ANN ARBOR DISRUPTED BY COCK FIGHT ARRESTS

Many of County Seat's Prominent Men, Including Prosecuting Attorney, Caught in Raid.

Fifty-eight prominent, near prominent and ordinary business citizens of Ann Arbor were caught in a spectacular police raid on a cock fight which was pulled off in the Marquardt cement block plant on Seventh street Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and several even more prominent citizens are said to have had narrow escapes from besmirched reputations because they arrived too late.

Among the men taken in the raid were prosecuting Attorney Carl A. Lehman and Deputy Game Warden Otto Rohn. The prosecuting attorney said Monday that he was at the fight for the purpose of securing evidence to make the raid, and that he was assisted by Game Warden Rohn.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Leslie A. Lisle said Monday morning that the prosecutor had information several days ago that a cock fight was to be pulled off at that time, and that he went to the place for the purpose of learning who was present and securing evidence that would make the raid possible.

Mayor Ernest M. Wurster, when his attention was called to this claim Monday morning said that it was not true; that the raid was made by the police under the orders of the mayor, and that the prosecuting attorney knew nothing about it until the raid was made; that the name of the prosecutor was taken with the names of the other men taken in the raid, and that his name was on the list from the list from which the complaints were made until it was scratched off Monday morning. The mayor also said that he had no knowledge that the name of the prosecuting attorney was not included with the others against whom the complaint was made until after court was closed, but that he would see that such a complaint was made the same as had been made against the other men taken in the raid.

Mayor Wurster has been chafing under the continued and repeated reports of these and similar violations of the statutes made to protect the morals of the community, and it was by his motion and under the direction that the police visited the place Saturday night, according to the statements of the mayor and the officers who made the arrests.

The men who were put under arrest at the edge of the cockpit Saturday night were released under their own recognizance to appear in Justice Doty's court Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Twenty of them appeared and paid a fine of $10 and costs of $3.45, the smallest punishment which the statute allows. Others of the bunch straggled into court during the afternoon and paid up.

The cock fight was pulled off in a tightly closed basement room in the old cement block factory, which had only an entrance from above. The crowd about the cockpit did not realize the presence of the police in the room until Chief of Police Thomas O'Brien and another officer jumped into the pit and picked up the birds which were in action.

"What in— you takin' out those birds for," yelled a spectator. "Aw, shut up," called another. "Can't you see, it's the police."

There was but the one entrance and there was no escape until every man had given his name and his agreement to appear in the court on Monday morning.

The court room was crowded and the adjoining corridor was full Monday when the names of the men taken in the raid were called. Most of the men, and among them some who were little more than boys, seemed to take the whole thing as a joke. With some who had to borrow the money to pay their fine it was a pretty expensive joke, however.

Following the raid Sunday morning, Mayor Ernest M. Wurster appointed City Attorney Frank B. DeVine to prosecute the charge against the men arrested, if any of them pleaded not guilty. This was done on an order from Attorney General Groesbeck, following a request of the mayor to Governor Sleeper.

Attorney DeVine appeared in the court Monday morning as a representative of the mayor, but he had no work to do because the pleas were all "guilty."—Times-News.

COUNTY FARMERS' BANQUET.

Washtenaw Farmers will meet to organize a County Civic association. Representatives of all farmers' organizations and all farmers interested in the advancement of the farmers' interests and in securing better co-operation through a county organization will meet in Ann Arbor at the City Y. M. C. A., February 16th, at 12 o'clock. This banquet will serve as a rally day for the farmers to get acquainted and take heart for the strenuous duties of the coming year. The ladies of Ann Arbor grange will furnish the dinner, assuring a big feed. Fine music and good speakers will afford lots of enthusiasm. No live farmer can afford to miss this event, which is expected to become an annual affair. Tickets may be secured from the officers of the different farmers' organizations and from your local banks; tickets are fifty cents each.

GERMAN ALIENS REGISTER.

All male German aliens over 14 years of age and living within the district covered by the Chelsea post-office must register their names with Postmaster Chauncey Hummel on or before Saturday, February 9, 1918.

The fact that a registrant has taken out his first papers does not excuse him from registering. He must also bring with him four photographs of himself, not over 3x3 inches on this paper. Only German aliens will be registered. Austrian and Hungarian aliens will not be required to register at this time.

TWO RECORD COLD ONES

Yesterday and Today's Temperatures Hit Toboggan Right.

With one exception, yesterday and today are the record cold days of the season the one exception being Saturday, January 12th, when temperatures as low as 22° below zero were reported. Thermometers yesterday registered 8° below at 6:30 a. m. and this morning it was 14° below. The same thermometer registered only 12° below on January 12th, but a 60 mile gale at that time added to the stinging cold and made it seem much colder than today.

