AN EXCITING BALL GAME.

The Junior Stars Made a Good Showing Against the Crack Nebraska Indians.

The largest crowd that has been seen on the McLaren-BeGole park was there Friday afternoon to witness the game between the Nebraska Indians and the Junior Stars, there being 733 paid admissions. It was a good game from start to finish barring the unfortunate eighth inning when the Indians scored five runs and cinched the game, and it was characterized by really brilliant individual plays. Both teams played ball all the time as the final score of 7 to 1 attests. The Stars made their one run in the first inning, and are the second team that has scored against the Indians in the state. The umpiring was of the fairest kind and the umpire, who belongs to the aggregation, gave the home team the benefit of doubtful decisions. The players were all a gentlemanly lot of fellows and it was a real pleasure to witness a game in which there was not a single "chewing" match.

Deneau and Turner, the battery for the Stars, were the equals of the Indians' battery so far as pitching and catching were concerned, and Paul Bacon got in his star work by catching three difficult flies in right field. The Indians, however, showed what constant practice and work does, being quicker in fielding in a ball and better base runners.

The score by innings was:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Indians.....10 10 0 0 0 5 0—7
Stars.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1

Will Take Until Winter Time.

The Detroit Tribune of Monday has the following to say about one of the attractions at the Masonic picnic at Whitmore Lake next Wednesday, Aug. 17, which the Chelsea Masons and Eastern Stars have received an invitation to attend:

"An Ann Arbor exchange in noting some of the special attractions at the Masonic picnic mentions the diving contest to be participated in by John Lindenschmitt, Elmer Beal and William C. Reinhardt, who by the terms of the contract are to dive into 10 feet of water and recover therefrom one of the silver dollars to be thrown in. As submarine exploiters the Tribune knows nothing of Lindenschmitt, Beal or Reinhardt, but recalls that there was a W. W. Wedemeyer who dove 800 times for the second district congressional nomination. Is that same W. W. W. in this? If so and the contest is not under a time limit it will be necessary to cut a hole in the ice before it closes."

Wants His Money Back.

Damian Heim, sr., of Sylvan, has begun suit for $2,000 against his son Joseph Heim and his daughter-in-law Julia Heim. He states that he gave the defendants $2,000 and received their note, secured by a mortgage, but that it was agreed that if they would care for him during the remainder of his life or would pay the expense of maintenance elsewhere, he would not ask for the payment of the $2,000. They have failed to fulfill their agreement, he says, and now he wants his money back and asks that the land be sold to satisfy the mortgage.

Should Observe the Rules.

The water works whistle blows every day at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. as a signal for those who take water from the village system to quit sprinkling or using it for other than household purposes. In general this signal is observed as it is well known that the water supply is short. But there are some cases that have come under our notice where this reasonable request is not observed, nor do the parties pretend to observe it.

CANFIELD SCHOOL REUNION.

The Boys and Girls of 30 Years Ago Went and Had a Good Time.

The old scholars, neighbors and friends who live in the Canfield school district in Lyndon had one of the times of their lives last Thursday afternoon when they met on Dick Clark's lawn to the number of 60 and held a reunion. The picnic was gotten up in honor of Miss Kate Canfield, of Lodi, Cal., who has been visiting her old home for a short time, by her old schoolmates and friends.

The party gathered about 11 o'clock a. m., and after discussing a most bountiful and varied dinner, which embraced all the good things that good country housewives know so well how to prepare, they set in to have one of the greatest periods of visiting that Mr. Clark's lawn ever witnessed. The old stories of school-boy and schoolgirl days were rehearsed and the hearty sounds of laughter that could be heard by passers by was a sure evidence of the good time that everyone was having.

The picnic broke up about 6 o'clock p. m., but not before it was resolved to make the occasion an annual happening.

Train Men Must Answer Questions.

General Passenger Agent Ruggles of the Michigan Central has issued an order that hereafter conductors and porters of the road will be expected to answer all questions asked by travelers. With a view to assisting the employees, the company has prepared a pamphlet called the "Time Guide," which gives a comprehensive map and all the connections which are possible with the Michigan Central. On the first page of the pamphlet it says to conductors: "Travelers are much given to asking questions. They ask because they want to know. It helps people greatly if the conductor or porter will readily, courteously and intelligently give the desired information."

A Punky Game.

In striking contrast to the snappy game of baseball played by the Junior Stars against the Nebraska Indians last Friday was the punky exhibition given in Tuesday's game with the Wayne club. There was not a redeeming feature in it. Every player seemed to be having an off day and had it not been for a little rally in the eighth inning the score would have been 14 to 1, instead of 14 to 4 as it finally stood. The score by innings was:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Wayne.....10 5 4 0 4 0 0 0—14
Stars.....0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0—4

Rural Mail Carriers Met.

The rural free delivery carriers of Washtenaw county met at the Ann Arbor postoffice Sunday. Four new members were taken in. The report of Ed. Weiss, of Chelsea, delegate to the state convention, was a very satisfactory one. Congressman Townsend was given a vote of thanks for his aid in securing an increased uniform salary for rural carriers. The next meeting of the association will be held in Chelsea the second Sunday in January, 1905.

A Romance of the Danish Conquest.

CHAPTER XV.

What the Red Cloak Hid.

In the vault overhead blue had deepened into purple, and all the silver star-lamps had been hung out, their flames trembling unceasingly in the playing winds. By the soft light, the Jotun, who was striding across the Danish camp, saw a graceful boyish form leave the circle around the King's fire and join a group of mounted men waiting on the river bank, some fifty yards away.

"Ho there, Fridtjof!" he roared wrathfully.

The figure turned, and he had a fleeting glimpse of a hand waved in mocking farewell. Then the boy sprang into the saddle of a horse that one of the warriors was holding, and the whole band moved forward at a swinging pace.

"If you had waited a little, you would be less light on your feet," the Jotun growled as he strode on, striking his heels savagely upon the frosty ground.

"Where is the King?" he demanded, as soon as he had reached the ring of nobles sipping mead around the royal fire. Eric of Norway nodded toward the walled tent beneath the silken banner.

"In there; and I will give you this chain off my neck if you can guess what he is doing."

"It is likely that he is busy with messengers," Rothgar said with an accent of vexation. "I had hoped to reach him before he finished drinking, but there was a brawl among my men which—"

"He is playing chess," Eric said dryly.

"Chess!" The Norwegian nodded as he swallowed. "Heard you ever anything to equal that? He has the appearance of made him the most peremptory of gestures. "No, wait! Wait, good brother! I will show you whether I offend you intentionally or not! It is—it is—the jest—" Again he became unintelligible.

Rothgar stopped, but it was to growl over his folded arms. "Because his womanish face has caught your fancy, you will neither blame him yourself nor allow others to make a fuss—"

"That is where you are wrong," the King interrupted, with as much gravity as he could command. "When Fridtjof Frodeson comes again into your presence, I give you leave to take whatever revenge you like, and I promise that I will not lift finger to hinder you from it."

"And not hold it against me?" Rothgar demanded incredulously.

"And not hold it against you," Canute agreed. "Will you wager a finger-ring against my knife that your mind will not change when my ward stands again before you?"

The Jotun smiled grimly. "The wager shall be as you have made it; and may I lack strength if I do not deal with him—"

He paused, blinking like a startled owl, as his royal foster-brother leaped to his feet and fronted him with shouts of laughter. "You do it, you!" Canute cried. "Do you not see it yet? Frode's child is a woman!"

Rothgar's jaw dropped and his bulging eyes seemed in danger of following. "What!" he gasped; and then his voice rose to a roar. "And the Englishman is her lover?"

"You are wiser than I expected," the King laughed.

Stamping with rage, the Jotun hammered his huge fist upon a tree-trunk until bark flew in every direction.

"King, I will give you every ring off my hand if you will give me leave to strangle her!"

