A YOUNG LIFE CUT OFF.

Little Cecil Wood Schnaitman Passes Away After Six Days' Illness.

Cecil Wood Schnaitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Schnaitman, died Sunday, Sept. 3, after less than a week's illness, of peritonitis, following an attack of appendicitis. He was a bright little child and had been unusually well this summer. The family returned from a sojourn at Cavanaugh Lake on Sunday, Aug. 27, and the next day Cecil was taken ill, gradually growing worse until death relieved his intense suffering. The funeral services, held at the house yesterday morning, were conducted by Rev. E. E. Caster. The remains were interred in Oak Grove cemetery. The little fellow would have been four years old Oct. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Schnaitman have the sincere sympathy of many warm friends in their bereavement.

The following memorial tribute has been handed us for publication by one who loved the child well:

Cecil Wood Schnaitman was born Oct. 21, 1901, and died Sept. 3, 1904, of appendicitis, after a brief illness of six days. From his earliest boyhood to the last moment of his life Cecil was a sweet, lovable child. "To meet him was to love him," was the verdict of all who came into his sweet presence. Innumerable are the quaint, beautiful little sayings that his stricken parents can recall. He was very affectionate in his nature to all with whom he was associated, but upon his mother—from whom he was scarcely ever separated—he showered his choicest love and affection. His mother's approval was always his first consideration.

He had a beautiful childish voice, and had learned from his mother many hymns, some of which, by request, were sung at his funeral. One which he loved the best and which he asked his mother to sing on almost the last night of his consciousness, was the gospel hymn, the chorus of which is in part, "Joyful, joyful, will the meeting be, when from sin our hearts are pure and free." "Sing 'Joyful, mamma,' was his request, and each time as she closed he would say, "Sing it again, mamma," and she repeated it again and again until the sweet little eyes closed in sleep.

Some of these songs he had learned when he was scarcely two years old, and when his words were scarcely more than a lisping. In singing the above song when he came to the chorus his manner and expression seemed almost like inspiration, and who shall say that that angel child was not inspired? Who shall say that that sweet little voice was not given him that he might lead others to a higher, loftier and better life in the world where these great sorrows can never come.

Sleep, little angel, sleep peacefully on in the flower bedecked mausoleum which loving hands have prepared for you. Your coming was a blessing to all who knew you and we are better for it. Your departure has left an aching void which can never be filled until we meet you in that beautiful home where you are now, one of the brightest jewels in that glorious setting. Your sorrow and sufferings are over and you will sing your beautiful songs with the bright throng forever and ever. We are left behind to mourn for a short time, but with God's will the meeting will be all the sweeter when it comes.

Many were the beautiful floral offerings placed upon his bier by loving and tender hands, and many the kindly words of sympathy spoken to the stricken parents and friends, all of which are treasured in grateful remembrance.

Epworth League Convention.

The Epworth League convention of the Ann Arbor district held at Manchester last week was attended by 58 delegates representing 22 leagues. It was an enthusiastic meeting and the district will give $1,000 to missions during the coming year.

The officers elected were:

President—Fred Knopf, Blissfield.
First Vice President—Miss Flora Westerman, Adrian.
Second Vice President—Joseph Alexander, Clinton.
Third Vice President—Miss Clyde Clark, Ypsilanti.
Fourth Vice President—Miss Anna Luce Tipton.
Corresponding Secretary—Frank Elliott, Weston.
Recording Secretary—Miss Mae Stark, Manchester.
Treasurer—Elmer Smith, Milan.
Junior League Superintendent—Miss Mabelle A. Newell, Ypsilanti.
Chairman Christian Citizenship Committee—Prof. D.W. Springer, Ann Arbor.
The meeting next year will be held in Milan in August.

Death of a Waterloo Resident.

Mrs. Wm. Ellsworth died at the home of her son Charles Ellsworth in Waterloo, Saturday, Sept. 2, aged 71 years, 7 months and 4 days. Her maiden name was Ruth Rose and she was born in Stenben county, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1834. When but a child 6 months old she came with her parents to Michigan, where they settled in Washtenaw county. Dec. 31, 1850, she was married to Wm. Ellsworth. Seven children were born to them, six of whom survive her. With her husband she united with the Methodist church in 1875, and her good works will long be remembered by those who knew her. She was ever thoughtful of others, ever ready and willing to make them happy. The funeral was held at the house Tuesday, the services being conducted by Rev. Geo. Stowe, of Unadilla, assisted by Rev. G. W. Gordon.

The Boland Electric Line.

The Grass Lake common council has granted W. A. Boland, for the Jackson & Ann Arbor railway company, which is now in course of reorganization, an extension of its franchise in that village until Oct. 25, 1905, subject to the conditions that if in that time the reorganization is effected the franchise shall be still further extended to Dec. 1, 1906. In case the road is not in operation by Dec. 1, 1906, the sum of $500, secured by a gold bond, is to be paid to the treasurer of Grass Lake. Mr. Boland hopes to perfect the work of reorganizing the company, a project for which he has been unremittingly laboring, within the next few weeks. If that is accomplished, work of putting the road in condition for the operation of cars to Chelsea and Dexter will soon be commenced. Next summer Mr. Boland expects to complete the line to Ann Arbor and Detroit.

An Embarrassing Mistake.

An exchange says: A young newspaper man at Westmoreland was recently invited to a residence where the home had recently been blessed with an addition to the family. Accompanied by his best girl, he met his kind hostess at the door, and after the customary salutations, asked about the welfare of the baby. The lady was suffering from a severe cold, which made her slightly deaf, and she supposed that the young man was inquiring about her cold. She replied that though she usually had one every winter this was the worst one she ever had; it kept her awake at night a great deal at first and confined her to her bed. Then noticing that the scribe was becoming pale and nervous, she said she could see by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers and asked him if he wished to lie down.

Irish Guards' Band.

All loyal sons of Erin, who expect to visit Detroit during the State Fair week, will learn with satisfaction of an arrangement just made to have the far-famed band of the Irish Guard to play at Windsor, Ontario (just across the river from Detroit), on Thursday, Sept. 14. It was the purpose of the Irish committee, having the matter in hand, to bring this greatest of Irish musical organizations to Detroit, but the king would not grant the necessary permission for them to leave the Dominion. This was a disappointment, but it is not in Irish blood to let so small a matter as a 5-cent trip across the Detroit river prevent them hearing beloved national airs as only true Irishmen can play them.

The Irish Guards are unique as a military organization, and their band is admitted to be the only real Irish Band in the British army, everyone of its members being an Irishman born.

STATE NEWS

OVER A SCORE PERISHED IN THE GREAT GALE ON SUPERIOR

SEVEN LIVES LOST WITHIN EIGHTEEN HOURS WHILE ON PLEASURE BENT.

MRS. NIND, "THE LITTLE BISHOP," PERISHES IN A BURNING HOTEL.

More than a score of lives were lost and property valued at half a million dollars was destroyed in a furious storm that swept over Lake Superior from Friday night to Sunday night, according to reports received. The gale was the most destructive to lake shipping that has been experienced in many years. Besides the wreck of the steamer Sevona, which broke in two on Sand Island reef, seven of the crew, including the captain, losing their lives, the barge Pretoria, of Bay City, Mich., carrying a crew of ten men, sank, five sailors drowning. The new steel steamer Stackhouse arrived at the Soo on her first trip with her hatch covers so badly sprung that water poured continually into the hold. One of the crew was washed overboard. The whaleback steamer Samuel Mather also lost one of its crew overboard. The monetary loss of the Sevona is $170,000, while that of the Pretoria is $150,000.

