CHELSEA'S REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Good Speakers and Lots of Music
Characterized It.

Chester's big Republican rally has come and gone and it is safe to say there was never so much brass-band music heard on the streets of the village in any one day as was heard yesterday. Every band in the county and one from Francisco—ten in all—were here, and from 10 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night, with the exception of the time the speakers were talking and the men were taking necessary bodily refreshment the air was full of the blare of the brass instruments and the beating and rattle of the drums.

Many of the business houses were decorated with flags and bunting and a large stand was erected at the intersection of Main and Middle streets over which was suspended a large red, white and blue banner decorated with the portraits of the several Republican national and state candidates.

It was afternoon before the people began to assemble in any number at all, and the continuous concert by the bands kept them interested until the speaking began at 3 o'clock, when Grant Fellows, of Hudson, addressed the large audience that had gathered. He gave a good speech and delivered it well, covering the ground of national and state affairs, and the primary reform question (from the standpoint of the Republican state platform), in an able manner. The audience was a quiet and attentive one, but there was no demonstration of enthusiasm.

At the conclusion of his speech a move was made to the Michigan Central depot to meet Gen. R. A. Alger and Gerrit J. Diekema, but only the latter gentleman came, Gen. Alger coming later at 6:45 p. m. A procession was formed of the bands, the employees of the stove works, the speakers and others in carriages and a number of people on foot, and a short parade of the streets was made. Returning to the stand Mr. Diekema apologized to the people for Mr. Fred M. Warner's non-appearance and expressed that gentleman's regret at not being able to be here. Songs were then given by Jas. E. Harkins and the Aeolian Quartette (the latter had also furnished music during the afternoon), and the afternoon's proceedings were over.

By 7 o'clock the music of the bands was again heard. Gen. Alger was met at the train and as the town hall was already filled with people, he made a brief address to an overflow meeting from the speakers' stand. He was followed by A. J. Waters, the Republican candidate for representative from this district of Washtenaw county, who announced himself as an out and out believer in primary reform. D. E. Alward, of Detroit, secretary of the Republican state committee, also made a good speech.

In the town hall the people were packed in like sardines and standing room was at a premium. W. J. Knapp was the chairman and introduced the several speakers. Music was furnished by the Aeolian Quartet and Floyd Ward, who sang some favorite songs. Gen. R. A. Alger was the first speaker and he was attentively listened to.

Mr. Perkins then read a letter from the labor commissioner of the state showing the number of factories in operation in the state in 1897 and the large increase that had been made since that time, over 3,000 new industries having been opened up.

Gerrit J. Diekema, chairman of the state central committee, was the last speaker, and his was the speech of the evening. The meeting broke up with cheers for the Republican party and the candidates, and the big Republican rally in Chelsea was over.

MR. WHITAKER EXPLAINS

The Error in a Statement Made by the Chelsea Standard.

Editor of the Herald:
In last week's Chelsea Standard the following item relative to me was published:

"Those that know Hon. Byron C. Whitaker, of Dexter, the Democratic candidate for county clerk, will be greatly astonished to learn from an Ann Arbor paper that he announces himself as a veteran of the civil war. It would be interesting to know in what company and regiment he served. If not true, it is certainly very reprehensible to try and secure credit and honor, which belongs to the self-sacrificing men, who really did serve in the civil war."

The following letter from Mr. C. F. Gee, manager of the Union-Record, Ann Arbor, in which the statement was made emphatically explains how it was that I was ever called a civil war veteran and how the statement came to be made. All those who know me well, know just how I lost my arm and I have never made any claim that I lost it in any other way than I did.

BYRON C. WHITAKER.

The letter in question appears below:

"We notice that some of our exchanges have had something to say about Byron C. Whitaker's 'service in the civil war.' They gleaned their information from the Union-Record, which unconsciously and unwittingly announced that he was a veteran. The writer is a new comer to Washtenaw county and met Mr. Whitaker at a reunion at Whitmore Lake a few weeks ago. He said we might write up a card for our paper asking for the support of voters for the office he is seeking. Unthinkingly, we thought Mr. Whitaker was a veteran of the war, as we noticed he was minus an arm. But that arm was lost before the war, and all who know Mr. Whitaker at all, know that he would not try to win anything on misrepresentation, least of all a political office. We are sorry we should have made such a blunder."

"Ann Arbor, Oct. 31, 1904."

THE LATE MRS. C. W. BROWN.

Her Contented Happy Life Was One to Be Envied.

Chester has lost another of its old residents in the death of Mrs. C. W. Brown at her home on McKinley street, Thursday evening, Oct. 27. Mrs. Brown had for the past year been troubled with a slight affection of her heart, but was as active as usual until about two weeks ago when she suffered a stroke of apoplexy which proved fatal.

Mrs. Amanda Marcey Brown was born in New York state May 1, 1835. In 1857 she went to Milburn, Ill., and the following year settled in Waukegan, where she resided until her marriage to C. W. Brown in Chicago, April 26, 1868. Mr. and Mrs. Brown settled in Lima on the Hurd farm. Later they moved to the Bowen farm where they resided until Mr. Brown's death in 1881, when Mrs. Brown bought the house in Chelsea which was her home until she died.

Mrs. Brown made a host of friends during her long residence here. Blest with but little of this world's goods, she never murmured at her lot or coveted other people's better circumstances, and her happy disposition and genial ways endeared her to all. She was an earnest Christian and a faithful, devoted member of the Congregational church. Left alone by the death of her husband, she made her own sorrow light by kindness to others.

The funeral services were held at the home of Chauncey M. Stephens on East Middle street, Saturday, at 1 o'clock, and were conducted by her friend and pastor Rev. C. S. Jones. The large company of friends who accompanied the body to Jackson, where it was interred, testified to the love and esteem in which she was held by all her friends and neighbors.

REOPENING SERVICES.

St. Paul's Congregation Will Reoccupy Their Church Home Sunday.

The congregation of St. Paul's Evangelical church will feel very thankful and much gratified next Sunday, Nov. 6, when they will again occupy their church home which has been in the hands of the carpenters, plasterers, decorators and painters for several weeks past, and at the introduction of a new organ. They will hardly recognize the interior of the building so much has it been improved in looks by the renovating process it has gone through.

There will be special services morning, afternoon and evening which will be threefold in their nature—rededicating the church, dedication of the organ, and the annual missions-fest. Three services will be held, at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7 p. m. The speakers will be Rev. C. Haag, of Port Huron, who was pastor when the church was built; Rev. Paul Irion, of Freedom, president of the Michigan district of the Evangelical church; Revs. Jacob Graber, of Francisco, S. A. John, of Ann Arbor, John Neumann, of Detroit, J. B. Meister, of Dexter, and others. The choir of the Bethlehem church, Ann Arbor, will be present for the day with their organist and choir master Mr. Fred Fischer. The sermon in the evening will be in English by Rev. S. A. John, of Ann Arbor.

An account of these interesting services and the improvements that have been made to the church will be given next week.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Life places no time limit on the doing of good deeds.

Football will have to do its best if it is to keep up with the railway accidents.

The Kaiser has a new war problem on hand. He is trying to get the rival art schools together.

You can't judge a woman's mind by the size of her pompadour or her wealth by the size of her purse.

"There is always a bar at the mouth of the Mississippi river," remarks a contemporary. No wonder its mouth waters.

A New Jersey man recently sold his baby girl for a cent. He must have been afraid she was going to take after him.

Countess Boni De Castellane has invented a new gambling fad, but most any of the old ones will suffice the average pocketbook.

The wisdom of the rest cure is universally acknowledged, but the trouble is that most people do not take it until they die.

John L. Sullivan is reported to have signed the pledge, but probably on the Meredith marriage plan in an extremely modified form.

The authorities have not succeeded yet in getting on the track of the counterfeit patriot who tried to wreck the battleship Connecticut.

A very excellent quality of glass bricks is now being made. These bricks are even better than the famous and much more costly gold ones.

There are still a good many people who can see lots of bad ears in our big corn crop. These were born to tribulation, and they are acquainted with grief.

There is apparently no royal road for automobilists. The Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward, was thrown from his machine by colliding with a cart.

Probably the offer of a suitable reward for the apprehension and conviction of that missing $10,000 bill would result in bringing it forth from its retirement.

A banker advises those who want to save to hoard all they receive of a particular coin or piece of currency. Wherefore we have decided to spend no more $1,000 bills.

A New York judge has decided that directors who sign a prospectus of a corporation are liable for the statements contained in it. This will be a sad blow to Wall street.

Can it be possible that the Hon. Seth Low, late president of Columbia university, actually made use of such an expression in his speech as "Why monkey with the system?"

It is curious to see how easily novelists work the same old advertising scheme. Every time one of them attacks the modern marriage system, the public takes him seriously.

As if divorced persons didn't have enough trouble with alimony and heartaches and a few things of that sort without having every church gathering that meets proceed to rub it in!

According to recent investigations it now costs Americans an average of $17.42 a year for clothing, as against $13.80 in 1897. This doubtless is largely due to the present style of women's sleeves.

Nevertheless, the man who swapped the parlor carpet for a drink of whisky may have just been preparing for fall housecleaning by getting rid of one casus belli and bracing himself to meet the others.

We feel quite sure that Miss Victoria Kopwicz of Newark, N. J., who is going to try to get rid of her asthma by not eating anything for two months, will not be troubled with asthma much longer.

William Rockefeller has been compelled to pay over $100,000 for a side yard about forty feet wide in New York. At that rate even a Rockefeller might run out of cash before he succeeded in getting the earth.

In the discussion of "Who is the real American?" somebody answers that it was an Italian, anyhow, who first revealed this continent to the civilized world. But here again we enter the realm of controversy.

Perhaps the bishops will say that a mock marriage ceremony between five-year-old children, with elaborate details for exhibition, is not one of the things that conduce to increase solemnity in the popular view of marriage.

A Memphis man has gone bankrupt with liabilities listed at $35,000 and assets at $40, the latter consisting of an overcoat and a horse blanket. Ordinarily it would be supposed that such assets were sufficient to cover the liabilities.

FROM ALL OVER MICHIGAN

PERRY TRIAL.

A Detective Holds $50,000 in Cash for Salsbury.

