WILL BUILD THE SPUR

D. Y. A. A. & J. to Be Run From Pacey's Corners to Dexter.

The long talked of spur of the D. Y. A. A. & J. electric line from Pacey's corners to Dexter is now about to be built.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the road held at Dearborn on Monday an issue of $600,000 new 5 per cent bonds was authorized for the purpose of building the spur in question, a distance of two miles, and to add to the equipment of the main road.

There have been already issued $2,500,000 of bonds and the new issue will raise the bonded indebtedness to $3,200,000. This is on 104 miles of electric road.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

Allie Page's House on North Street Burned Wednesday Morning.

The house owned and occupied by Allie Page, on North Main Street, near the creamery, caught fire about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning and before the flames were extinguished was practically destroyed. The fire department had some difficulty in locating just where the fire was and some valuable time was thus lost. The roof was burned off the upright and the upper story of the house was ruined. The furniture on the lower floor was mostly saved, but that which was upstairs was destroyed. The house was insured for $500 and the furniture for $300.

Bernard Tenfel, of Grass Lake, sued Charles Walker, of Sharon, on a note given six years ago for the purchase price of a horse. In Justice Hagaman's court at Manchester Nov. 27 the testimony given showed that the horse had a fully developed case of the glanders when purchased, which fact rendered the note void, as the law forbids the sale of an animal having a contagious disease. The jury was out but five minutes and a verdict for "no cause for action" was reached at the first ballot.

Miss Anna Eisele spent Thanksgiving day in Dexter.

INTERESTING SERVICES

Marked the Elks' Memorial Day Celebration in Chelsea Last Sunday.

The annual memorial day services of Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 325, B. P. O. Elks, in memory of the 18 deceased members of the lodge, were held in the town hall, Chelsea, last Sunday afternoon. They were of a highly interesting and impressive nature and were largely attended by our townspeople as well as by members of the order. Two special cars brought the Elks and many ladies from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. The platform was tastefully decorated with royal purple, the color of the order, and American flags and bunting. Potted ferns and palms bordered the edge of the stage and several antlered deer heads, the emblem of the order, were displayed.

The services opened with a solo, "Rock of Ages," sung in a very effective manner by Mr. Louis Burg, of Chelsea. The opening ceremonies were then conducted by Exalted Ruler Wm. A. Gwinner and the officers of the lodge. The opening ode was sung by the members of the lodge, and prayer was offered by Rev. P. M. McKay.

Miss Ruth Allmendinger, of Ann Arbor, then sang "Abide with me," in a very pleasing manner.

The memorial address, delivered by Rev. S. A. John, of Ann Arbor, was an excellent one, based on the quotation from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," "The evil that a man does lives after him, but the good is oft interred with his bones." He forcibly showed the truth of the statement and urged on his hearers that they so live their lives that the good they do should predominate over the evil.

Mr. Ernest Muchlig, of Ann Arbor, sang "Voices of the Past," with violin obligato by Mr. Edwin Noll.

The addresses by Rev. M. Lee Grant and Rev. Joseph Ryerson, of Chelsea, were based on the motto of the order, "Charity, Justice and Brotherly Love." Both were good short addresses, that of Mr. Ryerson being at one point so touching that many in the audience were affected to tears by its pathos. Rev. W. P. Conside was also to have spoken but was out of town attending to a sick call.

Mr. Willis Johnson, of Ann Arbor, sang "Crossing the Bar," and Mr. Burg sang "The Palms," both of them being finely rendered. An exquisite violin solo was played by Mr. Edwin Noll, of Ann Arbor, and the closing ceremonies and ode were rendered by the exalted ruler and lodge.

The audience was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. A. A. Schoen.

THE MISSING MAN

By MARY R. P. HATCH

Author of "The Bank Tragedy"

Copyright, 1892, by Lee and Shepard

But I recovered my composure sufficiently to play my part of the returned husband. It was not unsuccessfully done. The children clung to me from the first. Mr. Carter was like a father in his kindness. Constance only was cold. But I did not wish to remove the barrier between us. I was not such a villain as that, and from the first my calculations had only extended to the position held by my brother in the bank and mill, not to that in his wife's affections. I was married, and Lenora loved me.

But my plans changed. I saw that it would not be politic to take the position of cashier, even if it could be obtained, and I decided to renounce it and, for the present, all designs of appropriating its funds or those of the mill; for my overpowering love for Constance increased day by day while I lived under the same roof.

And then the tempter came in the person of Marks. "Marry her," he said, "for I see you love her. She is rich, and you can help the rest of us. Business does not prosper as it used; our operations are too well understood."

"Marry her!" I echoed; "how can I, when Lenora is alive?"

An evil smile lit up his face, but he only said, "Lenora may die, she is far from strong," but I thought nothing of all this, for I did not think he was bad enough to attempt her life. Now I know that he was. I know that it was he who sent the poisoned ring in my name to her.

I saw a notice of her death in a newspaper which, no doubt, he sent to me. But there was nothing concerning the suspicions regarding the cause, and, indeed, I do not think they awoke until Bruce began his investigations in the claimant case.

I had long ceased to love Lenora, though I appreciated her single-hearted devotion to me. But now that she was dead, I said to myself, exultantly, I would press my pretended claims upon Constance as I never had done. But I said nothing about it to Marks, with whom and all my evil associates I determined to break; for, strange as it may appear, I fully decided to begin a new upright life, to be in reality what Vane had been. I would persuade Constance to marry me on the plea of beginning a new life together, and then I decided to be so kind, so good and true, that she would never mistrust I was not the real Vane Hamilton.

The good, pure moral atmosphere of Grovedale seemed to have uplifted my soul to better things than I had ever known. I began to see that honest really existed, that there were true hearts in the world. Little Clare would kneel beside me when she prayed, and sometimes I prayed with her, in my heart, and fancied I was struggling to free myself of the terrible coils of sins; but how could I think that forgiveness was mine, or that it could come to me in the midst of the wicked deceit of my daily life!

About this time I began to feel conscious of an uneasiness regarding Primus Edes. Not that I mistrusted Constance of any wrong. Far from it. But I feared that she might have a romantic attachment for him, as he was said to resemble her husband in some degree. I called him to the office and talked with him. The resemblance existed, but not to an unusual degree. I had not the slightest idea he was Vane Hamilton—not the slightest, for Vane, I was convinced, had been drowned. When he left the office after rejecting my proposal to give him a better job in another mill, I warned him to keep off my premises. My premises, and he the true owner!

