

CHELSEA HIGH BESTS
JACKSON RESERVESDefeated Prison City Basket Ballers
On Their Own Floor:
Score 28 to 22.

In a fast and exciting game of basketball in Jackson, Friday evening, the Chelsea high school five defeated the Jackson high school reserves, 28 to 22.

Kalmbach and Brooks were the Chelsea mainstays, having five baskets each to their credit. It was a very close game from start to finish, both teams having the lead at different times during the game.

In nearly all games on foreign floors, the local boys are hampered in their play by the fact that they have no really good floor here at home. The town hall is too small for a regulation size court and when the boys go away from home to play on the larger courts it bothers them to get the longer ranges. Chelsea needs some sort of a building to accommodate the boys in developing high school athletics.

The line-ups in the game Friday evening follow:

Chelsea	Position	Jackson
Kalmbach	L. F.	Durlam
Kaercher	R. F.	Blair
Brooks	C.	Jackson
Schoenhals	R. G.	Tompkins
Storms	L. G.	Comerford

Baskets from the field—Chelsea: Kalmbach, 5; Brooks, 5; Kaercher, Jackson—Durlam 6; Blair, 2. Free throws—Chelsea: Kalmbach 4; Brooks 4. Jackson—Durlam, 5; Jackson, 1. Referee—Beghold.

WHAT OUR CHILDREN NEED.

California Educator Says It Is Not Vocational Guidance.

Courtland, California, has a school principal who does not think it necessary to adopt all the newfangled notions that are soliciting vogue in matters educational, and who is not afraid to proffer some very direct advice to the fathers and mothers of the young people entrusted to his care. In the course of a letter recently contributed to the Bee, of Sacramento, this schoolmaster, Mr. F. W. Mower, delivers himself to this effect:

"I do not hesitate to say that, in my opinion, the children of today do not need vocational guides so much as they need a new set of parents, who have spunk enough to crawl back upon the thrones in their own households, which they have abdicated in favor of their children; parents who have energy enough to get their children out of bed in the morning early enough for them to wash their faces, comb their hair and lace their shoes, without the schools being obliged to give promotion credit for their doing so; parents who, when the shades of night begin to fall, look after their boys with the same degree of care that they give to their bull pup, which they chain up lest he associate with the stranger cur upon the street."

This blunt rebuke is merited, not only out in Courtland, California, but in the general run of our cities and towns. Parents of the present day are, as a rule, altogether too neglectful of the supervision of their children. Until boys and girls are out of their teens, they are not by nature, and should not by convention be allowed to become, independent of parental control. American fathers and mothers need an awakening as to the extent and the seriousness of their responsibility for their children's character and conduct.

WORD FROM CHELSEA
BOYS OVERSEAS

Find German People Very Hospitable In the Occupied Zone and Have Very Pleasant Christmas.

A big bunch of "overseas" mail reached Chelsea yesterday and following are extracts from letters from several Chelsea boys.

Clarence Breitenwischer writes under date of December 24th: "I suppose you folks are somewhat anxious to hear from me again and I know it is a shame that I have neglected writing, but it has been some time since I received any letters from home, too."

"I have been getting a number of Chelsea papers, the latest dated November 7th. It seems strange that the people celebrated about three or four days ahead of the armistice, I cannot understand it."

"Just about that time we had a bloody battle. I got back from the hospital in time to get into the last drive, but got through in fine shape."

"I didn't miss very much those eight weeks I was in the hospital, for my company was prison guard about four weeks. All I missed since last May was the latter part of the Soissons drive and the first part of the Verdun drive."

"I have been on four different sectors, Alsace-Lorraine, Chateau-Thierry, Soissons and Verdun. We had some tough engagements at times. A number of my comrades were injured or killed. One was A. O. Morgan, who was only about five feet behind me at Soissons when he was killed. Another was Sam Shank who was gassed and was in the hospital for ten weeks, but who is back with the company again. And I, too, was put out of competition the same afternoon, and was eight weeks in the hospital. Many others were gassed or wounded worse than we were that day. I couldn't write anything about it before."

Under date of December 25th he wrote: "We crossed the Rhine, December 13th, at Coblenz, stopped there two days and then moved to a little village called Ronbach, about 24 miles east into Germany. We are housed with the civilians; one of my comrades and myself are the only ones in this house, with an old woman and her step-daughter, and her brother, who came home only last night. We were very much surprised with the German people; they sure are treating us fine."

"We didn't have a Christmas dinner to compare with the one we had last year, but we had some good, fresh pork chops with a few other things, and plenty of it, and then about half past three these people where we are staying invited us down to a little coffee party. We had coffee, Christmas cakes, bread and butter, and jam. I helped set up a little Christmas tree last evening so it seemed a little like Christmas, but not so good as at home."

