FROM PRIVATE JOSEPH WOLFF

Former Chelsea Boy Writes of His Experiences Overseas.

The Tribune received a letter yesterday from Pri. Joseph Wolff, formerly repairman for the Chelsea exchange of the Michigan State Telephone Co. He left here early in March for Camp Oglethorpe, Ga., and sailed for overseas service in May, arriving in Southern France about May 24. The letter is dated July 9th and follows in part:

"Just a few lines to the Tribune and its readers. My paper reaches me regularly and of course I am always glad to get it. I can't tell you any real news from over here, except that I am well and that the country is beautiful, although very hilly in some places.

"I landed in the southern part of France and staid in a U. S. camp for about two weeks until we were rested. Then we were put on board a train and rode for two days and nights and we were glad to reach the end of that journey. Then walked about a mile to another camp, where we remained for only a few days and then moved again. Move is my middle name now; I can pick up my bed and walk any time for it takes only a minute to get ready.

"We dropped into a new camp the other day, just at night. Soon an aeroplane came over and dropped a few bombs. That scared me, for it was the first time, but now they would have to drop one on my bed in order to wake me up.

"We certainly had a pleasant Fourth over here; a ball-game in the morning, running races, boxing etc., in the afternoon. In the evening the Red Cross served ice cream, tobacco and cigarettes. They serve hot chocolate or coffee every night and are doing a great work.

"The trip over the pond was very nice; only seemed like a very large pond, though. I thought we would never get across. We had lots of fun on the boat with the Frenchmen. They couldn't understand us, nor we them, so it was a hard matter for both of us. The only time it really bothered me was at meal time, but I managed to get mine all right. I couldn't speak French, but I could make signs.

"Please give my best regards to all the Tribune readers."

TRI-COUNTY DRAIN TANGLE

Construction Again Held Up; This Time by Protest of Gregory Water Power Owner.

County Drain Commissioner Clayton E. Deane has been in Mason and Lansing the past week on business connected with the proposed tri-county drain of Livingston, Washtenaw and Ingham counties.

Litigation concerning this drain has been in the various courts of the counties concerned and the Michigan supreme court for many months, and now promises to get into the supreme court again. The final decision for the construction of the drain is being held up by the protest of a dam owner at Gregory, Owen McLean, who uses a small water power for the making of electricity for Gregory. The water power is so small that it can be used only a portion of the time. The drain commissioners claim that Mr. McLean has no right to dam this stream.

At the present time there is a disagreement between the probate judges of the three counties regarding the method of arbitration of this question. Two judges have decided to appoint commissioners of three from each county, while one of the judges holds for a jury of 12 men from each county.

A portion of the proposed drain passes through the northern part of Lyndon township.

VISITED LOCAL ORCHARDS.

County Agricultural Agent H. S. Osler, assisted by Prof. R. E. Loree of M. A. C., conducted an orchard inspection trip Thursday. They were accompanied by 16 farmers and fruit raisers from Ann Arbor and vicinity. The party took dinner here and visited the G. T. English orchard just south of town and the Boyd orchard near Sylvan Center.

En route to Chelsea the party inspected the E. B. Mainwaring, A. C. Stein and R. E. Scott orchards. From here the party drove to the L. Whitney Watkins orchard, west of Manchester, also the Woodward orchard, and the Schable orchard west of Saline.

WE WERE SHY ON THE OTS.

A typographical error in Friday's Tribune lost three bushels of oats to the acre from the report of J. W. Hoeselschwerdt's threshing. His oats averaged 55½ bushels to the acre instead of 52½ as published. We are anxious to have everyone thresh just as many oats as possible and we hope some one else will come forward with an even better record than Mr. Hoeselschwerdt's.

RED CROSS AUCTION.

An auction sale of the material recently donated to the Chelsea Red Cross by the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago railway will be held Saturday evening, August 10th, at eight o'clock in the Sylvan town hall.