Marks was keener than I, and, I think, mistrusted him from the first. But he said nothing to me about it. It was his hand that fired the shot at Primus Edes, as he was called. Of that I am firmly convinced, though I did not see him about Grovedale. I think he conceived the scheme of removing Lenora and Vane from my path, and then of holding it over me afterwards as the means of getting large sums of money from me, which he reasoned I would pay rather than suffer the matter to become known.

But I never even mistrusted it until Vane recovered his reason and brought suit against me. Then love, jealousy, fear, and the old instinct to pit my faculties against the world arose within me. There seemed no other course open than to oppose the suit, and everything seemed in my favor. This was at the outset. But as the days went on, and I saw the anguish of Constance, the dejection of Vane, a great, shuddering pity for them both, and horror for myself, awoke in my soul. I would think of my mother, of her love for us both, of her dying request to Vane, of his long search for me, of my treachery in allowing him to fall into the clutches of the law in my place, of his recovery to reason, only to find me in his place, and the cumulative wickedness of my course would grind me as if I had been fastened into the tortuous iron frames used upon criminals in olden times.

But slowly up from under all this anguish of mind there grew up a firm resolve which comforted me,—comforted while it made me wretched. I determined to let matters take their course, play my part to the end, and when that end should come, which I was confident would establish me in the eyes of the law as Vane Hamilton, I would go away and give him his rightful place.

Vane was arrested, and I remained free. That was as I expected, but I lingered a few days on the scene of my quiet, happy, yes, happy life, for it seemed hard to cut myself off from it all. I do not mean to preach, but I want to say that good people know little about what they condemn so rapidly; they know little and seem to care little about the lives of the poor creatures whom they condemn so rapidly; they know little and seem to care little about the lives of the poor creatures

"I owe it to your faithfulness, my wife, first of all."

oftenest found in their courts of justice.

I have thought of this much in the past week, and I have wondered what my life would have been if I had not been taken from my parents, but allowed to grow up in the midst of good influences; and I have been, probably, as good a man as my twin brother, and perhaps it is not too much to say that he might have been like me with the same environment.

I go away, and I go a thief, a criminal in the eyes of the law. But I know Vane's heart, and I feel that I may hope for forgiveness, and that he will believe me when I say that I will repay him some time, if possible, the money I took while occupying his premises. And, Constance, I promise you that I will live an honest life hereafter. I can fancy your doubting my ability to do so; but I will—I swear it.

Whenever I go I shall take with me the memory of your true, noble womanhood and wifehood. Vane may rest his soul in your truth and faithfulness, and I, in time, perhaps, may be glad to think of you as a sister; but not now—not now, for fear of seeming maudlin I refrain from saying more. You must have known how I loved you, and you can realize what it costs to leave you to him.

VICTOR HAMILTON

CHAPTER XXV

Conclusion

The husband and wife read the confession together after he had been released and returned to his own home, and a great pity took possession of his soul for his unfortunate brother. "He had great innate nobleness," said Constance, "or he would not have given up everything when he might have kept it."

"Yes, that proves it," said her husband; "but for this I might still be in confinement and awaiting trial on charge of murder; but I owe it to your faithfulness, my wife, first of all."

The Hamiltons continued to reside in Grovedale, the children grew to be a tall youth and maid, and great comforts to their parents, and they were taught to feel pity, rather than detestation, for the wicked.

After two or three years passed away, a large box of fruit reached them from California, and they felt sure the sender must be Victor. In five years came a check for one thousand dollars. It was signed "Charles Rogers," but they were sure it came from him also, particularly as others followed from time to time. They wrote to Charles Rogers, but receiving no reply fancied that he did not dare answer, and so they would not write again.

But at last they heard of him, and in a way to create the utmost consternation. He had been arrested. We all read the account of a wealthy ranch owner who was arrested and held for trial on charges of former dishonesty. How for years he had commanded the universal respect of the community in which he lived; how he had risen from being the manager to the ownership of a large fruit ranch, and how his friends felt at his arrest. After a time the matter was dropped and we wondered at it.

Long afterwards the reason was known to a few. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton read the accounts likewise, and immediately started for California. They went to the governor and laid before him the whole story of his life, temptations, and struggles. Vane pleaded and Constance pleaded, and both were made eloquent by their great sympathy and emotions. The governor fortunately was a man of heart as well as of justice and discernment. Perhaps, too, the grace and beauty of Constance touched him, for he was a gallant man.

At all events, after some delay and no little consideration, a full pardon was granted Victor Hamilton, and thenceforth he was free to travel as he would, and without fear. It was not known for a long time that it was Solomon Marks who denounced him, because his demands of "hush" money were disregarded,—not until the arrest, confession, and death of Marks took place.

He visited Grovedale, and such was his genial nature and manner that he was well and even cordially received, for his story was well known as well as his subsequent reformation. Then he returned to his California ranch. As he shook hands with Constance at parting she said to him:

"You should marry, Victor. The ranch needs a mistress."

"Never," he said. "You have spoiled me for any other woman," but his head was uplifted and he breathed a full breath at thinking he had been able to give up his chance of winning her when in his own hands was held his brother's fate. "Cherish her, Vane, as you would cherish your own life, for she is a jewel."

"She is more than my life to me," said Vane.

"When will you send for me to keep house for you?" asked Clare, dancing out into the sunshine before him.

"Next year; and when the conquering hero follows—as no doubt he will in a week—we will have a grand wedding at the ranch. How does that strike you, missy?"

Clare blushed a little, for the conquering hero was not a myth, and the wedding actually took place last summer at the ranch as her uncle proposed. Her parents and brother were present, and the ring used at the ceremony was the one left in trust by the sorrowing mother years before, and whose spirit must have been present to bless them all.

The End.

Bunker Recognized the Sand.

It is the boast of the hardy fishermen and coasters of Cape Cod that they can tell where they are without any instrument but the lead, and with no other observation than a scrutiny of the sand brought from the bottom upon it.

