THRIFT MEANS MORE

than most persons realize. A thrifty person is economical, not alone of his money, but of his strength, his health, his energy, and his mental powers. The thrifty man squanders neither his substance nor his vitality. But the actual accumulation of money is the outward and visible sign that a man is really thrifty, and, although thrift means more Chelsea Loses to Jackson.

The Chelsea high school team played Jackson, Saturday and though they did not score yet our boys gave them a very hard game. The first touchdown was scored after a punt-out by Dunn, the ball striking Wedemeyer's elbow and bounding into Clark's hands who scored.

Jackson was unsuccessful on many occasions in using the forward pass while our boys were invariably successful, often making 20 and 30 yards. Dunn made repeated gains through their left end while Clark and Spinning for Jackson executed a play through our line which netted them from fifteen to twenty yards every time they tried it.

The interference of the Chelsea boys was very good although it seemed that they ran too far out and in too compact a mass which made it impossible for the half-backs to gain much on end-runs.

The Chelsea boys deserve great credit for the stubborn fight which they made as Jackson certainly has a very strong team. Before the game the Jackson fans were predicting a walkaway by their team with a score, anywhere from thirty to sixty to nothing. It did not take long for our boys to convince them that the game was to be no walkaway. Jackson had the best of the game in the first quarter but our boys clearly outclassed them in the remainder of the game. Several times Chelsea got the ball within striking distance of the Jackson goal but lost the ball on downs or on a fumble and the Clark would punt out to relieve their goal of danger.

The next game will be played Friday of this week against Manchester. If you wish to see our boys win come to Wilkinson's field at 3 p. m.

Grand Chapter O. E. S.

The forty-fifth annual convocation of the O. E. S. met in Jackson Tuesday for a three days session of the grand chapter. Mrs. Jabez Bacon, Worthy Matron of Olive Chapter, and a number of the members were present at the session.

The O. E. S. is distinctively an American product, although the chapters now are worldwide, and its inception was in Michigan many years ago. Like some other Masonic branches, its early days were embarrassed by conflicts and the courts were appealed to. Its good qualities were too apparent to allow personal differences to long hamper its development, and its quickly outgrew the control of any single individual. From this country it has spread to Scotland, England, Australia, New Zealand and the Hawaiian islands, but the general grand chapter of the United States is the recognized chief body of the world, and its word is the last word.

Mrs. Miller, of Oklahoma, M. Gd. W. M. of the general grand chapter of the United States (which means for the world in position) was present at the sessions, also Mrs. Lorain J. Pitkin, of Chicago, Rt. W. Gd. secretary of the general grand chapter.

In Michigan there are 366 chapters. Of this number all but eighteen are located in the lower peninsula. In the state the order has a membership of 47,000.

The attendance exceeded 1,200, not all of whom were delegates. Each chapter is entitled to three representatives, except eighteen in the upper peninsula, which, from the distance to be traveled, content themselves with one delegate. In addition to the authorized delegates, the meeting appeals to those in the order who enjoy such occasions, and they are entitled to all the privileges and entertainments provided.

Forty Hours Adoration Service.

The forty hours adoration service in the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart will open next Sunday morning and will be continued through Monday and Tuesday. Sunday, low mass at 8 a. m.; high mass, sermon and procession at 10:30 a. m.; vesper service at 7:30 p. m. Monday, low mass 5:30 a. m.; high mass 8:30 a. m.; rosary and benediction 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, low mass 5:30 a. m.; high mass 8:30 a. m.; rosary, sermon, chanting of the litany and procession with benediction 7:30 p. m. All services will be held on sun time. Rev. Father Command, of Trenton, will have charge of the devotion and will be assisted by Rt. Rev. Monsignor DeBever, of Dexter, Rev. Fathers Fisher, of Manchester, Hallissy, of Hudson, Hayes, of Coldwater; Grace, of Hillsdale, Marker, of Dearborn, and Soest, of Whitaker.

Attention, Firemen.

Nomination of officers for the ensuing year will be held Thursday evening, October 19. All members are requested to be present.

FOUR ACCIDENTS.

William D. Arnold, John Lucha, Carl Carlson and George Brady Injured.

William D. Arnold met with a serious accident about five o'clock Monday afternoon that will confine him to his home for several weeks.

Mr. Arnold was working on a new house which J. N. Dancer is having built on the Boulevard sub-division of R. B. Waltros. He was engaged in putting up the eavetroughs and the top rung of the ladder on which he was standing gave away and he fell to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet, breaking his right leg just below the thigh bone. Workmen on the building went to his assistance and he was removed to his home where the fracture was reduced by Dr. G. W. Palmer.

The fracture is a bad one and it will undoubtedly be a number of weeks before Mr. Arnold will be able to return to his work in the tin shop of Holmes & Walker.

John L. Lucha, who is employed in the forge department of the Flanders Mfg. Co., had his left eye badly injured about four o'clock Monday afternoon. Another employe who was working near the injured man was cutting up some material with a sledge and cold chisel and a piece of the steel, about the size of a dime, broke off the chisel and struck Mr. Lucha in the left eye. He was taken to Dr. Palmer's office where he was given temporary treatment. In the evening he went to the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor where the injured eye was removed.

Carl Carlson, who is employed by the Flanders Mfg. Co., dislocated his left shoulder Monday noon. At the time of the accident he was scuffling with a friend, Dr. B. Dafendorf reduced the dislocation.

George Brady, of Jackson, the contractor who has charge of the Main street paving met with a painful accident about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He was oiling a hot box on the cement mixing machine and got his left hand caught. The thumb was broken and the back of the hand very badly mangled. He was taken to Dr. Palmer's office where the injured hand was dressed.

Get Rich Quick Wallingford.

"Get Rich Quick Wallingford," the famous comedy from the pen of Geo. M. Cohan, will be the attraction at the new Whitney theatre, Ann Arbor, Thursday, October 19. This play is one of the greatest success that has been launched in the amusement field for many seasons. The tremendous vogue of the piece has been the means of securing for it the longest run ever recorded in New York City for a straight comedy and everybody agrees that it is the best play Geo. M. Cohan's prolific pen has yet turned out. This is indeed a tribute to young Mr. Cohan whose career has yet to record a failure.

Prototypes of Wallingford, the shrewd financial conspirator of the comedy classic, are to be found in countless numbers, but to vitalize and visualize the type as the author has done, to present him in a way that awakens the sympathy and compels the love of an audience which, though realizing that he is no more nor less than a commercial buccaneer, are still in accord with his get rich quick schemes, is a piece of stage craft equalled by few playwrights of modern times.

School Notes.

Hannah and Fred Hall of Philadelphia entered school this week.

The first test examination will be held this week, Thursday and Friday.

George Turnbull re-entered school Monday after being out for two weeks.

Roy and Pearl Maier, who have been out of school on account of sickness, returned Monday.

The attendance in the kindergarten primary department has become so large that some provision will soon have to be made to take care of them.

The percentage of attendance for the last month was over 98 per cent which was very high considering the number who have been out on account of sickness.

Kicked by a Mad Horse.

Samuel Birch, of Beetown, Wis., had a most narrow escape from losing his leg, as no doctor could heal the frightful sore that had developed, but at last Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it completely. It's the greatest healer of ulcers, burns, boils, eczema, scalds, cuts, corns, cold-sores, bruises and piles on earth. Try it 25c. at L. P. Vogel, H. H. Fenn Co., L. T. Freeman Co.

Board of Supervisors.

The board of supervisors convened in its annual session in Ann Arbor Monday forenoon.

Mayor Walz's appointee, James Finnell of the Seventh ward, of Ann Arbor, was seated in place of Supervisor Henry Bilton who recently moved out of the ward. The supervisors decided to begin their sessions at 10:30 and at 1:30 as usual and confirmed the committee appointments of Chairman Fred Halst of Lima. The chairman appointed Supervisors Hoey, Hunter and Every as a committee on special order of business and announced the appointment of the following standing committee, after which the board adjourned till 1:30.

On equalization—Beckwith, Dresselhouse, Oesterline, Richards, McCullough.

