

Clean Scalp and Healthy Hair

Many of your friends have found that a luxuriant growth of hair soft and glossy—and a scalp free from dandruff will result from the use of

Nyal's Hirsutone

This is the procedure—Wash the hair with warm water and a pure soap—rinse thoroughly—rub the scalp with a stiff brush—apply Hirsutone—rub it well and dry the hair before combing.

Please understand that Hirsutone is not merely a hair-wash—it is a tonic—a food. While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—nourishes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—prevents its return—and preserves the natural beauty and color of hair.

Nyal's Hirsutone should be on your dressing table. It sells at 50 cents the bottle.

BETTER COFFEE For Less Money

Most everybody in the State of Michigan knows of Peter Smith & Sons' Royal Valley Coffees—NERO, MARGOLD and TZAR—packed by the Royal Valley Coffee Company, Detroit. We have been fortunate enough to get the exclusive agency for these splendid goods in Chelsea; and hereafter we can furnish you richer, better coffee—and at the same time, more economical coffee—than you ever before able to buy in this town.

Royal Valley Coffees

are extraordinary coffees. Enthusiastic users say they're the best coffee-values ever put out. The one BIG idea throughout their entire preparation for YOUR use is that their richer flavor, and stronger "body," will sell enough more of them to make up for their low prices. And they DO.

As an example of what people in Detroit, where they are best known, think of Royal Valley Coffees—during the year 1910, over 350,000 pounds of NERO, alone, were sold over the counter at Peter Smith & Sons' retail store.

These are the very same blends at the very same prices, that delight a majority of the coffee-lovers of Detroit—and all over the state.

Royal Valley NERO is 25c, MARGOLD is 30c and TZAR 35c per pound, and they're the best coffees you ever saw for the money. JUST TRY A ROYAL VALLEY COFFEE.

Godfrey Grau.

Godfrey Grau was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, and died at his home in Freedom, Sunday, April 9, 1911. His demise came very unexpectedly to the members of his family, who were at church at the time he passed away. When they returned Mr. Grau was found kneeling at his bedside and life was extinct. He had been in poor health of late and his physician thought his death was due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Grau when he first came to this country located in Scio and settled in Lima in 1854. At the age of 30 years he was united in marriage with Miss Anna M. Widmayer, who died January 1, 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Grau for many years resided in Freedom, but when their two sons reached man's estate they moved to Chelsea where they made their home for about 16 years, returning to their home in Freedom in 1904. During his residence in Chelsea Mr. Grau served as a member of the common council.

He was one of a family of seven children and is survived by two sons, John and Chris., both residents of Freedom, and one sister, Mrs. B. Oker, of Chelsea.

The funeral was held at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning from the late home and at 11 o'clock from St. John's church, Rogers Corners, Rev. G. Eisen officiating.

Postponed Final Action.

The Jackson county board of supervisors, called to canvass the vote on the local option proposition, adjourned till next Monday without taking final action. The canvass shows that the total number of names registered on the poll books was 13,563, of which number only 13,319 voted on the proposition. There were 6,634 votes in favor of continuing the local option law, and 6,673 in favor of discontinuing, or a majority of 39 against prohibition.

The committee of five to which was delegated the work of canvassing the returns gave both majority and minority reports. The figures are alike in both reports, but the majority report carries with it a recommendation to the board that no resolution be adopted to repeal the local option law for the reason that the number of votes against prohibition is not a majority of the whole number of electors registered on the poll books. The minority report, which contained the figures, was voted down 16 to 11. Adjournment was taken without voting on the majority report because some of the supervisors who voted against the minority report wished to become better informed on the law.

Took the Doctor's Horse.

Dr. G. W. Palmer had rather a peculiar experience with his horse Monday. He had a call in the country, and about four o'clock in the morning drove his horse to his office, where he left it and entered the building for some supplies. When he returned to the street the rig had completely disappeared. The telephone was pressed into service but the missing horse and buggy could not be located. About 10 o'clock the horse turned into the yard of Louis Hindelang, coming from the east without a driver. Apparently some one wanted a ride and took advantage of the doctor's absence in his office and drove away the animal, and when their "joy" ride was ended abandoned the rig. Mr. Hindelang returned the horse and buggy to Dr. Palmer in the afternoon.

Lost His Thumb.

Henry Love, of Detroit, a brakeman on the Michigan Central local freight train known as J-D-2, east bound, lost the thumb of his left hand here Tuesday morning. The train crew were working in the Chelsea yards and in attempting to make a coupling Mr. Love got his left hand caught between the bumpers. He was taken to the office of Dr. Gulde, who assisted by Dr. G. Palmer, amputated the entire thumb. While the young man suffered a painful accident, he was fortunate in not having his whole hand mangled. He returned to his home in Detroit after the operation.

Officers Follow Trail of Suspected Robbers Seven Weeks.

After trailing their men for seven weeks through Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, United States officers and private detectives Wednesday afternoon rounded up nine men in Toledo suspected of being implicated in bank and postoffice robberies in this vicinity. They are St. Louis Slim, Earl Redman, Felix Bröck, Ham Dempsey, alias Hamilton, Slim Carruthers, a man named Haggerty, and three others who are unknown.

The prisoners are suspected of being implicated in the robbery of the Farmers & Merchants' bank at Biga, Mich., last fall and later of the robbery of the postoffices at Chelsea, and Gahenna, Franklin county, Ohio. The prisoners were arraigned before a United States commissioner that afternoon and were bound over to be taken to Columbus for trial on the Gahenna postoffice case.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Last Saturday was the 74th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. George J. Crowell. Her daughters, Mrs. D. H. Wurster and Miss Nina Crowell, invited guests to the number of seventeen, who met at the Crowell home on McKinley street, Saturday afternoon to assist in celebrating the event. A dainty lunch was served and it was a very pleasant occasion. The many friends of Mrs. Crowell extend their congratulations.

The out of town guests were Mrs. William Judson, of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Ed. Crafts, of Grass Lake.

Princess Theatre.

Commencing next Monday evening the Princess will offer a new feature that will surely appeal to the regular patrons of that popular little play house, and will likely attract others. The management have engaged Miss Azelle May Fowler of New York City, to sing at each performance. Miss Fowler has been on the vaudeville stage for several years but is spending this spring in Grass Lake, and was secured for the local theatre while laying off from her vaudeville dates. Miss Fowler has a very strong contralto voice, is pretty and graceful and will no doubt make an immediate "hit" with patrons of The Princess. She will sing a spotlight song and the illustrated song at each and every performance starting next Monday evening. There will be no raise in price.

Miss Billie Burke's New Play.

"Suzanne," the new play in which Charles Frohman will present Miss Billie Burke at the Whitney Theatre, Ann Arbor, on Monday evening, April 17, comes from Brussels, Belgium. Under the title of "Le Mariage de Mlle. Beulemans," it was produced there in March last and scored an enormous success. In June it was done in Paris and made another big hit. Miss Burke produced it at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, at Christmas and has played it there to large audiences ever since.

Written by two Belgians, Frantz Fonsoon and Fernand Wicheler, with its scenes laid in Brussels and its characters all Belgians with two exceptions, it is a genuine Belgian comedy and, curiously enough, it is said to be the very first of its kind, Belgium, for some reason, possibly because of its proximity to Paris has never developed a drama of its own. The Belgians are lovers of the theatre, too, and not only Brussels, but even the smaller cities maintain five playhouses where the latest successes from the France capital are presented.

Consequently, when in "Le Mariage de Mlle. Beulemans" the citizens of Brussels saw themselves, their own ways of living reproduced on the stage, and very exactly reproduced, it was decidedly novel and they liked it immensely. Paris was just as well pleased with it and "kicked" to see it all last summer.

In the American production, Mr. Frohman has endeavored to reproduce the atmosphere of the original play as nearly as possible. C. Haddon Chambers, in making the adaptation, has used almost a literal translation of the original dialog and the stage settings and costumes are an exact replica of those used in Brussels.

Miss Burke will also appear in a one act play, "The Philosopher in the Apple Orchard," founded on one of Anthony Hope's charming stories.

Overrules Surety Demurrers.

In an opinion handed down by Judge Wiest in the suit of the Title Guaranty & Surety Co. against the state of Michigan, William Wedemeyer, receiver of the Chelsea Savings bank, and the several other surety companies who were on the bonds of Frank P. Glazier, ex-state treasurer, to which the surety companies entered demurrers, the court overruled the demurrers.

