Serious Accident.

Willis, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur VanRiper met with a noon. The boy was riding a horse owned by Lewis Wright, on the rightof-way of the abandoned Boland line in the east part of the village at the time of the accident. He fell from the horse, and landed on the ground where a tie had been removed. He broke his left arm so that the large bone protruded through the flesh just above the elbow. Three doctors, Gulde, Palmer and Bush responded to calls and upon examination it was decided advisable to remove the injured boy to the hospital in Ann Arbor. He train on the Michigan Central, accompanied by his parents and Dr. Bush. and the fracture was reduced, The patient will be brought to his Chelsea home in about two weeks.

IN GOOD SHAPE.

The Board of Inspector Investigated the County Jail.

Ann Arbor Times News: The biennial inspection of the Washtenaw county jail, which the law provides must be made during the months of February and September each year, was made yesterday by the board of inspectors, composed of E. E. Leland, judge of probate, A. J. Wurster, of Manchester, John W. Breining, of Augusta, and W. A. Clark, of Ann Arbor, commissioners, and W. K. Childs, of Ann Arbor, county agent,

The board reports that the books and records of the jail are in excellent condition and are full and complete, that the condition of the jail property is fair except the floor in one of the cells which needs repairing. It recommends the placing of improved water closets in the present and the new insane ward.

The inspectors found but three prisoners in the jail at the time of the inspection, and were very much pleased with the condition of the new addition which is being built over the jail proper for a third story, which will be used for the detention of the insane or for persons held on civil processes.

The following is the report of the committee:

FOX HUNTING IN BALLOON

A Thrilling Sport That May Rival Motor Speeding Among Wealthy Class.

Next on the list of thrilling sports: Fox hunting in balloons. It sounds like fiction, but it's the cold, substantiated fact. The sport of fox hunting a la balloon has been taken up and firmly established in Germany. In England they have had a try at it. And it only remains for the people with the price in America to get acquainted with the possibilities of this high and lofty sport to make it rival and outdistance auto racing as the exciting diversion of the wealthy classes.

Sensational and even improbable as it may seem, the hold which this new sport has taken both in Europe and England indicates that a new line has opened up for the sportsman in search of unusual thrillers. The first event of its kind in Berlin, patronized by all the prominent aeronauts attracted to the capital city of Germany through the international airship exhibition, has established firmly the sport of balloon fox hunting among the moneyed people of the world. Followed by the exhibition at Hurlingham, England, the signs would indicate that it will not be long before this form of amusebreaking races in high speed motor Physical obstacles have kept the good old sport of fox hunting on the ground from obtaining more than a oothold on the American continent. The present branch of the sport, however, would seem to offer unbounded opportunities for American millionaires to more than surpass the wealthy classes of Europe in this most thrilling of thrillers-fox hunting in the air.

FATAL. A BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE

The Surgeon's Effort to Save the Doomed Man Was a Failure and Death Came in Five Days.

Governor John A. Johnson, who was operated on affive days ago to remove an intestinal ulcer, died in the hospital at Rochester, Minn., Tuesday. His life hung continually in the balance until the end came. So frequently did his condition change, alternately for better and then for worse, that his physicians, ever hopeful, but none too optimistic, were able to say at no time since the operation was performed that the governor had more than an even chance for his life.

COOK ARRIVES.

The Arctic Explorer Receives a Warm Welcome in New York.

The scene as Dr. Cook was welcomed to his family and friends was one long to be remembered. The returned explorer folded Mrs. Cook in his arms and held her without a single word passing between them. While husband and wife greeted each other absolute silence prevailed among the onlooking passengers Then Dr. Cook broke the silence. "Where are the children?" he said. His wife did not reply, but led him to the children, a few steps away. He kissed his eldest daughter, then seized the younger one in his arms and raised her to his shoulders. At this the spectators broke out into cheers. "Bravo, Cook," "Welcome home,"

'We're proud of you," rang out across the water. Then the words "For he's a jolly good fellow," were sung in chorus by Dr. Cook's fellow-passengers on the Oscar II., as the tug left the shin's side

Before landing Dr. Cook was questioned by reporters as to the "gold brick" charge of Commander Peary. "I shall await events," was his

The jury in the case of Harber C. Bennett, on trial in Los Angeles for the alleged poisoning of his wife in June last, reported a disagreement after being out about 36 hours and was discharged. The district attorney has announced that steps will be taken at once for another trial.

HIGHEST OF TOWNS

MINING STATION IN THE ANDES

RUN BY AMERICANS.

