GERMOZONE For Poultry

The reason why Germozone has proven so wonderfully successful in treatment of Poultry Diseases is because nine-tenths of the diseases of poultry are of the skin and mucous membrane-of eyes, mouth, throat, nasel passages, crop and bowels.

That is just where Germozone shines. Designed originally for man, for diseases of the skin, scalp and mucous surfaces it has spread and spread in the poultry field until it has become popularly known throughout the world as the Poultry Medicine.

MOTHER RECEIVES A LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

Escaped Man Says He Will Take Rest Before Returning to Pennsylvania But Is Thought to Be Sailing for Europe.

Official investigation of the escape of Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan asylum has begun and one of the first and most important steps in the investigation was the securing by Prosecuting Attorney Conger at Poughkeepsie warrants for Guards Barnum and Mulhall and for Harry K. Thaw on charges of conspiracy. Mr. Conger feels confident that under this charge he can have Thaw arrested and extradited even if he be taken in another state than New York.

It is not known definitely that either Barnum or Mulhall has made any confession of a conspiracy having been formed between themselves and Thaw or any agents of his, but the issuance of the warrants, Mr. Conger says, is in accordance with the same action of the state law under which three police captains were recently convicted in New York city, and he believes it will hold in this case.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw received a letter from her son stating that he would rest a few days before going to his mother's home at Elmhurst, Pa., the rumor still is persistent that Thaw has sailed for Europe on the mysterious yacht which was seen off South Norwalk. Mrs. Thaw, after receiving the letter, stated that she knew absolutely nothing of Harry's program or what his future actions would be, but that she intends to return to her

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS

Muskegon.—Taking advantage the misfortune of autoists on a mile of sand road that has been plowed previous to repairing, several farmers are said to be reaping a nice harvest by hauling machines out of the sand at from $2 to $5 a "haul." The road is north of Dalton and is traveled extensively. No warnings are placed and the unsuspecting autoist drives into the sand is "stuck" in a double sense. He usually sees a farmer sitting on the fence near the scene. After some bargaining the farmer obtains a team and the machine is hauled out. It is stated that if signs were posted automobile men would be able to drive around the bad place. The matter has been reported to the local automobile club.

Battle Creek, Aug. 16 .- "Auto bandits" of Chicago, who used the gasoline conveyance to move jewelry, have been outclassed by two enterprising crooks in this city, who use an auto to steal cows. One bull is missing from the farm of Henry Coe, four miles north of here, and only the tracks made by an auto across the field and barnyard give the local authorities any clue. Another cow on the adjoining farm of Winton Adams, was found with a broken leg and the same auto tracks were seen there. Deputy sheriffs believe that in trying to load the one owned by Adams, they accidentally broke her leg.

TRAGEDY OF $5 BILL

And Worst of All in the Long List is the Seemingly Irreparable Break With Howard, Who Was Naturally Offended. "I'm in a terrible trouble," wailed the top floor girl, according to the New York Times. "I don't know what I shall ever do about it." "What's happened?" asked her sympathetic friend.

"Everything. It's all about Howard, and—oh, dear, it's awful! You see, I discovered the other day that I had lost $5. It had been handed me when I was at my writing desk, and instead of at once putting it away in a safe place I stuck it into an envelope and left it there. Later I wrote sev. eral letters and when I again remem. bered the $5 bill it was gone. "My natural supposition was that I had sent it away in one of the letters I had just written. All those letters, except one, were business letters. The exception was to Howard Strong. I immediately wrote to every one of my correspondents and explained what I had done and asked them to examine the envelope for a trace of the $5. Howard Strong is the only one that has replied, so far; he sent me the $5. Fortunately, he said, he had not destroyed the envelope and there, tucked away in one corner, he found the $5 bill.

"Naturally I felt pretty good over that outcome of my mistake, but the next morning, when the second chapter began to unroll, I didn't feel quite so comfortable. I found then, in the top envelope of a bunch that I had previously overlooked that $5 bill.

"It's no way for anybody to try to imagine how I felt then, for it cannot be done. I spent fully two hours puzzling over Howard's motive in sending me the money. Finally, I came to the conclusion that he must have construed the letter as an ingenious way of asking for a loan, and he had forthwith responded in the same roundabout fashion. I wrote Howard a stinging rebuke. I claimed that by putting such a construction on my letter he had insulted me. I returned "About two hours after I had mailed that letter chapter No. 3 began. Ellen Fariss and I use that writing desk in partnership. It was Ellen's turn at the desk. The first thing I knew she was upsetting things in general, look ing for a particular envelope. "'What kind of an envelope was it?"

