CHURCHMEN PLEDGE LOYALTY.

The Michigan conference of the Evangelical Synod of North America, which was in session at Bethel's church in Freedom township from May 29 to June 2, adopted without debate, by a rising vote, the following declaration of loyalty, which was enthusiastically received by the delegates present:

"Resolved, That the Michigan district of the German Evangelical Synod of North America, in conference assembled, and representing 95 congregations of German-American constituency, reaffirms its undivided loyalty to this nation and avows its determination to support the government in every counsel and action which are deemed necessary in these critical times, and that we call upon our constituency to leave no deed undone to which they are obligated as citizens of this nation and which will contribute to the welfare of our country in this crisis of its history."

ORGANIZE HOME GUARDS.

A meeting of all interested citizens will be held Friday evening, June 7th, at 7:30 o'clock in the offices of the Michigan Portland Cement company for the purpose of organizing a drill squad to be known as the "Home Guards." Men of draft age or near draft age are especially requested to be present, as training secured at this time may be the means of rapid advancement and an officer's position at the cantonments later on.

Citizens generally should interest themselves in the opportunity to get a military training here at home. The training will be of physical benefit to many and may result in the lean growing fat and the fat growing lean. Be on hand Friday night and prove your patriotism.

CARD FROM "MIC" FENN.

The Tribune received an interesting card from Clair ("Mic") Fenn, Kelly Field, So. San Antonio, Texas, yesterday. He says he scans every copy of the Tribune in order to keep posted on the things happening in the "old home town." The southern papers aren't worth anything when it comes to news, either about the war or local matters. It was 120° above zero yesterday (May 28th) and the most popular uniform is a suit of B. V. D's. He expects to enter the training school for the rank of Sergeant Major, June 8th, and will spend the next month there. He mentioned having seen "Bill" (Hollis) Freeman, recently.

Miss Anna Tichenor broke her left forearm at the wrist Saturday afternoon in a fall down the cellar stairs at her home, South and Congdon streets. She was wearing a pair of loose house slippers and one partially slipped from her foot and the heel caught on the edge of the step, tripping her and causing her to fall about four steps to the cellar floor.

AMELIA A. MILLER.

The sudden and unexpected death of Miss Amelia A. Miller in Ann Arbor, Saturday, was a great shock to the members of her family and to her many friends in Chelsea. She had recently submitted to a minor operation on her nose, from which she had apparently recovered, but which had left her in an extremely nervous condition. However, there had never been any supposition in the minds of her relatives and friends that she was in a serious condition and the news of her death was prostrating to them.

Amelia Ann Miller was born in Lyndon township, November 12, 1871, her parents being George and Josephine Miller. Her entire life had been spent in this vicinity, on the farm in Lyndon and since the fall of 1911 at the family home, 128 East Summit street, Chelsea. Her aged mother, Mrs. George Miller, five sisters, Sister Mary Ignatius, O. S. D., of St. Clair, Misses Mary, Margaret, Anna and Lena Miller of Chelsea, and five brothers, Edward J., George A., Louis J., of Chicago; Charles W. of Ithaca, and John P. of Detroit; also one niece, Miss Josephine Miller of Chelsea, are left to mourn their loss.

The funeral was held from the church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart at 8:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. Fr. Considine officiating. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

U-BOATS SINK ATLANTIC COASTWISE SHIPPING

Total of Eight Vessels Has Been Sunk by German Submarines off New Jersey Coast.

German submarines operating off the coast of New Jersey have sunk at least eight American vessels, but so far as is known only one life has been lost. Included in the list of sunken vessels are two passenger liners, one carrying 220 passengers from Porto Rico.

The policy of this submarine raid seems to be to confine attacks to freight or passenger ships and to avoid the heavily convoyed troop ships.

Just what is the purpose of the attack is still a conjecture, but the opinion of naval men is that the raid is in the nature of a "scare" intended to strike terror into the hearts of the Americans. In any event, it is certain that the attacks will more than ever strengthen the conviction of all loyal Americans that the Germans must be subjected to a crushing defeat on both land and sea, and will have a direct effect in the speeding up the production of all kinds of war supplies and materials.

SAW POINT OF RESEMBLANCE

Youngster's Comment, However, Could Hardly Be Called a Complimentary One.

A fond auntie was left to amuse her small niece and nephew while their mother went shopping. James became deeply interested in his toy engine and tiny Ruth was absorbed in watching auntie cut out beautiful paper dolls. One of these appealed to her particularly and she would scarcely wait for auntie to finish.

"Oh, auntie, isn't she pretty? She's blue."

"Yes, she is lovely. And see what a fancy dress she has on. Look at her long train."

The last word caught serious-minded James' attention.

"Auntie, show me the train."

Auntie pointed to the deep flounce which was set on with large plaits and which was long enough at the back for quite a sweep. James took it in his hands and examined it closely and silently for a few moments. Handing it back, he said solemnly:

"I suppose you could call it a train. It looks something like a cow-catcher."