Cerro de Pasco, at an Elevation of 14, 200 Feet Above the Sea Level Has 8,000 Inhabitants and All Improvements.

Cerro de Pasco is the highest town in the world. The remarkable broad gauge railroad by which it is reached passes over a higher altitude-about that of Mont Blanc-and there are mining camps and Indian villages at greater elevations. It is also true that there are higher railroad stations, for on the Arequipa-Puno line the station of Crucero Alto attains the stupendous elevation of 14,660 feet; but at 14,200 feet above the sea level there is no other real town of 8,000 inhabitants, with a railroad station, telegraph, telephones, churches, shops, clubs, hospitals and vice-consuls. It is a wonderful example of American enterprise.

The section of the railroad which runs from Oroya to this town belongs to the Cerro de Pasco Mining Company, and is extremely comfortable. smooth running and fast, considering the gradients. It passes through fine grassy valleys grazed by countless herds of llamas, and the blue sky, the sparkling streams, the snow peaks, combine with the green pastures to give a delightful variety of colors which afford a striking contrast to the uniform brown hue of the barren Chilean Andes.

Clever Retort of Massachusetts Lawyer to a Vindictive Woman Witness.

Massachusetts has furnished some attorneys who have become famous legal lights before the nation. The town of Suffolk, in that state, has one at present who bids for a place among them. This lawyer is noted for the brightness and aptness of his retorts, and any smart witness that gets ahead of him has to sit up nights to frame up the plot.

He was recently counsel for the plaintiff in a case where a woman was very refractory under cross-examination. Although he used all politeness and courtesy in his examination, he received nothing but sharp and unsatisfactory replies. Her husband was in court, a meek and humble specimen of the henpecked spouse. Finally the lawyer put another very civil question, to which the woman replied with vindictive fire flashing from her eyes: "Mr. Lawyer, you can't catch me, and you needn't think you can; no, siree, you can't catch me!" With his most fetching smile, the attorney replied: "Madam, I haven't the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks to me as if he very sorely regretted that he had succeeded."

The crier rapped for order as a wave of laughter swept over the courtreom, and the judge bowed his head to hide a smile.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all 12s stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now.known to the medical fragernity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Entered as second-class matter, March 5, 1908, at the postoffice at Chelsea, Michigan, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

THAT gathering at Jackson Monday evening, at which time Congressman Townsend was presented with a large petition asking him to make the run for United States senator, was a pleasing testimonial to one who has made a great record in the lower house of congress, and who stands a good show for a promotion. Mr. Townsend has been a representative of his district in every sense of the word, and while his constituents would be pleased to have him continue in his present capacity, nevertheless if the people of the state at large insist upon his going still higher, the people of the second congressional district would give him up to them.

Ryerson Resigns.

Rev. Joseph Ryerson, who has been getting in the papers regularly since occupying a charge in Detroit, and who has had considerable trouble with his congregation, has been sent to Ridgeway, at a salary of $800 yearly. He was offered an appointment in North Dakota at a salary of $1,700 and parsonage rent free, but declined to accept.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Ryerson sent a letter to Bishop Hamilton, who presided over the conference, wherein he scored the Bishop, District Superintendent Sweet of the Detroit district, and the Methodist church generally, and presented his resignation from the society. He stated that day. he would remain in Detroit, and a number of his former parishoners, who have stood with him during the warm time of the past year, say that they will form a new society and re- Feldkamp were Ann Arbor visitors Madden. tain him as pastor. While this action on his part does not surprise very many in Chelsea, all regret the prominence that has been given the affair in the Detroit papers.

HE SPIRIT of internationalism in its application was the perading characteristic of relations between the various countries of America during 1908.

The year was marked by numerous gatherings of the representative elements of national life both in Latin America and the United States and on all occasions indications of a unanimity of sentiment and community of interest were markedly displayed.

Of paramount importance was the carrying into effect of the various conventions of the Washington Peace

A "new" story about Napoleon is necessarily doubtful; the probability is that it is simply so old that it has been forgotten. However, here is one that Arthur M. Chuquet prints in L'Opinion as never before published. It relatesto Napoleon and Blucher.

The emperor received the general at the castle of Finkenstein, while he was preparing for the siege of Danzig. He drew him to a window in an upper story and paid him compliments on his military gifts, and Blucher, going away delighted, described the interview to his aide-de-camp. "What a chance you missed!" exclaimed the latter. "You might have changed the whole course of history."

