The village council voted last evening to purchase a motor fire truck, equipped with a 40 gallon chemical tank and hose and with capacity for 1,000 feet of regular fire hose from the American-LaFrance Fire Engine company of Elmira, New York. The equipment will be mounted on a Ford one ton truck chassis and the price of the complete equipment, delivered in Chelsea ready for use, is $2,000.

The council has arranged with the Palmer garage to furnish storage space for the new fire truck and arrangements will be made also for a driver and a hose drying rack. The truck will be delivered in about 60 days.

FROM BLAINE BARTCH

Former Chelsea Boy is Stationed at Augusta Arsenal.

M. J. Noyes recently received a letter from James B. Bartch, who is completing the fifth army stores course at the Augusta, Georgia, Arsenal. He says under date of June 22d:

I remember a long time ago that I promised to write you a letter, but I know you must have forgotten all about it.

I have been stationed here at the Augusta arsenal ever since the day I arrived here, February 24, 1918. There were 129 men who left the U. S. M. for here to complete the fifth army stores course. Now there are only three of us left here: Frank Quish of Dexter, Al Campo of Detroit and myself. The others have been sent to various camps throughout the U. S.

I like Augusta very much, but it is awfully hot here now. It has been fairly comfortable until today, which is a scorcher.

There is some very beautiful scenery about Augusta; so many hills covered with pines and also green valleys. Guess the land is of most value for scenery. Everything is sand.

The people are fine to us fellows. I know all of us at the arsenal have one fine time.

I was over to Camp Hancock last night to see the Chelsea boys there. I saw Donald Bacon and Floyd Rowe, but did not find Lyle Runciman or George Walworth.

Hoping this finds you well and with sincere wishes, I am,

Fraternally,
James B. Bartch.

REV. RYERSON TO FRANCE.

Rev. J. E. Ryerson, a former pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church, has engaged in the Y. M. C. A. in France. He had been engaged in ministerial work at Ticonderoga, N. Y., and the following is from the Tribune of that place:

Rev. Dr. Joseph E. Ryerson, pastor of the Church of the Cross, Ticonderoga, has been granted a leave of absence of one year by his church in order that he may take up Y. M. C. A. work in France. Dr. Ryerson expects to sail about the middle of July. With him in active service, and if that service takes him to the front line trenches he is of the mental make-up that he will be the more pleased, the family will have three men with the colors, his two sons having answered the call of the country for men.

ELIMINATE THE GYPSIES.

Several bands of gypsies have passed through Chelsea recently and have made nuisances of themselves with their usual importunities to tell "fortunes" and other near-begging enterprises. There is always the suspicion, too, that they are not above being "light-fingered" when an opportunity offers. Local officers have warned them out of town on several occasions, but that does not protect the country-side from petty depredations and we believe that gypsy bands generally should be obliged to discontinue their regular summer peregrinations through the country. Why not apply the "work or fight" propaganda to the gypsies?

MRS. ELIZABETH GILDART.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gildart, aged 75 years, three months and two days, died Sunday morning, June 16th, at seven o'clock at her home in Newark township.

The funeral was held Monday morning at eleven o'clock at the home, conducted by Rev. R. C. Leonard of the Christian church of Neodesha. Interment was made in the Thayer cemetery.

Elizabeth R. Heselschwert was born at Wittenberg, Germany, March 14, 1843. She came to America at the age of eleven years and was united in marriage to Chas. Gildart, March 14, 1866, at Chelsea, Michigan. To this union twelve children were born, three of whom died in infancy. Those living are: Mrs. Robert Longfellow, Elk Falls, Kansas; George Gildart, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Mrs. Millie Lewis, Phoenix, Arizona; Chas. Herlen, Frank, Arthur and Rita Gildart and Mrs. Fannie Record, all in or near the neighborhood of the old homeplace.

Besides her nine children and 17 grandchildren, the deceased leaves two sisters and two brothers of Chelsea, Michigan. Mrs. Gildart was a kind and loving mother, a true and noble friend and neighbor. She had been a member of the Christian church for several years.—Thayer (Kansas) News.

