ONION WAREHOUSE BURNED TO GROUND

Upwards 17,000 Bushels Onions
Destroyed in Spectacular
Fire Friday Evening.

Fire Friday evening totally destroyed H. S. Holmes' big warehouse and contents, including 3,000 bushels of onions, equivalent to about five average carloads. During the cold weather of the past few weeks it had been necessary to keep a fire going to prevent the onions freezing and it is presumed the fire caught from an overheated stove.

Just west of and adjoining the Holmes' warehouse is another still larger warehouse owned by Alber Bros. The east end of this building was partially burned, but aided by a southwest wind, the firemen were able to save that building.

The Alber warehouse contained about 25 carloads of onions and about 1,500 bushels of apples, all of which are practically ruined.

The fire was discovered about eight o'clock by Harry Serviss, signal man on the Michigan Central railroad. The warehouse stood just west of the M. C. freight house on the south side of the tracks. Mr.
Serviss was on his way to fix a signal west of town and smelled smoke. He returned to the depot and operator
Wesley Smith turned in an alarm.

The fire department responded promptly, but the huge frame building was all ablaze inside and the flames were breaking through the roof.

At current prices the value of the damaged food-stuffs will run well above $20,000 and the total damage is estimated by some to exceed $30,000. The total insurance carried was about $20,000.

Among those who had property
destroyed and whose losses are covered by insurance are: H. S. Holmes, Alber Bros., John Reule, Frank
Sweetland, J. L. Sibley, Warren
Spaulding, O. D. Schneider, J. F. Al-
ber, J. N. Dancer and E. H. Wisely.

Those who had no insurance and whose loss is total are: Dr. G. W.
Palmer, Fred Winters, E. E. Smith
and J. B. Hamilton.

REVIVE DISCUSSION MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Council Instructed Clerk to Write Architect Regarding Plans.

The village council last evening
revived the discussion of a new fire hall and municipal building and instructed the village clerk to write an Ann Arbor architect regarding plans made several years ago.

It is claimed that the village fire department cannot properly care for its hose and equipment in the present barn-like structure and that the loss incurred each year by depreciation on the hose alone would pay the interest on an investment of $10,000 to $12,000.

YPSI. MAN TOOK BATH TABLET INTERNALLY

Poisonous Disinfectant Had To Be Pumped Out To Save Life.

A bath tablet, a poisonous disinfectant used as a smallpox preventive, caused a commotion at Kum Back Inn, on East Cross street, Ypsilanti, Monday, when the Inn was visited by Health Officer Westfall, while 20 patrons were being served and a waiter, Roy Brooks, was found to have swallowed.

The health officer was holding the roomful for vaccination and disinfecting and had passed out bath tablets to each and was giving instructions, when one man swallowed his, supposing that was what it was meant for. As soon as it was learned what he had done a stomach pump was brought into play and his life was saved.

The doors were guarded lest some of the people escape and vaccination
and disinfecting was accomplished.
Brooks was quarantined as was also the restaurant.—Record.

COUNTY BEEKEEPERS

Organized in Ypsilanti Last Week;
Next Meeting in March.

The beekeepers of Washtenaw county met at the Masonic temple in Ypsilanti on Wednesday for an informal discussion of the condition of their business and after canvassing
the matter thoroughly, they voted to organize for larger efficiency in honey production.

A constitution was adopted and the following officers were chosen:
President, Floyd Markham, Ypsilanti; vice president, E. B. Manwaring,
Ann Arbor; secretary and treasurer,
Edwin Ewell, Ypsilanti.

Another meeting will be held some time in March in Ann Arbor.

OFFICERS ARBEITER VEREIN.

The Arbeiter Verein elected officers last evening as follows: President, Michael Morke; vice president, Orvin Schmidt; secretary, Charles Neuburger; treasurer, O. D. Schneider; sick secretary, Robert Swickard;
steward, Charles Kaercher; physician, Dr. Andros Gulde; trustee for three years, Burnett Steinbach.

INCOME TAX OFFICER.

Citizens of Chelsea and vicinity should bear in mind that a federal income tax officer will be in Chelsea all day on Friday, January 25th, and that he will have his office in the directors' room of the Kempf Commercial & Savings bank.

