

WOULD SAVE THE WOOD

Complicated Case in Circuit Court Involves Lyndon Twp. Farm.

John Haeussler of Freedom has commenced a suit in the circuit court against Frederick C. Mapes of Lyndon, to prevent Mr. Mapes from cutting and disposing of the timber on the farm in Lyndon township which the defendant occupies and which he formerly owned subject to mortgages, which have been foreclosed. Mr. Mapes' equity of redemption expires July 19, 1919, and Mr. Haeussler says in his complaint that Mr. Mapes is insolvent and that he does not intend to redeem the foreclosed property. The suit is also brought jointly against Bruce Teachout, who has a contract with Mr. Mapes, the complaint alleges, to cut the timber upon the farm in question.

The case is rather complicated and involves several well-known residents of Chelsea and vicinity. Herman C. Breitenwischer and Caroline Breitenwischer, gave a note for $386.30 in favor of Mr. Haeussler, on August 19, 1916, and also gave a mortgage on this farm to protect the note. James Howlett of Lyndon had a previous mortgage of $1,287.28 on the same property, which was purchased by Mr. Haeussler to protect himself. After giving the mortgage on the farm Mr. and Mrs. Breitenwischer traded the place to Mr. Mapes for a laundry in Chelsea, but as nothing was paid on either mortgage, the property was foreclosed, and the equity of redemption expires next July.

Mr. Haeussler claims that with the timber removed the farm would not be worth enough to satisfy the value of the mortgages against it. He asks for a permanent injunction restraining Messrs. Mapes and Teachout from cutting off the timber. According to Mr. Haeussler's complaint the farm contains a considerable amount of valuable oak and other wood.

Advertising is the hyphen that brings buyer and seller together.

CHELSEA HIGH WON.

The Chelsea high school basketball team met and defeated the Ann Arbor high reserves, Saturday night, on the Ann Arbor floor, by a close margin, the score being 16 to 14.

The Chelsea boys were handicapped by the big floor, their own floor being unusually small, but gradually accustomed themselves to it and were able to give a good account of themselves. During the last quarter, Kalmbach and Brooks played in their usual good form, while Storms and Schoenhals were equally effective in their departments, and Lawrence played a good game in the center position. Neither was the Ann Arbor star, making 12 of Ann Arbor's 14 points.

Next Friday, February 7th, Chelsea high school boys and girls will go to Dexter to play the two strong teams of that town.

OLD COLOR BEARER

Was Patriotic and Loyal American Citizen; Died in Howell.

J. Gottlieb Heydlauff was born in Germany 81 years ago, and died in Howell, Michigan, Tuesday, January 28, 1919. When a boy of 19 he came to America to become an American, which he did as perfectly as any native born. During the Civil war he served as color-bearer of the 16th M. V. I. and was one of those designated to hold the flag under which the rebels marched to stack their arms at Appomattox.

His active life was spent in the vicinity of Waterloo, Michigan. For a little over two years past he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Schnackenburg and family in Howell. His unswerving loyalty, liberal support of all war measures and genial ways have won for him many friends in Howell.

Short services were held at the family home Thursday morning and the remains were taken to Waterloo for burial, the funeral being held there. Reporter.

GOOD CITIZEN PASSES

Death of William Bacon on Saturday Evening is Community Loss; Funeral This Afternoon.

News of the death Saturday evening of William Bacon occasioned genuine regret among all who knew him and there are few in Chelsea and vicinity who did not share his acquaintance. And those who knew him best all join in saying, "He was a good citizen," which is a tribute of which the surviving members of his family may well be proud.

He had been in failing health for several weeks past, much of the time in a delirious condition. Several times he was reported dying, but always he rallied so that many cherished the hope that he might escape the grim reaper, but on Saturday evening the end came.

William Bacon was born in Wells, Somersetshire, England, June 17, 1852, his parents being Rev. John and Ann Bacon. He came to the United States in 1872 and immediately was employed by C. B. Kempf of this place in the lumber and produce business. The following year he went to Fowlerville to learn the tinner's trade. In 1876 he returned to Chelsea to enter the employ of R. Kempf & Sons, and two years later he embarked in the lumber business for himself as a member of the firm of Kempf, Bacon & Co. In 1901 the partnership was dissolved and the William Bacon-Holmes Lumber, Grain & Coal Co. was formed.

Held Many Public Offices. Mr. Bacon had a long and unselfish record as a public servant. In the 70's he served two terms as assessor and was a village trustee for six years. He was president of the village for four consecutive years, and later for three years. He was supervisor for five years, member of the school board for four years. In October, 1904, he was made county auditor for three years, but a change in the law, passed by the legislature, made the office elective and annulled the appointment, but in April, 1905, he was elected to the office for a term of four years. He was again elected village president in 1914, and was re-elected in 1915. He was again elected county auditor in April, 1917, which office he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Bacon was married to Miss Lois Congdon, a daughter of the late James Congdon, who was one of the founders of Chelsea, in 1877. His widow and seven children: Mrs. Guy Thompson, of Lapeer; Misses Winifred and Josephine, of Detroit; Mrs. L. G. Palmer, Paul, Wirt and Miss Ruth, of Chelsea; are left to mourn their loss. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary J. Gerard of Seattle, Washington, and by two brothers, Jabez Bacon of Chelsea, and Edward Bacon of Ann Arbor. He was a member of Olive Lodge No. 156 F. & A. M.; Olive Chapter No. 140 R. A. M.; Manchester Council Royal and Selected Masons; the Knights of Pythias, and the K. O. T. M.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. William J. Balmer conducting the service. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

JOSEPH BERRICK FAKER

Little Jewish Boy Ranaway from Good Home in Detroit and Was Taken In Here.