To examine reports of county officers: Treasurer—Lutz, Hutzel, Gensley; county clerk—Jedele, Lawson, Gill; register of deeds, Dresselhouse, Bilbie; sheriff—Renau, Martin, Ryan.

On appointment of state and county taxes, Hoey, Smith, Heatley. On public buildings, Oesterline, Hunter, Beckwith.

On rejected taxes, Hutzel, McCullough, Krapf.

To examine accounts of the superintendents of the poor, Koebbe, Bilbie, Holmes.

On finance, Bilbie, Hiscock, Lutz. On fractional school districts, Gensley, Martin, Rehberg.

On drains, Holmes, Koebbe, Finnell. On printing, Heatley, Pardon, Ryan.

On salaries of county officers, Madden, Hiscock, Jedele, Lawson, Every.

On per diem, Every, Krapf, Gill.

At the afternoon the board adopted the following order of business: Tuesday, October 10, 10:30, report of the county clerk; 2 p. m., report of the sheriff.

Wednesday, 10:30 a. m., treasurer's report; 1:30 p. m., report of the register of deeds.

Thursday, visit the county house.

Friday, 10:30 a. m., report of the drain commissioner; election of a school examiner; 2 p. m., report of the Soldiers' Relief commission.

Monday, October 16, 10:30 a. m., discussion of the good roads movement; 2 p. m., report of S. W. Beakes on the proceedings of the state board of equalization at whose meetings he represented this county.

Tuesday, 10:30, report of the superintendents of the poor; 1:45 p. m., election of a superintendent of the poor; election of a janitor.

Wednesday, 10:30, report of the prosecuting attorney on the ex-drain commissioner; 11:30, receive bids on printing; 2 p. m., receive bids for place of jail position.

Thursday, 10:30, receive report of the county auditors.

Friday, 10:30, miscellaneous business.

A New State Bank.

The village of Munith is not to be without a bank. It is learned that for weeks past, even before the Geo. H. Sweet bank failed, there was a movement on foot to organize a state bank, in that town, but when Sweet failed, the proposition remained at a standstill for a time, but last Thursday the stockholders of the new bank had a meeting, and it is expected the new bank will be doing business within a couple of weeks. Its organization is being perfected by B. S. Rockwell, who was cashier of the old bank when it was owned and operated by Weber & Co., the parties from whom George H. Sweet purchased. Those who are backing financially the new bank are Munith business men and well-to-do farmers in Henrietta and Waterloo townships.

It has not been determined, as yet where the new bank will be located. There is some talk of instituting it in the same building where the old one was located, but there are some prejudices against that because of the failure of the old one. Options have been secured on two different store buildings there, one of which is vacant, but it is the idea of the stockholders to erect a fire proof building of their own within a year or so. They have gone as far as to get an option on a lot on which to construct the building. B. S. Rockwell will be the cashier of the new bank.

Ticket Sale.

Parties desiring tickets for the Choral Union concerts at Ann Arbor can now secure the same of Miss Helene Steinbach. The seat reservation for the mid-winter Choral Union concerts will begin next Saturday at 9 a. m. at the University School of Music, and on that day and on Monday any seat in the hall may be reserved for 75 cents. The next two days all that are left may be reserved for 50 cents and after that for 25 cents. The system is a new one this year.

BEAUTIES OF SUNNY SPAIN

Fair Maidens of Andalusia Often Wait Years for Matrimony, Though Not Willingly.

Andalusian girls are, as a rule, singularly graceful, with small hands and feet. Their complexions are pale, with the exception of those who live by the sea or in mountainous places, such as Ronda, where the women have always been noted for their beauty.

When at last a marriage takes place, the bride has often to reside with her mother-in-law, to whom she requires her to be most subservient. Extremely devoted to their own mothers, Andalusian girls are in no hurry to marry should their doing so require them to live at any distance from their old home.

What Others Are Doing. Somebody has thought it worth while to say that gossip is as necessary to a woman as food and drink.

The creature who simply lives for gossip is as likely to be found in breeches as petticoats. We all know men whose flow of little tattle is not to be surpassed by any feminine ingenuity or industry.

To like to know what other folks are doing and saying and thinking is not malicious or undignified. It is merely a proof that you are healthily alive. Of course, you can overdo it. You can be too greedy in the matter of gossip, as with other good and stimulating things.

An Island for Duck Shooters. Little Singer Island, only 10 by 22 feet, will be sold this week for $15,000, representing the highest price paid for a piece of land of such small dimensions ever to be recorded.

Although Little Singer Island only contains 220 square feet of land rising from the waters of Black Bay, Virginia, its value lies in the fact that it forms a natural battery for shooting ducks, and is located at the lead to the great Virginia and Carolina ducking grounds.

The Child That is Nagged. A child that is nagged at never holds itself well. Its deportment betrays its mental attitude, and to the trained eye of the physical training instructor the round shoulder and apologetic air tell their own story in the case of a child whose physique otherwise reveals no sign of constitutional weakness.

Little Nelly told little Anita what she termed a "little fib." Anita—a fib is the same as a story, and a story is the same as a lie.

Superior. "Did you sell your vote?" "No, siree. I voted for that feller 'cause I liked him."

Increasing Tomato Crop. The tomato crop is materially increased this year. The third tier of tomatoes have set, we cut off every leaf, and the plants are now in full bearing.

WRECK ON D. U. R. NEAR ROCHESTER

LIMITED CAR AND WORK TRAIN COME TOGETHER; TWO KILLED AND DOZEN HURT.

SLOWNESS OF MOTORMAN'S WATCH CAUSE OF WRECK.

Investigation Shows Work Train Train Motorman's Watch Was About Twenty-two Minutes Slow.

Two men were killed and ten men and two women more or less seriously injured when a limited car and a work train collided on a curve on the Flint division of the D. U. R., near Rochester.

The limited was northbound, having left Detroit, and was running under orders giving it a clear track to Orion. As it rounded a sharp curve a mile and a quarter north of Rochester, going at the high speed called for by the limited schedule, Motorman J. Kontz saw in the deepening twilight a work train coming toward him rear end first.

He reversed his motors, threw on the air, but the distance was too short to avert a collision. Just before the crash came he jumped, landing safely at the side of the right of way. His conductor, S. Hill warned by the sudden shock of the reversed motors, also jumped.

Two Killed Were Terribly Mangled. In the smoker were found the bodies of Rollin Lee, of Oxford, and George Pollin, of Flint. Both must have been instantly killed, for their heads were crushed and cut so that they were almost unrecognizable.

Physicians were immediately summoned from Rochester, Orion and Oxford, and were rushed to the scene in automobiles. As soon as the injured were all out the second section of the limited, to which they had been carried, was backed to Rochester. Here they were transferred to another car and, attended by three doctors, were rushed to Detroit, where they were taken to Harper hospital.

Motorman's Slow Watch Cause of Collision. Investigation after the wreck shows that the watch of Harry Huber, who was in charge of the work train, was 22 minutes slow. He and his conductor, Charles Larkin, had orders to sidetrack at Lake Orion junction to let the limited pass. Looking at his watch, Huber figured that he had plenty of time, but when he rounded Young's curve, there was the limited rushing toward him. He yelled to Larkin and both jumped just in time.

Immediately after the D. U. R. had cared for the injured, wrecking cars were rushed to the scene, and the battered cars and all other evidences of the wreck were quickly cleared away.

Corporation Tax Hearing Oct. 24. The special commission appointed by Gov. Osborn to delve into the taxation system of the state, and which has evolved a plan for taxing corporations on the values as income producers, has sent its report to the printer, and late this week 10,000 copies will have been struck off.

Mine Values Cut $33,150,000. After a week's hearings in Marquette, Gogebic, Dickinson and Iron counties, the state tax commission announced the valuation of all the known iron mines on the Michigan ranges at $35,637,000. This is a reduction of $33,150,000 from the final valuation of $119,150,000, but a heavy increase over the figures of the local assessors. The tax commission's valuations by counties, compared with the local assessors' valuations by counties are as follows, the first column being the tax commission's valuations:

Table with 3 columns: County, Commission valuation, Assessor valuation. Rows include Marquette, Gogebic, Iron, Dickinson.