MICHIGAN DAY Friday, January 26

PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

I pledge allegiance to my Flag and to the Republic
for which it stands: One Nation indiviisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

How to Give Pledge With Salute
Right hand lifted, palm downward, to a line with the forehead and close to it. Standing thus, all repeat the pledge slowly. At the words "to my Flag" the right hand is extended gracefully, palm upward, toward the Flag and remains in this position to the end of the affirmation, whereupon it quickly drops to the side.

Department of Public Instruction To the Teachers of Michigan:

January Twenty-Six (this year a Saturday) is the anniversary of Michigan's admission to the Union. I therefore appoint Friday, January Twenty-fifth, to be observed with appropriate patriotic exercises.

Hereafter let school be opened every Monday morning by the presentation of patriotic instruction of some nature. At the close of this weekly exercises your pupils will rise and give the Pledge to the Flag as directed above. This done and you will have begun the week well.

Are America's ideals safe? They are assailed—they are passing through fire. They are safe if enough people understand them. On Friday, January twenty-fifth, let us consecrate ourselves anew to that task.

Sincerely,
Fred L. Keeler,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

THANKS FOR RED CROSS CHRISTMAS PACKAGE

Mrs. C. Hummel's Package Received
by Sgt. Major Michaels
at Camp Custer.

Mrs. Chaucer Hummel has received a letter of thanks from Sergeant Major Morris Michaels of the 340th
Inf., Camp Custer. The letter follows:

My dear friend:
I fortunately happen to be one of the recipients of a Red Cross Christmas package which contains your little note and in reply permit me first of all to extend my sincere thanks for your thoughtfulness and well wishes.

It is highly commendable of such an organization as the Red Cross to remember the "boys" in such fashion,
but it is only typical of that wonderful institution. They are doing a wonderful work and I know every soldier joins me in expressing appreciation for the work which has and is being done.

Thanking you very kindly again,
and looking for a reply, I am,
Sincerely,
Morris Michaels,
Sgt. Major 340th Inf.,
Camp Custer, Mich.

READ SONIA'S STORY

Experience of Russian Girl in Belgium is Story of German
"Frightfulness."

Those who object to giving up white bread or meat once a week and who think the government has no business to regulate rations of sugar should listen to a newcomer to Detroit, 18-year-old Sonia Stern, who was in Brussels after the war broke out and "got used to being hungry."

Sonia speaks English well for one who has been here only a few months but she is much more at home when she speaks Flemish, French or German. She lived in Brussels 15 years, having been brought to Belgium
when only three years old. She is a Russian by birth.

She escaped from Belgium, under the protection of United States Commissioner Burroughs, who was leaving for the United States with his wife, and who took Sonia along as his child. Sonia's mother has been living in Detroit, at 314 East Willis avenue. The story, republished from the Detroit Free Press, follows:
"It was in the little towns like Mons and Namur that he did as he wanted, the German," said Sonia in gentle, broken phrases. "And Louvain! Louvain was terrible. There he drove the people into their cellars or burned the houses with the people shut up in them.

"That big river, the Meuse, it was from the shore red with blood. And in all the country from Mons to Brussels there is no house standing.
Two hundred people he shot, one after another, at Mons, because they would not give up their grain and their cattle.

"Maybe you do not think you can believe all you read but it is all true.
In the hospitals at Brussels I have seen little babies with their hands cut off. And when there are German nurses, we know they put poison in the bandages.

"Four times they bombarded Brussels, but what we call 'la ville,' what you say, the downtown, is not hurt.
"We were not, what you call it, starved? No, but we had never enough, so we got used to hunger.
Not enough bread, meat only three times a week, sugar not at all, and in the winter, no milk, only for babies, was what we had."

Sonia is working in Detroit, but she would prefer the chance to teach the French language.

LEGISLATIVE MANUAL PUBLISHED IN 1841

Was Property of Hon. Jacob Cook Member State Legislature and Grandfather N. H. Cook.

N. H. Cook recently found in an out-of-the-way corner of his bookcase a copy of the Legislative Manual of the State of Michigan for the year 1841. The book originally belonged to Mr. Cook's grandfather, Jacob Cook of Saline, who was a member of the House of Representatives in 1841.

