The primary money when it is received this week, will take care of the outstanding teachers' orders, and while the exact amount is not definitely known, there will probably be a balance that can be applied on the other indebtedness.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

A very pleasant event took place at the Staffan cottage, Cavanaugh Lake, a few days ago. The occasion was in honor of the 78th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Frank Staffan.

A dinner was served on the lawn between the Staffan and Foster cottages, of which twenty partook. A long table was set and a rose trimmed chair was placed at its head, to which Mrs. Staffan was escorted by her youngest grandson, Geo. L. Staffan.

The party consisted of the children, grandchildren and immediate relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Staffan and the event was a very enjoyable one. Mrs. Staffan was presented with a number of handsome gifts as a remembrance of the day.

Library Money.

On Wednesday of this week the Superintendent of Public Instruction sent to the county clerks of the state a statement showing the districts that are entitled to share in the distribution of the penal fines or library money in their respective counties. The apportionment of this money should be made by the county treasurer before the first day of August to the several townships in his county. The township treasurers are required by the law to make a report to each director in their township of the library money due his district on or before August 15.

If the township treasurer has not received his statement from the county treasurer within a reasonable time after August 1 he should apply for same, and directors of school districts should see that their township treasurer has made a report to them on or before August 15 of the primary and library funds due their respective districts.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Happenings in Chelsea Forty Years Ago This Week.

H. F. Siegfried, formerly miller at the Waterloo mills, opened a general store in that village.

Wood Bros. & Co. had on exhibition a cornstalk that measured 8 feet which was grown on the farm of Jonas Freer, of Lima.

A severe storm passed through Pittsfield Tuesday night. Buildings were unroofed, fruit trees and large quantities of timber blown down. The damage was placed at $10,000. In the city of Ann Arbor considerable damage was done.

Riemenschneider-Boyce Marriage.

Between sixty and seventy guests were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Riemenschneider of Sylvan, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alma Hulda, and Mr. Howard Merle Boyce, of Lyndon, which took place at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, July 15, 1914, Rev. Geo. C. Nordhult officiating.

The couple were attended by Miss Florence Noah of North Lake and Mr. Floyd Boyce of Lyndon, brother of the groom. The bride is a graduate of the Chelsea high school, being a member of the class of 1913 and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Boyce of Lyndon. The home was appropriately decorated and a wedding supper was served at the close of the marriage ceremony. The young couple were presented with a number of handsome gifts. After a short wedding trip they will make their home on the farm of the groom's father in Lyndon.

New Primary Ballots.

When Washtenaw voters cast their ballots at the coming primary election in August, they will not have to ask for a ballot of the party with which they are identified, for, under a new rule, all tickets are included on one ballot. Each party will have a classification and the candidates for each office in a given party and for all offices will be classified under the party head.

Exercising care the voter will find this larger and more complex ballot no handicap, but failure to exercise care will partly destroy the ballot, for where an attempt is made to vote for a person on another ticket the vote for this office will be invalid for all candidates. The voter must confine his markings and his choice to the party ticket under which he is registered.

On each ticket will be printed this: "Important—Do not vote for any candidate not in your party column. If you do so you will void your party ballot so far as nominations for that office are concerned." This regulation simply means it will be impossible to split a primary ticket and each voter must vote for some person on the ticket which represents his party affiliations.

In past years each party has had a separate ballot and the voter has been supplied with the ballot of the party with which he is registered, but this year all will be on the same sheet of paper and if instructions are followed there will be no confusion.

Read Them Every Week.

We especially invite our readers to peruse the ads in the Standard every week and patronize the merchants who invite you through its columns to come to their store to trade. That merchant who keeps continually at the advertising game is the trade builder, he is after your business and is the booster of the whole town in general nine times out of ten. A town is known by its newspaper, with its columns full of good interesting ads and local news, it appeals right away to the stranger that the town is a good live one.

A Century of Peace.

The treaty of Ghent, signed December 24, 1814, terminated the last war between the United States and Great Britain. Through these hundred years of peace many differences have arisen between the two nations which might easily have led to war. Good sense has triumphed, however, over human folly, and peace has remained unbroken. It ought not to be a remarkable thing for two people to be able to get on without fighting, but it is nevertheless, and so remarkable that both countries are planning for great celebrations in commemoration of this century of peace. Every one of us should help in keeping this coming "festival of nations." It will be an object lesson on a vast scale.

HAIL AND RAIN STORM

Crops in the Cyclone District Badly Damaged Monday.

The cyclone stricken district north of here was visited with a severe rain and hail storm between 2 and 4 o'clock Monday morning. The storm seemed to have been the heaviest in the track of the recent cyclone.

According to the reports that have been received at the Standard office many fields of corn, beans, wheat and oats were badly damaged and in some instances almost totally destroyed, it will be a hard blow to many of the farmers who reside in the southern parts of Ingham and Livingston counties.

While the northern part of Washtenaw was visited by the storm but slight damage seems to have been done by the hail storm. During the day several heavy falls of rain were had in this part of the county, and many fields of corn are reported as being laid level, while the wheat and oat crops are in a more or less tangled condition by the rainfall.

The rain, which was accompanied by a heavy electrical storm, according to the dispatches in the daily papers, was state wide and seems to have been very severe in the northern part of the state. A great many buildings were struck by lightning and destroyed.

Grass Lake Woman Shot.

Jackson Patriot: A warrant was issued Tuesday morning for the arrest of William Coppennoll of Grass Lake township for assault with intent to murder Mrs. Frances Teeple, a resident of that section of the county, at whom he is alleged to have fired a shotgun, the charge taking effect in her arm. The circumstances as related to Prosecuting Attorney Rossman by Burt L. Teeple, husband of the injured woman, are that it was while he and Mr. Curtis were attending a school meeting that the trouble occurred; that Mrs. Curtis was visiting Mrs. Teeple while they were away and during their absence Coppennoll called at the Teeple home and on being admitted to the house he began talking in an insulting manner to both of the women, making indecent proposals, which he followed up with demands when they became indignant over his talk and conduct. Coppennoll is said to have left the house then and come in again with a shotgun, threatening to shoot them if they did not submit to his proposition, and when they again refused he went out doors, it is said, and holding the muzzle of the gun to the window fired, a portion of the charge lodging in Mrs. Teeple's arm. Only a few of the shot, however, struck her, and it is not likely she will lose her arm.

