ONCE A CHECK ACCOUNT

If you once have a check account in a good bank you will never want to be without its convenience and safety. Should your check be lost a duplicate can be obtained, and the money is safe. In addition, paying by check, you obtain a positive receipt and take a step forward in other's estimation by showing that you are progressive and carry a bank account.

Always a Check Account is an Advantage

The time required to make deposits is well spent for the time saved in keeping track of your affairs by the Bank's keeping your books and the ability to give the exact change in writing your check, more than offsets the time lost going to the bank. Money in bank will not be spent readily for the things you do not need, so that a check account as well as a savings account is an aid to thrift.

Mullen-Barth

A quiet but pretty wedding occurred Tuesday, October 17, 1911, at 11 a. m., at the Rectory of the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, when Anna Katharine, daughter of Mrs.
Mary Mullen, became the wife of Frederick G. Barth, of Lima, Rev.
Wm. P. Considine officiating. The bride wore a dainty gown of white Marquise and was attended by her sister, Miss Cecilia E. Mullen, who was prettily gowned in pink. The groom was attended by his brother,
Mr. Karl Barth.

The bride is one of Chelsea's most estimable young ladies and made many friends for herself both while employed by the telephone company and the H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co.
The groom also is well known in this vicinity, and their many friends join in wishing them long life and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Barth left on an afternoon car for a trip east, and will be at home to their friends after December 1st on what is known as the Holmes farm in Lima.

Accidentally Shot.

About 7:40 Monday morning, an accident occurred on a Detroit, Jackson & Chicago electric car between Leoni and Grass Lake which came close to resulting in a fatality. Theo. Henry, of Detroit, attorney for the D. U. R., was shot in the right side by the accidental discharge of an automatic revolver Percy Taylor, of Jackson, had taken from his grip to show a fellow passenger. Mr. Taylor was sitting immediately back of Mr. Henry. The bullet was shattered as it went through the back of Mr. Henry's seat and a small piece of lead lodged on the back of his right side. There were quite a number on the car, and the explosion of the weapon and the cry from the injured man created much excitement.
The car was run at full speed into Grass Lake village where he was examined by Dr. McColgan. The doctor probed for any trace of the bullet, but couldn't find any. The injury proved to be only a flesh wound.

Do Not Want Change.

There was not much interest manifested by the voters of Sylvan township in the road question Saturday evening, as only about twenty met at the town hall to discuss the question of the county road systems. The board of supervisors will vote upon the question of submitting it to the voters at the spring election Friday, and Supervisor Beckwith wanted an expression from his constituents as to their feelings in the matter. Prosecuting attorney Burke was present and explained the law in regard to the system, after which a number gave their views on the matter. A vote was taken and it was decided that the present system was good enough.

Received Promotion.

The friends of Miss Charlotte Steinbach will be pleased to learn of her recent promotion to assistant to Dr.
Howard, neurologist and alienist. Miss Steinbach went to Cleveland in September to teach a special class for mentally defective children. Her new duties will include the conducting of clinics for testing the mental condition of the backward children of the public schools. Dr. Howard and Miss Steinbach, will together direct the work of the various special classes, and co-operate with the psychological department of the Northwestern Reserve University, to make the research work of as great value to the city as possible.

The Deer License.

The deer hunters' licenses for 1911 are different from those of former years. They are good for a period of but 25 days from the date of issue, while in former years they were good for the season. The season this year is 15 days longer than formerly, commencing October 15 and ending November 30. A hunter this year cannot go into the woods and hunt during the entire season on one license, but will have to get a new license if he has not secured his full number of deer within the period of 25 days and wishes to remain for the balance of the season.

Begin Open Hearings Soon.

Hon. P. H. Kelley, of the commission which is investigating the question of Michigan adopting a new system for providing state revenues, states that beginning October 24 the commission will hold public hearings in Lansing. The sessions will be held in the senate chamber and will continue for two weeks.

The preliminary report has been completed and is in the hands of the printers. Following these hearings the commission will complete a final report for Governor Osborn and the legislature.

Chelsea High Victorious.

The Manchester high school football team was beaten by the Chelsea boys at Wilkinson field, Friday, by the score of 44 to 0. Eight touchdowns were scored, of which, Bacon,
G. Belser and Dunn made one each,
Paul Belser two and Wedemeyer three. Four goals were scored, Dunn kicking two and Paul Belser two.

The Manchester team was no match for the boys in red and white in any department of the game. Forward passes, end runs and line plays were equally effective. On one occasion the ball was carried the entire length of the field on forward passes, the touch-down being scored on a line plunge of twelve yards made by Bacon.

Chelsea's line held splendidly while the interference was the best the boys have given this season. Coach Schenk has been drilling the boys on defensive play during the past week.
The diving interference has been taught and the fruits of his labors were seen by the manner in which our boys spilled the interference of Manchester.

Dunn received a kick in the small of the back in the early part of the game and was compelled to view the game from the side lines during the second and third quarters. He returned to the game in the last quarter to help the boys work some of their plays of which he is the keystone.
Up until the time of his injury he had played a brilliant game. It is hoped that he will be in shape for the game against Mason, Saturday. His place in the back-field was filled by G.
Belser who had been playing end.
George gave a fine exhibition of running and dodging, and with a little more practice will prove a valuable asset in offensive plays.

Paul Belser and Wedemeyer were consistent ground gainers. Belser handled the team in his usual fine style, making several long runs and being at the receiving end of many of the forward passes, all of which he handled beautifully.

The next game will be played against Mason, Saturday, October 21, at Wilkinson field. The game is called for 3 p. m. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Do not fail to see this game, as it will be one of the best of the season.

Progress for Chelsea.

Chelsea is proud of her water system, her electric light system, and will soon have enough paving to brag about. The town has long needed a gas works, but those posted in the gas business have always stated that the town was not large enough to make the installation of a gas works profitable. Mr. John B. Cole, to whom the council have granted a franchise for building and operating a gas works, subject to confirmation by the vote of the people on October 24th, states that at last the hope for a gas supply in Chelsea can be realized. He has made contracts for the construction of a plant, work to begin as soon as the weather will permit in the spring, and gas will be ready for use probably by August 1st.

