THE ALUMNI BANQUET.

Chelsea's High School Grads Had Another Jolly Reunion.

The tenth annual banquet of the Chelsea High School Alumni Association held at the Congregational church parlors Tuesday evening, June 27, was attended by 76 of the 206 alumni whose names are enrolled on the books of the secretary. It was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the kind that has ever been held and was noticeably free from the stiffness and restraint that oftentimes characterizes such banquets.

The decoration of the C. E. room, which was used as a reception room, was handsomely done in yellow and white, the colors of the association, and the profusion of white carnations made the whole place redolent with their perfume. The dining room was also decorated in the class colors and bouquets of beautiful flowers adorned the tastefully arranged tables.

At the business meeting held before the banquet the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Paul G. Schable.
Vice President—Wirt McLaren.
Secretary—Mrs. W. H. Benton.
Treasurer—Miss Edith Congdon.

The president, Mrs. Lila Campbell, appointed Dr. Andros Gulde, Dr. A. L. Steger and A. W. Wilkinson a committee to take charge of the publication and distribution of a book to contain the names, degrees and addresses of all the alumni of the Chelsea school.

At the conclusion of the business session an adjournment was made to the dining rooms where a most tempting array of delicious edibles had been prepared by the ladies of the Congregational church. The service was excellent and the alumni present showed they were possessed of good appetites.

After the feast of good things came the feast of reason with Dr. Faye Palmer, of Grass Lake, as toastmaster. The program was as follows:

Music—Orchestra.
Our Class—Howard Boyd.
The Wonders of Creation—Mabelle McGinness.
Solo, "I Keep My Promise True"—Mary Spiraugle.

Carburators, Auto Sparkers and Other Wild Animals I Have Met—Howard Holmes.

Cornet Solo, Polka, Ada—Fred Fuller.
As You Like It—Arthur Easterle.
P. P. P., the Press, the Pulpit and the Petticoat, the three ruling powers of the day. The first spreads knowledge, the second spreads morals, the third spreads considerably—Mrs. W. H. Benton.

Solo—Ethel Bacon.
Our Sweethearts and Wives. "May our sweethearts soon become our wives, and our wives ever remain our sweethearts"—Nathan H. Bowen, Detroit.

Music—Orchestra.
It was 11:30 when the evening's pleasant entertainment came to an end and the alumni of the Chelsea high school separated to meet again another year.

Will Hold a Reunion.

Following are the members: Mesdames S. Schultz, Henry Musbach, F. A. Stiles, E. J. Fletcher, Ralph Pierce, R. W. Crawford, the Misses Nerissa Hoppe, Edith Foster, Ida Keusch, Bertha Spaulding, Flora M. Kempf, Messrs. N. H. Bowen, Oren Thatcher, Frank Taylor and Rev. Faye Moon, Dr. Louis D. Zinke, Dr. Austin Howlett and Dr. Andros Gulde.

Evangelical Synodical Conference.

The Michigan district of the German Evangelical Synod of North America commenced yesterday at the Bethlehem church, Ann Arbor, a five days' conference in which 135 delegates from churches in Michigan and Northern Indiana will participate. The synodical sermon was preached last evening by Rev. F. W. Adomeit, of Plymouth, Ind. Business meetings will be held daily from 8:50 a. m. to 5 p. m. Services will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock except on Saturday.

The officers of the district are Rev. Paul Irion, Manchester, president; Rev. C. Haag, Port Huron, vice president; Rev. G. Eisen, Three Oaks, secretary; Rev. C. Shathelf, Owosso, treasurer.

Rev. A. Schoen, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical church, Chelsea, is attending the conference.

Making a Newspaper.

Did you ever count the words in a column of ordinary newspaper print? There are about two thousand words in a column. Suppose you sit down and write a thousand words on some subject, and then another thousand on another until you have written eight or ten thousand. Try it and see if it is right easy. Keep that gait up for a month. Then chase a local item all over town, and after you have gotten the facts all right, condense them in a few lines—an hour's work that may be read in a few seconds. Do this for a dozen items that seem insignificant after they are printed, but which you know are important; then have the items criticised and the inaccuracies pointed out to you when it is too late to correct them. Oh, yes! It is easy!

Class of '97 Reunion.

One of the most enjoyable features of commencement week was the reunion of the Class of '97 Chelsea high school. The eight members of the class, Mrs. Archie Miles (Linna Lighthall), of Dexter, Mrs. Otto D. Luick (Miss Wood), of Lima, the Misses Thirza Wallace, of Grand Forks, N. Dak., Beatrice Bacon, Elvira Clark, Minnie Schumacher, Lillian Gerard and Marie Bacon, all being present. The reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bacon, the hostess being Miss Marie Bacon.

The young ladies passed an exceedingly pleasant afternoon talking over old times, and an elegant three course luncheon added not a little to the enjoyableness of it all. The dining room was prettily decorated in pink carnations, the class color.

Chas. Estes, a candy butcher with the Barnum & Bailey circus, stepped in front of the fast west bound train on the Michigan Central at Ann Arbor Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock, while intoxicated. Both legs, a thigh, an arm and his jaw were broken and he died at the University hospital in three hours.

THE NEEDS OF THE CYCLONE-SWEPT DISTRICT ARE STILL VERY PRESSING.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ON TRIAL FOR CAUSING THE DEATH OF A PUPIL.

Missing Two Months.

George Shetterly, aged 68, a resident of Pokagon, has been missing from his home for nearly two months, and Kalamazoo officers have been asked to investigate his disappearance on the theory that he has been murdered. Some time ago Shetterly bought a farm from a man named Phillips near Pokagon, and on April 29 left the home of his brothers, near Bertrand, where he had been visiting, to go to Bertrand and take the electric car to Niles, and thence to his new place. He was last seen some distance from Bertrand by a farmer named Washburn, with whom he talked. Last week his daughter in Dowagiac learned for the first time that he had never arrived at his farm, and notified the sheriff. Since the old man carried $100 in gold in his pocket, she believes that he has been waylaid, robbed and murdered, and his body concealed in the swamps near where he disappeared.

State's War Claim.

Gov. Warner has received from the comptroller of the United States treasury a check for $31,693.04, final payment on account of Michigan's Spanish war claim. When the first settlement was made the federal authorities rejected items aggregating some $52,000. Subsequently congress enacted a law providing for the reconsideration of certain of these rejected items, and in accordance with this Michigan put in a claim for $58,247.35. The auditor of the war department allowed $31,693.04 of this claim and last November forwarded a check for this amount. Acting on the advice of the attorney general, Gov. Bliss returned the check and took an appeal from the auditor's ruling. That official has now sustained the auditor and returned the check in final settlement of Michigan's claim.

They Need Lumber.

Advises received by Gov. Warner from the cyclone-swept districts of Tuscola and Sanilac counties indicate that the responses to the governor's recent appeal for assistance for the victims of the disaster have not been as widespread and generous as was hoped for, or as the situation demands. Gov. Warner expressed the hope that the people of the state will bear in mind the fact that about 150 houses, barns and other farm buildings, together with miles of fence and other farm property, were utterly ruined, and that the need of aid is most imperative. The greatest need is for lumber, fencing, household goods, etc. All contributions should be sent to A. A. McKenzie, chairman of the relief committee, Cass City, Mich. All railroad companies will transport contributions free of cost.

Coldwater Schoolboy's Death.

The case against Supt. Victor M. Staley, charged with causing the death of Philip Miller, a pupil in the fourth ward school, began Monday afternoon. Supt. Staley asked for a change of venue. This was denied by Judge Yaple. The case excites interest in the city second only to that of the noted Katie Ludwig case, one year ago. Milo D. Campbell and E. E. Palmer, who defended Katie Ludwig, are Mrs. Miller's attorneys, and H. H. Barlow & Son are the attorneys for the defense.

The action of the senate in voting Secretary Chilson $850 for indexing the senate journal, is coming in for some criticism. A member of the house points out that Clerk Pierce, of the house, will receive but $600 for indexing the house journal, a task that involves much more work.

The heavy rain and hail storm of Sunday night damaged Muskegon county farmers to the extent of thousands of dollars. William Hunker's barn was lifted and carried 10 feet away, a cow in the barn being uninjured by the trip. On the Conners farm in Fruitport, the Conners barn, valued at $2,000, was blown down.

Clinton Wilcox, a wealthy bachelor of Morrice, known throughout Shiawassee county, recently died. When his attorney and heirs attempted to open a safe containing some of his valuable papers, no one could be found who knew the combination, so an expert from Detroit was called in.