On Saturday the trial of ex-Mayor Perry, of Grand Rapids, developed some new matters. Lant K. Salsbury was hard pressed on cross-examination. Forced by Judge Perkins to reveal the name of the man who assisted him in securing the box in a Chicago-safety deposit vault which was used in connection with the Barton $50,000 transaction, Salsbury named his brother, Walter Salsbury, of Hanover. It was also stated by the witness that the $50,000 supposed to have been returned to the Bartons was still in the hands of a detective.

Witness was again asked if he did not pay back the $50,000 to the Bartons on the express agreement that he would not be prosecuted.

"I will not discuss that matter," he answered.

Mr. Ellis insisted on an answer to his question and Prosecutor Ward objected. The court ruled that inasmuch as the Barton case had been drawn into the present case, witness must answer. Before answering the question Mr. Salsbury stated:

"I wish to make a statement on the record before I do so."

Attorney Judkins objected to any record being made, but Judge Perkins told the witness to proceed with his statement.

"I wish to say," said the witness, "that in making this statement I may be implicating others, who may be prosecuted in Illinois, but I do not do it voluntarily. I left that $50,000 in the hands of Detective McGuire, with the understanding that if prosecuted and convicted the money should be mine. The case is still pending against me and McGuire still holds the money."

Passing of an Ex-Slave.

Mrs. Diana Corbin, daughter of the famous "Sojourner Truth," who enjoyed the distinction of being the only living person born a slave in the state of New York, died in the county house in Battle Creek Tuesday.

Mrs. Corbin was bought, when a little girl, by John Dumont and placed at work in his fields with men, doing nothing but hard work, hoeing, plowing and picking up stones. She went to Northampton, Mass., after slavery was abolished, and joined her mother, who ran away from her master and became famous as "Sojourner Truth," an anti-slavery speaker. Later, Mrs. Corbin came to Battle Creek, where she lived many years, and where she married Jacob Corbin, who is now dead. She was the last of the family.

After the Storm.

Ernest Cook, a farmer of Mottawan, has been very persistent in wooing his divorced wife, who was separated from him five years ago, the divorce being granted in Van Buren county, the wife's charge being extreme cruelty. Both parties to the divorce were in England at the time the divorce was granted. Mr. Cook returned to Chicago, where he engaged in the lumber business, but found life unendurable without his wife. He has made several trips to England during the five years to try and induce her to marry him again, and the last one, which he made in June, was successful. Mrs. Cook, accompanied by her parents, has arrived from Bristol, England, and the marriage will take place in Kalamazoo.

Mr. Pickles Still Missing.

Ex-Mayor Samuel Pickles, who disappeared from Jackson some six weeks ago, is still missing. He was last heard of in Chicago and Kansas City. He was sub-contractor for the stone work of the new Shiawassee county court house at Corunna, where he is said to have left his work without a word of explanation. Rickman Bros., the contractors, have taken the work in hand and will complete the contract. His friends say there is nothing in the affairs of the company to cause him to want to disappear, but it is thought he was in financial straits from having trusted his friends too fully.

Both Killed.

As William Alder and his aged wife were driving into Battle Creek to visit relatives, their carriage was struck by a D. T. & M. train. They were carried about 60 feet by the locomotive and thrown against a fence. Mrs. Alder died immediately, and her husband expired after being taken to Nichols hospital. At the place where the accident occurred the view of the tracks is obstructed by buildings. Coroner Merritt is investigating the case, but it is believed that the railroad will be exonerated from all blame. It is claimed that the train was running at slow speed.

A Pathetic Case.

Pathetic indeed was the death of Mrs. Mary Stinson, at Battle Creek hospital. Rescued by the police from unsanitary rooms on Glenwood avenue, the woman was cared for until her paralysis showed the fatal turn. Then an attempt was made to find her relatives, but a 10-year-old girl was all that could be found. She sat at her mother's bedside when her only relative on earth passed away, and then, broken-hearted and alone, the little white girl sought refuge in the home of a negro family who had taken in the mother when she became too ill to work.

Foul Play Suspected.

The coming to the surface of the body of James Sullivan, one of the three men supposed to have been drowned in Round lake about three weeks ago, led to the dragging of the lake to find, if possible, the bodies of the other two men. As no other bodies have been found, it is thought that perhaps Sullivan met with foul play at the hands of his companions. It is known that the other two men were intoxicated and quarreling when the trio were last seen, and that Sullivan was attempting to pacify them.

WHERE IS MR. PHELPS?

Battle Creek Has a Mystery That Is Baffling.

The mystery surrounding the fate of Neil S. Phelps, the once millionaire, of Battle Creek, grows deeper every hour. That he has not committed suicide is confidently asserted by everyone engaged in the search, for they say that every nook and corner where it was possible for a dead body to be has been gone over.

It is equally certain that he was not out of his mind on Sunday afternoon when he disappeared, for he had spoken to a number of his friends during the day. He had gone to the office of the Ellis Publishing Co., where he had his office, with one of that firm to open his mail. He had answered such letters as called for immediate reply, and did his work as carefully as ever he had done it, and everything was left in good shape.

Shortly before 5 o'clock he was seen by several persons, and he was then in apparently normal state of health, physical and mental. Then he disappeared as completely as if the ground had swallowed him.

Now comes the most peculiar part of the whole affair. The Michigan Central train for Chicago pulled out at 4:57, just about the time he disappeared, and a young man asserts positively that when he was waiting at Main street for the train to pass he saw Phelps's face in a Pullman car window. None of the railway employees seem to have seen him, although he was well known to all of them.

A telephone message came to Mrs. Phelps from a Detroit woman, who said she had been in Chicago on Sunday. While she was dining with friends there a Mr. Hartley excused himself, saying he had to go to a train to meet Mr. Phelps. He left and did not return. The lady thought nothing of the matter until, on returning, she read that Phelps was missing.

KILLED HIS CHUM.

Thought It Was Not Loaded—Horrible Result.

Romeo's most horrible accident came on Sunday, when a loaded shotgun in the hands of 14-year-old Albert Lemm was discharged, blowing off the entire top of the head of 11-year-old Ray Kaiser and scattering fragments of his skull and brains over the entire walls and ceiling of the room in which the tragedy occurred.

Lemm says he cleaned both barrels of the gun a few days ago and left it unloaded. An older brother, it is learned, later used the weapon and left a charge in both barrels. Lemm got out the gun to show Kaiser how it worked, and believing it to be empty, was working the mechanism. With the fall of the hammers came a double report, and young Kaiser received the full effect of both barrels in the forehead.

Screaming with fright the Lemm boy ran to the nearest neighbor's house and told the story of the tragedy. Among those present was the mother of young Kaiser. All immediately ran to the scene of the accident, but the condition of the house was so ghastly that the stricken mother was restrained from entering where the mangled corpse of her son lay.

Lived a Century.

Dr. Joseph Rich, born in Hungary Sept. 18, 1804, died at his home in Saginaw on Sunday, conscious to the last. He was educated in the best European schools, and practiced his profession in Europe for 24 years, and in 1882 came to the United States. After a short stay in Detroit he came to Saginaw and has since lived here. He practiced his profession for the love of it and as a means of doing good, his benevolences being many.

On Sept. 18 he celebrated his 100th anniversary, surrounded by his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, all the descendants living in this country being present. There are surviving in this country the following children, all residents of Saginaw: Isaac, Adolph, Max, Martin, Julia, Hannah and Fannie Rich.

Shower of Misfortune.

George Clark, a well-to-do farmer north of Lake Odessa village, lost his barn by fire, together with crops and grain and most of his farm machinery and harness. Clark is suffering from a badly sprained ankle received last week by falling from an apple tree, and was unable to get out of the house to direct the fight against the flames. The loss comes hard to him, as he is in debt considerable on some new property that he had recently purchased. The fire was caused by a spark from a thrashing engine. Loss $3,000.

Spanish War Claim.

Deputy Attorney General Chase and Assistant Attorney General Wykes have returned from Washington where they were successful in presenting the claims of Michigan for the care of its soldiers in the Spanish war before the war department. Of the $50,000 claimed, $46,000 was allowed, and an appeal to the comptroller of the war department was taken toward securing the remainder. All these claims were once rejected.

Flint's Half Century.

Flint will be 50 years old next spring, and on the date of the completion of the new jail and court house, also the Carnegie library and the ground-breaking for the new government building, a week will be spent in a general jubilation and celebration of the city's semi-centennial. Mayor Macdonald will appoint 12 residents of the city and county to conduct the arrangements for the celebration.

Burglars made a raid in this village on Saturday night, their plunder consisting of oysters, whisky and cigars.

Perry on Trial.
A jury was obtained in the trial of ex-Mayor George R. Perry, accused of accepting a bribe from Lant K. Salsbury in the Grand Rapids water deal. Tuesday afternoon, after 61 men had been examined and numerous peremptory challenges exercised by counsel. The trial began Oct. 6, but owing to alleged irregularity in the drawing of jurors, adjournment was taken till Oct. 24, in order for the jury commission to draw a new list. Two days were covered in obtaining a jury.

Died in Dentist's Chair.
As the result of a shock from having 12 teeth extracted shortly, Miss Matilda Bensen, aged 24 years, of Escanaba, died in the office of Dr. A. S. Winn, who had administered chloroform to extract the teeth. The dentist administered chloroform alone and was unable to revive his patient at the proper time and two other physicians were called, but their efforts were of no avail.

MICHIGAN NEWS IN BRIEF.

Oxford has a juvenile band under process of instruction, but it is said few people have as yet commenced to move out of town.

It is said that the proposed Michigan and Indiana electric line, which will operate a branch between Lansing and Battle Creek, will skip Olivet.

Nottawa, on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, has supplied her portion of potatoes, $9,000 worth having been shipped from that station.

Benjamin Bayles, of Decatur, was convicted of assault with intent to murder in firing on Lamford Cole from ambush and wounding him in the hip.

Mrs. Frances Stevens, aged 67 years, of Port Huron, while sweeping inhaled dust which started a hemorrhage of the lungs. She lay down on a couch to rest and died in a few minutes.

It has been represented to the general staff of the army that it will require an expenditure of $3,819,420 to place the submarine defenses of the United States in a state of efficiency.