A few years ago one Capt. Bunker was on a cruise, and, being confined to his cabin by sickness, he directed that the lead should be brought down to his berth for his inspection. The craft belonged to Nantucket, and was in sand ballast. The mate of the vessel, somewhat of a wag, and doubtful of the captain's infallibility, greased the lead, and dipping it into the ballast, carried it down to the berth.

Old Capt. Bunker's eyes dilated with astonishment as he asked: "Do you say you got this sand by sounding?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then, by the great hornspoon, Nantucket's sunk, and we are right over Tupper's Hill!"

Name Well Discarded.

Some writers are trying to restore the name of Moldo-Wallachia, displaced in recent times by the more manageable Roumania. Moldo-Wallachia had a sound of remoteness proper to eastern Europe, and a mystery—too much mystery for the French lady to whom, some years ago, an interesting young stranger was presented. "And now," she asked, raising an admiring and benevolent eyeglass to receive his bow, "tell me what you are." "Madame," he replied, "I am a Moldo-Wallachian." "What!" cried the vivacious hostess, with still more interest. "So young, and yet a Moldo-Wallachian!"

A Literary Chemist.

"What is Skrybbler's profession?"

"Well, he's a sort of literary chemist."

"Literary chemist? What do you mean?"

"Every book he writes is a drug on the market."

Illogical.

Simkins—Chatterton is a great fellow to argue, isn't he?"

"Simkins—Oh, I don't know. He usually drops a subject before he has grasped it."

WISDOM IN CHINESE PROVERBS

Many Homely Truths Condensed into Short Paragraphs.

The verbal wisdom of the Chinese has become proverbial and, appropriately enough, it shows itself prominently in their proverbs. Many of these have already been translated into English, but here are a few more, from a collection by Herr Bruno Navarra, published in Heidelberg, which may be welcome:

"It is better not to be than not to be anything." "Repentance is the dawn of virtue." "Even the highest tower stands on the ground." "Man thinks he knows everything, but woman knows better." "Even the mandarin of the first-class has poor relations." "The carver of idols never worships idols; he knows too well what they are made of." "A day of grief is longer than a year of joy." And so on.—T. P.'s Weekly.

Oldest English Working Clock.

Peterborough cathedral has the oldest working clock in England. This timepiece was erected about 1320 and is without doubt the work of some monastic clockmaker. It is the only one now known that is wound up over an old wooden wheel. This wheel is about twelve feet in circumference and the galvanized cable, about 300 feet in length, supports a leaden weight of three hundred-weight, which has to be wound up daily.

Facts and Proof.

Hulet, Wyo., Dec. 4th (Special).—An ounce of fact is worth a ton of theory and it is evidence founded on facts that backs up every box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The evidence of people who know what they do. Mrs. May Taber, highly esteemed resident of Hulet, says:

"I know Dodd's Kidney Pills are a valuable medicine because I have used them. I took seven boxes and they cured me of a severe attack of Kidney Trouble. They relieved me from the first dose, and when I had finished the last box I had no pain and my kidneys are now acting properly."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are now recognized all over the world as the greatest Kidney Remedy science has ever produced. They cure Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gout, Lumbago, Diabetes, Urinary and Bladder Troubles, Bright's Disease, and all disorders arising from any form of Kidney Disease.

Contrary Human Nature.

An amusing bit of human nature comes to light in Paris. The management of the underground railway until recently provided at every station a small box in an out-of-the-way corner for passengers to deposit their tickets in. As a natural result of this system, only one ticket in ten was deposited in the box; the rest fluttered about at will all over the station. The authorities noted this, and changed the small inaccessible box for a large one in a prominent position. The surprising sequel was that instead of one in ten, only one in a hundred tickets found its way into the new box. The easier it was to deposit the tickets the more careless were the passengers in disposing of them.

Culprit Was Superstitious.

A man, who was convicted in one of the New Jersey courts of highway robbery, was sentenced to thirteen years' penal servitude. "May it please the court," said he, "I would call your attention to the fact that thirteen years gives me a feeling of vague uneasiness akin to terror. Could you make the sentence fourteen years?"

Law Takes Hold of Schoolboy.

The Supreme Court of the State of Washington has decided that the law against disturbing a public school applies to schoolboys as well as to others. So John Packenham, the fourteen-year-old boy, who disturbed his class at Chehalis, has been sent to the reform school.

THE "COFFEE HEART."

It is as Dangerous as the Tobacco or Whisky Heart.

"Coffee heart" is common to many coffee users and is liable to send the owner to his or her long home if the drug is persisted in. You can run 30 or 40 yards and find out if your heart is troubled. A lady who was once a victim of the "coffee heart" writes from Oregon:

"I have been a habitual user of coffee all my life and have suffered very much in recent years from ailments which I became satisfied were directly due to the poison in the beverage, such as torpid liver and indigestion, which in turn made my complexion blotchy and muddy."

"Then my heart became affected. It would beat most rapidly just after I drank my coffee, and go below normal as the coffee effect wore off. Sometimes my pulse would go as high as 137 beats to the minute. My family were greatly alarmed at my condition and at last mother persuaded me to begin the use of Postum Food Coffee."

"I gave up the old coffee entirely and absolutely, and made Postum my sole table beverage. This was six months ago, and all my ills, the indigestion, inactive liver and rickety heart action, have passed away, and my complexion has become clear and natural. The improvement set in very soon after I made the change, just as soon as the coffee poison had time to work out of my system."

"My husband has also been greatly benefited by the use of Postum, and we find that a simple breakfast with Postum is as satisfying and more strengthening than the old heavier meal we used to have with the other kind of coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

WANTED TO SEE HIS WEALTH

In the Process, Depositor Made Trouble for the Cashier.

An old negro went to the bank in which he kept his hard-earned savings and asked the paying teller to give him all the money he had deposited. He offered no explanation of his sudden desire to withdraw his funds, and after vain argument with him the teller counted out the bills and delivered them to the old man. He eyed the paper money a moment and said:

"Kin I git dat in silver, boss?"

The teller assured him he could, and forthwith made the exchange. The old negro retired to a neighboring desk, remained crouched over it a long time, and then, to the teller's great surprise, returned to the window and gleefully thrust his money back through the pigeon-hole. Before he could speak, the old man said, grinning widely:

"Thanks, boss; you kin take it back. I jes' wanted 't see ef it wuz all there."—Harper's Weekly.