Mr. Cole has been working for two years to interest capital in the building of a gas works in this village, but until the present time has failed, owing to the size of the village. Now that he has succeeded, and there is an immediate prospect of gas in our fourishing town, the franchise should receive the support of every voter.

Phelps-Boyd Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Enid N. Phelps and Mr. Warren C. Boyd, of this place, will take place at the home of the brides' mother, Mrs. N. S. Phelps, 238 Maple street, Battle Creek, at 8 o'clock this, Thursday evening, Rev.
W. S. Potter officiating.

Those from here who will witness the ceremony are: Mrs. Mary Boyd, Mrs. Edith Cavanaugh and daughter,
Dorothy, J. H. Boyd and Mr. and Mrs.
Homer H. Boyd.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will return to Chelsea where they will make their home.

Shot in the Eye.

Mr. Winegar and a friend, of Detroit, made a visiting and hunting trip to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.
Koeltz, of Waterloo, last Sunday. In the afternoon Mr. Winegar and his friend started out with their guns to make the trip to Francisco where they were to take the car for Detroit.
They had proceeded but a short way from the Koeltz home, when a gun was accidentally discharged and Mr.
Winegar received the charge in the cheek, chin and left eye, which he will lose. The injured man was brought to Chelsea where the wounds were dressed by Dr. Palmer, and in the evening returned to his home in Detroit.

Overrules Jarvis Demurrer.

Judge Kinne Tuesday morning overruled the demurrer of ex-County Drain Commissioner Jarvis in the case brought by the board of supervisors through Prosecutor Burke on the Jarvis bond of $10,000 for alleged maladministration in office.

Jarvis claimed that any shortage in drain funds was to be accounted for because of mistakes in bookkeeping, claiming that the failure of the supervisors to specify the exact shortages alleged was sufficient to throw the case of court. He and his bondsman, the Federal Union Surety Company were given ten days in which to plead to the supervisors' declaration.

SERIAL
STORYThe Courtship
of Miles
StandishWith Illustrations
by Howard Chandler ChristyThe March of Miles Standish

Meanwhile the stalwart Miles Standish was marching steadily northward, winding through forest and swamp, and along the trend of the seashore.

All day long, with hardly a halt, the fire of his anger.

Burning and crackling within, and the sulphurous odor of powder.

Seeming more sweet to his nostrils than all the scents of the forest.

Silent and moody he went, and much he revolved his discomfort.

He who was used to success, and to easy victories always.

Thus to be flouted, rejected, and laughed to scorn by a maiden.

Thus to be mocked and betrayed by the friend whom most he had trusted!

Ah! 'twas too much to be borne, and he fretted and chafed in his armor!

"I alone am to blame," he muttered, "for mine was the folly.

What has a rough old soldier, grown grim and gray in the harness, used to the camp and its ways, to do with the wooing of maidens?

'Twas but a dream—let it pass—let it vanish like so many others!

What I thought was a flower, is only a weed, and is worthless.

Out of my heart will I pluck it, and throw it away, and henceforward be but a fighter of battles, a lover and wooer of dangers!"

Thus he revolved in his mind his sorry defeat and discomfort.

While he was marching by day or lying at night in the forest.

Looking up at the trees, and the constellations beyond them.

After a three days' march he came to an Indian encampment.

Pitched on the edge of a meadow, between the sea and the forest.

Women at work by the tents, and the warriors, horrid with war-paint.

Seated about a fire, and smoking and talking together.

Who, when they saw from afar the sudden approach of the white men,

Forth He Sprang at a Bound.

Saw the flash of the sun on breast-plate and saber and musket.

Straightway leaped to their feet, two from among them advancing.

Came to parley with Standish, and offer him furs as a present.

Friendship was in their looks, but in their hearts there was hatred.

Braves of the tribe were these, and brothers gigantic in stature.

Huge as Goliath of Gath, or the terrible Og, king of Bashan.

One was Pecknot named, and the other was called Wattawamat.

Round their necks were suspended their knives in scabbards of wampum.

Two-edged, trenchant knives, with points as sharp as a needle.

Other arms had they none, for they were cunning and crafty.

"Welcome, English!" they said, these words they had learned from the traders.

Touching at times on the coast, to barter and chaffer for peltries.

Then in their native tongue they began to parley with Standish.

Through his guide and interpreter, Hobomok, friend of the white man.

Begging for blankets and knives, but mostly for muskets and powder.

Kept by the white man, they said, concealed, with the plague, in his cellars.

Ready to be let loose, and destroy his brother, the red man!

But when Standish refused, and said he would give them the Bible.

Suddenly changing their tone, they began to boast and to bluster.

Then Wattawamat advanced with a stride in front of the other.

And, with a lofty demeanor, thus vauntingly spoke to the Captain:

"Now Wattawamat can see, by the fiery eyes of the Captain,

Angry he is in his heart; but the heart of the brave Wattawamat is not afraid at the sight. He was not born of a woman,

But on a mountain, at night, from an oak-tree riven by lightning.

Forth he sprang at a bound, with all his weapons about him,

Shouting, 'Who is there here to fight with the brave Wattawamat?'"

Then he unsheathed his knife, and, whetting the blade on his left hand, Held it aloft and displayed a woman's face on the handle.

Plunged It Into His Heart.

Saying, with bitter expression and look of sinister meaning:

"I have another at home, with the face of a man on the handle; and by and by they shall marry; and there will be plenty of children!"

Then stood Pecknot forth, self-vaunting, insulting Miles Standish.

While with his fingers he patted the knife that hung at his bosom.

Drawing it half from its sheath, and plunging it back, as he muttered:

"By and by it shall see; it shall eat; ah, ah! but shall speak not!

This is the mighty Captain the white men have sent to destroy us!

He is a little man; let him go and work with the women!"

Meanwhile Standish had noted the faces and figures of Indians.

Peeping and creeping about from bush to tree in the forest.