"'One of those plain ones,' she said. 'It was right on top of this bunch. I stuck a $5 bill into it yesterday-

"At that point in Ellen's explanation I collapsed. It was her money that I to take the last $5 bill I had in the world to settle with her. I haven't heard from Howard, and I have not the courage to write again. I said in my last letter that all was over between us, and, apparently, it is."

Public Meat Roaster.

In many of the well - traversed streets of upper New York city there are being established cook shops of the French kind. The business is not only one of suplying hot roasted meats to customers in the little restaurant that is a part of the shop's plant, but also of roasting meats for persons in the neighborhood who may have a de sire to eat meat cooked in the best, as it is one of the oldest, ways known to man-on a revolving "jack" before an open fire. It is no place for a hungry man to stand-before the plate glass window of the "roast shop." The windows disclose a tall grill made in the foreign fashion of blue and white tiles, in which a bright, hard coal fire burns all day long. In front of this grill is arranged a "jack" with two arms, consisting of long steel skewers that are pierced through the meat and by a mechanical arrangement the "jack" is kept constantly revolving until the meats on it are thoroughly done. It is a most appetizing sight to see the "jacks" laden with chickens and meats, and it tempts one to go in and have a slice which may be had for 15 cents. The sign also makes it clear that meats furnished by patrons will be roasted for five cents a pound.

Followed a Good Example. Ex-President Porfirio Diaz gained national prominence and won his spurs at the battle of Puebla, where the Liberal forces made a gallant but ineffectual stand against the French who had invaded Mexico for the purpose of erecting a throne for Maximilian. . Notwithstanding the fact that the Mexican forces were defeated, their defense against superior numbers was so gallant that the anniversary of the battle of the fifth of May became a national holiday in Mexico. A brusque American once asked the president: "Why do you Mexicans celebrate a defeat, when you know that the French finally took Puebla? President Diaz, with a twinkle in his eye, replied: "Perhaps we have imtated the Americans even to the extent of celebrating our defeats, for I have been told that the British de feated the Colonists at Bunker Hill and yet you built a monument to commemorate the event."

"The watchmaker you recommend ed is a regular sycophant."
"Well, naturally, he's a timeser.

SYNOPSIS.

Cowboys of the Flying Heart ranch are heartbroken over the loss of their muchheartbroken over the loss of their much-prized phonograph by the defeat of their champion in a foot-race with the cook of the Centipede ranch. A house party is on at the Flying Heart. J. Wallingford Speed, cheer leader at Yale, and Culver Covington, inter-collegiate champion run-ner, are expected. Helen Blake, Speed's sweetheart, becomes interested in the loss of the phonograph. She suggests to Jean sweetheart, becomes interested in the loss of the phonograph. She suggests to Jean Chapin, sister of the owner of the ranch, that she induce Covington, her lover, to win back the phonograph. Helen declares that if Covington won't run, Speed will. The Cowboys are hilarious over the prospect. Speed and his valet, Larry Glass, trainer at Yale, arrive. Helen Blake asks Speed, who has posed to her as an athlete, to race against the Centipede man. The cowboys join in the appeal to Wally, and fearing that Helen will find him out, he consents. He insists, however, that he shall be entered as an unknown, figuring that Covington will arrive in time to take his place. Fresno, glee club singer from Stanford university and in love with Helen, tries to discredit. Speed with the ladies and the cowboys.

CHAPTER VIII.

AWRENCE GLASS was beginning to like New Mexico. Not only did it afford a tinge of romance, discernable in the deep, haunting eyes of Mariedetta, the maid, but it offered an opportunity for financial advancement-as, for instance, the purchase of Willie's watch. This timepiece cost the trainer twenty-one dollars, and he sold it to Speed for double the amount, believing in the luck of even numbers. Nor did young Speed allow his trainer's efforts to lently. cease here, for in every portable timepiece on the ranch he recognized a menace, and not until Lawrence had cornered the market and the whole collection was safely locked in his trunk did he breathe easily. This required two days, during which the young people at the ranch enjoyed themselves thoroughly. They were halycon days for the Yale man, for Fresno was universally agreeable, and seemed resigned to the fact that Helen should prefer his rival's company to his own. As for Glass, he recounted tales of Mariedetta's capitulation to his employer, and wheezed merrily over the discomfiture of the Mexican girl's for-

"She's a swell little dame," he confided to Speed one afternoon, as they lounged luxuriously in the shade at their eustomary resting place. "Yes, and I'm aces with her, too." They had set out for their daily run, and were now contesting for the seven-up supremacy of the Catskill mountains, Already Glass had been declared the undisputed champion of the Atlantic coast, while Speed on the day previous had wrested from him the championship of the Mississippi valley.

"But Mariedetta is dark!" said the college man, as he cut the cards. "She is almost a mulatto."