Included in the sale will be all the mattresses, steel and wooden frame bed springs, steel and wooden cots, sanitary couches, and a quantity of blankets used at the time of the recent wreck on the D. J. & C.

Everything is in first class condition and for all practical purposes, as good as new. A few of the mattresses are slightly soiled by careless handling. All the blankets have been laundered. Material which was blood-stained or badly damaged has been destroyed.

A new two-burner oil stove and several granite ware tea kettles and pans, used only a few minutes for heating water, will be included in the sale.

All of the proceeds of the sale will be used for Red Cross work exclusively. Remember the time of the sale, on Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

LOOKING FOR BUSHNELL

Man Resembling Escaped Convict Seen in Woods West of Chelsea.

A man-hunt is in progress today in the country roundabout Sylvan Center, a man acting in a suspicious manner and said to resemble Harry Bushnell, an escaped Jackson prison convict, having been seen in the woods on the Charles West farm this morning.

The woods are between Mill Creek and the D. J. & C. tracks, about three miles west of Chelsea. Mr. West saw the fellow getting a drink at the creek and called to him to go up to a spring. The man warned Mr. West not to come near him and acted in a threatening manner, which aroused West's suspicions that the stranger might be a fugitive.

Chelsea officers were notified and hurried out in search of the stranger and officers in Ann Arbor and Jackson have been notified. No further trace of the fellow had been reported here at noon.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF YOUTH

Thoughtlessly no doubt, adults often take advantage of the innocence and inexperience of youth and perhaps cause needless worry or actual hardship to some little chap who is doing his utmost to please and render service. For instance in the case of the newsboy who delivers the daily paper. He gets only four cents a week for the service which obliges him to leave a paper at your residence six times a week and then to make a seventh call to collect for the week. Often the customer is not at home, which is unfortunate but not nearly so heart-breaking as to be told, "I haven't the change today—you'll have to come again," or "I don't pay for the paper—you'll have to see Mr. Blank about it."

And perhaps another customer will "go to the lake" for a few days and forget to tell the newsboy. The paper will be left as usual for several days and frequently the customer will refuse to pay for it, giving as an excuse, "I didn't get it," but the poor newsie has to pay for it just the same. He loses 1½ cents on each paper and gets nothing for the delivery.

Don't take advantage of youth. When the week is ended, have the amount you owe ready for your newsboy, or so save him the time and trouble of a second or even a third request. And if he doesn't deliver the paper to your satisfaction, tell him so and give him a chance to improve; or stop it. Don't let him deliver a paper for several days and then refuse to pay for it. Play the game fair and most any red-blooded American boy will strive to the utmost to please you.

CONSERVE TURKEY BROILERS.

In the effort to stop the wasteful practice of slaughtering broiler turkeys—those weighing from two to four pounds—the Food Administration is approaching the problem through three different channels.

Farmers are requested to raise their turkeys to maturity, thereby adding to the nation's meat supply; dealers have been notified of the Food Administration's desire that they refrain from purchasing the immature birds; hotels, clubs and restaurants where most of the broiler turkeys are consumed have been asked to discontinue serving them.

It is pointed out that turkeys, unlike chickens, do not become plump and well-meated until nearly full grown.

INTERURBAN FARES RISE

Publicity Agent D. J. & C. Says That Increase Is Imperative.

The Detroit, Jackson & Chicago railway will soon increase its fare to 2½ cents per mile according to a letter received Saturday from A. B. Van Zandt, publicity agent for the Detroit United system, of which the D. J. & C. is a part. Mr. Van Zandt said in part:

"The War Labor board granted wage increases which bring the rate of pay up to 43, 46 and 48 cents an hour for the three classes of employees. This wage increase, together with additional money which must be paid the men because of extra compensation for night runs, and changes in working conditions, to say nothing of the increased financial burdens which we must bear because of rapidly increasing costs of materials, equipment, etc., can mean only one thing—higher fares.