Gilbert C. Mee, aged 65, a draughtsman of Muskegon, was crushed to instant death, and George Stone, James Ailing and Bowen Van Silt were badly injured by a schooner crushing a houseboat in which they sought shelter from Sunday's storm. The fire department was called to rescue the men in the wreckage.

WAR NEWS

PEACE ENVOYS TO MEET IN WASHINGTON EARLY IN AUGUST.

THE JEWS IN WARSAW ARE IN REVOLT OVER LODZ MASSACRE.

THE CITY OF LODZ RESEMBLES SHAMBLES FROM BLOODY BUTCHERY.

The president has received from both the Russian and Japanese governments the statement that the plenipotentiaries of the two countries will meet in the United States during the first ten days of August, and the president has expressed to both governments the wish that the meeting should take place if possible on the first of August, and if not on that date then at the earliest date thereafter.

Both Japan and Russia, according to a St. Petersburg dispatch, are now understood to have agreed on the time when their plenipotentiaries shall meet at Washington. It will be during the first ten days of August, but the exact date probably will be announced by President Roosevelt.

The question of precedence evidently is the main stumbling block to a prompt settlement of the number of plenipotentiaries. Both sides seem desirous to make the other take the initial move. Russia seems to consider that it is Japan's duty to name her plenipotentiaries before Russia announces hers. While the exact number of the plenipotentiaries has not been officially arranged, both powers seem to have tacitly agreed on three. The actual announcement of the names of the plenipotentiaries is expected within a few days.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says he has received confirmation of the report that the czar has decided to take formal steps through Mr. Meyer, the American ambassador, to arrange an armistice. But reports from Washington show that suggestions for an armistice have not been received with absolute favor by either Russia or Japan. Quite naturally each government is seeking an advantage over the other in the diplomatic sparring that is going on now, and among those in touch with the situation it is regarded as unlikely that definite arrangements for an armistice will be concluded—even if they should be concluded at all—before the formal meeting of the plenipotentiaries of the two powers.

As heretofore noted, there is serious apprehension that unless a temporary suspension of hostilities be arranged, a great battle may be precipitated, the result of which might wreck completely the pending peace negotiations. It was expected confidently that an announcement of the names of the envoys of the two powers to the Washington conference be made by the end of last week; but, as a matter of fact, the negotiations have not progressed in the least since Tuesday. That both Russia and Japan have decided upon their representatives at the conference is quite certain, but each government, for reasons of its own, declines to make formal announcement of them. Peace negotiations have come to a dead halt on account of the illness of Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister for foreign affairs. It is explained, officially, that nothing in the form of a hitch has occurred, but that the negotiations merely have been suspended temporarily.

Scenes in Lodz.

The Russian-Polish city of Lodz presents a sickening scene of blood and death as a result of last week's riots. The trouble began on Tuesday, the 20th, after the funeral of the victims of the conflict between troops and terrorists the previous Sunday. The Christians were permitted to bury their dead, but the Jews were prohibited from doing so and the people secretly interred the bodies of the Jews at night, which excited indignation and terrorists riots were initiated Thursday. The city resembles a shambles, and the terrible scenes of the two days will never be wiped from the memory of the Polish people.

The fighting spirit of the people is fully aroused. They have tasted blood and want more. Certainly the revolutionary spirit is abroad, and it remains to be seen whether military measures will have the same effect as previously.

The dead from last week's outbreak total over 1,200. Thus far the bodies of 343 Jews and 218 Christians have been buried. The wounded number over 700. Some semblance of order has been restored and the workmen are gradually returning to the factories.

Arthur Bauman, 13, Paterson, N. J., has fled with $2,200, the lifetime savings of his father.

Denver is being alarmed by the operations of two women footpads and grocery robbers.

The Spanish cabinet was defeated on a resolution of confidence by a vote of 204 to 45, and has resigned.

Fred N. Northrop has resigned a position with the state treasurer to become cashier of the Commercial Savings bank at Lakeview.

Proceedings are in progress in the Missouri court of appeals to revoke the charters of the Standard and Waters-Pierce Oil companies in that state.

The "Laxy Worm" has infested 95,000 Porto Ricans in the center of the island. The natives used to regard the disease as incurable and are halting with delight the news that Capt. B. K. Ashford, U. S. ## Vicksburg Bank Affairs.

The affairs of the Vicksburg bank it would seem got in to a tangle through losing debts of President E. L. Page in cotton. No figures have been given out by the bank's officials showing the amount of shortage, but it is well established that when this is done the amount will be well up in the thousands. Farmers and mechanics constitute the bulk of the depositors and they are greatly excited. Business men continue to stand by the bank and only a day or two ago they deposited $8,000 to help bolster up the institution. The village is hard hit, all its funds having been deposited in the bank. It is found that there is only $34 in the village treasury, $18 of which is in the form of a check on the defunct bank.

Cashier Keep, who is blamed for not knowing the condition of the bank, says: "How could I be blamed for ignorance in this failure, in view of the recent developments? Only recently I came across a case where Mr. Case had been in Kalamazoo and taken with him $18,000 in paper on which he realized a loan of $10,000. Sixty days later, when the loan became due, he returned to Kalamazoo, renewing the loan and leaving $13,000 worth of paper as security and selling one of the notes for $5,000 to R. J. Williamson, of the Kalamazoo Savings bank. It was gilt edge paper, and he never credited the transaction on the books of the bank, and I never knew of it until I went to Kalamazoo to check up our account."

On Saturday John F. Young, William H. Ledere and Joseph McElvaine, three creditors, filed a petition in the United States court in Grand Rapids asking that the bank be declared bankrupt. The petition states that the liabilities of the insolvent concern total $300,000; that the bank has but a small amount of cash on hand and can pay but a small per cent of the claims against it. It was further stated in the petition that the president was ill; that the cashier, Charles L. Keep, had asked that he be declared a personal bankrupt; and the president, E. L. Page, not be disturbed by creditors. The petition further states that the bank on June 22 purposely paid the following sums, knowing that the bank was on the verge of collapse: To Edwin C. Day, $3,300; Alice Barr, $1,500; W. W. Nille, $5,000, and other sums aggregating $17,000. Thereafter the bank closed its doors and did no further business. Judge Wainwright appointed Steven B. Munroe, of the Kalamazoo Trust Co., as receiver.

Trouble in Warsaw.

The Jewish districts of Warsaw are now in full revolt. The shops and stores are closed and traffic has ceased. The street cars have been overturned to form the nucleus of barricades. Great crowds assembled in the streets and the ugly temper of both the populace and the troops threatens to break out in bloodshed at any moment. Thirty-four battalions of infantry are stationed in the town.

The city has the appearance of a military encampment. Infantry and Cossacks are bivouacked in the streets and patrols are circulating everywhere. Barricades have been erected at the corners of Ogrodowa and Zelazna streets, and occasionally the crack of a rifle is heard as strikers shoot at men going to work.

Monday's conditions are the result of a proclamation issued Saturday night by the Social Democratic party of Poland and Lithuania, calling out workmen as a protest against the Lodz massacre, and declaring that in order to show the solidarity of their brethren and to protest against "the new and incessant crimes of the emperor's government," all Warsaw must stop work.

CERTAIN DEFEAT.

Russians Are Sure Oyama Will Win Battle.

The military experts of Russia take anything but a hopeful view of Gen. Linevitch's situation. They do not believe he can be surrounded, but apparently do not consider the possibility of a Russian victory. Linevitch's retirement to Harbin and the isolation of Vladivostok seem to be regarded as foregone conclusions, when Field Marshal Oyama strikes.

Knouted the Priests.

Seventy priests, who met in Georgia, Russian Transcaucasia, a few days ago, were attacked by Cossacks and brutally knouted. The outrage has resulted in an interdict like that pronounced in the middle ages, of refusing to solemnize baptism, marriage or any rite of the church until redress is given by the whole orthodox church, of which the Georgia church is part.

Why Wallace Quit.

John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal, and member of the commission, has resigned both these positions, the salary of which is $30,000, to accept a $60,000 office with a New York corporation. Mr. Wallace was asked the cause of his resignation. He replied that he was in a delicate position in the matter and referred his questioner to Secretary Taft.

Secretary Hay Ill Again.

