FROM FAR-OFF RUSSIA

Come Enquires to Chelsea Respecting the Peat Fuel Business.

The name of Chelsea has again been spread to a far-off point of the world from us. This time it is through the medium of the National Peat Fuel Co., which has this week received a letter from a gentleman named W. A. Abegg, of Warsaw, Russia, asking the company for estimates on the cost of machinery for the manufacture of peat fuel. He also asks for samples of the peat briquettes, and the running expenses of a plant, etc. Mr. Abegg wants to establish a large peat fuel works in Central Russia to have a capacity of 50,000 tons per year. The company owns and controls all the patents on the machinery they use and manufacture it to order. It is quite a distinction to receive enquiries from a place so far off as Russia regarding it.

The company has just shipped another large carload of peat fuel to Grand Rapids, also a few ton lots to Jackson and Ypsilanti. Two large presses are being built that will weigh 37 tons each, which, when installed, will be capable of turning out large quantities of the finished fuel.

Arrangements are now being made to build large storage sheds for raw and finished peat, also tramway tracks for handling the material. In fact the company is getting ready to do business on a large scale, as it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that peat fuel is the coming fuel for household use.

Death Came after Long Illness.

Mrs. Marian Klein, wife of Christian Klein, died at the family home on South Main street, Friday morning, Jan. 27, of pneumonia, aged 65 years. Mrs. Klein had been in poor health for seven years. She was taken with the grip at that time and never recovered from its effects, slowly fading away from a strong, healthy woman, to a mere shadow of her former self.

Mrs. Klein's maiden name was Miss Marian Wilkins and she was born in Germany. Twenty-eight years ago she was married to Mr. Klein, and was a loving stepmother to the four young children, who by the death of his first wife were left without maternal care. She had no children of her own. Besides her husband and his family she leaves three brothers and two sisters.

The funeral services were held at the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Monday morning, Rev. W. P. Considine officiating. A sad feature of the funeral was that both Mr. Klein and his eldest daughter Miss Ida Klein were confined to their beds with illness and could not attend. The remains were placed in the vault and will later be interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

A large number of friends of the deceased lady were present at the funeral, among them being Michael, Joseph and Anthony Wilkins, of Bay City, Mrs. Fred Spath and son Adolph Spath, Mrs. John Wines and daughter, Mrs. Frank Spindler, Mrs. John Iewerth, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kief and daughter Minnie, and John Broll, all of Detroit, and John Beste, of Roseville.

Arrested and Discharged.

Robert Burton, who was in the employ of H. C. Millen, of the cement works, as coachman, was arrested Tuesday afternoon without a warrant and taken to jail in Ann Arbor by Deputy Sheriff Fred Fuller, on a charge of bastardy preferred against him by a young woman in Caro. The arrest was made on a telephone request from the Tuscola county sheriff.

Yesterday habeas corpus proceedings were instituted in the circuit court by Stivers & Kalmbach, on behalf of the prisoner to secure his discharge on account of there being no warrant in the case. As the Tuscola sheriff had not put in an appearance with the warrant Judge Kinne ordered the man released.

A Good Citizen Gone.

John Frawley, of Dexter village, father of Mrs. Stephen Clark, of this place, died suddenly Saturday morning, Jan. 28, respected and loved by all who knew him, at the advanced age of 82 years.

Mr. Frawley is survived by six children, John H., of Des Moines, Ia., Thomas H., of Jackson, Mrs. Stephen Clark, of Chelsea, Mrs. Robert Geraghty, of Webster, and Miss Margaret Frawley, of Dexter, all of whom were present at the funeral.

The funeral was held from St. Joseph's church, Dexter, Rev. John P. Ryan officiating, who preached a beautiful and touching sermon. It was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the deceased, who followed the remains to their last resting place beside those of his wife in St. Joseph's cemetery, Dexter.

His Share Dwindled Away.

The following dispatch was published in the Detroit Tribune this morning relating to Wm. W. Durand, who was born and brought up in Chelsea:

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 1.—Wm. W. Durand, one of the wholesale grocery firm of Godsmark & Durand, recently was informed that by the death of his uncle at Honolulu, Hawaii, he had become heir to a large estate which he must divide with eight or ten other heirs. Later on he was informed that after settling up various claims there would remain $6,000. Today he received a check for $10.49, which he was assured was his share, "after probate costs and legal fees had been deducted."

Attention, Ladies.

I will demonstrate on Saturday, Feb. 4, at Miss Mary Haab's Millinery Store, in Chelsea, Hip-Fit Jersey yoke mercerized Petticoats, also the Hawton Skirt and a line of up-to-date Corsets—a sample line—cheap. CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

"Then you should have to prompt me!" he said and his hand was on his heart.

The lady was masked, which betokened that she was a beauty. She was dimly slight. This I saw from the tight-fitting riding cloak of a gray shade of program. When it blew open, as it often did as she danced, it showed gray petticoats with a white laced waistcoat. Covering her head was an ample hood. She danced divinely! And the graceful gallow's bird, as he whistled a tune to their dancing and twirled leg upon the green, was not far behind.

"Many thanks, milady, I have not enjoyed myself so, since—I cannot tell when," he said.

"And my jewels?" she asked inaudibly.

"They are yours," he replied. "They are as nothing in comparison to the pleasure you have given me."

At this the lady gave way to a pleased laugh, and taking the casket said:

"You are indeed my sort. To impart a kiss on the blushing cheek of the fair lady, I—I have heard it said, is the customary ending to an episode such as this?"

"Ah! it would be too much—" he began.

"I assure you that you will not die of it," she ironically stopped him in the middle of his sentence.

He glanced at her inquiringly.

She raised her mask in the slightest way, and dropped it again. What he saw was not what he had expected.

"You are disappointed?" she said, and her words cut like a knife. "A gallant would not have shown it."

There was only a momentary pause ere he said, and strange to relate his words rang true:

"I shall consider it the greatest honor, if you will permit me?" and lifting her mask the rascal audaciously kissed her.

whinnying. Get you gone, I, at least, would not be your undoing."

"Madame, I leave you with regret," he said, "and I promise you at my first leisure to think upon what you have said. It is all I can do—it is more than I have promised anyone these many days."

Then he swept her a bow. It would have done honor to Whitehall, and saying, "adieu!" leaped upon his horse, which he sat as a Centaur. He motioned to his comrades, and they were off. He deigned not to glance in our direction or to show the least trepidation at our nearness, which he could not help but be aware of, for we came up with a great show of speed, Gil even sending one flying bullet after them.

We heard the lady say in an undertone to her maid: "Hide the jewels in the boots, quick. Who but they may be another band of robbers—one does not come off scot free twice in a day."

Solely for our benefit she then proceeded to go off into hysterics. We were near enough now to make them effective.

"Oh, how unfortunate I am! how unfortunate!" she wept. "Oh, gentlemen, had you only arrived more speedily I had not lost my jewels—worth ten thousand pounds, if a cent. Oh, the rascals!"

Her tears seemed as if they must drench her mask, but I think if tears were there they were tears of thankfulness at the generosity of her gallant robber.

"Had we not better give them a chase for them?" I asked, holding in check a smile.

"No, no, stay with me," she cried. "I beg of you. It would be of no use; they are miles away by now."