The state capital was then located at Detroit. The book is pocket size, 3 1/2 x 5 inches, and is bound in leather with gilt stampings. On the front cover is stamped the owner's name, J. Cook. The book was printed in Detroit by Dawson & Bates.

The figures of the census of 1840
are published, the total inhabitants in the state being 211,705. Detroit was then a flourishing town of 9,124.
The total population of Washtenaw county was 25,539. Not all the townships are given, but those mentioned are as follows: Ypsilanti, 2,419;
Superior, 1,398; Saline, 1,364; Augusta, 636; York, 1,114; Pittsfield,
1,152; Salem, 1,390; Lodi, 1,077;
Freedom, 956; other returns not divided into townships, 11,991.

There were six members in the House of Representatives from Washtenaw county as follows: Nathan Pierce, John Geddes, Jacob Cook, Grove Spencer, George Ren-
wick, Levi Rogers.

In a list of postmasters are the following for this county: Ann Arbor, Charles Thayer; Ypsilanti, R. E.
Morse; Pierceville (Chelsea), Alfred
C. Holt; Dexter, Nelson H. Wing;
Saline, Orange Risdon; Lima, W. H.
Bessac; Sylvan, Henry H. Medley;
Piedmont, S. S. Woods; Iron Creek,
E. Foster; Lodi, Orin Howe; Lucerne, John Renwick; North Lake, Hay Stevenson; Sharon, Oliver Kel-
log; Scio, B. C. Brock; Webster, J.
D. Williams; etc. Manchester was mentioned, but the postmaster's
name was not given.

There were only four circuit court
districts in the state, formed as follows: First circuit, counties of Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Michigan, Chippewa; second circuit,
Monroe, Lenawee, Hillsdale, Jackson,
Washtenaw, Livingston; third circuit, Branch, St. Joseph, Cass, Berrien, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Allegan, Calhoun; fourth circuit, Oakland, Lapeer, Shiawassee, Genesee, Saginaw, Ionia, Kent.

Some of the postmasters in nearby towns outside of Washtenaw county were: Brooklyn, Calvin H. Swaine; Brighton, R. D. Powers; Clinton, Edwin Smith; Grass Lake, L. D. Hale; Hamburg, Reuben H. Bennett; Henrietta, J. Davidson; Howell, E. Barnard; Jackson, George B. Cooper; Mason, Ephraim B. Danforth; Norvell, Harvey Austin; Pinckney, G.
Reeves; Stockbridge, S. Beebe, Jr.;
Tecumseh, C. Hewitt; Uxbridge, G. C.
Dibble; Waterloo, W. Mills.

Notice to Owners of Dogs

TOWNSHIP OF SYLVAN

Don't wait for the Supervisor to come and take your assessment and give you a Tag, but call on Township Clerk, Fred G. Broesamle, in January, according to the new law, as follows:

"Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of each owner of any dog over four months of age, on or before the first day of February of each year, to secure from the clerk of the village or township in which he or she may reside, a metal registration tag showing the name of the township or village and license year and clerk's registration number thereon, and such tag or device shall be securely fastened to the collar of the dog and constantly worn by such dog. The clerk of the village or township shall keep a registration book for such purpose and enter therein the name of the owner and the number of each tag applied for, together with the description of each dog so licensed. The owner shall pay to the clerk the sum of two dollars for each male dog and each spayed female dog (when a certificate of a veterinary surgeon that such female dog has been spayed is presented to such clerk), and the sum of five dollars for each unspayed female dog for each tag issued."

"Sec. 9. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars, or to imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Any person presenting a false claim, under the provisions of this act, or receiving any money on such false claim, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and on conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the state's prison not exceeding two years, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court."

Any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable or police officer shall have authority to destroy, and it shall be his duty to destroy any dog or dogs, found at large in violation of the provisions of this law.

IMPORTANT: Secure your Dog License During January.

Dog taxes may be paid at my residence, 601 South Main street, Chelsea, any day this month, and at W. F. Kantlehner's store on Saturday evenings.

FRED G. BROESAMLE, Clerk of Sylvan Township.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, irregularities, backache, headache, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrborg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

STATE MAY SEIZE HOARDED SUGAR

SURVEY BEING MADE OF LARGE STORES HELD BY PRIVATE FAMILIES.