Heals Running Sores and Conquers Piles.

Also Stops Itching of Eczema as Soon as Applied.

"I feel it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gilbrath, 703 Reed St., Erie, Pa.

"I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow men."

For years have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for a trifle. The healing power of this ointment is marvelous. Eczema runs in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. Pimples and nasty blackheads disappear in a week. 25 cents a box.

Hunger Tower.

Food Controller Hoover said at a breakfast dinner in Washington:

"The German food situation forced on the great German offensive. The hungry German populace was sick of the war and starvation. The Kaiser had to attack or knuckle under."

"I heard a story the other day from Germany."

"A cadaverous tourist was visiting an ancient Schloss or castle. After wandering among the moats and dungeons and portcullises awhile, he said to the cadaverous keeper:

"My guidebook informs me that there's an ancient hunger tower here—a tower where they used to starve their prisoners to death."

"Yes, sir; that's right, sir," said the keeper. "This way for the hunger tower, and you'll be just in time for luncheon. You see, sir, it's been made into a restaurant now."

Stoker's Act of Bravery.

In these days of undersea warfare, when the blow is often struck without warning, a new danger is added to the already hazardous tasks of the ship's firemen. Speed is an essential in beating the U-boat, and this requires constant work. Recently the bottom blow valve of a boiler was carried away on a vessel of the United States navy. One of the crew was Aloysius Fawcett, a fireman, first class. With two others he made his way through a steam-filled fireroom and fought a passage through a hot cloud in the engine room. Here he helped haul the fires at a critical moment. The nerve and quickness of the act saved the boiler and the vessel from serious accident. Fawcett enlisted in the navy in 1911, at Cincinnati.

MAY PUT 80% TAX ON PROFITEERS

SENATOR BORAH, OF IDAHO, SOUNDED THE OPENING BATTLE IN SPEECH.

PROFITS LIMITED TO 20 PERCENT

Large Number of Senators Getting Ready to Back Up Borah in His Demand Against Profiteers.

Washington—A revenue bill that will take up to 80 per cent of all war profits is the aim of the group of senators who have made up their minds to go after the war profiteers. They intend to bend every effort to have the measure include provisions which will allow not more than 20 per cent of the war profits to go into the pockets now claiming them.

A speech by Senator Borah, Idaho, recently sounded the opening of the battle that will be made against excessive war profits. Tuesday he will call up his resolution calling on Secretary McAdoo to give the senate all information regarding swollen profits in possession of the treasury department.

Senators to Back Borah.

He will ask for immediate action on the resolution, so the senate may have ground work for its action in applying suitable taxation to the profits.

A large number of senators are getting ready to back up Senator Borah in his demand for action against the profiteers. It will bring a renewal of the fight started last fall, when the revenue bill was being considered, when Borah, Johnson, of California, and other senators tried to have the excess profits and war profits scales revised upward. At that time they were unsuccessful, but now with the president openly supporting the issue, they believe they will have small trouble in winning their fight.

"I think almost anyone would admit that during times like these 20 per cent of war profits added to the normal excess profits should be enough for any man to take as the profits of his business," Senator Borah continued.

DESTROYER BUILT IN 17 DAYS

Secretary Daniels Said the Average Time Before War Was 11 Months.

Washington—The United States destroyer Ward was successfully launched at the Mare Island navy yard, California, 17 and a half days after her keel was laid. The nearest approach to this record was the launching of a 333 foot cargo vessel by the New York Shipbuilding company, Camden, N. J., in 27 days.

Before the United States went to war, Secretary Daniels said the average time for a destroyer on the ways was 11 months. The secretary termed the Mare Island record a remarkable one and declared that it probably would not be equalled for some time. As much structural work as possible for the Ward was prepared in advance ready for erection and assembling before the keel was laid. Bulkheads, sections of the keel, deckhouses, bridge structure and a section of the destroyer's stem were riveted up ready for assembling in place on the ways.

Launching of 16 vessels on the Pacific coast, July 4, is planned, in response to the appeal of Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, to the country's shipbuilders, to celebrate Independence day with a heavy output of tonnage.

BOILER BURSTS; MANY KILLED

Reports Indicate That 10 Workmen Were Killed By the Explosion.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—With reports indicating as many as 10 workmen may have been killed in a boiler explosion at the plant of the Bartlett Lumber company, at Sheldrake, in an isolated section of Chippewa county, Sunday morning, the sheriff is preparing an expedition to that point to ascertain the extent of the damage and bring relief to the injured. Meager information concerning the mishap, coming by indirect route, variously places the death list at from two to ten.

Communication with Sheldrake involves a boat trip of almost 50 miles. One report, received by a Soo insurance agency, declared two were killed and seven injured, while the Soo hospital received a report 10 were dead and almost a score injured.

Since first reports of the accident were received, officers have been unsuccessfully trying to get into direct communication with Sheldrake, and a relief expedition is now planned.

Ordered to Bath—May Sue.