Notwithstanding the cold weather prevailing, the weather generally has been bright and fair for a week past and early risers this morning were privileged to witness one of the most beautiful of winter sunrises.

Almanacs generally predict temperatures above the average during the month of March, April and May so that perhaps an early spring may mitigate the discomforts of an unusually "snug" winter.

TORNADOES AND CYCLONES

Cause and Effects of Windstorms; When They Occur and How to Avoid Injury.

Recalling the devastating tornado which swept diagonally across Washtenaw county on the afternoon of June 6, 1917, the warnings and definitions of tornado conditions, recently issued by the United States Weather Bureau, are of especial interest to the people of Chelsea and vicinity, particularly those living south and east of town in the strip of country traversed by last summer's terrible storm. The article is briefly summarized as follows:

Tornadoes are usually preceded by high temperature and humidity—a weather condition generally said to be "sultry," "stuffy," or "oppressive." Rain may come before, with, or after a tornado, or very rarely, there may be no rain at all. The barometer does not foretell a tornado, though it indicates low pressures; and tornadoes always occur in a "low" area.

The season in which tornadoes may be expected varies according to the region. They may visit the Gulf States in winter, and as the season advances the region of greatest frequency is in the Plains States and the Mississippi Valley, from April to September, inclusive. In this region May is the worst month, with April next. East of the Appalachian Mountains, however, tornadoes rarely occur until after July. Generally they come between 3:30 and 5 p. m., but they may even come at night.

What to Do.

Persons may somewhat avoid tornado danger by watching the local signs and reading the weather maps, which at least show the conditions which favor tornado formation. The local signs are heavy, dark clouds, first in the southwest, almost immediately followed by clouds in the northwest and north. A funnel-shaped cloud is a sure sign, though there may be a tornado when such a cloud is not readily seen. If a funnel cloud cannot be seen, the whirling motion of the air may be known by a peculiar roaring noise, somewhat like the rumble of distant thunder or the approach of a heavy train of cars.

If one can see the cloud and get an idea of the direction in which it is moving the zone of safety is at right angles to the direction of motion. The southern margin is usually more dangerous than the northern, and this should be remembered in seeking a place of safety. The width of the path of greatest destruction is ordinarily not more than a few hundred yards, though this destructive diameter may be from some rods wide to a half mile, or sometimes wider. However, the worst part is comparatively narrow, and relative safety may be had only a short distance at right angles to the line of the advance of the tornado.

In some of the Plains States there are so-called "cyclone" cellars, and where these are not available the southwest corner of the cellar of a frame building is the next best place. Brick buildings are not so safe, but the cellar is probably the safest place in them. In the Omaha tornado of 1913 very few brick houses were seriously damaged. These are ordinarily unroofed, though sometimes the walls crumble or fall outward.

Tornadoes and Cyclones. Weather men define a tornado as a violent windstorm, with rain or hail, thunder and lightning, in which the air masses whirl with great velocity around a central core, while the whole storm travels across the country in a narrow path at high speed. The thunder and the whirling motion have given rise to two theories of the derivation of the word, as to whether it is derived from the Spanish "trouado," a thunderstorm, or from the Latin "tonare," to turn.

A cyclone, in the definition of the Weather Bureau, is not necessarily a windstorm of great velocity, but

MICH. CENT. TRAFFIC BLOCKED FIVE HOURS

Freight Wreck at Sylvan Rd. Four Miles West Chelsea, Tied Up Ten Passenger Trains.

A broken truck beneath a west-bound freight car caused a wreck on the Michigan Central railroad at Sylvan Road crossing, Friday afternoon, blocking both east and west-bound traffic for about five hours.

The wreck occurred about two o'clock. Another freight train was following the wrecked train and was first blocked and soon after at 2:30 a westbound passenger train was blocked. Other trains arriving at intervals during the ensuing five hours were also blocked so that when the tracks were finally cleared and traffic resumed about seven o'clock there were 10 passenger trains, five eastbound and five westbound, also several freight trains included in the block. The string of trains blocked east of the wreck extended from Chelsea to Dexter, seven miles east of this place.

One freight car was badly damaged and the roadbed torn up for some distance, the greatest damage being the long delay to traffic.

Charles J. Dean Writes to Friends From Allies Trenches.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Easterlie of Detroit, former well known residents of Chelsea, recently received a letter from Charles J. Dean, also formerly a resident of Chelsea and vicinity. The Dean family at one time lived on a farm in the short hills just west of town on the Territorial road and later resided in Chelsea. The letter was written December 30th, and follows in part:

I have previously written you three or four letters, but have not heard from you. Perhaps the letters were lost. Will try and write once more.

