Will Visit Gettyburg. Chelsea will be represented at the coming reunion of the Federal and Confederate soldiers who took part in the battle of Gettyburg during the Civil War by five veterans: Capt. Edward L. Negus, D. H. Fuller, sr., was a participant in the battle, but he has decided to remain at his home here. The party expects to start for the scene of their former battle field on Saturday, June 28.

Boettger-Geddes Wedding.

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Beutler of north Main street, last Saturday evening, June 14, 1913, when Miss Alwina Boettger and Mr. Warren Geddes of this place were united in marriage, Rev. C J. Dole officiating.

The couple were unattended and the ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the young couple left on the evening train for an eastern trip. They will upon their return occupy the residence of James Geddes, sr., on the tarm of John Geddes.

Held Memorial Services.

The members of Chelsea lodge, K. of P., held their annual memorial services in their Castle last Sunday afternoon. The address was delivered by Grand Chancelor Nichols, of Lansing, and it was a fine tribute to the memory of the departed members of the order. Rev. C. J. Dole opened the with a benediction. Vocal solos were rendered by the Misses Florence Hesgathering with prayer and closed it rendered by the Misses Florence Heselschwerdt and Winifred Bacon. At the close of the exercises the members of the order repaired to Oak Grove cemetery where the graves of the deceased members were deco-

Saunders-Keenan Wedding.

A six o'clock wedding took place in the parlors of the Methodist Old People's home on Wednesday evening, June 18, 1913. The contracting parties were Miss Hattie B. Saunders, of Chelsea, and Mr. George L. Keenan, officiating, and only the immediate relatives of the couple were present. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Hudson, of Lansing, and the groom by his brother, Austin Keenan, of Detroit, and Marjorie Mapes acting as flower girl and ring bearer.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Saunders, who have the supervision of the Old People's Home, and she has been the guest of houor at a number of social functions during the last three weeks. The groom is well known here as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Keenan, were residents of this place for several years, moving from here to their present home in Port Huron a few years ago, and he is a graduate of our high school, At present he is in the employ of the government at Washington, D. C., where the couple will make their home. A wedding supper was served to a number of guests.

Lost Barn by Fire.

About 10 o'clock Tuesday night of last week, John Herman, of Sharon, who came there from Ohio in 1909 and bought the old Oliver High farm of the Lyman Hulbert estate, was awakened to find his horse barn on fire. The family were awakened and neighbors called but the spread of the flames was so rapid that but little could be done to stay its progress. One horse and most of the farming implements were saved but five horses perished in their stalls. They do not know how the fire started. Mr. Herman sat on the porch after the night train went north and saw no light in the direction of the barns. The hay and stock barn burned was 30x70, between $2,500 and $3,000, insured in the German Washtenaw for $1,600.

Seating a Menace.

Hundreds of school children in Michigan are in discomfort throughout the school day and in many cases of Ann Arbor, and the program was their health is impaired because under the direction of Miss Leona school boards have failed to provide jority of younger children in the rural schools are forced to sit all day with their legs swinging in the air because only a few schools have sufficient number of small-sized seats and desks. In many cases the children are compelled to distort their bodies when they write because the desks are too high or too far away. It is not unusual to find children in cities and towns who are uncomfortable because their seats and desks do not fit them. These conditions diminish efficiency even if they do not produce serious results as to the health of the children.

Held up and Robbed by Bandits.

Held up and robbed by two armed men who had hired his car earlier in the evening, Edward Easterele, of Detroit, a taxi driver, was chloroformed and left unconscious on the interurban tracks near Ford City late Saturday night. He escaped death only by a few minutes, as he was discovered and rescued just before the limited interurban swept past the spot where

Train to Back Up to "Give Them Another Round."