The Title Guaranty & Surety Co. then filed the bill to restrain the prosecution of the suit at law and made the bondsmen of Glazier during his term of office defendants, together with the receiver of the Chelsea bank.

The purpose of the bill is to have an accounting taken between the state and Glazier, to fix the time of his appropriation of the public funds, to ascertain when and how much has been received by the state from the Chelsea bank on account of Glazier having deposited state money therein, and to make the proper application of the funds thus recovered and determine how much, if any, of the default and appropriation took place while the defendant surety companies were on the bonds of the defaulting treasurer.

Easter Services.

The great Feast of Easter, or the Resurrection of Christ, will be celebrated next Sunday, April 16th, in the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart with beautiful and solemn services. The altars and sanctuary will be beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, choice cut flowers, palms and lights. Special music has been prepared by both choirs. Rev. Father Considine will be assisted by a Reverend Professor from Assumption college, Sandwich.

The following will be the order of the services: Holy communion 7 a. m.; low mass 8 a. m.; high mass, with sermon 10:30 a. m.; vespers and benediction 7:30 p. m.

The congregation will make their customary Easter offering to their pastor. A cordial welcome to all is the rule at this church.

New Transformers.

The Commonwealth Power Co. have men unloading at the Michigan Central freight house three large transformers which will be installed in the Chelsea sub-station of the company. The transformers that are in use at the plant will be removed to the cement works at Four Mile Lake, where the Commonwealth company will maintain a sub-station and furnish power for the cement works. Robert Leach has taken the contract to move the transformers.

"The Newlyweds."

"He's a great kid." This is the enthusiastic assertion of all audiences where the latest offering in the line of musical entertainment, "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," has been given, and the precocious youngster has "Da-da'd" into the most popular favor. It was George McManus who discovered the Newlyweds and little Napoleon, and placed them before the public in the shape of cartoons. For the entertainment of the theatre-going public who clamored for the same, the pictures have been put into words and written by Aaron Hoffman and Paul West, and Seymour Brown, Nat D. Ayer and John W. Bratton, set them to music. Frank Smithson staged the production and Julian Alfred arranged the dances. Two gorgeous acts, four scenes, and sixteen musical numbers are required to adjust the complications that arise from the kidnapping of Napoleon Newlywed and the substitution of Major Knott Much, both parts of which or the dual role rather, are played by Earl Knapp, a clever lilliputian. In either role the little chap is sure cure for the blues, his portrayal of the baby being the excuse for one of the most prolonged bursts of merriment that will have marked the current season at the Whitney.

Assisting are William Clifton and Emay Alton in the respective roles of Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed. Both are made up to approach as closely as possible the picture presentations of the couple who have provided amusement for newspaper readers for a long time; and all of the others who have appeared in the cartoons.

The chorus of sixty is handsomely and attractively gowned, can and does sing and includes a number of the best dancers that have bid for public approval. Particularly is this true of an octette of dolls called the "Eight Pouter Pigeons," the big song hits are "Boogie Woogie," "Can't You See I Love You," "Every Baby is a Sweet Bouquet" and "Love Time." The scenic environment in both acts is magnificent. The play will be seen at the New Whitney Theatre, Ann Arbor, Friday, April 14.

BOY TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD

He Thought This Book Was the Best Kind of an Instructor and Entertainer.

A man who tells in a down-town building had just hired a new office boy. The young man, in accordance with the traditions about new brooms, seemed eager to make himself useful and tried to fill in his spare time by straightening up things around the office. This was something new around that office, but the boss bore it awhile in silence, not wishing to discourage ambition. After lunch one day he came in to find that his desk had been nicely cleaned, his papers neatly stacked, and everything set in order. He restrained his exasperation and called the boy over.

"Now see here," he said, "you needn't try to keep busy all the time. Just stay within reach, that will be enough for the present. How am I going to know where anything is if you insist on cleaning up my desk? Now don't you touch it in the future. If you can't find anything else to do, get something and read."

"I've read everything there is around here," said the scared boy. "Then go out and get something—get a book that will be instructive and at the same time entertaining," said the boss shortly.

"The boy took him at his word and returned with a piece of literature with which he sat down in a corner. He did not stir again for hours, and troubled himself no more about office disorders. His boss finally became curious to know what it was that made the youth so suddenly obedient to the flight of time and the pricks of ambition. He glanced over the boy's shoulder and read the title of the book. It was "The Life and Battles of James J. Jeffries."

Stone Carvings of the World.

A casual picture of the Hall of Mummies at Mitla reminds us that there is a Hall of Columns at Karnak. They are the new world follows the fashions of the old. Yet we have our own Egypt—our own pyramids and sculptured temples. On American soil people set up pillars carved with the symbolic shorthand of some forgotten knowledge that seems to have held the key to mysterious mathematic, geometric, astronomic, cosmologic, were the Egyptians ever in America, or the Americans in Egypt?

But not Mexico and Egypt alone have their sculptured monuments. Peru also has its Cyclopean masonry. Master Island, Afghanistan, its Bamian statues; Cambodia its Nagkon Wat, Java its Temple of Borobudur, England its Stonehenge, Brittany its wealth of dolmens and mohairs. All over the world, seemingly, were these mighty builders and engravers, with their mystic science, which they were anxious to preserve through some impending catastrophe—Century Path.

Dog Saved Baby.

A fierce battle took place recently near the Henry river, Australia, between a collie dog and a large eagle. Three sons of Mr. W. Parker of Newton Boyd, went to bathe in the river and left a three-year-old brother playing with the dog on the bank. Suddenly a great eagle hawk, measuring six to eight feet from tip to tip of the wings, swooped down on the child with talons ready hooked. It hit the boy on the head, and returned with the evident intention of taking him off, when the dog leaped into the air and caught the bird by the claws. The boy's screams brought the brothers hastily on the scene, but sticks and stones had no effect on the monster, and the eldest boy rushed for a gun, but when he got back the eagle was soaring away over the river. But for the faithfulness of the wise dog, the child would undoubtedly have been carried off.

Women Are Gamblers.

The Rev. C. B. Mitchell of Chicago has come out flatfooted with the declaration that women are gamblers. He asserted that card playing by members of women's clubs for prizes is the purchase of which each member has contributed should be prohibited. "There never was a time when card playing in women's clubs was so prevalent. In many of the clubs it is a practice for each player to contribute her share toward the purchase of a prize. When this is done the woman becomes a gambler and each one becomes a gambler as much as if she were playing for money.

Immune.

"That Tennessee girl I met at your home isn't at all sentimental, and yet she looks it. I called her attention to the full moon and asked her if the Tennessee quality of moonshine could equal ours, and she didn't seem to understand what I was talking about." "See, you certainly made an awful mistake."

Why?

"Because her old father makes a quality of moonshine that is considered so good that the revenue officers never interfere with him."

MINORITY REPORT ARRAIGNS RUSSELL

REMOVAL OF WARDEN RUSSELL IS ONE OF THE THINGS RECOMMENDED.

DEMANDS SUMMARY REMOVAL OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL OF MARQUETTE PRISON.

Says "Will and James Russell Are Biggest Falsifiers That Ever Made a Defense."

Demanding the summary removal of the members of the board of control of Marquette prison, the resignation of Warden James Russell within 30 days and the abolishment of corporal punishment, Reps. John Kalmbach and Harry E. Straight, the minority members of the legislative prison investigating committee, submitted their report to the House. The report goes at some length into the matter of corporal punishment, citing instances where insane and epileptic convicts were flogged for trivial offenses, and declare hopeless the feat of picturing to the legislators in a written report the real cruelties practiced at Marquette prison.

The report shows Warden Russell no mercy, accusing him and his brother, Will Russell, resigned foreman of the overall shop, of being falsifiers on the witness stand. He is characterized as a brute who should be serving a sentence in his own prison for the violations and clever circumventions of the law he has committed.

The report also attacks the methods of bookkeeping in vogue at the prison and vigorously denounces the contract labor system.

May Hold Sunday Session.

In its mad desire to get through with the tremendous mass of legislation under way in both houses, it is probable that the legislature will hold a Sunday session next week.

On Saturday the house worked the entire day, although a call of the house was necessary to keep the members in their seats during the afternoon. Nothing of importance was done except to give a number of the boys something to brag about at home. But they are all determined now to nearly clean up the slate before adjournment.

