GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

It isn't "knack" that makes the bread and rolls good, it's good flour such as BLUE LABEL. You can always count on turning out the lightest, sweetest, purest bread and rolls, and the most delicious cake and pastry when you use BLUE LABEL flour. It is the real quality flour—the flour that is recognized as such by all competent judges.
Try BLUE LABEL the next time you bake. Refuse substitutes.

NO MORE POOR COFFEE

It's a good plan to get away from the idea that the ONLY coffee is the kind our Grandmothers used—carelessly-grown, crudely-prepared coffee much of which was, and is, harmful in effects and anything but the best in flavor.

This world is going forward! With advanced knowledge and facilities COFFEE, like every good thing should improve.

ROYAL VALLEY COFFEES

are the very latest and best evidences of that improvement. They are prepared for you by one of the most modern of processes—a process which removes everything but the good coffee, preserves all the rich, aromatic coffee-oil, maintains a stronger "body"—making them not only richer flavored, but more economical to use.

There is not another coffee on the market the equal of a Royal Valley in purity, richness and strength that does not cost the consumer from 10c to 15c more per pound. Why waste even 10c per pound?

Royal Valley Nero is 25c, Marigold is 30c and Tzar 35c per pound, and you will find them the biggest coffee-values you ever paid your good money for.

Auto Accident.

About eleven o'clock last Friday evening an accident occurred near the residence of John Geddes just north of the village limits. Warren Daniels and his sister, Miss Mildred, were on their way home and were met by Lyle Runciman, who was on his way home, driving the automobile owned by Geo. A. Runciman. The auto collided with the carriage. Miss Daniels was thrown out of the carriage and was unconscious when picked up but not seriously injured. Warren succeeded in hanging on to the horse. The carriage was somewhat damaged but with the assistance of Mr. Geddes was repaired sufficiently so that the occupants were able to continue on their way home. Lyle claims that he did not see the horse and carriage until he was almost upon them, and then in his excitement gave the steering wheel a wrong turn which caused his machine to run into the Daniels vehicle.

Drowned at Scio.

A drowning accident occurred at Scio Sunday afternoon about 2:30. Donald Davis, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davis, of Pittsfield, lost his life while in bathing, together with other children. Mr. and Mrs. Davis drove from their residence in Pittsfield Sunday morning to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson, of Webster, to spend the day and to hold a picnic dinner.

The Johnson and Davis children went to the dam to bathe in the afternoon, where the accident occurred. Gordon Johnson dove after the body. It was about fifteen minutes before it was found. As soon as he was brought to shore he was worked over in the hopes of reviving him, but there was no sign of life. The body was taken to the Johnson home.

The funeral was held at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, from the Episcopal church in Dexter; interment in Forest Lawn cemetery. The boy is survived by his parents, one sister and one brother.

Pleasant Surroundings.

"In a personal letter to a friend here, Dr. Thos. Holmes says: Since you will want to know how I find things here, I take great pleasure in giving you the following: The location is the perfection of beauty. Seneca lake lies immediately in front of the home, which faces the east, with a most beautiful hill country beyond. The management is in the hands of an earnest and devoted Christian minister with an equally Christian wife. The service is a service of loving attention to every want. The family companionship is agreeable in the highest degree; the community is intelligent and refined, among whom I find several old acquaintances; the Starkey Seminary, a literary school of high standing, is about fifty rods distant and in plain view from my window. If Mrs. Holmes were with me, I think I should be as happy as a mortal can be in this world; for which I am most profoundly thankful to God and His kind servants who have contributed to all these comforts for His aged and infirm servants."

Students Wreck Car.

A mob of nearly 1,000 University of Michigan students, on their way to Ypsilanti to attend a carnival, took revenge on the D. U. R. for poor service by nearly wrecking one of its cars about three miles from Ypsilanti Tuesday evening.

The conductor had some trouble collecting fares because there was such a crowd. The car was finally stopped and others behind it were forced to halt. Other students came to the aid of those on the car and after the motorman and conductor had been forced to leave their posts, everything loose was torn away and fares were rung up on the register until it would ring no more. Light sockets were pulled out and the car left in darkness. It was necessary to shunt it in on a siding. The carnival people had considerable difficulty with the students who pushed past the ticket takers without paying any admission to many of the attractions.

Receive More Attention.

Michigan apple orchards are to receive more attention during the next two or three years and the results will determine, it is claimed by many, whether or not it will be worth while for the average farmer to keep his small orchards. More spraying than has been done before will be a part of the general movement and it is also probable that many will replace the old trees with young ones.

Will Soon Visit Us.

The citizens of Chelsea will be very glad to know that the trolley trips of the Wholesalers and Manufacturers Association of Detroit, will include a visit to our village.

The various trips planned by the Detroiters will cover a period of over two months, and while definite plans have not yet been settled for visiting Chelsea, we are assured by the Trade Promotion Committee of the Association that our merchants will be called upon in a social way before the series of trips are concluded.

We will be prepared to give advice of the exact date of the visit to Chelsea previous to the arrival of our Detroit friends.

Edward L. Alexander, a prominent Webster farmer, and a resident of that township all his life, died Friday evening on the farm upon which he was born, after an illness of five years.

Mr. Alexander was the son of the late Thomas Alexander, and was 66 years old. Five years ago he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and since then had been in poor health. He was highly respected as a good farmer and an honest and upright citizen. Besides his wife there survive him two sons, H. L. Alexander of Webster, and W. E. Alexander of Scio. There are also two brothers and two sisters, John W. Alexander, of Webster, B. H. Alexander, of Chelsea, Mrs. Maria Gorton of Corning, N. Y. and Mrs. A. Francis of Howell.

The funeral services were held from the late home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. S. Morrison officiating. Interment Webster.

Tornado at Ypsilanti.

A small tornado, followed by torrents of rain, late Monday struck Ypsilanti. The roof was blown off the E. L. Sanderson & Son building. As pieces of it fell in the street a horse driven by Mrs. W. W. Weinager, became frightened and ran away, but was stopped before the woman was injured.

The building occupied by the Ypsilanti Hay Press company was damaged and the smokestack blown down. A carnival, which had pitched its tents early Monday morning, was a heavy loser. The outfit was practically demolished. Nearly every tent on the lot was blown down and many of them torn to shreds and carried away by the high wind. Several valuable fronts were wrecked and the show people had difficulty in keeping wild animals cages and snake dens intact. Telephone and telegraph lines were put out of commission for some time.

Considering the very few years before everything relative to the Grand Army of the Republic will have passed into history and with a deep sense of appreciation at heart for the numerous deeds of valor accredited the veterans who will assemble in Ypsilanti for the big state semi-centennial encampment June 21, 22 and 23, liberal appropriations have been allowed by the city council to be used by the various committees for their entertainment.

