Michael J. Lehman.

Michael J. Lehman died at his home in Ann Arbor, at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 23, 1912, from an illness dating from last December. He had resided in this county nearly all his life but he was born in Weurttemberg, Germany, September 3, 1850. His parents came to this country in 1853 and settled in Freedom, but latter moved to Sylvan Center where they resided for many years.

Mr. Lehman completed his education in the Grass Lake high school and graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1878. After his graduation he opened a law office in Chelsea and served a number of terms as justice of the peace. His law office for years has been in Detroit. From 1888 until 1892, he was prosecuting attorney of this county.

In 1881, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Schumacher, of Waterloo, and she survives him with three sons, Christian H. and George M., of Detroit and Carl A., who resides at family home. The brothers and sisters surviving are, Matthew L., of White Oak; Henry, of Waterloo; William R., of Grass Lake; Conant L., of this place; Mrs. Catherine Oesterle, of Sylvan; Mrs. Mary Wurster, of Manchester; Mrs. Elizabeth Reimenschneider, of Waterloo; Mrs. Lydia Nordman, of Jackson, and Mrs. Ida Barth, of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Lehman was a member of the Bethlehem Evangelical church, of Ann Arbor. The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning from the Bethlehem church, Rev. S. A. John officiating, and the interment will be in Bethlehem cemetery.

To Report in Ten Days.

Tuesday Deputy Sheriff J. E. McKune on a warrant sworn out by John Urbanski placed under arrest Mrs. Samuel Spirit charging her with appropriating $70 of his money. For the past month Mrs. Spirit has been living in the boarding cars at Four Mile Lake with her husband who is employed by the Michigan Portland Cement Co., and the complainant is also employed at the same place.

In fact there is a quite a number of Poles employed at the works and they all live in old freight cars which are on the land of the company.

From all that could be learned the complainant and a number of the other men were out for a time Saturday night and when he awoke Sunday he missed his cash and concluded that the same was in possession of Mrs. Spirit. She was taken before Justice Turnbull Tuesday noon for an examination and was allowed to return to her home in Detroit on condition that she report to the court her whereabouts in ten days. There was not enough evidence to make a case against her. The husband returned to his work at the plant Tuesday afternoon.

Juvenile Cases' Court.

In a decision handed down by the supreme court Monday it is held a probate judge of a county is the only judicial officer empowered to deal with and dispose of juvenile cases.

As a result of the decision, Graham Gould, the 9 years old of Durall Gould, of Lansing, will be given over to the custody of his father. The mother of the boy died in 1909 and the grandparents kept him at their home. The father appeared a short time ago and wanted the boy. The probate judge of Ingham county ruled against the grandparents, and they carried the case to the Ingham circuit court, where Judge Collingwood held with the father. The supreme court affirms the decision of the lower courts.

Will Straighten Track.

The D., J. & C. electric line is preparing to straighten its tracks west of Ann Arbor. The company has just purchased a strip of property on the territorial road for the purpose of eliminating the curve about half a mile west of the "forks." The purchase was made from George Schaffer and William Guenther, and will eliminate a dangerous "jog" in the road where the track now curves to the northwest. The company is also double tracking the line through Dearborn and will probably extend the double track to Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor next year.

Primary Election.

All nominations this year are by primary election which takes place August 27. Only a few petitions have been filed by county candidates in this county as yet but as the petitions have to be on file a certain number of days before the primary the candidates will have to get busy circulating them. It should be also remembered that none but enrolled voters can sign these petitions.

REMOVE THE BELLS

Michigan Central Will Have Electric Lights Placed in Passenger Depot.

Tuesday afternoon a special train on the Michigan Central carrying State Railroad Commissioner Geo. W. Dickinson, Assistant General Manager M. B. Snow and Assistant Chief Engineer F. B. Marble were in Chelsea to make an investigation of the alarm bells on the McKinley street crossing, of the Michigan Central. The parties came here in response to complaints that had been made by the residents in the vicinity of the crossing who claimed that they were an annoyance and that they wanted them removed.

The party spent some time listening to the complaints of the residents and finally decided to have the bells removed. Village President Staffan was present and protested against leaving the crossing unprotected.

This crossing is one of the principal ones in Chelsea and nearly all who come here from the territory north-east of the village travel over this thoroughfare, which without protection of some kind is a dangerous one. For many years the citizens of this village tried to secure protection for this crossing and a few years ago they succeeded in having the bells installed, but at that time they asked for gates or a flagman. There should be placed at the crossing either a flagman or gates when the bells are removed.

Perhaps if the common council would pass an ordinance, if there is not already one, that would stop the railroad company running their trains through the village at a mile a minute clip and bring their speed down to eight or ten miles an hour they would sit up and take notice and take care of the dangerous crossings in Chelsea.

Assistant General Manager Snow, upon the request of President Staffan, promised to have the Chelsea passenger station lighted with electricity and also to have the long train of boarding cars just west of the Hayes street crossing removed, as at this point people going north cannot see a train coming from either direction until they are on the tracks.

Hot Weather Suggestions.

The agricultural department at Washington has issued some suggestions for keeping cool. Among the suggestions, which are both practical and time honored, are the following: "Don't think it is hot, don't worry and don't get heated. Don't look at the thermometer every two minutes. Just try to forget the weather and you will be surprised to find how much less you feel it." (Parenthetically we are led to exclaim that anyone who would be able to in any measure "forget" the weather of the past week would be more absent minded than the southern colonel, who upon being asked his opinion of Woodrow Wilson just as he was about to cut a chew of plug tobacco, put the chew in his pocket and swallowed the knife.)

"There is no objection to lemonade and soda fountain beverages. The acids and soda of the latter are positively beneficial to ward off heat. Once a day is often enough to eat meat. Be sure that any fish or sea foods are absolutely fresh. These and stale milk cause typhoid. Ice cream is not harmful.

"Take a vacation. If you can't, be sure your wife does; she probably needs it more than you do. Every man, though, ought to take a vacation. Vacations are good investments for any business firm to give their employees. Also loaf, sleep and take it as easy as you can all the time. Don't overexert.

Dangerous Communicable Diseases.

According to the most recent health bulletin, past history shows that July will be freer from dangerous communicable diseases than any other month in the year. Measles will be the disease to be the most dreaded. However the housefly gets in his work of spreading typhoid germs and the precaution of knowing that drinking water is free from these is strongly urged by the state health department.

A Hero in a Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, South Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50 cents at L. P. Vogel, H. H. Fenn Co., L. T. Freeman Co.

A Letter From T. S. Hughes.

Steamship Parisian, at sea, July 4.

Dear Hoover:

As a great many of our Chelsea friends asked us to write them a little about our voyage, and as that would mean a very big task, agreeable to my promise to you, I thought it best to let them read a little of it through the medium of The Standard.

We have had a most lovely trip outside of heavy fogs for two or three days. Quite a few were sick. I was very glad that my better half proved such a splendid sailor; never showed the least sign of sickness, and never missed a meal. Last Sunday we had services at 10:30 a. m., and Sunday evening I gave a sacred concert. Last Monday we passed close to an iceberg, and the Captain informed us that it was about 400 feet high, two miles long and one mile wide. It was a grand sight. We have seen a number of whales and porpoises. Yesterday we received a wireless from the S. S. Numedjan of the success of Wilson.

Every day we have been in touch by wireless with numerous vessels. A person has got to come in actual contact with wireless before one realizes the great benefit it is to the ocean travelling public.

Our time aboard has been taken up with laying in easy chairs (on deck) reading, smoking, visiting, sleeping, playing cards, checkers, cribbage, etc., or playing shuffle board, quots, etc. Evenings we spend in the main saloon having whist drives or concerts. For Wednesday evening I worked up a fake breach of promise case, which was a huge success. The Allan Co. have an honorary list, and each voyage one passenger's name is put on by vote of the captain and a number of the passengers for the best organizer of entertainments, and I am glad to state that the little town of Chelsea, Mich., is on the honor roll for this voyage.

We have a very congenial lot of passengers, among whom there is no formality whatever; just like a small town flocking around, and everyone out for a good time, and we are certainly having it.

This day being the 4th we made up a program of sports; fifteen events were pulled off and prizes given. At noon a gun was fired and a string of flags were hoisted up each of the four masts at the same moment. The cannons then roared their salute, accompanied by the ship's whistle, after which we all looked up to the fore top masthead at the old stars and stripes and with bared heads sang America.

This is July 5. Yesterday we wound up with a grand dance on the saloon deck, which was very prettily decorated with flags and electric lights. At 11 p. m. we finished the dancing and had lunch, after which they shot off a number of rockets and marine bombs. We certainly had a fine day of it, and probably had more fun here than if we were ashore.