Secretary of State John Hay was prostrated by an attack of uraemia at his summer home in Newbury, N. H., Sunday evening, but early today his condition had been relieved by a local physician and two specialists who had come from Boston by special train, and it was expected that the secretary soon would be in his usual health. The attack, which was similar to others experienced by Secretary Hay during recent years, was attributed to a cold contracted on his journey from Washington to Newbury on Saturday. Dr. J. I. Cain, the local physician who was the first one called to attend the sick man, said: "Secretary Hay's trouble has been relieved. He will need attention for a day or two. If no complications arise he will soon be as well as usual."

The Chinese Immigrants.

The president's policy of "a square deal for the Chinese" promulgated Monday in an official statement from the White House, indicates the extent to which the enforcement of the exclusion law is to be modified. These modifications are relied on to head off the threatened boycott of American goods by the Chinese. The president's decision to order a less rigid enforcement of the law indicates that there is at least a marked difference of opinion between him and Secretary Metcalf, who has charge of immigration, and there are indications of rather serious friction between them. Mr. Metcalf is from California, where the sentiment against the Chinese is strongest, and the president thinks he is thinking more of the interests of the section from which he comes than of the interests of the whole country.

Lake Shore Wreck.

The Lake Shore officials who have been estimating the loss caused by the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited train at Mentor, O., which caused nineteen deaths, place the financial part at about $400,000. The engine and all the cars, except the buffet car, can be repaired. The engine will be rebuilt, and the loss on that will not be over $10,000. It was valued at about $13,500.

The total damage to the train will come to $50,000. But there are other items in the list which bring the total cost of the disaster to a high figure.

The railroad men make the statement that personal injury claims and death claims will cost the road about $200,000. They also figure that the adverse advertising to the road will amount to not less than $100,000.

In addition, there is the cost of the freight shed and its contents, which will add $5,000 to the damage. The refunding of the fares charged on the train will add $2,000. These, with other things incidental to the wreck, will bring the total cost of the disaster up to $400,000.

Alexander Returns Money.

James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, voluntarily sent to Paul Morton, the newly elected chairman of the board, his check Saturday for $25,053.22, representing a portion of his profits as a member of the James H. Hyde and associates syndicate, which sold securities to the Equitable Life. Mr. Alexander had previously turned over to the society checks aggregating $40,790.45 which Mr. Hyde had sent to him as his share of syndicate profits on two bond issues of which the Equitable had purchased a portion. In the check to Mr. Morton Mr. Alexander pays back to the Equitable every dollar received by him as a member of the Hyde syndicate and interest at 6 per cent on the amounts.

One of the most sensational developments in the Equitable Life Assurance society situation came to light Friday through the discovery that a man who has been dead for 13 months, and three others who had long ago severed their connection with the society were still on the payroll. The discovery was made through a study of the report of Supt. of Insurance Hendricks.

SENT OUT THE DECLARATION

How Copies of Immortal Document Were Distributed.

It is on record that the congress sitting in Philadelphia in 1776 adopted the following resolution on the 5th of July: "Resolved, That copies of the Declaration be sent to the several assemblies, conventions and councils of safety, and to the several commanding officers of continental army corps, that it be proclaimed in each of the United States and at the head of the army."

In accordance with this resolution, John Hancock, president of the congress, enclosed a copy of the Declaration to which of the states and to the various organizations named in the resolution. With the Declaration was sent the following letter: "I do myself the honor to enclose, in obedience to the commands of congress, a copy of the Declaration of Independence, which you will please to have proclaimed in your colony in such a way and manner as you shall judge best. The important consequences resulting to the America states from this Declaration of Independence, considered as the ground and foundation of a future government, will naturally suggest the propriety of proclaiming it in such a mode that the people may be informed of it."

It was on the sixth day of July when President Hancock sent the following very dignified communication to Gen. George Washington: "The congress have adjudged it necessary to dissolve the connection between Great Britain and the American colonies, and to declare them free and independent states, as you will perceive by the enclosed Declaration, which I am directed to transmit to you, and to request you will have it proclaimed at the head of the army in the way you shall think most proper."

An Oldtime Toast.

The following toast, given by the merchants of New York in 1795 at the Tontine coffee house, is a sample of many which the day always called forth:

"The auspicious day that rescued our country from the hated yoke of foreign tyranny, and gave us honorable rank among the nations of the earth—May its glorious events never be effaced from our memories; and may the blessings it has conferred be as lasting as the globe we inhabit, and may each revolving year find us more united, more happy, and more free."

The First Patriots.

The men of the long ago days of 1776, who had nothing so much at heart as the welfare of the "Old Thirteen" and the states certain to be added to them in coming years, were men whose acts and motives the present and future generations may study with profit. Our country has never had nor is it likely to ever have a nobler band of men than those whose names were signed to the Declaration of Independence on the 4th of July in the year 1776.

Gen. Gomez Buried.

The body of General Maximo Gomez was interred at Havana after a funeral so replete with demonstrations in honor of the dead general as to lead in several instances to scenes of disorder.

The procession was the largest since the establishment of the republic. In it were included the entire executive, legislative and judicial departments of the government, the foreign ministers, the legation and consular staffs, and the governors of every province.

The three-mile route to the Colon cemetery appeared filled with an unending procession and an endless chain of people waiting to see the gun carriage drawn by eight mules on which the casket lay. The cortege proceeded through the center of the cemetery between long lines of mounted rural guards, standing at salute, and the body was lowered with military honors in a temporary grave, pending removal to a mausoleum.

Wreck at Tashmoo.

Two freight steamers, the Linden and City of Rome, were sunk in a collision off Tashmoo Park at 4 o'clock Friday morning, and the steward and his wife, of the former vessel, were drowned. The City of Rome, which was bound down with a cargo of ore, went down immediately after the collision, about 50 feet from the Tashmoo Park dock, and the Linden, which was bound up with a coal cargo, kept on her way up to Russel Island, where she went down in the middle of the channel. The crews of both boats succeeded in getting away in their yaws, with the exception of the Linden's cook and his wife, who are reported missing. The accident was caused by the suction of a big propeller bound up which made the Linden veer around and crash into the City of Rome. A large hole was torn into the bows of both steamers.

The National Guard will ask congress at its next session to make the guard a part of the national defense. Doubling of the $1,000,000 annual appropriation is desired.

THE MARKETS.

Detroit.—The cattle market has been dull and draggy, with dry-fed shipping steers 15 to 25 cents lower and common cow steady very hard to sell at a decline of 10 to 20 cents. Grass cattle of all kinds were from 20 to 30 cents lower and of an inferior quality. Heavy dry-fed butchers were steady with last week, as were stockers and feeders. Bulls were also a trifle lower. Milch cows and springers were about the same as last week. The quality was no better, and there was nothing on sale good enough to bring $15. Bulk of sales were under $10. Feat calves also took a drop and the market was generally 25 cents lower than it was a week ago, and very dull. A few choice grades sold for $6 per hundred, but bulk of sales were from $5.25 to $5.75. Best grades, $5.50 to $6; others, $4 to $5. Hogs.—The market is not at all promising at present, and dealers are predicting a further decline in prices. Week Ending July 1.
TEMPLE THEATRE and WONDERLAND—Afternoon 2:15, 10:30 to 11:30; Evening 7:15, 10:30 to 11:30.

James Shafer, a farmer near Three Rivers, tells of the "explosion" of one of his young heifers from eating glutiously of clover and drinking copiously of spring water. He says she swelled rapidly and suddenly he heard a report like an explosion and found the animal with her side burst open.

The Japanese are no longer pressing the Russians south, and doubt is now entertained as to whether the weak offensive is the precursor of a big battle or a diplomatic maneuver. Belief in the prompt conclusion of peace is weakening. The heat is intolerable. Even the nights afford little relief.

FARM MISCELLANY

The Japanese Eating Butter.

In spite of what has been said about the Japanese being large buyers of American-made oleomargarine, they are consuming considerable quantities of butter and are likely to consume more, as time goes on. They would buy much of this butter from America but American consumers are willing to pay more for the best butter than the Japanese consumers, and so the butter is being kept and consumed at home. If American prices fall or those in Japan advance the time may come when our butter will be a staple article of commerce in the Japanese market.

At the present time the Japanese are buying their butter from countries other than America. Australasia seems to have the advantage of most countries in this regard, and New Zealand is especially favored. They can afford to make butter at a little less price than the Americans and have no large market at home for it. They are enabled therefore to send a good share of their exportable butter to Japan, while other butter is going around the cape of Goodhope to England. During the past winter a large dairy company in New Zealand received from Japan a single cable message for 30,000 cases of butter.