Preparations are being made for 10,000 guests during encampment week and a continuous program will be effected for entertainment every hour during the session. The big parade will take place on the morning of June 22 and for all soldiers who cannot walk and for the women of the W. R. C. and the ladies of the G. A. R. there will be floats and automobiles. There seem to be few soldiers, however, who feel that they are unable to assume the old time spirit of '61 and several letters have been received from officers asserting that the "old boys" who will return with them demand a place in the line—no carriages for them.

The parade will be planned on a basis of 3,000 men on foot aside from the men and women in carriages. A band of 50 bag pipers in full Highland costume will feature the parade and the G. A. R. band of five and drum will be in the lead, to demonstrate as only veterans can demonstrate, the spirit of '76. A living flag formed by 200 school children will form a pretty section of the line.

FARMERS WON'T BOYCOTT DETROIT

Hull Denies He Urged Them to Avoid the Michigan Exhibit.

SENDS LETTER TO SOCIETY

Hull Declares That the Grange Will Not Use Their Influence to Line Up the Agriculturists Against the State Fair.

Lansing.—Nathan P. Hull of Dimondale, master of the state grange, in a letter to the State Fair society, denies that he and the grange will use their influence to line up the farmers against the fair because of the attitude of a number of Detroit business men in this favor of reciprocity. A report to this effect was sent out from Washington.

The story intimated that if Detroit sent a delegation to the capital to work in the interest of reciprocity the grange would urge the farmers to keep away from Detroit. Mr. Hull's letter to the fair officials is as follows:

"My attention has been called to statements that have recently appeared in a number of newspapers that the grange would use its influence to keep the farmers of Michigan from our state fair in an attempt to spite Detroit. I hasten to assure you that I have never thought of such a thing, nor have I ever heard of it suggested either directly or indirectly until I saw it in the newspapers. In the second place, I have no spite against Detroit in any way. And in the third place, I hope I am not small enough, and know I am not fool enough, to try such a petty reprisal as that, and this would be true were I not officially connected with the fair. I am sure no one connected with the fair took any stock in this story, anyway, but there are some people who are not acquainted with me who might believe it."

Mr. Hull has just returned to his home from Washington. He is vice-president of the fair society.

Overrules Grand Trunk Demurrer.

In overruling the demurrer made last week by the Grand Trunk railroad Judge McDonald held that the state of Michigan has a legal right to bring action against the railroad in an effort to recover back taxes amounting to about $2,000,000. All of the eight reasons contained in the demurrer, prepared by Harrison Geer of Detroit, chief counsel of the Grand Trunk, were overruled by Judge McDonald. The first reason, the one which is regarded as the most substantial, stated that the suit was not legal; that such action should be started by a bill of complaint, instead of information and petition. While the court did rule that the case should have been begun as contended by Mr. Geer, he stated that the label on the case had no effect on the subject matter. Attorney Geer stated that he would naturally appeal the case to the supreme court.

Memorial Day Proclamation.

Governor Osborn issued the customary declaration and Memorial day proclamation. The proclamation in part: "The custom of observing a day once a year for the purpose of especially paying tribute of memory to those who so bravely gave their lives that the nation might live and be a purer and better home for the oppressed of all lands, is one of the most commendable of our national life. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

APRIL DEATH LIST LOWER THAN MARCH.

There were 3,252 deaths reported for the month of April to the secretary of state. This is a decrease of 42 under the month of March. The number of births also reported showed a decrease of 440 under the previous month, there having been 4,754 births in April.

By ages, there were 505 deaths of infants under one year old, 210 deaths of children aged from one to four years, and 1,185 of persons sixty-five years old or over. The important causes of death were as follows: Tuberculosis of lungs, 230; other forms of tuberculosis, 44; typhoid fever, 44; diphtheria and croup, 35; scarlet fever, 25; measles, 31; whooping cough, 28; pneumonia and bronchial pneumonia, 324; enteritis, under two years of age, 50; meningitis, 59; cancer, 147; violence, 156.

As compared with the month preceding, an increase is noticed in the number of deaths from diphtheria and croup, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough. A decrease is recorded in the number of deaths from tuberculosis, typhoid fever, pneumonia, enteritis, meningitis, influenza, cancer and violence. In addition to the above, there were two deaths reported from tetanus, one from Albinism and the other from Plainfield.

The various state hospitals and asylums reported deaths as follows: Traverse City, 17; Kalamazoo, 24; Pontiac, 13; Soldiers' home, 19; Lapeer, 2; Newberry, 4; Wayne county, 22.

Judge Lindsey Praises Michigan.

That Michigan is the most progressive state and Detroit the most progressive city in the Union was the statement of Judge Ben Lindsey, juvenile judge of Denver, who lectured on "The Misfortunes of Mickey" at the Simpson M. E. church. Judge Lindsey said Michigan's system of justice, especially in the care of juvenile delinquents, is far superior to that of many states, and he declared the industrial school for boys at Lansing to be the finest and best equipped in the country.

The authorities in this state are dealing with the great juvenile problem in the most modern method and the only method to obtain right results.

"During my tours I have traveled from one state to another, but I am more highly enthused over Michigan than any other state in the Union. I suppose I should say that next to Colorado, Michigan is the best state, but when I say anything I say it candidly. Michigan always attracted us as being so far ahead in its juvenile system. The citizens of this great state have done much for the building up of good justice, good courts and good judges."

Soil and Wheat Special Planned.

An innovation in farmers' institute trains, popularly known as "schools on wheels," will be introduced this summer when a soil and wheat special will be run through the western and southern part of the state. Superintendent L. R. Taft, head of the farmers' institute work in Michigan, announced that the train would be run two weeks, either the last of July or the first of August.

The Following Routes Will be Covered, the train stopping at the points between the cities mentioned: On the Lake Shore, from Lansing to Hillsdale, thence to Adrian via Manchester, thence to White Pigeon and Grand Rapids; on the Michigan Central, Grand Rapids to Jackson, on Niles on the air line, to Jackson on the main line and thence to Lansing. The route all told covers approximately 1,000 miles.

Aviation Meet Sure of Success.

H. L. Connell, president of the Aeronautical society of the University of Michigan, assured David L. Herman, chairman of the executive committee of the aviation meet which will be held in Detroit next month, that the club would attend the meet in a body on June 30. Commencement at Ann Arbor comes on June 29, and there will be hundreds of students and alumni to come to Detroit the following day. Invitations will also be sent the student bodies of Michigan Agricultural college, Ohio State university, Western Reserve university, Purdue, Notre Dame, Case School of Applied Science and others, to attend the meet.