The menu for dinner last night was very good and caused quite a little comment. I am sending you a copy. The distance covered each day was as follows, the variations being caused by fog and the great precautions taken for safety: First day, 265 miles; second, 315; third, 207; fourth, 220; fifth, 327; sixth, 320; seventh, 325; eighth, 323. Total, 2,312. The entire course is 2,750.

We now have the north of Ireland in sight and expect to reach Glasgow in the morning.

I nearly forgot to mention a wireless we received. Here is the message as we received it:

"To Captain of Parisian for passengers: Greeting! You are communicating with the oldest ship afloat, the Australian convict ship Success, 123 years old, formerly known as the Ocean Hell. We are bound for New York under our own sail, 47 days out, all well."

We received this message when south out Cape Race. Well, I must draw to a close. Respectfully,
TOM S. HUGHES.

Grange Meeting.

The next meeting of the North Lake Grange will be held in their hall on Wednesday, July 31. The following program will be carried out: Roll Call—Objections to Women Sufferage.

Recitation.
Patriotic Song.

To Get Rid of Ants.

For ants, put one table spoon full of water and one table spoon full of paragonic in a small saucer on the cupboard shelves or any places infested by them. They will all leave. Strips of blotting paper saturated with paragonic placed on the refrigerator shelves will exterminate the little red ant.

Farmers and Stockmen!

This notice is written to give the Raisers and Feeders of all kinds of Live Stock and Domesticated Animals the excellent advice that is the original, best, most satisfactory and efficient stock remedy made. It is a Conditioner, Blood Purifier and Worm Destroyer. It makes more Flesh, Milk, Wool, Muscle and Energy from the same amount of feed than can possibly be obtained by any other remedy.

Salt is the Base or Filler of this Preparation.

Each Prescribed Dose is Guaranteed Fully Medicated.

It is necessary to use something to give greater bulk and cause animals to eagerly devour medicine that would otherwise be refused. The most potent drug is often most distasteful. All animals desire and require salt; hence we claim nothing more palatable could be devised with which to incorporate our medicine.

Dr. Holland's Medicated Stock Salt is not a substitute for any kind of feed. The stock raiser is the producer of stock food. What is needed is a remedy for the ills of stock and preparation wherein the stock raiser can get the greatest benefits from the food he produces. This can be done only by keeping the digestion in proper condition to assimilate this food, and the blood in condition to ward off disease. It contains no arsenic, antimony or anything injurious; it can be fed with impunity to the weakest lamb. The remedy will keep and retain its virtue indefinitely if kept dry. It will not get wormy, as it is a worm destroyer, not a breeder.

A POOR ARTICLE IS NEVER IMITATED.

While imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, and a splendid testimony to the good qualities of Dr. Holland's Medicated Stock Salt, beware of the man who endeavors to do business on the reputation of another.

We sell this excellent remedy at 4c per pound. It is guaranteed to satisfy the user. To those who have done their part and have not received proper results we cheerfully refund the price.

HIGHWAYS of CHINA

SEOUL — PEKIN ROAD

WHEN consideration is taken of the great interest which of late years has been exhibited in the world's fauna, an interest which may be said to date from the opening stages of the Victorian Era, the enlarged facilities for travel and the increasing number of men who yearly scour the world for fresh specimens, it is a matter for comment when one realizes that from the big game point of view, China is practically unknown. Everyone knows that lions come from Africa and tigers from India; but there are many who, were they asked for the names of half a dozen species to be found in China, would fail to answer, writes Frank Wallace in Country Life. With the exception of a few expeditions organized for scientific purposes, scarcely half a dozen men have visited the country for sporting purposes since Pere David in 1869, spent some months exploring in the quasi-independent district of Mapin. The reasons are many. In the first place, until recently the condition of affairs in the interior very little was known even to long-established foreign residents; the Chinese themselves did nothing to encourage the incursions of foreigners; travel at the best of times must be slow, tedious and uncertain; game was, and is, entirely confined to the mountainous regions where cultivation is impossible, and its distribution in these regions was known to few. Lastly, there is one absolute and indispensable essential to a successful trip in China—a trustworthy and capable guide, interpreter, headman, whatever you like to call him, who knows Chinese well and something of the geography of the country. Such a rara avis is hard to find. The foreigner is legitimate prey in most countries, nowhere more than in China. So recently as last year a party of Americans went through a certain district accompanied by several native interpreters. The latter were enjoying themselves, the former were not; in fact, they stated that for a nine days' journey between two important towns three thousand taels (roughly three hundred and seventy-five pounds) were necessary! Under ordinary conditions, with such comforts as are available, three white men, three mule carts of baggage and five Chinese boys can go from one place to the other for a cost not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

Carry Heavy Loads.
The luxurious mode, and that adopted by all Chinese officials—though to the European large carts are far more comfortable—is the chair. In this, borne by four men, he sits upright, looking straight before him, with something strangely reminiscent of a leshargic tortoise in his mien. Next comes the mule litter, a kind of low couch slung on poles and harnessed to a couple of mules. Then the small cart, usually known as a Peking cart, and one of the most bone-shaking contrivances ever invented; then the larger carts, drawn by four mules, one in the shafts and three abreast, hooded and capable of carrying loads of two thousand catties (two thousand six hundred and sixty-six pounds); and lastly a mule, horse, or pony. Female mules are almost invariably used to draw carts, the males being engaged with pack trains. We used the larger carts. Our beds were uprolled in the middle, and the sides, being well padded, made comfortable seats.

We would make our start walking in the cool of the dawn, when the sky was lilac and lavender and the little gray-blue clouds in the west were turning pink. They were the pleasantest hours as I remember them. Tired, dusty Mother Earth seemed for a time to shed her years and met the eye with her old freshness as she greeted much-enduring Ulysses and the Argonauts, or even Adam, when he first woke in the green and gold of Eden. Pheasants called in the fields and sparrows chattered as they met; from the tree tops came the cheery cry of the partridges; hares lolloped to a distance and sat with ears erect; a pagoda broke the skyline or a rarer clump of trees, while against the red soil of the green terraced fields the blue coats of the pheasants laboring at even that early hour struck a pleasing and insistent note of color. Far away rose purple hills, our goal, and once as I looked I gave a gasp of unbelief, for there before me lay "The Warrior." He was stretched full length, starting into the blue immensity as he lies above immensity as he lies above a mountain. There rose the long slope which runs down to Stray and Beh Vichart; there the valley of the Glass, and behind a knoll to the west the enchanted garden of my dreams. In a strange land and among a strange people I felt a stirring of the heartstrings at this shadowy blue counterfelt as the far-off, well-remembered names came crowding on my memory.

Requires Patience.
The Chinaman's wealth is in his fields, and very careful he is of it. He pays taxes, which are light, over the road as well should it chance to be on his land. Often it is a narrow baked ridge—dropping to cultivation on either hand and worn into regular undulating ridges by the countless hoofs of patient mules. The main thoroughfare runs in a deep hollow worn in the friable red loess, and at the same spot there may be as many as five within a few yards of each other. One exception is the Seoul-Pekin road, which for many miles is well built, although narrow. When the weather is bad, and in wet no superlative would do justice to the condition of most of main highways, the muleteer placidly drives his team across some unfortunate creek, others follow and the old road sinks into oblivion. It is compensatory justice they say, for the owner of the land should see to its preservation. An infinity of patience is needed to travel in China. In dry weather the going is not bad, twenty to twenty-five miles a day and even more; then the fine, penetrating dust is stifling, for the loess soil wears down into gullies one hundred and fifty to two hundred feet deep. China has regarded itself as a civilized country for over four thousand years, but its glories lie in that part which the young Venetian saw when he came traveling to Cambaluc, the city of the Grand Kahn, who "in respect to number of subjects extent of territory and amount of revenue, surpasses every sovereign that has heretofore been, or that now is in the world." Evidence of departed grandeur still hangs about the carved bridges, but the roads themselves when they do not resemble the dried bed of a water-course are a more or less exact imitation of a plowed field. For the Chinaman, living on the easy and self-satisfying principle that what was good enough for his father is good enough for him, and that any access of reform would inflict an indignity on the pious memory of his ancestors, allows them to remain, a perpetual reminder to the energetic westerner of the immemorial lethargy of the east. In wet their condition is horrible and impossible for any mode of conveyance save pack-mules. A sweltering sea of mud and slime, they baffle description. Occasionally a cloud burst in a narrow gully brings down a miniature tidal wave eight or ten feet high, which sweeps men, mules and carts unresisting in its wake.