Miss Minola Kalmbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kalmbach, and Lieutenant Carl M. Rutan, formerly commercial teacher in the Chelsea schools, were married Saturday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, 415 West Middle street. Rev. G. H. Whitney performed the ceremony in the presence of 14 of the immediate relatives, the only out of town guest being the groom's mother from Hillsdale.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served, after which Lieutenant and Mrs. Rutan left for Detroit and a lake trip. They returned to Chelsea today and in a few days will leave for Laredo, Texas, where the groom is 1st Lieutenant of the 37th Infantry.

MICHAEL WACKENHUT.

Michael Wackenhut of Jackson, a former well known resident of Chelsea, died Sunday, June 30, 1918, aged 62 years, eight months and two days. He was born in Sylvan township, October 28, 1855, his parents being George and Eva Marie Wackenhut, and was married to Miss Elizabeth Girbach, in Chelsea, September 30, 1879, who is left with one daughter, Olla, to mourn their loss. Two brothers, George and Martin Wackenhut, also survive him.

The funeral will be held from St. Paul's church, Chelsea, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Albert A. Schoen conducting the service. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

NINETY-THIRD BIRTHDAY.

Friday, June 28th, marked the 93rd milestone along life's journey for Mrs. Marion Fyler.

According to the family custom the immediate relatives gathered at the home of her brother, Fred E. Richards, for the birthday dinner. Friends and neighbors called during the day, leaving some token of remembrance with words of good cheer and congratulations. Gifts and greetings were also received from out of town relatives and the day passed very pleasantly for all.

MOTOR CAR ACCIDENTS SATURDAY EVENING

Little Girl Knocked Down and Two Other Cars Collide.

Two automobile accidents, neither of a very serious nature, occurred in Chelsea, Saturday evening, while the business section was crowded with shoppers and automobile traffic was unusually heavy.

A Ford car driven by O. Floyd struck the little daughter of Joseph Liebeck as she was crossing Main street, between Park and Middle streets. She was knocked down, but fortunately grabbed the front of the car and was dragged along instead of being run-over. She was badly bruised and unnerved by the experience, but not seriously injured.

A Ford car owned by Charles Meyers and William Schiller's Studebaker car collided at Main and Park streets. Both cars were considerably damaged in the resulting crash.

FROM LAVERN YETTAN

Chelsea Boy in Trenches Feels No Qualms in Slaying Germans.

Mr. and Mrs. Titus Yettan have just received a letter from their son, Lavern, who is in active service with the American troops "overseas." He is a member of B Battery, 5th Field Artillery. The letter was written June 3rd and follows in part:

Just a few lines to let you know I am well, but I have been very busy lately and you know I do not like to write very well. The Germans gave us a lot of gas the other night, but didn't "get" anybody. I used to be a little shy of that German gas, but I have gotten all over that, excepting I don't like to wear a gas mask very long. We have been doing some pretty hard fighting since we have been stationed on this sector, but the harder the fight the better I like it. Not that I am so brave or anything like that, but because we are all anxious to "get" the Germans. And when I got back to the States, a German will be no friend of mine. I was made a first-class private a few days ago, so I now draw three dollars more per month. The end of next month I will have my four Liberty bonds paid for, then I will draw full pay again. I expect to make an allotment to you; I guess you can make good use of it. Well, I must close, with love to all,
Lavern.

ONE ROBIN COST $13.70.

F. H. Stevens of Ann Arbor paid a fine of $13.70, Saturday, for killing a robin with an air gun. Mr. Stevens claimed the killing was an accident. He was shooting at a target, and in disgust at his poor marksmanship pointed the gun at a robin and pulled the trigger, not dreaming he could hit the bird. But the result was fatal to the bird and in a measure to Mr. Stevens, who, however, paid the fine cheerfully, gave the gun away, and said he would never again point a gun at any living thing.

CONFISCATED BOOZE.

Acting upon instructions of an official from Lansing, Sheriff Lindenschmitt yesterday confiscated a shipment of intoxicating liquor which had been held in the office of the American Express company here since shortly after May 1st. Included in the lot was a barrel of bottled goods and two kegs of beer. The whole lot was put into the sheriff's automobile and taken to Ann Arbor.

Pro-Germans probably think the War Savings campaign a foolish one.

When Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone he gave to the world one of its most useful utilities. Business men of today would hardly know how to get along without their phones, and without telephones social intercourse would suffer a severe setback.