MASKED BANDITS RAID R. R. DEPOT

JONESVILLE AGENT IS HELD UP AT NIGHT BY MAN AND TWO BOYS.

THOUGHT VILLAGERS WERE JOKING HIM HE KEPT ON WORKING.

Stands With Face to Wall and Pistol at His Head While Station is Ransacked.

Jas. Benedict, night agent and operator at the Lake Shore depot in Jonesville, was using the telegraph instrument shortly before midnight, when he heard a command from behind to put up his hands. Believing that some of the villagers were joking with him, he kept at the key. He was sending a message along the line when the muzzle of a revolver was thrust against his neck.

Turning, he saw a masked man and two masked boys, armed and threatening to shoot him if he made a noise.

Benedict was forced to close the key, get up and stand with his face to the wall while the bandits searched the station. One of the boys held a revolver at the back of his head while the others ransacked the drawers in the ticket office. They found $150 and made away with this, overlooking nearly $200 in a small compartment of the till.

Before leaving the trio commanded Benedict to remain quiet and not attempt to give an alarm until they were out of sight. However, as soon as the bandits left, Benedict called for help. A general alarm was sent out, and officers are now searching for the trio.

A strange man about 30 years old and two boys, probably 18 years old, were seen in the village.

West Michigan Is After Good Roads.

The Western Michigan Development bureau having affiliated with the American Association for Highway Improvement, with offices in Washington, will be materially aided by the latter in the former's work of securing better road conditions in that section of the state.

The National association will send special representatives to accompany the good roads train those interested in the development of the western part of the state expect to run through 20 counties. These special representatives will also be accompanied by an organizer who will have charge of the plans for organizing good road clubs and associations all along the route.

In Western Michigan there are 16,000 miles of roads, only 300 miles of which are improved. More than 3,000,000 tons were hauled over these roads last year, and the loss in money to the farmers, merchants and people in general amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The National association at Washington hopes to arouse in counties throughout Michigan an interest which will make a compact state organization possible.

Hands Citizens' Alliance Hot One.

Mayor Ellis of Grand Rapids made a scathing public reply to the Citizens' Alliance, which has passed petitions throughout the city asking him to preserve order. He declares pointedly that the alliance "is nothing more than the employers' union masquerading under another name." He points to the fact that while the unions have many of their number doing peace patrol duty, not an employer volunteered his services for special police duty.

He also declares that there is no necessity for even thinking of calling troops, and promises to prosecute if the employers will drop their intimidating tactics.

On motion of the striking furniture workers Circuit Judge McDonald postponed the hearing on the injunction asked for by the employers' association and the Michigan Chair company, restraining picketing of factories until Monday, May 23. The cause of the adjournment is the inability of the unions to prepare their case in time to argue the motion.

State R. R. Commission Sticks for Two-Cent Fare.

Despite the fact that the interstate commerce commission has ruled that railroads operating in Michigan and other states have a right to charge three cents per mile on interstate passenger business, the Michigan railroad commission will not lie down in its efforts to compel the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Co. to sell tickets to Indiana points for two cents a mile, the same as other roads of the state are now doing.

Big Primary School Fund.

The big primary school fund apportioned for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, exceeds the state tax for 1910 by $1,355,369.

Presiding Magistrate Murphy of Ogden, Utah, ordered the discharge of Brian O'Hara and Victor Clore, of Palms, Mich., accused of holding up the Southern Pacific train on Jan. 2. He declared that there was no sufficient ground for holding them.

PEACE AT LAST IN SIGHT IN MEXICO

THE REAL TEST OF GEN. MADERO'S STRENGTH COMES IN ATTEMPT TO STOP FIGHTING.

ONLY A FEW TROOPS KEPT PENDING FULFILLMENT OF TERMS.

Rebels in Southern California Have to Be Subdued by Former Comrades in Arms.

The real test of the strength of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., in the Mexican revolution is at hand. Whether he will be able to stop the fighting in the republic, now that he has brought about the signing of a peace agreement, is the grave question awaiting his followers.

The rebel chieftain's father said: "It will take a long time to get the peace news abroad. When we send telegrams to insurgents bands telling them to fight, they think the messages are false orders sent by the Diaz government to trick them. Therefore they pay no attention to such messages and go on fighting as before."

"Not only that, but the whole rebellion is overrun with insurgents. Rebellion has swept over the country like a flame and my son does not really know how great his army is."

The report, however, that General Figueroa, the rebel leader in Lower California, will refuse to accept the peace terms as signed is denied by Madero. He asserts that Figueroa will co-operate with the provisional government in every way and that his forces will disband as soon as the rebellion is ended and Diaz has left the presidency.

Country Like Normal.

Officially declared peace with more of the atmosphere of normal conditions, reigns in northern Mexico for the first time in six months. Messages are being flashed over all of the country announcing that a peace agreement signed Sunday night definitely ended hostilities.

Undisguised joy beamed in the face of Judge Carbojal, the federal peace envoy, as he prepared to depart from Juarez for Mexico City, his mission being accomplished after nearly four weeks of parleys. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., triumphant leader of the revolt, sat in his house in the outskirts of the town, content and happy, receiving scores of congratulatory telegrams on the success of the movement he initiated. He will now await the resignation of President Diaz, starting for Mexico City within a week, when it is expected to become an established fact.

Plot to Kill Gen. Madero.

Plans for the departure from Juarez to Mexico City of Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., received a setback when a member of the El Paso revolutionary junta received a telegram from the capital stating that persistent rumors were in circulation there of a plot to assassinate Madero upon his arrival.

Beyond this bare statement the message gave no details, but the matter was considered so serious by the insurgent leaders as to result in postponing the trip of Madero until the reports are disproved or affairs in the capital are in a more settled condition.

Every officer on the staff of the provisional president had donated six months salary as a fund for the widows and children of insurgent soldiers killed during the revolution.

High Railway Fare to Stand.

Railways operating in Central Passenger association territory—including those of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan—are permitted, by an order issued by the interstate commerce commission, to exact higher passenger fares for interstate than for intra-state business where state legislatures or state commissions have established a two-cent a mile rate until May 1, 1912, by which time the railroads are to show why they need such a distinction. The commission was opposed to the request of the railroads, but decided to grant them time to prepare data in defense of it.

