Four Chelsea People Married During the Past Week.

MULLEN-GERARD.

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, June 20, at 8 o'clock at the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, when Miss Mary Alice Mullen, of this place, and Mr. Frederick P. Gerard, of Detroit, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The couple were attended by Miss Elizabeth Gerard, sister of the groom, and Mr. Henry Mullen, brother of the bride. The bride was gowned in cream Lansdowne trimmed in all-over lace, wore a veil of tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in cream albatross and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

A sumptuous dinner was served to about 40 of the relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen, on Jackson street, after which the happy couple left on the 4:10 train for Detroit, where the groom has prepared a beautiful home for his bride.

Miss Mullen has for the past eight years been employed by Parke, Davis & Co., of Detroit, where she started as an ordinary employee, but gradually worked her way up until three years ago she was made forelady of the glassware manufacturing department, having under her charge at the time of her resigning her position, over 50 girls. Mr. Gerard is manager for the firm of Irvine Woltersperger & Co., a large plumbing and brass moulding establishment, of Detroit.

Some of the out of town guests were P. Gerard and wife, parents of the groom, E. Fournier and wife, the Misses Josephine Gerard, F. Canfield, M. Donovan and Mary McIntee and Mr. B. Quirk, of Detroit; Martin Breitenbach and Miss Catherine Talmadge, of Lansing, and Dr. Eugene Mullen, of Newberry.

A notable feature of the wedding was that the dainty lace handkerchief carried by the bride was carried by her mother on her wedding day, 31 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents.

WINANS-HARPER.

On Tuesday, June 20, at high noon at the home of the bride on West Middle street, Chelsea, Mrs. Mary F. Winans was united in marriage with ex-Judge Amasa Harper, of Cornum, Rev. E. E. Caster officiating. There were 35 guests present on the occasion.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. John F. Maier and after the ceremony a pretty vocal solo was rendered by the bride's niece Mrs. John H. Aiken, of Detroit.

Following the wedding ceremony a bounteous wedding dinner was served to all the guests. A number of gifts, consisting chiefly of cut glass and hand painted china were presented to the bride and each of the members of her Sunday school class gave her a bouquet of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper left for Detroit on the 3:37 train in the afternoon and yesterday started on a trip to Sault Ste. Marie.

Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Riggs, Mrs. J. H. Aiken and son, and Mrs. Bush, of Detroit; Mrs. Burden, of Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. S. Raven, Mr. and Mrs. Tracey Towne, and Mrs. D. A. Yocum, of Jackson.

KYTE-FOSTER.

A quiet family wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kyte, of Saline, Tuesday, June 20, when their daughter Miss Mabel Kyte was married to Mr. Charles E. Foster, county superintendent of schools. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Springer in the presence of a number of relatives of the contracting parties. There were present from Chelsea, Robert Foster, Mrs. Isa Downer and Miss Lillian Foster, the father and sisters of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Foster were the recipients of many tokens of esteem from their friends. They will reside on Jefferson street, Chelsea. Mr. Foster's many friends here will unite in wishing him and his bride a large measure of marital happiness and comfort.

GEISSEL-LIGHTHALL.

Mr. Cone Lighthall, of this place, and Miss Nina Geissel, of Saline, were married in Detroit Saturday, June 17. They returned home to Chelsea Tuesday and have gone to housekeeping on Dewey avenue.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Largest Class in the History of the Chelsea High School Graduates Tonight.

This is commencement week at the Chelsea high school, a period fraught with a great deal of pleasant interest and anticipation to the class of 1905, which comprises 13 young men and 6 young ladies, who will tonight receive the diplomas which will, if they so desire, entitle them to pursue a higher course in the halls of the university and other institutions of learning.

The week's proceedings opened with the baccalaureate sermon at the Congregational church by Rev. F. A. Stiles, of Hudson, Sunday evening, June 18. The church was crowded and the large congregation listened to an able and instructive address.

The opera house was the scene for the class day and commencement exercises and it has been very prettily decorated under the direction of Miss Nellie Mingay.

The class day exercises were held last evening and were very largely attended by friends of the class and the public generally. The musical selections on the program were rendered by Miss Mabel Bacon who played the march and a piano solo, Miss Mildred Atkinson and Miss Esther Schenk who sang solos, and a quartette, Borch's "Lullaby," by the Misses Mary and Adeline Spingale, Edna Rafferty and Marguerite Eder, all of which were well rendered. The invocation was made by Rev. E. E. Caster. The balance of the program consisted of the usual class day numbers and were furnished by the several members of the class.

The commencement exercises will be held this evening and promise to be very interesting. The invocation will be given by Rev. P. M. McKay; Mr. August Schmidt, of Ann Arbor, will play the march and a piano solo; Mr. Harlan P. Briggs, of Battle Creek, an old Chelsea favorite, will sing two baritone solos; the address will be given by Hon. Charles E. Townsend, of Jackson, and it is needless to say that the people will have a treat, as Mr. Townsend's ability as a speaker on topics that are appropriate to commencement are well known. The exercises will close with the benediction.

County Institute for Teachers.

The annual county institute for teachers will be held in the training school building of the State Normal College at Ypsilanti. It will begin Monday, June 26, and continue three weeks. The following teachers will assist in the institute: Prof. S. B. Laird, N. A. Harvey, Mark W. Jefferson, President L. H. Jones, Miss McClellan, Prof. Burkett, professor of agriculture, State Agricultural College, N. C., and some other teachers of recognized ability and reputation.

Credit will be given at the August examination for attendance at the institute.

There will be no expense except that incident to travel and boarding. Arrangement may be made to reduce this expense to the minimum. This institute is something that no teacher in Washtenaw county can afford to miss.

INCREASE OF PRISONERS IN IONIA BECOMING BURDENSOME.

THE WEAK SPOTS IN THE INDETERMINATE SENTENCE ACT.

A CHAPTER OF TRAGEDIES IN BAY CITY RESULTING IN DEATH.

Ionia's Guests Increase.

The population at the Ionia prison is 550, a hundred more than a year ago and the greatest in years. The increase is not claimed to be due to increase in crime, but to the indeterminate sentence law, which can only be offset by more activity on the part of the pardon board.