Dehorning Calves.

What is the use of waiting till the calves become cows before taking off the horns? When the calves are young and horns are incipient is the time to do the work of dehorning. The horn is soft at the time the calf is say five days old, and that is when the dehorning should be done. No saw is needed, only a stick of caustic potash, which can be purchased at any druggist's for a few cents. Put some paper around the stick of potash so that the moisture from the hand will not cause injury to the hand. Moisten the end of the stick slightly, but not enough so that the liquid will run down on the flesh of the animal and perhaps into the eyes. With the potash rub the tip of the horn till a slight impression has been made on the center of the horn. Some make the application about four times, leaving an interval of five minutes between the applications. Usually a little blood will appear in the center of the horn tip. After the application do not turn the calves out if it is raining, as the rain will wash the potash down into the eyes of the animals.—Adelbert Shadberger, Boone Co., Mo.

Quiet of Fattening Animals.

Probably all stockmen have noticed that animals fatten best when they are quiet, and they have also discovered that it is possible for animals to "run the fat off their bodies." This is no fancy. The student of the animal frame knows that the process by which fat is "run off" animals is a simple one. All the carbonic acid gas that is thrown off the lungs comes from material that if not thrown off would be made into fat or that has been fat. The more active an animal is the more rapidly he breathes, which is necessary if he is to keep up the creation of energy. It is just as it is in a steam engine. The faster the engine goes the fiercer must the fire burn that is changing the carbon (coal) into gas, and the fire can only burn brightly if there is a good draft to supply oxygen. The breathing of the animal is the same as the draft in the smokestack of the engine. Its only purposes are to take in oxygen and cast out the carbonic acid gas. We save coal by not running the engine and we save fat by not running the animal.

Score Card for Dairies.

Professor R. A. Person of Cornell University has been one of the most active dairy scientists for years. In addition to the usual work of the dairy professor he has recently invented or studied out a score card for dairies. Some of the farmers' clubs in the state of New York have declared it of great value to the dairy interest in its stimulating effect. The five chief heads of this score card are: (1) Health of the herd and its protection. (2) Cleanliness of the cows and their surroundings. (3) Utensils. (4) Attendants. (5) Handling the milk. Twenty points are counted for each division, the aggregate being 100.

Small Hog Houses.

In states where hog cholera is an annual visitant, the small hog house is to be preferred to the large one, though with the small house it requires more work to take care of the hogs than in the large house. The houses that are movable present advantages that the big houses do not, as the small movable ones may be placed in any field where it is desired to pasture the hogs. The danger from disease is thus greatly reduced and the grazing of the swine may be better controlled than in any other way.

A Quarantine Pen.

On every farm where hogs are raised there should be a pen strongly built for the purpose of keeping by themselves all hogs that may be purchased for the farm. This same pen may be also used for he segregating of animals that may show signs of being sick. A precaution of this kind will sometimes check an attack of cholera at its beginning.

GIFTS IN PROPER SPIRIT.

Significance of Recent Benefactions to Colleges.

After all, the principal use of the college is as a place where the next generation is to get right ideas of what is worth while in life itself. The mere facts which, to the ignorant, seem the advantages of education, are of minor importance. We hear much in the periods of college commencement of the necessities of the modern university in the way of enlarged endowments and increased equipment. Some of this talk is, of course, reasonable enough. It is addressed mainly to the rich as a demand for the recognition by them of a duty of generosity, one which in our days has had a most remarkable response. But apparatus is an impossible substitute for ideals, and the best endowment of a college is the character of its graduates. The $2,000 bequest, for example, to his Alma Mater, which the will of the late William H. Baldwin contained, was small if considered as a mere matter of money, but his character and the ideals of public service which his life expressed form part of that permanent endowment which alone makes a university great. The memory of a railroad president ready to sacrifice, if need be, his position, rather than lose an opportunity for usefulness on an unpaid committee of citizens banded together for important civic service, is a rarer and more precious contribution to the fiber of university life than any mere material bounty from ravenous fingers unclutched by hypocrisy or the fear of death.—George W. Alger in the Atlantic Monthly.

Lawson and the Wind Clock.

Thomas W. Lawson recently received a shock at his own specialty. He was driving a spirited horse to a light vehicle. Having occasion to leave it in order to enter an office building, he called to a street urchin. "Sonny, hold my horse?" "Cert," was the pert reply. "What do I get?" "A dollar an hour," said Mr. Lawson, laughing.

"By that clock?" continued the lad, pointing to a street clock in front of a jeweler's.

"Yes," said the financier, much amused.

"All right," assented the boy, with a sudden alacrity in contrast with his previous hesitation.

Mr. Lawson performed his errand and emerged again from the office building.

"How must do I owe you?" he asked the boy.

"Two hundred and seven dollars."

"What?"

"By the clock, mister."

Mr. Lawson glanced at the clock—an advertisement. It contained no works, but was operated by currents of air, and the hands were revolving with the rapidity of a pin wheel.

"I thought Wall streeters could do more business on wind than anybody else," gasped Mr. Lawson, "but this takes my time!"—Success.

Paint to Please the Dead.

It is at least eighty years since old Abbott Roby of Dunstable, Mass., died. He had hated black and dark colors all his life, and in his last sickness begged that he might not be buried in a black coffin. A coffin of any other hue was then unknown, and his request was received in silence or with expostulation. The old man became enraged, and, sitting up in bed, shouted: "If you bury me in a black coffin I'll get up, now I tell ye!"

The funeral was an event in the small town. It was conducted by the Masons, with ritual, procession and music, and when the community was admitted to view the remains it was seen that a dutiful son had painted a wide white stripe around the coffin, to the end that Roby's perturbed spirit might rest in peace.

The Locomotive's Offspring.

When the Canadian Pacific railroad ran its first train through Maine there were a great many people on the border who had never seen a train of cars, and the first work train that came into one of the towns caused nearly all the people to turn out to see it. After they had gazed at the engine and cars for some time the train pulled on to a siding.

The roadmaster came along on a railroad velocipede and stopped at the town crossing. An old lady who had been gazing in wonder at the engine and cars asked some one what on earth that thing was. Some one in the crowd told her it was a young engine. She looked at it steadily for a few minutes, and then said: "What in the world are we coming to? Is it a yearling or a 2-year-old?"

A Love Song.

Beloved, thou hast been to me
As some most fair and favored isle,
Surrounded by a waveless sea,
And bright 'neath heaven's canniest smile.
Would be to one who, wandering
From where depends the cold north sky,
Looks out with hope the day will bring
The Southern sea's tranquillity.

Beneath a sky all dense and dark,
The clouds that hovered o'er my bark,
Did I my dreary way pursue,
The fairy tale is still afar.
Afar the skies with sunshine blest;
But Hope will be my guiding star
And Love will aid me in the quest.
—John Eugene Butler, in Brooklyn Eagle.

Americans and Britons.

An Englishman in Canada writes home in considerable excitement as follows: "The majority of Canadians never read an English paper of any kind whatever; all their literature is American. All the booksellers' shops are filled with American books, American reviews, American papers. And with what result? There can be only one result—Canadians will think 'Americanly.'"

ADDS TO SPLENDOR

MEN OF BUSINESS RECOGNIZE ADVANTAGES OF ACETYLENE.

Famous Summer Hotel, the Grand Union of Saratoga, Has Installed This Best of All Artificial Lights—Means Increased Comfort and Health.

Saratoga, June 27.—The very name, "Saratoga," brings to every mind health-giving springs, unsurpassed hotels and beautiful drives. It has been for many years the Mecca for all who admire nature, enjoy good living, and are searching for health, or are simply taking a vacation.

The Grand Union, the largest summer hotel in the United States, set among green trees with its long wings enclosing a court with fountains and flowers, grass and trees, music and light, is throughout the season thronged with guests. With the progressive spirit always shown by its management, the Grand Union has again added to its attractiveness by introducing acetylene gas to make still more brilliant the evening hours. The general proprietors believe in furnishing their guests with the best of everything, and now, after investigating and finding that Artificial Sunlight can be had, they have installed a complete acetylene gas plant to produce it, and have connected upwards of six thousand acetylene burners in and about the house and grounds to this little gas plant.

Like many discoveries of recent years, which are coming into popular favor, acetylene, one of the most recent, is very simply produced. It is adapted for use wherever artificial light is needed and the necessary apparatus can be understood and operated by anyone.

