Mrs. Satie Speer-Benton.

Mrs. Satie Benton was born in Dexter, January 30, 1877, and died at her home in Chelsea, Friday morning, September 6, 1907, aged 30 years, 7 months and 6 days. Her demise was the result of the severe burns which she received from an explosion of gasoline last Thursday

The deceased was a graduate of the Chelsea high school and after her graduation she entered the local telegraph office and became an operator, receiving her instructions from her father, James Speer, who has had charge of the office for the past 25 years. CHAPTER XXIV .- Continued. "I think you are quite right, sir," said Bates. He threw down the revolver he held in his hand and leaned upon the edge of the long table that lay on its side, his gaze still bent on Pickering, who stood with his overcoat buttoned close, his derby hat on the floor beside him, where it had fallen as Bates hauled him into the

Even Morgan and his men, half-crouching, ready for a rush at me, hesitated; and Pickering glanced nervously from one to the other of us. It was the calm before the storm; in a moment we should be at each other's throats for the final struggle, and yet we waited. In the wall I heard still the sound of steps. They were clear to all of us now. We stood there for what seemed an eternity-I suppose the time was really not more than 30 seconds-inert, waiting, while I felt that something must happen; the silence, the waiting, were intolerable: I grasped my pistol and bent low for a spring at Morgan; and every man in the room was instantly

bership in Medical Association.

(From the National Druggist for June,

Dr. Augustus Charles Bernays, who died a few days ago in St. Louis, was, probably, the foremost surgeon in the United States. His fame was coextensive with the civilized world. He was not only an operator of the highest order, but a tireless and exhaustive worker in the field of original surgery. He performed the first successful Caesarian section in 1889 in St. Louis, and also the first successful coeliotomy for gunshot wound of the abdomen and the first gallstone operation in Missouri. A record held by Dr. Bernays has never been equaled: Out of eighty-one successive cases of appendicitis which necessitated operations, seventy-one in succession were with perfectly satisfactory re-ing of recovery, but the subsequent nine cases were successfully treated. And yet, with such a record, matchless as was his skill, varied and extensive as was his learning, wonderful as were his accomplishments, he was not considered, by the American Medical Association, as worthy of membership in that organization.

No charges were ever brought sults, the seventy-second patient fail-

against him which, in the remotest degree, reflected on his qualifications never the subject of attack; he was never accused of having done anything unbecoming a man or a gentleman. "The head and front of his offending had this extent-no more!" He dared to think! He refused to mold his opinions and to govern his actions by the arbitrary rules which those whom he knew to be his inferiors had set up for his guidance! In other words, he could not regard the Code of Ethics of the American Medical Association as being inspired, or having any binding authority on him where his judgment told him it was wrong. And so, twenty years ago or more, on account of some trivial infraction of this sacred "Code," a movement was started to expel him from the local association, which was only defeated by his hastily sending in his resignation. As membership in the A. M. A. is dependent upon membership in the local and State sccieties, his name was dropped by the national organization.

And so, though he had saved thousands of lives; though other physicians had profited by his art; this brilliant surgeon; this great and able man, has, during all these years, been an outcast-a medical "scab;" nor recognized as "ethical" or worthy of fellowship by that body of physicians banded together in the American Medical Association!

And this is the association which. under pretense of working for the public good, is, in reality, only seeking to control Congress and the State Legislatures in the interest of their own selfish schemes; which is trying to create a Cabinet position and to place one of its members in that position; which is endeavoring by law to exclude from the use of the mails, all manufacturers of medicines who do not comply with the absurd requirements that they choose to set up; which, in short, is trying to put upon the statute books of State and nation laws that will, in effect, establish a kind of medical priesthood, to which only their own members will be eligible with power and control over the health and lives of the people!

