BOYS' WORKING RESERVE

Uncle Sam Calls On Lads 16 to 21 to Aid Food Production.

"It's up to the boys!" says Uncle Sam. What boys? Why, the younger brothers of the soldier boys, and all the other young fellows who would have soldier brothers if they could, and would be fighting in the front line trenches themselves if they were old enough. It's the chap under twenty-one whom Uncle Sam is now calling into service.

And Uncle Sam knows that he can depend on these patriotic young citizens who happen to be under twenty-one and over sixteen years of age. If he could not depend upon them, he would certainly have a much harder time helping to win this war than he is going to have with them working behind him. And the reason why he must win is found in the "Boys' Working Reserve."

In this "Working Reserve" are to be enrolled all the real boys in America between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one. All the boys, understand! The job to be done is so big that not a single boy can be spared. And it is a working reserve. It means business!

The business that these millions of boys must carry forward with all the energy and enthusiasm of their young lives is the producing of food, and more food, and still more food for the men who are fighting their battles for them across the sea. And the time they must give to this splendid work is their vacation period. No loafers among these boys this summer!

Farm work for our boys! Nothing like it for athletic training. And how a fellow does eat and sleep on a farm! And it won't be lonesome work, either. The boys will live in camps and work neighboring farms. And there will be all kinds of work—work for the frail chaps and more strenuous work for the foot-ball huskies. There will be truck-farming, fruit picking, stock-raising, and crop harvesting of all sorts. Some of the boys may find it more convenient to live at home while working on nearby farms. But it is work that must be done. And so Uncle Sam says, "It's up to the boys."

For the purpose of giving the boys and their parents and the farmers all the information they may need to enter upon this patriotic enterprise, two good live lectures will be given on Monday, May 27. The first lecture will be given at Ypsilanti, in the Pease auditorium, at 3:30 in the afternoon; the other will be given at Ann Arbor, in Hill auditorium at 7:15 in the evening. The speaker will be Prof. William Lyon Phelps, of Yale university. Mr. Phelps is a great lover of boys. He was a boy a long time himself, and so he knows all about boys. He is full of funny stories, and sees to it that everybody has a good time at his lectures. In addition to the lecture, which will interest parents and farmers as well as boys, the committee in charge is arranging for a musical program, the liveliest and best possible.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

Should Be Day for Re-dedication of Our Strength and Service, Says Governor.

The observance of Memorial Day, a day dear to the heart of the patriot, the day of all days which abounds in hallowed memories and associations, is distinctively an American custom, and one that beautifully reflects the spirit of democracy. It is a day which brings to the surface the kindlier, nobler impulses of the human heart, and bids us pause, even in times of war, to honor the memory of those who offered up their lives on Freedom's altar. It is the day that commemorates the great deeds and heroic sacrifices of the brave men who, more than half a century ago, sustained the cause of the Union. These men deserve well of ourselves and all future generations of Americans. They saved the nation from disruption. They redeemed labor from slavery. They converted into a concrete, living fact what before had been held as an abstract principle, namely, that all men are created free and equal, not equal in power and endowment, but equal in their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The men who accomplished these stupendous labors were true patriots; and it is ours to honor the memory of the departed and pay homage to those who still live.

Again, today, the life of the Republic is threatened, this time from without. We have been forced into war. We face the peril which menaces all the free nations of the earth, and we have made common cause with them. Together we are fighting to keep the world from being throttled by a ruthless autocratic power. The fate of democracy hangs in the balance. The freedom of the world is at stake; and, as our fathers went out in sixty-one to do battle for a righteous cause, so our sons are going out to-day to do battle for a cause that is no whit less righteous. They are fighting to uphold the rights of humanity. They are fighting to save civilization from destruction. Their valor and their patriotism need no eulogy. They are worthy sons of worthy sires.

One young soldier writes to his mother, "I am going to fight this war as a man, and I'll never come back with a stain on the name I love. If I am called upon to make the supreme sacrifice, I'm going with my boots on and a smile on my lips. When I am across, don't worry, little mother, because I want you to be proud to call me 'My son.' That spirit will win. It cannot fail to win, although the hour of victory may be delayed by the magnitude of the task which confronts our gallant soldier and sailor lads. God bless them, and keep them true and steadfast! God help us at home to realize our responsibility, and, with whole-hearted devotion, to do our part."

Therefore, that we may pay a tribute of affection and esteem to the surviving veterans of the Civil war and of the Spanish-American war, and do honor to the memory not only of the men who gave up their lives in these wars of the past, but of the brave boys also who have fallen in the present conflict, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby issue this, my proclamation, and sincerely urge the observance of Thursday, May thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighteen, as Memorial Day.

