FLOOD SUFFERERS IN OHIO AND INDIANA ARE RECEIVING FOOD AND SUPPLIES.

HIGH WATER IN OTHER PARTS CAUSES ALARM.

Many People Driven From Homes by Ohio and Mississippi Rivers Which Reach Record Mark.

Latest investigations tend to confirm the estimates of fewer than 500 deaths in the floods that swept over a score of cities in Ohio and Indiana last week. As the waters receded from Dayton, Columbus and other places, leaving a thick coating of mud, alarm was caused by a rapid rise of the Onio and the Mississippi rivers, inundating parts of cities along their banks.

There is not much danger of loss of life in these places, however, as the inhabitants have hills to fee to and are used to floods.

Revised reports indicate that the number drowned in Dayton may not exceed 150. The death list at Piqua, Ohio, fell from the estimate of 50 to 13 known dead.

Sanitary experts from the United States public health service are ordered to Dayton by Secretary of War Garrison to protect city from pestilence. The Water has receded in Dayton and rescuers in some sections mee canoes and flat bottomed boats. walle in other sections relief squads

People throughout country are urgby Dayton relief committee not to send messages of inquiry, as they cannot be delivered because the wire capacity is taxed to the utmost by offisial and public business.

Brookville, Indiana, is practically under martial law and 20 men have been driven out of the city after looting damaged homes and buildings. Twohundred and fifty children rescued from the flood have only night clothes and wagon trains carried food and clothing from Connersville to the stricken people.

The work of rehabitation began at Dayton and other flooded cities as the work of rescue approached its showed improvement as viewed by refugees, for it was warmer and pleasant to frost and water-chilled bones. Sanitary experts accepted the rise in 4emperature with mixed feelings, for the cold had retarded decomposition of animal matter and refuse.

Access to Dayton is now comparatively easy and relief trains are arriving nearly every hour with food, clothing, medical supplies, physicians, and-Red Cross nurses.

No city even in war times was ever under stricter martial law. The provost guard sounds the curfew at 8 v'clock. With it all passes are revoked automatically and none permitted on the street. The sleep of the exhausted stricken was interrupted continually by the boom of guns. Despite the drastic military measures many attempted to pass the lines and looters were busy. The militia had orders to shoot to kill after one warnag and the continual crash of the muskets was evidence that the warnings would not stop the marauders.

With nearly 15 000 persons in the Ohio river driven from their home awn the Ohio valley, and with more tions at Cincinnati, the water front buildings are all partly under water and much damage has been done.

One life has been lost as a direct result of the high water here. Miss Anna Smith, the first victim drowned, lest her life in an attempt to reach Newport in a skill that capsled in midstream. Her three men companions

Newport and Covington, virtually are suddounded by water. Conditions there are werse than elsewhere and mearly 10,000 persons have been driven from their homes.

Relief measures, however, are adequate. In these two cities the only fear is that health conditions would be seriously affected because of the clogging of the sewage system and the stagnation of backwater. As yet the water works have continued in operation. The electric light plants al, ready have had to cease, but gas plants are not interrupted.

The German Manufacturing Co., of Saginaw, capitalized at $75,000, was organized to manufacture plano parts. A fourth division of the second battalion of the Michigan naval brigade will be mustered in at Marquette if that city complies with certain condisions which were outlined at a session of the state naval board. FLOOD DANGER ALARMS CAIRO

All Along the Mississippi Waters Are High and People Are Fleeing From Their Homes in Terror.

Trainloads of persons left Cairo folowing receipt of news that the Ohio river was expected to reach a higher stage than during the disastrous flood of last spring. R. T. Lindley, the local weather forecaster, issued a statement, saying:

"With weather conditions becoming somewhat unsettled in this river district and rapid rises continuing in the Ohio and Wabash rivers, a 54-foot stage is regarded as certain at Cairo if the levees below hold. Fifty-3ix feet is regarded as a strong possibility here. As a prudential measure it is advisable that women, children and the infirm seek more secure refuge." The Ohio has reached 51.3 feet. Every attention is being given the levees here. Labor is scarce and an appeal was sent to Governor Dunne for help and he responded that he would send 1,000 men: 200 pational guardsmen, 10,000 rounds of rations and 200,000

On the Missouri side of the Mississippi river water is reported everywhere. Hundreds of refugees have come into Cairo. Conditions in this entire district and are very serious.

Raise Standard of School.