I have been away eight months now, six of them in the army and away from all the pleasures of life, home and friends, and I get very lonesome and homesick if I don't hear from someone now and then.

One cannot realize what army life is and the discipline is very strict, unless one has been there. Of course I am not in the infantry but in a working battalion, which is so much the worse. We have no place of amusement or anything of the kind. If I had some good reading matter it would help to while away the many lonely hours.

It has been cold here for two weeks, with snow. I don't like the winters and when I return I am going back to California.

I am sending you a little pamphlet to read. Must stop now as I have other letters to write. Address: Pri. Chas. J. Dean, No. 1913674, 55 Co., C. F. C., France.

HOPE TO GET COAL BY RAIL EMBARGOES

McADOO AND GARFIELD, AFTER CONFERENCE, PLANNED TO LIFT FUEL BAN.

FINAL DECISION THIS WEEK

Rail and Fuel Administrators Announce That Heatless Monday Order Will Be Suspended.

Washington—Abandonment of the heatless Monday program after its enforcement this week was predicted last Friday at the close of a conference between Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director-General Meadood.

At the conclusion of the conference last Friday night the following statement was issued jointly by Dr. Garfield and Mr. Meadood:

"We have had under consideration the question of suspending the Monday closing order. We have not reached a final conclusion about it."

"We shall have another conference Tuesday, (February 5), when results of the Monday closing and of railroad embargoes up to that time can be fully considered, and shall be able to make an announcement next week as to whether a suspension of the Monday closing order may be made."

It was stated officially that the reason a final decision was not reached was because complete reports had not been received showing exact results of the five-day closing, and effects of operation of the embargoes.

Mr. Meadood and Dr. Garfield were of the opinion, however, it was said, that since the coal problem is one largely of transportation, embargoes will bring results without continuance of Monday closings.

The fuel administration's preferential order calling for distribution of coal first to householders, ships, public institutions and favored war industries, will stand as well as will the railroad administration's order giving preferential rail movement to coal and food.

These two orders, it is declared, will guarantee coal to consumers which the government is determined to see supplied, although less essential industries are expected to suffer, and some may have to close.

HOW RED CROSS SPENDS FUNDS

Organization Gives Report of Money Entrusted to It.

Washington—What the American Red Cross has done with the vast sums of money entrusted to it by the people of the United States is stated in detail in a report just issued by the national headquarters.

For foreign relief $44,657,795 has been appropriated as follows: France, $30,519,255.60; Belgium, $1,999,631; Russia, $7,194,087; Roumania, $2,617,398.76; Italy, $3,146,916; Serbia, $871,189.76; Great Britain, $1,793,642; other foreign countries, $2,536,806; American soldiers who may be taken prisoner, $343,627.

The foregoing appropriations are from the time the United States entered the war until April 30, 1918. For the United States the Red Cross has appropriated $2,612,532.60 and the reason this sum is not larger is because the government provides nearly everything our army and navy needs, and besides, there is no civilian distress in this country of any considerable proportions.

The great variety of the military and civilian relief work being done by the Red Cross is indicated briefly in the following list: canteens that afford food, baths and sleeping quarters for men at the front; rest stations and recreation centers for soldiers in transit and at port of arrival in France; care of destitute children; furnishing supplies to 4,000 hospitals; teaching mutilated soldiers new trades; reconstruction of villages; bringing together families of soldiers scattered by the war; farms for convalescent soldiers; sanitariums for tubercular and other patients; food, clothing, medicine, and shelter for the homeless and destitute; and other activities too numerous to mention.

It is stated by the national war council that all salaries and administrative expenses are paid out of membership dues, so that every penny given to the Red Cross war fund has been spent for relief. This answers the rumors that have been circulated about the expenses of operation.

SEVEN YEARS IN PRISON GIVEN SOLDIER WHO MUTILATED HAND.

Greenville, S. C.—Seven years' sentence for cutting off three fingers of his right hand to evade military service has been imposed by a court martial here on Private Edward J. Causey, of Dover, Tenn., and a four years' sentence was given to Private Lark L. Triplett, of Granite Falls, N. C., for similarly mutilating his left hand.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN LAID TO REST

Former Heavyweight Champion Died of Heart Failure, Aged 59.

Abington, Mass.—John Laurence Sullivan, former heavyweight prize ring champion of the United States, the most widely known pugilist that ever lived and probably the most idolized, died at his farm near here Saturday as a result of heart trouble. He was 59 years of age.