God help the druggists, the drug manufacturers, physicians not members of their guild, and the people generally, if this association ever succeeds in its undertaking. If it does, it will, after the fashion of the labor unions, dictate a "closed shop," and say to doctors who prefer to be independent, "You must join our union or, failing to do so, compel them to get out of the business. It will say what medicines shall be taken, and how they shall be made. It will hedge the people about with a lot of petty regulations under pretense of protecting the public health. In fine, a medical bureaucracy will be established to tyrannize over the people.

Let no man call this a false alarm. If there are those who are inclined to do so, let them read the journal of the A. M. A. Let them scan the of cleaning trimmings, but that a piece proceedings of the association, held always behind closed doors, and care. rubbed very slowly and gently over fully edited, as they are, before they are published in its official organ. Albout the Veil

By Julia Bottom'ey

Who knows where the veil originated, or understands just its meaning? Certainly no antiquity is more remote than that which gave it birth. Since women have been pictured, or carved, or sung, the witchery of the veil has harden. When it looks like met een acknowledged. The veil is not so much for usefulness as for beauty, and tal, that is, semi-transparent and it has been worn in all the centuries to heighten the charm and add grace of ing little sharp points, heap in a lovely women. No nation has neglected it, apparently, and a study of the and serve immediately with very manner of wearing and draping it would be most interesting.

The familiar complexion veils do not need illustration. Some new weaves have been lately introduced which are unusually becoming. In our first illustration a pretty, fashionable veil is shown, with large scattered chenille dots as an example of what is worn at present. These are still worn about the brim of the hat, pinned at the back with ends fastened to the hair just above the nape of the neck

Many women do not know that most veils of good quality can be successfully laundered. They should be washed by squeezing in the hand or shaking bound at each end with a nie a vessel containing warm suds, rinsed and pinned out like lace to dry on strong cotton goods. To

A regulation mourning veil is portrayed in the second illustration. It is made of English water proof crape and is very soft and beautiful. It is worn with one of the graceful and always fashionable little Marie Stuart bonnets, for first mourning. Some people prefer grenadine veils and wear them, although the strict etiquette of mourning demands crape, for nothing else is really first mourning. However, much latitude is allowed in this matter and the grenadine veils may also be had of a waterproofed material. These mate- hind the matting and up in the rials are ruined by rain or moisture, unless they are properly cravenetted. THE WARD-PRESLEY CASE CAME UP FOR HEARING AND WAS POSTPONED.

With It the Dr. Fritch Case Also Went Over.

A Month's Delay.

When the cases of Rep. Charles E. Ward, charged with complicity in the leath of Edith Presley, the senate proofreader, and Dr. George A. Fritch, charged with manslaughter in connectroit, September 16, committed suicide tion with the same tragedy, came up for examination in the Detroit police court Friday morning, both were adjourned for one month.

The case of Ward was adjourned to October 4 at the request of his counsel, because Senator Tuttle, his chief attorney, is in Manchester, Eng.

When the prosecutor suggested putting the Fritch case over, Attorney Frank T. Lodge protested. He wanted his client examined immediately.

"I prefer to try Ward first," said the prosecuting attorney. "Ward is the chief conspirator in this case and if his case fails I will myself move to nolle prosse Dr. Fritch's case."

"I do not know what are Mr. Robison's reasons for desiring to try Ward first," said Justice Jeffries, "but if it is going to aid public justice I will follow his suggestions and let the Fritch case go over."

BENJAMIN.

The Benton Harbor Flying Roller Has NATIONAL AND Disappeared.

Under a combined attack from sev eral quarters, the Benton Harbor colony of Flying Rollers, headed by Benfamin Purnell, appears destined to be driven from Michigan, Purnell is now STORY ABOUT THE BATTLESHIP missing, so far as can be learned, and it is believed that he has fled to escape prosecution

The investigation of the colony was started by Wm. Cleveland, a British subject who was formerly a member, but is now living in Windsor, Ont. The Case Assigned for October and Cleveland made charges against Purnella to Assistant Attorney General Chase, who has notified the members of the colony that they are existing as such illegally and must amend their articles of incorporation or abandon the colony.

