The people where he is all wear wooden shoes, the wagons have only two wheels and the horses are driven tandem instead of abreast, there is lots of wine and the water is poor. The fences are mostly hedges. He and his chum planned to visit an old cathedral, said to have been built 400 years ago, soon. His address is: Louis H. Faber, Co. E, 118th Engrs, American E. ## DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

PROVEN SWAMP-ROOT AIDS WEAK KIDNEYS

The symptoms of kidney and bladder troubles are often very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition. The kidneys seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more dangerous kidney troubles.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which so many people say, soon heals and strengthens the kidneys, is a splendid kidney, liver and bladder medicine, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who use it.

A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Better get a bottle from your nearest drug store, and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

DRAFT BOARDS CLOSE DEC. 10

Classification of Registrants of 19—35 Group to be Completed Except Examinations.

Lansing.—That local draft boards must complete their work by December 10 is evident from the following telegram received from Washington which Adjutant General Bersey has transmitted to every local board in the state.

"The local boards are to make classification reports as of November 30, and again as of December 9. The classification work and all records pertaining to registrants of June 5, 1917, also of June 5 and August 24, 1918, are to stand as they now are without further change or alteration, unless further instructions are given by the provost marshal general.

"The records and classification of registrants of September 12, belonging to the 19 to 35 and 18-year age groups are to be made up and continued until the classification is completed, but omitting the subsequent examinations. Nothing further is to be done with the 37 to 45-year group.

WAR COST $175,000,000,000

Before End of 1918 Experts Believe Cost Will Run $200,000,000,000.

Washington.—Direct cost of the war for all belligerent nations to last May 1, was reported at about $171,000,000,000, by the federal reserve board bulletin, issued, and it is estimated that the cost will amount to nearly $200,000,000,000, before the end of this year.

These calculations, the board believes, are substantially correct.

For purely military and naval purposes it is estimated that all belligerents had spent about $132,000,000,000 to May 1, or about three-fourths of the total war cost. The balance represented interest on debt, and other indirect expenses.

The public debt of the principal Entente allies is calculated to approximate $105,000,000,000 or more than twice as much as the aggregate debt of the Central powers, set at $45,000,000,000.

$36,298,000,000 PASSED UPON

Washington.—The second session of the 65th, or "war" congress which began last December 3, has just ended under a resolution adopted by the senate, 41 to 18, and by the house without objection.

The third and final session of this congress will begin in 11 days—December 2.

Except the war revenue bill, little business was left unfinished by congress. Before the new session opens, the senate finance committee will endeavor to complete revision of the revenue measure, while house committees work on the mass of appropriation bills to come before the next session, which expires by limitation next March 3.

For length, bulk of appropriations for the war and the number and importance of legislative measures passed, the session which just closed was unprecedented.

Appropriation passed aggregated $36,298,000,000, making the total for this congress more than $55,000,000,000, of which $19,412,000,000 was appropriated at the first—an extra-session at which war was declared on Germany.

The president was said to have reiterated his views on the necessity for a great fleet of ships to carry the nation's commerce and to that end favors continuation of the government's shipbuilding program.

CLEMENCEAU SEEKING LAW ON EX-KAISER.

Paris.—Premier Clemenceau has asked Charles Lyon-Caen, dean of the faculty of law at the University of Paris, to give an opinion on the question whether extradition of William Hohenzollern, former German emperor, can be demanded.

Owing to complexity of the question, M. Lyon-Caen has asked that he be given time to prepare a reply, La Liberté says.

Edouard Cluget, the leading French authority on international law, has given it as his opinion that it is impossible to demand the former emperor's extradition.

HAVE NO USE FOR SHOES

Natural Antipathy Displayed by Natives of Africa to Any and All Kinds of Footwear.

Among native African men living near mission stations boots are often worn on Sundays to go to church to, or rather with, for the footwear is almost invariably carried slung over an arm or shoulder, this being more comfortable for the feet and less wearing on the boots. Still, on nearing the church, they are put on with much seriousness and importance; the more shouting and noise they make the better, and should a pair creak badly the joy of the wearer and envy of his friends are beyond all description.

"This natural antipathy to wearing boots," says Professor Holloway in the Wide World, "does not apply to South Africa. In some colonies where native troops are supplied with boots when on the march, they will beg the officer's permission to walk barefooted and in comfort. I remember a coal-black Sudanese, a fine old soldier well over six feet, who was doorkeeper at a friend's house in Khartoum. Whenever I called after saluting he would solemnly put on his boots before taking my card and on his return immediately take them off, and in his deep voice rumble out whether or not his master was at home. He was quite under the impression that this was the correct thing to do."

