Circuit Court at Detroit confirmed the sale to Harris Bros., of Chicago, of all the machinery and supplies of the Flanders Manufacturing Co. at Pontiac and Chelsea.

$225,000 and the Chicago people are

The Detroit Trust Company, receivers, paid a dividend of 25 percent shortly after the sale of the plant department here and expect to pay another 25 percent dividend within a month, and also a final dividend about October 1st.

Mrs. J. M. Lehman.

Miss Anna Mary Walz was born in Germany, September 23, 1834, and died at her home on south Main street, Sunday morning, June 8, 1913, aged 78 years, 10 months and 15 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman were residents of Sharon for many years but about 12 years ago they moved to Chelsea where they have since made their home. She was united in marriage with Mr. J. M. Lehman about 54 years ago. She is survived by her husband, one daughter and three sons.

The remains were taken to her former home in Sharon Sunday evening and the funeral was held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning from Zion church Rogers Corners, Rev. E.
Thieme officiating. Interment Zion cemetery.

Flag Day.

Governor Ferris has designated Saturday, June 14, as flag day and in his official proclamation says:

"We believe that the American flag is the most beautiful and the most significant of all the flags of all nations of the earth. June 14, 1913, is the 136th birthday of our flag. The story of the stars and stripes is the story of a great and mighty people.
It symbolizes 'life, liberty and the pursuit of human happiness' the fundamental elements of a great brotherhood. Let the people of Michigan on Saturday, June 14, display this sacred emblem on all state, municipal and school buildings; let American citizens conduct such exercises as will encourage our youth to love and reverence the flag and what it symbolizes."

Schenk-McDevitt Wedding.

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W.
Schenk on west Middle street at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 10, 1913, when their only daughter Miss Elma was united in marriage with Mr. Justin McDevitt, of Chattanooga, Tenn., Rev. Dunning Idle, of Wyandotte officiating. A wedding dinner was served at the close of the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Miss Beryl McNamara of this place and Mr. Chas. Webb of Indiana. After a short wedding trip the couple will leave for Chattanooga where they will make their home.

Mrs. John Cadwell of Detroit was the only out of town guest present.

Frost Did Considerable Damage.

The frosts of Sunday and Monday nights did considerable damage to the growing crops in this vicinity. In most of the gardens, unless covered over, nearly all of the tomatoes, beans, cucumbers and other tender plants were either killed or badly damaged. Some fields of potatoes were cut down, but men who have had similar experience in years past claim that the potatoes will make a fresh start, but the crop will be late.
Corn seems to have been the least damaged. Fruit growers report that berries and small fruits will probably be a very short crop. The hardy fruits seems to have escaped with slight damage.

Primary Fund Much Smaller.

At the present time it appears the apportionment of primary school money which takes place July 15, will be less than $7 per capita. Auditor General Fuller says that there are 774,169 children of school age in Michigan eligible to participate in the apportionment, but the fund lacks $102, 121 of having enough to make the apportionment $7 per capita. Last year the apportionment was $7.45 for each child.

Under the amendment passed at the session of 1911, districts are prohibited from sharing in the apportionment where they already have enough to pay the salaries of teachers.

Mrs. Cynthia Elizabeth Glover.

Miss Cynthia Elizabeth States was born at Norwich, Connecticut, February 5, 1828, and died at her home on McKinley street, Tuesday morning, June 10, 1913.

At the age of 12 years her parents became residents of Waterloo and her life has been spent in this vicinity. She was a member of the Adventist church society. January 11, 1849, she was united in marriage with Lorin L. Glover, who died March 27, 1901. The couple located on the farm at present occupied by R. M.
Hoppe and about 58 years ago they moved to the farm known as the Glover homestead. Mrs. Glover became a resident of Chelsea about 12 years ago.

Mrs. Glover was the mother of eight children, two sons who are deceased, and four surviving daughters, Mrs. Mary Boyd and Miss Lula Glover, of Chelsea, Mrs. J. C. Neufang, of Reading, Mrs. C. E. Paul, of Fair Lake, and thirteen grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The funeral was held from her late home at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. W. Campbell officiating. The interment was at Maple Grove cemetery Sylvan Center.

George Rowe.

George Rowe was born in Lincolnshire, England, November 25, 1830, and died at the home of his son, C.
A. Rowe, of Lyndon, Wednesday morning, June 11, 1913.

Mr. Rowe came to this country when 13 years of age settling in Lyndon where he has spent his life. He was a well known and highly respected citizen. In 1855 he was united in marriage with Miss Adaline Finch of Waterloo, who died December 5, 1876.
To this union nine children were born eight of whom are living. He was a member of the United Brethren church of Waterloo.