It has been said that "the telephone is the business man's best friend," but we are inclined to take issue with that statement. We believe a man's most useful friend is his bank, and we endeavor to prove that belief to the satisfaction of all our depositors.

You would appreciate our quick, careful, courteous service. You would find our policy of liberal accommodation convenient—occasionally at least.

ITALIANS LAUNCH SURPRISE ATTACK ON ENEMY LINES

GENERAL DIAZ ARMY IN MOUNTAINS TAKE MONTE D'VALBELLA FROM FOE CAPTURING 800 MEN.

FRENCH CONTINUE NIBBLING ENEMY LINE NEAR MARNE

Hungarian Premier in Speech Before Parliament Tells Austrian Offensive Against Italy Was a Costly Failure.

London—Attacking Austro-Hungarian lines on the Asiago plateau, Italians have wrested Monte D'Valbella from the enemy, capturing 800 prisoners and cannon, holding their new positions against repeated counter attacks.

This sudden turn from the defensive to the offensive came as a surprise to the laymen of the Allied world, for it had been believed General Diaz, Italian commander, would be content to hold his lines in the mountains against a great, new offensive intended by the Austrians and Germans to take away the sting of the defeat of the Austrians along the Piave two weeks ago.

Nor was the Italian attack limited to the positions on Monte D'Valbella. Further east, on the left bank of the Branta river, they captured the heights of Sasso Rosso, just north of the village of Valstagna.

These two actions while local in character, may explain the failure of Italians to pursue the Austrians across the Piave when, on June 23, the enemy fled from the west bank with a haste that indicated something of demoralization.

General Diaz probably has expected the heaviest enemy blow to be launched along the mountain front, which is the key to the whole Italian situation.

In attacking there himself he has carried the fight to the foe, gained strong positions at vital points and broken up preparations made by the enemy for an offensive in that quarter.

French Continue Nibbling.

The French are continuing their "nibbling" tactics along the line running northward from the Marne. Friday they swept the Germans back from the environs of Villers-Cotterets forest, southwest of Soissons, and held by American troops in that sector.

A long ridge between the villages of Mosley and Passy-en-Valois was occupied and 200 prisoners were taken. Further north near St. Pierre Aigle, the French positions were improved by a local attack.

British Repulse Enemy Assault.

The British have repulsed an enemy assault in the neighborhood of Merris, near where Germans were driven back east of Nieuport forest on Friday. The British official statement mentions heavy German artillery fire before Amiens, near Albert north of the Scarpe, near Arras, and in the region of Festubert, northwest of Lens.

The official statement issued at Berlin says artillery firing has increased between the Yser and the Marne, which includes virtually all of the active battle zone.

Austrian Offensive Costly Failure.

London—For several weeks before the Austrians began their futile assault along 100 miles of the Italian border it was stated in neutral countries that Austria soon would be driven into an offensive by Germany, to prevent Italian troops being sent in large numbers to the western front. Austria was reported as being averse to an offensive, do to wretched internal conditions. Dr. Alexander Wellerle, Hungarian premier, in a speech before parliament, has caused a sensation by admitting Austria's offensive was undertaken in order to keep Allied troops on the Italian line and also admitting the offensive in other respects was a costly failure.

Rumania Signed Teuton Peace Treaty.

Amsterdam—According to a telegram from Bucharest, the Rumanian chamber of deputies, sitting at Jassy Friday, ratified a peace treaty with the Central Powers after a short discussion. The only deputies who opposed the conditions were Trancu, Cagancescu, Codreanu, Caza and Averescu.

U. S. Regiment Goes to Italy.

Washington—A regiment of troops in General Pershing's expeditionary forces has been ordered to Italy, probably as an advance guard of additional forces to be sent later, to complete the unity on that front of Italian, British, French and American troops.

"Age" No Bar to Work.

Washington—"Age" has nothing to do with obligation to country. Because a man is more than 31 years old does not free him from duty. Whether an employer or wage-earner, the country's need must come before everything else. The good citizen will think of his nation before himself. Thus reads a poster, one of several, which is being circulated to manufacturers throughout by the United States employment service of the department of labor.

Johnson, of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Infantry.