The Mental Urge.

What a man thinks sets the limits to his ability. Life is not so much a lottery as a proof of self-estimates. It's facing the facts that are, with confidence of what ought to be. When the world hollers "down" the man fit to lead crawls from under the scrimmage and scampers over the goal line. It's not the "sure thing," but the thing that makes sure who writes his name on fame's tablets and erects victory arches to his memory. Mental might is the reaction of self-discovery proved by conduct. A few mounting eyelids reveal the bee line and nothing can hinder the resolute soul from winging toward its merited destination. Folks call it luck, good fortune and a thousand pet names when it's just right thought "kept going."

World's First Opera.

The world's first sinu-pure opera was "Dafne," the libretto by Rimecchini and the music by Peri. The performance was given in Corsi's palace, Florence, and the production, which was private, was either in 1585 or 1597, authorities differing on this point. "Euridice," with the libretto by Rimecchini and music by Peri and Caccini, is generally supposed to have been the first serious Italian opera given a public performance. This was at the Pitti palace, October 6, 1600, and the occasion was the marriage of Maria de Medici to Henry IV of France.—San Antonio Express.

Races Becoming Acquainted.

The old and unimpaired dislike of one race for another had its birth in ignorance. It arose and continued because the races did not know one another well enough to be friends.

It is a pleasant thought that if the world, the steamship and the open door of the world has done no more for us than to bring us all closer together in a better understanding and a kinder and more sympathetic association, they were innovations in life that were destined to work a greater miracle than the mere mechanics of which they are constituted.

Secret of Bird's Flight.

There are secrets in the flight of birds, which, when discovered, will probably revolutionize the airplane. How, for instance, does the seagull, to give a very familiar example, manage, after planting down on outstretched wings, to rise without any perceptible propelling motion? You can see this yourself any day on the Thames embankment and you can ask the most expert almanac or the most learned professor of theoretical aerodynamics without obtaining any solution of the mystery.—London Chronicle.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Do Not Fear When Fighting a German or a Germ!

By DR. M. COOK.

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloë, root of jalap, and is to be had at any drug store, and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink freely of hot lemonade and take a hot mustard foot-bath. Have the bedroom warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Anurie Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Anurie" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of lemonade. If a true case of influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttermilk and ice-cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally from three to seven days, the system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Ironie" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. ## HAD NO CHANCE WITH HIM

Easy to Understand Why Blinks Carried Off the Honors With His Carnival Costume.

When the Shocum Tennis club held a carnival in aid of war funds everybody began to talk about Blinks.

What costume would he wear? His car was too thin for knee-breeches, and his arms too slim for a Viking, while his small head, scant of hair, would be lost in an antique helmet.

On the great day, however, Blinks was first favorite. All the ladies crowded round him and voted for him to have the prize, while William the Conqueror and Hamlet loafed dismally around alone.

A late arrival, toggled out as a resplendent Roman warrior, asked: "What's the trouble with you fellows? You all look as cheerful as a wet week."

"It's that Blinks," came a chorus of growls. "The little brute came as a bargain, marked down, and every blessed girl in the place is fighting to get near him."—London Tit-Bits.

PARIS GOES MAD WITH JOY WHEN PERSHING APPEARS

Half a Million Persons Struggle to Get Glimpse of American Leader.

Streets Resound With Cheers for Yanks' Commander When Girl Discovers Him in Passing Auto.

Paris.—All Paris paid a noisy tribute to Gen. John J. Pershing when the crowds in the streets espied the American commander passing in his automobile. It is estimated that at least fifty thousand persons crowded about the general's car, while half a million more jammed the Place de la Concorde and adjacent streets in a mad effort to get a glimpse of the American leader.

The general was out for a short drive and had come up the Rue Rivoli. His car was proceeding at a snail's pace before it was recognized by the frenzied street crowds.

As General Pershing's face, with the famous smile, showed through the door, a French girl with the flags of half a dozen nations twined about her head screamed, "General Pershing!"

The cry was taken up instantly and passed over the seething multitudes. If there were any gendarmes about they were swallowed up in the enormous mob. In an instant men and women went mad and screamed his name, and all tried to reach the car.

