BENJAMIN AND MARY RETURN TO BENTON HARBOR WITH CONVERTS.

NEWBERRY FOR THE NAVY

ATTEMPT TO WRECK ANN ARBOR TRAIN NEAR CORUNNA FAILED.

NO MONTE CARLO WOULD BE TOLERATED IN THE UPPER PENINSULA.

The Flying Rollers Arrive.

Encouraged by their success in securing so many converts in Australia, the leaders of the "Flying Rollers," who, with their new followers returned from that part of the globe Saturday and made a triumphal entry in Benton Harbor, have decided to extend their campaign to Great Britain and will immediately send missionaries to England. As "Benjamin," the leader of the "Flying Rollers," stood at the rear end of the special train which drew them into the station, he pronounced a blessing upon the 500 members of their colony in this town. His voice rang out loud and clear. "Behold the glory of the incoming host of Israel, for has it not been ordained that we shall rule the world?"

The word was then given by the leader of the long-haired people and the musical program of the triumphal entry was started. A loud shout arose from his followers who greeted him, calling "Benjamin, our king, and the leader of the world." Then the other apostles and leaders went up and embraced him. Benjamin was surrounded by a group of little girls in white dresses, who strewed flowers and led the band of music. Several banners were carried upon which such mottoes as these were written: "We shall conquer the world," "Join the host of Israelites," etc.

Detroit for the cabinet.

The selection by President Roosevelt of Truman H. Newberry for assistant secretary of the navy, was entirely personal with the president, who admires the Detroit man and his capabilities, and believes he has the right combination of brains and industry for the place. It is said the position is an exacting one and among its duties is the supervision of the navy yards. In Washington there is quiet talk of the arrogant manner in which some of the regular naval officers treated the Michigan naval reserves during the Spanish-American war, and curiosity as to whether Mr. Newberry, who was one of them, will even up when he goes into the navy department. No one, however, thinks for a moment that Mr. Newberry will take it out of any officer for personal reasons, and that if an officer gets a less desirable assignment it will be on the merits of the case.

Gambling Won't Go.

The story that Chicago and upper peninsula capitalists are planning to open a summer resort to be conducted on lines similar to those at Monte Carlo, the site of the proposed enterprise to be an abandoned village near Dollar bay, Houghton county, gambling to be conducted openly only on a large scale, and the place made attractive with theaters and amusement halls, seems fishy for the reason that there is no available village, desert or otherwise, near Dollar bay, which could be used for the purpose alleged, and in Houghton county gambling of whatever nature is strictly tabooed. Nobody in the copper country knows anything of the alleged scheme. It is believed that possibly the deserted village meant is one in Keweenaw county, to the north of Houghton county, but even there an undertaking of the kind would not be permitted.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Ann Arbor passenger train No. 3, northbound, due here at 7:15 p. m., successfully withstood an attempt to wreck it this evening at a point one mile south of Corunna. The train, under charge of Conductor Melvin Bright and Engineer Michael Purcell, was bowling along at a good rate of speed, when it struck a heavy timber which had been laid across the track. The front of the pilot was shattered and a piece of the timber lodged under the train, which was not derailed. The air pipes were broken and the train was brought to Owasco after temporary repairs had been made under hand brakes. The train crew skirmished about the place of the crime, but failed to find any trace of the miscreant.

Stanley Turner Dead.

Stanley W. Turner, well known in Michigan politics, died Sunday morning in his apartments at the Wayne hotel, Detroit. He was 62 years old and had failed in health since the death of his wife, two years ago. The immediate cause of death was a cancerous affection of the colon, although he suffered from a complication of diseases contracted while a military prisoner during the war. He passed his last days in seclusion in the Wayne, and the companion of his solitude was his son, Harry, who was with him at the last, although neither father nor son realized that death was approaching.

The Fourth Death.

Irving Bennett, the fireman who was burned and scalded in the collision on the Ann Arbor railroad near Mesick a week ago, died Sunday morning, making the list of dead now four. Two others who were injured are in a critical condition. Engineer Albert Veit, whose alleged disobedience of rules is said to have caused the wreck, is so near death that he has not been told of the serious results of the collision. He has no recollection of the disaster.

No Naval Battle Yet.

Although public interest in the war has suddenly been transferred from the battlefield in Manchuria to the Indian ocean by the possibility of a great naval conflict between Admiral Rojstevsky and Admiral Togo, and despite reports that scouting vessels have already been engaged near the island of Mauritius, the admiralty declines to display any excitement. It can be asserted, however, that the report that Rojstevsky is awaiting Admiral Nebogatoff's division to strengthen his squadron is incorrect. The vessels of Nebogatoff's division are not of the same type or speed as Rojstevsky's and are only intended to trail behind as a convoy to protect the fleet of colliers.

Foxy Oyama.

While there is an absolute dearth of official news from Manchuria, there is a growing impression in Tokio that Field Marshal Oyama is almost ready to spring another trap which will result in the capture of the entire Russian army. There is reason to believe that before the end of the month Oyama's armies will be at least equal in effective strength to what they were before the fighting began below Mukden.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Stone primary bill was before the house for three hours Wednesday and after a lively scrap was referred back to the committee on elections by a vote of 52 to 41, not a happy augury for the amendment of the bill, or that anything further will be done with it. The bill was reported about three weeks ago and came up as a special order. It was claimed that so many imperfections were lodged in the bill that the measure would be of doubtful value, even if the doubt as to the constitutionality of the clause providing that the bill should be submitted to the people before becoming a law, were dispelled. It was urged that the Republican platform adopted under strenuous conditions at Grand Rapids did not propose to go so far as the bill proposed and that a bill for local option should take its place. The situation is this: The house as constituted is against direct nominations for all state candidates and United States senators and such a bill properly framed would not pass. The time is slipping away and the preparation of a bill that will satisfy the administration and pass will be a work of several weeks, in fact the April elections will pass into history before definite action is taken. During the debate Representative Galbraith, who had made the motion to refer the bill back, said: "We are breaking no party pledges. Let us consider all the bills introduced on this subject and not rush blindly into indiscreet legislation."

Representative Holmes asked what Galbraith proposed to do with the Stone bill and the answer dealt in generalities.

"I see the gentleman from Calumet doesn't want to answer the question," said Holmes.

"Let me interrupt," shouted Galbraith. "I may say that those who are pledged to the Republican platform are pledged to kill this particular bill," and the whole scheme was laid bare.

Some Detroit members are again discussing the possibility that Wayne county may be given an additional representative and perhaps one more senator in the apportionment bill that must be passed during the present session of the legislature.

The bill providing that the state shall aid the Daughters of the War of 1812 in the erection of a monument to Gen. Macomb at Detroit is making good progress. It was agreed to unanimously by the senate in committee of the whole.

The senate at the evening session on Wednesday passed the bill giving the Houghton College of Mines $60,000 for each of the next two years for maintenance; $45,000 for additional land; $43,800 for a heating and lighting plant and $1,500 for a storage plant. The bill was given immediate effect. It is the biggest appropriation bill thus far passed and was given preference over all others.

Among the bills agreed to by the senate in committee of the whole was one providing for examination and licensing of public accountants. Another bill which calls for the licensing of opticians has been introduced in the house by Representative Turner, of Muskegon. It would create a board of five members, to be appointed by the governor, who are to be paid $5 for each day actually spent in the work of the board, and two cents for each mile traveled. Only those who have reached the age of 21 are to be eligible for examination. Each is to pay the board $10 upon making application for examination, and $5 more if the certificate is issued to him. Each licensed optician is to pay the board $2 per year as a license fee. The bill does not say the fees shall be paid into the state treasury, but provides reports shall be made to the governor as to moneys collected and disbursements.

Senator Heine, of Bay, had passed in the upper house his bill placing trading stamp concerns under the supervision of the banking commissioner and providing for the cash redemption of the stamps. Heine explained that his bill would put out of business two of the trading stamp concerns now operating in Michigan. Before the state affairs committee Heine stated that trading stamp dealers he was acquainted with were making about 40 per cent on their transactions.

The house committee on general taxation after a protracted hearing has voted to favorably report a bill exempting all credits from a taxation.

To place the appointing power of the superintendents and wardens of the various state asylums and penal institutions in the hands of the governor is the provision of a bill introduced by Senator Yeomans. The measure limits the term of office to four years. At present the superintendents and wardens are appointed by the boards of control of the institutions.

Gov. Warner has signed the bills giving Mt. Clemens a police commission and legalizing the school bond issues of Ecorse township in Wayne.

The Sea Wins.

In an opinion handed down Friday, Judge Wemyer practically puts a quietus on the suit of the United States of America against the city of Sault Ste. Marie. The court in his opinion, sustains the demurrer of the defendant on a point that precludes further prosecution.

The case was brought to recover damages for the destruction by fire of the United States barracks at the Soc, the United States government having entered into a contract with the Soc that provided for adequate fire protection for the barracks. The judge holds that the city had no power to enter into such a contract.

The Philippines Are Growing.

The French minister of colonies, Clementel, has received a confidential report concerning the progress of the status of the Philippine islands of the island of Java. The report is by Gov. Gen. Lomoth, of Cochinchina, who is a recognized authority on colonial administration. Although the report is not available, Gov. Lomoth in an interview, shows that it is highly favorable tribute to American control of the Philippines.

"My government charged me," said, "to thoroughly investigate economic and political conditions in the Philippines and Java. I spent months in the Philippines studying results of American control. I struck with the enormous progress made in such a comparatively brief period. This has been greater than the last four years than during the years preceding the American occupation. The natives are educated, receiving the benefits of municipal provincial liberty, and are rapidly acquiring the spirit of republican institutions. France can take a most beneficial lesson from the splendid results of the American colonial system."

Diplomats here are greatly interested in the report that Mrs. Althea Reader is expected to visit the national capital this week. It is held that she has a mass of evidence of alleged plot in Santo Domingo still revealed, and it is quite likely that will divulge at least a part of it in near future. There are hints of startling revelations, but no one can found who will believe that any of members of the administration have even remotely connected with the Among the things in Mrs. Reader's possession is said to be a great mass of correspondence relating to Santo Domingo affair. These letters the woman's friends declare, will show to the world that her claims have been the very first been founded on indisputable facts.

Mrs. Reader Again.

Private advices received in Chicago from friends of Secretary of State John Hay indicate more fully than cent press dispatches that the distinguished American, now on his way to Europe, has no expectation of resuming his official duties and he feels his physical condition to be quite serious. Three personal letters to Chicagoans, one from the secretary himself and two from close personal friends of his, show this need a long, long rest," he wrote to an old-time acquaintance here. ## Nearly a Billion.

The appropriations of the government during Roosevelt's administration were $3,117,617,137 in the aggregate $940,100,856 more than was appropriated during the eight years of President Cleveland and $1,211,480,526 more than the four years of President McKinley, during which time the Spanish war was fought. The appropriations for the navy and army aggregated most $1,000,000,000, which is more than was expended during the Spanish war by President McKinley. Until 1898 the greatest expenditure for the army had never exceeded $206,153,887. President Roosevelt's term it is estimated $447,353,500 and the navy, usually ran along with an appropriation of $122,208,362 for four years, costs for the same period $430,629,000.