CUSTER GETS NEW SCHEDULE

Eighteen Weeks of Training Mapped Out for 85th Division—Augurs Delay in Overseas Trip.

Lansing.
Announcement has been made at the office of the state food administrator that county administrators are being instructed to survey their various counties to ascertain the amount of sugar stored by private families.

Any person having more sugar than will supply his family needs for the next 60 days is required to inform the county food administrator as to the number of pounds he has on hand. Wholesale dealers practically are out of sugar, and it is said that this condition may exist for four or five weeks.

The federal food administration at Washington has announced that three-quarters of a pound of sugar per person per week is sufficient.

The Ingham county administration has received reports from a number of persons in Lansing, who purchased quantities of sugar last year, and he estimates that there are several tons of sugar there which he can get to fill emergency orders.

There are about 1,000 restaurants and hotels that have failed to register with the state food administration. Unless they register at once their names will be forwarded to Washington, and the penalty provided by law will be evoked.

During December, 1,075 hotels report a saving of 150,557 pounds of meat, 89,617 pounds of flour and 6,403 loaves of bread, as a result of observing meatless and wheatless days.

Custer Gets New Schedule

With the publication in Camp Custer of new training orders received from the war department, the 85th division is settling down to an acceptance of the fact that many months will elapse before it will see France.

Eighteen weeks of "intensive training" are ordered along new lines and as no great progress can be made until the remainder of the selective draft puts in an appearance and bring the division up to full strength, it is easy to see that June is an early date for the completion of the schedule.

The new instructions state that the old training order emphasizes too strongly the importance of trench warfare. While this war has called into use new weapons and new methods it has not obviated the use and necessity of the old. Most of these new things can be quickly taught to soldiers otherwise trained. A few days are all that are required for most of them, and if training can not be completed in the United States this part is the one to be left to be done abroad.

"The absolute essentials for all troops and what requires most time and care to impart and should therefore be given before sailing are:

"Discipline."
"Physical development."
"Personal hygiene."
"The ordinary drill of his arm of service."
"Use of his weapon."
"How to use pick and shovel."
"These can not be acquired in a few hours or days."

Custer Saved By Red Cross

No story of the blizzard would be complete without a tribute to the work of the American Red Cross and to the knitting needles of the thousands of Michigan women who fashioned the comforts which this organization distributed.

Every colonel at Camp Custer will tell you that his regiment could not have come through the cold safely had it not been for the knitted helmets, sweaters and hose which have been distributed by the Red Cross. The army issues no helmets, no sweaters, and no heavy hoot socks. Yet orders were issued to see that no man should leave his barracks until he had donned all of these articles which shows how necessary they were.

Surgeons in the regimental infirmaries say that without the knitted helmets hundreds of men would have frozen their faces and their ears and that the heavy hose prevented an equally large number of frozen feet.

Camp Custer probably averaged higher in comfort during the storm than any city of its size in Michigan. The fact that the coat was shoveled; that guards were maintained against fire; that food was distributed and that men could go out to perform their necessary duties which would not wait for the weather, was due in the final analysis to the Red Cross and its great army of women who knit.

Must Practice Economy.

Unless every village, city and person in the United States and Canada practices strict economy for the next three months, their allies and soldiers in France will suffer for the want of wheat, is the statement made to Food Administrator Prescott, by W. J. Hanna, Canadian food controller. "The men who take advantage of the present shortage should be pilloried by the press," Mr. Hanna, declared. "The situation is desperate and calls for plain talk."

Custer Has Elaborate Trenches.

Camp Custer possesses the largest, and most elaborate trench system of any army training camp in the United States.

The rigid censorship, which has heretofore been maintained concerning the trench area of the 85th division, has been lifted by the commandant, Major-General Parker.

An idea of the magnitude of the trench system can be obtained from the following figures:

Cost of construction, if under actual warfare conditions, $3,000,000; time of construction, 200,000 working days; materials used, 1,800 miles of barbed wire, 20,000 sandbags, 300 tons of steel rails, concrete, lumber and corrugated iron.

The system contains 15 miles of trenches, has a front of 540 yards and a depth of 760 yards.

There are six front-line trenches, each 55 yards long. The second line consists of the supervisory trenches, 25 yards to the rear; the third, the second line of firing trenches, 55 yards back; the fourth, the support trenches, which are identical with the first, 160 yards from the front.