She laid a detaining hand upon my arm, lest I be after her handsome jail bird. The presence of the fellow had won Milady's heart.

"As you say—hut," I began.

she did not hesitate. She undid the fastenings of her mask, and turned her face so that the waning light of day should fall full upon it. She was sweetly old! yet I cannot describe the grandeur of this world-worn beauty!

You may be sure I let none of my surprise show itself upon my countenance, as she glanced up at me. The lady leaned back with an innocent look and a plaintive sigh escaped her.

CHAPTER X.

A Bevy of Insolent Youths.

At last I was in London. Unnumbered the multitude of the good, and the bad, and the lukewarm that have pressed the brown bosom of this old town. Perpetually recurring and recurring were the common griefs and miseries of noble, commoner, and vagrant, which have caused their blood and tears to flow. Here tragedy and comedy have stalked side by side; a tear to-day—a laugh to-morrow. Clump, clump, clump, have sounded the tread of infinite feet along these narrow byways; ambling in basked shoes, strutting in leather buskins, striding in clouted brogues, since the time the Romans encircled it with a wall entered by its four gates, down to our own King Charles.

We put up at the Blue Bear in Holborn. Gil preferred the Tabard in Southwark as being the inn best known to him. It suited me, however, to be in the midst of the life of the town. Nowhere was there to be found more noise, bustle, excitement, even wickedness, than in the vicinity of this old inn. It had this advantage, also, that the fashionableness of Westminster was not far off; and the Strand—the main artery of London—over which a flood of life continually flowed, was equally near.

Temple Bar separated the Strand from the Fleet, a division of the city, and Westminster; Temple Bar, with its grim and ghastly exterior, where there was always some awful token of the fulfilment of the times—here the noble barb, gilded coach, or sedan chair of the rich, rubbed the fustian coat of the apprentice and rags of the beggar.

The first few days we stayed quietly at the inn. Our rooms became like pandemonium, with the various tradespeople showing their wares. One and another had noted it about that I was a man of means; they were like a swarm of bees after the honey. Chairs, beds, tables, everything the room contained, was littered with finery, and I made selections for an outfit, which should be befitting my position, yet not too saucy.

I ordered many suits of uncut velvet and satin. Waistcoats also of hues as many as Joseph's coat.

Gil, during these proceedings in which I was as fastidious as a fop, strutted back and forth, poohing at my vanity, yet secretly amused at it all. He never varied his dress of green worsted with its belted doublet, such an one as Robin Hood no doubt wore when he passed beneath the trees in Sherwood forest. His only ornament was his sword, as indispensable to him as any member of his body; as an esquire he had the right to bear one.

I now began my career as a man of fashion about the town, entering into all its dissipation except the passion of love; there I was held in leash by a pair of blue eyes.

Never a petticoat fluttered past me but I thought I saw some resemblance to my mistress, and my heart would leap into my mouth so as to well-nigh choke me. Sometimes it was in the curve of a cheek; the way the curls fell about a dimpled neck; the flicker of tapering fingers in the lifting of a voluminous skirt; the slenderness of an ankle set in a well-made boot; and so I led myself wild goose chases after this one and that one—all delusions, which came to naught.

A Surprise for Mama.

Even to Bobby's unrefined eye breakfast seemed to be served in a very informal fashion that morning. Nurse forgot to tie on his bib before she gave him his oatmeal. Mother had not come down to breakfast at all, and father drank a cup of coffee standing and then disappeared.

Bobby, left alone with his empty plate, put up a trembling lip, and, if tears had not been unbecoming to a big boy he would probably have wept. Never before in all his four years had he been so neglected. He had, in fact, always been the center of an admiring circle ready to anticipate his every wish.

At last father appeared at the dining room door and the reason for this disorganized state of affairs was explained.

"Bobby," said father, "you have a little sister."

Bobby's eyes grew big with excitement. "Oh," he exclaimed, climbing down from his high chair in haste, "I must go and tell mama."

"Nobuddy" Answered.

The average small boy's opinion of himself is none too high, but the reply of a small stable-boy in Chicago may scarcely be taken as the average. A woman whose husband kept the driving horse in one of the many "boarding stables" in the city, telephoned the other day to have the horse and carriage brought to the house. A strange voice answered the telephone.

"Is this So & So's stable?" queried the woman.

"Yes," came the answer.

"Well, who is this?"

"Aw, 'tain't nobuddy. Wait a minute and I'll call somebody," came the answer.—"The Sunday Magazine."

Saved Money for Client

"Our cleverest work," said the old lawyer reminiscently, "is not always done in court."

"No?" said the young man inquiringly, according to the New York Press. "Possibly you could give an illustration."

"Undoubtedly I could," replied the old lawyer. "In fact, I was thinking of the case of an irascible old fellow who once kicked a servant out of the house. I believe there was a difference of opinion as to the amount of wages the man was entitled to. At any rate, the testy old gentleman put himself in the wrong when he ejected the man with the violence of both language and action and the man was smart enough to know it."

"He hunted up a lawyer immediately and put the case in his hands and then I was called in. The wrathful old fellow was mad clear through and he was going to fight the case all the way up to the highest court and back again if necessary. He was a personal friend of mine, and I didn't want to see him waste his money foolishly, so I advised him to compromise it."

"Not if he offers to compromise for ten cents," he asserted vociferously.

"I'll fight this case clear to the limit no matter what it costs."

"I argued with him, but it was no use. He'd pay me anything I wanted to fight the case, but he wouldn't pay the plaintiff a cent. I would have been satisfied under the circumstances in going ahead and letting him run into a lot of expensive and useless litigation, but I didn't like to do it. So I went to see the lawyer on the other side. He knew he had a good case, but he also knew my client had lots of money and could make a prolonged and costly fight. Consequently he was inclined to be reasonable. He hunted up his client and talked it over with him and the client said he would compromise for $25. His lawyer made a reasonable charge and I closed with them on the spot and paid them."

"Then I went back to my client, told him I had put up such a bluff that he never would hear of the case again, turned in a bill that covered the cost of the settlement I had effected and he paid it without a murmur. He sometimes speaks to me now of the clever work I did in that case, but he doesn't know how clever it really was and what a lot of cash it saved him."

Booth Had Narrow Escape

There is a reminiscence of Otis Skinner's association with Edwin Booth that will bear repetition, having not been repeated for several seasons. It concerns an accident that came near resulting in the serious injury of Mr. Booth, and Mr. Skinner declares it to be the most dramatic moment in all his footlight career.

"It was in the fall of 1859, and I was playing the 'leads' with Edwin Booth and Mme. Helena Modjeska," relates the actor. "We were playing 'Macbeth.' Mr. Booth impersonating the King and I Macduff. You remember the scene in the last act, where Macduff rushes on, crying to the king, 'Turn, hell hound, turn!' and forces him to the combat. The great tragedian had been growing weaker and weaker that season, and although an accomplished swordsman, had little strength in his guard. In the nervousness of the first performance I rushed on, crying the lines, and brought my blade down with a crashing blow square at his head. He held up his sword, but as the two weapons struck mine broke through his guard and struck him with stunning force on the head. Had he not worn a very heavy wig and about his head a circlet of iron, the blow would certainly have killed him on the spot before my terrified gaze. As it was, he was stunned for a moment, and after the act, when he took off his wig and heavy crown, there was a tremendous bump on his forehead where my sword had struck."