He is survived by six sons, C. A.
and Ernest, of Lyndon, Dr. G. A., Loater and Emory, of Stockbridge, and Dillon, of Grass Lake, and two daughters, Mrs. I. J. Pickell and Mrs. William Bott, of Lyndon.

The funeral will be held from the late home at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Bordner officiating. Interment at Mt. Hope cemetery, Waterloo village.

Rural Graduation Exercises.

The rural school eighth grade graduation exercises were held in the Chelsea high school building last Friday forenoon. There were twenty-three graduates from eight school districts, and an excellent program was rendered. Hon. John Kalmbach delivered the address and County Commissioner Essery conducted the exercises which were attended by a number of the parents of the graduates. In the afternoon a ball game was played by the eighth grade of the Chelsea public schools and the rural graduates. The score was 24 to 18 in favor of the rural school boys.

Observed Children's Day.

Last Sunday was observed as Children's Day at the Congregational church with fitting and interesting exercises by the children. Prizes were awarded for attendance every Sunday in the year. The following were the scholars to receive the honor: Harold Storms; Edward Dole; William Dole; Ruth Smith; Blanche
Smith; Edna Smith.
Three children were given certificates of graduation from the cradle roll department to the primary as follows: Mae Hamp; Virginia McLaren; Deane Lawrence Rogers.

Princess Theatre.

To-night "The Strength of Men" a two reel Vitaphone story of the north woods, will be the feature picture.
Two men love the same girl, they quarrel, one discovers gold, the other jumps his claim and a race to the recorder's office begins. The men are overtaken by a raging forest fire and then it is a fight for life. Just how the picture works itself out is highly interesting. The picture was photographed in Alaska.

LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

PALMER PLEADS FOR GREATER
PUBLICITY OF FIRE INSURANCE AFFAIRS.

ANNUAL LOSS TO THE STATE IS APPALLING.

It Is Thought Likely That the State Will Be Compelled to Build New Buildings For New Departments.

[By Gerd M. Hayes.]

In his annual report covering the business of fire, inland navigation and marine insurance companies, filed with Gov. Ferris, Insurance Commissioner C. A. Palmer makes a plea for greater publicity in connection with the fire insurance business. "All efforts on the part of the insurance fraternity along the lines of the education of the public, should receive the hearty approval of the state," says Commissioner Palmer.

"The average insurer depends too much upon the word of the individual agent for his insurance, and after the insurance policy is issued, he feels too secure as to his property. Simply because a man has a fire insurance policy he should not relax his vigilance in the matter of fire prevention, because every step he takes to prevent a fire, aids in the reduction of the cost of insurance. During 1912 fire absolutely destroyed $5,111,988 worth of property in Michigan, which was partially covered by insurance.

"People will object seriously if there is an increase in the tax rate, but they submit without objection if there is an increase in levying of an annual toll, not only in this state, but in all the states of the union, which is appalling in its intensity, particularly because nine-tenths of this toll could be done away with, if a person would only give the same care and attention to reducing the fire hazard that he gives to reducing the tax rate.

"Attention has frequently been called to the necessity of a thorough and frequent inspection of risks by insurance agents as a large number of incendiary fires in this state and other states are due to over insurance induced by fire insurance agents. Too drastic a position cannot be taken against this evil. While property may be over insured in the beginning without any thought of crime, if circumstances develop which are financially embarrassing to the person whose property is over insured, a temptation is placed in that person's way, which, in a vast majority of cases, is too strong to be resisted. If an agent who recommended additional insurance, were compelled in case of loss to contribute to the company the amount of over insurance upon a risk placed by him, in all probability he would be more careful about recommending additional insurance, where the applicant was asking for all the insurance that the property would stand.

"Automobile insurance is, at the present time in its infancy, but because of the great expansion of the automobile business, it is clearly apparent that some provision should be made for the formation of an insurance company that can insure the owners of automobiles against all damages arising from any cause, regardless of whether it is property damage or liability damage. The point for serious consideration in this connection is the determination of proper reserves that a company transacting this class of business should carry. The reserves for losses due to fire, theft or collision, can be determined with approximate certainty, but the question of reserves for liability losses is as yet an unknown quantity. Hence in prescribing by law which shall constitute the reserves of a company of this character, sufficient latitude should be given to departments to insure at least probable stability. With this point in view, a bill was passed during the last session of the legislature, which will become a law August 15, authorizing the formation of automobile insurance companies. The Michigan law has been adopted as the standard bill by the committee on laws and legislation of the national convention of insurance commissioners.

"On January 1, 1912 there were 22 fire and marine insurance companies authorized to transact this class of business in Michigan, of which 13 companies failed to request a renewal of their certificate of authority or withdrew during the year. Nearly all the companies withdrawing did so because of a reinsurance or consolidation with some other company. Thirteen companies were admitted to transact business, of which three were mutuals. Nine fire and marine companies have been admitted so far this year.