The state university regents at their meeting raised the standard of the school pharmacy and took definite action regarding the courses of bother the engineering and medical departments. The pharmacy degrees will be granted hereafter are as follows: At the end of two years, graduate in pharmacy; three-year course, pharmaceutical chemist; four-year course, bachelor of science in pharmacy. The board decided to make the requirements for admission the same as for admission to the literary department.

In the engineering department, the great number of degrees which have been granted will be reduced to two. Formerly there has been given a bachelor's degree from every department of the school. Hereafter the two degrees will be bachelor of science in engineering and bachelor of science in architecture.

This is quite a variation, but my observation leads me to conclude that it is not too much. A few guinea hens have proved to be very poor egg producers and 30 eggs is not likely too low for the minimum production, while 70 for the maximum is a very conservative estimate. Once I kept an account of the eggs laid by a white guinea hen and I got 65 eggs from her that season, but I felt sure that she laid a few eggs that I did not get. Last spring I undertook to keep producer and I do not think that she laid more than 30 eggs. The Disk Plow. It is quite evident that the disk plow is to be a part of the equipment of the progressive farmer of the future. The double disk, or gang, is the style in most demand, for the reason that a double disk will cut from 24 to-26 inches with the same horsepower that it takes to operate the 16inch mold-board sulky, and the cost is but a few dollars more. The disk plow is to be a very conspicuous factor in an account of the eggs laid by one the future trade of the implement white and two pearl hens. IDEAS THE OTHER WOMAN HAS FOUND OUT.

Do you know that many of the daily tasks may be done while sitting? Paring potatoes, wiping many of the dishes, and even ironing, if one has a high stool. Many women never sit, just from force of habit, when the strength might be well saved and the feet rested by taking the pressure off from them. When standing, in ironing, always stand on a rug folded in many thicknesses, as the spring rests the feet.

One way to save the dishes is to use a damp cloth and a dry one in the dining-room to wipe dishes that are used for foods which dare not be much face There is no economy in using old or worn-out tools or utensils. A leaky pail, which leaves its trail wherever it is carried, is worse than poor economy.

Do not bang or gouge the hands and fingers using the stove iron or a piece of wood for a hammer.

Have a small egg beater which will beat an egg in a cup. Get good small wooden spoons for stirring and mixing. They are easy on the hands and never get hot when used in the dishes cooking on the stove.

Have a soap shaker for dish-washing; in this every scrap of laundry soap may be saved and used.

Good sharp knives for paring and carving, and a good knife sharpener is a true necessity in every home.

God is love, and to make religion akin to friendship, is simply to give it the highest expression conceivable by man.

DAINTY DISHES FOR THE SICK. Dainty food that would be too much to prepare for a family will be greatly appreciated by those who are ill. Make a small case out of a thick slice of bread by scooping out a boxlike center, brush with butter and toast in a hot oven. This little case may now be used for any creamed mixture, and case and all may be eaten. For creamed fish, add a teaspoonful of butter to a teaspoonful of flour; when the butter bubbles add the flour and cook, then add a fourth of a cup of milk, three drops of onion juice, a fourth of a cup of flaked fish or the same amount of cooked chicken. Fill the shell and serve, garnished with a bit of parsley. For escalloped fish or chicken, use the creamed fish mixture and bake in a small ramekin, covered with buttered crumbs. Fish Souffle.-Force cooked fish through a strainer. There should be a quarter of a cup. Cook a fourth of a cup of bread crumbs with a third of a cup of milk five minutes, add the fish and a half tablespoonful of butter, salt and paprika to taste. Beat the white of a small egg, and add to the above mixture. Turn into a buttered mold or two and bake in hot water until firm. Serve with a white sauce, Hamburg Steak .- Make well seasoned hamburg steak into small balls, broll or pan broll until cooked, then serve three on a narrow piece of well toasted bread, and garnish with pars-

Cream Toast.-Take two slices of dry toast and cover with the following sauce: Three-fourths of a cup of thin cream added to two tablespoonfuls of cold milk, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of flour. Dip the toast in boiling water and butter lightly.

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny-unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove colish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind.

Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush free with each can of enamel only.

Use BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

SURVIVORS TELL OF FLOOD THRILLS

Lecturer Saw 28 Bodies Recovered at Delaware, O.

MEANEST MAN A BOAT OWNER

College Girls Relate Death Scenes and Herolc Rescue Work by the Students-Stories of Other Refugees.