"You remind me that I will take one of your rings now," Canute said, reaching out and opening the mallet-like fist that he might make his choice. Then, as he fitted on his prize and held it critically to the light, he added with more sympathy: "I will arrange for you a more profitable revenge than that. I will make a condition with Edmund that the Etheling's odal shall not be included in the land which is peace-holy, and that to ravage it shall not be looked upon as breaking the truce. Then can you betake yourself thither and sit down with your following, and have no one but yourself to blame if you fall a second time. Only—he thrust his knuckles suddenly between the other's ribs—"only, before we get serious over it, do at least give one laugh. Though she be Ran herself, the maiden has played an excellent joke upon you."

"I do not see how you make out that it is all upon me," Rothgar said sulkily. "You did not have the appearance of choking much on her stories."

The King seemed all at once to recover his dignity. "I will not deny that," he said gravely; "and have I not said that I expect to be angry about it presently? That she should dare to offer her King that lying story about her sister's death—"

His face flushed as though he were remembering his emotion on receiving that same story; and his foster-brother's observation did not tend to mollify him.

"And not only to offer it," the son of Lodbrok chuckled, "but to cram it down his throat and make him swallow it."

Canute's heels also began to ring with ominous sharpness upon the frosty ground. "She must be Ran herself! Oh, you need not be afraid that I shall not get overbearing enough after I am started! Now, as I am a king, I will punish her in a way that she will like less than strangling! I tell you, her luck is great that she is not here to-night."

A WOMAN OF RESOURCE.

Actress Had Her Way in Spite of Managerial Rules.

A story is going the rounds about how a prominent actress satisfied her post-season thirst while playing in a special production after her winter's engagement was over. The young artist is very well known to theatergoers, and for this reason her name will be omitted.

A special production in which she appeared made it necessary for her to wear high topped cavalry boots as a part of her costume. During the week which the show ran the weather happened to be quite warm. The management of the theater supplied the actors with ice water, but prohibited any of the members of the cast from taking stronger refreshments into the place.

This actress is quite resourceful, and soon hit upon a scheme that was most ingenious. She was stopping at a hotel within a square of the theater, and this enabled her to work out her plan successfully.

One night she went to the theater as usual, but after making up gave a great imitation of being horrified when she discovered that the cavalry boots had been left at the hotel. Summoning one of the attaches of the theater, she sent him after the boots, with instructions to bring them to her just as he found them. Her instructions were carried out, and after bestowing a grateful smile on the messenger he was allowed to depart, after depositing the boots in her dressing room.

As soon as the door was closed behind him the actress extracted from the depths of either boot, where she had placed them before leaving the hotel, a large, cool bottle of beer.

THOMPSON & DUNDY'S NEW YORK HIPPODROME AND AMUSEMENT INSTITUTION.

At last New York is to have a great amusement resort worthy its immense population. Messrs. Thompson and Dundy, owners of Luna Park, are now building on the east side of Sixth avenue, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets, a mammoth hippodrome and amusement institution that while retaining the general character of the great hippodrome of London will aim to surpass it in attractiveness. The New York Hippodrome will be thrown open to the public on December 15th. In interior design and general features the resort will be unlike anything ever seen in this country, or, for that matter, abroad. Two stupendous spectacular productions, each replete with surprises and presented with lavish disregard of cost will be features of every program. These great productions will have the advantage of costs greater in number than have ever before been seen anywhere. Each of the great productions will introduce merely as incidental diversions the world's greatest novelties gathered from all the corners of the earth, including the best circus acts, the most curious exhibits and the world's greatest vaudeville celebrities. These spectacular productions, as a rule, will have dramatic themes. They will be plays of stirring romance to be shown in life-like realism, plays of royal courts to be shown in opulent pageants and princely splendor, plays of everyday life and strange places in our own or some other country.

In addition to the great host of features, strange and curious, to be introduced in these spectacular productions, will be found in the hippodrome, two circus rings, each operated simultaneously. Two great stages also will be in constant use for the productions. Besides these unusual attractions a great pool will be found in the hippodrome on which at intervals will be presented interesting, instructive and amusing water pantomimes. Running either way from the center entrance of the hippodrome, on Sixth avenue, will be found menageries comprising all the wild and tame animals of the earth in glass cages. The main stage of the hippodrome will be the largest in the world, so devised that a thousand people, including horses and other animals may be marched and counter-marched. The hippodrome will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 12 midnight. Stage performances will be given afternoon and night. The auditorium of the hippodrome will seat 5,200 persons. The programs will be in two parts, each about an hour and a half long, with twenty minutes intermission. The building will cost $1,200,000. Built of marble, steel and iron it will be fire-proof throughout. Prices will range from 25c to $1.

To prevent ticket speculation, Messrs. Thompson and Dundy will have their own ticket sellers stationed about the entrance of the hippodrome to sell the best seats always at regular box office rates. Remember the opening date, December 15th.

Production of Rubber.

The general impression prevails that rubber is a product like wheat or corn to be obtained from a given tree. The idea is quite erroneous. It has been estimated that 1,000 different species contain rubber, though commercial quantities have been obtained from only forty or fifty.

Jews in New York.

According to the most authoritative estimates, there are now about 700,000 Jews in New York, the total population of which in 1933, as estimated by the census bureau, was 3,716,139. Perhaps the Jews may be about one-fifth of the present population.

As to Eyebrows.

"I always look at a man's eyebrows before employing him," says a successful tradesman. "If they meet I know I am getting an active, shrewd, calculating, determined, ambitious and generally successful employee—one who will rise."

To Grow Cotton in Africa.

Germany, following the course of the English and French cotton manufacturers, is agitating a movement to cultivate cotton in German Africa. With the idea of securing a source of supply independent of the American market.

Loss Due to Fire.

A Birmingham, England, insurance office recently received a claim for compensation from a woman for the loss of a joint of meat which was burnt in the oven. She informed them that the loss was due to fire.

Stone Churches Crumble.

In 700 years the stone work of three successive parish churches erected at Rowley Regis, Staffordshire, England, has crumbled away, and it has now been found necessary to erect a fourth church.

Little Rheumatism in Japan.

Rheumatism is almost unknown in Japan. The Japanese escape the malady to a great degree by avoiding the excessive use of alcohol and tobacco.

Paper Made from Refuse Hops.

The discovery has been made that good paper can be produced from the refuse hops that have hitherto been thrown away in breweries.

Books Are Utilized.

The inhabitants of Mainz, Germany, are great readers. Of the 200,000 volumes in their library, 40,000 were used last year.

Largest Serpent on Record.

The largest serpent ever measured was a Mexican anaconda, which was found to be 37 feet in length.

Temperature of Churning.

Many a farmer's wife spoils her butter by churning at too high a temperature. The result is that the product of her churn is greasy and poor in quality and keeps for but a short time. Some people also put hot water into the cream to make the butter come quicker. The result of this rise in temperature is to destroy the grain and at the same time incorporate with the butter a great deal of casein, which is the part that goes to make the body of cheese. This butter is increased in quantity also by the incorporation of an unusual amount of water. If the butter is made when the temperature of the cream is at, say, 80 degrees, the kind of a butter will result that if it came under the eyes of United States dairy inspectors would be excluded from the market and the sellers thereof fined for selling butter with a water content above the legal 16 per cent. The woman that wants to make good butter must do her churning when the cream is at a temperature of not above 65 degrees. It would be better to churn at as low as fifty degrees, but this is rather hard for people that have to churn by hand. The people that try to work the so-called two-minute churns frequently have to raise the temperature of the cream to about 80 degrees before getting the results that have been advertised. That is, the time of churning is regulated to some extent by the temperature. Every maker of butter should have a thermometer. One can be purchased for twenty cents, and this, being the case, there is no reason why every person should not have the advantage of knowing the temperature of their cream at churning time.

Cream in the Pantry.

It is common in our farm houses to set the cream in the pantry or in the cellarway, where all kinds of food are also kept. It is safe to say that cream cannot be set in such places and give good butter. Some people may like butter that tastes of doughnuts, pies, cookies, limburger cheese, onions, celery, cloves, cinnamon, oranges, apples and the like, but most people like to have the aroma that belongs to butter rather than to the pantry. Probably the one greatest obstacle to getting good flavor in farm-made butter is this one of the setting of milk to rise in the pantry. It is with difficulty broken up, in spite of the fact that much such butter has to be sold to the poorest market and at not above ten cents per pound. The nose of the housewife is so accustomed to the smells of the pantry that she never thinks of them when she is putting her milk away to undergo the process of cream raising. Cream in the pantry should be abolished, and in its place should come cream in the cream room, a place set aside for this operation and sealed against the entrance of all odors that will give the butter a disagreeable taste. The woman that does that is very likely to get a great reputation as a maker of fine butter.