Congregational ministers representing Boston and various sections New England, have forwarded to American board of commissioners foreign missions a protest against acceptance by the board of a gift of $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller.

The protest is made on the ground that the Standard Oil Co., of which Mr. Rockefeller is the head, "stands before the public under repeated recent formidable indictments in which terms for methods which are equally iniquitous and socially destructive," and that "the acceptance of a gift involves the constituents of board in a relation implying toward the donor and subjects board to the charge of ignoring moral issues involved."

FOR LAW AND ORDER

BY J. C. PLUMMER

(Copyright, 1905, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Mr. Bowly walked up the main street of Hemley. If ever a good man walked up that street he was doing it then. Goodness lay in every fold of the fat smooth shaven face, immovable virtue was expressed by the tightly tied white cravat under the double chin. Mr. Bowly was prominent in the board of the Wesleyan chapel of Hemley and when he was not doing his best to improve this sinful world he was selling ropes and groceries in his ship chandlery on the wharf.

When he came to Captain Crabbe's house, in the Square, he knocked at the door and was admitted. Captain Crabbe was also a good man and he was also prominent in the chapel. The captain was a Londoner and had retired from the sea and settled in Hemley. In the old days he had been a sinful man, he said so himself in the experience meetings, and at times in a social chat he would recount the deeds of his unregenerate days with a grin about his lips and a light in his eyes as if the cakes and ale still had a savor on his palate. But those days had passed, no man could outdo the captain in righteous language and conduct since his joining the church.

"Brother Crabbe," said Mr. Bowly, seating himself with a grunt, for he was fat, "I have heard a rumor, a bad, a shocking rumor." He watched Captain Crabbe's face closely as he said this.

"What 'ave you 'eard, Brother Bowly?" asked the captain. He also regarded Brother Bowly's countenance with interest.

"There is a rumor," replied Mr. Bowly, "that a prize fight is to come off near Hemley. That the peace and order of this quiet town is to be profaned by such a rowdy gathering is horrible."

"Hi 'eard the rumor, too," remarked the captain, looking out of the window, "and I was just coming to see you about it."

"I am president of the Law and Order Society and you are the vice president. It is incumbent on us to stop this disgraceful affair," said Mr. Bowly.

"We must surely stop it," agreed the captain. "Ave you 'eard where it's to come off?"

"At Oldham's Woods," replied Mr. Bowly; "at least, that's my information."

"That's where Hi 'eard it 'd be," said the captain. "Hi'll see Mr. Grubb, the magistrate, and you'd better see Mr. Hunch, the constable."

"I'll do it," assented Mr. Bowly. "Oh, that such a beautiful spot as Oldham's Woods should be defiled by such an illicit assemblage of sinful men."

The guardians of the peace and order of Hemley shook hands and parted. When Mr. Bowly had gone the captain took from his pocket an illy written note:

"Cap Crabbe—The Southwark Kid and the Sheffield Gamecock are going to have a little fist shuffle near your town Wednesday. You used to like this sport once and if you want to see this fight you can get the ticket, spot and time from Ben Hughes, at the Bugle and Sword, in High street, Southwark. Yours truly,

"Sam."

This note had been received by the captain the Saturday previous and on Monday business had taken him to London.

As became a vigilant member of the Law and Order Society Captain Crabbe had not failed to discover by diplomatic inquiry the time and place where this most ungodly infraction of the peace, quietude and honor of Hemley was threatened.

This was Tuesday and the fight was appointed for the next day. Prompt action was necessary.

"You were right," said he to Mr. Bowly that evening. "Holdham's Woods is the place and daybreak is the time."

Mr. Bowly eyed the captain closely while he spoke.

"I have already ascertained as becomes a vigilant officer of the Law and Order Society both time and place. Oldham's Woods at daybreak."

He had been a sinful man.

You are right, captain, and I compliment you on your co-operation. The officers are notified and the fight will be prevented."

The sun had not thought about shining upon Merrie England when the captain left his couch on Tuesday morning. Like a thoughtful husband he put on his clothes quietly so as not to disturb Mrs. Crabbe's maternal slumbers and putting an odd looking package in his pocket sallied out. If it was the captain's purpose to aid in the prevention of the fight he went about it in an odd fashion. Every body in Hemley knows that the shortest way to Oldham's Woods is past the mill and over the footbridge going due south. The captain bent his way due north. He crossed the Spring Farm, toiled through the bracken, becoming dew sodden, and then veered into a sequestered vale surrounded by woodland.

He was not the only one in the vale. Some hundred rough looking men were there and there was a ring being roped off.

"Hi guess Bowly's tramping towards Holdham's Woods by now," muttered the captain, taking deep interest in the proceedings.

When the brawny champions entered the ring the captain had no difficulty in getting an excellent position to view the fight. In fact, he seemed marvelously familiar with the whole proceedings and spoke to one or two sportive looking men by their first names, being familiarly addressed by them as "Cap."

Greatly relieved to see that none of Hemley's citizens were present, the captain gave himself up heart and soul to the fight. The Sheffield Gamecock had much the best of it at the start and handled the Kid as he pleased.

"Five pun' to four on the Gamecock," called a spectator, hoarsely.

"Hon," yelled the captain, "hand doubled if you've the grit."

"Doubled it is," replied the man.

The Kid then dealt the Gamecock a blow perilously near that point of a man's physique beneath which a blow is barred by the rules of manly sport.

"Foul, foul," shrieked a voice wondrously familiar to the captain.

He peered past a bulky gentleman by his side and there stood Mr. Bowly, red faced and angry, shaking his fist under the nose of a man who was in a deep voice denouncing him as a liar.

The captain shrunk back behind his bulky companion and remained hidden until the Kid with a fierce rally had transformed the Gamecock's face into a mass of bruised and bloody flesh and was hailed victor.

Collecting his bet the captain slunk away with the certainty that he had not been seen by Mr. Bowly and entering the woods drew out the package from his pocket and took a long dram of spirits. Then he hastened home and informed his spouse that he had taken a walk for indigestion.

That afternoon the captain walked down the street with that pleasant feeling that is the concomitant of a bet of ten pounds won by keen knowledge of "form" when he met Mr. Bowly.

That gentleman's usually benign countenance was ruffled as if some unpleasant circumstance had happened to him during the morning.

"I regret, captain," he said, "that we were misinformed as to the place where the fight was to be held. It occurred, I am told, somewhere to the north."

"Hit was a great pity," remarked the captain. "Hi couldn't go with the constable this morning. Hit's a great pity."

"I couldn't go, either," said Mr. Bowly, "and I regret greatly this miscarriage of justice."

And the captain continued his walk slowly shaking his head.

GERMANY TO BUILD CANALS.

Waterways Costing an Enormous Sum Planned by the Government.

According to United States Consul General Guenther, Frankfurt, Germany, the committee on canals of the Prussian diet has reported with a favorable recommendation a bill providing for the following construction:

1. A navigable canal between the Rhine and Weser, with a connection to Hanover, and the canalization of the Lippe:

(a) A canal from the Rhine, Ruhrort, to the Dortmund-Ems canal or the vicinity of Herne (Rhine-Herne canal), inclusive of a branch canal from Datteln to Hamm; estimated cost, $17,731,000.

(b) Additional works on the Dortmund-Ems canal between Dortmund and Bevergern; estimated cost, $1,463,700.

(c) A canal from the Dortmund-Ems canal, Bevergern, to the river Weser, connecting with Hanover; branch canals to Osnabruck, Minden and Linden, construction of reservoirs in the upper parts of the river Weser and some regulation works of the Weser below Hameln; estimated cost, $28,679,000.

(d) Canalization of the Lippe or construction of branch canals from Weser to the Dortmund-Ems canal, near Datteln, and from Hamm to Lippstadt; estimated cost, $10,614,800.

(e) Improvement of the cultivation of the soil in connection with the works under items a to d, and the completed Dortmund-Ems canal; estimated cost, $1,190,000.

2. A deep waterway between Berlin and Stettin; estimated cost, $19,234,000.

3. Improvement of the waterway between the rivers Oder and Weichsel, also of the river Wartha from the river Netze to the city of Posen; estimated cost, $5,039,650.

4. The canalization of the Oder from the Ostsee to Breslau, experimental works between Breslau and Furstenberg on the Oder, construction of reservoirs; estimated cost, $4,676,700.

The entire cost of the projects named is placed at $34,575,000 marks ($79,628,850).

Beginning of "Lloyds."

Two centuries ago a man who had a cargo to send to the Mediterranean contrived to get rid of some of the risk by inducing a friend to take an interest with him. It was necessary to write out a statement of contract to which the guarantors subscribed; this was the first underwriting. These two men happened to be frequenters of Lloyd's coffee house in London, which was a favorite place for the merchants of the town to gather to discuss business or to gossip. Others immediately saw the advantage of the scheme which their colleagues had devised, and on the next voyage the risk was parceled out among a larger number of the patrons of the coffee house. Out of this small beginning has grown the great European maritime agency, still bearing the name of the humble coffee house.

Statesmen Born in 1818.

With the death of Mr. Boutwell passes the last of the seven governors of Massachusetts who were born in 1818. The others were: William Claflin, born at Milford March 6; John Albion Andrew, born at Windham, Me., May 31; Henry Joseph Gardner, born at Dorchester June 14; Alexander Hamilton Rice, born at Newton Aug. 30; Thomas Talbot, born at Cambridge, N. Y., Sept. 7, and Benjamin Franklin Butler, born at Deerfield, N. H., Nov. 5. As Mr. Boutwell was born in January, it will be seen that only February, April, July, October and December of 1818 failed to give birth to a Massachusetts governor.

Roger's Song.

Who loves the rose without a thorn? Not I.
No guardian darts around her close.
For every passing hand she blows.
With every touch her bloom is straw—
I love no rose without a thorn. Not I.

Who loves the bee without a sting? Not I.
'Tis but a stupid, idle drone
May live a feeble life alone.
And be so dull and poor a thing—
I love no bee without a sting. Not I.

Who loves a maid without a will? Not I.
A worthless rose, a stinging bee,
A will-less maid, are not for me.
Give me the sweet wild briar still—
I love no maid without a will. Not I.

"Sweetbriar," by Dorothea G. Browne.

Astonishing Claim of Mixed Blood.

Daniel Murray, long an assistant in the library of congress, is preparing a historical review of the exploits of negroes and persons of mixed blood in literature and other fields. Mr. Murray said in a recent interview: "To the great mass of readers it will be news that Robert Browning was an octoroon. The same may be said of Alexander Hamilton, Alexander Pushkin, Russia's greatest poet, was a quadroon."

TUBERCULOSIS IN CHILDREN

Appalling Mortality Among the Little Ones Due to This Cause—Proper Attention to Health of Mothers Would Save Many Lives

The number of deaths due to tuberculosis is tremendous. When the word is spoken one instinctively thinks of pulmonary consumption. This is the form which attacks adults and which we see daily gathering in its victims. There are other forms, however, more common in children, that levy tribute upon them without calling attention to the relationship between these diseases and consumption of the lungs.