Men picked up women and held them on their shoulders that they might get a look at the general. The mob surged toward the car in another wave.

Shakes Hands of Children.

General Pershing amidst the danger was enjoying it greatly. Instead of closing the window and urging the driver to get out before they were crushed to death, he let the window down full length, laughed heartily, and thrust his hand out of the door to shake the hand of a little French child whose proud father lifted her above the heads of the mob.

Children climbed on the tonneau and shinned up the back of the limousine and frantically leaped over the struggling mass and shot their hands in at the window. General Pershing continued laughing and tried to shake as many hands as could be thrust through the window.

"Pershing! Pershing!" belled the mob, and the name rang from the Seine to the Rue Royale, up the Champs Elysees, and through the Tuilleries gardens.

Efforts to Clear Way Fail.

French officers who had been caught up in the human madhouse saluted and then endeavored to have the mob give way. As if by common impulse the masses seemed to understand that the great American general was in danger, and with a creaking of heads and the screams of women and children a slight rift was made directly ahead of the car. Then by less than a snail's pace the car with frantic snorts edged along, inch by inch.

The cheering was indescribable. Along the boulevards the name of Pershing was taken up by thousands who probably did not know that Pershing was in their midst, and at one moment it seemed that all Paris was shouting.

By this time the inside of Pershing's car resembled a flag shop. The children who were raised over the heads of the frantic populace tossed small flags and flowers through the window and the grownups tore the insignia from their coats and tossed it in. General Pershing was laughing hard and waving his hand back at the children, but still the flag and floral offerings poured in until he was half buried beneath the hunting, flags, buttons, insignia, and crushed blossoms.

Moves Inch by Inch.

Inch by inch the car moved and then halted several minutes as the mob surged back against it. It was the car he had used over the battlefield of France and was built for rough usage, else it seems it must have crushed like an egg shell.

Finally the car edged out of the Place de la Concorde into the Champs Elysees, but still the mob, with hats off, arms in air, and mouths wide open, shouting like mad, surged about him. It was several minutes more before the car could be extricated and a semblance of a road made.

Even then, as the car got away up the great avenue toward the Arc de Triomphe, thousands ran after it. All Paris seemed to be rumbling with a mighty noise and over the mighty noise sounded, clear and strong, "Vive Pershing!"

Troops in England First Home.

London.—The first American troops to depart homeward as a result of the signing of the armistice will be 18,000 men stationed in England. The American army expects to start the first shipment of these soldiers homeward within a few days, and to have all the men on their way back to the United States ten days later.

The plans for clearing England of American troops are incomplete, but it is desired to remove these men immediately, as some shipping is available for this purpose. Most of the 18,000 men are helping the British air force.

The American hospital units will be left in England until a policy for caring for future cases of illness among the Americans has been decided upon.

The belief is expressed at army headquarters that very few Americans will be left long in England as it is thought that the hospitals in France can care for future needs.

German Navy Surrendered.

London.—There has just been seen the greatest naval surrender which the world has ever witnessed.

A great fleet of German battleships, battle cruisers, and light cruisers and destroyers left port for an unknown destination. They were met by the British fleet, accompanied by American and French representatives, and conducted to their destination.

A Berlin telegram received in Amsterdam gives this list of the vessels comprising the best of the German navy that were to be handed over:

Battleships—Kaiser, Kaiserin, König Albert, Kronprinz Wilhelm, Prinz Regent Luitpold, Markgraf, Grosser Kurfurst, Bayern, König Friedrich der Grosse.

Battle cruisers—Hindenburg, Derfflinger, Seydlitz, Moltke, Von der Tann.

Light cruisers—Brauen, Brummer, Frankfurt, Koln, Dresden, Emden.

Germany has been stripped of at least half of the fleet of dreadnoughts which it had in commission or building when war began, and of practically all of its battle cruisers.

Yanks in Triumphant March.

With the American Army of Occupation, the American army of occupation, which is moving forward steadily over the territory evacuated by the retreating Germans, is being received with wild demonstrations of joy by the residents of the towns which are now being liberated after more than four years of German rule.

When the American troops entered Biele, the heart of the Lotharingan from fields, they passed under triumphal arches that had been hurriedly erected by the people of the town, and the streets through which they passed were bedecked with flags. On one arch through which the Americans passed was a homemade American flag four feet in length, flanked by the French colors. The flag, which had been made by three French girls, had eleven stars and seven red and white stripes. At St. Leger, as the advance units of the Americans entered the town, the church bells were rung and the mayor and his wife stood in front of their home to welcome the officers and correspondents, who were invited to become the mayor's guests. Women, children and aged men crowded about the soldiers, embracing them and presenting them with flowers.