Feigning to look for game, with arrows set on their bow-strings.

Drawing about him still closer and closer the net of their ambush.

But undaunted he stood, and dissembled and treated them smoothly;

So the old chronicles say, that were

BIGGEST CITIES OF WORLD

London Still Far in Lead, but New York is Growing Faster Than Any Other.

London, the largest city in the world, has a population, as now officially announced, of 7,252,963, as against 6,551,402 in 1901—an increase in ten years of 871,561, or only 10.2 per cent. The population of New York is 4,768,883, and with a gain in the ten years of 38.7 per cent, is growing faster than any other great city in the world. At the rate at which the two largest cities are growing it will take a long time for New York to catch up with London; but it would be a great misfortune if it ever did catch up—there already. The third city in New York is Paris, whose population is probably 3,000,000. The fourth city is perhaps Berlin, which had a little over 2,000,000 five years ago. Tokyo and Chicago fall a little under the 2,500,000 mark, and St. Petersburg, Vienna, Canton, Peking, Moscow and Philadelphia are below 2,000,000—Rochester Post-Express.

Clothes and the Man.

"The better a person is dressed the less money he has as a rule." Thus Judge Farry, whose experience in the court certainly gives him the right to speak on the subject.—London Telegraph.

Women in Business World.

Women are now engaged in all but two of the 303 gainful occupations of the men of this country.

writ in the days of the fathers.

But when he heard their defiance, the boast, the taunt, and the insult.

All the hot blood of his race, of Sir Hugh and of Thurston de Standish.

Bolled and beat in his heart, and swelled in the veins of his temples.

Heading he leaped on the boaster, and, snatching his knife from his scabbard,

Plunged it into his heart, and, reeling backward, the savage

Fell with his face to the sky, and a fiendlike fierceness upon it.

Straight there arose from the forest the awful sound of the war-whoop.

And, like a flurry of snow on the whistling wind of December,

Swift and sudden and keen came a flight of feathered arrows.

Then came a cloud of smoke, and out of the cloud came the lightning.

Out of the lightning, thunder, and death unseen ran before it.

Frightened the savages fled for shelter in swamp and in thicket.

Hotly pursued and beset; but their sachem, the brave Wattawamat, fled not; he was dead. Unswerving and swift had a bullet Passed through his brain, and he fell with both hands clutching the greensward.

Seeming in death to hold back from his foe the land of his fathers.

There on the flowers of the meadow the warriors lay, and above them, Silent, with folded arms, stood Hobomok, friend of the white man.

There on the flowers of the meadow the warriors lay, and above them, Silent, with folded arms, stood Hobomok, friend of the white man.

Smiling, at length he exclaimed to the stalwart Captain of Plymouth:

"Pecknot bragged very loud, of his courage, his strength and his stature.

Mocked the great Captain, and called him a little man; but I see now

Big enough have you been to lay him speechless before you!"

Thus the first battle was fought and won by the stalwart Miles Standish.

When the tidings thereof were brought to the village of Plymouth.

And as a trophy of war the head of the brave Wattawamat

Scowled from the roof of the fort, which at once was a church and a fortress.

All who beheld it rejoiced, and praised the Lord, and took courage.

Only Priscilla averted her face from this specter of terror.

Thanking God in her heart that she had not married Miles Standish;

Shrinking, fearing almost, lest, coming home from his battles,

He should lay claim to her hand, as the prize and reward of his valor.

WILD SCRAMBLE OF WOMEN

London Paper Tells of Scene in Cloakroom After the Racing at Ascot.

At the end of the racing at Ascot yesterday it seems that the cloakroom arrangements miscarried, and when the women went to get their wraps they were not ready to hand. A wild report circulated that the thief who stole the gold cup four years ago had been busy in the cloakroom and all the women rushed to find for themselves if the dreadful thing were true. There has not been such an outbreak of feminine excitement since the last suffragist raid on the house of commons, and the attendants grew so alarmed and were so afraid of the cloakroom being stormed by the angry owners of the precious wraps that they sent for the police. When the constables came several ladies fled ignominiously without their things. The police ultimately straightened out the tangle and the honor of Ascot was saved. The cause of the commotion is said to have been the action of some women who left early and put everything in confusion in the search for their cloaks.—London Express.

MANY DANGEROUS
DAMS IN MICHIGAN

Von Schon Raises Question in Letter to Governor.

VIEWS AS TO PROTECTION

Refers to the Austin (Pa.) Tragedy and Suggests Advisability of Precautionary Measures Against Similar Catastrophes.

Lansing.—Has Michigan any dams which threaten the lives of communities? The question is raised by H. Von Schon, a well-known civil engineer of Detroit, in a letter to Governor Osborn, in which he refers to the Austin (Pa.) tragedy and suggests the advisability of precautionary measures against similar catastrophes in Michigan. He states there are many old dams in Michigan, which perhaps are not kept up and might be a source of danger and offered to submit his views as to feasible protection.

In a reply to Von Schon, Governor Osborn expresses his appreciation of the timely and interesting letter.

Many Protests Against Scheme.

Expressions of interest from various parts of the state indicate that when the commission of tax inquiry begins its hearings on the proposed new plan of taxation, which includes the separation of state and local taxes, a storm will break, and representatives of corporate interests in Michigan will make a vigorous assault on the scheme. The hearings will be held in the senate chamber beginning Tuesday, October 24.

While the manufacturers of the state have arrived at no definite plan for combating the corporation tax advocated by Governor Osborn's special committee, it is known that steps have already been taken to submit the report to competent persons for their opinion. A number of taxation experts are at work on the report, as the manufacturers want to be prepared if Governor Osborn calls a special session of the legislature to consider it.

A new angle developed which will have an important bearing in the discussion of any plan to separate state and local taxes. In order to augment the general fund of the state the commission advocates taking certain properties, including interurban railroads, out of the field of local taxation and assessing them solely for state purposes. Such a plan would increase the taxes of the railroads and telephone companies of the state, which pay the average rate of taxation, which is secured by dividing the amount paid by general property throughout the state by the assessed valuation of general property.