Algonac—The body of John S. McDonald, of Port Lambton, Ont., was recovered recently from the waters of the St. Clair. The corpse was first sighted by the crew of the Owana, they notified the crew of the government patrol boat, Marguerite, and the latter found the body near Foster's hotel, in the flats. McDonald was drowned May 8, and it is said to be a case of suicide.

Howell—Gladys Milton, aged 14, and Jennie Hanna, aged 13, alleged runaways from Lansing, are detained here. According to the story they told Howell officers, they walked to Wayneville Saturday, June 22, slept in the woods, continued their hike to Webbville Sunday, where they slept in a vacant house, and Monday walked to Fowler, where they slept in a vacant house, and then came to Howell Wednesday noon. The girls had a 32-caliber revolver.

East Lansing—The levying by the federal government of an income tax on farmers whose revenues exceed the exempted minimum has brought about a more careful keeping of farm accounts by agriculturists in many parts of the state, Michigan Agriculture college field men are reporting. More general adoption of this practice is being urged by the college. "Farm records serve as a guide to better management," declared C. H. Graves, farm management demonstrator. The college is assisting farmers in establishing a system for their business.

Petoskey—The June frost which hit southern and central Michigan did little damage in Emmet county and northern Michigan. A few fields of beans and potatoes on very low ground were nipped.

Muskegon—Figures submitted by the city accountant show that the municipal budget for 1918 will be $45,000 greater than in 1917. Over $20,000 of this boost is due to an increase in school expenses.

Petoskey—With the haying season on, late planting not yet completed, the berry season just opening, there is a severe shortage of labor in northern Michigan. Many factories are unable to get full crews and farmers are hard hit.

Bad Axe—Joseph Smith, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, wireless operator on the steamer Henry W. Croft, who was recently taken off the boat at Harbor Beach as insane, and confined in the jail here, hanged himself using his shirt as a rope.

Groesbeck is now to rule on the matter. Kent county courts have granted an injunction temporarily blocking the increase of the Michigan railway. Grand Rapids officials are also protesting against the 75-cent increase in fares for soldiers from Camp Custer to that city. The Michigan Railway announced it would institute commuters' tickets at 15c a mile plus 10 per cent.

PRICE FIXING FAILS TO CURB PROFITS

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION IN REPORT SHOWS WHOLESALE PROFITEERING.

FIRMS MAKE MORE THAN BEFORE

Majority of Mine Owners Are Reaping a Larger Profit Under Government Price Than Ever Before.

Washington—The report of the federal trade commission showing wholesale profiteering in the few staple commodities with which the commission has dealt undoubtedly will prove the entering wedge for enactment of a stiff war profits tax, but the feature of the report which interests members of congress more is the degree of failure revealed in the system of price-fixing.

Government interference with the established order of supply and demand has not proven satisfactory in other directions. For example, it did not succeed in supplying sufficient coal to keep people warm and industries running last winter. It did not prevent various food shortages or succeeded in bringing about a proper distribution of commodities, of which there is a plentiful supply.

Meat Profits Higher.

Even more serious profiteering by the meat packers is revealed by this does not fall at the door of the food administration in the same degree as the flour situation, for the reason that complete control of meat prices has not been taken over by Mr. Hoover. The government is now preparing to assume greater control of the industry. It has been announced, however, that an attempt was being made to hold the meat packers to a profit of nine per cent on the business transacted. For the year 1917, the trade commission report shows that the profits ranged from 16 to 26 per cent.

It is pretty certain that Messrs. Garfield and Hoover will be called on by congress to explain the results of their price fixing effort with respect to coal and flour, and it is also likely that Bernard M. Baugh will be summoned to explain why the steel industry and other dealers in raw materials, produced from the earth, have shown a vastly increased profit in the face of price fixing by the war industries board.

The report of the federal trade commission, however, proved a decided shock, as it showed that the majority of mine owners are reaping a larger profit under the government established prices than they ever made when they fixed the prices according to the demands of competition and their own consciences.

"The outstanding revelation which accompanies the work of cost finding, is the heavy profits made by the low cost concern under a governmental fixed price for the whole country," said the report and in this respect it refers particularly to coal.

VETERAN SENATOR STRICKEN

Reported Critically Ill and Recovery Is Regarded As Doubtful.