CURED ITCHING AND BURNING

"I was taken with the itch in April, 1904, and used most everything. I had a friend pay me a visit from Cumberland, and she advised me to use Cuticura Remedies which I did. The cure was certainly quick, and I use them to this day. I had it terribly under my knees. I only used one box of pills, but two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and I use the Cuticura Soap all the time. I hope this will benefit others, as it has me, after Dr. — and others could do nothing for me." (Signed) Miss Lu Johnson, 1523 Ninth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., April 3, 1910.

In a later letter Miss Johnson adds: "The trouble began with an eruption under my knees, and extended upwards toward my waist, until I was not able to sit down. It kept a constant itching and burning all the time, night and day. I went to my doctor, but he could do me no good after I do not know how many medicines he gave me, and then told me I would be compelled to go to a skin specialist, which I positively refused to do. I cried all the time. Finally I made up my mind to try Cuticura Remedies, and tried Cuticura Pills, Ointment and Soap, and was entirely cured of the itching three days after I started using them. The healing took about eight days. I consider Cuticura Remedies marvelous, and would recommend them everywhere." Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, for free book on skin afflictions.

An interesting feature was the presentation to the convention by A. P. Crooker, of Marquette, of a gavel made from the timbers of the first steamship which sailed Lake Superior. The ship was wrecked in 1853 and recently raised. A resolution was adopted recommending that the next state convention be held at Saginaw.

Three-Fourths of Panama Canal Dug. "Uncle Sam" has taken stock of what was accomplished at Panama up to May 4, which day ended the seventh year of canal construction by Americans. Only one-fourth of the great task of excavation remains to be done, for the "ground hogs" have removed 138,000,000 cubic yards from the line of the canal. That leaves 44,000,000 yards to be cut away.

One of the unexpected obstacles in the construction was the development of 22 slides in the Culbraz cut, within a distance of nine miles, but it is stated that these will not delay the completion of the canal, as the earth can easily be removed by dredges after the water is turned on.

Destroyed Business Section. Fire early Thursday morning practically destroyed the business section of the village of Scotts, located on the Grand Trunk railroad in Kalamazoo county.

The loss is estimated at $75,000 to $100,000. The fire started at 2 a. m. and was not finally put out until 9 o'clock.

A steamer was summoned from Battle Creek, arriving at 3 a. m. The vessel had no fire apparatus and was at the mercy of the flames. Eight store rooms and a few dwellings were laid in ashes. The fire started in the cellar stairway of a building known as the Big Four Store, occupied by the William Maxwell Co. dealers in dry goods and groceries.

Gates' big oil producing company has increased its capitalization to $50,000,000 and will extend its competition with John D.'s concern. Tom L. MINISTER OF WAR KILLED

Premier Also Dangerously Hurt While Watching Aeroplane Start.

Henri Maurice Bertheaux, minister of war, was almost instantly killed; Premier Antoine Emmanuel Ernest Monis, minister of the interior, was very badly hurt, two others were hurt and many notables of France had narrow escapes in Paris Sunday when a monoplane plunged into the midst of a party of distinguished spectators at the start of the Paris-Madrid race.

The two less seriously injured were Antoine Monis, son of the premier, and Henri Deutsch de la Meurthe, aged patron of aeronautics, motoring and other sports. Two hundred thousand persons were gathered on the field at Issy and saw the accident.

The monoplane was in charge of M. Train, who has been making a name for himself recently in aeronautics. With him as passenger was M. Bounier. Although the machine was wrecked completely, neither were hurt much.

The accident was caused by M. Train endeavoring to avoid a detachment of cavalry that was galloping across the field to restrain spectators who were breaking through the cordons. About 50 persons of note in the premier's party had been admitted into the field to better see the aeroplanes off. They were hidden by the cavalry and M. Train did not see them until too late. He was descending to remedy an engine defect, though he tried desperately to avoid the scattering party, he landed in its midst.

President Taft will be invited to visit Port Huron in September when he comes to Michigan.

Anxiously Waiting. "I do hope things will take a turn for the better soon. If stocks would only go up!" "Why, have you been investing in stocks, my dear?"

No, but father has promised that he would buy me a duke as soon as A. G. & W. touches 120." Politician and Preacher. A politician in a western state, long suspected of crookedness and noted for his shifty ways, was finally indicted and tried. The jury was out a long time, but eventually acquitted him.

After the verdict was in and the politician was leaving the courtroom, a minister who had been in part responsible for the indictment and trial, approached the politician and said: "Well, my friend, you have escaped; but you had a close shave. I trust this will be a warning to you to lead a better life and deal more fairly with your fellow men."

"That may be," the politician replied. "That may be; but I ain't pledged to any one."-Saturday Evening Post.

NATURAL EVIDENCE. Adelaide-Why, Cornelia, your hair is all messed up. Cornelia-Yes, dear, you-you see, George stole up and snatched a dozen kisses before I could scream. Adelaide-But why don't you step in front of the mirror and rearrange your hair? Cornelia-Gracious! Why, I wouldn't do it for the world. Why, none of the girls would believe he kissed me.

FEED YOU MONEY. Feed Your Brain, and it Will Feed You Money and Fame. "Ever since boyhood I have been especially fond of meats, and I am convinced I ate too rapidly, and failed to masticate my food properly."

"The result was that I found myself, a few years ago, afflicted with ailments of the stomach, and kidneys, which interfered seriously with my business. "At last I took the advice of friends and began to eat Grape-Nuts instead of the heavy meats, etc., that had constituted my former diet."

"I found that I was at once benefited by the change, that I was soon relieved from the heartburn and indigestion that used to follow my meals, that the paction in my back from my kidney affection had ceased. "My nerves, which used to be unsteady, and my brain, which was slow and lethargic from a heavy diet of meats and greasy foods, had, not in a moment, but gradually, and none the less surely, been restored to normal efficiency."

"Now every nerve is steady and my brain and thinking faculties are quicker and more acute than for years past. "After my old style breakfasts I used to suffer during the forenoon from a feeling of weakness which hindered me seriously in my work, but since I began to use Grape-Nuts food I can work till dinner time with all ease and comfort." Name given by Fostum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason." "Read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkgs. "Ever read the above letter? A man once appeared from Utah to Hattie's, a druggist, with a full of human bones."

Flowers for Memorial Day

GROWING FLOWERS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

PREPARING WREATHS AND FLORAL DESIGNS

It is difficult to imagine America's annual Memorial day without flowers. Indeed, Decoration day, the other name by which this spring commemorative festival is so often designated, carries an intimation of how dependent this day of sad memories is upon the bright-eyed blossoms that serve as the most appropriate of all tokens of remembrance. To be sure, flags are also made use of extensively on Memorial day—not only in the ornamentation of dwellings and places of business, but in marking the graves of fallen heroes whom it is desired to honor on this occasion. After all, however, it is flowers which are most extensively relied upon to express the sentiment of the occasion. And in the broad term "flowers" are included the flowering plants, the ivy and other of nature's products that are employed to form the wreaths which are so popular on Memorial day.