"During 1911, there was a considerable increase in the fire losses incurred to premiums received. This percentage was reduced from .61 in 1911 to .53 in 1912. During 1911 the cost of insurance for $100 was only 98 cents. In 1912 it was raised to $1.08 per $100. At the close of business, 1912, there were four stock fire insurance companies organized and operating in this state, and one mutual operating on a stock basis. The total admitted as sets of these companies amounted to $6,184,766.56. There were 97 farmers mutuals operating in the state with admitted assets of $636,572.56. Nearly all of these farmers mutual companies operate on the post assessment plan, and do not attempt to accumulate any reserve or surplus."

Among the important insurance bills passed during the last session of the legislature Commissioner Palmer enumerates the following: providing for the licensing of fire insurance adjusters; fixing the limit or risk that any one company might assume; two laws permitting mutual fire companies to insure personal property while absent from the owners premises; prohibiting persons from falsely representing themselves as public adjusters; prohibiting the collecting of "policy fees" on fire insurance policies; permitting mutual companies to operate in Michigan under the same conditions as stock companies; providing for fire insurance on state property; permitting the organization and operation of reciprocal or inter insurers exchanges; prohibiting misrepresentation, twisting or embezzlement; permitting the organization of companies to transact a general automobile insurance business; requiring farmers mutual life insurance companies to procure licenses for their agents.

Rep. Louis Neller, of Lansing, presented a bill to the last legislature calling for an appropriation of $750,000 to build an addition to the capitol building which died an untimely death. There were many reasons why Neller's measure, which had the endorsement of bar associations of Michigan, did not survive. In the first place the legislators did not think it the proper time to saddle this additional debt onto the state when the appropriations for the various state institutions were mounting into the millions. Then, too, many of the lawmakers believed that it would be more practical to erect a new structure on one of the state lots located a few blocks from the capitol. Some of them feared that the proposed addition would spoil the symmetry of the present building and numerous other excuses were offered for not taking action.

It is claimed, however, that at the next regular session of the legislature the various state officials will get behind a proposition to build a new structure on one of the vacant lots owned by the state, as they point to the fact that there is no place in the capitol to accommodate some of the new boards and commissions created during the past session. At the present time the board of state auditors faces a difficult proposition to find a place to store fifteen or twenty thousand school books which must be inspected by the superintendent of public instruction before August 15. There is not an inch of available space in the capitol and it will be necessary for the board of auditors to award the superintendent of public instruction a room in the old state block on Washington avenue adjoining the state military headquarters.

If the legislature ever appropriates funds for an addition to the capitol, a new state building, it will mean a saving of several thousand dollars in rentals. At the present time the state tax commission, industrial accident board, state railroad commission, gamewarden's department and the office of several supreme court justices are located in quarters owned by private individuals.

In the old state block are located the offices of the state bacteriologist, state geological survey, state highway department, dairy and food commission, state labor commission and military department. It is pointed out that if all of the departments located outside the capitol building it would mean a great saving and would be much more convenient. Visitors to official business are amazed when they find that the state departments are scattered all over the city. If a new building is erected on one of the state lots, it is probable that the supreme court, library, attorney general's office and state railroad commission would be located there. By this change the other departments now located outside the state house could be accommodated under the big dome.

Secretary of State, Frederick C. Martindale, has compiled a statement showing the number of deaths for the past ten years from cancer. The total number of deaths for the year 1903 to 1912 in the state from cancer is 18,188, and the total in the state for each year is as follows:

1903	1,661
1904	1,658
1905	1,655
1906	1,661
1907	1,661
1908	1,833
1909	1,833
1910	2,000
1911	2,002
1912	2,151

Commencement exercises were held in Akeley hall Grand Haven and 11 young women were given their diplomas by Rt. Rev. John N. McCormick bishop of the Grand Rapids diocese of the Episcopal church.

A petition is being circulated and will be presented to the common council of Grand Haven, asking that the $20,000 bridge bonding proposition be resubmitted to the voters, before any appropriation is made for temporary repairs on the Spring Lake bridge which is in a dangerous condition.

WILL CONDUCT A HEALTH CAMPAIGN

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH WILL EQUIP TRAIN FOR PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION.

MODERN APPLIANCES WILL BE DEMONSTRATED.

Pictures, Charts and Models to Be Used to Instruct People of State in Principles of Disease Prevention.

The railroad special car is a common feature of a political campaign, and to conduct a health campaign from the rear end of a passenger train is unique, but the Michigan state board of health, under the management of its executive officer, Dr. R. L. Dixon, has planned an even more extensive railroad train campaign.

The train will consist of the engine, at least three exhibit coaches and a Pullman car. The exhibit coaches will be equipped with numerous pictures, charts and models, teaching not only the importance of good health, but the principles of disease prevention.