Each line is supported with powerful barbed wire entanglements. The trenches connect with each other by means of communicating trenches running from every element. The flanks of all barbed wire entanglements are defended by machine guns.

The fifth row is the intermediate trench, from which communication trenches lead 260 yards to the "strong points." They are concealed in the woods, are defensible against attack from any direction, are enclosed in masses of entanglements, firing trenches and "pill boxes," and with their armament of machine guns and trench mortars are veritable fortresses.

The trench system is constructed to compel the enemy to establish his line about 120 yards from the Custer front line. The entanglements and obstacles throughout are so powerful that any enemy would be annihilated by the protecting machine guns.

Throughout the area are kitchens, shelters, dressing stations and dugouts. The area could be garrisoned by one company in the front line trenches, another in the support trenches, and a company in each of the two "strong-points" in the woods.

Memory of Storm Lingers.

Camp Custer in the grip of the blizzard was a sight worth seeing and remembering.

Drifts piled as high as a man's head blocked the roads and touched the eaves of the small buildings; barracks were hidden behind a white curtain of wind-driven snow so thick no eye could pierce it; solitary figures fought their way into the blast or fled before it; abandoned automobiles squatted here and there, forlornly flapping loosened curtains; gangs of shivers, wrapped in the eves, unloading coal in 15-minute shifts, that the great steam plants might be fed; a tablecloth of white snow lay on the boards of the officers' mess for a meal at which the men wore a great coat, helmet and muffler, but at which at least the hospitality was warm and the hearts cheerful; windows faintly translucent in their heavy coating of frost; barracks into which gusts of snow sifted and fell across the piano at which men gathered to sing; infirmaries filled with victims of frost-bites; in every headquarters but one thought—the comfort of the men.

The steam plants met what will probably be the most severe test to which they will ever be put in a most commendable manner. The barracks were comfortably warm, but the officers' quarters were cold.

There were two good reasons for this condition. One was that the barracks got the first steam from the plants, and the other was that from the major-general, who sat at the wheel of his big car and smashed his way through the drifts after all traffic had been abandoned, down to the last second Lieutenant, each man with shoulder straps was devoting every minute of his time to watching over the enlisted men.

Plan Resthouse for Women at Camp.

Camp Custer is now likely to have a hostess house where mothers, sisters and sweethearts of soldiers can meet them for week-end visits.

Major-General James Parker, commandant of the cantonment, has approved, through Captain Newman, his aide, and the Y. W. C. A. has been notified of his decision.

The national Y. W. C. A. was ready to finance the erection of a hostess house several weeks ago, when Major-General Joseph T. Dickman was commandant, but General Dickman was not overly enthusiastic, believing the camp was near enough to Battle Creek to make such a place within the camp unnecessary.

CAMP CUSTER NOTES

Because of cold weather and heavy snow, Custer soldiers will get little practice in trench warfare till spring.

The trench mortars brought to this country by British officers stationed at Camp Custer as instructors, have arrived after several weeks of delay and practical work has begun.

The study of French is being given still more encouragement at Custer. The division commander feels that an officer will increase his value 50 per cent by a knowledge of the French language, once he is abroad, and is urging the formation of more classes. The post exchanges have been instructed to offer a standard French book for sale to enlisted men at a low price.

VISIBLE SPOTS OF JUPITER

Astronomer Amfounsky Combats the Prevalent Idea That Features Consist of Clouds.

In a communication to the British Astronomical association A. Amfounsky combats the prevalent idea that the visible features of Jupiter consist of clouds, with perhaps glimpses of the real surface of the planet between them, according to Scientific American. He points out that clouds, no matter of what vapor their drops may consist, should appear luminous when reflecting sunlight. But there are many extensive dark markings on Jupiter, and as the luminous zones never appear to cover over the dark formations they cannot be considered as floating or moving above them; neither can the dark formations, if they are clouds, be the higher, because then they would appear luminous.

Mr. Amfounsky concludes that both kinds of markings are at the same level and represent the real surface of Jupiter, this surface consisting of matter in a state between liquid and viscous. The high albedo of Jupiter, its peculiarities of rotation, its spheroidal form and its relatively small density indicate that its body is neither solid nor gaseous; its rapid rotation would dissipate its elements if it were gaseous, and its spheroidal compression is too great for a solid globe.