The 6-year-old son of John Molenkamp, of Grand Rapids, fell from his father's wagon as it turned into an alley at his home, and his neck was broken. The father in his grief tried to commit suicide.

Mrs. E. A. Parker, aged 75, of Grass Lake, whose hip was fractured by a fall caused by the antics of a pet dog, died from the injuries she received. She lived four days and was an intense sufferer during all that time.

An assault was made on the Lake Shore depot in Adrian Tuesday night on Thomas Dooley, aged 80 years. He was hit over the head with a club by some unknown person, and it is impossible to tell how serious his condition is.

Manual training, which for some years has been confined strictly to Kalamazoo city schools, will be pushed out this winter to the rural schools of the county, there being five outside districts in which it will be introduced.

Hunters have already commenced shooting partridge along the M. C. and D. & M. railroads and the D. & M. company offer a reward of $25 for the conviction of anyone found shooting any birds out of season. The season opens Oct. 20.

F. M. Fowler, one of the best known divines in Michigan, is critically ill at his home in Kalamazoo. He is almost 90 years of age and has been preaching in the state for more than sixty years. He retired from the ministry about twenty years ago.

Jacob Soles, of Alger, was driving from West Branch to Alger when his team became frightened at a big black bear and ran away, throwing him out of his wagon and breaking his collar bone, one arm and injuring him internally. He is not expected to live.

E. T. Webster, the Green Bay, Wis., contractor who has the contract for building the $50,000 sewer system in Coldwater and went into bankruptcy at Milwaukee, says he has made arrangements to carry on his work and will complete it in the prescribed time.

The third sudden death within a week occurred Saturday when Mrs. J. J. Baker, aged 70, died at her home in Hazar township. Mrs. Baker was a pioneer resident. She had done her household work and was eating an apple when she dropped dead from heart failure.

By an almost unanimous vote the members of the Grand Rapids battalion of Michigan National Guard decided to ban intoxicating liquors from the armory. Since the battalion was established liquors have been sold in the battalion cafe. The decision is effective Nov. 1.

During a funeral in Port Huron Saturday a runaway occurred in which Miss Mary Cahill was thrown from a carriage and sustained a broken collar bone and other injuries of a slight nature. Ten-year-old Nellie Johnson and Mr. Charles E. Chambers were also slightly injured.

Miss Elizabeth Devette, of Muskegon, has gone to Montana under romantic circumstances. Two years ago she sent her picture to a friend of hers there, and a ranchman, seeing it, succumbed to her charms. A correspondence resulted in Miss Devette leaving for Montana to become the "ranchman's bride."

Benjamin Kilger, aged 83, was found dead near Riverside cemetery, Kalamazoo. He had gone after his cows and while returning home was seized with a fatal attack of heart failure. The cows were found quietly grazing near his body. He leaves one son, nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The state labor bureau statistics in regard to the electric railways of Michigan shows that there are upwards of 1,000 miles of electric railroad in the state. The Detroit United Railway alone has 308 miles of single track road. This company employs 2,841 men, at an average wage of $2 per day, and last year it carried a total of 104,118,886 passengers.

Smallpox has broken out in the family of John Van Dyke, Sr. Father, mother and six children are down with the disease. The Van Dykes live just north of Holland. Another large family in the city has been quarantined, as they have symptoms of the disease.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD WAR CLOUD PASSES.

The Hague Court of Arbitration to Settle Matters.

It is announced from London that the crisis threatened in the relations of Great Britain and Russia because of the North sea incident has been averted and a satisfactory settlement reached. A proposition to refer the matter to a mixed court of inquiry has been accepted and the inquiry will be held at The Hague under the rules of The Hague convention. The appointment of the arbitrators will be discussed between Ambassador Benckendorff and Lord Lansdowne. In the meantime orders have gone from St. Petersburg to Vice-Admiral Ro-jestvensky to hold his squadron at Vigo, and Spain will be asked to permit those Russian ships concerned in the incident to remain there until the inquiry is completed. The remainder of the squadron is expected to proceed to its destination.

How near was the rupture as evidenced by the fact that Great Britain went to the length of conveying a strong hint to Russia that unless satisfaction was given, insuring an adequate inquiry and the punishment of anyone found guilty, the Russian squadron would not be allowed to proceed beyond Tangier. Even Saturday morning, in dispatching cruisers from Gibraltar, Vice-Admiral Lord Beresford, the commander of the channel squadron, is reported to have signaled them "Situation critical. Good luck."

FOR PEACE.

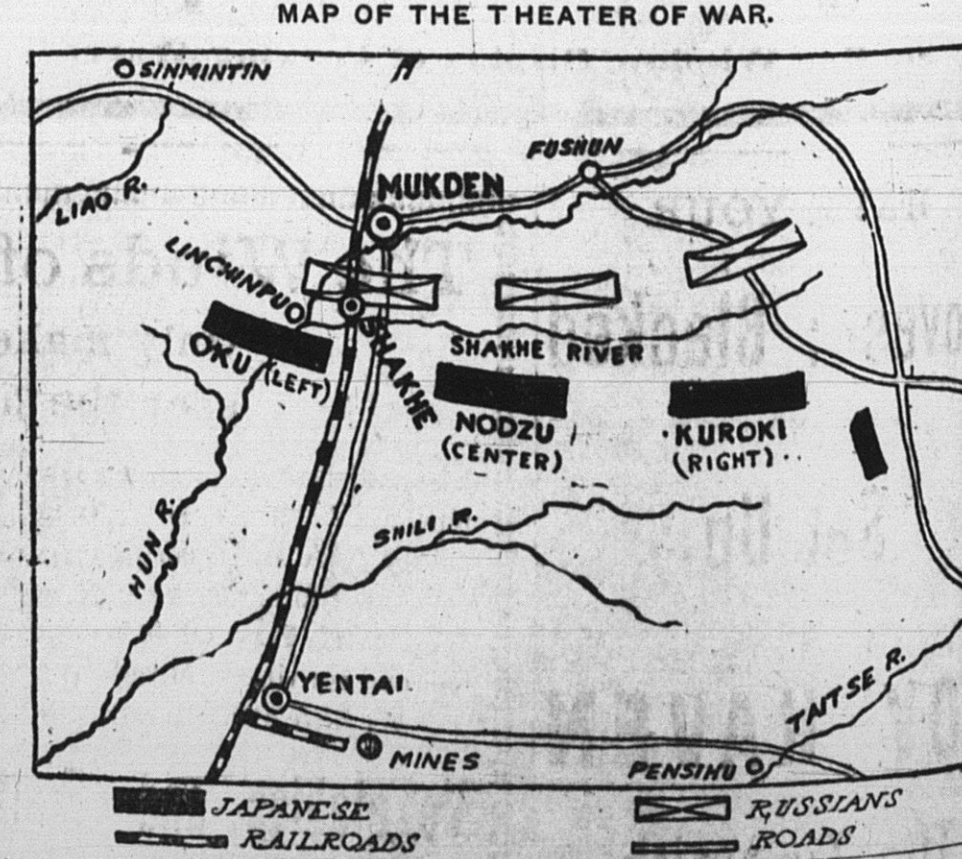

Secretary Hay Negotiating Peace Treaties for the U. S.

Secretary Hay is negotiating treaties with the leading European countries which, if put into effect, will go a great way toward insuring against war between the United States and any of the nations of the old world. The proposed conventions are treaties of arbitration, which make provision for the peaceful settlement of international disputes that are not covered by the articles of agreement adopted at The Hague conference.

It is the expectation of Secretary Hay that he will have the new arbitration treaties finished in time to submit them to the senate for ratification on the convening of congress in December. No hitches have yet been encountered in the effort to make for international peace. The treaties are brief, containing merely two articles, and it is proposed that they shall be identical. They are made in pursuance of Article XIX, of The Hague convention, which reserves to the contracting parties the right of making agreements among themselves for the independent settlement of controversies.

Tom Yates, 81, Toledo, thinks he is the only last survivor of the Balaklava charge of the 600 into the jaws of death now living in America, and on Tuesday he celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of "somebody's blunder" all by himself.

John Connelly, aged 15 years, died at Pittsburgh of gunshot wounds, said to have been inflicted by his mother. The boy was a somnambulist and was groping about the house early Sunday morning, when he was shot in mistake for a burglar.

Thomas Mattimore, aged 36 years, was struck by a train on the Blackstone street crossing, Jackson, Wednesday evening, causing injuries which resulted in his death shortly after.

The statement of the year's loss of life and property in connection with the fisheries of Gloucester, Mass., shows that twenty lives have been lost and ten vessels wrecked since November 1, 1903. This is fewer men than have been lost from Gloucester vessels in any year since 1865. The financial loss is $130,800, and is greater than in any but three previous years since 1830.

VODKA AND PANIC.

The Russian Fleet Officers Present a Sorry Spectacle.

Despite the gravity of the North sea incident and the feeling of horror upon the act that obtains with every thinking person, there are a whole lot of people in St. Petersburg who are laughing at the ludicrous picture that the true story of the onslaught on the harmless fishing fleet was told to one of his officers and men were panic-stricken from the instant that the fleet left the waters of the Baltic sea. There had been drinking and carousing for days previous to the sailing and many of the officers of the fleet stood on the bridges of their vessels as they sailed away from land so intoxicated that they had to cling to the rail for support, so it is not hard to understand the firing upon the trawlers. The only wonder is that they did not complete the terrible affair by sinking the whole fishing fleet. The logical reason for their not doing so is the fact that there is not above a score of real gunners aboard the fleet, and the men who manned the guns on that memorable night undoubtedly did the best they could, and that was certainly bad enough.

PORT ARTHUR.

The Japs Make Another Pious Onslaught.

The general assault upon Port Arthur which began in a preliminary way on Oct. 24, developed into a fiercely raging battle Sunday when, according to a hitherto infallible authority, the Japanese flung heavy forces against the fortress in their third attempt to secure a commanding position. The result of the fighting is unknown.

The Japanese have been preparing for this assault for a month. It is believed that the Japanese did not expect to capture the town on this occasion but to accomplish another important forward step. The plan was adopted following the first assault, when thousands of lives were sacrificed in an attempt to swarm over the fortifications by a mere force of numbers regardless of loss.