Copper Merger is Dropped. The copper insurgents of Michigan have won out. The proposed merger with a number of smaller copper mining companies in this state has been called off. The insurgents filed injunction suits to stop the merger, and the officers of the C. & H. declined rather than to have a long fight for the consolidation they would drop it.

While the state law does not make it a crime to carry concealed weapons in any city under 150,000 Jackson does not intend that any of its residents shall tote firearms without making themselves liable to punishment, and to this end a drastic ordinance against the practice will be introduced before the council in the very near future.

MICHIGAN NEWS IN BRIEF

Saginaw plans to have stock yards to compete with Detroit's.

W. D. Hill, Crystal Falls, is a new president of the U. P. Educational association.

The most successful fair ever held in Alpena county closed Friday. The display of apples and other fruits was exceptionally fine.

Sheriff Parkhurst has been asked to find the thief who recently stole one of the 40-pound cannon balls from the court house yard in Flint.

Visitors who journey to the nation's capital to view the great public buildings, will be permitted to visit the national museum on Sundays hereafter.

The last vestige of the old Central high school in Grand Rapids was removed when the cornerstone which was laid in 1866 was removed and opened.

W. R. Burt, the Saginaw philanthropist, has purchased the Hoyt farm, at the outskirts of the city, for the Northeastern Fair association. The price paid for the farm was $30,000.

Mumth is to have a state bank to take the place of the private institution owned by George Sweet, which failed. The stockholders are to be farmers and merchants. B. S. Rockwell will be cashier.

The inquest over the bodies of the two men killed in the D. U. R. wreck at Young's curve, near Rochester, has been adjourned until October 17. During the meantime the state railroad commission will make an investigation.

Grand Traverse county supervisors adopted a petition made by the Grand Traverse Fair association to submit the question of bonding for funds for a driving park. This was possible under an act passed by the late legislature.

In view of the fact that all the counties are without protection, since the concealed weapon law was repealed, the Port Huron commission is about to pass a new ordinance. One of the aldermen declares that hatpins should be included.

Zion City has formally repudiated the ecclesiastical rule enforced by the late John Alexander Dowle and will no longer submit to church or religious discipline. Instead, it will be governed, as are other cities, by a mayor and council.

William Wade, a former out on parole, telephoned Sheriff Campbell at Kalamazoo that he was in Chicago and had broken his parole by leaving the state. He then walked into a Chicago police station and gave himself up. He will be brought back.

Frank Riley was convicted in the circuit court in Jackson on a charge of having taken Dora Bordick, a 14-year-old girl, to Detroit, where they were married. Riley is 33. The girl was sent to the state home at Adrian. Riley will be sentenced later.

Dr. Warthin of the university hospital, Ann Arbor, says he would rather be housed with a leper than with a consumptive, and that he supposes Michigan's only leper, Morlius Jensen of Calumet, could be given a place in the U. of M. hospital.

A Sons of Veterans camp is to be instituted in Union City. Thirty charter members have been secured, and the camp will undoubtedly be named Buell Camp, in memory of a local civil war veteran who died in service.

Soon after antitoxin had been administered to Felicia, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Harriet M. Stafford, of Battle Creek, the child died. She hadn't had diphtheria, but had been exposed, and the mother wished to have it off.

Alderman Gay, at a meeting of the Saginaw city council, introduced a resolution asking for an investigation of the coal situation in Saginaw. The alderman said that the price of coal in Saginaw had been steadily rising for the last seven years. The mayor appointed a committee, on which he and the city attorney, with members of the council, will serve.

Litigation unique in the annals of Lake Superior iron mining has been instituted by the Iron River Ore Co. in the Iron county circuit court. John J. Sipchen, of Iron River, is the defendant. Mr. Sipchen is charged with having conducted a propaganda detrimental to the company in that it is alleged to have deterred capital from investing in the enterprise. Damages to the extent of $100,000 are asked.

WISCONSIN TOWN SUFFERS BY FLOOD

BLACK RIVER FALLS, WIS., IS NEARLY WIPED FROM THE MAP.

WIDE AREA INUNDATED BY FLOOD; FOOD SCARCE.

Whole Population Watch Enormous Flood Sweep Away Their Homes and Call on Nation for Help.

Black Falls, Wis., a town of 2,000 inhabitants, has been almost blotted from the map of Wisconsin by the flood-water of Black river. Only a few of the 61 business houses have escaped the fury of the raging waters and they seem doomed.

Within a few hours this rich center of a prosperous farming region will have little to boast except that it was the scene of a catastrophe.

What is known as Lower Town, that part of the town lying west of the river, was a place of misery. There most of the residents live. Following a night of anxiety and suffering, they faced the realization that no food was available.

Many homes have been demolished and frequently several families share food which would not be enough for one family.

Every grocery store and market has been swept away by the deluge. Provisions will come from the outside, but transportation is impeded by washouts.

Two dozen dwellings have been carried away. So far as can be ascertained there have been no deaths.

Everything on the four business streets, comprising the heart of the town, has been swept away. The Northwestern railroad bridge over the Black river at that point is still standing, but it is swaying as though the heavy spans were supported only by cables. Train service is cut off at Black River and no one is even allowed to cross foot.

At Hatfield, 10 miles above Black River Falls, the river had cut a new channel. The main channel has moved over 500 feet to what was dry land.

At the dam the pressure has ceased and the waters have fallen far below the crest. The main part of the dam is still standing. The power house two miles down from Holland was flooded.

Two dams gave out in Chippewa Falls, Wis., and one at Bloomer. The country is flooded. The Chippewa river runs 8 feet in 10 hours. Water is running in the streets as a result of an 18 hours' down-pour of rain.

Several farm houses floated down the stream that passed around the west end of the Hatfield dam. Water 11 feet deep flowed over the top of the dam and tore away the bridge at Black River Falls. The families that occupied the floated houses, it is feared, perished. Hatfield is under water, but it is thought that no lives were lost there.

Authorize Stock for Electric Line. The state railroad commission Friday authorized the Michigan & Indiana Traction company to incorporate and issue stock in the sum of $750,000.

The new company intends to promote an electric railroad from Coldwater to Battle Creek via Union City and Athens. Five thousand dollars' worth of the stock is to be common, and $2,500 6 per cent preferred. P. M. Dunn, of Chicago, is at the head of the new firm, while Walter Powers, of Battle Creek, is also interested.

Maccabees Plan to Endow Beds. Plans for endowing in perpetuity beds in various Michigan hospitals, where members in need of surgical treatment can be cared for, were formulated by the executive committee of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees at a meeting. An expenditure of $50,000 will be necessary to endow beds in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and in one or two cities in the upper peninsula. The medical examiner was empowered to work out a plan of caring for members suffering from tuberculosis.

Tax Increase Put on Alpena. The Michigan tax commission, following the session in Alpena, has raised the total valuation of Alpena from a trifle over $6,000,000 to nearly $9,500,000, or an average increase of 57 per cent. The principal increases are: Fletcher Paper Co., $200,000 to $250,000; Huron Portland Cement Co., $250,000 to $750,000; Michigan Alkali Co., $200,000 to $450,000.

The supervisors meet next week; they may re-equalize. The alumni of the Michigan Normal college, Ypsilanti, are planning for the biggest reunion and banquet of former Normalites that has ever happened when the teachers of Michigan meet in Detroit this fall.

GENERAL NEWS IN BRIEF

Ten men were killed and others injured in a cave-in in the Canadian Northwestern construction camp near Lakewood, southeast of Vancouver.

OPEN SCHOOL FOR FARMERS

M. A. C. Plans Experiment in Agricultural Institution.

The Michigan Agricultural College believes in getting down to first principles in the education of the farmer, and is planning local schools of instruction, such as have never been held before in this state. One will open in December, with the farmers in classes, studying and reciting just like youngsters. The instructors will be professors from the college, assisted by local public school teachers, and the subjects will be of prime value to the farmer. The local high school has opened a course in agriculture, and the college works in conjunction therewith. The college is of the opinion that the experiments will prove of far more value than the ordinary lectures and institutes, and it will be watched with considerable interest.