I venture to express the hope that the day will be kept in a manner consistent with the spirit of the occasion. It should be a day for the re-dedication of our strength and service, the renewed consecration of our every effort and resource, to the support of our fighting forces.

And, pursuant to President Wilson's proclamation, I earnestly request the people of Michigan to observe this day as a solemn festival, and to gather in their accustomed places of worship and there to offer prayers for the victory of the American armies, that a just and lasting peace may be established throughout the world.

On that day flags should be displayed at half-mast until noon, and then hoisted to the top of the staff. Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this seventeenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

Albert E. Sleeper,
Governor.

Says Pilo Remedy Worth $100.00 a Box.

Columbus Man Knows What He Is Talking About.

"I have had itching piles ever since my earliest recollection. I am 13 years old and have suffered terribly. I have tried many remedies and doctors, but no cure. About 8 weeks ago I saw your ad for Peter's Ointment. The first application stopped all itching, and in three days all soreness. I have only used one 25c box and consider I am cured. You have my heartfelt thanks, and may everyone that has this trouble see this and give Peter's Ointment, that is worth a hundred dollars or more a box, a trial."—Sincerely yours, A. North, Columbus, Ohio.

"It makes me feel proud to be able to produce an ointment like that," says Peter. "Not only do I guarantee Peter's Ointment for old sores and wounds, but for Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Itching Skin, Pimples, Blackheads and all skin diseases. I put up a big box for 50 cents, a price all can afford to pay and to money back from your druggist if not satisfied." Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Peter Bros., Buffalo, N.Y. Adv.

MARCH TO VICTORY

Courage is a matter of the blood. Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves.

In the spring is the best time to take stock of one's condition. If the blood is thin and watery, face pale or pimply, generally weak, tired and listless, one should take a spring tonic. One that will do the spring house-cleaning, an old-fashioned hereditary remedy that was used by everybody nearly 50 years ago is still safe and sane because it contains no alcohol or narcotic. It is made up of Blood root, Golden Seal root, Oregon Grape root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark—extracted with glycerine and made into liquid or tablets. This blood tonic was first put out by Dr. Pierce in ready-to-use form and since then has been sold by million bottles as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If druggists do not keep this in tablet form, send 60 cents for a vital to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y.

Kidney disease carries away a large percentage of our people. What is to be done? The answer is easy. Eat less meat, eat coarse, plain food, with plenty of vegetables, drink plenty of water between meals, and take an uric acid solvent after meals for a while, such as Anuric (double strength), obtainable at almost any drug store. It was first discovered by Dr. Pierce. Most every one troubled with uric acid finds that Anuric dissolves the uric acid as hot water does sugar. You can obtain a trial package by sending ten cents to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N.Y.

GERARD URGES HANGING FOR U. S. TRAITORS

SPEECH OF FORMER AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY AT DETROIT ARENA GIVEN TREMENDOUS APPLAUSE.

GERMANS MAKE SLAVES OF WAR PRISONERS

The More We Prepare For a Long War the Shorter That War Will Be, Remarkd Mr. Gerard.

Detroit.—"We've got to enforce the death penalty that traitors may be LEGALLY hanged," former Ambassador James W. Gerard declared in an impassioned speech to 7,500 persons, gathered in the Arena at the opening mass meeting of Wayne county's $7,000,000 Patriotic Fund drive.

In the tumult of applause that greeted Gerard's straight-from-the-shoulder utterance, the treble shouts of many women demonstrated beyond peradventure of a question that the time has come when the mothers and wives, sisters and sweethearts of our soldiers in France rebel at leniency toward those who would stab them in the back, while their breasts are bared to the bullets of the foe.

"You in Detroit, this great manufacturing city, cannot afford to have laws so weak that a man who plots to blow up a war plant or who weakens the mechanism of an aeroplane so that some brave American has to fall to his death, suffers no severe penalty than two years in prison and then, after the war, is permitted to go back to Germany and receive the iron cross and the gift of enough money to keep him in luxury for life."

"The Hohenzollerns are in this war for conquest and for money," he began. "The emperor himself, you might almost say 'that royal lunatic,' wrote some years ago that five men in history, Napoleon, Caesar, Alexander the Great, Theodor and Frederic the Great—he had to include a Hohenzollern—had chiefly influenced his life. And the life of everyone of these five was actuated by dreams of world conquest."

"Now, there are two ways we can help our soldiers in this war to frustrate the Kaiser's dream of conquest."

"The first is to create a universal, United States unity—to get behind our great president to a man. That's the secret of much of the success of an autocracy in war; there's one man at the head and there's no criticism."

"The second way is by giving. There's no use hoarding your money, for if the Germans come here you'll never find a place you can hide it from them."