This assault, like the previous one, was a climactic incident of weary weeks of trench digging, gun mounting and small engagements. In the opinion of experts the assault will cease when the Japanese have secured such position as will enable them to keep steadily closer under the noses of the Russian guns. It is believed that two more general assaults will be necessary before the distance between the belligerent lines is sufficiently shortened to make an attempt to enter the main forts and make the end of the siege practicable.

Heavy Fighting.

After several days of quietness big guns began booming to the southeast of Mukden Sunday night, continuing until early next morning. Fighting has taken place between reconnoitering parties, the Japanese having crossed the Shalhe river toward the southeast.

A big battle is expected this week, which, unless successful upon the part of the Russians, will probably be the last under the recent arrangements. From an early hour Sunday morning there has been a heavy bombardment of Pontioff (Lone Tree) hill by the Japanese.

Large masses of Japanese were moving eastward during Oct. 29 and 30.

It Was Horrible.

A second murder in Mason town was made known Sunday when Steve Borok, employed at the Bessemer coke plant, reported that he saw a man thrown into a coke oven and cremated. Borok says he saw three men scuffling on top of an oven and a moment later saw two of the men jump to the ground and disappear in the darkness. Just then flames issued from the oven as though fuel had been tossed into it. Coroner Hagan ordered the oven drawn, when blackened human bones and teeth were found. The murdered man and his assailants are unknown.

A warrant has been issued for Mayor Alfred M. Crotty, of Montvale, N. J., who has been missing for ten days, along with $5,000 worth of street improvement bonds.

MAP OF THE THEATER OF WAR.

Locked in each other's arms, two young men lay down on the tracks of a railway near Athens, Tenn., and let the train run over them. There was nothing on their persons to indicate their identity. It is believed they were brothers.

President Roosevelt directed the appointment of Mrs. James Longstreet to be postmaster at Gainesville, Ga., to succeed Col. Henry P. Farrow, moved, on the report of an inspector that Col. Farrow is not a resident of the community in which the postoffice is situated. Mrs. Longstreet is the widow of Gen. James Longstreet.

Letters from People Who Have Been Cured.

Sick Two Years—Cured in 12 Days.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 21, 1904.
I live in New Mexico, and I came to Michigan last spring to get cured. I first went to the Battle Creek Sanitarium, but got little relief. I next tried one of the best physicians in Grand Rapids without being benefited. Then I came to Jackson and tried another physician, but grew worse. I then sent for Dr. Wilkinson to come and see me, for I had got so bad I could not go to his office. He diagnosed my case different from that of any of the other doctors. My heart was so bad I had to do all my sleeping in a chair, and my legs were so swollen with dropsy I could hardly walk. I began to think there was no help for me, but Dr. Wilkinson gave me medicine and the second night I slept soundly all night lying down in bed, and in four days the swollen condition of my legs had disappeared entirely, and now I feel so well I will start for my home in New Mexico next Saturday. I write this for the benefit of others who are sick, and not to benefit Dr. Wilkinson, for I have paid him for his services.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the payment of the amount secured by and payable upon a certain mortgage made and executed by John Dolan and Mary Dolan his wife, of the village of Dexter, county of Washtenaw and state of Michigan, to Thomas Dolan, of township of Dexter, county and state aforesaid, which said mortgage is dated November 21, A. D. 1888, and was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washtenaw county, Michigan, on the first day of June, A. D. 1891, in liber 75 of mortgages on page 367, by reason of which default in the payment of the amount secured by said mortgage the power of sale therein contained has become operative, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, and there is now claimed to be due upon said mortgage the sum of One Thousand Five Hundred and Fifty and 75-100 Dollars ($1,550.75) for principal and interest due thereon, and a reasonable attorney's or solicitor's fee therefor in addition to all other legal costs.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and in pursuance of the statute in such cases made and provided, said mortgage premises will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the south front door of the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county of Washtenaw (that being the place where the circuit court of said county of Washtenaw is held), on the 23rd day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Which premises are certain pieces or parcels of land situated in the township of Dexter, county of Washtenaw, and state of Michigan, described as follows, to wit: The undivided one seventh interest in the southwest quarter of section twenty-six (26), excepting twelve (12) acres off of the south side of the southeast quarter of said southwest quarter of section twenty-six (26) now owned by Edward Beck.

Dated Sept. 28, 1904.

Lyndon.
John Daly and family moved to Jackson on Monday last.

Herbert A. Clark, of Chicago, is home for a few weeks' outing.

Dr. T. I. Clark, of Jackson, was home for a couple of days' hunting this week.

Miss Nellie Walsh, teacher in the McIntee district, is having a two weeks' vacation.

Cooper & Runciman started up their corn husker on Tuesday. It is a quick way to dispose of the corn crop to run it through the husker.

George Klink's lease of the Margaret McKune farm having expired he will move off that place in about three weeks, but has not decided where he will locate yet.

Dr. John Neary, Peter Young and Mr. Berger, of Detroit, have been visiting Thos. and John Young, of Lyndon, and other friends during the past week and doing a little hunting.

Mrs. John Tyrrell, of Jackson, and her sister, Mrs. Theresa Smith, of Niagara Falls, visited their cousin Luke Reilly and wife, and other friends in Lyndon, which was their childhood's home, for several days last week.

The grange social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark Thursday evening of last week was a grand success. More than a hundred were present. A lunch was served consisting of hot wieners, biscuits, doughnuts, cake and hot coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Harkins were present, and Mr. Harkins contributed very materially to the entertainment of the people with his jolly popular songs.

A rather unique political meeting was that held at the town hall Monday evening last. The Republicans had a meeting set for Thursday evening of last week, and the Democrats one for Monday evening, Oct. 31. For some reason the Republicans called their Thursday meeting off and advertised one for the same evening with the Democrats. Wm. H. Murray, of Ann Arbor, very eloquently and forcibly expounded the principles of Democracy along the line of primary reform and a more economical administration of state affairs. H. D. Witherell, of Chelsea, came out with Mr. Murray, not however, with the intention of making a speech, but he made some decided hits in a short address. The time for the Republican program had now come and it certainly was a good one. The attendance was large, the house being crowded, but it was made up almost entirely of Democrats, the Republicans being conspicuous by their absence. The Aeolian Quartette opened the meeting with a song. This was followed by a lengthy address by that able and eloquent Republican Perry F. Powers. Jim Harkins was there and he captured the house with some of his favorite songs. Dr. Copeland, of Ann Arbor, gave an address, but his speech was more humorous than argumentative. It was a good meeting and everybody seemed to have a jolly good time.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, jaundice, fever, constipation all yield to this perfect pill. 25c at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

Watson Bros. have installed a fine new furnace in their store.

Wm. Smith has sold his real estate in this place and will move to California next week.

The M. E. society is going to re-plaster and decorate the church at an expense of about $200.

The C. E. social held in the M. E. church last Friday evening was largely attended and a financial success. The proceeds will go towards purchasing a young people's library. The entertainment consisted of an address from Rev. Geo. W. Gordon, on a trip through Washington, D. C., a recitation by Mr. Howe, and music by the choir.

On account of the repairing being done to the M. E. church, the pastor Rev. Geo. W. Gordon, made the announcement last Sunday that no service would be held next Sunday, when a good Presbyterian brother jumped to his feet and said, "Why, Bro. Gordon, you can have our church to hold the service in." The offer was heartily accepted and M. E. services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening next, Nov. 6.

Charles Hartsuff's dwelling in Unadilla township was burned to the ground Friday morning. None of the family were at home when the fire broke out, but Mrs. Hartsuff was over at her father-in-law's and saw the blaze. She called for aid from a party of men who were threshing near by, and with their assistance and that of neighbors called by telephone, most of the household goods were got out of the house. A large quantity of vegetables and over 200 cans of fruit stored in the cellar was a total loss.

A chicken house and straw stack belonging to Daniel Burch, of Sharon, were destroyed the other day.

Clothcraft Overcoats are as different from ordinary overcoats as day is from night.

It seems as if the majority of overcoats were made simply to cover the body without any thought of HOW they cover it.

That's just where Clothcraft Overcoats are different.

Their first purpose is to protect the body from exposure.

They accomplish that purpose admirably because the fabrics are all wool, and at the same time they have a style, grace and individuality that are distinctly theirs.

Look at the illustration of the Harvard and Yale models and you will see how Clothcraft Overcoats are tailored.

Note how neatly the collar fits, see how gracefully the coat hangs from the shoulders, giving ample room at the knee.

The whole garment seems a part of the man.

Only faultless clothing fits that way.

Wear a Clothcraft Overcoat and you'll be properly attired.

We will supply you at $10 to $35.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment. HENRY C. LOCUST."

STOMACH ON FIRE

ONLY A SKELETON BROUHOING BY A STOVE.

Mrs. Doherty has an Extraordinary Experience and Undergoes a Marvelous Change.

Mrs. E. Doherty, of No. 115 Coates street, Moberly, Mo., is today a picture of robust health, and yet five years ago, she barely escaped death from progressive emaciation. To a reporter she told the following story:

"In 1896 I began to have distressing attacks of indigestion that continued for two years. My stomach was constantly sore and burned as if it was on fire. It became finally so delicate that it would not retain even plain water. My inability to take food reduced my weight to ninety-eight pounds, and faintness and dizziness kept me in bed most of the time. I was really starving to death and besides I was extremely nervous. The doctor was perplexed. He gave me tonics which did me no good, and prescribed exercise which I was too weak to attempt.

"One day when I was so faint and chilled that I could do nothing but crouch down on the floor by the fire, my father brought me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I found on trial that they would stay on my stomach unlike everything else. I really felt better after three doses and I kept on using them. Food began to taste well and to stay down. The pain and the burning in the pit of my stomach lessened and at last went away altogether. My weight began to increase until it reached 165 pounds and my neighbors, who were convinced that I was wasting to death before, were astonished at the change. I resumed my housework and have hardly had occasion to call a doctor since. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to several friends, and I say to the pale, thin ones particularly, if you want to get strong and well take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

These pills cure stomach trouble by their tonic action, building up the digestive organs and enabling them to do the work that nature intended them to do. They are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box or six boxes for two dollars and a half, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. The Ward of King Canute

A Romance of the Danish Conquest.