Aged Convict Banker Wins Freedom. John R. Walsh, the convicted Chicago banker, has been released from Leavenworth prison. The action is the result of almost continuous effort since his conviction several years ago.

Walsh was sentenced in 1908 to serve five years, following his conviction in Chicago. Walsh's case in many respects is similar to that of Charles W. Morse, the New York banker, serving a term in the federal prison at Atlanta. Morse recently gave up his fight for a pardon. Walsh was found guilty of having, as president, misappropriated the funds of the Chicago National bank, having used the funds in various speculative enterprises.

SPLENDID CANADIAN CROPS

Wheat, Oats and Barley Universally Good Throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The reports that come to hand from the wheat fields of the western Canadian provinces show remarkably good yields in all parts. Yields are recorded of wheat going 35 and 40 bushels in many places, and oats from 60 to 100 bushels per acre. Barley and flax are splendid. The thousands of Americans throughout the United States who have friends in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta will be pleased to learn of the great success that has followed their efforts. Many of these have not confined themselves to the growing of grain, but have also gone into the cattle industry. On the luxurious grasses that are so abundant there, in almost all districts, make this industry safe and profitable. The land sales reported by the railway companies and by the different land companies show the great increase that will likely take place during the next year in farming operations. What has been said time and time again may now be well repeated, that there is no place on the American continent where the same opportunities are afforded the man looking for a home, for the young man starting out in life, the man with a growing up family, who desires wider scope for his ambition. The Canadian government agents located at different points in the states will be glad to advise the reader of the conditions, and relate to him instances of the great success that has followed farming in Western Canada.

Some Mosquitoes. "Yes," said the traveler who had just returned from South Africa. "I was one day so annoyed by mosquitoes that I was compelled to take refuge in an old iron safe which lay discarded on the vault."

"My first emotions of joy at my happy deliverance were hardly over when the mosquitoes, scenting me, began to drive their stingers through the safe. Fortunately, I had a hammer in my pocket, and as fast as their stingers came through the iron I clinched them, until at length such a host of them, was fastened down in this way that, when they started to fly away, they carried me and that safe miles."

"Then, one by one, they died with the exertion, and I was able to come out with safety. Yes, wonderful things happen in foreign parts."—Ideas.

This One is on-Union. "When I came into the Union station the other morning, after traveling all night," said Hugh Reilly, at the Commercial club, "I went into the barber shop. 'When you spend the night in a sleeping car,' I said to the barber, 'it doesn't improve your personal appearance, does it?'"

"Well," said he, as he looked me over, "I don't know how you looked when you started, but perhaps you're right."—Washington Herald.

Overheard in Venice. "Isn't it romantic, John dear," said she as they sat in the little Venetian garden, "to sit here and listen to these Italian troubadours singing their ballads bathed in the moonlight?"

"Yes, dear," replied John with a deep-drawn sigh. "But I sometimes wish they'd bathe in something besides moonlight, don't you. It might be less romantic, but it would be a darn sight more hygienic."—Harper's Weekly.

A Superior Person. F. H. Elliott, the secretary of the American Automobile association, was talking about a somewhat supercilious and conceited millionaire. "He's a very superior person," Mr. Elliott said, smiling. "He's the sort of person who would be sure to go to a horse show in a motor car and to an automobile show in a monoplane."

Early Standards of Menacity. Eve meditated. "I think that story Adam told me is a lie out of the whole lot," she announced.

Why is it that so many people suffer with lame back? Hamline Wizard Oil will cure it and for Aches, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, etc. there is nothing better.

I should say sincerity, a deep, great genuine sincerity, is the first characteristic of all men in any way heroic.—Carlyle.

WAITING IS HARD TO DO

Meet of the Chagrin and Remorse We Get for Ourselves is Due to Impatience. Wait! Is there anything in the world so hard to do? And is there anything so necessary to learn? Most of the chagrin and remorse we get for ourselves is due to impatience. If we had waited the clouds would have passed, if we had waited the fatal word would not have been spoken, if we had waited love would have turned again. To wait does not mean to be idle or indecisive. It means, time your effort! What is impossible now may be easy at six o'clock. About four-fifths of any success is the ingredient of time. To know when, is fully as important as to know how. Wait for the boy to grow! What you cannot lead him to at ten he will come to at twenty. The best things in the world grow. They mature and ripen. You can build a house in a few days, but it takes a tree years to be complete; and a tree is more wonderful than a house. The higher the grade of your thought and feeling, the more you need to learn to wait. In education, in government and in religion especially we have to reckon with what Emerson calls "The slow maturing of the human mind." I read somewhere the whimsy saying of a wise woman, that there were three things that amused her: The first was climbing trees to shake down the fruit, which if left alone would fall by and of itself; the second was going to war to kill men, who in a few years would all die naturally, and the third was that men should run after women, when, if the men would wait, the women would run after them.—Dr. Frank Crane.

HATED ADVERSE CRITICISM

Actor Retorts to Critic's Opinion With a George Washington Story. The late Frank Worthing, the well-known actor, was the subject of a recent discussion at the Pen and Pencil club in Philadelphia. A dramatic critic said: "Worthing, though a superb actor, hated adverse criticism—hyper-criticism he always called it. To some adverse criticism of mine he retorted one winter night at the Majestic, with a George Washington story. "He said I reminded him in my critical remarks of a Scot named Saunders. "Saunders," said an American, 'did you ever read the history of America?' "Aweel, I canna say I hev," Saunders replied. "Then I'll lend you the book," said the American. 'I'd like you to read about George Washington.' "What about him?" Saunders inquired coldly. "George Washington," said the American, "was celebrated in history as the boy who couldn't tell a lie." "Could he no?" said Saunders. "Man, there's no muckle to boast about in that. He couldn't lie, ye say? Noo we Scot's has a higher standard of veracity. We can lie, but we won't!"

Where We Come In

Some one has said that "any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to save it." Like many other well known sayings that one is not true, because "any fool" cannot make money. Those characteristics are usually found in the man who is a successful money maker are not as a general rule present in the make-up of a fool. To the latter part of the above statement, however, we cordially subscribe, for it takes not only wisdom to save money, but patience, determination and self-sacrifice as well. No valuable thing comes easy. A fat bank account is a cheerful thing to contemplate, but to secure it is no snap. No man can accumulate without using the services of a good bank, and there is where we come in. We help in the savings process, we make it easy and convenient to save and we encourage the habit of paying you for doing it. If you have not opened an account yet, begin next pay day. Get a start, if only with a five-dollar bill. You owe it to your family and yourself to save something.

MUNYON PREACHES HOPE PHILOSOPHY

New Association Gaining Many Members.

FAITH'S CURATIVE POWER

NOTED HEALTH EXPERT GIVES REASON FOR BIG SUCCESS IN MEDICINE

Tremendous success has attended the organization of the new Munyon "Hope Club".

"I want to talk to every sick, ailing and dependent person in this city. I want to preach my new creed to them."

"I want to expound the Great Truth that I have learned that there is more curative power in an ounce of Hope than in pounds of Dope."

"I think that probably a million persons at least in the United States have declared themselves cured by my medicines."

"I am not in any sense a practicing physician. I employ at my laboratories in Philadelphia a large staff of expert physicians and chemists."

Write today, addressing Prof. J. M. Munyon personally and your letter will have a special care.