"How?" "Why, you might have thrown him out of the window." "Confound it!" replied Blucher. "So I might! If only I had thought of it." -New York Evening Post.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick), and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find 'Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing.' "This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavouring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assim-

In accordance with these conventions the Central American court of justice held its first session in May, 1908, at Cartago, Costa Rica, the first judicial decision being rendered ir December. On September 15 the Central-American bureau was inaugurated in the capital of Guatemala for the furtherance of reciprocal interests among the nations of Central America and with the assembling of the first Central American conference at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, in the first month of 1909, additional emphasis is given to the intention of the nations interested to embrace all feasible means for the development of their material possibilities.

The participation of Pan-America was a feature of the Lake Mohonk conferences of 1908 and 1909 and active interest was indicated in such industrial assemblies as the International Fisheries congress, the Irrigation congress, the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, the Rivers and Harbors congress and the Conservation congress, all of which were held in the United States and attended by delegates from the republics to the south.

clusions must not be drawn as to the value of the Latin-

American field of trade. The falling off in the exchange of commodities for the year 1908 with the United States, as already suggested, was due almost entirely to unfavorable and unusual economic conditions. The reliable measure of such value is determined by comparing the statistics of the present with those of 10 years ago, and

ing year is good, and there is an awakening among business men in both North and South America to the possibilities of trade exchange heretofore undeveloped which must have a beneficial effect on Pan-American commerce.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstanley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summonling Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both.

"Then you won't-you won't-oh, will you-" she cried chaotically. "I won't," I declared. "It's all right. Why, Barbara, bless you, you knew that, didn't you?"

She nodded slowly. "Of course there never was-oh, why do you make me say such things?-there never was anything—anything between us. Mr. Twining. You don't care for me, really, I am sure. Younever told me so, and-"

"No. I never told you so," I repeated. "I was waiting-" "Don't," she begged. "But, you see, I didn't know. And, oh, it couldn't

CHAPTER V.

Bishop Winstanley sent for me the next day. His unexpected summons came late in the afternoon, when I was very busy, and I could not answer it at once. I drove promptly to his house the moment I was released from my last engagement, but it was late and the lights were on. He sent word down that he was dressing for dinner, but that he would be glad to have me come directly to his dressing room. "Ah, so I recall," I interrupted. "Dear me." said I. The bishop nodded solemnly.

"A trifle elderly?" I ventured, encouraged by something in his eyes. "A trifle! She is 60." "Ah, is it possible?"

"She may be more. But 60-is enough." I nodded, not quite understanding, and waiting for that which I knew watching the bishop out of the tail of my ve. "As a young woman," he repeated.

"And clever," said I. He smiled. "She is still clever enough," he commented.

There was a long pause, during which his shapely fingers caressed the tassel of his dressing gown.

"Mrs. Dines is in Africa at present," he continued. "She says she desires to remain there indefinitely. Wishing to further to its utmost the work she has undertaken, and to be entirely unhampered and unharassed by restrictions, she has sent this most remarkable proposition to my sister, who in turn has indorsed it and sent it on to me with all promptness. I wish you to tell me what you think of it, sir."

He handed me a decorous-looking document, which I opened with much interest. It was exceedingly direct and simple—as unadorned and simple as the lady who had indited it: Mrs. Anson Dines, for the privilege of using the powerful name of Bishop Charles Winstanley, would dedicate her undivided effort and her undivided fortune to the church which the bishop so brilliantly adorned, especially to that portion of it which she had taken under her special care and loving direction, there in a country so far from her home. The marriage should be performed by proxy, and Bishop Winstanley should continue, then and always, at perfect liberty to pursue his own helpful and shining career in his own land, and in his own manner, quite as if she did not bear

BREVITIES

DEXTER-Fire caused by a spark from a passing train set fire to the dry grass near the Dexter house Sunday afternoon. By the quick work of the neighbors with brooms and heavy sticks the fire was pounded out, just before it reached the Dexter homestead.

YPSILANTI-Lieut, Hugh J. Morrison, commanding the first detachment of the signal corps, at Ypsilanti, has resigned, and Lieut. P. D. Foster has succeeded him. The latter is an officer of much ability, and is rapidly learning the difficult instruments with which the corps is equipped.

NORTHVILLE-A sort of a beebug with a boring machine in the rear end about three and one-half inches long is busy killing one of the fine maple trees in front of the Methodist church property. Charlie Finkins captured one of 'em yesterday and for the present he is caged at the Record office.-Record.