By OTTILIE A. LILJENCRANTZ, author of The Thrill of Lief the Lucky.
Copyright, 1903, by A. C. McCLURG & CO.

Elfgiva turned quickly. "Yes—Teobon my nurse. Have you seen her?" "I saw her between cockerowing and dawn, noble one, when I let down the bars for the cattle to come in to the milking. The herd-boy who drives them said something to her—it seemed to me that he named a Danish name and said that person was waiting in the wood to speak with her—whereat she set down her pitcher and went up the lane. I have not seen her since."

The lady's little white hands beat the air like a frightened child's. "Three candles have burned out since then; it is certain that evil has befallen her—" She paused to gaze eagerly toward a figure that at this moment appeared in the low arch of the doorway. "Tata! do you bring me news of her?"

Though she shook her head, Randallin's manner was full of suppressed excitement as she advanced. "Not of her, lady, yet tidings, great tidings! The King has sent—" "His Marshal again? I will not see him."

"Nay, the Marshal but accompanies the messenger. In truth, lady, it is my belief that the token has accomplished its mission. The message is brought by Thorkel Jarl, as this has not been done before."

"Earl Thorkel?" Elfgiva cried. "By the Saints, it can be nothing less than the token!" She dropped down upon the rustic seat that stood under the green canopy of the old apple tree and sat there a long time. After a while, an enchanting smile touched her lips. "Surely, a rose garden is a fitting place to receive the ambassadors of a lover," she said, and straightened herself on her rustic throne, sweeping her draperies into more graceful folds. "Bring them here, ladybird. Candida, fetch hither the lace veil from my bower, and call the other maids as you go, and all the pages you can find."

her eyes fell on the house-door, and her expression changed from rage to amazement and from amazement to horror. Catching Randallin's arm in fear, she began to gasp over and over the name of Teobon the nurse.

In the doorway the British woman was standing, wagging her head in time to a silly quavering song that she was singing with lips so distorted as to be almost unrecognizable. Her once florid face was ashen gray, and now as she quitted the door post and came toward them she reeled in her walk, stumbling over stones and groping blindly with her huge bony hands.

"A devil has possession of her," Elfgiva shrieked. "Take her out of my sight, or I shall go mad! Take her away—take her away!" Shrieking in wildest terror she fled before her, and for a moment the garden seemed given over to a grotesque game of blind-man's buff as women and boys scattered with renewed screaming at each approach of the ghastly face. It did not stop until the two soldiers who had been made keepers of the wretched creature came running out of the house and led her away.

Then it was Thorkel's sardonic voice that brought the Lady of Northampton back to herself. "Now, is this how you take the sight of your own handiwork? One mouthful and no more has she had of the blood of the coiled snake."

Stopping where she was, Elfgiva gazed at him, and with a dawning comprehension came back her interrupted fury. "The coiled snake," she repeated slowly; and after that, in a rush of words, "Then it was you who enticed her away and mistreated her? But what does it concern you that I sent a snake? Where saw you it? How knew you it had blood?" Without waiting for an answer, she turned upon the Marshal, her lids contracted into narrow slits behind which her eyes raged like prisoned animals. "It is you who are to blame for this!"

Take her away!

Take her away!

The Tall One always gives me the feeling of a lamb before a wolf."

Even had the likeness never occurred to her before, it would not have been strange if she had thought of it to-day as, followed by the Marshal and preceded by their fair usher, the old warrior came across the grass to the little court under the apple tree. She relapsed into a kind of lamb-like tremor as she invited them to be seated and commanded the attendance of her cup-bearer. When she caught sight of the misery of discomfort in Sebert's frank face, she lost her voice entirely and waited in utter silence while they drank their wine.

Yet Thorkel's manner was unwontedly genial when at last he broached his errand. "You lack the eagerness that is to be expected, lady," he said as he gave his mouth a last polish with the delicate napkin. "Will it not interest you to hear that at last the Palace is ready for a Queen? Canute is going to give the Angles a 'gift of the elves.'"

For an instant, she was betrayed into believing him, and bent forward, her flushing face transfigured with delight. She was starting to speak when the Etheling rose abruptly from his seat.

"Lord Thorkel," he said angrily, "this cat-paw would bring you little thanks from your King, nor will I longer endure it. I pray you to explain without delay that the name of 'Elfgiva' is borne also by Emma of Normandy."

He did not address the King's wife indeed, he refrained even from looking at her—but he spoke swiftly to the dark-haired girl who stood beside the seat. "Randalin, I beg you to tell your lady that Elfgiva Emma, who is Ethelred's widow and the Lady of Normandy, arrives at Dover to-morrow to be made Queen of the English."

As all expected, the Lady of Northampton started up shrieking defiance, screaming that it should not be so, that the King was her husband and the soldiers would support her if the monks would not, that he was hers, hers—and more to that effect, until the plunging words ran into each other and tears and laughter blotted out the last semblance of speech. At the point where her voice gave out

You who miscarried my message. You have betrayed me, and I tell you—" Hysterical tears broke her voice, but she placed it together with her temper and went on telling him all the bitter things she could think of, while he stood before her in the grim silence of one who has long foreseen the disagreeable aspects of his undertaking and made up his mind to endurance.

When she stopped for breath, he said steadily, "I declare with truth that you cannot dislike what I have done much more than I, Lady of Northampton. I hope it will be an excuse with you, as it is a comfort to me, that instead of fetching you into trouble—" "Thorkel took the words from his lips, and no longer with sinister deliberation but with a ferocity that showed itself in the gathering swiftness of his speech. "Trouble—yes! By the Hammer of Thor, I think you deserve to have trouble! Had any of your witches' brew done harm to the King I can tell you that you would not have lived much longer. What! Are the plans of men to be upset by your baby face, and a kingdom lost because a little fool chooses to play with poison as a child with fire?"

"Poison?" she screamed. She had been facing him with whitening lips, and now the little breath that she had left went from her in a sharp cry. "Not poison; love-philtres! To win him back! Love-philtres—can you not hear?"

"Love-philtres!" The old warrior's voice made the words bite with contempt. "Did the mouthful she swallowed have that effect upon your woman? Or do you think you planted love in the breasts of the dead scullions? Had you seen their writhings I think you would have called it by another name."

He was standing over her now, and she was cowering before him, her shaking hands rising as though to ward off his eyes. "I meant no harm," she was walling with stiff lips. "The scroff said not a word that it was hurtful. Do not kill me. I meant no—" The word ended in an inarticulate sound and she swayed backward.

The Etheling turned fiercely to the Jarl. "For God's sake, tell her that no one suspects her of seeking his life, and give her his true message, or I will go and hang myself for loathing."

"Tell her yourself!" the old Dane snapped. "It is seen that you are as rabbit-hearted as the boy who makes her such an offer. Were I in his place, I would have them all drowned for a litter of wailing kittens."

The young soldier, having braved the outburst of hysterics that redoubled at his approach, managed to slip a soothing word into the lull.

"It is true, noble one, that for state reasons the King has consented to this union with Emma of Normandy, who will bring him the friendship of Duke Richard besides causing pleasure to the English. But the crown of Denmark is also at his disposal, lady, and this he purposes to bestow upon your son Sven, for whom he has much love. And it is his will and pleasure that you accompany the boy across the sea and, together with the earls of his guardianship, hold the power for him until his hands shall be big enough to grasp it alone. For this he gives you the name of 'queen' and all the honor you shall desire."

It was as though a rainbow had been set in her showery eyes. "He purposes this?" she murmured, and rose out of her seat in a kind of ecstasy—then caught at its back, glooming with doubt. "I cannot believe it—it is too beautiful. Swear that you are not mocking me."

"I swear it," he said gravely, but his lips curled a little as he watched her delight bring back her color, her smiles, her every fairy charm.

Throwing her arms about Dearwyn, who chanced to be nearest, she kissed her repeatedly. "Think, mouse—a queen! a queen! It was not for naught that I dreamed an eagle flew over my head. Ah, how I shall cherish the dear little one who has brought me this! I pray you tell me when I am to leave, and who goes with me, and every word of the plan, for I could eat them like sweets."

"Ulf Jarl will feed your ears later," Thorkel said gruffly. "You will leave for Northampton this afternoon, to get the boy—and to get rid of you before the Lady of Normandy arrives."

The shaft fell pointless as she turned her sparkling face toward her women. "You hear that, my lambs? This afternoon—not one more night in this prison! Randalin, learn what disposal is to be made of you, and that quickly. Nobles, if I am not yet enough queen to dismiss you, still am I queen enough to depart without your leave." Chiming the sweet bells of her laughter, she glided away among her excited attendants, the silver mockery reaching them after she had vanished into the house.

Randalin awoke to a sense of bewilderment. "It is true that I do not know where to go, now that this place is upset."

The question was repeated in her lover's attitude; but Thorkel Jarl answered it, coming between them and drawing her aside.

"I will remedy that," he said. "My men are to fetch you to the Palace so soon as ever your lady has left. The King has a use for you." The rest he spoke into her ear, but its effect was to blanch her cheeks and cause her hands to clasp each other in terror as she started back.

"I cannot!" she cried. "I cannot."

"You must," he said harshly. "Or you will do little credit to the blood that is in you. Do you no longer think your father and brother of any importance?"

"They are pitiless to demand it of me," she murmured, and buried her face in her hands.

PROBLEM OF OLD AGE.

Question for Political Economists to Puzzle Over.

What the country shall do with its ex-presidents is not nearly so vital a problem as what it shall do with its old men.

According to the new gospel of business economics a man is "old" at fifty. That is to say, he can no longer remain an integral part of the industrial machine.

Young men are in demand everywhere. Old men are in demand nowhere. The commercialism of the age feeds upon young blood and rejects everything else.

Most of the railroads have placed an age limit upon their pay roll account. It is a tacit rule that no man over forty-five years of age shall be employed, even at clerical work.

One of the great steel companies of the country, employing thousands of men, recently adopted a rule that in certain departments requiring expert knowledge and skill no man over thirty-five years of age should be given employment. Other large industries are following a similar policy.