The generator in which Acetylene is produced by the automatic contact of carbide and water might be termed a gas plant, as it performs all of the functions of a city gas plant. The acetylene generator can be purchased for a few dollars and in any size, from one adapted to furnish acetylene to ten or a dozen burners for a cottage, up to the large but still simple machine such as is now furnishing Acetylene for six thousand burners in the Grand Union.

Outside of large cities the use of Acetylene is quite common. The owner of the country home now demands running water, gas and other conveniences which a few years ago were considered as luxuries, and acetylene gas has met his requirements, and gives him a better and cheaper light than is ordinarily furnished in cities.

It is well known that rooms lighted with Acetylene are more comfortable, because cooler, and more healthful because the air is not vitiated.

Trees in 1637.

Perhaps the earliest protection to trees in the colonies was in Massachusetts, for in 1637 Watertown was moved to pass a vote at town meeting "to mark the shade trees by the roadside with a 'W' and fining any person who shall fell one of the trees thus marked eighteen shillings," says Mrs. Charles F. Mills, in the Chautauquan for June, Exeter, N. H., was a close second, when in 1640, regulations were passed regarding the cutting of some oak trees. In 1793 the Massachusetts Agricultural Society offered prizes to the person who should cut the trees from the most land in three years; however, so alarming a decrease in forest area was shown by reports received at the time that the policy was speedily reversed, and prizes were offered for the planting of trees and the management of woodlots.

Underclothes Marked With Crests.

Austrians of rank have their crests and coronets worked on their undergarments. A case was tried in the Viennese courts not long ago in which a swindling, self-styled count had his linen marked with the initials and coronet of the Austrian premier, Count Goluchowski.

Of Wide Interest.

Breed, Wis., June 26.—Special—Chas. V. Peterson, Justice of the Peace for Oconto Co., has delivered a judgment that is of interest to the whole United States. Put briefly, that judgment is, "Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best Kidney medicine on the market to-day."

And Mr. Peterson gives his reason for this judgment. He says: "Last winter I had an aching pain in my back which troubled me very much. In the morning I could hardly straighten my back. I did not know what it was but an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. After taking one box I can only say they have done more for me than expected as I feel as well now as ever I did before."

Pain in the back is one of the first symptoms of Kidney disease. If not cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills it may develop into Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism or some of the other deadly forms of Kidney Disease.

Remarkable Sheep Drive.

Without losing a single animal, seven shepherds recently drove a flock of 14,000 sheep from Mamura, in Queensland, to Narbri, in New South Wales, a distance of 900 miles.

Farmers' Wives

should read advertisement of Acetylene Apparatus Mfg. Co. in another column of this paper.

Pay of London Police Force.

The pay of the London police force amounts to over $7,000,000 a year.

Making gold bricks without gold is an ancient industry.

Periodic Pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a most remarkable remedy for the relief of periodic pains, backache, nervous or sick headache, or any of the distressing aches and pains that cause women so much suffering.

As pain is weakening, and leaves the system in an exhausted condition, it is wrong to suffer a moment longer than necessary, and you should take the Anti-Pain Pills on first indication of an attack.

If taken as directed you may have entire confidence in their effectiveness, as well as in the fact that they will leave no disagreeable after-effects.

They contain no morphine, opium, chloral, cocaine or other dangerous drugs.

"For a long time I have suffered greatly with spells of backache, that come almost more than I can endure. These attacks come on every month, and last two or three days. I have never been able to get anything that would give me much relief until I began the use of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and they always relieve me in a short time. My sister, who suffers the same way, has used them with the same results." MRS. PARK, 721 S. Michigan St., South Bend, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1905.

The editor of the Livingston Republican received a notice of a wedding and $1 enclosed as a gift. The editor of the Fowlerville Review on hearing of it says, "We have been publishing the Review for nearly 31 years and never had a joke like that played on us." Bro. Adams, you must not feel disappointed, there are lots of others of us who never had a chance to appreciate such a joke.

Rev. Robert VanKirk, pastor of the Baptist church, Jackson, entered a vigorous protest against the alarming increase of divorces in this state when on Wednesday evening of last week he refused to marry a couple because the woman had been divorced. The couple probably had no trouble getting married by some other minister, but Mr. VanKirk showed by his decision that he put principle before fees, if nothing else.

Senator Baird has been granted an injunction to restrain the auditor general from drawing an order in favor of the state agricultural society for $10,000 as provided by the legislature, and restraining State Treasurer Glazier from paying any money out of the state treasury to said society.

If Saginaw had been chosen as the location for the fair we wonder if "Don't-give-a-d—n" Johnnie would have butted in? The great pity is he did not use his "butting-in" privileges a little while the house was in session, he might have saved the people something in taxes if he had.

Secretary of War Taft in an address to the Yale law class at the commencement exercises Monday said the administration of criminal law in all the states is a disgrace to us and that a change is badly needed. He says that the courts have too little power and that things are better managed in the English law courts, where there are no appeals allowed from the trial in the first court unless the judge presiding deems certain questions of law of sufficient importance and doubt to reserve them to a court of crown cases reserved.

An exchange asks: "Are the American people hurrying to destruction? Statistics go to show that the everlasting rush of this nation is causing thousands of deaths annually. In the limitless production of hair-brained, heedless, death-dealing hurry we continue to lead the world with ridiculous ease. The returns are beginning to assume staggering proportions. We claim with pardonable pride that we are moving about twice as fast as the rest of the world and the list of the killed and maimed confirms it. We are reducing the longevity of the American people not only by crowding mile-a-minute trains and running beneath street cars, but by consuming nerve tissue in a way that is shameful." All of which is absolutely true.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible tortures of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best remedy made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25¢ at Bank Drug Store.

An exchange says that Limburger cheese laid away in cupboards will drive away ants. It will not only drive away ants, but uncles, too, and parents, and brothers and sisters, lovers and grandmothers, yea, even to the seventh generation. Still, some people like it.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indigestion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I lived or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent many patients and will continue to do so."

Rumford's stock of silverware. The colonel is one of the smoothest auctioneers that ever struck this section and when he can't get the 'long price' the other fellows need not try."

THE MISSING MAN

By MARY R. P. HATCH
Author of "The Bank Tragedy"

Copyright, 1892, by Lee and Shepard

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

But was not there an ominous significance in its being found on the bank of the river so near the spot where the Italians were wont to land on their excursions after liquor? Easily excited, malicious and revengeful, ready to brandish their knives at any provocation, it was not impossible that they had set upon Hamilton when intoxicated, killed him and sunk his body in the river. If his surmises should be proved true, then it would not be asked why Hamilton should do so strange a thing as to go to the bank and yet not to his own house afterwards. It would be seen that he was on the way there when something happened to prevent, something dreadful, or he would have been heard from.

Osborn, after some deliberation as to what would be the wisest course, called after banking hours at the house of the president. Mr. Hastings was present and received him pleasantly. As soon as the young man was alone with the president in the latter's room, he broached the subject of his call and produced the cap as confirmatory of his statement.

"You found it by the river bank?" "Yes, sir; lodged in the bushes. It may have been washed ashore, but I think, as the water has been low since May, it was more likely tossed there by some one."

"We had a small freshet the very last of May, you recollect?" "Yes, so we did! Well, it may have been washed there by the rise of the water. Anyway, it looks ominous; do not you think so, Mr. Hastings?"

"Perhaps so," said the president. "Do you think Hamilton started to go home from the bank, went as far as the river, encountered the Italians, presumably intoxicated, and was finally set upon by them?"

"I do," said Tony, firmly. "I know that he was in town the 22d, and from

"We know there is, sir. I have seen it manifested right here in Grovedale and if I am not mistaken, you were present, too, when Dr. Major exhibited his influence over the minds of his subjects."

"Yes, I recollect, and, bless me! you went forward, didn't you?"

"I did, sir, and they told me I made a fool of myself; went around the audience offering flowers to the ladies, though I had nothing in my hand but my hat. Now, if Ashley possessed this power, it would have been an easy matter, having come into the possession of those notes, to hypnotize Low, making him believe that he was Hamilton himself."

"Well, well, Tony, you must own that this is all the purest conjecture; but if by any strange conjunction of circumstances your idea should prove to be not without foundation, how did Ashley come by the notes; why did Hamilton go away with Mrs. Ashley, and where is Hamilton now?"