"It seems rather strange to have battled with these people, and then to get such fine treatment."

Mrs. Conrad Haefner yesterday received a fine panorama view of the Rhine valley from Pvt. George G. Haefner, who is stationed at Bodendorf. It is printed in colors and has a number of views of scenes familiar to Mrs. Haefner, who came from that vicinity. In a letter to his sister, Mrs. Joseph Dryer, dated December 12th, he says in part: "Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and feeling fine; have a little cold, that's all. We are stopping at a little town for a day or two after a five days' hike. Hiking is all we have been doing for the last few weeks, and for some more to come I guess. I'm glad there is no bridge or road across the 'pond' or we would have to walk home when we did go. Ha, ha!"

"I was glad to hear that Wackenhut had heard from George. I have not heard or seen anything of him. I think the war is all over. The Germans are treating us fine so far."

Under date of January 3d, Pvt. Peter F. Youngs wrote: "The Christmas package came and I was sure glad to get it. The pen writes well, the pipe smokes good and that card was good. We are still at Arden-le-Romain, France, working on the railroad. The latest rumor is that we will be home soon. We are about four miles from the German border line and I have been over in Germany several times, and had a good time. I have a German helmet which I picked up in the Argonne woods. I will bring that home; it's all the souvenir I want."

ROEPCKE DIVORCES REFUSED.

Judge George W. Sample has refused to grant a divorce to Mrs. Edith Roepecke, who recently commenced an action for divorce from her husband, William Roepecke of Lyndon township, nor would he give the divorce to the husband, who filed a crossbill against his wife, but has handed down an interlocutory order, allowing the plaintiff in the case 15 days in which to file a bill for separate maintenance in place of the original bill for divorce.

In the meantime the wife is given custody of the youngest child and the husband is given custody of the others and is ordered to pay $5 weekly to the wife until further order.

CHOOSE "CO-OP" MANAGER.

The directors of the new Farmers' Cooperative association met Saturday afternoon to sign the charter, adopt by-laws and transact other necessary business, including the election of William Coe as business manager. The first shipment of live stock will be made tomorrow.

MRS. EDWARD DOLL.

Mrs. Edward Doll, wife of Edward Doll of Lyndon, and daughter of Henry Lammers, Sr., of Jackson, died at her home Sunday, January 26, 1919.

Mrs. Doll was born in Hamilton, Ontario, October 27, 1861. She was united in marriage to Edward Doll, November 15, 1898.

She is survived by her husband, daughter Florence, son Albert who is in service overseas, her aged father, Henry Lammers, Sr., of Jackson, one sister, Mrs. Simon Weber of Sylvan, and two brothers, Henry and Alfred Lammers of Jackson.

Funeral services will be held from the church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

NINETY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY.

Robert Foster celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday Saturday. A number of his friends and neighbors sent in little remembrances which added to the pleasure of the day, and Mrs. J. N. Dancer composed an original poem in honor of the event. Relatives from away who helped him celebrate the day were: Mrs. Gertrude Hammond and son, Charles and wife, of Bannister, and her grandson, Harold Tomlinson of Owosso.

A birthday dinner was served on Sunday, additional guests from away being Vincent Meunwell of Detroit and Charles Meunwell of Ypsilanti.

PIELENIEIER-STARK.

Miss Bertha Pieleneier of Lima and Mr. John Stark of Springfield were quietly married Saturday afternoon, January 25, 1919, at five o'clock at the home of the bride's father, William Pieleneier of Lima, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties. Rev. Albert A. Schoen, pastor of St. Paul's church, was the officiating minister.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served and a general social time enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark left Sunday for Springfield, where they will make their home on the groom's farm, near that place.

LABORATORY PRODUCTS CO.

Several Chelsea citizens, who are so modest that they must be nameless for the present, have organized the Laboratory Products Co. and have already placed on the market a specialty known as "Chimney Jack," which almost magically removes soot from flues and chimneys.

At present "Chimney Jack" is put up in cartons of one pound for twenty-five cents, or a five pound carton for $1.00. It is also sold in barrels if desired. We understand that the new enterprise is already meeting with considerable success in its campaign for business.

DEXTER SOLDIERS HOME.

The first two Dexter boys to enlist and go overseas were the first to return from France and both have been wounded.

John Devine of the U. S. Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Devine, came Monday from Quantico, Va., where he arrived January 10th. He is on a 30-day furlough. He was severely wounded by shrapnel June 6th at the battle of Chateau Thierry. After his furlough expires he will return to Quantico, where he will remain until he has entirely recovered. O. S. Thompson, son Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Thompson, arrived Wednesday from Camp Sherman, Ohio, where he was honorably discharged from service. He was badly wounded at the second battle of the Marne, August 1st, and since then has been a patient at the base hospital.