Port Huron—George Baldock, Clyde township, about to be released from quarantine for smallpox, informed Prosecuting Attorney Stewart that if his death resulted from an order to take a bath, relatives would sue the county for damages. Baldock stated he took his last bath last summer and that one year was sufficient. Health officials insist on him bathing before being released. The prosecutor ordered Baldock to go ahead with the immersion and report on results.

Jackson—David Wise, who with his brother Samuel was arrested in Detroit recently on a charge of arson, was released under $5,000 bond, bail having been reduced from $10,000. The Wise brothers were implicated in the Detroit arson ring and were charged with firing their furniture store in Jackson last January.

Pontiac—The serious nature of the fuel situation was told business men at the Board of Commerce recently by W. P. Prudden, state fuel administrator. Stating that Michigan's allotment of anthracite is but 1,064,000 tons, he pointed out that people will be compelled to use soft coal, and urged that it be stored at once.

Mt. Clemens—A special committee of the council will recommend that a special woman protective officer be employed by the city for the protection of social work among young girls. The officer was petitioned for by every woman's organization in the city. The proximity of many soldiers at Selfridge field is the occasion for the special demand.

Ann Arbor—Col. R. D. K. Austin of the British army addressed the University of Michigan reserve officers' training camp here on discipline, which he said was the most important thing in this war. The colonel told how 1,200 allied troops of a force of 1,600 at Mt. Kemmel were killed because of failure on the part of a private to carry out an order with exactness.

Traverse City—Charles A. Emerson, supervisor of Garfield township, Grand Traverse county, justice of the peace for 20 years, township clerk at the age of 21, organizer of the Growers and Shippers' association of the American Society of Equity and state secretary of the society for two years, has announced his candidacy for the state legislature from Grand Traverse county.

Traverse City—Because years ago a city engineer built concrete culverts and bridges of the Asylum creek, running through this city, too narrow and too high. Traverse City will be forced to spend at least $20,000 to remedy the blunder, and possibly a still larger sum. Property on the west side of the city is inundated with every heavy rain because the culverts will not handle the flood.

Flint—J. Ross MacDonald, son of former Mayor John R. MacDonald, now chairman of the first division draft board, has given up voluntarily a position in Detroit as inspector of aeroplanes and aeroplane engines and enlisted in the mechanical repair department of the quartermaster's corps. R. car at the intersection of Woodward avenue and the Twelve Mile road a week ago Sunday, was placed on the D. U. R. by the coroner's inquest. Reed City—A. W. Huckle has purchased from his brother, T. O. Huckle, ownership of the Osceola County Herald. The latter will devote his time to chataqua work in the future.

Muskegon—A. J. Pierce and Hiram Butterfield, farmers, arrested by Deputy Game Warden Wellhamer on a charge of using a net in Wolf lake, paid fines of $30 each in Justice Gibney's court.

Albion—The farmhouse of Ray Haight, who lives southeast of Albion, was struck by lightning this week. His daughter, Elma, who was sleeping by an open window, suffered a severe shock. The siding was torn from the house.

Benton Harbor—When Joseph Windeck sought a subscription for the Red Cross he was severely beaten by Joseph, Edward, Albert and Andrew Catkowsky of St. Joseph township. They were arrested and fined a total of $90.

Washington—Saginaw, Mich., is one of a lot of postoffices which Secretary McAdoo in a communication to congress puts down as in need of extension as soon as practicable because of "progressive congestion" due to heavy increases in business.

Lansing—W. K. Prudden, state fuel administrator, temporarily denied the request of Michigan coal miners for a raise of 10 cents a ton for underground work in the Saginaw district. The decision may be amended if the men can produce additional evidence later.

Lansing—The Flowerfield flour mill, at Flowerfield, St. Joseph county, was ordered closed during June, by George A. Prescott, federal food administrator for Michigan, on charges of having taken excessive prices for feeds and general non-compliance with food regulations.

Pontiac—Increased costs of operating the municipal water plant have made it necessary for the city commission to increase the water rates and an ordinance has been introduced increasing flat and meter rates $2 a year. The biggest increase has been for coal and labor.

Traverse City—William Huffman, aged 46, a prosperous farmer of Kingsley, hanged himself Thursday. He was the father of five boys, the youngest of whom found him hanging from a barn rafter when he went to call him for dinner. Temporary insanity is believed to be the cause.

Grand Rapids—R. D. Graham, banker and fruit grower, one of the most widely known fruit experts in this vicinity, predicts an extremely poor peach crop for this district. He says the severe winter is to blame. Indications are for a good crop of apples and plums, he says, although cherries will be a short crop.

Niles—While 1,000 breathless and horrified spectators looked on, Ralph Baker, 31, known as the "Human Fly," slipped at the third story of the Dean building here and fell 60 feet to the sidewalk. His skull was crushed and death was almost instantaneous. A hard rain during the afternoon made the face of the building slippery. Baker's home was at Kendallville, Ind.

Muskegon—Warren Spencer, 23, and Miss Lucille Gryka, 18, are being held for questioning on a report that they conspired to murder Spencer's wife.

