WIND AND SNOW STORM

COUNTRY ROADS BADLY DRIFTED.

Michigan Has Been in the Grip of a Ragging Blizzard for the Last Seven Days—Rural Mail Carriers Unable to Make Trips.

The blizzard which has raged in Michigan since January 31 up to today will go down in history as one of the worst experienced in the history of the state. Big storms in other years, notable in recent times those of 1883, 1886 and 1904, have been impressed on the memory of the "oldest inhabitants" and, perhaps, occasioned more damage and loss of lives, but the severity and duration of the blow and snow of 1908 so far seems to be a record breaker.

The entire lower peninsula of this state has been in the grip of Old Boreas, the snow being from eight inches to as many feet in depth in some localities, but aside from a demoralization of business and extra expense incurred by the railroad no damage has been reported.

In some parts of the state the railroads have had trains snow bound from ten to twenty-four hours but on this division of the M. C. while the trains have in many instances been from one to three hours late, none have been reported as being snow bound.

The country roads leading to Chelsea are badly drifted. The rural mail carriers were all able to make their regular trips until Wednesday. The carrier on route No. 5 had to abandon his trip at Lima Center and return home as the north and south roads were drifted full. Rural carrier No. 4 made two efforts to cover his route. He was able to reach the residence of Adam Kalmbach north and west of Chelsea when he returned to Chelsea and drove west as far as the residence of W. H. Laird where he was obliged to turn around and return to the postoffice. Rural carrier No. 3 got as far north as the residence of Theo. Mohrlock and had to return home. Carrier No. 2 was able to reach the residence of Adam Schmidt in Lima, where he had to abandon his trip. Carrier No. 1 was able to cover some ten miles of his route when he had to turn around and return to his home.

The weather Wednesday was anything but pleasant. In the morning there was a high wind accompanied by snow and most of the roads leading into Chelsea were drifted full. During the forenoon a sleet storm set in which lasted for several hours, and in the afternoon it was followed by rain which lasted until late in the evening.

During the night the weather again changed and this morning the streets about town are very icy, and the air is filled with snow, with a high west wind. The mail carriers will hardly be able to cover their routes today.

The weather conditions for the past seven days ought to satisfy all who have been wishing for an old-fashioned winter.

Hide Thieves Sentenced.

Charles Jewell and Earl Foster, the Clinton lads who were arrested on charge of stealing $30 worth of hides from the Clinton Provision company, and who pleaded guilty, were sentenced Monday morning by Judge Chester. They received a minimum sentence of six months and a maximum of five years which is fixed by statute, at Ionia. Jewell's father and brother are serving time at that institution.

An Enjoyable Social Evening.

Friday evening, January 31, the Sunday school class of Mrs. D. H. Glass, partook of a most bountiful progressive dinner. The courses, six in number, were served as follows:

First course—Tomato soup, salted wafers. Mrs. H. P. Glazier.

Second course—Meat. Miss Elma Schenk.

Third course—Salad and wafers. Miss Mabel White.

Fourth course—Ice cream and cake. Miss Ethel Burkhardt.

Fifth course—Coffee and wafers. Miss Ruth Bacon.

Finger-bowl luncheon. Mrs. D. H. Glass.

The repast began at six o'clock, lasting the entire evening until eleven o'clock, and in spite of the blustering snowstorm and difficult travel, the evening was declared to be a most enjoyable one. At every home the guests were royally entertained.

After the fifth course the company repaired to the home of Mrs. D. H. Glass, where the class was thoroughly organized and the following officers elected:

President—Mrs. D. H. Glass.
Vice President—Miss Jennie Ives.
Secretary—Miss Winifred Bacon.
Treasurer—Miss Marion Andrews.
Mem. chap. Committee—Misses Elma Schenk, Mabel Guthrie, Mabel White.

GRAND MILITARY DRAMA

CHELSEA OPERA HOUSE.

Given By Home Talent Next Monday Evening, February 10, for Benefit of St. Mary's School.

Lights and Shadows of the Great Rebellion, a four-act drama, will be presented in the Chelsea opera house Monday evening, February 10, for the benefit of St. Mary's school.

The drama is a military play taken from scenes of the civil war, and promises to be the best ever given in Chelsea by local talent. The members of the company, who take parts, have spent considerable time in rehearsals and they have them all well committed to memory and will undoubtedly be able to portray the characters which have been assigned to them without the least trouble. The curtain will raise at 8 o'clock p. m. and the price of admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Reserved seats 35 cents, on sale at John Farrell's.

The following is the cast of characters:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.
The Christian Science Society will meet in the G. A. R. hall at the usual hour next Sunday, February 9, 1908. Subject, "Spirit." Golden text, "Except a man be born of water and of the spirit he cannot enter into the kingdom of God."

BAPTIST CHURCH.
Rev. T. D. Denman, Pastor

The services will be held at the usual hour next Sunday. The morning subject will be "Learning the Doctrine of God" and in the evening "Righteousness and Life, or Sin and Death, Which?"

Miss Elizabeth Depew will conduct the Junior services in the basement of the church during the morning service.

The Thursday evening prayer meeting will be held at the home of the pastor.

A Brilliant Speech.

Rep. Townsend addressed the house of representatives Monday on the railroads and the administration. He was heard with the closest attention by both sides of the chamber.

Rep. Townsend declared that the rate legislation has been so successful that the democrats are trying to take the credit for it. The country, he said, has been so prosperous during the past 10 years that its very development has brought to light great business evils. With these President Roosevelt has dealt vigorously and Rep. Townsend defended his course eloquently.

He declared his emphatic belief in the enforcement of the laws and their penalties, and of the dissatisfied "malefactors of great wealth" said:

"Let me say to those gentlemen that the country is not deceived, and if it ever becomes a question as to whether we shall have great prosperity by the grace of thieves and vandals, or less prosperity under honest and impartial law, the people have already accepted the latter and the struggle will be over before it is fairly begun."

Forty Thousand Added.

A bill appropriating $400,000 for the payment of Roman Catholic claims in the Philippine islands was reported favorably by the house committee on insular affairs Tuesday. The award of the army board to cover this claim was for $363,000.

Forty thousand dollars of the $400,000 is given as an equity. The committee divided on this provision, the chairman, Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, voting with two Democrats who voted against the additional sum.

Greatest Lumber Out.

