Attention has been drawn to the fact that the new chimney recently completed by the Company is of such a character that it will not have to be replaced every thirty days. All other equipment in the new power house is of corresponding quality and, certainly, no expense has been spared to make the power plant one which will be 18 00 ready for business in all emergencies,

In the annual report of State Fire

Warden Ryerse, for 1906, he states that there were 368 forest fires in the State of Michigan, and that the total damage resulting from these fires was $460,482. How he gets at these figures is a conundrum. In getting at the loss he credits Chippewa county with only $2,805. It is a well-known fact that in the Trout Lake district alone in that county the fires raged for weeks, and the duration of this fire makes Mr. Ryerse's figures on the loss look ridiculous.

The total amount of money expended by Warden Ryerse for fighting fires through the year was $2,320, and he spent $687 for posting notices in the

When I returned to the house Bates was at work in the kitchen. This was a large square room with heavy timbers showing in the walls and low ceiling. There was a great fireplace. in an enormous chimney, fitted with a crane and hobs, but for practical purposes a small range was provided. Bates received me placidly.

Yes; it's an unusual room, sir. Mr. Gienarm copied it from an old kitchen ta England. 'He'took quite a pride in it. It's a pleasant place to sit in the evening sir

He showed me the way below, where I found that the cellar extended underevery part of the house, and was divided into large chambers. The door of one of them was of heavy oak bound in iron, with a barred opening at the top. A great iron hasp with a heavy padlock and grilled area windows gave further the impression of a cell, and I fear that at this, as at many other things in the curious house, I swore if I did not laughfainking of the money my grandfather had expended in realizing his whims. The room was used, I noted with pleasure, as a depository for potatoes.

In another of these rooms I found a curious collection of lanterns of every conceivable description, grouped on shelves, and next door to this apari ment was another store-room filled with bras; candle sticks of many odd designs.

CARE OF THE SICK ROOM.

Above All Things the Walls Should Be Kept Bry.

When the bedroom becomes a sick room there is an added reason why extreme presautions should be used to keep the room in a theroughly sanitary

Above all things, the bedroom should never be damp. It should be nice and dry, always warm and comfortable in winter, cool and airy in summer, and bright and sunny some parts of the

If there is any suspicion of dampness in a bedroom it is probably due, if there is wallpaper on the wall, to the absorption of water by the paper which frequently acts as a blotting paper and holds quantities of water in it. The use of wallpaper on walls is to be deplored; it means disease, ill health and unhappiness. It is frequently the cause of lung trouble, not only because of its dampness but also because of its power to retain infection of many kinds.

The desired method of treating a bedroom wall is to tint it for the alabastined wall is a perfect wall. It never flakes off, chips or peels. It absorbs meisture and expels it, it opens the pores of the plaster and makes a room livable and breathable.

The floor in the bedroom should have light, cleanable, dainty rugs that can be easily shaken and a floor that is thoroughly oiled or varnished, that will not absorb moisture. The cracks in the floor should be thoroughly filled and covered. Woodwork in the bedroom should be attended to carefully, nished or waxed, and the window casings kept in perfect order. The doors should be all the standing woodwork housekeeping.

FIND OUT

The Kind of Food That Will Keep

The true way is to find out what is best to eat and drink, and then cultivate a taste for those things instead of poisoning ourselves with improper, indigestible food, etc.

A conservative Mass. woman writes: "I have used Grape-Nuts 5 years for the young and for the aged; in sickness and in health; at first following directions carefully, later in a variety of ways as my taste and judgment sugthe pillows-a silent hour of memory -memory of the old days and the gested.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a ration is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N.Y. She writes:-Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years." This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation. Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

May we have many others come to see this blot upon your educational system.

The purpose of this letter is to explain the conditions of the main building. This structure has some good features and some very bad ones.

Let us inspect the better conditions irst. In the fifth grade room we find the best sanitary conditions of the whole school system. This room is large, well lighted, heated and ventilated. If the furniture were not so antiquated and dilapitated, this room would be all that we could desire.

The next best conditions are found in the high school room. The lighting and heating are good. The furniture is day at the home of Herbert Yocum modern and in good condition. We are seating sixty pupils in this room and sending fifteen home to study because we have no room

The ninth grade quarters are next best. The lighting here is sufficient the heating is not bad, save in severe weather with the wind in north and west. The ventilation is very bad, and the room is crowded beyond its normal capacity, even though a part of the grade is seated in the eighth grade room. The furniture is an inducement to lawlessness.

The eighth grade room is not crowded this year, but will be next year, because of the large seventh grade to be promoted. The same may be said of the seventh grade room, except that it is too small. The furniture of these two rooms can be made pretty good by repairing a little.

The sixth grade room is large enough, but poorly lighted, heated and ventiated. Its furniture is an abomination. The fourth grade room is altogether sober."

too small. It gets heat enough, but no entilation. This room is the most unsanitary in the main building.