Wheat Bran For Milk Making.

Men frequently misjudge the value of feeds by their density. Thus there is a strong opinion among farmers that cornmeal is better for milk making than bran. It is heavy and has a beautiful color and the cow owner associates it with rich cream. But the fact is, bran is, in the main, more valuable for milk making than is cornmeal, in spite of the attractive appearance of cornmeal. The stomach of the cow is better suited to take care of bran than of cornmeal, because it is more bulky. The cow was made for the purpose of using up just such waste products as bran would be without farm animals to consume it. And bran cannot be judged by its lightness. The question of using or not using bran is one that must be decided on its price, compared with the prices of other like feeds. At the same price as corn it is far more profitable to be used for the making of milk. Its protein content is high, but not so high that the digestive apparatus of the animals will be injured by it. American farmers should not permit a pound of bran to go across the waters, but should buy and feed every pound of it, thus not only making the profit that may be made out of it, but saving the fertility for their land; for the fertilizing qualities of bran are considerable.

The Hand Separator to Stay.

There has been war between the men that believe in hand separators for farm use and the men that believe that all milk should be hauled to the creamery. The latter declare that as good butter cannot be made from gathered cream as from the cream taken from fresh milk brought in. This may be so; but one thing should not be lost sight of, and that is that the hand separator has come to stay, and the argument of whether it is a good thing may as well be discontinued. The time will be better spent if put upon the questions that have come with it. Every situation has its own problems and every new invention brings a lot of new problems. It was only natural that the hand separator should have its new phases and its new questions. Some of these are hard to settle. The hardest is the one relating to the freshness of the cream when delivered to the butter-maker. This problem will be settled as have all other questions before it.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Used Pe-ru-na For Dyspepsia With Great Benefit.

HON. M. C. BUTLER,
Ex-United States Senator from South Carolina.

Ex-U. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter from Washington, D. C., he says: "I can recommend Pe-ru-na for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."

Pe-ru-na is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Pe-ru-na is a catarrh remedy. Pe-ru-na cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh of the stomach.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Making Sweet Scents.

The oils of roses, lavender, orange blossoms and many others are obtained by distilling the flowers in water. The oils rise with the steam and float on the top of the water, which presently condenses in the receiver. Thus the pure oil is extracted, but the water remaining, impregnated with minute particles of the oil, retains a delightful fragrance, and, under such names as rose water and lavender water, is placed upon the market as perfumes for the toilet.

Law Against Football.

On the statute book of Scotland is still an act passed in 1424, ordering that "na man play at futeball" because it is "esteemed to be unprofitable sport for the common gude of the realm and defence thereof." There is also a statute against alien immigration, passed in 1426, and authorizing "all his majesty's good subjects" to "take, apprehend, imprison and execute to death the said Egyptians (Gypsies), either men or women."

Mystery of the Rain Tree.

The mystery of the rain tree of the Canaries is a cloud that hovers about it constantly; this is condensed to water, which saturates the leaves and, falling from them in constant drops, keeps the cisterns which are in excavation beneath them always full of water.

OLD FASHIONED.

But Still in the Fashion.

It is an ever new and interesting story to hear how one can be entirely made over by change of food.

"For two years I was troubled with what my physician said was the old fashioned dyspepsia."

"There was nothing I could eat but 20 or 30 minutes later I would be spitting my food up in quantities until I would be very faint and weak. This went on from day to day until I was terribly wasted away and without any prospect of being helped."

"One day I was advised by an old lady to try Grape-Nuts and cream leaving off all fatty food. I had no confidence that Grape-Nuts would do all she said for me as I had tried so many things without any help. But it was so simple I thought I would give it a trial she insisted so."

"Well I ate some for breakfast and pretty soon the lady called to see her 'patient' as she called me and asked if I had tried her advice."

"Glad you did child, do you feel some better?"

"No," I said, "I do not know as I do, the only difference I can see is I have no sour stomach and come to think of it I haven't spit up your four teaspoons of Grape-Nuts yet."

"Nor did I ever have any trouble with Grape-Nuts then or any other time for this food always stays down and my stomach digests it perfectly. I soon got strong and well again and bless that old lady every time I see her."

"Once an invalid of 98 pounds I now weigh 125 pounds and feel strong and well and it is due entirely and only to having found the proper food in Grape-Nuts." Name given my Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Before the sudden fury of the onslaught, Edmund gave back a pace.

a boy who has been released from a lesson. Whether he is mad, or bewitched, or feigning like Amleth, it is not easy to tell.

"I do not think it is any of these," Rothgar said slowly. "I think it is because he likes it so well that he has got peace in which to amuse himself. Sooner would he hunt than fight, any day; and I have often seen him express pleasure in this manner."

The Norwegian plunged again into the general discussion; and the son of Lodbrok stood listening discontentedly, while he kept a sharp watch of the low-browed entrance.

Presently his patience was rewarded. Within the hut there arose all at once a duet of voices, half angrily accusing, half laughingly protesting. Then the chessboard came flying through the doorway, followed by a handful of chessmen and the person of the big good-natured Jarl, still uttering his laughing protests. And finally Canute himself stood under the lintel, storming through his laughter.

"Blockhead, that you cannot keep your thoughts on what you are doing! One might expect as good a game from the tumbler's dog. You deserve—"

"To lose the honor of playing with the King," the Jotun broke in, making a long step forward. "Be so good as to allow me to take his place, lord. I have some words for your ear which are worth a hearing."

"Rothgar!" the King exclaimed with great cordiality, and stepped from the doorway to meet him. "Willingly do I make the change, for I have been wishing to speak with you this last hour. I have thought of a fine plan for to-morrow's sport." Laying his arm boy-fashion across his foster-brother's shoulders, he swung him around toward the river. "But we will not go in there to do our talking. We will walk along the shore. To-night I feel as though I could walk to the rainbow bridge."

As they strolled beside the moonlit water, the son of Lodbrok listened in secret amazement to the string of plans that unfolded itself—hunts and horse races, swimming matches, and fishing trips.

"But where will you get the fishing tackle, lord? And the hawks and the hounds for all this?" he ventured presently.

There were some little distances in the bank now, where trees screened them from the camp-fires. Suddenly the young King made a leaping grab at a bough overhead and hung by it, looking down at his companion with the face of a mischievous boy.

"How joyfully you will take my answer! I have sent to Northampton for them. And I have bidden Elfgriva accompany them, with all her following of maids and lap-dogs and beardless boys."

As his foster-brother stood gazing at him in speechless dismay, he laughed maliciously. "Where are your manners, partner, that you do not praise my foresight?"

THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1904.

The Tecumseh News (Republican)

says: "Politics in Michigan are certainly rotten to the core, and the people are looking for a Moses to lead them out of the slough of boodles, disreputable machinism and dirty political jobbery." These facts are generally conceded by the voters who are not tied to the machine with golden or official collars. But who that Moses is going to be, is what needs more light upon it.

A campaign is on foot under the management of the Detroit Board of Commerce to knock out the pernicious trading stamp swindle and other "gift enterprises." There never was a bigger swindle perpetrated on an ever ready to be gulled public than this same trading stamp steal and we hope to see it driven out of Michigan as it has been out of Washington, D. C., where the decision of the lower court was sustained by the U. S. court of appeals. There is a law on the statute books of Michigan which it is thought is strong enough to do the work here if it is only enforced.

The Detroit Tribune.

That great independent and eminently fair newspaper, The Detroit Tribune, has just completed a work of much historical value to the state of Michigan. The work is the official souvenir of the recent celebration at Jackson of the fiftieth anniversary of the monster mass meeting held under the Jackson oaks July 6, 1854, at which Michigan placed herself squarely against the extension of slavery and formed the Republican party. The book contains the official proceedings of the celebration, a history of the Republican party and portraits of many eminent citizens who took part in that great historic event of 50 years ago. It also contains engravings of the chief participants in the celebration, of many leading citizens of Michigan. Being bound in leather, the work will form a lasting memento and a valuable historical possession for those who are to receive it.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precedes suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nerve will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great stomach, liver and kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Glazier & Stimson, druggists.