More lumber was cut in the United States last year than in any other year in its history. The enormous amount of 37,559,736 board feet was produced, and the mill value of this was $621,151,388. In addition, there were produced 11,858,200,000 shingles, valued at $24,155,555, and 3,812,807,000 lath, valued at $11,490,570. On the whole, it is safe to say that the present annual lumber cut of the United States approximates 40 billion feet, and that the total mill value of the lumber, lath, and shingles each year produced is not less than $700,000,000. These figures give some idea of how vast is the lumber industry and how great is the demand for its products.

The highest-priced native woods are walnut, hickory, and ash, and the cheapest are larch and white fir. From the fact, however, that since 1890 the average increase in the price of lumber has been 49 per cent, it will not be long before cheap woods are few and far between.

While walking on the C. M. & St. P. tracks, Isaac Matson, of Iron Mountain, was instantly killed by a train.

Roscoe Lawrence, aged 15, of Gaylord, accidentally shot himself in the stomach while shooting sparrows. He may not recover.

Visitors will again be admitted to the Jackson prison after February 1. Quarantine was declared after a case of smallpox was discovered.

A grand ball was given in Battle Creek by the grand lodge of Colored Masons of Michigan at the conclusion of Tuesday night's session.

A heavy snowfall is reported from nearly all points in the state. In the upper peninsula lumber operations can now proceed.

A false alarm of a smallpox case excited the village of Salem for the past few days, but it is learned that the case was only chickenpox.

Flint will appeal the Stockdale case will case to the supreme court. The jury held no will existed, giving the city $200,000 for a hospital.

Municipal ownership appears to be in a healthy state in Battle Creek, the water system having more than paid for itself in the past 30 years.

Flint was given an agreeable surprise when Mrs. Whitney-Hoff, of Detroit and Paris, gave the Young Women's Christian Association $500.

The body of a man who became exhausted and froze to death was found near Sanda. The mercury dropped to 41 below in Humboldt.

Port Huron police are trying to find the Buffalo relatives of Mrs. John Bailey, who is ill and nearly destitute. The former are said to be wealthy.

The appropriation for the Indian school at Mt. Pleasant has been cut out at Washington, and unless the item is restored the school will have to close.

The Eaton county co-operative store bankruptcy matter from Eaton Rapids is going to reach the circuit court, where co-operative receivership is to be tested.

One-third of the telegraphers on the Michigan Central's Mackinaw division have been laid off. Officials say it is in line with the recent pay policy.

John A. Miller, 23, and Vera Clement, 18, were married on the stage of Stone's theater in Flint after a performance. They received $25 from the management.

Franklin S. Eaton, formerly on the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music faculty, was sentenced to from five to ten years for attacking little Emily Gray, of Lansing.

Mrs. William Clark, of Battle Creek, who was burned Tuesday while directing the saving of her baby's life, refusing first aid for herself, died that night in the sanitarium.

Margaretta Fairman, aged 12, of Orono, is dead from burns received four weeks ago. She fell down a flight of stairs, overturning a lamp and setting fire to her clothes.

About 500 people braved a blizzard to follow the body of Frederick Hotop, of Kalamazoo, a widely known hotel owner, to the grave. About 1,000 attended the services.

Atty-Gen. Bird has held the election of Dr. H. P. Mowry, of Bronson, as secretary of the state board of charities and corporations, illegal. He says Mowry should have first resigned as a member.

For the second consecutive year Muskegon public schools were awarded first prize in the grammar school department of penmanship at the National Penmanship-Teachers' association exhibit in Pittsburg.

William Schirmer, convicted of eloping with Mrs. Ella Davis, of Lapeer, was fined $300 and agreed to pay his wife $2,500 and $2 weekly for each of their four children until they are 14. Mrs. Davis was fined $200.

Maj. Harrison Soule, who retires after 25 years as treasurer of the U. S. of M. with his wife and about 70 others was the guests of President J. B. Angell at dinner. A loving cup was given Maj. Soule from the older members of the faculty.

While sitting on a gas stove, where he had been placed by his brother, Le Roy Busch, aged 3, of Jackson, fell over on a burner, his clothes catching fire. The brother rushed him to the street, where a passerby extinguished the flames, but the child died.

Koch Bros., contractors of the Glazier building, in Ann Arbor, have asked the court to have the $80,000 mortgage on the building given by Glazier and his wife to the Chelsea Savings bank, set aside in favor of their claim of $14,794 as a prior lien. The mortgage was given after the contract was made with them.

Allie Powels, aged 17, of Bay City, and Martin Daniels, aged 18, of Tuscola county, eloped and were married in Caro by Rev. Mr. Calkins. A warrant had been sworn out charging Daniels with stealing a watch in Bay City and he was arrested shortly after the ceremony. Mrs. Daniels also went back to Bay City in an officer's custody.

H. C. Hayward, a retired farmer and wool grower, has entered suit for damages against Lewis Patterson, also a retired farmer, before Justice L. D. Mowery, of Morenci. The prosecutor says Patterson married his housekeeper, with whom he had a contract to remain with him until spring, and that Patterson by marrying her induced her to leave his employ.

Lulu Williams, the fourth member of the family to die within the past year, was buried in a double funeral in Port Huron. A younger brother died a few hours before. Pneumonia was the cause of death of brother and sister.

Peter Benedict, aged 13, escaped from an Indian school near London, Ont., and was caught at Port Huron. He said "everybody was too tame" in the school and he planned to rejoin an Indian band.

From the State Capital

Information and Gossip Furnished by Special Correspondent at Lansing.

Lansing—Henry P. Mowry, newly-selected secretary of the state board of corrections and charities, has become thoroughly familiar with the duties of his office in the short time which he has occupied it, since the death of L. C. Storrs necessitated the choice of a successor. He is planning several reforms on a small scale, upon which he expects to enlarge, when their efficiency is proven by practical use. His work is being accomplished with the same lack of ceremony which attended his entrance upon his duties. Shortly after Mr. Storrs' death the state board at a meeting at Jackson selected Mr. Mowry and his aides were seated at their desks one quiet Monday morning, when he walked into the offices, announced his position to a few, took his place at the head of the department and went to work. At that time no one outside the members of the board knew of his selection.

Ex-Gov. Rich Takes Office.