According to this hypothesis the luminous zones and dark formations would represent currents of liquid or semi-liquid matter in different physical or chemical conditions, and hence reflecting light differently.

Manchuria Wild-Cocoon Crop.

Estimates from the local fluturers and large cocoon dealers, according to Vice Consul N. F. Allman, Antung, China, place the output at nearly double the quantity raised in 1916, when the crop was almost a complete failure.

The full crop is estimated at 60,000 baskets, with 40,000 cocoons to the basket. The average price is 1.55 taels per 1,000 cocoons, or 3,720,000 taels for the estimated crop. At the current rate of exchange the value expressed in United States currency is $3,737,830.

Though the silkworms passed through many wet days during July and August, no serious harm was caused to them, and they matured favorably. However, the cocoons are not quite up to mark in quality, as supply of scrub oak leaves was limited in comparison with the large number of worms feeding on them.

While the wastage of the York-shire cliffs is to be deplored, the result is sometimes of advantage to the geologist and antiquary. Recently, in the vicinity of Scarborough, a fall of the cliff has revealed a hoard of bronze weapons, which consisted of battle axes, spears, cauls, gouges, portions of a sword, etc. Twelve of the axes, of the socketed type, are perfect. One shows the unusual feature of a rivet hole in place of a loop for securing hatching; another contained a portion of the original wood shaft. Some of the axes are in the rough state, as if just turned out of the mold; others have obviously been in use. The collection evidently formed the stock in trade of a metal worker of the bronze age, at least 1,000 years before the Christian era.—Nature.

A Diplomatic Reply.

"Don't you think that spats make a girl's feet look larger?"
"I don't like to criticize anything the ladies do."
"But don't you think so?"
"Well, I don't believe Cinderella wore 'em. I will say that much."

The Sort.

"I wish this town had a temperance temperature."
"What kind is that?"
"The kind which is not addicted to taking a drop now and then."

MUNITION SHOPS GET EXEMPTIONS

ALLOWED TO REOPEN AFTER BEING CLOSED ONE DAY BY GARFIELD ORDER.

TELEGRAMS FLOOD CAPITOL

Most Big Steel Plants and Large Auto Factories Placed in Exempted List.

Washington—The nation's manufacturing industry in the 25 states east of the Mississippi river was virtually suspended Friday, of last week, in obedience to the government's order forbidding use of fuel.

Most of the plants engaged on war contracts were exempted from the order's operation in telegrams sent out Thursday night, but few of them learned of it in time and a great majority of them closed down with other factories.

The country at large knew nothing of exemptions except the few announced Thursday night, and it was not until late Friday afternoon that the fuel administration admitted officially, important war work was not affected by the order and gave out a list of hundreds of factories that could continue work on government contracts only, during the five day's closing period.

Confusion attending enforcement of the order was general. Such a flood of telegrams poured into the offices of the fuel administration asking interpretations and rulings and requesting information concerning exemption list was given to the press for publication.

The Exempted Plants.

Plants exempted from a list prepared by Secretaries Baker and Daniels were those manufacturing gas masks, explosives for the government, rifles, pistols, machine guns and small arms ammunition; forgings for the government, electrical supplies and tool steel for war purposes, destroyers and destroyer parts, seamless tubes and condenser tubes, aircraft and aircraft parts, signal corps equipment, locomotives, equipment for ships, woolen goods for the army and navy, white duck and tenting for the government and optical supplies.

All shipyards, although not included in the exempted list, continued operation under a special ruling as did hundreds of plants turning out materials entering directly into the manufacture of army and navy supplies.

Most of the big steel plants and a large number of the country's automobile factories were included in the list.

Among collateral industries which were classed as not coming within provisions of the order were virtually all mines producing ores.

Statement of President.

In his statement supporting Dr. Garfield's issuance of the closing order, President Wilson said he was consulted and fully agreed with the fuel administrator as to its necessity. If the action had not been taken, he declared, immediate relief could not have been found for the fuel and transportation shortage.

WAR PLANTS CLOSED ONE DAY

Nine Big Detroit Factories Exempted—125,000 Workers Affected.