All told there are infinitely more flowers used on Memorial day than are employed at Easter and yet the general public does not hear so much of the Memorial day "flower trade," nor have its magnitude so conspicuously brought home. The explanation is found, of course, in the circumstance that the Easter flower trade is almost wholly in the hands of the professional florists to whose interest it is to make their activities occupy as large a place as possible in the public eye. At Memorial day, on the other hand, the regular flower marts, although they have a "rush season" in consequence of the holiday, supply but a fraction of the flowers that are placed on the graves of the nation's warriors.

The vast preponderance of the flowers that are used to express the love and gratitude of the people of the republic on the yearly-recurring Memorial day are home-grown posies whose cultivation with a view to such ultimate use is as much a labor of love as is the sowing of the blossoms on the graves. Or, at least the flowers are for the most part garden blooms rather than the frail products of the hot houses. Indeed the selection of May 30 as Memorial day in a large proportion of the states of the union was made primarily because it was an occasion when spring was presumed to be in her most attractive garb and when the spring floral harvest is at its height. Similarly the southern states, being assured an abundance of flowers at yet earlier dates, have, as much for this reason as for any other, chosen as Memorial day dates that seemed to mark the culmination of the floral food in their respective states rather than strict conformity with the date at the end of May, which is so universally observed in the eastern, northern and western states and in the more northerly of the commonwealths of Dixie. This will explain why certain of the states, notably those of the Gulf of Mexico, observe Memorial day days or weeks in advance of the remainder of the sisterhood of states.

The use of flowers on Memorial day is varied and appears to be growing more so as time goes on. At first suggestion of the occasion the reader is apt to think only of the custom of placing bouquets and wreaths in garlands on the grassy mounds beneath which repose in their last dreamless sleep the boys in blue and gray who gave up their lives in defense of their flag. But as a matter of fact it is a long-established custom for the American people generally to choose this occasion to place specially elaborate decorations upon the graves of loved ones, even though those whose memory is thus honored had naught to do with the stress and strife; the sacrifices of which Memorial day is primarily intended to commemorate.

One of the comparatively new uses of flowers on Memorial day, which has grown greatly in recent years, is the custom of placing wreaths of floral festoons or other similar tributes upon the statues which have been erected in the various American cities to our war-time heroes. At the national capital, where there are more than two dozen such statues, the pedestals are also draped with American flags. This decoration of the statues in parks and public buildings throughout the land is, of course, quite aside from the usual placing of tributes at the graves of these self-same heroes. Another interesting and beautiful new use of flowers on Memorial day is found in the practice of setting afloat huge baskets of miniature ships laden with flowers as a tribute to the American sailors who have given up their lives for the Stars and Stripes. These flowers are quickly borne out of sight by the waves, and mayhap float out to sea, but the sentiment of the occasion is served.

As death has year by year remorselessly thinned the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Confederate Veterans and other organizations of one-time soldiers there has of necessity been a change in the plan of bearing flowers to the cemeteries and decorating the graves of those who have answered to the call of "taps." The approved plan was to have in each community on the significant day a procession to the cemetery in which the principal participants were little girls dressed in white, each carrying a huge bouquet or basket of flowers and, marching beside or behind these flower bearers, an equal number of veterans, each with a wreath of evergreen or holly or ivy on his arm. When the procession arrived at the cemetery the participants distributed themselves throughout the burying ground until a little girl with flowers and a veteran with a wreath stood beside each grave marked with a tiny American flag. Then at a prearranged signal all the flowers and wreaths were placed simultaneously upon the graves of the comrades whom death has "mustered out."

This impressive ceremony, and there could be nothing more appropriate, is yet followed in countless communities, but there have had to be many modifications. For one thing the graves to be decorated have become much more numerous, whereas the number of surviving veterans who are able to march to the cemetery with their wreaths has dwindled appreciably. A solution has been found, in many places, by drafting for this task members of the Sons of Veterans or other organizations made up of children of old soldiers and also veterans of the Spanish-American war, many of whom are comparatively young men and who are sufficiently numerous to decorate the graves of their own fallen comrades and also the resting places of the heroes of the earlier wars.

Another factor that has operated to influence a change in the use of flowers on Memorial day is the growth in the size of many of our cities. In towns and small cities it is still practicable for the Decoration day host to march to the cemetery, but in all the larger cities it has become very much of a problem. In many instances cemeteries are so remote from the central part of the city that it is unwise to ask aged veterans to attempt to march and out of the question to allow flower girls of tender years to trudge through the streets for hours at a stretch. Consequently it has become customary under such circumstances to convey the flowers in quantities to the cemeteries and there distribute them to those who are to participate in the decorating program. For this delivery of flowers the modern motor car has proven a most convenient vehicle and in all our large cities on the morning of Memorial day one may now see the heavily laden "flower cars" spinning along on their way to the cemeteries. The speedy horseless vehicles have also proven a boon in the collecting of the flowers for

Memorial day, always heretofore a serious problem to the public-spirited citizens who have charge of this work and who could only plead with the people of the community to get their donations of flowers to the town hall early, but usually found that their most emphatic appeals were insufficient to get the posies to the rendezvous in time to permit of their proper arrangement in time for the starting of the parade at the scheduled hour. The bringing of flowers to the larger cities on Memorial day has been further simplified by the fact that in many localities special flower trains are operated by the steam railroads and the interurban trolley lines in order to convey the tons of blooms needed for the great memorial ornamentation. And, speaking of the interurban electric lines it may be added that these roads now make it possible to decorate with flowers the graves of soldiers in many a country cemetery, which, under the old conditions, could not readily be reached by members of the organizations of veterans and other bodies that aim to see to it that no soldier's grave is unadorned on this significant occasion.

Almost every known variety of flowers that bloom in the spring is employed to a greater or less extent on Decoration day, but naturally the wild flowers of the season are especially popular for this purpose. In the sections where the season is sufficiently advanced the roses and peonies are great favorites on this occasion and in the cooler climates violets and the hardy "pinks" are used extensively. In the more southernly states the yellow jasmine and the honeysuckle make admirable Decoration day festoons and at Arlington and other great national cemeteries it seems as though Memorial day has been timed to find the gorgeous purple wisteria at the climax of its glory. The mountain laurel is another floral favorite that lends itself to the purposes of the holiday, but of course it is not obtainable in all sections of the country.