Ex-Gov. John T. Rich took the oath of office as state treasurer, succeeding Frank P. Glazier, the other morning and is now caring for his new duties. Just after taking the oath the keys of the state treasury were turned over to him, the vaults and safes having been locked for three days and the accounts gone over and carefully checked. With Mr. Rich's advent into the new position state depositories were asked for a statement of the state funds in their coffers. The closing and sealing of the state treasury is in conformity to a statute of the state which provides for the appointment of two suitable persons who shall act in conjunction with the secretary of state in making an inventory and schedule. The men appointed by Gov. Warner are David D. Altken of Flint and George B. Horton of Leanswe. On account of the absence from the city of Secretary of State Prescott the committee, after closing the treasury, decided to wait a few days. It was not expected that any shortage in the state's funds would be found, except the amount tied up in the Chelsea bank. Letters were written to all state depositories of funds asking for a statement of the amount of state money on hand at the close of business January 25, and these deposits will be checked up with the treasurer's books. Not more than $10,000 in cash is on hand in the treasury here, although the cash balance as shown by the books was $3,272,885.07. Nearly all of this money is in banks throughout the state, and, of course, $685,000 is in the Chelsea State bank.

Alward for Congressman.

Friends of D. E. Alward are starting a boom to have him succeed Congressman Darragh. For years Alward has been urged from various parts of his district to enter the congressional race, but he insisted he was for Darragh. Mr. Alward is widely acquainted over the district, serving as secretary of the Republican state central committee. He passed several years at Washington as reading clerk of the national house.

Kazoo to Build Armory.

An armory, containing a large convention hall and public auditorium, is now planned for Kalamazoo, and there is every indication that it will be built. Officers of the National Guard have agreed to join with the Commercial club in the erection of the building. In cities of this class the state will provide $10,000 for an armory. It is the intention to raise another $50,000 or $60,000 and make the building complete.

Wish Taft Visit Extended.

A charge that Detroit is trying to monopolize Secretary Taft while he is in Michigan led to the adoption, by the local committee, of a motion to the effect that unless the secretary is permitted to remain in Lansing more than an hour it would not be advisable to make any effort to arrange a reception here. Senator Smith is said to have given assurances that Secretary Taft would stop here three or four hours, but it is now announced that he will only make a short stop in the city.

Work of the Convention.

By a vote of 47 to 34 the constitutional convention voted to amend the report of the committee on elections and elective franchise and to insert the word "male," thus robbing the women of the hope of the right to vote. The proposal adopted gives the right to women to cast their ballots at school elections, and also to vote at municipal elections when they are taxpayers and the expenditure of public funds is involved.

The Barnaby proposal for the creation of a public domain commission and another providing that all state tax lands delinquent for five years should be held for forest reserves, were defeated, the latter on the theory that the state has more land now than can be handled.

More than 2,000 residents of St. Clair county petitioned the constitutional convention to incorporate in the constitution a clause forever prohibiting the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the state.

A general substitute for the five proposals dealing with the judiciary was passed on second reading. It provides for paying circuit judges monthly; makes it obligatory to hold four terms of court in each county; authorizes board of supervisors to provide additional compensation, and gives the legislature power to provide for judicial districts.

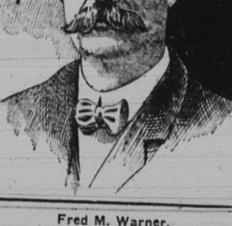

There is but one Michigan, no lower or upper peninsula. All legislators will receive $800 a term and five dollars a day for special sessions, according to a recent resolution. By a vote of 47 to 53 the constitutional convention rejected a proposal to establish a public utilities commission to govern all lighting, water, transportation and power companies in the state. The plea that the municipalities preferred "home rule" was urged vigorously against the proposal.

At a recent session a petition from the Woman's Suffrage club of the Michigan Agricultural college was read asking that the word "male" be eliminated from the constitution. At another session about 300 students from the Michigan Agricultural college were present in the gallery.

A petition was also read at the morning session signed by the Ingham County Farmers' club asking that no changes be made in the present method of employing convicts.

Opposed Warner Probe.

When the hearing on the charges against former State Treasurer Glazier were called Attorney General Bird opposed the desire of Gov. Warner to continue the investigation. He pointed out that the resignation of the state treasurer had been filed in response to a written demand upon the part of the chief executive, and that this left nothing more to proceed on any more than if Glazier was dead or had pleaded guilty. Mr. Bird then stated that there was no further need of his having any official connection with the case. Gov. Warner took the view that although Glazier had resigned he had also denied the charges and he saw no reason why the investigation should not continue, so that evidence could be adduced to disprove Glazier's statements. The suggestion was then made that the matter be discussed in executive session, when a ten minutes' conference behind closed doors took place between the governor, Attorney General Bird and Attorney Seward L. Merriam of Detroit. At its conclusion the attorney general withdrew and a stenographer was called in so that Attorney Merriam could dictate a report of his investigation of the charges against Glazier.

Fred M. Warner.

Indian School Must Go.

When the Indian appropriation bill was reported out in the national senate the item for the Indian school at Mount Pleasant, $55,000, was cut out. This is in line with the policy of doing away with non-reservation schools.

Place Belongs to Ingham.

A. B. Cooke of Shiawassee denies the report that he would enter the senatorial race if the candidacy of A. J. Tuttle of Ingham is not approved. He says an Ingham man should be the choice.

THE THAWS.

Now Harry is in Matteawan and Evelyn May Be Discarded.

Harry K. Thaw has been acquitted of the murder of Stanford White, on the ground that he was insane on the night he did the shooting. The jury returned its verdict Saturday noon. Four hours later Thaw started on his way to the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, having been committed to that institution by Justice Dowling immediately after the verdict was returned. He will stay there until it has been decided that he is no longer insane and that his freedom will not endanger public safety.

The acquittal of Thaw on the ground of insanity makes it possible for the Thaw family to do what it is reported they have long desired to do, to annul his marriage with Evelyn Nesbit. The statutes of New York state provide that a marriage contract where either of the parties was of unsound mind at the time of the marriage ceremony can be declared null and void.

For that reason any application made upon the part of the Thaw family will have to be submitted to the court, which can act only as the law provides. Young Mrs. Thaw's friends told her a long time ago, according to the stories told in the uptown cafes, to-night, that in all probability the elder Mrs. Thaw will pursue this course and if she should decide to do so in view of the verdict rendered, young Mrs. Thaw would be left without a legal footing upon which to interpose objections.

