The Firemen Give a Smoker.

The firemen gave a smoker at their hall last evening, which was attended by a large number of our citizens. Cigars, apples, fried cakes and cider were supplied in abundance, and everyone had a good time. Messrs. Louis Burg and Thos. Hughes rendered several selections, and Messrs. Earl Updike and Cleon Wolff looked after the instrumental music. After the social part of the affair had been indulged in for some time, Geo. W. Beckwith was called on to preside, and it was announced that the object of the gathering was to bring before the people the necessity for something to be done for the better care of the fire fighting apparatus. Some advocated the erection of a building on the village property on Park street in which could be located the various village offices and the fire department, and a resolution was adopted asking the common council to take some steps along this line. Messrs. Edward Vogel, Geo. A. BeGole, R. D. Walker, F. H.

There is no doubt that something should be done for the better care of the apparatus, because as long as things are as they are now the proper care cannot be given the apparatus and the depreciation is too great.

The Police Conrt.

Two men were arraigned in the court of Justice Witherell on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Marshal Cooper Sunday forenoon took William Downer off the street in a very drunken condition. Monday he given a fine of $5.00 and costs, or fifteen days in the county jail. The fine and costs were paid.

Monday evening Marshal Cooper was called to the Michigan Central passenger station where he found William Dawe, of Detroit, in a drunken sleep on the floor. The man was taken to the village lock-up. Tuesday morning he was taken before the court where he was given a fine of $5.00 and costs, or fifteen days in the county jail. He was taken to the jail to serve his time.

School Notes.

Test examinations are being held in the high school this week.

The pupils of the lower grades cleared the building, in a fire drill, in two minutes. The pupils of the third and fourth grades coming down the fire escape.

The high school foot ball team will play a game with the boys from Plymouth Friday afternoon of this week at Wilkinson field. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The high school was examined Monday by Prof. Jackson of the university. He reported to Snpt. Hendry that the school was in excellent condition and that it would be continued upon the list of accredited high schools. He said that we had a strong corps of teachers, but recommended that the reference library be streng-

In order to familiarize the high school students with the methods of conducting political conventions and elections, Supt. Hendry is giving a series of talks to the room. On November 5th the pupils will conduct a mock election. They will be required to register. The committees will be chosen from among the older pupils. Ballots similiar in form to the official ballot will be printed and each pupil will be asked to cast a ballot.

Course of Study.

County School Commissioner Evan Essery has received the following statement from Supertendent L. L. Wright:

"The legislature of 1911 passed a law giving to the Superintendent of Public Instruction power and imposing on state, except city districts. So far, we have prescribed a course of study only for the primary districts, the one room country school. You will have noticed that no work is pre scribed in our new course of study for pupils beyond the 8th grade in these schools. I have hesitated about making a ruling that these rural schools should not teach the ninth grade. It is my judgment, however, that such a ruling ought to be made and the same is hereby made. It is my thought that there may be special cases in which on account of the small nnmber of pupils and few grades that it might seem advisable to commissioners to allow these schools to have recitations in the ninth grade. This must, however, be the rare exception. It would please me, therefore, if you would give out as the ruling of this department and of your office that the ninth grade is not to be taught in country schools. If there are cases in which you desire to have the ninth grade taught will you please take each case up in detail with this office and present the reasons for your wish to make an exception to the general

Power of Vegetable Growth.

A tar macadam pavement stretchfashion of simplicity, neatness, pru- ing from the school of gunnery at Shoeburyness (Eng.) to the sea is at present in a state of violent if silent eruption. About a fortnight ago the surface became covered with what may be called "blisters," raised a lit tle above the common level, which attracted much wondering attention.

From each of these, in a few days, series of cracks appeared, extending themselves in rays from a center. Finally came up a broad, soft shoot, looking extremely well pleased with itself and its work, which proved to be so old and well known a friend as the thistle. 7 At this moment there are hundreds of those bold intruders showing defiantly through the pavement affording a most interesting illustration of the power of vegetable growth.

The Oakland Platform FOR 1913

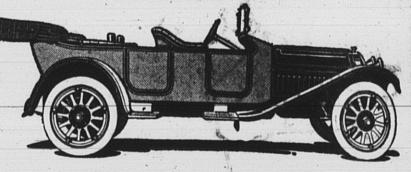

Electric Lighting-Self Starting-Unit Power Plant - Simplicity - Beauty - Individuality

This is a history-making year. Men are talking of past records, achievements, policies and platforms. Automobile companies, like men are making records; leaving their imprint; creating new standards. The Oakland is making automobile history and our platform and message for 1913 are so vital and important that every one interested in automobiles should be acquainted with them.

Our platform is sound, mechanically and artistically. Our platform is moderntaken a lease of the building formerly progressive—for we have incorporated electric lighting and self-starting. The last of Under the rules of the United occupied by the Pontiac Garment the motoring worries are over. In the 1913 Oakland they have been banished. You are Company and has fitted it up for a trouble free-no more inconveniences-not even little ones.