Sullivan has been styled the greatest of all fighters. He was by far the most popular.

He was the American heavyweight title from Paddy Ryan in 1882 in a bare fist fight, and held it against all comers until 1882 when he was beaten by James J. Corbett.

The body was taken to the home of his sister in Boston, where funeral services were held Wednesday.

AUSTRIA STARVES SERB PRISONERS

EXCHANGED ITALIAN CAPTIVES REPORT THAT 30,000 HAVE DIED IN PENS.

CONFINED IN WOODEN CAGES

Conditions Terrible, Report Says.—Prisoners Underfed, No Care Given Ill Men.

Italian Army Headquarters—Exchanged Italian prisoners who have just arrived from Austrian concentration camps told of almost unbelievable cruelties practiced against prisoners, particularly Serbians, who are reported confined in cages and fed through bars like animals.

"Treatment of the Serbians is even worse than that of the Italians, indicating that Austria intends to destroy the Serbians as a race. As a result of these conditions there are up to now not less than 30,000 to 40,000 dead from starvation. They are permitted to receive no parcels and are unable to work, because of weakness."

They are put like animals in cages with wooden bars. Through these bars the keepers throw them scraps of uneatable bread, carrots and turnips as their sole sustenance. The mortality, already great, is increasing, as they are given no care and there are no doctors and no sanitation.

Concerning the Italians, the statement says they returned in rags after suffering ill treatment and exposure to cold while compelled to work on enemy trenches under the guard of Hungarians, who are declared to be particularly hostile to the Italians.

They received a small loaf of bread daily for division among eight men. Conditions are so terrible, the report says, that they will result in not more than one-third of the Italian prisoners coming back alive.

BLOOD POISON STRIKES CUSTER

Four Soldiers Die in Two Days From New Malady.

Camp Custer, Battle Creek—On January 31 and February 1, four soldiers died, and an uncertain number are suffering in the base hospital, from general septicemia, usually known as blood poisoning.

The dead are Merrill S. Gibbs, 310th supply train, Grass Lake; Alfred Johnson, Co. M, 337th infantry, Edmore; Ralph M. Canfield, 16th engineers, Martin; Alfred Hughes, 169th depot brigade, Morris, Ill.

Reports issued at the base hospital are to the effect that a large number of serious cases of infection have been developing of late. Apparently trivial cuts or lesions develop this infection, and the condition of the men rapidly becomes critical. Sore throats and tonsillitis have, it is stated, developed in to septicemia.

The long, unbroken spell of severe weather, which has not only caused the confinement of men to their quarters, but has created conditions which have depressed the soldiers mentally, is blamed by the surgeons for the appearance of the new menace to camp health.

FORTY RUMANIAN SHIPS SEIZED

Russia Takes Aggressive Step—Attempt Made to Shoot Lenin.

London—Tense relations existing between Russia and Rumania took on a more belligerent tone as the result of the confiscation of Rumanian means of transport by the revolutionary committee of the Black sea fleet. According to a dispatch from Petrograd, about 40 steamships and several warships have been seized in Black sea harbors.

Victory for the bolshevik troops in Odessa and Kiev, where they have captured both cities after a brief siege; a second unsuccessful attempt on the life of Premier Lenin; and a reported declaration of war on the bolsheviks by the Polish legion in Minsk are the outstanding features of the happenings in Russia in the last week, revealed in cable dispatches.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

ROBBED OF SIX LANGUAGES

Wound Deprives French Priest of Ability to Articulate Other Than Native Tongue.

Denver, Colo.—His ability to articulate seven different languages shot away when shrapnel from a 150-millimeter German shell blew out a small portion of his brain in the battle of Asseville, on the Somme front, in July, 1916, Father Marcel Souris, a chaplain of the French army, still experiences much difficulty in speaking his own native French.

"For months I could not speak at all," Father Souris said in his halting French that he has had to learn all over again. "And even now I am only able to read the Latin, Greek, English, German, Russian and Japanese languages that I once spoke so fluently. French is the only language I can articulate at all."

Father Souris was struck by the shrapnel while administering the last rites to a dying soldier at the height of the battle of Asseville.

Oyster Fishing by Submarine.

Mr. Simon Lake, the father of the modern submarine, has suggested the use of the submarine for polar exploration for ferrying supplies across ice-bound rivers, for seeking sunken treasure, and for dredging oysters.