Submarine Cables.

There are 376 submarine cables in the world, the length of which amount to 178,919 miles. Most of these belong to private parties, only 25,000 miles being owned by the various governments. All, however, bring daily orders from every land on the globe, for Pillsbury's Vitos, the all-day food.

Willing Homage.

In theory, common sense is admirable, but in practice men pay willing homage to the cap and bells, provided they surmount a pretty face and are jangled in a tiny hand.—Lady's Pictorial.

Memory of a Kiss.

Rev. Sidney Smith once said: "There is much virtue in a kiss when well delivered. We have the memory of one we received in our youth, which lasted us forty years, and we believe it will be one of the last things we shall think of when we die."

Cable Tolls to Japan.

It costs $1.76 a word to send a message to Japan; and, with war raging in the far East, the cable tolls for war news are something tremendous. But as the people will have the war news in connection with their morning dish of Pillsbury's Vitos, the cables are kept busy day and night.

Sounds Through a Microphone.

A scientist who has listened to the voice of a housefly through the microphone says that it sounds much like the neighing of a horse. We would not care to listen to baby through the microphone, but he would probably sound like the trumpeting of a distressed elephant with half a ton of stomach ache aboard.—Minneapolis Journal.

Chinese View of Law.

A San Francisco Chinaman, with the sententiousness of his kind, after some experience of American law, once remarked: "Chinese law, first-class; man killee man, China, Lead off; no ketchee him, somebody head off, mebbe cousin head off. English law, second-class; him ketchee man, mebbe allee same head off. Melican law, no good; too muchee slupmee court."

Effect of Pest Boy.

Some years ago the government of Java offered a reward for all crocodiles killed or captured. For a time enormous numbers of them were brought to the authorities. Then it was discovered that nearly all the natives had gone to raising crocodiles, so the reward was withdrawn.

A West Virginian's Awful Distress Through Kidney Troubles.

W. L. Jackson, merchant, of Parkersburg, W. Va., says: "Driving about in bad weather brought kidney troubles on me, and I suffered 20 years with sharp, cramping pains in the back and urinary disorders. I often had to get up a dozen times at night to urinate. Retention set in, and I was obliged to use the catheter. I took to my bed, and the doctors failing to help, began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The urine soon came freely again, and the pain gradually disappeared. I have been cured eight years, and though over 70, am as active as a boy."

GOOD BLOOD FOR BAD

Rheumatism and Other Blood Diseases are Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"In the lead mines I was at work on my knees with my elbows pressed against rock walls, in dampness and extremes of cold," said Mr. J. G. Meukel, of 2975 Jackson avenue, Dubuque, Iowa, in describing his experience to a reporter, "and it is not surprising that I contracted rheumatism. For three years I had attacks affecting the joints of my ankles, knees and elbows. My ankles and knees became so swollen I could scarcely walk on uneven ground and a little pressure from a stone under my feet would cause me so much pain that I would nearly sink down. I was often obliged to lie in bed for several days at a time. My friends who were similarly troubled were getting no relief from doctors and I did not feel encouraged to throw money away for nothing. By chance I read the story of Robert Yates, of the Kline Manufacturing Co., of Dubuque, who had a very bad case of rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the remedy he had used. In three or four weeks after beginning to use the pills, I was much better and in three months I was well. The swelling of the joints and the tenderness disappeared, I could work steadily and for eight years I have had no return of the trouble. My whole family believe in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Both my sons use them. We consider them a household remedy that we are sure about."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Mr. Meukel they are doing for hundreds of others. Every dose sends galloping through the veins, pure, strong, rich, red blood that strikes straight at the cause of all ill health. The new blood restores regularity, and braces all the organs for their special tasks. Get the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Have You a Father or Mother

Whose advanced years have caused a general weakened condition of their bodily functions, causing indigestion, constipation, sluggish or torpid liver or impoverished blood? There is no remedy in the wide world that will tone up the worn-out system like Marvin's Cascara Chocolate Tablets. By their tonic effect upon the tiny cells that constitute the muscular coat of the bowels the loss of tone is restored, the normal secretions are stimulated, the circulation of good, healthy blood in the intestinal walls is re-established, and instead of a sluggish, unhealthy state of the whole digestive apparatus, the patient is restored to his old-time vigor.

These tablets are purely vegetable and can be taken without any nauseating effect into the most delicate stomach.

We want every afflicted person to try these tablets at our expense. Send us your name and address and we will gladly mail you a free sample.

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs.

The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children? Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

My Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

"When our baby boy was three months old he had the milk crust very badly on his head, so that all the hair came out, and it itched so bad he would scratch until the blood ran. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I applied the Cuticura and put a thin cap on his head, and before I had used half of the box it was entirely cured, his hair commenced to grow out nicely again, and he has had no return of the trouble. (Signed) Mrs. H. P. Holmes, Ashland, Or."

Liquids Can Be Compressed.

It was believed at one time that liquids were incompressible; accurate experiments have proved this an error. Water subjected to a pressure of 15,000 pounds to the square inch loses one-twentieth of its volume.

Christian Science.

In the United States there are about 400 Christian Science Churches, with about 100,000 adherents. According to Mrs. Eddy, its founder, the church is making tremendous strides in popularity, in which respect it resembles Pillsbury's Witos, the popular cereal food.

Theological School for China.

The Northern and Southern Presbyterian churches in the United States are uniting to establish a theological school for the training of native Chinese ministers in Nanking, China.

To Prevent Chapped Hands.

Many women who do their own work are much annoyed in winter with chapped hands. This may be avoided by using Ivory Soap for dish washing and toilet purposes. Dry the hands thoroughly each time after they have been in water, and rub with a little oatmeal water or some good lotion.

The Russian government has arranged to commence a series of motor cars in the Persian district of Tabriz-Hamadan and Kazvin.

WITTE'S PLANS

THE SITUATION GROWS MORE ALARMING IN RUSSIA.

PREMIER NOW SAID TO FAVOR DRASTIC MEASURES TO BRING ORDER AND QUIET.

A Gloomy Outlook.