Dr. Jacobi is authority for the statement that "Tuberculosis kills as many people, old and young, as diphtheria, croup, whooping cough, scarlatina, measles and typhoid fever taken together." In all of our cities active steps have been taken to protect the people from the above named diseases. Until quite recently, however, a few years at most, nothing was done to reduce the mortality from tuberculosis.

Now, however, the attention of the world, the common people and the health authorities, has been called to its curability and preventability.

The causes, the modes of scattering, and the prevention are all being studied, and an educational campaign is on to wipe out this "white terror."

The children suffer from tuberculosis of the bones, the bowels and lymph glands. Tubercular meningitis is frequently found in early life and is uniformly fatal. Only by careful attention to the food and daily habits can the rising generation be made immune from these varied forms of tuberculosis.

The fact that over one half of all babies born die before they reach the age of five years, proves that the "constitutional capital" bequeathed them is small. Is the proper attention paid to the diet, exercise and out-of-door life of the mother? If this were done, the child would undoubtedly have greater vitality and could by proper care and education live above the tuberculosis of childhood and of adult life.

Cause and Cure of Gastric Catarrh.

Chronic congestion of the stomach, known as gastric catarrh, is usually caused by one of the following errors, or by all of them put together: Eating too much or too fast; swallowing food insufficiently masticated; the use of such coarse foods as cabbage, greens, etc.; mustard, peppercorn, ginger and other condiments and spices; pastry containing animal fats; free fats, which lodge in the stomach and remain there a long time; pork, griddle cakes and burned fats—these are the things that produce gastric catarrh.

The first and most necessary step in the treatment of this disease is to remove the cause of the trouble. We may induce activity of the skin by hot applications followed by cold or hot bath followed by a short application of cold; fomentations followed by a short cold application to the stomach. These treatments are useful, but the most important factor is the regulation of the diet. A fruit diet is best, for the reason that in gastric catarrh there is a great accumulation of germs, which are destroyed by fruit juice. A well-prepared diet of toasted bread, zwieback, granose biscuit, etc., is also useful in these cases.

Bedroom Climate.

A person at the age of sixty years has spent about twenty years of his life in his bedroom. Have you investigated the average sleeping room climate? If you were sent as a missionary to some distant pestilential spot the climate of which was as unhealthy as that of the average bedroom, would you not feel that you were risking a great deal for the sake of the heathen?

On the tombstone of tens of thousands of those who have died from tuberculosis might appropriately be inscribed, "Disease and death were invited and encouraged by a death-dealing bedroom climate."

To show that this is no exaggeration it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that fully half of the tubercular patients placed in outdoor consumptive hospitals make a satisfactory recovery. If fresh air will cure the disease, it is certainly a wonderful preventive of it. It is not more reasonable to deliberately breathe impure air than it is to drink impure water or to eat unhealthful food or wear infected clothing.

Tender-Hearted Savages.

One of the most anomalous features of our Christian civilization is the slaughter house, especially the abattoirs of our great cities, where veritable torrents of blood perpetually flow, the ebbing life of millions of innocents which die that man may feast.

Indians are not noted for being over-sensitive; and particularly despise any exhibition of weakness. The interior of a slaughter-house, however, is said to have proved too much for their powers of self-control. The Chicago Record states that "a party of fifteen Blackfoot Indians recently visited the killing room of Armour's plant. One fainted, three more were ill, the rest covered up their eyes. They were hurried out of the place into the fresh air."

A Good Reform.

The abominable practice of wearing long skirts for the street is dying out. Pretty as it is to see a summer dress negligently trailed over a smooth lawn jeweled with daisies, the sight of a woman dragging her gown in the street, sweeping up the filth and collecting millions of microbes, is a revolting spectacle; and yet with a long skirt the only alternative is to hold it up, a practice which induces cramp in the arm, as well as cold fingers in winter, and gives a decidedly ungraceful walk and attitude.

A Cure for Cold Feet.

An excellent and simple remedy for cold feet is the application of cold water. Step into the bathtub, let the cold water run in a little faster than it runs out. Standing in the water, rub one foot with the other, rapidly, ten or twelve times. Then change and treat the other foot in the same manner. Keep up this alternate rubbing for about three minutes. The feet will have become very red, and as you step out of the water, you will find them burning and glowing with the warm blood brought into them by this means.

Some Chinese Baths.

A traveler in Mongolia writes: "There are some hot springs on the road about twenty miles north of Chingping. The place is named Tangshan. The arrangements for those anxious to benefit by their healing properties are very primitive. A row of twenty to thirty wooden boxes the size of an ordinary packing case is ranged beside the road. In these sit bathers of every age and both sexes, with their heads protruding. Attendants with buckets continually refill the boxes from the springs. For less luxurious bathers there is accommodation in a pool which has been dug out close by. In this they squat, scooping up the water and pouring it over their heads with brass basins. It is curious to reflect that establishments like Homburg and Aix-les-Bains have had their origin in such beginnings."

Training the Skin.

The usual effect of a draft of cold air upon the back of the neck is a cold and a sore throat. Many years ago Dr. Brown Segard, an eminent French physician, devised a means by which sore throat from this cause might be prevented. By blowing upon the back of the neck with a pair of bellows, increasing the time each day, he trained his patients until they could endure this treatment for half an hour without injury.

It is not necessary to be exposed to a draft of air on the back of the neck in order to obtain this result. By means of the cold bath, towel friction, rub, the shower bath, towel friction, etc., the skin may be educated to contract on the slightest increase of cold.

Daily exposure to the contact of cold air is of the utmost importance. It is because of the constant exposure to cold that the Indian's body is "all face"—the skin of his whole body has learned to take care of itself.

Dr. Lorenz Strict Teetotaler.

At a banquet given by Dr. Lorenz, wine was served. He pushed the wineglass aside. Someone enquired if he was a total abstainer. He answered:

"I am a surgeon. My success depends upon having a clear brain, a steady nerve, and firm muscles. No one can take any form of alcohol without blunting these physical powers; therefore, as a surgeon, I must not use any form of spirits."—Journal of Inebriety.

In Harmony with Nature.

Modern science as well as experience has shown that contact with natural surroundings, especially fresh air, sunshine and the ozone emanations from growing plants, has marvelous health-imparting virtues. In these natural agencies is active the power which created and maintains all things and which is constantly communicated to all living things as the essential condition of continued life. The more closely man comes to Nature, the more deeply he may drink from the fountain of life and healing. To live in harmony with Nature in the fullest and truest sense is to live in harmony with God; and to live in divine harmony is to be happy.

How to Resist Old Age.

A chain is as weak as its weakest link. The body is as weak as its weakest organ. To combat the onward march of old age all organs must be marshaled to harmonious resistance. This resistance can be developed best by cultivating "reaction." This means that the body forces act against some external stimulation and overcome it.

The best developer of reaction is cold—either cold air or cold baths. This must be done gradually, especially if one is already weak. Cultivate the power of resistance by daily exposure to cold air. Live out of doors as much as possible. The ability to resist cold will also enable one to resist pneumonia, dyspepsia, apoplexy, diabetes, obesity, old age.

The cold morning bath is a wonderful youth preserver. Try it. Begin carefully. At first rub face, arms and chest with the hands dipped in cold water. Then the rest of the trunk and the legs. Dry quickly and exercise for ten or fifteen minutes. In a month you will hardly know yourself. Try it.

DEPOSED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ACCEPTS LESSER POST.

Gen. Kuropatkin has been appointed commander of the First Manchurian army at his own request. The appointment is gazetted in the Official Messenger today.

The change exactly reverses the old order of affairs, when Kuropatkin was the supreme leader and Linvitch directed the army.

When Gen. Kuropatkin started southward from Harbin thousands of civilians and soldiers gathered at the station and gave him a great ovation. Above thundering hurrahs were heard cries of "God send you happiness." "Good-by, brother." "Good-by, father." As the train started soldiers rushed forward in a surging crowd and grasped the hand rail of the carriage, throwing fur caps in the air and running some distance with the car. The scene made a deep impression on Gen. Kuropatkin, down whose face tears streamed. Removing his cap, he saluted again and again and stood bareheaded on the platform of the car as long as the train was in sight.

The Breathitt Feud.

Judge James Hargis, his nephew, Elbert Hargis, and Sheriff Edward Callahan, of Breathitt county, were held without bail on charges of complicity in the feud which resulted in the murder of James Cockrill, at Jackson, Ky., three years ago. State Senator Alexander Hargis, arrested in the same connection, was released on $15,000 bail.

Cockrill was shot and killed from ambush at Jackson. Curtis Jett, who had been sentenced to death for connection with the crime, has been granted a new trial. Thomas White is under life sentence for complicity in the crime. All of the men arrested in connection with the killing are prominent in Kentucky business and political affairs, and few murder cases have created as much stir as this one.

James Hargis is still judge of Breathitt county and the question arose as to who would act in his stead. "Breck" Combs, of Breathitt, was recently appointed magistrate for that county, and Judge Hargis requested him to hold the term of the county court, which will convene next week.

THE MARKETS.

Detroit—The cattle market has not been brisk, prices being about the same as last week, 10c to 15c less being paid for common stuff, the close ranging at these figures for all kinds. Stock and feeders brought fair prices from country purchasers. Common cow stuff of all kinds sold very poorly, mixed cows and springers being dull and $5 to $5.50 lower than the bulk of sales were below $5 per hundred and lower than they were a week ago. Hogs: Quality poor; market 10c to 15c higher than last week, light to good butchers, $5.15 to $5.25; pig, $4.90 to $5.00; roughs, $4.50 to $4.60. Sheep: Best grades sold at $7.75. At the close they were about 25c lower than last week. Clipped lambs, $6.00 to $6.25.

Chicago—Good to prime steers, $5.15 to $5.25; poor to medium, $4.85 to $5.00; and feeders, $4.50 to $4.75; cows, $2.80 to $3.00; heifers, $3.50 to $3.75; canners, $1.50 to $1.75; bulls, $2.50 to $2.75; calves, $3.50 to $3.75; mixed and feeders, $4.15 to $4.35; rough to choice, heavy, $3.25 to $3.45; good heavy, $3.15 to $3.35; light, $3.10 to $3.30; bulk of sales at $3.10 to $3.30. Sheep—Good to prime, $5.75 to $5.90; fair to choice mixed, $4.50 to $4.70; western sheep, $4.60 to $4.80; fair to choice mixed, $4.80 to $5.00; western sheep, $4.80 to $5.00; native lambs, $5.50 to $5.75; western lambs, $4.40 to $4.65.

East Buffalo—Best export steers, $5.25 to $5.35; best 1st to 1st shipping steers, $4.75 to $5.00; 900 to 1,000 ditto, $4.25 to $4.50; best fat cows, $3.75 to $4.00; fair to good, $3.50 to $3.75; trimmers, $3.40 to $3.60; best fat heifers, $3.50 to $3.75; medium heifers, $3.25 to $3.50; common stock heifers, $2.50 to $2.75; best feeding steers, 900 to 1,000, dehorned, $3.50 to $3.80; best yearling steers, $3.25 to $3.50; common stockers, $2.50 to $2.75; export bulls, $4.25 to $4.50; botomina bulls, $2.25 to $2.50. The fresh cow trade was about steady with last week; good to export, $1.75 to $2.00; medium to good, $1.50 to $1.75; common, $1.25 to $1.50. Calves steady; tops, $1.25 to $1.50; fair to good, $1.00 to $1.25; common, $1.00 to $1.25.