VERY UGLY WHEN DRUNK.

Qualification Not Absolutely Essential to a Minister.

A preacher in Topeka, Kan., tells this story relative to another member of "the cloth," and inferentially the tale must be true:

"A church at Anadarko was considering the merits of a pastor who had applied for the pastorate. The deacons had been told that a lawyer of the town had known the pastor intimately. They went to him and asked for a statement of the qualifications of the candidate. 'Yes, I know Brother very well,' said the lawyer. 'I went to college with him, and I attended his church after he entered the ministry. He is scholarly, able and eloquent and I am sure you will like him.' The deacons thanked the lawyer and were going away when he called to them in consequence of an afterthought, 'I don't know as it makes any difference,' said he apologetically, 'but perhaps I should tell you that he's as ugly as h—l when he's drunk.'"

Natural Cause for Alarm.

Chief Justice J. M. Fitzsimmons of the New York city court told a good story recently of his experiences in the oil regions many years ago. They were working hard for a "strike," and boring night and day, and, as the evenings were cold, a fire was built. One night a vein was struck from which the gas rushed to a height of over a hundred feet, and a stream of fire shot into the air. The foreman, Tim McCarty, rushed to the door with a yell, "Get up, get up, Fitzsimmons. We've broke through into hell."

Still Vigorous in Old Age.

Mrs. Sarah Rumbley, the venerable mother of the late Gen. Walter G. Gresham, is now over 96 years of age. The old lady is still wonderfully active, however, and this winter has been amusing herself shucking corn on a farm ten miles west of New Albany, Ind. She also busies herself about other chores.

Eighty-six public spirited citizens in Ann Arbor have agreed to contribute 25 cents a week each to have a band concert on the court house square Wednesday night of each week.

Eaton county's bean crop last year was 200,000 bushels, at least 80,000 bushels more than has ever grown in a single county in one year before. The county is enjoying a land boom in consequence of this fact.

One of the daily duties of an Ypsilanti drug clerk is to pull the quids of gum off the under side of the soda water counter that have been left there during the preceding evening by the feminine customers.

I. H. Ames, living near Hudson, has a flock of 200 Brown Leghorn hens. In six months from Jan. 1 to July 1, he gathered 20,673 eggs; 1,722 dozen, making a total for each hen of 103 eggs. With eggs at an average price since January last of 15 cents a dozen he received $258.41 from his flock. It certainly pays to keep hens.

The Manchester Enterprise: Our townsman, Mr. Hough, has been experimenting with gentian (ginseng) culture. He secured his first start from wild plants gathered in the woods near town, which he planted in his yard, and they have grown so that he is satisfied that the soil is all right and that gentian would be a profitable crop if properly attended to.

Anderson Wilson and N. J. Manning, two prisoners in the county jail awaiting their trial for burglary at the next term of court, sawed their way to liberty Saturday night and have not been seen since. They sawed off two heavy iron bars from a window and the bolts from a screen, then prying the screen off with a short stick made their escape. The pair committed several burglaries the day Barnum & Bailey's circus was in Ann Arbor last June.

A big crop of apples is promised where anything like care has been exercised in keeping the orchards up in shape, and the better the trees have been cared for the better are the prospects for a crop. Plums also promise to be an abundant crop. The branches of the trees are loaded to the breaking down point and the fruit is not as yet much damaged through being stung by the insects.

nton at Ludington.

The state camp at Ludington is now in full swing. There are located in camp four companies of the First U. S.
Infantry, a battery from Fort Sheridan, eight companies, headquarters and band from Detroit; four companies from Grand Rapids; two companies from Saginaw; two companies from Jackson with headquarters and band;
a company from Kalamazoo with

kegon, Flint, Bay City, Owosso, Monroe, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Port Huron,

Creek, Lansing, Alpena and Cheboygan. This makes 44 companies in all.
The camp is agreeably situated. The grounds are sandy and sloping. They are unimproved, but there is an abundant water supply piped through the camp. Abundance of ice is furnished.
The commissary stores are of the regulation army character. Fresh bread is received every morning from Milwaukee.

Counterfeiters Pardoned.

Edmund and David H. Johnson, sentenced to nine years' imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction on Dec. 22, 1898, for counterfeiting, are free. Early Tuesday afternoon Supt.
McDonald received official notice that President Roosevelt had commuted the sentence of the brothers to seven years,
which, with good time allowance,
would have given them their liberty June 20 last. The Johnsons were employed in the chair factory. The crime for which the Johnsons were sentenced was the counterfeiting of a large number of $2 bills. During the trial great efforts were made to secure the plates, and the Johnsons finally divulged their whereabouts on condition as they claimed, their sentences should be only seven years. But they alleged the government broke faith with them and sent them up for nine. A younger brother, Charles, was arrested at the time, but there was no evidence against him. He afterwards died in the Columbus prison.
Edmund Johnson has spent a number of years in prison, having served 14 years for burglary in Kingston, Ont.

Out of Marquette.

Owing to the recent decision of the supreme court that prisoners convicted of crimes committed prior to the enactment of the indeterminate sentence law in September, 1893, and sentenced under its provisions, should serve only the minimum term given to them, six convicts, the first of a score or more,
were released from Marquette prison Sunday. Of these, the maximum terms of three were ten years and in two other cases five years. The men released are: John Westenberg and John Macki, from Iron county; Henry Carson, Cadillac; John Robillard, Ba-ragan; John Granburg, Alger county;
Thomas Nesbitt, Flint.

Brave Miss Colby.

Miss Edna Colby has aroused general admiration here by her daring catch of a thief. She met a young man coming from her room Thursday afternoon, and he drew an object, which she thought was a revolver, from his pocket and pointed it at her. She jumped for him and so frightened him that he ran down the street. She clashed him for several blocks and just managed to catch a glimpse of him as he dove down into a box in an alley.
She jumped on the cover of the box
and held it down until help arrived.
The prisoner proved to have $14 of Miss Colby's money and some of her silverware on his person.

Series of Suicides.

Edward D. Porter, of Grand Rapids, who swallowed strychnine with suicidal intent on Saturday night after brooding over the suicide of his wife two weeks ago, died Sunday night. In the suicide of Porter is revealed a series of suicides in the family of his late wife. Her mother was the first to end her own life, and a few weeks later a daughter also committed suicide. Two weeks ago the last of the daughters, Mrs. Porter, took poison and died a few hours later. Then Porter, broken-hearted over the death of his wife, followed her example.

Found Him Dead.

Love's young dream was short and bitter for Louis Wheeler, aged 21 years, of Life Lake. He was married to a 16-year-old girl last February;
and it is said that their relations have been troubled. On Saturday it is said that Wheeler bought five ounces of arsenic. When his wife returned from berrying about supper time she saw him lying in bed, and supposing him to be asleep she did not disturb him until supper was ready. When she went to arouse him she found he was dead. The young wife says she had threatened several times lately to commit suicide.

BROKE JAIL.

roe's Bastille.

Sometime during Tuesday night Frank Williams who was confined in the Monroe jail awaiting trial on a charge of burglary, broke jail and is still at large. Williams used an iron pipe which he wrenched from the wall to break a hole in the ceiling of his cell and through to the roof, from whence he slid to the ground by means of rope made from bed sheets. He claims East St. Louis as his home.
His partner in the alleged burglary is a fellow named Curry said to have been from Detroit. Curry did not escape.

The Acid Route.

Ellen Tubbs, wife of George Tubbs, went from the home of her sister and committed suicide Saturday morning in an outhouse near her husband's roadhouse, by swallowing carbolic acid. The cause of the deed is thought to have been an estrangement between the woman and her husband. It is supposed that she intended to take the poison before him, but was prevented by his absence. She leaves two children.

CLOUD BURST.

One Hundred Lives Lost in a Railroad Wreck.

