State Bank Commissioner Zimmerman Turned Over the Bank to W. W. Wedemeyer Friday Evening.

State Banking Commissioner Zimmerman turned over the cash, books and securities of the Chelsea Savings Bank last Friday evening to Receiver W. W. Wedemeyer, who has charge of the affairs of the bank. Mr. Wedemeyer has accountants at work classifying the various claims.

There is being printed a blank form for all who have claims against the bank to file with the receiver. This blank is in the shape of an affidavit and has to be acknowledged before a notary public. It is to be filed with Mr. Wedemeyer, who will issue in return a receivers' certificate to the claimant showing the amount and nature of the claim. There will be at the bank a notary public, who will assist in properly preparing the affidavits and at the same time take the acknowledgement of all who require his service. Though three months are allowed in which to file these claims, Mr. Wedemeyer will have a notary at the bank prepared to begin this work on Thursday, January 2, 1908.

progress of the receivership, made the ing losses: following statement:

"Now that the bank has been actually taken over by me, I shall be at the office $971.80. of the bank in Chelsea during business hours except as I may be called away on matters connected with my duties. There is much work to be done immediately in connection with the receivership. As to the force I have with me in this work, I may say that for the immediate present, I have the services of taking the testimony in the Henry F. J. A. May, who was highly recommended | Miller case. to me, and who has had experience in receivership matters. As bookkeeper and accountant I have Henry P. Wickham, upon whom, also, the companies on my official bond have agreed as their representative to countersign checks, drafts and transfers of funds, such countersigning furnishing additional assurance to the creditors of the bank of the safe and careful administration of affairs. Certain phases of the bank's business, notably the tax certificate matters, have been for years in special charge of Mrs. A. K. Stimson, who is necessarily retained to attend to these matters. Mr. Wood, former cashier, is being called upon by me when necessary for my attorney or myself to have information relative to certain details that he understands.

"Every thing possible will be done by ne to make the proving of claims as easy and inexpensive as possible to the creditors and depositors of the bank."

Wants to Divide the Money.

Ceremony Not Long.

"The ceremony began. It was very brief. At a signal the two boys in blue brought forward in slow and impressive fashion the rosewood caskets containing the mysterious papers which were to be conveyed to the court. They were to be thus conveyed in a richly lacquered chest of scarlet provided for the purpose. The two gorgeous negroes, who had followed the boys, opened the boxes in silence, and in silence drew out the papers, done in red and gold most magnificently.. They laid them on the scarlet coffer.

It is natural and wholesome to look forward, but those of us who wish to include the brick of gratitude in the building of our characters should learn to omit our complaints of the luck the old year has brought us.

In truth, the new year will be to a great extent like the old-what we make it and how we take it.

Things will happen in accordance with the same laws that guide this big earth of which we are a small part. So we can greet 1908 in a calm and happy manner, rather than with any manifestations of frenzied joy at its coming, and let us have the good manners to speed our parting guest, 1907. politely.

With all his faults we know him for what he was and the new year is as yet a stranger to us.

We can hope and believe that all good things will come with him, but let us avoid the hackneyed congratulation on the passing of a twelvemonth that probably treated us better than we deserved.

The dawning of another January is invariably the time for what are called good resolutions," which translate themselves into rash promises, usually broken before the new year is well un-

That was the old-fashioned way of expressing an inclination to reform good resolutions every 31st of December, finding themselves each year further from perfection than ever.

Good resolutions are not so prevalent, or at least not so noisy as they used to be at this time.

They have become popular material for the comic papers and everybody knows what a joke they are. Nevertheless, the close of a year is a capital time for a look back, a retrospect in which we can see the faults that are on the mend with us, or the ones that have persevered and grown

It is only when we blindly consider ourselves as right in everything that I we are all wrong.

It is only when we blindly consider ourselves as right in everything that we are all wrong.

So if your look back shows you mistakes and errors and misbeliefs, be glad that the New Year gives you a clean slate to try for the right road and the true goal.

Be thankful for the mental perspective when you see it with clear sightwith new true eyes.

There is no need of making resolutions, for right seeing means right thinking and right thinking is the path to right living.

Perhaps your faults are those mean little ones which you would like to exchange in a bunch for one noble sin, but there are no exchanges of that sort or we should all be noble sinners.