Among the special features will be the model tuberculosis shack, showing how best to construct living quarters for a tubercular person; models of sanitary water devices, including street fountains, indoor fountains and sanitary devices for use where water under pressure is not available, as in rural schools. Practicable substitutes for the common drinking cup and common towel will be displayed.

To Build New German Town.

The purchase of an entire township and the creation of a new Frankenthum in the upper peninsula near Soo Junction are the plans of 30 farmers and business men of Frankenthum, who left in a special car for the Soo and other points. It is believed that the younger generation should remain on the farm, but as land in Saginaw county is thickly settled and costly, it was decided to start another German settlement where the land is good but cheap. If satisfactory a large amount of land will be bought, a town with German industries built, and the community colonized by Germans. Frankenthum in Saginaw county is one of the biggest German settlements in Michigan.

Wm. Wood Is Acquitted.

After deliberating throughout the night, the jury acquitted President Wm. M. Wood, of the American Woolen Co., of the charge of conspiracy to injure the textile strikers at Lawrence by "planting" dynamite.

The jury disagreed in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux, tried as a conspirator with Wood. Dennis J. Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts and not guilty on the other four counts of the indictment. Atteaux is a well-to-do dye manufacturer and Collins a dog fancier.

Strike Editor Is Sentenced.

Alexander Scott, editor of the Weekly Issue, a paper that has been supporting the cause of the silk mill strikers, at Patterson, N. J., was sentenced to serve an indeterminate prison term of not less than a year nor more than 15 years and to pay a fine of $500 for "inciting hostility against the government." Scott announced that he would appeal and arrangements were made for his release on bail.

To show its appreciation of Capt. S. M. Fowler's drill team, which has won one national championship as Elks and several others as Knights of Pythias, Battle Creek will observe Thursday, June 25, as a holiday. Stores will close, factories shut down, and the whole town turn out for a ball game, in which the Elks will play some other local lodge.

R. C. Legee, head brakeman on Lake Shore freight No. 93, which leaves Hillsdale each noon for Elkhart, Ind., was found dead at Bristol. He had been killed during the night, but the train crew had not missed him on the short run to Elkhart. Conductor Loy did not learn of Legee's death until served with a subpoena in the morning at attend the inquest.

At a council meeting the board of trade of Grand Haven submitted an offer of the funds now in the treasury, amounting to $9,000, to the common council for use in making improvements. The matter will come before the voters at a special election June 26. It was decided to hold the election for seven charter commissioners to draft a new charter on the same date.

The board of commerce at Marshall has completed arrangements for the holding of a chauteauqua in this city the last week in August, which is also the week of the Calhoun county fair.

Martin Henry Schraich, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Schraich of Rich township, Tuscola county, met death in a peculiar accident. He went out to the barn to gather eggs, climbed up and stuck his head through a small hole in the loft floor. The platform he was standing on shifted slightly and he strangled to death before his mother arrived.

WILLIAM M. WOOD

President of the American Woolen Company has been acquitted of "planting" dynamite during strike at Lawrence, Mass., to influence public opinion against strikers.

STATE BRIEFS.

Earl Luhrs, 8 years old, was struck by an automobile driven by G. H. Stewart, of Schoolcraft, at Postumville the blow causing instant death.

Miss Olive Chapin, of the Jackson high school, won highest honors in the state declamatory contest at Traverse City. There were six contestants.

Fire destroyed the big planing mill and other property of the W. L. McManus Lumber company at Petoskey. The loss is estimated at $200,000 with no insurance.

The new curfew ordinance at Kalamazoo into effect. The parents of children under 16 years of age who allow them to remain on the streets after 9 o'clock may be prosecuted.

Camp Perry in August for Encampment.

It is proposed to designate the new maneuver grounds for the Michigan national guard the Hanson Military Reservation, in honor of R. Hanson, of Grayling, who gave the tract of 14,000 acres to the state.

The state military board at a meeting at Grayling formally accepted the reservation and adopted resolutions thanking Mr. Hanson in behalf of the state. Plans were completed for erecting needed buildings on the reservation as well as for clearing the land necessary for a camping ground.

The board asked Lieut. W. B. Wallace, Twentieth United States Infantry, to come to Michigan and coach the state rifle team, which will go to Camp Perry in August. Lieut. Wallace is a Michigan man and coached the team in 1912, and is highly regarded as an instructor in rifle practice.

From this number there will be taken those in the districts which will not share in the apportionment which, it is thought, will leave the number several hundred less.

The Vengeance of Durand.

The Vengeance of Durand or the Two Portraits specially written for the Vitagraph company by Rex Beach. The vengeance which he nurtured for another enters his own soul. The weapon which he sharpened with jealousy and hatred and placed in his daughter's hand, it turned against himself. He is cut down in the fury of his wrath.