130th ANNIVERSARY OF THE SURRENDER OF CORNWALLIS

GREAT EVENT WHICH MADE INDEPENDENCE DAY A REALITY

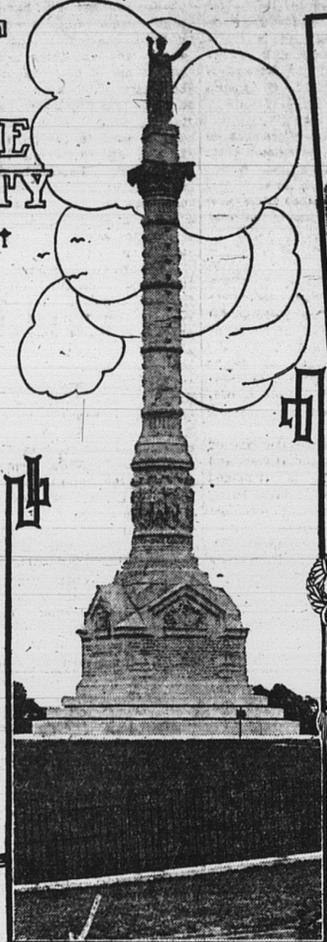

By JOHN D. GRANT

THE great event of the Revolutionary war, the event that marked the end of despotic British rule in this country and made Independence day a reality, is to be celebrated this year with a greater display of patriotic enthusiasm than is usual in the commemoration of great historic events in this country.

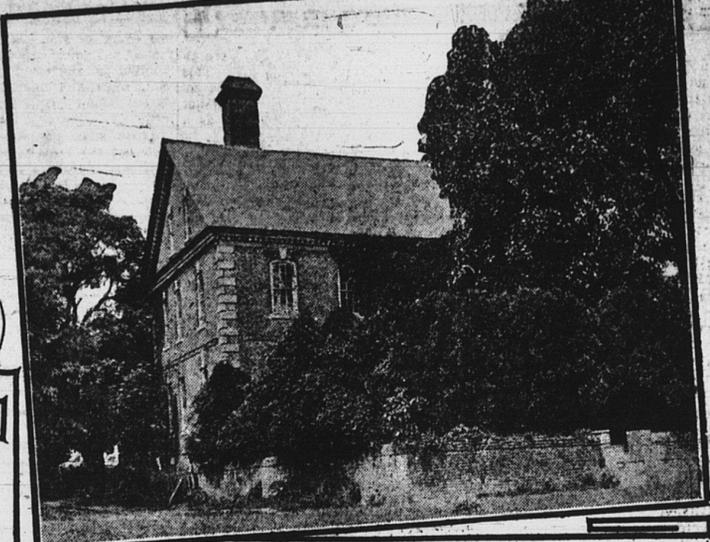

Yorktown, Va., on October 19 with an inspiring naval and military display. The country's greatest statesmen will participate in the exercises in which the lofty spirit of true patriotism will be the predominating feature.

The pretty little city of Yorktown is enshrined with many memories of this country's desperate struggle for liberty and of its final triumph. Buildings which figured prominently in the negotiations between Washington and Cornwallis, which practically resulted in ending the war, are still standing, preserved as monuments to the patriots who erected on this continent a free and independent commonwealth.

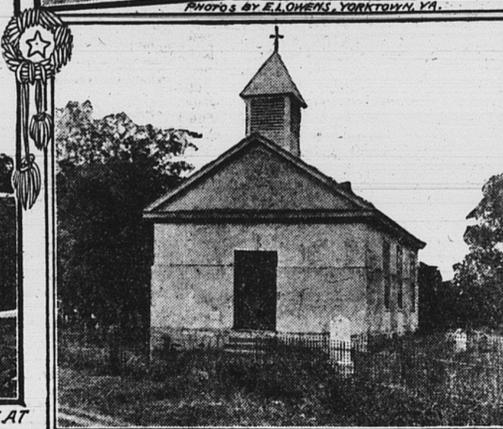

The downfall of Cornwallis, which also spelled the end of British hopes for retaining

NATIONAL MONUMENT AT YORKTOWN

NELSON HOUSE - CORNWALLIS' HEADQUARTERS DURING SIEGE

GRACE CHURCH AT YORKTOWN

1740, was the home of Thomas Nelson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, a governor of Virginia, and finally a major-general in the American army.

This sturdy relic of many wars was the official headquarters of Lord Cornwallis as head of the British army during the siege of 1781. After the close of the war it marked the renewal not only of a friendship between soldiers, but the friendship of nations.

In 1881 a centennial celebration of the victory over Cornwallis was held at Yorktown and the cornerstone of the national monument was laid with elaborate ceremonies in the presence of a great concourse of people.

Grace church, which figured prominently in the historic events just related, is still used as a place of worship. The edifice is of masonry construction and was built in 1700.

The oldest custom house in the United States is interesting at Yorktown and is one of the most interesting of the historic buildings. It was built in 1781 and was the port of entry for New York, Philadelphia and many other of our great cities when they were in their infancy.

Yorktown was also the scene of considerable activity at one period during the Civil war. When General McClellan began the Peninsula campaign April 4, 1862, he found Yorktown fortified and a line drawn from the town across the peninsula to the mouth of the Warwick river.

Yorktown is the county seat of York county, Virginia, and is situated about 70 miles south-east of Richmond, on the York river.

Among the most singular archaeological remains found in Great Britain are the ancient dew ponds, the construction of which is ascribed to the neolithic age.

The victors found the little town of York, which at that time contained about sixty houses in a state of absolute dilapidation.

At ten o'clock on the morning of the 17th of October, 1781, the British beat a parley, and Lord Cornwallis proposed a cessation of hostilities for twenty-four hours that commissioners might meet at the house of a Mr. Moore in the rear of the first American parallel.

Washington, who had heretofore resisted entreaties to remove the army from New York for operations in the south, determined to cooperate with Admiral de Grasse in an attack upon Cornwallis.

FIRST CUSTOM HOUSE IN U.S. - AT YORKTOWN

ROOM IN MOORE HOUSE WHERE WASHINGTON PREPARED ARTICLES OF SURRENDER

the colonies under the sway of King George's tyrannical power, was brought about by the masterly tactics of General Washington.

Cornwallis' invasion of Virginia followed a long and unsuccessful campaign in North Carolina. The British general made up his mind that his exhausting labors there would prove unprofitable until Virginia was subjugated.

On April 25, 1781, he started northward from Wilmington, N. C. He reached Petersburg, Va., May 20, and during the next two weeks attempted to capture Lafayette, who was in command of the small American forces for the defense of Virginia.

General Anthony Wayne with 1,000 infantry and six guns. The British commander so far followed in his objects, had to march back to Richmond and thence to Williamsburg, near the coast, thus practically abandoning control over any part of Virginia except where naval forces gave possession.

Lafayette effected a junction with Baron Steuben on June 18, and thus increased his force to about 4,000 men. The Americans had now become the pursuers instead of the pursued, and followed the British, harassing their rear and flanks.

Soon afterward the British army concentrated at Portsmouth and preparations were under way to transport a considerable portion of it to New York, when Cornwallis received orders from General Clinton, the British commander-in-chief, to fortify Old Point Comfort at the present Fortress Monroe, and if advisable, Yorktown.

Obeying these instructions, Cornwallis ordered a survey of Old Point Comfort, but on the advice of his engineers was obliged to represent to Clinton that it was wholly unfit and inadequate for a naval station.

Then, following what he believed to be the spirit of his orders, Cornwallis, before hearing from Clinton, moved up to Yorktown and began to fortify it in connection with Gloucester, on the opposite shore.

Meanwhile Washington and Rochambeau, with the allied French and American forces, were at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., menacing New York city and awaiting the arrival of the promised French fleet under Admiral de Grasse.

That officer wrote that he expected to sail for Chesapeake Bay on August 13, but that he would remain in American waters only a short time.

Washington, who had heretofore resisted entreaties to remove the army from New York for operations in the south, determined to cooperate with Admiral de Grasse in an attack upon Cornwallis.

under Governor Nelson at Williamsburg. The French fleet, September 5, defeated the British under Admiral Graves, and then held the Chesapeake to prevent British reinforcements.

Washington took position before Yorktown September 28, and the night of the 29th Cornwallis abandoned his outer works before the enemy. The first of October finds our engineers reconnoitering the position and works of the enemy.

The 2d witnessed the gallantry of the Duke de Lauzun and his legion in driving back Tarleton, whose raids so long had been the terror of Virginia and the Carolinas. On the 6th, the allied armies broke ground for their final parallel, and proceeded to mount their batteries on the 7th and 8th.

