Studebaker makes more of the parts of its cars than any other manufacturer. It makes its own bodies—and they are made at the South Bend plants—the same care in manufacture, the same honesty in workmanship, quality and material, is placed in the Studebaker body that has been placed for years in every product turned out by the great factories of Studebaker.

The Framework is built of the finest quality secondgrowth hard wood; the reinforcements are drop forge steel; the frame work of wood; the steel is submerged in a life-preserving dip of lead paint. The outside of the body is sheet steel, the same gauge as that used in the highest priced cars.

There is nothing "tinny" about the Studebaker body. It is strong, rigid, substantial, yet exceptionally light, because it is framed on high quality second-growth hard wood, and drop forge steel and steel stampings. It cannot work loose, rattle, split or crack. It is finished with twenty-five hand applied paint and varnish operations—the same process that is used on cars costing from

Its lines are beautiful. It is roomy enough for perfect comfort. It is upholstered in the finest material. The body work of Studebaker cars is famous. Examine either a FOUR or SIX, and you will easily Change in Hunting License Law Brought to Attention Of Hunters.

The changes in the law provide, among other things, that all alien residents who have not secured their notify friends now living in Detroit full citizenship papers are classed as non-residents and must pay the nonresident fee for hunting licenses.

Any person losing his license may secure a new license by filing an affi-davit of loss with person issuing same and paying an additional fee of one dollar

Minor children over 12 years of age and under 17 may secure a license to hunt, on application and oath of their parents or legal guardian, providing such minor is accompanied by a parent, guardian or some person authorized by them, when hunting or trapping.

The state department recommends that all county clerks organize their counties for the sale of licenses by the appointment of deputies in various places in each county for the convenience of the sportsmen, but state if the changes in the law make this method, chiestings he is a clerk. this method objectionable to clerks then this department will organize for the sale of licenses by appoint-ment of deputies for that purpose.

HOOVER TELLS AMERICAN PEOPLE OF THE FOOD PROBLEM AND ITS SOLUTION

population of our own land. The normal imports of wheat and other cereals by France, Italy, the United Kingdom and Belgium, and the estimates of the 1917 crop in those countries compared to the normal production are given by Mr. Hoover in tabulated form, and the conclusion is point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the drawn that in order to provide normal consumption it will be necessary for them to import in the next 12 months 577,000,000 bushels of wheat and 674,000,000 bushels of other cereals. If the crops of the United States and Canada all mature safely, North the great majority of thrifty people America will have an apparent surplus of 208,000,000 bushels of wheat and 950,000,000 bushels of other cereals. The allies, therefore, must use other cereals than wheat for mixing in their war bread, and the people of America must reduce their consumption of wheat flour from five to four pounds per week per person. Decrease in Food Animals. careful estimate of the world's food animal position shows a total net decrease of 115,005,000, and this will be greater as the war goes on. As the increase of herds and flocks takes years, we must reduce the consumption, eliminate waste and carefully control meat exports.

Our home dairy products supplies are decreasing, while our population is increasing, and we must ship increasing amounts of such products to our allies. Consequently this industry must be stimulated, and home users must save the wastes in milk and butter. Much the same may be said in the case of sugar. Mr. Hoover urges a greater consumption of fish and sea foods, in which our coasts and lakes are enormously rich. The products of the land, In ferocity. After the war, we must he reminds us, are conserved by the maintain our foreign markets if our

We must maintain prices at they may fight our battles, but it is such a level as will stimulate producan act of humanity towards fellow tion, for we are faced by a starving men, women and children.

By the diversion of millions of men from production to war, by the occupation of land by armies, by the isolation of markets, by belligerent lines, and by the destruction of shipping by submarines, not only has the home production of our allies fallen by over 500,000,000 bushels of grain, but they tain our high standard of nutrition, are thrown upon us for a much larger proportion of their normal imports formerly obtained from other markets.

They have reduced consumption at every point, but men in the trenches, men in the shops, and the millions of women placed at physical labor require more food than during peace times, and the incidence of their saving and any shortage which they may suffer, falls first upon women and children. If this privation becomes too great, their peoples cannot be maintained constant in the war, and we will be left alone to fight the battle of democracy with Germany.

The problem of food conservation is one of many complexions. We cannot, and we do not wish, with our free institutions and our large resources of food, to imitate Europe in its policed rationing, but we must voluntarily and intelligently assume the responsibility before us as one in which everyone has a direct and inescapable interest. to the aliles, and in the circumstances of our shipping situation, these exports must be of the most concentrated foods. The whole of Europe has been engaged ever since the war began in the elimination of waste, the simplification of life, and the increase of its industrial capacity. For Better Distribution.

Beyond this the duty has been laid upon the food administration to co-operate with the patriotic men in trades and commerce, that we may eliminate the evils which have grown into our system of distribution, that the burden may fall equitably upon all by restoration, so far as may be, of the normal course of trade. It is the purpose of the food administration to use its utmost power and the utmost ability that patriotism can assemble to ameliorate this situation to such a degree as shape and to improve them from time to time. In North Carolina, convicts have been employed on the roads since 1881, but the counties have been required to hire them from the state and pay for them out of the county funds. The counties have, therefore, been parsimonious in their expenditures on road improvements. Governor Bickett suggests that county commissioners be compelled to levy an annual maintenance tax, to be spent by the state highway commission for the upkeep of the roads.

The national committee on prison la bor has repeatedly shown the value of employing convicts in road-making. In North Carolina and other agricultural states, this method of employing the convict is particularly advantageous because of the scarcity of labor at this

The war brings the matter of the employment of unskilled labor on roads before the public again. Unskilled labor has become very scarce and expensive; yet the present crisis demands that the roads of the country be maintained in good shape to insure rapid transmission of products. The national committee on prisons and prison labor has begun a movement for the mobilization of the convicts of the country in a national and state service for the building and upkeep of good roads.

In this effort the committee will have the hearty support of the American Automobile association through its good roads board, which includes a member from each one of the 600 odd clubs contained in the national body

STUDEBAKER MAN

Declares Tanlac Overcame Trouble of Ten Years Standing.

GAINED TEN POUNDS

"Three Bottles of Tanlac Did Me More Good Than All the Other Medicine I Took Put Together," He Says.

"I have not only gotten rid of all my ten years of suffering by taking Tanlac, but I have actually gained ten pounds besides," said Chas. J. Bemiss, a painter and finisher, employed by the Studebaker Motor Co., and residing at 839 Rohns Ave., Detroit, Mich.

"I was troubled with a bad stomach for ten years," continued Mr. Bemiss, "and guess I had about all the miserable feelings anybody ever had from indigestion. Gas would form on my stomach and rise up around my heart and make it difficult for me to breathe. I was very nervous, hardly ever got a good night's sleep and had a fired and languid feeling that made me dread my work, Many a night I left the plant hardly able to make it home. I tried all kinds of medicine and treatment without getting any benefit and lost weight and strength until my condition became alarming.

"I have taken three bottles of Tanlac and I now feel like my old self again for the first time in years. I sleep sound as a dollar and get up in the mornings feeling fresh as a flower, eat a hearty breakfast and go to my work feeling fine. The nervousness and constipation are gone, and I don't have the headaches any longer. I eat just anything I want and my ten pounds increase in weight shows the fine work Tanlac has done. I can now work from daybreak to dark without getting tired. Yes, sir, those three bottles of Tanlac did me more good than all the other medicines I ever took put together."