Gov. Osborn is expected to take a hand in the affair this week by sending a special message which will take the members over the coals and place on the shoulders of the solons the responsibility for lack of accomplishment. The message was prepared last week, but has been held in abeyance. The house is likely to discount this, however, by requesting the governor, at once to make any communication which he may have in reserve.

New Cell-Block Trade Accepted.

J. L. Hudson and the Detroit business men who are interested in gaining a new cell block for Jackson prison have accepted the tentative offer of the governor to sign the appropriation bill for that purpose, providing a fair employees' compensation bill is passed and the civil service measure goes through. Mr. Hudson has already begun the work of urging through the measures specified by the governor. Rev. Myron E. Adams, the reform preacher of Detroit, is at Lansing in the interests of the cell block and administration bills mentioned, and Mr. Hudson has sent word that no trouble nor expense should be spared to carry out the wishes of the governor, to the end that he will sign the cell block appropriation bill.

Appropriations of $6,124,901.80 Pass.

The House passed appropriation bills on third reading amounting to $6,124,901.80. Most of them went through without a dissenting vote, but when the Yaple bill providing for the erection and maintenance of armories came up, there 12 voted against the measure: Baldwin, Bricker, Field, Flick, Baker, Carter, Kasper, Hale, Holcomb, Holland, Kappeler and Wolcott. Mr. Bricker is the representative from Ionia and that city was recently granted an appropriation for the erection of an armory and afterwards the legislature appropriated $2,500 as a special appropriation.

Make More Money Under 2-Cent Rate.

Some interesting data gathered from the offices of the state railroad commission give an idea of the magnitude of the business done by railroads of the lower peninsula under the last year of the three-cent passenger rate, and the year 1908, when the two-cent rate was in effect. While the figures show a majority of the railroads made more money under the two-cent rate, despite the fact that more passengers were carried, it is shown some roads had less passenger earnings under the two-cent rate than under the three-cent rate.

Written charges of gross irregularities in the management of the Michigan Soldiers' home at Grand Rapids have been forwarded to Gov. Osborn by Edward Rosier, an aged inmate. After an examination of the eyesight of the men on the Ann Arbor railroad the physician has ordered all firemen to wear amber-colored glasses to protect their eyes from the glare of the open firebox.

Attorney Barkworth has returned from Washington, D. C., where he made an argument for the state of Michigan before the United States supreme court in the Dalley prison bribery case in which the binder tissue machinery deal is concerned. A decision of the court is expected in May as to whether Dalley can be extradited on the indictment returned against him by the Jackson county grand jury.

The G. R. & I. is cutting down its force of engineers, and many firemen, who were promoted to the position of engineer, will have to go back to their old jobs.

Leaders in the prohibition movement say that if it is found that Calhoun has been put back in the license column by only 17 votes, a recount will be asked. Fraud will be charged.

Bloodhounds are being used to trail an unidentified man who poisoned two horses and cut several harnesses to pieces at Petoskey, besides, it is suspected, sending threatening letters to the mayor.

The convention of the Swedish Mission churches in lower Michigan will be held in Cadillac May 26. The convention will be in charge of E. G. Herpo, who is head of the Swedish Mission Covenant.

George H. Lincoln, 72, war veteran and resident of Big Rapids, 45 years, is dead. He left his wife on their wedding day to go to the front, and did not see her again until after the close of the war.

It will probably be 20 saloons for Battle Creek instead of 51, and a license of $750. A star chamber session of the common council in Mayor-elect Thomas Zelinsky's office expressed this sentiment.

Fred Shaw, a farmer living near Lansing, was sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction for threatening the life of a constable with a revolver when the officer came to serve some papers on him.

Saginaw has started suit against the Michigan Central railroad to collect special taxes growing out of the company's refusal to pay for cement work done by the city at the railroad street crossings, which amount to $4,000.

The city of Saginaw has notified the Saginaw Valley Traction Co. to repair the Bristol street bridge over Saginaw river or cease operating its cars inside the city limits. The bridge has been closed to traffic three months.

Supervisor Edward Parrot, of Chesaning, Saginaw county, re-elected at the last election, says that he is going to ask for a grand jury investigation of the recent poor farm probe and the alleged election frauds of a year ago, this April.

Mystery enshrouds the sudden disappearance of Miss Helen Barrett, a Kalamazoo school teacher, who for the past year has been teaching in Richland township. The young woman left the district about a week ago and no trace of her has been obtained.

Mrs. Louis Groenbaugh of Petoskey left on a tour of the Holy Land. She will leave New York April 14, with a party of ten other Petoskey people. Members from Boyne City and Grand Rapids will join them at Liverpool. In the party are Rev. L. H. Manning, of the Methodist church, and Rev. G. E. Pickett, of the Christian church. The party will be gone three months.

Mrs. Amelia Mix, 84 years old and a widow of General Mix, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Weeks, on going to her own home in Allegan, for the first time in over a week, found that a number of persons had entered the house through the glass in the front door and made off with several hundred dollars worth of silverware and other valuable goods. The thieves tramped foot into the carpets and rugs and took several glasses of jelly and smeared them over oil paintings.

Charges that Grand Rapids union men are being persecuted by the furniture employers are made by International Organizer McFarlane, of the carpenters' union, which action, he declared, may result in a rupture of the peace negotiations.

The city of Saginaw has started suit against the Michigan Central railroad for $4,000 damages. The city claims that amount is due for pavement and other street and bridge work where the railroad tracks cross city streets and that although otherwise he had paid for work around their tracks, the Michigan Central refused to do so.

Passengers Taken From Stranded Ship.

In just five hours and 10 minutes the 1,720 cabin and steerage passengers on the stranded North German Lloyd liner, Prinzess Irene, off the coast of Long Island, were transferred to the deck of her sister ship, the Prinz Frederik Wilhelm, and one hour after midnight were safely on their way to New York. The feat is unparalleled in the history of marine disasters and will, perhaps, remain so for many years.

Not a life was lost, not a case of panic was recorded. The first passenger off was a woman and the second a baby. The cabin passengers, masters of the situation and the language, generously gave precedence to the more timorous steerage.

U. S.-Jap. Treaty is Ratified.

Ratifications of the American-Japanese commercial treaty were exchanged following a luncheon given at the palace by Emperor Mutsuhito, in honor of American Ambassador O'Brien, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

During the audience his majesty congratulated the diplomat on the share he had in the negotiations, which made closer the relations between the two countries, and entrusted him with a verbal message for President Taft, in which the American executive is complimented on the conclusion of a treaty on which Japan places the highest possible value.

Tom L. Johnson is Dead.

Tom L. Johnson, twice congressman from the twenty-first Ohio district, four times mayor of Cleveland, champion of three-cent street railway fares and prominent advocate of the single tax theory of the late Henry George, died at his home in Cleveland at 8:45 o'clock Monday night, after a long illness. Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver. He was 57 years old.

50 MINERS DIE IN FIRE.

Men Trapped in Burning Pancoast Mine Near Scranton, Pa.

One of the most serious mine disasters which has ever visited Scranton, Pa., section of the mining country occurred at the little village of Throop, a short distance from Scranton, when the lives of between 50 and 60 men and boys were snuffed out.

Among those known to have perished are Joseph Evans, who was in charge of the United States mine rescue car; Isaac Dave, a fire boss, and Walter Knight, a foreman.

Evans' death was the result of a defective oxygen-charged armor. Charles Enzian, the noted expert in general charge of mine rescue work for the federal government, was also overcome and is said to be in a critical condition.

Passes the Cell Appropriations.

Senator Watkins' bill carrying an appropriation of $366,000 for Jackson prison, and of which amount $225,000 is for remodeling the east wing of the old cell block, passed the Senate on third reading. But two voted against the bill, Senators Fowle and Vaughan.

The same bill provides for an appropriation of $2,500 for purchasing 600 acres of land, and $6,000 for making improvements on the land.

Because he joined the church after committing embezzlement and has been living a Christian life, Clifford L. Milar, a former fire chief and water commissioner of Kalamazoo will not have to serve a prison sentence. He was placed on probation.

The federal grand jury has returned an indictment against Capt. Chas. Johnson, who was master of the filibustering steamer Hornet, on its recent trip from New Orleans to Honduras, charging him with violating the neutrality laws.