"The second question I give over unanswered, the other two, by thinking of Hamilton as in the power of Ashley, are explained. Yes, and that might explain the second, too."

"But how about the Italian theory, must that go to the wall?"

"The two might be united, somehow."

"I conclude you have thought this matter up considerably."

"Yes, sir, I have."

"Couldn't have been Ashley instead of Hamilton you saw going into the bank, hey?"

"No, sir, I was too far away to be hypnotized," said Tony, smiling, "and I know it was Hamilton himself."

"Well," said Mr. Hastings, thoughtfully, "this is a strange matter, and perhaps we are only at the beginning of the mystery."

"That is what I think, sir. I only wish it might end by restoring Hamilton to his home and to his place at the bank, a happy, honored man."

"Amen, Tony."

CHAPTER VII.

Clews and Suspicions.

In pursuance of his first thought Tony took the cap and went to Mrs. Hamilton's with it in his pocket. He hardly knew how to broach the matter, but at last did so by laying it on the table and asking quietly, "Was that Mr. Hamilton's?"

With a low cry Constance snatched the cap and pressed it eagerly to her breast. "Yes, it is his cap, his traveling cap. I made it myself, and he took it away with him. Where did you find it?"

"I found it on the river bank, where it lay as if tossed there by the freshet, or some person."

"Oh, then he was drowned! He was coming from the bank toward home and he fell into the river. Was it very dark that night, Tony? I don't recollect," said Constance, piteously.

"Rather dark; but consider, Mrs. Hamilton, the unlikelihood of his walking into the river, a man in his senses and who never drank."

"True. Then what do you think about it?"

"It is all conjecture, Mrs. Hamilton," said the young man, forbearing to speak of the presence of the Italians, as he had done to Mr. Hastings. "I brought the cap for you to see and keep if you wish. I thought you might like to know that it was probable Mr. Hamilton started to come here that night."

"Oh, yes, thank you, Tony, and I will keep the cap. I was sure Vane never would go away without coming home. But if he did start and was prevented, what was it that happened to him? It was something dreadful. He may have been murdered and thrown into the river," and Constance clutched at a chair to save herself from falling.

"Let us hope that it is not so bad as that. He may be in the toils of Ashley somewhere."

"Who is Ashley, Tony?"

Young Osborn saw that by his sympathy he had been led into error. Evidently she knew nothing about the suspicion entertained by Bruce and others. He hardly knew what was best, but he decided to tell her about it. This would introduce the hypnotic theory, which might be in some sense a comfort to her, as doing away with the one point, hitherto regarded as incontrovertible, of her husband's presenting in person the altered notes to Low and to the other bank and receiving the money in exchange.

Constance listened to his account of Ashley, of Bruce's suspicions, and Tony's own ideas based on Bruce's account of Ashley's hypnotizing the jailer.

"Now, if he could do that, Mrs. Hamilton, why might he not have influenced Low to the extent of making him believe he was the cashier of the Grovedale bank?"

"It is a bold idea, Tony. I wish I could credit it fully. And yet, as you say, it is no stranger than what he did to the jailer, as alleged by Mr. Bruce. Bruce then thinks Ashley and Vane are one and the same."

"Bruce is a stupid old curmudgeon! Couldn't track a mouse back to his hole."

"Tony," said Mrs. Hamilton, suddenly, "what do you think of the letter thrust under Mr. Hastings' door and purporting to have been written by Mr. Hamilton? I do not think he wrote it at all."

"He certainly did not, if what we have conjectured is true."

"Why I think so I will tell you. He would never send me a message through another person no more than he would have come to the bank without coming home."

Mrs. Hamilton's confident assertion carried great weight with her listener until a doubt hurried from the regions of nowhere struck against it. "How," asked the doubt, "if he went away in the company of another woman?"

"You seem to doubt it, Tony?"

"No," he replied, for his mind had already rallied from the shock on thinking that he had taken his premises on the belief of his complete innocence of every charge. "I think your reasoning is good. Mr. Hamilton is, I believe, instead of being a victimizer, the victim himself, of circumstances, if not conspiracy."

Tony arose to go soon afterwards, and Mrs. Hamilton said, gravely:

"I shall think over what you have said, and it may be I shall want your assistance in following out some line of investigation. May I count on your aid?"

"Yes, indeed, I shall be most happy to aid you if I can," and Tony's boyish face lighted up with pleasure.

"Thank you. You are the only person in Grovedale, besides myself, who believes my husband to be innocent. Even Uncle Carter does not," said Mrs. Hamilton, with emotion, as she shook hands with the young man.

Constance thought the matter over deeply for twenty-four hours, and then the following letter reached young Osborn:

"Friend Tony—I have decided to ask of you the favor I hinted at yesterday. If you can get free from your duties at the bank for a few days I should like to have you go to the police headquarters in Boston, gain a personal interview with the chief, and have him send a suitable detective to follow out the new clue furnished by the cap found on the river bank. I desire a man of great astuteness, for such a man is needed, tell the chief, and I am willing to pay well for the service, and, of course, I shall reimburse you for the time and money spent in my behalf."

"Very truly yours,

"Constance Hamilton."

Tony got his release without much difficulty and soon reached the police headquarters. Following Mrs. Hamilton's directions he asked for a detective of the keenest order, and such a one was furnished him in the person of a small, alert individual by the name of Swan. To him Tony recounted from beginning to end the bank mystery with its varied complications and the adverse circumstances surrounding it at the present time.

INCIDENT TOLD BY CYNIC.

Proof of Presence of Skeleton in Every Man's Closet.

The late Emerson Bennett of Philadelphia was in his prime the most popular American author. He was the star of Robert Bonner's New York Ledger staff, and certain of his books—"The Prairie Flower" and "The Phantom of the Forest"—had a circulation that would be thought enormous even now.

Mr. Bennett was over 80 years old when he died. He was so unfortunate as to have outlived his fame. Nevertheless, he continued cheerful to the end, and in the Masonic home, where his last days were passed his humor was prized highly.

Mr. Bennett often used to talk about Robert Bonner at the home. This is one of the Bonner stories that he sometimes told:

Bonner one day was criticizing human nature cynically. A clergyman took up the cudgel in human nature's defense.

"There is good in all of us," he said; more good than bad. I believe that 99 per cent of us have never done any thing for which there is real cause to be ashamed."

"Nonsense," said Mr. Bonner. "Every man has a skeleton in his closet. You could shoot a gun anywhere and bring down a bad man."

"Why," he continued, warmly, "I once knew a bishop who was considered the holiest man in America. A friend of mine, by the way of a joke telegraphed one night to this bishop:

"All is discovered. Fly at once."

Mr. Bonner paused and chuckled. "Well," said the clergyman, impatiently. "Well, what happened?"

"By morning," said Mr. Bonner, "the bishop had disappeared, and he has never been heard of since."—New Orleans States.

Hurrah for the Fourth

Hurrah for the Fourth of July!

With its deafening racket and noise;
When mothers instinctively sigh
For the safety of reckless small boys,
When Johnny awakes with a yell,
And drags forth his cast-iron gun,
Whose boomings uproariously tell
He is wading knee-deep in the fun.

Hurrah for the Fourth of July.

And the rattle of life and of drum!
When we know from small Willie's sad cry,
He is minus a finger or thumb;
When mothers, behind darkened doors,
Keep cotton plugged into their ears
To shut out the thunderous roars
And are filled with forebodings and fears.

Hurrah for the Fourth of July!

When the surgeons are all feeling gay,
And with lotions and arnica try
To respond to the calls of the day.
When dynamite crackers get in
And furnish their quota of harm,
And we learn in the murderous din
That Tommy is minus an arm!

Hurrah for the Fourth of July!

When Johnny to add to the fun,
And with foolish desire to die,
Looks into the mouth of his gun.
Oh, well that the funeral man
Has methods which he can employ,
And in some sort of decency can
Straighten out what is left of the boy!

Hurrah for the Fourth of July!

The glad day is now drawing near;
There's a lurid, red glare in the sky,
The booming we faintly can hear.
Prepare for the dangers that wait,
For the noise we will hear by and by,
For the racket the kids will create—
Hurrah for the Fourth of July!

Some Famous Sayings

WASHINGTON.

(In his address to the Governors of the States, June 8, 1783.)

There are four things which I humbly conceive are essential to the well-being, I may even venture to say, to the existence of the United States, as an independent power.

First, an indissoluble union of the states under one federal head.

Secondly, a sacred regard to public justice.

