Celebrated 85th Birthday.

Robert Buchanan, of Dexter, and for many years a resident of Lima, for many years a resident of Lima, was surprised on his 85th birthday, November 12, by a visit from some of his children and grandchildren. Among the number were Mrs. Chas. Stannard, a daughter, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lamb, of Detroit, Mrs. Anna B. Taylor, of New York City, Miss Millicent Stannard, of Lansing, all grandchildren, and Marcella Lamb, a great grandchild, and Mrs. J. Lamb, of Detroit. Mr. Buchanan enjoyed the day very much and reenjoyed the day very much and re-ceived many gifts from relatives and short visit.

Tell Us About It. We presume there never was a newspaper in any locality that gave all the news. It is often that someone comes or goes that the reporter does not see. It happens that the same family is missed several times and they get the impression that the editor does not want to mention them. This is a mistake. Every local item is wanted, but it takes a lot of exertion to get a column of news in a town of this size. You can help us by telling The Standard when you have company, made a trip out of town or have any news of general interest. It will be appreciated. Our phone number is 50.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY IS GIVEN DETAILS OF BOMB PLOTS.

CONFESSION IS VOLUNTARY

Truth of Prisoner's Story is Not Yet Assured But Some Features Have Been Verified.

New York,-Robert Fay, self-styled lieutenant in the German army, and by his own confession head of a gang of bomb-makers that sought to disable or destroy munition-laden ships sailing from New York to the Allies, told the story of his life Monday to Assistant United States District Attorney Knox.

Fay talked freely, fully and of his own volition for five hours without interruption. What he said was not made public but at the conclusion of the session, Mr. Knox announced that all Fay wanted to do now was to plead guilty to the government's charges against him and go to jail.

The statement which the prisoner dictated carried him back to Germany, almost to the date of his birth, covered the high lights of his service in the German army, told in detail of his alleged mission to America and recited his movements and activities 7.25; butcher bulls, $5.75@6.25; sauhere.

Whether it was true in its essentials, District Attorney Marshall said afterward, had yet to be determined, but in some respects it was verified by information which the government had collected from other sources.

Two Held for Middleton's Death. Flint-Hiram Stratton and Elmer Wilcox were bound over to the circuit court on a charge of manslaughter. It is alleged the men caused the death of Emery T. Middleton, former state representative from Genessee county and prominent local option worker on the night of August 26. Middleton was trying to detain them for sheriff's officers after their automobile had wreck. ed a milk wagon and fell or was pushed from the running board of the machine, dying the next day with a fractured skull.

Columbiaville Bank Is Robbed.

Columbiaville-Yeggmen blew open the safe of the Columbiaville State bank at 2:30 o'clock Friday morning, obtained $4,000 in cash and negotiable papers, and escaped. Sheriff Carrigan of Lapeer, who is investigating, has no clue.

Mrs. A. R. Lambert, who lives across the street from the bank, was awakened by the noise of the explosion and attempted to spread an alarm. She was ordered back into the house by an armed man stationed on the porch.

ITEMS OF STATE INTEREST

After being out six hours a jury in the circuit court at Adrian awarded Cornelius Marsons, of Grand Rapids, $777 in his suit against the city of Hudson. The suit was for $8,000, which Marsons said was due him on a paving contract.

The Garland hotel, one of Boyne City's landmarks, was burned Friday. The brick building adjoining, owned by the Petoskey Brewing Co., was also badly damaged by fire and water. The loss will reach $10,000, partially cover. ed by insurance.

Fred Chapman, a farmer of Seville township Gratiot county, lost a leg in a bean thresher while assisting on the farm of Charles Going. He stepped from the haymow on to the top of the thresher and his foot went through into one of the cylinders.

How the Bureau of Census Manages to Keep Busy of gravel or brownstone. This will set Thompson Seedless and other delicate in a day or two and make a firm wall, and high-priced grapes may be grown

DERSONS who hold the usual opinion that the census bureau makes renumeration only every ten years and spends the intervening time compiling the data into various reports are far from the truth. As a matter of fact regular investigations of various kinds are in progress practically all of the time, separated by intervals ranging from two weeks to ten years, and in addition special investigations of almost any nature can, under the law, be demanded of Uncle Sam's statisticians at any time by the president, either house of congress or the director of the census himself. Recently an entirely new field of this sort has been opened up and, now that the ice has been broken and precedents created, promises to make much additional work for the bureau. The new activity is the counting of noses between decennial censuses in rapidly growing communities, at local expense. The first town to feel that the census figures of 1910 have been so far outdistanced as to libel the community was Tulsa, Okla. The immediate incentive that made an official "bycensus" desirable in this southwestern town was the wish of the local commercial club to have the municipality put out a bond issue for improvements that was larger than the corporation, according to its 1910 population rating, could manage. The count was completed in six days, and the bill for expenses, slightly over $800, was paid by the Tulsa Commercial club.