The petty faults are the thorns that cluster round some of the finest roses in life's big garden, crowding, jarring, overtopping one another in their eager ness to get to the light. Maybe the old year/has been a good Forevermore; oh, fateful past, That saw so much no law can change; Beginning and the end of things That were to be, the new and strange, The old and worn and bloom and blight, Passed to the dark or born to light.

And, oh, for some happy year; Sweet wedding bells rang joyously; Old friends clasped hands and stranger And sunshine fell so glad and free

On buoyant youth, and smiles were fair, And laughter bantered pain and care.

Little Jeffrey's New Year Luck

ITTLE Jeffrey was an or phan lad whose father was killed in a railroad accident when Jeffrey was a tiny baby in his mother's arms. And the mother had been made so ill by the sudden death of little Jeffrey's father that she was no longer able to care for her baby and a few months later she went to join the father and baby Jeffrey was left all alone in the world. Then friendly neighbors who had too many babies of their own to find room for this little fatherless and motherless boy had him taken to an orphan asylum and he grew up with 50 other boys and girls who had no mother or father.

When Alice Lane came to the home she was eight years old. Her a few weeks of one another and it was a sad-eyed little girl who crept about the big rooms of the home. Little Jeffrey had a big heart and he

On the third day after her arrival he walked up to her and planting himself in front of her he said: "Alice Lane, why do you cry so much? Why don't you play?" He was such a funny, freckle-faced little fellow that Alice smiled a faint little smile. It was the first one since her mother's death. Then the tears

"I want mamma, Jeffrey. I want papa, too, and my own home. This is big and lonesome and they don't love you like mamma and papa."

From that time on Alice and Jeffrey were the best of friends. He was such a cheerful little fellow and often so droll that many times Alice laughed in spite of herself. But when Alice began to talk much of her home and her mamma and papa he began to wish for one, too. The wish grew and grew until at last he felt that there was nothing in the world that he wanted except a mother and a father and a home. When Christmas time came and the children wrote their wishes on a piece of paper one of the house mothers read in Jeffrey's: "Ples, I don't want nothing but a father and a mother and a home with flowers in the win-

From time to time children were taken from the orphans' home by people who had no children of their own. The house mother hoped so much that little Jeffery would be chosen and his wish granted. But the people who came passed by the eager little fellow who eyed each newcomer hopefully. Sc Christmas day passed and Jeffrey received sweetmeats and warm clothing and an iron engine, but not the father and mother and home. He cried himself to sleep that night and Alice had to turn comforter for the next few days.

"Mamma always said New Year's was the lucky day and maybe you'll get them then. And if you don't, then you will some other time, 'cause Mother Burns said she'd try." On New Year's morning Jeffrey was awake early, and his first thought "Maybe the mother'll come to-day." A few hours later a very pretty woman dressed in velvet and furs followed by a tall man came to the home. Little Jeffrey looked up hopefully. But the woman seemed not to see the boys for her eyes were scanning the faces of the little girls. When she same to Alice she started: "That's the one, Jerome," she said eagerly. "The same gentle face and blue eyes and golden hair. We must have her. It will seem like having our little Alice back again!" When she learned the name of the little girl she had chosen she was still more interested. "You would like to go home with me, dear, wouldn't you?" she asked "Yes, ma'am," answered Alice, "but I couldn't go without Jeffrey, 'cause he's been my friend and he wants a father and a mother so bad." "Oh, but I don't want a little boy, dear. I just want one little girl to make it seem as though my own Alice were living," answered the lady.

"Then I can't come," said Alice, "unless they make me go." For a few moments the man and woman talked together and the man seemed to see in little Jeffrey all the things that other people had missed. He saw the honest blue eyes, the firm mouth and the manly walk, and he saw years ahead when the same little boy might be his partner in business.

Then he said to Jeffrey: "We want a son, as well as a daughtetr. So we will take you home and give you a happy New Year." "New Year's is the lucky day, isn't it?" answered Jeffrey, beaming into the faces of his new parents. And the smile won the lady's heart and she took him as gladly as she did Alice.

So Jeffrey found his father and mother and home and a sister all on a happy New Year's day.-Farmers

SYNOPSIS.