"Naw! She's no dinge. She's an Aztec, an' them Aztec's is swell people. Say, she can play a guitar like a Glass grunted contemptuously. "I've got it on that insurrecto four ways. Why, I'm learning to talk Spanish myself. If he gets lossy, I'll cross one over his bow." The trainer made a vicious jab at an imaginary Mexican. "He ain't got a good wallop in him.

"Miss Blake told me she was in love with Carara."

"I thought cowboys was tough guys," continued Glass, "but it's a mistake. That little Willie, for instance, is a lamb. He packs that Mauser for protection. He's afraid some farmer will walk up and poke his eye out with a corn-cob. One copper with a nightstick could stampede the whole outfit. But they're all right, at that," he acknowledged, magnanimously. "They're a nice bunch of fellers when you know how to take 'em." "The flies are awful today," Speed complained. "They bite my legs." "I'll bring out a bath robe tomorlow, and we'll hide it in the bushes. I wish there was some place to keep this beer cool." Glass shifted some bottles to a point where the sunlight this foot-race means to the Flying did not strike them. "I'm getting tired of training, Lar

On the following morning Speed sought a secluded nook with Helen, fairly upon the subject uppermost in his mind than he was disturbed by a delegation of cowboys, consisting of the original four who had waited upon him that first morning after his arrival. They came forward with grave and serious mien, requesting a moment's interview. It was plain there was something of more than ordinary importance upon their minds from the manner in which Stover spoke, but when Helen quickly volunteered to grace."

OF PLAIN VEGETABLES

REMARKABLY PRETTY TABLE DECORATIONS MAY BE MADE.

Call Only for the Exercise of a Little Ingenuity, and the Quality of the Food Is Not in the Least Impaired-Some Examples.

There are many artificial ways to make lovely decorations, but in the study of vegetable flowers we can show a simple way of making our everyday meals more appetizing and still not interfere with the palatable part of the dishes we prepare. These things will appeal to every one who may be interested in making home dishes with pretty garnishes. For instance, the small vegetable can be cut into flowers, as follows:

Beets-Cut beets in fancy shapes; they make a pretty garnish for any salad; cut as cups to serve salad in carries out the red color scheme; sliced and cut like hearts carries out the valentine idea.

Cabbage-Cut cabbage head like flower; take out center and make into slaw and serve in head. You can also serve hot cauliflower for luncheon in cabbage head or any other vegetable salad.

Will the center, mix with cucumber and celery, and serve with mayonnaise; these cups can also be used for sweetbreads d chicken. Serve in slices, with cottage cheese between. Cut nice tomatoes in half and put cheese flowers in center; serve on lettuce leaves.

Vegetable Soup:

A good vegetable soup is made in this way: Brown in three tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan a sliced onion, a sliced carrot, a sliced tomato, a sliced turnip, a stick of celery and a parsnip. After they have browned slowly for 15 minutes, add a quart and a pint of cold water and three or four tomatoes, two or three more stalks of celery, some parsley and a carrot, and simmer gently for an hour or so. Then add three tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs and rub the soup through a strainer. Season well with nepper and salt, and after it is removed from the fire add a couple of tablespoonfuls of butter. Serve with the top and pass croutons with it.

ECZEMA SPREAD OVER BODY

Roxbury, Ohio .- "When my little boy was two weeks old he began breaking out on his cheeks. The eczema began just with pimples and they seemed to itch so badly he would scratch his face and cause a matter to run. Wherever that matter would touch it would cause another pimple until it spread all over his body. It caused disfigurement while it lasted. He had fifteen places on one arm and his head had several. The deepest places on his cheeks were as large as a silver dollar on each side. He was so restless at night we had to put mittens on him to keep him from scratching them with his finger nails. If he got a little too warm at night it seemed to hurt badly. "We tried a treatment and he didn't get any better. He had the eczeme about three weeks when we began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed him at night with the Cuticura Soap and spread the Cuticura Oint ment on and the eczema left." (Signed) Mrs. John White, Mar. 19,

Idea for the Up-to-Date Hostess. A hostess who entertains a great deal has small cards made with stathemery the meed at the top or at the left hand corner. This monogram is done in gold, silver, red, blue, pink and violet so she is able to match nearly any color scheme she wishes to carry out in flowers on her table. These cards are used as name cards her visits cease they cease for only at each place and if cards are to be played after dinner or luncheon, the table number and "couple" are written on the back of card. Some times a flower is thrust through one corner of the eard, a punch being used to make the buses for stem. These individual cards are also most useful to use in sending gifts when one wishes to write an appropriate septiment and are a little more individual than a visiting card. Try ordering late as that! some with your next stationery and you will be ready with place cards for all occasions of the most exclusive

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

His is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and methers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the yeunger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.