A STRIKING CAREER

REMARKABLE RECORD OF THE LATE TOM L. JOHNSON IN POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

WAS FOUR TIMES MAYOR OF CLEVELAND

Successful as an Organizer of Traction Companies in Brooklyn and Buffalo, N. Y., and Detroit—Gave Cleveland Three-Cent Fare.

The life-story of the Hon. Tom Loftin Johnson, whose remarkably successful career in politics and business came to a close at Cleveland, O., after a brave fight against the disease which finally conquered, is of intense interest and in many of its phases is of that spectacular character which marks the career of but few men. Four times elected mayor of Cleveland, and best known throughout the country as the champion of the people's interests and winner of the fight for three-cent street car fare, Mr. Johnson held the affections of the people of his adopted city to the last.

In addition to the public services which he rendered Cleveland, and for which he will be best remembered, Mr. Johnson served two terms in congress, defeating Theodore E. Burton in 1890, and Col. O. J. Hodge in 1892. While mayor of Cleveland he accepted the Democratic nomination for governor of Ohio, but was defeated by Myron T. Herrick.

Tom Loftin Johnson was born July 18, 1854, at Georgetown, Ky., and when still a boy began his struggle with the world in which he was to prove himself master of men and things. He began in the rolling mill and the street railway offices at Louisville, Ky., and the foundations there laid in his grasp of traction matters ultimately led to his being a commanding figure in traction affairs in many cities. When still a young man he went to Indianapolis and engaged in traction activities, and in 1872, at the age of 18, invented the Johnson street railway rail, which he afterward manufactured.

It was in 1881 that he first came to Cleveland. At that time he purchased the old Brooklyn horse car line, and subsequently built the Scoville avenue line. Still later he acquired the South Side lines, and eventually organized the Cleveland Electric railway.

Mr. Johnson's advent into the political arena was in the year 1888, when he ran for congress against Theodore E. Burton in the Twenty-first district, the campaign ending in his defeat. Two years later he was again a candidate for congress against Burton and succeeded in wresting from him the victory. He was re-elected in 1892, but was defeated in 1894, when he again ran against Burton.

Immediately after this defeat he disposed of his interests in Cleveland and left that city and began that remarkable career in traction organization which took him successively to Brooklyn, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., and Detroit, Mich., in which enterprises he amassed a considerable fortune.

His first advocacy of three-cent fare marked his advent in the traction interests of Detroit, and the first steps taken there in that direction later developed into his greatest political asset. The story of his fight for the establishment of a three-cent fare in Cleveland is too long for review in a short biography, but it was marked by many spectacular and striking incidents, among them being the establishment of a bank of his own, the Depositors Savings & Banking Co., and the inauguration of his newspaper stock subscription device for financing his lines. But the financial difficulties of the enterprise multiplied and the first real reverse came when the Cleveland city council ordered a referendum election to be held October 22, 1908, and in spite of Mr. Johnson's splendid political machine, and his vigorous and spectacular campaign, his policies were defeated by a small majority. His street railway enterprise toppled and fell and a receivership was appointed for his lines.

Mr. Johnson's defeat November 2, 1909, by a plurality of 3,735 votes by the present mayor, Herman C. Baehr, really marks the finish of his public career in Cleveland, though he continued to hold office until January 1, 1910. After his defeat he was never the same man. On the occasion of his retirement Mr. Johnson's physical debilities were particularly marked. As he had done once before under like circumstances, he left Cleveland and his last sickness spent little time in the city.

Rheumatism Comes From Bad Kidney

How to Cure Yourself. It is no longer necessary to spend many dollars in doctor's bills. A new treatment can now be obtained which seems to act more like a medicine than a medicine.

Rheumatism means nothing more than that your kidneys do not work properly. When the kidneys are weak the poisons are not taken out of the blood as they should be. This leads to various diseases, such as rheumatism, terminal Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, bladder trouble.

TRAIN LOAD AFTER TRAIN LOAD OF SETTLERS ARE GOING TO CENTRAL CANADA

The question of reciprocal trade relations between the United States and Canada has provoked considerable discussion and interest. Whatever else the discussion may have done, it has brought out the fact that on the Canadian side of the line the agricultural situation is one that forces attention, and it has also brought forth the fact which it is well to face, that on the American side of the border, there is a vastly increasing population to be fed with a somewhat decreasing proportion of food products.

This article is intended to point out to those who may wish to become of those who can raise wheat, oats, barley, flax, cattle and hogs at the least cost that the opportunities in Central Canada are what they are seeking. During the past year the official figures show that upwards of 130,000 Americans located in Canada, and the greatest majority of these have settled on farms, and when the time comes, which it will within a few years, they will be ready to help

EARLY ALL WERE MASSACRED

HAVE LITTLE BAND OF 30 MEN THAT FOUGHT 400 MEXICANS IS CUT TO PIECES.

ONLY 20 INSURGENTS ESCAPED AND RETURNED FROM THE BATTLEFIELD.

Marching With 3,000 Men Is Prepared to Meet Large Force of Federals.

Gen. Stanley Williams hurled his battalion of rebels against Col. Miguel Mayot's 500 Mexican regulars in the Mesa five miles south of Mexall. Eighty insurgents went into the fight, 20 returned from the battle-

Williams himself was fatally wounded, his head being torn by a fragment from an exploding shell. He died in the improvised hospital established by the United States troops at Calexico. With half a dozen privates of his federal shell that was overtaken by a federal shell that exploded in their midst, sending up a plume of flame, smoke and fragments of human bodies. His wagon trains were captured with nearly all of the horses and livestock which he took in his raid yesterday of several ranches. Survivors straggling into Mexall declare that the federals took no prisoners. All those not killed by the fire of the federal rifles, machine guns and artillery were, it is alleged, slaughtered mercilessly by bayonets in the hands of federal soldiers.

Madero, with his 3,000 insurgents, took camp near Chihuahua, and started towards Casas Grandes, a town which is evidently a move in accordance with newly-laid plans to abandon whatever method of attack he had projected from his camp. However, the likelihood of a battle within the next few days is as strong as ever and it is believed the federals will be the aggressors.

This belief is strengthened by the arrival in Chihuahua of Gen. Lauro Villar, who succeeded the federal Gen. Hernandez, with a detachment of men and several machine guns. It is said the rendezvous of Madero will be Madera, the terminus of the railroad and within easy marching distance of Casas Grandes, the only federal stronghold in northern Mexico.

Michigan Second in Beet Sugar. Michigan is rapidly becoming the leading beet sugar producing state in the union. Last season, 1910-11, she produced 118,315 long tons, or 2,098,456,000 pounds, an increase of over 22,000 tons over the season of 1908-9. California alone exceeds Michigan, with 129,950 tons. Colorado was a poor third, whereas last year she was in second place.

These figures, enormous as they seem, mean scarcely a ripple in the sugar world. The total output of the United States was 455,220 long tons, and this amount, reaching well towards one billion pounds, does not supply one thirty-fifth of the amount consumed in the United States. Michigan does not come within supplying one-fifth of her own demands.

But the growth of the industry is checked only by the ability of the so-called "sugar trust" to regulate prices. There is now a belief that the "trust," being itself now interested in beet sugar, will eventually expand that industry. Michigan alone could quadruple its product and still supply only itself. Counting out the areas favorable for beet culture in the United States, Michigan could increase, so sugar men say, by 50 times the sugar producing capacity of its factories and not come in competition with sugar manufactured in other beet culture areas. This, all of course, providing no cane sugar were imported.

State Will Be Broke by Oct. 1st. Although there is over one and one-half million dollars in the general fund of the state treasury today, Auditor-General Fuller says that the coffers will be empty by Oct. 1, and that it will require at least $500,000 to run the state government until the taxes can be collected next January.

By increasing the levy this year such a condition will be avoided in 1912, but as this year's tax will not be forthcoming until next January there is no way whereby a stringency may be avoided next fall. If the legislature of 1909 had heeded the advice of Auditor-General Fuller conditions would have been remedied, but no action was taken at that time which would improve conditions, and as a result the state will be financially embarrassed again next fall.

Under the new constitution the state board of auditors is empowered to borrow during an emergency, in amounts not to exceed $50,000 at any one time. In 1909 it was necessary for the board to borrow $250,000 in order to pay running expenses and provide salaries for the state employees.

Auditor-General Fuller says that the deficit will be wiped out before the fall of 1912. The capitol employees are hoping that the board of auditors will borrow sufficient money next fall so that it will not be necessary to borrow their salaries.