The senate committee investigating the coal mine strikes in West Virginia spent an entire day in hearing evidence of a battle fought at the village of Holly Grove where a strikers' camp was located. The committee sat back astounded at the testimony of Lee Calvin, a mine guard, who was one of the men on an armored train which fired

According to Calvin's story which was corroborated by other witnesses, guns was turned on the camp and continued to sweep it until the train passed. The firing from the train is alleged to have taken place before any shots were fired from the tents. In an opinion rendered Attorney General Fellows holds that it would not be a violation of the Warner-Cramton liquor law for the city council of Hancock to permit the location of a saloon within 500 feet of the Finnish College and Theological Seminary.

. The question was raised that the Finnish college is a privately maintained institution and therefore could not be classed as a public school.

In response to a query from Prose cuting Attorney A. L. Sayles, of Newberry, the state's legal department has rendered an opinion to the effect that physicians conducting drug stores in local option counties can sell liquor only upon prescription.

Since the question has been raised it has been pointed out that it would be an easy proposition for an unscrupulous physician to establish a drug store in a local option territory, do an enormous prescription business and escape prosecution. He could write a prescription for a pint of whiskey, or a quart bottle, whichever the case might be, and then if he owned the drug store and was a registered pharmacist could go behind the counter, fill the order and pocket the money. Such a case, has yet to be reported, however.

The story is all about a house-party on a Western ranch - they are a jolly group of young people. Trouble arises from the fact that the hero has led his friends to believe he is an athlete, when, as a matter of fact, he never did anything more athletic than lead the cheering for the others. His predicament and that of a fat man who is with him as his "trainer" form a humorous background for a dashing love romance.

At first, when I was little, it was for fun he called me Jes when I had my boy-clothes on, an' played there were two of us. But when we found that all the countryside, all the factory hands, every one except my nurse believed Jes and Jessica twins, we let it go on. It made it easier for him in trainin' me to be his partner. For he said I was faced an' worked with him all day; in the Comet factory, you almost kined been blessed that the at dinner one the evening leading the comet factory, you almost kined been blessed that the at dinner one the evening leading the comet factory, you almost kined been blessed that the at dinner one the evening leading the comet factory, you almost kined been blessed that the wife, at dinner one the evenin' Jessica wore frocks and your girl. "How should I know? You never came near me. The Floyd I knew. would have come," the bitterness of those desolate nights and days choked to Buffalo to open the Comet automospeech.

There was a pause, filled with some strange significance beyond his fathoming.

"I couldn't come," she deprecated, her low voice broker. "You're makin' this hard. When I was picked up stunned, an' taken to the hospital, aftnewspapers printed stories about Stanton's mechanician-they said, they said you knew I was a woman when we went West-"

The movement that brought Stanton to his feet was galvanic. He understood, finally, in one blinding flash of full comprehension; understood the doctor, the nurse, his fellow-drivers' embarrassed reticence, and Miss Carlisle. Understood, teo, that here had been a suffering acute as his own. And in the man's hot outrush of protection Jes and Jessica were fused into one. "They'll talk to me," he grimly as-

A June Birthday Party. A little girl whom the gods had favored by permitting her to make her entrance into this mortal sphere on a sunny day in June always had her birthday celebration on the lawn. Each year this affair, which was always a costume or character party, was looked forward to not only by the participants in the party pageant, but by the grown-ups who were to view the scene. The invitations requested the guests to come costumed as the flower designated. These notes were written in gold ink on pale pink paper, tied to a pink rosebud and delivered from a rose trimmed basket.

The girls came as "roses" in all their varieties. Then there were lily of the valley, violet, lily, daisy, pansy, black-eyed Susan, etc. The boys were sunflowers, bachelor's butt. s, tulips, red carnations, and chrysanthemums. A Jolly Bird Party. This little bird guessing contest delighted the hearts of a party of school children. The oldest was fifteen and the youngest ten. The latter was awarded the boy's prize, which was a match scratcher, made by mounting a bird from Mexico done in real feathers. The invitations were decorated with sepla drawings of birds done by the young hostess. The questions and answers were:

The dining room had five or six cages of canaries suspended from branches of trees, and there was a full in guessing. The places were found at the table by bird-shaped cards done in water color. With the eggs at each place.