The Motion Picture World in speaking of the above picture says: "This is a real feature. The author is Rex Beach. Quality shows all the way through the two reels. The picture is highly dramatic; there are many moments of deep suspense, and there are situations that stir the emotion. In the duel scene, when the artist drives a bullet into the body of the woman who has innocently caused the trouble, there are all the elements of tragedy."

Earle Williams, who portrayed the artist, falls the most of the work. He has risen to his fine opportunity and given us something unusual in pictured drama. So, also, has Edith Storey, Roger Lytton, who plays Durand, is strong throughout. Mrs. Wayne has the part of the mother. At the Princess Tuesday, June 17th.

Roy L. Champlain, of Detroit, who was a former Chelsea resident, died at Providence hospital in Detroit Friday morning, aged 37 years. He was injured Wednesday of last week in an automobile accident. During his residence here he was a cigar-maker. From here he moved to Jackson and about four years ago he went to Detroit where he was engaged in automobile trimming.

An Outdoor Birthday Party.

How children do love parties, birthday parties especially, and every child is entitled to one day out of the year for his or her very own, and of course this is the natal day. I wonder if mothers realize they are making history and how very short the time will be when these wee tots will be saying: "When I was little we did so and so." I am reminded of an elderly woman who always counts back to her sixth birthday and the sake which she chose for the occasion was "roll jelly." The young mother was not an expert cook but she had promised the child she would choose the kind of cake she wanted, and let me add, she made it, and it was glorious in the child's eyes and has gone down into the annals of a happy life with many a birthday cake and a party.

Remember, children are the most satisfactory of all guests, the very fact of dressing and going to a party and bringing home the spoils is bliss. Provide little baskets of dainty tissue paper bags in which to put the favors and candies, and even the cake, for some kiddies love to take samples home.

Now for the party. We will need a lawn, some trees and a big porch and then with these accessories there must be a big bowl of lemonade on hand under a Japanese umbrella, the stake or handle being driven into the ground. Children are always thirsty and this will prevent them from running into the house for a drink every five minutes. Hide animal crackers over the grounds and tell the guests there is a whole menagerie hidden under the bushes, in the grass and even in the benches of the trees; give each one a paper bag in which to put the game and give a little prize to the one who finds the most. A small flag may be hidden and that will make another hunt, the gay little "stars and stripes" being pinned on the lucky finder.

The "eats" will be the climax of the party and the cake should be lighted with due ceremony and the children allowed to blow out the candles. Cuddling favors are made by sticking animal crackers together with icing, and thus made they will stand upright at each plate. Delicious small cookies may be ornamented with daisies made from blanched almonds, the stem and leaves of angelica! fasten them on with frosting.

Snapping motto caps always give pleasure and sometimes the Christmas tree sparkles are obtainable at this season and they are lovely set to going outdoors and are not harmful.

Ice cream may be served in orange halves, thus making baskets with smilax for handles. Orange ice is very good served this way and is not so rich as ice cream. The party stationery that comes for parties is a joy to use for the invitations and the "Sunbonnet" baby cards are attractive also. The "five and ten" cent store will furnish any number of trifles for a fish pond if one cares for this, or for a grab bag, or better still, for a "fairy tree." Tie the parcels onto the low branches and let each child clip off one with a pair of scissors. Anything that makes for mystery is an adjunct to a child's party.

Candle Tricks.

Children and even grownups enjoy after-dinner tricks and I give these just as they came to me. They are all to be performed with candles. I have not had time to try them. Perhaps some of you will be kind enough to write me if they are any good. You could use them as an adjunct to a bazaar, performing them in a separate booth with curtains hung at the door to give an air of mystery, and charge a penny to get in. Of course, this is all to be done by young people, as it is within their possibilities.

Put a nail in the end of a candle and set it all in a glass filled with water. The nail will steady the candle, which will burn until nothing remains, always rising above the surface of the water by reason of the decrease in weight.

Take a small picture cut from a paper or book, and wrap it tightly around a candle. Light a match or another candle and hold the flame near until the paper becomes transparent. Unwrap the paper, and every one will be astonished to find the picture printed on the candle.

Put a candle unlighted in a basin of water. Let several try to take it out with their mouths, not touching the candle with their hands. Every one will fail. Then you put your face in the water, and, when your mouth is near the end of the candle, draw in a deep breath, and the suction of the water will draw the candle into your mouth.

Allow some drops from a lighted candle to fall into a basin of cold water. This grease will form flowers. String these on a wire with green leaves made from paper, and an interesting plant will be the result.

Heat a piece of wire and stick it crosswise through the middle of a candle. Make a wick at both ends. Balance the candle on two tumblers. Light the wicks, and the dropping of the candle grease will make the candle see-saw, faster and faster as the flame grows hotter. This is a pretty experiment.