Distances are variable, though nominally fixed by the li (three and one-third of which go to the mile), a mysterious abstract as elastic as the conscience of an opium addict. In addition there are li, certain districts horrible inventions known as chia li, or false li. These add light to every ten. The answer to a repetition of the enquiry "How far?" is consequently as irritating as the everlasting "In ball kidogo" of the native of Africa.

FERRIS AND HELME ARE CANDIDATES

MR. WOOD WITHDRAWS, GIVING PROFESSOR FERRIS A CLEAR FIELD FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

EXPLAINS WHY HIS NAME WAS TO HAVE BEEN USED.

Mr. Ferris Was Candidate Eight Years Ago and Made a Strong Run Against Warner, but Was Defeated.

Woodbridge N. Ferris received a call at his home in Big Rapids Wednesday afternoon from a delegation of original Woodrow Wilson Democrats from southwestern Michigan, headed by Wm. F. McKnight, of Grand Rapids. The committee urged him to consent to have petitions circulated for his nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket at the August primaries. Mr. Ferris says: "It will be a large inconvenience for me to be a candidate. The sacrifices of my private interests that it means to me is not small. But, I am willing to make the sacrifice if it is going to help Gov. Wilson in Michigan. The Michigan democracy owes it to our national candidate to make sacrifices. Had another than Gov. Wilson been nominated at Baltimore, I would not for a moment consider being a candidate."

Eight years ago Prof. Ferris was the Democratic nominee for governor and stumped the state, his main argument being for a comprehensive primary nominations law. There was then no state primary law. Fred M. Warner was running on the Republican ticket for a first term, and he had the hearty support of his party's state organization. Warner and the organization were then only lukewarm on the primary proposition. On election day Col. Roosevelt carried Michigan for president by a majority of 204,887, but Warner's majority over Ferris was but 60,228.

Edwin O. Wood, member of the democratic national committee for Michigan, today telegraphed the secretary of state that he was not a candidate for governor, and requested that no petitions for him be filed.

Mr. Wood says he was at no time a candidate for the nomination for governor, and only consented to the use of his name when called out of the national committee meeting at Chicago Monday and informed by telephone that Judge Yaple was disqualified by the state constitution, which prohibits a circuit judge from holding public office for one year after leaving the bench, and that no definite acceptance was at hand from any source with only eleven days left in which to file petitions.

Under these conditions, he said the ticket must be filed on the day if there was any fear that the head of the ticket was likely to be vacant, his name could be used, but under no other circumstance, and that if any other democrat would make the race, Mr. Wood's name would be withdrawn forthwith.

James W. Helme, who will be a candidate for attorney-general, in a formal statement, says: "The progressive Democrats met at Big Rapids and revealed upon Prof. Ferris to allow his name to go on the primary ballot for governor. He said at the time that he would suggest me as a good running mate, so there will be a petition circulated for me for nomination for lieutenant-governor with Mr. Ferris representing the progressive wing as opposed to Wood and McDonald representing the reactionaries."

Some Phone Companies Cannot Sell Out.

The supreme court, in an opinion handed down held that a telephone company organized for services between its members, but not for profit and unincorporated, has no right to sell out its business, despite the fact that a majority of the stockholders so vote.

The decision was handed down in the case of the minority stockholders of a farmer's mutual telephone company of Waldron, Hillsdale county, against the Hillsdale County Telephone Co.

35,528 Autos Are Licensed in State.
Automobiles are still much more popular in cities than in the villages and rural districts of the state, according to figures given out by Secretary of State Martingale.

Of 35,528 licenses issued this year, only 14,205 are credited to the villages and country, while Detroit alone has 9,536, with 2,000 credited to Grand Rapids, and 966 to Lansing.

Battle Creek officials have collected about two dozen valuable round tables and many others of less value from the Battle Creek Table Co., now bankrupt. The raid was made for the purpose of collecting back taxes, which amount to about $200.

It is said the Michigan Anti-Saloon league will next spring devote the greater part of its campaign to the upper peninsula and that an effort will be made to submit the prohibition question in every county north of the straits, except Marquette and Keweenaw.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad is to spend $500,000 in the building of a new bridge and culverts. George S. Rementer, colored, who was discharged from Jackson prison Monday, is believed to have stolen two suits of clothes and skipped to Chicago. He had been serving a sentence for larceny, coming from Berrien county.

Mrs. William Langkous, wife of a wealthy farmer, is in jail in Grand Rapids, charged with stealing chickens. Her husband says he is too busy attending to business to furnish the required $500 bail. The woman is the mother of 19 children.

Titanic Captain Lives?

Capt. E. J. Smith, commander of the Titanic, was not drowned but has been seen safe and sound in Baltimore, it was persistently declared by Peter Pryal, a wealthy retired mariner, who was a shipmate of Captain Smith for more than 17 years.

Mr. Pryal says he met Capt. Smith on Thursday and accosted him, but the captain brushed him angrily. The next day, he declares, he saw him again and followed him around the city to a railroad station where the captain bought a ticket for Washington. Just as he was about to pass through the gates, Pryal declares, the man turned to him and greeted him by name.

"I am on business; don't worry me, Pryal," he said. "Be good to yourself, old shipmate, till we meet again."

Killing of Rosenthal Was Rehearsed.

A country wide search for slayers of Herman Rosenthal, the New York gambler, is on. The names of the gambler who shot and killed the gambler have been known to the police officials through a grilling third degree given several prisoners now in custody in connection with the case.

The band of gunmen that were engaged in the killing after it had been carefully rehearsed in an uptown gambling house are believed to have fled within a day or two, having become convinced that the "police system" will not be able to protect them.

Parcels Post Bill.

After a dispute of more than two months the senate committee on post-offices and post roads Saturday reached an agreement on the postoffice appropriation bill.

The parcels post provision, the principal matter in dispute, was finally thrashed out by Senator Bourne and Senator Bristow of Kansas. The result was a compromise.

The bill retains Senator Bourne's scheme for a division of the country into zones within which rates for the transmission of parcels shall be the same.

Canal Nears Completion.

More than seven-eighths of the excavation work on the Panama canal has been completed, June 1, according to the canal record, 22,653,815 cubic yards, or less than one-eighth of the total amount of earth and rock to be taken out of the canal route, remained to be excavated. At the rate the great steam shovels are working, this can be done in time to have the waterway ready for opening on schedule, January 1, 1915.

Col. Roosevelt to Visit Saginaw.

Col. Roosevelt will visit Saginaw during the latter part of October according to a telegram which was received by the progressive Republicans, from Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager.

John E. Ferris, a trade journal publisher of Saginaw, announced his candidacy for state senator on the progressive Republican ticket. He has never before been actively concerned in politics.

TELEGRAPH NOTES.

Arthur Smith, a 19-year-old aviator of Fort Wayne, Ind., completed a successful flight from Hillsdale to Adrian, 25 miles, Friday.

The members of the Michigan Retail Clothiers' association will hold their annual convention in Kalamazoo August 21 to 23.

The Portage township board is advertising for the sale of $25,000 bonds authorized by the electors for the building of the Otter Lake road.

Judge John S. McDonald sustained a dislocated shoulder and other painful injuries in an automobile accident in Grand Rapids. The judge was cranking his machine when it suddenly leaped forward and run him down.

Cladys Snyder, eight, was thrown from a row boat into St. Clair river and drowned when one of several little girls on shore jerked a rope that was attached to the boat. Two physicians were immediately summoned, but were unable to resuscitate her.

Miss Beatrice Darby and Daniel T. Vriesema, both of Flint, were married in Alpena by Rev. Dean Hastings, of Trinity church. The people were enjoying an outing at Grand lake and decided it was better to get married now than later.

The Ionia Fair association is planning a boosting campaign for Aug. 7 and 8, and has closed a deal for Lincoln Beachey and his Curtis flying machine as an attraction. The regular fair comes the last of September.

Beginning Monday next, 1,500 uniformed boy scouts, with the co-operation of the street cleaning department and the department of health, will undertake the work of clearing bits of paper, garbage and refuse from the streets of the east side, and other congested neighborhoods of New York city. The work was suggested by the tenement house commission.

Health & Beauty Hints

By Katherine Morton

Summer is a splendid season for fostering a child's good looks. Great Nature stands with her arms wide for the little ones, inviting healthful play in the open air, when muscles are hardened, finicky appetites improved and inches and pounds taken on. But the mother must be very careful about food on the hotter days—be careful, indeed, all summer long—and the daily grooming of the little body must be thorough and regular.