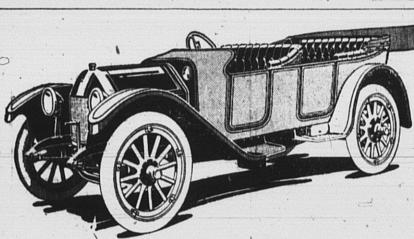

This is important

1912 was a great Oakland year. 1913 promises greater things The Oakland car for 1913 warrants making this statement. We are going to build bigger cars, make improvements in refinements, in luxuries. in riding qualities and for the comfort of the passengers, but in the matter of principle of construction we stand "pat." The most important announcement we can make is the launching of an Oakland six cylinder chassis and the building of a popuular priced car which will be known as as Model 35. These will be built in touring and runabout styles. We are convinced that the universal satisfaction given by 1912 Oaklands proves that the simple plan of construction adopted by us last year is true, both mechanically and efficiency. No single car during the past year received the unstinted praise which was given the Oakland. No car displayed such wonderful progress, especially in the matter of body design, each model representing individuality and beauty found in but few cars.

are offered with a full understanding of many superior points and advantages incorporated. 1913 Oaklands have many meritorious innovations. Every model will be absolutely noiseless. The elimination of a number of small metal parts and the substitution of aluminum steps for running boards makes this possible. OAKLAND MOTORS are known for their quietness. Perfect lubrication, superior bearings and correctly cut gears have brought fame to our power plants. OAKLAND BODIES f anything, will be a little more distinctive than in the past-each model expressing individuality and harmony

Quietness in an Automobile

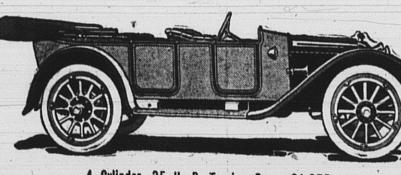

Quietness in an automobile is much to be desired, for it not only adds to the pleasures of motoring but lengthens the life of the car. A noisy car is a nuisance and should not be tolerated. The building of a quiet car, one that will stay quiet, requires special attention to gear material. If the gears are noiseless, you are bound to have a quiet car. Gears do all the work.

OAKLAND MOTORS are especially noted for their quietness. This has been commented on by every one who has made the comparison. So still are they that many stories have been told of owners who, on preparing to start the motor found it running.

About Specifications

"Specifications" are misleading in automobile advertising It is just about as fair to compare two cass Laving the same motor dimensions, wheel base and other identical details as it is to compare two men wearing the same size hats-you cannot judge their efficiency by similarity of looks or size. Two motors can be alike in bore and stroke and still differ materially in the power and efficiency. The question naturally arises, "What makes the difference?" and the answer is "The method of manufacturing and the materials used." As an example, the quality of the motor depends on the way the pistons are ground, the style of bearings used, type of gears, carburetion and the method of lubrication. What is true of the motor is true of every other component part. The Oakland does not rely upon its specifications.

Model 6-60—the new Oakland Six-Cylinder Classis has a wheel-base of 130 inches, double drop frame, unit power plant, cone clutch, sliding gear transmission, full floating rear axle, demountable rims, German silver radiator and a self starter. There will be mounted on this chassis four, five and seven-passenger bodies, and a raceabout for two. Price of all models, $2400.

Model 42 chassis, 116-inch wheel base, double drop frame, unit power plant, cone clutch, sliding gear transmission, full floating rear axle, demountable rims, German silver radiator "V" shaped, 10-inch upholstering, full nickel trimmings, and equipped with electric lighting and ignition system, and a self-starter. There will be mounted on this chassis a five-passenger body, a close-coupled four-passenger body and the famous Sociable Roadster (three passenger single seat.) Price of all models $1600. There will also be built a smart four-passenger coupe on this chassis to list at $2500.

Model 40 chassis, five-passenger touring car; 114-inch wheel base single drop frame, unit power plant, selective sliding gear transmission, cone clutch, demountable rims, full nickel trimmings, and equipped with a self-starter, at $1450.

Model 35 chassis, five-passenger touring car, wheel base 112 inches, motor 34x5, unit power plant, "V" shaped, vertical tube radiator, 32x34 tires, demountable rims, gasoline capacity 15 gallons, Remy ignition, electric lights with storage battery, nickel trimmings, single drop frame, $1075. We are also building on this chassis a three passenger Sociable roadster, $1000.

And now comes the squarest sentence ever printed in an automobile advertisement: Make all the comparisons you want, and if you do not think the Oakland the most beautiful car in the world, and the equal, mechanically, of any car made, you need not buy it.

ONLY 28 COUNTIES PAY MORE TAXES THAN THEY GET FROM SCHOOL FUND

Most of the Primary Money for the Eighty-Three Counties Comes From Industrial Conecrns

Of the 28 counties in which state taxes exceed the primary school fund apportionment, Wayne county leads an excess of $214,686.70. According to the report of Auditor

General Fuller, the apportionment of primary school money in various counties of the state exceeds the state paid by all the counties by $62,847.25. Counties where the school apportionment exceeds the state tax are Alcona, Alger, Allegan, Arenac, Baraga, Bay, Benzie, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Clare, Crawford, Delta, Dickinson, Emmet, Gladwin, Grand Traverse Gratiot, Huron, Iosco, Isabella, Kalkaska, Lake, Lapeer, Leelanau, Mackinac, Manistee, Mason, Mecostas, Menominee, Midland, Missaukee, Mon- gan. roe, Montcalm, Montmorency, Huskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, Ogemaw, Osceola, Oscoda, Otsego, Ottawa, Presque Schoolcraft, Shiawasse, St. Clair, Tuscola, Van Buren, Wreford. In a majory of counties containing large towns or cities the state exceeds the primary apportionment, but in the smaller counties the result is reversed. The state tax and the primary school fund apportionment by counties is as

HONDURIAN REVOLT ENDS

Fugitive Rebels Overtaken by Nicaraguan Government Troops An uprising against the Honduran government, started by participants in the Nicaraguan revolt, came to a sudden and bloody end before the expedition got out of Nicaragua.