Pastimes For Outdoor Parties.

Did you every try "Blowing the Cone?" The youngsters will love it. Make a large cone of stiff paper and slip it on a string stretched between two trees about three feet from the ground.

Give each child a try to see if by blowing into the large end of the cone they can send it across the string. The art is to see who can send it over with the fewest "blows."

Another very good amusement is to tie a knot in a clothes line and stretch it conveniently high between two trees or posts, blindfold each child in turn and give him three clothes pins. Then see who can come the nearest the knot. Each pin is marked with the player's number; for instance, three will be marked "1," three "2," etc. This gives each one three trials. If the party is a large one it will be best to let each child have just one pin and instead of numbering the clothespins could have colored ribbons tied to them, each child to remember his or her color.

COOL DISHES FOR HOT DAYS.

Heavy puddings should be given up entirely during the summer. Fresh fruit is an ideal dessert, with an occasional custard and old-fashioned rice pudding, a sponge cake with whipped cream and gelatine desserts, which gives one quite a variety.

Potted beef is a meat which one may prepare and always have on hand in warm weather.

Potted Beef.—Purchase two pounds of round steak, let it simmer where it will simply keep hot without boiling in a very little water. After cooking about three hours with the following seasonings, chop and then pound to a paste: Two tablespoons of water, four of butter, a quarter of a teaspoonful each of pepper and cinnamon, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce and an onion chopped fine. After pounding to a paste pack in jars and cover with melted suet.

Jellied Fish.—Remove all the skin and bones from a two-pound fish, chop fine and stir in a little at a time a quarter of a cup of cold water; add a teaspoonful of salt, the juice of three lemons, a tablespoonful of grated onion, twenty-four blanched almonds and a few dashes of cayenne. When all are well mixed, pack into a mold and steam for an hour. Set aside on the ice, and when cold turn out and garnish with parsley and lemon quarters. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Chicken Cutlets.—Chop fine enough of the breast of cooked chicken to make half a cupful, add half a cup of chopped blanched almonds; pound and force through a sieve. Heat a cup of rich chicken stock to the boiling point and pour it over the yolks of three eggs which have been slightly beaten. Stir, to keep the mixture smooth. Add a teaspoonful of gelatine which has been softened in a tablespoonful of cold water, strain and set in a pan of ice water.

As soon as the mixture begins to thicken, stir in the chicken and nut mixture and season highly with salt and cayenne. Then fold in a cup of heavy cream beaten stiff. Put into cutlet molds and let stand until thoroughly chilled. Turn from the molds and garnish with lettuce and bits of pimiento.

I WILL strive to raise my own body and soul daily into higher powers of duty and happiness; not in rivalry or contention with others, but for help, delight, honor of others, and for the joy and peace of my own life.

—John Ruskin.

SOME HINTS FOR SUMMER MEALS.

During the hot weather, food spoils so quickly that it is wise to purchase just enough to last over the twenty-four hours. Fruits of all kinds, green vegetables and little meat should constitute the bulk of one's diet.

Fruits needs mastication, even the very ripe and tender varieties. Those who are distressed after eating fruit are usually those who are careless about mastication.

Summer breakfasts are usually a problem to the housemother, especially if her family has a diversity of tastes. There is nothing more refreshing and satisfying than fresh fruit in its season, and nature has supplied us so abundantly that even the fussiest person may have the kind he likes.

Fried fruit seems out of place, as does oatmeal, except at rare intervals. There are always cool days when hearty foods are relished, so that variety is thus given.

Housewives who are careful of their linen have small colored napkins for the fruit course, which saves the white napkins from many stains.

Omelets are always acceptable as a breakfast dish, especially in warm weather, and they may be varied by different sauces or seasonings. A delicious sweet omelet which may be served as a dessert is prepared as follows: Have the omelet pan hot and well-buttered, then add a handful of blanched almonds just before putting in the omelet; when it is cooked, ready to fold, the almonds will be well browned. Be careful not to scorch them. Serve this with a hot maple syrup for a sauce.

Effective.

"What is this hair removing paste that is mentioned in all the beauty ads?"