The Pretoria, bound from Allouez to South Chicago with a cargo of iron ore, in tow of the steamer Venezuela, sank off Outer Island in the Apostle group Saturday morning. Capt. Smart and ten sailors put off from the vessel in a small boat, and started for land, twenty miles away.

After fighting through the terrific sea until late in the afternoon the boat was capsized and all were thrown into the water. Capt. Smart and four of the men managed to keep afloat and right the boat again, but the other five sailors were overcome by the waves and sank.

The dead are: Henry Schwab, engineer; Axel Lindoff, Isaac Meyer, Alfred Peterson, and the colored cook, who shipped at Duluth.

Detroit Homes Desolate.

Seven young people drowned within eighteen hours, the two accidents that strike grief to every heart. Monday night Percy Pond, the 19-year-old son of Attorney James H. Pond, of Detroit, and two girl companions were lost by the capsizing of a canoe just above Belle Isle bridge. The girls were Lucy Maloney, 963 Military avenue, Detroit, and Florence Weldon, of Martin street, Springwells. This accident came almost as an echo of the drowning disaster near Tashmoo park just before midnight Sunday. The ignition of some curtains on Chris Smith's launch by a spark from the engine caused a panic among forty passengers, and four threw themselves to a watery grave to escape the flames. Six Detroit homes are left in despair, four daughters and two sons being lost. The other boy, August Mogg, lived in Cleveland.

These two fatalities have set many thinking of the dangers of canoeing and present day imperfections in gasoline engines.

Mrs. Nind Burned to Death.

Mrs. Mary C. Nind, of Detroit, called in loving respect "the little bishop" by thousands of Methodists all over the United States, perished Saturday in a hotel fire in Littleton, Mass. With her died a granddaughter, Lydia Nind. The charred remains of Mrs. Nind, her granddaughter and Mrs. Eunice Knox were found Sunday morning in the ruins of the Millard house after the fire which consumed the hotel on Saturday night had burned itself out. The bodies of Mrs. Knox and Lydia were but a few feet apart, showing that the former had left her room during the fire, probably to awake and rescue the child. The remains of the latter were still in the bed upon which the little girl had been sleeping. The indications are that she died without awakening.

Nos. 1635 and 1636.

Convict 1635 went to bed at 12:45 Monday morning in cell 23, west wing, south side, second gallery of the state prison in Marquette; convict 1636 retired to his pallet in cell 25, adjacent. For several weeks these men, whose identity is now merged in convicts' numbers, loomed large in the interests of the people of Detroit. No. 1635 was known as Harry Johnson; 1636 called himself Harry Parker. The Moyer murderers have begun their life sentences. The hurried registration, search and other preliminaries were soon over and 1635 and 1636 were led away.

"Any last word to say?" Parker was asked.

"Nothing, my boy."

"And you, Harry?"

"I'm all in," said Johnson.

"No word for Kate?"

"Only that I still love her."

Frank Rahn, of St. Joe, left June 27 to visit relatives in Germany, but will return next week. Rahn had not heard from home in a number of years, and he did not tell his relatives of his coming and wished to surprise them. Instead he was surprised, for he writes home that on his arrival at his old home he learned that several of his brothers and sisters had come to the United States several years ago.

TOUGH STORY.

A RELEASED CONVICT'S STARTLING TALE OF WOE.

Alleging among other things that brutal flogging of prisoners in Marquette prison had led to several attempts at suicide, some of them successful; that prisoners have been confined and fed on bread and water longer than the law allows, until in some cases they have actually caught rats that ran about in cells and eaten them, Daniel Eugene Hampton, who just completed a sentence for burglary in that institution, is on his way to see Governor Warner to make a statement before him and to present affidavits embodying the statements which he has sworn to.

Hampton charges that Emil Waltz, sent from Detroit for murder, took his own life to escape a flogging, having been subjected previously to unbearable severity. He charges that A. E. Peveert, known as "Whitey Black," and sent from Kalamazoo for participation in the Richmond bank robbery, to escape flogging, attempted, in presence of the prison guards, to take his life by severing his hand with a knife, and that he actually inflicted such wounds that the surgeon had to amputate the hand.

Hampton exhibited what he said was a duplicate of the instrument with which the flogging was done. It was a piece of harness leather, perhaps an eighth of an inch thick, oblong shaped, about ten inches long by eight inches wide, perforated with small holes and attached to a strong handle. Hampton says this instrument was administered by a man weighing 200 pounds. He says prisoners would be extended over a barrel and at times beaten until the blood ran down their legs. He says he himself was given 75 blows with this paddle on one occasion.

The report of C. C. Billingshurst and Frank H. Smith, commissioners on claims in the estate of Charles H. Hackley, shows a total of $127,484.45 in claims allowed against the estate, which foots up slightly under $5,000,000.

The body of Andrew Haynes, who has been missing for some time, was found in the river at Saginaw. His watch and chain were still in his pocket, but $40 which he had is missing.

Mrs. Albert Koster, mother of the lad who died at the Lapeer home for the feeble minded August 10, will go before the prosecuting attorney with a formal application for an order to have the body of her son exhumed. Mrs. Koster does not believe the boy was given proper treatment at the institution and wishes especially to have medical advice as to the likelihood of death having been caused by the large abrasion noticed on the forehead.

ENDS WAR

MIKADO'S THANKS ARE WARM AND VERY SIGNIFICANT.

ST. RTLING REPORTS COME OF DANGER FROM A RISING OF THE PEOPLE.

THE PEOPLE AND THE ARMY ARE SAID TO BE VERY DISSATISFIED OVER THE TERMS.

President Roosevelt has received from the emperor of Japan the following message of thanks and appreciation for the part played by the president in the negotiations which have resulted in a cessation of hostilities in the far east:

"Tokio, September 3, 1905.—The President: I have received with gratification your message of congratulations conveyed through our plenipotentiaries and thank you warmly for it. To your disinterested and unrelenting efforts in the interests of peace and humanity I attach the high value which is their due and assure you of my grateful appreciation of the distinguished part you have taken in the establishment of peace based upon the principles essential to the permanent welfare and tranquility of the far east."

"MUTSUHITO."

The cablegram from the Japanese emperor puts an end to the rumors that the emperor was dissatisfied with the terms finally concluded by his plenipotentiaries. The concluding sentence of the cablegram is especially significant. It evidently voices the belief of the Japanese emperor that the treaty about to be concluded at Portsmouth will be for a permanent peace.

Startling Report.

Japan is on the verge of a revolution over the concessions granted to Russia in the proposed peace treaty, according to a dispatch from Tientsin printed in the New York Herald Monday morning.

The discontent has been steadily growing since the first intimation came from Portsmouth that Japan's original demands have been sacrificed and the feeling is now so deep-seated that it is greatly feared there will be an uprising throughout the empire. This popular rage has manifested itself prominently in Tokio.

With the army showing the same spirit in the field as the nation at home, the safety of the empire is believed to be in grave peril.

The interruption of all cable communication with the island empire which was at first attributed to a great typhoon, is now said to have been caused by the deliberate cutting of the wires, either with the idea of keeping the news of the discontent from the army or with the purpose of preventing orders to Oyama for the return of the forces in the field to quell the possible rebellion.

In Great Peril.

A sudden, clear light is thrown on the present extraordinary situation in Japan by a staff correspondent of the World, who personally knows the views of the foremost men of that country and who sailed from Japan just before the peace envoys met at Portsmouth.

"The Mutsuhito dynasty is in peril," the correspondent says. "When I left Japan the army and the populace generally were passionately clamoring for a great money indemnity as the first element in the terms of peace."