Thirdly, the adoption of a proper peace establishment, and

Fourthly, the prevalence of that pacific and friendly disposition among the people of the United States which will induce them to forget their local prejudices and policies; to make those mutual concessions which are requisite to the general prosperity; and, in some instances, to sacrifice their individual advantages to the interest of the community.

These are the pillars on which the glorious fabric of our independency and national character must be supported. Liberty is the basis, and whoever would dare to sap the foundation, or overturn the structure, under whatever specious pretext he may attempt it, will merit the bitterest execrations, and the severest punishment which can be inflicted by his injured country.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

(Address in Congress, July 4, 1851.)

I now do declare, in the face of all the intelligent of the age, that, for the period which has elapsed from the day that Washington laid the foundation of this capitol to the present time, there has been no country upon earth in which life, liberty and property have been more amply and steadily secured, or more freely enjoyed, than in these United States of America.

IDEAS OF THOMAS JEFFERSON

Extract From Letters Written by Famous Statesman.

The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right, and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.

But I should mean that every man should receive those papers and be capable of reading them.—In a letter to Edward Carrington, dated Paris, Jan. 16, 1787.

I am for a government, vigorously frugal and simple, applying all the possible savings of the public revenue to the discharge of the national debt; and not for a multiplication of officers and salaries merely to make partisans, and for increasing by every device, the public debt, on principle of its being a public blessing. I am for free commerce with all nations; political connections with none, and little or no diplomatic establishment.

—To Elbridge Gerry, Jan. 28, 1799.

Our first and fundamental maxim should be, never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe. Our second, never to suffer Europe to meddle with America. . . . Who is there that can stand upon the foundation of facts, acknowledged or proved, and assert that these our republican institutions have not answered the true ends of government beyond all precedent in human history?

(At another time.) Of our system of government the first thing to be said is that it is really and practically a free system. It originates entirely with the people and rests on no other foundation than their assent.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

(First inaugural address, March 4, 1861.)

A majority held in constraint by constitutional checks and limitations, and always changing easily with deliberate changes of popular opinions and sentiments, is the only true sovereign of a free people. Whoever rejects it, does, of necessity, fly to anarchy or to despotism.

HENRY W. GRADY.

The home is the source of our national life. Back of the national capitol and above it stands the home. Back of the president and above him stands the citizen. What the home is, this and nothing else will the capitol be. What the citizen wills, this and nothing else will the president be.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

In men far more than in matter, you have the highest products of progress. There is progress only when men grow. In men you have the potent means to determine the progress of the future. God has made men the agents of progress.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

A man's country is not a certain area of land, but it is a principle, and patriotism is loyalty to that principle.

cis-Atlantic affairs. America, North and South, has a set of interests distinct from those of Europe, and peculiarly her own. She should, therefore, have a system of her own, separate and apart from that of Europe.—To President Monroe, Oct. 24, 1823.

Fourth of July in the Philippines.

On the Fourth of July the Filipino "outyankees" the most patriotic Yankee that ever lived. He has taken the day to his heart, and is as joyous over it as a boy over his first firecracker; and while perhaps he is yet a trifle hazy as to the exact importance of the event in American history, he is perfectly clear on the subject of flags, and he is perfectly aware of the good times possible on this day.

In Manila all the business houses are draped with stately bunting and the ancient palaces are bright with the Stars and Stripes, and even the boats in the harbor are decked with "Old Glory." Towering arches, generally of bamboo, are erected in the streets and strung with flags and portraits of our national heroes. In the smaller Philippine towns, where flags cannot be had, these arches are often made of cotton cloth and decorated with wreaths and suitable inscriptions.—Woman's Home Companion.

Women Not Artistic.

During the last hundred years in France and England the education of women has been more artistic than that of men. For more emphasis is put upon music and drawing in girls' schools than in the corresponding institutions for their brothers. And yet Galton found, in investigating nearly 900 cases, that 28 per cent males and 33 per cent females showed artistic tastes. In spite of the larger opportunity which the modern woman has to develop her artistic faculties, the results in the two sexes are practically the same.

WHY THEY ARE HAPPY

TWO NOTABLE RECOVERIES FROM EXTREME DEBILITY.

Husband's Strength Had Been Waning for Three Years, Wife a Sufferer from Female Weakness.

"My strength had dwindled so that I couldn't apply myself to my business with any snap but was tired and listless all the time," said Mr. Goldstein.

"I went to bed completely used up by my day's work, and when I got up in the morning I didn't feel rested a bit. I had awful headaches too, and my kidneys got out of order and caused me to have severe pains in the back. At one time I became so feeble that I could not stir from bed for three weeks."

Mr. Goldstein is a young man and had then but recently established a home of his own. His anxieties were increased by the fact that his wife was far from being robust. Mrs. Goldstein says:

"For two years I had been ill most of the time. Sometimes I was confined to bed for weeks in succession under a physician's care. I had headaches, kidney trouble, pain about the heart and many more uncomfortable symptoms connected with that weakness to which my sex is peculiarly subject."

Trouble had invaded this household and settled in it in just the years that ought to be the very happiest. Physicians could not tell them how to get rid of it.

"I was utterly discouraged," said Mr. Goldstein. "Then the urgency of some friends led me to try a blood and nerve remedy which was said to be wonderfully successful. Within a month there were unmistakable signs of improvement in my condition, and within a year I was completely well. Through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have now as good health as I ever had in my life."

Mrs. Goldstein adds: "The wonderful effect that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had in the case of my husband led me to try them and they helped me even more quickly than they did him. One box made me decidedly better and a few months' treatment cured me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best tonic and regulator, they make pure blood and when there is general weakness and disorder that is what the system needs. Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstein live at 38 Grove street, East Boston, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere.

Miss Genevive May, 1317 S. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind., Member Second High School Alumni Ass'n, writes:

"Peruna is the finest regulator of a disordered stomach I have ever found. It certainly deserves high praise, for it is skillfully prepared."

"I was in a terrible condition from a neglected case of catarrh of the stomach. My food had long ceased to be of any good and only distressed me after eating. I was nauseated, had heartburn and headaches, and felt run down completely. But in two weeks after I took Peruna I was a changed person. A few bottles of the medicine made a great change, and in three months my stomach was cleared of catarrh, and my entire system in a better condition."—Genevive May.

UNCLE NED'S FOURTH JULY RECOLLECTIONS

Uncle Ned had stolen out into the orchard to take a quiet snooze under a tree, but the children spied out his hiding place and begged him for a story. Uncle Ned pretended to be provoked, but of course he was not really, and the children knew it.

"Well, what shall it be this time?" he demanded.

"Tell us a story about the Fourth of July," cried John.

"Oh, yes, do Uncle Ned," echoed the others.

For a minute or two Uncle Ned rummaged around in his memory. "I will tell you about a time in 1853," he said. "I was at Funchal, the capital city of Madeira island, one of the paradises of the earth. My father, your granduncle, had gone there for his health, and with my mother we were invited to spend the Fourth with Mr. Marsh, the American consul."

"My recollection is also that it happened to be the day of a solemn Portuguese function. Mary, queen of Portugal, was dead and her son was succeeding her. The consulate building fronted on the beautiful public square, where a catafalque had been erected."

"The Portuguese official procession was headed by a functionary—a sort of officer—who carried a big silver ax. On approaching a crown set on top of the catafalque he cleft the crown in twain, and exclaimed: 'The queen is dead, long live the king!' Bells were tolling, minute guns were firing from forts on the harbor and the land fortress. All was deepest mourning, flags were half-mast and draped, and no sounds of music were heard."

"The consulate driveway, the building standing back, was entered under an arch, on which there was a balcony. From this vantage ground one could see across the plaza and down through a short street that led to the ocean side, giving a fine view of the shipping in the harbor."

"The land and water scenery were magnificent. From the balcony I could reach out and touch a tempting bunch of bananas. Seemingly right opposite me in the harbor rode the United States frigate Constitution, her square, white portholes looking like an immense checkerboard as she gently rose and fell on the waters.

"Above her in the bright sunshine swayed the Stars and Stripes. I had read the story of the gallant Hull, and how his ship, the Constitution, had captured the British frigate Guerriere, in the war of 1812, and as mother pointed out to me our flag over the frigate, and said: 'My boy, that is our flag,' I felt the strongest emotions of patriotism that ever came to me on a Fourth of July."

"My feelings were the more excited, as standing next to my mother was the widow of Commander Hull, who, with her sisters, was making a trip on the Constitution, the guest of the commander. So that was one fine Fourth I had, wasn't it?"