It would seem therefore that should Harry Thaw's mother, or any other member of the Thaw family, see fit to begin such proceedings, the marriage would be annulled without either the consent or objection of young Mrs. Thaw.

Thaw was bitterly opposed to being sent to Matteawan, but gave up his counsel that habeas corpus proceedings should not be instituted at present.

A Tornado's Fury.

Extending 40 miles from west to east, the path of destruction made by a tornado, just north of Wesson, Miss., Friday, was found to be a worse disaster than was at first reported. In the tornado zone the dead numbered eight and the fatally injured four, while at least 100 other persons were hurt. The death list may reach 15, most of those believed to be dead being Negroes who have not been accounted for since their frail cabins were crushed. The damage may reach $500,000. In the wreckage lie four churches, six cotton gins and several county stores.

The 2-year-old son of Henry Nault, of Negaunee, choked to death from croup.

in my mind that it has sometimes been used to justify an injustice, and that some of the injustice is irreparable wrong done to the people.

It is all wrong, and the injunction to prevent the entire proper and legitimate actions of labor organizations in their struggle for industrial betterment or under the guise of protecting property rights unwarrantably to invade the fundamental rights of the individual.

I do not know whether it is possible, but if possible, it is certainly desirable, in connection with measures to restrain stock watering and overcapitalization there should be a summary action to prevent at least the grosser forms of such making large amounts of money do not possess and "cornering" the market and stock watering.

for such real good can come only by thorough and continuing supervision over the acts of the combination in all its parts, so as to prevent the watering, improper forms of competition, short, wrongdoing generally. The law man Act which prohibits all combinations of the character above described, whether they be legal or illegal, is certainly a general act to provide for this end.

The administration and those who support its views are not only engaged in an assault on property, but are strenuous upholders of the rights of property, so as to prevent the watering, improper forms of competition, short, wrongdoing generally. above have achieved great fortunes can only be justified by the advocacy of a system of morality which would also justify every fortune made in the part of a labor union, and every form of violence, corruption, and fraud, from murder to bribery, and every other crime in politics. We are trying to secure equality of opportunity for all, and the struggle for honesty is the same as the struggle for equality of opportunity for all of men or of another.

Laws Must Continue to Be Administered with Even Hand

The laws must in the future be administered as they are now being administered, that the department of justice may continue to be, what it now is, in very fact the department of justice, where the law is administered with an even hand to great and small, rich and poor, weak and strong, successful and unsuccessful.

The storm which broke over the state Friday night continued all day Saturday, and at a late hour Saturday night reports were still being received from widely removed sections that no "let up" was in sight.

The story from all over the lower peninsula is one of high winds and drifted snows, of trains delayed and country roads impassable. To add to the discomfort and inconvenience there was a marked fall in temperature Saturday. It was by all odds the worst for several years.

The railroads in the central and northwestern section of the peninsula appear to have suffered the worst. From South Haven Saturday night came the report that the city was tied up with the worst storm in many years and that a gale was blowing. The Fruit Belt train was blocked three miles from there. Six passengers reached South Haven on foot and four found refuge in a farm house.

A report coming from Cadillac was that the blizzard which began Saturday morning was still raging, and that business was practically suspended. Early Saturday two stalled passenger trains on the Ana Arbor road were dug out by snowplows after being seven hours in the "drifts. Freight trains in this section of the state ceased to try to operate."

The D. & M. railroad had to annul all freight trains, and passenger trains were from seven to ten hours late.

Coldwater reported Saturday night the heaviest snow storm in 20 years had raged for 30 hours, filling all the north and south country roads full of snow, blocking all travel and putting a stop to trade in the city.

Hillsdale was snowbound. The roads are badly drifted and rural mail carriers cannot make their trips. The same report comes from Vassar and other towns in that section. In the whole storm district the rural mail service has been practically discontinued.

Kalamazoo declares that such a blizzard has not been known in that section of Michigan in almost a quarter of a century. It had been raging since 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. There had been practically no let-up. The Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw railroad suffered greatly from delayed trains and at one time it was thought the traffic would have to stop. All Michigan Central trains were far off schedule. Interrailing cars were running on a haphazard schedule and in Kalamazoo no attempt was made to run cars on the outlying lines.

The coaches of the train from South Haven in the snow drift near Mattawan were dug out and returned to Lawton where the passengers remained over night.

At Traverse City the blizzard was still raging Sunday night. Passenger trains were from one to two hours late. It was still snowing, and growing colder. In that region it is called the worst storm in 15 years.

The water in the engine driving a Perry Marquette snowplow blew in at Colon, badly scalding the engineer and fireman, who escaped further injury by jumping through a window. The engine was left on the main track, blocking traffic.

The Next Con. Con.

The proposal for new constitutional conventions to be held every 16 years passed on second reading. The proposal regulates the formation of future constitutions and leaves nothing to the legislature, either as concerns pay, limitation of time, date of election or time for beginning. In general the measure is all provided for. It is to be chosen from each senatorial district. The convention of the future is to begin work on the first Tuesday of September and complete it at its discretion. The pay is to be $1,000 for the session.

If the coal ashes are dumped near the chicken house there will be little left in the spring, and eggs will be an early crop.

Character.

Character is consolidated habit, and habit forms itself by repeated action. Habits are like paths, beaten hard by the multitude of light foot-steps which go to and fro. The daily restraint or indulgence of the nature in the business, in the home, in the imagination, which is the inner laboratory of life, creates the character, which, whether it be here or there, settles the destiny. Men forget what life is for. Their consciousness takes in only the flimsy, transient, passing show. They forget that experience is the only important factor. That character is worth more than all else the world can possibly yield—the very object of all materials, of circumstances.—Western Catholic.

SOUTHWEST SYLVAN.

What Was Lacking.

A man who had served two terms in congress was making a campaign for a third term. In the course of a speech in the town hall at Broomcorn Junction, a village near the further boundary of his district, he said:

"It is true, fellow citizens, that I have not always been able to do as much as I should like to do in the matter of internal improvements in this district, but I have never lost sight of your interests for a single moment. You have no idea of the obstacles that lie in the way of a congressman who tries to secure appropriations for public buildings, the improvement of navigable streams and the like for the benefit of his constituents, but I have labored constantly in your behalf to the very best of my ability."