Contest for Seat on State Board.

Another bitter contest is promised by one of ex-Governor Warner's recess appointees. The contesting party is George E. Harrington of Kalamazoo, who was appointed a member of the state board of health to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Charles Blake of Detroit. On July 19 Governor Osborn appointed Dr. Edward Abrams of Dollar Bay to fill the vacancy.

Both Doctor Harrington and Doctor Abrams were in Lansing to attend the meeting of the board. Doctor Harrington gave out the following interview:

"I have never received any notice from Governor Osborn or from the attorney general, that my services on the board was no longer needed. I came to Lansing with the intention of taking my place on the board. A decision of the supreme court is all that will make me vacate my seat."

Secretary Dixon of the state board of health conferred with the attorney general with the intention of getting his decision in the matter. It is expected that some action will be taken at the meeting.

Recently Doctor Harrington made a trip to Philadelphia as a representative of the board, and one of the questions which will be brought up is the paying of his expense account.

Rev. Jacques Chosen Moderator.

The opening session of the Presbyterian Synod of Michigan, which held its annual meeting in the North Woodward Avenue Presbyterian church, Detroit, was marked by the election of Rev. William T. Jacques of Trumbull Avenue Presbyterian church as moderator. He succeeded Rev. William H. Simmons of Mason.

Lemuel B. Bissell of Detroit was elected permanent clerk, and George B. Crawford, Port Huron, and Charles D. Ellis, Holly, were chosen temporary clerks.

Elder W. R. Farrand of the First Presbyterian church delivered an interesting address on the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

Three More to Be Freed.

Three more additional pardons and paroles have been granted by Governor Osborn and another was promised to a wife who called on the executive in behalf of her husband. Bert Cunningham, sent from Manistee for robbery, has been granted a conditional pardon from Jackson prison that he may go to Colorado to fight tuberculosis.

Loren Tando, sent from Benzie county to serve from six to fifteen years for robbery, secured a conditional pardon on representation of friends.

Further Cause of Citizenship.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Michigan State National Reform association, held in Detroit in the Episcopal diocese room in the Campus building, working plans were outlined for the furtherance in Michigan of the national Christian citizenship movement and for the promotion of the second world's Christian citizenship conference to be held at Portland, Ore., June 20 to July 5, 1913.

Rev. James S. Martin, Philadelphia, who is at the head of the national movement and one of the originators of the conference, spoke at length on the progress of the work in the various states, and submitted a tentative program for the work to be carried on by the Michigan friends and supporters of the movement. The program includes a whirlwind campaign throughout the state, beginning November 20 and continuing for a month, in the nature of a series of brief conventions in the principal cities for the purpose of inspiring sentiment for Christian citizenship.

The conventions, or meetings, are to be arranged by the state officials of the movement and strong appeal will be made to all churches and all religious denominations to assist in the cause.

O. E. S. is Busy With Real Work.

With 1290 delegates present the state O. E. S. convention opened in Jackson. The present session of the grand chapter is regarded as a most important one, as a number of proposed plans are slated for discussion and perhaps adoption before the close of the meeting.

Grand Rapids is making a strong bid for the 1912 conclave and the delegates from the Furniture City are also endeavoring to secure an orphanage for children of the Masons in that city. The idea at present is to divert funds now used for the Masonic home at Alma for the project and to locate the orphanage at Reed's Lake, to be run in connection with the Masonic hospital.

Mrs. Grace Allen of Fernleaf chapter, Jackson, delivered the opening address at the meeting and was followed by Mrs. Lizzie Harrison, worthy grand matron of Saginaw. Memorial services were held and the reports of the grand secretary and treasurer were read.

Let State Support Her.

"Let the mother be self-supporting insofar as she can combine it with her duties as a mother. Let the community maintain her during the first year of each child's life."

This is the suggestion put forth by Mrs. Claude B. Hamilton, one of the leading society and club women of Grand Rapids, the suffragist leader in western Michigan and one of the officers of the Michigan Equal Suffrage club, in an address on the present day marriage laws, especially in Michigan.

"It seems to me that the government should have some responsibility," Mrs. Hamilton said. "It is the mother who gives to the state soldiers, statesmen and citizens. The state should give recognition of her services by pensioning each mother and educating the seventh child. Race-suicide here, as in France, will be feared no more when the government takes means to provide against the wanton and criminal waste of both adult and infant life.

"Mothers must now, with increasing frequency, become bread-winners. This ought to give them the privilege of sharing with their husbands equal legal authority over the children.

D. A. R. Opens Meeting.

Daughters of the American Revolution of Michigan held their seventh annual conference in Detroit. The executive board of Louisiana St. Clair chapter of Detroit entertained the state officers and the regular delegates and alternates at luncheon. Mrs. Bertram C. Whitney entertained in honor of the new state regent, Mrs. Arthur M. Parker of Detroit, the state officers, all delegates and alternates, and the members of Louisiana St. Clair chapter. Rev. William D. Maxon, D. D., conducted a patriotic service at Christ church to which members of all patriotic societies were invited. Rev. Lee S. McCollister, D. D., president of the Sons of the American Revolution, delivered the address.

The business meetings of the conference opened at the Pontchartrain. Mrs. Hestley Green delivered the invocation and Mrs. Edward W. Stoddard, regent of Louisiana St. Clair chapter, the address of welcome, and Mrs. Arthur M. Parker, state regent, followed with an address. Reports were given by Mrs. James Pease Brayton, honorary state regent, Miss Ida J. Raymond, chairman credential committee, and Mrs. Edward D. Black, chairman of auditors.

The Kitchen
CABINET

WE ARE much stuff
As dreams are made of, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.

—Shakespeare.

IDEAS FOR THE COOK.