Lansing—According to figures given by former Governor Fred M. Warner Michigan women have sent abroad nearly 7,000,000 pieces of Red Cross work since December 1. The product which went to France filled 35 freight cars.

Pontiac—Fire did $50,000 damage to the plant of the Precision Castings company here, starting from overheating a smoke pipe through a wooden roof. The greater part of the loss was borne by the United States government, which had $30,000 worth of dies stored in the factory. The flames destroyed the roof and damaged the melting room. Steps will be taken at once to rebuild.

Lansing—George Veltingreuber, of Millington, was the highest bidder for the two pounds of wool sent from the White House to be auctioned in this state. He will be sent the wool, his bid being $75 per pound. Adolph Zoehender, also of Millington, was the next highest bidder, $50 per pound. The money, when received, will be turned into a special fund known as the President's Red Cross fund.

Corunna—William S. Sayers, appointed by Federal Judge Tuttle, of Detroit, to compute the damages in the proceedings of Fred Kay, of Corunna, against the steamship South American, chartered by the Grand Comandery Knights Templar in 1915 to take the Templars to the annual convocation at Calumet, has fixed damages at $7,500. The liability of the steamship was established in court several months ago. A large number of Knights Templars from all parts of the state were taken with typhoid fever by impure water served on the boat.

THOUSANDS HEAR COL. ROOSEVELT

FORMER PRESIDENT DELIVERS ADDRESS IN DETROIT ON MEMORIAL DAY.

ARRAIGNS U. S. WAR POLICY

Theodore Roosevelt Came to Michigan in Drive to Secure Recruits for the Navy.

Detroit—Undivided loyalty to America, a "square deal" for Americans of German or other foreign origin who are true to their oaths of allegiance, universal obligatory military training and the concentration of the nation's whole energy toward "putting through the war till it is crowned by peace with overwhelming triumph," were the four doctrines hammered home by Theodore Roosevelt to a madly cheering throng of 5,000 in Arcadia Thursday night.

"This is my Memorial day message to you," he summarized at the conclusion of a speech of an hour and 20 minutes.

"First, that we keep this nation a nation, a nation of Americans and only of Americans, a nation in which we do not allow any man to pretend to be a citizen unless he is an American and nothing else."

"That we treat every good American without regard to his birthplace or national origin or creed as on an equality with every other good American in the land."

"That we prepare for the future, so that never again shall we be caught as shamefully unprepared as we have been caught this time."

"Finally, and most important, that now we bend our whole energies to speeding up this war, to put it through until it is crowned with overwhelming triumph."

The colonel had elucidated his last point earlier in more characteristic language.

"I don't want any decision on points," he declaimed. "I want a knockout."

That was one of the epigrammatic flashes that proved him the same old Teddy, after all.

For when America's foremost private citizen began his Arcadia address, the gentleness with which he initiated what became later a smashing arraignment of the evils still lurking in the life of the nation at war, caused many whispered comments that age had begun to overtake virility; that while ability to express himself in plain English had not faltered, his vim and fire of delivery had suffered with advancing years.

Although Roosevelt's main topic was the fault underlying America's failure to make the best of her opportunities, both before and after she entered the war, he spent fully 20 minutes discussing the duty of American citizens of fighting age. He was in Detroit the guest of the navy; he came as a part of their program for recruiting the men who will build a bridge across the seas, and he acknowledged the fact by plain-spoken declarations as to the necessity for battle-line strength.

"For the only way to win the war, after all, is a smash the German armies," he declared, bringing down a characteristic fiat.

TRIAL OF I. W. W. UNDER WAY

Former Chief Tells of Driving Spikes in Logs to Wreck Machinery.

Chicago—Private Frank Wormikee, alias Frank Woods, testified at the trial of 112 Industrial Workers of the World that he was asked by members of the organization to teach sabotage in the American army. This sabotage, Wormikee said he was informed, could include placing a foreign substance in food to cause illness and the cutting up of clothing.

Wormikee's tale of violence by members of the organization spanned a period of nearly two years, during a part of which he worked as an organizer in the harvest fields, the big lumber camps, the shipping districts and the orange belt of California.

He admitted committing acts of sabotage while an I. W. W. delegate, and said he received I. W. W. literature in at least one instance after he entered Jefferson barracks.

He told of deserting from the Colorado national guard, of enlisting last summer at Minot, N. D., under a fictitious name to obtain release from charges preferred by state authorities, and testified that he, as a delegate, had been instructed to encourage violence.

Osborn Seeks Reforms After War.

Lansing, May 30.—Former Governor Chase S. Osborn, of the Soo, urged a revolution in the public school system after the war in an address last night at the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical society. He declared the present system is patterned after the Volksschule system of Germany which aims to keep the common people down and prevent the lower classes from raising their standards of education to that of the aristocracy.

BUMPER CROPS FOR STATE

Drought Is Only Thing Feared; Beans Can Be Gotten Rid of Before Frost.