With the complete cutting off of St. Petersburg from the outside world, showing the failure of the efforts of Count Witte to bring the telegraphers' strike to an end, the Russian situation becomes more alarming than ever. It is reported that a general strike of all branches of industry has already begun and that the railways may be expected to stop running at any moment. The situation at Sebastopol and Cronstadt is enveloped in deep mystery and reports are steadily coming in from various sources of the spread of the disaffection among the troops at all points and the anger of the people in general at the threat of the government to mobilize another half million Cossacks for general service.

That the premier has changed his attitude in dealing with the threatening industrial and political situation is one of the surprising bits of news. Count Witte is said to be opposed to further conciliatory methods and to favor the adoption of drastic measures for the suppression of the troubles in the army and navy, as well as among the city workers and the peasants. This report has amazed those who have been aware of the fact that a military dictatorship was one of the pitfalls which the reactionaries have been constructing in order to bring about the downfall of the premier and the abandonment of the liberal program which he has been engaged in carrying out.

It is also reported in Berlin, from whence the preceding report comes, that the Poles are already taking advantage of the relaxation of the government's watchfulness and that the revolutionists have again taken up their work where it was interrupted by the declaration of martial law. Disturbances were reported from several points today and Warsaw dispatches say that strong bodies of troops are still held in the city in anticipation of another outbreak of rioting and disorder. Several mutinies of troops are also reported, but none on a large scale.

Only vague reports have been received of the peasant uprising. These represent the movement as steadily spreading in the Volga and central provinces. Reports have also been received of minor anti-Jewish demonstrations on the south, but these cannot be verified in the present state of communication.

Dying Murderess.

In solitary confinement in a cell in East Cambridge, Mass., jail since November 13, 1888, without having had a glimpse of the outside world since her incarceration, Mrs. Sarah Jane Robinson, the noted murderess, sentenced to imprisonment for life for poisoning her brother-in-law, Prince Arthur Freeman, and indicted for the death of five others, has become a nervous wreck, which, coupled with a recent development of heart failure has caused the jail officials and the prison doctor, Edward Utley, to give up all hope for her recovery and to look for her death at any moment. Mrs. Robinson has not been outside of her room since her recent illness, but previous to this she had been allowed in the yard for about an hour every day after the other prisoners had retired to their cells.

For years Mrs. Robinson has been reading religious papers, and magazines in preference to others, and all the jail officials who see her say that she appears contented and cheerful and thoroughly resigned to her fate.

Sultan Must Yield.

The powers after carefully examining the sultan's latest counter proposals have decided to reject them and actively resume the naval demonstrations in Turkish waters and seize the islands of Lemnos and Imbros. No consideration has been given to stopping the passage of the Dardanelles owing to the interruption of international commerce which would follow.

After an examination of the sultan's counter proposals all the powers came to the conclusion that the propositions were dilatory and entirely unsatisfactory.

A new kind of "grip" has been discovered in London. It is of the neuralgia type. Attacks of neuralgic headaches and facial pains are now enormously prevalent. A London street specialist says he believes we are in for a repetition of the headaches and neuralgias of the sixties. Those followed the outbreaks of influenza of 1849-50, after which, so far as he has been able to retrace it, the disease pursued the same cycle, finishing with an epidemic of neuralgia headache. He expects something of the same sort for a year or two to come.

Cassie Chadwick was a fizzle as a witness in the Cleveland bankruptcy court Monday, where she was called at her own request to make "sensational exposures." She had nothing sensational to impart and collapsed with a weak heart after the hearing ended.

Justice Brewer, of the supreme court of the United States, in the case of the state of South Carolina vs. United States, handed down the decision that the national government may properly tax the state liquor dispenses of the state. The state contended that as they sold liquor without profit they should not be taxed.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

John F. Nester, the millionaire lumberman of Baraga, Mich., who usually spends his winters in Detroit, underwent an abdominal operation in a Chicago hospital Monday morning, made necessary by complications following typhoid fever. The doctors in Baraga did all they could for their patient, and as the case grew worse, a hurried call was sent to Chicago for two distinguished specialists. They decided that an operation was necessary and Mr. Nester was hurried to Chicago on a special train, all the tracks being cleared for a record-breaking run. His wife and sister-in-law accompanied him and they reached Chicago Saturday night. The operation was performed by Drs. John B. Murphy and James H. Hirsch, and a telegram says that Mr. Nester went through the ordeal remarkably well.

Mr. Nester is in business with his brothers, Frank P., of Duluth, and Geo. P., of Detroit. His mother, widow of the late Thomas Nester, lives in Detroit.

The "Sluggers" Trial.

A jury to try the defendants in the "Gibboley case," Chicago, was completed on the sixty-sixth court day and the seventy-seventh calendar day since the trial was opened. The cost of the proceedings up to date has been approximately $40,000. Hearing of testimony commenced Monday morning, and at least three weeks will be consumed in the presentation of the cases of the state and defense. The state alone expects to examine 40 witnesses. The attorneys for the defense do not anticipate the conclusion until after Christmas.

The defendants are charged with conspiracy to do bodily injury to Chris J. Carlstrom, a wagonmaker who died last April.

Charles Gilboley, Marcus Looney and Edward Feeley, who are said to be professional "sluggers," available for the "educational" work done by "wrecking crews" that have been employed by some in Chicago, were arrested May 8, charged with deadly assault on Carlstrom. It is said they confessed to Inspector Lavitt that they had slugged Carlstrom. A few days later Harry Newman, business agent of the Carriage and Wagon Workers' union No. 4; Charles Casey, business agent, and George Miller were arrested, and they also are alleged to have confessed their connection with the affair. Later they were arrested George Meller, at that time president of the union; John Heiden, Frank Novak and Charles Deutsche, of the executive board of the local. Edward Shield was arrested shortly afterward.

The Cuban Election.

President Palma has been re-elected president of Cuba, together with every other nominee on the moderate ticket down to the provincial councilors.

The political agitation which began six months ago with the national convention of the liberal party, and which has dwindled since the withdrawal of Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, the presidential candidate named by that convention, ended Friday in an election that was so quiet and uninteresting as to cause scarcely a ripple of excitement.

The withdrawal of the liberals from all nominations as a protest against alleged injustices by the government and the people in conducting the primaries, left a clear field for the moderates.

The only liberals who will have seats in the new congress, which opens in April, will be hold-overs.

Eighteen Killed.