"It is impossible to express the intensity of feeling behind the demand. It was hysterical. In the army peace without a huge money indemnity was unthinkable."

"A popular revolution, backed by the army, is the most likely thing in the situation. The Japanese army is supreme in the empire. Military power has reduced the civil power to comparative impotence. The mikado has become a mere go-between, with the arrogant military aristocracy on one side and the fearful and demoralizing civilian class on the other."

"Everything and everybody in Japan is subordinate to the army. Just before I left Japan it was common talk that if the emperor and his civil advisers should yield to foreign pressure and humiliate Japan by a diplomatic surrender to Russia there would be a popular uprising, supported by a revolt in the army, and that the emperor would be deposed."

Bacon Is Assistant.

Robt. Bacon, of New York, has been appointed assistant secretary of state in succession to Francis B. Loomis, retired. The appointment of Mr. Bacon was agreed upon almost immediately after Elihu Root had accepted the office of secretary of state, but was not announced. Mr. Bacon for many years has been an important factor of business life in New York city, having been until within a year or so a junior partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. President Roosevelt has known Mr. Bacon for many years and came particularly into contact with him at the time of the settlement of the anthracite coal strikes. Mr. Bacon will not assume the duties of his office, probably, before the middle of October.

A fund of $20,000 is being raised to induce factories to locate in Durand.

DEADLY BOMB.

BARCELONA, SPAIN, IN PANIC OVER A DASTARD'S WORK.

A bomb exploded with terrific force Sunday afternoon on the Marine Parade, in Barcelona, which was thronged with holiday makers. A panic ensued and the air was rent with the shrieks and groans of the victims, who numbered between thirty and sixty, including one woman killed and five persons mortally wounded.

The bomb was conical in shape and covered with cement. The perpetrator of the outrage is unknown. One witness states that early in the morning a child was seen to deposit a bomb at the foot of a tree, while another version is that the bomb was placed at the foot of a tree during the afternoon, and that the men who were seen to place it there were injured by its premature explosion.

Ellison at Home.

Byron Ellison, husband of Mrs. Kittie Ellison, whose testimony convicted Tom Sherman and Frank Weakley of the murder of Joseph Moyer, the Detroit pawnbroker, resumed his duties as stationary engineer in the Thayer building, Kansas City, Monday. Ellison was given a cordial welcome by his friends and acquaintances in the building. Everyone who saw him shook hands with him and in many other ways expressed satisfaction over his return. Several others of the Kansas City Southern Co. went down into the dark sub-basement where Ellison works to tell him they were pleased to see him back and to reiterate their confidence in his integrity.

Mr. Ellison talked freely about his wife and her connection with the men who murdered the Detroit pawnbroker. When asked if he had forgiven his wife, he replied: "Yes, we are fully reconciled. I feel a good deal better than I did. We had a happy family reunion after the trial. She did not know that Sherman and Weakley were criminals; she did not know that a murder had been committed, until after she returned from Cleveland to Detroit. She found it out by reading the papers. Sherman met her at the boat on the way to Cleveland and gave her a small sack containing about $200 worth of diamonds."

"When she read of the murder she returned to Kansas City for the express purpose of telling me all about it, but she could not muster courage and I read it in the papers. When I heard my wife's name bandied about as an associate of criminals and murderers I went to her. I am very glad I did so."

An Unnatural Mother.

A confessed accomplice in the murder of her 2-year-old daughter, whose mutilated body was subsequently bathed and neatly clad in its best clothes and then tossed into the open doorway of a West Side tenement house in New York, Agnes Hyland, aged 23 years, was locked up. Gustave Denner, a plumber, with whom the woman lived as a housekeeper, is also under arrest. The mother told the police that Denner killed her baby girl Gertrude because it "was in the way," and that she helped to dispose of the body.

According to the mother, the child, who was an attractive, robust youngster, with a profusion of light curly hair and blue eyes, was beaten to death the previous night because Denner, who has three children of his own, objected to her presence in the home.

All Are Summoned.

Subpenas have been issued for the entire list of officers in five leading life insurance companies, summoning them to appear before the New York legislative insurance investigation committee at its opening session next week. Among the well-known men for whom subpenas have been made out are: John A. McCull, George W. Perkins, Darwin P. Kingsley, Thomas A. Buckner, Gage E. Tarbell, George T. Winthrop, H. R. Winthrop, Richard A. McCurdy, John R. Hegeman, Haley Fiske and Frederick A. Burnham. Among those actually served thus far are Messrs. McCull, Perkins, Kingsley, Tarbell and Wilson.

So far as known no subpenas have been issued for Senator Chauncey Depew or James Hazen Hyde. The latter is outside of the state, but his counsel is understood to have assured the investigators that he will come to New York for the purpose of receiving service of the papers should they be made out.

Two Villages Destroyed.

The villages of New Berlin and Edmeston, New York, were nearly destroyed by a cloudburst which occurred Monday evening. It had been raining all day and the streams were very high. About 7:30 o'clock there was a terrific fall of rain and in less than 30 minutes the streams became torrents which swept buildings from their foundations, uprooted trees, washed out telegraph and telephone poles, destroyed railroads running through those villages and washed out great sections of the roads and dozens of bridges.

Boycott Waning.

Consul-General Rodgers at Shanghai cables the state department as follows: "Northern trade is opening and the boycott is apparently subsiding."

Through the mails the state department has received the copies of the boycott placards which have been displayed in the principal Chinese ports, reciting the unjust treatment of Chinese merchants and students seeking to enter American ports as a reason why the Chinese at home should refrain from trading with Americans.

Tossed 40 feet by an engine while crossing a railroad in Wilkesbarre, Pa., Benjamin Zehner, who had been deaf for years, had his hearing restored.

A human monstrosity has been occupying the attentions of physicians in Newark, N. J. It was a male child with a black skin, born to a white girl, the 17-year-old bride of a baker. It had a pair of horns protruding from its head and the face resembled a mask of Mephistopheles. The eyes, an inch and a half in diameter, entirely filled the orbital cavities. The child lived only ten hours.

LATE NEWS

ANOTHER GREAT STRIKE OF COAL MINERS IS COMING.

CLERGYMAN SAYS ATTACKS ON ROCKEFELLER ARE REACTING.

YOUNG LAD ROASTED ALIVE BY SATURATING HIM WITH GASOLINE.

Coming Strike.

A general strike of anthracite coal miners, the greatest in the history of this country, is threatened within a few months, when the agreement forced upon the operators by the arbitration commission in the strike of 1902 comes to an end. This strike will involve every anthracite miner in the country, numbering over 150,000 men on one side, led by John Mitchell, and the coal trust, with the eleven great coal carrying railroads, on the other. If precedent is to be followed, millions of dollars will be wasted on the part of the miners, blood will be shed, and the public treated to another severe lesson in the blessings of enforced thrift and the folly of bodily comfort. Neither the coal trust nor the railroads will lose a dollar through the strike. They have been fortifying themselves in anticipation of the struggle which will either shatter the miners' union into powerless units, or force the operators into a further peace treaty.

Millions upon millions of tons of anthracite have been scattered among various storage places along the big coal roads in Pennsylvania. Altogether there are about 40,000,000 tons thus hoarded. The total annual output of the coal trust for the past three years has been about 65,000,000 tons, of which only 50,000,000 tons a year approximately has been consumed. The operators do not fear the coming struggle. They rather welcome it. The closing down of the mines for even a year could not hurt them to any extent. They openly boast that their position is impregnable.

Roasted Alive.