Detroit—Exemption from the Garfield closing order of Detroit industries engaged in the manufacture of war supplies returned to work Saturday morning more than 125,000 workers who were made temporarily idle Friday morning by the fuel conservation edict.

The plants included in the exemptions, announced by the fuel administration in Washington late Friday, were the Ford Motor company, the Packard Motor Car company, the Lincoln Motor company, the Cadillac Motor Car company, the Fisher Body corporation, the American Car & Foundry company, the General Aluminum & Brass Manufacturing company, the Solway Process company and the Detroit Copper & Brass Rolling Mills.

RUSS TROOPS IN FRANCE REBEL

Kill All Officers and Are Now Held Prisoners, Says Solon.

Washington—Fifty thousand Russian soldiers sent to France two years ago murdered their officers and now are held prisoners by French bayonets, Representative Clarence Miller, of Minnesota, declared in a house speech last week. He recently returned from a tour of Europe and said his information came from official sources there.

Ask Reinstatement of Ganser.

Bay City—Local Board of Commerce officials telegraphed Rep. Gilbert Currie to take immediate action toward reinstating Maj. A. H. Ganser upon receipt of word from Maj. Ganser at Waco that the orders depriving him of active service in France had not been changed. Maj. Ganser's telegram stated that 16 German born officers in his division have been ordered left in this country. Local citizens are anxious that Maj. Ganser be permitted to remain with his regiment.

If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily before meals. Then procure at your nearest drug store Auric (double strength). This Au-ric drives the uric acid out and cures backache and rheumatism. It sells for 50c.

Step into the drug store and ask for a sixty-cent package of Auric or send Dr. Pierce for trial pkg. Auric, many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

Prefers Chamberlain's.

"In the course of a conversation with Chamberlain Medicine Co.'s representative today, we had occasion to discuss in a general way the merits of their different preparations. At his suggestion I take pleasure in expressing my estimation of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have a family of six children and have used this remedy in my home for years. I consider it the only cough remedy on the market, as I have tried nearly all kinds."—Earl C. Ross, Publisher Hamilton County, Republican-News, Syracuse, Kan. Adv.

JACOB JEDELE DIED FRIDAY.

Jacob Jedele, of Dexter, supervisor of the township of Seio, died Friday morning after a long illness of kidney trouble. Mr. Jedele had been in poor and failing health since early in the spring, and acting supervisor, A. T. Hughes, had been taking his place in looking after the business of the town and in attendance at the meetings of the board. Mr. Jedele had not been able to attend the last two meetings.

The funeral was held Monday, January 21st, from St. Andrew's church, Dexter. Interment at Dexter.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors for the kindness, sympathy and also floral offerings tendered during our recent bereavement.

HOWELL—Howell sanatorium, with 100 tubercular patients, is one of the institutions in the state threatened seriously by the shortage of coal. According to Dr. W. B. Hinsdale, one of the trustees of the sanatorium, there is barely sufficient coal to last till Wednesday and if more is not received, immediately, the hospital will have to be closed down, and the patients sent home.

MANCHESTER—Of all the places in the country which are suffering for the want of fuel at the present time, Manchester seems to be about the hardest hit. It is reported that a large number of families are entirely out of fuel, and it has been necessary for many of them to "double up" until coal arrives in the town. There is none in sight, however, and the permanent closing of the Manchester hotel is threatened on that account.

HOWELL SUGAR HOARDER

A Howell man was boasting about how he had 300 pounds of sugar and he would like to see someone get it. When the report came to the attention of Food Administrator Fishbeck he asked the state food administrator's office for instruction. He was told to confiscate all the supply but twenty-five pounds which he had turning over 100 pounds to the Livingston county infirmary which institution had been without sugar for several weeks. In Eaton county Food Administrator H. T. McGrath reported one man has received 800 pounds of flour in exchange for wheat. He was told to notify the man with the flour to keep the supply intact, except for his own needs, for such use as future conditions might seem to warrant.

Are Your Sewers Clogged?

The bowels are the sewerage system of the body. You can well imagine the result when they are stopped up as is the case in constipation. As a purgative you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action. They also improve the digestion. Adv.

FURNITURE CONSERVATION

New furniture is now very expensive; why not practice furniture conservation by having your old furniture repaired.

Skates sharpened also.