One of the most terrible catastrophes in the railroad history of the Arkansas valley happened Sunday evening when train No. 11, of the Missouri Pacific railroad, which runs over the Denver & Rio Grande tracks between Pueblo and Denver, crashed through a trestle near Eden, eight miles north of Pueblo, carrying the smoking and chair cars, which were filled with passengers, into the swirling, surging torrent which rushed underneath. So far as learned, between 80 and 100 persons perished.

Dry creek, which is one mile north of Eden, is 50 feet wide, 16 feet deep and has steep banks. A cloudburst had filled the creek and water was flowing over the trestle as the train started across. The engine got almost over, but slipped back, and the baggage car, smoker and chair cars plunged into the torrent. The engine fell on its right side. The chair car was carried half a mile down Fountain creek. The baggage and smoker were washed down this stream and have not been found. The diner and sleeper did not go down.

Dry creek empties into the Fountain less than a half mile below the wreck. There was no water in dry creek two hours after the accident.

CALL THE SULTAN.

Tired of Turkish Delay, the U. S. Will Hurry Up the Sultan.

Acting on the request of the state department, the secretary of the navy has ordered Rear Admiral Jewell, commanding the European squadron, immediately to proceed with his fleet to Smyrna. This action, it is admitted in official circles, means that a naval demonstration is to be made against Turkey. The European squadron consists of the Olympia, Baltimore and Cleveland.

The president and Secretary Hay held a consultation after receiving word from Minister Leishman that he had failed to induce the sultan to make concessions to Americans traveling in Turkey, which they were entitled to under the treaties, and in the matter of establishing schools and other institutions in the Turkish empire, a right accorded to other nations.

Turkey has been dilly dallying for about two years with the United States. During that time Mr. Leishman has requested the sultan to grant to American citizens in Turkey the same rights and privileges that citizens of other nations possess, to abolish discriminations against American educational and religious institutions in Turkey and to pay to naturalized American citizens indemnity for outrages suffered in the Ottoman empire.

Not only is it considered that Turkey has insulted the United States and should be brought up with a sharp run on that account, but she has humiliated this country in the eyes of other powers which have learned long since to place no reliance upon the promises of the Turk. To put off decisive steps any longer would be in the eyes of the administration a confession of timidity, and so the cruisers were ordered to sail to Turkey.

Thousands Idle.

The general lockout against unions
in the building trades whose members have recently ordered strikes went into effect today. The number of men affected by the lockout is variously estimated at from 50,000 to 100,000.
About half of these are skilled workmen, the remainder being laborers.

The lockout, which was ordered by the Building Trades Employers association as a result of an alleged violation of an agreement entered into by the unions and the association about a year ago to submit all questions to arbitration. Many strikes have been ordered against members of the association during the past few weeks and the lockout order followed.

Flurry in Wheat.

Under the excited buying by frightened shorts wheat in Chicago Monday bounced 3 1/2¢ a bushel, following a net advance of 9¢ last week due to crop damage reports. The concerted demand led prospective sellers to hold their grain, and for a time pandemonium reigned. The northwest influences were disregarded. September, starting at 97 1/2¢ to 97 3/4¢, 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ to 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ over Saturday's close, sold up to $1.01 1/2. December touched $1.00 1/2 and May $1.02. A month ago
September wheat stood at 84¢.

September wheat opened in Detroit at 97 1/2¢ and 97 3/4¢ and advanced to $1.00 1/2. December wheat opened at 96 1/2¢ to 96 3/4¢ and quickly jumped to $1.00 1/2.

President Roosevelt will be unable to attend the Grand Army encampment at Boston, Aug. 15-20, but a fleet of 10 warships will be ordered to Boston for the encampment.

The American tobacco trusts particularly, and other trusts also, are being made the mark of legislation in the Canadian parliament. A resolution has already been passed favoring the cancellation of excise licenses held by manufacturers who sell goods on the condition that the purchaser shall not sell or deal in similar goods made by any other firm.

Supt. P. F. Campbell, of the Puritan
Coal Co., has identified Guide Metzl, an Italian from Pittsburg, as one of the men who ambushed and robbed him of nearly $3,000 last Saturday at Portage, after killing the driver, and the man hunt is over.

WAR REPORTS.

These Come From the Russian War
Office and Are Not Encouraging.

Detailed reports reaching the war office from Kropotkin's general staff show that the Russian losses July 30, July 31 and August 1 did not exceed 4,000.
The Japanese are believed to have lost at least an equal number. It appears that most of the Russian losses were sustained on the Salimatzze road, between Simoungche and Hai Cheng.
The two divisions of the late Gen. Keller's corps did not make a serious resistance at the Yangze pass, falling back on Liandian and Hai Cheng.

The two divisions of the late Gen. Ke-
ller's corps did not make a serious resistance at the Yangze pass, falling

The greatest number of casualties was sustained by Gen. Henschelmann, who with the Ninth European division held Kuchiatun and Yushan pass, on the Salimatzze road. The fighting there was of the most desperate and bloody character. A single regiment lost 25 per cent, or 800 men, before they withdrew toward Anping.

Another point where most stubborn resistance was made was at Nanga pass, a position between Simoungche and Hai Cheng, which was held by Gen. Zassalitch, who had been placed in command of a newly-formed corps, including the Thirty-first division be-

There has been no further fighting of any importance since August 1, according to the latest reports received by the war office. In the opinion of the general staff both sides need a rest rible heat and the officials here are inclined to believe that the Japanese vance for several days.

Aged 134.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, the oldest person in the state, if her age is correctly reported, died Saturday at her home in Kerrtown, a suburb of Meadville, Pa., aged nearly 134 years. Mrs. Murphy was interviewed a few months ago
and said:

"I was born in Dublin, Ireland, on Christmas day, 1770, and came to America in May, 1870, when I was in my one hundredth year. I was 28 years old when the Irish rebellion took place in 1798, and my first husband was a soldier. I was 33 years old when Robert Emmett was executed for treason, September 20, 1803."

Mrs. Murphy is survived by her second husband.

Death From Fright.

Investigation by the coroner's jury has demonstrated the apparent fact that the recent death of Joseph Pascoe, a 16-year-old Republic boy, was due to fright. Some days ago the boy failed to return home at night, and as he had gone to the woods it was believed he had missed his way. A search was instituted, and the next morning his body was found at the edge of the river in a few inches of water. That he had met death by drowning was not generally believed at the time, and it has now been positively determined that young Pascoe was scared to death by a bear.

Democratic State Convention.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS, OF BIG RAPIDS, NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR AT GRAND RAPIDS.

THE CONVENTION WAS A LIVELY AFFAIR FROM START TO FINISH
--THE OUTCOME OF THE VOTE WAS A DECIDED SURPRISE TO ALL--THE PLATFORM IN FULL.

Stearns Not in It.

Justus S. Stearns, defeated in three attempts to secure the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan, was not nominated for that office by the Democratic convention in Grand Rapids Wednesday. Whatever opposition there was to Stearns' nomination it gained more after Mr. Stearns had come out with a flat-footed statement that he had ceased being a Republican and would support the Democratic ticket, from president down.

Stearns, Sweet and Campau held a conference and when they separated Mayor Sweet gave out the following statement: "My name will not be presented to the convention, and I don't think that any other will be. We have discussed the matter fully, and everything is harmoniously arranged. Mr. Stearns is a Democrat completely, and says that he will support the national as well as the state ticket. He says the national platforms are near enough alike to make little real difference, and he is satisfied with Judge Parker as a man. Therefore, he says he will support the entire ticket, from president to coroner. He comes into the party to stay, too, and not simply as a visitor."

Preliminary Work.

When the convention met at 2 o'clock Hon. John Miner, of Detroit, was made temporary chairman. D. J. Campau having called the assembly to order and named Miner for the place. The speeches were made by Campau, Miner and ex-Senator Chas. A. Towne.

Real Work.

It was 4 o'clock before the convention got down to business. The committee on organization recommended Mark W. Stevens, of Flint, for permanent chairman and Francis J. Meloy, of Detroit, for permanent secretary, which was adopted.

Geo. F. Monaghan, of Detroit, read the report of the committee on resolutions which went through with enthusiasm. And a rising vote.

The Platform.