Similar scenes were enacted as the Americans reached Vitton, Longwy, Audun, La Romain and other towns evacuated by the Germans.

Everything moves smoothly as the American forces proceed toward the Rhine. Some 200,000 men, with their supplies, guns and ammunition, must be moved along three main roads from railroads that get farther behind each day. The job is one that would tax the abilities of the quartermasters of any army.

Flags Flutter Over British.

With the British Armies, innumerable flags fluttered over the heads of the British troops as they moved forward and started on their march to the Rhine. The cavalrymen had their own guidons and some of them rode with French and Belgian flags sticking out of their boots and fastened to their bridles. The gunners had flags on their limbers and the axes of their wagons; their steel traces were polished brightly, as though for a military tournament, and their steel helmets were shining. They had spent many hours in "spit and polish" since the day of the armistice, so they should look well on the road to the Rhine.

The advancing troops met thousands of civilians who were coming home after years of exile. As the soldiers went forward the homecoming civilians halted to wave flags at them, astounded, it seemed, by the smartness of the men who, after four years of war, rode out, spick and span from behind to spur, on fine horses, well fed and groomed, in sharp contrast to the sorry-looking German horse-flesh.

Cobblestone to Boot.

"My dear, what is this stuff?" asked Mr. Nububb with a puzzled expression after he had blundered the end of his spoon on a confection of brick-bling and berries that his new wife had served as dessert.

"Why, Jimmie dear," she bubbled, "that's blackberry cobbler, and I made it myself."

"Cobbler, eh? Cobbler—hum-m-m. Yes, I can see the association of ideas. But, my dear, what made you think my stomach needs half solving?"

APPEALED TO NOVELISTS.

Fully a score of novels have been written round the case of Lesurques, who was wrongfully executed in France for the robbery of the Lyons mail and the murder of the courier; the real criminal was one named Dubosec, to whom Lesurques bore a striking resemblance. The crime also formed the subject of several stage dramas; one of them Sir Henry Irving scored a success in the dual part of Lesurques-Dubosec.

TUNNELS AND GEOLOGY.

Geologists owe much of their knowledge of the Alps to the tunnels which have been bored through these mountains to make railway routes between the northern and southern parts of Europe. There has been no more important discovery made in this way than during the construction of the Loetschberg tunnel. This was the unexpected piercing of a great coal seam in the center of a mass of much younger Triassic stone.

Michael Cummings, said to be 106 years old, died in Jackson, Monday. He never married, and until one year ago lived in Manchester, coming there from Ireland 50 years ago.

Chelsea's new motor fire truck was unloaded Saturday and has since made several trips about town in order to limber up the motor and get it in good condition for quick starting.

Ed. Fahrner of the hardware firm of Hindelang & Fahrner, who is recovering from a severe attack of the influenza and pneumonia, was up town for a few minutes yesterday.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church will hold a sale of fancy articles at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Gates, Saturday afternoon, December 7th, from two until five o'clock.

The postponed meeting of Washington County Association Order of Eastern Star will be held in Manchester, Friday afternoon and evening, December 6th. All members invited.

The senior play, "Mrs. Tibbs Does Her Bit" was well patronized Friday and Saturday evenings, a total of $177.45 being taken in. It is estimated that the play will net the seniors about $145. All of the parts were well taken and the play was a very popular and complete success.

The Tribune's mailing list is corrected regularly every two weeks, and was corrected last on Saturday. Subscribers who have paid their subscription during the past two weeks, previous to Saturday, should examine the address label on this issue and ascertain if they have been properly credited.

The students at West Point find the rules rather rigid. Quite recently one pupil saluted an officer but neglected to address him as "sir," in consequence of which the student was made to put his head in a laundry bag and repeat the word "sir" two hundred times as a penalty for disobeying orders. Some training, that!

A busy housewife queries, "When will the Chelsea merchants again arrange for a delivery system?" It is rather inconvenient to have to pack home a sack of flour, a bushel of spuds or a few pecks of apples and has a tendency to encourage buying of peddlers. With the busy housewife, we raise our right hand in favor of a delivery system. Let's be modern again!