Hardly had the first special municipal census been completed when the census bureau was called on to begin work on another such job. This time the request was from the municipal government of Hamtramck, Mich., a town just outside of Detroit, that has been greatly enlarged by the location there of a large automobile manufacturing industry.

Many Varieties of Trees Found in Washington

THE intention of the government to create a national arboretum in the upper part of Rock Creek park recalls the apparently little-known fact that already the trees that grow in Washington constitute a vast arboretum, though the fact that the trees are so scattered detracts from the interest and value of the collection. It has been said that a feature of the national capital and one which distinguishes it above other cities is its wealth of foliage and multitude of tree forms. It is not only in the extent of its urban woodland that Washington stands first among cities, but also in the number of varieties of trees. Northern and southern, eastern and western, lowland, highland, marsh and mountain forms of trees grow in the streets, parks and gardens. It is no doubt true that the part of the city where the greatest number of tree families are represented is the park which surrounds the buildings of the department of agriculture. The place where the next greatest number of tree forms may be seen is either the National Botanic garden or the capitol grounds. There was an effort, and rather a successful effort, to gather in the capitol grounds specimens of most of the trees of the United States which could endure the climate of this latitude. A man who knows something about trees may identify within ten minutes' walk Japanese crabapple trees, wild black cherry, chinaberry trees, choke cherries, sassafrass, dogwoods, black haws, sweet gum and blue gum, hawthorne, horse chestnut and many members of the soapberry family. One may look at white and paper mulberry trees, great laurel, Japan lemon, Norway, sugar, rock and silver maple, Siberian pea trees, princess trees of the figwort family from China and Japan, and in the capitol grounds will be found silver bell trees of the storax family.

Seats of the Mighty Sell for Proverbial Song

SEATS of the mighty, so frequently coveted, were in little demand here the other day. Chairs occupied for more than thirty years by prominent judges of the District supreme court, living and dead, when holding conferences in the general-term room on weighty questions of law, sold for the proverbial "song" when offered at auction by Adam A. Weschler under direction of United States Marshal Splain. Large, roomy, high-backed revolving and tilting chairs, once handsomely upholstered in real leather, were "knocked down" at prices ranging from $2 to 50 cents each.

The occasion was the triennial sale made by the marshal outside the carded furniture and equipment of the city hall. A motley collection of broken chairs, desks and bookcases unused for some time and several discarded carpets were included in the sale, in addition to the furniture of the old general term consultation room. The equipment of this room remained unchanged from 1882 until last year, when Chief Justice Covington secured new furniture and carpets to replace the old chairs and settees which were much worn and had assumed an unpresentable appearance. Some of the articles offered by the auctioneer brought good prices, but the low figures placed by the crowd on the discarded "judgment seats" was the subject of comment.

MULCH STRAWBERRY TO PREVENT KILLING

Trouble Usually Caused by Plants Drying Out Too Much-Cover With Clean Straw.

(By E. F. M'KUNE, Colorado Agricul-tural College, Fort Collins, Colo.) The object of mulching strawberries in the fall is to prevent winter kill-

Winter killing is usually caused by the plants dying out too much during the winter months, or by alternate freezing and thawing.

The best mulch material to use is clean straw: this is placed on the plants four to six inches deep after the ground has been frozen.

In the spring after the ground is thawed, the straw is worked around the plants. This serves several purposes, such as keeping the patch free from weeds, conserving the moisture, and forming a clean mat for the berries to ripen on.

CATTLE SUFFERING FROM RHEUMATISM

Suggestions Given for Treatment by Expert of Minnesota Agricultural College.

Rheumatism among cattle has caused farmers to appeal to the Minnesota college of agriculture for suggestions as to treatment. "About the best the farmer can do for these cases," says Dr. M. H. Reynolds, chief of the veterinary division, "is to rub the affected parts with stimulating liniments or to apply a hot steam pack. A suitable cloth, woolen preferred, should be saturated with not water or mild liniment. This should be wrapped around the affected joint. Have you ever stopped to reason why is is that so many products that are exten-sively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promis plain—the article did not fullify the ises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value of the control of th lmost sells itself, as like an endless system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and veri-fied testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kil-mer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, cor-rects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper.—Adv.

But few men work overtime in an effort to make their wives happy.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are best for liver, bowels and stomach. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.—Adv.

It is cheaper to go by way of the water wagon, and that will account for a number of the fares.