"Do you know what it will mean to America if that thin, brave line that is holding France should break? It means seizure of the channel ports and, when the British are bottled up, the coming of the Germans here after us—and after money."

"The Germans make slaves of all they take in war. They use their prisoners to work in their factories, mines and fields, and they have 2,000,000 of them thus enslaved."

"You don't know what German domination means. I saw what it meant in Lille, that great manufacturing city of northern France. The German general posted a notice in Lille asking for volunteers to work for him in the captured fields. Only 14 men volunteered. 'All right,' said the general, 'we'll take their women.'"

"And that night when the men got home from work their wives and daughters were gone. 'Where are they?' they asked, and the neighbors told them that files of Prussian troops had come and driven them away."

"They took 20,000 French women and girls from Lille, kept them for months on distant farms, in lonely farmhouses with Prussian soldiers—and you know what that meant—and then they sent them back, or what was left of them."

"That's what Prussian domination means."

Mr. Gerard described a visit to the German prison camp at Wittenberg, before the United States entered the war, and the privations to which the captives were subjected.

"The general in command there," he said, "forced healthy British, French and Belgian prisoners to mingle with a number of Russians, ill with infectious typhus, remarking to them they 'would have to get acquainted with their allies.'"

"This is not going to be a short war or an easy war. But one thing's certain, the more we prepare for a long war the shorter that war will be."

Shipworkers Return to Work.

Baltimore.—The 1,000 or more ship workers who walked out at the Bethlehem Steel company's plant at Sparrow Point, have returned to work. An agreement having been reached following a lengthy conference between John Ferguson, president of the Baltimore Federation of Labor, and officials of the company. It has been agreed by the company to give all the men their back pay and slips in their envelopes will serve as a notification of the amount each will receive.

FORMER AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY OPENED WAYNE COUNTY'S DRIVE FOR $7,000,000 FUND

JAMES W. GERARD.

25,000 MARCH IN PARADE

Women Receive Great Ovation in Patriotic Fund Parade.

Detroit.—Fitting prelude to the week in which Detroit will pour out her wealth for the sake of our soldiers overseas was the great outpouring of her civilians—men, women, children—25,000 of them—who acclaimed by 10 times their number massed along the line of march, paraded Sunday afternoon to usher in Wayne county's $7,000,000 Patriotic fund drive.

Every unit evoked tremendous applause from the onlookers, but if there was one contingent outside of Lieutenant Sousa and the Great Lakes Naval Training station band that received a more fervid greeting than any other, it was the section composed of several thousand Red Cross workers. The progress of these self-sacrificing women, whose nimble hands are busy day in and day out providing for the comfort of their heroic menfolk, was a continuous ovation throughout the march of two miles.

Sunday's parade was the largest that has ever been held in Detroit, and it was far and away the most thoroughly representative of all the city's varied interests.

40,000 IN STATE TO REGISTER

Those Who Reached the Age of 21 Must Sign June 5.

Lansing.—Every young man in Michigan who has attained the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, will be required to go to his local draft board Wednesday, June 5, and register for military service.

Plans for the new registration were received by Adjutant General John S. Bersey May 18 from Provost Marshal General Crowder at Washington.

This means that every man of 21 who is not registered now must visit his local draft board. Those who are entitled to exemption or deferred classification will be placed in their proper positions later by the boards, but Colonel Bersey emphasizes the fact that every man must register or take the penalty, which means a long term in a federal prison. Men minus one eye, disqualified for military service are within the draft age and did not receive a registration card on June 5 a year ago.

It is estimated that the Michigan registration of new men next month will total about 40,000. The total registration in this state one year ago was 377,179.

GERMANY AND SWISS IN CRISIS

Chief Issue Is Shipment of Coal; Germans Want $40 and $44 Per Ton.

Paris.—An intense crisis has arisen between Germany and Switzerland, similar to the recent Dutch issue. The chief issue is the shipment of coal. A large section of the Swiss press is bitter in its comments on the extortionate German demands, considering them preparatory to reducing the republic to a German vassal state.

Following the German threat to stop sending coal to Switzerland altogether, directors of Swiss federated railroads demanded the return of 4,000 Swiss freight cars now in Germany. The Germans are holding these cars as a means of pressure.

Build Concrete Ship on Large Scale.

Washington.—The shipping board has decided to proceed immediately on a large scale with the building of concrete ships and will increase the program out of the appropriation of $2,250,000,000 asked for the next fiscal year. Eighteen concrete ships, aggregating 117,500 tons, have been contracted for. It was announced today that 53 other concrete vessels, at a cost of about $42,250,000, will be ordered as soon as sites for the four new government yards are chosen.

BRITISH WING FOUR GERMAN PLANES IN RAID

RAID OVER EASTERN LONDON APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN ON A LARGE SCALE.