On the 9th, two batteries were opened—Washington himself applying the torch to the first gun; and on the 10th three or four more were in play, silencing the enemy's works. On the 11th, the indefatigable Steuben was breaking the ground for our second parallel, within less than 400 yards of the enemy, which was finished the next morning, and more batteries were mounted on the 13th and 14th.

But the great achievement of the siege still awaits its accomplishment. Two advanced British redoubts are blocking the way to any further approach, and they must be stormed. The allied troops divide the danger and the glory between them, and emulate each other in the assault. One of the redoubts is assigned to the French grenadiers and chasseurs under de Viomesnil. The other is assigned to the American light infantry under Lafayette.

Both redoubts were soon captured and the fate of Cornwallis was sealed. "A small and precipitate sortie," as Washington calls it, was made by the British on the following evening, resulting in nothing. The next day a vain attempt to evacuate their works and to escape by crossing over to Gloucester was defeated by a violent storm.

At ten o'clock on the morning of the 17th of October, 1781, the British beat a parley, and Lord Cornwallis proposed a cessation of hostilities for twenty-four hours that commissioners might meet at the house of a Mr. Moore in the rear of the first American parallel.

Washington replied with a grant of two hours' cessation, that terms might be proposed in writing. Finding their general tenor admissible, hostilities were suspended for the night, and Washington proposed his own terms. Commissioners were appointed, Colonel Laurens, the Vicomte de Noailles, and M. de Grandchain on the part of Washington; Lieutenant Colonel Dundas and Major Ross on that of Cornwallis.

The 18th was consumed in negotiations, which

Washington brought to a close by having the draft of the agreement copied, sending it on the morning of the 19th, and demanding that it should be signed by eleven, and the garrison march out at two o'clock.

Rochambeau describes the surrender: "The Americans and French took possession of the two batteries at noon. The garrison marched out at two o'clock between the two armies, drums beating, carrying their arms, which were stacked, with about twenty flags. Lord Cornwallis being ill, General O'Hara marched out at the head of the garrison. When he approached me (Rochambeau) he presented his sword. I pointed to General Washington opposite to me as the head of the American army, and said to him that as the French army was an auxiliary on this continent, that it was now from the American general that he must take orders."

The manner of the capitulation was modeled on the harsh terms Cornwallis had imposed on General Lincoln at the siege of Charleston, the previous year. The colors were casted. The defeated army was not permitted to play an American or French tune, and it was to Lincoln himself that the formal surrender was made.

In his general orders of the 20th Washington congratulated the army on the glorious events of the day previous, and expressed his warm gratitude to the French king and his officers, naming each in his orders with suitable phrase and commendation, and requested the Count de Rochambeau "to present in his name to the regiments of Agenois and Deux-Ponts the two pieces of brass ordnance captured by them (as a testimony of their gallantry) in storming the enemy's redoubt on the night of the 14th inst., when officers and men so universally vied with each other in the exercise of every soldierly virtue."

The victors found the little town of York, which at that time contained about sixty houses in a state of absolute dilapidation. They were literally honeycombed by balls. The British officers complimented the French on the precision of their fire, and confessed that they were the first artilleryists in Europe, while the French were equally amazed at the wonderful proficiency the Americans had acquired with their limited experience.

The house of Secretary Nelson of Virginia, which had served as Cornwallis' headquarters, and the most stately building in the town, remained for years a significant witness of the accuracy of the fire of the allies.

A FINE NIGHT-CAP The Best Thing in the World to Go to Bed and Sleep On.

"My wife and I find that 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and a cup of hot milk, or some cream, with it, makes the finest night-cap in the world," says an Allegheny, Pa., man.

"We go to sleep as soon as we strike the bed, and slumber like babies till rising time in the morning.

"It is about 3 years now since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, and we always have it for breakfast and before retiring and sometimes for lunch. I was so sick from what the doctors called acute indigestion and brain tag before I began to use Grape-Nuts that I could neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort.

"I was afflicted at the same time with the most intense pains, accompanied by a racking headache and backache, every time I tried to eat anything. Notwithstanding an unusual pressure from my professional duties, I was compelled for a time to give up my work altogether.

"Then I put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, with an occasional cup of Postum as a runner-up, and sometimes a little dry toast. I assure you that in less than a week I felt like a new man; I had gained six pounds in weight, could sleep well and think well.

"The good work went on, and I was soon ready to return to business, and have been hard at it, and enjoying it ever since.

"Command me at any time any one enquires as to the merits of Grape-Nuts. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THEN HE GOT WORSE.

The Angry Man—I see the scoundrel in your face.

The Calm Man—That's a personal reflection.

Circumstantial Evidence.

A Scotchman and his wife were visiting in a wild, beautiful part of the country. While driving one day with their host, the two men sitting together in the front seat while the lady sat behind, they crossed a high bridge which spanned a roaring torrent. An unusually loud splash caught the gentlemen's attention for a moment, but nothing was said. After several miles the gentleman turned to address a remark to his wife, but her seat was empty.

An Exacting Situation.

"Doctor," said the nervous man, "is there any way of teaching a person to talk in his sleep?" "I never heard of any," replied the physician. "How could such an accomplishment be of benefit?" "It's either that or insomnia for me. My wife is one of the best suffragette speakers before the public. She always rehearses her orations at home, and I've got to say 'hear! hear!' or 'that's the stuff!' at least once every ten minutes."—Washington Star.

He Balked at That.

"I positively and absolutely refuse!" cried the candidate with great emphasis.

"Refuse what?"

"I've kissed all the babies in my district," he replied, "but I'll be goggled if I'll kiss Mrs. Astor's child, even if it costs the whole suffragette vote!"

A Perilous Duty.

"My position," remarked the eminent physician, "is one requiring the greatest tact and diplomacy."

"What is the trouble?"

"I feel conscientiously obliged to influential patients that they overeat."

"What is the trouble?"

"If the average man has occasion to generate a good, hearty laugh once a month, he is playing in great luck."

"The Memory Lingers"

Sold by Grocers

For the Hostess

A Hobby Luncheon. A college girl described this affair to me, and I saw its possibilities even for those not in the hey-day of youth, for who of us hasn't some hobby which we ride, either fast or slow, and in some instances "it" rides us. The guests were eight girls, all students at the same university, and all "next" to each other's whims and fancies. The centerpiece was a small hobby-horse ridden by a dolly dressed in cap and gown. At each place were small hobby horses with the name cards attached by ribbons in the class colors. No names were written, but all found their places by the clever drawing in pen and ink on the cards. For instance, the girl with musical ambitions found herself "Ten years hence with a hand organ and a monkey grinding out 'Home, Sweet Home.'" The stout girl (she called herself plump) was represented rolling down hill with the words, "I have lost one-eighth of a pound;" the maiden who was to be a teacher (in her own mind), was depicted as a fashionable society woman playing bridge; and the golf-finder found herself with Cupid peering out of her bag and the words, "A clever stroke" underneath. When all were seated the hostess asked each one to explain why her hobby was commendable, and she told them to look under their place plates, and there they found quaintly worded invitations asking them to meet her ten years from date and see how the hobby horses had been ridden. If impossible to be present, letters were to be sent to be read aloud. At the finish all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

An ice-breaker, as the people were almost all entire strangers. This scheme is a good one for church socials, which are apt to be stiff if not conducted along the same lines as a private party.

Now that so many children have Indian suits, try this for a party: Put up one or two wigwags and send the invitations on paper arrows through which a feather is thrust. Have them delivered by the little Indian who is to be the host. Girls may be dressed as squaws.

There are Indian postcards, which would make very good place cards or souvenirs. For refreshments serve:

- Corn Meal Mush With Milk, Fish or Some Kind of Game, Corn Muffins, Indian Meal Pudding, made in individual ramakins.

Make a contest of stringing beads and have a game of archery.

A "Red Hot" Social.

Try this the first real cold day and you are wondering how to warm up a church social which promises to be an icy affair. Issue posters on scarlet cardboard, decorate with red cheese cloth, red shades, and train a good lusty chorus to sing, "A Hot Time." Dress the reception committee and waiters in red, have the admission "5 red cents." Serve "red hot" (w-s-n-e-r-wurst) uncased in hot rolls, pickles and coffee with doughnuts for sweets. MADAME MERRI.