Medical Examination Day. During tuberculosis week, which will be celebrated throughout the United States from December 6 to December 12, a national medical examination day will be observed on December 8. Groups and individuals will be urged to make arrangements for physical examination on that day. A circular describing in detail how the advantages of medical examination day may be obtained and indicating certain physical impairments which everyone should look for will be sent on request from the office of the National Asso lation for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East Twentysecond street, New York city.

CLINTON-George Millspaugh, who began working in the Lancaster garage a few weeks ago, died Sunday night from the effect of gasoline burns which he received Saturday night while trying to start a car a few miles east of Clinton. It is supposed through some mistake he opened the drainage valve to the gasoline tank and his clothing became saturated with gasoline, which became ignited when he struck a match. He leaves a wife and one child.

HOWELL—Howell's new pavement begins to take on a realistic look now as the work of laying brick began Thursday and is being rushed rapidly.

A large colored man is one of the men engaged in laying the brick and is a whirlwind at the business. The editor held his watch on him Thursday morning to see how fast he was laying them and saw him lay 160 bricks in 150 seconds or better than 4,800 per hour. At this speed the man would lay better than 48,000 bricks in a ten hour day. That is certainly going me, hey.-Tidings.

SANITATION IN DAIRY HOUSE

Extreme Care and Cleanliness Should Be Observed to Prevent Entrance of Bacteria Into Milk.

Unless considerable care is taken arge numbers of bacteria may find their way into the milk during the process of milking. Cows should be milked in clean, well-lighted stables. After grooming and before milking, the udders, flanks, and bellies of the cows should be carefully wiped with a damp cloth to remove any dust or loose hairs which might fall into the milk pail. Only those persons who are free from communicable disease should be allowed to handle milk or even enter the stable or dairy house. After the cows are prepared for milking each milker should thoroughly wash his hands and put on a pair of clean overalls and a jumper or wear a suit which is used for no other purpose. The suit must be kept clean and occasionally sterilized with steam or by boiling in water. The milking stool must also be clean, to avoid soiling the milker's hands.

The small-top milk pail is a necessity in the production of clean milk, as it presents only a small opening into which dust and dirt may fall from the air or from the cow's body. It has been found by experience that the use of this kind of pail greatly reduces the number of bacteria in milk from average dairies. By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Vale Benson was fishing off Bass Rocks when the brisk little motor boat whisked under his very nose and darted away around the point.

"There goes Miss Sindbad, the Sailor," he chuckled at the nickname given to the saucy owner of the launch, "And, by Jove, she's running off with my line!" The reel was spinning merrily and the line sang a tune as it ran tautly after the vanishing boat. Vale's hook and sinker were caught in the propeller of the little craft.

"Hi, there!" he shouted. Miss Sindbad did not turn around. "Hi, there! Miss Sindbad!" he yelled in desperation.

The brown head turned, the boat swung a wide circle and came about. A pair of big, brown eyes looked up into his. "You called me?" she asked sternly:

"Why-why, yes-you are running off with my line," he explained, pointing downwards. "Oh-I didn't know-I am very sorry. Can you come down and get it off?" she asked crisply. It took him half an hour to disentangle the line from the propeller.

At last it was off and Miss Sindbad was free to pursue her way. During the half hour Vale had learned that she lived in the red-gabled house at the extreme point.

"Red Gables," he muttered, staring after her. "Why, that is where Freda Frake, the writer, lives. By Jove, it's Miss Frake herself!"

All that evening he dreamed of Miss Sindbad's brown eyes and flushed cheeks, of the dimple in her chin and the soft curve of her face. How lovable she was! And to think that she should turn out to be Freda Frake. that mysterious writer of fascinating romances whose stories he had eagerly bought for his magazine, but whose personal identity was a mystery to him and his staff. "Tomorrow," he told himself, "I will call upon her. Who says there is no romance in this workaday world?" When the morrow came a walk out to the end of the point brought the young publisher all too soon at the end of his journey.

Seated at a table under the vines was an enormously stout woman writing rapidly in a leather-covered book "Mr. Bensen! I have always hoped to meet you some day," she cried with outstretched hand.

"Miss Frake?" he faltered. "Yes, of course-but how could you know me?" she laughed. "Sit down

An hour later Vale took farewell of the popular authoress and without one USE PATIENCE WITH CALVES glimpse of Miss Sindbad wended his way down to a group of cozy little cottages on the sandy slope.

He glanced casually at the last one and stopped abruptly. On the gate was the neat sign, "Red Gables," and coming down the steep steps was Miss Sindbad herself, a white duck hat on her brown head, her dark eyes dancing with pleasure.