Lansing—Crop reports, unofficial ones which come to Lansing by letter and by mouth, are so good that state officials are sitting with their fingers crossed, hardly daring to hope that the conditions which have already appeared will continue throughout the summer.

Down to cases, nothing but a drought is feared. If conditions continue hereafter for the rest of the summer as have obtained during May, Michigan will have bumper crops. Even early frosts are not feared much, for with a continuance of the present good weather nearly all the crops will have matured long before the frosts come. Even beans, always a dangerous crop, can be gotten rid of before the first touch of cold weather comes. Last year lateness in the start of the season put practically 75 per cent of the bean crop so late in maturing that the early frosts nipped them.

MRS. STOKES GIVEN TEN YEARS

Found Guilty On All Three Counts New Trial Overruled.

Kansas City, Mo.—After conviction of Rose Pastor Stokes, Judge A. S. Van Valkenburgh, in the United States district court here, overruled a motion for a new trial filed by Seymour Steadman, her attorney, based on the contention that the court had failed to distinguish between motive and intent. The court also overruled a motion for arrest of judgment.

The case was based on a letter she wrote to the Kansas City Star, in which she declared she had asserted: "No government which is for the profiteers can be for the people, and I am for the people."

The Star, which had used conservative headlines on the interview she had given criticizing the government—she afterward said she meant the administration, instead of the government supposed to be satisfactory to Mrs. Stokes; for she had no further complaint of lack of publicity.

At that point the government stepped in. The result was her indictment under the espionage act.

Mrs. Stokes was given 10 years on each of three counts, the terms to run concurrently and the defendant not being subjected to a fine.

PRAGER JURORS ACQUIT ALL 11

Wild Demonstration in Courtroom When News of Not Guilty Came.

Edwardsville, Ill.—The 11 men charged with murder in connection with the lynching of Robert Paul Prager, enemy alien, were acquitted by a jury after 45 minutes of deliberation. Two ballots were taken.

Announcement that all of the defendants had been found not guilty was attended by a wild demonstration in the courtroom in which the accused men were overwhelmed with congratulations by relatives and friends who, throughout the long vigil of examination and testimony-taking, have crowded the room.

In closing the argument for the defense, Thomas Williamson quoted a statement attributed to former Ambassador Gerard in which the latter told of replying to the Kaiser's threat that there were 500,000 reservists in this country with this assertion: "Yes, and there are 500,000 lamp posts to hang them on." He declared that the present war situation had developed a new "unwritten law" which had been invoked by the men who hanged Prager because of his alleged disloyalty.

ARMY BANDITS ARE TRAPPED

Heavy Military Guard Placed Around Jail As Extra Precaution.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Heavy military guard has been placed around the county jail here as extra precaution against any attempted jail delivery by friends of George Dahl and Harry Powell, who were taken in ambuscade early Saturday.

No chances are being taken that the men may make a third escape and each has been handcuffed and placed in solitary cell pending action by the court martial which may decree punishment by death.

The capture of the deserters was without bloodshed. Sheriff Wallace Lundy and four soldiers "had the drop on" the two men before they knew that they had walked into a trap and they submitted to having their stolen guns taken from them without resistance.

House Passes Largest Budget.

Washington—The largest annual army appropriation bill in history, carrying $12,041,682,000 and authorizing the president to call into military service all men who can be trained and equipped, was passed by the house and sent to the senate. The house broke its record for speed on an army bill by taking the final vote after three days of debate. The measure is framed to provide for an army of 3,000,000 men during the coming year.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I bought a bottle and took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

pound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Under normal conditions, the farmer's share of retail prices of various farm products is approximately as follows:

Butter	71 per cent
CATTLE	66 2/3 to 75 per cent
Eggs	65 per cent
Potatoes	55 per cent
Poultry	45 per cent
Fruits	35 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its well-equipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about 1/4 of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.

RHUBARB—MAKE THE MOST OF IT

Rhubarb Fresh From the Garden. Ready for Use in Any One of Half a Dozen Attractive Ways.

RHUBARB IS ONE OF BEST PLANTS

Advance Guard of Many Good Things in Way of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables.

YOUNG LEAVES ARE TENDER

Expert of Department of Agriculture Relates Her Experience in Making Delicious Dishes—Some Recipes Are Given.

I always hail with delight the first tender stalks of rhubarb that grow in my garden. They are the advance guard of so many good things in the way of fresh fruits and vegetables that the spring and summer bring to us.

Even the back yard or city garden can have its clump of rhubarb. I find it one of the most useful plants in my garden. By cutting out the bloom stalk before it matures and pulling the stalks often I have good rhubarb in summer. If neglected too long the leaf stalks become woody, but the young leaves in the center of the crown will be tender and usable all summer. The leaf area should not be reduced too much by harvesting, as it will weaken the root and reduce the harvest the following year. Even when fruits come I do not forget the rhubarb, and in preserving time it repays me for my care by saving me money.