LATER—William Coppennoll was found with his brains blown out in the hay loft of the barn on the Teeple farm Wednesday morning. About midnight Mr. and Mrs. Teeple thought they heard a report that sounded like a gun but did not make any investigation. When Mr. Teeple went out to the barn to do his chores in the morning he looked about, and found the body of Coppennoll in the hay with a part of his head shot off. It appeared that he had discharged the gun with his toes. He had removed his shoes, and from the position the gun was found in it was evident he had placed the muzzle of the gun to his mouth and pushed the trigger with his toes. He left two notes which indicated he had planned to suicide. One read that he wished to have his watch and pen given to his niece, and $2.50 to his mother, and the other read that he had left a box for Clyde.

It is thought Coppennoll hid in the woods somewhere, and thinking he would be caught and prosecuted, concluded to take his own life and escape imprisonment.

Huerta Has Resigned.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta resigned from the provisional presidency of the Mexican republic Wednesday evening and his resignation was accepted by the senate and chamber of deputies by a vote of 121 to 17.

Huerta's resignation was submitted through the department of foreign relations.

FERRIS CONSENTS TO MAKE THE RACE

GOVERNOR YIELDS TO WISHES OF SUPPORTERS AND WILL BE CANDIDATE.

STATEMENT GIVEN MONDAY

Owing to Executive Duties Little Time Can Be Given to Campaigning Says Letter to Public.

Lansing, Mich.—Governor Ferris has at last capitulated to the urgent demands of the democrat leaders of Michigan and his friends throughout the state, as an announcement was made from the executive office Monday afternoon that he would accept the nomination on the democratic ticket again this fall.

On numerous occasions the governor has declared that he did not want to make the race again this fall, and Mrs. Ferris, who is in a critical condition at Big Rapids, urged the governor to remain out of the fight in order that he might spend as much time as possible with her. Last Friday Governor Ferris said that he would urge the democrat state central committee at the meeting held here Tuesday, to select another candidate, but Monday afternoon his private secretary brought a signed statement from Big Rapids in which formal announcement of Ferris' candidacy is made.

The statement follows: "After a careful examination of the petitions for my nomination in the primaries, after receipt of numerous telegrams and letters from all parts of the state, and after due consideration of my home duties and duties to the state, I have decided to become a candidate for nomination as governor of Michigan. If I am nominated, I shall not be able to give a large amount of time to a campaign, because the demands of the executive office will receive my first and chief consideration."

DEAN SHAW COUNTS THE BEES

Population of Honey Makers in Michigan Is 1,000 Times That of People.

East Lansing, Mich.—There are approximately 1,000 times as many bees as there are people in Michigan, according to a "count" of the honey bee population of the state, which has been conducted at the M. A. C. in convention with the recent survey of Michigan agricultural conditions by Dean R. S. Shaw. The latest obtainable figures place the number of bees of the species "apis mellifica," or honey bee, at 115,274 colonies. Each colony, on the average, consists of a queen bee, 600 to 800 drones or males, and from 15,000 to 20,000 workers. On this basis, the bee population of the state has been placed in excess of two billion. Their total value is about $500,000, but it is said they are worth much more than this because of their use in the fertilization of flowers.

Quinnesec Postoffice Is Robbed.

Iron Mountain, Mich.—The Quinnesec postoffice was robbed Sunday evening. Entrance was gained by cutting out a pane of glass in the rear window. The government funds were remitted by the postmistress a few days ago. The robbery was not discovered by Miss St. Dennis until she opened up.

ROTTEN TIES HELP "SAFETY FIRST" CAUSE

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Rotten ties on the Ann Arbor road which permitted the rails to spread, throwing the engine, tender and baggage car from the track, prevented the coaches, filled with passengers, from leaving the road bed and going over a 30-foot embankment.

The accident occurred Tuesday morning just inside the city limits. The wheels of the passenger coaches sunk into the rotten ties and were stopped. It is said that if the ties had been solid the coaches would have passed over them and dropped over the embankment.

TWO BIG FIRES IN DETROIT SUNDAY

ONE THOUSAND ANIMALS LOSE LIVES WHEN STOCK SHEDS BURN.

MANY BUILDINGS IN DANGER

Paper Company's Building Is Destroyed By Fire Caused By Bolt of Lightning in Fierce Storm.

Detroit.—Trapped in their pens, more than a thousand dumb animals went to their death Sunday evening in a fierce fire that totally destroyed the stock sheds of the Sullivan Packing company, Michigan and Beecher avenues.

The blaze spread to a row of houses on Beecher street, burning back fences and sheds, and threatened to ignite the main plant of the Sullivan company; the Edison Illuminating company's branch, and the Calvary Presbyterian church.

Three alarms were sent in before enough fire apparatus reached the scene to stem the flames, which, fanned by a brisk breeze, swept through the board sheds and carried blazing shingles and splinters into the surrounding neighborhood.

Paper Company Burned Out. Several tremendous bolts of lightning, in a storm that swept over Detroit about 2 o'clock Monday morning, started a fire that completely destroyed the Chope-Stevens Paper company's building at 12-18 East Woodbridge street, burned out police and fire signal boxes, and seriously interfered with the D. ### BLAME PLACED ON STORSTAD Commission of Inquiry Reports On Empress of Ireland Disaster.

Quebec.—The commission of inquiry that investigated the sinking of the Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence May 29 with a loss of more than 1,000 lives, announced its decision Saturday, holding that the collier Storstad, which rammed the Empress, was responsible for the disaster.

The principal point which the court was called upon to decide was whether the responsibility for the tragedy was divided or whether it rested solely on the officers of one of the ships. Lord Mersey said that the members of the court had taken pains to get all the enlightenment possible on this phase, and that, after deliberation over the evidence, they had come to the conclusion that the Storstad was in fault because she had changed her course after fog had settled down upon the river. Up to the time the fog appeared no fault could be found with the seamanship of either set of officers.

Another Holdup at Escanaba. Escanaba, Mich.—Two bandits Saturday held up two Danforth farmers as they were going home. ## HUERTA SENDS HIS FAMILY AHEAD

DICTATOR AND GEN. BLANQUET ARRANGE RETREAT FROM CAPITAL.

WILL NOT AFFECT REBELS

Villa Will Advance on Mexico City in Few Days.—Change of Government May Be Accomplished Peacefully.

Mexico City.—At 10 o'clock Tuesday night the family of Gen. Huerta and other relatives and close friends left the capital for Vera Cruz aboard a special train. The train was composed of three sleepers and a baggage car. Running ahead of it were two military trains carrying 300 men. Following came another military train with 500 troops aboard.

The family of Gen. Blánquet, minister of war, also left on the special. Huerta, Gen. Blánquet and other high officials had planned to leave the capital Wednesday morning.

The party boarded the train at Villa de Guadalupe, a railroad station about five miles from Mexico City. Only a few persons were aware of their departure.