"So this is Red Gables!" exclaimed Vale, and then at her amused glance he went on recklessly. "I've been calling on Miss Frake-I thought you lived there!"

"Such a pity-and such a difference," she sighed. "We're not a bit literary young calves can be taught to drink at our Red Gables-just plain, everyday folks-"

SYNOPSIS.

Confederate Sergeant Wyatt is sent as a spy to his native county on the Green Briar. He meets a mountaineer named Jem Taylor. At a house beyond Hot Springs they meet Major Harwood. Wyatt is sent to bed. He becomes suspicious, and finds that Taylor has murdered Harwood and escaped. Wyatt changes to U. S. uniform, and to a detachment of Federal cavalry identifies himself as Lieutenant Raymond, Third U. S. cavalry. Captain Fox finds Harwood's body. The detachment is ambushed. Wyatt escapes to the Green Briar country and goes to Harwood's home, where he finds Noreen Harwood. He introduces himself as Lieutenant Raymond. Parson Nichols comes to the house and tells Noreen of her father's death. Wyatt forces Parson Nichols to confess that he has been sent in advance of Anse Cowan, who proposes to marry Noreen at once, and so quiet title to the land in dispute between the Cawans and Noreen's dead father. Anse Cowan and his gang arrive and find the preacher bound in a closet. Wyatt and Noreen have concealed themselves in the attic. The Cowan gang ransacks the house, but fails to find the hidden couple. Wyatt tells Noreen who he is. They return to the second floor and await the Wyatt tells Noreen who he is. I swept my eyes over Nichols, who lay motionless, his arms folded across always nervous his face. To my mind the fellow was and tired, had a acting a part, and was not half as badly injured as he pretended to be. How ever, he could do us no great harm at present, and I stole silently across the room, and knelt beside her. She held the curtain aside, leaving just space enough for my eyes. For an instant dragging sensation across my loins, the glow of the burning building blinded me, and intensified the surroundand was troubled with short- ing darkness. I shadowed my eyes with my hand.

"Where are the men you saw? To the left?"

"Yes-back under the trees, close to the first negro cabin; see! just where I point."

Once located I could perceive the shadowy outline, which grew more distinct as I gazed. There were men there beyond doubt; it seemed to me twenty or thirty, although it was impossible to judge the number. But the shadow seemed to be disintegrating. Even as my eyes focused it, a section moved to the right, and then another swung into the open, circling along the orchard fence. "There is a slew of them," I muttered unthinkingly. "Anse meant to have company at his wedding."

"Oh, hush!" her hand caught my sleeve. "They-they are coming back to the house now."

Never surely was there a stranger marriage in all the world. "You wish to speak to me alone?" "Not necessarily; but I certainly prefer greater privacy than this. You "Take the men back into the hall, sergeant," the lieutenant ordered, "and look through whatever rooms have not been visited. Request Captain Whitlock to join me here."

We waited motionless, the lieutenant's hand on the butt of his revolver, as though he half suspicioned treachery. Twice he endeavored to open conversation with the lady, but her response was not encouraging, and he evidently did not feel safe except with his eyes on me. Raymond fronted me, a tall, well-proportioned fellow, with incipient mustache, black and curled at the points; a rather long face, and eyes sternly serious. There was about him an appearance of force-a bit of a bully I should say-and his uniform was new, and carefully fitted.

A man stood in the doorway, bow ing, his mild blue eyes surveying us nervously. He sported a light beard, closely trimmed, the top of his head scarcely reaching to the lieutenant's shoulder Miss Noreen greeted him with a welcoming smile, and he stepped gallantly forward, bending low as he accepted her hand.

"So pleased, so delighted, Miss Harwood, to flud you safe and well We were, indeed, greatly worried at the thought of your being here alone," he exclaimed, a slight lisp in his voice. "You have not suffered, I trust?"

"Not seriously, Captain Whitlock; the guerrillas were outwitted-"

"Ah! do not attempt to explain, I beg. We understand what you have passed through, as we have captured two of the villains. You sent for me, ieutenant Raymond?

"Yes, sir, I did," the young officer's expression exhibiting clearly the contempt he felt for his superior. "I preferred that you decide what shall be done with this fellow," pointing at finger at me. "Miss Harwood vouches for him, but I fail to understand how he comes to be in the uniform of my regiment."