Chas. Christian, 11 years old, son of Lee Christian, was roasted alive in Hannibal, Mo., Thursday night by another boy named McLain, who dashed a can of gasoline over the clothes of young Christian and then applied a lighted match. Christian was playing on the street with several other boys when McLain walked up swinging a gasoline can. After twice threatening to roast the Christian boy alive he finally made his word good. He unscrewed the cap of the can, rushed upon Christian and drenched him from head to foot with gasoline. Before the unfortunate lad could get away he touched a lighted match to his trousers, which were soaked with gasoline. Instantly the boy was enveloped in flames. He fell to the ground screaming in agony and fighting the fire. Many persons ran to his rescue and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not before every stitch of clothes was burned from his body and he was fatally burned.

Defends John D.

Defense of John D. Rockefeller and denunciation of Gov. La Follette, of Wisconsin, who criticized him, were the features of a sermon delivered Sunday night by Rev. Dr. Robert S. McArthur, of New York, who has just returned from a summer lecturing tour of the Chautauque assembly platform. Dr. McArthur made special reference to the speeches of Gov. La Follette which related to the head of the Standard Oil Co. and declared them to be exaggerations which only served to arouse sympathy for persons against whom they were directed.

"Gov. La Follette's attack on Mr. Rockefeller," said Dr. McArthur, "is positively fierce. His criticism of Mr. Rockefeller is cruel, coarse and severe to the utmost extreme. The pendulum is swinging toward favorable judgment of Mr. Rockefeller largely because of the criticism in a monthly magazine article of members of his family. I hesitate not to affirm that the writing of these articles is creating a reaction in favor of Mr. Rockefeller. I say that Gov. La Follette shocked his audiences. There is a vast amount of arrant hypocrisy in public speakers' denunciation of millionaires. Probably all of these speakers would be millionaires if they could."

Germany Cholera Stricken.

The spread of cholera from two localities on the river Weichsel five days ago to thirty-four cases in twelve localities extending from the Baltic to the river Warthe, 150 miles south, and its appearance in Hamburg has given an unpleasant thrill to the people of Germany, for it may mean a long and steady fight, as in 1892-93, to prevent the disease from getting beyond control. In those years it is estimated that 800,000 persons died from cholera.

Irving D. Smith, of LaSalle county, S. D., known as the millionaire farmer of Dakota, is to have a guardian if his wife can induce the court to grant one. Smith has been very generous of late and has given away to tenants and others property worth $679,200.

P. E. McDonnell, a Chicago engineer, says the theory of gravitation is all wrong, and that repulsion is what keeps everything in place on earth. Every planet in the universe, he says, is pushing the others away from it. During the eclipse of the sun, when its repellant force was diminished a trifle, he says, his theory was proved by a scale test in which eighty-six pounds of iron grew two ounces lighter, according to the weight registered while the sun was partially eclipsed.

The fire which started in the Cambria mine, Negaunee, a week ago is now, so far as surface indications show, extinguished.

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain. This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Allay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

"Sick headache is hereditary in my family. My father suffered a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it stops it at once."

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1905.

The village of Milan has adopted standard time. Chelsea is the only village or city left in Washtenaw county that still clings to that old back number—local time. And yet if anyone were to say that Chelsea did not possess as much, if not more, go-aheadiness than her neighbors how angry we all should be. Wake up, people, and let's get into line with the rest of our neighbors. Why, even Detroit has adopted the legal time of the state.

The Ann Arbor Argus wants to know "Why it would not be well for the Millens and Whites to expedite their numerous lawsuits by deeding over all their interests in the cement factory they are quarreling over to the attorneys engaged in the case. There might be some trouble in making an equitable division of the plant or its value among the attorneys of the respective sides, but in all other respects this solution would no doubt advance the various lawsuits."

Gen. Chas. W. Harrah says that a stain has been placed on the Michigan National Guard by the Shipman-Bersey affair at the recent encampment of state troops at Ladington which can only be settled by a court martial. Gen. Harrah is right. How can discipline and good order be expected from the rank and file of the National Guard when its officers engage in such orgies and are guilty of such conduct as that which characterized the Shipman-Bersey incident.

W. H. Housman, for seven years past editor and proprietor of the Milan Leader, with last week's issue severed his connection with that paper, having sold the plant and subscription list to Frank Gates, formerly of Inlay City. The editor of the Herald wishes Friend Housman every success in his future field of labor and extends the right hand of fellowship to the new proprietor of the Leader and hopes he will be as successful in Milan as his predecessor has been.

The people of Chelsea and vicinity, whether they belong to the Methodist church or not, who are well acquainted with Rev. E. E. Caster, will learn with regret that he will sever his connection with the church here the coming week. During the four years he has been pastor here Dr. Caster has steadily grown in the estimation of the general public as a manly man, one who has the courage of his convictions and who stands by them. In common with many others the Herald is sorry to see Dr. Caster leave Chelsea.

The senseless customs which prevail at a modern wedding grow more and more ridiculous and offensive as time goes on. The sacredness of the ceremony is entirely lost sight of and all that seems to be cared for is a large display of style and an unlimited amount of buffoonery. For instance, in Ann Arbor recently, a young couple were married and had planned to leave on their wedding trip by a certain train. But their over-zealous friends held them prisoners for two hours and prevented them not only from catching that train but the one that followed it shortly after. In Muskegon Saturday a gang of drunken hoodlums set upon a newly married man and nearly killed him, because he declined to furnish them another keg of beer with which to continue their debauch, and he was only rescued from death by his heroic wife, who drove off his murderous assailants at the point of a revolver. There is neither sense nor reason in such actions as these, yet they are considered by the perpetrators as being very smart and ingenious. And the pity of it all is these acts keep growing from bad to worse.

MORE LOCAL.

Each working day sees America $4,000,000 richer, says a scientist. With 80,000,000 people, that is 5 cents each, and if you are not getting your nickel you'd better look into it.

Rev. Dwight Breed, of Monticello, Ia., occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church last Sunday morning, also at the union services in the evening and preached two excellent sermons.

John Raffrey moved the building he purchased of John McGuinness over to his lot on Adams street Saturday, where it will be placed on the foundation prepared for it and be remodeled into a dwelling house.

H. H. Fenn arrived home yesterday from a two months' business trip in the far western states. He does not hanker after the rarefied air of that country and says he would not live in Utah if they would give it to him.

The W. R. C. will give a tea at their rooms Friday afternoon, Sept. 8, in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Harriet Steger and Mrs. Frank Guerin, two members of the order. At the same time there will be an inspection of the corps by the state inspector Mrs. Cooper, of Grass Lake.

A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which a sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which a sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore, while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper, the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper under the sleeper until the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper by striking the sleeper under the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper.

An injunction was issued by Judge Kinne Tuesday afternoon to Wm. J. White and Harry W. White, restraining Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Millen from defacing the house which they occupy, belonging to the White Portland Cement Company. The Millens were about to have holes cut in different parts of the house for the purpose of putting up stoves to heat it and this injunction is issued to prevent such action pending a hearing on this point.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE MISSING MAN

By MARY R. P. HATCH

Author of "The Bank Tragedy"

Copyright, 1892, by Lee and Shepard

"Very well, I will," he repeated, so low that only Clara heard him.

Perley was in his mother's arms, half asleep, and Clara approached them and kissed them both.

"Good-night, my darling," said her mother. "Get into bed, and I will come and tuck you up after I help Perley to undress. He is too sleepy to undress himself."