"It makes my blood run chill even now at the very thought of my emotions at that intensely dramatic moment, when the play ceased to be a mimic thing for me and real death stared me in the face. The weapons, by the way, both of them are now in my possession. They are heavy combat swords and I have never dared to use them since in any of my stage duels, but I still treasure them as souvenirs of one of the most thrilling events in my stage life."

Solace of the Christian

Hope on, hope ever. Though dead leaves are lying
In mountain clusters 'neath your wandering feet;
Though wintry winds through naked boughs are sighing
The flowers are dead; yet is the memory sweet
Of summer winds and countless roses glowing
'Neath the warm kisses of the generous sun.
Hope on, hope ever. Why should tears be flowing?
In every season is some victory won.

Hope on, hope ever. Though you deck loved tresses
With trembling fingers for the silent grave;
Though cold the cheek beneath your fond caresses,
Look up, true Christian soul; be calm, be brave!
Hope on, hope ever. Though your hearts be breaking,
Let flowers of Resignation wreath your cross,
Deep in your heart some heavenly wisdom waking,
For mortal life is full of change and loss.

Hope on, hope ever, for long-vanished faces
Watch for your coming on the golden shore,
E'en while you whisper in their vacant places
The blessed words, "Not lost, but gone before!"
Hope on, hope ever. Let your hearts keep singing,
When low you bend above the churchyard sod,
And fervent prayers your chastened thoughts are winging,
Through sighs and tears, to the bright throne of God!

Hope on, hope ever. Let not tell or sorrow
Still the sweet music of Hope's heavenly voice.
From every dawn some ray of comfort borrow,
That in the evening you may still rejoice.
Hope on, hope ever—words beyond comparing,
Dear to the hearts that nameless woes have risen;
To all that mourn, sweet consolation bearing,
Oh, may they prove the Christian's guide to heaven!

Willing to Swap Records

A man with a wild look of hope in his eye entered a West Baltimore street phonograph establishment, says the Baltimore American.

Stepping up to a salesman, he said: "I've got one I'll trade to anybody on 'em or unseem. So trot out any of 'em and I'll swap mighty quick and glad of the chance."

"One what?" asked the mystified salesman.

The visitor put his hand to his ear and looked puzzled, proving that his hearing was slightly defective. Being not quite sure that the salesman had spoken, the visitor went on:

"Yep, mine isn't a very good one. I'll admit, but it might suit some man with a tougher conscience than mine. Some fellow who has a longer life ahead of him in which to live it down might get along very well with mine, while I'm willing to take his and ask no questions."

Still more profoundly bearded, the salesman called the proprietor and said:

"Here's one that's nutty for keeps. I'm away off from understanding what he's driving at. Come and take a whirl at him and see if you can get next."

The proprietor came forward briskly and said, with his lips close to the stranger's ear:

"What is it you want?"

"Why," said the stranger, "I want to patronize your place of business. I saw a sign out there on the window, 'Records Exchanged,' and I was telling your clerk I had an unenviable record that I would be willing to get rid of at any terms."

And the proprietor of the phonography went out and changed the sign.

live on rice or offal of the sea; and he is so accustomed to carrying heavy weights and running long distances that he can be his own commissariat and even his own horse. As England turned its foot soldiers into mounted infantry, so the Japanese can turn their riksha boys, of whom there are 50,000 in Tokyo alone, into unmounted cavalry. Their courage is wonderful. The Japanese does not fear death in any form.

If the Japanese are somewhat lax as regards their religion, they are at any rate believers in cleanliness. The writer says: "Personal cleanliness is a virtue which all Japanese servants possess. It is no unusual thing for a Japanese servant to apologize to a mistress for not having had time to bathe more than three times that day."

while I'm willing to take his and ask no questions."

Still more profoundly bearded, the salesman called the proprietor and said:

"Here's one that's nutty for keeps. I'm away off from understanding what he's driving at. Come and take a whirl at him and see if you can get next."

The proprietor came forward briskly and said, with his lips close to the stranger's ear:

And the proprietor of the phonography went out and changed the sign.

Traits of the Japanese

In "More Queer Things About Japan" Douglas Sladen says: "Perhaps one of the severest of etiquettes in Japan is that of smiles. When you have lived in that land of smiles you will learn in time that when you can understand a Japanese smile you may hope to understand the people. A daughter-in-law must always present a smiling face to her mother-in-law; the servant must smile when his mistress dismisses him. But the news of a death must be told with laughter. Laughter is reserved for very special occasions and has no relation to joy; smiles are used on every occasion to conceal real feelings; they are not always significant of pleasure."

"No wants has the Japanese," the same writer continues. "He can live in his clothes without a tent; he can

FARMER'S LAND WAS SOUR

Simple Test With Litmus Paper Showed Acid.

The state experiment stations are doing a great work for the farmers. The following incident shows how simple some of the tests are: "When you know how," says a writer in Country Life in America. A station official was going over a farm with the owner when they came to a crawfish piece of land just back of the barn, the very weeds looked yellow and unhealthful.

"I am inclined to think," remarked the agriculturist, "that this land is too acid for productivity. We can determine this in a moment."

Taking a blue piece of paper from his pocket he stooped and dipped the paper in some of the soil water that was standing in a cow track. To the owner's astonishment the blue paper changed to a red color as soon as it was immersed.

"There," said the agriculturist, "we have our proof. This is just a piece of litmus paper. For 5 cents you can buy a similar piece at any drug store. Its change of color shows that the land is sour. Crops cannot thrive on sour land any more than children can thrive on sour milk."

SPREADING THE NEWS BROADCAST.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. G. Cleghorn found a permanent relief in the Great American Kidney Remedy.

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 30th.—(Special)—Tortured with Diabetes and Bladder Disease from which he could apparently get no relief, Mr. G. Cleghorn, a bricklayer, living at 119 Boston St., this city, has found a complete and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills and in his gratitude is spreading the news broadcast.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills made a man of me," Mr. Cleghorn says. "I was suffering from Diabetes and Bladder Disease. I was so bad I could do no work and the pain was something terrible. I could not get anything to help me till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me right from the first and now I am completely cured. I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to all my friends and they have found them all that is claimed for them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills from Backache to Bright's Disease. They never fail to cure Rheumatism.

Make-Up of Human Body.

Some one has figured that the normal human body has in it the material to make seven large nails, the fat for fourteen pounds of candles, the carbon for sixty-five gross of crayons and phosphorus enough for $20.00 matches. Out of it can be obtained besides, twenty spoonfuls of salt, fifty lumps of sugar and forty-two liters of water.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia. They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time." FRED R. SWINGLEY, Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1905.

Governor Warner has declined to sign a bill changing the names of two young women. In his veto message he called attention to the fact that the legislature of 1897 passed a law requiring changes of names to be made through the probate court and in no other way.

Prairie Creek Grange, of Ionia county, wants the legislature to pass a bill creating a board to examine and license farm laborers. That would be just about as sensible a board to have as those for licensing barbers and horse shoers, neither one of which is of any more use than a second tail to a cat.