Sponge the little body down very gently with tepid water if the child seems too tired for a tub bath, and repeat the operation several times during the hottest days. A teaspoonful of ammoniated toilet water will make this sponging doubly refreshing, but if this is used be careful not to have the water get into the youngster's eyes. When the little head feels burning hot, and the hair is soaked with perspiration and is sour as well, a shampoo would not be amiss, and it would doubtless be relished. The extra combing the small head gets at this time would be an added comfort—you know how pleasant a combing is to your own tired head—and when it is time to dress the youngster for the afternoon pay more attention to finding the garments that will keep it cool than to putting on those for mere looks. High necks and long sleeves are a crime in hot weather, and so, for that matter, are stockings—to the wee children who are allowed the bare-necked, bare-armed and bare-legged conditions of dress.

A delicate nursery powder, with the fragrance that appeals to the senses, is an added refreshment after the bath, and it is absolutely needed for the children who chafe easily, or are given to little eruptions from heat or indigestion. Violet talcum, prepared for nursery use, is about as good a thing as can be had for general purposes, but if the child is suffering from summer rash this preparation would be more cooling and healing:

Elder-flower water ..... 7 ounces
Glycerin ..... 1 ounce
Borax ..... ½ dram

Mix these together and apply night and morning and during the day.

Now what is the chief cause of the summer rash, and the reason for much of the peevishness, and a good deal of the light physical pain a growing child has in summer? Improper food, you may be sure, food as heavy as that in winter, overeating, too many cold drinks, overripe or underripe fruit. On a hot day—one of the dog day kind—indigestion in food is especially dangerous, particularly if a heavy meal is eaten when the child comes in overheated. A child's food up to eight years of age—after eight—needs always to be the light, easily digested sort. Milk is the most natural food for childhood, and very often it is refused by the youngsters because it is poor or badly kept. Tepid milk is a nauseous mess on a hot day, but milk must not be drunk too cold either, particularly when children are warm and tired and are inclined to take their beverages at a gulp. If the household has that very precious blessing a cellar, the best way to keep milk is to put it in carefully cleansed and sunned bottles, which can be covered, and then set them on the cellar floor. The coolness of this underground chamber will keep milk at just the right temperature, and also preserve more of its delicious quality than if it were put on the ice.

Social Forms and Entertainments

Polite Notes.
Will you kindly advise the custom concerning letters of condolence and congratulation? Should letters be sent only to friends out of town, or may they be used between friends in the same city? Are letters of condolence better than a call? ANXIOUS.

Letters of condolence are always proper, no matter whether to a person living out of town or in one's home city. A card with the word "sympathy" or "to inquire" left at the house of mourning is always good form, of course, only the nearest and dearest friends see a bereaved family; but afterward they look at the cards and letters and deeply appreciate all who have thought of them in their sorrow. Letters of congratulation are always acceptable, enhancing whatever the good fortune may be by sharing with one's friends. The good book says "rejoice with those who do rejoice and weep with those who mourn," or words to that effect, and it is a pretty good maxim to follow.

Giving a Breakfast.
Would you kindly give a few suggestions as to the menu and entertainment suitable for a breakfast for about 25 young ladies? This is for no special occasion, but I wish something a little different. SUBSCRIBER.

For so many guests you will probably seat them at small tables. It would be pretty to have a different color of candle and flowers at each table. Serve first a chilled fruit mixture, chicken and mushroom patties, Saratoga potatoes, tiny hot, buttered biscuit, olives, salted nuts, radishes. Asparagus salad or tomatoes stuffed with shrimps.

A strawberry mousse, with small cakes or a tutti-frutti ice cream makes an acceptable finish. Grape juice, iced tea or coffee may be the choice of beverages, with a cordial.

Afterward have a reading or a short musical programme. Perhaps you have some friend who is clever enough to entertain with personal reminiscences of some unique or interesting experience in travel at home or abroad.

Etiquette at a Reception.
Will you kindly inform me the proper thing to do at a reception? Should I leave my calling card? What should be served? S. A. B.

Greet your hostess, be served to refreshments, leave your card and take your departure, is about the prescribed formula for an afternoon reception.

Tea, coffee, chocolate, sandwiches, wafers, nuts and bonbons, salad, sherbet of ice cream are the usual refreshments served in the dining room. Two or more ladies, generally intimate friends of the hostess, "pour," one or two waiters assisting in the service.

Birthday Stones.
Some months ago I saw a list of stones allotted to the 12 months in the year; perhaps it is in your column, from which I derive much benefit. Will you kindly print this list? OLD READER.

The birth stones are: January, garnet; February, amethyst; March, bloodstone; April, diamond; May, emerald; June, moss agate; July, ruby; August, sardonyx; September, sapphire; October, opal; November, topaz; December, turquoise.

A Perfectly Digested Breakfast Makes Nerve Force for the Day.

Everything goes wrong if the breakfast lies in your stomach like a mud pie. What you eat does harm if you can't digest it—it turns to poison.

A bright lady teacher found this to be true, even of an ordinary light breakfast of eggs and toast. She says:

"Two years ago I contracted a very annoying form of indigestion. My stomach was in such condition that a simple breakfast of fruit, toast and eggs gave me great distress.

"I was slow to believe that trouble could come from such a simple diet, but finally had to give it up, and found a great change upon a cup of hot Postum and Grape-Nuts with cream, for my morning meal. For more than a year I have held to this course and have not suffered except when indigestion varies my diet.

"I have been a teacher for several years and find that my easily digested breakfast means a saving of nervous force for the entire day. My gain of ten pounds in weight also causes me to want to testify to the value of Grape-Nuts.

The Middle-Aged Woman.
Of the many ways in which the middle-aged woman may vary the effect of her afternoon gowns none is simpler than the use of a collar and cuffs of white voile edged with scalloping and embroidery in a floral design. Another change may be the frock set of white chiffon with border of black malines, and still another is the one of black net hemstitched with silver thread. Some of these collars are so long in front that they terminate only at the waist line, where they cross in surplice effect and are tucked away under the girdle. An excellent model of this sort is of light blue lawn embroidered with black dots, and a second is of white agate, trimmed with tiny folds of broadcloth, alternating with sponge.

Too Eager.
Fred Poyner, a Chicago dentist, was recently at a banquet given by the Dental association.

He said: "On one side is the right of things and on the other is wrong; sometimes the difference between the two is slight. As the following story shows: A gypsy upon release from jail met a friend. 'What were you in for?' asked the friend.
"I found a horse," the gypsy replied.
"Found a horse? Nonsense! They would never put you in jail for finding a horse."
"Well, but you see I found him before the owner lost him."

Voice of Conscience.
A western Kentucky negro was in jail awaiting trial for stealing a calf. His wife called to see him. On her way out the jailer, whose name was Grady, halted her.
"Mandy," he inquired, "have you got a lawyer for Jim?"
"No, sah," said his wife. "Ef Jim was guilty I'd git him a lawyer right away; but he tells me he ain't guilty, and so, of co'se, I ain't aimin' to hire none."
"Mr. Grady," came a voice from the cells above, "you tell dat nigger woman down there to git a lawyer—and git a dam' good one, too!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Excellent Plan.
"I see," said Mrs. De Jones, while Mrs. Van Tyle was calling, "that you have a Chinese chauffeur. Do you find him satisfactory?"
"He's perfectly fine," said Mrs. Van Tyle. "To begin with, his yellow complexion is such that at the end of a long, dusty ride he doesn't show any spots, and when I am out in my limousine I have his pigtail stuck through a little hole in the plate-glass window and I use it as a sort of ball rope to tell him where to stop."—Harper's Weekly.

Large or Small Hat Is a Question for the Future

Some experts of fashions say that still larger hats will be worn, while others disagree and say that the small turban shaped hats will be in the majority. The large hat in the photograph is of Panama trimmed with a bow of black velvet and a large pink rose in the front. The small bonnet is of Milan straw and trimmed with rose and rose leaf decorations.

Portable Colony Houses

By J. O. LINTON, Instructor in Poultry Husbandry, Michigan Agricultural College

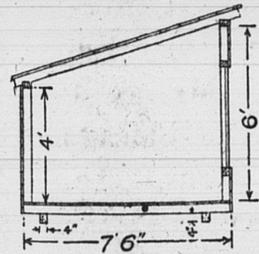

Front View of Portable Colony House.

The use of the portable colony house has rapidly come into favor for farmers and commercial poultry plants, not only as a building for little chicks but through its other various uses. Such a house need not be expensive, but should be solid to allow for hauling and moving from place to place, many times over rough ground and subject to severe handling in turning and placing. The portable colony house should not be so large but that it can be moved with one good team, and can be drawn through the ordinary farm gates to meadows or orchard where they are to be located.