FOWLERVILLE-Sunday I was talking with two men who formerly spent the most of their earnings at the saloons. One said "from one pay day to the next I never had a cent in the house, but now there is as much as $25 to $50 at all times, and besides. I feel better." The other man said he never had a bank account before in his life.-Standard.

ALBION-A gypsy woman, belonging to a gang of twenty wagons told O. V. Eastman's fortune last Friday and abstracted $20 from his pocket. The band was overhauled at Marshall, and the woman was pulled out from under a lot of old blankets in one end of one of the wagons. She spent a night in jail, and in the morning the band had to put up $70.90. $35 fine, $13.90 cost and $20 refunded to Mr. Eastman.-Leader.

Two hired men, who were asleep upstairs, barely escaped in their overalls which they hastily donned. Mr. and Mrs. Ely, tenants, were absent at the time. It was supposed the fire started from a lamp which was left burning in the lower rooms. The building was insured.

DEXTER-Mrs. John Croarkin, an old and highly respected lady of this place, died suddenly at her home Sunday at 3 p. m. of heart disease, Sloan of Dexter, Ed Croarkin of De- neys upon the first sign of disorder, troit, and Miss Mary, at home. The opening of the road is held up because of the incomplete condition of the overhead bridge at Rives Junction which spans the steam railroad tracks at that point. The Michigan Central company has secured an injunction against the use of a temporary grade crossing at this point, but if the R R. commission allows this nothing will interfere with the beginning of regular service.-Patroit.

ANN ARBOR-A team of horses belonging to Dr. Reuben Peterson while standing in front of his residence on Hill street Monday morning, were bothered by the flies and started for the barn. A dog barked at them, frightening them into running away. They made seven turns, came through the crowded part of the city, including State street, down Liberty street, across the Ann Arbor railroad tracks and on up the hill, and were stopped without doing any damage, either to the carriage, themselves or to any of the many teams, vehicles and persons they met on the way.-Times News.

Let Me Send A Typewriter for Free Trial Not at Your Expense—But Mine

The reason is-I want you to know how good and how different the Fox Typewriter is. That's why I'll send a Fox Typewriter to your office absolutely at my expense, prepaying all charges. Give it every hard test you can think of — compare it with any and every other machine.

Maybe you've had typewriter

I spent years perfecting my invention so as to avoid every flaw and weak point in other typewriters. And I did avoid them all.

That's why the Fox, with the hardest Trust competition, is making good everywhere with keen-thinking business men—and selling all over the civilized world.

It is one typewriter that is absolutely right in those vital parts—tae On the Fox, the bearing is wide and the bar is heavy. That means no wearing down—perfect alignment for years and years.

You can buy two carriages—different lengths—and change them at will. You write with two colors on the Fox and you do not have to touch typebar and han the ribbon from the time it goes on until it is worn out. Use the Fox for any purpose: letter writing, invoicing, billing, tabulating, stencil cutting and heavy manifolding. One Fox machine does all these things perfectly. I can't make a claim so strong that the proof won't back it up. That's why I say to you as a fair-play loving business man—just try the Fox Type. writer, all at my expense.

You have no risk, assume no obligation, and I thank you before hand for the privilege. Just write me, personally.

A MONUMENT is imperative as a mark of respect and remembrance for the departed, and both are best conserved by the thoughtful care which secures not only beauty of design, but quality of material and workmanship." While the impulse what leads to the erection of a monument is one of tender sentiment, there is no reason why business sense should not be used

The plan on which we operate is to give our customers the best in design, in quality, and in size, that the money available w.ll secure.

We have two complete plants equipped with all modern machinery and we treat our work as a profession and as a business as well, one member of this firm has spent years in studying monumental designing. Our collection of designs and the finished work in our yards at Manchester and Plymouth, Mich., are open for your inspection, or if you will give us a slight idea of your desires in the matter of design and cost, one of our firm will call with designs and estimates. We do not urge the purchase of a monument-we merely try to get the facts about our facilities before you -then when you are ready we are at

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1909

I take pleasure in announcing the engagement for one night only of

Edward Doyle's Orpheum Stock Company In the great scenic production of

This company having an off date at Jackson, where they appear next week, was secured at a big expense, and I will personally guarantee the above attraction to be the best of its kind ever given in Chelsea. The prices will be 25c, 35c and 50c, and seats will go on sale at H. H. Fenn Co.'s store on Monday morning. Trusting that the people will appreciate this opportunity of seeing a first-class production, by giving the above company a full house, I remain,