Washington—Benjamin R. Tillman, veteran Democratic senator from South Carolina, and chairman of the naval affairs committee, is seriously ill at his home here and his recovery is regarded by his physician as doubtful. His left side is completely paralyzed and he has been suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage since last Thursday.

The seriousness of Senator Tillman's condition became known Sunday when his physician issued this bulletin: "Senator Tillman is now suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage. There is complete paralysis of the left side. The attack came Thursday afternoon at the senate, and been progressive. Because of previous attacks and the age of the senator, the prognosis is unfavorable."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ON HALF-TIME

The Plan Effects a Saving of Nearly $3,000,000 to Taxpayers.

Detroit—A decision to conduct half-day sessions in Detroit's public schools during the war as a means of reducing proposed expenditures for 1919 was made by the board of education at a special meeting held Saturday, June 29.

This plan effects a saving of nearly $3,000,000 to taxpayers of Detroit and will enable the board of education to accommodate all school children in the city. In congested districts the board will provide portable structures for school purposes.

Up-State Forests Blazing.

Gaylord—With loss to standing and cut timber, estimated at $75,000, every available man in Antrim, Otsego and Montmorency counties was pressed to service Friday, June 28, to combat one of the most threatening forest fires in years. The entire district, which has had no rain for some time, is overrun with fires and a heavy pall of smoke overhangs the three counties. Most serious loss was Kneeland. The Michigan Railway announced it would institute commuters' tickets at 15c a mile plus 10 per cent.

Washington—Following enthusiastic praise by senators of the administration of the army draft, the senate June 29 adopted an amendment to the army bill to make Provost Marshal Gen. Enoch H. Crowder a lieutenant general during the war.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION CHARGES MANY FIRMS WITH WAR PROFITEERING

That profiteering by American business exists, in some cases to an alarming degree.

"That the 'big five' meat packers have 'preyed unconscionably upon the people'."

"That Morris & Co. packers, reaped profits during 1917 equal to the entire net capital and surplus combined and made 263.7 per cent on the $3,000,000 outstanding capital stock."

"That the other packers' pool profited some 27 to 47 per cent."

"That steel mill profits in some instances ranged from 100 to 319 per cent."

"That the profits of the United States Steel corporation rose from 12.8 per cent in 1914 to 34.5 in 1917."

"That the average profit of the copper industry in 1917 was 24.4 per cent against 11.7 in 1913, a normal year."

"That the New Jersey Zinc Co., zinc manufacturers, reaped 56 per cent profit in 1917."

"That the commission finds no complaint against the western coast lumber operators for profiteering; that the southern pine producers made an average profit of 17 per cent in 1917, as against 5.2 in 1913."

"That 23 coal mines in central Pennsylvania averaged a margin of 30 per cent in 1917, against 29 per cent in 1913."

"That leather profits increased as high as five times over pre-war years."

"That flour millers made 'unusual profits' with average earnings said to be 38 per cent of the investments."

"That canned milk, salmon and other food producers made exorbitant profits."

1,700 RAILROADS TURNED BACK

Lines Freed From Government Supervision Totals 30,000 Miles of Track.

Washington—About 1,700 short line railroads were turned back to private management June 29 by the railroad administration a few hours before congress passed legislation intended to prevent the relinquishment of many of them. Between 300 and 400 of the roads relinquished had sought to remain under government management. About 400 short lines were retained as part of the national system.

Announcement of the action was withheld by the railroad administration until less than an hour before the legislation which would have stopped it was finally enacted. It was explained that the course was made necessary by the railroad act's provision requiring the government to decide before July 1 which short lines would be retained and which relinquished. Railroad administration officials also explained that since the legislation was not taken up by either house of congress until about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, they could not know whether it would be enacted. The legislation, therefore, is virtually nullified.

SUFFRAGE PUT OFF TO AUGUST

EUGENE V. DEBS ARRESTED AS FOE

WAS INDICTED FOR THINGS HE SAID IN HIS CANTON SPEECH JUNE 16 LAST.

$1,000 DEFENSE FUND RAISED

Arrest Made On a Secret Indictment Returned By the Federal Grand Jury Saturday.