Experiments have demonstrated to Mr. Lake's satisfaction that when the submarine is at the bottom of the ocean, the oysters can be sucked up into it on the vacuum cleaner principle. When traversing good ground, the submarine will suck up 5,000 bushels of oysters in an hour. This means that in one hour a mass of oysters will be collected which, if compactly piled, would require a cylinder one and three-quarters miles long to hold it. The idea should be particularly useful to the pearl-oyster fishers, as of Ceylon, for instance.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that, so many people claim, it fails almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Had Kidney Trouble From Childhood and Was Discouraged. Doan's, However, Brought Health and Strength.

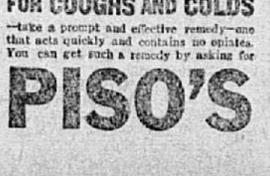

Mrs. C. Anderson, 4104 W. 22nd St., Chicago, Ill., says: "I had kidney trouble from childhood and three years ago a severe spell developed. If I stooped, a terrible pain took me in the small of my back, and for several minutes I couldn't straighten. Often at night the pain in my back was so bad I had to prop myself up with a pillow. It seemed as if my back would break. Watery sacs formed under my eyes and my feet were so swollen I had to wear slippers. Sudden dizziness came and pains in my head drove me almost frantic."

"I felt tired and weak and had hardly enough ambition to move. Nothing seemed to help me and I was discouraged until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me completely and my health has been of the best ever since. Doan's surely deserves my endorsement." Sworn to before me, FRANK H. POOL, Notary Public.

MICHIGAN NEWS BREVITIES

Camp Custer—Division authorities have taken cognizance of the complaints made by enlisted men concerning the work of the camp laundry. The laundry, which is the largest in the state, is charged with losing articles of wearing apparel and damaging others. Many of the men also object to the rule which compels them to pay $1.25 a month to the laundry fund whether they have their work done inside or outside the camp. It is explained that the laundry and the system of distributing articles is new and the troubles will be overcome soon.

Camp Custer—The division surgeon's office has taken steps to protect the soldiers against insanitary conditions in Battle Creek restaurants. It has been discovered by military authorities that one of the cafes which obtained the approval of the state dairy and food commission has not lived up to the requirements of the law. Hereafter, it is stated, the division will operate independently in this regard and wherever it finds evidence that eating places are not conducted in a sanitary manner, will station military police at the doors.

Camp Custer, Battle Creek—Camp Custer has passed the $200,000,000 mark in its soldiers' insurance campaign, practically completing its efforts along this line. Not more than 1,000 men in the 23,000 now here are without insurance, and it is believed that Custer stands first in the percentage of men who have purchased protection. An effort is now being made to persuade every man of the last 1,000 to take out at least a small amount of insurance.

Lansing—Twenty-three dead, 22 injured and property loss of more than $1,000,000 is the record-breaking fire report for Michigan during January as compiled by State Fire Marshal F. H. Ellsworth. The large number of fires which occurred in this state for the past year are described as crimes of carelessness by Mr. Ellsworth.

Lansing—Michigan grocers can sell wheat flour provided they sell one pound of a substitute for every four of the wheat flour. This is the change made by the state food administration under authority from Washington. This ratio is only temporary and will be increased later as substitutes become available.

Port Huron—A confirmed story from McGregor, says that Adam McGregor, a prominent and reliable farmer, has a calf on his farm, which has two heads, four eyes, two ears and two mouths. The remainder of its body is normal. McGregor is endeavoring to keep the animal alive, as a curiosity.

Muskegon—Shortening of the hours of local saloons is increasing the number of drunks in this city almost 100 per cent, according to Jerome E. Turner, municipal justice. Judge Turner believes many men in Muskegon are drinking as much in nine hours as they did formerly in 14.

Houghton—John Pellika, 26 years old, timberman at the Isle Royale mine, fell 900 feet down a shaft and were instantly killed. They were making repairs at the third level. Their bodies lodged at the twelfth level.

Albion—Edward Frensdorf, acting warden of Jackson prison, declared in a speech here that the privilege of supplying school books up to the eighth grade in this state would be worth $300,000 annually.

Ann Arbor—University of Michigan engineering and literary college faculties have approved a course in naval training to be started this summer. It will require two years and will fit graduates to be ensigns.

Big Rapids—This city has had less sickness and fewer deaths this winter than in past years. Moderately heated homes and offices are credited by doctors for the improved condition.

East Lansing—To increase the standard of Michigan pigs, prizes have been offered this year to farmers exhibiting the four best March-farrowed pigs at county fairs this fall.

Muskegon—Magnus Johnson, Montague farmer who confessed that he permitted seven cows to starve to death, was fined $75 and $15 costs.

Bay City—James H. Hall, a Filson farmer, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, scheduling liabilities of $12,317.45 and assets of $7,345.

Grand Rapids—The Michigan Rabbit Breeders' Association, in convention here, endorsed the use of rabbits as a substitute for other meats.