In recent years the use of natural flowers on Memorial day has been supplemented by the extensive use of artificial flowers, particularly in the form of wreaths or designs emblematic of war-time badges or flags. However, the "art flower designs" of the present day are indeed a revelation as compared with the crude attempts of some years ago. Some of the Decoration day designs are executed in metal, tinted to counterfeit nature, and this form is of course very permanent, but most artistic effects of lasting character are also being obtained by means of fine waxed crepe paper flowers. Such designs are being employed to an increasing extent under all circumstances where it is necessary to send Memorial day designs long distances. However, the White House at Washington, which sends such remembrances to various parts of the country, always employs natural flowers from the president's conservatories.

WAS HE SARCASTIC?

"John, we have been married for nearly twenty years; I want you to tell me something."
"Oh, yes, Mary, you look just as young and as girlish as you did the first time I ever saw you; I have learned to love you more and more as the years have drifted by; I wouldn't be free again if I had a chance; if you were to die I shouldn't think of marrying any other woman, but I'd spend the rest of my life pining for you; I admit that your family is much superior to mine; I realize that I never should have amounted to anything if it had not been for your influence; you are the best manager I ever saw; your new spring-hat is very becoming; you look fifteen years younger than Mrs. Bransthwaite; yes, I like very much the way you are wearing your hair; I think of you steadily all day; I am sure that any young woman who would look at me twice would do so only because she wished to make a fool of me, and I acknowledge that you make a much better showing than any other woman could make on our income. Now is there anything else? I'm in a good deal of a hurry this morning."—Chicago Record-Herald.

EYELET and Solid Embroidery.—When there is a combination of these two embroideries it is always well to do the eyelet first. This is, of course, not compulsory, but it is rather harder to make a smooth, flat eyelet if close to it there are already worked some heavily-padded leaves which interfere more or less with the placing of the needle. The solid work may be done either in the regular satin-stitch or in the newer Wallachian. If the former is selected a few stitches of the working thread, taken lengthwise of the leaf, will serve as the necessary padding. Across this, the embroidery is done in close, even stitches, placed either directly across the leaf or in a slightly slanting direction. Stitches placed at too great a slant make quick work, but the result is not so good.

If it is preferred to fill this part of the design with Wallachian embroidery no padding whatever is required, and the stitch used is the plain button-hole, or blanket stitch begun at the stem end of each leaf and worked from left to right, each button-hole stitch reaching from the midrib or vein of the leaf to its outer edge and lying at right angles to it. When the tonhole stitches radiate from this point until the end of the leaf has been turned. The parallel stitches of the other half are then worked. When all of the flowers and leaves have been completed, the parallel lines making the heart shaped spaces are worked. These are not outlined, but after a line of padding has been worked along their length, embroidery stitches are laid over and over this padding at right angles to it, and in close, even stitches. One of the most satisfactory threads for padding is the ordinary white darning cotton used for mending hose. Two, three, or four threads of this may be used and may be either back-stitched in position or carried along in the old fashioned chain stitch. Before each eyelet is punched with the stiletto, its line of stamping should be run with little even stitches. These help to strengthen the eyelet, regulate its size, and retain its shape. In very small eyelets this may be omitted, if preferred, unless the material is given to splitting when the stiletto is used. Then the outlining must not be neglected. English eyelets are never buttonholed, but are done in little, close, over-and-over stitches, each set into the line of stamping. These may be done with very fine embroidery thread and drawn up into a small, close cord like finish, or a coarser thread may be used and drawn up less closely, so as to form a heavy outline.

In working long eyelets, the running of the outline must never be omitted. After this thread has been put in the eyelet must be cut with the scissors, as the stiletto will not make the long hole necessary. When the eyelet is small, a straight cut through its center, but not reaching to the end of the eyelet, is all that is necessary. In the larger eyelets, a second cut through the middle and at right angles to the first is necessary. This surplus linen is then included in the over and over stitches which complete the eyelet. After all the design has been completed, the border is worked over a chain stitched padding of the darning cotton, and the surplus linen cut away close to the button-holed edge. The work is then turned wrong side up, and a narrow button-holed edge worked over the first edge. This second row of stitches is not set close together, and does not show from the right side, but is a great protection to the edge, and prevents all fraying.

KEEPING VEILS IN CONDITION

Care Bestowed on This Important Article of Apparel is Worth While Financially.

The ready made lace veil will cost from two dollars and a half to fourteen dollars, and every becoming mesh sold by the yard is dear in proportion. So it behooves the wearer of veils to study how they can be kept in good condition. The fishnet veils do not need to be hemmed at the ends, as after the veil is tied on these are tucked under the knot. But such veils should be pulled out when they are taken off and rolled up from one end before they are put away. Old curtain rollers, sawed up into pieces the width of the veil, are often used for keeping the crushable mesh tidy. The first end of the veil is stretched tight over the stick and the rest rolled smoothly over it, with every wrinkle smoothed out. For the lace veils, a piece of pasteboard the depth of the veil, or a little wider, is useful for keeping them in good condition when they are not worn. Keeping the veils in a flat pasteboard box away from other apparel keeps them still more neatly, and the elegant woman always has some sachet of delicate scent in this receptacle, for the veil is the first scrap of woman's dress to take on a stale, disagreeable odor. A badly soiled veil is injurious to the complexion, and one in bad condition will give the best hat a look of meanness.

Sailor Suits Still Worn.
The sailor suit is always a charming style of dress for a small boy, and is equally pretty in blue serge for cold weather, and in linen, duck, crash or pique for summer. A dark blue and white stripe with a wide collar and cuffs of the same shade of blue is a favorite suit for play, but just at present there is a preference for tans and browns. For the street there should be a jacket of covert-cloth, unless with the child's coloring dark blue serge is more becoming. A wide collar of white, blue or tan linen will make the jacket more attractive.—Harper's Bazar.

Costume Details

ILLUSTRATED are many fascinating ideas, which the woman who is clever with her needle can make for herself from those many oddments picked up at the sales. The three phrases of the Shelley collar are extremely attractive, two with and one without a jabot. Now that there are signs on the horizon that the carefully bonded bodices with the material up to the throat will make its debut in the near future, it is safe to predict that these collars will be requisitioned to break the severity of line. The collar bands with turnover Furitan collars look extremely smart with corsages of this persuasion and are certainly more appropriate for those who have passed the summer of life. Attention must be drawn to the vest of tuck net, which in order to be thoroughly practical should be provided with strings to hold it in position. This model is quite unrivaled for girls for wearing with their blue serge and other frocks. The majority of school authorities commend this style, as they contend, and justly, that lace or net sleeves for children in the school room are quite out of place, as after they have been worn a few hours they lose their first freshness. Another advantage of this vest is that it can easily be removed.