The subject of a pardon for Thos. F. McGarry of the Grand Rapids water deal notoriety is the big matter before the board. Among the twenty other cases to come up are several under this law, which illustrates the alleged defects in the law. Wm. Wheeler, of Montcalm, was sentenced by Judge Davis from one to 15 years. The judge says he would have made it six months for the small offense, but the law was in the way. Wheeler has no friend to get him out and has already served 18 months, with the prospect of many years if not looked after. Judge Davis will appear before the board and point out some of the bad spots in the law.

A Sweeping Order.

In the circuit court late Saturday afternoon Judge Shepard issued an injunction, at the instance of the Bay City Traction & Electric company and directed to the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, the national officers of the organization, officers and members of the Bay City division, the boiler makers, carpenters and joiners, ship carpenters, brick layers and masons, calkers, iron molders' union and local union 1203, mine workers, the central trades council and several private citizens. The order restrains them from assembling in crowds upon the streets of Bay City, Essexville and Banger township at or near the traction company's property, or street car lines; from threatening or interfering with the company's employees while in the discharge of their work, or suggesting any such interference; from placing obstructions or explosives on the tracks; from boycotting the traction and electric company, or possible or prospective patrons or customers; from placing the company on the unfair list; from picketing its premises or tracks; from interfering with its officers, employees or property in any manner.

The announcement is made that the recently organized "Citizens' Alliance of Saginaw" was brought into existence because of the violence and disregard of property rights shown since the strike of the trolley workmen began. The alliance claims that it will take no part in the strike except to see that the laws of the state are observed. They will oppose all forms of boycott and will assist in every manner possible every boycotted member, and will also oppose the blacklist, as well as sympathetic strikes and lockouts. It is said that already 500 members have been enrolled, and that at meetings many more signatures are being daily obtained.

Chapter of Tragedies.

Bay City had a chapter of tragedies yesterday, resulting in the deaths of three persons and one woman may die of injuries.

Dr. J. E. Binnore, until recently practicing at Lewistown, became utterly discouraged over his failure to be freed of the drug habit after six months in a hospital and ended his life by taking prussic acid in his room in the Portland house. He leaves a widow at Whitehall. She refused to live with him because of his addiction to drugs. Binnore's body was in such a condition from drugs that almost immediate burial was necessary.

Thinking the water at the dock of the Sage slip was only a few feet deep, Ernest Bowman, aged 11 years, who was unable to swim, jumped off and was drowned before his companions could reach him.

Isaac Southworth, aged 39, fell 26 feet into the hold of the new steamer Socapa, now being finished at the American shipbuilding plant. Numerous bones were broken and he died in a short time.

A runaway threw Mrs. Chris Pederson from her rig. One leg and several ribs were broken, her face was cut and she received serious internal injuries. Her recovery is doubtful.

State Fair Appropriation.

Senator Baird and Representative Baillie were here from Saginaw to oppose the signing of the bill making an appropriation for the state fair. They declare the bill did not receive the requisite number of votes in the senate. The governor will sign the bill and let its opponents make their legal fight in the courts, if they see fit to do so.

Will Veto Vessel Tonnage Tax.

The bill providing a tonnage tax for vessels will be vetoed. Gov. Warner is opposed to it because its operation would reduce the revenue of the state about $50,000 a year, and because he believes it contemplated a backward step. For a number of years the state has moved in the direction of ad valorem taxes for corporations, the sentiment of the people being against specific tax system.

On account of the smallpox epidemic Barnum & Bailey have canceled their circus date with Grand Rapids.

IN THE STATE.

John Klosterhouse of Grand Rapids died from blood poisoning supposed to have resulted from vaccination. He was vaccinated June 5.

Michael Hanley, aged 15, of Saginaw, was drowned while bathing, and Archie Miller, aged 16, almost lost his life trying to save him.

Saturday's heavy rain again submerged the fields about Bay City, and farmers have suffered additional losses from crops being drowned out.

Anna, the 2-year-old daughter of John Biedermann, of Ann Arbor, drank fly poison on Sunday and died six hours afterward in terrible agony.

The huge ice houses of the Dornbos fish packing plant in Grand Haven were partially undermined by floods and have collapsed, causing a loss of $3,000.

Elmer T. Pocklington, superintendent of the schools in Clayton, was injured in Judson & Hawkins' drug store by the explosion of the drum used in charging a soda fountain. He was struck in the head and face.

Paul O. Yahn, employed on the new factory of the Herzog Art Co., at Saginaw, fell from the sixth floor to the first, sustaining injuries that will probably prove fatal. Flooring an inch thick was broken where he struck.

Gov. Warner's cottage at Cass lake is nearly finished and the family will take up their residence there for the summer in about ten days. The governor says he expects to spend about one-third of his time there this summer.

Mrs. Effie March, of Jefferson, O., has made a deposition that Mrs. Mary Stockdale made a will a few years ago, revoking all former wills, including that which gave her $300,000 estate to Detroit and Buffalo hospitals and charities.

Despondent because his wife dropped dead on the street three weeks ago, Archie Bell, aged 65 years, a prosperous farmer living five miles southeast of Oxford, committed suicide Saturday morning by jumping into a deep well on his farm.

Through the action of the flood at the state fish hatchery at Mill Creek, about 600,000 young black bass were carried from their homes. They are now wanderers on the face of the earth. The loss to the hatchery, due to the flood, is about $3,500.

One of the most exclusive society weddings occurred at Muskegon in the marriage of Miss Belle Temple, one of Muskegon's society belles, to Herman Nietor, of New York city. The two met while Miss Temple was studying art in New York four years ago.

That he might the better protect his fiancée, Gertrude Matschenkowski, a Polish girl, of Port Huron, charged with setting fire to the home of Dr. C. H. Treadgold, Amel Melms married her shortly after her arrest and appeared by her side at her examination.

The jury in the case of the death of Timothy LaLonde, of Sault Ste. Marie, brought in a verdict of accidental drowning. The relatives still insist the young man was murdered at Beaver park the night he went there with a load of soldiers from Fort Brady.