Hogs—Mixed medium and heavy, $5.65 to $5.75; mostly $5.70; Yorkers, $5.60 to $5.70; pigs, $5.30 to $5.40; closed steady.

Grain, Etc.

Detroit: Sales and prices in this market were as follows: Wheat—No. 2 red spot and May, $1.13; No. 10, 10.00 bu at $1.12; 5,000 bu at $1.13; 5,000 bu at $1.14; 10,000 bu at $1.15; 10,000 bu at $1.16; 10,000 bu at $1.17; 10,000 bu at $1.18; 10,000 bu at $1.19; 10,000 bu at $1.20; 10,000 bu at $1.21; 10,000 bu at $1.22; 10,000 bu at $1.23; 10,000 bu at $1.24; 10,000 bu at $1.25; 10,000 bu at $1.26; 10,000 bu at $1.27; 10,000 bu at $1.28; 10,000 bu at $1.29; 10,000 bu at $1.30; 10,000 bu at $1.31; 10,000 bu at $1.32; 10,000 bu at $1.33; 10,000 bu at $1.34; 10,000 bu at $1.35; 10,000 bu at $1.36; 10,000 bu at $1.37; 10,000 bu at $1.38; 10,000 bu at $1.39; 10,000 bu at $1.40; 10,000 bu at $1.41; 10,000 bu at $1.42; 10,000 bu at $1.43; 10,000 bu at $1.44; 10,000 bu at $1.45; 10,000 bu at $1.46; 10,000 bu at $1.47; 10,000 bu at $1.48; 10,000 bu at $1.49; 10,000 bu at $1.50; 10,000 bu at $1.51; 10,000 bu at $1.52; 10,000 bu at $1.53; 10,000 bu at $1.54; 10,000 bu at $1.55; 10,000 bu at $1.56; 10,000 bu at $1.57; 10,000 bu at $1.58; 10,000 bu at $1.59; 10,000 bu at $1.60; 10,000 bu at $1.61; 10,000 bu at $1.62; 10,000 bu at $1.63; 10,000 bu at $1.64; 10,000 bu at $1.65; 10,000 bu at $1.66; 10,000 bu at $1.67; 10,000 bu at $1.68; 10,000 bu at $1.69; 10,000 bu at $1.70; 10,000 bu at $1.71; 10,000 bu at $1.72; 10,000 bu at $1.73; 10,000 bu at $1.74; 10,000 bu at $1.75; 10,000 bu at $1.76; 10,000 bu at $1.77; 10,000 bu at $1.78; 10,000 bu at $1.79; 10,000 bu at $1.80; 10,000 bu at $1.81; 10,000 bu at $1.82; 10,000 bu at $1.83; 10,000 bu at $1.84; 10,000 bu at $1.85; 10,000 bu at $1.86; 10,000 bu at $1.87; 10,000 bu at $1.88; 10,000 bu at $1.89; 10,000 bu at $1.90; 10,000 bu at $1.91; 10,000 bu at $1.92; 10,000 bu at $1.93; 10,000 bu at $1.94; 10,000 bu at $1.95; 10,000 bu at $1.96; 10,000 bu at $1.97; 10,000 bu at $1.98; 10,000 bu at $1.99; 10,000 bu at $2.00; 10,000 bu at $2.01; 10,000 bu at $2.02; 10,000 bu at $2.03; 10,000 bu at $2.04; 10,000 bu at $2.05; 10,000 bu at $2.06; 10,000 bu at $2.07; 10,000 bu at $2.08; 10,000 bu at $2.09; 10,000 bu at $2.10; 10,000 bu at $2.11; 10,000 bu at $2.12; 10,000 bu at $2.13; 10,000 bu at $2.14; 10,000 bu at $2.15; 10,000 bu at $2.16; 10,000 bu at $2.17; 10,000 bu at $2.18; 10,000 bu at $2.19; 10,000 bu at $2.20; 10,000 bu at $2.21; 10,000 bu at $2.22; 10,000 bu at $2.23; 10,000 bu at $2.24; 10,000 bu at $2.25; 10,000 bu at $2.26; 10,000 bu at $2.27; 10,000 bu at $2.28; 10,000 bu at $2.29; 10,000 bu at $2.30; 10,000 bu at $2.31; 10,000 bu at $2.32; 10,000 bu at $2.33; 10,000 bu at $2.34; 10,000 bu at $2.35; 10,000 bu at $2.36; 10,000 bu at $2.37; 10,000 bu at $2.38; 10,000 bu at $2.39; 10,000 bu at $2.40; 10,000 bu at $2.41; 10,000 bu at $2.42; 10,000 bu at $2.43; 10,000 bu at $2.44; 10,000 bu at $2.45; 10,000 bu at

CHAPTER XVII.

The Affray at the Tabard.

The words, "The King's Blues will be here," had hardly fallen from her lips before Gil had turned and given a command to Torralne. He found the fellow (and he was not the only one) staring in open-eyed and open-mouthed admiration at Lady Felton; at her lovely shoulders and arms gleaming like ivory through the yellow lace of her gown. Her cloak had slipped from off them. Small blame to him; does not a strong man always admire a beautiful woman?

It required a sharp kick, which Gil meant to be secretly given, but was only too evident, to make him pull himself together and drop his eyes abashed before Gil's stern ones. His consternation and loud "ouch!" caused the men to laugh; even the lady smiled. Upon which he heartened himself to another peck, but Gil would have none of that. He marshaled the men quickly and hastened their exit from the room.

Gil was following, but when he heard the next words of Lady Felton's he stopped.

"One of your men betrayed you," she said.

"Tis Jim Scrugs, the traitor!" Gil cried, and he put himself through the opening after Torralne and his men. I felt pity stir within me for the fellow, traitor though he was. I knew what the reckoning would be when he should meet Gil.

"You are wet, Lady Felton, come nearer the fire," I said, and took her hand in mine.

"Did you not understand me?" she queried with dilated eyes. "I said the guards would be here in twenty minutes or less."

"Twenty minutes is a long time," I answered as I drew her before the fire and seated her.

"Was your prison then so enjoyable you would court it again?" she asked.

"God forbid!" I muttered. "I am afraid you will take cold—you are wet," I touched her dress tightly with my hand.

"Poof, no, only my cloak," she said;

"There was no one," she replied.

"Nell would never have forgiven me if word had not been gotten to you."

"Nell's a charming creature," said I, stung by my lady's way of putting it.

"Charming indeed," she admitted loyally. Then: "I see, sir, that you, too, follow the fashion set by the King. Wouldst rival him? Have a care."

"Rival the King?" I exclaimed. "Not I."

"You would not be the only one. Really she has enough lovers," she said, with a shamed lift in her voice.

"Amen to that," I said fervently.

"She and Lady Felton have between them," she said, "scoured all London till there is not a creature upon two legs but swears fidelity to either one or the other. London is agog with their amours. In Nell's case it may be true, but as for Rosemary Allyn, Lady of Felton, I think she is too proud to give her lips to be kissed by any one but the man she loves."

I looked down deep into her heart through clear mirrors, and what I saw made me tingle through all my being responsive.

"I believe you are right, sir," she said. Then—"But I have not told you how Nell found out that the inn was to be surrounded and you recaptured, and I must hurry, the time will soon be up. You must know first that there are high doings at Whitehall to-night—a dance, and then the King dines with Mistress Nell. Poor me is kept at home. In sooth, sayeth my tante, 'tis not seeming in an Allyn to take up with all the wild doings of a disolute court!'" She mimicked Lady Dwight to a nicety. "So I am kept at home as close as a babe in swaddling clothes. Moreover she has heard rumors that the King has cast his eye upon a new face which suits his fancy. It was at the last ball that the King commanded that I dance with him, so she draws her inference from this, that mine must be the face he admires. Her eyes are ever upon me and I am kept from court functions, lest I fall a victim to his Majesty's fascinations. She regards Mistress Nell with slight favor, and as for Lady Castlemaine she is quite be-

"Nell tried to make the King still see it in the light of a joke," she continued. "She brought her most daring mimicry into play; but cajole she ever so much it was of no avail. The gross insult to his Majesty must be avenged. He gave the order for your rearrest. Nell, finding she could not turn the King from his set purpose, sent me word by Mister Arnold, who wished to come with me, but I insisted upon his going back, for after your escape some one might remember that he had left the ball room and that he was your friend." She had finished.

"It is a rare delight to me to see you, and I thank you," I said, "but you should have let him come with you; it was a dangerous thing to do."

"Twenty minutes, as you said, is a long time," she merely observed, "and it must be nearly up."

"Twenty minutes is all too short for me," I returned. "I would have it twenty times twenty, and times that again—and so as to stretch those minutes somewhat I shall take you home."

"Torralne can escort the lady back and meet us at the marsh west of the town," put in Gil as if he had settled the question. "The horses are at the south wall, by the old well. It lacks a few minutes of the time."

"You have planned very well, Gil," said I, "save in one particular, I, not Torralne, will take the lady back to town."

"No, no," Rosemary cried; "Gil is right. You might be captured on the way."

I smiled at her, nor was I to be persuaded from my purpose. Gil opened his mouth to argue the point, but I cried:

"Quick, they are here—to your men. They are evidently sure of their man, they come with so robust a tread."

He rushed from the room.

I blew out the light. Taking both the lady's cloak and my own, I grasped her hand. Thus we followed mine host of the Tabard through a pantry door, down the kitchen garden path to the south wall, where he immediately left us, hastening back.

Rosemary and I, standing hand in hand, heard the clash of steel upon steel as Torralne and his jolly boys met the King's Blues. The voice of Torralne rose above it all, growling like a bear over a carcass. With Gil it was different. He never uttered an unnecessary word—a name called sharply, a gesture or wave of his sword was enough to the men, who knew him.

I understood affairs. Gil was keeping the men from entering the inn as long as possible. Presently we heard the crash of the heavy oaken door, accompanied by a shout. The Guards rushed for the tap room.

I felt Rosemary's hand tremble in mine. I pressed her fingers warmly to reassure her, and now considered it time to mount our horses, which we could barely discern in the gathering fog. The mizzle had ceased.

What happened after the King's Blues forced the tap room door, I learned later from Gil. He chose from among our men one about my height, and had him in the tap room almost as soon as I had left it. He told him to stand where the firelight would throw his shadow out upon the wall, so that those outside might see it. The Guards advancing saw and immediately fell into the trap. They shouted with loud cries of exultation, as they rushed for the doors and windows.

When the Blues entered, the man, as if taken by surprise, made a dash for the kitchen. The crowd clattered after him. He led them a lively dance about the kitchen, knocking down pots and pans. Being a fellow of resources, and minding Gil's instructions that he should keep the crowd at bay as long as possible, he slid into the cellar, and banging down the door after him clamped it.

MIKADO'S ADVICE TO BOYS.

Wise Precepts Laid Down By Seemingly Enlightened Ruler.