Practically the same thing is true in the professions. Except as a counselor the old lawyer is not in demand. The churches are calling for young ministers, and the schools give preference to young teachers. When a man reaches the age of fifty he is supposed to have crossed the dead line.

It is a strange commentary on our modern civilization that while medical science is bending every energy to prolong the span of human life—to people the world with old men—the tendency of our economic system is to drive them out of business—to make them a charge upon the world, which is said to owe every man a living.

Here is a question for political economists to digest, if possible, for the benefit of the coming generation: What shall the world do with its old men?—Chicago Journal.

WASTE AND RUIN IN MOROCCO.

Beautiful Dwellings Erected and Allowed to Decay.

In Morocco they build and make, and they do both things beautifully and well, according to one who has been there. But they seldom finish. "In a house dainty with fountains and arabesques and colored tiles," he says, "you will still find a corner uncompleted, a pillar which lacks the delicate fluting of the other pillars, an embrasure for a clock half ornamented with gold filagree and half left plain. And, if they seldom finish, they never by any chance repair. The mansion is built and decorated within; artists fit tiles together in a mosaic of cool colors and carve and gold and paint the little pieces of cedar wood and glue them into the light and pointed arches; the rich curtains are hung; and the master enters into his possession. There follows the procession of the generations. The tiles crack, the woodwork of the arches splits and falls and the walls break and crumble. The householder sits indifferent and the whole house corrodes. So, in the narrow streets, holes gap and the water wears a channel where it will and the mud lies thick and slippery on the rounded stones; the streets run steeply up and down the hills, wind abruptly round corners and dive into tunnels."

Temple of Serpents.

The small town of Werda, in Dahomey, is celebrated for its temple of serpents, a long building in which the priests keep upwards of 1,000 serpents of all sizes, which they feed with birds and frogs brought to them as offerings by the natives.

Cured Her Rheumatism.

Deep Valley, Pa., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—There is deep interest in Green county over the cure of the little daughter of L. N. Whipkey of Rheumatism. She was a great sufferer for five or six years and nothing seemed to do her any good till she tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. She began to improve almost at once and now she is cured and can run and play as other children do. Mr. Whipkey says:

"I am indeed thankful for what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for my daughter; they saved her from being a cripple perhaps for life."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have proved that Rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys. Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. If the kidneys are right there can be no Uric Acid in the blood and consequently no Rheumatism. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys right.

How Tibetans Make Tea.

Tea forms one of the principal articles of commerce throughout Tibet and Mongolia. The native is miserably without it, and when it cannot be obtained is willing to cheat himself by various expedients, such as boiling dried onion heads, herbs or even an infusion of chips of woods in water, in order that he may not be without at least a suggestion of his favorite beverage. The tea imported from China is pressed into small oblong shaped bricks, made up into cases of nine bricks securely sewed in rawhide, and not only is used as a beverage, but in fact forms a staple of currency as negotiable as the Bank of England notes or American currency.—Outing.

The Present the Only Time.

"Now," is the constant syllable ticking from the clock of time. "Now," is the watchword of the wise. "Now," is on the banner of the prudent. Let us keep this little word always in our mind, and whenever anything presents itself in the shape of work, whether mental or physical, we should do it with all our might, remembering that "now" is the only time for us.—Dr. Parr.

Village Without Government.

In the village of Altenburg, on whose borders three countries meet, there are no soldiers, no police, no taxes, and its people are ruled by no monarch. The inhabitants speak a queer jargon of French and German combined, and spend their time cultivating the land or working the valuable calamine mine, which is the boast of the village.

BY PROXY.

What the Baby Needed.

I suffered from nervousness and headache until one day about a year ago it suddenly occurred to me what a great coffee drinker I was and I thought may be this might have something to do with my trouble, so I shifted to tea for awhile but was not better, if anything worse.

"At that time I had a baby over months old that we had to feed on a bottle, until an old lady friend told me to try Postum Food Coffee. Three months ago I commenced using Postum, leaving off the tea and coffee, and not only have my headaches and nervous troubles entirely disappeared, but since then I have been giving plenty of nurse for my baby, and have a large, healthy child now.

"I have no desire to drink anything but Postum and know it has benefited my children, and I hope all who have children will try Postum and find out for themselves what a really wonderful food drink it is." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Both tea and coffee contain quantities of a poisonous drug called Caffeine that directly affects the heart, kidneys, stomach and nerves. Postum is made from cereals only, scientifically blended to get the coffee flavor. Ten days trial of Postum in place of tea or coffee will show a health secret worth more than a gold mine. There's a reason.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Mrs. Pare, wife of C. B. Pare, a prominent resident of Glasgow, Ky., says: "I was suffering from a complication of kidney troubles. Besides a bad back, I had a great deal of trouble with the secretions, which were exceedingly variable, sometimes excessive and at other times scanty. The color was high, and passages were accompanied with a scalding sensation. Doan's Kidney Pills soon regulated the kidney secretions, making their color normal, and banished the inflammation which caused the scalding sensation. I can rest well, my back is strong and sound, and I feel much better in every way."

THOUGHT SHE WAS WARM.

Imagination as Good as Fire to Absent-Minded Lady.

It was a cold, drizzly afternoon, in spite of the calendar's assertion that the month was August. Mrs. Parker, who was much interested in one of the latest novels, decided that a grate fire would add materially to her enjoyment of the book.

It was the maid's day out, so the chilly woman, who was rather proud of her ability along practical lines, proceeded to build her fire. First she crumpled a newspaper and thrust it deep into the grate. Next, she carefully built an Indian tepee of slender sticks of kindling. To this, with a practiced hand, she added a selected piece of hardwood and two neat chunks of soft coal. Then, surveying the arrangement with pride, she drew her chair before the fireplace, placed her feet on the fender, and with a pleasurable sense of warmth and comfort stealing over her began to read.

Two hours later Mrs. Parker's sister bustled in.

"My!" she exclaimed. "Isn't it wretchedly cold? I'm just chilled through."

"Draw up a chair," urged Mrs. Parker, without taking her eyes from her fascinating book; "and do let me finish this page—it's the very last one. It's delightfully warm here by the fire."

"Fire?" exclaimed the visitor. "I don't see any fire."

"Why, bless me!" cried Mrs. Parker, suddenly coming to life. "Here's the match in my hand! I forgot to scratch it."—New York Tribune.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

TIMES MUST HAVE BEEN HARD.

Limit of Financial Embarrassment

Humorously Described.
Two society women were talking together a few days ago, each having run up to town on some important business matter. They were sitting in the station waiting for the special Long Island train on which each was to make her return home.

The first to speak was a large, bold, handsome blonde, who, hurrying into the waiting room, was accompanied by her maid laden up to the skies with bundles of every kind, sort and description. Noting her friend already seated and absolutely bundleless, she at once began her discourse, volubly extolling the charms and amazing cheapness of some of the midsummer bargains of which, as the maid bore ample evidence, she had so plentifully availed herself.

The bundleless one listened in rather pathetic silence until the first full period. Taking advantage of it with a deep, pathetic sigh, she turned and gazed covetously at her friend's spoils of war.

"My dear," she said, "if macarons was a cent a mile I couldn't afford enough this season to lace my shoes with!"—New York Times.

Stay in Bed.

There is something exceedingly satisfactory in the statement of an eminent London physician that "criminals are always recruited from the early rising class." There is usually something dark and devious in the ways of the man who rises before sunup.—Boston Transcript.

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—Miss ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.
All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries. Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more."—LILLIE E. SINGLAI, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

The railway traveler in Japan buys a first, second or third-class ticket; or, if he wishes to go cheaper still, he can get a ticket entitling him simply to stand on the platform! Many of the cars can be entered either from the side or the end. The principal difference between the first and second-class coaches is the color of the upholstery. None of the cars are very clean. Many of the third-class coaches could serve, without much alteration, as ordinary pigsties. This is all the more remarkable when the incomparable cleanliness of the Japanese home life, even of the humblest, is taken into consideration.—Booklovers Magazine.

ARE NO WHITE ELEPHANTS.

Circus Man Explains How the Idea Was Originated.

"White elephant" is a term, that oughtn't to exist," said a circus man. "White elephant" is an error—a mis-translation. 'Sin pyu' is the Burmese phrase that has been translated white elephant, but 'sin pyu' means light, a blonde elephant. Sin means elephant, pyu means paler, or lighter-hued, than the average.

"On account of this error everybody was disappointed when a sin pyu was brought to America by Barnum. The people expected to see a white instead of a blonde elephant. They looked for an animal with a skin like a white rose petal.

"A sin pyu is a light brownish red, with pink eyes, and with the nails and the interior of the ears and trunk white. It is thought to be sacred, and is worshiped like a god.

"When they catch a sin pyu they tie him with ropes of silk, and he is tamed by priests. After his taming they build a palace for him, and they put a gold crown on his forehead, and they make him a wardrobe of silk and velvet and gold embroidery, such as princes wear.

"The sin pyu's house is built of rare woods, and it abounds in gilding, in carvings, and in silken banners. The sin pyu has a prime minister, a hundred slaves, nine priests and a corps de ballet. He never lives long. The luxuries heaped upon him soon crowd him into the grave.

PLAYED ALTOGETHER TOO WELL

Reginald De Koven Not a Success at Dismissing Congregation.

"Reginald de Koven was touring the country with one of his operas," said a New York musician, "and a certain Sunday found him in the town of Dayton.

"They told Mr. de Koven that an Episcopal church in the neighborhood had a superb organ. Accordingly he went to that church, ascended to the organ loft, and sat beside the organist during the morning's service.

"You seem to know something about music," said the organist in a condescending way. "I'll let you dismiss the congregation if you'd like."

"Why, yes," said de Koven, "I would like that very much."

"Accordingly, at the end of the recessional, he exchanged places with the organist and began to play Mendelssohn's 'Spring Song.' He played beautifully. The Dayton people, enthralled by the wonderful music, refused to depart. They sat in rapt enjoyment, and after the 'Spring Song' was finished Mr. de Koven began Chopin's 'Funeral March.'

"Suddenly a heavy hand was laid on his shoulder and he was pushed off the music stool.

"You can't dismiss a congregation," said the organist impatiently. "Watch and see how soon I'll get them out."