Cleveland—Eugene V. Debs, four times Socialist candidate for the presidency of the United States, was arrested here Sunday by United States Marshal Charles W. Lapp and Deputy Marshal Charles C. Boehme, as he was about to deliver a Socialist address. The arrest was made on a federal warrant in connection with Debs' speech at the Socialist state convention in Canton, O., June 16 last.

The arrest was made on a secret indictment returned Saturday by the federal grand jury. It is understood the indictment contains 10 specific counts under section three of the espionage act, as amended by the passage of the sedition bill, May 16, last, which provides a penalty of 20 years in the penitentiary, and a fine of $10,000 and costs for each violation.

Mr. Debs refused to make any statement regarding his arrest.

Following the announcement of Mr. Debs' arrest a defense fund of more than $1,000 was raised by popular subscription before the meeting ended.

"Mr. Debs was indicted not as a Socialist, but as a violator of the law of the United States because of things he said in his Canton speech," said Assistant Attorney Breitenstein.

"The federal jury had presented to it for consideration during the past two weeks many other cases under the espionage act," said Assistant Attorney Kavanaugh. "Among the persons charged are not only Socialists, but many who are members of other political party affiliations. The government is not prosecuting these men because they are Socialists."

COAL ALLOTTED NOT ENOUGH

Prudden Urges Householders to Use Bituminous and Wood.

Detroit—Considerably less than one-half the state's domestic coal requirements will be taken care of by the 1,201,000 tons of anthracite allotted to Michigan, Fuel Administrator Prudden made known in a statement issued Sunday, in which he urged upon household consumers the necessity of their using bituminous coal and wood wherever possible in order that others whose baseburner or hot air furnace equipment must have anthracite will not be without fuel.

Distribution of coal throughout the state, Mr. Prudden said, will be along lines fashioned after the United States fuel administration's zoning of the whole country. The effect of this will be to send the bulk of the anthracite where it is most needed.

"Saginaw and Bay counties, for instance," he explained, "will be required to use their own supply of soft coal and wood to a large extent, receiving only such quantity of hard coal as is actually needed for base burners and hot air furnaces."

"Large cities, such as Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint, will get a greater quantity of anthracite per capita than smaller places, because of the preponderance of base burners in city homes."

SENATE PASSES ARMY BILL

Numerous Amendments Makes It Necessary For it to Go to Conference.

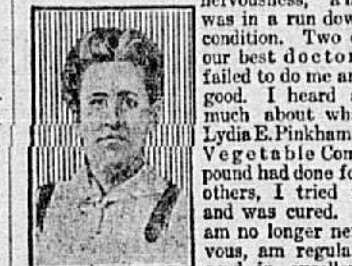

Washington—Carrying appropriations of more than $12,000,000,000 for the prosecution of the war and conferring authority on the president to raise as large an army as may be necessary to insure final victory, the senate June 29 passed the army appropriation bill. There was not an opposing vote. The bill had been before the senate almost continuously for five days.

Dozens of amendments, some of large importance, but most of them of a minor character, were sought to be added to the bill during the last day of its consideration and most of them were accepted without objections. Others were rejected by vote and some were thrown out on points of order. The numerous amendments to the bill as it came from the house makes it necessary for it to go to conference and Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military affairs committee, who had the measure in charge, and Senators Warren and Hitchcock, were appointed the senate's conferees.

TEACH THE BOYS FRENCH

Simple Lessons That Are Given to Our Soldiers Who Are Serving "Over There."

A Y. M. C. A. director said to me, hesitatingly, and in French as plausibly soft as a sen sen tablet: "Won't you please help us with our French classes which we are having every night for the American soldiers in Paris? Men and women are teaching in those classes for nothing, and we want to develop the study of French. We want the soldiers to know something besides the bad part of France—the women who talk to them on the boulevards, but not for nothing."

And so here I am. The room is a small one. Around an oval table are a dozen young gentlemen who, at first sight, appear to be engaged in a clandestine poker game. At the head of the table is a French professor in the uniform of an interpreter, armed only with a conversation manual. Under his direction the class chants in chorus aphorisms calculated to stir the imaginations of the eager young students, such as these: "Cette femme a cinq doigts a sa main gauche" (that woman has five fingers on her left hand), and "Il y a deux donzaines de plumes sur cette table" (there are two dozen pens on the table).