"It is essential and absolutely necessary if adequate service is to be continued that our revenue be increased to meet the heavy demands brought about by the increases in wages, as well as in costs of everything else which enters into the cost of producing car rides.

"Therefore, it is practically certain that fares on all of the city lines of our system will have to be increased to six cents and a charge of one cent made for transfers and that rates on the interurban lines will have to be increased to two and one-half cents per mile."

STATE CROP REPORT

Average Yield of Corn Better Than In 1917, Says Forecast.

The total yield of wheat in Michigan will be approximately 8,000,000 bushels, according to the crop report issued Monday by Secretary of State Vaughan. The average yield per acre is estimated at 13.40 bushels. During the past 11 months 12,000,000 bushels of wheat have been marketed in the state and it is claimed that all of the 1917 crop has been disposed of by the growers.

The estimated yield of oats is 48,770,708 bushels or an average of 36.60 bushels per acre. The estimated average yield of rye is 12.38 bushels per acre and the total yield for the state is estimated at 4,210,995 bushels.

The condition of corn as compared with an average is 80. One year ago the condition was 71. The condition of potatoes as compared with an average is 82. One year ago the average was 92. The condition of beans is 87. One year ago the average was 72.

The condition of sugar beets as compared with an average is 88. One year ago the condition was 81. The condition of pasture is 68 as compared to 92 one year ago.

The estimated average yield per acre of hay and forage is one ton. Based on this estimate the state yield will be 2,148,179 tons.

The prospect for an average crop of apples is 65, while the peach crop will not average 10 per cent of the normal yield.

BERLIN DOWN; MARNE UP.

The Detroit, Jackson & Chicago interurban railway has recently renamed all stops on its line which formerly had names of German origin. The first crossing west of Chelsea, about two miles out, near the James Guthrie farm, is among those renamed. It was formerly known as Berlin stop, but has been renamed Marne and the old Berlin sign board has been torn down and a new board carrying the name Marne put in its place.

HOW NAMES BECOME CHANGED Sometimes Intentionally, but More Often Due to the "Wear and Tear of Time."

"Who Was Who?" is the suggested title for a new book to contain the names of all persons who have changed their names. A new publication will do that in England. If the work is carried back far enough it will be found that scarcely a name has survived the wear and tear of time. Some of the changes are intentional, like our daily applications in court, but most of them are due to bad spellers or poor pronunciation and phonetic spelling to express the errors of pronunciation. Our Dutch ancestors had a habit of cutting off everything that went down to and including the "Van." The name "Berend" was originally "Bireh" and meant a man who lived by the birch tree. It is a curious comment on this new book that the London newspaper editor who is putting it out has juggled his own name after the English custom, when taking a title. Good names are a misfortune when they are used like family portraits to make snobs.—Exchange.

WHAT WOMEN CAN DO TO WIN THE WAR

Conserve Food and Buy Liberty Bonds—Two Ways They Can Help.

WOMEN OF AMERICA, WAKE UP!

Pour All Your Savings Into Uncle Sam's Lap—Keep on Saving and Pouring Until the World Is Free.

By INEZ HAYNES IRWIN.

What can the women of America do to help win this war? Two things are certain; one that they can do a great deal and another that, unless the war lasts ten years longer, they can never do so much as the French, English and Italian women have done, they can never suffer so much as the French, English and Italian women have suffered.

To me, returning to America after two years in the war countries, the untold agony of the American people came as a terrific shock. I had left a world as black and silent as night; a world in which I had seen no dancing, a world in which I had heard no spontaneous laughter or—except in the case of military bands—no music. At first the atmosphere of America was almost unbearable. I was obsessed with the desire to get back to the allied countries, to suffer with them, rather than enjoy the comparative comfort of a comparatively unwarmed America. The luxury everywhere appalled me. Those hundreds of motors gliding through our streets for instance! Private motors have long ago disappeared from allied Europe. The beautiful furbies, the furs and faxes, the gorgeous sport clothes and the dazzling evening dresses which still distinguish the women of America.

Ban on Evening Clothes.