Burton H. Barnes, a wealthy American touring Corsica, rescues the young English lieutenant, Edward Gerard Anstruthand his Corsican bride, Marina, daughter of the Paolis, from the murderous vendetta, understanding that his reward is to be the hand of the girl he loves, Enid Anstruther, sister of the English lieutenant. The four fly from Ajaccio to Marseilles on board the French steamer Constantine. The vendetta pursues and as the quartet are about to board the train for London at Marseilles, Marina is handed a mysterious note which causes her to collapse and necessitates a postponement of the journey. Barnes gets part of the mysterious note and receives letters which inform him that he is marked by the vendetta. He employs an American detective and plans to heat the vendetta at their own game. For the purpose of securing the safety of the women Barnes arranges to have Lady Chartris lease a secluded villa at Nice to which the party is to be taken in a vacht. Suspicion is created that Marina is in league with the Corsicans. A man, believed to be Corregio Danella, is seen passing the house and Marina is thought to have given him a sign. Marina refuses to explain to Barnes which fact adds to his latent suspicions. Barnes' plans for the safety of the party are ments. "What can this mean?" learned by the Corsicans. The carriage carrying their party to the local landing is followed by two men. One of the horsemen is supposed to be Corregio, They try to murder the American. The cook on the yacht-a Frenchman-is suspected of complicity in the plot. The party anchors at St. Tropez. The yacht looking like a slovenly merchant ing; the latter is saying she's such a is followed by a small boat. The cook is detected giving signals to the boat. Barnes attempts to throw him overboard, but is prevented by Marina and Enid. The cook is found to be innocent of the supposed plot and is forgiven. The party arrive at Nice and find Lady Chartris and her daughter Maud domiciled in the villa rented with Barnes' money. Barnes is amazed to find that Count Corregio is at Nice and is acting the role of admirer to Lady Chartris.

ON BIG MOOSE'S BACK

BOSTON HUNTER'S EXPERIENCE WITH WILD BULL IN MAINE WOODS

Molunkus, Me.-John J. Flynn, a Boston sportsman, who has been in camp ten miles west of the Molunkus river, took a ride on the back of a bull moose the other day, and within 24 hours he dug up stakes and started for home, saying that he had got his fill of the woods.

Mr. Flynn had never been in the heavy timber until he came here. One afternoon Mr. Flynn was out for deer and along at sundown posted himself in a thick copse close to a runway used by bucks and does on their way to and from water. He had been sitting quietly about an hour when be heard twigs snap in the distance and a little dater became aware of the fact that a heavy-footed animal was coming down the runway.

The man had hardly cocked his rifle before a giant bull moose hove in sight. He was in perfect range, but Then, hearing the bull coming closer, he changed his mind and started to shin a sapling. It was an unwise move, but the sportsman was too scared to know it. Mr. Flynn had just reached a low branch and was swinging himself up when the bull, dodging a tree, passed directly under him. His antlers brushed the man's legs, loosened his hold, and down the hunter came squarely astraddle of the bull.

This was the cue for the moose to get stage fright. Never before had anything sat on his back, and with startled bellow he turned, struck the trail, and headed for a deep but nar row creek that runs into Molunkus river. Mr. Flynn feared to hang on, but he didn't dare to let go, and almost before he knew it he saw the creek ahead. The sight so paralyzed him that he couldn't even yell.

Just what happened next is some what mixed in the mind of Mr. Flyns. He says he thinks the buil tried to plunged into the water and floundered desperately. A little later the hunter found himself on the muddy bank and heard the moose breaking through the timber in full retreat. Outside of a ducking and a bad scare Mr. Flynn

"Why do we part, Edytha, darling?" he whispered. "Let us leave it all, and together we will find a land of sunshine and love, where you will be mine forever. Come, beloved, I cannot live without you. We will sail to-morrow and life will just begin."

Her form trembled. "If it were only possible, dear one; but I am afraid. I cannot break conventions. I do not dare. But," her voice hardened, "I down to a short fit of midsummer am only his chattel. GOOD NEWS.

Many Michigan Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of back sufferers in Michigan are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills, Thousands of thankful people, are telling the good news of their experience with the old Quaker remedy. Here; is an example worth reading: Mrs. H. Portlensce, B street, Cheboy gan, Mich., says: "It is over six years since I was cured of kidney complaint by Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I suffered very much from a disordered condition of the kidney secretions. They were very scanty, contained a heavy sediment and were of a disagreeable odor. My back pained me very much and I could not straighten. It ached so nuch during the night, as in the day time and I received very little sleep. In the winter when I caught cold, it always was sure to settle in my kidneys and make the trouble worse. A friend ad vised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box and used according to directions, and they cured med I think a cure of six years standing is a good recommendation for Doan's Kidney Beauty as a Duty.