The laboratories are heated with stoves, badly lighted and ventilated, and not one-fourth large enough to meet the present requirements in science.

The toilet rooms are positively unsanitary and must be improved before school opens another year.

The fire protection for the pupils of the second floor is entirely inadequate. A new pulpit Bible, the gift of the The so-called fire-escape at the north side of the building better be called a death-trap, as that is what it would prove to be in case of a fire. Now it looks as if they will get them.

The contract was called to the attention of Attorney General John A. Bird, by "friends of the college," and he addressed a letter to President Snyder, advising him that the contract was void because the secretary was interested in the sale of the Oakwood plat. The law in which he declares the contract void provides for a fine of $500 after conviction of anyone violating it, but it is believed that if there ever biggest men in New York and Washfear trouble and want to keep as clear from it as possible.

E. H. Harriman will have to fight a double battle. With President Reosevelt it will be largely political. With Thomas F. Ryan it will be financial. Harriman pulled Ryan in, and that financier is a foe worthy of respect even by the railroad wizard. The situation, in brief, now is this:

Harriman says that in 1904 he raised $200,000 at Roosevelt's behest and that this amount enabled the New York state committee to continue its work, with the result that at least 50,000 votes were turned in the city of New York alone, making a difference of expenses amount to $1,200,000; salaries of 100,000 in the general result."

This charge, of course, recalls the charge made in the last week of the 1904 campaign by Alton B. Parker, current expenses, $1,200,000 to $1,500,000.

Harvard-5,000 students: Salaries, $4,000 that an immense fund had been raised among the corporation's to defeat him. To Parker, Roosevelt replied on November 4, 1904, that this charge was "atrociously false."
The life insurance investigation exposed the fact that the Equitable, New York Life and Mutual had contributed big sums to campaign funds in two or three presidential campaigns. Mr. Harriman evidently refers to the same fund that so aroused Parker.

Harriman says he gave $50,000 himself. A financier who will not allow his name to be used says there were three other subscribers to the fund, H. To President Roosevelt's flat denial tional statement. He prefaces it by

WRIGHT'S CRIME.

The Diabolical Cunning of the Deed Mystifies Denver.

The people are awaiting with interest the trial of Benjamin C. Wright, which begins on April 15 at Denver, Wright is the former Benton Harbor, Mich, man who is accused of poisoning his wife and baby daughter on the night of February 24 last, and his trial is expect 1 to prove one of the most sensational in the history of Colorado's OUGHT TO BE SENT TO JAIL jurisprudence. Of the fact that Wright is the murderer of his little family there is little doubt in the minds of the authorities. The man himself confessed the deed at one time but later. on the advice of his attorney, retracted the confession, claiming that it had been wrung from him by the chief of police by threats of violence.

The mystery lies in the method chosen by the murderer to administer the deadly dose, and the particular poison that he selected. Expert toxicologists who have examined the Harriman against President Roosevelt. bodies of the murdered woman and The situation has dazed even the child have been unable to find the slightest trace of poison in either, yet ington. At one time in his checkered career. Wright studied medicine in Chicago, and fellow students claim to remember that he was fond of discussing effects of various kinds of poison.

The murder evidently was planned with such diabolical cunning and excuted with such cold-blooded eruelty that interest was aroused to a high pitch. There were even threats of violence teward Wright at one time. According to the belief of the police, supported by strong circumstantial evidence, Wright's sole motive in doing away with his wife and child was to enable him to devote the small sum of money that he gave them for their support to Stella Good, a netoflous girl of the streets, with whom he is said to have infatuated.

The rage for gray belts is widespread this season, when gray is in high favor. Some of the elastic ones look like a most exquisite woven braid; some have a floral or conventional design embossed upon them. A studded belt in one of these delicate gray shades gives an exquisite finishing touch to a dainty gray, luncheon gown.

Rust From Steel.

Put the article, if possible, into a dish of kerosene oil; or wrap the steel in a cloth saturated with the oil. Leave it a day or two. Then apply, if the spot is obstinate, salt wet with hot vinegar, or scour with brick dust. a lofty pedestal she places the object of her affections! and how often, sad to tell, she is woefully disappointed! It is not the man's fault, either.

She simply builds too fine a statue. And yet how can one say to her: "Man is not so noble as you sweetly think him!"

Besides, the "Sentimental Girl" should not be discouraged. She does good, endless good; but, cruelly for her, she suffers much heartache in the doing.

VALUE OF THE SUN BATH.

Some one once called the sun God's anticeptic and sterilizer, and certain it is that not half the people on the earth realize how large a part sunshine can play in cleansing, purifying and making whole.

Sun baths that are taken as a remedy for rheumatism, or to ward against sleeplessness, have better effect if they are taken for any skin disease (and in such troubles they are exceedingly valuable) they should be followed by a warm bath.