Caper Sauce.
Caper sauce is one of the most delicious and healthful of sauces. It is served with boiled mutton and boiled fish, such as halibut and fresh cod.

Never use a drop of water in its making. Put two heaping tablespoonsful of butter in a sauce pan over a very slow fire. In another sauce pan over the fire put a pint of rich milk. When the butter begins to bubble in the sauce pan, stir in briskly, two heaping tablespoonsful of flour that has been sifted twice. Keep stirring the butter and flour until it is as smooth as cream; then pour in a little at a time the hot milk, stirring the sauce constantly to keep it from sticking or lumping. When the milk is all in and the sauce has boiled gently till it is very thick and very smooth, stir in another tablespoonful of butter, then remove from the fire and stir in a small bottleful of capers, then juice and all. Serve the sauce in a separate dish.

Keep the Faith.
Roun' en roun' de ole worl' go—Keep de faith, believers! Summer heat on winter snow, Keep de faith, believers! Trouble come lak a railroad train—Toss you higher dan a hurricane, Fence'll come w'en you done wild pale—Keep de faith, believers! Keep right on in de way you gwine—Keep de faith, believers! De blackes' sinner kin rise en shine—Keep de faith, believers! Keep de faith, 'twel de trumpet soun', En de big stars fall, en de sky come down, En you'll git to glory w'en de worl' turn roun'—Keep de faith, believers!—Atlanta Constitution.

The Truthful Fisher.
"Yes, sir," said the sunburned man; "yes, sir, on my last trip I caught—"
Promptly but gently we out-hoiled him.
"I caught the—" said he again, when we checked him by the same means.
"Ding dong you!" shrieked he, out-hoiling us at last. "I was going to tell you chumps that I caught the darndest cold that I ever had, but I'll be everlastingly jiggered if I'll tell you anything now!"

Reform in Penal Institution.
Following the abolition of the lock-step and the cropped head in New York state prisons has come the doing away with the stripes on convicts' clothing and 3,000 suits minus the stripes are being made.

Admiral Schley Uses Pe-ru-na In His Home.

Battle of Santiago, Where Admiral Schley Made History.

ONE of the greatest naval battles in the world was the Fight Off Santiago. Never since the dispersion of the Spanish Armada has there been a more important victory in the onward march of civilization than in the notable event of July 23, 1898, in which the great hero, Admiral Schley, took a leading part. It was a great naval battle. Without a moment's warning it began. Quick decision, undaunted courage, excellent discipline, resolute self-confidence—these combined in Admiral Schley to produce that dash and daring so characteristic of the American soldier. A man must think quickly in these days. There is no time for slow action. New enterprises arise in an hour. Old ones pass away in a moment. A multitude of great themes clamor for notice. A man must take sides for or against by intuition, rather than logical deduction. One day this fighting admiral, Schley, happened to be in company with other war veterans on various topics of popular interest. The subject of Peruna was raised,—its popularity as a cathartic remedy, its national importance, its extensive use. One asked his opinion. Without a moment's hesitation, he said: "I can cheerfully state that Mrs. Schley has taken Peruna and I believe with good effect." Like the Battle of Santiago, the thought was sprung upon him without any warning, and he disposed of it with the same vim and decision as he did with the Spanish fleet led by the ill-fated Viscaya. His words concerning Peruna have gone out into the world to be repeated by a thousand tongues, because he has said them. Like the news of his victory over Cervera, his words concerning Peruna will be caught up by the multitudes and passed from mouth to mouth, across oceans and continents. Except for an in-born manly independence, in a country of free speech, these words never would have been uttered by an officer in such a notable position as that of Admiral Schley. Except for a world-wide notoriety and popularity, such as Peruna enjoys, no remedy could ever have received such outspoken public endorsement by such a man.

PROUD DAY FOR FATHER. THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

Four of Frenchman's Children Married on Same Day. It is not every father who can see four of his children married on the same day, so no one need feel surprised if M. Girard, a farmer of the village of Huguetiere, in the Vendee, France, on such an event occurring in his own family, determined to celebrate it in style. On the day of the weddings Huguetiere gave himself up to rejoicing, as did numerous guests from the surrounding countryside who had assembled to see the four couples and the imposing procession which accompanied them. At midday a banquet was held, at which more than 400 guests sat down.

Roused Her Enthusiasm.

A tiny girl riding in a car became deeply interested in a baby held by a woman seated beside her, frequently calling to her mother to join in her enthusiasm, culminating with: "And see its dear little hands, and its fingers, and its cute little nails; and oh, mother, isn't this too cunning, there's dirt in them!"

W. L. DOUGLAS

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world. The reason W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the greatest sellers in the world is because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makers and the high-grade leathers used, you would understand why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day, and why the sales for the year ending July 1, 1904, were $6,203,040.00. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Look for it—take no substitute. Sold by shoe dealers everywhere.

SUPERIOR IN FIT, COMFORT AND WEAR.

"I have worn W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes for the last twelve years with absolute satisfaction. I find them superior in fit, comfort and wear to others costing from $5.00 to $7.00."—J. S. McCUE, Dep. Dr. Miles' Nervine is medicine for your nerves.

It cures diseases of the internal organs, by giving tone to the nerves which make these organs work.

It is a novel theory—not of anatomy, but of treatment; first discovered by Dr. Miles, and since made use of by many wide-awake physicians, who appreciate its value in treating the sick.

If you are sick, we offer you a way to be made well—Dr. Miles' Nervine.

This medicine is a scientific cure for nerve disorders, such as Neuralgia, Headache, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Spasms, Backache, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Prostration, etc.

By toning up the nerves, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine will also cure those diseases of the internal organs due to a disordered nervous system.

Some of these are: Indigestion, Bilious Headache, Kidney Trouble, Chronic Constipation, Dropsy, Catarrh, Rheumatism, etc.

"My brother had nervous prostration, and was not expected to live. I prevailed upon him to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and now he has fully recovered. You remember I wrote you how it saved my life a few years ago, when I had nervous trouble. I preach its merits to everyone."—REV. ST. D. MYERS, Correctionville, Iowa.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1904.

It is up to the people now to say whether they want primary reform or not. There is not a legislative or senatorial district in Michigan that has not a candidate who has pledged himself to be a primary reform candidate. Therefore, if you want to see a primary reform law enacted vote for those candidates who are the friends of such a measure. The candidates for state and legislative offices whose names will appear on the ballots used in this section of Washtenaw county and who are absolutely known to be in favor of primary reform are as follows:

W. N. Ferris, for governor, and the whole Democratic state and judicial ticket. Charles A. Blair and Aaron V. McAlvay, for justices of the supreme court on the Republican ticket.

Arthur Brown, Democratic candidate for state senate and A. J. Peek, the Republican candidate.

W. D. Harriman, Democratic candidate for representative first district.

A. J. Waters, Republican, and Henry Landwehr, Democratic, candidates for the legislative second district. The former says if no other bill is offered there will be one introduced from this district.

Therefore, we again say, if you want primary reform, vote for those men who favor it.

DIRECT NOMINATIONS

And How the Several Candidates Stand on the Question.

The Herald has been requested by the grange legislative committee of Washtenaw Pomona Grange to publish the following replies which have been received from candidates for the state legislature and congress to interrogations sent out by that committee to them. The questions as to direct nominations were formulated by the state grange legislative committee, and sent to every Pomona, district and subordinate grange in the state:

Interrogation No. 1—Are you in favor of direct nominations for governor, lieutenant governor, and members of the state legislature?

To Interrogation No. 2—If elected, will you work and vote for the same?

To Interrogation No. 1 A. J. Peek, Republican candidate for state senator, Jackson and Washtenaw counties, replies: "I am."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Peek replies: "I will do everything possible to further all efforts looking towards primary reform."

To Interrogation No. 1 Arthur Brown, Democratic candidate for state senator, Jackson and Washtenaw counties, replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Brown replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 1 W. D. Harriman, Democratic candidate for state representative, first district Washtenaw county replies: "Yes, and all county officers as well."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Harriman replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 1 Junius E. Beal, Republican candidate for state representative first district Washtenaw county: No direct reply given.

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Beal replies: "If elected, I shall work early and late for the best practical primary reform bill which can be gotten in the next legislature."

To Interrogation No. 1 Henry Landwehr, Democratic candidate for representative second district Washtenaw county, replies: "Yes. My party has pledged, and I will carry out the wishes of same, if in my power to do so."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Landwehr replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 1 A. J. Waters, Republican candidate for representative second district Washtenaw county, replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Waters replies: "Yes, and if no other bill is offered there will be one submitted from the second district of Washtenaw."

The following interrogations were sent to candidates for congress:

Interrogation No. 1—Are you in favor of a parcels post bill for increasing the weight of parcels carried by mail?

Interrogation No. 2—If elected, will you work and vote for the same?

To Interrogation No. 1 Chas. E. Townsend, Republican candidate for congress: No direct reply given.

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Townsend replies: "I must know and understand the bill before I can promise to vote for it."

To Interrogation No. 1 John P. Kirk, Democratic candidate for congress, replies: "Yes."

To Interrogation No. 2 Mr. Kirk, replies: "Yes."

According to the report of the U. S. commissioner of education the total cost of the public school education of the country for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, was $251,457,625. The number of pupils attending school was 16,009,361.

Neil S. Phelps, the former Battle Creek millionaire, but who has for a year past faced financial ruin, disappeared from his home Sunday, Oct. 23, and no clue of him has been yet found. Mr. Phelps was a former resident of Augusta township in this county and a Normal school graduate class of '78.

Attorney General Blair has commenced a suit against the Ann Arbor Sick & Accident Association, a company that pays weekly amounts, depending on the character of the employment of the insured, in consideration of $1 monthly dues.

In the bill filed the attorney general sets forth that the company has made no report to him, held no annual meeting last year and has turned over its business to the Ann Arbor agency. He asks for a receiver.

Four more convicts escaped from Jackson state prison Friday. Up to this date only one of them Thos. McGlynn, of Detroit, has been recaptured. Eighteen prisoners have escaped since Warden Vincent took the reins of office, only eight of whom have been recaptured. He can't be very proud of his record. Being warden of the state prison is not like keeping hotel. To make a success of it he cannot let his "guests" depart just when they feel like doing so.