In view of the astounding progress of Japan it is interesting to recall the following rescript which was issued by the emperor to the Japanese schools some fifteen years ago: "Be filial to your parents and affectionate to your brothers; be loving friends; conduct yourselves with modesty and be benevolent to all. Develop your intellectual faculties and perfect your moral powers by gaining knowledge and acquiring a profession. Promote public interests and advance public affairs. Ever respect the national constitution and obey the laws of the country, and, in case of necessity, courageously sacrifice yourselves to the public good." Recent events have proved that the last injunction at least was taken to heart by the youth of Japan.—The Graphic.

The Main Thing.

"A village client of mine had been trying through me for seven years to collect a claim against the government," said the lawyer, "and at last the claim was allowed and I received a check for $8,000."

"As the man was poor I knew that this would be a great windfall for him and it was with considerable exultation that I put the check in my pocket and started for the house. The man himself was away somewhere, but as his wife answered my knock I showed her the check and called out:

"At last, Mrs. Davis—at last!"

"What is it?" she asked.

"The claim has been allowed and here is a check for $8,000."

"Yes, I see," she answered, "but please don't talk quite so loud or you will wake the baby up!"

LIVE STOCK

Buying a Stallion.

It has been mentioned in this and every other farm and live stock journal in the country that our horse-breeding operations have led to the mixing of many kinds of blood rather than the straight breeding of any particular kind until practically pure blood could be obtained. This has not been wholly the farmer's fault. He has made one or two top crosses of the same blood and has later found it impossible to find a stallion of that blood to go on with. This being the case he has perforce used the stallion nearest to him and that one has often been widely different in blood and type from the one first used. Mongrels have resulted from this method of breeding, and we have made little real advance in the production of pure-bred horses of any one breed of the many imported into this country for breeding purposes.

This spring men are again trying to find the kind of stallions they most require and approve of, and, if they cannot be found, they will have as heretofore to breed to any horse that can be most readily used. Meanwhile the stallion peddler is busy throughout the land. He is taking into the country districts imported stallions and forming companies to purchase them. The company consists of prominent farmers in each community, who buy shares in the horse until his price amounts to several thousand dollars. Were the horse always a good individual, always sound, always pure-bred and always deep enough bred to prove prepotent, the price would not count so much as it does at present; for a really prepotent stallion is worth the money now asked for company horses. The trouble is, however, that very many of the stallions imposed upon farm companies are cheap, poor, shallow-bred and often unsound animals. They have come here largely owing to the fact that they could be bought cheaply abroad—from three to five hundred dollars a head—and men are paying a big premium when they combine and invest thousands of dollars in such horses.

But the worst feature of the peddled stallion business is perhaps that the horse bought by the company is often not the one that is most required in a given district. The horse to buy everywhere is the one that is in blood as like as possible to the blood predominating in the veins of the mare stock of the district in which he is to serve. If, for example, Percheron horses have been most used in a district, the advent of a German coach horse, or coach horse of other breed, or even a draft stallion of breed other than the Percheron, does harm, in that he stops progress towards the production of practically pure-bred Percheron horses. It might require but a few additional top-crosses of Percheron blood to arrive at pure-bred horses, but the use of the coach commences a new effort and incidentally destroys the good effect of previous crosses of Percheron blood.

So with all other breeds. In some districts Clydesdales or Shires have long been used and into them the peddler finds his way with Belgian or Percheron stallion, often with a French horse that is not a Percheron, and the company is formed by subtle and hidden methods of persuasion. In his proper sphere each pure-bred stallion is capable of doing grand work in the grading up of our stock, but out of his sphere of usefulness, introduced where there is no blood of his sort, he is often an actual detriment to our horses. We shall say nothing here of the unsound and impotent horses that are sold to companies, of the shady methods of some of the company formers, of the exorbitant prices paid for inferior animals. The chief point we wish to make in this article is that it is high time to wake up to the fact that company horses are not only too dear, but likely to be other than the horses most required in district. The way out of the trouble is for breeders in a district to get together, decide what they want, the breed most likely to give good results, and then go and buy a suitable horse at the headquarters of a reputable breeder or importer. In this way the horse will be bought at a great saving, there will be a number seen to pick from and the right breed at least will be procured. Reputable importers, and there are many of such firms in the country, would be glad to stop peddling horses. They would like to sell at their home stables, and such business would be best for all concerned.—A. S. Alexander in Farmers' Review.

Beef Cow and Calf.

Does it pay in Illinois and neighboring states to keep a cow a year for the sole purpose of rearing a beef calf for the general market? No. This has been proved so often that it seems unnecessary to go into the matter deeply. On land worth $100 per acre and under general methods of agriculture as followed in this country, the man that does this loses money every year. Yet there are a good many farmers scattered through the middle west who make the mistake of trying to do this. Some of them are old fellows that make money with the beef cow and her calf half a century ago when land was worth about nothing. The feed of the animals cost almost nothing and the chief investment was not in the land and the equipment but in the cow herself. Now all conditions have changed.

VICTIM OF MANY DEATHS.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury on Body of Wrecked Sailor.

Records of the ancient city Gorgona, founded in 1640, better known at the present time as York Harbor, Me., contain many quaint and unusual stories of the early life of the town.

At the entrance to York Harbor a bold promontory known as Stage Neck extends some distance into the sea, from which formerly in stormy weather a temporary light in the form of a lantern hoisted upon an upright pole was displayed as a warning to mariners.

One dark winter night a sloop was wrecked on these rocks. A survivor, on being questioned about the catastrophe, said:

"The vessel struck, turned over on her side, and the skipper and another barrel of whiskey rolled overboard."

The local coroner was summoned, and this somewhat startling verdict was returned:

"We find that the deceased fell from the masthead and was killed; he rolled overboard and was drowned; he floated ashore and froze to death and the rats ate him up alive!"—Harper's Weekly.

What the Dentist Says.

Toledo, Ohio, March 27th.—(Special.)—Harry T. Lewis, the well known dentist of 607 Summit street, this city, is telling of his remarkable cure of Kidney Disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was flat on my back and must say I had almost given up all hope of ever getting any help," says Dr. Lewis.

"My kidneys had troubled me for years. The pains in my back were severe and I had to get up several times at night. I tried different medicines but kept on getting worse till I was laid up."

"Then a friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and in about two weeks I started to improve. Now I am glad to admit I am cured and I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

If you take Dodd's Kidney Pills when your kidneys first show signs of being out of order you will never have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel or Rheumatism.

Salzer's Home Builder Corn.

So named because 50 acres produced so heavily, that it proceeds but a lovely home. See Salzer's catalog. Yielded in Ind. 157 bu., Ohio 160 bu., Tenn. 198 bu., and in Mich. 220 bu. per acre. You can beat this record in 1905.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THESE YIELDS?

120 bu. Beardless Barley per acre.
310 bu. Salzer's New National Oats per A.
80 bu. Salzer's Speltz and Macaroni Wheat.
1,000 bu. Pedigree Potatoes per acre.
14 tons of rich Billion Dollar Grass Hay.
60,000 lbs. Victoria Rape for sheep—per A.
100,000 lbs. Treosinte, the fodder wonder.
54,000 lbs. Salzer's Superior Fodder Corn—rich, juicy fodder, per A.

Now such yields you can have in 1905, if you will plant my seeds.

"Dog Trot" a Misnomer.

"Dogs have a variety of gaits," said the boss of the kennels, "therefore I can't understand why it is that people who describe a certain style of locomotion always call it a dog trot. Judging by the universality of that expression, a body would think that a dog never moves any other way than on a trot. But he does. All the gaits belonging to other four-footed animals are also his. He runs, he lope, he even racks and paces, so when a person in a hurry falls into a peculiar kind of canter, there would be just as much sense in speaking of his gait as a dog run or a dog gallop, once in a while, as always to call it a dog trot."

Forest of Dwarf Trees.

The most extraordinary forest in the world is one discovered by Dr. Welwitsch, which occupies a tableland some six miles broad, at a height of 300 feet or 400 feet above the sea, near the West Coast of Africa. The trunks of the trees of this peculiar forest are 4 feet in diameter, and yet they only attain a height of 1 foot, giving the tree the appearance of a round table. There are never more than two leaves, which attain a length of 6 feet and a breadth of 2 feet, the flowers forming crimson clusters.

RESTORED HIS HAIR

Scalp Humor Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment—After All Else Had Failed.

"I was troubled with a severe scalp humor and loss of hair that gave me a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience. After unsuccessful efforts with many remedies and so-called hair tonics, a friend induced me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The humor was cured in a short time, my hair was restored as healthy as ever, and I can gladly say I have since been entirely free from any further annoyance. I shall always use Cuticura Soap and I keep the Ointment on hand to use as a dressing for the hair and scalp. (Signed) Fred K. Busche, 213 East 57th St., New York City."

A 480-ACRE FARM YIELDS 25 PER CENT PROFIT IN A YEAR

What a Mercer County (Ohio) Farm Received from One Year's Crop. Extracts from an interesting letter from P. H. Ryndard, of State, Manitoba, Canada, gives an excellent idea of the prosperity of those who have gone from the United States to Canada. He says:

"I bought, August, 1903, 480 acres of land, paying $12,000 for it. I threshed 2,973 bushels of wheat between 1,200 and 1,300 bushels of oats and barley from 200 acres. part of the wheat went down to filling and was not harvested for hay. The crop was worth threshing time, $3,000. Besides acres laying idle except a time meadow, which is not included in estimate. Counting the value of product and the increase of value land will pay me more than 25 per cent on the investment. Two years in the same neighborhood I have not done a single thing to land except to fence it and break cultivate about one-half of it. I've lost last year 28 bushels wheat per acre. This year 27 bushels per acre. They can get any day $25 per bushel. These are only a few of many evidences of such chances. It looks like boasting, but truth is justifiable in the world ought to know it, especially the home-seeker. I know of a few farmers that have made times in from 10 to 20 years, with from $20,000 to $100,000."

Writing concerning another in the Canadian West, S. L. says:

"Dear Sir—I have to inform that I have just returned from Carrot River Country in Saskatchewan, where I located land of the finest black vegetable loam, which I am proud of, and will move in spring. Farmers are still poor there. A mild climate and beautiful country to behold. Cattle are running outside. Wood and good. Saw oats weighing 42 lb. to bushel. Potatoes large and ripened; also wheat that has sold here 82 cents. The country exceeded my expectations. Saw one stock, thicker on the ground than appears in many of the illustrations sent out in descriptive pamphlets have been in many western countries but the soil excels any I ever saw. The Canadian Government at different points report that the country for literature and rates, &c., to Western Canada, the greatest in the history of work."

MISS BULL RECOVERED

FEARFUL DECLINE OF STRENGTH COMPLETELY ARRESTED

Medical Skill Had Almost Exhausted In Vain Attempts to Relieve Her Remarkable Result.

The recovery of Miss Gertrude is of great interest to the medical world. A very bad cough followed a severe attack of pneumonia. It seemed impossible to break it up or to restore strength, which had been sadly undermined. In spite of the best efforts of the doctors and the use of several tried modes of treatment her condition daily grew more serious. She discontinued all medicine and gave up to despair.