Making Preserves. Strawberries and raspberries are usually expensive to buy by the crate for preserving, but I make preserves, using from one-third to one-half by weight of rhubarb. Both raspberries and strawberries have a decided flavor, so that the rhubarb is not noticeable. I allow the rhubarb to cook down until fairly concentrated before adding the berries. The result is a delicious jam or preserve.

From time to time I cut the rhubarb and, if it is not wanted for immediate use, put up a few cans for winter. I have kept some very successfully by cutting into half-inch pieces, packing in jars and filling to overflowing with cold water, then sealing the jars as usual.

Later in the summer I make a few jars of rhubarb conserve, cooking the rhubarb with sugar until concentrated, then adding nuts and raisins.

When rhubarb made its appearance this spring I resolved to find a way to use it without using more than my share of sugar. I have found that by using corn sirup I can make rhubarb sauce successfully.

Rhubarb Sauce. Wash the rhubarb and cut in half-inch pieces. Put three cupsful of the cut rhubarb in a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of water and cook for five minutes. Add one and one-half cupsful of corn sirup and cook together until the rhubarb is tender.

If you desire a sweeter sauce, a tablespoonful or so of sugar will help.

One of my favorite desserts is rhubarb tapioca. Soak a half cupful of pearl tapioca in two cupsful of water until soft. Put in double boiler and cook until clear, adding more water if necessary. Add a half teaspoonful of salt and stir in two cupsful of rhubarb sauce. When cool add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Chill and serve with cream.

Another favorite of mine is rhubarb scallop. I save all left-over muffins or biscuits made from the wheat substitutes and grind them into crumbs. These I use as a basis for scalloped dishes.

Rhubarb Scallop. Wash tender rhubarb stalks and cut into pieces about an inch long. For each cupful of crumbs use a cupful and a half of the cut rhubarb. If the crumbs are very dry, moisten slightly with water. Butter a baking dish and put a layer of crumbs sprinkled with cinnamon or nutmeg, then a layer of rhubarb and three or four tablespoonfuls of corn sirup. Dot with butter. Repeat until dish is full, covering the top with buttered crumbs. Bake for 20 minutes and brown on top. This may be served hot with or without sauce.

RHUBARB—HOW TO USE IT

One of the food specialists employed by the United States department of agriculture is an enthusiast on rhubarb. Not only does she demonstrate it in the departmental kitchens and elsewhere, not only does she commend its good qualities to women everywhere, but she grows it in her own garden and prepares it in her own kitchen for use by her own family. Read her statement of some of the excellent uses she finds for it.

Breadless Meals Save Wheat.

How are you saving wheat? One way is to serve breadless meals now and then. Have you ever tried them?

Breadless meals need planning ahead. You can't take just any menu and take the bread out and expect the family to like it. Bread has several functions in the meal, and fully deserves the high opinion which we have of it. It is one of our best foods for fuel, furnishing carbohydrate in the form of starch and also body-building protein and mineral substances. But if the meal contains enough other food to furnish the starch and the protein needed why not save the bread?

Try planning your meals so that these wheat-saving dishes take the place of the bread. Potatoes, sweet potatoes or dashen—mashed, baked, boiled or rice—rice, oven-fried cornmeal mush, hominy grits, large hominy, baked beans, lima beans, split peas—all are good served as vegetables, with meat and gravy. It is not necessary to serve more than one of these starchy foods at a meal, but serving two of them, for instance, well-browned, crusty croquettes or fried mush (and these can be cooked in the oven instead of in the fat kettle) in addition to potatoes or sweet potatoes, makes the meal more tasty for many of us and is an easy way of securing variety. Aside from the question of economy and convenience the important thing in such a case is not the number of cereal foods served, but the character of the meat as a whole, which must be truly varied and not made up almost entirely of any single type of food. We must have other kinds of food in our diet in abundance as well as starchy foods.

Therefore, in planning your breadless meals make sure that you serve an abundance of fresh vegetables, such as green cabbage, kale, turnip tops, onions, onion tops, dandelions and other greens, asparagus, green peas, tomatoes, spinach, carrots and so on, choosing those which are in season and abundant in your garden or your market. With a varied meal planned in the usual way, except that the servings of the starchy foods and the vegetables are larger than usual to make up for the bread, you can have a breakfast, dinner or supper which may be pleasing to the taste and which will meet the body needs.

There are other food combinations and dishes which you can take advantage of in planning the meals with bread. For instance, you may prefer to replace part of your usual allowance of bread with a wheat-saving dessert. These desserts furnish much the same food materials as bread, but in a different form: Rice pudding, hominy pudding, Indian pudding, tapioca cream or fruit tapioca, cornstarch pudding, baked bananas (use bananas which are underripe, because they are richer in starch than the ripe ones), or gingerbread made from the wheat substitutes.

FOCH'S RESERVES NOW THROWN IN TERRIFIC BATTLE

FRENCH ARMY STRIKES BACK AT ENEMY AND RETAKE FOUR VILLAGES—FOE ARMY REACHES MARNE.