Chicago.-Thrilling stories of the gooded districts in Ohio were told by Rev. E. O. O'Neal, who returned to this city from a lecture tour. He saw rescuers take 28 bodies from the river at Delaware, O.

"All of the small towns along the river have been swept away," he said. victims are starving and freezing to | tral Ohio. Those who are able to work are making every effort to rescue and help others. There is no communication between towns.

"When at Delaware I saw college students make many thrilling rescues | Delaware. by swimming out into the swift current and swimming back with a flood victim. One young man swam out and and rescued 30 persons in one day. He was the bravest fellow I ever saw.

Women and Children Afleat. "I saw a house with one woman and three children clinging to the roof floating down the stream. The house was whirling and bobbing up and down in the water. The woman was screaming for help. Persons on the edge of the flood had a small boat, but they could not row fast enough to caech up with the house.

"The house bore down on the Penncylvania railroad bridge and crashed against it. The mother caught the bridge and went down. The children went down, but came up again near a tree. The eldest child helped the other two and help on to the tree. The boat put out and rescued all of them.

"A few minutes later a house with a man about 75 years and his wife floated down the stream. The woman was lying on the roof. The old man was holding her. Suddenly the house struck a tree and the brickschimney fell off. Then we saw the old man uct his wife in his arms and carry her to the chimney hole in the roof and let her down into it. When the cuers inquired of the woman.

"'She is dead,' said the old man. she died two hours ago, and I was afraid to let her lie on the roof because the water would carry, her away.

Sees Man and Woman Drown.

"I saw another house with a man and woman clinging to the chimney to keep from falling off. The house struck a tree and the chimney crumbled. Both went down before the boat reached them and we never saw them again. These are only a few instance of the horrible things seen in the flooded district

"I went from Delaware to Prospect, and the same tragedles were repeated. At Prospect I saw the meanest man in the world. The meanest man, I think, is a farmer who owned a boat et Prospect. He lived across the river from the town. He lent his boat to a Baptist minister who used it for rescue work. They saved more than a day. It was the only boat in the town.

Farmer Demands His Boat. "Although the minister could rescue but two persons at a time he was doing noble work. Many persons were swept away before the boat could reach them. Late in the aftermoon the farmer came to the shore and announced he wanted the boat. He declared he would take the boat by force. He said he wanted the boat some business.

"The minister refused to give up the boat, but offered to row the farmer across the dangerous river, if he could keep the boat. The farmer grudgingly assented, and a newspaper man from Marion and the minister rowed him across. It was the first attempt to take the boat across the swift river and was extremely danger-

"The preacher declared he would take any risk in order to keep the boat. They fanded the farmer across the river with much difficulty: They started back and when in the middle of the stream the boat capsized, and both went down. With the boat hundreds of persons could have been res-

I saw them take more than a dozen bodies from the water. "The reparts of the dead have not been sent in from these small towns and the country will be appalled when the full number is known. From what I saw I do not think the reports have been exaggerated. "Piqua and Fostoria are under water, and many people are drowned. The nearest I could get to Dayton was Piqua. Most of the town was under water. It was impossible to get to Co-Eds Tell of Horrors.

Four weary young women, co-cds from Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware. O., climbed from a Pullman on a delayed Lake Shore train, in the La-Salle street station. Fear Horror to Follow.

Miss Wyman, who had chaperoned the party on the trip, was the spokesman, but the other girls broke in from time to time with eager ejaculations to emphasize the horror of the tale

"The thought that is uppermost in my mind," said Miss Wyman, "is not so much of the horror that has passed as of the greater horror that must inevitably come to those poor people in Delaware and elsewhere throughout the flooded district. There are some dead bodies still in the houses at Delaware, and thousands elsewhere in Ohio, and it is staggering to the imagination to attempt to conjure up the picture of desolation, famine and pestilence that will follow the recession

"The flood itself was like a horrible nightmare. The water crept up slowly, but, ch. so steadily and relentlessly. First it was six inches deep insome of the lower streets; then a foot rescuers put out in a boat and caught | deep, and at last it had covered all up with the house, one of the rest the lower part of town and was lapping at the fect of the hills, while the many of them, with only the upper stories and roofs visible.

Hear Prayers for Safety.

"And on nearly every house there was a family, or what was left of the family, clinging to the ridgepole and chimneys and praying for deliverance.