Twenty-five members of the house and senate at Lansing who are farmers have formed the Legislative Farmers' Club. The objects of the organization are the discussion of matters to come before the legislature which directly interest the farmers of the state and social affairs. No person is eligible as a member unless he is a farmer.

Senator "Johnny" Baird, of Saginaw, has introduced a bill in the state senate providing for the examination and licensing of butchers. Now, where in the name of common sense is all this tomfoolery of special examining and licensing boards going to end. First, it was the barbers and horseshoers, now it is the butchers and farm laborers, soon it will be the cooks and laundresses, the hod carriers and sewer diggers. There seems to be no limit to which this fussy interference with the everyday affairs of the people is not to be carried, except the limit of impertinence and absurdity, and that has already been reached.

Impressions of Florida.

In a letter to the editor of the Ann Arbor Times A. J. Sawyer, sr., who is now on a visit to Florida in company with Dr. R. S. Armstrong, gives his impressions of the country as follows:

We left Ann Arbor at 8:06 a. m., Monday. The snow left us at Chattanooga and the ice at Atlanta; the house fly met us at Jacksonville and the mosquito at Tampa. Atlanta, Jacksonville and Tampa have the whirl and hum of a northern city. The rest are simply looking on, and are so industriously waiting that they have not the time to paint their houses or places of business. Florida is a wonderful state. Its chief product is the northern tourist, and its chief industry dodging labor.

The style of architecture for residences will not be found elsewhere. In most of their rural homes they have no windows, but they make it up by placing two front doors in the back side of the house. I presume this only applies, however, to the negro houses. The negro village has no equal on earth. Imagine from one to five hundred rudely constructed houses of various sizes and shapes suddenly lifted from their foundation by a flood and thrown into a confused mass and left by the subsiding water in some incongruous body, and you have a negro village.

But Florida has very many points of interest. Her inhabitants are a noble, generous-hearted people, and win your confidence and esteem by their frank and open manner. I am delighted with the climate and the people.

Fiendish Suffering

is often caused by sores, ulcers and cancers that eat away your skin. Wm. Bendell, of Flat Rock, Mich., says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve for ulcers, sores and cancers. It is the best healing dressing I ever found." Soothes and heals cuts, burns and scalds. 25c at Glazier & Stimson's drug store; guaranteed.

MORE LOCAL.

Successful revival meetings were held at the German M. E. church, Francisco, by Rev. H. Lenz last week.

An old fashioned lyceum will be held at the North Lake Grange hall next Saturday evening, Feb. 4, to which everyone is invited. Admission free.

Arrangements have been made by the Michigan Central and Pennsylvania railroads to run a special solid train to Washington to convey members of various political clubs, organized bodies and their friends, who will attend the inauguration ceremonies on March 4.

The stockholders of the D. Y. A. A. & J. electric line held their annual meeting at Dearborn Monday. No figures are given but President J. D. Hawks says the past year has been the most prosperous one in the history of the road. The officers elected were: President, J. D. Hawks; vice president and treasurer, S. F. Angus; secretary, A. L. C. Henry.

When Joseph Lowery died in Manchester a short time ago it was given out that he died of measles and a public funeral was held. Now the deceased man's wife, his youngest daughter and Mrs. Arthur Lowery are ill with smallpox and there are eight cases of the disease in the town. By order of President Fred M. Freeman the schools have been closed.

Simon Winslow died at his home in Lima, Tuesday, Jan. 31, of Bright's disease, aged 61 years, 4 months and 18 days. He was born on the farm where he died and it had been his lifelong home. His wife and two children survive him. The funeral service will be held at the house this afternoon at 1 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. C. S. Jones. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

Traveling library No. 56 has just been received at the public school library. It is composed of 50 choice volumes by some of the best authors of scientific works and fiction. In like manner with the 1,200 books that are in that library these books can be drawn out and read free of charge by persons resident in the school district, subject to the rules and regulations governing the library. A complete list of the books will be published in the Herald next week.

"The Minister's Son," played at the opera house Friday evening by local talent, under the direction of Fred Godding, for the benefit of the Cardinals, was exceedingly well put on. The players all took their parts in good style and the audience was highly amused and entertained by their efforts. The specialties between the acts by Floyd Ward and Fred Godding were well rendered and well received. The net proceeds were $22, of which the club gets 50 per cent.

Two large steel tanks 12 feet in diameter and 14 feet high were transported through Chelsea yesterday on sleighs on their way to Detroit and attracted considerable attention. They were made by the John Crowley Boiler Co., of Jackson, for the American Radiator Co., of Detroit, weighed several thousand pounds each and are capable of withstanding a steam pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch. The tanks could not be transported to Detroit by the railroad on account of their dimensions, hence had to be taken by the old fashioned plan of horses and sleighs.

The I. C. Schools have several very successful students in Chelsea. If you will inspect their window display at Fenn & Vogel's this week you will see the practicality of this school.

Lima.

Mrs. Fannie Ward is still confined to the house.

Mrs. Mary Freer and Mrs. Etta Stocking were in Ann Arbor on business Tuesday.

The Lima and Scio Farmers' Club will meet at Ed. Dancer's next Thursday, Feb. 9.

The box social at J. Hinders's last Friday night was well attended. About $15 was cleared.

Miss C. McGill, of Detroit, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her sister Mrs. Claude Guerin.

Personal.

Harry F. Abbott, of Jackson, was in town Tuesday.

Roy Havens, wife and child, are visiting relatives in Lansing.

Will Purkiss, of Homer, was the guest of friends in this place Sunday.

Mrs. John Welsh was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, of Ann Arbor, Sunday.

Lewis Kilmer went to Mt. Clemens Saturday to take bath treatment for rheumatism.

Prof. E. I. Bosworth, D. D., of Oberlin, Ohio, was the guest of Rev. C. S. Jones Monday.

Julius V. Klein arrived home Sunday afternoon, called here by the death of his stepmother Mrs. C. Klein.

Mrs. Jabez Bacon left for Evansville, Wis., yesterday to visit her son-in-law Henry Schneider and see her infant grandchildren.

Miss Mary A. VanTyne was in attendance at the Washtenaw County Teachers' Association meeting held in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Miss Clara Wester and Miss Emma Weekesser, of Detroit, are visiting the former's sister Mrs. Wm. Fox, of Lyndon, this week.

Miss Lola Updike, who has been employed in the Chelsea house for some time past, returned to her home in Grass Lake Sunday.

Miss Libbie Dewap attended the meeting of the Washtenaw County Teachers' and Patrons' Association at Ann Arbor last Saturday.

Mrs. John R. Gates went to Mt. Clemens again Friday to take the mineral baths for her rheumatism which is troubling her very greatly.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medical tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair avenue, Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak from useless doctor's drugs that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at Glazier & Stimson's drug store; price 50c.

School Report.