The refugees, 200 in number, under Jose Rafael Osorio, a Honduran, were overtaken by Nicaraguan government troops at Somotaillo as they approached the Honduran border.

Forty were killed, many others, in cluding the leader, were wounded. All gave up their arms and the entire movement was speedily dispersed. Minister Weitzel in reporting the affair to the state department said the refugees, who were bent upon starting a revolution against President Bonilla's government in Honduras, had tied from Leon when that city was turned over to the American forces.

PIMPLES COVERED FACE

1613 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill.-"My face was very red and irritated and was covered with pimples. The pimples festered and came to a head. They itched and burned and when I scratched them became sore. I tried soaps and they would not stop the itching and burning of the skin. This lasted for a month or more. At last [tried Cuticura Ointment and Soap. They took out the burning and itching of the skin, soothing it very much and giving the relief that the others failed to give me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about three weeks and was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mueller, Mar. 16, 1912.

rock, with permanent fresh water in one or two places only. Though in the surrounding country there are many traces of an ancient civilization, in Seriland tself there are no remains nor any evidence to show that any other race, markedly distinct either in habits or customs from its present inhabitants, had ever made their home there. Hence it may be assumed that the Seri did not nigrate to this part of the world, but are indigenous to the land. The Seri Indians are physically a fine race, rather above the medium height, though somewhat slightly made. They are very dark, with long, coarse hair, but when young are by no means ugly. They have low, quiet voices, and their language is much more melodious than that of the Yuma or Papago Indians. Their clothg is somewhat unusual, for they wear a kind of robe of pelican skins over a short kilt or skirt. These pelican rugs are beautifully made of between four and eight skins sewn together with sinews or deerskin, and are used as bedding at night. Their belts are of woven human hair or vegetable fiber, though snake and lizard skins are also used for the same purpose. The arms, bust, legs and feet are usually bare. When it is remembered that these people own no domestic animals of any kind, except dogs that are really coyotes, and do not cultivate or till the land at all, it will be seen that they have to depend entirely on hunting to supply them with dress and food. Pelicans are found literally by the thou-sand, especially round the little Isla Tassne, and provide the Indians with amply sufficient mate-Hal to make all the clothing and blankets they are likely to need in that hot and almost rainless climate. As regards food, they subsist chiefly on turtles, fish, molluses and water-fowl, which are eaten raw and during the proper seasons they feed on the fruits of the various cacti and mesquite beans which grow fairly plentifully in the Scri mountains. Scattered over the greater portion of the island are charred oyster shells, which show that they are very partial to this form of food, and that they use fire to open shell-fish of this kinds, as they do not possess any knives. they catch the turtles by harpooning them with very primitive kind of spear; the latter is made a two parts connected by a fiber rope, to the ront one of which a rough point of hardened good, stone, or, if possible, iron, is attached. is soon as they see a turtle they approach noiseessly from behind and thrust the spear through he shell. The front portion of the spear remains a the animal, but the turtle cannot escape be-Tuse of the rope, and it is soon towed to the hore and there broken open, when it is roasted reaten raw. Fish, which abound in these waers, are caught by means of a fiber line and rimitive hook, the latter being very often made om a thorn or piece of bone; though sometimes he larger kinds of fish are killed with a bow hid arrow, a weapon much in use among the Seri.

urpose, for the heat is always intense the year bund, and I suppose that there are few hotter aces on earth. The foregoing facts are sufficient to mark the eri as very distinct from other North American dians; but there are many other curious and Culiar customs which they do not share with y other tribes. Their religion is exceedingly bresting, though somewhat obscure, and the tal character of their gods is a convincing proof their long residence in that locality. Their det deity, for instance, is the "Ancient of Pell-ns," a mythical bird of marvelous wisdom and alodious song, and their lesser gods are superdural beings in similar familiar forms. Every ar, before starting out on their annual expedims to gather fruit of the cacti, they hold their he many ceremonial offerings in order that the pply may be plentiful. Their dead are buried their most elaborate garments, with their apons beside them under a mound of stones.