"What was your condition at the time?" she was asked.

"My stomach was so weak I could keep food down. I suffered from constant nausea. My kidneys were in a terrible condition. My feet and ankles swollen so badly that it pained me to stand on them. I was very nervous. My heart was in bad shape so I could not go up and down stairs or exertion or sleep in a natural position. It seems a wonder that you have ever recovered. How did it happen?"

"You may well call it a miracle. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills wrought. None of my friends thought I could many months longer. My parents had no hope. Just then a pamphlet telling Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People was thrown in my door. It was a great event for me. These pills me from the grave. Within a week the time I began to take them I was well. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly and I declare that my experience may bring some other sufferers."

Miss Bull, who was so remarkably cured, resides at Union Grove, Wis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act immediately on the blood, purifying and enriching it. In all debilitating diseases, such as run troubles, grip, fevers, and cases in which the system is thrown down, these pills perform a great work. They are sold by all druggists and out of the world. A valuable book, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent to any one who applies for it to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

ITS MERIT IS PROVED RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Prominent Cincinnati Woman Tells
How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"About nine months ago I was a great sufferer with womb trouble, which caused me severe pain, extreme nervousness and frequent headaches, from which the doctor failed to relieve me. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and within a short time felt better, and after taking five bottles of it I was entirely cured. I therefore heartily recommend your Compound as a splendid uterine tonic. It makes the monthly periods regular and without pain; and what a blessing it is to find such a remedy after so many doctors fail to help you. I am pleased to recommend it to all suffering women."

Correspondent Tells of Most Terrible Scenes of the War

"What is the most terrible scene
you have witnessed on the battlefields of the Far East?" is a question I am often asked, writes Mr. F. A. McKenzie, war correspondent of the London Daily Mail.

The question is not easily answered, for war is a thing of accumulating horrors.
The most tragic detail in modern fighting is the injury inflicted on women and children. Few of us who were present at the battle of Liaoyang will ever forget the sight of the wounded babies in arms, the mothers shot accidentally while nursing their children and the boys, scarce able to toddle, cut down by shrapnel fire.

No scene stands out more vividly than the horrors of Rice Cake Hill, the Spion Kop of Manchuria. A battle raged around this for nearly a week, and the hill was taken and retaken by either side. At the end it was a horrible shambles, gorged with blood.

I was with Gen. Kuroki's army
when it made its quick move around Liaoyang and sought to cut off Kou-ropatkin's retreat. We found ourselves held up by the Russians on three fortified hills, and our troops at once set out to attack the central defense.

Six batteries of Japanese artillery, standing out boldly on a ridge of the hills, engaged the Russians on the valleys. The heavens seemed covered with bursting shells as with a curtain.
The Russians fired thousands of rounds in reply.

When the full chorus of artillery
began, and each second had its racking explosion, we held our breath.
Tant nerves and electrified brains pictured the scene in front.

"My God—my God!" burst from the lips of a hardened fighter at my side.
"Can a man be left alive?"

Yet when the Russians made momentary pause, quick reply came.
First one gun spoke, then came a succession of flashes, and our gunners, jumping out of the narrow pits they had dug for shelter places, poured out round upon round.

The sun sank behind the heavens.
Suddenly a tremendous crackle, caused by thousands of infantry volley firing, struck our ears, and the lines of spitting brightness showed that our infantry attack on the central hill had begun. Our soldiers, who had been creeping closer through the millet, rushed the village at the foot of the hill, and prepared to ascend.
There were gullies up one side of the hill, through which they could creep,
but they were greeted with so heavy
a fire that even the fearless Japanese soldiers paused.

Then their officers sprang up. One,
with drawn sword, rushed where the firing was thickest, shouting before he fell: "Now is the time to die for the Emperor!" Others took up the cry, and the whole body of men moved forward.

"What could we do?" the soldiers
asked me afterwards, when telling me of their rush. "What could we do but follow when our officers led the way?"

On the Russian side beating drums bade the men stand fast; on the Japanese, bugle calls encouraged advance. Shouts of exultation, of en-

WANTED TO HELP HIM OUT. ONE TOAST ALWAYS POPULAR.

Believer in Health Fad Victim of Humiliating Mistake.

A certain man well known in local real estate circles recently became a
convert of the physical culture craze.
In addition to certain prescribed exercises, he was made to believe that
the wearing of an overcoat was merely a matter of habit and that any healthy being should be ashamed to be seen with one on. His three overcoats (one of them a handsome fur-lined garment) were therefore laid
aside, and much to his surprise he experienced no inconvenience. One morning, as he sallied forth, he made
a mental note of the fact that the
mercury was exceedingly low, while
a light snow was falling. Nothing
daunted, however, he walked briskly
on. As he was crossing a small
street a short distance from his place
of business, he was suddenly accosted
by a rather seedy-looking individual,
who, with a glance, eyed him from
head to foot and then, with the air of Sense and Figures.

The difference between common sense and arithmetic was illustrated in a remark which Tommy Jones—who is not exceptionally bright, but just a common, natural boy—made in his class at school the other day. It was the lesson in mental arithmetic.
The teacher asked Willie Smith:
"Which would you rather have,
Willie, half an apple or eight-six-teenths of an apple?"

"Wouldn't make any difference," said Willie.

"Why not?"
"Eight-sixteenths and one-half are all the same."

At this reply Tommy Jones, who was several steps lower down the class, sniffed scornfully. The teacher heard him.

"Well, Tommy," said he, "don't you agree with Willie?"

"No, sir," said Tommy. "I'd a good deal rather have one-half an apple."

"And why, please?"
"More juice. Cut up half an apple into eight-sixteenths and you'd lose half the juice doing it."

courage, of defiance, and of agony rent the air.

A night attack has horrors all its own, and the horrors of many night attacks seemed concentrated here. The hillsides were already slippery with human blood. Men found themselves hampered by the still forms of the dead lying around. In deeds of heroism each side rivaled the other, but the Japanese, alert, athletic, courageous, were the stronger men, and before dawn came they were masters of the hill.

We held the hill all day, our soldiers digging holes in the earth and crouching in them for shelter from the pouring shell fire. As darkness drew near, the sound of music swept across the valley. The Japanese looked up and saw on the opposite hill massed Russian bands of musicians assembled and blaring out, flauntingly and defiantly the Russian national anthem. The Japanese heard undismayed. They had no bands, but they assembled their buglers, and, with equal defiance, played back the Japanese national air.

Darkness fell. The Japanese soldiers crept from their gullies and lined the trenches round the hill. Suddenly, right from the ground immediately in front of their trenches lights flashed out, soldiers jumped to their feet to fire downward. As they rose, bombs were thrown at them, exploding with horrible effect wherever they touched.
The Russian pioneers, throwing away their lives for their fatherland, had crawled right up under the trenches with infinite care, and had hurled hand grenades into the Japanese line.

The Japanese front was shaken;
then came the pouring ranks of the Russian storming party, and a hand-to-hand fight on the hill followed, lasting for seven hours.

Pen fails to convey the slightest impression of the horrors of that time.
An examination of the weapons and dress left on the field might do something. Here were the rifles splintered at the magazine-case, where a soldier had been shot as he raised his weapon to fire. Here were others with shattered stocks, here bent bayonets, riddled hats, drums, with holes through and across them, showing where bullets had gone.

The Japanese rallied and as the Russians advanced on their second line they met them with a steady fire.
Line after line of Russians fell, as though the Angel of Death had drawn a straight furrow. The ground became, and remained for many days
after, literally soaked with blood.
Now men were firing at one another within a few yards; now rifle-stocks
did work more deadly than bullets.

In the end the Russians re-took the hill, but they could not hold it, for their army was retiring all along the rest of the line.

A few hours later I stood on the hill. The sickly smell of the dead was in the air. Blood was everywhere. In the valleys below, thick, nauseating smoke was pouring up from the points where the Japanese were heaping their own dead and burning them. As I gazed at the lines of the dead I realized that this was the culmination of the horrors of war.

WANTED TO HELP HIM OUT. ONE TOAST ALWAYS POPULAR.

Believer in Health Fad Victim of Hu-
miliating Mistake.

A certain man well known in local
real estate circles recently became a
convert of the physical culture craze.
In addition to certain prescribed exercises, he was made to believe that
the wearing of an overcoat was merely a matter of habit and that any
healthy being should be ashamed to be seen with one on. His three over-
coats (one of them a handsome fur-lined garment) were therefore laid
aside, and much to his surprise he experienced no inconvenience. One
morning, as he sallied forth, he made
a mental note of the fact that the
mercury was exceedingly low, while
a light snow was falling. Nothing
daunted, however, he walked briskly
on. As he was crossing a small
street a short distance from his place
of business, he was suddenly accosted
by a rather seedy-looking individual,
who, with a glance, eyed him from
head to foot and then, with the air of
a confidence man, exclaimed:
"Say, pard, do you want to buy a paw ticket for a good overcoat?"—

An Expensive Bouquet.

Joseph Chamberlain is known to have other interests than protection.
He has long been a collector of orchids, his collection being one of the finest in the world. During a recent visit to Paris he saw a rare orchid,
the duplicate of which he had added
to his collection with the idea that it was the only one of its kind in the world. He asked the price of the flower and was told 20,000 francs.
Chamberlain instantly paid the money, and then, throwing the flower on the floor, ground it to pieces with his foot.

Tomato Packing States.

In marked contradistinction to the phenomenal corn pack of the year the quantity of tomatoes packed in 1904
shows a decrease of about 16 per cent, compared with the previous year's output. The total number of cases for the United States is placed at 8,671,000. Maryland leads among individual state records with nearly 3,500,000 cases. Indiana ranks second, with little more than 1,000,000, and
New Jersey third, with 800,000.

GOOD ADVICE FOR ALL. Cultivate Calmness If You Wish Health and Happiness.

A beautiful woman gave the following advice to a girl admirer: "Shield your nerves and don't let them become too sensitive. Make yourself take life calmly. If you lose a train don't pace the platform wildly, but inquire when the next comes in, and sit down calmly to wait for it. That's just what most women don't do; they sit down, perhaps, but they tap the floor with their feet, clench and unclench their hands, and are apparently in a fever heat of excitement over the arrival of every train that comes in, even though they have been assured that theirs is not due for another half hour. That half hour of waiting means to them
a frightful wear and tear of nerves and they are practically weeks older for it. Try to cultivate calmness, but, if you cannot do that all at once, you can keep your face still."

Rest for the Bedridden.

In cases where absolute rest of the body is necessary, and the patient gets very weary of lying still, a most welcome rest and change to the limbs can be managed by the nurse raising the knees of the patient well up in bed, and then putting a good, substantial pillow or bolster well packed underneath them. In time, of course,
the patient wearies of this position,
then the support should be withdrawn, and fresh relief is afforded.
This would also give great comfort to people partly paralyzed.

Spoons of Early Days.

All the earliest spoons have pear-shaped bowls. It was not until the latter part of the seventeenth century that they began to elongate toward the egg-shaped spoon of the present time. Up to the seventeenth century all spoons were large and closely resembled the soup spoon which has been in use for the last five or six years, the bowl being very deep.