There are many different uses for the colony house, some of which may be divided up for the different seasons. In the early spring they may be used as brooding houses, being equipped with hovers or having in them indoor brooders which allow the chicks the heat of the brooder and the run of the remaining space, being entirely under cover from the severe weather, and allowing the poultryman to raise early chicks; or the house may be divided in two or more compartments and hens may be given chicks, which gives them the same advantages of being under cover during the cold or stormy weather, and still have room for exercise. By cutting openings for each compartment small parks may be made which will keep the birds separate to insure best advantages in growing the young stock, but will allow the birds the run of the outdoor quarters during the pleasant days. If the birds are of one breed there may not be the desire to keep them separate for long, and they may be allowed the run of any desired area as they have a keen sense of location and readily learn to return to their own quarters.

As the season advances the chicks can do without hover or hen. These may be removed and low perches placed in the houses ten or twelve feet from the floor so that the chicks may learn to roost. As the natural tendency seems to be to seek high places for night this is very easily learned by most birds or fowls, and with the exception of one or two of the heavier breeds as the Brahmas or Cochins, birds will not need to be taught to accommodate themselves to the new conditions.

The growing chicks will need some attention to insure best results during the time they are on the range. They should always be supplied with fresh, clean water and should have grain and mash food to bring them into good strong maturity for fall business. As there will always be surplus cockerels in the flock, these may be separated just before the houses are hauled to the range, which will leave the pullets and a few cockerels to care for. The surplus may be marketed at the age of eight to twelve weeks, when, as a rule, prices are good and the birds have reached a desirable size.

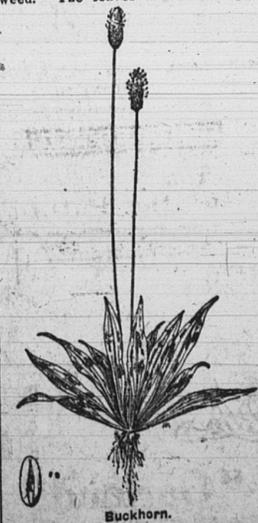

For the feeding of mash to the birds on range hoppers may be devised which will hold food enough for a week or ten days without refilling. By this system not much time will be required of an attendant to scatter grain and provide fresh water for the birds each day. If there happens to be running water near the buildings this will supply the need, and in an exceptionally busy season the birds can, if necessary, have grain supply in hopper or depend on the mash ration for extra food other than that which they pick about the meadow or field.

If later in the season oats or wheat have been cut, and the field is not to be used immediately, houses may be drawn to a location where the birds can pick up the scattered grain, which saves a great deal of feeding and prevents loss which otherwise might occur. If the flocks are large enough so that laying houses are provided when the birds are returned, to these houses in the fall the colony coops may be abandoned entirely until next season, or they may be used for storage rooms, hospital coops, or for mating up of small breedings

BUCKHORN

By R. J. BALDWIN, Michigan Agricultural College

Many farmers who have had to buy imported clover and grass seeds will find new weeds appearing in the fields. Among the most common weeds obtained in this way is Buckhorn. The accompanying cut will give some idea of the appearance of the weed. The leaves are lance-shaped and they grow in a rosette much like those of the dandelion. A characteristic of the Buckhorn is the tall, slender flower stalks, which shoot up from the center of the rosette of leaves for a foot or more. Buckhorn is a perennial which spreads only by seeds. It is a bad weed in the clover meadow, but is not to be feared on cultivated ground. When it is found that scattering plants of Buckhorn are in the new grass seedings, no time should be lost in pulling and destroying them.

The KITCHEN CABINET

ANY one can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Any one can do his work, however hard, for one day. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means.

ECONOMICAL LIVING.

It is a necessity for the majority of people to buy meat to learn to cook those cuts which are cheap, or cheaper than the choice cuts. As meat is one of our most expensive foods, wise buying will lessen the monthly bills.

Get a pound of meat cut from the rump of beef, cut the pieces in size for serving, roll in flour and brown in a frying pan with beef drippings or suet.

When well browned, add two table-spoonfuls of beef drippings and two table-spoonfuls of flour, mix well and add three cups of stock or water; let this boil. In a casserole put thin slices of a small carrot and onion, and pour over this the boiling mixture with a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of red pepper. Cover and place in a slow oven for an hour.

A medium flank steak if carefully cooked is tender, well-flavored and palatable. Score the steak on both sides and sprinkle with a table-spoonful of lemon juice or vinegar, which softens the fiber; season with salt, pepper, a dash of nutmeg, cloves and a little chopped onion. Cover thickly with fine bread crumbs, roll up and fasten well with skewers. Sear over well in a hot frying pan, add a pint of stock or water and bake an hour and a half.

A dish which may be new to some is an old one to many of our friends across the water. Bonny clabber, this is simply milk that has become thick, before it is very acid. If it has stood and acquired cream all the better. Serve as one does a custard, sprinkled with a little grated maple sugar or with brown sugar. It is a most wholesome dish for hot weather, good for all ages and especially good for those who have alimentary troubles.

Junket is another easily prepared food, which is both good and cheap. It is never economy to buy wilted vegetables or questionable fruit. The waste makes them more costly than those which cost a few cents more.

The door in the front may be 2 feet 6 inches wide by 6 feet, and on each side of the door a nine light 8x10-inch glass window, hung at the top to swing out, may be so arranged as to allow its removal in summer, and the opening may be covered with wire netting or bars to close the house.

In the arrangement of nests and feed boxes it is advisable to make these with slanting tops, which prevents the birds from roosting or resting on them, keeping them in much cleaner condition. The accompanying drawings will explain the construction of these houses, which may be modified if desired, to suit the tastes of the individual.

EVER bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three—all they have now, and they ever had all they expect to have.

GENERAL HINTS.

If the sweet peas, cucumber vines and rose bushes are infested with the ubiquitous bugs and lice which destroy the plants, use the following spray:

Melt a third of a bar of ivory soap, add a teaspoonful of kerosene and eight quarts of water. Use this in the sprayer and spray everything that needs it, as it is a universal killer.

A Famous Cholera Cure.—Mix together a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, the same of ginger, fifteen drops of peppermint; add to a glass of hot water. Take a glass of this every three hours.

A Splendid Lotion for Tan.—When preparing cottage cheese, save the whey, and in this cook a good-sized cucumber, peeled, and all; cut it in slices before cooking, let stand until cool, strain and add a table-spoonful of alcohol and a teaspoonful of benzoin, two drops of oil of rose. There should be a cupful of the whey, and cucumber juice.

A fine shampoo for dark hair is the well-beaten yolk of an egg. Rub it well into the scalp and rinse with several waters. The rinsing of the hair is the important point to have well done. Add a few drops of any desired perfume to the rinsing water and a delicate odor will remain in your tresses for a week. White hair should be rinsed in water quite well blued with bluing.

When buying grape fruit, oranges, lemons, or in fact any large fruit, weigh them in the hands, as the heavier ones are most profitable, are more full of juice.

Carry some sheets of asbestos paper with you when camping; they may be rolled into cone shaped dishes, set point down into the camp fire and will hold any vegetables to be baked, without being troubled with ashes.

Keeping the feet from the floor of the car when riding on the steam cars will relieve car sickness. Support them on a cushion or bag. The vibration of the car causes the illness.

A folding coat hanger is a great convenience to use when traveling. The paper bag which the porter gives you to cover your hat may be used to cover a coat, at least the upper part of it. Silt the bag at the bottom and put the hook of the hanger through that.

Caught immense Jewfish. A Jewfish weighing 655 pounds has been captured by the crew of the launch Leona at Santa Monica, Cal. In length the fish measured five feet. It was caught three miles offshore.

MADE BIG PROFIT FOR STATE

Purely Business Argument for the Establishment of Sanatoriums for the Tuberculosis.

According to figures contained in the annual report of Dr. H. L. Barnes, superintendent of the Rhode Island state sanatorium, the earnings of the ex-patients of that institution during the year 1911 would amount to over $266,000. This is a sum three times as large as that spent each year for maintenance of the institution, including four per cent. interest and depreciation charges.

The actual earnings in 1911 of 170 ex-patients were obtained by Dr. Barnes. These ranged from $2 to $31 per week, the total earnings for the year amounting to $102,762. On this basis, Dr. Barnes computes the figures above given. He says, however: "While institutions for the cure of tuberculosis are good investments, there is good reason for thinking that institutions for the isolation of far-advanced cases would be still better investments."

Out of a total of 46,450 hospital days' treatment given, 39,147, or 84 per cent, were free, the treatment costing the state on an average $200 per patient. Out of 188 free cases investigated, 56 had no families and no income on admission to the sanatorium. Out of 132 patients having homes, the number in the family averaged 5.2, and the average family earnings were 5.46. In 59 cases the families had no income, and in only five cases were there any savings, none of which amounted to as much as $100.

To Protect the Flowers.