The first time I was invited to a dinner party on my return, I wore a long-sleeved high-necked gray and black gown and found myself a wren among birds of paradise. No woman of France would think of wearing evening clothes. Indeed, both men and women are prohibited by law from appearing in evening clothes at the theater. On the few social occasions in which they take part, French women are dressed in black gowns with a little lace at the neck and sleeves. English women still wear evening clothes. When their men return on their rare leave from the front, they cover their aching hearts with as much gayety as possible in order to send them back to the front and the vermin and the rats and the damp and the cold and the wounds and the constant sight of death psychologically refreshed. But most of the evening dresses that the English women are now wearing date back to the beginning of the war. And strange of all, perhaps, for a country at war, those lustrous streets with their rows of electric lights and their vivid, flashing, changing, iridescent electric signs. In Paris, you plunge into a deep twilight when you leave your restaurant, and in London you grope your way home through a dangerous Stygian gloom. Then the careless spending in American hotels and restaurants. In Paris those places close at half-past nine. And food! Food conditions have never been so bad in France as in the other allied countries, for France has always fed herself, and is, moreover, the world's best cook. But in Italy and England, meat is a rare luxury to be obtained only once in a great while; butter and sugar are long-forgotten dreams.

See Their Homes Destroyed.

And then in the case of France and to some degree of Italy, the allied women have seen vast stretches of carefully cared-for ancient forest and enormous sections of softly beautiful farming country turned into metal-ridden dumps; they have seen dozens of small cities and hundreds of little villages transformed to ash heaps; they have seen so much old sacred beauty in the form of churches, cathedrals and historic monuments reduced to hills of rubble that the whole world must seem a desert to them. They have even had to endure the extra affront of an exhibition in Berlin of the art treasures looted from northern France.

The allied women have nursed the wounded, the tubercular, the undernourished; they have taught new trades to the crippled and blind and those who are invalid for life. They have taken care of thousands and thousands of refugees from Belgium, northern France and Siberia. They have had to provide for the bringing up of thousands of orphan children. This has not come upon them gradually, but all the time and in increasing proportions.

But, after all, these things are as nothing to the death of the flower of their male youth. England and France and Italy have lost so much in man power that no member of our generation looks for happiness again during his own lifetime! They hope only for one thing—to insure the freedom of the next generation.

Sons All Gone.

"My husband is a Parisian," said a beautiful American woman married to a Frenchman. "He has always lived in Paris. He has many friends here. He is forty-five years old. His friends range in age from forty to sixty. Not one has a son left."

"Thank you for your kind letter," wrote an English girl to a woman who had just sent a letter condoling with her on the death of the last of three brothers. "We find the country a little dreary now and we are returning to town the last of the month. We shall be at home Sunday evenings. Be sure to come to us often. We want to see all our friends and hear what they have been doing in the last three months. Mother and father look forward with special pleasure to meeting you all again. Please bring any soldier friends; we will try to make it gay for them."

"What news do you get from Frederick," a friend of mine asked of the mother of Frederick, a beautiful tall-dressed English woman who was making a great success of a dance given for some convalescent Tommies. "Oh, you haven't heard, have you," the mother of Frederick answered. "He was killed two months ago." And she turned to answer with her ready sympathetic smile the inquiries of a group of Tommies gathered about her.

Fight Same as Men.

But that is not all. In a manner of speaking, the women of Europe are fighting the war just as the men are. They have not, except in the case of the famous Battalion of Death, died in battle; and yet a half to three-quarters of a million women have been killed as the direct result of war activities. More women have been killed in this war than men on both the Northern and Southern sides in our Civil War. That nearly three-quarters of a million includes the women massacred by the Turks in Armenia, by the Austrians in Serbia, by the Germans in Belgium and northern France; it includes army nurses and women munition makers; it includes civilian women killed by shells in the war zone or near it, women killed by Zeppelin and airplane raids and by submarines.

What can the women of America do to equal all this service and all this suffering?