Ese graves are to be seen all over the Seri ontry, and bear eloquent, if silent, testimony the valiant defense they have made against fr enemies; for of the several thousand Seri lans that were known to exist some thirty Day left now, of which not more than sevento are adult males.

erally conveys the idea of large sand plains devoid of all plant growth to those who have not seen them. But this is quite a wrong impression, for there is hardly a square mile anywhere in Seriland where some kind of tree or cactus cannot be found, though there may not be any water for miles around. This fact makes the botany of this region a most interesting study. for if the vegetation were not provided with special means of obtaining and storing water, it could not survive. All the trees and plants are perennials and have enormously long roots. The mesquite tree (Prosopis juliflora) and the paloverde (Parkinsonia torreyana) are the most common, and the former bears a kind of fruit or bean, which the Indians grind into corn. I remember once when traveling in the "Malpais" of Sonora I was obliged to rely for a whole month on these mesquite beans alone to feed my horses and pack animals, for grass is practically absent on these plains except for a very coarse variety called "galleta" by the natives, which is sometimes found in small patches. It says much for the nutritive value of the mesquite bean that I lost none of my animals, and only one mule seemed to be suffering towards the end of the time. Most of the low-lying country is covered with the Sonoran grease-wood (Larrea tridentata), a small green bush of no value at all; but it is ubiquitous throughout Sonora, except in the mountains. But the really characteristic plant in Seriland is the cactus, which abounds in a variety of forms. They all have very long roots, some of which descend thirty feet to fifty feet to reach water. The stem itself is formed of pulp, that grows round a wooden core, and this serves as storehouse for the water they obtain. while they are covered with a kind of glazed epidermis to prevent evaporation, and are furnished with thorns, which effectually prevent animals from feeding on them. The "saguarro" or giant castus (Cereus giganteus) is the most imposing, rising often to a height of fifty or sixty feet. It may be seen in vast numbers over the plains and on the lower part of the mountain slopes, and it assumes an endless variety of shapes, ranging from the single straight stem to when they are in flower, for at the end of each those containing fifteen or twenty arms. To those who see them for the first time they certainly present a remarkable sight, especially when they are in flower, for at the end of each branch they bear a wreath or crown of fragrant yellow, rose or purple flowers. No less unusual are the organ-pige cactus, or "pithahaya" (Cereus shotti). They grow in clumps of eighteen or twenty stems, and reach a height of fifteen feet to twenty feet. A rarer cactus is the bisnaga, a smaller form of the saguarro; but it has one peculiar quality, which makes it very valuable both to the Indians and to travelers in the country. for it is the only plant from which water fit to drink may be obtained. The best way is to cut off the top and to crush the pulp within with a piece of wood or stone. Two to four pints of water can then be scooped out with a cup, the

There is another unusual plant also found in this region-the "ocotillo" (Fouquiera splendens). This remarkable shrub, which sometimes attains a height of fifteen feet, is composed of a number of long, thin branches, covered with thorns, and bears the most brilliant scarlet

Once each year, just after the short summer rains, the country wakes from its long drought to a belated spring. Gay-colored flowers nod among the rocks, and the cactus blossoms relieve the otherwise somber landscape. But this change in the face of the country is as transient as it is soon fades to the neutral tints of its accustomed hopeless aridity.

A few words must be said about the fauna Tiburon island is so named because of the immense number of sharks that swarm the sea surrounding it. Pearl oysters are found near the Punta Tepopa, but the warlike character of the Seri has prevented any fishery from being established there. There are many porpoises and immense numbers of green turtles, while sea-birds of all kinds

As regards mammals, there are said to be some sheep in the Seri mountains; but I very much doubt if they descend so far south, but there are one or two scattered bands of antelope and a few deer. To counterbalance this lack of big game, there are thousands of black-backed rattlesnakes, sidewinders, Gila > derma horridum), horned toads and ants. But in traveling through the country there is little life to be seen except an occasional turkey buzzard or a coyote slinking through the cactus. The whole country is desolate and forbidding. Here and there are clusters of ruined huts, sadly reminding us that the Seri were once numerous but are now fast dying out. Day by day the sun passes in blinding splendor over the plains and over these deserted homes, and evening by evening the afterglow lays its long and amethyst over the land-

RELATION OF THE DAIRY FARM TO PERMANENT AGRICULTURE.

When a man of practical knowledge coupled with the trained mind of an instructor says "that the educational value of a large dairy show cannot be estimated to men who are endeavoring to evolve the highest standards of efficiency upon their farms and in their dairy at the lowest cost of operation" there must indeed be great value to be had from an attendance at the National Dairy Show in Chicago this

Professor Kildee of Iowa Agricultural College is the author of the above statement and believes that lessons to be learned by looking over a thousand of the best representatives of the leading dairy breeds and the information and inspiration gained from coming in contact with men who are foremost in the Dairy world, with the chance to inspect the most modern in dairy machinery, all leads to success men who might otherwise blunder along without getting anywhere. He says that the profits derived from dairy farming are determined by the following factors: Quantity of milk, quality of milk, cost of production, and the price obtained for your dairy products.

Thus, it must behoove any man who is striving for success to attend this great educational exhibit, as by comparison alone can we measure our knowledge, and the man who stays home and plugs along will not get from his efforts what his neighbor will extract from his, with more ease. The mere pleasure of sitting on a milk stool and getting just what milk you can, won't get you anywhere. You must have profitable cows and know what you are doing all the time.

Every hour spent at the National Dairy Show at Chicago, during the ten days of October 24th to November 2nd next, is adding to your ability to succeed. Adv.

B. R. 2, Cromwell, Ind., May 3rd, 1912

I had a cancer growing on my nose, which got so severe it kept me out of the pulsib for one year. All the doctors said gul it out, which I did not like. Last year I went to the Cancertorium and the Specialist made one application on Monday and another on Tuesday of twenty minutes each, and the next Sunday I filled my pulpit and am well today. No. knile, no pain and no blood. The Doctor has my bless ye. REV. JOHN H. SMITH Some names of currel patients who will answer duestion. On received of the currel patients who will answer duestion.