"The university stands on the highest hill in town, and we were not affected by the flood itself. But all night, that first night, the 200 girls in Monnett hall, our dormitory, walked the floor and wept and prayed as the wails of the unfortunates only a few blocks away were borne to their ears. Closed windows could not keep out the sound. Now and then a woman shrieked above the general lamentations, and we knew when that sound reached us that some one had seen a loved relative, an aged father or mother, or perhaps a child, lose the grip of dozen women and children during the numbed fingers and slide off into the black, chill waters.

> "Throughout the night the men students and members of the faculty did what they could to rescue the sufferers, but we had no boats at the university and it was almost impossible to guide a raft through the blackness of the night, which was intensified by a cold, drizzling rain.

Rescue Work Makes Heroes.

"As soon as dawn came the boys got together in an organized rescue to go across the river and attend to corps. Our school produced a hundred heroes in half an hour. Every one of those students risked death on the flimsy rafts they were able to construct, but they never hesitated. They found some small boats, too, and did as well as they could with these. Prof-W. E. Dixon, the physical director of the university, headed the work of rescue. He had a dozen active lieutenants in the work of directing operations.

"Some of the houses could not be reached at all. The rafts were unmanageable, and the few boats were smashed one after another as they were caught by the eddying currents. Every time a boat was smashed two or three of the boys would be thrown into water ten or fifteen feet deep, but they all swam out in safety.

"Well, when they found how impossible it was to get actual contact with the houses they went to the nearest houses they could reach and took ropes and pulleys from a hardware store that had escaped the flood.

"They would tie a bolt to a light

feed. The students departed at night | where there were persons clinging on the roof. These people would catch the light line, pull over a heavier one and a pulley and set up a running line of cable by making fast to a chimney or house tower.

"The boys must have known something about breeches buoy work, for as soon as they had a line to a house they would rig up a chair and pass it over. Then the people would be hauled across. I guess they must have taken more than 100 off the different roofs. One woman, who weighed more than 200 pounds, started across in a chair. The pulley was fastened to a chimney and the chimney toppled over. The woman went into the water, but they kept hauling her in and she clung to the chair. She was half drowned when they got her up.

Take Refuge in "Frat" Houses. "The men students have responded nobly in time of distress, and the Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi, and Beta Theta Pi fraternity; houses, which are on hills, have been turned over for sleeping places for women and children. A Mr. Houseman and a Mr. Sulliver manned the boats sent down by the life saving station at Toledo, and saved fifteen persons. The students are doing practically all of the work of saving people and bringing what food there is to the starving men, women and children.

He had a passenger, appar ently a traveling man, and they waved at the train, which slowed down and was about to stop for them. The horses were knee deep in water and the bed of the wagon lapped the flood now and then, but they came on con fidently and seemed likely to make the tracks in safety.

Suddenly, however, the wagon and herses disappeared from view. It seemed as if they must have struck a sinkhole or something, but the queer part of it was that they didn't come up. The train waited for ten minutes, but not even a bubble came to the sur face of the pool where the men and horses had disappeared. Social Position is Almost Irrevocably Fixed in Europe, and Adhered To.

In Europe everybody has a definite social position fixed by birth and education. Individuals pass from one social level to another with more facility than is thought. Yet the vast mass of Britons, Frenchmen, Germans and so forth, pass their lives on the social level where they were born. Position is fixed. Their compatriots place them at a glance. This caste makes for contentment. There is hardly any temptation to spend for appearance, because such spending will not lift them into a higher order. The social values are not easily falsified. Thus two merchants of the same class will have retired with incomes earned in business. They live in the same suburb. One has twenty thousand a year and keeps a motor car. The other has only five thousand, and for him a motor car is out of the question. Yet their families associate with little envy on one side or pretentiousness on the other, and to the man with five thousand a year it would seem madness to try to maintain a touring car for the sake of appearing as well off as his neighbor with four times the income.

In the United States, on the contrary, the absence of fixed social levels tends to encourage lavish spending. People try, by appearances and themselves fictitious social values. This social counterfeiting, though common in every American community reaches its highest development among the third class of New York's spenders. Elsewhere people seem to feel that the thing is successful if they can put themselves into circulation as twenty dollar banknotes. But the metropolitan standard of social counterfeiting is to pass yourself off as a safe deposit box full of gilt edge securities-Saturday Evening Post.

Passing of Father.

Father is going. The patient, kind spirit who made us say our prayers at night and tucked us up in bed will soon be a thing of the past. Even now it is rare to find him anywhere.