Star Decoration. A table decoration that elicited much favorable comment from the guests was a five-pointed star, made Glycerin in the proportion of tin, and filled with flowers. The place cards were star-shaped and bore appropriate quotations, such as: Look; how the floor of heaven Is thick inlaid with patines of bright

MORE CHEESE DISHES.

As most people have grated cheese in the house, a cheese soup is one to depend on in time of emergency.

Cream of Cheese Soup .- Scald a quart of milk with two tablespoonfuls each of chopped onion and carrot and a blade of mace. Melt a fourth of a cup of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended; pour on gradually while stirring constantly the hot milk. Bring to the boiling point and strain, reheat and add a half cup of grated cheese; stir until melted, season well and pour over the well beaten yolks of two

Cheese Sandwiches.-Mix grated cheese with cream, paprika and salt, and spread on thin slices of bread cut in rounds; put together as sandwiches. Saute in a little butter, turning until both sides are brown. Serve with a salad course.

Cheese Omelet.-Beat four eggs slightly, add a fourth of a teaspoon of salt and a dash of cayenne. Melt one and a fourth tablespoonfuls of butter in an omelet pan, pour in the mixture and cook without stirring until firm. Loosen from the pan, roll and sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Those who have never prepared milk toast, making a rich white sauce, dipping the edge of the bread and spreading with butter before pouring on the sauce and then sprinkling a generous quantity of cheese over the toast, put in the oven to melt the cheese before serving, have something coming in the way of good eating.

When a cheese course is served, cheese croquettes are quite the thing. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add a fourth of a cup of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually, stirring constantly, two-thirds of a cup of milk. Bring to the boiling point and add the unbeaten yolks of two eggs; mix well and add a half cup of grated Gruyere cheese. As soon as the cheese is melted, take from the fire and fold in a cup of mild cheese cut in very small cubes. Season with salt and pepper, spread in a shallow pan and cool. When ready to shape into croquettes, turn on a board, shape, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat.

MEAT SUBSTITUTES.

Beans of different kinds are rich foods and may be made into most palatable dishes. Soak a pint of lima beans over night in cold water to cover. Drain and cook in boiling salted water until soft. Again drain and dry in a towel, then saute in butter him with a sword and dubs him "sir." until brown. Turn into a hot serving dish and pour over one and a half cups of tomato sauce: Cook a quart can of tomatoes with two slices of onion, eight pepper corns and a bit of bay leaf fifteen minutes, then rub through a puree strainer. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually until well blended, the tomato; bring to the boiling point, and if the tomatoes are very acid add a pinch of soda. Season to taste.

Eggs in all combination are good for a hearty dish, and when combined with rice or macaroni are well balanced food. Add five or six hard cooked eggs, with a flavoring of cheese, to two cupfuls of cold cooked macaroni; butter the baking dish and put the macaroni and egg in layers; add sufficient white sauce and seasoning, and cover with buttered crumbs and bake. A bit of onion juice improves the dish.

Macaroni and cheese is another favorite dish. Rice and cheese and fresh mushrooms are most delicious. People are beginning to put more study on mushrooms and learn a few varieties on which they may depend: In the using of mushrooms "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing," "so be sure you're right, then go ahead."

Creamed mushrooms in timbale cases or in the croustades, which are so pretty made of bread, are another good dish to depend on. Nuts of all kinds in salads and made in the form of a loaf with bread crumbs, egg and seasonings and baked, are most appe-

England's Oldest Bowling Green. Which is our oldest recreation? There are not wanting archeoligists who profess to be able to trace references to football and baseball on Egyptain moral tablets. Southampton, Eng., has records showing that one of the local bowling greens was in existence in 1299.

Many interesting customs are associated with the game on this historic green. Every summer a "fire jack" competition is held, and an order of knighthood is conferred on the winner, who kneels in the center of the green while the other players gather round him and the master touches

For the Ironing Board. Pad the ironing board with a thick quilt or old blanket, then lay the board on the table and cut a piece of heavy muslin so it will fit the board loosely. Seam it up, leaving the slip open at each end. Make two of these slips and change them frequently, says Mother's Magazine. Thus the ironing board is always clean, and the padding will not have to be changed for months.