On the charge that he was taxed an exorbitant interest, Joseph Pine, of Pontiac, has been granted an injunction by the circuit court, restraining the Union Loan Co. from foreclosing on all his property. In the meantime Pine is not to remove from Pontiac township.

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Van Buren County Pioneer association was held in Lawrence and the following officers were elected: Hon. J. J. Woodman, president; O. W. Rowland, vice-president; Rev. I. P. Bates, secretary; Dr. A. S. Haskin, treasurer.

Because it published a sensational story of three children being poisoned by candy, a local paper of Three Rivers will probably have a big damage suit to face, as the store named at which the candy was purchased has called to its aid the National Confectioners' association.

A New York concern with which the Vernon bank was insured paid all damages, amounting to about $3,500, and the bank is doing business as if nothing had happened. The insurance company, however, has put the Pinkerton detective agency on the trail and arrests are expected soon.

The result of Gov. Warner's investigation into conditions in the cyclone district in Tuscola and Sanilac counties, according to his secretary's data, shows that 42 houses, 82 barns, two school houses, two churches and 24 miles of fence were destroyed. Contributions of lumber are being asked for from lumber companies by the governor.

In some districts of Grand Rapids the stench is terrible from the flood debris and some house owners tie handkerchiefs over their noses as they clean their premises. The board of health is actively combating the danger, and is assisted by the common council in an effort to remove the debris before serious damage to health follows.

Owing to technical features of the case it was impossible for the Port Huron authorities to hold Sidney M. Field, of Toronto, and Edward D. Thorne, of Detroit, on a charge of fraudulent soliciting of advertising for a labor union guide, and they were given a limited time to get out of the city. The graft has been worked in Detroit since last February, the men representing themselves as being officials of the American Federation.

Victor Makki was shot dead by John McCall Sunday morning at Negaunee. The former, in a drunken condition, was looking for a resort in the neighborhood and got into McCall's house instead. He found his way to the room of McCall's mother, who screamed, and the son came and put the man out. An hour later he returned with a revolver and shot at McCall, who returned the fire with four shots, all of them entering Makki's abdomen. McCall is a well-known insurance man, having charge of that department in the First National bank at Ishpeming.

It is a base life to which nothing is real but the objects of sense.

HOPES FOR ARMISTICE

ENGLAND WANTS A FINISH BETWEEN OYAMA AND LINEVITCH.

THE HOPES FOR AN ARMISTICE SAID TO REST WITH ROOSEVELT NOW.

JAPAN WANTS TO DO UP THE RUSSIAN ARMY FOR PEACE.

The Novoe Vremya printed a dispatch from London, in which its correspondent declared he was in possession of information to the effect that the British were advising Japan against the conclusion of an armistice. "Russia," the dispatch added, "is not considered to be sufficiently weakened. Great Britain hopes that Field Marshal Oyama will succeed in destroying Gen. Linevitch's army and thus relieve her of the nightmare that the army may later be shifted to the borders of Afghanistan for operations against India."

The only hope for an armistice pending the meeting of the peace plenipotentiaries seems to rest with President Roosevelt, and even that is considered slender. It is suggested that Japan deliberately planned to postpone the meeting long enough to give Oyama a chance to administer to the Russians a fresh defeat, to rob the war party in Russia of their last card and facilitate acquiescence to her terms.

In addition to the names of Ambassador Nelidoff and Baron Rosen, the name of Prof. De Maartens, professor of international law at the university of St. Petersburg and a member of the international arbitration court, is now mentioned as a peace envoy, as also is the suggestion that Count Cassini might possibly be one of the plenipotentiaries.

The report from St. Petersburg that Russia has reopened the question of the meeting place of the peace plenipotentiaries and now insists on the Hague instead of Washington is discredited, especially as the authoritative statement was made at the Russian embassy late Saturday night that Washington was acceptable to Russia and would remain so.

Gen. Kuropatkin has telegraphed to a marshal of nobility at Moscow, expressing his regret at the peace agitation among the zemstvos and municipalities, in view of what he considers the complete certainty of victory by the Russian army.

A dispatch from the headquarters of the Russian army, Godzyadani, Manchuria, says: It is learned from an authoritative source that negotiations toward an armistice are under way.

Although all is generally quiet at the front and the Japanese are even retiring somewhat southward, it is reported that they are steadily extending their lines eastward. There is no indication of the commencement of a general engagement.

Washington will be the scene of the peace negotiations between Russia and Japan. Japan refused to go to Europe and Russia was unwilling to meet Japan in the far east. The powerful influence of France was exerted to assist Russia in sending the negotiations to some European capital, preferably The Hague, and if not The Hague, then Geneva. Japan preferred Washington and Russia hoped that the influence of the president, who preferred The Hague, would result in the selection of that place. Finally Russia acquiesced and joined Japan in the request that Washington be selected. The announcement came in the form of an official statement issued by Secretary Loeb by direction of the president, as follows:

When the two governments were unable to agree upon either Chiefo or Paris, the president suggested The Hague, but both governments have now requested that Washington be chosen as the place of meeting and the president has accordingly formally notified both governments that Washington will be so selected.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon Japan to induce her to fix the sum which she will demand as an indemnity for the pending war at as low a figure in cash as is possible in the circumstances. This pressure is being exerted especially by European governments, but President Roosevelt, it is intimated in an important quarter, also has advised the Japanese government that moderation in her demand for a cash indemnity not only would facilitate the negotiation of peace terms, but would be regarded by the powers with particular favor.

The payment by Russia of any such cash indemnity as a billion dollars not only would embarrass seriously the St. Petersburg government, but probably would disturb the finances of the entire western world. Indeed, it has been suggested that such a payment to all intents and purposes might render Russia a practical bankrupt. The opinions and views of the United States and other powers on this subject have been permitted to reach the principal advisers of the Japanese emperor.

Kansas farmers will need 25,000 men and 2,240 teams to harvest their crops.

It is reported that Atty-Gen. Moody may resign as the result of the withdrawal of Harmon and Judson as special counsel for the government in investigating the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad. The attorneys are said to have recommended the prosecution of the officials of the road and the corporation, to which Moody objected, it is believed, because of Paul Morton's connection with it.