GERMANS FAIL IN THEIR EFFORTS TO CONQUER RHEIMS

Nowhere Has the Enemy Crossed the River Marne—French Counter-Attack Wins Back the Village Fort de la Pompelle.

Paris—The strength of General Foch's reserves has been felt by the armies of the German crown prince in the "battle for Paris."

East of the line running from Soissons to Chateau Thierry, where the Germans in a continuation of their mighty strokes gained several additional villages and then attempted to proceed further westward, magnificent opposition was imposed by the newly strengthened lines and, with terrific snatches, the French forces, recaptured Longpont, Corey, Faverolles and Troesnes, vantage points in the center of the line leading to the forest of Villers Cotterets, which seems to be the present objective here of the enemy.

Enemy Reach the Marne.

The Germans, however, still have in their possession the village of Vauxais, lying to the west of Soissons, and further south Saconin-Et-Breuil, Chaudun, Licy and Bouresches, the last named directly west of Chateau Thierry. A little to the southwest of Chateau Thierry the enemy has reached the Marne.

Nowhere has there been any attempt by the invaders to cross the river, and at all points east of Chateau Thierry they are hugging the northern bank of the stream. It is not improbable, however, the tactics of the Germans have in view the fording of the river when the time is more propitious, for in the center of the line between Chateau Thierry and Rheims they have pushed back the Allied front across the Rheims-Dormans road between Oilly-Violaine and Ville-en-Tardenois and are pressing toward the Marne.

Germany's Best Troops in Battle.

This is the only point on their left wing, however, where the enemy has been able to make fresh gains, notwithstanding the fact he has thrown new divisions into the battle, some of them the best trained troops in the German army.

Having failed in all their efforts to conquer Rheims by direct assault, it now seems to be the intention of the Germans further to widen their occupation of the territory lying south of the Rheims-Dormans road and thereby outflank the cathedral city and bring about its capitulation.

In the fighting in the immediate vicinity of Rheims the enemy won Fort de la Pompelle, but his tenure of the position was short-lived, for the French troops in a counter attack reconquered it.

Counter-Revolutionary Plot Bared.

London—Discovery in Moscow and Petrograd of a large counter-revolutionary plot which stretches throughout the whole of Russia, is announced in a Russian wireless message. To this plot is attributable in part the mutiny of the Czech-Slovak troops which have captured several important railway junctions and lines.

The soviet executive decided May 29 to undertake the partial calling to arms of several classes of workmen and the poorer peasants in Petrograd and Moscow and the Kuban and Don regions.

At the same time Moscow has been declared in a state of siege. Counter-revolutionaries have been arrested in considerable numbers and energetic measures have been taken against the press. These measures are necessary, it is announced, owing to the situation in which the Russian revolution has been placed.

Enemy 'Planes Hit Hospitals.

With the British Army in France—British Red Cross hospitals again have come under the German bombardment scourge. Hostile airmen raided the same group of hospitals which suffered May 19. Several hospitals were hit, and the casualty list among patients and workers is considerable.

One hospital was almost demolished when an enemy aviator dropped an explosive on it after getting his bearings by letting fall a brilliant flare which lighted up the whole district.

Wants Wood to Head 85th Division.

Washington—Senator Hiram Johnson, California, voiced an energetic protest on the floor of the senate Friday afternoon against the action of the war department in depriving Major General Leonard Wood of his command of the Eighty-ninth division on the eve of its departure for France. Senator Johnson expressed "very great regret" that General Wood was not to be sent to France and insisted there was "dire need of such soldiers as he."

You Can Now Eat Your Favorite Food Without Any Fear

Kramer Says: "Eatonic" Rids Weak Stomachs of Acids, Gas, Heartburn, Food Repeating and Stomach Miseries

What miserable feelings are caused by an upset stomach! That dull, "heavy," "bloated" sensation that follows a full meal, robs good living of half its pleasure. Is there any way out for you sufferers with stomach weakness?

Yes; H. L. Kramer, the man who originated Cascarets, has found a sure, quick, relief for indigestion, dyspepsia, "sour stomach," heart-burn, formation of painful gases, "bloating," etc., etc.

He calls his stomach relief EATONIC, and it certainly is making a wonderful record. Countless thousands of people who formerly approached their meals with dread, now eat their fill of their favorite foods without fear of the after-effects.

Mr. Kramer says: "My EATONIC tablets are the solution of the age-old problem of indigestion and all forms of stomach misery."

EATONIC neutralizes the acids, that form the painful gases, "sweet," "sour," "bloated" sensation that follows a full meal, robs good living of half its pleasure. Is there any way out for you sufferers with stomach weakness?

To promote appetite and aid digestion, take EATONIC tablets—one or two after each meal. They are perfectly harmless. Eat them just like candy.

"For distress after eating; sour, "gassy," acid stomach, vertigo, nausea and belching, and that wretched, puffed-up, "lumpy" feeling, after over-eating; there is nothing to compare with EATONIC Tablets."

Scenes of Prosperity Are Common in Western Canada

The thousands of U.S. farmers who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops of wheat and other grains.