Edelweiss and other characteristic Swiss flowers are said to be in danger of total extinction because of the craze of tourists for collecting them. Women tourists especially are always anxious to take away souvenirs in the way of a plant, and do not simply pull the flowers, but dig up the plant. It is proposed to introduce a law that will prevent the buying, selling or digging of edelweiss, fire lily, Siberian spring crocus, Alpine columbine, the Daphne, Alpine violet or other national flowers.

He was a small boy with a dark, eager face and he was waiting at the end of the line of eight or ten persons for a chance to make his wits known to the librarian. When his turn came he inquired briefly: "Have you got 'Twenty Thousand Legs Under the Sea'?"

The Giveaway.

ECZEMA CAME ON SCALP

Lebanon, O.—"My eczema started on my thigh with a small pimple. It also came on my scalp. It began to itch and I began to scratch. For eighteen or twenty years I could not tell what I passed through with that awful itching. I would scratch until the blood would soak through my underwear, and I couldn't talk to my friends on the street but I would be digging and punching that spot, until I was very much ashamed. The itching was so intense I could not sleep after once in bed and warm. I certainly suffered torment with that eczema for many years.

"I chased after everything I ever heard of, but all to no avail. I saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample. Imagine my delight when I applied the first dose to that awful itching fire on my leg and scalp, in less than a minute the itching on both places ceased. I got some more Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the second day I never had another itching spell, and Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured me. I was troubled with awful dandruff all over my scalp. The Cuticura Soap has cured that trouble." (Signed) L. R. Fink, Jan. 22, 1912.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twentytwo per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirtyseven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."

Dr. Frederick D. Rogers, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have found Fletcher's Castoria very useful in the treatment of children's complaints."

Dr. William C. Bloomer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "In my practice I am glad to recommend your Castoria, knowing it is perfectly harmless and always satisfactory."

Dr. E. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."

Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect and freedom from harm."

Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Dr. C. C. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

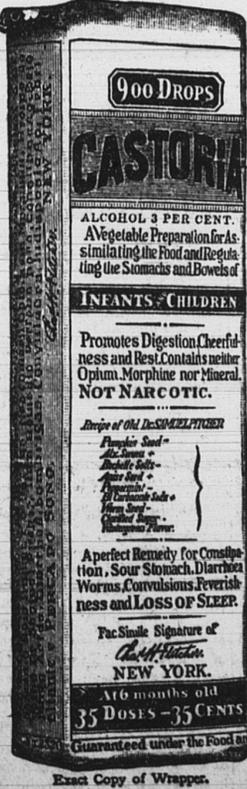

Dr. H. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and merits."

Henkel's Bread Flour

Choice Grain from the fields of Minnesota and the Dakotas contribute to its quality. Expert Millers, who spare no pains or expense, superintend the work that takes every unworthy particle from the wheat and produces this rich, creamy flour.

Three generations of housewives have attested the goodness of this wonderful flour. Surely Economy and Cleanliness are both served in transporting wheat (not flour) from these distant northwestern wheat fields. Ask for Henkel's BREAD flour.

WHY HESITATE?

We Will Relieve You of Kidney Disease or Furnish You Medicine Free.

We know we can furnish medicine that will almost always effect easy and positive relief for kidney ailments. We are so certain of this that we sell every package with our printed guarantee that the medicine shall cost the purchaser nothing should it fail to do as we claim.

We have been recommending and selling this medicine to a considerable extent, and are receiving the best kind of evidence that it is doing exactly as we said it would. That's why we can safely and truthfully ask all our neighbors to try it at our risk.

Our treatment consists of Rexall Kidney Pills, which are one of the finest pharmaceutical preparations we know of for overcoming kidney, bladder and urinary derangements, and associate ailments.

We want everyone who suffers from any kidney or urinary disease to come to our store and get a package of Rexall Kidney Pills. They can try as many as three packages with the distinct understanding that we will return every penny paid us for the medicine at the mere hint of dissatisfaction. Certainly we know of no stronger reason as to why you should at least give Rexall Kidney Pills a trial. We would not dare make this offer were we not positive that the result will be as we proclaim. Price 50c. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. T. Freeman Co.

The Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank

The Pleasure of Living

There's a fascination in devising new means of swelling the little hoard until the saver has reached the point of independence.

The pennies, nickels and dimes that are thoughtlessly dropped here and there for nothings, count fast toward the accomplishment of your purpose. Try saving.

The bank account is the first step toward success and fortune, protects your family in emergency, educates your children, makes you independent, gives you a standing in the community, is a valuable aid in any enterprise undertaken anywhere, by anybody, under any conditions.

If you do not have a bank account let us suggest that you start one with us immediately.

FRESH EGGS AND BACTERIA.

A comforting thought is that embodied in the statement of Dr. R. C. Rosenberger, in the New York Medical Journal, that a clean fresh egg is sterile. One may easily follow the doctor as he proceeds to show that the bacteria which are present in broken or cracked eggs, in commercial "dirty" eggs, in desiccated eggs and in frozen eggs, get into the product from nest dirt on the outside of the egg, or from the air during breaking of the egg, in the process of desiccation or from the hands of those who break the eggs.

SERIAL STORY

EXCUSE ME!

Novelized from the Comedy of the Same Name

SYNOPSIS.

Harry Mallory is ordered to the front...

CHAPTER XIII.

Hostilities Begin.

During Mallory's absence, Marjorie met with a little adventure...

CHAPTER XIV.

The Dormitory on Wheels.

Of all the shocking institutions in human history, the sleeping car is the most shocking...

CHAPTER XV.

A Premature Divorce.

Suddenly Marjorie's heart gave a leap of joy. She was having another idea.

turbulent atmosphere of divorce. She was dreaming already with her eyes open...

Mrs. Wellington gathered certain things together and took up her handbag...

The two women collided in the aisle, whirled on one another, as women do when they jostle...

CHAPTER XIV.

The Dormitory on Wheels. Of all the shocking institutions in human history...

After the fashion of the famous country whose inhabitants earned a meager subsistence...

No topsy-turvy, indeed, are our notions, once we are aboard a train...

And, now, on this sleeping car, prettily named "Snowdrop," scenes were enacting that would have thrown our great-grandmothers into fits...

But this was our own country—the part of it which admits that it is the best part—the moralist part, the staunch middle west...

The porter was deftly transforming the day-coach into a narrow lane entirely surrounded by draperies...

Women in risky attire were scooting to one end of the car, and men in shirt sleeves, or less, were hastening to the other...

When Mallory returned to the "Snowdrop," his ear was greeted by the thud of dropping shoes...

She was unspokeably ill at ease, and by the irony of custom, the one person on whom she depended for protection was the one person whose contiguity was most alarming...

When Mallory's carefree face appeared round the edge of the partition now erected between her and the abode of Dr. and Mrs. Temple...

When he dropped at Marjorie's side she edged away from him, pleading: "Oh, what shall we do?"

CHAPTER XV.

A Premature Divorce.

Suddenly Marjorie's heart gave a leap of joy. She was having another idea. "I'll tell you, Harry, we'll pretend to quarrel, and then—"

eyes and her voice: "Can you suggest anything better?"

"No, but—" "Then, we'll have to quarrel, darling."

He yielded, for lack of a better idea: "All right, beloved. How shall we begin?"

On close approach, the idea did seem rather impossible to her. "How could I ever quarrel with you, my love?" she cooed.

He gazed at her with a rush of lovely tenderness: "And how could I ever speak crossly to you?"

"We never shall have a harsh word, shall we?" she resolved.

"Never!" he seconded. So that resolution passed the house unannouncedly.

"They held hands in luxury a while, then she began again: "Still, we must pretend. You start it, love."

"No, you start it," he pleaded. "You ought to," she beamed. "You got me into this mess."

The word slipped out. Mallory started: "Mess! How is it my fault? Good Lord, are you going to begin chucking it up?"

"Well, you must admit, darling," Marjorie urged, "that you've bungled everything pretty badly."

It was so undeniable that he could only groan: "And I suppose I'll hear of this till my dying day, dearest."

Marjorie had a little temper all her own. So she defended it: "If you are so afraid of my temper, love, perhaps you'd better call it all off before it's too late."

"I didn't say anything about your temper, sweetheart," Mallory insisted. "You did, too, honey. You said I'd chuck this up till your dying day. As if I had such a disposition! You can stay here."

"Up in the baggage car with Snoozeleums," she sniffled. "He's the only one that doesn't find fault with me."

Mallory was stung to action by this crisis: "Wait," he said. He leaned out and motioned down the alley.

The porter arrived with a half-folded blanket in his hands, and his usual "Yassah!"

Beckoning him closer, Mallory mumbled in a low tone: "Is there an extra berth on this car?"