A hungry python aboard the steamship Polycarp, from Brazil, which arrived at New York, swallowed a lively porcupine and was discovered with the little "Jonah's" quills protruding from its sides.

Among important corporation bills signed were the Stockdale bill for the sale of electric power at long distance; the Whelan bill legalizing 30-year franchises heretofore granted in fourth-class cities.

The governor also signed the negotiable instruments bill, removing "days of grace" and making the Michigan law identical with those of nearly all other states.

The Ashley bill rearranging registration days, and the Martindale bill annexing a little portion of Greenfield to Detroit, were signed.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

GOMEZ, CUBAN PATRIOT AND SOLDIER, HAS PASSED AWAY.

PITIFUL CONDITION OF NON-UNION TEAMSTER STRIKERS TORTURED.

RUSSIAN STATESMEN HAVE TWO CAUSES OF CHAGRIN THAT IRRITATE.

Death of Gen. Gomez.

General Maximo Gomez died at Havana Saturday evening in the presence of his family and his old-time friend, Estrada Palma, president of the Republic of Cuba. He leaves a widow, five sons and one daughter. On Saturday the secretary of the treasury delivered to one of Gen. Gomez's sons a check for $100,000 which had been voted unanimously by congress for the general's benefit and approved by President Palma. This was in addition to the $50,000 previously voted by congress.

Gen. Maximo Gomez, who commanded the Cuban forces during the insurrection which broke out in 1895 and ended with the complete independence of the island when on May 20, 1902, the control of Cuba was formally transferred to the new Cuban government, was born at Bani, Spanish family. He began life as a cavalry officer in the Spanish army in Santa Domingo and served during the last occupation of Santa Domingo by Spain.

After Cuba had obtained her independence there is no doubt that Gomez could have been elected president, but he refused to accept the nomination and would not enter politics and declined a pension. One of the sons of Gomez, known to his friends as Pancho Gomez, was killed in December, 1898, when Gen. Antonio Maceo met his death in an ambush near Havana.

It Was Barbarous.

Edward Bickett, a non-union teamster employed by the National Express Co., Chicago, was subjected to barbarous torture early Tuesday by four men, alleged to be strike sympathizers. Bickett was attacked in front of the Teamsters' union headquarters. After being knocked down by the men three fingers of his right hand were broken and two of his finger nails torn off. The victim appealed to the men to have mercy, but his cries were in vain, and when the assailants left he was unconscious in the street, where he was found later by a police man.

The Great Game.

Franco-German tension is beyond doubt largely responsible for the success of Mr. Roosevelt's pacific efforts. If France and Germany were not within sight of war when M. Delcasse resigned, all the best opinion of Jaurès, the syndicates to withhold aid when St. Petersburg last asked it and when he, known to be a grudging partisan of the Franco-Russian alliance, informed the Russian government that Germany's course toward Morocco might compel France to invoke Russian aid, with the alternative of throwing up the alliance if that aid were not forthcoming promptly, the advisers of Nicholas saw how deep is the game the German emperor is playing, the game that began with his advice to the czar to send the western frontier regiments to Manchuria.

Today Russian statesmen have a two-fold cause of chagrin, defeat by the enemy they had despised, and betrayed by Emperor William, even ready for the role of the honest broker, no matter who wins or who loses.

Britain is bent upon continuing her entente with France and the Latin states in order to hold Germany in restraint, a policy to which politicians of all parties are now committed, and is equally desirous of Japan's aid against a Russian invasion of Afghanistan.

If offensive and defensive alliances are not already accomplished facts as to both, they soon will be.

Herein lies the hope of Japanese magnanimity in stating peace conditions. An offensive and defensive alliance between London and Tokio is a foregone conclusion, and it means the lordship of Asia. The Japanese will never forget their obligations to the British in the supreme crisis of their national existence; and they have expressed a desire to give them the best practicable proof of the feeling, an enduring pact.

Europe recognizes that the Russo-Japanese negotiations in Washington will cast upon diplomacy the heaviest burden it has ever borne. Coming, as it will, at a moment when the Moroccan situation is pregnant with peril for Franco-German relations; when the implacable Hungarian factions seek to paralyze parliamentary government in the hope of precipitating the dissolution of the Austro-Hungarian empire, and when the separation of Norway from Sweden tempts the desperate Russian expansionists to reach toward the North sea, the peace meeting on American soil will be of supreme significance from a European as well as an Asiatic point of view. London, Paris and Vienna are skeptical of the outcome if the indemnity should exceed the actual cost of the war to Japan, now estimated at approximately $700,000,000.

President Roosevelt has directed that a sweeping investigation of departments and bureaus of the government be made by a committee of which Jas. R. Garfield is chairman. It is determined that the administration shall be run upon a business basis, that grafting shall be eliminated and dead wood weeded out.

Every Heart-Ache

Every pain in the breast, difficult breathing, palpitation, fluttering or dizzy spell means that your heart is straining itself in its effort to keep in motion. This is dangerous.

Some sudden strain from over-exertion or excitement will completely exhaust the nerves, or rupture the walls or arteries of the heart, and it will stop.

Relieve this terrible strain at once with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It invigorates and strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, stimulates the heart action, and relieves the pain and misery.

Take no chances; make your heart strong and vigorous with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by different physicians for my trouble without results. I went to a physician in Memphis, who claimed that I had dropsy of the heart. He put the X-ray on me, and in connection with his medicine he came near making a finish of me. Some time before this a Mr. Young, of St. Louis, was in our town. He saw my condition, and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to me. I gave it little attention until my return from Memphis, when I concluded to try it, and am pleased to say three bottles cured me."

CHARLES GOODRICH, Caruthersville, Mo.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1905.

'Twas CHILDREN'S DAY.

W. W. U. Farmers' Club Celebrated It Appropriately Last Saturday.

The June meeting of the Western Washtenaw Farmers' Club held with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. S. Spaulding, of Sylvan, last Saturday, was the largest one in point of attendance that has been held this year, about 120 being present. It was children's day and the unfailing interest that always attaches to those youthful members of the human family was manifested by the unusual turnout.