The only drawback to cut flowers is that they wither so quickly, and in keeping them fresh some seem to have more luck than others. For instance, in the matter of violets, it is possible to wear them several times without noticing the overpowering stale odor which proclaims them beyond redemption. Of course many people find that they cannot wear cut flowers even for one afternoon, because in some cases the body heat seems to wilt them, but if this can be avoided it is quite possible to find a bunch almost as fresh the second day as on the first if they were properly guarded overnight. Keep the box that they came in and when you take them off hold the stems hinges, and half falling inward, and under running water for a few minnutes, taking care not to wet the viq lets themselves.

Then wrap them up in the oiled pa per and put them back in the coveret box outside the window if it is cool; if not, in the refrigeren, but in either case keep them wrapped.

This treatment seems to restore the flowers and hold in the delicious odor which so soon becomes rank if they are kept unwrapped in a close room. Some people think a pinch of salt in the water will keep cut flowers fresh longer, and so it does in some cases. In others it seems to change the colors a little. With roses it is successful, but not so much so with violets. A piece of gum camphor is said to be an excellent preservative in the water, and others advocate a small lump of charcoal, but in any case the water should be changed daily and the flowers put in a cool place overnight.

Prospects? Figure For Yourself.

Here is the official vote for congressman, cast by the Republican party in the Second District, at the Primary

Counties	Bacon-	Larwill	Reece	Total	r
Jackson	1095	Larwill 375	1875	3345	i
Lenawee	220	1173	42	1435 1730	1
Monroe	1336	204	190	1730	ľ
Washtenaw	1136	320	394	1850
Wayne	2151	173	178	2502	(
Total	5029	9945	2070	10000

If you will take the total vote of Wayne county 2502, from the total John Moeckel spent several days Bacon vote 5938, you will still find

Or you may take the combined total vote of MONROE, Washtenaw and Lenawee countles, from Bacon's total vote 5938, and you will find him ahead

Yes, you may take the combined total vote of MONROE, LENAWEE and ained Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Beeman and WAYNE counties, from Bacon's total vote 5938, and you will still find him

You may combine Jackson and Wayne, or make a combination of any Mr. and Mrs. Adam Faist and sons two counties in the District, and take and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaible of it away from the Bacon vote of 5938, and you will still find him ahead.

> The 1914 vote was the largest ever cast in the 2nd district at a primary election.

> You cannot reasonably say that he received many Democrat votes, as they had a contest on for the congressional nomination among themselves, and no votes to throw away. Now, with his campaign last year, his acquaintance over the district, with justice in his claim for the nomination; with his appealing directly to the people and not to the politicians; -being one Lincoln's "plain people" himself; being a business man;-born to labor, and on a farm; and with his known energy in a campaign; can you reasonably believe his chances for the nomination are not really better than either of the several candidates now seeking the nomination? And you will not find him asleep at the switch in 1916.—Adv.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS IN CHELSEA

Such Evidence Our Readers Cannot Dispute.

As we take up the Standard we are struck by the hearty, unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mr. Lehman does here. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Geraghty, If these people were strangers living on Thursday, November 11, 1915, a son. miles away we might take little miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors, living among us. Their word is too easily proven to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others. C. Lehman, 420 Garfield St., Chelsea, says: "I was bothered by weak kidneys and backache. Constant lameness across my back annoyed me and the kidney secretions were irregular

Notice of Meeting

Notice of Meeting

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Be it known that on the 23rd day of October, A. D. 1915, an application was filed with Clayton E. Deake, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Washtenaw, for the extending, straightening and changing course of a feertain Drain, which said drain was described in said application as follows, to-wit:

Beginning on the south line of the highway between Sections 7 and 18 in the drain as now established, known as the Palmer and Baldwin Drain, and running thence north across the highway to or near the south-west corner of the lands now belonging to Henry Winter; thence in a straight line north-eastwardly across the said Winter lands to or near the north-east corner of said Winter lands on the Section line. Also commencing at said drain on the north side of the highway near the said south-west corner of said Winter lands and running thence west along the north side of said highway about five rods to and connecting with the south-east corner of the lands belonging to Jacob F. Alber, Said above mentioned portions of said drain to be laid with eighteen (18) inch glazed collar tile; that said Drain will traverse the township of Lima.

Now therefore be it further known that by that said Drain will traverse the township of Lima.

Now therefore be it further known that by virtue of the power vested in me by the statutes in case made and provided. I hereby designate that en the 23rd day of November, A, D. 1915, at one o'clock in the afternoon at the highway in front of Winter's farm in the Township of Lima and County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, as the time and place of meeting to consider and take action on said application for the purpose of determining whether or not said propaged drain is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience and welfare, at which time and place aforesaid all persons interested or owning land liable to assessment for benefits or whose lands may be traversed by said Drain may appear for or against said drain proceedings, and are notified to meet and offer their reasons why said petition or prayer should or should not be granted.