For three years, the French and English, and for two years, the Italians, have stood between us and the death of our democracy. What can we do to make up for that long, hesitating neutral inaction of ours? The men of our nation have responded gallantly. We have a real army in France now. As Lloyd George said in parliament to a listening empire, "The Americans are in." We are in and of course we are in to stay, in for a century if need be, until the safety of the world democracy is assured. The men of America are doing their part—doing it with suffering and death. What can the women do?

What Women Can Do.

It is the geographical misfortune of us women of America that we cannot possibly give the personal service that the women of Europe have given. They are near and we are far. They, so to speak, are in the front trenches and we have not entered the war zone. Only a very few of us, in proportion to our numbers, can work in the hospitals or canteens there. Only a few more in proportion to our numbers can do Red Cross work or Y. M. C. A. work here. There are, however, two things we can do all the time and with all the strength that is in us. One is to conserve food. The other is to buy Liberty bonds. We can help the government by buying bonds. Yet again we have an advantage; it is our peculiar misfortune that most of us can help the government only by helping ourselves. For the purchase of Liberty bonds at the generous rate of interest which the government grants is not self-denial but in line with self-interest—legitimate of course, but still self-interest.

Women of America, Wake Up!

Pour all your savings into Uncle Sam's lap. Then save more, and pour them into his lap. Keep on saving and pouring, pouring and saving, until the world is free. You have given generously of the sinews of war in those magnificent boys you have sent to France. Give as generously in the money which will keep them well and happy there.

EXIT THE GERMAN DACHSHUND

Marine Poster Causes German Dog to Be Driven From Streets of Cincinnati.

Cincinnati.—Exit the German dachshund from the society of Cincinnati dogdom.

A United States marine corps poster was responsible for the German dog, the social denizen here. The poster depicts an American bulldog chasing a German dachshund with the words: "Teufel hund. (Devil dogs). German nickname for U. S. marines." Since the appearance of the poster the local dachshunds, of which there are a great number, have led a miserable existence, as small boys have "staked" bulldogs, terriers, hounds and every other canine breed on the poor "Fritzies," until at last they have been virtually driven off the streets of Cincinnati.

Navy Bean Lauded.

The navy bean, besides being plentiful in that branch of the war service which bears its name, is also well-stocked in the army. It follows the flag to the front and Chicago food administrators say it should be used liberally at home to save other foods for the soldier boys.

Guests Provide Own Sugar.

When friends go "a-visiting" at Alton, Ill., they bring their own sugar, along with sweetening the refreshments served. A two-pound sugar ration to each family compels it. Sugar has been unusually scarce for some time.

7,000,000 FIGHTING MEN IN DRAFT 18-45

CLASS 31-45 SET DOWN FOR 2,000,000 MEN, LIKE THOSE NOW FIGHTING OVERSEAS.

16,000,000 MEN MAY REGISTER

Class 21 to 31 the Country Already Has Taken 3,000,000 Youths Most of Whom Are in France.

Washington—An army of 7,000,000 fighting men will be one result of the extension of draft ages between 18 and 45, in the opinion of the war department.

This is the minimum of figures and it means that every man of the 7,000,000 will be of the type and physique of those now on the battle front in France.

Military men believe the class will yield many young men. From the class of 21 to 31, the country already has taken 3,000,000 youths of the best soldier material in history, almost all of whom are now in France. The class of 31 to 45 is set down for another 2,000,000 men.

In one respect the tremendous figures recall President Wilson's "interrogatory answer" with reference to the army when he said, "Why limit it to 5,000,000?"

They mean the possibilities of our army are practically without limit. The 7,000,000 could be increased to 12,000,000 if need be. One war department estimate fixes 16,000,000 men as the number who will register, providing extensions are approved in the present forms.

Secretary Baker made it emphatic that the new draft ages were determined solely by military considerations. He said that inclusion of all Class 1, men between the ages of 18 and 45, would be necessary to meet the army program.