Kalamazoo—An emergency unit of the American Red Cross will be organized here to care for accidents due to floods, wrecks and fires.

Battle Creek—Local merchants have refused to lend their aid to the agitation of state merchants against the Monday closing law.

Port Huron—A dental clinic to care for the teeth of students will be established in the high school.

Port Huron—Howard Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Beard, who is a member of the famous "Elyventh Engineers" that participated in the Cambrai battle November 20, has written his parents that he is alive and well. He said that 60 per cent of the engineer company was missing after the battle.

Hastings—Lynne helpless, with a current of 110 volts of electricity passing through his body, Ralph Smith, a workman in a local factory, was rescued just in time from a boiler which he was cleaning.

Lansing—Of the 18,129,000 bushels of beans of all varieties produced in the United States in 1917 3,515,000 came from Michigan, compared with 3,192,000 in 1916; second only to California, which produced 8,025,000 in 1916 and 5,576,000 in 1917. In acreage sown to beans Michigan led the country in the last two years. In 1917 it was 629,000 acres and in 1916 470,000, compared with 558,000 and 310,000 for California. The only other states to exceed 1,000,000 bushels in production last year were New York and Colorado, with 1,575,000 and 1,476,000 bushels.

Detroit—A large fleet of fabric-lined submarine fishers will be built by the Ford Motor Co. for the government. Contracts for the work have been awarded and deliveries will begin to be made early this summer. All parts of the ships except the engines are to be built in Detroit and the parts shipped to seaboard, where they will be assembled. Each ship will be 260 feet long and will be equipped with the latest discoveries for combating submarines. Plans were made by naval constructors. The exact number of ships to be built was not made public.

Battle Creek—This city will experience a spring flood rivaling the one of 1908, in the opinion of W. W. Bridgen, superintendent of the city water department. Conditions are ideal for the repetition of high water marks of other years and the only condition which can possibly cause Battle Creek to escape damage this spring is a gradual thawing of snow. A warm rain or sudden warm weather would result in a big property loss to the city.

Grand Rapids—Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, told the Michigan Engineering society that better highways to make possible regular operation of passenger automobiles and freight trucks would prove an important factor in relieving railroad congestion. The commissioner urged counties not to suspend road building during the war as good highways are even more essential at this time.

Detroit—The Wayne County Sunday School association claims to have the largest service flag in Detroit. Its banner represents 3,432 enlistments from the Sunday schools of the county, so many, in fact, that it will be necessary to use a numeral in place of the customary star for each man. Other firms in Detroit show large enlistments. The city hall flag bears 343 stars.

Marshall—Mrs. Charles Dyer, 39 years old, was burned to death in a fire starting from an over-heated stove which destroyed her home here. It is believed that she suffered from an epidemic fit when she awoke and found the house in flames. She had gone back to bed after her husband left for work on the Michigan Central railroad section.

Detroit—The German singing societies of Detroit, with a chorus of 250 voices, gave a concert for the benefit of the Red Cross at the armory Sunday night. Full proceeds from the sale of admission go to the Red Cross, all expenses having been covered by private subscription.

Owosso—Salem's Lutheran church here, composed of Germans, has voted to have all sermons read in English instead of German. This action was taken as the congregation now uses English more generally than German.

Cassopolis—The village council has contracted for 2,000 cords of wood from farmers of Cass county and has established a municipal wood yard. A supply sufficient to last through next winter will be obtained.

Port Huron—Shock resulting from the amputation of a leg caused the death of John A. Ogden, 19, an employe of a local paper mill. Ogden was caught by a log at the plant and his leg badly mangled.

Flint—Private Elmer Bush, 26 years old, is dead at Camp Pike, Ark. He is the third Genesee county man to die at Camp Pike in two weeks.

Hillsdale—Plans are already under way to list vacant lots here for garden next spring. The lots will be assigned to applicants.

Albion—Albion farmers cleared the way to the Albion mine of snow so that miners could continue their work without interruption.

Hudson—Frozen hydrants forced firemen to watch the home of William Casprow burn to the ground. Loss to valued $5,000.

Port Huron—Mrs. W. J. Western has given a bedspread to the Sarnia Red Cross which required 16 years to crochet.

Yale—A tractor school of instruction for St. Clair county farmers was held here last week.

Muskegon—Military training has been made compulsory in the local high school.

Grand Rapids—Charles White, boxing instructor at Camp Custer, will bring 18 of his soldier boxers to this city on the night of February 11. The soldiers will give an exhibition similar to the ones held in Detroit this winter for the benefit of the camp fund. All of the men will be from Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Holland and other nearby points.