Mr. Hamilton looked at the group with misty eyes and a strange, yearning gaze. Then putting on his hat he suddenly left the house, and walked down the street, encountering a man who stopped to speak to him. But Mr. Hamilton brushed him one side, unceremoniously, as he said:

"If you must see me, come to the office to-morrow. Not to-night."

"Are you sick?" asked the man peering into his face.

"Yes, sick of living."

The man shrunk back without replying, and Hamilton strode on until he met Mr. Carter, who asked him where he was going.

"Nowhere. I will walk back with you."

"That's right. Oh, by the way, who was that man who called to see you at the mill to-day?"

"A business acquaintance."

"Well, I don't like his looks, Vane, and I fancied you were not over and above pleased to see him."

"You were right; but I have known him off and on for years, and in his way he has done me many a good turn, I suppose he thinks."

"What's his name?"

that the interests of the bank called for the "resignation" of Simon Low. Therefore he resigned, but with the united expression of good will and respect from the officers, who felt assured of his perfect honesty and reliability.

On the other hand, Tony Osborn, who had himself withdrawn, was asked to resume his place in the Grovedale bank, which he did, much gratified by the renewed confidence thus manifested. If there had been any feeling of suspicion in regard to a complicity between the cashier, when supposed to have absconded, and Tony, it had disappeared. Indeed the bank officials saw plainly now that there was little friendship between the two; for, though Mr. Hamilton was affable when they chanced to meet, Tony had little to say to him and never went near the house. However, he was as respectful as ever toward Mrs. Hamilton.

All this time her attitude toward Mr. Hamilton did not swerve from its coldness and reserve. She palpably shrank from being alone with him, or having any private conversation. And he never seemed to resent her attitude. Instead, he grew to love her better and more tenderly every day.

He was often conscious that Constance was submitting him to tests, as if she still doubted that he was indeed her husband, and one day he said to her:

"Look at me, Constance; my hands, my height, features, gait; consider me in every way. Do I differ in any respect, taking into account the trifling changes my mental disturbance produced, from the husband of a few months ago? Tell me, Constance, and tell me truly."

"Why do you question me?" she asked. "I have never said you were not my husband."

"No, Constance, and in your heart you know that I am, though you affect

"I will remember," replied Edes, in his dazed fashion.

"Solomon Marks."

"Solomon Marks. Well, good-night."

"Good-night."

CHAPTER XIV.

Solomon Marks.

Solomon Marks was seen about Grovedale and vicinity for several days. He called to see Mr. Hamilton at the mill, and was closeted with him an hour or more. Afterwards he was seen chatting with Primus Edes in an affable manner, and later, the same day, he called at Mrs. Fry's house.

That lady was not glad to see him, and she showed her feelings plainly by being very glum and stiff in her manner. She did not like his looks, nor his errand, which she felt sure was to learn what he could concerning Primus Edes. Indeed, she was fully convinced in her own mind that he was "another detective feller."

Solomon Marks got no friends in Grovedale. It was plain to Mr. Carter that even Vane did not like him, and was relieved when he left town.

Mr. Hamilton was engrossed now, day after day, at the mill, for his help was seriously needed. Moments of forgetfulness seemed to steal over him, causing him to forget names and details, but a word recalled them to mind, and then he would go on undisturbed, perhaps, for days. His aptitude for business, always remarkable, had not lessened in the least, and he was confident, he told his partners, that very soon he should fully recover all remembrance of the past.

"If so," he said, "I shall know what I did, whether I presented those notes after altering them myself, at the bank, where I spent the time before I went to Seattle, and how I existed up to that time."

Like the widening circles produced by a stone thrown into a stream, so the mystery surrounding the bank affair at Grovedale was prolific of consequences. Full particulars had been wired through the country and enterprising reporters had worked up columns about it for the newspapers which they represented.

One of the widening circles caused by the local disturbance extended to the bank of which Simon Low was cashier. The directors, awakening to the fact that deposits were being withdrawn with alarming rapidity, called a meeting and unanimously decided the works, and, perhaps, have a position as foreman there after a time?"

"No, sir. I like where I am, and would rather stay here."

"Very well, remain where you are; but let me caution you, my good fellow, never to be seen watching my house as you did before my return."

"I will remember," replied Edes, in his dazed, hopeless fashion, though his hollow cheeks reddened and his eyes gleamed fiercely for a moment. Mr. Hamilton turned to his desk and took up his pen, and Edes returned to his work.

But as soon as Mr. Hamilton was left with Mr. Carter, who had been present during the interview, a silent but watchful listener, the latter said:

"That man is chock full of mystery. He was lying when he gave his parents' names, and answered so glibly."

"Do you think so?"

"I do."

"If I thought so," said his companion, seemingly startled, "I—but, pshaw! you must be mistaken. He is stupid and harmless."

Yes, it was very evident, as Mr. Carter said, and also as evident that he was very unhappy, not to say hopeless.

Mrs. Fry pitied him more than ever. She patted him, and fixed up bitter doses for his liver, as she said, and cooked tempting dishes till her sons began to joke her for her preference; but this made no difference.

"I do like him a sight better'n the rest of the boarders. I feel sorter tender towards 'im, he's such a poor creature, somehow, so kinder harmless an' sufferin', jest as if the world had been rough on 'im alwuz. 'Tis on some."

She did not explain her meaning fully to Dan, but she did to Mr. Hammerly that very day, calling at the parsonage for the purpose. Mr. Hammerly, a little more pallid, but gentle and kind in speech as ever, soon came out of his study to speak to her, and she immediately broached her errand.

"It's about a poor man that boards with me," she said. "Primus Edes, his name is. He's a poor creature, an' I'm dretful 'fraid he's set his heart on M'is Hamilton, 'cause he was well enough before her husband came back."

"You don't mean to say," and the minister's face flushed, "that he would be so wicked and foolish as that?"

"Yes, I do; but it wouldn't be wicked an' foolish in him, for he is different from some—don't seem to realize as some would. You mustn't be hard in your judgment on him, Mr. Hammerly."

"No, I won't be hard on him," answered Mr. Hammerly, in a low tone. "I am sorry for him. I think I heard something about this long ago. Have you spoken of this to any one?"

"No, I hain't, not one word about her, not even to Dan, an' I shan't."

"That is right. It would not do to mix a lady's name up in a matter like that. I will try to find an opportunity to speak to Mr. Edes."

And with this assurance, and considerably lightened in her mind, the kind-hearted woman took her way homeward.

Mr. Hammerly called to see Primus Edes one night after his day's work was ended, and found him softly playing the violin in his own room, sitting quite like a gentleman in dressing gown and slippers, thought Mrs. Fry, as she conducted the minister into the apartment.

What was said at the interview no one knew, but Mr. Hammerly came forth exceedingly thoughtful, and Edes played far into the night, but with closed windows.

REV. MOORE'S HARD LUCK.

If Ever Strong Language Could Be Justified, Why—

Rev. Samuel Moore, our beloved pastor had an excruciating experience one night recently which disfigured his face to such an extent that he scarcely looks natural.

It must be about 2 a. m. that Mrs. Moore woke up her husband and said, "S-b-h! I think there is burglars down stairs, Samuel!"

Rev. Moore was for going to sleep again. He said there wasn't a cent in the house and the burglars was welcome to all they could find. Mrs. Moore, however, was nervous, so at last the pastor arose and started down stairs to investigate. He was in his bare feet and durn near broke his toe on the stair case, but he said nothing and proceeded down stairs in the dark. When he entered the kitchen with his hands before him he straddled the door which was standing half open, and the edge of it struck him fair and square on the nose, smashing same against his face and almost breaking it, as you might say. The parson then lit a lamp. He thinks his nose must have bled a quart and it pained him terrible. The noise which Mrs. M. heard was made by the cat, which had shoved the cover off the milk jar in the cellar and was helping herself. Rev. Moore kicked the cat outen the house, and after he had bandaged up his nose and returned to bed.