"We know it!" shouted an old farmer in the audience. "That's why we want an abler man."—Youth's Companion.

What the Heart Does.

This so-called most delicate of organs, the most vital, may be God's principal handiwork. There are scientists to-day who can make a man, but they cannot cause his heart to beat. The human heart is about 5 by 3 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches in size. It weighs from 8 to 12 ounces, and its capacity is from 4 to 6 ounces in each ventricle. It is a hollow muscular organ, through which passes 2 1/2 pounds of blood every minute. Sixteen tons of blood pass through it every 24 hours! Do some more thinking. It beats about 72 times a minute in a healthy adult man. Now, think still harder—in one year 11,680,000 pounds of blood pass through the heart. Such figures stagger humanity.

A Cane in Defense.

"If you want to keep off hold-up men," said an old detective to the observer, "carry a cane. A hold-up man is more afraid of a cane than he is of a revolver. He's deathly afraid that the man carrying it will jab it in his face or eyes or get the end of it in his mouth. On this account they're just as much afraid of a small, light stick as they are of a heavy one."

"There are so many different ways of using a cane that a man doesn't know just which way to guard against it. And any man can use it. Nine men out of ten who carry revolvers couldn't hit the side of a barn with them, and the 'hold-ups' know it, but it doesn't take any skill or practice to learn to slambang away with a walking stick."

When "Drammers" Come Easy.

At the Players' club in New York one evening there was a guest from out of town, a playwright well known for his extraordinary facility in turning out the alleged "drammers" that do the "ten-twenty-thirt." circuits. It is no uncommon thing for this producer to grind out five or six of his plays annually.

Some one innocently asked the playwright if it was rather difficult to find new ideas for his plays.

"Really, I don't know," was the frank answer of the man who has made thousands of dollars from his "drammers." "I have never tried it."—Sunday Magazine.

Tears Prohibited.

It is unfortunate that fashion no longer allows the tender little player to weep, a privilege which belonged to nineteenth century femininity, for there is no greater luxury than a good cry over some picturesque and heart-stirring tragedy. It is this which makes "East Lynne" so popular out of London.—London Black and White.

Telephones in Alaska.

There are 130 camps and roadhouses in Alaska provided with telephones, in addition to many business houses, residences and cabins situated within the limits of the larger cities. The main exchange is at Nome. Skagway and White Horse are connected by telephone.

Couldn't Be Done.

"Yes," said the man who gets things crooked, "I hear a heap o' people saying they'd die for somebody else, if necessary, but these people that promise to die hardly ever lives up to it."

PUT GREAT FAITH IN GINSENG.

Chinese Willing to Pay Fabulous Prices for Roots.

Frederick D. Cloud, student interpreter at the Shanghai consulate general, says: "Many of the Chinese believe that when all other remedies fail and death is at hand, ginseng has the power to bring back health and longevity; hence, when they feel the need of it they will pay fabulous prices for certain kinds of roots. A root to be really valuable as a commodity must come from the mountains of Kirin or be reputed to have come from there. It must be bifurcated, so as to resemble as much as possible the human form, and be semitransparent, dry and flinty.

"Of course, the larger the root the better and as it is sold by weight it is not very uncommon for a good specimen to bring as much as $100 an ounce. The value for such a root is in its shape, its texture, the manner in which it has been cured and the region whence it came.

"But it must be borne in mind that, out of a great quantity of roots, only a very few of the kind described can be obtained, so that the average price of ginseng is even greatly less than $100 per pound."

FOUND A CURE FOR INSOMNIA.

One Sufferer Testifies That Deep Breathing Helped Him.

"I have been troubled with insomnia all my life," remarked the nervous man, "and like most people similarly afflicted I have tried all the familiar dodges to induce sleep. The results were never particularly satisfactory in the way of producing the desired effect until one night I thought I had actually found a sleep-inducer when I chanced to grasp one of the rods at the head of my bed with both hands and practically hung the weight of my body on them. That sent me to sleep and it did the same thing for a few times, when to my extreme disappointment, I found it had ceased to work. I was as badly off as recently, until one night, when I had a bad cough, as well as an attack of sleeplessness. I tried the well-known remedy of trying to send myself off into the land of nod by taking long deep breaths. What it did to me, and has done several times since, was not to only send me to sleep, but to stop my cough. Just why it did so is not of much consequence. That it did so is the thing that concerns me most."

HAD TO MAKE THE SACRIFICE.

Question of Job or Mustache and the Latter Went.

A man whose chief claim to good looks was a luxurious brown mustache not long ago applied for a place in a wholesale dry goods house. He came well recommended and the manager was willing to employ him.

"Before settling the matter, however," said the manager, "I wish to speak a few words on a very personal subject. I refer to your mustache. If you accept this position you will have to keep it shaved off. One of your chief duties will be to dictate letters. Our stenographers claim that a heavy mustache interferes with their clear speech and that the difficulty in understanding is responsible for their making many mistakes. Once before a man with a mustache like yours held this job. Upon the united request of the stenographers he had to cut it off. I must ask you to do the same thing."

The man eyed his crowning glory regretfully, but as he needed the job worse than he did the mustache he began work the next day with a smooth face.

Stigmatism from Reading in Bed.

Stigmatism, which is a condition where the refractive powers differ in the different meridians of the eye, is in most cases hereditary, but it is often acquired, says a writer in Health. The error of acquired stigmatism often takes place during and after a severe illness, and can be avoided by proper precautions. The whole system is in a weakened condition, and the person so afflicted, being confined to the house, will resort to reading to pass away the time, and this is often practiced while in a reclining position. There can be nothing more injurious than this practice.

Reading under these conditions overburdens the muscles, and the action of these muscles upon the form of the eye causes an irregularity in the curvature of the cornea which is known as astigmatism. This is detrimental to distant vision and makes reading and near work difficult.

Our Government Cemetery in Mexico.

"Though very few people are aware of the fact," said an army officer the other day, "the United States government owns and maintains a national cemetery in Mexico. It is located at San Cosme, near the City of Mexico, and was purchased and established in the year 1850 for the purpose of interring the remains of the soldiers of the United States who died or were killed in that vicinity during the war with Mexico and also for the purpose of interring the bodies of citizens of the United States who have died in that vicinity since that period."—Washington Star.