Post Toasties

They are among the good things to eat, but not m the cook book, because they require no cooking.

Toasties are always crisp and appetizing-ready to eat direct from the package. You save heaps of time and avoid hot work in the kitchen.

Some rich cream-sugar if you want it-or cool fruit juice, with these fluffy bits of corn and you have a dish that is fascinating for any meal of the day.

Toasties are sold by grocers everywhere.

The mining college graduates are becoming our principal representatives in many of these countries. When we realize that at the present time both our export and import trade with South. America is exceeded by that of both England and Germany, we come to appreciate how much is yet to be done in the way of establishing friendly intercourse. And such an intercourse is essential not only from the viewpoint of those who think of the commercial great-ness of the United States, but from the viewpoint of those who think in terms of political and intellectual leadership.

Interesting Pointers on Gardening for the City Man or Suburbanite.

Advice by an Expert on Agricultural Matters-Strain Counts in Chickens-The Tree Surgeon-Small Fruit Pests.

By PROF. JOHN WILLARD BOLTE. What is the best breed of chickens? Easiest question in the world. Ask your friends and every one of them can answer right off hand, but each one will name a different breed or variety and when you ask their reasons for their choice, mighty few of said reasons would hold in court.

The fact of the matter is that there is no one "best breed" of chickens. There are four or five "best breeds," with from two to seven "best varieties" in each breed. If you don't believe it; glance through the files of any poultry journal and see the number of "best breeds" mentioned in their free reading notices

One man proves that the White Orpingtons are the "best breed," because he got Mme. Paderewski to admit she paid $5,000 for five of his chickens. Another man clinches the pennant for the White Plymouth Rocks by saying that a pen of 30 hens earned $3,500 for him last year, their eggs selling for $30 a setting. And so it goes. Asking a poultry man to name the best kind of chickens is like asking arr automobile man to name the best auto-

As far as the city or suburban poultry keeper is concerned, he can make his choice of chickens entirely upon sentimental grounds.

Remember that the breed determines the size and shape of the fowl. and the variety determines the color -choose the shape and color that you think is prettiest and you will have the best breed for you.

Now, however, comes the really important problem of the individual strain of blood within the variety. The difference between profit and loss, eggs and no eggs lies in the individual and not in the breed or variety. There is no marked difference in the production, growth and hardiness of five or six of the principal breeds, and there is the same similarity between their established varieties, but there is a tremendous difference between differvariety. A poultry man who under- both sides of the leaves. Do the dustthe same or any other variety, which the next heavy rain. is handled by an inexperienced or Inheritance of profitable qualities is of the greatest importance. For this worthless for breeding, because their offspring cannot possibly improve in size or productivity for any length of time and practically never hold their own. Never use anything but purebred chickens. Get a setting of eggs or a pair of young birds from the heaviest laying hen you can find in the variety you elect to keep, and build up your flock from the start. We have known two pullets of the White Wyandottes, one of which laid 17 eggs in a year and the other laid 243. You could not tell them apart by looks, either. Three of the good hen's daughters laid over 200 eggs each in a year. That's why strain counts more than breed.

The Tree Surgeon.

A new profession has recently come into being. We raier to the profession of operating on sick trees in order to save their life and beauty. This is a much more serious problem than it seems to be, offhand, and the various state and federal authorities are spending a great deal of time and money devising ways of preventing and curing tree ills.

Private citizens and public officials have long been awake to these probspread interest in the west is of more recent manifestation. This is largely due to the fact that practically all of our ornamental shade trees have first shown themselves upon the eastern coast. Nearly all have been imported from foreign countries on nursery

To avoid tearing down the bark, always make an under cut before cutting through a heavy branch from above. Small Fruit Pests.

Garden vegetables are remarkably free from diseases and insect pests. This is due to the fact that they are nearly all annuals and they are grown in small quaitities and on different locations every year or so.