"No—of course not." "Ex—excuse me, I thought—" "Don't you dare to think!" Mallory thundered. "Isn't there another lower berth?"

The porter breathed hard, and gave this bridal couple up as a riddle that followed no known rules.

"Then I'll take number three," said Mallory, poking money at the porter. And still the porter could not understand.

"Now, lemme understand you-all," he stammered. "Does you both more over to numba three, or does yo—yo—yo lady remain heah, while jest you preambulate?"

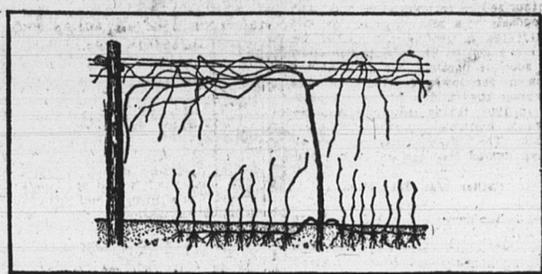

"Just I preambulate, you black hound!" Mallory answered, in a threatening tone. The porter could understand that, at least, and he bristled away with a meek: "Yessah. Numba three is yours, sah."

The troubled features of the baffled porter cleared up as by magic when he arrived at number three, for there he found his tyrant and tormentor, the English invader.

He remembered how indignantly Mr. Wedgewood had refused to show his ticket, how cocksure he was of his number, how he had leased the porter's services as a sort of private nurse, and had paid no advance royalties.

PROPAGATION OF THE GRAPE AND PRUNING AND TRAINING

Cuttings Should be Made by Getting in Close Below Bud in Slanting Manner—Thorough Understanding of Names of Various Parts of Vine is of Great Importance.

A Vine With Two Canes Layered Showing the Method of Propagation by Layers.

(By GEORGE C. HUSSMANN, Pomologist, United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cuttings for the propagation of grape vines may be prepared at any time after the vines have become dormant.

When grafting is done near the ground on stocks strong enough to hold the scions firmly no tying is necessary; otherwise they should be tied with raffia.

When vines grafted above ground are not covered with dirt the entire scion should be waxed to exclude the air. The grafts should be examined frequently and the suckers removed.

The soil and location best suited, the preparation of the soil, the laying out of and cost per acre of establishing a vineyard, and the cultivation and fertilization necessary for obtaining the best results are not presented here, as they vary decidedly with differing conditions of soil, climate, etc.

SPLENDID OUTLOOK FOR CROPS IN WESTERN CANADA

RELIABLE INFORMATION FROM THE GRAIN FIELDS SHOW THAT THE PROSPECTS ARE GOOD.

This is the time of year when considerable anxiety is felt in all the northern agricultural districts as to the probable outcome of the growing crops.

The same as in districts south of the boundary line between the two countries, but these are only such as are to be expected in any agricultural country.

The past has proven that the agricultural possibilities of this portion of Canada are probably more attractive in every way than most countries where grain raising is the chief industry.

From southern Alberta the reports to hand indicate, sufficient rain. Crops in excellent condition. Labor scarce.

Through Saskatchewan all grains are looking well, and there has been sufficient rain to carry them through to harvest.

From all portions of Manitoba there comes an assurance of an abundant yield of all grains. Throughout southern Manitoba, where rain was needed a few weeks ago, there has lately been abundant precipitation.

Two hundred and fifty million bushels of wheat has been mentioned as an estimate of the present growing crop, and it looks now as if that guess will be none too large.

Fit Punishment. The Wicked Soul was sitting on a hot stove, drinking molten lava and fanning himself with a chunk of red hot sheetrock.

Goodness does not more certainly make men happy than happiness makes them good.—Landon.

No thoughtful person uses liquid blue. It's a pinch of blue in a large bottle of water. Ask for Red Cross Ball Blue, the blue that's all blue.

Women waste a lot of powder when the enemy isn't in sight.

Misinterpreted. William Shaw, the secretary of the famous Christian Endeavor society, said in a witty after-dinner address in Boston:

"There is a little Back Bay girl who is much interested in her aunt's Christian Endeavor work. The little girl was writing a letter to her brother at Yale one day, and in the midst of the epistle she looked up and said: 'Auntie, how do you spell devil?'

"But, auntie, protested the little girl, 'I want to tell brother about your Christian and devil meetings!'

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctor said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sensitive Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.

Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three long months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed.

Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well woman."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.

Women who suffer from female ills should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of the most successful remedies the world has ever known, before submitting to a surgical operation.

EDITORS TAKE SUMMER OUTING AT LAKE ORION

By GEORGE W. WELSH

Here's to thee and thy folks, From me and my folks, Sure there never was folks, Since folks was folks, Ever loved any folks, Half as much as me and my folks, Love Orion and its folks.

Sixty full minutes in every hour and every second of the sixty in each hour filled to the brim with fun, frolic and festivity. That is the record of the Summer Outing of the Association. There was not one of the 130 present who have had such an opportunity before to realize just how much real enjoyment could be crowded into the space of two short days. The meeting started Saturday afternoon and it was Monday afternoon before the last could tear themselves away from the enchanting beauties of Lake Orion.

Wolverine Press was not one of the 130 present who have had such an opportunity before to realize just how much real enjoyment could be crowded into the space of two short days. The meeting started Saturday afternoon and it was Monday afternoon before the last could tear themselves away from the enchanting beauties of Lake Orion.

At this meeting the Wolverine Press Association were the guests of the Lake Orion Summers Home Co., in charge of Mr. John Winter; the Lake Orion Assembly Resort lead by W. L. Sweet; the Orion Board of Commerce headed by Mayor H. S. Benson; the Lake Orion Boat Club in command of Commodore Simmons; the Bellevue Hotel in care of W. J. Crawford; and the D. U. R. through an old friend "Full Font" Van Zandt.

Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m. was devoted to reception and registration of members by the various committees and were then taken by boat to the Press headquarters at Bellevue Hotel. After renewing acquaintanceships the Coney Island of Lake Orion was visited. Here games and amusements of all kinds were indulged in. Secretary Grampton who is held in high esteem in Lapeer as a "bowler" nearly lost his laurels here when he entered a bowling match with Mrs. Gorton and Mrs. Geo. Welsh, two of the ladies of the party.

After supper at the Bellevue Hotel the entire party attended a concert at the Auditorium as guests of the Lake Orion Assembly Resort. The concert was given by the Chaffer Family, consisting of four, three of whom were children ranging from 9 to 14 years. The family are fine and accomplished musicians, and made a great hit with all who heard them, especially the little girl of 9 who played on several instruments.

Sunday morning was given over to visiting and boat riding around the beautiful Orion and in the afternoon the Chaffer Family gave a sacred concert. After the concert the Lake Orion Boat Club supplied launches for the outlet of one was dammed for mill purposes, raising the water over 12 feet higher and thus connecting the five lakes into one. The lake therefore has a very picturesque shore line. The grass and trees running along the water's edge, forming a beautiful setting for the cosy cottages that nestle about the shores. Rustic bridges, and shady walks connect many of the islands and preserve the natural beauty. In fact so appealing is this spot that several of the party took the opportunity of procuring a lot for a permanent summer home.

At 6:30 the fleet of launches brought the party to Sunset Landing, where they enjoyed a novel and original religious service. This was the Gallean services which are a feature of the Lake Orion Assembly Resort.

While the Windjammers' Band did not fully materialize, there were several brave enough to bring instruments and it is still hoped that this organization will be a feature of the next gathering.

The entertainment and banquet were followed by a ride on the lake where the beauties of the illumination of the grounds and cottages were appreciated. The night ride made a fitting close for the outing and after a peaceful night's rest at the Bellevue the party began scattering to take up with renewed vigor the arduous duties of publishers.

Association. The launches, together with boats, canoes and launches from cottages about the lake, were grouped and anchored around the landing and were supplied with hymnals. The services were presided over by the association officers assisted by a small choir with an organ on the landing.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. MacGowan, of Pittsburg, who spends his summers here. It was the unanimous opinion that these services formed one of the most pleasing features of the entire meeting.

Sunday evening the Bellevue Hotel gave a banquet and the Press Club supplied their own program for entertainment as follows:

- Program. 1 Welcome—Mayor Beamer, W. L. Sweet, John Winter. 2 Solo—Wilson. 3 Reading—Miss Mingay. 4 Sentimental Song—George W. Welsh. 5 Sentimental Song—Homer Harwood. 6 Selected Reading—Miss Mingay. 7 Vocal Solo—U. S. Wilson. 8 Recitation of Early Youth—Geo. Welsh.

Your committee on resolutions to whom this task has fallen, could only wish that someone had been appointed who could have done full justice to the occasion. We feel that we are not gifted with the flow of language or wield of the pen properly to express the appreciation of this club to the people of Lake Orion for these two days of rare and bountiful enjoyment.