Where you can buy good farm land at $15 to $30 per acre—get $2 a bushel for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre you are bound to make money—that's what you can do in Western Canada.

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta you can get a

HOMESTEAD OF 160 ACRES FREE

and other land at very low prices. During many years Canadian wheat fields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley, and Flax. Mixed Farming is as profitable an industry as grain raising. Good schools, churches, markets convenient, climate excellent. ## STATE TROOPS WARMLY PRAISED

HOME TROOPS HELD AS MODEL

Organization of State Constabularies Serves to Keep Our Industrial Troubles to a Minimum.

Lansing, Mich.—Michigan's State Constabulary, or as it is officially known Michigan Permanent Troops, at their East Lansing post, were rigidly inspected and warmly praised recently by Simon Bamberger, governor of the state of Utah.

Not only did the governor of the Mormon state compare the Michigan men to the Pennsylvania constabulary, the pioneers in the field, but he also commented at considerable length upon the wisdom of the Michigan officials in the establishment of the constabulary some months ago.

"If you hadn't organized such a body of men," he put it, "you undoubtedly would have had a lot of industrial trouble in your industrial cities and in the copper and iron mining districts. And I am told you have had practically none at all."

After inspecting the barracks and those of the troops who were in East Lansing, accompanied by Col. Roy C. Vandercreek, Governor Bamberger discussed in detail his ideas as to state constabularies.

"We have some peculiar situations in Utah," said he, "and we are aware that before very long we must have a state constabulary. And I propose to model it in many ways after your Michigan organization, a portion of which I have seen here today. Possibly it will not be necessary for us to have as large an organization as you have right at the start, but we can use your system and have our barracks arranged much as you do."

"At present we have two companies of regular army men at Camp Douglas. They have been used to keep down any disorder we may have. We have larger smelters in our state, with a population around them much as you Michiganers have in your copper and iron countries. You know what that means—you are sitting on a possible volcano all the time. So far the government has been very kind to leave the two companies with us, but recently in Washington I was informed that it would not be long until the government would have to send the soldiers for intensified service overseas. Then we will have to have a constabulary, for our National Guard is gone."

"Little thought has ever been given the idea of a state constabulary in Utah until very recently. Nevada has a small force of 25 men, while California has one of larger proportions now in process of organization. The governor of Nevada told me not long ago that he did not know what might have happened in his state this winter had it not been for the constabulary."

"Not long ago, too, in a conversation with Governor Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, he told me that the 110 mounted men the state now had scattered over it, were worth infinitely more than the 15,000 temporary militia which have been organized and constantly drilling. I cite both of these governors merely to show that the constabulary idea is now considered the best plan a state can have for home protection. We intend to have one in Utah, and I will not have to wait for the legislature to meet next spring to organize it, either. Under our laws, I can organize it myself."

"While there have been complaints, and I suppose always will be, about the cost to the state and the taxpayer where a permanent force of constabulary is maintained, it strikes me that counting the cost in dollars and cents is the least of the question. If you count the cost of what lawless mobs might do, in dollars and cents, you will also find that your total runs away up. If the state constabulary, even at a huge cost for maintenance, can prevent loss of property running into the thousands, by say nothing of the loss of lives, I would consider that almost any sum of initial expenditure were wisely spent."

Governor Bamberger, during his stay in Lansing, where he was making Liberty Loan speeches, went into details as to the method of working out war activities on the part of Michigan. In many respects, he said, the problems which his state had to face were akin to those arising in Michigan. He was much interested in the movements in Michigan for the purchase of seed corn, tractors and other plans by which it is expected to accentuate and increase the crops this year. All of these plans, he said, had been started in Utah, but he was doubly interested to grasp the details of the work in Michigan, and also to see how the plans were working out.

Should the contents of the package spoil enroute the postoffice authorities have the right to dispose of them. CLINTON—There is something radically wrong with our system of taking care of the health of our school children—in protecting them from communicable disease, and just where the fault lies we would like to have proper authorities find out. Over 75 cases of measles in town is record that we should be thoroughly ashamed of as an intelligent community. Then we also had chicken-pox, mumps, etc., and now whooping cough is making its rounds.—Local.

BRIGHTON—At last the contract has been let to build the four miles of road in Genoa on Grand River, also the four and one-half miles between Howell and Fowlerville. The contract was awarded by the State Highway Department to L. A. and P. E. Moran and the Moran Construction company of Detroit. We are informed that work will be started at an early date. This will be welcome news to motorists using this road.—Argus.

LINER ADS EFFECTIVE.
One of the most effective forms of advertising is in the "liner" or classified column where an investment of a few cents is certain to give prompt results. Tribune liner ads are always run under the heading, "Wants, For Sale, To Rent," in the same position on the front page where they are easy to find and invariably catch the eye. Only five cents the line for first insertion, 2½ cents the line for each subsequent insertion. Next time you want to buy something, or have something for sale or rent, try a Tribune liner.