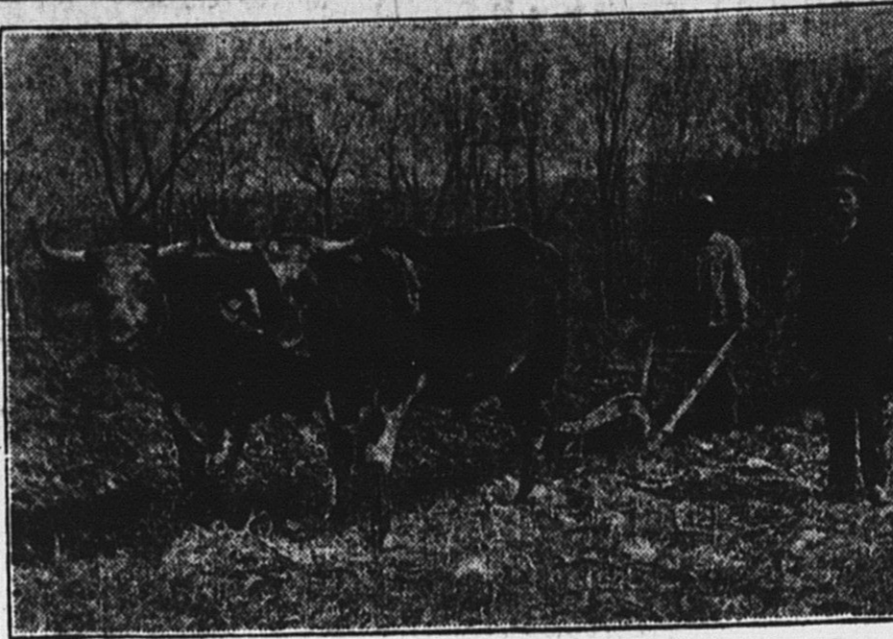

"Search me."

"Do you suppose it is effective?"

"It may be. I got a hair-removing paste once that was. I dove in shallow water and got such a paste that I have been bald ever since."

When buying napkins on the bargain counter, see that they are square or you will regret your bargain when they come to be laundered.

EQUIPMENT FOR MANY TYPES OF FARMING

Good Old-Fashioned Way Plowing With Oxen.

By W. J. SPILLMAN, Chief of Farm Management, United States Department of Agriculture.

It is the intention in this article to discuss the cost of the equipment for the various types of farming. The reader will of course understand that these estimates must be taken merely as estimates. For instance, in the types considered here, the land has, in all cases, been considered as worth $50 per acre without buildings, fences, etc. The price of and varies enormously in different localities. In using these figures, therefore, the prospective farmer must substitute in them the proper price of land. The farm will nearly always have a dwelling upon it, and it will usually have fences, and frequently a barn that will answer the purposes. These items are usually included under the head of real estate. It will therefore be necessary, in every individual case, to substitute for the real estate items in these figures the actual values obtained by inquiry.

The remainder of the items can be depended upon with a fair degree of certainty, as they do not vary so much in different sections. The following is the estimated real estate cost of a sixty-acre dairy farm:

Land, 60 acres at $50.....$3,000
Dwelling.....750
Barn (for 16 head at $70).....1,140
Fences, $5 per acre.....300

Total.....$5,190

Usually one can buy land with the above equipment on it by paying cash from one-fourth to one-third of its value and giving a mortgage for the remainder. Hence the necessary capital for a beginner, in order that he may start in and have his farm in full operation within one year, would then be about as follows:

One-third of the value of the real estate.....$1,730
12 cows at $50.....600
1 bull.....75
3 horses at $150.....450
Harness.....40
Wagon (farm).....70
Wagon (spring).....85
Dairy utensils.....200
Implements and machinery, $5 per acre.....300
Minor items of equipment.....125
2 pigs.....6
12 hens.....50
1 hen house.....50
Working surplus.....250

Total.....$3,987

The amount of capital thus seen to be necessary in order to start off a dairy farm properly, under the conditions here assumed, is about $4,000 ($3,987); or, if the farmer desires to pay cash, which is always safer, the total capital required is $7,447.

In starting such a farm it is highly important not to buy the cows until one has feed on hand for them. By starting early in the spring the farmer can usually be ready for the cows by September or October.

It is, of course, possible to start in with less equipment than above given, but every item omitted at the beginning simply increases the hardships which the farmer must undergo in getting started.

In the above estimates the real estate is about 70 per cent. of the total capital; the machinery is about 10 per cent.; live stock 15 per cent., and miscellaneous, including minor items of equipment and working surplus, 5 per cent. In four townships of the state of New Hampshire, where Mr. E. H. Thompson of the office of farm management made a careful study of every farm in each of the townships, the distribution of the capital between these items was as follows:

Township	No. of farms	Real estate, Pct.	Machinery, Pct.	Live stock, Pct.	Miscellaneous, Pct.
Amherst	80	60	10	15	15
Hollis	85	65	10	15	10
Lyndeboro	75	70	10	15	5
Milford	65	65	10	15	10

It will be seen that these figures agree fairly well with those figures, actually taken from the farm, the principal difference being that the percentage in real estate is larger on the New Hampshire farms than in the estimates above, while the percentage in machinery and miscellaneous is smaller. A slight difference in the price paid for real estate would make these figures agree very closely.