A bountiful dinner was served at tables spread under the trees, and whether it was that the open air caused increased appetites or that the crowd was larger than was expected, for once in the history of the club the committee got a little anxious about the supplies, but they held out well and all were well dined.

After dinner a couple of negatives were taken of the children and the grown-ups by G. K. Chapman and Rev. G. W. Gordon.

In the absence of the president the meeting was called to order by H. Lighthall, vice president.

After prayer by Rev. F. A. Stiles, of Hudson, and the dispatch of the usual routine business, the following program was given by the children, under the direction of Mrs. E. S. Spaulding and Mrs. Howard Everett:

Adjourned Meeting.

On account of the wet weather the annual meeting of the Vermont Cemetery Association has been adjourned to Saturday, June 24, 1905, at 2 p.m., at the cemetery. GEO. K. CHAPMAN, Secy.

Pioneer Meeting a Big Success.

The 32d annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Pioneer and Historical Society held at the Baptist church, Ypsilanti, Wednesday, June 14, was most successful in point of attendance and the interest manifested. Probably the most enjoyable feature was that during the two hours of dinner and before the meeting was called to order in the morning when everybody had a big time visiting with each other.

The nominating committee named Chelsea as the place for meeting next year and the following as the officers, who were elected:

President—C. T. Conklin.

Secretary—R. Campbell.

Treasurer—O. C. Burkhardt.

Necrologist—J. A. McDougall.

Vice presidents—The same as last year.

Executive Committee—C. T. Conklin, Jay Everett, O. C. Burkhardt, Mrs. C. T. Conklin, Miss Jessie Everett, Mrs. G. W. Palmer.

The proceedings at the afternoon session were composed of singing of old-fashioned songs, reminiscences by old pioneers, speeches and a paper by Judge W. D. Harriman, of Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor taxpayers are to be asked at a special election to vote an additional $35,000 to put a roof on the new school house that will make it absolutely fire proof.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itching of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish."

Lightning struck a barn on the farm of Edmund Robinson, in Sharon, about four miles east of Grass Lake, Sunday night. The building was set on fire and one horse killed. The tenant, Chris Zick, had a hard time saving his stock and building, but succeeded in putting out the fire before serious damage resulted.

Horses that see automobiles every few days are getting so that they do not mind them. All horses should be driven where they can see such things, of course handled by a careful driver, then when they meet one even a lady driver need not be afraid. When a horse understands that he is not to be hurt, he has no fear of anything.

Mrs. Carolina Schneeberger, one of the oldest settlers of Washtenaw county, died Monday, June 19, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael Haab, of Freedom, aged 94 years. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence and at 11 o'clock from the Salem church at Scio, Rev. Mr. Kaarer officiating.

Rev. J. L. DeLand, a well known Baptist clergyman, who was known as an organizer of churches, died in Saginaw Friday, June 16. He was ordained a minister in the Sylvan Center church and was its pastor during 1861-2. His widow, two daughters and one son survive him. Deceased had for 18 years conducted a drug store at the corner of Gratiot avenue and Orleans street. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rheinfrank.

There was excitement in plenty on Main and Middle streets for a few moments Saturday afternoon. Carl Wagner was returning from the electric depot, where he had taken a trunk, and in front of the Boyd house accidentally ran into a buggy. This frightened the horse he was driving and it started to run and kick. In turning the corner off from Main street on to Middle street a buggy near the corner was collided with and badly damaged. The damage to dray and harness was slight. Wagner was thrown from the dray but escaped serious injury.

THE MISSING MAN

By MARY R. P. HATCH
Author of "The Bank Tragedy"

"Have you no photograph of them—of either of them?"

"No, I haven't. But I can tell you something stranger than you ever heard in connection with this very matter. Whether it will help you in identifying Ashley I can't say. You know I told you they took a house on Main street. Well, shortly after they left it, and before a new tenant was found, the story got about that on one of the windows from the outside could be plainly seen the photograph of a man's head and shoulders and those of a woman. The panes are large and the outlines are said to be very distinct. They are said to be photographs of Ashley and his wife, and the theory is that they were looking through the window at the river during a storm and a flash of lightning photographed them indelibly on the glass. The pictures cannot be seen from the inside, but that they can from the outside is vouched for by a good many people in town. I don't understand photography myself, and I haven't been up to see the pictures, but the cashier of the Somerset bank has, and he says they are excellent likenesses of Ashley and his wife."

"I should like to go up," said Bruce.

"So should I," said Mr. Hayes, "and if you will call again after business hours—for I must go to my office now—I will take you there behind my back."

Bruce gladly accepted the friendly offer and in a few hours was rapidly driving through the principal streets of Valparaiso after the handsomest span of horses in the city. Calling a boy to hold them after a short drive, Mr. Bruce and Mr. Hayes approached a handsome house on Main street, and easily got permission to examine the window which bore the photograph.

It was on the first floor, and lighted the dining room. The Ashleys dined late, and they, perhaps, arose from the table, probably after dark, or it may be they turned down the lights the better to watch the storm, and stood looking out at the river. Be this as it may, the outlines of two figures, a man's and a woman's, were plainly indicated on the pane. His arm appeared her with subterfuge or concealment was so repugnant that he would not entertain the idea for a moment. He made various futile inquiries and finally decided to call upon Mrs. Hamilton and plainly state the case to her, asking at the same time for the information, if she chose to give it.

He did so, though not without extreme reluctance. Mrs. Hamilton received him in a polite, if somewhat distant, manner, and after a few commonplace, Mr. Hastings broached the object of his call.

"But please do not consider my request to be in the least imperative. There is no coercion about it."

"You are very kind, Mr. Hastings," returned Constance, bending her fair face, upon which the shadow of a great grief plainly lay. "But I will answer you truly and readily, for the truth can hurt no one. Vane never wore whiskers, and I can tell you, by consulting my diary for 1887, the very day he went away."

She arose from her seat, approached the writing desk, which stood in the same room, and took from a till a pile of old diaries. Choosing the right one, she sat down again and turned to the records of May.

"Vane and I took a long drive to-day. The weather was perfect, and Vane complimented me, or rather my new hat; said it was 'most becoming,'" was the record for May 1st.