Pass Measure to Kill Pardon Board. The House in committee of the whole has passed the Glasser bill to abolish the pardon board and turn its duties over to the governor. There was no discussion of the bill, and the vote for it was unanimous. Gov. Osborn favors the bill.

A "regular" on the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor line, "ran away" on a hill and "special" loaded with students. The conductor of the special saw the regular coming and tried to get out of the way, but the special was too fast. No one was injured.

Great Fruit Crop Likely. Reports received by fruit dealers and others in Detroit indicate that unless a killing frost comes unusually late this year there will be a record fruit crop in Michigan. The late spring is practically an assurance of this. In fact, many growers are already predicting to this effect, and they have begun to purchase stock in preparation for packing the fruit.

Trees in the fruit belt have not begun to bud, and as it will take a week or so of quite warm weather to advance them to this stage, the danger line will have been passed. The killing frosts usually come early in April this season, the trees are not far enough advanced to cause fear for this possibility.

The winter was an excellent one. It was just cold enough throughout to retard the growth of all fruits and grains, and it was just moist enough to provide a big amount of sap. Usually in March there is a warm period that brings out the trees ahead of time. This year this did not come, and it is the first spring in years that complaints by the score have not been made because of this.

Orchardists say there were few peach trees winter killed, while other trees did not suffer at all. In different parts of the state, and especially in the northwestern and northeastern sections of the lower peninsula, many young trees were set out last fall, but they went into the winter in fine shape and they retained their strength throughout.

According to different authorities, similar conditions exist throughout the tier of northern states. In New York the trees have been held back by the weather, and fruit growers there have already made predictions for a banner crop.

Farmers say the wheat crop will be heavier than ever before. The crop suffered less through last winter than in any similar period in recent years. A larger acreage than in 1909 was planted last fall, and the ideal conditions coupled with this means a larger crop than in 1910. Last year's yield was one of the heaviest in the history of the state, being over 12,000,000 bushels.

FOR PUBLIC CONTROL

MAIL FOR REGULATION AS WELL AS PUBLICITY.

SAYS BOTH HERE TO STAY

Frank Recognition of Public Rights by the President of Western Union and Telephone Companies.

Public regulation of public service corporations has come to stay. It ought to have come and it ought to stay. That is the flat and unequivocal assertion of Theodore N. Vall, president of both the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Western Union Telegraph company. It came in the form of his annual report to the seventy thousand stockholders of the two great corporations.

Although Mr. Vall's advocacy of full publicity in connection with the affairs of such concerns was well understood, nobody in financial circles had anticipated so frank an avowal of full public rights in the shaping of their general conduct. It came consequently as a surprise, not only because of its novelty and squareness, but also on account of the unqualified acquiescence of a board of directors comprising such eminent and conservative financiers as Robert Winslow Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Henry L. Higginson of Boston, Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Senator W. Murray Crane, George F. Baer, T. Jefferson Coolidge Jr., Norman W. Harris, John I. Waterbury and others.

President Vall's declaration is heralded as the first recognition by them in high corporate authority of the justice of the demand that the public be regarded as virtual partners in all matters that pertain to the common welfare. He goes directly to the point.

"Public control or regulation of public service corporations by permanent commissions," he says, "has come and come to stay. Control, or regulation, to be effective means publicity; it means semi-public discussion and consideration before action; it means everything which is the opposite of and inconsistent with effective competition. Competition—aggressive, effective competition—means strife, industrial warfare; it means contention; it oftentimes means taking advantage of or resorting to any means that the conscience of the contestants or the degree of the enforcement of the laws will permit.

"Aggressive competition means duplication of plant and investment. The ultimate object of such competition is the possession of the field wholly or partially; therefore it means either ultimate combination on such basis and with such prices as will cover past losses, or it means loss of return on investment, and eventual loss of capital. However it results, all costs of aggressive, uncontrolled competition are eventually borne, directly or indirectly, by the public. Competition which is not aggressive, presupposes cooperative action, understandings, agreements, which result in general uniformity or harmony of action, which, in fact, is not competition but its combination, unstable, but for the time effective. When thoroughly understood it will be found that "control" will give more of the benefits and public advantages, which are expected to be obtained through such ownership, and will obtain them without the public burden of either the public officer-holder or public debt or operating deficit.

"When through a wise and judicious state control and regulation all the advantages without any of the disadvantages of state ownership are secured, state ownership is doomed."

"If Mr. Vall is right," says Harper's Weekly, in a concise summing-up, "then it seems pretty plain that we are entered upon a new era in both economics and politics. And it is high time we did if evolution is to supplant revolution as an efficient force in the development of civilization."

Unreliable Physiognomy.

I am a profound disbeliever in physiognomy. Features are false witnesses. Stupidity frequently wears a mask of intelligence. I know business men who look like poets and poets who look like business men. Men of genius invariably look like idiots, and if you pick out the party who looks most eminent in a party you are sure to find he is a nobody. I always distrust men who look magnificent. Nature is a stingy creature. She seldom gives a man the double gift of being great and looking great. She took care to lame Byron and deform Pope and disfigure Johnson. But the crowning example of her jealous parsimony is Shakespeare. I have always been disappointed with Shakespeare's face. It does not live up to his poetry. It is dull, heavy and commonplace.—Adventures in London.

Mrs. Bride looked at it with unaffected amazement.

"Does it grow like that?" she asked.

"I always supposed the cook braided the ends of it."—Youth's Companion.

NEWS OF MICHIGAN

Grand Rapids.—John L. Boer, for several terms city clerk of Grand Rapids and fifth district supervisor of the 1910 federal census, has quit Grand Rapids and his present whereabouts are unknown. In his case the game of politics proved costly. After he retired from office he engaged in several business enterprises, but did not prosper and became dependent under an accumulation of debts. Mr. Boer has not been seen about town for more than a week and it is stated that several days ago Mrs. Boer received a note from him, written in Chicago, stating he was discouraged and was going to the west to begin anew. He did not name his probable destination.

Ann Arbor.—Mr. and Mrs. Rogers of Buffalo, N. Y., uncle and aunt of Keith McDougall, who so mysteriously disappeared last week, are in the city in an effort to learn something of his whereabouts. McDougall is the senior engineer who started a restaurant last fall, and who, after becoming involved in debt, disappeared suddenly. The aunt is of the belief that the young man may have committed suicide because of his being discouraged over his failure in business, or that he may have become temporarily deranged and wandered away.

Port Huron.—With the death of her husband, which occurred at the Pontiac asylum, the second tragic incident within a few months has entered into the life of Mrs. Carl Treloff. In January the four-year-old son of Mrs. Treloff fell down stairs at the Globe hotel and died a few hours later from internal injuries.

Kalamazoo.—Urban Roscheck, aged fifteen years, is near death in Borgess hospital as the result of injuries received when he fell under an automobile truck. The boy was on his way to school. He ran out into the street to catch on the truck and as he climbed on it his foot slipped and he was caught in the chain.

Saginaw.—What may lead to a city-owned lighting plant and commission government, was the report of the board of trade committee on the Lansing lighting plant made public. Saginaw has had considerable trouble over rates and the figures given show what can be done if controlled by a commission.

Lansing.—L. Kobacker, an attorney brought here before Governor Osborn on requisition papers from Illinois, attempted suicide at the Hotel Downey by drinking chloroform, but will recover. Kobacker is charged in Chicago with larceny. He is well known in Houghton, having lived there a number of years.

Port Huron.—Chief of Police Marx has received word from the prison officials at Jeffersonville, Ind., to the effect that Harry Shipley, under arrest in this city for burglarizing a saloon, is wanted by them to serve the balance of his unexpired sentence. Indiana officers will come to this city after him.

Ludington.—In circuit court Judge Withey sentenced George White, aged fifty-nine years, to five years in the penitentiary, following his conviction upon a statutory charge preferred by a fourteen-year-old girl in whose company White was found after a rooming house raid last fall.

Kalamazoo.—Charles Brown died as the result of blood poisoning caused by a small scratch received on his hand when he stumbled on a walk a few days ago. Brown's hand hit a stone and the skin in one place was broken so that it bled.

North Adams.—David Lee, a farmer living four miles east of here, committed suicide by shooting himself with a shotgun. Mr. Lee was sixty years of age and had worried a great deal of late over family troubles.