The two Michigan Central locomotives which were in Friday's head-on collision near Dexter were taken through here yesterday afternoon on their way to the general repair shop in Jackson. The express locomotive was badly battered up and the fire was still burning in the coal bunker in the tender. The heavier freight locomotive was not badly damaged aside from the front end.

The modern modiste is not all familiar with the use of whale bone, but the old time dress-maker of 50 years ago used it extensively to "bone" a dress. A. N. Morton has a piece which was recently taken from an old wedding dress formerly belonging to a relative, and which he was exhibiting to his friends yesterday. Whale bone was formerly extensively used for school teacher's rulers, also, hence the slang term, "whaling," still in use to denote a severe chastisement.

BIG SQUADRON PLANES.

A squadron of 20 aeroplanes from Selfridge field, Mt. Clemens, said to be one of the largest formations ever to take the air in the United States, passed over Chelsea, Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, en route to Jackson. The machines were to take part in a big exhibition in Jackson, Sunday, but only three were able to take the air at the time of the exhibition on account of frozen radiators on the remaining machines. Five of the planes passed over Chelsea, homeward bound, Sunday afternoon, and the remaining machines returned to Selfridge field yesterday.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS.

Some get-rich-quick concerns are endeavoring to persuade patriotic Liberty bond holders, whom they know will not sell outright their Liberty bonds, to turn over their Liberty bonds to these companies as security for a loan and with the money thus borrowed purchase stock in their companies.

A Liberty loan bond is the safest investment in the world, and a prudent man will very carefully investigate any effort to induce him to exchange it for a less safe investment. This lending one money to purchase stock in the lender's company is in many cases only a thinly disguised method of exchanging stock of doubtful value for Liberty bonds of unquestioned value.

It is good business and it is patriotism to hold your Liberty bonds.

NEWSPAPERS NOT PROFITEERS.

Newspapers have not profited by the war or during the war. Some newspapers have had to run at a loss and some have had to quit. War has added an intensely important source of news but it has also added to the expenses of newspapers until profits have been more than swallowed up. Advance of newspaper subscription and advertising rates have not kept pace with advancing costs of material and operation. Today a daily newspaper at $3 per year and a weekly at $1.50 are so low in price in comparison with any product of the soil or any manufactured commodity that no publisher can hope for a profit without an advance in price. The newspapers have rendered unstinted service to the government for all forms of war work and are still actively performing this service. Newspapers have at any cost supported the war and are now mighty glad that it is over. Newspapers have taken their war losses cheerfully, and are very thankful to be left "sittin' on the world," stronger for the experience.—Brooklyn Exponent.

LINER ADS EFFECTIVE.

One of the most effective forms of advertising is in the "liner" or classified column where an investment of a few cents is certain to give prompt results. Tribune liner ads are always run under the heading, "Wants, For Sale, To Rent," in the same position on the front page where they are easy to find and invariably catch the eye. Only five cents the line for first insertion, 2½ cents the line for each subsequent insertion. Next time you want to buy something, or have something for sale or rent, try a Tribune liner.

ECONOMY MUST CONTINUE.

World Survey Shows Sufficient Wheat. But Shortage of Fats—Government's Stimulative Program Justified.

With the return of peace America is confronted by a food problem even harder of solution than that with which we coped in time of war. We have an entirely new world situation in food. It will mean essential changes in our domestic program. But more important than this, it must of necessity require increased export.

Last year we shipped 11,820,000 tons of foodstuffs to the European Allies. Had the war continued we would have increased this enormous figure to 17,550,000 tons in the present year. Now, with the responsibility of feeding millions of people liberated from the German yoke, our exports must be brought up to at least 20,000,000 tons—practically the limit of loading capacity at our ports.

World Food Demand Increased.

The end of the war will create an enormously increased demand for food. Humanity demands that the starving millions freed from Prussian oppression shall have sufficient supplies to assure their return to health and prosperity. If these liberated nations are faced with starvation they cannot establish orderly governments. Hunger breeds anarchy in a people. The war to free the world for democracy will be lost after it has been won. America must continue its work to liberation and by sharing its food make democracy safe in the world.

Greatly Benefited by Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I am thankful for the good I have received by using Chamberlain's Tablets. About two years ago when I began taking them I suffered a great deal from distress after eating, and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a torpid liver. Chamberlain's Tablets corrected these disorders in a short time, and since taking two bottles of them my health has been good," writes Mrs. M. P. Harwood, Auburn, N. Y. Adv.