Petoskey—C. C. Colton, Duluth, has purchased 8,500 acres of land from the Stephens Lumber Co. A syndicate will colonize this tract, together with 11,500 acres already held.

The activities of the woman's division in Red Cross work are so varied that there is something for every woman to do. And the same work must be done over and over again. When we consider the numbers of men in the armies and hospitals, and the refugees and orphans, all looking to the Red Cross to relieve them from suffering, something of the size of its gigantic task dawns on us. During the month of December the central division inspected and shipped 3,130,203 articles, all of them the work of women's fingers.

In order that no labor may be wasted it is essential that all these articles be made according to Red Cross standards. Every chapter has manuals of instruction to be given out to any woman who needs them as a guide in doing the work she elects to do. Women who must work at home may make refugee garments, hospital garments and linen, in addition to knitting. It almost goes without saying that our knitting bags should be always with us. Some women enjoy making and fitting up comfort kits, and they are constantly needed to reit the men at the front. Sweaters and helmets (if knitted according to the directions in the Red Cross Manual No. 400) are in constant demand. While on the subject of knitting, there are a few "don'ts" that must be considered if our work is to pass the inspector. Don't put colored bands in knitted articles, except in socks. These may have colored stripes, if the colored yarns are balled before using so that the color will not run when the socks are washed. One of the things asked for by the Red Cross is the old waistcoat for soldiers and sailors. Soft leather of every description may be used for making it, such as cast-off kid gloves, discarded furniture covers, pieces of book leather. Factories where leather goods are made should be asked to donate all their waste clippings for this purpose. To make this garment, a waistcoat buttoning up to the throat is first made of cotton goods. The leather is applied to this foundation by machine-stitching the pieces onto it. When this is done the foundation is backed with brown or khaki-colored silesia, or galatea, or other inexpensive material. The waistcoats are made so that they meet or lap over in front, but are not provided with buttons or fastenings of any kind, and they may be made from as large or small scraps of leather as are available. The leather does not show, for it is worn inside. When old gloves are used they are to be cleaned and cut open and the leather used in single thickness only.

Frocks With Narrow Braid Garniture

The one-piece frock of cloth, for street wear, worn with a separate coat when the weather is cold, has run a very close second to the tailored coat suit for more than a year. And the one-piece afternoon gown of satin, silk or crepe georgette, for dressy wear, has outdistanced everything else, in point of popularity. Both these are shown in immense variety of design and decoration. The two examples pictured above are selected from among many that employ soutache braid or braid effects in their garniture. Both are similar in construction.

The frock of serge at the right has been developed in other popular weaves, the straight, long-waisted bodice and plaid skirt being style features of wide application. In the details of the sleeves, girdle and decoration this model has charmed peculiarly its own. One reason for the success of frocks of this kind lies in the absence of a waistline; for the management of the waistline appears to have given American dressmakers more trouble than any other part of their work.

In this model the skirt is box-plaited, extending to the ankles, with plaits pressed in to stay. The sleeves are of the serge set into a plain underbodice, and divided below the elbow, where the fairly full upper sleeve is joined to a close-fitting long forearm portion. The girdle is of black satin and extends about the sides and back, where it is knotted and falls in long ends, finished with balls fashioned of the satin. Soutache braid and needlework make up the handsome and unusual decoration. An embroidered linen collar proclaims its loyalty to this model with embroidered needlework motifs matching those that appear on the bodice and sleeves.

The frock of georgette crepe is belted at the waist with a lighter color in crepe than is used for the dress. The collar and bands at the sides of the bodice are of this light crepe and the braid used for decorating the panel at the front of the skirt, and the bodice, match it in color. In spite of its sheerness and softness georgette crepe proves to be a fabric of considerable strength, not nearly as fragile as it looks.

Stripes on Sweaters. Roman striped bands of color at the lowest edge of dark sweaters, of navy blue yarn or silk, are new and smart. These sweaters are worn at the Southern resorts with white sports skirts, and the result is decidedly good.

A FIGHT FOR LIFE It has been fight or die for many of us in the past and the lucky people are those who have suffered, but who are now well because they heeded nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that wonderful new discovery of Dr. Pierce's called "Anuric." You should promptly heed these warnings, some of which are dizzy spells, headache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as stone in the bladder.

To overcome these distressing conditions take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and at each meal take Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the firm believers of Anuric, as are thousands of neighbors.

Step into the drug store and ask for a 60c package of Anuric, or send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial pkg. Anuric, many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar.