Flint.—Barney Shackley, who was arrested for the attempted murder of Mrs. Clara Blue, pleaded guilty in circuit court and was sentenced to one and a half to three years in Ionia reformatory, the court recommending a term of 18 months.

Waltz.—A south-bound Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton passenger train was derailed here, the cause being spreading rails. Beyond a shaking up, none of the passengers were hurt.

Grand Rapids.—Charles V. Johnson, son of Alderman Johnson, charged with running down Mrs. C. V. Parks and causing probable fatal injuries with his auto, pleaded not guilty and was placed under bonds to appear April 14 for examination. He alleges a Detroit autoist is to blame.

Dowagiac.—A realistic dream of Nelson Caryl, a well-known Pokagon farmer, in which he barely escaped death by the falling of a tree, was re-enacted in real life, when Mr. Caryl was struck by a tree in his dream. He suffered critical injury.

Port Huron.—Harry Shipley was arrested by Captain Kerwin on the charge of entering and robbing the saloon of John Benlike. Shipley, who travels under the names of Harry Waldo and Harry Deland, was wanted in this city in 1908 for burglarizing a residence on Thirteenth street, but he managed to get away before the officers could locate him. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was traced to Albion, Ind., where he had committed another burglary. In Indiana City he was sentenced to from six to seven years and is now out on parole.

HOME NURSING By EDITH B. LOWRY Bachelor of Science, Graduate Nurse, Physician and Surgeon. Formerly Superintendent of Jefferson Park and South Chicago Hospitals and Training Schools for Nurses. Author of "Confidences—A Book for Young Girls."

BED MAKING.

One of the most essential items in the care of a patient is proper preparation and care of the bed. One of the first requirements of a good nurse is her ability in this line, and yet how seldom do we find anyone except a trained nurse who understands this matter so essential to the patient's comfort?

First, the mattress must be protected, both for the sake of cleanliness and for economy. Unless the patient has involuntary urinations or bowel movements, a soft pad will be sufficient. Over this the lower sheet should be drawn smoothly and pinned to the under side of the mattress at the corners. The upper sheet and blanket come next. These should be well tucked in at the foot of the bed, but not so tightly as to be uncomfortable for the patient. The upper edge of the blanket must be protected by turning the end of the sheet back over it. A patient often is uncomfortable with the usual heavy white counterpane over him, although he may fall to find the source of his discomfort. Counterpanes interfere with the circulation of the air and although they add to the looks of a bed, the patient's comfort must be the first consideration. A light weight, loosely woven spread may be used.

When the patient is very ill, or if the nature of the illness is such that the lower sheet becomes soiled, a draw sheet should be used. After the lower sheet has been fastened in place, a sheet of rubber cloth, about a yard square, is placed across the middle of the bed, allowing the upper edge to meet the pillow. This is pinned in place by one safety pin at each corner. Over this is placed a sheet that has been folded crosswise. The hems should come at the bottom so as not to form a ridge under the patient's back. The sheet should be securely tucked in at the sides.

The changing of the linen should be managed with as little fatigue and discomfort to the patient as possible. This can be done easily by one person, unless the patient is very ill or helpless. Only the upper sheet or blanket is left over the patient; the lower sheet is then loosened at top, bottom and sides; one side is then folded along its entire length, lengthwise as far as possible close up to the patient. The fresh sheet should then be folded lengthwise, alternately backward and forward, for half its width, and placed on the side of the bed from which the soiled one has been removed. The nurse then goes to the other side of the bed, turns the patient carefully on his side facing the nurse. She then tucks the folded sheets close up to him, smoothing the clean sheet carefully. She then turns the patient over onto his other side.

In special cases it is necessary to vary, slightly, the manner of making the bed. In some operative cases the bed must be arranged so one portion can be changed without disturbing the remainder. In confinement cases the bed should be made up with a draw sheet and then a second rubber sheet and draw sheet should be placed over the first one. By this arrangement the second one can be withdrawn after labor, leaving a clean bed well protected with the draw sheet. If there is no provision made for a rubber sheet, about twenty thicknesses of newspapers may be very well substituted. Many people think an old blanket or comforter can be used, but these should not be allowed if they can possibly be avoided, for invariably they are full of germs.

In cases of fractured limbs one person must gently lift the injured limb while another changes the sheet under it. In these cases a wide board (table leaf or ironing board) should be placed across the bed under the mattress to prevent it from sagging. Water beds and air beds are used in cases of prolonged illness to prevent bed-sores.

The old-fashioned feather bed has no place in a sick room. Where one is in use the nurse must use a great deal of ingenuity to be able to dispense with it, for in this age anyone who uses a feather bed is liable to be very "set" in her ways. (Copyright, 1910, by W. G. Chapman.)

Two Good Suggestions

Jonathan—Silas is dead. Went to their city to get a tooth pulled and their dentist told him he'd better take gas first. Postmaster—Gave him an overdose, eh? Jonathan—No. After the dentist told him that he went back to his boarding house and took the gas himself.

We always like those who admire us; we do not always like those whom we admire.—Francis Duc de Rochefoucauld.

Full life exists in three dimensions, art in two, and science in one; like a solid, a superficies, and a line.

Useful Coat.—For cravenette, serge or covert coating, this is a most practical pattern. The panel back, also fronts, are laid over sides in wrapped seams, stitched about a third of an inch from the edge.

The lining, which is of shot silk, extends only to the hips. Stitched tweed hat of the same color as the coat, trimmed with a wing, is in the best style. Materials required for coat: 5 yards 48 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards silk for lining.

Serge Costume.—Very dark navy serge is used here; the skirt has a wide front and a deep added piece at foot laid over the upper part in a wrapped seam; buttons in a closely set row trim each side of upper front.

The right front of the smart little jacket buttons quite over to the left with closely set buttons; the holes being continued to edge of right side and buttons on the left. The deep turn-over collar and cuffs are of white cloth. Hat of stretched black satin trimmed with oxidized gillion and gray ostrich feathers.

Materials required: 7 yards 48 inches wide, 4 yards skirt lining, 4 1/2 yards silk for lining jacket, 3/4 yard white cloth, about 7 dozen buttons.

FREE MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

A trial package of Munyon's Paw Paw Pills will be sent free to anyone on request. Address Professor Munyon, 534 S. Jefferson St., Philadelphia, Pa. If you are in need of medical advice, do not fail to write Professor Munyon. Your communication will be treated in strict confidence, and your case will be diagnosed as carefully as though you had a personal interview.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour, they do not gripe, they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are 26 feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produce rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver ailment can expect to have a clear complexion or enjoy good health. If I had my way I would prohibit the sale of nine-tenths of the cathartics that are now being sold, for the reason that they set up serious forms of indigestion, and so paralyze the bowels that they refuse to act unless forced by strong purgatives.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope; they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic.

Regular size bottle, containing 45 pills, 25 cents. Munyon's Laboratory, 534 S. Jefferson St., Philadelphia.

FOR CONSTIPATION
A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless it Cures.
 The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which are odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.
 Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.
 We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. T. Freeman Co.

Geo. H. Foster & Son report that they have orders ahead for five bath room equipments, also orders for a number of windmills. They have taken contracts for five wells for parties in Bridgewater and have engaged Jacob Alber, who has worked at the business for several years, to assist them the coming season, which gives promise of being the best that they have had during their long business experience in Chelsea.

Easter at Mount St. Sepulchre

By Waldon Fawcett

THE United States is the scene of a number of widely varying forms of church observance on Easter morning, ranging all the way from the novel rites in the Moravian churches of Pennsylvania to the fashionable services in the churches on Fifth avenue, New York, attended by the "400" of metropolitan society. There is little doubt, however, that the most impressive and the most picturesque of all Easter services is that which takes place on the joyous spring holiday at Mount St. Sepulchre. The fact that only a very limited number of people have ever witnessed the significant program here carried out and that, indeed, the great majority of the public is unaware even of the unique character of the services at this mecca for worshipers, serves, perhaps, to add interest to the place and the event.

THE CHURCH AND MONASTERY AT MOUNT ST. SEPULCHRE

Mount St. Sepulchre is located at Brookland in the District of Columbia and is the seat of the most important church and the most famous monastery in the New World by the Franciscan brothers. However, it should be emphasized just here that the casual Easter visitor to this retreat at Easter-tide need not be a Catholic nor yet even an adherent of any church to appreciate the solemnity and marvelous beauty of the services which take up the greater portion of this, the most momentous day on the church calendar.