Consolation.

"Steward, how long will it be before we get into the harbor?"

"About an hour and a half, ma'am."

"Oh, dear, I shall die before then."

"Oh, very likely, ma'am. But you'll be all right again when you've been on shore ten minutes."—Marine Journal.

NO, SHE NEVER KISSED HIM.

Washerwoman, However, Had an Idea of the Situation.

Nell is a girl who lives up in Capitol Hill. On Mondays a woman comes to Nell's house to wash clothes. The woman's name is Nell, too. The other day Nell, the girl, was in the sitting room reading when the telephone rang. Nell, the washerwoman, answered the ring. Nell, the girl, then heard Nell, the washerwoman, say:

"Yes, this is Nell."

"How's that?"

"What? Am I mad because you kissed me last night. Look here, man, you're too fresh. Who are you, anyway. I never kissed—"

Just then the telephone receiver was wildly snatched from her hand. Nell, the girl, blushing furiously, had grabbed it. She hung it on the hook.

"He wanted me," she said. "I—I never kissed him in my life."

She disappeared up the stairs the washerwoman smiled and said:

"That's a big one."—Denver Post.

The Dignity of Age.

A young constable arrived in a certain borough in Scotland, and in the course of duty found it essential to apprehend a very old offender.

Arrived at the police station, he ushered him into a cell with the comment: "Mind the step." "Gae awa, man," said the prisoner with contempt; "I kent the step afore ye was born."—The Bellman.

Training of Children.

The most selfish, unloving, unhygienic children I have seen are those who are brought up by unimaginative parents, never made to have obligations of respect for others, or taught to make opportunities for serving others, never having heard of putting themselves into the place of others.—Atlantic Monthly.

Mowing Machines Kill Snakes.

Certain kinds of noises attract snakes. The whirr of the mowing machine is one, and in six months as many as 120 cobras alone have been killed on a grass farm in India by the advancing machine.—Madras Times.

We always admire a man with winning ways until we play poker with him.—Philadelphia Record.

Colds on the Chest. Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. When you tell your doctor about the bad taste in your mouth, loss of appetite for breakfast, and frequent headaches, and when he sees your coated tongue, he will say, "You are bilious." Ayer's Pills work well in such cases.

Notice to Taxpayers.

Taxes are now due and must be paid on or before February 29, 1908. Ralph Freeman, Treas.

Would Aid Many Widows. Under suspension of the rules the house of representatives Monday took up the Spillway bill, granting a flat pension to all widows of honorably discharged soldiers. Its provisions were explained by its author, who said it involved an additional expenditure of $12,741,000.

He described destitute widows of soldiers who were unable to secure pensions because of some technicality of the law regarding property holdings, and received applause when he said these technicalities should be swept away. The bill increases the pensions of widows from $8 to $12 a month, and it is applicable to all such pensions for less than that rate which have been, or may be, granted under existing pension laws.

A Good Reason.

"Don't you get tired of the people who are always looking down in the mouth?" "Indeed I do. I am going to see one now, who invariably gets on my nerves." "What are you going to see him for, then?" "Because he's my dentist."

THOS. CALE, OF ALASKA, MEMBER OF U.S. CONGRESS

Well Known on the Pacific Slope. His Washington Address is 1312 9th St.,

CONGRESSMAN THOS. CALE.

Hon. Thos. Cale, who was elected to Congress from Alaska, is well known on the Pacific slope, where he has resided.
His Washington address is 1312 9th St.,
N. W., Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C.
Peruna Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen: I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a very efficient remedy for coughs and colds.

Thomas Cale.
Hon. C. Sloop, Congressman from Virginia, writes: "I have used your valuable remedy, Peruna, with beneficial results, and can unhesitatingly recommend your remedy as an invigorating tonic and an effective and permanent cure for catarrh."

Too interesting to bury.
There is a certain little southern girl who is very fond of her negro mammy. The nurse's name is Sally, and she is a large woman, so she is known as Big Sally. Ethel, however, calls her "Biggie" for short. One day her mother took her to a museum, where, among other things, there were some stuffed animals. Ethel was greatly interested, and for many days
she did not tire of talking about them.
Perhaps a week later, at the supper table, after a preoccupied silence, she said:

"Mamma, when Biggie dies I'm not going to have her buried; I'm going to have her stuffed!"

A Baffled Palmist Journalist.
There is a chewing gum slot machine in the waiting-room at the Seaboard Air Line depot in Cheraw that is either out of fix or has no gum in it and should be removed. We deposited two cents in it Saturday night and got no gum. Of course two cents is a small amount, and for that matter, but the machine should be looked after carefully or it will become a public imposition.—Chesterfield Advertiser.

Unshaken Esteem.
"Your husband is still very fond of horses," said the woman who disapproves of betting.
"Yes," answered young Mrs. Tor-
kins.
"Well, it's nothing to his credit."
"I don't know about that. It shows he has a very forgiving disposition."

"I Get a Hundred of the Meanest Burlesque Valentines I Can Find."

"You don't say that you are still romantic?"
"I say this—that my wife can beat me at argument or scolding or doing as she pleases whether I like it or not.
She's obstinate and piqueheaded and touchy, and the only way I can get even with her is on Valentine's day.
Then I get 100 of the meanest burlesque valentines I can find and send them to her, and for the next three months she's wondering who sent 'em and treats me fairly well. Try it once. It is a good deal better than threatening her with the family ax."

Love's Lottery.
One often wonders how St. Valentine's day ever got a start. It is said that in England and France the young folk were given to playing a game in which the names of all the girls and boys were written on tiny slips of paper, thrown into a general receptacle,
and then drawn out lottery fashion,
care being taken of course that each person draws the name of one of the other sex. The person thus drawn became one's valentine, and the allotment decreed by fate was supposed to impose upon the couple a sort of loyalty for the coming year.

All of which sounds very romantic and beautiful, but which in plain fact must have mixed things up fearfully, and it is a question whether or not fate always selected the right maiden or the right beau.

One day there came strange whis-perings about St. Valentine. You wondered if he were the man who came to trim the trees in the orchard. It was all very new to you, because everything was new, and you had so much to get acquainted with in a big strange world.

The other children talked knowingly about a St. Valentine's box. Next day they fled in one after another, and into a big wooden box they dropped white envelopes. When school was about to be dismissed the Beautiful Lady who took care of all the children opened up the mysterious affair and took out the envelopes one by one, calling the name of the little boy or girl.