In our humble way, however, we formally present at this time for your consideration and adoption the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this association desires at this time to express for each and every individual member, and guests as well, its most sincere thanks to all the good people of Orion and we have reason to believe they are all good for the splendid manner in which they have so hospitably and lavishly entertained us from the start to this grand finish.

To the Lake Orion Summer Homes Company, the Lake Orion Assembly Resort, the Lake Orion Boat Club, and the Orion Board of Commerce, and Mr. and Mrs. John Winter personally and collectively, through whose generous enterprise we owe the privilege of enjoying this outing, we feel under deep and lasting (and also "full") obligations.

The delightful ride upon Orion's 1,700 acres of clear wet water and around its 21 beautiful tiny islands, the entertainment on Park Island, including the dancing pavilion, on Saturday night, where prominent and musical Hugger Harwood departed themselves until the wee sma' hours; the bowling alley where Mrs. W. J. Crawford and her party, beat all comers to a frazzle (with apologies to Sagamore Hill for the "fraxin-les"); and not forgetting even the parlor of ninth mirrors, where the editors and editresses for once saw themselves as their late subscribers oftentimes see them; the concerts by the Chaffer Family; the enjoyable music by Prof. U. S. Wilson, of Lapeer; and the Logan orchestra; the events never to be forgotten.

And now this final event, this sumptuous banquet, so delightfully served and the accompanying program, is the culmination of one of the happiest events in the history of our association.

So here's to the chug of the motor boat and the tree-lined slant of the shore; To the rippling nooks where the lilacs boat And the lure of the open door. And here's to the sun that failed to shine And the rain that laid the dust; To our hosts for a good old corking time— We'll come again or "bust".

Signed, FRED B. CARR, A. C. OLMSTEAD, FRANK S. NEAL, "CON" Committee.

BREVITIES

FOWLerville—The marshal of Fowlerville village gives notice he will enforce the dog muzzling ordinance. In a number of places during this warm weather dogs have been going wrong and Fowlerville will take no chances.

SALINE—The common council at its last session passed an ordinance relative to the licensing of dogs regulating their running at large and also providing ways and means for their slaying in case the owners of the animals do not comply with its requirements.

PLYMOUTH—Plymouth will have a gala day on Thursday, August 16th, at about the time the farmers will have their harvesting cleaned up and can take a day off for a little recreation. The management of the affair will again be in the hands of the Plymouth Fire Department.

STOCKBRIDGE—When the electric lights were turned on Saturday evening several horses tied to the rail on the north side of the square were knocked down by the current. A wire running down a pole had been twisted around the iron tangle. No serious damage was done.—Brief-Sun.

HOWELL—It looks as though the time is not far distant when there will only be one telephone company in existence in Livingston county. In the event of the same taking place it is thought all small stations now in existence will be discontinued and the business transacted through the Howell office.—Democrat.

SALINE—It seems almost necessary that Saline should be equipped with a good supply of night watchmen and special detectives if it has reached that point that ladies cannot be on the main streets in the evening without being attacked by prowlers—two cases are reported within the past two weeks.—Observer.

MANCHESTER—There are a number of red squirrels living on the west side and they are annoying the residents. They get into the attics and the attics they perform a too much for a peaceful slumber. Squirrels may be all right in the woods or in a potpie but are voted a nuisance when partly domesticated.—Enterprise.

YPSILANTI—The members of the International Crittenden Family association will hold its annual reunion this year on August 6 on Belle Isle. It is expected that more than 400 will attend. The association has a publication of its own called "Family Tidings," which is issued monthly by the association's historian A. Riley Crittenden. Prof. A. B. Crittenden is the secretary.

MILAN—The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on the date named above an examination will be held at Willis, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at Whittaker, Mich., and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster was $380 for the last fiscal year.

GRASS LAKE—Mrs. C. B. Coe and three children of Ann Arbor, came up Monday to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Dwell. Mr. Dwell took the children out into the country and while he was busy for a few minutes, his little grandson, Frantz Coe thought he would go back to his grandma and wandered away a distance of eight miles when he was taken in at Ben Lawrence's and after supper enjoyed an auto ride back to his grandma. Frantz received only a few scratches from barb wire fences and at no time seemed to be alarmed over being lost.—News.

YPSILANTI—Samuel Porter Ballard, famous throughout the state as the "bard of Willis," and for many years the writer of quaint philosophy and entertaining verse for the local papers, much of which was widely copied, is dead at the home of Geo. Freeman, near Bellevue, aged 88. He was an early abolitionist, an ardent temperance man and prominent in the Grange and State Historical association. The funeral was at Bellevue Friday. Mr. Ballard was for 40 years the "Willis correspondent" for various Ypsilanti newspapers, and his ability in verse and his wonderful descriptions of local banquets and other events made him famous all over the state, many of his efforts being extensively copied by Detroit papers. Some of his best poems, notably "The Amateur Farmer" and "Crow Your Own Crow," had a national circulation. Mr. Ballard was connected with the "underground railroad," by which many slaves escaped to freedom in Canada before the war. He was a Mason of many year's standing and had been prominent in local, county and state grange work and pioneer societies. Mr. Ballard was born in Parma, Monroe county, N. Y., but lived in this county since 1827.

BRIGHTON—The celebrated Neely case has come to an end. The supreme court has affirmed the lower court and Mrs. Neely will serve the sentence imposed upon her in the October term of the circuit court.—Argus.

MANCHESTER—The Lake Shore is equipping its freight and passenger trains with "first aid to the injured" outfits. These will be placed in charge of the conductors of the trains who will return them to the supply stations to be replenished.—Enterprise.

GRASS LAKE—A close call to a serious fire was at the Olds barber shop last Friday forenoon when the gasoline tank took fire and it looked for a moment as if the building was doomed but by quick work the fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

DEXTER—Alfred Leavey, 15 year old son of Mrs. Mary Leavey of this village, while leading a horse out to pasture Tuesday morning on the farm of his uncle, Chris Leavey, in Dexter township, was kicked by the animal in the right shoulder. A rib and a right arm were broken.

ANN ARBOR—T. H. Lane, of Jenkinstown, Ga., a student in the university summer school, lost his life Sunday afternoon when his canoe overturned in the Huron river near the old yellow ice house, and his two companions, J. W. Lord, and C. E. Clement, also summer school students, were rescued with great difficulty by canoeists who saw the accident.

SALINE—Will apples be scarce this fall in this section, or not? This is a question we have asked several times and while many say there will be scarcely any, others, speak favorably of a good crop, but if all orchards gave the assurance of some of the trees in John Lutz's orchard, there will be no shortage. He brought us two branches Monday, one branch 12 inches long has 14 perfect apples, the other branch is 4 inches long and has on it 9 perfect apples.—Observer.

ANN ARBOR—Frank Leach, the first street carpenter who tried to kill Officer Gus Meyers and then shot himself in the head about ten days ago, was taken from the university hospital to the county jail Saturday evening. Leach with a bullet in his brain is still rather wobbly, and his head is swathed in bandages, but he seems to be recovering. He is being held on a charge of threatening to kill a neighbor named Casterline who interfered on the evening of the rumpus, to protect Leach's wife.

JACKSON—Charged with larceny of goods from a Michigan Central freight car near Snyder's station, Harold Winney, aged 18, was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Herbst on complaint of Detective Decker. Clare J. Brown, aged 15, has confessed to the officers to have taken part in the offense, and by turning state's evidence will not be prosecuted. Winney demanded an examination when arraigned, and his hearing is set for August 10 and his bail fixed at $500. The offense was committed a number of weeks ago. An investigation has been going on since that time.

ANN ARBOR—Mrs. Eleanor Hunt, of Ypsilanti, Monday morning regained possession of her 15 months' old daughter, Alice, on a writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Hunt separated from her husband some time ago but failed to secure the custody of the child who was turned over to Mr. Hunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hunt, of Salem township. As soon as Mrs. Hunt discovered her daughter's whereabouts she secured a writ of habeas corpus, requiring the grandparents to produce the child Monday morning. The hearing before Judge Kinne occupied over an hour and finally ended in an order transferring the custody of the child to the mother.

MAY PROVE FATAL. When Will Chelsea People Learn the Importance of It? Backache is only a simple thing at first; But when you know 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles follow; That Bright's disease may be the fatal end. You will gladly profit by the following experience. 'Tis the statement of a Chelsea citizen.

John Kelley, W. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me wonderfully. My back was sore and lame and it was difficult for me to stoop on account of acute pains across my kidneys. I also had trouble from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box and commenced their use. I have had no trouble from my back or kidneys since taking this remedy and have felt better in every way."