And then came mysterious and distracting equations, triumphs of grammatical metaphysics, such, for instance, as this: "Le cheval de mon oncle est aussi beau que le jardin de votre grandmère" (my uncle's horse is as beautiful as your grandmother's garden).

Great heavens! Let's hope that these boys won't think that these are maxims from Pascal or Descartes, and that they represent the supreme effort of French thought.—Georges Rozet in L'Oeuvre, Paris.

Soft Coal Increased.

The fuel administration announces that during a recent six-day period 11,688,000 net tons of bituminous coal were mined in this country. This amount is an increase of 5.7 per cent over the production of the week before. For the month, it is estimated, 46,478,000 net tons were mined, which is about 10 per cent over the amount mined during April, 1917.—Pathfinder.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

The LADY of the LAMP

From the Inspiration of Florence Nightingale Has Grown the Great Red Cross of Today

SHE died only four years before this great war and she was called the Lady with a Lamp—a lamp destined to shine for ages at a time. When British soldiers were dying of neglect in military hospitals and the British nation was started with the horror of the cry of the perishing at Scutari, it was a beautiful, cultured woman that answered the cry.

Born in Florence in 1820.

She was born in Florence on May 15, 1820, and was named after her birthplace, and she died eight years ago on August 13, 1910, at the age of ninety years. Her parents were rich. Her mother was kind, clever and charming, but she did not in the least understand her daughter.

Florence did not really understand herself. She was brilliantly educated; she became an accomplished linguist and musician, a witty and graceful letter writer, and she thought deeply about politics and religion. She traveled in Europe, she went to Egypt, studying not only the treasures of art unveiled before her, but human life and suffering, too.

It was this study of suffering that moved in her the desire to take up nursing. She saw the enormous need for organized nursing.

In spite of great opposition she managed to study at various hospitals in England and Paris. At last she approached her heart's desire by securing an appointment as principal of a sanatorium for governesses in Harley street. She was there when the Crimean war broke out.

The English troops were sent to the Crimea and such a wretched apology for a hospital as they had was established on the spot, but the Turks made over to them certain buildings at Scutari, on the eastern shore of the Bosphorus, opposite Constantinople. To get the sick and wounded from the battlefield to Scutari took eight days, and a quarter of the men who made the voyage died on the horrible ships. At Scutari the commonest appliances of a workhouse sick ward were wanting.

Never Recognized Women Nurses.

One day a strange thing happened. The British army had never recognized the existence of women nurses, but one morning two letters on the subject crossed in the post. One was from Florence Nightingale, suggesting that she should go out with two or three nurses at no cost to the nation; the other was from the husband of the lady she was writing to and was addressed to Miss Nightingale, suggesting that she should go at the expense of the government. The man who wrote to Miss Nightingale was Sidney Herbert, a member of parliament, who held an appointment at the war office. He and his wife were friends of Miss Nightingale, knowing her ambitions, and they felt that her hour had come.

She was appointed superintendent of the women's nursing establishments in the English hospitals in Turkey. She started with 38 nurses, some well-trained, some not—good, bad and indifferent, the best that could be got in the time available. Her masterly organizing powers asserted themselves at once. After traveling across France she took ship at Marseilles and there held in a great store of all manner of useful things.

The task before her would have appalled most women, but it only served to inspire her with a firmer determination. There were several hospitals at Scutari, some bad, others worse, none good. There were five more hospitals to which she afterwards went, all horrible.

The first thing the lady in chief did was to get down on her hands and knees and scrub the floors, and then cry: "Now, the strongest to the wash-tubs!" They were needed. Such washing of bed linen as had been done had been done in cold water, and as it came back Florence Nightingale burned it.

The doctors and officers objected to her. Books written at the time by the men who helped to officer the Crimean army show with what scorn they met her.

Little by little she got her stores together until she became the feeder and clothier of the army at Scutari. She provided 50,000 men with shirts and great numbers with other clothing; she provided all the things that were missing from the hospitals. "I have met only two men in the Crimea, and one of them was Miss Nightingale," said a traveler.

She worked 20 hours a day. She received the wounded, she dressed their wounds until the surgeons could take them in hand. She washed and clothed and comforted them. She sat with them, encouraging them before an operation. She gave them life and hope. She made them feel that mercy had come on angel wings into their bitter lives.