You held your breath. When would yours come? Ah! exquisite moment of anticipation! Your heart—such a tiny little silly, lovable heart, too—fairly ceased to beat, for every moment you expected that your name would be spoken. The other children were busy showing their white lace valentines, and never noticed the wistful little face in a far-back seat.

It was all over. The box was empty.
The Beautiful Lady closed her desk.
The children ran for their hats and coats. You placed two soiled fat little hands to two very moist-misty eyes and felt your first great sorrow.

You did, didn't you? Well, if you didn't, I did.
The heart of a child is so sensitive a flower. A thought will crush it—a tear will bruise it.

"Say, old fellow," said Brown, as he laid his hand familiarly on Potter's shoulder, "didn't I see you in the valentines?"

"You probably did, as I was in there," was the answer.
"Buying for some sister or niece?"

turn over it a quart of boiling water, cover and let it infuse on the back of the stove for ten minutes. Strain, add two pounds of sugar, let dissolve and boil for three minutes; then set aside for several hours. Two hours before serving the punch add the juice of half a dozen lemons and three or anges, a can of shredded pineapple and another of preserved strawberries or cherries pitted. Add a pint of grape juice, two large bananas sliced; half a dozen oranges, sliced, and a teaspoonful each bitter almond, vanilla and rose water. Just before serving add three quarts mineral water and pour over a block of ice in the punch bowl.

Baked Veal Steak.
Order a slice of veal steak cut three-fourths of an inch thick. Butter a dripping pan and sprinkle it with salt and pepper and a bit of finely chopped onion. Lay the steak on this.
Sprinkle the top with salt, pepper, chopped onion, and a few bits of butter. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove to a hot platter.
Add to the pan two level tablespo-ons of butter. When melted add two tablespoons of flour and stir in gradually one cup and a quarter of boiling water. Season with salt and pepper, cook three minutes, then strain it over the veal. Garnish with parsley.

Yellow Fashionable.
An unusual number of yellow dresses are shown among the exclusive winter designs, a fact which is accounted for by the French love of things artistic. They say that yellow is the color of artists, and certainly it could not be used more effectively on canvas or palette than it is employed by the best dressmakers of Paris.

Vanilla Wafers.
One-third cup butter, one cup sugar,
one egg, 1 1/2 cups milk, two cups flour,
two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons vanilla. Cream the butter, add sugar and egg, well beaten, and milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients to liquid.
Roll thin, cut and bake in hot oven.

A FRIEND OF THE LITTLE ONES

WONDERFUL day, the fourteenth of February. It is so wonderful that it spreads its charm over the preceding week and the week that comes after. For days and days the Small Person sneaks into the house with unnatural, unhealthy and suspicious quiet, holding queer shaped packages under her coat or smuggling away in the innermost covers of her absurd little muff. The paste pot appears everywhere in the house. The paste brush disappears entirely and is finally found in a state of something and the ink-bottle. You see something on the floor that looks like a cherry. You pick it up and it is a red paper heart. While you are looking at it the Small Person trots into the room, gives you one mysterious glance, immediately separates you from your treasure and scampers away to a hiding place under the dining-room table, where she sits for three straight hours in a billowy pool of white paper lace, big white envelopes and numberless samples of scissors.

Then, after these charming hours of mysterious preparation, the great day approaches. The mail man is the Kris Kringle, the Santa Claus, the good fairy. With banded shoulders he plods down the street, while the Small Person has her nose glued so tightly to the window pane that there is considerable question whether or not it will detach itself without the aid of a paper knife.

At last! Hooray! The bell rings.
At imminent risk of catching everything from a cold to a spanking the Small Person dashes out of the front door and fairly leaps into the mail bag.

She emerges looking like a young stationery establishment, nothing but envelopes, big, little and middle sized.
With a squeal and a scurry she blows back into the house and opens up her treasures. There are paper trees filled with brilliant paper roses, and beneath the forest trees sit little cupids
"without no clo's on at all," just as if it were not February and chilly.
Great big, beautiful white swan cars
—more beautiful even than a new automobile—are dragged out of their white casings, and lo! when you touch
a little spring somewhere the swan cars are filled with flowers and all sorts of wonderful, exquisite, beautiful things, like birds and jewels and loving hearts. Oh, it is very, very delightful, being a child on St. Valentine's day.

While all this excitement is beating the quiet home atmosphere into quivers you sit down in a far-away corner and think of the time when you were a little girl. Perhaps you didn't have as much attention as the Small Person; perhaps things didn't somehow come your way—and perhaps it's because you had so little that you are ready to make any sacrifice so that the Small Person shall have that much. It is from deprivations that you learn what good things mean and how much they mean.

Somehow your mind goes way back, so far you wouldn't dare tell the years. You wouldn't even guess them.
It seems so long ago that it must have been an other world, or anyway an other life. You see a dingy old schoolroom, where the benches were frightfully hard and where the clock was so lazy it never moved its hands at all. The days were very long for a little tiny child who should have been romping and playing out of doors.

One day there came strange whis-perings about St. Valentine. You wondered if he were the man who came
to trim the trees in the orchard. It was all very new to you, because

NEW STYLE OF OMELET.
Add This to Your List of Breakfast
Dainties.

Sift together a scant gill of flour and one and a half tablespoons powdered sugar; also a pinch of salt. Stir smooth with one-half pint cold milk.
Strain and add one-half lemon rind, and cook to a thick paste which will free itself from the sides of the pan.
Cool it a little and add five whole yolks one by one. Then stir in very gently the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs. Put into the omelet pan two tablespoons butter, melt it, and pour in the omelet, and turn out the gas flame. Let it stand three minutes, then put in the oven from eight to ten minutes till the top begins to dry.
Butter a large piece of paper, put it on a tin cover, and invert the omelet pan on it, turning out the omelet. In the pan heat another tablespoon butter, slide the paper into the pan, omelet up, and put in the oven five or six minutes more. Heat a large jar of apricot jam or orange marmalade. Remove the omelet from the pan, fold
it and, lifting it up very gently, fill it with the warm jam or marmalade.
Sprinkle the top with powdered sugar and glaze on the grill.

TO KEEP ROOMS "PICKED UP."
Use of Scrap Baskets Will Save Much
Time and Labor.