Character in Laughter.

More than anything else, laughter reveals our common humanity, for it is much easier for us to understand the

to appreciate their excellences and ideals.

Don't Know It Is Catarrh.

Mr. David L. Jaycox, Chaplain

"I am an old war veteran. I contracted severe bladder and kidney trouble. I spent hundreds of dollars and consulted a host of doctors, but neither did me any good.

"Peruna has proven the best medi-

THE SECRET OF GOOD COFFEE

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored

LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee.

Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use 2½ tablespoons to each cup, and one extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3. Don't boil it too long.
Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving.
DON'TS (Don't use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future.

(Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.)

Every Heart-Ache

Every pain in the breast, difficult breathing, palpitation, fluttering or dizzy spell means that your heart is straining itself in its effort to keep in motion. This is dangerous.

Some sudden strain from over-exertion or excitement will completely exhaust the nerves, or rupture the walls or arteries of the heart, and it will stop.

Relieve this terrible strain at once with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It invigorates and strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, stimulates the heart action, and relieves the pain and misery.

Take no chances; make your heart strong and vigorous with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by different physicians for my trouble without results. I went to a physician in Memphis, who claimed that I had dropsy of the heart. He put the X-ray on me, and in connection with his medicine he came near making a finish of me. Some time before this a Mr. Young, of St. Louis, was in our town. He saw my condition, and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to me. I gave it little attention until my return from Memphis, when I concluded to try it, and am pleased to say three bottles cured me."

An exchange says: "In Persia they boil their public grafters in oil. How would it do to stew our Standard Oil magnates in their own juice?"

At the caucuses Saturday afternoon both parties put good tickets in the field. There should be no trouble in securing good township officers this year.

President Roosevelt has scarcely got well seated in the saddle for his four years' guidance of the chariot of state, but already there are five men named as Republican candidates for the presidency in 1908. American enterprise is certainly commendable, and taking time by the forelock is sometimes a cardinal virtue, but such unseemly haste as is evinced by these gentlemen does not look well at all.

Present indications are that Congressman Charles E. Townsend will meet with no opposition to his re-nomination to the position he has so well and ably filled. W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, who had aspirations to the nomination, has decided to forego his ambition and has announced himself as an advocate of Mr. Townsend's candidacy. Mr. Wedemeyer deserves the thanks of the Republicans of the second district for this action, which is in the interest of peace and harmony all round.

Auditor-General Bradley has 38 as fine girl clerks in his office as can be found anywhere. He also has hundreds of applications from political friends all over the state who would like to hold one of the clerkships in the office. The Doctor would like to invoke the aid of Cupid, the mischievous little god of love, to assist him in cutting this Gordian knot. He says the girls never get married so long as they hold on to a clerkship, but just as soon as they are dropped from the office they drop into homes of their own. He, therefore, wants suggestions and help from all persons interested.

MORE LOCAL.

Ypsilanti will hold a home coming festival this summer.

The Portage Telephone Co., of West Waterloo, talks of extending its line to Grass Lake.

The Chelsea Lumber & Produce Co. has begun suit against the National Peat Fuel Company, et al., to enforce a mechanics' lien of $114.40.

Lafayette Grange will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, in Lima, Wednesday, April 5. Topic for general discussion "Is pork a profitable production for the general farmer?" A paper by Mrs. Wilson and other questions that have already been given out will be discussed. Roll call answered by quotations.

The home Sunday school rally at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon and evening was well attended. Excellent addresses were made at each session by E. E. Calkins, of Ann Arbor. At the afternoon session Rev. E. E. Caster gave a brief address and in the evening Rev. C. S. Jones gave a short talk. A splendid paper on "County Convention Notes," prepared by Mrs. M. G. Hill, was also read by Miss Nellie Hall.

Master Garrett Conway left for New York City Monday. The Ann Arbor Times says he "has an enviable opportunity awaiting him in New York and will average a salary of $100 a week in the event that he will be able to take advantage of the offers that have been made him. This includes his church position, an offer to appear in vaudeville and miscellaneous engagements. In addition he will have the opportunity of studying with one of the greatest New York artists."

The half hour service on the D. Y. A. A. & J. electric line between Ann Arbor and Detroit is to be resumed.

Manager Clark states in an interview given out in Detroit Monday that the matter of increasing the limited service is being considered and that it is possible, when the new Jackson-Lansing line is completed, that the time between Detroit and Jackson may be reduced to two and a half hours and double the number of cars run, alternate cars running to Battle Creek and Lansing.

Over 1,200 People of This County are sending their friends and relatives to Emil H. Arnold, the Optical Specialist with Wm. Arnold, Ann Arbor, for glasses that fit the eye and fit the face.

It will bring rich, red blood, firm flesh and muscle. That is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Taken this month, keeps you well all summer. 35 cents, ten or tablets. Bank Drug Store.

Worthy Philanthropic Work.

Ophthalmic research in Egypt has been endowed with a gift of $200,000 by Sir Ernest Cassel. The chief object to be attained is the training of native doctors to diagnose and treat ophthalmic diseases among their poorer countrymen.

Honor for St. Louis Citizen.

A movement is on foot in St. Louis to erect a handsome monument in Oak Ridge cemetery to the memory of B. Gratz Brown, a former governor of Missouri and a candidate for vice president on the Greeley ticket in 1872.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you, and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and many of the ailments of the face, head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens, Mich., but failed to get better. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Neighborhood Notes.

A petition is being circulated at Manchester asking the L. S. & M. S. railroad to build a new depot at that place.

Grass Lake will enjoy a building boom this summer, several new houses are projected, also additions and repairs to others.

Mrs. Hoyland, of Gregory, has sold her house to F. A. Howlett and her cottage to Bert Wetherbee and will remove to Howell to reside.

Wm. H. Marsh, of Gregory, has rented his store to Mr. Spaulding, of Perry, who will in the near future start a general store and bank.

Mrs. Emily Powell, of Francisco, died Tuesday, March 21, aged 74 years. The funeral was held Thursday last. She was a lifelong resident of Francisco.

The members of the Grass Lake Baptist church are planning to redecorate their house of worship, also to buy a new organ and a new carpet for the auditorium.

Ann Arbor Democrats have made the following nominations: Mayor, Harry W. Douglas; president of the council, Edward A. Staebler; clerk, Ross Granger; justice of the peace, Michael J. Martin.

Amariah Hitchcock, the oldest person in Sharon, who was born in that township, died Monday, March 20, aged 67 years. He was never married. With his sister he lived in the old homestead and worked the 500-acre farm.

Splitting kindling is a hazardous occupation for the men of Munith. Ed. Smith chopped off a finger, B. J. Sutton laid open his foot with an ax and Charles Randolph lost an eye by a flying splinter while engaged in that occupation.

Rev. George Mylne, pastor of the Congregational church at Pinckney, has received a call to become pastor of the First Congregational church at Port Arthur, Texas. The salary is $1,000 a year and the Port Arthur church offers to pay his railroad expenses to that place.

Ypsilanti will wholly adopt standard time April 3. Although using standard time for some time past the hours of labor in factories and shops have been from 6:30 to 11:30 and 12:30 to 5:30. This will now be changed and they will work from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 6. The schools will also alter their hours to conform to the new state of affairs.

Ann Arbor Republicans on Monday evening nominated Francis M. Hamilton for mayor, Eugene S. Gilmore for president of the council, E. L. Seyler for assessor, Andrew E. Gibson for justice of the peace, and endorsed Lieut. Col. Ross Granger (Dem.) for clerk. In some of the wards the Democrats have endorsed the Republican candidates for supervisor and aldermen. Politics do not seem to cut as much figure this year as does the water works question.

Washtenaw Lodge, No. 65, F. & A. M., of Dexter, will build itself a new lodge home. The proposed building is to be 28x60 feet in size, one story high with a basement and built of cement blocks. The ground floor will contain the lodge room and ante-room; in the basement will be located a kitchen, banquet room and club rooms. The location of the building has not been decided upon, but it will be central, and the architecture will be an ornament to the village. It is to cost about $1,500.

Oregon Forest Reservation.

The government has already taken one-fourth of all the land in Oregon and turned it into a forest reservation.

Russia's Wheat Yield.

The average yield of wheat in Russia is less than half that of the United States.

Pleasure-Loving Aristocracy.

The French aristocrats before the revolution were not conspicuous for morality, but they were probably the most highly civilized, witty and intellectual aristocracy the world has ever seen, says the Ladies' Field. Assuredly they would have looked on these card-playing, betting and hunting contemporaries of ours as des rustres. Does one wonder that a reaction took place some years ago, and that the Society of Souls came into being?

Two Cancers Removed.

Chronic Diseases of Lungs Cured in Six Months by a Prominent Jackson Physician After Seven Other Physicians Failed to Give Relief.

R. F. D. No. 6, Jackson, Mich., Jan. 17, 1905.

My wife was very sick with throat, lung, stomach and heart trouble for five years. She could not speak above a whisper for many months and she expectorated quarts of matter every day. Everything she ate disagreed with her, and her throat and mouth were a regular running abscess for months. She was very weak and terribly emaciated. We tried several of Jackson's and other cities' reputable physicians, but none of them gave her relief. I had about lost all hope of her ever recovering, when I took her to Dr. Wilkinson, 25 Dwight Building, Jackson, Mich., last March, when she began to improve at once. He had her comfortable in a few weeks, and in six months he had cured her completely. It has been three months now since she took any medicine, and she has gained forty pounds in weight and is strong and hearty. She eats everything she wants, and no exposure affects her. In this case, at least, Dr. Wilkinson has cured one that several other doctors pronounced incurable.

CHARLES A. NORTON.

CANCER CURED.

R. F. D. No. 4, Grass Lake, Mich., Feb. 28, 1905.

I had two cancers on my face—one on chin and one on left cheek—for five months. The one on my chin was as large as a silver dollar. I failed to get relief elsewhere so I called on Dr. Wilkinson, of Jackson, Mich., Dec. 21, 1904. He removed two large cancers, and today the wounds are completely healed up for the first, and the indications are now that I am completely cured.

GEORGE MAIN.

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

This is a picture of ANDREW B. SPINEY, M. D., the only Dr. Spiney in this country. He has had forty-eight years experience in the study and practice of medicine, two years Prof. in the medical college, ten years in the military service, and he never fails in his diagnosis. He gives special attention to throat and lung diseases making some wonderful cures. Also all forms of nervous diseases, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, etc. He never fails to cure piles.

Prop. Reed City Sanitarium, Reed City, Mich.

nephew of H. B. BUSCOLL, of Lima, and that gentleman attended the funeral which was held Sunday afternoon. It was the largest attended funeral ever held in Stockbridge.

Mrs. Ellen L. Gage, wife of Stephen L. Gage, of Sylvan, died at the family home Tuesday, March 28, after a lingering illness, aged 56 years, 4 months and 23 days. Her husband, one son, Harold Gage, and her brother Orville Burlingame survive her. The funeral services were held at the house this morning Rev. E. E. Caster officiating and the remains were interred in Oak Grove cemetery.

beat them into submissiveness. All of which goes to prove that you cannot play with the fire and not get burnt.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember that after marriage many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestion in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." The Bank Drug Store sells and guarantees them at 50c a bottle.