Report of school in District No. 11, Lyndon, for the month ending Jan. 22. The following have an average standing of 95: John Smith, Rolland McKune, Irene and Gertrude Clark; 90—George and Hattie Stofor, Cecelia, Raymond and Herbert McKune, Helia, Noble and Guy Barton, Gladys, Helen, Margaret and Lawrence Shanahan; 85—Harry Stofor. Prof. Uriah W. Lawton, one of Michigan's prominent educators, died in Jackson Monday, Jan. 30, aged 72 years. He was a native of Rhode Island, who graduated from Brown University in the class of 1856 with such men as Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, Senator Hill, of Colorado, Gen. Ewing, and other other names of national prominence. He came to Michigan after his graduation and was superintendent of schools at Dexter for one year, then followed five years at Tecumseh and five at Ann Arbor in a like capacity after which he removed to Jackson which city has been his home since that time. He was head of the schools of that city for 17 years.

STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Dr. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I was delighted with the results. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight." G. E. WRIGHT, Lansing.

The Democratic county convention to elect delegates to the state and judicial convention will be held in Ann Arbor Tuesday, Feb. 21.

An attractive window display is being made at Fenn & Vogel's drug store for one week by the I. C. Schools, which everybody should see.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a supper in the church dining room next Wednesday evening, Feb. 8. Supper from 5 o'clock until all are served.

The many friends of B. B. Turnbull are pleased to learn of his rapid recovery from his recent illness. He now sits up several hours each day and hopes to be able to resume his business duties again soon.

The subject of Rev. E. E. Caster's sermon at the Methodist church next Sunday morning, Feb. 5, will be "Continued being." In the evening Rev. H. W. Hicks will lecture on "Theology, its province and perversion."

The entertainment given at the Woodman hall Saturday evening by Joseph M. Golden under the auspices of the L. C. B. A. was largely attended, the hall being packed to its fullest capacity. The entertainment was a good one and was generally enjoyed by all who heard it.

Thomas Taylor, for many years the well known tyler of the Masonic lodges of Ann Arbor, died there Saturday night of rheumatism of the heart, aged 72 years. Mr. Taylor was particularly well known to the Masons of this section on account of the unique manner in which he performed a part that fell to him in the course of his lodge duties.

About 25 members of St. Mary's Literary Club met at the homes of Mrs. Geo. Hindelang and Mrs. C. Hummel on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, for a social gathering. Progressive polo constituted the amusement of the evening, the ace prize being won by Mrs. J. E. McKune. Light refreshments were served. The guests departed at a late hour after having spent a very pleasant evening.

The social given by Olive Chapter, O. E. S., at the Masonic hall last evening was well attended by Masons and their families, although the very cold weather and the attraction at the opera house kept a good many away. A program of songs by Floyd Ward and T. S. Hughes and readings by Mrs. M. Boyd and R. B. Waltrous was rendered, after which refreshments were served. The balance of the evening was spent in games and visiting. A very pleasant time was the result to everybody.

Mrs. Mary Barrus Broderick, for a great many years a resident of Chelsea, died in Jackson, Wednesday, Jan. 25, of a complication of diseases from which she had suffered for a long time, aged 74 years and 5 months. Her three sons Hiram Barrus, of Jackson, Giles Barrus, of Philadelphia, and Dr. Frank Broderick, of New York City, survive her. The remains were brought to Chelsea Saturday and were interred in Oak Grove cemetery, Rev. Thos. Holmes conducting the funeral services.

Julius V. Klein is at present considering the acceptance of a handsome proposition made to him by the firm of Frederick S. Stearns & Co., of Detroit, by whom he is employed as a commercial traveler. The proposition is a trip around the world in the interest of the firm, the itinerary of which would take in Australia, New Zealand, India, Ceylon, Cape Colony in Africa, England, France and Germany. The trip would take three years. It is a handsome acknowledgment of Mr. Klein's ability as a salesman and of his good service to the great drug firm.

THE MICHIGAN NEWS

Showing What's Doing in All Sections of the State

NOT ACCEPTED.

President Angell declines the U. of M. Regents.

President Angell of the University of Michigan, placed before the Board of Regents on Friday his resignation. It was entirely a surprise to the board, which declined to accept it. The letter was brief and stated this reason: "Although I have been graciously favored with health and strength, I am impressed with the belief that it would be to the advantage of the University of Michigan if you were to call a younger man to the position I now occupy."

When informed of the action of the regents in refusing to accept his resignation, President Angell, consented to remain at the head of the institution. It is quite probable, however, that he will be given such assistance as will relieve him of the details of work.

Secretary Wald, said the time has not yet arrived when the state can afford to part with the valuable services of the honored president, and said it was the hope of the people of Michigan in general that he may be spared for many years to come.

President Angell was greatly moved at the confidence shown him by the action of the regents, but refused to say anything further than that he would abide by their wishes.

Tried For Murder.

Mrs. Mary Brown, charged with the murder of her husband, John Brown, in Hancock, last November, will be tried this week. The victim was a barber, employed at Houghton, but residing in Hancock, and from all accounts he and his wife did not get along well together. On the night of the killing, Brown went to Houghton, and when he did not return at the time expected, his wife went after him, finding the man, it is said, in an intoxicated condition. However, Brown accompanied the woman home. Shortly after midnight Mrs. Brown, alarmed other lodgers in the house by calling for assistance, saying that she had shot her husband. The weapon employed was a small revolver of 22 calibre. The bullet entered the man's head, and he died shortly after the shooting. Mrs. Brown's explanation is that she shot Brown in self-defense as he was attacking her, and the woman's appearance when the police arrived at the scene directly after the shooting would seem to substantiate her statement. Her eyes were blackened, her clothing was torn, and she had the appearance of having been terribly beaten.

State's War Claim.

Deputy Atty.-Gen. Chase has gone to Washington to appear before the committee of the treasury in regard to Michigan's disputed war claim, a portion of which had been disallowed. The state has already collected a large portion of the sum expended in placing troops in the field during the Spanish war, but $55,000 remained. Of this the state had assurances that $45,000 would be allowed, but when the payment came it was for only $30,000. The governor refused to accept the check and it is hoped to collect at least $45,000 of the total amount.

Murder and Suicide.

Madly jealous of his pretty young wife, whom he had not seen in months, Harry A. Kulechko, a "dissolute painter and musician, burst into his home in Battle Creek and shot the woman as she sat on the edge of the bed late Thursday afternoon. Then he turned the revolver upon himself, blowing out his brains. His wife died a few minutes later, where she had been shot down. At the time of the tragedy their little curly-headed baby boy Harry, aged 5, was playing about the house. The eldest son, Albert, was in school.

Tragic Deaths.

News of the tragic ending of the life of Gus Sandman in Alaska has reached Neganee. He had been in Alaska since leaving Republic some seven or eight years ago. Sandman had been missing for several days and his body was found on the beach of Douglas Island, his arm being clasped about a pole in an apparent effort to save himself from drowning. He is the third Republic man to meet a violent death in Alaska, the others being John Forsman and Ole Olson.

Two Murder Trials.

The Calhoun County circuit court calendar for February for this county contains two murder cases, the first time in the history of the county that two murder cases have been tried at the same term of court. The most prominent of the two is that of John C. Mitchell, of Springfield, who will be tried for the murder of Henry Devonshire, of Duck Lake. The trial of Henry Engle for the murder of Charles Harrington, of Burlington, will follow the Mitchell trial.

Preferred Death.