AUSTRALIAN TROOPS MAKE BRILLIANT DASH ON ENEMY

They Carried All Objectives, Including the Village of Villersur. Acre 360 Taken Prisoners.

London.—Four enemy aeroplanes were brought down in a raid Sunday night over eastern England, says an official communication just issued.

The communication says: "Reports show four of the enemy aeroplanes which raided London and the southeast have been brought down."

"The raid appears to have been on a large scale. An considerable number of bombs were dropped."

"No details of casualties or damage are yet available."

British Bag 23 in Day.

London.—Twenty-three German machines were brought down by the British Sunday, the official report on aviation states. Nine British machines are missing. Twenty-nine tons of bombs were dropped on the German battle area. Zebruggen again was raided by British machines.

The war office issued the following statement on British aviation activity in Italy:

"Since May 8 we have destroyed 19 enemy aeroplanes and one balloon."

French Destroy 38 Planes.

Paris.—French official communiques says that 38 enemy machines have been brought down in the last 24 hours and 44 tons of bombs were dropped in the enemy zone.

Austrians Make Brilliant Dash.

London.—The foremost infantry action of the last 24 hours was a brilliant dash by Australian troops into the German positions in and around the hamlet of Villersur-Ancre, between that village and Morlaucourt. Between that village and Albert. In a preparatory assault in the evening the Anzaes had improved the British line and taken a number of machine guns.

During the night they launched a major attack, which carried all objectives, including the village itself, and netted the assailants 360 prisoners and 26 machine guns, the heaviest booty recorded in nearly two weeks. The Australian casualties were slight.

Allied Airmen Kill Fourteen.

Amsterdam.—Six Allied aviators participated in yesterday's air raid in Cologne, on the Rhine, according to German advices. The attack took place between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning. Much damage was done in the center of the city, especially on the market place. Fourteen were killed and more than 40 injured.

Austria to Give More Help.

The Hague.—Austria will take a bigger share in the operations on the Flanders front as a result of the recent Austro-German agreement, according to German advices. No decision was reached at the two emperors' conference with regard to an offensive in Italy, it is reported.

Italy Launches Asiago Drive.

London.—Among the rugged peaks of the Asiago plateau, east of the Brenta river, the Italian front has again flamed into violent action. The aggressive has been taken by the Italians, however, and the Austro-German forces instead of launching their long expected assault on Italian lines, have been compelled to fight hard to maintain positions where they have stood since last November.

The fighting seems to have centered on the comparatively short sector of the battle line between Monte Asalone and Monte Pertica. These two heights, about three miles apart, rise to an altitude of about 5,000 feet, while between them there is a sort of "saddle" on which Teutonic forces have taken up strong positions.

Germany Builds New U-Boat Cruisers.

Washington.—Realizing that America and the Allies have gained the mastery over the present type of submarine, Germany is now said to be planning a new series of big U-boat cruisers.

Allies Cannot Lose Says Smuts.

Glasgow.—"If the last English soldier were driven from France, Germany would not win, because she must win both on land and at sea. Her position is the same as that of Napoleon. The situation will be full of the greatest anxiety for many days, but the enemy cannot win for his cause is wrong, and we must and will win because our cause is right," declared General Christian Smuts, famous Boer leader. U. S. help makes the Allies' ultimate victory absolutely certain."

BOY PROBABLY TOLD TRUTH

Chances Are There Was Good, Hard Bottom to Slough if Traveler Had Reached It.

Occasionally there are times when a lie is the truth. The following story illustrates that paradox:

In Oregon there are many sloughs of mud or quicksand which are difficult and dangerous to cross. A certain Methodist missionary in that state, in the course of his travels, came to a slough which looked so formidable that he called a boy, who was chopping wood on the other side, and said:

"Boy, is that a safe slough to cross?"

"Oh, yes."

"Has it a good hard bottom?"

"Oh, yes," said the boy.

The man started to cross; his horse mired, and he had to dismount and wade out. Naturally he was angry.

"Why did you lie to me?" he demanded. "Didn't you say the slough had a good hard bottom?"

"Oh, yes," said the boy, "the bottom is good and hard, but you didn't get down to it!"—Methodist Centennial Bulletin.

If Swift & Company Made No Profit

The cattle raiser would receive only
 $\frac{1}{8}$  cent a pound more for his cattle

So small is Swift & Company's profit on any single transaction that if it were turned over to the cattle raisers of the country, they would receive only  $\frac{1}{8}$  cent a pound more for cattle than they receive now.