ELEVEN YEARS OF HEALTH.

Kidney Trouble Never Returned. Mrs. Everett Grifth, 2845 E. Indiana Ave., Evansville, Ind., says: "I was certainly in bad shape from kidney disease and it is really a wonder that I am alive today. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and were a brown mally thick. I had bad spells with my head and at times could hardly stand. My left limb below the knees became so badly swollen that I began to treat myself for drops. My back was so sore and lame I could not raise my arms above my head. I was finally induced to take Doan's Kidney Pills and in six weeks I was well. My cure was made in 1900 and I have enjoyed excellent health ever since."

"Mamma," the little girl whispered, "the man in the drawing room wanted me to kiss him."

"Well," replied mamma, "why didn't you let him? I would if I were you." Thereupon Anna ran back into the drawing room, and the minister asked: "Well, little lady, won't you kiss me now?"

"No, I won't," replied Anna promptly, "but mamma says she will."—Exchange.

IMPORTED NURSERY STOCK CARRY DESTRUCTIVE PESTS

Winter Nests of Brown-Tail Moth Brought to This Country From France—General Warning Given to Keep All Plants Under Strict Watch—Insect Exercises Deleterious Effect on Health.

(By C. L. MARLATT, Entomologist, United States Department of Agriculture.) Winter nests of the brown-tail moth, each filled with hundreds of young larvae, and occasional egg masses of the gipsy moth have been brought into the United States, the former in enormous numbers, during 1909-1910 on imported nursery stock, and the importations for the season 1911 are again bringing in these brown-tail moth nests. This infested stock, coming largely from nurseries in northern France, has been scattered widely over the United States east of the Female Gipsy Moth.

Rocky mountains, and while every effort has been made to trace these importations and inspect and disinfect them the probability of many unreported shipments or inefficient inspection is very great.

A general warning is therefore given to all users of such imported plant stock, namely, to nurserymen, fruit raisers, and purchasers of ornamentals for city or part planting, to keep all such imported stock under strict watch to see that these pests do not develop.

It is scarcely necessary to comment on the tremendous danger which the importations of nursery stock of the last three seasons have brought to this country. The enormous cost of the gipsy moth and the brown-tail moth in New England is now well known. Throughout the infested districts of New England orchards have been completely destroyed and forests largely obliterated, and even where woodlands and parks have been protected at an enormous expense their beauty and value have been vastly lessened.

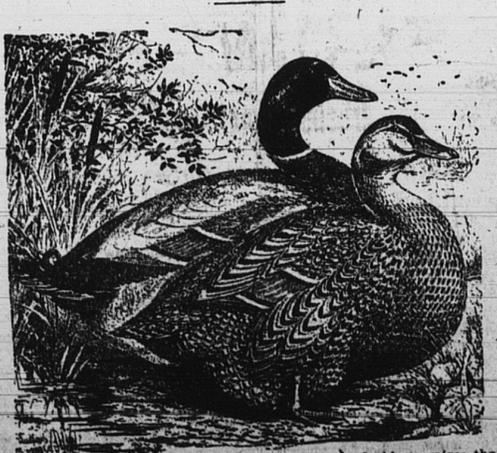

Massachusetts has spent millions of dollars in an effort to control these pests, and with their spread to other states the work of control has been taken up in these also. The National government has been asked to come to the rescue, and is now appropriating $300,000 a year in the mere attempt to check the distribution of these pests along the principal highways. Massachusetts and the other infested New England states are now spending more than a million dollars a year in control work. In spite of these efforts and the enormous expenditure the gipsy moth and the brown-tail moth are steadily spreading in New England and great damage is experienced from them yearly. Extinction is entirely out of the question, and all these expenditures must go on indefinitely at a probably increasing rate, unless some natural check by means of parasites can be brought about.

TWELVE VARIETIES OF DUCKS

There are 12 standard varieties of ducks raised in this country as follows: The white Peking, white Aylesbury, colored Rouen, black Cayuga, colored Muscovy, white Muscovy, Indian runner, gray call, white call, black Indian, crested white and blue Swedish. If these varieties the first seven are considered profitable to raise; the two varieties of calls and the black East India are bantams and are bred more for the show room; the crested white may be considered as almost purely ornamental, while at present but little is known of the blue Swedish in this country. The illustration shows a Rouen drake and duck.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Remember to give the baby plenty of water to drink. Even a small baby suffers from thirst. A wholesome breakfast dish, or in fact good for any meal for a child is wheat, fresh from the granary. Soak it over night and cook for a day or longer, until the kernels are soft. Serve with good milk. This is food unequalled for nutrition and is usually liked by children and grown-ups.

Pine Apple Dessert.—Bake an angel food in a sheet and cut in rounds the size of a slice of canned pineapple. Arrange a slice of cake in a steamed glass, pour over it a little of the pineapple juice that has been sweetened and flavored with lemon juice, then place a piece of pineapple on the cake and dip on a little whipped cream decorated with a cherry.

Try the combination of prunes and kumquats, the tiny Japanese oranges. Cook together after slicing the kumquats.

Cucumber Pickles.—When the cucumber vines begin to bear plentifully put down a few for winter, using the following recipe:

Take a pint of salt, a pound of dry mustard and a gallon of vinegar; mix all together and add the cucumbers daily, fresh from the vines, after washing them carefully and keeping a weight over them. These pickles will be crisp and good for a year.

Bavarian Cream.—Put a quarter of a package of gelatine into a cup of raspberry juice and let it stand until softened. Then add a cup and a half of raspberry juice, the juice of half a lemon and cup of granulated sugar. Stir in a chilled bowl until the mixture begins to set, then fold in a cup and a half of whipped cream. Place in a mold and serve either plain or with whipped cream.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Tea and coffee made hot over the fire before the water is added are more fragrant and stronger.

Wash eggs as they come from the market, and the shells may then be used to settle the coffee.

To keep lemons fresh, put them in a jar and cover them with cold water; in warm weather change the water twice a week.

Keep pieces of charcoal in the refrigerator.

A good fat for all kinds of shortening is butter and beef suet. Melt the butter and pour it off carefully, not to get any of the dregs; add to an equal quantity of beef suet. Use this for pastry cakes and in fact almost any dish where shortening is used.

To separate fats from soups and gravies, wet a cheese cloth in cold water, pour the soup of gravy through it, or wipe the soup carefully with the cloth wet in ice water.

In adding eggs to soups, sauces, etc., remember to add a few tablespoons of the hot liquid to the egg before adding to the large quantity of hot soup or sauce, as that often cooks the egg and makes a curdled mixture.