Small bush fruits, on the other hand, are almost certain to be seriously damaged by a number of parasites unless they receive the necessary care to protect them. The conditions under which this class of back yard crops grows is favorable to the development of these pests.

The plants are long lived and frequently carry the larvae or the spores of their respective parasites over from season to season. As handled by most people, the diseased stems, leaves and fruits are left on the ground about the bushes; and parasites propagate in such rubbish with vigor.

Probably the most general and the most destructive pest encountered on the bush fruits is some form of foliage eating worm, like the larvae of the sawfly. There worms appear almost as soon as the leaves are out and they will soon strip the entire bush of its foliage unless they are promptly exterminated. It is fortunate that they can be killed very easily if properly treated, and the treatment will apply equally well with any leaf-eating

The saw-fly's eggs are laid on the under side of the leaves, especially those leaves located well down in the center of the plant. Watch your berry bushes closely and get busy as soon as you notice little holes in any of the lower leaves, as that means that the worms are there and are getting in their work of destruction. If taken in hand now, there will be little, trouble or expense involved, so act promptly. Get some powdered white hellebore and dust it on all of the foliage in the region where the worms have begun ent flocks or individuals of the same work. Scatter it thickly and get it on dinary flock of any standard variety dew is off the leaves. The powder will and he can beat any similar flock of then stick fast and will remain until If it should rain immediately, powder again. The whole bush should be treated if the worms have got a good start, and if you allow these worms to reason scrub or cross-bred fowls are strip the foliage the fruit will be small, shriveled and tasteless. Remember that the leaves are both the digestive and respiratory organs of the plant; and without them it can neither eat nor breathe.

If large numbers of ants appear on the bushes, investigate the under surface of the leaves for tiny green aphis, or plant lice. A good spraying with tobacco water will fix them.

Outsider With the Usual Result.

By CLIFTON HALLIDAY. Danbury saw that the man was lying in the middle of the road, in imthe whirling automobiles that followed each other in a never-ending stream. He shook him, but the man did not respond. Then, lifting him in his arms, the young American carried him to the side of the highway and laid Automobiles and carriages streamed past them, but no one stopped to notice the recumbent man. For this was at Kempton Park, and one of the classic races of the year was to be run. All the fashionable folk of England had turned out for the racing, and all the unfashionables of the district, afoot, on horseback, in pony carts and behind donkeys, men, women and babes, a shouting, whooping mob. The man had evidently fainted;

there was no smell of liquor upon his breath. He was elderly, thin, gaunt, wild-looking. Leaving him there, Danbury ran to a public house near by and bought a flack of brandy and some sandwiches. Returning, he tried to force the liquor between the man's teeth, but he clinched his jaws.

"No, no!" he muttered, beginning to revive. "I promised my dying mother that I would never touch liquor. Food, for heaven's sake!"

He munched the sandwiches greed ily, and presently seemed so far recovered as to sit up. He stared at his

Complete rout of the rebellious on Mount Bagsag was accomplished by the American forces with the loss of six men killed and seven wounded. Reports of the engagement, reached Manila by wireless from the island of Jolo. All of the Americans killed were members of the several companies of mountain, when the Moros were nearly dislodged from their positions, six Americans were also then killed. The number of dead among the Moros is not known. This last battle began just before dark. The fighting was fierce, but the American advance so determined that the Moros at last stole away and left the mountain clear.

THEIR COLLABORATION

By CAMPBELL B. CASAD.

Old City Found. Surprising discoveries have been made in the effort to excavate the vast baths of Caracalla at Rome, that have lain hidden under 200,000 cubic meters of earth. In this latest excavation it has been found that underneath the baths proper was a subterranean city, consisting of over 4,000 yards of wast galleries used by the slaves and attendants and for marvelous hydraulic, heating and ventilating systems. The drainage is described as splendid, and but for the rise in the level of the river Tiber, which makes it impossible sufficiently to slope the pipes, these drains could

BOILED EGGS BETRAY THEM

Nationality of Diners is Shown in Their Various Method of Eating.

Sherlock Holmes might have figured this out, but he did not!