Swift & Company pays for live cattle about 90% of the amount received for dressed meat and by-products. The remaining 10% pays for packing-house expense, freight to market, operation of distributing houses and profit. Swift & Company's actual figures per head for 1917 on over two million cattle were as follows:

Receipts	Payments	Profit
From By-products $24.09 26%	$8.61 9%	$15.48 17%
From Meat $68.97 74%	Paid for Live Cattle $64.45 91%	$4.52 5%
Total $93.06	Total $93.06

\*This net profit of \$1.29 per head averages  $\frac{1}{8}$  cent a pound live weight.

And out of this small net profit dividends must be paid to shareholders.

PRESIDENT OPENS RED CROSS DRIVE FOR $100,000,000

IN NEW YORK, ADDRESS ANNOUNCES PURPOSE OF U. S. TO SET NO LIMIT ON MAN-POWER.

AMERICA WILL NEVER DESERT THE WEAK AND HELPLESS

United States Will Not Be Diverted From Its Purpose of Winning War By Insincere Peace Offers.

New York—The peace offers of Germany and her allies are more maneuvers for advantage, of no value because insincere. American will stand by Russia as well as France—it will never desert unity of feeling, sympathy and purpose such as 100 years of peace could not have brought.

These were the sentiments and pledges of President Wilson in his speech opening the campaign of the American Red Cross for $100,000,000.

Text of Wilson's Speech.
Mr. Chairman and fellow countrymen: I should be very sorry to think that Mr. Davison in any degree curtailed his exceedingly interesting speech for fear that he was postponing mine, because I am sure you listened with the same intent and intimate interest with which I listened to the extraordinarily vivid account he gave of the things which he had realized, because he had come in contact with them on the other side of the waters.

We compass them with our imagination; he compassed them in his personal experience, and I did not come here to review for you the work of the Red Cross; I am not competent to do so because I have not had the time or the opportunity to follow it in detail. I have come here simply to say a few words to you as to what it all seems to me to mean, and it means a great deal.

There are two duties with which we are face to face. The first duty is to win the war. And the second duty, that goes hand in hand with it, is to win it greatly and worthily, showing the real quality of our power not only, but the real quality of our purpose and of ourselves.

Of course, the first duty, the duty that we must keep in the foreground of our thought until it is accomplished is to win the war. I have heard gentlemen recently say that we must get 5,000,000 men ready. Why limit it to 5,000,000?

I have asked the congress of the United States to name no limit, because the congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry.

And we are not to be diverted from the grim purpose of winning the war by any insincere approaches upon the subject of peace. I can say with a clear conscience that I have tested those intimations, and have found them insincere. I now recognize them for what they are, an opportunity to have a free hand, particularly in the East, to carry out purposes of conquest and exploitation.

Stand by Russia.
Every proposal with regard to accommodation in the west involves a reservation with regard to the east. Now, so far as I am concerned, I intend to stand by Russia as well as France.

The helpless and the friendless are the very ones that need friends and succor; and if any man in Germany thinks we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake I tell them now they are mistaken.

For the glory of this war, my fellow citizens, insofar as we are concerned is that it is, perhaps for the first time in history, an unselfish war. I could not be proud to fight for a selfish purpose, but I can be proud to fight for mankind.

If they wish peace, let them come forward through accredited representatives and lay their terms on the table. We have laid ours and they know what they are.

But behind all this grim purpose, my friends, lies the opportunity to demonstrate not only force, which will be demonstrated to the utmost, but the opportunity to demonstrate character, and it is that opportunity that we have most conspicuously in the work of the Red Cross. Not that our men in arms do not represent our character, for they do, and it is a character which those who see and realize appreciate and admire; but their duty is the duty of force. The duty of the Red Cross is the duty of mercy and succor and friendship.

Have you formed a picture in your imagination of what this war is doing for us and for the world? In my own mind I am convinced that not a hundred years of peace could have knitted this nation together as this single year of war has knitted it together; and better even than that, if possible it is knitting the world together. Look at the picture. In the center of the scene, four nations engaged against the world, and at every point of vantage, showing that they are seeking selfish aggrandizement; and, against them, 23 governments represented the greater part of the population of the world drawn together into a new sense of community of interest, a new sense of a community of purpose, a new sense of unity of life.

The secretary of war told me an interesting incident the other day. He said when he was in Italy a member of the Italian government was explaining to him the many reasons why Italy felt near to the United States: "If you want to try an interesting experiment go up to any one of these troop trains and ask in English how many of them have been in America and see what happens."

He tried the experiment. He went up to a troop train and he said, "How many of you boys have been in America," and he said it seemed to him as if half of them sprang up: "Me from San Francisco; me from New York; all over." There was part of heart of America in the Italian army. People that had been knitted were fighting for their native Italy.

Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together. And this intimate contact of the Red Cross with the peoples who are suffering the terrors and deprivations of this war is going to be one of the greatest instrumentalities of friendship that the world ever knew, and the center of the heart of it all, if we sustain it properly, will be this land that we so dearly love.

May I say this? The duty that faces us all now is to serve one another, and no man can afford to make a fortune out of this war. There are men amongst us who have forgotten that, if they ever saw it. Some of us in the country are not old enough—I am old enough—to remember men who made fortunes out of the civil war, and you know how they were regarded by their fellow citizens. That was a war to save one country—this is a war to save the world.

Government Accepts Nothing.

And your relation to the Red Cross is one of the relations which will relieve you of the stigma. You can't give anything to the government of the United States; it won't accept it. There is a law of congress against accepting even services without price. The only thing that the government will accept is a loan, and duties performed; but it is a great deal better to give than to lend or to pay and your great channel for giving is the American Red Cross.

Down in your hearts you can't take very much satisfaction, in the last analysis, on lending money to the government of the United States, because the interest which you draw will burn our pockets; it is a commercial transaction, and some men have even dared to cavil at the rate of interest, not knowing the incidental commentary that concentrates upon their attitude.

But when you give—something of your heart, something of your soul, something of yourself goes with the gift, particularly when it is given in such form that it never can come back by way of direct benefit to yourself. You know there is the old cynical definition of gratitude, as "the lively expectation of favors to come."

Well there is no expectation of favors to come in this kind of giving. These things are bestowed in order that the world may be a fitter place to live in, that men may be succored, that homes may be restored; that suffering may be relieved; that the face of the earth may have the blight of destruction taken away from it and that wherever force goes, there shall go mercy and helpfulness.

And when you give, give absolutely all that you can spare, and don't consider yourself liberal in the giving. If you give with self-adulation, you are not giving at all; you are giving to your own vanity; but if you give until it hurts, then your heart blood goes into it.

And think what we have here. We call it the American Red Cross, but it is merely a branch of a great international organization which is not only recognized by the statutes of each of the civilized governments of the world, but it is recognized by international agreement and treaty as the recognized and accepted instrumentality of mercy and succor. And one of the deepest stains that rests upon the reputation of the German army is that they have not respected the Red Cross.

That goes to the root of the matter. They have not respected the instrument they themselves participated in setting up as the thing which no man was to touch, because it was the expedition of common humanity. We are members, by being members of the American Red Cross, of a great fraternity and comradeship which extends all over the world, and this cross which these ladies bore today is an emblem of Christianity itself.

It fills my imagination, ladies and gentlemen, to think of the women all over his country who are busy every night and doing the work of the Red Cross; busy with a great eagerness to find out the most serviceable thing to do, busy with a forgetfulness of all the old frivolities of their social relationships, ready to curtail the duties of the household in order that they may contribute to this common work that all their hearts are engaged in and in doing which their hearts become acquainted with each other.

When you think of this, you realize how the people of the United States are being drawn together into a great intimate family whose heart is being used for the service of the soldiers not only, but for the service of civilians, where they suffer and are lost in a maze of distresses and distractions. I summon you to the comradeship, I summon you in this week to say how much and how sincerely and how unanimously you sustain the heart of the world.

NEVER GAVE UP PERFUMERY

Writer Asserts That Men Have Simply Changed the Variety of the Scents They Employed.

A prophet, a fanatic, or a practical joker—which of these three is the man who now tells us that history, like a machine gun, is repetitions, and that, the cycle having been completed, the world is about to enter upon another era conspicuous for its perfumed fops, ruffled dukes and swagging dandies?

It might be well for this forecaster, who calls up the ghosts of the seventeenth century, to remember that so far as perfumery is concerned men have never given up its use; they have simply used it in a different form.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh blew smoke rings at Queen Elizabeth, men have been addicted to the use of perfumery in a form which is put up in boxes instead of in bottles, and which gives off rarefied fumes visible to the naked eye. Tobacco, the boon companion of many a man, occupies the highest throne in the vegetable kingdom, and is the friend of kings and hoboes, bankers and blacksmiths, saints and sinners.

Have you ever met Mr. Nick O. Teen's wife, who sprays herself with green stuff from a bottle, as if she were a bug about to be exterminated, and then scolds because her husband's hateful habit makes the house smell so stinky, and says that the only appropriate decoration for his coffin when he dies will be smoke wreaths? —New York Times.

Chinese Servants.