Chicken or turkey fat are nice to use in the place of butter as shortening or salad dressings.

To clean stained tea and coffee pots, add a teaspoonful of soda to a pint of water and boil for a half an hour. The pots will be as fresh as when new.

If troubled with ants, sprinkle a little tartar emetic around the places where they are seen to enter. This is a poison and should be used carefully, not forgetting to protect your pets.

To clean painted walls, dissolve two ounces of borax in two quarts of water and add a tablespoonful of ammonia. Use half of this quantity to each part of water. Wash and wipe with a clean, dry cloth, a small piece of wall at a time.

Fashion Robbed Many of Work.

A Paris letter to the London Daily Mail says: The fashion of sending great quantities of wreaths to funerals is on the decline in Paris, and as a result five thousand to six thousand workmen and workwomen on whom eighteen thousand persons depend are unemployed.

The decline in the vogue of the wreath is traced to a well known Paris preacher, who urged bereaved relatives to spend their money on masses for the dead instead of on flowers.

My parents were originally Canadians from Essex County, Ontario. I was born in Monroe County, Michigan, from which place I moved to Red Lake Falls, Minnesota, where I farmed for 22 years. I sold my farm there in the summer of 1903 and in September of that year came to Canada with my wife and eight children. I had about $400 in cash, team of horses, a cow, a few sheep and some chickens. I took up a quarter section of land near Jack Fish Lake, Meota P. O., and later on purchased for $2,000.00 an adjoining quarter section. I have now 48 head of cattle, a number of horses, good buildings and consider my holding is worth at least $8,000.00. My children have raised from $300 to $500 worth of garden truck each year since we have been here. I have never had a poor crop and have never had one frosted. My wheat has averaged from 25 to 30 bushels per acre with one or two years considerably more. My oats have always yielded well up to 60 bushels per acre and once or twice as high as 85. My cattle have never been starved in winter, and do not need it. I consider that this country offers better opportunities for settlers than anywhere I have ever been. I am sure that almost any person can come here and buy land at say $15.00 per acre and pay for it in one crop. My experience is that if a man farms his land in the right way he is not likely to have his crop frosted.

Most of the settlers in my district are Americans and Canadians and I know lots of them who came here with little or no capital who are now doing well, but I do not know of any who have left through disappointment, or becoming discouraged, have returned to their former homes.

EUGENE JUBINVILLE.

There are many whose experience is similar to that of Mr. Jubinville. Secure Canadian Government literature from nearest Canadian Government Agent, and see for yourself.

How He Did It.

At the dinner Saturday of the Military Order of Foreign Wars, Capt. Carlyle L. Burridge told of a man who, returning to his domicile at cockcrow, underwent an inspection by his wife, who desired to know how he came to have a large bump on his forehead.

"That? Oh, that's where I bit myself," explained he of the night key.

"Bit yourself?" the lady repeated after him. "How could you bite yourself away up there?"

"Why, I stood on a chair," he said.—Cleveland Leader.

SUGGEST IT.

Next time you're out with friends, and you're all wondering what you can drink to quench the thirst—something that you'll all enjoy—suggest COCA-COLA.

Everyone will thank you for an introduction to the most delicious, refreshing and thirst-quenching beverage that anyone could drink. It is cooling—relieves fatigue and just hits the dry spot. At soda-fountains or carbonated in bottles—5c everywhere.

As to its wholesomeness—write to the COCA-COLA CO., Atlanta, Ga., for a copy of their booklet, "The Truth About COCA-COLA"—compiled by authorities.

Who She Was.

"Well," laughed Squiggles, "some men never know when they are snubbed! That lady you just spoke to was about as distant as they make 'em in her greeting."

"Well, why shouldn't she be?" retorted Jabbers. "She's a distant relative of mine."

"By marriage?"

"No—by divorce. She got rid of me at Sioux Falls back in 1898."—Harper's Weekly.

He Got It.

"Won't you give me an order?" pleaded the too-persistent traveling salesman.

"Certainly. Get out!"

Backache

Is only one of many symptoms which some women endure through weakness or displacement of the womanly organs. Mrs. Lizzie White of Memphis, Tenn., wrote Dr. R. V. Pierce, as follows:

"At times I was hardly able to be on my feet. I believe I had very pain and ache in my back. Had a very bad case. Internal organs were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, in fact, I suffered all over. This was my condition when I wrote to you for advice. After taking your 'Favorite Prescription' for about three months can say that my health was never better."

Is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. Tones and builds up the nerves. Do not permit a dishonest dealer to substitute for this medicine which has a record of 40 years of cures. "No, thank you, I want what I ask for."

HIS PROPERTY.

Old Man—Here, get out of that puddle at once!

Kid—Nii! You go an' find a mud puddle of your own!

Shouldn't He?

A very good natured broker, who is very much larger than his wife, and who likes his little joke at someone else's expense, was sitting in the theater. A man behind him, not knowing who he was, leaned forward and whispered, "will you please ask your wife to remove her hat?"

"You'd better do it yourself. I'm afraid."

Whereupon the man behind became angry, arose, protested and left the theater.

Sure Thing!

Hubby (with newspaper)—Well, well! Another bank gone to smash and none of the directors knew anything about what was going on.

Mrs. Votington—Of course, not! It wouldn't be so if the directors were all women.—Boston Transcript.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the household know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eric, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles, and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. EARDLICH, E. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Tag Day Saturday.

A Tag Day benefit for blind and crippled children will be held throughout Washtenaw county in the following towns: Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, Saline and Milan on Saturday, May 27th.

The great work that has been done by this society in the saving of homeless, friendless children in Michigan, makes it one of the greatest charities in the state.

So numerous have they become as wards of the society that it has become a necessity to ask for help at this time. Who will refuse to buy a tag to help a little blind and crippled child? The society is glad to do this work, but it must have help.

Row Boats Must Carry Lights.

A law which the Michigan legislature has enacted provides that all boats on any lake or stream on which motor boats are run must have a clear white light which shows plainly above the horizon.

Persons at the various lakes who rent boats or canoes will have to see to it that a lantern is attached. Here the owner's responsibility stops, for it is up to the person who rents it to see that the lantern is lighted.

To do away with the trouble of suing, a violation of this law has been made a misdemeanor and is punishable upon conviction of a fine not less than $25, or more than $250.

It is the belief of many that the law, if enforced, will be a preventive of accidents such as have happened on many of the inland lakes of the state and which have resulted in the death of innocent parties.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Chelsea People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Chelsea proof: Mrs. William Taylor, northwestern part of town, Chelsea, Mich., says: "I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney remedy, as they have been used with great benefit in my family."