Although the resignation of Gen. Huerta had been confidently expected by the state department and Washington diplomats to occur at any moment, the constitutionalists, unaffected by the news, are pressing hard their military campaign on Mexico City.

Official dispatches revealed that Villa with 15,000 men, was ready for a rapid advance on the Mexican capital and that Gen. Obregon's forces at Guadalupe were prepared to sweep onward within a few days. Although officials have not been given much to prediction, they now firmly believe the constitutionalists will be in Mexico City in two or three weeks regardless of what the Huerta government may do.

Gen. Huerta's resignation, it is realized, would not immediately compose the situation but it would make possible parleys with the constitutionalists through which a change of government could be accomplished peacefully.

NEW HAVEN IS CONDEMNED

Report of Interstate Commerce Commission Severely Criticizes Management of Railroad.

Washington.—That the monopoly theory of the New Haven road was unsound and mischievous; that its directors were "criminally negligent," and that a substantial part of the stockholders' money wasted can be recovered, was the gist of the interstate commerce commission's report Monday to the senate on the New Haven case.

The report is regarded as the most condemnatory document ever issued by the interstate commerce commission.

The commission declares the New Haven directors consciously violated the federal anti-monopoly laws.

No attempt has been made to fix the responsibility for the New Haven transactions as between President Mellen and J. P. Morgan, but the report condemned the "control" generally.

Breaks World's Altitude Record.

Leipzig.—A new world's record for altitude for an aeroplane was established here Tuesday by Heinrich Oelerich, a German aviator, who rose in his biplane 7,500 meters or approximately 24,600 feet, nearly four and three-quarter miles.

The official world's record, 6,000 meters or approximately 19,685 feet, had been established July 9 at Johannishof by Otto Linnekogel, another German aviator.

Mt. Pleasant, Mich.—Earl Gillis, the seven-year-old son of John Gillis, who resides six miles east, was instantly killed Monday by lightning while in his father's barn. Earl was in company with his two older brothers, aged 8 and 3, and Ed. Smith, aged 14. The other three boys received severe shocks. The barn burned. It was full of hay and one horse burned to death.

ITEMS OF STATE INTEREST

For the first time in many years Saginaw will have a county fair this fall—Oct. 6, 7, 8 and 9. The Saginaw Fair & Racing association grounds and adjoining additional property purchased by the Saginaw County Agricultural society will be used.

The Washington school at Coldwater was struck and fired by a bolt of lightning during a thunder storm Sunday night. Heavy rain broke the drought in this district. Damage to the school amounts to several hundred dollars.

Because analytical tests made at Lansing showed that "near-beer" sold at the Lake Goguse resort on Independence day was the real thing, one man is under arrest and at least one liquor retailer is likely to lose his license. Battle Creek limits saloons to 15.

DAIRY COW REQUIRES RES

Animal Is Enabled Not Only to Do Her Best While Being Milked, But Yields Greater Returns.

(By M. COVERDELL.)

Most farmers seem to breed the cow with no concern as to her resourcefulness or enduring qualities. She is bred at an early age; bred again just as soon as possible after her first calving; held right to her milk as nearly as possible to her next calving time; handled thus until she is worn out and no longer useful.

With such management her unborn calf will have much of its sustenance taken from it, on account of the nourishment going toward keeping up the cow, which results in a weakened calf, springing and gradually yields a most terrifying effect on the grade of calf herd in general, since each succeeding calf will be still more undeveloped than the one before it.

We have seen cows whose nature is belled against such treatment and invariably these animals positively refused to come in sufficient heat to be gotten with calf. This shows conclusively that the cow requires and deserves a short period of rest from her labors every season.

We aim to give the cow about three or four months' rest out of every season, feeding and caring for her with a view to intensive dairying the remainder of the year. This not only enables the cow to do her best while being milked, but yields us greater returns for the time and labor expended in handling her and her dairy products.

Of course the same rule will apply to each individual member of the herd as some can be dried up with very little effort while some will require up to the time they drop their calf.

In either case we discontinue feeding those ration which are conducive to a profuse milk flow for from two to four months before calving time, and so far, we have always been successful in drying up any cow in time to allow her a good rest before it is necessary to begin milking her again.

MEANING OF INTENSIVE FRUIT CULTURE

Timely Spraying Saves the First Crop.

A great deal has been said lately about intensive farming, and farmers have been urged to confine their energies to smaller areas and to give better cultivation and more attention to details. All these principles apply with equal force to fruit growing. The curse to the fruit grower is an ambition to possess quantity rather than quality and to widen his field of operation without a corresponding degree of labor.

In the West, where fruit growing has been carried to a far greater perfection than here, five acres of orchard, without small fruit or vegetables, are considered enough to call for all of one man's activity.

Intensive fruit growing means the cultivation of comparatively small areas and the application thereto of such labor as will produce a maximum of fruit by the exercise of scientific methods and careful attention to details. It is a system much more satisfactory and profitable to the grower than the old extensive one, and whenever it is given a fair trial there will be no departure from it.

Dwarf pears may be set quite close together. They can be planted even in the hedge rows, not over three feet apart, with advantage and profit. Such a row presents a beautiful sight when in full bloom, and the close planting, with its consequent of a not too rapid growth, is a preventive of blight.

Currants are appropriate in tree rows, because they rather like a partial shade; and the strawberries receive enough sun while the trees are young not to be injured.

There are two essentials in this system of thick planting; one is sufficient labor intelligently directed, and the other is heavy fertilizing. A grower in the East is said to produce $8,000 worth of fruit on five acres of ground, but these acres are so well kept that they have the appearance of a huge garden.

More hand labor is called for, because the horse cannot be employed so generally and because more attention must be paid to particulars. Weeds must be crowded out; there is literally no room for them. There are rows of trees, and between them in the rows are the smaller fruits of all kinds. The middles between the trees are closely occupied by grapes and other fruits, and to sustain this dense growth the soil must be highly enriched with fertilizers expressly adapted to the fruit and to the soil.

There is little doubt that the intensive system is destined to be the future system. Its advantages are too apparent to be overlooked, and as the fruit grower becomes better educated in scientific methods he will be more and more inclined to adopt a system that lends itself readily to scientific principles.

RE-CLEAR FIELDS OF SCRUB TIMBER

Brush Hacked Down, Burned Over and Then Cleared by Pasturing to Stock.

(By A. J. LEGG.)

There are many old fields that have been thrown out years ago, and have so grown up with scrub timber, green briars and other filth that it looks to be almost an impossible undertaking to reclear them.

If it is undertaken to kill them by grubbing out briars and brush it is indeed a hard job, and the briars will sprout for years, but, if the brush is hacked down and let dry, then burned over, the land can be effectually cleared by pasturing it with cattle and sheep.