In speaking of the matter later Rev. Moore says he always endeavors to lead a Christian life, but if he could of cut loose and swore when he run into that door he thinks it would have been a great comfort to him. No doubt it would.—"Bingville Bugle" Items to the Boston Post.

Ambition.

Uncle Horace (who is something of a sage and philosopher)—My boy, it is time for you to begin to think seriously of the kind of future you intend to map out for yourself. To sum it up in a word, what epitaph are you ambitious to have engraved upon your tombstone.

Nephew (just beginning his career)—He got his share.

Long Wait for Gladys.

Just before Methuselah died he broke into laughter.

"What is it?" they asked.

"I was just thinking," he explained, "of my dear departed Gladys. She married me when I was 98, thinking that I couldn't possibly live only a few years more and she would get my property."

Bidding them make the funeral notice read, "No flowers," he turned over and passed away.—Detroit Tribune.

Revenge.

"Bal James, dear boy! you must have been wild when you found the other Johnny cuddling your missis."

"Mai dear chap, I was furious! I took his umbrillah and I smashed it in two, and said, 'Theah, I hope it rains.'—Judy.

No hope for him.

"There's joy enough to keep the whole world dancing."

"Yes, but they'll turn you out the church for it."

"Well, you kin holler hallelujah on the highway."

"Yes, but they'll arrest you for disturbin' the peace!"

"Don't seem to be any hope for you."

"Oh, yes. You kin be jest as miserable as you please!"

Simply Good-Natured.

"Why is the audience cheering?"

"The manager has just announced that owing to the fact that she missed the train Miss Shreek, the new soprano, will not appear."

"But why should they cheer?"

"The manager uses such a delightfully indistinct foreign accent that nobody understood what he was saying."

Possible Explanation.

"Why, John," exclaimed Mrs. Newkild as she came into the room, "what in the world makes the baby cry so?"

"I don't know, my dear," answered Newkild as he handed the infant over to its mother, "but I imagine he is thinking of what the governor of North Carolina once said to the governor of South Carolina."

Free Advice.

"Doctor, I want a little advice," said the notorious dead beat.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the physician, curly, for he scented no fee.

"I have insomnia dreadfully. What shall I do?"

"Sleep it off."

Had Changed His Mind.

Mrs. Benham—You used to say that you would give your life for me.

Benham—That was when I was sick and expected to die, anyway.

Thirsts.

"Shure, ivery Irishman is born wild a thirst."

"Ye're wrong there. Faith, there's lots of us that has no thirst for the liquor at all."

"Thru for ye; but they hov a thirst for fighthin' or fur glory or somethin' or other."

His Liberal Way.

"He is very genial, isn't he?"

"Oh, yes! He colonels everybody."

—Puck.

ODD WAGER IS EASILY WON.

Flesh and Blood Leg No Match in Endurance With Cork One.

It was in the commercial room and the conversation had turned on the topic of the powers of endurance shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial man said:

"Any man, if he has the will power, can endure pain or fatigue; I know I can." Silence for a moment, and an "old man of the road" replied: "I'll bet you a dinner you can't hold your foot—boots on—in a bucket of hot water as long as I can."

The bet was taken and two buckets of hot water were brought in and a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each better. The young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water. "What the deuce is your leg made of, sir?" yelled the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket.

"Cork, sir—cork," was the cool answer, and the other gentleman felt that he had, indeed, lost.—Chicago Chronicle.

Want to Help in the Making.

"I guess," explained the young girl, when expostulated with on her choosing a struggling suitor, "that marrying a man who has got everything already is something like buying a ready made dress. One loses all the fun of the making."

Sure Cure at Last.

Monticello, Miss., Sept. 4 (Special)—Lawrence County is almost daily in receipt of fresh evidence that a sure cure for all Kidney Troubles has at last been found, and that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Among those who have reason to bless the Great American Kidney Remedy is Mrs. L. E. Baggett of this place. Mrs. Baggett had dropsy. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

"I was troubled with my kidneys," Mrs. Baggett says in recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to her friends, "my urine would hardly pass. The Doctors said I had Dropsy. I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills as directed and am now a well woman."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood and a sound, energetic body. Dodd's Kidney pills are the greatest tonic the world has ever known.

Use for an Old Piano.

A woman whose desire for beautiful things quite outstrips her pocket book created from an old square piano case a magnificent library table. The works of the instrument had become absolutely worthless, so they were taken out. When the piano was closed it was a tight box of rosewood. The front piece was taken off, and a pine drawer was fitted in with the front piece for the front of the drawer. Two old-fashioned glass knobs were screwed into the drawer for handles. The legs were beautifully carved, but were, of course, too long, so they were sawed off to make the top come to a convenient height for a table. The whole thing was polished highly, and the result was a table that would not be bought for $100.—Brown Book.

Took No Chances.

"I can't stop ter talk now," said Brother Williams. "I done digged a storm pit ter hide me fum de harricane, an I gwine ter see 'bout takin' out insurance on it. Kaze you know, a earthquake might happen ter come long en swaller it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

First Straw Hats.

Straw hats were first heard of in England in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. In the reign of James I, we learn of Lord William Howard paying the then large sum of £3 6s for two straw hats.

OUST THE DEMON.

A Tussle with Coffee.

There is something fairly demonic in the way coffee sometimes wreaks its fiendish malice on those who use it.

A lady writing from Calif. says:—"My husband and I, both lovers of coffee, suffered for some time from a very annoying form of nervousness, accompanied by most frightful headaches. In my own case there was eventually developed some sort of affection of the nerves leading from the spine to the head.

"I was unable to hold my head up straight, the tension of the nerves drew it to one side, causing me the most intense pain. We got no relief from medicine, and were puzzled as to what caused the trouble, until a friend suggested that possibly the coffee we drank had something to do with it, and advised that we quit it and try Postum Coffee.

"We followed his advice, and from the day that we began to use Postum we both began to improve, and in a very short time both of us were entirely relieved. The nerves became steady once more, the headaches ceased, the muscles in the back of my neck relaxed, my head straightened up and the dreadful pain that had so punished me while I used the old kind of coffee vanished.

"We have never resumed the use of the old coffee, but relish our Postum every day as well as we did the former beverage. And we are delighted to find that we can give it freely to our children also, something we never dared to do with the old kind of coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum Coffee contains absolutely no drugs of any kind, but relieves the coffee drinker from the old drug poison.

There's a reason.

SENATOR SULLIVAN

Says He Has Found Doan's Kidney Pills Invaluable in Treating Sick Kidneys.

Hon. Timothy D. Sullivan of New York, Member of Congress from the Eighth New York District, and one of the Democratic leaders of New York State, strongly recommends Doan's Kidney Pills.

Senator Sullivan writes:

"It is a pleasure to endorse a remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills, having found them of greatest value in eliminating the distress caused by sick kidneys, and in restoring those organs to a condition of health. My experience with your valuable remedy was equally as gratifying as that of several of my friends.

Yours truly,

(Signed) TIMOTHY D. SULLIVAN.

It Wasn't Catching.

In a village where several cases of scarlet fever had occurred and where an epidemic was feared, a little girl came late to school one morning and when asked by the teacher the cause said her mother was sick. The teacher decided it would be safest to send the child home again until the nature of the sickness should be ascertained. Very soon after the little one returned to school, and going straight to the teacher said:

"Please ma'am, papa says it's not catching; it's a little boy."