Many Europeans and Americans of moderate means like to live in China, because of the comfort, not to say state, which a person of income moderate by Western standards can maintain in the oldest of nations. Merchants and even clerks live in a fashion that might tax the resources of a munition manufacturer to keep up in America. Foreign residents agree that the Chinese make the best domestic employees in the world if they are allowed to go at the business in their own ways. The chief servant in the Chinese establishment is not the butler, but the cook. This indispensable functionary draws a wage of about a dollar and a half a week. Usually he is a good cook, and takes infinite pains in service, ornamenting the various dishes until they resemble Christmas packages. He does his own marketing and invariably "takes off" a commission from the merchants. If his employer is willing to sacrifice his "face" sufficiently to try to market for himself, he finds that food costs him more than the cook pays for it, commission and all.

Clifford's Inn, London.

Clifford's Inn is the oldest of the Inns of Chancery, according to a London letter in the Christian Science Monitor. It is a wonder that it is still standing. Some years ago it was threatened with the ax of the housebreaker, but apparently its lease of life had not yet run in October, 1906. It welcomed the Dickens Fellowship within the classic walls of Clifford's Inn hall. "The Inn," says the writer in the Christian Science Monitor, "can be entered from Chancery Lane, but the true Dickensian entrance is that of Mr. Boffin and John Harman. —Would you object to turn aside into this place—I think it is called Clifford's Inn—where we can hear one another better than in the roaring street?"

Consecration Restrictions.

The Nazirite, during the term of his consecration, was bound to abstain from every production of the vine and from every kind of intoxicating drink. He was forbidden to cut the hair of his head or to approach any dead body, even that of his nearest relation. —Numbers 6:1-21.

Not in His Line.

Miss Manchester—"Have you ever considered the bonds of matrimony?" Mr. Stockton-Bonds—"Nope. Nothing doing in bonds that are not listed."

If the poisons which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed.

Weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in knees and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, difficulty in urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. All these indicate some weakness of the kidneys or other organs or that the enemy microbes which are always present in your system have attacked your weak spots. ### Deal for Small Portion of Land.

One-vigintith of one-vigintith of an inch of land in Figueroa square, a California city subdivision, and one-tenth of one-vigintith of an inch in another subdivision, was the amount of land disputed in a case at Fresno, Cal., the other day. Mathematicians said the width of the strip described would be a fraction of an inch designated numerically by one, preceded by 43 groups of three ciphers each. Attorneys in the case said the suit was brought for the purpose of removing a cloud placed on the title in a tax proceeding several years ago.

Don't Be Afraid of Your Meals

Take "Eatonic" and Laugh At Stomach Troubles

H. L. Kramer, the man who originated Cascarets, has discovered a sure, safe, quick-acting relief for bad stomachs. He named it EATONIC for your stomach's sake.

You can eat anything you like now and digest it in comfort, for stomach ease is positively assured if you eat an EATONIC tablet regularly after each meal.

EATONIC acts directly with the food the moment it enters the stomach. It immediately checks any tendency toward too much acid and enables the food to pass from the stomach into the bowel in a sweetened condition, and thus prevents the formation of sour distressing gases that upset digestion and cause a bloated, dull, lumpy feeling that makes your FOOD REPEAT.

EATONIC enables you to eat your fill and laugh at indigestion, dyspeptic Cascarets, "sour stomach" and all the other bugbears of "the man-afraid-of-his-stomach."

Kramer says: "EATONIC should be in every home ready for use after every meal. An EATONIC tablet will aid you naturally to easily digest and assimilate—your food can be thoroughly enjoyed without the slightest danger of misery from acid stomach. I strongly advise every one to take EATONIC after meals. To correct bad stomachs and keep them in perfect condition, it is a most wonderful discovery."

If EATONIC fails to give you prompt stomach relief, your money will be refunded; 50c buys a large box at any drug store. Or write to Eaton Remedies Co., 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, U. S. A.

DON'T think that because your stomach can digest food you are proof against indigestion. The most important digestive work is done by the bowels, liver and kidneys. Unless these are active and work in harmony, you are in danger of self-poisoning.

Community of Spirit.
When a man says to me wistfully, "I want to go to the mountains, but I suppose we'll go to the seashore," I understand; I know precisely where he wishes to go. He wishes to go fishing. There is community of spirit between us. We could both be happy on a catboat, but would both be miserable on a board walk.—Robert M. Gay, in the Atlantic.

And using their feet more than ever before. For all these workers the frequent use of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, increases their efficiency and insures needed physical comfort. It takes the friction from the shoe, freshens the feet, and prevents tired, aching and blistered feet. Women everywhere are constant users of Allen's Foot-Ease. Don't get foot sore, get Allen's Foot-Ease. Sold by dealers everywhere. See—Adv.

Educate Blind Soldiers.
The ablest educators of the blind in the country are co-operating with the government in its plans for the most complete system of re-education for blinded soldiers that has ever been undertaken. When their education has been perfected the committee will find employment for soldiers and aid them in filling their old places in the community. Mrs. T. Harrison Garrett has offered her Baltimore estate of 90 acres to serve as a hospital school for the blinded officers and men.