Mrs. Bert Garve put her potatoes on to cook for supper at her home in Fire Lake. She then swallowed a dose of laudanum and lay down on the bed to die. Her husband returned in time, and finding the note that she had left, secured a physician and resuscitated her. When asked if she would repeat her action, she said: "Not if Bert quits drinking." It is said the larger part of Gary's earnings go for liquor and this preyed on her mind.

Fought a Man.

While they were alone in their home, James Hand, aged 70, of Bay City, who has been slightly deranged, attacked his son James, Jr., and for two hours the son fought him to save his life and secure his freedom. He then summoned the sheriff, who locked the old man in a padded cell in the county jail. Both men were severely bruised and Hand, Sr., may die. He had just returned from the hospital when he became so wildly insane.

THE LEGISLATURE.

At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon the legislature adjourned to meet Tuesday, February 7, this being done to give the committees a chance to visit the state institutions, and now the same old junket is on, only it will start quietly, the members going from their homes to the capitol, and the electric cars will be provided. The governor's advice to not make it as heretofore, but for each committee to visit the particular institution whose wants it will investigate, will be disregarded and the usual junket will go. The regular functions will be pulled off, and the return home via Chicago will end the trip.

It seems quite likely that the plan of Senator Rumer, of Davison, to do away with the pardon board as at present constituted will have plenty of backing, and that Gov. Warner will give his sympathy to at least part of the Rumer plan. The trouble with the present board is said to be that instead of merely looking into the merits of cases that appear to have some merit, they hold a second trial of every man who makes application for pardon or parole. The last legislature changed the law so that the three members of the board shall be paid $7 a day and providing that they may serve six months of the year and get pay and expenses for that time. The result has been that they serve all of the six months allowed them, and they are now hating that they want the time extended for which they may collect per diem and expenses.

The proposition to provide for a state veterinarian to prevent the spread of communicable diseases among live stock has again been revived in a bill introduced by Representative Morrice, of Harbor Springs. The bill proposes that the veterinarian co-operate with the state board of health and local boards in suppressing such diseases.

On Wednesday afternoon came a test in the senate of the situation on direct voting and a good majority vote passed the direct voting bill for the fourteenth judicial circuit with a rush, and this action may mean that the legislature will not stifle all attempts to push along the direct voting plan. Gov. Warner, when asked if he would sign the bill, said he would do so as soon as the measure reached him and had been looked over.

In 1,377 of the 7,229 school districts in the state, the receipts from the primary school fund and the one mill tax exceed the sum paid for teachers' wages. In 235 of these districts the primary school money alone more than defrays the expense of the teachers. In 443 districts last year no voted tax was raised. Superintendent of Public Instruction Kelley has prepared these figures in support of the bill which he has introduced to do away with the necessity of assessing the one mill tax. He would not abolish this tax but permit the authorities not to raise it in those districts where the established revenues exceed the expenses for which they are provided.

The following resolution was introduced by Representative Waters, of Washtenaw county, and adopted: "Whereas, it is the sense of the house that the law creating the state commission was founded in the best intentions, but

"Whereas, the amendment to said law unnecessarily increasing the membership of said commission and raising the salaries thereof and other expenses has caused the same to become burdensome to the public, and

"Whereas, said commission has misconceived the spirit and intent of the law of its creation, whereby the same has become obnoxious to the people, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the speaker of the house appoint a committee of five to devise ways and means whereby the said commission may be decreased in numbers and the expense thereof reduced and its powers and duties limited and defined."

"The abolition of the 50-day limit, according to Speaker Master, has abolished a peculiar part of legislation in Michigan, the introduction of skeleton bills. Formerly, when all bills had to be introduced during the first 30 days, everybody who had a bill in mind but not prepared, would introduce a bill by title, as, 'A bill to amend the act providing a charter for the city of Detroit.' Then, if he wanted to put in the real bill later in the session he would take that title, and add the real bill. A very large number of the bills introduced at the last session were only titles, and lots of the titles were never used.

"But this year, the 103 bills introduced in the house are all real bills. Last year they had 131 bills after three weeks, a large number of them 'skeleton bills.' So in the senate, they have 50 real bills, and last year they had 51 skeletons. But just as soon as we settle the budget, and pass a few necessary general laws, we'll shut down, and the man who delays his pet measure will get left."

Rep. Wallace, of Newaygo, introduced a bill calling for an appropriation of $20,000 to empower the state to take charge of the tuberculosis sanitarium of Dr. J. C. Branch, at White Cloud, for two years, for experimental purposes.

Stricken Zionites. Mrs. J. G. Speicher, wife of Acting Overseer Speicher, of Zion City, is dead as the result of consumption. Hers is the second death which has followed a recent inroad of sickness among John Alexander Dowie's chiefs and followers, and against which the prayers of the "First Apostle," Deacon Carl F. Stern, been of no avail. Deacon Dowie's chief of police, died while en route to the Bahama Islands, where Dowie is suffering from chronic stomach trouble and his wife is desperately ill. It is said that an investigation of the death of Mrs. Speicher will be made by the state board of health and the coroner.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

A Brief Chronicle of All Important Happenings

TROUBLED RUSSIA.

The situation on Saturday was summarized as follows:

"Despite the fact that the strike in Russia is spreading in the Baltic provinces and in Poland, no disturbances of any importance were reported Saturday and tranquility, it is hoped by the authorities, will prevail.

"In Moscow, where 20,000 men are still out, although work has been resumed in nearly all the mills, the situation appears to be threatening. The men in the industrial section became turbulent during their Saturday night spree and it was thought if they continued drinking there undoubtedly would be disorders Sunday.

"The authorities declare that measures already have been taken to prevent trouble in Moscow. Arms have been removed from gunsmiths' shops and patrols of the streets are continued.

"In the Baltic provinces and in Poland the strikers are cutting telegraph lines and interrupting communications, and wars are expressed for most serious disorders, especially in Poland."

A summary of the problems now before the czar follows:

Strike of over 300,000 workmen who demand political as well as industrial betterment.

Frenzy caused by massacre of people in city streets which has incited the strikers to revolution.

Disaffection in the army.

Uprisings in Moscow, Caucasus and other places which threaten to end with the entire nation in revolt.

Tremendous activity of nihilists and socialists.

Willfulness of the people to die as martyrs for their country.

Unrest in Finland and Poland.

Personal weakness in trusting all to grand dukes whom the people especially hate.

The war with Japan.

Heavy taxes, dissatisfaction with church rule and government ownership of factories, which makes practical slaves of workmen.

Gross corruption in army and navy.

Demands for constitution.

Oppression of bureaucrats and police. Shameful conditions in judiciary.

While no further encounters have occurred, Friday's dispatches from the Russian points indicate that the strike movement is spreading.

At Mitau bodies of strikers, marched to the shops and compelled the men who were at work to leave. At Warsaw a strike was begun today and is spreading rapidly, but without disorder. A general strike has begun at Lodz.

At Moscow and St. Petersburg the authorities have the situation under control and the day passed quietly. In the former city some men have returned to work. Advances from St. Petersburg regard to the effect that the authorities regard the danger of a general tie-up of Russian industries as not as great as they had at the attempt to convert the movement into a political revolt has failed.

The St. Petersburg morgue still contains many unidentified dead. The hands of some of the victims are white and on their fingers are diamond rings, the supposition being that they were liberals of gentle birth in sympathy with the strike movement who dressed up as workmen and took part in the demonstration.