An explosion Friday night in mine No. 1 at Diamondville, Wyo., resulted in the death of 18 men. The explosion was caused by a "windy shot." The mine officers in Diamondville say that all who were in the mine were killed. Nearly all of these were English miners, who came to the Wyoming mines direct from England.

A "blown" shot was the cause of the disaster. The small shift of 18 men were working 4,000 feet down in the mine, knocking down a coal to be taken out by the day shift. Presumably, the men were close together in a bunch when the "blown" shot of giant powder exploded.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Governor La Follette, of Wisconsin, has resigned to enter the United States senate.

President Roosevelt has appointed William C. Bristol United States attorney for the district of Oregon, vice Francis C. Heney, resigned.

Thomas Danery and wife, of Buffalo, were found dead together of carbolic acid gas poisoning. A 15-year-old daughter was unconscious, but revived.

Felix O'Neill, formerly sheriff of Denver county, Denver, Col., has been bequeathed $32,000 by a man named Garrity, at one time a vagrant, whom O'Neill has befriended.

J. Geer and wife, of Minneapolis, plan to walk around the world, starting without money and making what they can en route. Geer once pushed a wheelbarrow around the globe.

A calamity howler in London, writing under the pseudonym of "Sea Star," a book entitled "The Collapse of the Old World," "sees the finish" of the white race. The author declares a war will start between Germany and Great Britain and will be participated in by all the powers, with the result that the black and yellow races will dominate the earth.

"King Dodo" was performed by 50 convicts in the Pittsburg penitentiary. "King Dodo" was a convict not long in. He was down on the program as No. 346. The other characters were known by their numbers. The libretto of "King Dodo" had been tampered with. The jokes were prison made and the audience understood and enjoyed. The leader of the orchestra was Walter Donovan. He was caught with the Bliddle brothers when they killed Grocer Kahne. He waved the baton like the real thing. The penitentiary also has a brass band composed of 20 life convicts.

Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal. Peruna is the best safeguard known.

A Letter from the Ex-Governor of Oregon.

The Ex-Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it continually in the house. In a letter to Dr. Hartman, he says:

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Dear Sirs:—I have had occasion to use your Peruna medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments.

Yours very truly, W. M. Lord. It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Peruna for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold.

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain.

This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Alay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

"Sick headache is hereditary in my family. My father suffered a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it stops it at once."

Thirty of the leading seed dealers of the country are protesting to President Roosevelt against the free distribution of seeds by members of congress. They claim a "grievous restraint of trade." While we have no particular sympathy for the whine of the seed dealers, yet we do not think there are many people who would either whine or cry if the practice of distributing the free seeds that are sent out should be discontinued. Those that have been sent to us we have never found to be very first-class seeds and have always wound up by purchasing seeds of local dealers for planting purposes.

An Official Game Warden.

C. E. Foster returned from his deer hunting trip in Chippewa county in time to spend Thanksgiving at home. He tells of an incident that happened to him and his party that shows the arbitrary actions indulged in by some game wardens in their strong desire to see the provisions of the game law fully carried out. The first day they went out hunting was the first day of the season and they were lucky enough to kill three deer. They shipped the deer home, but the game warden confiscated them at Mackinaw City, claiming they had been killed out of season. Subsequent investigation showed the warden his error, but that will not restore those deer, although the warden is now very anxious to have the party order their game sent to them.

STRICTURE CURED

YOU CAN PAY WHEN CURED. NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Dr. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I was delighted with the results. In one week I felt better, and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."

JUVENILE COURT LAW IS INVALID, SAYS THE SUPREME COURT.

THE C., H. & D. AND P. M. ROADS ARE INSOLVENT AND RECEIVER WILL TAKE CHARGE.

The act passed by the last legislature known as the juvenile court law has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court in a decision written by Judge Ostrander and handed down Monday. The decision was concurred in by all the other justices. That feature of the law which vested judicial powers in cases against juvenile offenders was the section which invalidated the law in the opinion of the court. The test case was brought from Wayne county, where the five circuit judges had unanimously held the law to be invalid. By the terms of the law in counties of over 100,000 population the circuit judges were directed to appoint one of their number to hear juvenile cases.

Mentioning that the constitution vested the judicial power in one supreme court, in circuit courts, in probate courts, and in justices of the peace, Judge Ostrander states that under the contested law jurisdiction would vest in two counties in circuit courts, in 24 counties in probate courts, and in 30 counties in circuit court commissioners.

That the law proposed to vest judicial powers in the circuit court commissioners, and that such power was not contemplated by the constitution the court holds is beyond contention.

Regarding the question of making the law operative in counties where the judicial power is not vested in commissioners, the court says that the act provides for its general application in all territory not especially exempted.

On that point the court says: "Judicial power does not extend to the mutilation or amendment of the act necessary to give it effect in any county."

Roads Insolvent. The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and the Pere Marquette railroads on Monday were ordered placed in the hands of a receiver by United States Circuit Judge Lorton, in Cincinnati, and Judge Harmon, formerly United States attorney-general, was appointed receiver, giving bond for $200,000. Application for receiver was made by Attorney Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., on behalf of Walter E. Horn, of New York, a creditor of both roads and was agreed to by the defendants in answers admitting the principal charges of insolvency.

The defendant company was declared to have been solvent prior to July 7, 1904, when it came under a different controlling influence, and assumed large obligations. Since July 7, 1904, the funded debt has been increased more than $25,000,000, carrying an increase in the fixed charges of over $1,000,000 (exclusive of further annual fixed charges of $578,000 on the lease of the Pere Marquette); and also, the floating debt had been increased until it exceeds $6,000,000.

The defendant was declared to have no property to present as security, to have no credit; to be unable to secure funds while a number of suits by creditors were sure to be started within a short time.

The funded debt of the defendant company and its constituent companies on Dec. 1, 1905, was upwards of $69,000,000. The funded debt of the Pere Marquette and constituent companies was upwards of $54,000,000; that of the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville was more than $6,500,000 and that of the Toledo Railway & Terminal Co. was $3,500,000. The floating debt of the defendant company was $6,625,000, exclusive of judgments to the amount of over $50,000.

It was further asserted that the cash assets of the defendant at the close of business on Dec. 2, 1905, including the cash assets of the Pere Marquette, amounted to less than $100,000. On Jan. 1, 1906, there will become due interest on the four per cent Pere Marquette bonds.