1. The Democrats of Michigan, in convention assembled, endorse the platform and the candidate of the national convention recently held at St. Louis.
2. We favor the nomination of all candidates for office by direct vote of the people and will do everything in our power to secure legislation directly to that end.
3. We favor the adoption of such legislation or constitutional amendments as shall provide, viz.:
 - A. For the election of railroad and tax commissioners by a direct vote of the people.
 - B. For municipal home rule.
 - C. For the election of United States senators by popular vote.
4. For the enactment of such legislation and constitutional amendments as will determine reasonable compensation for the transportation of passengers and freight upon the electric and steam railroads of the state, and for the transportation of mail and express by rail and electric light service and other public utilities.
5. We urge the submission of an amendment to the constitution of the state authorizing the cities and villages to acquire ownership by purchase or condemnation of public utilities within their respective limits, with full authority to control the same for the common good.
6. We believe that laws should be enacted making it a criminal offense for any member of the state legislature or a state officer to accept or use free transportation from any railroad company, the object of such favors being obvious.
7. We believe in the submission of all questions of great public importance to the vote of the people.
8. The administration of our state government at the present time and for several years past has been in the highest degree unsatisfactory and discreditable to the people of Michigan. The recent Republican state convention was dominated by the same spirit and the same corporate interests which controlled the present administration. We deem it the duty of all loyal citizens regardless of party connection, to rebuke, by an overwhelming vote next November, the practices, the extravagance, the incompetence and the disloyalty which prevail at present.
9. Our state government needs re-adjustment upon the lines of greater economy and better business methods. We urge the voters of Michigan to elect a party prejudiced, to elect members of the state legislature who are in sympathy with primary reform and to unite with us in electing the state officers nominated at this convention who are pledged to the earnest support of those principles.

Supreme Judges.

Nominations for justices of the supreme court came first on the order of business. The sixth district named Clinton Roberts, of Flint, which was seconded by the seventh and eighth districts. Ald. E. J. Jeffries, of Detroit, nominated Judge George S. Hos-mer, and Thomas A. Boyle, of the University of Michigan faculty, was nominated by the second district. There were no other candidates, and they were nominated unanimously.

Nominations On.

Nominations for governor came and Henderson, of Detroit, presented the name of Justus S. Stearns, he said: Stearns is a Democrat, he has always advocated Democratic principles."

D. L. Davis, of Oakland, presented the name of Prof. Woodbridge N. Ferris, of Big Rapids. He pleaded not to displace the party leader by nominating a hybrid ticket.

Fred A. Baker, of the Oakland delegation, advocated "a man around whom primary reform has centered."

Dr. John W. McNabb, of Fremont, in seconding the nomination of Stearns, said that he believed in getting help from any quarter.

E. J. Ryan, of Calumet, scored the Stearns' movement and seconded the nomination of Ferris.

Wellington R. Burt, of Saginaw, said that Saginaw wanted to stand back of a Democrat and would support Ferris.

E. O. Wood, of Flint, tried to secure an adjournment until 7:30 o'clock, on the ground that it was necessary to think the matter over.

A roll call on adjournment was beaten by a vote of 326 to 421. The roll call for governor was then started.

Ferris Beats Stearns.

One ballot ended the matter. Justus S. Stearns was decisively defeated for the gubernatorial nomination by Prof. Woodbridge N. Ferris, of Big Rapids, the vote standing 414 1/2 to 340 1/2.

While the tellers were figuring up the tally sheet, Lew Rowley, of Lansing, who had been looking after Mr. Stearns' interests, mounted the stage and said that he had been authorized to withdraw his name, the announcement being greeted with rousing cheers.

L. F. Williams, who has been Mr. Stearns' political secretary, also insisted on being allowed to talk. "Mr. Stearns," he said, "has told you to nominate any good Democrat who believed in primary reform and that he would put his shoulder to the wheel to elect him. This result in no way changes his position."

FIVE CLASSES OF TORPEDOES.

All Equally Deadly If Only They Hit the Mark.

There are five classes of torpedoes. The earliest form was a stationary submarine mine, usually exploded beneath a ship by actual contact. Such mines are still used for harbor defense, but sometimes they are fired by mechanical means from shore at the moment a hostile vessel is passing over them. The spar torpedo, also still used, consists of an explosive charge carried at the end of a long spar in a boat's bows, the craft being rowed close up to the doomed vessel and the charge exploded. The towing torpedo, as its name implies, was towed along and maneuvered so as to explode underneath an enemy's vessel, this kind being in turn followed by the true self-propelling torpedo, the Whitehead, now in general use. The last form which need be noticed is the Brennan, whose movements can be controlled from the shore.

ALL WANTED NOISY CLOCKS.

Manufacturer Had to Meet Demand of Savages.

A clockmaker discovered that a rival was sending out large stocks of cheap clocks to the heart of Africa, and doing good business with them. He spent a large sum in making better clocks and shipped thousands of them to the same market. Strange to say, his sales were small, although his rival, turning out a cheap and inaccurate timepiece, was selling all he could make. Finally he found a key to the mystery. Savages like noise. The clocks made by the first exporter had a particularly loud and aggressive tick. His competitor had made a better clock, but it was almost noiseless, and the savages would have none of it. The next cargo of clocks which the maker shipped to the Guinea coast ticked louder than anything ever heard there, and they sold like pink lemonade at a circus.

Value of Torpedoes.

Torpedo range is now about 2,000 yards. The improvements which are being made, it is estimated, will nearly double this, and that before very long. This means that when two fleets approach each other in order of battle—usually in line ahead with ships 400 yards apart, and the lines making an angle to one another, so that as many guns can be brought to bear as possible—torpedo firing will begin when the intervening distance is about two miles. This is, if anything, beyond effective fighting range of guns. As the distance increases the accuracy of the flight of the torpedo increases, and becomes as great if not greater than that of the gun projectiles. What tactics are to be used to meet these new conditions is not yet assured, but that the chances of hits with the torpedoes are very large—one in three under the conditions above stated—is well recognized. —Review of Reviews.

The Gypsy Wind.

The gypsy wind goes down the night; I hear him lift his wander call; And to the old divine delight Am I a thrall.

It's out, my heart, beneath the stars, Along the hillways dim and deep; Let those who will behind dull bars Commune with sleep!

For me the freedom of the sky, The violet fountains that seem Packed with a sense of mystery And brooding dream!

For me far subtler fragrances Than the magician's incense transmutes; And mistletoes and melodies From fairy lutes!

My cares—the harrying brood takes flight; My woes—they lose their galling sting; When I, with the hale wind of night, Go gypsying.

—Clinton Scollard, in Century.

True Happiness.

No one seems to be happier in Aitchison these evenings than the boy with a new pup in his arms. The Uplift will denounce us for saying it, but he bears a happiness in his face exceeding that seen in the face of the lover, or the young mother with the baby in her arms. The boy with the pup (again, apologies to the Uplift) knows no jealousy, fears no apprehension; the pup is his, and he is its. The neighbor boys envy him, and he has something at last that loves him without saying "Don't ever five minutes. In ticketing the Happy Ones, put the boy with the pup at the head." —Aitchison (Kan.) Globe.

Clever French Rogues.

Among the French coins which are no longer current are, as is well known, those of a less value than 5 francs, struck prior to 1852, and nearly everybody has had a difficulty in making them circulate. But now their progress has been made comparatively easy and that by a very simple means. The head of Napoleon III was uncrowned and that rendered them easy to be distinguished. Some ingenious individuals have undertaken the coronation ceremony by means of an engraving tool, and unless great attention is paid it is very difficult to tell them from the others.

Engineering Triumph.

The Oroya railroad, which now runs from Callao to the gold fields of Cerro de Pasco, is considered one of the wonders in the Peruvian world. Commencing in Callao, it ascends the narrow valley of the Rimac, rising nearly 5,000 feet in the first fifty-six miles. Thence, it goes through the intricate gorges of the Sierras till it tunnels the Andes at an altitude of 15,645 feet, the highest point in the world where a piston rod is moved by steam.

WESTERN CANADA

Three Divisions Affording Great Chances for Settlement—Ranching, Wheat-Growing and Mixed Farming.