Only a commonplace entry, but it gave Constance a start to read it, for she remembered the day well, how happy they were. But she turned another leaf resolutely, then still another and handed the book to Mr. Hastings, pointing to the sentence, "Vane went away earlier this year than usual. I tried to coax him not to go until next week, but to no purpose."

The date was the 9th of May. "Thank you, Mrs. Hamilton," said Mr. Hastings, handing her the book; but his hand was quite unsteady as he did so.

"Is that what you wished to know?" she asked.

"No—yes," he said, greatly depressed.

Mr. Hastings had refrained from making known to Mrs. Hamilton the contents of Bruce's letter relating to Bruce was amazed. In full view, on a not too crowded street, then gone! It was like magic. The man could not have entered a store nor vanished in a cellar. There was no reason why he need think himself under surveillance. Bruce spent the day in the immediate neighborhood of the mysterious disappearance, but to no purpose, and at last he reluctantly owned to himself that he might have been mistaken.

Anxious as he was to succeed in his undertaking, and earn the reward offered for finding Hamilton, or rather being the means of returning him to Grovedale, Bruce was at last compelled to desist from his task. Much time and money had already been spent, and other business was pressing.

Constance still continued to live in her own home with her uncle and two children. The latter went to school, and their mother put on their hats and kissed them good-by, sometimes with a smile on her face, to spare their young hearts too much knowledge of sorrow. Mr. Carter, who was really a man of excellent business qualities, though somewhat obscured by middle-age inertia, attended well to the business at the mill with the help of Mr. Henderson and a clerk recently added to the office. At the bank an excellent cashier filled Hamilton's place for the present, but it was uncertain how long he could be retained, as his health was delicate and his means such as placed him above the necessity of doing any business.

Tony was still there, but his position seemed at times most irksome. The strain on his nerves and temper during the investigations left an unpleasant impression, for he was sensible that for several days he had been looked upon with suspicion. This fact placed him in sympathy with Hamilton, and he had more than once been heard to say that he believed the missing cashier to be an innocent man.

He had been informed by President Hastings of Bruce's discoveries in the West. He had not called to see Mrs. Hamilton since he carried her the ominous statement of her husband's return to the bank. Somehow he shrank from going there, but when he chanced to meet her he bowed with scrupulous gravity and respect.

The summer was wearing away. August had come with its wilting days, and bathers often sought the shaded river for a plunge in its cooling waters. On the other side a new railroad had recently been built. The hilly portions had been leveled, hollows filled up, and immense rocks blasted. Hundreds of men were employed, and the different gangs were located about five miles apart. Many of them were Italians, and four of them were drowned in crossing it in quest of intoxicants, and it is said they were buried in the dump, uncoffined, and without service of any sort, by their companions. Low and degraded they must have been, and it is no wonder the people were glad when they left.

All this occurred to Osborn one day in August, when, changing his bathing suit for his ordinary clothes, he saw in the bushes, not two feet from the place where he had deposited his own suit, a silk cap with a weather-stained satin lining and an embroidered monogram.

The letters certainly were V. C. H., however they might stand in color. The C. or the H. was as likely to stand first, perhaps, but Tony felt convinced that the cap he held in his hand was once the property of Vane Hamilton.

It was just such a one as wives, sweethearts and daughters make for their masculine dependents to travel in, and Tony thought he recollected that Mr. Hamilton carried one in his overcoat pocket. His wife would know and whether he took it on his last trip. If so, it proved his presence afterwards in Grovedale as conclusively as the gold shirtstud had. It was a peculiar coincidence that in both instances he should be the finder.

TIGER AND DOG CHUMS.

Remarkable Friendship Between the Two Animals.

There is no use waiting for the millennium. It is here. The Bengal tiger, six months old, and the mongrel pup, eight months old, have lain down and got up together in one cage in perfect brotherly love since the birth of the tiger in Cincinnati.

The cub and the pup are now housed in a narrow packing case in Hexamer's livery stable, Hoboken, ready for shipment to Hagenbeck's show in Europe. The Hippodrome people heard of the pair, and are negotiating with Howard Fielding, Hagenbeck's agent, for their purchase.

"Usually," said Frank Krijssell, Mr. Fielding's representative, "when experiments like that are tried the tiger eats up the dog as soon as the tiger's teeth are good enough. But in this case they seemed to take to each other from the first, and now nothing can sever them. If you touch the dog the tiger will make a snap at you. But if you touch the tiger the dog thinks it's a good joke."

"If the tiger gets obstreperous the pup sits down on the tiger's head. Then the tiger shuts up at once. The only time the dog ever respects his friend is when the tiger is eating his portion of raw meat. Then the dog keeps out of the way."—New York Sun.

Thought King Brought Rain.

It is said that the people of Tangier received King Edward so enthusiastically because it was raining on the day of his arrival. The country had been suffering from want of rain, and the Moroccans thought he had brought it.

LIVE STOCK

Mating Mares Intelligently.

It is of vast importance to breed the mare to the right horse, and we would strongly advise leaving her unbreed unless the right horse can be found. "And what is the right horse?" it may be asked. The answer is that the right horse to choose is the one that is of pure blood, of that blood which predominates in the mare. Most mares have some pure blood in their composition, and the owner should determine what blood predominates and then breed her to a stallion of pure breeding of the breed represented in the mare. By so doing the resultant foal will be purer than the dam in that blood, and if a filly is the result she should in time be bred to a stallion of the same breed as her sire, and so on persistently in a right line until all of the scrub or ordinary blood is bred out and that of the pure blood is made the only possession of the animal.

Five top crosses in this method of breeding will practically establish purity of blood, but the work should not stop there, and a few more top crosses in the same direction will produce the breed-prepotency possessed by animals long bred pure. Had this idea been followed in our breeding operations for the last fifty or sixty years the country would be all of practically pure-bred animals graded up from ordinary stock by persistent and intelligent use of imported or home-bred pedigreed stallions. As it is, all sorts of mixtures have been made, and the resultant stock is a conglomerate of all breeds and a representation of none. The time has come to stop this foolishness in breeding, and the work on every farm should start this spring by the intelligent mating of the mares.