When you have a little left-over chicken, chop it fine and mix with an equal quantity of boiled rice. Season with salt and pepper. Add a finely-chopped onion, a green pepper and a spring of parsley. Scald a loose head of cabbage and when the leaves are limp open the cabbage to the center. Put two tablespoonfuls of the mixture in the center, fold over the leaves, add another portion, and so on until you have stuffed the cabbage. Tie up in a piece of cheese cloth and put into a kettle of boiling water, salted. Cook until tender, drain in a colander and serve with a cream or hollandaise sauce.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Mix one and a half cupfuls of cranberries, chopped, with a cupful of chopped raisins and a cup and a half of sugar. To a cupful of water add two tablespoonfuls of flour; add to the fruit and bake with an upper and under crust.

Salad of Peppers and Cream Cheese.—Select two large, sweet green peppers, cut off the stem end, remove seeds and wash in cold water; turn them upside down to drain. Wash and mix with two cream cheeses a few pecan meats and a little thick cream, salt and cayenne. Pack this carefully into the peppers and set away on ice until serving time. When ready to use, cut in slices a quarter of an inch thick. Serve two slices on a nest of lettuce, with a few slices of cucumber and mayonnaise for dressing.

Baked Hamburg With Bacon.—Put two or three slices of bacon in a baking dish, lay over this chopped meat that has been well seasoned with salt, mustard, pepper and onion juice. Put slices of bacon on top and bake in a moderate oven. When sufficiently baked, the time depending upon the amount, brown a tablespoonful of flour, add the juice of a lemon and a tablespoonful of currant jelly. Pour this around the meat and bake ten minutes longer.

Deviled Chestnuts.—Shell and cut in thin slices a cup of chestnuts, fry until brown in butter, then season with tabasco sauce and salt.

THIS world that we're livin'
Is mighty hard to beat;
You get a thorn with every rose
But ain't the roses sweet?

LITTLE LEAKS.

The old proverb that tells us that "the little leak is what sinks the great ship" is so true of the little leaks in the household which are so easily overlooked, yet are the cause of many bankrupt homes.

These may seem like small things to mention, but "a straw shows which way the wind blows."

Do you notice the tea and coffee cups at the end of the meal? Is there a teaspoonful of undissolved sugar in some of the cups? The children may be taught now to guard against this extravagant habit, but it is hard to break old and long-established ones.

Are those at your table careless about taking on the plate more than they care to eat, leaving it to be wasted?

When the expense of the table exceeds half of the income (the amount a fair apportionment), it proves that it is due to any or all of the following things:

Buying food out of season.

Buying perishable foodstuffs in quantities not immediately available.

Buying food with little nutriment.

Choice of high-priced meat, high-priced because limited in supply, not because it is of greater food value.

Many times the most medicinal part of the vegetable is left in the water and thrown away.

There is as much genius needed to practice the little economies in the home as it takes to write poetry, and we can live without poetry but not without cooks.

Women, as a rule, know more about the wearing qualities of clothing than about sustaining qualities of foods.

A quart of oysters equals a quart of milk in nutritive power.

One of the greatest faults of housekeepers is lack of forehandness.

Getting ready ahead of time takes thought.

Nellie Maxwell.

Fixing the Date.

"Hallo, Jones!" said Smith. "Are you doing anything special tomorrow night?"

"No, old chap," replied Jones. "I'm not booked."

"What about the day after?" asked Smith.

"Nothing on," answered Jones. "I'm as free as a skipper."

"Really! And Friday?"

"Ah, on Friday, I'm afraid, I'm dining with the Croakers!"

"Bless my soul, but what a pity!" exclaimed Smith, disappointedly. "I wanted you to come round on Friday for a snack with me!"

Relieves
Backache
Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the Box War and in San Francisco two years ago I was hit by a street car in the same place. I tried all kinds of dope without success. Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application caused instant relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."

FLETCHER NORMAN
Whittier, Cal.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is the best remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat and sprains.

Mrs. E. Rix of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "Sloan's Liniment is the best for rheumatism. I have used six bottles of it and it is grand."

Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

NATURALLY A HIT.

The Rooster—Our young friend, Mr. Pig, is making a hit on the stage. The Duck—What is he playing? The Rooster—Hamlet.

Some Shakespeare Statistics.

A Shakespearean enthusiast with a turn for statistics has discovered that the plays contain 106,007 lines and 814,780 words. "Hamlet" is the longest play, with 3,930 lines, and the "Comedy of Errors" the shortest, with 1,777 lines. Altogether the plays contain 1,227 characters, of which 157 are females. The longest part is that of Hamlet. The part with the longest word in it is that of Costard in "Love's Labor Lost," who tells Hoth that he is "not so long by the head as honorificabilitudinitatibus."

The Angler's Bait.

A well-known angler at Peterborough having obtained a wasp's nest containing a large number of grubs, placed the nest in the kitchen over to kill the grubs so that he could use them for bait.

The next morning he went to get the grubs, but on opening the oven door a swarm of wasps flew out. The oven was not hot enough to kill the grubs, but was sufficiently warm to hatch them.—London Daily Mail.

FROM TEXAS.

Some Coffee Facts From the Lone Star State.

From a beautiful farm down in Texas, where gushing springs unite to form babbling brooks that wind their sparkling way through flowery meads, comes a note of gratitude for delivery from the coffee habit.

"When my baby boy came to me five years ago, I began to drink Postum, having a feeling that it would be better for him and me than the old kind of drug-laden coffee. I was not disappointed in it, for it enabled me, a small, delicate woman, to nurse a bouncing, healthy baby 14 months."

"I have since continued the use of Postum for I have grown fond of it, and have discovered to my joy that it has entirely relieved me of a bilious habit which used to prostrate me two or three times a year, causing much discomfort to my family and suffering to myself."

"My brother-in-law was cured of chronic constipation by leaving off coffee and using Postum. He has become even more fond of it than I was of the old coffee."

"In fact, the entire family, from the latest arrival (a 2-year-old who always calls for his 'pote' first thing in the morning), up to the head of the house, think there is no drink so good or as wholesome as Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in which there is a chapter on the above subject. It is a book of facts, not of theories, and full of interesting information.

CONFIDENCE

We Back up Our Statements with Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skillful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded.

Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c, 25c and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. T. Freeman Co.

WICKED BOTH WAYS.