Drunken Orderlies Vanished.

Her nurses were here, there and everywhere—wherever the doctors would allow her to send them. The rough, drunken, unskilled orderlies vanished from the nursing and skilled and tender hands took their places. Florence Nightingale herself was the Lady of the Lamp.

When the long day's work was done she would go to her little study room to begin her correspondence; then, after a time, when the surgeons had retired and the wards and corridors were dark, she would take her little lamp and steal quietly through the silent rooms among the sick and dying men. She would kneel by bed after bed to speak a word of comfort; she would give medicine here, food or drink there.

No wonder the men worshiped her, though at first they were a little afraid and shy. "Never be ashamed of your wounds, my friend," she would say in her gentle, musical voice. Her gentleness made poets of some of these rough men.

There was a giant Highlander who wrote home of her and her work: "What a comfort it was to see her even pass! She would speak to one and nod to another, but she could not do it to all, you know—we were lying there by hundreds—but we could kiss her shadow as it fell, and lay our heads on the pillow again, content."

It was a beautiful idea, and this soldier's letter traveled round the world. Longfellow used it in his poem on "The Lady of the Lamp."

She stayed the winter at Scutari and made a revolution. Whereas the deaths had averaged 42 in every 100 they were now down to about two in every 100. So in the spring of 1855 she went to the Crimea itself to attend style of wearing low-cut blouses has reduced the number of sore throats among French women by 75 per cent this winter.

Three-fourth of the patients suffering from bronchitis, laryngitis, tonsillitis, bronchial pneumonia and similar complaints are men, say these doctors, in direct corroboration of what Doctor Mangiliere asserted, according to a cable letter from Paris. They agree with him that the new mode that makes women expose their throats and necks is directly responsible.

Spent Yeast Put to Many Uses.

The spent yeast which collects in breweries and distilleries is put through a process which turns it out in the form of buttons, doorbell plates and knife handles. Formerly this left-over material was considered to be a bothersome waste; now it is utilized, every bit of it. As it is gathered from the vats the yeast is of a dirty, gray-brown color. The first operation is to dye it and then to work it over until it assumes the form of powder and can be hot pressed into any form. In this stage it is called "crumbly." It may be saved, scraped, filed, drilled, engraved, turned to an edge and polished.—Popular Science Monthly.

Doan's, However, Restored Mr. Roulston to Good Health. Results Have Lasted.

"Mornings I was so stiff and sore I could hardly get up," says A. C. Roulston, prop. blacksmith shop, 2840 Washington St., Roxbury, Mass. "The sharp pains through my kidneys were so bad I often thought I wouldn't be able to get to work. I couldn't rest comfortably and turned and tossed from one side to the other, with a dull, dragging backache. There were purple spots under my eyes and I felt worn out all the time. The kidney secretions passed too often and were otherwise unnatural. Four or five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I can honestly recommend Doan's for they have surely done me a world of good."

Mr. Roulston gave the above statement in 1915 and in March, 1917, he said: "My cure is still lasting. I take Doan's occasionally, however, to keep my kidneys in good working order. One can depend upon Doan's to cure kidney ills."

Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Newberry and Preparedness

Truman H. Newberry is no new convert to Preparedness. He has preached it for twenty years,—he has practised what he preached.

He stood for preparedness away back in 1896, when he helped organize the Michigan Naval Brigade.

As Assistant Secretary of the Navy under Roosevelt he urged preparedness. Speaking in New Orleans in 1907, he said:

"You can put it in the biggest type you have that we must have a bigger navy, and I hope such enlargement will come soon. It is for you people here to use your influence for more appropriations for the building of battleships and cruisers. There is no doubt that we shall need them and the sooner they are built the better."

While Secretary of the Navy, Newberry contended for a Merchant Marine as a preparedness measure.

"A large number of merchant vessels will be required in the event of a serious war," he pleaded.

He not only talked preparedness, but he prepared.

He put the Navy on a sure foundation. On our entry into the war it was the one branch of our national defense which was prepared.

He backs up his belief in preparedness by being in the service himself. His sons are in the service. His whole family is serving.

Newberry and Preparedness mean the same thing.

Truman H. Newberry is prepared to give Michigan and the nation wonderfully able service in the United States Senate.