We can see him yet-for our childish memory goes over our back almost to the beginning-bending over our cribs and anon in the still (except for our presence' watches of the night heating the milk over the gas stove.' And when mother used to come home from the caucus, how father's face would light up when, before turning in, she nodded her ap-

There was nobody in all the world quite like father. No matter what our troubles were, we always found a safe refuge in his sympathetic bosom. How soft was his voice as he read aloud to us at night from Elinor Glyn's fairy stories and other well known classics. And when we tossed on our beds in fever there was no cooling touch like father's. Who will take his place?-Life.

What It Means.

Did you ever hear the expression, "He'll never set the river afire?" Naturally. Do you know how it started? No? Here is the origin. In olden days grain was sifted by hand in a sieve known as a "temse." When a very energetic man did the sifting he often rubbed the sleeve so violently against the receptacle for the grain as to set fire to the wooden hoop of the temse. It used to be said of a lazy man: "He'll never set the temse afire." People hearing this supposed that word "temse" was the "Thames," and, believing the expression referred to the river Thames, they gradually changed the word "temse" to "river." You have No thor heard the phrase "not worth a tinker's dam." That isn't profanity. A tinker's "dam" was the little mound of pressed bread or dough that tinkers used to put around a hole or joint they were mending. When the work was over the bits of bread were useless. They were worth nothing. Hence, a useless thing was said to be "not worth a tinker's dam."

Even Royal Children Are Inquisitive. The subdean of the Chapel Royal, London, was giving the royal children a religious lesson. They said: Please we want to ask you something. If Adam and Eve had died when they were babies, should we have been here now?" Which was something of a poser. However, he gave the neat answer: "There is nothing in the Bible which tells us that Adam and Eve ever were bables.

Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign Fruitful of Results for the Good of All Mankind.

Some comparisons showing the progress of the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the last eight years and tho present needs of this movement are made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in a brief report of its work recently issued. During the eight years of its work, the national association has assisted in the organization of the possession of mere things to give over 800 state and local anti-turberculosis societies located in almost every state and territory of the Union. Over 500 hospitals and sanatoria have been established, with more than 30,000 beds for consumptives. About 400 dispensaries, with more than 1,000 physicians in attendance and at least 150 open air schools for tuberculosis and anaemic children, have also been provided. Laws dealing with tuberculosis have been passed in 45 states, and ordinances on this subject have been adopted in over 200 cities and towns. An active field campaign of education against tuberculosis has been carried on in 40 states and territories by means of lectures, exhibits, the press, and the distribution of over 100,000,000 pamphlets on this disease.

Between Women's Health or Suffering

The main reason why so many women suffer greatly at times is because of a run-down condition. Debility, poor circulation show in headaches, languor, nervousness and worry.

PILLS

are the safest, surest, most convenient and most economical remedy. They clear the system of poisons, purify the blood, relieve suffering and ensure such good health and strength that all the bodily organs work naturally and properly. Except for the long handle, the iron were shaped like the ordinary flat-iron, only larger. A solid block of wood rested on the top of the iron, and on this the men placed one foot, guiding the iron in the desired direction by means of the handle. For the sake of convenience, ironing boards were raised only a few inches from the ground, and, however strange the method may seem to us, the work was done very well and very expedi-

BABY IN MISERY WITH RASH

Monroe, Wis .- "When my baby was six weeks old there came a rash on his face which finally spread until it got nearly all over his body. It formed a crust on his head, hair fell out and the itch was terrible. When he would scratch the crust, the water would ooze out in big drops. On face and body it was in a dry form and simple remedies at first, then got medicine, but it did no good.

"Finally a friend suggested Cuticura Remedies, so I sent for a sample to see what they would do, when to my surprise after a few applications could see an improvement, and he would rest better. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuti cura Soap and before I had them hall used my baby was cured. His head is now covered with a luxuriant growth of hair and his complexion is ad mired by everybody and has no dis figurements." (Signed) Mrs. Annie Saunders, Sept. 29, 1911.

Mobile Bill to Regulate Fraternal Insurance Societies Defeated In the House by One Vote.

(By Gurd M. Hayes.)

Already there are candidates in the field for speaker of the house of representatives for the session of 1915 As a general rule the aspirants get busy towards the close of one session, lining up support for the session to follow, and this year is no exception to the general rule.

Rep. James Henry from Battle Creek one of the republicans and a fourth termer, has already announced that he would like to preside over the deliberations of the house at the session clothes with their feet! The men two years hence. As chairman of the committee on gailroads Rep. Henry has made somewhat of a reputation in the house this year and he believes that he will be able to land the required number of votes in case, he is returned in 1915.