The church was crowded with an appreciative audience and the success of the course is assured. Mrs. Chase has not been heard by a Chelsea audience for several years and her rich powerful voice has been much improved by cultivation. Mr. Moore, always a favorite in Chelsea, delighted the audience by his mastery of the pipe organ. The next entertainment will be given by the Imperial Concert Co., of Jackson, Tuesday, November 21.

U. A. Hagar, of Chelsea, New York, called upon Clarence W. Maroney on Saturday last, and renewed a friendship formed twenty-three years ago, when they were students at Eastman's National Business College, of Poughkeepsie, New York. This was their first meeting since their graduation at that famous institution. Mr. Hagar was accompanied by his wife and son, Emory, 16 years of age. They were on their way home from an extended trip through the south and west. Mr. Hagar is holding a responsible position with the New York Central Railway at his home town. They left Sunday morning on an early train and expected to arrive Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Russell B. Wheelock.

Ora Belle Perry was born in Lima, June 26, 1871, and died at her home Friday afternoon, October 13, 1911.

Almost all of her life had been spent in the home where she resided. She was united in marriage with Russell B. Wheelock November 3, 1897, and to this union three children were born. Mrs. Wheelock was highly respected by a large circle of friends who sympathize with the members of her family in their hour of affliction. She was a devoted wife and mother, and during the long years of bodily suffering, she often made the expression "to know that she must part from her husband and children was the hardest of her lot."

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, two sons, and one sister, Mrs. Wm. I. Whitaker, of Flint. The funeral was conducted from the family residence Monday forenoon, Rev. J. W. Campbell, pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church, officiating. Interment Oak Grove cemetery.

The following have been contributed in her remembrance:

"We will come to thee in the morning love,
Wait for us on the eternal heights above.
The why is troubled where our feet must climb,
Ere we shall tread the mountain top sublime.

We will come in the morning, O, our own,
But for a time must grope our way alone
Through tears and sorrow, 'til the day shall dawn
And we shall hear the summons and pass on.

We will come in the morning rest secure,
Our hope is certain and our faith is sure,
After the gloom and darkness of the night,
We will come to thee with the morning light."

Where We Come In

Some one has said that "any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to save it." Like many other well known sayings that one is not true, because "any fool" cannot make money. Those characteristics are usually found in the man who is a successful money maker are not as a general rule present in the maker-up of a fool. To the latter part of the above statement, however, we cordially subscribe, for it takes not only wisdom to save money, but patience, determination and self-sacrifice as well. No valuable thing comes easy. A fat bank account is a cheerful thing to contemplate, but to secure it is no snap. No man can accumulate without using the services of a good bank, and there is where we come in. We help in the savings process, we make it easy and convenient to save and we encourage the habit of paying you for doing it. If you have not opened an account yet, begin next pay day. Get a start, if only with a five-dollar bill. You owe it to your family and yourself to save something.

HALLOWE'EN Day of Mirth and Mystery

EACH successive year sees an increasing observance of Halloween—a holiday which rivals any on the calendar as an occasion for pranks and pastimes. The growing disposition to devote more attention to the celebration of Halloween is not strange, for the occasion with its quaint customs has much to commend it as a break in the routine of the year. For one thing, this fateful day of mirth and mystery is the first of the autumn and winter holidays, and yet more significant, it is for the young folks the first break in the school year. Withal, its festivities are for the most part reserved for the period after twilight, so that even the individuals who are occupied during the day may participate.

The festival of the night of October 31 is in its origin and traditions one of the most picturesque which now finds observance in this country. It has a number of different designations, among which are Halloween, All Hallow Even, Nutcrack Night and Snap Apple Night. It derives its most common name, however, as the eve or vigil of All Saints' or All Hallow's Day (November 1). From time out of mind this has been heralded as a night when witches, devils and other mischief-makers are abroad on their baneful midnight errands, while the fairies are supposed to hold on that night a grand anniversary.

To accept the spirit of the season the devotees of Halloween must concede that on no other night of the year do such supernatural influences prevail as after dark on the closing day of October. According to ancient beliefs the spirits of the dead then wander about and in some instances the spirits of living persons are supposed to have the temporary power to leave their bodies and join the ghostly throng. Especially gifted with the power to converse with airy visitants are persons who have had the good fortune to be born on October 31, but other folks, also, tradition hath it, may be warned or advised by the elves.

For all that such awesome doing are attributed to the mysterious spirits that are abroad on Halloween these supernatural beings cannot be altogether ill natured, since they are willing without fee or reward, and on the condition of the performance of a very simple ceremony, to disclose to any curious young man or woman most interesting particulars practiced of all the Halloween recipes is that which admonishes the credulous maiden to eat an apple before a looking glass while combing her hair with the promise that if these directions be followed explicitly the face of her destined conjugal partner will be seen in the mirror as though peeping over her shoulder. Equally well known is the scheme whereby any maiden may find out the first letter of the name of her future husband by peeling an apple, taking the paring by one end in her fingers and after swirling it three times around her head allowing it to fall in whatever fashion it may. A little imagination may be necessary to construe the position of the paring as indicative of a desired letter, but usually this mental aid is readily supplied.

Another mode of peeping into the matrimonial lottery has been transplanted to America from Scotland. By this plan the young women go hand-in-hand, blindfolded, or at least with eyes closed, to the cabbage patch and each pulls the first plant met with. Earth on the root of the cabbage thus selected signifies dowry. The shape and size of the vegetable denote the appearance and size of the future spouse, while the taste of the heart and stem indicate his disposition. The Irish girls have a scheme for catching a glimpse of a future husband by throwing a ball of yarn out of the window, holding the end of the yarn and then rewinding it saying the Pater Noster backward. If the ball of yarn, outside in the darkness, be watched carefully the young woman may hope to be rewarded by seeing the desired apparition. In this same old-fashioned category is the legend which admonishes a girl to wet the sleeve of a shirt and hang it on a chair before the fire ere she retires on Halloween. Then if she remain awake until midnight she may see her future helpmate enter the room and turn the drying garment.