Black Silk Stove Polish

ON'T imagine for a moment that all brands of stove polish are the same.

On't imagine for a moment that all brands of stove polish are the same.

Don't get the idea that to keep a nice glossy shine on your stove you must black it every few days. It's not a question of oft-repeated application. It's a question of the stove polish to use.

Black Silk Stove Polish is so much better than other stove polishes there is absolutely no comparison—it's in a class all by itself.

It makes a brilliant glossy shine that don't rub or dust off. It anneals to the absolute of the stove. It makes old stoves look like new and lasts there as any other shine.

times as long as any other shine.

Get a can and give it a trial. Try it on your parlor stove, your cook stove, your gas range. If you do not find it the best stove polish you ever used, your ler is authorized to refund your money. Black Silk Stove Polish has been made the same formula and sold under one name for 30 years. Here is what some of the ladies write us:

"I sent to you for a can of Black Silk Stove Polish and found it so much better than I had ever used that I asked my hardware dealer to order a supply. He did so, is now selling nearly everyone in the place your polish. I had no idea there could be a difference in stove polishes." "I was visiting friends and they used Black Silk Stove Polish on their stoves. It ade the best shine I ever saw, and after blacking, the polish did not rub or dust off. It way ahead of any polish I have ever used."

Ask Your Dealer for Black Silk Stove Polish and refuse a counterfeit brand. Costs you no more than the ordinary kind, so why not have the best. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel for grates, fenders, registers, stove pipes, etc. Prevents rusting. Not affected by heat or cold. Produces a permanent glossy black surface. Can, with brush for applying enamel, only 25 cents. Ask your dealer. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for nickel, brass, silver ware or thaware. It has no equal for use on automobiles

WHY WE DETEST PARASITES

Feeling of Instinctive Revulsion is Justified, for They Are Carriers of Disease.

The feeling of instinctive revulsion against parasites of all kinds which characterizes humanity generally, and which is due to something much more than the mere pain or annoyance that their bites might inflict, become more interesting as further discoveries show

Unfortunately this natural abhorman under conditions of poverty and uncleanliness from harboring such parasites, and now those who understand how much more than a mere personal annoyance is in question from the existence of parasites must take up the problem to eradicate them.

MILK INSPECTION IS NO FUN

Incident Showing How Hard It is to Force Sanitary Rules on Dirty People.

The trials and tribulations of a milk inspector trying to force insanitary people to live according to sanitary rules are shown in the issue of the Healthologist, the official organ of the Milwaukee health department. The story follows:

A Milwaukee milk inspector during a farm inspection, came upon a place hopelessly filthy, disorderly and run down. A motherly person with a big heart, but firm and weird convictions, listened to the young man's suggestions. Then looking over her spectacles pityingly, she said:

REACK SILI

"Boy, my mother was ninety-seven years old when she died. She was dirtier than I am, and lived in a tion experienced at previous festivals dirtier house and drank dirtier milk. should be eliminated. The building If she could stand it I guess there has splendid stage arrangements, so ain't no reason why I and the city that an augmented chorus can be folks that get milk from this farm can't stand it too."

And not being able to answer that argument, the milk inspector left her -kindly withal, but yet voicing her indignation over "them there new fangled idees of cleanliness."

Definition of the Beau.

A beau is one who arranges his curled locks gracefully, who ever smells of balms and cinnamon, who hums the songs of the Nile and Cadiz, who throws his sleek arms into various attitudes, who idles away the whole day among the chairs of the ladies, who is ever whispering in some one's ear, who reads little billetdoux from this quarter and that, and writes them in return; who avoids ruffling his dress by contact with his neigheverybody is in love; who flutters from ly the pedigree of Hirpinus. What do you tell me, is this a beau, Cotilus? Then a beau, Cotilus, is a very trifling thing.

Filling the House.

The theatrical man just in off the road was recounting to the New York manager his qualifications for a box office post.

"I don't see that you are any better than a dozen other men I can take my pick from," said the manager. "You say you can sell tickets. So can they. Nobody can sell tickets if people don't come to buy."

"No, they can't," said the man, "but I have the knack of seating people so an audience of 50 people will look like 400, and the house will never look empty."

"There's a good deal in that," said the manager, and he gave the man

How He Treated Her. A certain osteopath was treating a young woman who had very weak ankles and wrists. As she lived in a town quite a distance from his own supply it with the positive undercity, he was forced to leave the city Saturday of each week and go to the town in which the young woman lived, give her the treatment Sunday, and return to the office Monday. A friend once asked the osteopath how he had arranged to give the young woman the treatment for her ankles and wrists when she lived at such a distance, and the osteopath replied: "Oh, I go out and treat her week ends."-Lippincott's Magazine.

Parliamentary Law. No one man is responsible for parliamentary law. It was born of deliberative exigencies. Its rules, precedents and usages are contained neither instatutes nor court decisions and are only binding when a deliberative body chooses to make them so. Most of the rules now accepted had their origin in the English parliament. Changes have been made to meet the needs of our legislative bodies, even as changes were made in the English parliament—parliamentary law growing from the simple procedure of the Anglo Saxon ot to the more complicated de-machinery of today.

Choral Union Series.