That our Chelsea schools are well in the front rank when compared with the other schools in the state is shown by this incident. When June Fuller went with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Fuller to Battle Creek to live, she was about to enter the fifth grade. She was examined for the same grade in the schools there and it was found that her work was far in advance of the work done in the Battle Creek schools. All of which is to the credit of her excellent instruction in the Chelsea school.

The cabbage snake has appeared in this vicinity. This snake is about six inches long and about the size of a No. 8 thread, the color is black or white and it is generally found in the heart of a cabbage. Should you cook the snake with the cabbage you would be poisoned and die. We were shown Monday a black snake and were informed that a white one had been found.—Milan Leader. M., visited their sister bees of Arbor Hive, Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening, on special invitation, and did the initiatory work of the new ritual for the benefit of the Ann Arbor ladies, who have not yet learned to use it. The excellent work of the Chelsea ladies was highly commended, all the officers, particularly Mrs. Lila Campbell, the lady commander, doing their work in a super-excellent manner. They returned home on the last car well pleased with their visit and entertainment.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COUNTY DRAIN COMMISSIONER.
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Washtenaw County:
Gentlemen—In compliance with the provisions of the Statute in such case made and provided, I have the honor to submit my Annual Report as County Drain Commissioner of the said County of Washtenaw, covering the period from the ninth day of October, A. D. 1903, to the sixth day of October, A. D. 1904.

The following named Drains were left unfinished at the date of my last report: The Sugar Creek Drain, in York and Augusta; the Mill Creek Drain, in Sylvan; the Conde and Paine Drain, in York and Augusta; the Saline and Bridgewater Drains, in Saline and Bridgewater Townships; the Black Fork and Sugar Creek Branch Drain, in Augusta; the Vedder Drain, the east branch of Big Mar also in Augusta Township; the Palmer and Baldwin Drain, in Sylvan; the Cooley Tile Drain, in Manchester, Washtenaw County, and Franklin Township, Lenawee County; the Johnson Drain, in Salem, Washtenaw County, and Plymouth and Northville, Wayne County; the Horseshoe Lake Outlet and the Groves and Horseshoe Lake Drains, in Northfield Township. Those Drains are all completed except a small amount of work to be done on the Saline and Bridgewater Drain, and the Black Fork and Sugar Creek Branch, and Groves and Horseshoe Lake Drains, which is being done and will be completed in a short time.

The following named Drains have been begun, constructed, and completed by me during the year, to-wit: Cleaning out the Hobbs Drain, in the Township of York, the Sugar Loaf Lake Drain, in Sylvan, and deepening and widening the Four Mile Lake Drain in Lima Township.

The following named Drains have been begun by me, during the year, and are only partly completed, to-wit: The Rouse Drain and Weinert Drain in the Township of Saline; cleaning out of the Henning Drain, in Augusta, and the Salem No. 1 Drain, in Salem Township; the deepening and widening and extending of the J. J. Knapp Drain and Branch Drain, in the Township of Freedom and Bridgewater, also the Green Oak No. 2 Drain, in the Township of Green Oak, Livingston County, which of Green Oak, Livingston County, and affects or drains lands in Northfield, Washtenaw County. The last named Drain is a joint Drain and is named Drain by myself and the Drain Commission of Livingston County. Contractors are at work on all of those Drains, and I expect them all to be completed this fall. I have a petition for a Drain in the Township of Lima; large creek in the Township of Lima; have had it surveyed and intend to let it this fall. Also have a petition for a Drain in the Township of Manchester, one for a Drain in Pittsfield. I haven't done anything with those Drains as yet.

If You Seek Fall Clothing

OF CHARACTER AND MERIT,

combined with style and accurate fit, come direct to our store where you will find an immense stock of smart styles and handsome fabrics from which to make your selection. We are the sole agents here for the celebrated

Michaels-Stern
Fine Clothing,

and can vouch for the quality and fashionable correctness of every garment, and guarantee to fit you no matter how you are proportioned. We are particularly proud of our large and magnificent collection of

Autumn and Winter
Suits and Overcoats
at $15.00,

which in point of style, quality, tailoring and fit are every bit as good as to-measure-made Suits and Overcoats at $30.00. In fact, you never saw smarter appearing nor better made apparel at other stores for $18.00.

The suits—single and double-breasted styles—are made of rough Scotch Cheviots, Tweeds and Worsted in the new brown and gray tones and in plain black fabrics; among the Overcoats you'll find short "toppers," knee-length models, and Rain Coats made of fashionable fabrics in the new autumn patterns and colorings.

Correct Autumn Haberdashery and Hats.

A comprehensive assortment of the correct things from hat to hosiery for men and young men. Spic-n-span-new and bristling with smartness. You'll certainly be interested when you see the things and learn the prices.

The new limited cars on the D. Y. A. A. & J. will run every two hours.

Monthly covenant meeting at the Baptist church next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Rev. E. E. Caster attended the annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Sunday School Association held in Ypsilanti yesterday.

Rev. Carl S. Jones gave the evening address at the Berrien county convention of the Christian Endeavor last Friday evening at Niles.

The new permanent site of the Michigan state fair will be 7½ miles out Woodard avenue, Detroit. It will take $200,000 to put the plant in good shape.

A band book (baritone) was lost on Main street yesterday afternoon. Will finder please return it to the Herald office and oblige the owner. It is of no use to anyone but him.

There will be a vacancy to be filled at the U. S. naval academy next March from this district. Another chance for our Chelsea lad to try his mettle. If you don't at first succeed, Bert, try again.

The bazaar at the town hall Saturday evening, Nov. 5, will have some handsome booths, including handkerchief and Ladies' Home Journal booths, with a chicken pie supper for 25 cents.

Dexter Democrats are unable to have a rally there this week because the opera house, the only hall in the village, has been hired for every night this week by the Republicans, although the latter will only use it one night. That's quite a sharp move.

The first quarterly meeting of the conference year will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday, Nov. 6. Love feast at 9:30 a. m., preaching and sacrament of the Lord's Supper at 10:30 a. m. The quarterly conference will be held Monday evening.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a shoe social in the parlors of the church next Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Neat and unique little invitations to the social have been issued. A fine program will be rendered and refreshments will be served.

All the 13 applicants for second and third grade certificates at the recent teachers' examination at Ann Arbor were successful. Among them were the following from Chelsea: Theresa Meluin, second grade; Mark Melvin and Jacob F. Fahrner, third grade. Who said anything about unlucky 13?

Who says it does not pay to raise potatoes? The Manchester Enterprise says A. G. Crane, of Bridge-water, had a yield of 3,800 bushels of the tubers from 16 acres of land. He and Mr. Jenkins, also of Bridge-water, sold their potato crops for 28 cents a bushel and will have from 8,000 to 10,000 bushels each.

It is announced that the D. Y. A. A. & J. electric road will soon extend its Saline branch to Adrian. The Jackson-Kalamazoo line has changed its schedule so as to meet the Ypsi-Ann, thus under a traffic agreement making possible a continuous journey from Detroit to Kalamazoo, with a change of cars at Jackson.

Beyond a few mischievous tricks Halloween in Chelsea passed off in a fairly quiet manner. Several Halloween parties were given. The young people who attended one of them seemed to turn the latter end of it into a sort of general political cheering gathering, marching to the homes of some of Chelsea's best known politicians and saluting them with cheers and different "war cries."

The concert by the Whitney Quartette at the opera house Tuesday evening, which was the second number in the People's Popular Course, was an excellent one. It is seldom that in one family you find four as good singers as the Whitneys. The readings by E. M. Whitney were well rendered and the comic ones created much amusement. The People's Popular Course is keeping up the good record begun by Dr. Cadman's lecture.

Election next Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fahrner, of Francisco, will soon move on a farm in Lima.

Michigan's football eleven defeated Wisconsin Saturday at Madison, Wis., by the score of 28 to 0. "U. of M., Rah! Rah!"

Next Saturday, Nov. 5, is registration day. If you want to vote next Tuesday and are not registered don't fail to perform that important duty.

The Brighton Argus speaks of Rev. C. S. Jones' address at the Livingston county C. E. rally held in that village, Oct. 21, as having been an inspiring one to all present.

The meeting for men only at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon was very well attended. Rev. P. M. McKay delivered an earnest address to those who were present.

Jacob Hummel has gone into the milk business again, having bought his old business from Ben H. Glenn. It's just as natural for Jake to be in the milk business as it is for him to eat.

"How can things be on a level, when the world is round?" is the name of a song and chorus received from the Theatrical Music Supply Co., 44 West 28th street, New York, 19 cents per copy.

Rev. W. P. Considine attended a reception tendered to Archbishop Falconio at the Academy of Music, Kalamazoo, last Sunday evening. The reception was an imposing one attended by 5,000 to 6,000 people.

The banns of marriage of Mr. Frederick H. Clark and Miss Anna M. Schwikerath were published Tuesday for the first time at the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart. The wedding will take place Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Madame Fowler will open a school of dancing at the Woodman hall next Monday evening, Nov. 7. After that evening the school will be held every Tuesday evening. School from 8 to 9:30 o'clock. At the close of the lesson a hop will be given. Each lesson will be 25 cents for each person, hop included.

At the Congregational church the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday morning. The sermon will be "Why all men are sinners?" This is the third of the series on Romans. In the evening another of the popular talks to young people will be given. The subject of the address will be "Taking Chances." Don't forget to bring your hymn book for the opening song service.

Mrs. Wm. Duncan, mother of Mrs. W. T. Giauque, of Chelsea, died at her home in Niagara Falls, Tuesday morning, Nov. 1, aged 73 years. Mrs. Duncan was visiting her daughter and family here a couple of weeks or so ago, and left for her home in apparently excellent health. Apoplexy seized her, however, and she passed away after a week's illness. Mrs. Giauque was with her during her illness.

Every member of the Chelsea Baptist church Juniors is stepping at least three inches higher than usual these days. At the Baptist state convention held in Port Huron last week they were awarded the state banner for the best general Junior work during the past year. Their examination papers in Bible study and Bible literature were the best of any submitted by the Juniors throughout the state. The young people deserve much praise for their good work along these lines.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railroad wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers of throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by Glazier & Silson, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.