The secretary refused to state the number of fighting men which the Army experts estimate these new draft ages will provide, but unofficially Army officers estimated that they will be sufficient to maintain an army of 5,000,000 fighting men on foreign soil, after allowing for expected losses, providing extensions are approved in the present forms.

When the present Class 1 is exhausted it is estimated that it will have supplied 3,300,000 men. This is an average of 200,000 a year for each of the 11 yearly classes stretching from 21 to 31 since the addition of the new 21-year-old class in June. It is estimated that the addition of the ages 18, 19 and 20 will alone supply 2,000,000 men. The registrants of these ages will not have dependents, they are physically fit in much larger proportion than older men and they are not generally employed in essential industries.

COAL ORDER AFFECTS STATE

Limits on Shipping of Anthracite Coal Hits Michigan People Hard.

Washington—Restrictions on the movement of anthracite coal from any of the docks in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, located along the west bank of Lakes Michigan and Superior, was announced recently. The order became effective August 3.

Under the order every shipper of anthracite coal from any of these docks is required to sell, ship and distribute such coal only to the dealers and consumers for use and consumption within the following sections:

- 1. The states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.
2. The Upper Peninsula of Michigan.
3. That portion of the state of Iowa located on the north of a line coincident with the Illinois Central Railroad from Dubuque to Sioux City.
4. The following Illinois counties: Cooke, Stephenson, Winnebago, Boone, McHenry, Lake, Ogle, De Kalb, Kane, DuPage, Lee Kendall and Will.

1,500 NURSES IS STATE QUOTA

Campaign Will Be Conducted Throughout State Beginning August 5.

Detroit—Registration cards, filled out in April by the women of Michigan, will be used for the first time this week, to obtain names of 1,500 Michigan women between the ages of 19 and 35 years, who have registered as desiring training in nursing. A campaign will be conducted throughout the country by the Woman's Committee of the Council for National Defense, starting August 5, to enroll 25,000 women in the United States Student Nurse Reserve.

Michigan and other states where a registration of women has been taken expect to fill their quotas by means of the registration cards.

Tobacco Revenue Treble.

Washington—Heavy increases in the present war tax on tobacco, cigars and cigarettes were agreed to by the house ways and means committee as part of the new $3,000,000,000 revenue bill. The tax imposes three times the existing rates on some items of the schedule and is expected to raise about $340,000,000 in comparison with the present $168,000,000 revenue from tobacco. Tobacco tax increased from 13 to 39 cents per pound. Cigarette paper and tubes, tax doubled.

WANT EXPERT TO TELL TWINS' AGES

Freaks Concerned Only as to How Much They Will Get at Each Meal.

New York—A search for physicians qualified to render judgment on the ages of Lucio and Simplicio Gadio, Samar twins, on exhibition in a freak circus at Coney Island, has been started by counsel for James Dunlavey, show proprietor, who is charged with exhibiting children under sixteen years of age. The twins are one of a dozen freaks of their sort known in medical annals, having separate heads and feet and being joined back to back.

Four physicians who were put on the stand in the proceedings declared their total inability to decide the matter of age. Their testimony estimated them anywhere between eleven and eighteen years, but all ultimately confessed they were not qualified to make a definite statement.

Lucio Did Most of the Talking.

The twins are interested but somewhat difficult witnesses. They were brought into the courtroom, and not being able to sit jointly in the witness chair, were given a straight-backed chair without arms. Lucio's legs hung off one side, Simplicio's off the other. Alternately, as if by a well-learned signal arrangement, they took turns looking at the magistrate and the witnesses, in order not to dump each other of the chair. Between looks they faced blandly in opposite directions.

Quite unexpectedly the hearing developed into a complaint against the food that the Samars have had since the Children's society took charge of them. It appeared that they had had no meat, no potatoes and no rice.