Have a scrap basket in each room.
By so doing you will find that even the children will drop scraps of paper and waste matter into them. You will be saved the countless steps to the kitchen stove, or wherever is the final receptacle of your rubbish that you are accustomed to make. You will be relieved of the tiresome task of bobbing up and down picking up the little pieces of thread, scraps of paper, bits of lint and dirt that are unconsciously dropped upon the floor or table for the want of a place to put them. Then when you tidy up in the morning you can start right in with your sweeping and dusting without first going through that awful "picking up" ordeal. Take one scrap basket and empty all others into it and dispose of it all at once. Very simple scrap baskets may be made by cutting out pieces of cardboard and covering with pretty wall paper or cheap denim and tying together with ribbons.

FOR HOP YEAST CAKES.
Easy Way to Have Useful Material
Always on Hand.

Boll two handfuls hops in two quarts water until reduced to three pints.
Strain the liquor and return to the pot. Thicken with one cupful of wheat flour mixed smooth with a little cold water. Let boll three or four minutes, add six medium-sized potatoes, freshly boiled and mashed. Let the whole stand until lukewarm, then strain, add a cupful good yeast and set where it will keep lukewarm.
When frothy, add a tablespoonful salt,
stir in a little wheat flour and enough Indian meal to enable you to roll dough about an inch thick.
Cut into small round cakes, spread on shallow platters and dry in a shady airy place. Turn twice a day while drying. When perfectly dry and hard, put in a paper or cloth bag, tie tightly, and hang in a cool, dry place.
When you wish to use them for bread,
soak in lukewarm water until soft.
One will be sufficient to make three or four loaves of bread.

George Preston has been re-appointed postmaster at Grass Lake. The fine new bank building in Northville will be completed in about two weeks.

The Baptist Society, of Saline, will observe the anniversary of the dedication of their new church Feb. 9th.

Frank Clark, of Stockbridge, will place this week for Hartland, Wash., where he has accepted a position with Geo. Stapish in a blacksmith shop.

Spring election will be no snap. Aside from the township ticket the result of the con-con, also constitutional amendments, and probably primary question will be voted on—four ballots.

The rate of taxation on the railroad properties of the state is $17.62 on each $1,000 of valuation, which will yield a tax of $3,700,000, or about $5 per capita for each child of school age in the state.

Newspapers everywhere are making a strong effort to collect up on back subscriptions so that large numbers of their subscribers may not come under the recent ruling of the postoffice department and be cut from their lists.

Reading at the present time is without a school house, the old building having been condemned, after a thorough examination by a competent architect. The school board of that place has closed the schools until a suitable place can be secured.

A recent ruling from the postal authorities at Washington holds that a news item of some one "holding the lucky number" or any similar expression shall not be entitled to mailing privileges of the postal department. The government is certainly getting it down pretty fine.

A certain doctor, wishing to make a good impression on a German farmer, mentioned the fact that he had received a double education, as it were. He had studied homeopathy and was also a graduate of a "regular" medical school. "Oh! dat was nodings," said the farmer, "I had vonce a calf dot sucked two cows, and he made nodings but a common schteer."—Ex.

Sixty tons of white paper will be needed to print the 300,000 copies of the revised constitution, and a like number of copies of the convention's address at the close of the session. The legislature directed that 300,000 copies be distributed through the state before the April election. The estimate of 60 tons is based on the belief that each of the 300,000 mail packages will weigh six ounces.

One of the oldest landmarks and relics of the history of Webster disappeared Thursday from the farm of John Schultz, when the old frame building, which was a later addition to the old log house which served as the family residence of the first settler, a Mr. Matthews, was torn down. The original log house has the distinction of being one of the first houses in the township of Webster, and was built and owned by a brother-in-law of the late Judge Dexter in the year 1826.—Dexter Leader.

John Henderson, retired engineer, living at 1708 S. Washtenaw Ave., Bay City, Mich., says: "I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney remedy from personal experience. About fourteen years ago I suffered greatly with back ache which was caused from catching cold. The pains seated themselves in the small of my back and over my hips. I was laid up for two weeks so that I was unable to work and it was just all I could do to get up and down from a chair. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being a good remedy for such ailments and procured a box. After taking them I felt relieved and there has been no trace of the trouble returning. Occasionally I refer to them when feeling a little run down and they always fill me with renewed vigor. I feel it my duty to let others know of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills." OUTSPOKEN. A French marquise whose country house is crowded with guests during the hunting season hit upon the original idea of placing a register at the disposal of her visitors, in which to record their desires and criticisms. The pages of the richly-bound book soon began to be covered with notes such as: "Count de R— still owes 25 louis; he knows to whom." "The green peas yesterday were burned." "Baroness M— flirts; unfortunately, not with me." The marquise has withdrawn the register.—Cri de Paris.

BLACK LIGHT. This curious term was first used by Le Bon of the French Academy of Sciences to describe a form of radiant energy which arises from the back of a thin sheet of opaque metal when the front is illuminated with ordinary light. Black light in some of its properties resembles the X-ray, but differs from it in fundamental points. Le Bon announced the discovery of this singular radiation in 1897.—Sunday Magazine.

ANNUAL TAX SALES. STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss. The Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery. In the matter of the petition of James B. Bradley, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for tax assessment thereon. On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan, praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan. It is ordered that said petition be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Ann Arbor, Michigan, for the County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, on the second day of March, A. D. 1908, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in said lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof, acting as register in chancery, their objections thereto, on or before the first day of the term of the Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately offered for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; and if any parcel of land and of every parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be re-offered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State. Witness the Hon. E. D. KINNE, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Washtenaw County this second day of January, A. D. 1908. (Seal.) JAS. E. HARKINS, Register. By EUGENE K. PRUEAUX, Deputy Register.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. To the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery: The petition of James B. Bradley, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all the lands in said County of Washtenaw, upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, and interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extending against each of said parcels of land. Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of act 205 of the Public Acts of 1895, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively; and that said taxes remain unpaid, except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1895 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of act 205 of the Public Acts of 1895, and which taxes remain unpaid. Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1895 or any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said taxes, and the sale or sales so made have not been set aside by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law; and that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule, and that said taxes on said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc. Dated December 30th, 1907. JAMES B. BRADLEY, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.