The most important architectural feature of the church at Mount St. Sepulchre, and one from which the church and monastery takes its name, is the location in the sanctuary of an exact duplicate of the Holy Sepulchre which has been reproduced exactly as it exists in Jerusalem. This in itself would lend interest to the Easter services held in such a setting, but intensifying the meaning of the religious program for all the spectators is the circumstance that the services are an exact duplicate to the smallest detail of the services which are being held under similar auspices and at the corresponding hour at the last resting place of the Savior in Jerusalem. It is as though the congregation at Brookland were suddenly transported to the Holy Land for an hour or a day.

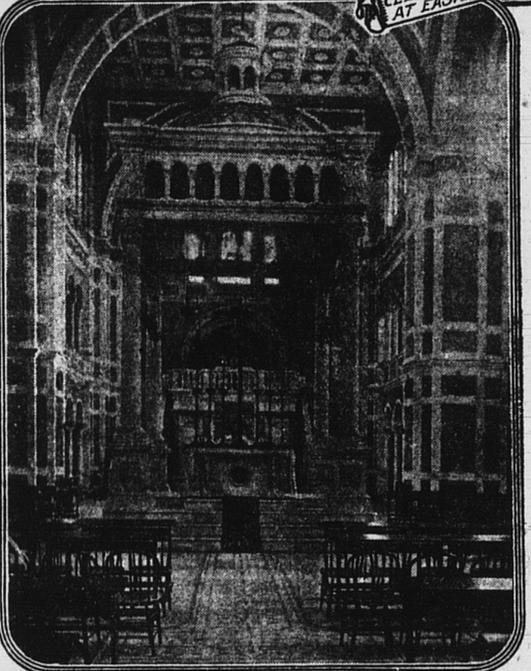

To appreciate the novelty of all that transpires at Easter at Mount St. Sepulchre it is necessary to know something of the history of this institution. The Franciscan brothers have a number of monasteries or houses of the order located in various parts of the United States, but the community in the District of Columbia is in a class by itself in that it is in effect the American "branch office" of the Franciscan friars who are laboring in Palestine. For, of course, the Franciscans are a brotherhood whose work is of world-wide scope and one of the most important branches of this work is found in their function of "keepers of the holy places." For more than seven hundred years the Franciscans have been in possession of almost all of those places in the Holy Land, which are most dear to all adherents of the Christian faith—such places as the spot where Jesus was born in Bethlehem and the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem—and this order of monks has made of it a labor of love to restore and preserve these sacredly historic localities.

A large share of all the funds with which this work is carried on comes from America and most of the Franciscans who are now serving actively as "keepers of the holy places" have been educated for their task in the United States—at this self-same institution at Mount St. Sepulchre. Officially this community is designated the Chapel and College of the Holy Land and the thirty monks who make up the community are known as the Fathers of the Holy Land. Not only is this a college for the education of the young members of the order who are to go as guides and missionaries to the Holy Land, but it is also the headquarters and business office of the Commissariat of the Holy Land. This latter is a legally organized corporation which is authorized by law to receive bequests and donations of all kinds made for the purpose of commemorative and restorative work at the holy places in Palestine. A country-wide organization of laymen known as the "Crusade for the Holy Land" is ever active in the cause and the funds raised by the "Crusaders" or by means of the collection taken once a year in all Catholic churches are sent to Mount St. Sepulchre for transmission to Palestine.

With such an inspiration it is, of course,

FATHER BEDE OLDFEERING CELEBRANT OF THE MASS AT EASTER

INTERIOR OF THE CHURCH AT MOUNT ST. SEPULCHRE SHOWING THE ALTAR

not at all strange that the Franciscans at Mount St. Sepulchre are enabled to present particularly impressive services at Easter. Moreover, a number of the members of the community have resided for years at a time in the Holy Land and are familiar from long participation with every detail of the Easter services as conducted at the tomb of our Lord in Jerusalem. This is the case with the present superior of the community, Rev. Father Bede Oldgeering, who is the celebrant of the solemn high mass which is the principal feature of the Easter program.

It is doubtful if any church in America is embellished with a more lavish floral decoration than that in the Chapel of the Holy Land on Easter morning and equally notable is the special music by the choir of male voices made up of members of the community with one of the brothers acting as organist. The chapel at Mount St. Sepulchre, and which is all too small to accommodate the throngs that come hither on Easter, is in the shape of a five-fold cross, the large cross forming the main body of the church and the small crosses being represented by chapels. This cross, symbolic of the five wounds of our Lord, appears again and again at Mount St. Sepulchre and a representation of it in Venetian mosaic forms the pavement of the church. The central aisle of the large cross has, at the entrance of the church, a portico which supports a gallery, while at the other end is the sanctuary. The whole interior with its rows upon rows of columns and arches and its significant white and yellow decoration, is stately and majestic in the highest degree and affords the best possible background for the Easter decorations.

The whole arrangement of the interior conduces to focus attention upon the sanctuary which is the main point of attraction in the church and especially so on Easter when it becomes the locale of much that transpires. The architect who directed the erection of the duplicate of the Holy Sepulchre spent much time in Jerusalem studying the original and he has produced a marvelously faithful and accurate replica. Two marble stairways, one on either side of the Sepulchre, lead to Mount Calvary, which forms the high altar of the church. A low door, set between two ornamental panels leads to the outer room of the tomb. In the middle of this, supported by a low pedestal, there is a stone called the Stone of the Angel, the original of which, tradition avers, is a fragment of the very stone on which the Messenger of Heaven rested when he gave the glad tidings on that memorable Easter morn. Naturally this is an object of the most intense interest to the Easter throng.

Through a second door in this facsimile Sepulchre—an opening even lower in height than that above mentioned—the visitor reaches the representation of the place where the Savior was laid. From the ceiling depend memorial lamps and every detail of the tomb in Jerusalem is reproduced, even to the famous silver panel by Raphael representing the Resurrection. Above the Sepulchre, as already explained, is Mount Calvary, the altar being a replica of the one at Jerusalem. While the Sepulchre itself is naturally the climactic point of interest on Easter, services of special character are held in the church throughout the week preceding this, the most significant Sunday of the year.

Of the throngs of Easter visitors to Mount St. Sepulchre, no women and very few men are admitted to the "enclosure" of the monastery—for this institution, being designed as a college as well as a chapel, is built on the old monastic plan with a courtyard laid out as a garden—the traditional cloister in the form of an open gallery measuring 200 feet on each of its four sides, which serves the friars for their walks on rainy days when it is inconvenient to take exercise in the open. However, visitors, though denied a peep at this sheltered retreat, are admitted to the wonderful shrines and subterranean chambers beneath the chapel and which are in large measure responsible for the rapidly growing fame of this institution.

Reached by flights of stone steps from the main chapel are two underground chapels, one being a representation of the Grotto of Nazareth and the other the Grotto of Bethlehem where Jesus was born. The two grottoes are connected by means of an underground passage which duplicates in appearance the Catacombs of Rome and this passage has at its central point a crypt in reproduction of the ancient sepulchral chambers where an altar was erected over the tomb of some famous martyr. From this crypt another underground corridor leads to the subterranean Chapel of Poor Souls which is intended for funeral services. In these underground shrines burn votive lamps that are never extinguished, day or night, from one end of the year to the other. These underground shrines, representative of the spot where Jesus first opened His eyes upon the world and the humble home of the Holy Family in Nazareth, are both, as in the case of the Holy Sepulchre, exact reproductions of the originals in the far-off Holy Land. Indeed, so faithful is the duplication even in little things that we see in its proper place the stone bench upon the counterpart of which in the Holy Land sit the Turkish sentinels who stand guard over the spots so hallowed by Christians.

TWO JUDGES IN COURT.

"A man has been passing judgment on women for centuries. It is high time that a woman be permitted to judge men. And I am perfectly sure that a handsome man could not get away with it at a woman's tribunal, as handsome women are doing every day in courts presided over by men."

That's what Miss Mary Coleman, lawyer and suffragette, remarked when I called on her with the new proposal, backed by a number of women's clubs, that all the officers of the women's rights court, from the magistrate down, be women.

"I don't think an all woman's court would be a good thing."

"I don't think an all man's court is any better."

"The ideal court will exist only when justice has gone into partnership. In this court there will be two judges—one a man and one a woman. Each will learn from the other. And they will sit joyfully and pass judgment on both men and women."