There is another in the race, however, who promises to make things exceedingly itneresting for any of his competitors and that man is Rep. Charles Weidenfeller, of Bloomingdale, Van Buren county. This is Weidenfeller's first term in the house, but his personal magnetism and his ability as an orator, has won him the position as leader of the first termers, and there are many in the house who believe that Weidenfeller is the logical man to wield the gavel at the next session. The Van Buren county representative has led the fight for all progressive measures and has expressed would scale off. He was in great mis his opinions in a fearless and honest ery and at nights I would lie awake manner. It will be a merry battle for holding his hands so that he could not supremacy between Weidenfeller and scratch and disfigure himself. I tried Henry if they are both returned at the next session, but at the present time it appears that Weidenfeller has a slight lead. However, it is expected that other candidates will appear before the close of the present session, the house he will be a hard man to Santo, of Traverse City, providing for the establishment of a state insurance fund out of which the state would meet its losses on state buildings by fire, flood and storm, The house has agreed to the bill in committee of the whole.

The measure directs the state insurance commissioner to determine a rate of insurance not over 60 cents per $100, and then determine what insurance should be carried on state property. The premium prescribed by this rate on the amount of insurance, it is provided, shall, he paid out of the fund provided for the maintenance of the institution, the money to be turned into the state treasury. Relative to the care of this money, to be known as the state insurance fund, it is directed that the state treasurer invest to be responsible for the overwhelmin bonds which are approved as investment by insurance companies. Senator Wood, Weadock, Fitzgibbon and George D. Scott led a determined fight to kill the effectvieness of the Copley corrupt pratices act, when the bill was under consideration in the senate. The bill, which passed the house, is designed to regulate the use of money in elections, and would prevent a candidate for any office from spending in his campaign more than 25 per cent of the salary attached to the position to which he aspires.

They succeeded in getting but one amendment of importance atached to the bill and this will be elminated when the bill comes up on the order of third reading, it is claimed.

Michigan responded quickly in offering relief to the Ohio flood sufferers as a concurrent resolution offered by Rep. Nank calling for Michigan to appropriate $25,000 was passed by both the house and senate by unanimous vote and the money was immediately forwarded to the treasurer of the American Red Cross society.

Before Rep. Nank's resolution was introduced Rep. Martz had presented a bill calling for an appropriation, but it would have required considerable its regular course. As a result, the through the medium of the concurrent

He charged that the text book assignments had been influenced by the text book interests and that other assignments had been made at the instance of the liquor interests. He went on to relate that the legislature is continually legislating and appropriating for the cripples and feeble minded and is continually "ducking" responsibility in dealing with the liquor question.

The day following this battle Senator Frank Scott, of Alpena, touched off more pyrotechnics by presenting a resolution condemning Senator Straight for his utterances of the day previous moved that the resolution be tabled but every other member of the senate voted against him. When the roll was called on the resolution it went through by manimous vote as Straight did not vote.

In the debate that followed Senator Scott referred to Straight as a skunk and Straight retaliated by declaring that Scott's utterances were inspired in a low down saloon. The whole performance has brought considerable adverse comment on the participants.

FLOWERS IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Simple Methods That Will Keep Them Alive, Fragrant, and a Pleasure for Many Days.

To make flowers last a week or more, four things are necessary. First, do not try to arrange them the moment you get them, but put them in a pail of water for a few hours, so that every stem will be under water up to the flower. Second, cleanse the vase thoroughly before putting in the flowers and change the water every day. Third, the cooler you keep the flowers the longer they will last. If you are too busy in the morning to enjoy them The bill introduced by Senator or have to go out for the afternoon, do not leave them in the living rom, for they are not used to such a tempera ture. Every night put the vase in a cool place, or better still, plunge the stems up to the flowers in a pail of water. Fourth, cut about a quarter of an inch off each stem in the morning. It is more trouble to do this under water, but it pays. If you cut the stems in the ordinary way air bubbles The senate is inclined to treat the get into the stems and impede the tak-

They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Resall Grderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, gripe, cause nauses, looseness, nor the inconventences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate

They act toward relieving constipa-tion, and also to overcome its cause-and to make unnecessary the fre-quent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and asso-ciate organs or glands. Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid as for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money. Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in conven-ient vest-pocket size tin boxes; 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.