One of the strongest, as well as one of the most interesting series of concerts ever offered in the middle west, has been scheduled by the University Musical Society on the Choral Union series, Ann Arbor, for the coming year. The excellent work which the society has done in the past in bringing to Michigan so many splendid musicians, is well known to music lovers, not only in Ann Arbor, but in the role of insects in the spread of all the surrounding towns and cities, who have been able to take advantage of the many attractions which rence has not been enough to protect have been scheduled, and it will be with pleasure that the announcement of this season's offerings is learned. Mme. Schumann-Heink, who is claimed to be the world's best loved singer, will open the series by a song recital Tuesday evening, October 22nd. She is such a universal favorite, that it is veying relapsing fever, typhoid and unnecessary to make any comments leprosy has been suggested and ap' regarding her work. November 25th, parently there is no parasite of man the Flonzaley String Quartet, whose work is considered the standard for all quartets, will give another of their charming programs. In December, Reinald Werrenrate, the distinguished baritone who has won so enviable a place as an artist of high order, will give a song recital. In January, the Boston Symphony Orchestra of one hundred men, under the baton of Dr. Carl Muck, will appear. This organization is recognized as one of the greatest American Orchestras, and its performances set the standard for all other such organizations. bach's music studio, and at C. Stein-Quantity production and increased manufacturing bach's store. Tickets are also on sale facilities make possible this unprecedented price of $2400. Here is a tried and proven six-cylinder car of the finest quality-a thoroughly high-grade six-

Note these splendid features-heretofore found only on some of the most costly automobiles:

Electric Lighting, by the Gray & Davis system, is regular equipment. Just touch a switch on the dash and you can light at will, head, tail, and side lights

Chalmers Self-Starter-A season's use has proved this the simplest and most efficient starting device yet designed. You simply press a foot button on the dash and your motor starts. No more cranking. No danger. No strain on the motor.

The "Six" motor (41 x 51) is a giant of power. Though rated at 54 h. p., it actually developes 60 to 70 h. p.

Continental Demountable Rims reduce tire trouble to the minimum. You can change the tires in a few minutes.

Turkish Cushions-Comfort is built into every detail of this car. Cushions are of the Turkish type, 11 inches thick, soft as a down pillow.

Upholstery is of the luxurious, overstuffed type. All seats are wide and roomy. The Chalmers "Six" gives you the same restful comfort as a big armchair. New Flush-sided Bodies have the graceful bell-shaped back. Dash is one piece with body. Top of hood and sides of body form one line from radiator to rear seat. Handsome Nickel Trimmings are regular equipment.

Leather lining throughout the car and on the dash leaves nothing to scratch or mar. Twenty-one coats of paint and varnish give a finish that cannot be surpassed.

Big 36 x 41-2 inches Tires carry the car smoothly over the roughest roads. The "Six" is "over-tired," which means less tire expense. Wheel base 130 inches.

A Reliable Speedometer, a jeweled instrument of the magnetic type, is regular equipment.

New Style Chalmers Dash—On the dash are carried all controls and indicators needed for convenient operation of the car.

"Thirty-Six" $1950

Striking improvements and added features make the new 1913 "Thirty-Six" more than ever an ideal all-around motor car. It has power in abundance, speed, hill-climbing ability and rugged endurance to meet the utmost demands.

The 1913 Chalmers "Thirty-Six" offers you every motor luxury -at a medium price. Consider the many points which make the "Thirty-Six" the acknowledged leader in its class:

The wheel base of the 1913 "Thirty-Six" has been increased to 118 inches, which still farther improves its easy riding qualities.

Luxurious Turkish cushions, 11 inch upholstery (the same quality as used on some $5000 cars), tilted seats, all give the greatest possible riding ease. Seats are exceptionally roomy.

Big 36 x 4 inch tires carry the car smoothly over the roughest roads. The "Thirty-Six" is over-tired, which means-less tire expense. Springs are unusually flexible. Full electric lighting by the Gray & Davis system is furnished on the "Thirty-Six." Chalmers self-starter, simplified and improved, is furnished on the "Thirty-Six" of course.

A reliable Speedometer, a jewelled, magnetic instrument, is regular equipment.

1913 bodies are greatly improved in design and finish. They have the integral cowled dash, on which are carried all controls. Everything for the handling of the car is within easy reach.

Note the wide doors, smooth straight sides, rounded back, graceful cowled dash, elegant appointments. This car will do your work wi h power to spare. The splendid long stroke motor—41 c 51 inches—has wonder-ful pulling qualities. Quiet and smooth running all The four-forward speed transmission is one of the distinctive Chalmers features largely responsible for the success of the "Thirty-Six" last year. Other Chalmers features which have made this car such a marked success are retained—such as dual ignition, demountable rims (five), genuine honeycomb radiator, dash adjustment for carburetor, large brakes, frame and steel connections of extra weight and strength.

Would a Change Benefit You?

, Do YOU want a change in the adminstration of our National Government?

This is a PERSONAL QUESTION directed to you.

While your vote affects the welfare of every man, woman and child in this land, yet the question for you to decide is, what is best for YOU?

Did you ever stop to think that if every voter in the United States selfishly cast his vote for the men and things which would bring him the greatest PERSONAL PROFIT, that the NET RESULT would be of greatest benefit to the MA-JORITY?