The boys are the first overseas soldiers to return to Dexter village.

A subscription paid in advance is worth two in arrears.

WILD ANIMALS LIVE ON HAY

Large Herds of Game in the Colorado Forests Are Becoming Domesticated.

Ouray, Colo.—The efficient protection given them by the state game commission and the United States forest service, in their efforts to preserve the deer, elk, antelope and mountain sheep that roam the Colorado forests has resulted in large herds of the animals becoming domesticated. It is no unusual sight in the towns bordering the Uncompagme National forest to see many of these wild animals grazing in the village streets or approaching the inviting haystacks of some ranch for a feast.

JOSEPHINE MARY PIERCE.

Josephine Mary Pierce, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pierce, was born Monday, January 11, 1904, in the township of Lima, near Chelsea, Washtenaw county, Michigan, and died Saturday, January 18, 1919, at the family home in Leroy township, near Williamston, Ingham county, Michigan, at the age of fifteen years and seven days.

The family moved from near Chelsea to their present home about six years ago and during these years have drawn around them a wide circle of friends who will share with them the sad loss of the dear one, who for fifteen years has added sunshine and cheer to the home and given genuine pleasure to all who have been drawn into this circle.

Her thoughtful interest in the welfare of others, her unselfish interest in other lives than her own, her cheerful greetings and pleasant smile have left a deep impression on all her associates, and though her years were few we believe she has filled a large mission in the world.

It will be impossible to fill her place in the home, in the school, or in the Sunday school. In the latter place she will be especially missed.

With the parents, sister Margaret, brother Kermit, grand parents and other relatives, the entire community join in a profound sorrow at her early demise.

The obsequies were held from the home Tuesday, January 21st, conducted by Pastor Herman Burns, and the remains were interred in Summit cemetery.

"God reached from heaven and lifted the dear child Who smiled in leaving us, He put her down Beyond all harm, beyond our sight, And bade Her wait for us! Shall we not then be glad, And thanking God, press on to overtake?"

AN AMERICAN HABIT THAT WAS EXPANDED.

Coming to the relief of the distressed is not a new sensation to us. Having sent shipments of food to the famine sufferers of India as oftentimes as the housewife hands out a cut of the loaf to the wayfarer, it seemed the most natural thing in the world to sugar Belgium, to take on the feeding of a nation quite informally.

The test of peace is to summon for the healing of nations devotion equal to that given the tasks of war.

SUGAR TESTED MORAL FIBER

Doubters Declared Saving Staples Would Be Easy Compared With Sacrificing Luxuries.

FIGURES SHOW RESULTS.

Americans Demonstrated Sturdy Support of War by Conserving for the Benefit of the Allies.

When figures began to show, definitely that the people of the United States were actually reducing their consumption of foods needed abroad, the United States Food Administration was told that it was comparatively easy to bring about conservation of staple necessities, but that it would be far more difficult to accomplish an actual decrease in the use of luxuries. The doubters took sugar as an example, and declared that it would be practically impossible to bring our consumption of sugar down to a point that would meet only the food needs of the people.

Now that demands upon ocean tonnage will be lightened, European nations will be able to go farther afield for foodstuffs, and will no longer be entirely dependent for sugar upon North American supplies. With the stocks now in prospect, we will have sufficient sugar to place this country back upon normal consumption if the present short ration in Europe are not materially increased. If the European ration is to be materially increased over the present low amount it can be only through the American people's making it possible by continued restriction to a greater or less extent here.

The fact that the Food Administration has been able to relax the voluntary sugar ration is in itself proof that the ration of two pounds per person per month was generally observed throughout the country. This conservation allowed the Food Administration to build up a reserve, and to tide over the period of scarcity, until the new crops of Louisiana cane and beet sugar were ready for distribution. The records of the Food Administration show that in July, August, September and October 1918, 100,000 tons were distributed. Normal consumption for that period is 1,000,000 tons. This shows a definite, concrete saving of over 900,000 tons. These figures apply to sugar consumed on the table, in the kitchen and in the various industries.

tries, and show conclusively that in the homes and public eating places of America, where 70 per cent. of all our sugar is consumed, the sugar consumption has been reduced by more than one-third.

In the four-month period beginning with July, this country normally uses 400,000 tons of sugar per month. Last July 200,000 tons entered into distribution. In August only 225,000 tons were distributed. In September the figures showed 275,000 tons, and then fell to 230,000 tons in October.

There could be no more definite proof that the American people have given their loyal co-operation and support of the war.