The old Romans used to say that Gaul was divided into three parts; so is the Canadian North West. Gaul's divisions were political; those of the Western Canada prairies are created by the unerring hand of nature.

The First Division.

Chiefly because of the elevation of the country, the absence of large lakes and rivers, and the operations of the "Chinook" or Pacific ocean winds, which readily cross the Rocky mountains in Southern Alberta through gaps and passes, the southwestern portion of the Canadian provinces is regarded as somewhat arid, and less fertile than other portions of the country.

Although this has been a prevailing idea in the past, it has been left for American settlers, who have invaded this district within the past two or three years, to prove that splendid crops of grain can be grown on the land.

While there are no large lakes or rivers in this whole country there are numerous fast running streams fed the year round by melting snows in the mountains, furnishing an abundance of the coolest and purest water, the best for beast as well as man.

Englishmen and Americans in the western territories are bringing in their herds as fast as they can and leasing or purchasing land in lots from 1,000 to 20,000 acres from the Dominion government. An idea of the growth of the industry will, however, be gathered from the fact that in 1899 there were but 41,471 head of cattle shipped and sold from the ranches. These figures ran to 55,129 in 1900, and to 160,000 in 1903, averaging $40 per head for the owners. But it takes a great many ranchers and a large number of cattle to cover an area of 200,000,000 acres, the area available for ranching in the Canadian North-west.

It is not at all necessary that large investments should be made at the outset. Many men commenced with small capital and small herds, and have worked themselves into large herds and great wealth. There is still in the country plenty of room for those who desire to go and do likewise.

The Second Part.

The second part of the Canadian prairies embraces the great wheat growing belt of the country, which is easily a half larger than any other in the world. It includes about 150,000,000 acres. As it is comparatively free of broken land, large lakes and rivers, about 125,000,000 acres of it can be brought under the plow. Placing a farmer on every half section (320 acres) it can comfortably locate 800,000 farmers, or 4,000,000 of an agricultural community. The territorial government's reports show that in 1903 there were raised 16,629,149 bushels of spring wheat of $37,234 acres, an average of 19.86 bushels per acre; of 440,662 acres of oats there were grown 14,179,705 bushels, an average of 32.17 bushels per acre;

69,667 acres produced 1,741,209 bushels of barley—24.65 to the acre, and 32,431 acres produced 292,853 bushels of flax seed, 9.03 to the acre. As but 1,838,434 acres, or a little better than one per cent of the entire wheat growing area of the territories was under crop, a little figuring shows that 13 per cent of the entire country under wheat will raise the 200,000,000 that Great Britain annually requires from the outside countries. It is a fairly safe statement to make that in twelve or fifteen years the Canadian prairies will be supplying the entire demands of the mother country.

Throughout this entire belt there is an enormous length of railway mileage, branches are radiating in every direction from the trunks until they scarcely leave a grain field more than six or seven miles from a road, and they are all required, for in the fall and early winter the sight of the trains passing to and from the elevators at the railway depots makes the entire country look like one hive of industry. In 1880 there were but few white settlers in the entire country, outside of those connected with the Hudson Bay Company's posts, and scarcely a dollar's worth of anything outside of buffalo hides exported till 1883, twenty years ago, and now the country has a white population of over half a million, the immigration of 1903 being 128,364, 40 per cent of the number being Americans brought over by the representations of their countrymen who preceded them in settlement.

Large Quantity of Free Homestead Lands.

There is yet a large quantity of government land for homesteading in this country, and as in everything else, "the early bird catches the worm." Those who come first are first served. When it is preferred to purchase railway or other company lands they can be got at from $5 per acre up. This section cannot be better closed than by showing practically what is made by wheat growing in this district. The average from the first of operations is twenty bushels per acre. Breaking the prairie, as first plowing is called, is of course, an exceptional expenditure, as when it is once done, it is done for all time. This costs about $3.50 an acre. After the breaking, plowing and seeding, harvesting, threshing and marketing—all expenses combined amount to about $5.25 per acre, that is if a man likes everything done it will cost him $5.25 per acre. If he does the work himself he is earning wages while producing at that figure. Now, as the average yield is twenty bushels, and the average price 60 cents—$12 per acre—the difference between the result and cost, $6.75, is the profit of grain growing year in and year out in the great wheat belts of the Canadian prairie country. If a man has a half section of land and puts half of it, 160 acres, under wheat, which is a very common occurrence, he makes $1,080 on wheat alone and should make, if he is a capable farmer enough, out of other crops, sale of cattle, dairy and other products, to keep himself and family the year round besides.

The Third Division.

The third division of this great country lies to the north of the wheat belt; between it and what is known as the forest country. As wheat growing implies the raising of all cereals that can profitably be raised in the country, the remaining branches of mixed farming are dairying and the raising of farm stock. It must not be supposed that dividing the prairies in this way is saying that any one portion of the country possesses better soil than another, for such is not the case—all districts are equally fertile, but the topography and climatic influences, etc., differ, as well as the conditions for production. Ranching and grain growing are carried on quite successfully in this northern zone; but it is found more profitable to combine all the features of the industry.

An authority on the subject has stated that agriculture in any country never reaches the maximum of development until the farmers engage at least proportionately in dairying, though the surroundings must always determine the extent to which any feature of the industry may be prosecuted.

Dairying.

In the territories creameries and cheese factories are to a large extent under government control, and as such are working well. In Manitoba they are largely a matter of private enterprise, and from the reports from that province they must be giving absolute satisfaction to the patrons and promoters. If a settler's farm is not specially adapted to extensive cropping, or if seasons or other conditions are against the proper development of large crops, he has always plenty of pasture and an abundance of native hay for winter feed. A small sum of money buys a couple of cows, and he can soon be in possession of a fine herd of dairy cattle, and the same may be said of swine and poultry.

Markets.

The mining districts of British Columbia, which consume an immense lot of dairy products, are close at hand, and always afford a good market for butter, cheese, pork, poultry, and eggs. When in the future that country is overstocked Great Britain offers as now a ready market for whatever may be produced. Taken for all in all, the Canadian Northwest is the country for the man acquainted with, or willing to learn any branch of farming. In the industry, with a few years of care and enterprise, he can soon consider himself and his family in easy and comfortable circumstances.

NEW TRICK ON BARKEEPER.

Ring of Butter in the Pitcher Keeps the Foam Down on the Beer.

The barkeeper stopped long enough to fill a "growler," or glass pitcher, with beer, looked at it suspiciously and then swore. When his good nature returned he explained:

"Did you notice how little foam there was on that pitcher of beer? Well, I got worked for about twice as much as we usually sell for a dime. The trick is very simple. Before those people sent in that pitcher they drew a ring around the inside of it with butter or something of that kind."

"What difference does that make? Why, it acts this way: Most of the growlers we send out of here are about one-third beer and the rest foam, but with one of these greased pitchers it is all the other way."

"When you draw the beer into one of these stuff flats very quickly. As the beer hits that ring it drops down. It doesn't spoil the beer, either. When the beer is poured into glasses it will have all the original life in it, just as if fresh from the keg."

Love Immortal.

Churches, nay, I count you vain—Lifting high a gloomy spire, Like some frozen form of pain Aching up to meet despair—Standing from God's poor apart—Granite walls and granite heart!

Seeds, ye have your day, and die, Eddies in the stream of truth—The great current, sweeping by, Leaves you swirled in shapes uncouth; Born to writhe, and glint, and woo—Broken mirrors of the Blue.

Creeds! O captured heavenly bird, Fluttering heart and folded wing! Shall ye see those pinions stirred? Can your caged Creation sing? Will ye herald as your prize What was bred to soar the skies?

Rites and pomp, what part have ye In the service of the heart? Rituals are but mummery, and youth, Faith's white flame is snuffed by art Candies be but wick and wax, Alms have grown the temple-tax.

Yet the East is red with dawn, Like a cross where One hath bled! And upon that splendor drawn—Gentle eyes and arms outstretched—See that figure stretched above—As God lives! its name is Love!

Love that lights the fireless brands, Love that cares for world and wren Bleeding from the broken hands—Crowned with thorns that conquer men.