Lineman Shows Nerve.

A lineman at Reno, Nev., came in contact with a heavily charged wire at the top of a sixty-foot electric light pole and fell to the ground. When he recovered consciousness he wished to return to work at once, but was persuaded to call it a day.

FEVER'S AFTER EFFECTS

Did Not Disappear Until the Blood Was Renewed by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Typhoid fever is sometimes called nervous fever. During the course of the fever the nerves are always profoundly disturbed, and when it is over they are left so sensitive that the patient has to be guarded against all excitement. In the tonic treatment then demanded, regard must be paid not only to building up flesh but also to strengthening the nerves. A remedy that will do both, make sound flesh to repair waste and give new vigor to feeble nerves, is the most convenient and economical. Such a remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

One proof of this is the experience of Mr. Charles Worth, of East Vassalboro, Maine. He says: "I had a severe attack of typhoid fever late in the fall which left me very weak and debilitated. My heart palpitated, my breathing became difficult after the least exertion and there was numbness in both hands. I suffered in that way for fully six months. As I did not grow out of it, did not in fact see the slightest improvement as time passed, I decided to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I knew of some cures they had effected in cases like mine. Almost as soon as I began taking them I could see decided improvement and after keeping on with them for several weeks I was completely well. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a most valuable remedy, and I am in the habit of recommending them to others afflicted as I was."

When the nerves ache and tremble it means that they are starving. The only way to feed them is through the blood, and the best food is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Alabastine

THE SANITARY WALL COATING

A Rock Cement in white tint. Does not rub or scale. Destroys disease germs and vermin. No washing of walls after once applied. Any one can brush it on—mix with cold water. Other finishes, bearing fanciful names and mixed with either hot or cold water, do not have the cementing property of Alabastine. They are stuck on with glue, or other animal matter, which rots, feeding disease germs, rubbing, scaling and spoiling walls, clothing, etc. Such finishes must be washed off every year—expensive, filthy work. Buy Alabastine only in five pound packages, properly labeled. Tint card, pretty wall and ceiling design, "Hints on Decorating" and our artists' services in making color plans, free.

GREAT MAN HAD VAGARIES.

Johnson's Peculiar Ideas as to Matters of Speech.

While Johnson was in France, he was generally very resolute in speaking Latin. It was a maxim with him that a man should not let himself down by speaking a language which he speaks imperfectly. Indeed, we must have often observed how inferior, how much like a child a man appears, who speaks a broken tongue. When Sir Joshua Reynolds, at one of the dinners of the Royal Academy, presented him to a Frenchman of great distinction, he would not deign to speak French, but talked Latin, though his excellency did not understand it, owing, perhaps, to Johnson's English pronunciation; yet upon another occasion he was observed to speak French to a Frenchman of high rank, who spoke English; and being asked the reason, with some expression of surprise he answered: "Because I think my French is as good as his English."—London Chronicle.

Old Fences Are Valuable.
The fate of the rail fence was declared less than twenty years ago, when the value of walnut, oak and poplar timber increased to such a figure as to make wire fences cheaper. In the worm fences still in existence there are thousands of walnut and poplar rails in an almost perfect state of preservation. The walnut ones are valuable. An enterprising Chicago concern recently made that discovery, and its representatives have purchased many carloads of the rails.

HORTICULTURE

Mixing Tree Fruits.

For a great many years I have observed among the orchards that are planted around me that the orchards that are all of one variety bear less even than where the fruits are mixed. I know of a great many instances where pollenization was imperfect because only one variety was grown. In discussing the matter with orchardists, I have been very much surprised to find that there are very many men that know absolutely nothing about the necessity for cross-pollination. My first observations of this kind came nearly fifteen years ago, when the matter of cross-pollination of plums was but just receiving the attention of our scientists. After that came the cross-pollination of pears, the Kieffer being a pear that in many situations refused to produce fruit unless the Garber or some other fruit was grown near it. I remember being in a large pear orchard that had long since developed enough to bear fruit, but yet bore no fruit. I asked the owner why he did not grow some other pear in the orchard. He replied that he had never known that it needed cross-pollination. After that he grafted a part of the trees with the Garber, and in a few years the orchard became fruitful. A great many people do not like to plant more than one variety in an orchard, especially if it is a commercial orchard, and when they do, they plant alternate rows with different varieties. The result is a pretty good pollenization except where the ends of trees of the same variety come together. There the pollenization is imperfect, while the pollenization of the sides is perfect. The planters say that they hold to this arrangement because they want whole rows of the same variety for harvesting and packing. If they would but consider the matter they would find that the same end might be obtained by alternating the trees in the rows. If one will but draw on paper the arrangement indicated he will find that all the cross rows and longitudinal rows are mixed in variety, but he will also find that the diagonal rows are all of the same variety. The arrangement of every other tree of the same variety would give diagonal rows all of the same variety. The great advantage is that each tree is surrounded with four trees of the other variety, and cross-pollination is then as perfect as it is possible to have it.—John V. Smith, Alexander Co., Ill., in Farmers' Review.

Spade Deeply for Trees.

When a new tree is to be set out the ground should be well prepared for it. When large plantations are to be put in, a plough may be used in the preparation of the ground. More often, however, the spade is used for preparing the ground in which trees are to be set. The depth of the spade is about ten inches, which is about four inches more than the depth of ordinary plowing. The depth of the spade should be the measure used in turning over the ground for trees. The space so prepared should be ten feet or more in diameter, and this prepared space should be increased as the tree grows. The object of the enlargement of the space is to prevent the forming of a natural water-tight basin in which water would accumulate to the detriment of the tree.

Water and Orchards.

For a long time it has been a mystery why certain varieties of apples would do well in New York, New England, and even colder places, and yet would freeze to death on the soil of Illinois and Iowa, where the temperature is higher during the winter than in the eastern states. Within a few years the opinion has gained ground that the water supply in the soil plays an important part in the "wintering" of the tree. When so-called tender fruits have been killed out in Illinois and neighboring states, here and there near bodies of water the trees have safely passed the winter. The natural inference seems to be that it was cold combined with dryness that resulted in the loss of the trees.

Heading of Shade Trees.

How a shade tree should be headed will depend on its location. If it is on the edge of the lawn out of the way of passing teams and people, it may be headed low. Some of the most beautiful trees on the edges of lawns are those that have their limbs almost on the ground, but in other situations it is better to head trees high, both that they may have more beauty and that the lawn under them may be preserved. The head of the tree should in nearly all cases be kept thinned out sufficiently to permit the passage of rays of light; otherwise many of the inside limbs will die. A mistake in this matter has often resulted in trees or parts of trees being killed.

Bad Pruning of Ornamentals.

Many ornamental trees are ruined by bad pruning. Every tree has its own characteristic shape, which distinguishes it from other trees. It is desirable to retain the individual shape so that variety may be had. One of the most common mistakes in bad pruning is to attempt to make all trees assume the same shape. The natural growth of the tree should be encouraged. Dead and blighted branches should be kept trimmed off. The thinning out should not be enough to greatly change the appearance of the tree.

YELLOW CRUST ON BABY

Would Crack Open and Scab Causing Terrible Itching—Cured by Cuticura.

"Our baby had a yellow crust on his head which I could not keep away. When I thought I had succeeded in getting his head clear, it would start again by the crown of his head, crack and scale, and cause terrible itching. I then got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, washing the scalp with the soap and then applying the Ointment. A few treatments made a complete cure. I have advised a number of mothers to use Cuticura, when I have been asked about the same ailment of their babies. Mrs. John Boyce, Pine Bush, N. Y."