Easy to figure the Profits

Where in Western Canada you can buy at from $15 to $30 per acre good farm land that will raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre of $2 wheat—its easy to figure the profits. Many Western Canadian farmers (scores of them from the U. S.) have paid for their land from a single crop. Such an opportunity for 100% profit on labor and investment is worth investigation.

Canada extends to you a hearty invitation to settle on her Free Homestead Lands of 160 Acres Each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Think what you can make with wheat at $2 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming and cattle raising.

GOV. SLEEPER WARNS PUBLIC

Issues Proclamation Calling on Citizens to Observe Laws.

Lansing, Mich.—Governor Sleeper does not want mob rule to prevail in Michigan. While some of the offenses committed by enemies of the government have been of such character that local citizens have taken the law into their own hands, the governor begs them to remember that Michigan has courts to punish the guilty.

"I feel it my duty, as governor of Michigan, to warn the people of the state against the tendency to take the law into their own hands, because of certain conditions in their community life," declared Governor Sleeper in a proclamation issued a few days ago.

"It is no time for mob rule to supersede the jurisdiction of regularly constituted authority. I fully appreciate conditions which have aroused some people to an opinion that they can only accomplish the desired results by taking the law into their own hands. There are courts and laws in the land and citizens must allow them to handle matters affecting the peace and dignity of this state and nation rather than to attempt snap judgment. We must all exercise patience and remember that unless, in our practice, we follow the methods of government which we claim to be so dear to us, other people can hardly have the respect for us and our institutions which they should have.

"If any citizen believes he has cause to complain of the conduct of any other citizen, or inhabitant of his locality, the matter should at once be reported to the authorities, and left for them to deal with. I call upon all of our people to make this time of stress a period of careful law observance. The authorities of each community and county must see to it that peace and good order prevail, and that the laws of the state are upheld."

Copies of this proclamation have been mailed to the prosecuting attorneys and sheriffs of the various counties and to local police chiefs in the various municipalities. While the governor does not want any guilty person to escape punishment, he wants offenders dealt with by constituted authority.

Uncle Sam's War Preparation

A Series of Remarkable Motion Pictures Taken by Gov't Photographers and Shown by Gov't Officials

The Princess Theatre

Has been commandeered by the War Preparedness Committee for

Wednesday, May 22d, 1918

In order to show these pictures to everybody in Chelsea and vicinity.

The Government has three distinct objects in view in showing these unusual pictures throughout the United States as follows:

1. To give people a correct idea of just what this country is doing both here and "over there" to aid our allies in the struggle to maintain human liberty.

2. To give data that will be helpful in combating Pro-German propaganda.

3. To raise a huge fund for the benefit of soldiers' dependent widows and orphans.

The show of seven reels brim full of intensely interesting war material, but no fighting scenes—they are war pictures without any war. These pictures are in every particular instructive, wholesome and intensely interesting, to both old and young. Among other things they show the use of gas and fire and the American mask by the 30th Regular Engineers who have for several weeks been holding part of the line on the Western Front in France. This is one of the most remarkable films ever made and the only one of its kind in existence. Another film shows our fleet of Torpedo Boat Destroyers in action with Admiral Sims on the deck of his flagship looking for submarines. In this part is shown the use of the torpedo and the guns which fire it. Actual firing at submarines in midocean is shown in remarkable "close-ups." For the first time the Government shows details of submarines and how they submerge while going at a rapid rate. Interesting cannonment pictures showing just how hundreds of thousands of our boys are preparing for work over there, make an important part of this splendid entertainment.

The United States Marine Corps is shown in by far the best picture that has ever been taken of this important arm of our offense and defense now on the Western Front battling the Huns. The part entitled "Messengers of Mercy" is possibly the most interesting part of the entertainment. It shows in every minute detail how both physicians and medical students have to prepare for their arduous duties on the front lines. And then there is an especially attractive part showing soldiers and sailors at play. This part runs the gamut from a tub race in mid-ocean to a finished football game between the Army team and Harvard. This is admitted to be the clearest football picture ever photographed. A forward pass of 15 yards is pulled off directly at the mouth of the camera, the player catching the ball almost out of the audience. The show closes with a magnificent close-up of General Pershing and his men in fighting togs just after their arrival at the battle front. Also reviewing the Rainbow Division including the First Michigan Ambulance Company.

PRESIDENT WILSON

wants every man, woman and child in America to see this series of remarkable patriotic pictures—and by going to see them you help swell the fund to be used in aiding soldiers' dependent widows and orphans. A Government official has been detailed to explain the pictures as they are shown.

Proper Food for Weak Stomachs.

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Every one should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.—Adv.