Twenty-nine men and two women were killed and 37 civilians and eight soldiers were wounded by revolver shots during Thursday's rioting in Riga against the returns made by the hospitals.

The strike disorders in Warsaw are becoming more serious. The ordinary life of the city is quite suspended. On Saturday the strikers stopped the street railway service, but remained otherwise orderly. Sunday, however, they began wholesale pillage. The majority of the shops in Marshal Kovski street and the state vodka shops were looted. All the factories, shops, schools and theaters are closed and the street lamps are extinguished. There have been several collisions between the police and strikers and many arrests have been made.

Peace abiding inhabitants are terror-stricken. The pillaging of stores is thus described: "Many nut chink crosses on their doors or lighted ikons in their windows, and thus secured their safety. The rioters ransacked the sacred emblems. The hoarse murmurs of the mob drowned the church bells. In several cases soldiers fired on looting mobs, and in one case in a working class suburb they fired a cannon shot, hoping to disperse the crowd. Several foreign consuls had narrow escapes from personal injury. The number of killed or wounded during the rioting is estimated at 100.

Japan has bought about 4,000 head of horses, principally bronchos, in South Dakota, to be used by the army in Manchuria.

Tennessee's entire legislature will attend the inaugural, coming to Washington in a special car, but the governor declines to join the party.

Nesrin Hameed, mother of Cheikh Bey, Turkish minister to the United States, is dead at the Turkish legation in Washington, aged 65.

Martin V. Seelye, a San Jose orchardist, has 500 trained monkeys which he says he will set to work picking the California prune crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase S. Osborn, of Sanit Ste Marie, will sail for the Pacific Mail and Oceanic line from San Francisco for New Zealand, stopping en route in Hawaii and Samoa. From there they will go to Australia, the Philippines, China and Japan. In New Zealand Mr. Osborn expects to study the effect of the economical and political reforms that are being experimented with there, such as the arbitrary wage and the eight-hour law.

According to a cablegram received at the state department from Ambassador Thompson at Petropolis, dated Sunday, martial law has been prolonged in Brazil until February 16.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Negotiations have been concluded between Gov. Davis, Minister Barrett and the government of Panama under which the canal zone officials will assume complete charge of the city's sanitation.

The naval bill as reported out of committee carries an appropriation of $100,070,070, while the estimates appropriated $119,639,638. The appropriation last year was $2,564,939 less than this year.

The house public building bill which will be reported this week contains $500,000 for a new government office building at Grand Rapids. Also $95,000 for a site and building at Ann Arbor.

The agricultural appropriation bill contains an item of $35,000 for a weather station and cable at Beaver Island off Charlevoix. It is Representative Derrah's district, and he has been working for it two years.

The oldest living pensioner of the civil war, Wm. Walsh, who is 105 years old, had his pension increased by the house Saturday from $12 to $24 a month. Walsh lives at Ackworth, N. H.

The controversy between the lake submarine boat owners and the navy department, which has accepted several Holland boats, as alleged, without legal competition, bids fair to expose another scandal in the navy.

Representative Fordney says: "The bill to reduce the tariff on Philippine sugar and tobacco from 75 to 25 percent of the Dingley rate will never get through the house."

A special session is a certainty, and it is by no means certain that the president will wait until fall to call one, for the reason that the railroads are busy creating adverse sentiment to the proposed legislation, and, if given several months to work in, much might be accomplished.

Representative Hepburn's railroad bill, amending the interstate commerce act and said to have the approval of the administration, was introduced in the house Saturday. The measure provides that upon complaint the interstate commerce commission shall declare and order what shall be a just and reasonable rate, which order shall take effect in 60 days, the carrier having an appeal to a court of commerce to have the order of the commission reviewed. Pending the review, the court may suspend the order, requiring a bond from the carrier for the payment of all damages incurred by shippers. The commission is also authorized to fix a joint rate in case two or more carriers fail to agree, orders affecting these rates being subject to review by the court of commerce. Carriers refusing to obey an order of the commission are subject to a penalty of $6,000 a day.

BETTER THAN STRAIGHT TALK

Where Circumlocution Saved Servant from Reprimand.

The late Bishop Elder of Cincinnati, was born in Baltimore, and Baltimorean said of him recently:

"From his childhood Bishop Elder had the gift of direct and forcible speech. I once congratulated him on the possession of this gift, praising his direct diction and condemning his circumlocution, whereupon he said:

"Circumlocution, though you condemn it, has its use. It is a fine instrument wherewith to soften harshness."

"For instance, I once had a young man for a servant who was inclined to take too many liberties.

"On a certain evening, for the entertainment of a guest of distinction I procured a very excellent quagrate. All of it was not eaten; quite half, I should say, was left when the servant removed it from the table."

Was Near Death's Door Four Years With Disease of Stomach, but for has been Entirely Well More than a Year.

Francisco, Mich., Aug. 4, 1903.
Dr. E. L. Wilkinson, 25 Dwight Building, Jackson, Mich.

I wish to thank you for what you have done for me. Before going to your office I was very bad with stomach trouble. I suffered a hundred deaths during the past four years. I had terrible spells of suffering with pain in my stomach that would last several days, and in many of those spells I thought, and my friends thought, I would die. The doctors who attended me gave me temporary relief, but they did nothing that would prevent a return of the agony. I called on you about six weeks ago, and I have had no pain whatever since I began treating with you. In that short time I have gained in flesh, and I am as strong as any ordinary woman of my age. You certainly know how to cure diseases of the stomach, for several different doctors treated me many months and none of them gave me permanent relief.

MRS. MARTHA KEELER.

LATER.

Francisco, Mich., Dec. 20, 1904.
Dr. Wilkinson:

It has now been over a year since I gave you the above testimonial, but I wish to add a few remarks at this time that are very important, and I hope they may be of some help to others who are afflicted as I was. I have not taken a dose of medicine since a year ago last August, and the condition of my stomach and bowels has been perfect. My health is good. I assure you I appreciate it. I hope every body who has stomach trouble will go to you and get permanently cured.

MRS. MARTHA KEELER.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food enters the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Theodore's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Theodore's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

County Notes.

Saline is going to have a ladies' literary society.

The new Baptist church at Saline is to be dedicated next Sunday, Feb. 5.

The Dexter planing mill has been reopened for business by Boggs & Miles.

The A. P. Ferguson Carriage Co. has moved from Ann Arbor to Ypsilanti.

John Moeckel, of Waterloo, will build an addition to his barn in the spring.

The Lady Macabees of Gregory had a public installation of their new officers Tuesday evening.

A new clock has been placed in the high school tower at Ypsilanti to replace the one destroyed by fire Aug. 16 last.

A. Davis & Co. will open up a new clothing store in Dexter about April 1 in the store now occupied by the Dexter Savings Bank.

A box social for the benefit of the C. C. Dorr district school in Sharon is to be given in the Sharon town hall tomorrow evening.

H. Blaisdell and his son Edward have leased the Premium mills at East Manchester of J. H. Kingsley and took possession Feb. 1.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the U. B. church, of Waterloo, have presented their pastor Elder Fowler with a nice Montana buffalo robe.