Around-the-World Tea.

A young ladies' Mission band got up the following very successful tea. A house represented each of these eight countries and several automobiles conveyed the guests to and fro: Greece, Italy, Germany, Russia, England, America, France and Japan.

A five-minute paper about each country, with music, furnished amusement and the attendants were in costume. Flags of the country made the decoration with whatever characteristic article obtainable. A very small admission fee was collected by the courier as guests entered the auto and small fees were charged for refreshments, which were peculiar to the country; the menu shows: Greece, olives; Italy, spaghetti; Germany, kaffe kuchen; Japan, meshi (rice); France, vin di rouge (red punch); Russia, caviar canapes; England, plum pudding; America, pie.

With good committees this scheme may be enlarged upon and a most interesting entertainment evolved.

A New Word-Making Game.

A hostess entertaining in honor of a visiting guest passed cards bearing the last name of her friend. The company was told to make as many words from the letters composing the name as they could in twenty minutes. A prize was awarded for the longest and shortest lists. This proved a very pleasant introduction and served as

THE ICE HOUSE

By H. H. MUSSELMAN, Instructor in Farm Mechanics, Michigan Agricultural College.

Perhaps during some of the hotter days of summer not a few have resolved to forestall the running of the butter, the souring of the milk and the spoiling of the roast by means of some method of cooling. The present is not a bad time to think about carrying these resolves into action.

One method where good ice may be obtained at a reasonable distance from a lake or stream is to provide an ice house and ice box or refrigerator. Ice making, though somewhat disagreeable, may be done at a time of the year when other work is slack, and if attacked in the right way is no worse than much other work which must be done. With a bountiful supply of ice, and a refrigerator of sufficient capacity, cold storage may be provided for food and dairy products. It is recommended that a refrigerator of not less than 100 pounds capacity of ice be used for average conditions, and one of from 150 pounds to 200 pounds capacity will be found to advantage in some cases.

The ice box or refrigerator should be easily accessible to the kitchen and dining room, and for filling. If placed so that it may be filled without entering the house a great deal of dirt may be avoided. This is sometimes accomplished by placing the refrigerator on the back porch or in a permanent location where it may be filled from an outside window.

With regard to ice storage, an expensive or specially constructed building is not essential. Any room of proper dimensions where good under drainage may be provided, the walls fairly airtight and so arranged that ventilation may be secured above, ice may be stored without great loss from melting. A building designed for this purpose will have several points of advantage, however.

In building an ice house the capacity is the first thing to be considered. Solid ice weighs about 56 pounds per cubic foot, and stored ice, allowing for voids between cakes and layers, averages about 40 pounds per cubic foot. On this basis a cube of stored ice 10x10x10 feet would weigh 20 tons. Assuming a consumption of 500 pounds per week, a weight of one ton per month would be consumed, which for six months would be six tons. Considerable allowance must be made for meltage, however, so that it is safe to say that space for not less than fifteen or twenty tons should be provided.

In cutting ice the size of cakes should be such as will be best suited to loading, storing and the size of the ice box or refrigerator. A cake of ice 8 inches thick, 18 inches wide and 30 inches long weighs 140 pounds, so that some care should be taken not to get the cakes too large for handling, especially where lifting must be done.

The keeping property of ice depends almost altogether on how well it is insulated from the heat. Air, mineral wool, asbestos, sawdust, shavings and chaff are good non-conductors. Air is one of the best, provided it is confined to small porous spaces, as in the voids in sawdust, shavings, etc. Dry materials are also more effective as non-conductors of heat as a rule than wet. Let us note how these principles may be applied in ice storage.

We have mentioned good drainage beneath the ice. In any event there will be considerable meltage and the water thus formed should be drained away to prevent wetting of the non-conducting material and thereby rendering it less effective. A line of ordinary drain tile should be laid under the center or along each side below the ice and covered with six inches of gravel. This, then, should be spread with from four to six inches of cinders, if obtainable, which is a better non-conductor than gravel. On the cinders there should be placed from six to twelve inches of sawdust or shavings, upon which the ice is laid. The tile drain should be provided with a U trap outside of the ice house to prevent any possible chance of circulation of air beneath the ice.

The walls of the ice house may consist of studding sheathed on the inside with rough lumber, and with paper and siding outside. Cement blocks should also make excellent walls, since they do not deteriorate by dampness as does wood. Little is gained by placing sawdust between the sheathing and siding, as it is likely to become damp. Placing it thus does save rehandling each year, however. In any case the total thickness of insulation should not be less than 12 inches either at the sides, above or below the ice.

Ventilation is necessary above the ice to keep the air and insulating material dry. This may be accomplished by latticed windows and a ventilating flue or shaft at the peak of the roof. Protection from the sun is also advantageous. Shade trees and wide roof projection help in this respect. A continuous door in the ice house is also desirable so that the ice may be put in at any level and unnecessary lifting avoided either in filling or taking out. Some means of keeping this opening closed quite tightly as high as the top of the non-conducting material should also be provided. To prevent channels forming for air to circulate heat to the ice, the insulating material should be rammed or packed down at intervals as the ice melts away and the top always kept well covered after each time ice is taken out.

It is fully as important to milk at regular times as it is to feed regularly—both affect the milk flow.

HAS THE FARMER TIME TO READ

By R. J. BALDWIN, Michigan Agricultural College.

When we say "we have no time" to do certain things it would be well to think reasonably long enough to be sure that the thing being left undone is not of more importance than the things which keep us from doing it. It is true that every business has its busy season, when all surplus energy is used in the day's work and there is little time and less inclination to read. Especially is this true on the farm, but there is no business man who has more valuable material at his command than the farmer and no business which is advancing more rapidly in methods than agriculture.

The only way to keep in touch with the latest knowledge along a man's line of business is to secure the publications containing the experiences and knowledge of other men who are also working and learning in that particular line. The physicians, lawyers, engineers and other professional men each have their journals and societies; the bankers, merchants and lumbermen each have their means of distributing latest information; the farmer has numerous farm papers and journals, the bulletins of the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and the publications of experiment stations in every state of the Union. All these institutions are investigating farm problems and methods and every year's work brings out new points which ought to be known and used by every farmer. Much old information is unknown to some of us because we have not formed the habit of reading. Fortunately farmers are becoming fewer who will not believe that farming can be learned from books and bulletins. They will still become fewer who insist that they have no time to read; they will be left behind in the keener competition of production. It is not a question of having time to read, but it is an undeniable certainty that no man can afford not to read and keep up with the best and latest information obtainable.

The Michigan experiment station publishes bulletins every few weeks (from ten to fifteen per year) on the various phases of agriculture and these may be secured regularly when published by writing to "Director Michigan Experiment Station, East Lansing, Mich.," and asking that your name be placed on the mailing list.

Harvesting and Storing Apples.

Practically every farmer with a small orchard on his farm, desires to store a few apples for home use during the winter.

It is one thing to grow a good crop of apples and quite another thing to properly harvest and store a good crop. There seems to be as much ignorance and carelessness in harvesting and storing as in the growing, resulting in an inexcusable amount of decay and waste of the fruit. A few pointers, at this time, to prevent such waste, are worth considering.

Time to Pick Apples.

If apples are harvested too early, they are apt to be undersized and of poor quality. If harvested too late, they will not keep as long in storage although they will be of high color and of good size and quality when picked. We do not expect a winter apple to be ripe at harvesting time. It should be full sized, however, well colored and it should separate readily from the spur. If, when picking the apples, the stems are pulled out or the spurs broken, it is too early to harvest that particular variety.

Method of Harvesting.