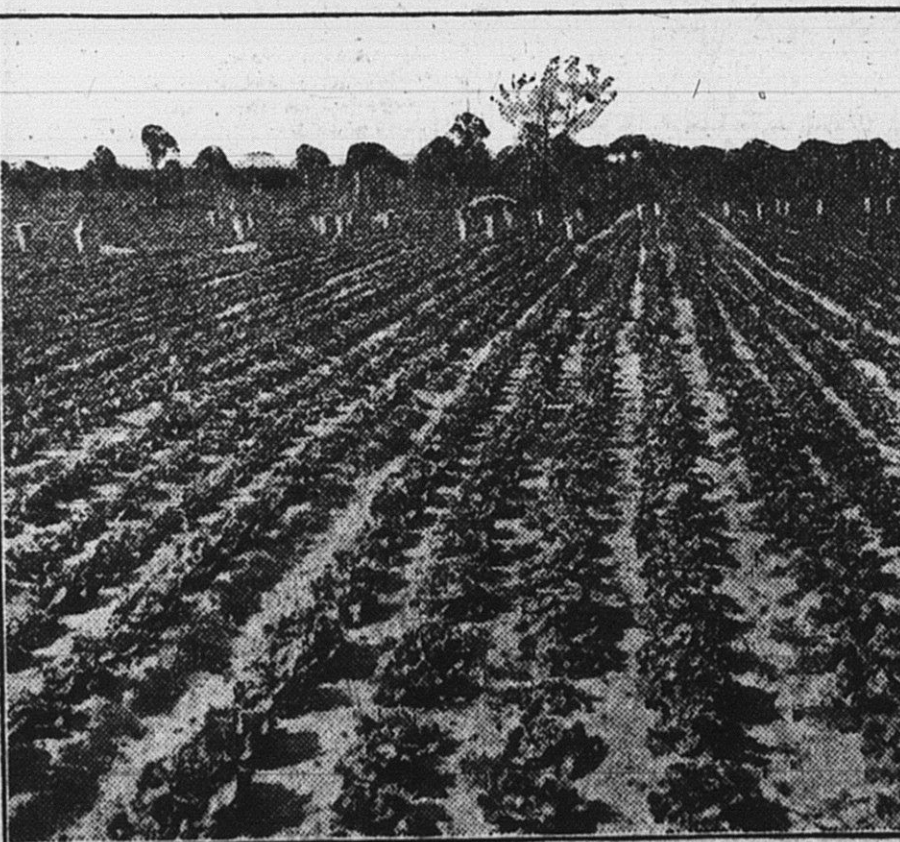

A few years ago I had a field overgrown with green briars and pine. There were patches of green brier so dense that it was impossible to get through them, let alone grub them out. These thickest patches were burned through. The fire killed other briars, then in a few months they, too, would burn, so I made it a rule that whenever I found a patch of green brier dry enough to burn I would set fire to it.

The pines were all cut down and as soon as they got dry, they, too, were burned.

The briars were kept down by the stock grazing over them.

Whenever a young brier appeared it was ripped up. By the end of the third year the brier roots were all rotted and the pine stumps were pretty well rotted so that the land could be plowed.

SUGGESTIONS AND NOTES OF THE GARDEN

A Fine Field of Cabbage.

Give the cabbage worm a dust spray of one part paris green and 15 parts flour or air-slaked lime.

Save your own tomato seeds—pick out the choicest fruit—and see if you cannot improve every year.

In saving potatoes for seed, keep only those that are perfect in form. Take none from poor hills.

A garden hoe-plow will prevent backache and do three times as much work as the common hoe.

If the melon vines are rusty, pull them up and burn them. It only wastes you money and a horse about the roots.

Cabbage plants are gross feeders and can make use of all kinds of manures. Those rich in potash and nitrogen are especially desirable. Note ture in plenty is also needed for anything with such a large surface foliage. Weeds and grass prevent large heads from forming.

Winter radish seed is mixed with the turnip at the time of sowing the latter in the fall. The radishes will grow with the same treatment that is given to turnips. They are harvested and stored together for winter use.

A garden of one-third to one-half acre should be large enough to supply the average family with all the vegetables required and with some small fruit as well.

Red tape is being used more and more for the bunching of vegetables. It adds materially to the attractiveness of the vegetables and the cost is only slightly greater than twine.

Weird Legends of Mexico

Of all the relatively larger cities on the American hemisphere, the capital of Mexico is by far the oldest. Its beginning was long before Columbus sailed on his memorable voyage of discovery, when it was the seat of the Aztec empire. Civilization of a sort flourished there long before the first hardy pioneers settled along the northern Atlantic coast and before the eyes of a white man had ever rested upon the Mississippi river.

It has been a city of many vicissitudes. It has been held by Indian and Spaniard, by viceroy, by republican, by revolutionist, and by northern invader. Many of its streets are of the greatest antiquity. Many of its traditions are so old that no man knows whether they originated in the days of the Montezumas or of the Conquistadores.

As is inevitable, the City of Mexico has its own peculiar folk-lore, its mysterious legends. There are old tales that have been handed down from generation to generation by word of mouth and are still told by Mexican nurses to the children—as they were told centuries ago.

The Wailing Woman.

A relic of Aztec folk-lore is the tale of the Wailing Woman. Once, a long time ago, the story runs, there was a very bad woman in the City of Mexico. She gave birth to many children, but children bored her, and, as fast as one came upon the earth, she drowned it. Finally her conscience

As a matter of history there was such a person in Mexico in 1641 and he was a dishonest collector of revenues. He was jailed, and to secure his liberty, his wife was compelled to suffer incredible humiliations at the hands of a judge. Don Juan broke prison, went to his home, found the judge there, and stabbed him to death. Later he was mysteriously lynched one night before the church, and from this grew the legend that the angels had punished him for his sins.

A striking story of ghostly revenge is the legend of Don Juan de Nava, priest and guardian of his orphan niece, a beautiful girl. A Portuguese nobleman, Don Duarte de Sarraza, fell in love with her, and she reciprocated the attachment, but the priest rejected Don Duarte because he was known as a gambler. One night the priest came upon Don Duarte talking to his niece through her window. Duarte struck the old man with his dagger, which was imbedded in his skull, killing him. He threw the body, dagger and all, into a ditch. Just one year later Duarte was found dead at the site of the crime. Kneeling over him, one of its bony hands gripping his body by the throat, was a skeleton in priestly garments, with a dagger sticking in its skull.

The Ghostly Raven.

Rather a weird legend is that of Don Rodrigo de Ballesteros and his raven. It is said that there is a certain bridge where at midnight when began troubling her. It is supposed that her punishment was to go through eternity looking for her lost children.