"I have heard two criticisms of women as judges, especially of their own sex," I remarked. "One person says they would be too sentimental. Another writes essays on woman's infamy to women."

"Well, we can't be both things," Miss Coleman replied, briefly. "As a matter of fact, I don't think we're either. I believe, I think, the best justice prevails when head and heart works together, and I think this excellent combination is more often in women than in men."

"Either a man is absolutely inflexible and cold-blooded, or he is wishy-washy emotional. A judge and jury of men rarely fail to be influenced by a handsome, attractive woman. But I am equally positive that fascinating men criminals could wield no such influence over women on the bench."

Easter Betrothals in Hungary

During the first centuries of the Christian church, Easter was celebrated on the same day of the Jewish Passover, because Christ rose from the dead on that day. In the early days of the church Easter was the favorite time for performing miracle plays; priests became actors, and the churches, theaters for the time being. One of the most popular of the mystery plays is based upon the cowardice of Pilate in condemning Jesus.

"Three days after the death of Christ," runs the old legend, "the pious women of Jerusalem came in a crowd to the palace of the great ruler and bled bitter reproaches at him for his cowardice. Pilate retired to the innermost part of the palace to escape their reproaches. Still the voices of the women reached him, crying, 'Coward!' At last Pilate became so infuriated at their cries that he ordered the pretorians to drive them out by throwing water on them. This seemed effective, for the mob dispersed and quiet was restored. But to the horror and consternation of Pilate, as he passed from his palace and entered the streets of Jerusalem, the cry of 'Coward!' lifted the air as if from a thousand tongues. "Nature herself takes up the curse, and a sudden shower breaks, in which every drop of rain calls the wretched man 'Coward!' The ocean, the sea and the rivers take part in the great demonstration, and the word crowd wrung from the heart of nature herself ceases not to ring in Pilate's ear until death frees him from the curse."

From the legend springs a curious custom practiced in Hungary on Easter Monday. At dawn the men of the village wait for the maidens of their choice to appear; as each sees the maiden of his heart he runs after her and drags her, shrieking and protesting, to the nearest fountain or well, where he proceeds to drench her liberally with water. Thoroughly drenched, the maiden is supposed to pay for the courtesy with a kiss. Often she breaks away from her tormentor, and there is a hot and merry chase until she is captured. Of course, she is soon caught and is usually a willing victim, for this is one of the Magyar betrothal customs, and an early marriage follows the rite.

Before Alluring on Operation

Please Read These Two Letters.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before. Then after that suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored her health.

HERE IS HER OWN STATEMENT.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement—I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief, and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. To-day I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise every woman who is afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Mich.

"There never was a worse case."

Rockport, Ind.—"There never was a worse case of woman's ills than mine, and I cannot begin to tell you what I suffered. For over two years I was not able to do anything. I was in bed for a month and the doctor said nothing but an operation would cure me. My father suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so to please him I took it, and I improved wonderfully, so I am able to travel, ride horseback, take long rides and never feel any ill effects from it. I can only ask other suffering women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation."—Mrs. Margaret Meredith, R. F. D. No. 3, Rockport, Ind.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Many farmers have paid for their land out of the proceeds of one crop. 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. This climate, good schools, excellent railway facilities, low freight rates, wood, hay, timber and lumber easily obtainable.

For pamphlet "Last Best West," particulars as to suitable location and how to secure a free home, apply to the U. S. Dept. of Immigration, Ottawa, Ont. or to the Canadian Agent, H. V. Melrose, 175 Jefferson Ave., Detroit, or C. A. Laidler, 201 St. Sts. Bldg., Mich. Use address nearest you.

BREVITIES

MILAN—Statistics of the thirteenth census, issued at Washington Monday, gives Milan a population of 1,355. In 1900 it was 1,141.

DEXTER—Ira E. Wheeler and Miss Rose E. Parsons of Webster were quietly married Saturday morning at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. J. A. Rowe.

SALINE—John Lutz won out in the recount on supervisor in Saline Monday, gaining three votes on his opponent, Fred Burkhardt. Lutz's majority proved to be four instead of one as the returns at first showed. Lutz was the democratic candidate.

DEXTER—Monday afternoon Chas. Bates, while cleaning up around his farm, set fire to some marsh grass which took fire so quickly that it started towards his neighbor's woods. Calling his neighbors for help, with hard work they beat out the fire before much damage was done.

GRASS LAKE—The large plate glass window in the front of the E. J. Foster hardware store, was badly broken Wednesday afternoon, by a heavy iron bed which was on display in the window, falling against it. The glass was a large one and was broken so badly that the salvage on it will be but very little, and we understand that there was no insurance on it.—News.

ANN ARBOR—Mrs. Frank M. Root has filed another suit in her effort to obtain a separation from her husband. The supreme court recently reversed the decision of the lower court, which granted her a divorce two years ago, and wiped out the music business she had established in this city. Prior to that a suit for divorce, which was brought in this court, was dismissed by mutual consent. Mrs. Root has secured a temporary injunction restraining Mr. Root from disposing of his business pending the settlement of the suit.

JACKSON—All the real and personal estate of the Jackson Light & Power company in four different counties of Michigan has been transferred to the Commonwealth Power company. Deeds have been recorded in this the final step in the merging of these two large companies in the register of deeds office at Marshall, Allegan, Kalamazoo and Jackson, the county seats of these four counties. The property is situated in Jackson, Albion, Marshall, Battle Creek, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Parma, Ceresco, Augusta, Galesburg, Otsego, Grass Lake and Grand Ledge.

ANN ARBOR—The trial of civil cases for the March term of court began Monday afternoon with the case of Clyde E. Love against the D. J. & C. traction company for $24,000 for the killing of little 5-year-old Frank Love at Monroe and Twelfth streets in May, 1909. The father is legally acting as the administrator of the child's estate, and endeavoring to collect the amount that his estate would have acquired supposedly had the boy lived to be 61. The plaintiff alleges that the car which ran down the boy and his tricycle was not equipped with a fender through the negligence of the company. The street car company claims the boy crossed in front of the car and then evidently became confused and ran in front of it.

STOCKBRIDGE

Preparations are being made to hold a home-coming celebration here the coming summer.

ANN ARBOR—A burglar entered the home of Fred Schumacher on California avenue Sunday afternoon while the family was away and secured a number of pieces of silverware and other articles of small value. The identity of the thief is known and a warrant for his arrest will probably be sworn out.

ANN ARBOR—Last Thursday night when several hundred members of the church and congregation of the First Methodist church were gathered in the church parlors for the monthly supper, Dr. A. W. Stalker, the pastor for five years, was presented with a sum of money with which to purchase an automobile.

MANCHESTER—Since the failure to convict Nichols for spearing fish in Iron lake because it was found that there was no outlet to the lake, fishermen have decided to spear in Hoxsie's lake, which is also owned by farmers. Years ago there was a ditch dug for an outlet into Wampler's lake but it has long been filled up.—Enterprise.

JACKSON—An ancient landmark tumbled down Monday night, when the little red brick, corner Francis and Cortland streets, fell over. It was built in 1848 and of late has been used as a factory for Saratoga chips. Jackson is pretty slow and is fond of the ancient, but it is safe to say the red brick will not be rebuilt.—Evening Star.

YPSILANTI—Edward Freunter, the son of the old woman who was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of drunkenness and was sent to this city for treatment, was arrested on the same charge, and Saturday morning Justice Stadtmiller gave him 65 days in the Detroit House of Correction. His mother had been released and had been home only a few days.

PINCKNEY—Orders have been sent to the surveyors to do the preparatory work on what will be known as the "State" road, and it is expected that work will begin at once. Starting at the village line at the west and from thence two miles toward Anderson. The work is to be done by Putnam township under the supervision of the State Highway Commissioner. The specifications call for a road at least nine feet wide excavated and filled with gravel to the depth of nine inches and to be thoroughly rolled and graded. If the work is done acceptably the state pays at the rate of $600 per mile. It is estimated the total cost to the township will be materially less than $500.—Dispatch.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Wiloughby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by L. P. Vogel, H. H. Fenn Co. and L. T. Freeman.

IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. T. Freeman Co.

DO IT NOW

Chelsea People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

John Schieferstein, south Main St., Chelsea, Mich., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for lame back and pains through my kidneys and have received great benefit. I can recommend this remedy highly judging its merit from personal experience."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