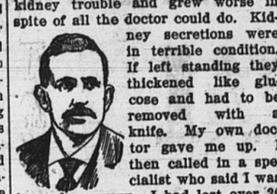

Apples should be handled like eggs. Any break or rupture in the skin caused by worms or carelessness in handling is the starting point for the various rots and other forms of decay. No fruit harvested by shaking of branches or knocking the fruit off with poles, is worth storing. Hand picking is absolutely essential. The fruit should be grasped by the palm of the hand that no abrasion may be made by the finger nails. By slightly twisting the fruit and bending it upward, it should separate readily from the spur. Apples should be placed and not thrown or let fall into the picking basket. A careless picker will ruin more fruit by letting it fall into his basket instead of carefully placing it there than his services are worth. A great amount of fruit is also ruined by pouring it from the picking basket into barrels. If barrels are used, the basket should be inserted into the barrel and carefully inverted so that the fruit may not be injured.

The fruit should then be stored as soon as possible. Piling the fruit in the orchard is a wasteful practice. The fruit heats in the piles and ripens very readily. The aim in storing fruit is to retard this ripening process that the fruit may be kept longer. Do not store fruit that has been piled in the orchard for any considerable time before picking. Get a good spring wagon or hauling the fruit into storage. A springless wagon, especially over rough roads, will injure the fruit for storing. If the fruit is packed in tight boxes or barrels, it will store better than if open crates are used.

The storage house or cellar should be well ventilated, well drained and frost proof. A cellar that cannot be properly ventilated to allow foul air to escape, cannot keep fruit well. Drain the cellar so that it will never be wet and remove excessive moisture with a box of quick lime. In cellars having cement bottoms and where they are apt to become too dry and cause the fruit to shrivel up, supply water.

LOST 20 POUNDS. In Bed Seven Weeks With Terrible Kidney Trouble.

A. Dearth, Main St., Camden, O., says: "I was in bed seven weeks with kidney trouble and grew worse in spite of all the doctor could do. Kidney secretions were in terrible condition. If left standing they thickened like glue and had to be removed with a knife. My own doctor gave me up. I then called in a specialist who said I was beyond recovery. I had lost over 20 pounds and was but a shadow of my former self. I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and soon felt better. Continuing, I was cured and have not had the slightest trouble since."

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try It Free

Simple Way for Any Family to Retain the Good Health of All Its Members.

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?" Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, has the best claim to attention from constipated people. Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Graveline of 88 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor. For the free sample address Dr. W. BREVITIES

MILAN—A case of scarlet fever has been reported to the health officer of Milan.

UNADILLA—Lester R. Williams has been drawn to serve as a juror at the October term of the Livingston term of the circuit court.

BRIDGEWATER—Several members of the Jackson County Fruit Growers' association visited the Woodward fruit farm recently to inspect the orchard and see the fruit sorted by machinery.

HOWELL—The township of Cohocah is about to start a petition to the township board for a mile of state aid road, the road to begin one-half mile east of Oak Grove, taking a north-easterly course to Deerfield township line.—Democrat.

ADRIAN—The 75th annual meeting of the stockholders of the old Erie & Kalamazoo railroad was held in the offices of the Lenawee County Savings bank at Adrian. It is the oldest railway company now in existence in the entire north or middle west.

JACKSON—The supreme court has sustained the action of the Jackson council in limiting the number of saloons in the city to one to every 1,000 population. Edward Frey presented his application for a license, and it was denied, and he took the case to the supreme court and lost out.

ANN ARBOR—Floyd Richards, defendant to his wife's suit for divorce, filed his answer and cross bill Saturday morning denying her charges of infidelity and accusing her of the same sort of conduct. He also alleges that she made him do the family washing. The parties live in Superior township.

ANN ARBOR—There are only 24 heirs to an 80 acre farm up in Salem township. Furthermore, the 24 all want the money instead of the farm and Judge Kinne has just granted permission for them to sell it. The land belonged to the late Luke Duke of Salem and the request for permission to sell was filed by two of his heirs, Clayton Deakes and Oliver Deakes against Angelina Deakes.

ANN ARBOR—Dwight Becker, of Jackson, civil engineer graduate, Wednesday filed suit for $15,000 damages against H. K. Curtis in the circuit court at Ann Arbor for injuries done by the latter to one of Becker's eyes while at play with straws, causing partial blindness. Curtis is a son of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, and is a student at the U. of M. The accident occurred last spring, just two weeks before Mr. Becker graduated from the university.

PINKNEY—Rev. John S. Foley, bishop of the diocese of Detroit, has sent the Rev. Joseph Coyle of Northfield to take charge of the St. Mary's church here. Rev. Coyle is a man about twenty-six years of age and was ordained last July. He made his first appearance here Sunday and was well spoken of by those who were fortunate enough to hear him. The Dispatch joins with the members of the church in wishing the new pastor success in his new field.—Dispatch.

FRANCISCO—The D. U. R. had a gang of about fifty workmen here Sunday to place ties, lay rails and fit the wiring for the new track which the limited cars will use instead of the track with the curves. As there is claimed to be some question as to the validity of their right to track the entire length of so-called Railroad street they did the work on Sunday, when no one could stop them. As there are but two residences on the street, and one is owned by the D. U. R. and the other by the Michigan Central, private interests are not materially interfered with.

DEXTER—Dr. Met. K. Guinan, who for the past twelve years has been house physician at the Hotel Cadillac in Detroit, has located here and will practice his profession in his old home town. The doctor has refitted and refurbished his old home where he was born.

YPSILANTI—Wm. Burrell, of Superior township, was perhaps fatally injured last Friday while taking down a barn on the farm of O. Westfall near Plymouth, a portion of the barn falling upon him and injuring his spine. He lay unconscious fifteen hours and is in a critical condition.

"The Fortune Hunter."

By the grace of Cohan and Harris, who have many times in the past provided us with palatable amusement, we are at last to be given an opportunity of seeing Winchell Smith's widely announced comedy, "The Fortune Hunter" which will be the attraction at the new Whitney Theatre, Ann Arbor, on Wednesday evening, October 18.

Theatre goers have waited anxiously for the coming of this rich comedy which has been acclaimed the best that has been presented on the American stage during the past decade, and the fact that we are to get the original company and production is the cause of much satisfaction among all those who are anxious to see it. That "The Fortune Hunter" will get a rousing reception goes without saying.

It is a play that has received the endorsement of press, and public and spoken of highly by many ministers from their pulpits.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Chelsea only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. T. Freeman Co.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Chelsea Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidney's fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Chelsea women know this. Read what one has to say about it. Mrs. Charles Grant, S. Main street, Chelsea Mich., says: Judging from personal experience I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy for kidney trouble. I suffered intensely from dull, nagging backaches and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. I had pains through my kidneys and felt poorly in every way when I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills. Procuring a supply of this remedy, I commenced its use and it proved very effective in relieving my aches and pains and correcting the kidney difficulty. I have felt better in every way since taking Doan's Kidney Pills."

The Top O' Th' World.

Did you ever stop to consider that statistics actually prove that 82 per cent of the theatrical attractions annually launched in this country prove to be failures. If you have thought of this, you must also have thought that there must be real merit to the shows which survive. A show, like a person, has to "make good" in order to be accepted.

You always give a person who has "made good" a lot of credit. Give the same amount to a show which has done the same thing. Bailey and Austin in "The Top O' Th' World" have decisively "made good." They jumped from vaudeville (where they had been 'headliners' for years) into "The Top O' Th' World," they left themselves open as possible targets for the sarcasm of the united New York press, a press which regards the 'variety actor' with steady suspicion; they opened during very hot weather; they opened as 'creators' of the two most difficult parts in the annals of extravaganzas; and they emerged with flying colors.

With a company of seventy people, three special baggage cars filled with scenery and effects, Bailey and Austin in "The Top O' Th' World" will be the attraction at the New Whitney theatre, Ann Arbor, Monday, October 16. It will be one of the really notable theatrical events of the season. It is a show of features, novelties and surprises. A full score of novelties and new tricks have been introduced this season. Seat sale opens Friday, October 13. Mail orders, when accompanied by self addressed stamped envelopes, will receive attention in the order received.

Missed the Train?

Well not if you bought your watch at Winans & Son's. One might better go without a time-piece than carry a poor one. All is not gold that glitters and the poorest watch movement is often hidden beneath an attractive case.—We recommend the South Bend Watch and give our guarantee with every one sold. Can't we show them to you.