Lucio did most of the talking. Speaking for himself he thought it was terribly bad treatment. He said he liked nothing better than a batch of ham and eggs for breakfast, a couple of chops for dinner and a fine roast or stew for supper, not to mention plenty of vegetables and a dash of Worcester sauce over all. To most of these things Simplicio nodded assent. There are things that Simplicio likes to eat that Lucio doesn't, like a good whiff of cabbage or soft custard pie. And twins such as Lucio and Simplicio are in no position to fight it out. They were united in their preference for beef.

The case will be heard again, when the defense expects to produce a doctor who knows all about the 12 Samar twins of medical record and will deduce their ages for the puzzled court.

Father Finds His Ten-Year-Old Son Clinging to Peak of Roof.

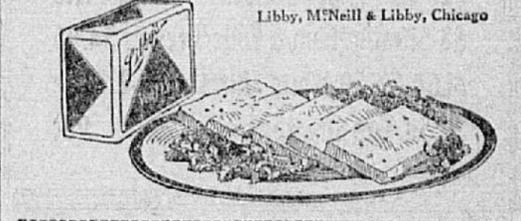

Mount Carmel, Pa.—Hearing a voice on the housetop, Harry Lucas made an investigation and was startled to see his ten-year-old son Harold clinging to the peak of the roof. It was necessary to get a ladder to remove the lad from the building. Young Lucas, a victim of somnambulism, had left his bed, climbed through an open window to the water spouting and pulled himself up to the steep, sloping roof, a feat he would have been unable to accomplish if awake.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL T. & T.

On August 1st possession and control of the wire systems of the American Telegraph and Telephone company passed to the Postmaster General. President Vail of the telegraph and telephone company has sent the following letter to the employees:

To all who are identified with the Bell companies—who have shown your fine sense of obligation and loyalty and fidelity to the country, to the public service and to the property in the past and to whom the credit is due for the prestige and position of the companies in the public eye—it is asked and it is not too much to ask of you, that same loyalty, fidelity and devotion to the service under the new order of things; on your behalf such loyalty, fidelity and devotion to service have been promised, knowing full well the spirit in which you would meet and respond to the request.

To do one's full duty in each position is the greatest obligation resting upon every person and is also the greatest opening to future preferment.

LIBERTY LOAN AND SAVINGS.

The effect of the Liberty Loans and the War Savings Stamps on savings banks' deposits has been watched with keen interest by economists and financiers. The experience of England was very encouraging; in the year 1916, the English small depositors purchased billions of dollars of war bonds and at the same time increased their deposits in savings banks over $60,000,000.

The belief is entertained that the result in America has been very similar to that of England, and that despite the purchase by the American people of some $10,000,000,000 of liberty bonds and $500,000,000 of war savings stamps, a very fair proportion of which were purchased by savings banks depositors, savings banks deposits have increased.

Full reports have been received from the savings banks in New York state. They show a decrease in deposits for the last year of only $8,000,000, but an increase of 21,252 depositors. The loss in deposits is insignificant; the increase in the number of depositors very significant. With increased cost of living and other war conditions, the decrease in deposits might well be expected; the increase of depositors shows that the saving habit is greatly growing in our country.

Profits and Prices

Profits may be considered from two angles:

- 1st—Their effect on prices;
- 2nd—As a return to investors.

When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.

Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits; to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.

Is it fair to call this profiteering?

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrah deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrah Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrah, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.—Adv.

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."—Adv.

DIXON'S PLATFORM—"WIN THE WAR"

We are in the war and we can come out of it only as conquerors or conquered, victorious or dishonored: as an independent or a subject nation. Our lives, our homes, our institutions, all that Washington fought for and Lincoln died for, are at stake. Our only way out now is to FIGHT IT OUT for the simple cause of AMERICA AND AMERICANS. We must, as Benjamin Franklin said, "hang together or hang separately." The man who in public or private life subordinates this cause to any other consideration, no matter what, or who, FAILS IN THE FULL, DEVOTED AND EFFICIENT PERFORMANCE OF HIS DUTY to the nation, is a traitor to himself, his family, the republic and the right.