Equipment for a 40-Acre Hay Farm.
40 acres of land at $50.....$2,000
Dwelling.....750
Barn.....500
Fences.....150

Real estate.....$3,400
One-third of real estate.....$1,133
2 horses.....300
1 mow.....50
1 rake.....20
1 two-horse plow.....8
1 two-horse harrow.....15
1 wheelbarrow seeder.....3
1 wagon.....28
1 set harness.....20
1 baler.....300
1 cow.....50
2 pigs.....6
12 hens.....50
1 hen house.....50
Minor items of equipment.....125
Surplus.....250

Total, one-third of real estate down.....$2,419

Total, all of real estate down.....$4,686

It will be seen from the above that 40 acres devoted almost exclusively to hay can be equipped for considerably less money than a 60-acre dairy farm. The income from the 40-acre hay farm, in those states where hay will sell for as much as $15 a ton on the farm, will also be larger than it will be on the 60-acre dairy farm. But in regions where hay sells for only $8 or $9 a ton an exclusive hay farm is not advisable. I would put $12 to the ton as about the dividing line between hay farming and other types. Of course it will be necessary, in conducting an exclusive hay farm, to use commercial fertilizers liberally.

Careful experiments show that where silage is made from large immature corn it frequently has but little more dry feeding matter than is secured from about half the bulk of corn perfectly developed.

So, mere tonnage does not count in silage. It is better to labor with less in the harvesting and secure more in the feeding.

My practice is to plant a corn that in height of stalk and extent of foliage will produce me a maximum quantity of fodder that will remain green long, and each stalk produce one or more well developed, good sized ears.

It is a waste of time, labor and land to plant corn for ensilage only as thickly as when planting for a curing crop. One may have twice as many stalks as in ordinary corn planting, if on good land, and make perfect silage.

The extreme of too thin planting is nearly as ill advised as the other of too thick. I want from 15 to 20 tons per acre on my land under my farming.

I strive especially for a corn with extension blade system, as in the blades I get protein.

Cause of Wilt. If you observe a strawberry plant suddenly wilt, you will generally find a nice fat grub at the end of the roots when you dig it up.

Good Breeding Fowls. Size, vigor and activity of both cockerels and pullets are the essentials to good breeding fowls.

Bixby, chief of engineers, took in a conference with Representative William G. Sharp, of Ohio, ranking member of the house committee on foreign affairs. The chief of engineers also expressed his opinion that the expiration of the Burton act left the power concerns at the Falls without any guarantee or license by which they could continue to use the water at the falls.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is by no means a smooth one. It is a journey into a new world, a world of joy and sorrow, of triumph and defeat. It is a journey that every woman must undertake, and it is a journey that every woman must undertake with a clear mind and a steady heart. It is a journey that every woman must undertake with a clear mind and a steady heart.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Just a Bit Mixed. London is laughing over a story which has recently come out concerning Lloyd George. It appears that shortly after the death of King Edward an Englishman traveling in Wales got into talk with an elderly Welshman and happened to be the first to tell him of the king's demise.

"And who might be king now?" asked the Welshman.

"Why, George is king now." "George?" he exclaimed in surprise. "Well, how he has got on, to be sure—and me to remember him as a little lawyer in Crickethill!"

RASH ON FACE FOR 2 YEARS

Sioux Falls, S. D.—"My trouble of skin disease started merely as a rash on my face and neck, but it grew and kept getting worse until large scales would form, fester and break. This was just on the one side of my face, but it soon scattered to the other side. I suffered a great deal, especially at night, on account of its itching and burning. I would scratch it and of course that irritated it very much. This rash was on my face for about two years, sometimes breaking out into sores and forming larger sores. It kept me from sleeping day or night for a couple of months. My face looked disfigured and I was almost ashamed to be seen by my friends. "A friend asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I would bathe my face with hot water and a lot of Cuticura Soap, then I would put on the Cuticura Ointment. In less than two days' time, the soreness and inflammation had almost entirely disappeared, and in four weeks' time you could not see any of the rash. Now my face is without a spot of any kind. I also use them for my scalp and hair. They cured me completely." (Signed) Miss Pansy Hutchins, Feb. 6, 1912. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 32-p. THOSE RHEUMATIC TWINGES

Much of the rheumatic pain that comes in damp, changing weather is the work of uric acid crystals. Needles couldn't cut, tear or hurt any worse when the affected muscle joint is used. If such attacks are marked with headache, backache, dizziness and disturbances of the urine, it's time to help the weakened kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly help sick kidneys.

A Michigan Case. Josiah Moore, 225 E. Catherine St., Bay City, Mich., says: "My back got so bad I could not move. I tried many remedies but failed to get any relief. I was growing thin and weak. I saw that I was right on the spot, three bottles of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me completely. I have had no more attacks since."