Entirely erroneous is the impression prevailing in some quarters that all matrimonial prognostication, as carried on at Halloween, is for the benefit of the fair sex. As a matter of fact there are numerous forms of divination designed for the use of ardent swains. The best known of these is that wherein the smitten youth descends cellar stairs with a candle in one hand and a mirror in the other, hoping to find the face of a sweetheart reflected back to him. Especially adapted for practice by farmer lads is the hemp-seed ordeal. The youthful optimist must go out alone and unperceived with a handful of hemp seed, which he sows, the while repeating "Hemp seed, I sow thee and her that is to be my true love come after me and pull thee." Whereat, upon looking over his left shoulder he ought to see a likeness of his future sweetheart pulling the freshly sowed seed. If the experimenter sees nothing he must perforce conclude that he is never to marry or else that he has not followed directions explicitly enough in his test.

There has been increasing appreciation during recent years on the part of hostesses of all ages that Halloween—a night of laughter and jollity and mystery—affords a most delightful opportunity for entertaining in a unique way. The quaint conceits in the amusement line which have already been improvised for this mystic occasion prove how inviting is this field for individual ingenuity. Halloween has become especially popular at the schools and colleges of the country. It is a brief season given over to the pranks of the students, and each student body tries to outdo the others and at the same time surpass the exploits of its predecessors. Particularly at the boarding schools for girls and at women's colleges is there a fantastic observance of Halloween.

The invitations to a Halloween party must above all else have the requisite of novelty. The wording may hint of dark secrets to be unfolded, and as symbols of the occasion there are representations of witches riding brooms, blinking owls, broad-winged bats, or pumpkins. For decorative purposes nature provides at this season of the year a wealth of vivid hued material, such as cornstalks, pumpkins,

Backache Means Dying Kidneys

A Remarkable Treatment That Saves the Kidneys. How You May Cure Yourself Quickly and Thoroughly.

With the progress of science comes one remarkable treatment for kidney disease. It has been so thoroughly tested and its results have proven so revolutionary that a well-known firm in Michigan has undertaken its distribution into every part of the country. Those who suffer from kidney trouble and the diseases resulting from it will be pleased to know that every package of this treatment is thoroughly guaranteed. This should assure at least a positive cure to every sufferer.

Every man and woman should know that backache is usually a well-defined symptom of advancing kidney disease which may end fatally unless treated in time—that rheumatism and bladder trouble are caused from nothing more nor less than kidneys that do not filter the poison from the blood; that dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder stones are caused by bad kidneys. Once they are made to work properly, these diseases should quickly disappear.

This is done by the new treatment, Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills. We urge everyone who has pain in the small of the back, profuse or scanty urination, pains in the bladder, cloudy or foul urine, not to fail to get a package today of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills, and drop all other kidney treatments.

Senator Stevenson of Washington writes from Olympia: "There is no question about the efficacy of Dr. Derby's Pure Kidney Pills in curing kidney and bladder trouble. I know whereof I speak."

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are now sold at all drug stores—25 and 50 cents. If you would like to try them first, ask your druggist for a free sample package. Then buy a package; you will not regret it. Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

CURSORY, AS IT WERE.

The Owl—What do you think of Mr. Robin's new home? The Sparrow—It looks very nice, but I've only taken a bird's-eye view of it.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

There are two ways to tell if you have weak kidneys. The first is through pains in the back. The second by examining the kidney secretions. If you suspect your kidneys, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once. Mrs. J. L. Warrick, 406 W. Mulberry St., Lebanon, Ohio, says: "No tongue can tell the agonies I suffered. My feet and limbs were lifeless and there were weeks when I could not put my feet to the floor or stand alone. As a last resort, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. In six weeks I was as free from kidney trouble as if I had never had it."

Aerial Scout Work. As an example of what German military airmen are already able to do, the performance of Lieutenant Mackenthun recently is cited. In a space of 35 minutes Lieutenant Mackenthun, who was acting for the Red force, rose and flew along the enemy's front and was back on the ground at his headquarters ready to report. To obtain the same results would have taken a strong force of cavalry four hours.

It's all right to help others, but it doesn't pay to be too busy to stop and help yourself.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach. A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Plummer's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

To Mend an Umbrella. Famous Old Morocco City

Was in its Day One of the World Capitals of Islam and Still Interesting to Europeans.

Morocco City, the capital of the southern half of the Moroccan kingdom, is a far more interesting city than Fez, says the New York Sun. Architecturally its monuments, including the famous Kutubia tower, the counterpart of the Giralda in Seville, the famous mosque of Muley Abdallah and a hundred other ruins or semi-ruined edifices surviving from the days when the city had 700,000 inhabitants and was one of the world capitals of Islam, are the most considerable and magnificent in Morocco. Equally beautiful is the site of this city in the upper valley of the Tensift river, surrounded in a half circle by the great wall of the grand Atlas mountains, whose snow-clad peaks are seen beyond a foreground of large farms and fertile fields. A city far less given over to war, with a population less ferocious, less fanatical than that of Fez or Mekinez, Morocco City has been much more frequently visited by Europeans than its northern rivals. Geographically, Morocco City is the real gateway to the Sahara. By the famous Glawi pass one road climbs over the Atlas to Taflet, and the caravan route continues to Timbuktu. A second road descends to the Draa crossing the Atlas chain, while a third leads to Tarudant and the Sus country. Close communication with the south has left its mark upon the people, who are larger and show more patently the infusion of African blood than the Berbers and Arabs of the north.

Care of Canaries.

In selecting a canary one of the cross-breeds, pure canary with a strain of goldfinch or bullfinch, is the best to choose, as they are much harder than the pure canary and have splendid voices. The best food for canaries is canary and rape seed, one part of rape to three of canary. From April to September they should have a little fresh green food every day, either chickweed, watercress or lettuce. A lump of sugar should always be kept between the cage wires within easy reach.

Always give a canary a bath the first thing in the morning. After cleaning the bottom of the cage should be sprinkled with gravel and sand (not sand from the seashore, as the salt will kill the bird).