Jacob Blum, a resident of Bridge-water township and one of the oldest pioneers of Washtenaw county, died at his home Jan. 26, aged 81 years.

A movement is on foot in Ann Arbor to try and induce the Tri-State Band Union to hold its annual meeting in that city during August.

At the school in district No. 15, Sharon, one day last week there were just four pupils present out of a total of 28 enrolled. All the rest were sick.

Fred Bentler, of Manchester, has invented an automatic grain measure which can be attached to any corn husker for measuring and keeping tally of corn.

The school children in district No. 8 Sharon, Miss Emma Fahrner teacher, gave an entertainment at the schoolhouse Friday evening. It was well attended considering the weather.

Benj. Huber, of Manchester, was taken to Ann Arbor Monday violently insane. He is at present confined in the county jail, Judge Leland being unable to get him into an asylum.

The Ann Arbor water works system was officially tested Monday morning and the test was a complete failure for the company. It showed the system to be totally inadequate as a fire protection.

Wallace L. Jones and Miss Lorena M. Bowers were married Wednesday, Jan. 25, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bowers, by Rev. E. L. Moore, of Manchester. All the parties to the marriage live in Sharon.

Louis P. Richards, a young Ann Arbor boy, who has been pursuing his musical studies in Europe, has attracted much attention in tours through the north of Europe and has been presented to Leopold, king of Belgium. In his tours he is billed as the "Belgian pianist."

Thirteen farmers of North Sharon met Tuesday, Jan. 25, and organized the Grass Lake and North Sharon Telephone Co. to use the Bell lines. They hope to be able to run to Manchester also. The officers are: President, Wm. Alber; secretary and treasurer, Geo. M. Dorr; manager, John Lemm.

An Ann Arbor woman has sued her husband for a divorce. She says they were married in 1897 and during all their married life he only furnished her with a $1 wrapper in the way of clothing. There is no wonder she wants to be rid of such a man under such aggravating circumstances as that.

It makes no difference how many medicines have failed to cure you, if you are troubled with headache, constipation, kidney or liver troubles. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well. Glazier and Stinson.

Unadilla.

The Staphis boys, of Dexter, are filling A. C. Watson's ice-house today.

Mrs. Staphis, of Dexter, visited her daughter Mrs. J. D. Watson this week.

Two loads of young people attended church at Plainfield Sunday night.

Mrs. Janet Webb, who was reported quite sick last week, is now much better.

Mrs. Susan Davis and son, from near Manchester, moved to her farm near Unadilla last week.

At the communion services held at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning 10 were received into the church, nine on profession of faith and one by letter.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Club was held at Otto Arnold's last Saturday and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: L. W. Ostrander, president; Emory Glenn, vice president; Bird Gregory, secretary; Joseph Bowen, treasurer; Agnes Arnold, corresponding secretary. An oyster dinner was served and all report a good time. The next meeting will be held at L. W. Ostrander's the third Saturday in February.

All students of the I. C. Schools should not fail to bring their friends to the window display at Penn & Vogel's this week.

New Year's in Japan.

Most of the people one meets on the Japanese New Year day are carrying a squashed salmon, with a piece of paper tied round its waist by a paper string which holds a little gold paper kite. That kite means that the thing is a present and has not to be paid for. Those who are not carrying crushed salmon or taking up the street in giving correct New Year's salutations are playing battledore and shuttlecock.

More Women Ministers.

In less than ten years the number of women Congregationalist ministers has doubled, there being now in different parts of the United States fifty-three who have been regularly ordained by councils of Congregational churches and who are doing practically the full work of the ministry. They are found in twenty states and territories, with a preponderating number, however, in the Western states.

American Empress.

The empress of Korea is an American. She was Miss Emily Brown, daughter of a missionary, and for some time lady-in-waiting to the late Empress Miu, who was mysteriously murdered in 1895. After that event the emperor invited Miss Brown to enter his harem. She declined. He then offered to make her his empress, and she accepted.

Diamond Polishers.

Of the diamond polishers in Amsterdam, 90 per cent are of the Hebrew faith. They look on this occupation as one on which they have a traditional claim. The work is so hard on the eyes that few can keep at the finer grade after their fortieth year; thereafter they expect their children to support them.

Moscow's Rich Churches.

There are 1,800 churches in Moscow. They are the wealthiest churches in the world. One, St. Saviour's, cost 28,000,000 rubles—nearly $14,000,000—to build. The Russian church is the nation's great wealth storehouse—the nest egg which will be hatched out when the great crisis comes.

Convex Roadways.

They are discussing in England a new system of road building, which would save a large percentage in the cost of construction. Instead of the present method of convex surfaces with a gutter at each side, it is proposed to build concave roads with a gutter in the middle.

Worth Her Weight in Silver.

For a dowry Herr Duchscheck of Dusseldorf gave his daughter a present of her weight in silver. At her wedding she was solemnly weighed in presence of the company. She was found to turn the scale at 140 pounds and to be worth $2,800.

Peter Liebeck now has a telephone in the house and in operation.

John Walz and wife spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents in Henrietta.

The Misses Alice Heim and Edith Reed attended the teachers' meeting in Ann Arbor Saturday.

A number from here attended the school entertainment given by Miss Fahrner and her pupils. The entertainment was fine and everyone felt that the evening was well spent.

Northern and Southern Icebergs.

Icebergs in the Arctic region are neither so large nor so numerous as those seen in the Antarctic seas, but they are usually loftier and more beautiful, with spires and domes. When the sun shines on them they look like a fairy city.

Few Whites in Southwest Africa.
Of the 4,000 white settlers scattered among the total population of 200,000 in German Southwest Africa, not much more than 2,000 are at present German and these are very largely composed of the military and official element.

Motormen Who Wear Veils.
Many of the New York motormen on the surface cars wear veils as a protection against the cold. The veils are the same as those worn by women, and probably most of them belong to the wives of the motormen.

Has Rare Honor.
The only American who ever wore the Victoria Cross is living at Stoughton, Mass. He is William Seeley, who in 1864 was aboard a British vessel at Simoneski, Japan, and saved the life of the captain.

Cuttings may be easily carried even to a distance by sticking their lower end into a potato. The end should always be freshly cut before planting.—Country Life in America.

Chilean Ichthyosaurus.
It is stated in a scientific journal that the University of California has been informed of the discovery of remarkably fine remains of an ichthyosaurus in Chile.

Increase in Railway Stocks.
The railroads of the country in three years have increased the amount of their outstanding bonds and have stock no less than $1,150,000,000.

French Potato Output.
France produces more than twice as many potatoes as the United States. The average price a bushel is 25 1/2 cents.

Gotham Newsboys.
It is estimated that there are between 15,000 and 20,000 boys who sell newspapers in the streets of New York.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw. ss. The undersigned, Judge of Probate for the County of Washtenaw, held at the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, on the 19th day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, for the purpose of examining and adjusting the claims against the estate of Charles H. Hindelang, deceased. Present, Emory E. Leland, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of Charles H. Hindelang, deceased. Louis H. Hindelang, administrator with annex of said estate, comes into court and states that he is now ready to render his account as such. Therefore It is ordered that the 16th day of February, next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be appointed for the purpose of hearing said account. And it is further ordered, that a copy of