January 15th there arrived in Chelsea one little Jewish boy, Joseph Berrick, 13 years old, who claimed he was an orphan and that he was trying to make his way to the home of an uncle in Chicago.

En route to Chelsea from Detroit, he had stopped at a farm house between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor to get warm, and it happened to be the home of a cousin of Mrs. P. W. Dierberger of this place, who became interested in the lad. She gave him some money and a letter to Rev. Dierberger here.

In due time Joseph arrived in Chelsea and presented his letter to Rev. Dierberger, who also became interested in Joseph. He got in touch with the Red Cross with the result that Joseph was completely outfitted with new clothing. M. Wallenstein was called to question Joseph and he too became interested in the bright little lad, so much so that he finally offered to give him a good home, and Joseph accepted and became a popular member of the Wallenstein family.

The past week Mr. and Mrs. Wallenstein decided to adopt the boy, but first they agreed that Mrs. Wallenstein should go to Detroit and make further investigation of the boy's antecedents and of his story.

Arriving in Detroit, Friday, Mrs. Wallenstein called at 284 Porter street, where Joseph said he had lived before his parents died. It proved to be a comfortable home. A woman answered the door and upon being asked about Joseph, showed plainly her agitation and emotion and explained that she was his mother and that the boy had been missing for over two weeks. She was much relieved to learn that her son was safe and in a good home.

It developed that the Berricks are in comfortable circumstances and the father of the boy owns and conducts a shoe store on Michigan avenue in Detroit.

The Berricks had notified the Detroit police of Joseph's disappearance; also the police in Chicago and Boston where they have relatives, but had not been able to get any trace of him. Sunday the Berrick family drove out from Detroit in their car and took Joseph back to his city home.

The lad had entered school here and apparently he was well satisfied to remain here. He had been repeatedly closely questioned regarding his life previous to coming to Chelsea, but always he told the same consistent story and no one thought of doubting it or of investigating it more closely.

For a thirteen-years-old, we'll say that Joseph is some faker!

PARENT-TEACHERS' CLUB.

On account of the epidemic of influenza no meetings of the Parent-Teachers' club have been held this year, but now that conditions have improved the first meeting will be held in the high school auditorium, Wednesday evening, February 5th.

A short business meeting will be held at seven o'clock, and a lecture on suffrage will be given by Miss Downing of the Ypsilanti Normal school. Every man and woman in the vicinity should hear this lecture. How to register and vote will be explained and made plain. The lecture is free, but a collection will be taken.

WOMEN REGISTER TWICE.

There seems to be a misunderstanding among the women in regard to registration. In order to vote in the village you must be registered on the village clerk's book; and in order to vote in the township you must be registered on the township clerk's book. Thus two registrations are necessary. We make this explanation because some of the women seem to think that one registration is all that is necessary.

The same applies, also, to men registering for the first time.

WHY IS A 200 EGG HEN?

Question Will Be Fully Discussed at County Poultry School Here on February 18, 19 and 20.

Successful poultry raising depends largely upon two things, management and breeding. Why is it that often with two people having the same quality of hens, one will be able to secure a good production of eggs and the other will get only a few? The answer is, the first one "raises poultry better." Better housing, better care and better feeding bring results. Again we may have two people who are equally careful in their housing, feeding and management of their flocks, but one gets a larger production of eggs than the other. The answer is, the successful producer "raises better poultry." "Raising poultry better" and "Raising better poultry" are two phases of the industry that must go hand in hand in order to be successful.

A 200 egg hen is not made by simply pouring feed into her. While feed is essential to get eggs, a hen must also have the hereditary tendency of high egg production. This latter comes only by breeding. Egg production is inherited. The inheritance is transmitted to the daughter through the male bird and not through the mother.

These and other facts of successful poultry culture will be fully discussed at the County Poultry School here, February 18th, 19th and 20th. Don't forget the dates if you are interested in poultry culture. Also moving pictures of agricultural subjects Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Princess theatre; two shows each evening, 7:30 and 9:30.

TOSCHA SEIDEL, VIOLINIST.

The fourth concert in the Choral Union Series at Ann Arbor will take place Saturday evening, February 8, when Toscha Seidel, the much talked about young Russian violinist, will be heard in the University city for the first time.

Mr. Seidel is the last of the three great young violinists who created such a sensation in America last season, the other two being Jascha Heifetz and Max Rosen. The names of these three have been linked together as representing almost a new development in violin playing. All three are Russians; all are practically of the same age, eighteen, and all were taught by the same great master, Leopold Auer.

Rosen was heard in Ann Arbor last year and at this time the public will have opportunity of hearing the second member of this great trio.

Only five cents the line for first insertion, 2½ cents the line for each subsequent insertion. Next time you want to buy something, or have something for sale or rent, try a Tribune liner.

Caruso Killed the Birds.

All the way from Buenos Aires, where Caruso was appearing recently, comes the following:

"I remember one occasion," said the famous singer, "being left alone in the house with a couple of canaries belonging to my sister, of which she was very fond."

"Now," I said to myself, "I can let myself go for once."

"And I did. The rafters rung. The very silver on the sideboard jumped and sang."

"But my sister never forgave me the loss of her canaries! It was the only authentic case I ever met of 'killing two birds with one stone.'—Pearson's Weekly.

Catarthal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarthal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarthal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrhal Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrhal Medicine. Circulars free. All druggists, 75 cents.

HALF-WAY MARK PASSED.

Sunday, February 2d, was ground-hog day and according to an old saying, "February, second day, half the wood and half the hay," we have reached the half-way mark in fuel and hay consumption for the winter.

The day was bright and so the ground-hog must have seen his shadow and according to the "old-timers" will now go back to snug winter quarters for another six weeks.