Remorse for Evil Deed. Joseph Doyle, the young man who while drunk, shot his brother-in-law, Charles Maynard and Arthur Arnold, a cripple, at Cedar Springs, was brought to Grand Rapids in custody of Deputy Sheriff DeCon. After recovering from his drunken stupor he remembered nothing of the shooting. Maynard and Arnold were taken to Butterworth hospital, and the ball was extracted from Arnold's arm and the X-ray used on Maynard, the ball being located in his neck.

With his eyes tightly closed and his lips pressed together and groaning incoherently, Doyle lies on his cot in the county jail, a prey to remorse.

From the moment of his arrest he has refused to speak a word to anyone, the officers at the jail being compelled to get his description from his brother-in-law, James A. Skinner, who remained at the jail all last night, sleeping in the same cell with Doyle, who is apparently almost insane with grief.

APPALLING LOSSES.

One hundred and sixty-eight lives have been sacrificed, over 70 ships wrecked and a loss of nearly $7,000,000 has been sustained in three big storms on the great lakes this season. That this is the most disastrous season in the history of shipping on all the lakes is beyond doubt. Vessels of all types, from the mighty modern steel freighters to the ancient wooden schooners and old-time steamers, have been swept from the lakes by the terrific gales.

A list of the wrecks in which lives were lost is as follows: Ira Owen 18 Frank Nye 1 Mataafa 9 Scow Herbert 3 Madeira 1 George Peuman 1 Lafayette 1 Edenborn 1 Tasmanla 8 Iosco 19 Kallyuna 17 Sevona 7 J. S. Fay 1 Olive Jeannette 7 Minnedosa 9 Schooner Mary 6 Sheldon 2 Lunden 2 Tutbill 1 Hudson 1 Pretoria 5 W. Jones 2 Ketchum 2 Collingwood 4 Washed overboard 25 Killed by accident 15

Total 168 In 1904 only 49 lives were lost and only two of these in actual shipwreck. Insurance loss amounted to only $1,559,750.

LATE NEWS

FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS NOW IN OFFICIAL EXISTENCE.

A GREAT FLOOD OF BILLS IS PURED INTO THE HOUSE HOPPER AT ONCE.

Open For Business.

For an hour preceding the opening of the fifty-ninth congress on Monday there were scenes of increasing animation on the floor and in the galleries of the house of representatives.

Roll call showed 264 members present. Speaker Cannon was placed in nomination for speaker by Mr. Hepburn (La.) and Mr. Williams (Miss), was nominated on behalf of the minority by Mr. Henry (Tex.).

Reps. Denby, of Michigan; Dickson, of Illinois; Beal, Texas, and Webb, of North Carolina, tallied the vote for speaker.

Speaker Cannon received 243 votes and Mr. Williams 128. In accepting the position, Mr. Cannon said: "I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, particularly as I may be able to consider your action as an endorsement of my services as speaker of the last congress. We are here as representatives of the people. This house is the only place where the voice of the majority of the people without intervening machinery may directly express itself. Therefore our responsibility being more direct, is the greater."

An index to the business of the session was the industry of members in introducing bills. As many as 100 public bills had been placed in the basket on the clerk's desk before 11 o'clock, these measures of legislation affecting the general government.

There were a few strange faces on the floor of the senate when Vice-President Fairbanks called that body together at noon. Death had taken away Senators Bate, of Tennessee, and Platt, of Connecticut. There were no changes among the senate officials.

Chaplain Edward Everett Hale made the opening prayer. He referred briefly to the months since the senate had been in session and to the work before the members. He concluded by asking the senate to join with him in the Lord's prayer.

Sixty-eight senators responded to the roll call and the vice-president announced that the senate was ready to transact business.

Senators Allison and Morgan were appointed as a committee to wait on the president together with a committee from the house.

Resolutions in memory of Senator Platt, of Connecticut, were read, after which the senate adjourned as a further mark of respect.

Shot Native Officer.

Lieut. Charles Pendleton, of the 6th U. S. Infantry, ordered four native soldiers into a vehicle in which he was driving. A native policeman stopped him and ordered him to light the lamps on the vehicle, whereupon Pendleton shot him dead, and continued on his way, but returned later and obtained the body, which he delivered to the police, claiming that he had found the man dead on the road.

The soldiers accompanying him confirmed his story until today, when they broke down. Pendleton had been drinking.

Pendleton's family live in Atlanta, Ga. He was formerly a sergeant in the Seventy-first regiment of New York. He has been held for murder.

The Woman and the Gun.

One lone woman with a gun kept the authorities of the town of Girard, Kas., at bay Sunday. The woman is Mrs. Ina Berry, of Spokane, Wash., who had held possession of a passenger car for two days, shooting at anyone who tried to enter.

The woman, who is violently insane, had been in a toilet room of the car, where she locked herself in after terrorizing the passengers, for more than 48 hours. Her endurance is the most amazing feature of her performance, for in all this time she had been without food and the car was without heat. It is certain also that she had not closed her eyes in sleep. For the two days and nights she resisted every effort of policemen and railroad officials to capture her by maintaining the most vigilant lookout.

Plans made to inject chloroform into the toilet room were balked by the woman's vigilance. Revolver bullets pattered about the storming party until the attempt to reach the car was given up.

The insane woman's presence in the sidetracked car made Sunday a holiday.

Tom Ward, the deputy in whose charge he was, was found asleep in the train, dead drunk.

William Aiden Prepares.

William Aiden Smith is again a candidate for the United States senate. He is not yet ready to announce it, but will do so formally when he gets ready. He has resigned from the committee on foreign affairs in favor of Denby; has resigned from the chairmanship of the Michigan delegation in the house in favor of Bishop, and resigned from the board of directors of the Pere Marquette railroad. He says he sold his railroad holdings in order to feel free from railroad influence in pending legislation and in the campaign for senator.

Wantonly Shot.

While George Hampton, aged 14, and Warden Beebe, aged 12, two Standish lads, were hunting rabbits Hampton told his chum that he was going to see how near he could come without hitting him and then blazed away with both barrels. The charges of No. 4 shot struck young Beebe square in the back as he was running away, tearing away one kidney and shattering his backbone. Dr. E. C. Warren says the boy cannot live.

THIS TALE NOT FOR SKEPTICS.

Meant Only for Those Who Can Recognize Truth.