The trouble in the past has been that the mare owner would not go to the trouble of finding the proper stallion for his mares. He might desire to breed to the right one, but could not find him readily, so used the first one that came along or the cheapest beast to be found. He possibly started grading up by using a Percheron stallion upon his mares and used that breed until it had no representative in that district. Then he used a horse of different blood and even upon his grade fillies. The result could but be that the grade was altered and the new one was a retrograde—a step back to scrub stock and in no way an advance over the first stock used. This sort of work should not be done this year.

Find out where there is a stallion of the right blood and take the mare to him, even if it takes time and money to do so. The result in the long run will be profitable, if the same course is pursued each year until five or six top crosses of the same blood are put on. And do not breed even to the horse of right breed unless he is sound and a good individual of his kind. We want to see farmers boy-cott all scrub, grade and unsound stallions, and if they will do so for a few years such horses will of necessity become a thing of the past. And do not breed an unsound mare. To-day every mare owner should understand that any old mare is not good enough to breed from. Many have fallen into the error of imagining that a mare that is no longer fit for use on the farm by reason of some disease or another is still fit to breed from. This absurdity has filled the country with unsound or badly formed horses and it is high time to eliminate all unsound stock from our breeding operations.

Then there is another point of importance at this time of the year, and that is to insist upon the stallion owner showing the registry certificate for his horse. If he has duly recorded his stallion he will have and can show a certificate signed by the president and secretary of the stud book association for the breed to which the horse is said to belong, and if he has purchased the horse from some man other than the original breeder or importer he should be able to show a duly signed certificate of transfer from the stud book secretary. There is a great deal of fraud in the standing of stallions for public service, and no man's word should be taken as regards breeding when it is possible to have him corroborate his statements by exhibition of the certificates we have mentioned. The time will come when the stallion owner will also have to show a certificate from a qualified veterinarian showing that the horse is sound.—A. S. Alexander in Farmers' Review.

Light Retards Fattening.

Some may be surprised to learn that animals lay on fat more rapidly in the dark than in the light, though on the whole, darkness is detrimental to the health of animals. When animals are kept in a dark room they use less oxygen and cast off less carbonic gas. Otherwise the carbon in form of fat is then left in the body to increase the amount of fat or the body, which is constantly being added to by the changing of carboxydrate food into fat. In some experiments made in Europe it was found that animals added about 25 per cent more fat when kept in the dark than in the light. The dark, however, stops the development of the skeleton and the frame generally. The amount of protein consumed is not appreciably affected by darkness or light.

CHANGED MEANING OF WORD.

"Nerve" No Longer Has Exclusively Medical Significance.

Sir Frederick Treves, the celebrated English surgeon, asserted that the Japanese "have no nervous system" and that "nerves," as western nations know the term, is untranslatable in Japan. This invites a reference to the significant history of the words "nerve" and "nervous." A "nerve," by derivation from Greek and Latin and by earlier English use, is really a sinew. When Pope speaks of "nervous arms" he means exactly the "brawny arms" of the village blacksmith; and this sense survives metaphorically in a "nervous style of writing," which is very different from a "neurotic" one. Shakespeare used "nervy" in the same sense. But now that "nerves" no longer mean sinews, "nervous" in the common use has almost reversed its old meaning. In Dr. Johnson's time "nervous" in the modern sense was still only "medical cant." Now men of "nerve" are very different from men of "nerves."

AGONY OF SORE HANDS.

Cracked and Peeled—Water and Heat Caused Intense Pain—Could Do No Housework—Grateful to Cuticura.

"My hands cracked and peeled, and were so sore it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put them in water I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted two doctors, but their prescriptions were utterly useless. And now after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment my hands are entirely well, and I am very grateful. (Signed) Mrs. Minnie Drew, 18 Dana St., Roxbury, Mass."

Pennsylvania Superstition.

If an infant is weak and does not grow satisfactorily it must be measured for the "undergrowth," according to a superstition in some Pennsylvania Dutch communities. A powwow doctor, usually a woman, will strip the child, measure it with a string the same color as its hair, say some "words," bury the string in a secret place and repeat the performance three times. The child will get well. There are dozens of children in one Pennsylvania Dutch community that were measured in this way and now pointed to as examples and proof of the efficacy of the method.

Advice From a Bishop.

A story, which may not be without its application locally in these days, was told at a meeting in England the other night at the expense of the bishop of Manchester. When the bishop was in Australia he was approached with the request to appoint a day of prayer and fasting in view of a prolonged drought. The bishop, who was a man of works as well as faith, replied: "If you prayed less and damned more it would be a great deal better for you."

People of the Bible.

The Rev. Dr. John Punnett Peters, rector of St. Michael's Episcopal church, Brooklyn, has "discovered" that Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph, mentioned in Genesis, were not real people, but composite photographs of Israel.

FOOD IN SERMONS.

Feed the Dominie Right and the Sermons are Brilliant.

A conscientious, hard-working and eminently successful clergyman writes: "I am glad to bear testimony to the pleasure and increased measure of efficiency and health that have come to me from adopting Grape-Nuts food as one of my articles of diet."

"For several years I was much distressed during the early part of each day by indigestion. My breakfast, usually consisting of oatmeal, milk and eggs, seemed to turn sour and failed to digest. After dinner the headache and other symptoms following the breakfast would wear away, only to return, however, next morning."

"Having heard of Grape-Nuts food, I finally concluded to give it a fair trial. I quit the use of oatmeal and eggs, and made my breakfasts of Grape-Nuts, cream, toast and Postum. The result was surprising in improved health and total absence of the distress that had, for so long a time, followed the morning meal. My digestion became once more satisfactory, the headaches ceased, and the old feeling of energy returned. Since that time, four years ago, I have always had Grape-Nuts food on my breakfast table."

"I was delighted to find also, that whereas before I began to use Grape-Nuts food I was quite nervous and became easily wearied in the work of preparing sermons and in study, a marked improvement in this respect resulted from the change in my diet. I am convinced that Grape-Nuts food produced this result and helped me to a sturdy condition of mental and physical strength."