Frequently since then, it is said, watchmen have seen a woman in white, with a white mantilla over her head, roaming through the streets at night. Those who have inquired her business have received an answering inquiry as to where her children can be found. The greatest misfortune always overtakes those who question her. Most of them are stricken dead or become insane. This latter fate is said to have overtaken a gifted young army officer, who once tried to flirt with the Wailing Woman. It is said her lamentations are still heard at night, sometimes.

One story with a foundation in fact is the legend of Don Juan Manuel. As the tale survives in the folk-lore Don Juan was an amiable enough gentleman, except that he had a bad habit of wandering out nights and murdering people. His custom was to approach somebody on the street, ask him the time, and when he replied, tell him he was lucky because he knew the hour of his death and stab him to the heart. This went on until one night Don Juan killed his dearly beloved nephew, whom he had not recognized.

Stricken with remorse Don Juan confessed to his priest, who for penance ordered him to go alone at midnight to a certain church, before which was a gallows, and to tell his rosary under the gallows. Three nights he attempted to fulfill the command, but was driven back by the groans of the persons he had murdered. After begging in vain for a lighter penance he finally reached his goal under the gallows. And then angels from heaven came down and hanged him.

the weather is stormy one may even yet hear the ghostly cawing of this raven, although the incidents with which the story deals happened 300 years ago.

Don Rodrigo, it seems, was very rich and very wicked. He lived in a palace and he and the raven dined from gold and silver plate, but the Don always went about in shabby clothes, in spite of his riches. He never went to church, and he made fun of holy things. Suddenly he and the raven both disappeared. On investigation persons found in his house a sacred image that had been defiled and was sprinkled with blood. From this it was supposed that the raven had beaten the image until it had shed the crimson fluid, and that Satan punished them both by taking them to himself. Occasionally, however, they come back to haunt the scene of their misdeeds.

Rather a humorous turn is given to the story of the Street of the Somersault. According to it, a Spanish nobleman, Don Mendo Quiroga y Saguez, very rich and very old, was much neglected in his dying days by his beautiful niece, upon whom he had showered every benefaction. He planned to revenge himself by his will.

When the will was read, everything was bequeathed to the niece, who was spoken of in terms of the warmest affection, up to the last paragraph. In it certain terms of acceptance were set forth with the provision that if they were not complied with every cent should go to religious orders. The terms were that on or before a certain day the niece must attire herself in her richest ball dress, and, wearing her richest jewels, must proceed in her coach at noonday to the busiest corner in the city. There she must go to the middle of the street and turn a somersault.

Negligee and Morning Cap

ONE of those fascinating sets, consisting of morning cap and negligee, which look so cool and dainty, is so faithfully reproduced in the picture given here that a written description of it seems hardly to be needed.

In the details of putting the garment together fine lace heading is used in the basque skirt of the bodice, and a finishing braid of embroidery is used along the seams joining the val lace to the sleeves and neck. Point fllet, in a vandyke pattern, is set on over the wide val, the deep points extending over the finishing braid.

The under-bodice of plain net extends to the waist line and the basque is set on to it. There are three pieces in this, joined with fine beading, to shape it easily to the figure. The bodice is in kimono shape, with the sleeves of plain net finished with wide val lace edging.

A scarf of figured net is draped over the bodice. It is caught up on the shoulders under a loop of ribbon. The same ribbon appears in a bow at the waist line. It is a wide satin messaline in light blue.

The cap is merely a foundation of the figured net over a fine wire support, and is bound with ribbon like that used in the matinee. Ruffles of the wide val lace are sewed to it and a bow of ribbon finishes it at the back.

There are many materials which may be used for this pretty set. Printed voiles and lawns, swiss, shadow laces, organdy and the lightest challes are all available. Lace and ribbon are the most appropriate of all decorations.

If a material not transparent is preferred wash silks and crepe de chine will make negligees almost as airy and dainty as those already described in thinner stuffs.

Recently Designed Tunic Dress

A RECENTLY designed dress of plain and figured taffeta combined will outlive its summer vogue and prove useful long after the passing of summer time and the days of autumn, too.

For the tunic is destined to outlive this season and in this model, from the La Vergne, the gown is embellished with several little new style features which, in addition to its good and already popular design, make a strong appeal for favor.

Among these one notices first the new treatment of the sleeve. Diaphanous sleeves are the order of the day, but here is a pretty modification of this fascinating style. The upper part of the sleeve only is of thin material. From the elbow down there is a close fitting sleeve of taffeta finished with a ruffle extending over the wrist and covering part of the hand. The upper sleeve, instead of the usual loose drape, is arranged in two puffs of figured net.

The underskirt is plain and short, that is, ankle length. The tunic is plain and cut long enough to allow of a little looping up about the bottom. These loopings are fastened with small bows made of the material.

The bodice has a small "V"-shaped opening in front. The girdle and lower sleeve are of plain material like the lower skirt. The girdle is wrapped about the figure and ties in a long hanging loop about eight inches below the waist.

The hat worn with this smart little gown carries a hint of fall in its trimming. The whole costume is charmingly simple and of a character that can be worn on many occasions. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

HOW HE TURNED THE TRICK

After This, Mr. Mordecai Hammerfest Must Be Credited With Knowing a Thing or Two.

Mrs. Mordecai Hammerfest turned pale as her husband entered the dining room for breakfast.

"Mordy!" she gasped. "Do you—don't you feel well?"

"Perfectly," he replied in seeming surprise.

"But—but, you are in your—your underduds!"

"Tell me something I don't know. Pass the butter, please," said Mr. Hammerfest.

She passed the butter, remarking nervously, "But, Mordy, dear, as you came in I saw you didn't have any shoes on."

"Well, what of it. Your hair is in curl papers, isn't it?"

"Why, y-yes."

"And you have on a wrapper, haven't you?"

"Yes."

"Very well, then."

And he went on eating his breakfast in silence except when he asked her to pass the butter. Then he went upstairs and finished dressing, and the next morning and on succeeding mornings she reported for breakfast in regular clothes.

Suspicious.

"Too bad Jinx and his wife don't get along well together."

"Why, I always understood that they were an ideal couple."

"So did I, but they must have had a dreadful scrap before he started for work this morning."

"Did he have a black eye?"

"No, but he stopped in when we were on our way home and bought her a five-pound box of candy."

Ingenuous Smuggling-Device.

A museum of criminology has been founded in Paris by M. Charles Perchard, formerly chief of the police Anarchist brigade. Among its curious contents are a hollow wax baby which was used to smuggle brandy into Paris. A woman carried a baby into the city every day, but as it never grew any bigger the authorities examined it and discovered the fraud.

Going Him One Better.