Only Love's great eyes inspire Church, sect, creed to glow with fire. Then our lips shall have no sneer For the spirit, the mosque, the ark, Broken symbols shall be dear If they point us through the dark: Who have grown the sons of truth! Laws and scriptures served above—Frederic Lawrence Knowles.

It Was Good Money.

An illustration of how thoroughly some coins go out of circulation was furnished by an incident in a street car yesterday. A sedate man sat reading his newspaper when the conductor touched his arm for his fare. Without looking up he handed over four coins. After scrutinizing them the conductor said: "Can't take 'em." The man simply looked up.

"Your fare, please," said the conductor.

"I offered you my full fare," said the man.

Then the conductor began to get mad.

"You mustn't attempt to put off any foreign coins on me," he replied picking out one of the pieces and shaking it at the man.

Then the passenger said to his neighbor at his elbow: "Is that a good coin?"

"A good United States coin," said the man addressed.

The conductor took the piece, looked it over carefully, and said: "Well, I'll be darned. That's one on me. I never saw one before."

"It was a 2 cent piece."—New York Sun.

Unwelcome Chinese.

Bathoen, chief of all the Bangwaketse tribes of British Bechuanaland, has sent to the colonial secretary at London a remarkable protest against the importation of Chinese labor into the Transvaal.

In it the Bangwaketse chief calls the attention of the British colonial office to the fact that the natives of South Africa get their living by working in the diamond and gold mines, and he asks:

"If the Chinese come into South Africa, what will become of us?" With the money earned in the mines, he says, the natives feed and clothe their children and pay the hut tax; and if "these Asiatics," as he calls them, are allowed to come into South Africa it will be an exceedingly grave matter.

"Poverty," he declares, "will be great, and the government will not be able to get the hut tax from any of us, as there will be no work for us." He, therefore, is opposed to the importation of Chinese into South Africa.

Milk Caused Wrinkles.

A writer on beauty in one of the society papers urges her readers never to wash the face with soap and water, as being certain destruction to a fine complexion. I cannot endorse this view.

Cleanliness is absolutely necessary to the beauty and delicacy of the texture of the skin. If soap is not liked, at least oatmeal should take its place, and pure or distilled water invariably be used. I once saw the result of only washing the face with milk—in a lady who started life with a good complexion, but before she reached middle age had lost all freshness, and showed a faded skin covered with fine wrinkles. Nothing equals the complexion of the country woman who rises early, is much in the open air, and bathes freely in cold water. The homely idea of washing in the dew of the morning as an aid to beauty is simply a practical way of expressing this fact.—Lady Greville in London Graphic.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality, when burns, sores, ulcers and piles threaten. Only 25c at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

The Chattanooga Advertising.

The Chattanooga Medicine Company, with laboratories and general offices at Chattanooga, Tenn., and branch houses at St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, Cal., has become one of the largest proprietary medicine concerns in the world. In the growth of this great business two factors have been dominant: The merit of its products—Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught—has been widely recognized and the original advertising methods adopted have excited great comment.

With all the opposition to chickens—hawks, eagles, skunks, weasels, tramps and ministers—it's a fight to a finish to keep any over for early layers.

The Stevenson Brothers are cleaning up the grounds for the picnic and will spare no pains to make it a success as far as enjoyment is concerned.

The berry season is about over for this year. The crop has been small in bushels but good in quality. Red raspberries suffered much from dry weather.

Our mail carrier says James Burden, of Gregory, is gaining slowly since his recent operation for appendicitis. Mr. Burden is the active stock buyer of that place.

It's the easiest thing in the world to write up a happening, but the trouble comes in having it true. So many are such sticklers for facts they think a lie too good to be told.

W. Wood, wife and daughter Millie, from the northern part of the state, are here visiting relatives. They attended the old boys' and girls' reunion at Pinckney last Thursday.

In a letter from Dakota we learn that Mrs. Hyde is a little better, having been very sick of late. Mrs. Hyde's maiden name was Maggie Webb, of this place. We all hope for her recovery to health soon.

I read that in India a man can get in exchange for a cow two and sometimes three fine young women. Why they are so dear there I can't see, when here they can be had for the asking, only maybe given a promise.

In going to Pinckney last week I went by the James Cooke ranch now owned by C. E. Glenn. Saw long strings of wire fence and crops looking well. From there went through Purgatory, used to be known as Hell. Noted many changes for the better from 30 years ago. Pinckney has a large farming tract to help out its business houses.

Thursday I attended the old boys' and girls' rally at Pinckney. It was about the greatest visiting match it has ever been my luck to attend, and for one day those attending were one more boys and girls again. I met two doctors, Dr. Hayes, of Larame, now 88 years old, and Dr. LeBaron, of Pontiac, who practiced in Pinckney in the 40's. Dr. Hayes has been totally blind for many years, yet I often heard him say in meeting old chums, "I am glad to see you." It was a gala day for all the Pinckneyites. As fine a group of women and men as you will ever meet from one locality.

When you think of the square-toed good fellows that have been raised, grown and gone out from near here in the past you might be led to think there was not much left. Among them will mention only a few. R. W. and Walter Webb, Mahlon Glenn and Elmer Swenney, all big farmers in Dakota; Geo. Greening, lawyer in Detroit; Geo. Purchase, a prosperous speculator in Detroit; C. E. Glenn, oil and mining broker, Alfred Glenn, mining boss and prospector in Arizona, and a score of successful school teachers and members of useful callings. There are plenty coming on to keep up the credit of the place for some time in the future. I have said nothing about the prosperous farmers that have settled here or in the state.

West North Lake.

Geo. Goodwin and wife attended the Pinckney reunion Thursday last.

Geo. Watson sold a fine team of colts to Henry Howlett, of Gregory, last week.

While walking by the road side last Sunday Ralph Collings killed a large rattlesnake which had 14 rattles.

The North Lake boys are practicing for the ball game to be played at the picnic Saturday. Cooke, Collings and Gilbert will be the battery.

Mrs. Chas. Sorter and daughters, of Jackson, and Miss Carrie Cunningham, of Chicago, were guests of Mrs. M. A. Heatley the first of the week.

The Misses Mary Heatley and Esther Crossen, William and Eugene Farrell, of Sandusky, Ohio, are spending their vacation with Mrs. M. A. Heatley and family.

The ball game at Gregory last Saturday between Anderson and North Lake was a well played game, the North Lake boys losing the game in the fourth inning. The North Lake battery did some fine work, Cooke allowing but five hits. The score by innings was:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Anderson	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
North Lake	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Batteries: Rocks and Lavey; Cooke and Gilbert.

You need clean healthy bowels just as much as pure, wholesome food; without either, you cannot keep well. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea eliminates all impurities. Tea or tablets. 35 cents. Glazier & Stimson.

A LITTLE TOO PREVIOUS.

Boy's Parting Shot at the Professor Was Ill-Timed.

In a public school in the northwest section it is the custom for the supervising principal to receive "Good morning" and "Good afternoon" from the pupils on entering and leaving the school. It was rather repulsive for one boy, who evaded the custom as often as possible. One Friday afternoon he saluted the principal with the startling farewell, "Go to the devil, professor," and ran out of the school. The professor became very angry over the affair, and thought over several plans of punishment to mete out on the following Monday morning. Monday morning came, and with it the boy, who sat on a bench outside the class room. When the professor appeared, he began to cry, and loudly explained: "Oh, professor, don't expel me; we were going to move away from here on Friday, and now we ain't." It is needless to say he was not expelled.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Certainly Not.

When you see a young man sitting in a drawing room with the ugliest 4-year-old boy that ever frightened himself in a mirror clambering over his knees, jerking his neck out of place, ruffling his shirt-front, pulling his hair, kicking his shins, feeling in all his pockets for coppers, while the unresisting victim smiles all the time like the cover of a comic paper, you may safely say that the howling boy has a sister who is in a room not twenty feet away, and that the young man doesn't come there just for the fun of playing with her brother.

Who Wrote "Dixie"?

Will S. Hays of Louisville claims to be the author of "Dixie." He was assisted, he says, by Charles L. Ward and David P. Paulda, recently deceased, published the song. The authorship of this popular southern melody has been in dispute for many years.