At the same time the attention of Thomas Erskine, Chicago consul of Great Britain, has been turned to the olony by complaints of British subjects, who say Benjamin will not return the effects which they turned over when they joined the society.

The Twin City Ministerial association has joined the local attack on the colony, and for two months, under the direction of Rev. E. A. Hoffman, the president, has been gathering evilence, chiefly against Benjamin. Rev. Hoffman says the association now has enough facts to prosecute Benjamin on | circumnavigate the globe. a felony charge. Several young women of the colony are connected with the charges.

All the evils to which our country is heir are explained by the "undesirable horde" of aliens which is pressing into the land with ever increasing volume. The steady increase in criminality which has now become unquestioned is attributed to this "overflow" of the undesirables from the older countries, and these countries are accused of collusion with the steamship companies toward a promotion of the volume of migration. That portion of our citizens which is interested in the labor market is in chronic rebellion against this influx of cheap labor, destined to compete upon an un-American basis with American labor. Those of us who are interested in purity of poli- Standard of Immigrants. tics see in the inflowing torrent a current supply of corruptibles upon whose votes political machines may be reared and supported.

Upon every side arises this denunciation of immigration. Nor is it a recent phenomenon. Look up the literature of immigration, and you will find the decade of 1840-1850 supplying its fair quota of "kicks," in goodly proportion to what our increased population puts forth to-day. For 60 years we, as a nation, regardless of whether our continent yet contained undeveloped territory, as in 1847, or undeveloped possibilities, as in 1907, have been oblecting strenuously to immigration.

Meanwhile the immigration has the end of the 60 years we enjoy phehard. Our complaint against the imhard. Our complaint against the imbeen steadily increasing, except duf-ing the period of the civil war, and at

We do not conclude from this too hastily that America is ultra criminal. But we quote it to signify that he who seeks statistical support for anti-immigration views, doing it in sincerity and breadth, is apt to meet with sour comfort.

Our own conclusions are that the vast majority of immigrants are slightly above our American standards in industry, sobriety and patient self-restraint, though they are undoubtedly below us in initiative. Worth Knowing. Try adding chopped sweet peppers to hash and see if you do not like the new flavor.

Get cheap plate racks to hold tin pans and lids. The racks can be fastened to the pantry door.

Hang fine shirt waists over the sheets and protect them from the rough rope and any possible dust which it may retain.

If writing with a led pencil and no rub-er is handy when a blemish is made, rub-ne mark with the blotter and it will be arfectly clean

It is said that putty mixed with linseed oil until pliable and applied on the outside of the holes in granite or tin ware will last for a long time, needing no other mending. Buttonholes Wont Tear.

Cut buttonholes the proper size, bar it. Start at the back of the buttonhole, by passing the needle up through the cloth, then forward. Take a small stitch across the front edge of buttonhole, then back to starting point: repeat. Use the regular buttonhole stitch, stitching closely all around over the two threads. This buttonhole will not stretch or tear, and can be used in all kinds of material.

Polishing Hot Irons.

Drying Umbrellas.

The best way to dry an umbrella, and to preserve it, is to leave it open on the floor. Where there is not sufficient room to allow that reverse the usual method and stand the umbrella with the handle down. The water drips quicker off the points. The ordinary way collects all the water at one place, where the cloth dries slowly, and therefore rots the quicker.

Novel Bathroom.

When no bathroom is in the house a very nice substitute is to have an ordinary bathtub placed in the corner of the kitchen or some other convenient room. Have the two sides which are exposed to view wainscoted, and on top place a lid, hinged on, which can be hooked up against the wall. This may have a nice cover and cushions on it, and when not in use for bathing it makes a very handy and comfortable seat.

onions is put at once into cold water and allowed to soak a while, later being thoroughly washed in hot water and soap, a housekeeper runs no risk of being mortified by having some one complain at the next meal: "I smell onlons!" This rule also holds good for utensits that have been used for fish.

Home Made Soap.