Made Mosquitoes Drunk.

Dr. St. George Gray of the British West Indies says that the Culex family has a fondness for wine, like many members of other old aristocratic families. He says: "I put a few mosquitoes under a bell jar, containing a couple of drops of port wine. A few hours later I found them apparently dead, and put them into a dry bottle. Shortly afterward, they were all staggering about under the microscope in a most ridiculous manner—they were drunk."

Evidence of Guilt.

If a Chinese dies while being tried for murder the fact of his dying is taken as evidence of his guilt. He has departed, but somebody must suffer, and his eldest son, if he has one, is therefore sent to prison for a year. If he has no son then his father or brother gets a flogging. It's all in the family, and somebody has to pay for it.

I do not believe Plao's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—JOHN F. BOYER, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

Some spinsters spend a lot of time looking for husbands—and so do some married women, according to all reports.

THE IDEAL WIFE

Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love.

There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and destroyed.

What a disappointment, then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband.

The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good.

If a woman finds her energies flagging, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.

Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every woman who is in poor health and ailing.

Its benefits begin when its use begins. It gives strength and vigor from the start, and surely makes sick women well and robust.

Remember Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of women's ills. This fact is attested to by the thousands of letters from grateful women which are on file in the Pinkham laboratory. Merit alone can produce such results.

Women should remember that a cure for all female diseases actually exists, and that cure is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Take no substitute.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians Addressed to Charles H. Fletcher.

Dr. R. Halestead Scott, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. Wm. L. Hesseman, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for your Castoria. I think so highly of it that I not only recommend it to others, but have used it in my own family."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. L. McCann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. Channing H. Cook, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used your Castoria for several years past in my own family and have always found it thoroughly efficient and never objected to by children, which is a great consideration in view of the fact that most medicines of this character are obnoxious and therefore difficult of administration. As a laxative, I consider it the peer of anything that I ever prescribed."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

Wonderful Cure of Hay Fever and Asthma in 2 Days

A Jackson Lady Tells How It Was Done.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 30, 1905.
I have been a great sufferer from hay fever for 23 years and hay asthma for eight years. I got so bad that I could scarcely get any relief from the use of any of the remedies on the market. I had asthma only during the hay fever season. All the rest of the season my health was good. It came on this year Aug. 12, and until I commenced treatment with Dr. Wilkinson, 25 Dwight building, Jackson, Mich., I was unable to leave the house, and the last four nights I sat up the whole time. I did not believe that Dr. Wilkinson could give me any relief, but my friends persuaded me to try him, and on Aug. 26 I sent for his medicine, for I could not go to his office and he could not come to see me. The second night after taking his medicine I could lie down and sleep, and in two days I was apparently well of my asthma, and have been entirely free of it ever since. My eyes and nose are not entirely well yet, but they are better. Dr. Wilkinson's treatment has been a great relief to me.

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, 14 Custom House Pl., Chicago, says, "They have no equal for constipation and biliousness." 25c at Bank Drug Store.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My son," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers, too. 25c at Bank Drug Store.

Neighborhood Notes.

The Fowlerville fair will be held Oct. 10-13.

Levi Jacobs has purchased the Charles Cool farm of 211 acres in Unadilla township.

Black knot has made its appearance in the plum trees on the outskirts of Ann Arbor.

Business men in Stockbridge have had a rock well put down on the north side of the square for fire protection.

Caterpillars are so numerous and so voracious in Jackson that there is danger of their killing the shade trees in that city.

Patrick Walsh celebrated his 92d birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter Mrs. Thos. Murray, in Dexter township, Aug. 19.

Manchester Enterprise: A 5 year old daughter of Henry Feldkamp, of Freedom, was kicked by a horse Wednesday, Aug. 30, cutting her lip, knocking out two teeth and cutting and bruising her otherwise.

An Ypsilanti business man who had to leave the city suddenly on business did not want to leave the firm's money in the cash register. He hid it in the store and then left an open note on the register telling his brother where he had hidden it.

An unknown man about 25 years of age was struck and killed by the early morning eastbound passenger train on the Michigan Central near Grass Lake Tuesday. The body was decapitated. The man was well dressed and his hands gave no evidence of hard work.

Members of Comstock Post, G. A. R., of Manchester, are circulating subscription papers among their townsmen to raise money to erect a soldiers' monument in Oak Grove cemetery to the memory of the soldiers of Manchester and vicinity.

George Kercher, aged 26 years, of Superior township, in a fit of mental aberration, shot himself twice in the head Tuesday morning and killed himself. He imagined he had disgraced himself forever because he had drunk two glasses of beer.

Work will be commenced on the power house of the Ann Arbor & Toledo electric road at Petersburg, next week. Thirty-five miles of road have been graded, 25 miles have been laid with ties, and four miles of rails have been laid near Petersburg.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Col. John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Tex., nearly met his Waterloo from liver and kidney trouble. In a recent letter he says, "I was nearly dead of these complaints, and although I tried the family doctor, he did me no good, so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the greatest medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you knowledge to make them." Sold under guarantee to cure dyspepsia, biliousness and kidney disease at Bank Drug Store; price 50c a bottle.

Rheumatism, gout, backache, and acid poison are the results of kidney trouble. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea goes directly to the seat of the disease and cures when all else fails. 35c, tea or tablets. At Bank Drug Store.

Are you looking for some kind of power that you can use in your barn today, down in the woods tomorrow, over in your neighbors' woods next day? Something that costs nothing until started and all expense stops the instant the power stops? An engine that always goes no matter what the weather conditions may be? If so, let us tell you more about Ideal engines, which are guaranteed for one year, and sent out to responsible farmers on 10 days' trial. We make a specialty of a 5 H. P. engine that is adapted to farm use. It costs but little more for gasoline to pump water with this engine than it does with a smaller one, which is of no practical use except for pumping. This engine will grind feed, buzz wood and do any work requiring power on the farm. Ideal engines will be on exhibition at the Fairs this fall.

STATE FAIR VISITORS.

Are Promised a Rare Treat in the immense Exhibit of Grinnell Bros' Music House.

From the standpoints of interest and attractiveness we doubt if any exhibit at the Detroit State Fair will equal that of Grinnell Bros., Michigan's Leading Music House. This firm has made preparations for an excellent display of their celebrated pianos (including their own make—the Grinnell Bros.) Beautiful parlor organs, the wonderful Pianola piano-player, charming music boxes, and all kinds of musical instruments will also be shown in great variety. Their marvelous Victor talking machines and Edison phonographs will be exhibited in a special tent outside the main building, where free concerts will be given hourly. Grinnell Bros. have arranged for excellent vocal and instrumental music by talented performers. Public concerts will be given afternoons and evenings. As a special bargain for State Fair visitors, Grinnell Bros. have secured a carload of beautiful pianos from a celebrated manufacturer, at a generous concession from the regular price. These will be placed on sale during Fair week at the phenomenally low price of $190; terms cash, or $10 down and $6 monthly.

A sample of these pianos will be on exhibition in Grinnell Bros' booth at the State Fair, others at the Detroit warehouses of the firm, 219-223 Woodward avenue. Persons wishing pianos should not fail to look into this rare opportunity to secure a real bargain in a beautiful toned, handsome, reliable instrument. Visitors to the Fair are cordially invited to make Grinnell Bros., Detroit store their headquarters while in the city. Writing materials, telephones, directories, etc., will be provided, and all will be heartily welcomed.