This is true, isn't it?

Then the thing for you to do right now is to sit down and figure out just what is the most profitable thing for YOU. Then you will have decided, indirectly, what is most profitable for the nation.

You live in Michigan. For the past four years you have faced conditions which are either conducive to your PROSPER-ITY and HAPPINESS or you have been confronted by conditions that beckon HARDSHIP and DISAPPOINT-MENT.

President TAFT has for over three Taft rule. years guided the ship of state over a course and according to charts accepted by Republicans as most likely to land the PEOPLE safely into the harbor of peace, contentment, material happiness and pros-

Has Mr. TAFT been a true PILOT? Are YOU ready to mutiny? Will YOU be deceived by the flickering light of a FALSE BEACON?

Let us determine just what progress has been made under a Republican administration, notaby rehearsing fulsome generalities about shops running full time, mines operating fall shifts, factories working to capacity, workingmen getting high wages and the farmer receiving higher prices, but by producing FACTS and FIGURES.

Investigate conditions in Michigan. Compare the state's welfare now with its position in 1894 under Democratic rule.

In 1894 there were 2,325 factories in the state, employing 68,5911 males and 11,-787 females. Now there are 9,456 factories in operation, employing 303,524 males and 52,777 females.

This is a total of OVER A QUAR-TER MILLION MORE people actually employed in Michigan now than in 1894.

Wages?

Do you know that those employes received an average of $2.23 per day in 1911? And do you know that the average daily wage was $1.28 in the dark days of #894?

Do YOU want a change?

Hours of labor?

The average number of hours' work exacted from each employe in 1894 was 10.9. In 1911 it was reduced to 9.9.

Although the day's work is one hour LESS, the day's wage is nearly ONE DOLLAR MORE. And the total amount paid in wages in Michigan in 1911 was nearly SEVEN MILLION DOL-LARS IN EXCESS of the total amount paid to labor in 1894.

But the FARMER, you may say, how has HE been benefited?

The price of wheat in 1894 was 53 cents: NOW it is $1.06. Corn WAS 36 cents while PRESENT quotations are 66 cents per bushel. Oats, barley, rye, hay, butter, cheese, eggs, and milk have nearly doubled in value. Horses, cattle, sheep and swine have greatly increased-nearly doubled-in value.

And conditions throughout the entire country compare with those of Michigan.

The amount of money in circulation has increased approximately $3 for every mans woman and child in the United States during the Taft administration.

The total bank clearings increased from $138,823,000,000 during Roosevelt's, administration to $153,369,000,000 under

The total amount deposited in banks under three years of Roosevelt was $11,-667,000,000. During three years of Taft's occupancy of the White House they amounted to $14,531,000,000.

Would you change?

The postoffice receipts during the Roosevelt administration was $162,000,000 and they jumped to $214,000,000 during the three years following the ascendency of Mr. Taft to the presidential chair.

Forgetting the fine language, the oratory. the high-sounding phrases of politicians who seek a change for their own benefit, ask "Would a vourself the question, CHANGE benefit ME?'

Are you a laborer? Then ask yourself if a change would raise YOUR wages and ask yourself the question as to whether or not it would throw YOU out of a job. You are enjoying prosperity NOW. Do YOU want a change?

Are you a farmer? You are getting higher prices than ever before for your farm products. Fewer of you are working to raise a mortgage from the homestead. Some of you have just pulled off that 'plaster" the Democrats placed on the home-the shelter of your wife and chil-

Mailory tells Lathrop of his predicamen and arranges to borrow the preacher Kitty Lewellyn, former sweetheart of Mal

CHAPTER XXX.

A Wedding on Wheels.

The commotion of the matrimony mad women brought the men trooping in from the smoking room and there was much circumstance of decorating the scene with white satin ribbons, a triffe crumpled and dim of luster. Mrs. Whitcomb waved them at Mallory with a laugh:

"Recognize these?"

He nodded dismally. His own funeral baked meats were coldly furnishing forth a wedding breakfast for Ira Lathrop. Mrs. Wellington was moving about distributing kazoos and Mrs. Temple had an armioad of old shoes, some of which had thumped Mallory on an occasion which seemed so ancient as to be almost prehistoric.

"What tune shall we play?" "I prefer the Mendelssohn Wedding on his lips at her chilly speech: March," said Mrs. Whitcomb, but Mrs. Wellington glared across at her.

"I've always used the Lohengrin." "We'll play 'em both," said Dr. Temple, to make peace.

Mrs. Fosdick murmured to her spouse: "The old Justice of the Peace didn't give us any music at all," and received in reward one of his most luscious-eyed looks, and a whisper: "But he gave us each other."

"Now and then," she pouted. "But where are the bride and groom?"

"Here they come-all ready," cried Ashton, and he beat time while some of the guests kazooed at Mendelssohn's and some Wagner's bridal melodies, and others just made a noise.

Ira Lathrop and Anne Gattle, looking very sheepish, crowded through the narrow corridor and stood shamefacedly blushing like two school children about to sing a duet. The train joited to a dead stop. The conductor called into the car: "Ogden! All out for Ogden!" and everybody stood watching and waiting. Ira, seeing Mallory, edged close and Foiled Yet Again. Mallory had fled from the scene at the first hum of the minister's words. His fate was like alkali on his palate. For twelve hundred miles he had ransacked the world for a minister. When one dropped on the train like manna through the roof, even this miracle had to be checkmated by a perverse miracle that sent to the train an early infatuation, a silly affair that he himself called puppy-love. And now Marjorie would never marry him. He did not blame her. He blamed fate.