"I have known of several persons who were formerly troubled as I was, and who have been helped as I have been, by the use of Grape-Nuts food, on my recommendation, among whom may be mentioned the Rev. _____, now a missionary to China." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

ALL DONE OUT.

Veteran Joshua Heller, of 706 South Walnut Street, Urbana, Ill., says: "In the fall of 1899 after taking Doan's Kidney Pills I told the readers of this paper that they had relieved me of kidney trouble, disposed of a lame back with pain across my loins and beneath the shoulder blades. During the interval which has elapsed I have had occasion to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I noticed warnings of an attack. On each and every occasion the results obtained were just as satisfactory as when the pills were first brought to my notice. I just as emphatically endorse the preparation to-day as I did over two years ago."

Trouble Increasing.

When your trouble with food-digestion seems to be increasing, and various pains, like stomach-ache, headache, backache, etc., beset you; when your bowels and liver seem continually out of order, what you need is Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. William Warren's Lost Ghost.

Those who remember William Warren at the old Boston museum during the sixties will recall the "Warren Farce" so popular at that time after the play. The writer remembers one of those most ludicrous scenes when Warren, after a seemingly fruitless search after a ghost, exclaimed in his inimitable manner, "I'll die before I'll give up the ghost!"—Boston Herald.

Peculiar Method of Suicide.

MADE NEW STRENGTH

QUICKER THAN DOCTOR'S TONICS SAYS TYPHOID PATIENT.

Young Lady Left by Fever in Very Weak State Uses Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with Gratifying Results.

After a fever, such as typhoid or scarlet, has run its full course there remains the recovery of strength. The tonic that will most rapidly increase the red corpuscles in the blood is the one that will most quickly restore color to the pale cheeks, strength to the weak muscles, and elasticity to the sluggish nerves. So far nothing has ever been produced superior to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for this purpose.

Miss Midendorf had been ill with typhoid fever for fourteen weeks. She had a good physician who carried her safely through the critical stages. When he left, nothing remained to be done except to build up her strength, which was very feeble, and he gave her some prescriptions for that purpose. Here, however, she met with disappointment.

"I took the doctor's tonics," she says, "for two months after I had recovered from the fever, but they did not do me the good I looked for. My strength came back so slowly that I scarcely seemed to be making any progress at all. Just then I read in a book thrown in my yard some striking testimonials showing what wonderful blood-builders and strength-givers Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are. I got a box of them soon after this and after I had taken only about half of them I could see a very great improvement in my condition. When I had used up two boxes, I felt that I did not need any more medicine. I have remained strong ever since."

Miss E. B. Midendorf lives at No. 1501 Park street, Quincy, Ill. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best remedy to use in all cases of weakness, from whatever cause the system may be run down. In cases of debility due to overwork they minister fresh strength and overcome nervous symptoms. They are a specific for anemia or bloodlessness. They are particularly helpful to girls on the verge of womanhood. They meet all the requirements of the period known as the change of life. They correct spring languor. They strengthen weak digestion and rouse up sluggish organs. No other tonic combines so many virtues. All druggists sell them.

to be about her shoulders, her head rested lightly on his breast, and a glorious veil of hair reaching down out of sight covered her right shoulder. The curves of her features, the droop of her form, showed her to be both pretty and graceful.

"Nora Ashley, as I live!" ejaculated Mr. Hayes with great excitement.

"Nora, did you say?"

"Yes, that is what Ashley called her, and that is Ashley himself."

Bruce scanned the figure with more interest even than he had the beautiful Nora, but never having known Hamilton personally he could not tell whether it closely resembled him or not. In a general way he thought it looked like the photograph he had, and which Mr. Hayes had already declared to look like Ashley. The description given in the advertisement also agreed with what might be said of Ashley, except that the latter, when in Valparaiso, wore long whiskers.

Soon after the two men separated with mutual good words, and Bruce, going straight to his room at the Wiltoughby House, wrote a detailed account of what he had learned at Valparaiso regarding Ashley, the bank defaulter, who he was inclined to believe could be no other than Hamilton himself. Indeed, the presence of the woman, called Nora by Ashley, and having emerald colored hair, seemed almost proof positive.

After detailing the account, Bruce went on to say, or rather to ask, whether Mr. Hartwell would take pains to learn without a doubt what beard Hamilton wore two years ago during his customary May journey—if he had long whiskers in addition to a mustache. Also, Bruce desired to know the exact date when Hamilton left Grovedale, whether it was as early as the 10th, for it now appeared that Ashley came to Valparaiso the 13th.

Mr. Hastings, on the receipt of this letter from the detective, was much perplexed. How could he gain the desired knowledge without going to Mrs. Hamilton herself? Mr. Hastings was a straightforward man. To approach

Ashley, and he said nothing now. She evidently hoped he would tell her more, but could not bring herself to ask him, for, she thought, "if there were any good news he would tell me, and if there is nothing but bad I could not bear it now, I have had so much. O Vane! Vane!"

This was her heart's cry, but outwardly she was calm until Mr. Hastings went away. Then she sat down overwhelmed with a nameless dread.

What misery, what misery was hers! If the newspapers spoke true, what was she but a deserted wife, the wife of a bank defaulter, who had forsaken her for another woman! If it was not as was believed, then Vane was detained somewhere against his will, either by force or by severe illness, or he was dead. Dead! with the clouds of opprobrium on his confined form! They might never be lifted, never while she lived, while her children lived, and they would have to suffer the shame, unmerited of having had a father who abused the confidence of a trusting community. Could she bear it to know this were really true of him? Could she bear it to know he were dead?

CHAPTER VI.

Tony's Discovery.

Mr. Bruce was nearly convinced of the truth of his theory when he received Mr. Hastings' letter. "Something more than a coincidence," he muttered, on reading that Mr. Hamilton left Grovedale on the 9th instant.

Bruce, as a last resort, again went to Canada himself, got detectives there to aid him, and as thorough a search through the province was made as could be effected in the time he gave himself for it. Several times he fancied himself to be on the right trail, but subsequent investigations proved the fallacy of first suppositions. Still he could never quite rid himself of the belief that he saw Hamilton, or Ashley, on one of the streets in Montreal a day or two after he reached the city. But the man vanished so quickly that

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Theodor's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.
It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.