An English bishop, offering an orange to a little child, remarked, sweetly:

"Now, my little man, I shall give you this orange if you tell me where God is."

"My lord," answered the child, son of a clergyman, "I'll give you two oranges if you'll tell me where he is not."

A Woman's Opinion.

Mistress—Haven't you any references?

Maid—I have, but they're like my photographs—none of them do me justice.

Defined.

"Pa, what is a theorist?"

"A theorist, son, is a person who puts up the talk and expects somebody else to put up the money."

White House Rose Garden.
The rose garden that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson had planted at the White House is said to be quite equal to others that she planned at Princeton and other places where she has lived. She and her daughters have spent much time, not only in superintending the work of the rose garden, but in actually working in it.

A Rough Road.
"My dear sir," said the philosopher, "when we look about us and see the troubles that afflict our people, we ought to rejoice that our own paths through life are made smooth."
"Your path may be smooth," sighed the pessimist, "but a thundering big steam roller would have to make a great many trips over mine before the bumps in it were pressed out."

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.
In many of these is hidden the tragedy of a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Save the Babies.
INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!
We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of drastic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria cures the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Bishop Evans' Tyree at a dinner in Nashville was asked if he had any idea of preaching on the new fashions—the backless evening gown, slashed skirt and so forth.
"No," said the bishop, "such an idea has not occurred to me. If, however, I should preach on the new fashions I would assuredly choose my text from Revelation."

Marriage Causes False Fire Alarm.
Seven minutes of blasts from the whistle of the Passaic Metalware company, in honor of the marriage of the daughter of the superintendent, recently turned out five volunteer fire departments. The fog made the whistle audible in Rutherford, Nutley, Belleville, Garfield and Clifton and the firemen rushed to headquarters at the alarm.
It took half an hour to determine where the whistling came from. The wedding which caused the commotion united Miss Sallie Karp, 217 Brook avenue, Passaic, to Michael F. Bernan.—New York Mail.

Real Tragedy of the Stage.
A beautiful actress, Fraulien Darnier, was killed by accident recently, while playing at the Theater of Varieties at Berne, Switzerland. The last act of the comedy, "The Pride of the Third Company," was coming to an end when Fraulien Darnier fell through a defective stage trap to a distance of six feet and fractured her skull. The actress was carried unconscious to her room and a doctor was in prompt attendance, but the case was beyond his help, and as the curtain fell on the comedy on the stage the girl died. Neither the members of the company who took the final "call" nor the public, who wondered why the actress did not appear, had the slightest idea of the tragedy that had occurred behind the scenes.

ECZEMA ON HANDS AND ARMS

1321 Douglas St., Omaha, Neb.—"My trouble began from a bad form of eczema all over my hands, neck and arms. I could get no sleep for the itching and burning. The small pimples looked red and watery and my skin and scalp became dry and itching. The pimples irritated me so that I would scratch until they bled. I could not put my hands in water and if I once tried it they burned so that I could not stand it. I had to have my hands tied up and gloves on all the time for nearly two months. Sometimes I would scratch the skin off it irritated so and I could do no work at all.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

President Wilson Orders Lower Speed for Autos

WASHINGTON.—There is sorrow in the White House garage. Two mighty touring cars and a landaulet have been brought to a state of watchful waiting. There is an embargo on speed which will not be lifted. Four chauffeurs—any one of whom can pass within an inch of a given object while running at 50 miles an hour—are constantly on watch lest the speedometers start to climb on them.

About the only person in the garage who is happy is the automobile washer, who has figured it out that the slower automobiles run the less dirt they accumulate.

Ever since a presidential automobile was held up outside of Hyattsville the White House machines have been passed by about everything on the road. Recently one of those runabouts (the type that sounds like a lawn mower and travels with a limp) actually went ahead of the big seven-passenger car which President Wilson affects.

The cause of the sorrow is manifest. The engines in the White House cars are of the latest type, and can, without an effort, run the machine up to 50 miles an hour. And on the road it is extremely difficult to gauge speed unless one's eye is constantly on the speedometer.

President Wilson has always insisted that the cars in which he rides be run slowly. But occasionally when his friends are taken out for a little spin the chauffeur has been inclined to open the throttle and let things whoop.

Besides the automobile washer, there are others in the White House who feel a certain relief. They are the secret service men.

When President Taft was in office his favorite recreation was a high-powered automobile. Coming to a quiet little stretch of road, the former president was not averse to having the high speed touched up a little. Colonel Roosevelt was also fond of speed.

Sleigh's Bells Give Shivers to the Gaudily Clad

IT WAS at noon on G street when the jingling bells of a sleigh were heard. A large, perspiring, spluttering fat man suspended his palm leaf fan in mid-air. "The doctor told me to cut it down to two these hot days. I didn't; now I am hearing things," he muttered.

Another jingle, in frosty accents. A willowy maid, exceedingly sumptuous and diaphanous as to her gown, pulled her gauzy skirts close about her and was seen to shiver.

And still they jingled. Temperature, 98 in the shade.

A puffing lady, of generous girth, plumped down her market basket on the plant asphalt and felt her pulse. Traffic was suspended, passing horses sniffed the air, and Doctor Cook's press agent came running up from a nearby hotel to see whether some other intrepid explorer had put another cne across on his employer.

"Going, going, gone. At twenty. And it's a bargain at that."

The raucous voice of the auctioneer explained the greatest natural phenomenon Washington has witnessed for many moons.

The fat man dashed back through the swinging doors for another brace. And the crowd, with sheepish expressions, melted away as only a crowd and a penny vanilla "snowball" can melt on a sweltering June day.

"That's the hottest job I've had this week," plaintively wailed the auctioneer, as he wiped a seeping sleeve across his briny brow.

"If any more uptown folk want to raise cash for a trip to Newport by selling their last year's double-runner, two-seated, low-set, steel-shod, single or tandem—"

"Gee, I'll be doing that in my sleep tonight. Say, did you ever try to sell a sleigh with the thermometer at 98 in the shade?"

Oscar Baun bought it. He says he wants it for an investment.

Birds Use Bubble Fountain as a Bathing Place

THE English sparrow is the quickest of all the feathered tribe to adapt itself to the advances of science and civilization. This is frequently proved to the consternation of biologists and many lovers of the beautiful. The most striking instance of this adaptability was recently proved to a group of laymen who gathered by the little triangular park in front of the Munsey building, that has recently been landscaped-gardened into architectural eminence.

The sycamores along the avenue side of the park, and its cool shrubbery are favorite gathering places for the sparrow. Before the Pulaski statue was erected, the sparrows disported themselves in the cool water and bird and animal life wondered what these sparrows did for a drink and a bath after the fountain was torn up. Apparently there was no water in sight.