The average Englishman will always demand his egg boiled just three minutes, then he places it in an egg cup, just large enough to have the egg fit it, taps the cop of the shell, and removes the broken shell with his fingers. The egg is eaten a spoonful at a time.

A Frenchman, much like the Englishman, likes his eggs of three minutes, exactly. He then "peels" them, places them in a glass, stirs and mixes well together with salt, pepper and butter. He makes a practice of dipping bread into the mixture, and eating it along with the eggs.

A Spaniard wouldn't think of letting his egg boil more than one minute. He then breaks it, and lets the contents run into a glass, and consumes it as if he were drinking a glass of An egg is only fit in an Italian's estimation when it has been placed in cold water, and removed just as the water beings to boil. He then breaks it, pours it on a plate, and proceeds to sop it up with bread. The German, like the Italian, demands his eggs as near the liquid state as possible. He breaks his eggs in an unsightly cup, and scoops the liquid out as if it were soup. The American is about the only one who prefers his eggs boiled hard. When they are served up to him, he knifes them in half, removes the contents into a glass, after which he adds a plentiful supply of pepper, butter and salt., He then minces the eggs fine, mixing them well with the spices, and eats them with his toast.

Catching Flies Pays Well.

Catching flies is affording a Shreveport (La.) man a profitable and independent living. He sells them to the city board of health. His name is Bartsch, and his net revenue from the fly industry for the first two days of a recent week was $24.20. When the health board began offering premiums for the flies, dead or alive, Bartsch purchased about 100 traps and placed them in fly-ridden sections of the city. Then he began making inroads on the health board's exchequer, and so well did he operate that he bore the market price down from 50 cents to 20 cents a quart, for it is by that measure that the board purchases. Bartsch is still working, and he will work as long as the treasury holds out. He finds fly catching pays.

ITCHING AND BURNING

Iberia, Mo.-"I was troubled with scalp eczema for about five years and tried everything I heard of, but all of no avail. The doctors told me I would have to have my head shaved. Being a woman, I hated the idea of that. I was told by a friend that the Cuticura Remedies would do me good. This spring I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment I considered the cure permanent, but continued to use it to make sure and used about onehalf the other box. Now I am entirely well. I also used the Cuticura Soap. "The disease began on the back of my head, taking the form of a ringworm, only more severe, rising to a thick, rough scale that would come off when soaked with oil or warm water, bringing a few hairs each time, but in a few days would form again, larger each time, and spreading until the entire back of the head was covered with the scale. This was accompanied by a terrible itching and burning sensation. Now my head is completely well and my hair growing nicely." (Signed)

Notice of Paving.

The Village Council has under consideration the proposed paving of a certain portion of Main street, Chelsea, Michigan, and has caused to be made plats and diagrams including estimates of the expense of such paving, which plats, diagrams and estimates are now on file with the Village Clerk at the council room, for the purpose of public examination.

That portion of said Main street to be paved, is all that part which lies between the south line of the present pavement and the north line of land owned by Jacob Hinderer.

All the lots and parcels of land abutting upon that portion of said Main street, above designated, as shown by the maps and diagrams of the proposed district to be paved, now on file with the Village Clerk, will be assessed, under a special assessment for the purpose of defraying the expense of said paving. Your confidence is what Studebaker seeks to keep Possessing this confidence, we have never tried to produce a cheap wagon. We could, but we don't dare try the experiment. Our constant aim has been to produce the best wagon.

And in living up to this highest standard, we have won and hold - the confidence and good-will of hundreds of thousands of farmers all over the world.

Studebaker wagons are built to last, to do a day's work every day, to stand up under stress and strain and to make the name Studebaker stand for all that is best in vehicles.

Don't accept any other wagon represented to be just as good as a Studebaker. The substitute may be cheaper, but it isn't up to Studebaker standards, and you can't afford to buy it. For business or pleasure, there is a Studebaker vehicle suited to your requirements. Farm wagons, trucks, business wagons, surreys, buggies, runabouts, pony carriages—each the best of its kind. Harness also—of the same high Studebaker standard.