In July, 1859, the narrator was chief officer of an American clipper ship, the F. W. Bailey, which was making a voyage from Leghorn, Italy, to New York, having on board, as passenger, a sick American carpenter and his little son. The father died on board and the corpse was consigned to the deep, the heavier tools in the dead man's kit being fastened at his feet. The body slid overboard and right into the jaws of an enormous shark, which had followed the ship for days. The shark's paws were three feet across, and he swallowed corpse and all at a gulp. The boy, enraged at the sight, sprang to the rail and, in attempting to hurl something at the great fish, lost his footing and immediately joined his father in his place of seclusion. The shark looked up gratefully and seemed to ask for more food. He was caught by heavy tackle baited with a great chunk of pork and hauled on board. Immediately he was ripped open and father and son were found alive, the man having been merely in a trance. Furthermore, the boy had freed his father from his wrappings, having a jackknife in his pocket, and the two had righted the grindstone and were sharpening a large knife with which to cut their way out.

PATIENT'S MIND MADE EASIER.

Didn't Want to Be Experimented On, That Was All.

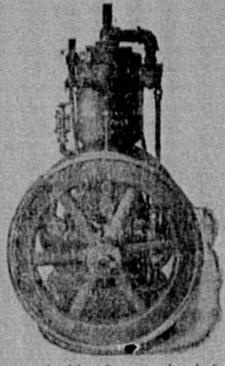

When Dr. Bull, the now famous specialist, began the practice of medicine as a young man, he numbered among his first patients a certain Mr. Darlie of Woonsocket, R. I. For a time the young physician treated his patient successfully for a very painful tumor on the neck.

One day the doctor called to inquire after his patient's progress. Although assured that the latter was enjoying health he had never known before, he at once assumed an air of the greatest concern and advised a speedy operation.

"But," said the astonished convalescent in broadest Scotch, "Dinna ye tell me yours'! an operation wassa necessary! I'm feelin' better than I ha'e two year gone, an' wha d'ye want to cut me now fur?"

The physician hesitated a moment then resumed, embarrassedly: "Well, you see, my good man, I need the money."

"Oh," said the patient, much relieved, "if

Are you looking for some kind of power that you can use in your barn today, down in the woods tomorrow, over in your neighbors' woods next day? Something that costs nothing until started and all expense stops the instant the power stops? An engine that always goes no matter what the weather conditions may be? If so, let us tell you more about Ideal engines, which are guaranteed for one year, and sent out to responsible farmers on a 10 days' trial. We make a specialty of a 5 H. P. engine that is adapted to farm use. It costs but little more for gasoline to pump water with this engine than it does with a smaller one, which is of no practical use except for pumping. This engine will grind feed, buzz wood and do any work requiring power on the farm. Ideal engines will be on exhibition at the Fairs this fall.

SURE CURE FOR ASTHMA

The Worst Cases of 30 Years' Standing Can Be Cured as Quickly and Easily as the Milder Cases.

About 6 years ago I accidentally discovered the true cause of asthma. The following two years I experimented until I mastered the removal of that cause. After the complete removal of the cause all asthmatic symptoms disappeared and every patient was well. This is the story, in a nutshell, of my treatment and cure of this dreaded and harassing malady. No man in the world treats asthma as I do, and no man or institution cures every bad case as I do. I use no drugs that will make habituals of those who use them, and most cases are relieved in a few days—all of them in a few weeks. I could exact large fees from those I cure, but I do not. My charges are reasonable. If I want to give my services free, the money I demand for a guaranteed cure would not pay for the drugs in many cases were I to send my patients to a drug store with prescriptions. With my guarantee there will be no extra expense whatever should I fail to effect a complete and permanent cure. All examinations are free. I would like to have every asthmatic sufferer in Michigan call and investigate. It is a great satisfaction for me to relieve these terrible sufferers and I like to do it. There are hundreds in and around this city whom I have cured. Go and see them and see their neighbors. What their neighbors say can surely be relied upon. Why suffer a life time with this distressing malady when a complete and permanent cure can be obtained so easily and for so small a price.

Huge Task. It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes, "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful headache, backache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." No Secret About It. It is no secret that for cuts, burns, ulcers, fever sores, sore eyes, boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at Bank Drug Store.

Neighborhood Notes.

Horatio Burch, supervisor of Manchester from 1872 to 1889, died there Nov. 26, aged 71 years.

E. N. Ball, of Hamburg, has a 5-acre lot of sugar beets this year which will net him $65 an acre, it is said.

Grass Lake streets will be lighted by 20 arc lights. John Rohrer has been chosen as engineer and superintendent of the plant.

Rev. H. G. Houghton, of Howell, has been engaged by the Dexter Congregationalists to supply the pulpit of their church for the coming year.

The Washtenaw County Graduate Nurses Association has been formed with 12 charter members. Four meetings will be held during the year.

Lucius Taylor Post, No. 274, G. A. R., of Milan, will give up its charter Jan. 1, 1906, and go out of business, after an existence of 21 years. One by one the old veterans have passed away until out of the 150 who once belonged to it only 24 are left, and they are too old to carry on the work of the post organization.

The attempt to stop the building of the Detroit, Toledo, & Ann Arbor electric railroad by a citizen of Petersburg, who secured a temporary injunction restraining the railroad company from taking his lot on the ground that it already belonged to another railroad company, has fallen through. It was shown in the Monroe circuit court that the Michigan, Ohio & Indiana line was a hot air line, organized for the purpose of blocking the Detroit, Toledo & Ann Arbor company, and Judge Lockwood decided that the line was not organized in good faith and that the lot in question was subject to condemnation.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE.

Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bed-wetting. Later comes backache, headache, languor. This is a mistake to neglect these troubles, to blame the child for its own distress. Seek to cure the kidneys. Seek to save the child from deadly kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Mrs. C. H. Zwerzel, of Third street, Niles, Mich., says: "I sincerely believe that Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy and I am satisfied with the result of their use in our family. My little boy was troubled with a weakness of his kidneys and bladder for some time and he was not strong in other ways. I did not know what to do for him as such cases are very hard to treat, but one day I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and deciding to try them, got a box. From the very first they seemed to strengthen him and by the time all the pills in the box were taken he was stronger and healthier than he had been in a long time." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 16-17