Some time ago a drinking fountain of the bubbling type was installed. For weeks and even months the sparrows paid but little attention. One or two audacious fellows eyed the bubbling stream at close range, but could find no standing water.

In the heat of noontime the other day, one of the boldest and noisiest of a twittering group, solved the problem. He lit on the outer edge of the fountain, cocked his dark brown head and eyed the stream. One or two pedestrians stopped to watch. Others gathered. Finally Mr. Sparrow thrust his bill into the stream with a quick darting motion. Nothing happened, and he tried it again. Finally he let it rest in the stream, and withdrawing it only to throw back his head, drank his fill. Contented he eyed his surroundings while an admiring throng applauded his perspicacity.

Suddenly seized of a new notion he fluttered through the stream to the other side. He repeated this feat several times, and many sparrows, quick to learn, were soon using the drinking fountain in approved style.

He Got His Money's Worth of Conversation

"DO YOU swear," said the marriage license clerk light-heartedly, "that the statements herein given are the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help you God one dollar please?"

The young man with the large, expressive hands, the trembling knees and the huge, awkward feet, dug feebly into his pocket and produced the sum of money required. There was something so red-faced and apologetically rabbitlike in the way he did it that one almost expected to see him flap his ears. But he didn't.

"With you all the luck in the world," said the marriage license clerk, evidently devious of making the agitated young man feel at peace.

The tall awkward young man scratched himself violently.

"Where's a preacher?" he demanded abruptly.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

To do God's will, that's all. That need concern us; not to carp or ask. The meaning of it; but to ply our task. Whatever may befall. Accept the good or ill as He shall send. And wait until the end.

PICNIC SEASON.

For a successful picnic three things are necessary, a fine day, congenial company and an appetizing lunch.

Of course the first and most important detail is the sandwich which must be well prepared, which is no small task. To insure each sandwich being in good condition when ready to eat, wrap in waxed paper.

The butter for sandwiches should be creamed so that it will spread easily; a slice of cucumber or a leaf of lettuce is a favorite sandwich filling and one which tastes especially good on a hot day. Bread should be at least 24 hours old to make good sandwiches.

If a hearty dish is desired one may boil Frankfort sausage or broil a beefsteak or fry fish. In fact, there is hardly any limit to the good things which may grace a picnic. Salads may be carried in glass fruit cans and the dressing added when the salad is mixed. Sardines which are too oily for serving from the tin may be used as sandwich filling.

Olives, pickles, fruit, tomatoes and berries are easily carried. Deviled eggs are greatly liked and are much more appetizing if each is wrapped in a waxed paper.

Cakes that are a delight are simply sponge cakes carried with a jar of whipped cream. When the time for serving comes split the cakes and fill with the sweetened and flavored cream.

Cream cheese, cottage cheese and nuts make good filling for sandwiches, and there are always meats for the heartier sandwiches.

Lemon sirup may be carried in a jar and a little goes a long way in making lemonade. Use a third of a cupful of juice and a cupful of water to two cupfuls of sugar, boil the sugar and water five minutes, add the lemon juice, and bottle. Keep on ice; a tablespoonful will make a glass of lemonade.

If tea or coffee is wanted, the thermos bottle now supplies us with hot drinks with little trouble.

Just so much food should be taken as will restore our powers, not so much as will oppress them.—Cicero.

A light heart makes quick feet.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

When decorating a birthday cake, cut leaves and stems from citron and with the rose cups to hold the candles this make a pretty decoration. Put the leaves and stems on to the frosting while soft.

When raisins and prunes stick to the paper which wraps them, hold them a moment over the steam of the teakettle.

White shoes may be quickly cleaned by rubbing with a piece of batting and powdered pumice stone. The whitening need be done less often.

Skirt hangers which are wire with a clothespin at each end make fine paper bag and laundry paper holders. Hang the holder up behind the door and keep all wrapping paper together.

Adhesive tape is a most valuable help in the household, it will stop a leak in the hot water bottle for at least one using, and is indispensable in many ways.

A strip around a sore toe will cure a corn if kept on, as it softens the corn and protects it from the shoe.

Keep the lamp chimneys covered with paper bags to keep them bright.

A cold foot bath is the solution for the cure for insomnia for one woman.

Dip the sweeper brush in water, shake and replace it, then it will pick up clean all the lint and dust with none flying in the air.

When making a fruit cake put the fruit in layers with the dough, then it will not all be at the bottom when it is cut.

Every busy housewife will, if she follows these suggestions, find herself happier, calmer and more rested at the end of the day. What are the things I can leave undone? Make room for a few moments during the day of absolute quiet, rest and relaxation. Avoid haste and hurry. Habituate yourself to the control of the emotions. Cut off all engagements that interfere with sleep.

AWOKE THE HUNTER INSTINCT

Alert Traveler Evidently Imagined Providence Had Thrown "Game" Within His Reach.

Gilbert Parker, the English author, tells of an English gentleman who recently came to this country to visit some friends in California. "In common with most travelers he supposed game was plentiful everywhere in that state, so he carried with him the necessary guns and ammunition."

"As his train neared San Bernardino—just before making the mountain climb—there was a delay. Several hours passed, and still the train remained stationary; and our traveler friend grew restive, and sought the porter of the Pullman car to ascertain the cause of the delay."

"It seems that in mounting the grade a freight train had broken apart, the rear portion having descended the grade and blocked the track. The porter informed him of the accident to the freight train, and said: 'There is a caboose on the track.'"

"Immediately the 'hunter' instinct was awakened; hastening to his berth, he procured his gun and started for the door, saying: 'Show it to me! Show it to me!'"

A Fish Story.
"The jans of dear old England are picturesque," said Richard Le Gallienne, on his return from abroad, "but the food they serve is something terrible."

"After a visit to Blenheim palace I entered an inn in the quaint village of Woodstock. As I lunched—or tried to lunch—my landlord said to me: 'The great dook of Marlborough once sat in that chair you're a settin' in, sir.'"

"Is that so?" said I.
"And the dook once drunk 'is beer out of that same mug you're a-drinkin' out of."

"And I bet," said I, "I bet he refused to eat this fish, too. Well, take it away, my man. I don't want it, either."

And many gems of thought turn out to be paste.

PRINCESS THEATRE

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Saturday night at the Princess the feature offering will be an unusual one. It will be a three part drama "The Road to Ruin." It's a gripping story.

A picture story that is alive with action, big scenes and superb settings. Some of the most unusual and most interesting are the famous ball in the vaults of the bank and the burning of the nobleman's garage. It is a clever story, acted by a superior cast, which makes it a picture play that will hold your attention and win your admiration.