Never hang the cage in a draft or a stiff breeze, as canaries are very susceptible to cold. Neither should it remain uncovered in a lighted room at night, as the bird's song is liable to become impaired.

MANCHESTER—A postal savings bank was opened in the Manchester postoffice on Tuesday of this week.

YPSILANTI—Through the efforts of Hiram Fisk, of this city, a company of Detroit capitalists has been formed to prospect for oil on the farm of Harry Harmon near Whitaker. A well has been sunk to a depth of 85 feet which gives sufficient gas to fire the boiler and the company is considerably encouraged. A farmer in the vicinity now has his house piped with the gas, and uses it for cooking and lighting.

MILAN—Deputy Sheriff William Gauntlett, of Milan, arrested Claude Alford of that place last Saturday morning for buying liquor for a drunkard. Alford in spite of the fact that he had been warned of the consequence by the officer, bought some whisky at Hochrell's saloon for Martin Cooley to whom saloonists have been notified not to sell liquor. Alford got ten days in jail from the justice.

SALINE—Mrs. Geo. Johnson has sold her farm in Lodi township to John Hack. The house on this farm is said to be one of the best built houses in Michigan, its walls being three feet in thickness. It was erected in 1862 by an old Scotch mason, who also built the Michigan Union home and the lodge in the Ann Arbor cemetery, and later was sent for to erect the Congregational church, of Ann Arbor.—Observer.

DEXTER—Mrs. Irene Hawkins, 19 years old, wife of Henry Hawkins, blacksmith, through a fit of despondency drank a cup of Paris green Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Hawkins, with her husband and a party of young folks, was playing croquet. After a disagreement over the play she went into the house, mixed a tablespoonful of Paris green in a cup and drank it. The attending physicians entertain hopes of her recovery.

MILAN—The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary circles of the Washtenaw Baptist Association was held at Milan Thursday and was largely attended by delegates from the various circles in the county. Mrs. Farnum, of Ann Arbor was elected president of the association. Rev. Mr. Brown, of Detroit, state superintendent of the junior work, and Mrs. White, of Eaton Rapids, were present and gave excellent addresses.

MANCHESTER—Herman Meyer, who for many years lived in Sharon and was noted for the excellent quality of wooden shoes he made for people throughout the state, but who has lived on the "Charles Gummer place" in the east part of the village for some time, has shown symptoms of insanity for a long time and has threatened the lives of members of his family, was taken to Ann Arbor Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Clark, where he will be taken care of until he can be taken to an asylum.—Enterprise.

WATERLOO—Daniel O'Leary, a well known resident of Waterloo township, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at the home of his brother, Morris O'Leary, of Blackman township, from apoplexy, aged about 66 years. The deceased was stricken while en route to his brother's and was found unconscious in the road. He had started from his home with a horse and cart and was leading a horse he had borrowed of his brother a few days before. He was taking it home. About four miles from his destination he got out of the cart to attend to the horse he was leading, and fell to the ground. Mr. Watts, an acquaintance, came along, loaded him into his rig and took him to his brother's home, where he died within a short time. He was a widower and had no children.

ANN ARBOR—The case of William Osius against H. P. Kaufman, of Lima, for the possession of a farm which Kaufman is alleged to have contracted to buy six years ago, was settled out of court Friday morning by Kaufman's agreeing to pay $4,000.

Communication.

Some few weeks ago the Standard called attention to a little meeting held out on a ditch bank in the township of Lyndon. Its movements were so obscure, that some thought its aims were mysterious. Directly after, the association there formed was recognized at a convention in Lansing. Last Monday it loomed up at a banquet given in the Allen House in Ann Arbor and this time its delegates were the cynosure of all eyes, at that decorous and important entertainment given, we understand, by the Board of Commerce of our metropolitan city of Ann Arbor. Dr. Charles O'Reilly was the first speaker called upon, and was introduced by the presiding officer as "a farmer from Lyndon township and vice president of the Good Roads Association of that rural district." The Doctor responded in good form, and expressed himself gratified at the chairman's delineation of him: "for," he said, "after a life of intermingled vicissitudes, in politics, polemics and ecclesiastical conferences, he, at last found himself described as the man God meant him for—the man who tilled the soil." He met the question squarely and candidly which was in the minds of all present, viz.: Why the Lyndon Good Roads Association was not warmer in its support of the county system? He declared that the people of Lyndon were not opposed to the county system of state roads as it was explained by its proponents, but that rural district, that never had a postoffice within its precincts, a corner grocery store, nor a public blacksmith shop, much less a saloon, yet was still democratic, would oppose any system that tended to interfere with its personal liberties and, anent the present position, would take the control of their highways out of their own hands. He supposed it was on this account that their reserved attitude had been misconstrued into one of hostility. It was absurd, he said, "and censurable that Washtenaw County had already contributed fifteen thousand dollars and was called upon to contribute this year over five thousand more to build roads in the Saginaw Valley and St. Clair county, whilst not one foot of those roads had been constructed in Washtenaw county nor one cent of rebate received back. The people of Lyndon, he said, whilst geographically insular and rural in disposition, had never been accused of stupidity nor want of patriotism. They have put their hands into their own pockets in anticipation of the dilatory action of legislative bodies to make their roads good and were opposed to no system, action, nor confederation that wanted to make the roads better—provided only, that it let Lyndon alone." "Leave the township system as it is," he said in conclusion, and Lyndon will look out for its own salvation in a conservative and sensible manner. It does not like to be hustled, hurried or bossed. To be plain, gentlemen, Lyndon, though "second growth" is still predominantly Irish—and like their countryman Sir Boyle Roche, hesitate to enlist in enterprises of future possible realization—like him they are like to enquire: "Is this all for posterity? Gentlemen, what has posterity ever done for us?" Lyndon will be with you in any practical enterprise that offers present results, but we are opposed to and suspicious of any diffusive organization that may open the doors and offer the highways of our homes to the grafter and politician.

The Doctor was applauded several times during his speech and, at its close the chairman expressed deep satisfaction to know that Lyndon was in sympathy with the county system. Eugene Heatley, of Lyndon was also present at the banquet.