TROTZKY IN NEW YORK

Leon Trotsky, Russian minister of foreign affairs, made a deep impression upon fellow Socialists during his short stay in New York. He remained only a few months—from late in December, 1916, until early in April of last year—but in that time, while living in penury with his wife and two sons in a three-room apartment in the Bronx, he succeeded in interesting Socialists everywhere in his propaganda for a general peace.

Trotsky was "hard up." Exiled from Europe, he arrived in New York penniless. But his reputation as one of the most aggressive advocates of social revolution had preceded him, and his welcome here was cordial.

His workshop was the little editorial office of the Novy Mir, a Russian newspaper published in St. Mark's place. His only source of revenue seems to have been public speaking. Thomas Seltzer, formerly an editor of the Masses and an active Socialist, was among Trotsky's closest friends, seeing him almost daily. "I am not at all surprised by Trotsky's rapid rise to power in Russia, because I know the force of his character, the sincerity of his motives and his unusual gifts as an orator," said Mr. Seltzer. "The talk that Trotsky is pro-German at heart is plain nonsense."

SUFFRAGE LEADER'S NEW WORK

Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, who goes as a government emissary to Switzerland shortly to direct a campaign to interpret America's war ideals there, was given credit for "lending the suffragists" to victory last November. As chairman of the New York State Woman Suffrage party she spared no effort to crown the issue with success.

Especially useful in lung trouble, asthma, cough, bronchitis, etc. For sale in all civilized countries.—Adv.

True Blue. Cornelius Vanderbilt, at a luncheon at Piping Rock, praised an old New Yorker. "He is a true-blue American for fair," Mr. Vanderbilt said. "His ancestors came over on the Mayflower and his descendants are going back on army transports."

The foolish little moth looks on the bright side of things—and you have doubtless observed his finish.

TROTZKY IN NEW YORK

Leon Trotsky, Russian minister of foreign affairs, made a deep impression upon fellow Socialists during his short stay in New York. He remained only a few months—from late in December, 1916, until early in April of last year—but in that time, while living in penury with his wife and two sons in a three-room apartment in the Bronx, he succeeded in interesting Socialists everywhere in his propaganda for a general peace.

Trotsky was "hard up." Exiled from Europe, he arrived in New York penniless. But his reputation as one of the most aggressive advocates of social revolution had preceded him, and his welcome here was cordial.

His workshop was the little editorial office of the Novy Mir, a Russian newspaper published in St. Mark's place. His only source of revenue seems to have been public speaking. Thomas Seltzer, formerly an editor of the Masses and an active Socialist, was among Trotsky's closest friends, seeing him almost daily. "I am not at all surprised by Trotsky's rapid rise to power in Russia, because I know the force of his character, the sincerity of his motives and his unusual gifts as an orator," said Mr. Seltzer. "The talk that Trotsky is pro-German at heart is plain nonsense."

SUFFRAGE LEADER'S NEW WORK

Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, who goes as a government emissary to Switzerland shortly to direct a campaign to interpret America's war ideals there, was given credit for "lending the suffragists" to victory last November. As chairman of the New York State Woman Suffrage party she spared no effort to crown the issue with success.

RED CROSS CARES FOR SAMMIES IN GERMANY

Has Arranged to Furnish Food to U. S. Prisoners Detained in German Camps.

Parents who have thought of prison life in Germany as perhaps the worst experience that could befall their sons in the American army will find in the service that the American Red Cross has provided to supply prisoners with food further proof of the great value of this organization.

The plan briefly is this. The American Red Cross committee stationed in Berne, Switzerland, will send each American prisoner three ten-pound packages of food every two weeks. Already enough supplies are in Switzerland for a period of six months.

Naturally General Pershing is not planning to let the Germans capture that many American soldiers, but the Red Cross is measuring the prospects by what has happened to the French and English in gigantic engagements when both sides lose heavily.

This same Red Cross bureau will be the sole agency licensed by the War Trade Board to transmit money to American Allied prisoners in Germany. The German government never yet has had occasion to doubt the good faith of the American Red Cross, so that its relief plans are certain of execution.

Stories about the starvation of prisoners in Germany have been printed so frequently in this country that many parents will consider the Red Cross plan worth all the money they have contributed to it if it did not attempt any other form of war relief work. The kind and amount of food to be sent every two weeks to each American prisoner will be determined by expert dietitians.

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS:

Food saving is in its essence the daily individual service of all the people. Every group can substitute, and even the great majority of thirty people can save a little—and the more luxurious elements of the population can, by reduction to simple living, save much. This means no more than that we should eat plenty, but wisely and without waste.

Catarrahl Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrahl deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrahl Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrahl, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrahl Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

When You Have a Cold.

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five-year old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."—Adv.