Every Heart-Ache

Every pain in the breast, difficult breathing, palpitation, fluttering or dizzy spell means that your heart is straining itself in its effort to keep in motion. This is dangerous.

Some sudden strain from over-exertion or excitement will completely exhaust the nerves, or rupture the walls or arteries of the heart, and it will stop.

Relieve this terrible strain at once with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It invigorates and strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, stimulates the heart action, and relieves the pain and misery.

Take no chances; make your heart strong and vigorous with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by different physicians for my trouble without results. I went to a physician in Memphis, who claimed that I had dropsy of the heart. He put the X-ray on me, and in connection with his medicine he came near making a finish of me. Some time before this a Mr. Young, of St. Louis, was in our town. He saw my condition, and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to me. I gave it little attention until my return from Memphis, when I concluded to try it, and am pleased to say three bottles cured me."

CHARLES GOLDRICH, Caruthersville, Mo.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

An exchange says: "In Persia they boil their public grafters in oil. How would it do to stew our Standard Oil magnates in their own juice?"

At the caucuses Saturday afternoon both parties put good tickets in the field. There should be no trouble in securing good township officers this year.

President Roosevelt has scarcely got well seated in the saddle for his four years' guidance of the chariot of state, but already there are five men named as Republican candidates for the presidency in 1908. American enterprise is certainly commendable, and taking time by the forelock is sometimes a cardinal virtue, but such unseemly haste as is evinced by these gentlemen does not look well at all.

Present indications are that Congressman Charles E. Townsend will meet with no opposition to his re-nomination to the position he has so well and ably filled. W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, who had aspirations to the nomination, has decided to forego his ambition and has announced himself as an advocate of Mr. Townsend's candidacy. Mr. Wedemeyer deserves the thanks of the Republicans of the second district for this action, which is in the interest of peace and harmony all round.

Auditor-General Bradley has 38 as fine girl clerks in his office as can be found anywhere. He also has hundreds of applications from political friends all over the state who would like to hold one of the clerkships in the office. The Doctor would like to invoke the aid of Cupid, the mischievous little god of love, to assist him in cutting this Gordian knot. He says the girls never get married so long as they hold on to a clerkship, but just as soon as they are dropped from the office they drop into homes of their own. He, therefore, wants suggestions and help from all persons interested.

The Portage Telephone Co., of West Waterloo, talks of extending its line to Grass Lake.

The Chelsea Lumber & Produce Co. has begun suit against the National Peat Fuel Company, et al., to enforce a mechanics' lien of $114.40.

Lafayette Grange will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, in Lima, Wednesday, April 5. Topic for general discussion "Is pork a profitable production for the general farmer?" A paper by Mrs. Wilson and other questions that have already been given out will be discussed. Roll call answered by quotations.

The home Sunday school rally at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon and evening was well attended. Excellent addresses were made at each session by E. E. Calkins, of Ann Arbor. At the afternoon session Rev. E. E. Caster gave a brief address and in the evening Rev. C. S. Jones gave a short talk. A splendid paper on "County Convention Notes," prepared by Mrs. M. G. Hill, was also read by Miss Nellie Hall.

Master Garrett Conway left for New York City Monday. The Ann Arbor Times says he "has an enviable opportunity awaiting him in New York and will average a salary of $100 a week in the event that he will be able to take advantage of the offers that have been made him. This includes his church position, an offer to appear in vaudeville and miscellaneous engagements. In addition he will have the opportunity of studying with one of the greatest New York artists."

The half hour service on the D. Y. A. & J. electric line between Ann Arbor and Detroit is to be resumed. Manager Clark states in an interview given out in Detroit Monday that the matter of increasing the limited service is being considered and that it is possible, when the new Jackson-Lansing line is completed, that the time between Detroit and Jackson may be reduced to two and a half hours and double the number of cars run, alternate cars running to Battle Creek and Lansing.

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you, and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated. All drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man, and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us cordially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. WE WILL CURE YOU OR NO PAY. NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indigestion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers of the right hand and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians. Three months, went to Mt. Clemens for BEFORE TREATMENT baths, but received little benefit. While AFTER TREATMENT at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors. One day a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could be vigorous going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Neighborhood Notes.

A petition is being circulated at Manchester asking the L. S. & M. S. railroad to build a new depot at that place.

Grass Lake will enjoy a building boom this summer, several new houses are projected, also additions and repairs to others.

Mrs. Hoyland, of Gregory, has sold her house to F. A. Howlett and her cottage to Bert Wetherbee and will remove to Howell to reside.

Wm. H. Marsh, of Gregory, has rented his store to Mr. Spaulding, of Perry, who will in the near future start a general store and bank.

Mrs. Emily Powell, of Francisco, died Tuesday, March 21, aged 74 years. The funeral was held Thursday last. She was a lifelong resident of Francisco.

The members of the Grass Lake Baptist church are planning to redecorate their house of worship, also to buy a new organ and a new carpet for the auditorium.

Ann Arbor Democrats have made the following nominations: Mayor, Harry W. Douglas; president of the council, Edward A. Staebler; clerk, Ross Granger; justice of the peace, Michael J. Martin.

Amariah Hitchcock, the oldest person in Sharon, who was born in that township, died Monday, March 20, aged 67 years. He was never married. With his sister he lived in the old homestead and worked the 500-acre farm.

Splitting kindling is a hazardous occupation for the men of Munith. Ed Smith chopped off a finger, B. J. Sutton laid open his foot with an ax and Charles Randolph lost an eye by a flying splinter while engaged in that occupation.

Rev. George Mylne, pastor of the Congregational church at Pinckney, has received a call to become pastor of the First Congregational church at Port Arthur, Texas. The salary is $1,000 a year and the Port Arthur church offers to pay his railroad expenses to that place.

Ypsilanti will wholly adopt standard time April 3. Although using standard time for some time past the hours of labor in factories and shops have been from 6:30 to 11:30 and 12:30 to 5:30. This will now be changed and they will work from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 6. The schools will also alter their hours to conform to the new state of affairs.

Ann Arbor Republicans on Monday evening nominated Francis M. Hamilton for mayor, Eugene S. Gilmore for president of the council, E. L. Seyler for assessor, Andrew E. Gibson for justice of the peace, and endorsed Lient. Col. Ross Granger (Dem.) for clerk. In some of the wards the Democrats have endorsed the Republican candidates for supervisor and aldermen. Politics do not seem to cut as much figure this year as does the water works question.

Washtenaw Lodge, No. 65, F. & A. M., of Dexter, will build itself a new lodge home. The proposed building is to be 28x60 feet in size, one story high with a basement and built of cement blocks. The ground floor will contain the lodge room and ante-room; in the basement will be located a kitchen, banquet room and club rooms. The location of the building has not been decided upon, but it will be central, and the architecture will be an ornament to the village. It is to cost about $1,500.

Card of Thanks.

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly rendered us material assistance during the illness and death of our mother Mrs. Sarah L. Foster, we wish to return our sincere thanks.

MRS. GEO. GREAGIE AND FAMILY.

School Report.

Report of school in District No. 11, Lyndon, for the month ending March 17. The following have an average standing of 95: Irene and Gertrude Clark; 90, John Clark, Hattie and George Stofer, Cecelia, Raymond, Roland and Herbert McKune, Noble, Guy and Hilia Barton, Gladys, Ileen, Margaret and Lawrence Shanahan; 85, Harry Stofer. Hattie Stofer, Gertrude Clark, Guy and Noble Barton did not misspell a word in written spelling during the month, Irene Clark and Roland McKune missing but one. John Smith, Guy Barton, Roland McKune, Ileen and Gladys Shanahan, George and Henry Stofer were neither absent or tardy during the month.

MARGARET YOUNG, Teacher.

If taken this month, keeps you well all summer. It makes the little ones eat, sleep and grow. A spring tonic for the whole family. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, tea or tablets. Bank Drug Store.

Oregon Forest Reservation.

The government has already taken one-fourth of all the land in Oregon and turned it into a forest reservation.

Russia's Wheat Yield.

The average yield of wheat in Russia is less than half that of the United States.

Pleasure-Loving Aristocracy.

The French aristocrats before the revolution were not conspicuous for morality, but they were probably the most highly civilized, witty and intellectual aristocracy the world has ever seen, says the Ladies' Field. Assuredly they would have looked on these card-playing, betting and hunting contemporaries of ours as des rustres. Does one wonder that a reaction took place some years ago, and that the Society of Souls came into being?

Two Cancers Removed.

Chronic Diseases of Lungs Cured in Six Months by a Prominent Jackson Physician After Seven Other Physicians Failed to Give Relief.

R. F. D. No. 6.

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 17, 1905.

My wife was very sick with throat, lung, stomach and heart trouble for five years. She could not speak above a whisper for many months and she expectorated quarts of matter every day. Everything she ate disagreed with her, and her throat and mouth were a regular running abscess for months. She was very weak and terribly emaciated. We tried several of Jackson's and other cities' reputable physicians, but none of them gave her relief. I had about lost all hope of her ever recovering, when I took her to Dr. Wilkinson, 25 Dwight Building, Jackson, Mich., last March, when she began to improve at once. He had her comfortable in a few weeks, and in six months he had cured her completely. It has been three months now since she took any medicine, and she has gained forty pounds in weight and is strong and hearty. She eats everything she wants, and no exposure affects her. In this case, at least, Dr. Wilkinson has cured one that several other doctors pronounced incurable.

CHARLES A. NORTON.

CANCER CURED.

R. F. D. No. 4.

Grass Lake, Mich., Feb. 28, 1905.

I had two cancers on my face—one on chin and one on left cheek—for 5 months. The one on my chin was as large as a silver dollar. I failed to get relief elsewhere so I called on Dr. Wilkinson, of Jackson, Mich., Dec. 21, 1904. He removed two large cancers, and today the wounds are completely healed up for the first, and the indications are now that I am completely cured.

GEORGE MAIN.

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

This is a picture of ANDREW B. SPINNEY, M.D., the only Dr. Spinney in this country. He has had forty-eight years experience in the study and practice of medicine, two years Prof. in the medical college, ten years in sanitarium work and he never fails in his diagnosis. He gives special attention to throat and lung diseases in making some wonderful cures. Also all forms of nervous diseases, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, etc. He never fails to cure piles.

There is nothing known that he does not use for private diseases of both sexes and by his own special methods he cures where others fail. If you would like an opinion of your case and what it will cost to cure you, write out all your symptoms enclosing stamp for your reply.

ANDREW B. SPINNEY, M.D., Prop. Reed City Sanitarium, Reed City, Mich.

On Monday last Ann Arbor reaped part of the crop she has sowed in her easy manner of dealing with the tramp question. On that day gangs of hoboes paraded the streets, begging at every house and insulting defenseless women. The officers had a hard time to get them out of the city, and on that day they were called to arrest them, and had to beat them into submissiveness. All of which goes to prove that you cannot play with the fire and not get burnt.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember that after marriage many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestion in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." The Bank Drug Store sells and guarantees them at 50c a bottle.