A charming young woman, who is an orphan, is informed by her banker that she has exhausted her funds, and will have to help herself in life's battle. Seeking more economical home quarters, she meets an artist. He is of noble birth but prefers to lead a life of solitude and simplicity. Becoming very much enamoured of the girl, he visits his parents, and asks their consent to his marriage. His father is so shocked that he dies of apoplexy. They are married and struggle heroically for the necessities of life.

The old banker is attracted by a beautiful young woman, who plays with his affection with the sole purpose of robbing him. He becomes so infatuated that he permits her to invite all the guests at a large ball to go to the bank and continue their dancing in the money vault of his bank. When the Board of Directors hear of this, they request his resignation, and withdraw his income. Becoming hard pressed he tries to sell the bonds that are the property of the young artist's wife. He is detected on doing so, and exposed. The young man and his wife secure the large amount of money from the sale of the bonds, and returning to his home are welcomed by his mother and brother.

Don't miss seeing this thrilling picture-story. It teems with action and tense situations, and all in all is a perfect production. Adv.

My back was lame and sore and I had headache and dizzy spells, during which I had to grasp something for support. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and now some years later, I can say that the cure has been lasting. I occasionally take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills to keep me in good health. Doan's Kidney Pills are fine and I don't hesitate to confirm my former endorsement of them."

BLISSFIELD—A search is being made for Henry Huebner a former Adrian man whose father Henry Huebner recently died leaving him an interest in an estate valued at $2,000. Huebner left Adrian seven years ago since which time but little has been known concerning his whereabouts.—Advance.

JACKSON—Fifty thousand dollars, above all expenses, including depreciation on buildings, machinery and tools, was declared by the board of control and warden of the Michigan state prison, in session here last Friday night, as a dividend to the taxpayers of Michigan for the fiscal year closing June 30, 1934.

BROOKLYN—Harold Greene who with his brother Charles has a fine garden this year has developed much ingenuity in its care. His latest application of modern ideas is in picking potato bugs with a vacuum cleaner the plan being far more successful than the old pan and paddle plan.—Exponent.

MANCHESTER—When packing eggs a year or more ago, Lester Blaisdel, clerk in Yocum, Marx & Co's store wrote his name and address on an egg. A few days ago he received a souvenir postal card from the Perkins restaurant, Broadway and 47th street, New York, with the following note: "The egg arrived at the Pekin 7-1-14. When did you put your name on it? Yours, Edith Pearl."—Enterprise.

DEXTER—Engineer Sawyer of the state highway department on Friday inspected the Webster-Dexter road, which has been completed in Webster township, and the Ann Arbor and Saline road, in Lodi township. Mr. Sawyer will in all probability report favorably on these roads to State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers, who will then formally accept the roads.

ANN ARBOR—The American Society of Civil Engineers has appointed a special committee to ascertain the need of a national water law, and to prepare a preliminary draft of such law, if it appears necessary for the protection of existing rights and to encourage new engineering development. This committee is composed of nine men, recognized as the greatest authorities on this phase of civil engineering in the country and it is a matter of some satisfaction to this city to know that of the nine, two are residents of Ann Arbor, and one is a non-resident lecturer in the university. Prof. W. C. Hoag and Prof. Gardner Williams live here, while Robert Horton, Albany, N. Y., is the non-resident lecturer.

Local Druggist Makes Many Friends.
H. H. Fenn Co. reports they are making many friends through the QUICK benefit which Chelsea people receive from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Ika. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and it is the most thorough bowel cleanser known, acting on BOTH the lower and upper bowel. JUST ONE DOSE of Adler-Ika relieves constipation and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. H. H. Fenn Co., Adv.

Cut the Weeds.

Past seasons have no records which outstrip the present weed crop in Chelsea. It's a fine crop—of weeds. On vacant lots, in alleys, streets and most everywhere weeds galore may be found. The crop is not limited to any one section of Chelsea. There are weeds everywhere. The crop grows and flourishes unattended, and if one's view takes in a few vacant lots, weeds in abundance will be found. Occasionally the pedestrian walking along or the householder looking out of the window will find a vacant lot which is weedless or nearly so, but such a sight is unusual. Most owners of vacant lots neglect them. Streets are also the breeding grounds for weeds. This has been a good growing season and the weed crop has waxed strong and grown exceedingly.

Just whose business it is to see to it the weed crop is not allowed to flourish is hard to tell. The law regards the practice as a menace and realizes weeds spread and are an annoyance to neighbors. Weeds in the street, doubtless should be cared for by the street officials of the municipal governments. Private owners of weeds can be haled into court and assessed a fine.

Blue Ribbon Meeting.

When the trotters and pacers reach the Detroit track where the annual blue ribbon meeting is to be held, July 27 to 31, it is expected that they will be in better shape to go fast and carry their speed than ever in the past. The horses which are racing on the half mile tracks have been going faster than in other years at the same period and the big stables at the popular training camps are indulging in some merry miles.

There are a greater number of speedy trotters in the M. & M. this year and the same applies to the pacers in the C. of C. stake, this pair being the riding classics of the light harness turf and the feature of the annual speed carnival given by the Detroit Driving Club. On top of this Secretary Conner reports that very few horses have been withdrawn from the five stakes to be raced at the Blue Ribbon meeting, which means that the fields will be of unusual size.

The Detroit track will be in shape for record breaking this year. The turns have been rebuilt, the sand being carted away and clay substituted. Teams with harrows, floats and sprinkling wagons work day and night on the big oval, so that the last week in July will find it the best piece of dirt out of doors.

Horses which have been training at Detroit this year have been doing some fast miles, so that when race week comes, if the weather is of the right sort, there is every reason to expect the speed averages of the Blue Ribbon to be lowered in the hard fought contests bound to occur in the rich stakes and purses which make up the program of twenty races for the five afternoons.

Notice to Water Users.

It has been the aim of the Water Commission to furnish water without restrictions, but some have taken advantage of the situation and used water to excess, making it necessary to restrict water users to the regular rules, as follows:

- No. 1—Sprinkling lawns and gardens must be from 6:00 a. m. to 7:00 a. m. and from 6:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m.
- No. 2—Hose must not be used without nozzle, which must not exceed one-quarter inch in diameter.
- No. 3—Two lines of hose must not be used at the same time.
- No. 4—Hose must not be left running on lawns and gardens after above hours.
- No. 5—Consumers of water must not permit outsiders to use water from their hydrants.
- No. 6—Consumers of water must not sprinkle street beyond their frontage.
- No. 7—Faucets must not be left running or permitted to leak.

Any violation of the above rules will result in the water being cut off, and a charge of $1.00 will be made to turn it on.
