore to two directly opposite stories, suggests the question whether women make reliable witnesses. The late Lord Chief Justice Russell declared once that where no question of prejudice was concerned a woman's evidence was more valuable than a man's. There is no doubt that in Emerson and his Maryland guest noticing small matters of detail women are much quicker than men and have a much better memory, but they are strongly apt to be influenced by prejudice. During the trial of Canham Reed, the South End murderer, one of the witnesses, an old woman of more than sixty, swore to the identhe Beanstock, or 'Grimm's once in her life—six months previous and is expected to divert 300,000 feet it is said to go beautifully with diawhen he passed her hurrfedly on of water daily, for irrigation purposes monds or pearls. The others had each bagged a lechwe and I was informed that the cook and another boy had seen two lions not far from where met them. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of the lechwe and followed the lions' spoor till we came to where they had crossed a wide and leep channel during the night. Without a canoe we could not cross this and had to give up the hunt."

Dairying in Holland. In an address to Indiana dairymen Prof. G. L. McKay said:

No country is more interesting to traveler who is interested in dairying than little Holland. The country peculiarly adapted for dairying, owing to its cool, moist climate. The northern part of Holland presents a very unique picture to the traveler, with its small, green fields dotted here and there with numerous windmills and the large herds of Holstein-Fresian cows quietly grazing. The monstrous came into contact with their steel long-armed windmills, resembling an rims. old lighthouse above the sea, are used for various kinds of work. They grind grain, pulverize rock and manufacture paper, but their most important duty is to pump out the water from the marshes into canals so it may find an exit to the sea, otherwise the lowland would be submerged. Excepting Greece and Great Britain, no country has so many inlets as Holland. The Hollanders, as a people, might be termed a little slow, but the government is certainly not slow in appreclating the benefits that the country derives from dairying, as eight inrequired.

> Improving the Milk Supply. To improve the milk supply it is necessary to reach the producer, and went to work in an energetic manner to get it. The producer cares little for public opinion so long as it does not touch him. But let an inspector come to his place and demand to see his cows and his sheds and say to him that if these are not satisfactory, his milk will not be received in such and such a place, he will begin to pay respectful heed to the desires of the inspector. The most influential inspector is the one that stands between the milk producer and his customers. This kind of an inspector needs no legal power. He needs only the power that comes from the consumers of milk. We believe that this is the way the milk situation is to be finally im-

Too Many for Them.

When Bernard Shaw's play, "Arms and the Man," was produced in London for the first time it was well received and at the fall of the curtain there were clamorous calls for the author, to which Mr. Shaw was at length induced to respond. The audience was still cheering, but there was one dissentient in the gallery. who "booing" with the full power of a pair of very strong lungs. Mr. Shaw looked up at the disturber and said, very seriously: "Yes, sir, I quite agree with you; but what can we two do against a whole houseful?"