He was in solitude in the smoking room. The place reeked with drifting from the increase of passing objects, tobacco smoke and the malodor of cigar stubs and cigarette ends. His plans were as useless and odious as cigarette ends. He dropped into a Mrs. Wellington was on a chair fast- chair, his elbows on his knees and ening a ribbon round one of the his head in his hands-Napoleon on St. Helena.

"Just wait!" she said, ominously, and stalked in like a young Zenobia. He put out an appealing hand: "Now, Marjorie, listen to reason. Of course I know you won't marry me now." "Oh, you know that, do you?" she said, with a squared jaw. "But, really, you ought to marry me-not merely because I love youand you're the only girl I ever-" He stopped short and she almost smiled as she taunted him: "Go on-! dare you to say it."

VARIOUS SAUCES FOR FISH

Different Mixtures Are Required for the Different Species That May Be Served.

A hostess home from Spain brought with her a fish sauce which is popular with the Spaniards. Its foundation is thick French dressing made of one tablespoon of vinegar to eight of oil. It is seasoned with a half teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard and paprika enough to color.

Into this dressing is mixed the finely chopped whites and yolks-each separately—of three hard-boiled eggs, a dozen chopped olives and half a dozen chopped sweet red peppers.

Mayonnaise served in a small silver or china sauce boat is often passed with fried smelts, halibut, scallops and eels. This may have half dozen sweet pickles chopped in it or a tablespronful of capers.

Some hostesses serve extra drawn butter in a separate sauce boat, with broiled mackerel or bluefish. This should be highly seasoned with pepper and may be colored with paprika, or should be nicely browned.

A nice sauce for shell fish is made by using the broth that comes from steaming, or a little of the clam broth that is jarred. Fry six small onions in butter, but do not color a deep brown, thicken with a tablespoonful of flour; then reduce to a creamy gray, with the broth. Season well with cayenne and a little salt. Just before serving stir in the yolk of an egg, a sherry glass of white wine, the same amount of cream and some chopped chives or capers.

Must Be Cleansed Frequently and With Care-Sunning Almost a Necessity in Drying-Best to Avoid Use of Oil.

Common sense methods are always advisable in caring for one's appearance, but this is especially true in caring for the hair. It is quite impossible to neglect the proper shampooing, sunning and brushing and expect the hair to just take care of itself and keep glossy and thick. Neither is it possible to use strong preparations when washing the hair and not destroy the texture of the hair and make it look faded and dead.

SCHOOL FIFTY YEARS AGO Reminiscent Writer Tells of the Fashionable Girls' Academy of a Period of the Past.

The fashionable girls' school of fifty years ago was a most interesting place apparently. "Looking backward to those busy, shining hours," writes Julia C. R. Dorr, in Harper's Bazar, "my first thought is, how we all studied! How eager we were! What keen delight we took in construing an intricate sentence or in solving a hard problem!" There were about fifty scholars, or possibly seventy-five; and among them was a group of eight or ten bright young fellows who were fitting for college; preparing to enter as sophomores the coming autumn. What an ambitious lot we were, to be sure! I was the only girl in the Madame Merri has received a letter reminder of the last one. How many teachers did we have? Just one. I doubt very much if he was a marvel of learning, though I thought he was then. He was just out of college himself, and he had had no wide experience of books or men. But he had the rare gift of being able to stimulate and inspire his scholars, and kindle every latent spark of enthusiasm in their natures. Enthusfasm is a better word than ambition in this connection. Study was joyful labor, done for the pure love of it. It was its own end; not simply a means to some other end.

Couldn't Dazzle Mammy.

The young man of the house really was making good in a way that delighted his parents and brought him much flattery from friends and neighbors, but old Mammy, the family servant, remained unimpressed. One day when he had done a particularly brilliant piece of surgical work and delivered an especially profound address before a great convention, he sald to Mammy: "I'm not a baby cider, peanuts, molasses candy, all set any longer, and I think you better call shampoo mixture and not attempt to out in broken china and tinware. Pure From Start to Finish.

Pure From Start to Finish.

There is perhaps nothing in daily use in the home in which purity is so important as it is in baking powder. On its purity depends the purity of the materials used, the success of the bakings, etc. And possibly the one thing that has served to make Calumet Baking Powder so much of a favorite with the critical cooks of the country, is the fact that Calumet is pure from start to finish. You can rely on Calumet's purity for the simple reason that every ounce of the materials used is first tested by experienced chemists and then mixed with the utmost care to insure its uniformity. And standing in the can or changes of weather, etc., cannot alter it in any respect.

weather, etc., cannot alter it in any respect.

But perhaps the best thing of all, is the fact that Calumet never fails. Every baking in which Calumet is used, is sure to come from the oven as light and as fluffy as you can wish. This not only means wholesome, tasty foods—but a big economy as well. Try Calumet next bake-day—it's the best baking powder made—for two World's Pure Food Expositions, one in Chicago, 1907, one at Paris, France, 1912—have given it the highest awards. Adv.