Put one can of lye or potash in one quart of cold water. When cool add six pounds of clean grease, ctirring continually for ten to fifteen minutes, then pour into a box or pan cool. When the soap becomes a little stiff cut it into bars. The next day remove it from the box or pan and place it on a shelf to dry. This soap is so white and pure that it is used often for toilet purposes.

Care of Fort.

It is a well-known fact that the most important peres for carrying off the impurities of the body are located in the soles of the feet. Therefore, it is very necessary to keep the feet in a healthful condition, to bathe them daily. It is also well after they are dry to brush them with a stiff brush and it will be surprising to see how much white dust will be removed from the pores. If this were carried out faithfully there would be fewer tired feet.

Soap Substitute. Almond meal is very often used in place of soap when bathing the face. The formula follows: Four ounces of powdered over the four ounces of wheat flour, one ounce of powdered castile soap, one ounce of borax in fine powder, ten drops of oil of bitter almonds, two fluid drams of the oil of bergamot. Mix well and pass through a sieve. Use as you would soap.

When frying eggs have the fire low and slide them about the pan to prevent burning the thin whites.

It is nonsense to think that soap and water and a complexion brush will cause a growth of hair on the face. Superfluous hair is more likely to grow on a dustladen, oily skin. Soap, hot water and a complexion brush used every night are necessary to get the face clean. A good cream will counter-

To reduce flesh eat as little meat as p sible and no potatoes. Eat as much as like of fresh vegetables that grow ab ground. Give up all starchy foods, eat Thin arms should be washed twice a dried with a fine lighter of soap, rinsed well, dried thoroughly and then rubbed vigorously. This treatment will bring the pores into action and induce a healthy condition of the skin.

Virtues of Buttermilk. Nothing but continuous care will keep Ordinary sour buttermilk is a better hands white, though for special occatonic, is a better food than was ever bottled or boxed up by the chemist or doctor. Buttermilk is a very hearty food. Two glasses a day is enough for any one. This should be drunk with meals, or else should not he taken within two hours of a meal. Time should be given for it to thoroughly digest before anything else is taken into the stomach. It takes buttermilk considerably over an hour to digest, and to drink another glass before the first one is digested is only to stir up difficulty with the digestive organs. Really, the best way to drink buttermilk is with the meals, though it may be drunk between meals as a sort of easily digested lunch.

NECESSITY OF A TOQUE

"A well dressed woman should have a toque," says a fashionable milliner, "and for this there is no argument; it is actually required. It should match the costume. It should be one of the large toques, something on the turban order, but rounded and more chic; and it should be beautifully trimmed with something, preferably roses. We advise our customers to purchase some good silk roses. They keep so long and wear so well.

"There are, from a milliner's standpoint, some good bargains which we always advise for our patrons. One is the purchase of a number of handsome hat ornaments. There should be a rhinestone button or two, and there should be some enamel pins. There should also be a set of buckles. "Widows' hats this season, as they emerge from their mourning, are remarkable in that they are all one color. There is no combination of color notes. One lovely hat for a widow who is just out of lavender is built all of navy blue. There is a double twist of broadcloth, and in the side of the toque there is a navyblue bird. This is to be worn with a suit of all navy blue.

"Widows now go from gray to lavender, violet and pink. And from these colors they suddenly change to navy blue, old rose and apple green. But they take care to keep all to one tone. They do not mix

"We may make small hats, but quite as many large ones, for young and old like a variety."

Too much time cannot be given to the selection of a veil. Never was a greater mistake made than to choose it by asking the saleswoman to hold it over her own face, as one sees done every day. Another method, equally ridiculous, is that of trying it over a veil worn at the time of buying.

This is often tried: A man standing before a mirror at the counter and holding lengths of different veils before her face without lifting the drapery already pinned to the hat. Umbrella veils of ring-dotted net bordered with lace are much worn over large hats, preferably in mushroom shape, and will be found to be more becoming than the face veils