Modern thought recognizes good looks as a symbol of excellence within. Old-fashioned mothers considered beauty a dangerous gift. The mother of to-day knows that ugliness is a handleap, and she teaches her little daughter to cultivate beauty in every form-the beauty of cleanliness, of charming manners, of unselfishness, gratitude, thoughtfulness, bodily grace. -Lady of Fashion.

If You Drop Out of the Ranks. Nowhere else is there such a picture of distracted paternal love, and of the battle between the voice of nature and the constant threat of society than that you shall be left to rot by the roadside if you drop out of the ranks. -Henry James.

ERIE CANAL HELD ITS OWN.

Showed That Inland Waterways Were by No Means Obsolete.

When the New York Central paralleled the Erie canal, over 50 years ago, it looked very much as if canals were a thing of the past. When the West Shore hemmed it in on the other side canals had fallen in public opinion to the "raging canawl" of the humorists. But the truth is, the Erie canal did not rage at all. It kept growing-slowly, as befits a canal. When it was completed in 1825 it was four feet deep and 40 feet wide; in 1835 it was deepened to six feet and took barges of 240 tons burden. Later it was given another foot, and was enlarged to a width of 70 feet at the top and 56 feet at the bottom, and there it remained. And while the railroads competed strenuously, its boats kept appearing at Buffalo and hauling the treasure by the only and original route to the sea. As late as 1897 it is said to have carried as much through freight as did these two trunk lines together, and it kept on doing it, despite the long-drawn jeers of locomotives .- The Century.

HAVE CRAZE FOR FORMULA. Smokers Follow Fashions in the Use of Tobacco.

"Make me up a package of tobacco according to the formula used by Edwin Booth." said the man with a southern accent. "That is the third man who has asked for that kind of tobacco to-day," said the dealer. "It is strange that people from remote parts of the country as well as New Yorkers make a fad of buying the same brand of tobacco that Booth smoked. And it isn't always the Booth mixture that they want. I have filed away the formulas for mixing the favorite tobacco of many f mous persons. Smokers the country over have heard of this collection of recipes and one feature of every man's trip to New York is to try a pipeful of some big man's favorite tobacco. In most cases this special mixture is so strong that the nerves of the average smoker cannot stand it. He has to give up after a few pipefuls and go back to a popular mixture, but he has perience."-The New York Sun.

BAD LANGUAGE IN ENGLAND.

Upper Classes Adopting Vulgar Words and Forgetting Grammar.

Apropos of my recent remarks on the adoption of cockney expressions and the cockney accent by stallholders at a fashionable bazar, says a writer in the Lady's Pictorial, I am not surprised to find that those who are interested in the English language are taking fright at the terrible havoc that is being made with it by those who ought to know better. As spoken now the matter with the will?" asked the by the masses, English is practically another language from that spoken, say, 25 years ago by working people. a three-legged stool to sit down The school board education has given yet another accent and tone to the 'young person," and it therefore depends upon the upper classes to speak pure English. But it is more than regrettable-it is, indeed, disastrous-to find them adopting the hideous twang and meaningless vulgarisms of expression of their inferiors, clipping "g's" and disregarding the good old rule that verbs must agree with their nominatives in number and person. It is selling in that town at the old price sad to think of what our language may have become in a quarter of a cen-

Rheumatism Cannot Be Cured Unless Uric-0 Is Used.

sis Are Caused By Poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acids.

The rheumatic person is skeptical regarding the claims of almost any remedy advertised as a cure for rheumatism and one can scarcely blame him for being so. All the plasters and liniments combined never actually cured a case of rheumatism. They may relieve it in one quarter, but it is sure to break out somewhere else. The only true way to oure rheumatism is to drive it from the system, for as long as the uric and by those who pretend to be fitted to change, I get it, and I return home a rheumatic acid remains in the blood, have the care of children it is little new man. But with the wife and kids one is never entirely free from the Uric-O as a permanent cure for rheumatism comes in. It seeks out the rheumatic poison in the blood, muscles and kidneys, repders it inert and harmless and drives it out of the system. That is why Uric-O is such an admirable and effective cure for rheumatism.

The chief reason that Uric O is such a wonderful cure for rheumatism is, that it is designed and prepared to cure rheumatic acid polson in the system. This is the secret of its wonderful suc much as that of Australia and New $1.00 the bottle, but if you still feel Zealand combined and equal to the skeptical about its efficacy you can test whole public expenditure of Denmark, it free of charge by cutting out this adwhole public expenditure of Denmark, Greece and Norway.