"I'd like to have been there and heard the shooting," said John.

"And see the feller smash the crown with the ax," added Jim.

"An' me'd like to have a banner," said little Dot.

"And I," said Mary, the oldest, with dignity, "would have been most affected by the spectacle of the glorious flag of freedom waving proudly from the grand old warship in the harbor."

"Well, they were each a part of the day," said Uncle Ned, as he relit his pipe for the twentieth time, "and I shouldn't wonder but what it's time for you all to run along now."

Evolution of the Fourth

In the twenties of the last century great preparations were made by the pioneers of southern Ohio for the Fourth of July celebration, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. In some instances an ox was roasted and people came for miles to the barbecue. At other times the "foremothers" provided great flanks of venison and beef for the feast, with butters of apple and pumpkin, bread of wheat or rye—an agreeable change from the common fare of cornbread—and pies by the quantity of all varieties known to the time.

The men folks prepared speeches—those who could make them—their subjects being "King George the Third," and "England's Tyrannical Policy." Every man, woman and child congratulated themselves that they were living in the free wilds of Ohio rather than on England's isles. The reading of the Declaration of Independence was listened to with serious attention, the youngest children being compelled to sit as quietly as though they were in church.

Courted Then as Now.

Young men in jeans pantaloons, with knitted wool "galluses" and cotton shirts with white linen bosoms finely handstitched, paid court to maidens in gowns of linen or tow, "hatched," spun or woven by themselves. The buggy-top calash modestly hid their faces from the ardent gaze of their country suitors.

Fifes and drums furnished music for the occasion, the strains of "Yankee Doodle Come To Town," with "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," setting the proud pace for the heroes of 1812. Patriotism glowed warm in the twenties.

Even as late as the fifties and sixties the Fourth of July was taken seriously. Sunday school picnics had come into vogue, and there was a mingling of religion, patriotism and fun. Brass bands played "The Star Spangled Banner," "Marching Through Georgia," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." The war of the Rebellion overshadowed the war of the Revolution, and there was a new theme for speeches. Sunday school children interspersed the speeches with their favorite hymns.

The "Callithumpians."

The Declaration of Independence was read as formerly, but was listened to only by conservative elders who bore remnants of the New England conscience. The young people instead of sitting decorously by, as had the youths of the twenties, wandered boldly off and watched for the approach of the band of "callithumpians" that was to furnish fun for the day.

This band consisted of young men arrayed in brilliant costumes of blue, red or yellow cotton, much after the style of the circus clowns. Hideous masks were worn, and those who could not afford a complete callithumpian outfit blackened their faces, donned false beards and turned their coats wrong side out. Their appearance produced terror in the hearts of the children and set the hearts of the maidens expectantly fluttering. Who knew but what one's fate lay hidden behind one of these masks. Free lemonade, furnished by the barrel, was served in bright new tin cups to the callithumpians by the maidens, whose alluring endeavors to elicit verbal thanks was in many cases but dumbly rewarded.

Then Came Dancing.

After the passing of the combination Sunday school picnic and Fourth of July celebration the observance of the day took on a lighter character. With the Sunday school went the Declaration of Independence. The speakers' platform was enlarged, smoothed and turned into a dancing pavilion. Instead of the patriotic fife and drum or the local brass band that gladly played for nothing came the orchestra that played for hire, and frivolous keeping time to music took the place of sedate listening to speeches among the young people. "Ice cool lemonade, made in the shade," was distributed only for profit, and not served free as in former days.

As the country developed and wealth increased pyrotechnics and firecrackers took a leap to the fore. Torpedoes and toy pistols add to the interest of the day, and the Fourth of July has become a synonym of noise and fireworks. The more dangerous the noise or cause thereof and the more extensive and expensive the fireworks the better satisfied the celebrators feel. Whether the feeling is one of patriotism is a question. It is also a question whether the Fourth of July celebration has evolved on the upward or downward grade, and whether the original import of the day has not altogether been lost to sight.

STONE IN PERPETUAL MOTION.

What Would Happen to Projectile Dropped Through the Earth.

Most of us have probably speculated, at one time or another, what would happen if a hole were bored right through the earth and one were to drop a stone into it; and F. R. A. S. now gives his views on this puzzling question. "The stone," he says, "would fall with increasing speed to the center of the earth, where it would have attained a speed of nearly 300 miles a minute. Its momentum would carry it at a constantly reducing speed through the remaining half of its journey until by the time it appeared at the antipodean end of the hole it would have come to a standstill. It would then begin to drop again, and would perform exactly the same journey on its return to the starting point. Thus it would continue to travel backward and forward from one end of the earth to the other practically forever."—London Tit-Bits.

Cleaning India Rubber Goods.

To clean indiarubber goods, a piece of clean, household flannel should be rubbed upon a bar of common yellow soap. When a lather is obtained, apply the flannel to the rubber and pass it briskly over the surface. This will speedily make the article clean. Set to dry in a cool breeze.

UNSIGHTLY BALD SPOT.

Caused by Sores on Neck—Merciless Itching for Two Years Made Him Wild—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humor spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation and merciless itching made me wild. Friends advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after a few applications the torment subsided, to my great joy. The sores soon disappeared, and my hair grew again, as thick and healthy as ever. I shall always recommend Cuticura. (Signed) H. J. Spaulding, 104 W. 104th St., New York City."

Modern Pictures Not Wanted.

In recent years it has become a matter of increasing difficulty for a living English artist to find a market for his wares, says the Academy. The middle classes appear to have concluded that original pictures are entirely beyond the means of persons with a moderate income, and content themselves with photographs. The wealthy, on the other hand, appear to consider picture-buying merely in the light of an investment, and all they want is a safe thing like preference stock—the established reputations.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. Ypsilanti's home coming celebration was a pronounced success. So much so that another to be held next year is already being talked of.

A black oak tree was felled in Ann Arbor last week which was proven by the rings made in it by each season's growth to be 230 years old.

The Wesleyan Guild Society of the M. E. church at Ann Arbor propose to erect a handsome guild house on its property, corner of East Washington and South State streets, Ann Arbor, during the next two or three years. It will cost $50,000.

Jode Harrington was elected recorder of Jackson Monday over Lucerne Patch by the emphatic majority of 743, although only a little over half the full vote of the city was cast. He succeeds C. E. Aldrich, who defaulted a short time ago.

Cement City boasts of a lady butcher and Addison boasts of a lady barber but Onsted has the best yet—a lady carpenter. She handles the saw, hammer and square as well as the most experienced but makes a specialty of building but one thing—chicken coops.

The proposition to bond the Ann Arbor school district for an additional $25,000 to fireproof the new high school building was lost by a very light vote of 76 to 88, out of about 2,500 votes. It is a short sighted piece of business. While the main cost of the building, $200,000, may be large, it certainly was worth $25,000 more to make it fireproof.

Three Heat Plan at Blue Ribbon Meet.

As the time approaches for the "Blue Ribbon Meeting" interest in the races appears to become keener.

Secretary Walter J. Snyder is besieged with inquiries concerning the three heat plan, which has been adopted by the "twentieth century" track. From all quarters letters are received complimenting the Detroit Driving Club for their progressiveness in adopting a plan of racing which insures clean, honest racing, from which keen spirited contests are sure to result. Some people have the impression that the winner of a heat retires from the race. This is not so. Instead a horse remains in a race until the finish, unless he should be distanced. The object of the three heat plan, which is really nothing more than a new plan of distributing the money and insuring a race to be finished at a certain time, is to compel every driver to try for a heat. It is a sort of a guarantee that no "laying up" of heats will be the rule. Instead of encouraging a horse to be laid up by paying him, the new plan discourages it, because he must be in the money division each heat in order to win money. In other words a horse is paid to win, not to lose.

Thus it can be seen that it pays to win, which will result in racing such as the public pay to see and demand. If you want a pretty face and delightful air, Rosy cheeks and lovely hair, Wedding trip across the sea, Put your faith in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. tea or tablets. At Bank Drug Store.

Manchester Enterprise: If the Lake Shore company could be induced to build a track from the Jackson branch line at the Rehlfuss farm, formerly the Weir farm, east of the village, to connect with the Ypsilanti branch back of what was Fred Kurfess' place, and abandon the old track from below the "Weir bridge" to the target, they would save the repair of three bridges, get a neat sum for the land and admit of the construction of a great water power here.
